TOBACCO MARKET CLOSED SEASON HERE YESTERDAY

Total Sales for Season
Were 49,707,518 at Average Price of $28.28 Per Hundred

The Greenville Tobacco Market on yesterday brought to a close the most successful season in its history. While the auction sales on the warehouse floors were slightly below the fifty millions pounds mark approximately half a million pounds of scrap was delivered direct to the factories which included in the market's total would place it above the fifty millions mark.

Official figures made public today by K. W. Cobb, secretary of the Tobacco Board of Trade show total sales for the season 49,707,518 pounds for $14,056,814.98 averaging $28.28 per hundred pounds. Sales were light during the closing week when only 219,972 pounds were sold at an average price of $17.39.

Figures for last season's sales show a total of a little over 48,000,000 pounds with an average price of $26.02 which gives the season just closed a gain of nearly four million pounds and a gain in average price of $2.26 per hundred.

SEEK EXEMPTION SHANGHAI FROM THEATRE OF WAR

United States Asks
Chinese to Exempt
International Settlement from Hostilities

Washington, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Exemption of the Shanghai international settlement from the theatre of hostilities in the Chinese civil war has been proposed to the Chinese and Peking authorities by the United States.

The State Department refused today to disclose details of the project which it has formulated for protection of American and other foreign nationals in Shanghai.

The proposal is not for neutralization of the Shanghai area, it was said, but merely for the exemption of that area from hostilities between the two Chinese factions, officials declined to throw any further light on this diplomatic distinction.

The proposal was sent to American Minister MacMurray for transmission to the Northern and Southern war lords. No word has been received from them.

Howling Mob of Cantonese Storm British Shop in Hankow

TODAY

Not in Wall Street.
Spiral, Not Jagged.
Happy John Demarest.
War Mosquitoes.
(By Arthur Brisbane)

Wall Street extended its long cheerful streak yesterday, prices still going up, the mud advertised "slump" still invisible.

Testimony in Washington showing that Henry Ford is "probably" the richest man in the world, worth about two billion dollars, and utterly beyond attack by any competing organization," shows that there is room at the top.

Henry Ford was making $100 a month not so long ago. Now he has four hundred millions "loose cash" in bank and earns one hundred million a year.

However, young gentlemen, with one eye on the ticker, the other on the future, observe that Mr. Ford didn't get his two billions in Wall Street. On the contrary, part of his job has been to keep Wall Street from getting his two billions.

The "jagged" lightning, making "forks" in the sky is not jagged at all, Mr. Legg, Westinghouse engineer, shows with photographs 150 times faster than motion picture cameras.

The lightning bolt is spiral. That interests those who know that the spiral as opposed to the circle, is the emblem of progress.

Our earth accompanies the sun in its journey through space, travels a spiral path. The sun travels ahead toward the star Vega, we going around it, following it, taking a helical course. You are many billions of miles from the spot in the universe where you were born, and probably will go back.

John Demarest died yesterday morning in the New Jersey home in which he was born ninety-nine years ago. His wife, aged ninety-two, took care of him to the last. They had been married seventy-seven years. On his diamond wedding day John Demarest told the world he never had anything to complain of. "We always worked hard, went to bed early, got up early, cooked our own meals, forgave each other's faults, and went to church."

Which he died in the house in which he was born. How restless globe wanderers will envy that calm life.

France builds dozens of tiny airplanes, smallest in the world, every French submarine will carry one.

One of the submarine airplanes rose from the water nine seconds after the submarine reached the surface, went up 2,000 feet, descended and went aboard the submarine again.

A fleet of submarines coming up near a big city, discharging its swarm of mosquito-like airplanes, each carrying its gas or explosive bomb, could make the next war interesting.

Mr. Browning, elderly gentleman attracting attention in connection with "Peaches," Cinderella and similar objects, has a plan. There is no use trying to make "Peaches" or Cinderella happy, they nearly always sue you.

Mr. Browning will encourage others trying to do good. His wealth, no longer used for Cinderella fur coats, or "Peaches" automobiles, will create a "do good" foundation, a combination of the Nobel prize and Y. M. C. A. It ought to work.

Thus again, sorrow and disappointment produce good works.

END OF SIX WEEKS CONTEST JOURNEY ALMOST IN SIGHT

Autos and Other
Prizes in Reflector
Subscription Drive
Awarded Week
From Tonight

The end of the six weeks subscription drive of The Reflector is in sight. One week more of securing votes through paid in advance subscriptions for the thirteen entrants and the contest will come to a close with the awarding of approximately $3,000 in automobiles, cash prizes and cash commissions to those who finish outside the first six prizes.

The campaign for a sign up of old readers and new ones has been a decided success in every way. Indications point to a more successful drive than the one conducted a year ago this past fall.

Thirteen entrants are on the list for a share of the many prizes. All the prizes will be awarded immediately after the close of the contest on next Saturday night. The close is set for eight o'clock although it is expected it will be some few minutes later before the ballot box, locked and sealed, will be turned over to the judges for the final count.

Those who act as judges at the close of the contest will be announced later. They will be selected from among the prominent men of the county and will be totally disinterested parties. Their duties will be to count all votes found in the ballot box and add to a contestant's list published in the paper. All votes not published in the final list which appears on Friday, will have to be deposited in the box and those appearing in the list published later, will be the grand total of votes cast by a worker and the prize awarded accordingly.

It is expected that the announce-ment of winners will be made at nine thirty and the awarding of prizes will follow immediately. The $1,500 Studebaker, and the Chevrolet Coach will be lined up for the winners to hop in and drive outside The Reflector office ready away. The cash prizes consisting of $200, $75, and $45 will be given in the form of cashier's checks. Commission winners will be mailed their checks the following day.

Should a commission of ten per cent amount to more than the prize awarded, the difference will be added to the winner's check by The Reflector.

The dead are Mr. and Mrs. Clyde E. Will. Mrs. Will was caretaker of the church.

Mrs. Mary Fitzgerald, assistant preacher, was taken to a hospital. Cause of the explosion was not definitely determined. Firemen expressed belief it might have resulted from seeping gas in a water heater, but Charles H. Langdon, architect of the building, declared the blast may have resulted from bomb. He said he did not believe was escaping.

Thousands of persons crowded the fire lines around the church property while firemen plunged into the kitchen of the parsonage and brought out Mrs. Fitzgerald, 33, and the bodies of Will and his wife. Mrs. Fitzgerald was severely burned.

OUR SATURDAY NIGHT MEDITATION

CHARACTERISTICS OF S. MATTHEW'S GOSPEL
 "The Gospel according to St. Matthew" is a very ancient title. We use it to designate the first book in the New Testament. But it implies more than this. For the Gospel "according to" S. Matthew is the gospel as it presented itself to him. He did not see or hear with the people's eyes and ears, but with his own. Consequently and necessarily, he recorded those facts and features which most impressed him, and we are not surprised to find great differences between his record and other records. The character he portrayed in HIS CHRIST—Christ as he saw Him and believed Him to be. St. Matthew gives account of three miracles performed by Jesus that no one else mentions— ("Two blind men cured," and "The dumb spirit cast out" in chapter 9, and "Tribute money provided," in chapter 13). He also gives eleven parables which are peculiar to his Gospel. ("The Tares," "The Hidden Treasure," "The Pearl of Great Price," and the "Drag Net" in chapter 13. "The Unmerciful Servant," chapter 18; "Laborers in the Vineyard," chapter 20; "Father and two Sons," chapter 21; "Marriage of the King's Son," chapter 22; "Ten Virgins," "Ten Talents," "Sheep and Goats," in chapter 25). WHO THEN WAS S. MATTHEW? Also called Levi, a native of Galilee, living at Capernaum, and, though a Jew, employed as a tax-gatherer under the Roman provincial government. His father's name was Alphaeus. His profession was lucrative, though considered very unpatriotic. He gave a farewell "banquet" to a "great multitude of his associates when he relinquished his occupation to follow Jesus. The interesting account of his conversion is given in chapter 9, verse 9. Acts 1:13 shows: S. Matthew with the twelve in the upper room after the Ascension. Tradition says he preached in Jerusalem and Judea for twelve years, and possibly died a natural death. We have no certainty of the time, place or manner of his death. One early writer says, however, that "he opened the doors of Persia to the Gospel, and was stoned as a martyr." This, however, has not been proven. TO WHOM DID HE ADDRESS HIS GOSPEL? Being a Jew, he wrote to those pious Israelites who were looking forward to the fulfillment of the Messianic prophecies found in the old Hebrew writings—the Old Testament. I have counted no less than 127 references made by St. Matthew to the old Scriptures, and 65 direct quotations. It is very clear that his purpose is to show that Jesus of Nazareth is in truth the promised Messiah. It comes first in the New Testament because it is there the link between the Old and the New. He traces the genealogy of Jesus back to Abraham—no farther. He shows familiarity with the Mosaic Law, and a knowledge of Jewish customs and of the geography of Palestine. ITS DATE: probably written in Palestine between the years A.D. 60-70. Chapter 24 proves it was finished before the destruction of Jerusalem under Titus in the latter year. Barnabas, who wrote his Epistle between the years A.D. 70-79, quotes two passages from Matthew as SCRIPTURE in his day. These passages are "I came not to call the righteous but sinners," chapter 9:13; and "Many are called but few chosen," chapter 22:14. CHARACTERISTICS: The visit of the Wise Men, the slaughter of the infants, and the resurrection of the saints at the time of the crucifixion, are not mentioned by any other writer. The discourses of Jesus are given more fully than by any other Synoptist. He does not tie himself down to chronological order of events, but groups the sections according to similarity of matter. Just as when he was a publican he would file away his bills, receipts, notices; so he "pigeon-holes" his material for his Gospel and brings out like to like. For example, in chapter 13, he gives us all the sayings of Jesus that he could remember beginning with the phrase: "The Kingdom of Heaven is like." In other places we have groups of miracles, parables, discourses, and so on. There is very little plan in his writing, but we can mark the following divisions: The birth and infancy of the King (chapters 1, 2). The preparation for the Kingdom (chapter 3:1-16). The works of the Kingdom and its true nature (chapters 4:17-16:20). The journey to Jerusalem and residences there (chapters 16:21-25:46). The passion and resurrection of Jesus (chapters 26-28). It will much increase our interest if we read this valuable Gospel with these important facts in mind. Anything that enriches our knowledge of the New Testament will tend to enrich our whole life.

Marks of Distinction

Volume Production

The Most Beautiful Chevrolet in Chevrolet History

In addition to masterly new bodies by Fisher—in addition to a host of mechanical improvements typified by AC oil filter and AC air cleaner—the Most Beautiful Chevrolet offers certain features heretofore regarded as marks of distinction on the costliest cars. These are made possible at Chevrolet's amazingly reduced prices only because volume production results in definite economies and because Chevrolet now, as always, passes these savings on to the buyer in the form of added value.

No other car, as low in price, offers such features as fish-tail modeling, full-crown one-piece fenders, bullet-type lamps and the like. Come in—and see for yourself!

 Tennessee Lady Had So Little Strength She "Couldn't Get Around." Took Cardui With Benefit.
 Gassaway, Tenn.—"I wasn't able to do any of my work, and it seemed like I had so little strength I just couldn't get around," says Mrs. Frank Murphy, who lives near here.
 "My mother knew of the good Cardui could do, so she told me to take it. I sent and got a bottle, and seemed like all the time I grew stronger.
 "I had been suffering with pains in my sides all the time, and Cardui helped this wonderfully. I needed a tonic for female trouble, and Cardui just fitted the need. I was awfully restless and could not sleep at night, but after taking two bottles of Cardui I could sleep like a top. I got along all right, and I know it was due to Cardui. I can certainly recommend it to women suffering from women's troubles.
 "My present health is just fine."
 Thousands of women have written to tell how Cardui relieved them of pain and suffering, and helped them to improve in health and strength. Cardui is perfectly harmless, being an extract of mild-acting herbs, and contains no dangerous drugs or harmful ingredients.
 Sold everywhere. NC-174

"MARE NOSTRUM" AT WHITE'S THEATRE

Thrilling Movie of the Sea To Be Shown Monday and Tuesday.

"Mare Nostrum" (Our Sea) which Rex Ingram produced in Europe for Metro-Goldwyn will be the attraction at White's Theatre two days, Monday and Tuesday. It is acclaimed by leading critics as the greatest picture ever made in America or Europe. Rex Ingram has again demonstrated his ability to combine a strong dramatic story with pictorial beauty and marvelous performances on the part of his leading players, and produce a worthwhile picture.

"Mare Nostrum" is one of Blasco Ibanez' most widely read stories. In transferring it to the film Ingram has lost none of the powerful drama. It is a production which reflects great credit to Ingram and to all those associated with it.

As Freya Talberg, the clever spy, Alice Terry has a part entirely different to anything she has previously done before the camera. Her skillful handling of the difficult role elevates her to new heights as an actress. Antonio Moreno is most convincing as Ulysses Ferragut, the Spanish sea captain. A native of Spain, Moreno has long awaited an opportunity to enact a modern Spanish part. He takes advantage of his opportunity in "Mare Nostrum" and gives the best performance of his career. Hughie contributes a delightful comedy role which makes the character of Carrago, the old ship's cook, stand out prominently.

"Mare Nostrum" is a powerful modern story of the sea, produced on the actual locations in Europe as described by Blasco Ibanez in his book.

FINANCIAL REVIEW

New York, Feb. 5.—(AP)—The stock market gave a more impressive demonstration of strength this week than it has any time this year. While the advance was by no means uniform, buying orders were spread over a fairly broad list, with the average of 20 leading railroad shares touching the highest level since the war. Easy money rates and favorable trade news provided the background for the accumulation of stocks. Speculative activity, particularly in the railroad shares of potential merger value, made up a large proportion of the week's operations. Declining commodity prices tended to restrain speculative enthusiasm for the steel shares although the undertone was fairly firm.

Talk of an increase in the annual dividend on General Motors from $7 to $8 combined with reports that car sales of leading manufacturers were being maintained in fairly large volume, revived interest in the motor group. Railroad equipment shades presented several strong spots. Wheeling and Lake Erie issues were again the spectacular features in the railroad group despite the investigation started by the New York stock exchange into recent fluctuations.

varying from 2 cent decline to a rise of 2 1-2 cents.

GRAIN

Chicago, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Influenced by the outlook for farm legislation at Washington, wheat averaged higher today. Toward the last however, the market was unsettled as result of indications that some wheat shipments from Omaha to Chicago might take place. Mild weather prevailing over the greater part of the domestic wheat belt counted also as a late check on the upward trend of wheat values.

Wheat closed irregular 3-8c net lower to 7-8c advance; corn 1-2c to 7-8c up; oats at 1-8 to 1-4 to 3-8 to 1-2c gain and provisions

STOCKS

New York, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Mixed price movements developed on today's stock market with the rails generally tending upward and the industrials losing ground. Non-dividend paying rails set the pace, several new high records being established in that group with six point jump in Gulf, Mobile and Northern as one of the outstanding features.

The closing was irregular. Total sales approximated 1,100,000 shares.
