WINTERVILLE ENTRANT AWARDED FIRST PRIZE IN REFLECTOR CONTEST

City and Outside Contestants Share in Awards at Close of Daily Reflector Subscription Drive Past Saturday.

The subscription drive which the Reflector has been conducting for the past six weeks is over and the more than $3,000.00 in prizes have been awarded to their rightful owners.

The close came promptly at eight this past Saturday night when the last contestant was checked in at the campaign office on the second floor of the Reflector building. After a wait of some few minutes or the arrival of one of the judges the ballot box locked and sealed was turned over to them for the final count and rechecking of the votes.

Counting of the votes got under way at eight thirty and the announcing of winners was made to several hundred anxious ones waiting in front of the Reflector office by C. B. Rowlett, Secretary of the Merchants Association who acted as one of the three judges. To add to the already intense suspense of contestants and their friends, the winners of the six prizes were announced from the last prize winner up.

Mrs. John Carroll of Winterville was awarded the first prize of a Studebaker Custom Sedan that sells delivered here in Greenville from Sumrell Motor Car Co. for $1,500.00. Mrs. T. M. Gorman, Jr., won second prize of a Chevrolet Coach purchased for Pitt Chevrolet Co. Inc. Third prize of $200.00 in cash to Miss Rose Hadley. Fourth prize of $96.50 to Mrs. Sugg Fleming of Paeonius white fifth and sixth prizes consisting of $82.50 and $43.50, respectively, were awarded to Mrs. Blanche Cherry of Greenville and Miss Martha Congleton, of Leens, in the order named.

The last three prizes were originally announced as being of $75.00, $30.00 and $10.00, but as the winners of these prizes would earn more by taking a ten percent commission which went to all non-winners of prizes, the paper made up their difference which accounts for the odd figures noted above.

The campaign was conducted fair and impartial lines from start to finish as has been the custom in the past. No favors were shown any one contestant that would work to the disadvantage of another. Those who won did so because they worked hard and turned in their work when the most votes were given on subscriptions. Votes determined the awarding of prizes and not the money turned in as has been stated many times before.

All records complete from start to finish of the six weeks subscription drive are open for inspection to those who participated. Those who took part couldn't have been treated any fairer if they did business with their own mother.

The paper wishes to take this opportunity to congratulate the prize winners as well as those who have earned a commission; to thank the public for their hearty cooperation without which the complete success that it has. To the ladies in the contest Messrs. J. C. Lanier, J. C. Gaskins and C. B. Rowlett who gave of their valuable time and effort. The Reflector feels deeply indebted.

As a result of this campaign the circulation of the Reflector has been greatly increased, which makes for a better advertising medium to the merchants of the city and others who use its space. Elsewhere in this issue will be found the final standing of all those who finished the race. The report of the judges signed by them after making the final count follows:

KIWANIANS WILL STAGE MINSTREL AT EARLY DATE

Production for Benefit of Public Library Be Presented on 25th this Month

The Greenville Kiwanis Club manifesting their interests in the future of the Greenville Public Library will on Friday, February 25th, stage a minstrel from which the entire proceeds above expenses will be turned over to the library committee of the Womans' Club to be used for the benefit of the city's library.

While a majority of the cast for the production will be drafted from the Kiwanis Club, several local well known black face artists as well as "song birds" will be used in presenting the best minstrel that has ever before been attempted by any local organization. Messrs. Heritage and Morris, two professional minstrel men of years of experience, have been engaged to coach the production and rehearsals will begin this evening in the auditorium of the high school at 7:30 o'clock, at which time every Kiwanian is expected to be present, together with other local people who have consented to assist.

Edison Philosophy.
All in Pauper's Graves.
Money in Automobiles.
Vanderbilt's Story.
(By Arthur Brisbane)

On Friday, his eightieth birthday, Edison was the witch of endor, answering all questions put him by fifty reporters. Hear the wizard.

Yes, Ford is right about the five day week, and the four day working week is coming.

Is spiritualism 'the bunk'? It is.

Should Coolidge be re-elected? Yes, he ought to be.

When will you retire? Just before my funeral.

Democracy works fairly well, where the people are fairly intelligent.

Real life, worth while, starts at about thirty-five.

Military aviation is the thing most important for defense.

Crime? It will gradually diminish, because it does not pay.

There you have a high percentage of wisdom.

But even Edison is not all wisdom. Asked "What do you think of Russia?" He replied: "They mean well, but the ruling men know nothing of real life."

That, from a scientist in his New Jersey laboratory will amuse men dealing with 200,000, Russian villages, 120,000,000 Russians—40 languages, forty races and 40,000 new problems born with the death of the Romanoffs.

When the first agricultural machinery, cutting, threshing, and bagging grain was sent to remote Russian districts by the Soviet government, priests of the Russian Greek church were dispatched to the fields, to reassure superstitious peasants.

The machinery snorted, started, and the priests were first over the fence and out of the field.

That is how it is with some of our best minds, especially as they grow old and rich. They are first over the fence, when you mention any new idea in government.

Mr. Edison's opinion of Russian ideas that seeking to make human beings more nearly equal, is about the same as the early opinion of public schools, or the abolition of slavery.

Edison believes in the immortality of the soul, or, like millions of other men relying on reason, not on faith, he TRIES to believe in it.

It bothers him, because his job in life has been testing and proving. And immortality is something you can't test or prove. The Congo native, wondering at the hipopotamus by day, wishing he could eat it, and wondering at the stars by night wishing he could placate them, knows as much about immortality as Edison or the greatest philosopher—Plythagoras to George Harvey.

As you think of Edison genius, simplicity and true greatness don't forget what that genius has done in the practical world for workmen and capitalists and hundreds of millions that use electric light.

The financial side, represents a small part of Edison's value, but it is a fact that industries made possible by him represent today's capital of fifteen thousand millions of dollars.

And he is comparatively a poor man, still working hard.

He wishes he had more money that he might make more costly experiments. Experimenting with new inventions, he told the reporter, is the most interesting thing in the world, bring new truths out of the unknown.

Once he told Henry Ford of a wonderful machine, able to grind steel so fine that it would float on water. Edison said he was going to buy one for experiments, as soon as he could afford it.

Ford immediately bought two, one for himself, one for Edison. He, Ford, does not have to wish for more money. He's got it.

Everybody saw the big headlines "Hair to $4,000,000 in pauper's grave," and many sympathized, thoughtlessly. Every hair to four million, or four hundred millions, lies in a pauper's grave, for every corpse is a pauper. No pockets in shrouds, no bank accounts in the place to which we go from here. Let that comfort you, if you lack your first million. But don't let it interfere with trying to get it. Struggling for what we don't need impels us to do work that the world does need.

There is money in the auto industry, all kinds of it, if you know the business. Ask Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., president of General Motors. Recently that concern distributed a bonus of fifty per cent stock to its stockholders. Now Mr. Sloan announces that the $7 paid annually on the old

FARM RELIEF BILL SUBJECT DEBATE CONGRESS TODAY

Supporters Hope to Get Measure in Hands of President By End of the Week

Washington, Feb. 14.—(AP)—Substitution of the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill as passed by the Senate for its companion measure now before the House was recommended today by the House rules committee.

Washington, Feb. 14.—(AP)—The McNary-Haugen bill, listed today for a fiery bath of three hours debate in the House probably faces the last week of its congressional life.

While a final vote on the measure which was passed last Friday by the Senate is not expected to be held in the House before the end of the week, its supporters, confident of its passage, are pressing towards this show down so that the bill can be placed in the hands of President Coolidge by Saturday.

Its supporters led by Chairman Haugen of the House Agriculture Committee, a co-author of the measure, however, are planning to bring it to a test vote tomorrow, as an index of its strength, on the parliamentary handling of the bill.

The measure, a football of Congress for the past three years, although admittedly in the most auspicious position of its legislative career, faces another barrier, erected by its House opponents in an eleventh hour effort for its defeat. These adversaries are planning to burden the measure with amendments so that its return to Senate for conference will be necessitated. There is Senate enemies who hope to bury it so there will be no opportunity of a conference report before the present session ends.

Representative Haugen evidently anticipates such a move against his measure and today is expected to attempt to thwart it with a parliamentary maneuver. He plans to appear before the House rules committee and present a resolution to authorize the substitution of the bill as approved and amended by the Senate for the champion measure now before the House.

Published by the press a semi-official communique which does not intend to anticipate the official answer, reveals that Italy will insist upon reservations for the protection of her interests. "Italy, in view of her modest naval program," the communique said, "could never consent to measures endangering even indirectly her vital interests." The communique asserts there have been changes of facts about disarmament since the 1922 conference and charges several of the small and large powers which face the Mediterranean have an accelerated program of naval construction.

The Japanese naval authorities the American proposal, is the view of Navy Minister Tarkabe. In a newspaper statement adding that it was premature for the official reply of his government. But, he claimed, Japan has reduced her naval forces to a minimum for defensive purposes. The Federal Council of Churches in its statement endorsed the President's proposal and calls upon the churches of Great Britain and France to stand as a unit resolutely behind Mr. Coolidge in his plan.

REPORT BILL TO ISSUE PERMITS TO MANUFACTURE LIQUOR

Washington, Feb. 14.—(AP)—A bill to authorize the secretary of the treasury to issue permits to private companies for the manufacture of medicinal liquor was reported unanimously today by the House Ways and Means committee.

ARMS LIMITATION MEETS APPROVAL FOREIGN POWERS

Indications However That Italy and Japan Will Make Certain Reservations

Washington, Feb. 14.—(AP)—President Coolidge's proposal for a disarmament conference on lighter naval craft is receiving added impetus of approval.

While both a semi-official pronouncement from Italy, hitherto silent on the plan, and a statement by the Japanese naval minister signify good will towards the invitation, there is, however, an indication that reservations on the President's plan will be forthcoming in the official replies of the two governments as both nations claim their naval forces are on a minimum basis at present.

Wholehearted support of the President's proposal is voiced in a statement by the Federal Council of Churches in America, as represented by the members of churches, in Great Britain and France in favor of new disarmament scheme.

WOOD EXPECTED TO CONSENT RETURN NORTH CAROLINA

Officials Do Not Believe Notorious Criminal Will Fight Extradition

Raleigh, Feb. 14.—(AP)—The first step for the return of Otto Wood, North Carolina's one-armed outlaw, was taken today when Governor P. W. State prison superintendent, presented papers to Governor McLean for his signing extraditing the notorious criminal from Indiana.

Mr. P. W. was assured of the Governor's signature to the papers before he presented them. The superintendent did not plan to go to Terre Haute, Ind., personally, to present the papers to the Indiana Governor.

If the Hoosier Governor honors the papers, Wood will be returned to prison here after his third escape. His last jailbreak here occurred last November.

The $500 offered by North Carolina for Wood's return will be left to the Indiana authorities to award, Mr. P. W. said. It appeared from here likely that the sum would be split between the druggist in Terre Haute who shot Wood down last month when he attempted single handed robbery of a drug store and the officers who made the arrest a little later.

Wood's record, photograph, fingerprints, description, charges against him and alias, were received from the Indiana jail by authorities here.

Charges against the notorious criminal, since his confinement here in December 1923, for the murder of A. W. Kaplan, Greensboro pawnbroker, include: three escapes from state prison here, added to his record of two escapes previously; violation of the national auto theft and the Virginia theft law; attempt to rob and assault with a deadly weapon under Indiana law.

It is understood here Wood will waive extradition and return rather than face 30 years sentence on the two Indiana charges.

Mr. P. W. said he felt certain the other charges against him would stand aside and that North Carolina would have prior right although Wood had escaped from Ohio and Tennessee jails before his conviction here.

Whether Wood, however, actually would fight extradition at the last moment, remained to be determined in Indiana.

C. W. HARVEY VS. B. W. MOSELEY IN A CIVIL ACTION

Plaintiff Recovers Damage of $15,000 for Use of Expressions of Defamatory Nature

In a civil suit, which was heard here on Friday of last week, in which Charlie Harvey was suing Bennett Moseley for using expressions of defamatory nature, the plaintiff recovered of the defendant $15,000. Immediately following the verdict of the jury motion was made by counsel for the defense that the verdict be set aside but such was denied by the trial judge, and although no notice of appeal has yet been filed, indications are that such will be done before adjournment of court.

There were but three issues submitted to the jury, and each of these were answered in favor of the plaintiff. At the outset of the trial a very unusual announcement was made by counsel for the plaintiff, who stated that in event that a verdict was rendered in favor of his client that the jury was to receive one-half of the amount allowed. The judge insisted that the jury was not to consider such in reaching their verdict, but consensus of opinion is that such announcement had some weight on the result.

The occasion that prompted the beginning of this suit, being a part of the program of "ladies' night" with the local Kiwanis Club which was held Friday evening, J. Frank Harrington was the presiding judge, with Herbert Austin as officer of the court. The plaintiff was represented by Paul Fitzgerald, while the interest of the defense was ably handled by Bob Fitzgerald. For the first time in the history of Pitt county, the jury was composed entirely of ladies who deliberated but a short period after the case was presented to them following the (dis)honorable judge's charge.

This annual event of the Kiwanis was one of the most enjoyable for several years, with Muz Massey in charge of the program following the preliminaries over which president Billy Woodard presided. Several stunts by a few of the "coats" of the Club furnished much fun and merriment for the Ki's, the Ki-ans and the several guests.

The Misses Morton of the Teachers College, and Misses Fullove of the high school faculty, rendered many musical numbers which were thoroughly enjoyed.

HEARINGS IN FORD TAX SUIT RESUMED DURING MORNING

Government Counsel Declares Former Estimate of Stock Value Not Binding

Washington, Feb. 14.—(AP)—Ford Motor Company stock was worth somewhere between $1,500 and $6,500 a share in the spring of 1913 in the opinion of the government, which today began presenting its case against Senator James Couzens, and other former minority stockholders for $30,000,000 additional taxes on the transfer of their stock to the Ford family in 1919.

Disavowing the valuation of $9,489 a share arrived at by Daniel C. Roper, former commissioner of internal revenue, which it designated as "a decision of convenience," Alexander G. Gregg, solicitor of the treasury department, told the board of tax appeals that "Roper's action was illegal, without effect and not binding upon the government."

Gregg asserted that the sale of the stock to Ford was not made upon the assumption that the valuation bound the government and that if the treasury made an error in its original appraisal, which resulted in an under payment of $30,000,000 in taxes, it was now the duty of the government to correct that error.

In disavowing the method adopted by Roper in arriving at his valuation, Gregg charged that P. S. Talbert, Roper's chief deputy, made his estimate after a "hurried and cursory consideration of the question and that he 'ignored the well considered advice of his associates.'"

The subsequent examinations conducted by the treasury in 1921 and 1922 which uniformly upheld the Roper valuations and which have been cited by the petitioners, were designated by Gregg as having been equally cursory.

He announced that the government will prove that Henry Ford in 1917, placed a value of $6,126 a share on the stock.

GOVT OPERATION OF MUSCLE SHOALS WOULD PROVIDE FEDERAL CORPORATION FOR MANUFACTURE OF CHEAP FERTILIZER

Washington, Feb. 14.—(AP)—A proposal for government operation of Muscle Shoals for several years was introduced today by Representative Lowry, Democrat, Mississippi.

The bill would set up a government corporation with the secretaries of agriculture, commerce and war as directors who would be given $25,000,000 with much to condition and operate the nitrate plants for production of fertilizer. The corporation also would produce sufficient nitrates to supply the army and navy with ammunition and would be required to distribute surplus power "upon such a plan as they think wise to adopt."

All products of the plant would be disposed of upon a cost of production basis, with the corporation controlling the price of fertilizer to the consumer.

Jealousy Cause of Three Deaths

Bristol, Tenn., Feb. 14.—(AP)—Jealousy, officers said led to the sudden death of three persons yesterday at Blackford 13 miles from Honsker, Va., when J. D. Howard, enraged at the alleged attention to his wife by another man, shot and instantly killed her and then turned the weapon upon himself, firing three shots into his body which caused almost instant death. Two hours later Henry Grant turned a revolver upon himself, ending his own life. Grant, police officers say, had been attentive to Mrs. Howard.

Merchants Body Approves Coming of Salvation Army

It has been brought to my attention that an effort is now being made to establish in Greenville a local post of the Salvation Army. Should such receive every support as well as the good will of the people of Greenville and Pitt county, because everyone familiar with the operations of the Salvation Army wherever they are stationed, know that their presence means a spiritual uplift among the people. Then, too, their administering to the poor and needy is a God-send to that particular element of our population. Personally, I would be glad to see such an institution in Greenville, and believe that when it is submitted to our business interests as well as others that the cause will receive a ready response for its permanent support.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified croscote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth. Of all known drugs, croscote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest life-line agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to croscote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the croscote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded, if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Mr. Cardwell in part, says: "Tobacco is a 'bread and butter' crop with many farmers; therefore it is a crop of importance. It has been estimated that seven out of every ten dollars realized from the sale of tobacco and cotton is sent out of the states and counties in which produced, to buy food and feed. This estimate may not be correct, and the system is all wrong; but the estimate is in the right direction and the system is in vogue on thousands of farms. 'What are we going to do about this situation, and what are we going to do to secure good prices for tobacco from the 1927 crop? Is there anything that we can do to help ourselves? Why, of course there is. We can support the tobacco crop with food and feed crops and with poultry and livestock on the same farms where tobacco is grown. In this way a considerable number of tobacco dollars can be kept at home to pay for the labor employed and the capital expended in growing the food and feed on our own farms. In protecting against low prices on this year's crop, if low prices should prevail, we can increase acreage and increase total production. There is only one remedy within reach of the farmer. He must study his business, and crop more than he ever did before. It is being predicted that low-grade prices may not be und profitable in the near future—therefore, the wise farmer is going to improve his skill in growing tobacco and add to his knowledge in the methods of handling the crop, so that he may be able to increase his income or at least to save it from injury. No matter how much you know or think you know about business, talk with your successful neighbor—the man who makes the best crop of tobacco year in and year out of all others in your community. Police Seeking Girls Assailant
 Birmingham, Ala., Feb. 14.—(AP)—Police today sought a man-runder who attacked Miss Florence Seaver, 16-year old daughter of Major and Mrs. Thomas C. Seaver, early Sunday morning, wielding an iron furnace crank to inflict dangerous head wounds. The girl's assailant then locked the mother in her room, set fire to the house and escaped with $45 and other valuables. Mrs. Seaver was awakened by the smell of burning cloth and climbed through her second story window to the roof of the porch to summon help. Firemen arrived in time to take the mother and girl from the burning house. Today the victim was pronounced dead in a serious condition. Her face was crushed.

The girl told a half coherent story to hospital attendants. When she awoke she saw a man standing over her bed. When the invader noticed she was awake, he told her to keep quiet or suffer death. It was when she tried to summon help that he used the heavy weapon. The room was dark, the girl said, and she was unable to describe her assailant, other than that his voice sounded like that of a negro.

The girl's father, Major Seaver is in Florida on business for the Salvation Army.

The Value of Human Life at all ages

"Broke"—but Worth $79,100

Dad earns $50 a week. He has just paid the rent, the grocery bill and the milk bill. He says he is "broke, but happy".... In reality, he and his family are worth a small fortune.... This American family represents $79,100 of the nation's wealth.

Perhaps the easiest way to realize this stupendous figure is to compare it with the total value of the entire material wealth of our country.

The latest available government reports show that everything we own—land, buildings, railroads, mines, raw materials, manufactured products, crops, live stock—everything included—was 321 billions.... Our lives are worth nearly five times as much as our property.

America can well be proud of the additional insurance placed on the valuable lives of her people in 1926. More than 16 billion dollars ($16,000,000,000) was written and revived during the year by about 300 life insurance companies—making the total amount of life insurance in force approximately 80 billion dollars ($80,000,000,000). About one sixth of the grand total is carried by the Metropolitan.

But while the people of this country carry 80 billion dollars of life insurance—or only one-twentieth of the economic value of their lives—they carry more than 160 billions of insurance on property—more than one-half of its value.

You would not insure a $5,000 house for $250—one twentieth of its value. You insure it adequately. But have you insured yourself adequately? Send for the booklet which tells you what you are worth. Study it. Then decide whether or not you carry enough insurance to protect your family.

America is rapidly gaining a better knowledge of the value of its greatest wealth—human lives.

The America of the future will better safeguard its wealth and happiness.

GOOD WILL FLIERS VISIT BOLIVIA CAPITAL

Lapaz, Bolivia, Feb. 14.—(AP)—American flags were displayed today in the Bolivian capital in honor of the American aviators of the U. S. Army "Goodwill" expedition who arrived here by train yesterday. The fliers, visiting Central and South American countries, left their planes at Ilo, Peru, and journeyed here especially to extend greetings to President Siles.

Cheering throngs gathered before the Club Lapaz, where the Americans are staying.

WINSTON-SALEM TO STAGE DRIVE FOR COMMUNITY CHEST

Winston-Salem, Feb. 14.—(AP)—Five hundred solicitors have been chosen to put the Winston-Salem community chest fund of more than one hundred thousand dollars over for 1927. (Continued from Page one) amount of the stock is to be increased to $8 per year, on the greater amount of stock. More stock, then more dividends. Cadillac, Pelion, or Chevrolet, Osso. The pleasant thing about the automobile business is that it always gets better. In 1925 General Motors earned $106,484,000. In 1926 the company earned $100,000,000, increase $84,000,000 net.

Young Cornelius Vanderbilt Jr. in Sunday's newspapers, tells of some of his experiences, intimately. Some of his family wanted him to be a snob, which, as others would say "is not a business."

They thought Yale was too plebeian and Harvard would supply the right atmosphere. He gives other details, revealing how wealth does its best to ruin the chances of the children.

More important, if you ask him.

young Vanderbilt will tell you what happened to those that bought stock in his tabloid newspapers, published in three cities. They lost millions of dollars, and others now buying tabloid newspaper stock, in the innocence of their hearts and pocketbooks, might investigate. Mark this "There is no better security than bonds issued against a real well established solid newspaper or magazine. There is nothing more dangerous than buying stock in a new newspaper." In a newspaper worth while, you can not buy any stock, none is for sale.
