FRANCE WOULD APPROVE DISARMAMENT PROPOSAL UNDER SERIOUS RESERVES

Japan Accepts Coolidge Proposal Without Restriction While British Press Doubtful as to Wisdom of it

Paris, Feb. 12.—(AP)—France today to President Coolidge's Naval Disarmament proposal, it was understood after a cabinet meeting to day will constitute acceptance in form but "under serious reserve."

Tokyo, Feb. 12.—(AP)—A spokesman of the Japanese foreign office today stated that his Government had decided to accept the proposal of President Coolidge for a conference of the Powers with a view to further reduction of armaments.

The exact wording of the acceptance will be decided at a meeting of the Japanese cabinet scheduled for next Tuesday, when the suggestion of Japanese naval experts will be considered.

The principal of further disarmament was characterized by the Japanese spokesman as humanitarian and non-political and therefore the Coolidge proposal was acceptable without equivocation leaving such details as ratio and other matters to naval experts.

London, Feb. 12.—(AP)—Expressing its good wishes for President Coolidge's Naval Proposals, the Daily News emphasizes Great Britain's interest "to avoid being in a needless, disastrous race for the development of naval power, in which the United States, if it chose, would be able to beat every nation on earth to a frazzle."

Nevertheless the paper thinks that the proposals as they stand create a rather perplexing situation, partly because they would involve drastic alteration of League of Nations procedure and would do this in the possibility of dealing with the armaments problem as a whole.

If China Could Fly Horses Will Go, Babe Ruth and Milton It's Dead, At Last (By Arthur Brisbane)

North China is sending four great armies against the Cantoneses who think they should run the country, and throw out foreigners. The big armies are picking their way south by different roads and bad roads.

Think what it would mean for those Chinese Generals if they had five million of the twenty-two million automobiles running in the United States, and roads such as we have here.

And think especially what it would mean if those Chinese of the North had a big flock of flying machines and pilots to run them.

An intelligent Britisher named Ponsonby, who has been lecturing here, sometimes talks about war, and he says the next war will be totally different from all others.

It will be ENTIRELY A WAR FROM THE AIR, and where flying machines dropped two or three hundred bombs in the experimental flying stage of the great war, in the next war will drop 10,000 bombs and wipe out entire cities.

They will find our American cities quite read to be wiped out and thoroughly unprotected, if they come in this direction.

William Durland, president of a great riding school, retired says the automobile will never replace the saddle horse. Nevertheless, the saddle horse will vanish, and be only a memory to children of today's children.

When the musket came in, men thought it couldn't take the place of the bow and arrow, and, of course it couldn't possibly replace the Hawk that rode out on its owners' wrist and flew up to bring down the game bird.

The horse will linger on farms for a while and then disappear, as farming becomes really scientific. The work that requires three hundred days of the farmers time now will be done in a hour forty days or less, and the "Horse" will be a machine run by gas, electricity or wireless power.

Babe Ruth simply won't play base ball any more unless they send him a better contract than the one he just received. It gives him only $32,000 a year which is pitiful when you consider how hard he hits the ball when he does hit it.

That is barely two thousand dollars a week and gives him only a few months in the late fall, winter and early spring for other money earning.

The thought may point out that Babe Ruth gets, in one year for hitting that ball about a thousand times as much as Milton got for writing "Paradise Lost" that is an argument. For one American that wants to read "Paradise Lost" at least a million want to see Babe Ruth play base ball.

That the World Court was dead for this country, almost everybody knew as soon as some senators were thrown out of the window. Even the World Court die-harders realized that the whole thing is ended now and admit it.

Will Rogers says Kings have no jokers now, because they don't need them. In his speech at the opening of parliament King George said, "My relations with China are friendly and I have dispatched warships there to express my good feeling."

FARM RELIEF BILL PASSED BY SENATE LATE YESTERDAY

Washington, Feb. 12.—(AP)—Carrying a margin of eight votes in its favor, which is two more than that by which a somewhat similar bill was turned down last June, the Senate approved McNary-Haugen farm relief bill yesterday, where it will be offered as a substitute for a twin measure now being considered there.

Although passage by the House is looked for by both supporters and opponents of the measure unless it goes through in the same form as it passed the Senate it will have to be sent to conference and run the risk of being crowded out in the last minute rush of the present session.

Proponents of the legislation are being caused no little worry by the uncertainty as to whether President Coolidge will sign the bill. If he vetoes it, they see the measure killed as far as this session is concerned because of the apparent impossibility of mustering in either house the two third majority needs to over-ride the veto.

Passage of the bill by the Senate came late yesterday after many amendments had been added and others rejected. The vote was 47 to 39.

Twenty-four Republicans, 29 Democrats and the one Farmer-Labor voted for the while while 22 Republicans and 17 Democrats opposed it.

Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, lost an amendment to defer the levy for two years. Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi, also failed in an effort to have the fee on cotton deferred for two years.

AUTOS AND OTHER PRIZES AWARDED BY PAPER TONIGHT

Announcement of Winners Expected Around Nine Thirty Followed Promptly With Awarding of Prizes.

Promptly at eight tonight the Reflector subscription and prize contest will close followed by the final counting of votes and the awarding of prizes by the judges.

Thirteen contestants are on the list who are to be included in the distribution of approximately $3,000 in prizes. Prizes consist of a Studebaker Sedan, Chevrolet Coach and mid cash awards of $200, $75, $50 and $40. In addition to these prizes there will be given a cash commission of ten per cent based on the total subscription receipts to those who fail to earn one of the six prizes.

The race for the rich prizes has narrowed down to seven or eight workers the others have either fallen by the wayside during the six weeks campaign or have accomplished so little as to place them hopelessly out of it. All, however, receive something for their efforts.

The last list of contestants and their standings is published today. All votes held by a contestant and not appearing in this list will be dropped in a locked and sealed ballot box located in the office of the campaign manager. These votes will be counted by the judges when the box is turned over to them tonight and added to each workers list as shown by the paper. The sum of the two will be the grand total of votes cast and the prizes will be awarded accordingly.

Both cars will be parked outside The Reflector office and the winners or their friends may drive them away immediately following the announcement of winners. Cash prizes will be issued promptly. Should a ten per cent commission on the work turned in amount to more than the value of the cash prize, the winners of such will be given the difference by the Reflector.

On Monday morning a final article will appear regarding the campaign and the final vote standing of those competing will be published. The list as published today is not the true standing of those competing as the entrants and their friends know. The rules all along have for big the publishing of only a limited number of votes. This was done in order to keep all interested in the race and to protect the interest of those who were doing the best work.

HAYWOOD CALLED TO APPEAR BEFORE WAKE GRAND JURY

Authorities Want to Know More About Alleged Immorality Around Capital City

Raleigh, Feb. 12.—(AP)—Rev. Oscar Haywood, member of the House of Representatives from Montgomery county, and author of four "purity" bills, faced summons today to appear before the Wake county grand jury to supply details of alleged immoral practices related by him during a speech on the floor of the House early this week.

The summons was issued by the grand jury and placed in the hands of a court official for service prior to the special grand jury term beginning March 28.

The testimony desired of Mr. Haywood was said to be definite details of alleged evidences of immorality the minister-legislator said he was told were found adjacent to a Raleigh dance hall.

The minister quoted what he said a capital city policeman had told him in speech in the House in support of his "anti-immorality" bill. The bill was killed.

Weather Outlook for the week beginning Monday: South Atlantic and East Gulf States: A period of rain at the beginning of the week and again after the middle of the week; moderate temperatures most of the week except for a cold spell at the end.

ARCH CRIMINAL AGAIN IN HANDS OF LAW AFTER THIRD ESCAPE FROM PEN

INTRODUCE BILL FOR LEVYING TAX ON ELECTRICITY

Winston Measure For Tax of Mill a Kilowatt Would Increase Revenues $1,000,000

Raleigh, Feb. 12.—(AP)—Annual increase of $1,000,000 in state revenue would result from passage of the Winston bill introduced in the House today, fiscal experts here figure. The bill proposed to levy a tax of one mill a kilowatt hour on electric energy consumed in the state, with a provision decreasing the levy for power consumed by industrial and rural consumers.

Both branches were in session less than half an hour today and there were more empty seats than occupied ones.

The Winston bill is based on a suggestion made in pre-legislative days on taxing electric energy for a new source of revenue. The idea was first broached by George Ross, head of the bureau of marketing.

A tax of one mill a kilowatt would be levied on producers of energy of power and a provision is made that the producer keep records of what purpose the power goes to. Under this provision power for manufacturing purposes would be taxed 3-4 of a mill a kilowatt. Power used for lighting or domestic purposes outside corporate limits would be taxed 1-2 of a mill a kilowatt. Power used for domestic purposes inside corporate limits would be taxed 1 mill a kilowatt. The same tax would apply to manufacturers out of the state but supplying North Carolina consumers.

The upper House passed one January bill and had seven new bills introduced. Three of the measures were offered for consideration by Senator Currie, of Montgomery and Senator Moore of Martin, providing a workmen's compensation act for North Carolina was the most important of the new measures offered.

The compensation bill is the second that is now before the legislature for consideration. The Currie-Moore bill would require medical attention for the injured person for sixty days or more if needed and would require that six and two-thirds per cent of the weekly wage be set aside for the purpose of the act. The compensation fund would be administered by a board of three.

The other two state measures would give the Governor the right to remove justices of the peace and notaries public for causes.

The House received six new bills and passed seven. Among the new bills was one introduced by Miss McLean, Mecklenburg, to authorize the city of Charlotte to issue bonds. On suspension of the rules it was placed on the roll calendar for Monday without being referred to committee.

Both houses adjourned until Monday night.

On January 19 he held up a railroad brakeman in Indiana and secured his watch, some small amount of money and the brakeman's clothes.

On February 8, he was identified through his finger prints, supplied by the North Carolina authorities. The Terre Haute, Ind. chief of police made the identification and Wood is being held under the chief's personal charge.

On January 19 Wood stole a Ford coupe in Roanoke, Va. Mr. Pou has been trying to bring Wood back here while Indiana and federal authorities are pressing for him.

Captured in Indiana, Otto Wood, is Wanted by that State, North Carolina and The Federal Government.

Raleigh, Feb. 11.—(AP)—Otto Wood, Wilkes county, N. C., murderer who escaped three times from state prison here, has been captured the third time, state prison superintendent Pou informed the Associated Press today.

Wood, who was originally received at state prison here in 1923 for the murder of A. W. Kaplan, Greensboro, N. C., lawbroker, under a 30 year sentence, is in Terre Haute, Ind., prison with his disposition doubtful.

He is wanted here for his third escape. The Indiana law holds him for assault with a deadly weapon and attempt to rob which merits a 10 to 20 years sentence, and the federal government wants him for violation of the national automobile theft act, Mr. Pou said.

Wood has been identified through his finger prints. This is what Mr. Pou reported: Wood was recaptured in Terre Haute, Ind., on Jan. 25, following an attempted holdup. A druggist shot him four inches below the heart on January 19, but Wood survived, as his vital organs were not touched.

On January 19 he held up a railroad brakeman in Indiana and secured his watch, some small amount of money and the brakeman's clothes.

On February 8, he was identified through his finger prints, supplied by the North Carolina authorities. The Terre Haute, Ind. chief of police made the identification and Wood is being held under the chief's personal charge.

On January 19 Wood stole a Ford coupe in Roanoke, Va. Mr. Pou has been trying to bring Wood back here while Indiana and federal authorities are pressing for him.

Wood was received here December, 1923, escaped May 10, 1924, was recaptured on May 10, 1924, and escaped on Nov. 24, 1925, and recaptured Dec. 8 and escaped November 22, 1926, the last time.

Wood wears the undisputed title of "champion escape artist" of the state prison and its most colorful personality.

His first escape was the most dramatic of the three. Then he held up guards with a cane rifle, took their guns away, drove a prison car out of the enclosure, commandeered a successive truck and a touring car and made his way out of the state. His freedom was brief—only two days.

The next escape was more subtle. He secreted himself in a large concrete culvert and was shipped out of the prison in a barrel of the ditching material. He stayed away longer this time. The final escape bore earmarks of an "inside job." He simply walked out of a back gate, minus one of the supporting pins. Two guards were discharged for alleged complicity in last getaway.

Between his second recapture and his third escape he was confined on "death row" for several months to make sure of holding him. While in solitary confinement he wrote a book purporting to be "his life and deeds." It gained wide circulation with its tale of the daring criminal's resolve to quit escaping and make the best of serving out his sentence.

A few months after Wood completed his book the prison board of directors, over protest of Supt. 000,000 annually.

OUR SATURDAY NIGHT MEDITATION

"CHARACTERISTICS OF S. MARK'S GOSPEL"

"The Gospel according to S. Mark" gives his personal view of the "Glad Tidings" as he heard and received them.

It is a very different account from that of St. Matthew, but differences are not disagreements, and certainly not contradictions. Two travelers may ascend a mountain, one on the southern slopes and the other on the wilder northern side.

No two men would write the biography of a hero in the very same way. We have two lives of Socrates; one by Xenophon and the other by Plato. They differ greatly. Xenophon, the soldier, depicts the world-wisdom and popular philosophy and strong common sense of the great Athenian Sage; while Plato, the philosopher, reveals his speculations concerning the good and the true.

Jesus is greater than either of His biographies—greater than all four combined. No one narrator could give all sides of His character. To S. Matthew, Jesus was the realization of Israel's Hope—the promised Messiah. He wrote, as we saw, for Jesus and the Jews, and chose his material with that purpose in view.

Now S. Mark wrote his Gospel for the benefit of the Romans.

So he gives no genealogy of Christ, says nothing about His childhood; and is silent on the first thirty years. We saw that S. Matthew quoted the Old Testament 65 times; S. Mark, in his own person, quotes the Old Testament only twice. He makes no reference at all to the Mosaic Law. But writing to Romans, he portrays Christ as the Son of God and exhibits His divine power in mighty miracles. Rome was attracted by heroes and defied power—so S. Mark describes Christ as the Conqueror of disease and death.

His is the shortest Gospel. It contains only two miracles not mentioned by the other evangelists: Deaf and dumb man cured, chapter 7:31-37; Blind man cured, chapter 8:22-26. And only two parables not mentioned by the rest: "Growth of Seed" chapter 4:26-29; "the house hold watching," chapter 13:34-36. There are only 24 verses in all that contain important information not contained in the other Gospels.

Who was S. Mark? A young man named John, living at Jerusalem. Also called Mark, from his Roman name Marcus: a hammer or mallet.

His first name seems to have fallen into disuse early for we read of him as Mark or Marcus from the first. His mother, Mary, was a friend of S. Peter (Acts 12:12) and he was probably converted to Christianity by that Apostle, because Peter calls him "Marcus, my son" (I Peter 5:13). John Mark was cousin to Barnabas (Col. 4:10) and perhaps in this way became acquainted with S. Paul, who, later, dismissed Mark from his traveling companions for slackness. (Acts 15:36-39).

However, some nine or ten years later we find Mark restored to the friendship and companionship of the great Apostle to the Gentiles during his first Roman captivity, and a much appreciated fellow-worker during the second imprisonment in Rome. S. Mark was with S. Peter in "Babylon" (? "Rome") when he wrote his First Epistle (I Peter 5:11).

Tradition says Mark afterward labored in Egypt, founded the church at Alexandria and became its first Bishop. In the 9th century, the Venetians carried his supposed remains back to Venice and S. Mark became the patron saint of that city. The date and manner of his death are unknown.

Characteristics of his writing. He writes as an eyewitness, clear and vivid. Gives fullest account of our Lord's miracles. The earliest writers from Papias (A.D. 130) express the opinion that he wrote what St. Peter preached and recorded the things related by S. Peter. Originality and truthfulness are stamped on his statements.

He has little literary skill or style. His language is homely and sometimes ungrammatized. "Straightway" is a favorite word. He writes the human quotations and gestures of Christ more than any other writer. He explains many Jewish customs which would be unfamiliar to his Roman readers; for example, "defiled hands" he explains "that is, unwashed hands." There are fifteen of such explanations in his Gospel. Six times he uses Latin words which he probably learnt while visiting Rome. His references to S. Peter are worthy of special attention.

Date of writing. Before the destruction of Jerusalem in A.D. 70, judged by the prophecies in chapter 13. Chapter 16, verse 9 to the end is believed to have been added by a later writer. Probable date A.D. 62.

St. Mark's Gospel has had great influence in modern times, because it is free from religious and theological narrative, and is the earliest picture of the actual deeds Christ performed.

To be without this Gospel of the Divine Power of the Son of Man would be a tragic loss to the Christian church.

SICK HEADACHE

No Pleasure, Says Ohio Lady, to Go Places, Till She Took Black-Draught Which Brought Relief.

Lansville, Ohio.—"For years and years I suffered with severe headache," says Mrs. Jane Campbell, of this place. "It wasn't any pleasure for me to go places, for I came home with sick headache. If I went to church or to any social gathering or to town to shop, when I got back I would have these headaches and have to go to bed for a day or more, till I would just get out of heart and would not try to go."

Headache often is a symptom of constipation. The best relief is secured by treating the cause of the trouble and in such a case many people have been greatly helped by the use of Thedford's Black-Draught.

GOVERNORS TALK WITH SEC Y WORK ON NATIONAL PARK

Secretary Promises Governors McLean And Peay That Smoky Area be Sveyed Soon.

Washington, Feb. 12.—(AP)—The project for a national park in the Great Smoky Mountain area of North Carolina and Tennessee moved forward today at conferences between governors of North Carolina and Tennessee. Secretary Work of the Interior Department, members of the state conservation commissions and officials of the national park service.
Following the two hour conference with Secretary Work and other Interior Department officials the two state Governors and members of the state conservation commissions went into a conference among themselves to decide on the amounts of money to be spent by the two states to acquire the 428,000 acres necessary, before the area can be accepted as a national park.
Secretary Work promised the Governors a survey of the 704,000 acre area lying half in North Carolina and half in Tennessee, will be made during the coming spring and summer to outline roughly the areas acceptable to the Interior Department for national park services.
Governor A. W. McLean, of North Carolina, Gov. Austin Peay of Tennessee, were told that 150,000 acres of the 704,000 acres available must be secured by the states as a pledge, and that securing of half of the balance with insure establishment of a park of at least 428,000 acres.
There will be no general development of the park area until the major portion of the available balance above the 150,000 pledged acreage shall have been secured, Secretary Work said. Fire rangers of the department will protect the area but otherwise there will be no federal development until the acreage has all been secured.
"The Governors," Secretary Work said, "are anxious to go forward with the establishment of the park as the department is to have them do so. There is no difference between them as to the establishment of the park. Both legislatures are in session and are sympathetic to the projects. Apparently the only element necessary to early acquisition of the property is time.
Assistant Secretary Edwards of the Interior Department, explained that the Governors want both North Carolina and Tennessee to act in harmony and not to acquire any land until they can act as one. A bill for a $2,000,000 bond issue for purchase of the prospective area is now before the North Carolina legislature.

ARCH CRIMINAL AGAIN IN HANDS OF LAW AFTER THIRD ESCAPE FROM PEN

Pou, ordered him released from solitary confinement.
The escape followed and the directors publicly absolved Supt. Pou of all blame. Wood's book was accredited as working on the sympathies of the board and also providing funds for his final getaway.
While on "death row" Wood assumed the role of hero by summoning aid to the cell of W. L. Ross, Warren county murdered, when Ross attempted to commit suicide by setting fire to his straw mattress and wrapping himself up in it.
The fugitive added the last touch of drama to his escape by writing to a Greensboro paper shortly after his escape offering to treat with Governor McLean for surrender on condition he would not again be placed under Supt. Pou, but sent to one of the prison farms on "equal basis with other prisoners."
The Governor and Mr. Pou answered the truce message by doubling the fugitive's reward and declaring him an outlaw. When captured he bore a price of $500 on his head and was free game for any citizen who desired to shoot him down after the formality of requesting him to give up.
His recapture in Indiana brands numerous rumors of his being seen and interviewed in North Carolina in recent weeks as false. Several citizens gained press recognition with yarns of having seen and conversed with the noted outlaw.

TODAY

Premier Baldwin writes a speech and the King reads it.
Of 118,000,000 Americans, only 3,000,000 own stocks or bonds. Those happy few received in 1924 dividends amounting to four thousand three hundred and thirty-eight millions. Not much divided among so many, only about $1,200 each, but some got more than others.
The small number of stockholders, estimated by the American bankers association, is encouraging to brokers and those that have good stocks and bonds for sale.
Wages are high, money is piling up in the savings banks, millions that own no stock COULD own them, if proper inducements as to returns and safety were offered.
Women can succeed in business. Nineteen years ago Mrs. Alice Mae Dougall was young, with $38 and ambition. She could run a Tea Shop well, and she was right. Yesterday she signed a lease for no. 50 east fifty-seventh street in New York City, and on that lease she will pay $1,000,000, a new record for a young lady keeping a tea shop.
If you can do anything well, you can make it pay well. Thousands of women have business genius that do not suspect it. The pity is that any woman should be compelled to go into business. While young, each woman should be a mother and after that she should be an inspiration.

Women Take Active Part in Fighting For President Diaz

Managua, Nicaragua, Feb. 12.—(AP)—Members of a women's battalion who have been fighting for President Diaz, are recovering from the effects of a severe battle.
They proved their mettle in the recent fight for the town of Chinandega.
A battalion under the leadership of twenty year old Natalia Garcia, helped the Conservatives to victory over the Liberals after several days of fierce fighting.
Although the duties of the battalion for the most part consist of cleaning guns and passing food and ammunition to the Conservative soldiers in the trenches, the women are constantly in the midst of heavy fire and 16 of them were wounded. Senorita Garcia is in a grave condition, having been shot through the breast.

Arrest Man Wanted For Mail Robbery And Slaying Four

Manila, Feb. 12.—(AP)—Capture of a man positively identified as Hugh D'Autremont, one of the three brothers wanted for the murder of four men killed when a Southern Pacific mail train was dynamited in an attempted robbery in the Siskiyou tunnel of Oregon three years ago, was announced here today in an official statement issued by the Philippine Postoffice Department.
The man was arrested at Los Banos as James C. Price, a private in the 31st infantry. He was brought to Manila and placed in confinement under a heavy guard. He probably will be returned to Oregon on the first available transport.

WEEKLY STOCK REVIEW

New York, Feb. 12.—(AP)—Smashing the corner in Wheeling and Lake Erie common and the establishment of new high levels for the year by both the rail and industrial averages, despite a drastic reaction in the middle of the week, were the high lights in this week's stock market. Trading was in enormous volume, due to the expansion of public interest and the increased activity of professional traders.
The recent sensational rise in the Wheeling and Western Maryland stocks was explained by the announcement that the New York Central, Baltimore and Ohio and Nickelplate Railroads had acquired control of Wheeling and the B. and O. had increased its interest in Western Maryland to 35 per cent of the outstanding stock, incidentally withdrawing large blocks of stock from the open market and rapping a large short interest. Wheeling was bid up to a new high record at 130 on the urgent retreat of the short interest, broke within a day to 96 3/4, rallied the same day to 95, later fell back again to 64 and finally rallied to 68. Western Maryland issued also underwent a sharp downward readjustment. Directors of both roads made application to increase the authorized amount of common in order to take care of conversions of preferred.

GRAIN REVIEW

Chicago, Feb. 1.—(AP)—With the season for crops scares approaching in this country, traders just now are closely watching the progress of domestic winter wheat. Meantime huge supplies of wheat that are being rushed north from below the equator tend to act as a weight on the market. A new result is decided irregularity of prices.
Compared with a week ago, latest quotations here on wheat are strung out all the way from 1 1/2 cent decline to 7-8 cent advance.
Corn is unchanged to 1-4 cent higher, oats 3-8 cent to 5-8 cent lower and provisions varying from 2 cents drop to a rise of 10 cents.

Imperial Valley Again Visited By Earthquake Shock

Calexico, Cal., Feb. 12.—(AP)—A series of earthquakes starting after midnight and recurring at intervals of about a half hour until six o'clock, rocked the Imperial Valley today.
The first tremor described as the sharpest of the series, was felt at 12:58 a. m. It caused some damage to buildings here and in Mexicali, across the international boundary line, Lower California. Damage was confined to buildings under repair or condemned as a result of last New Year's Day tremors which caused extensive loss.

The initial disturbance was followed a half hour later by two others which were light and a few seconds apart. Each successive quake diminished in intensity.
El Centro and Brawley, respectively 12 and 29 miles north of here, reported the quakes, the first being severest. No damage was reported in the two localities.
