FILIBUSTER HELD SENATE IN SESSION THROUGH NIGHT

Washington, Feb. 23.—(AP)—After an all night session during many hours of which less than half the membership was present, a quorum was secured in the Senate at 9:07 o'clock this morning and the filibuster against the Boulder Canyon Dam Bill was resumed.

A tired out body of men yawned through the early hours of a prolonged Senate session today watching with sullen prospect of a let up on the greatest filibustering shows ever to be staged in that historic chamber.

The delaying tactics, launched by opponents of the Boulder Canyon Dam Bill to prevent it reaching a vote were still underway at 7 a. m. at which time the Senate had been in continuous session for 20 hours, except for a little more than three hours in the middle of the night when warrants were being served on absent members in the first of half a dozen efforts to obtain a quorum and for the time required to hear President Coolidge's Washington Birthday address at the joint session yesterday.

Twice the sergeant-at-arms was given a blanket warrant and ordered to arrest the absentees as the Senate yawning, unable to continue without a quorum and refusing to recess.

Senator Johnson, Republican, California, co-author of the bill, time and again mustered a bare majority to force the filibuster led by Senators Cameron and Ashurst, of Arizona, to continue against time, but he was apparently leading a losing fight after falling to obtain a vote during the night as the measure faces early displacement as the unfinished business of the Senate.

Dawn found the Senate completely denuded for the second time with a handful of sleepy Senators in their seats, some still dressed in evening clothes. Earlier in the morning the sergeant at arms had obtained the presence of a quorum after three hours of telephoning at 5 o'clock when Senator Ashurst, Democrat, Arizona, permitted an interruption after two hours of speaking and many were found missing on a quorum call.

Reporting to the Senate at 6:30 a. m., the sergeant at arms said "several" had promised to come but the reminder of absentees would not answer their phones.

Senator Cameron, Arizona, had carried on the filibuster in the first part of the night, speaking from 5:30 p. m. yesterday until 10:45 p. m. when Senator Ashurst took up the fight. While Senator Cameron read from voluminous reports and records, his colleague spoke extemporaneously during the long hours he held the floor.

The Senate met yesterday at 11 o'clock and as it proceeded today without stop, one of the longest sessions of the body, if not the longest, was in prospect.

It was the first time that warrants were ordered for the arrest of absentees since 1915, when a filibuster was conducted against the Merchant Marine Bill. Records do not show, however, that any actual action last night was merely in the form of a notice to Senators that warrants had been issued to "compel" their attendance.

Those who had remained in the Senate chamber in the long night vigil during which the sergeant at arms sought to bring absentees to their desks, suffered good naturedly the joking remarks of their brightly-eyed colleagues who strolled leisurely in one by one with a good night of sleep behind them.

There was considerable comment as the late arrivals professed innocence the night session.

Although a blanket warrant had been issued by the Senate for the arrest of absentees, it was not served on any member.

When announcement was made that a quorum was present, Senator Phillips, Republican, Colorado, took up the fight against the measure which Senators Ashurst, Democrat, and Cameron, Republican, Arizona, had carried on throughout the night.

Other opponents of the bill were prepared to relieve the Colorado Senators. Senator Johnson, Republican, California, author of the bill, trying to force a vote before adjournment tonight to prevent displacement of the measure.

On the Union Pacific A Tiger Skin Girl. Whiskey $4.50 a Gallon G. W. Aristocrat. (By Arthur Brisbane)

This is the written west bound on the Union Pacific, a monument to railroad genius of the pioneer days, and to E. H. Harriman, who killed himself reconstructing the road and left it for his monument.

The train stopped at Omaha, Nebraska, where N. B. Updike, president; Ballard Dunn, chief editor and Jay M. Hackler, business manager of the Omaha Bee rule the roost. The "Bee" has just swallowed the "Omaha Daily News."

"Fewer, bigger and better news papers seem to be the program."

Reporters came to the station to inspect traveling curiosities, bringing photographers. The young lady "from the Bee" dressed in a solid tiger skin coat, keen as a falcon, gentle as a dove, is the most interesting. The others are men.

Two little girls, one with red hair, one with brown, from the Omaha high school newspaper, ask, "Can a girl become a great reporter?"

They are told that Nellie Bly was the best reporter of her day and Dorothy Dix is the best reporter living, and go back to school determined to be great.

This morning's front page of "The Bee" gives interesting information about our great American bootlegging industry.

Item 1. Omaha bootleggers have reduced the price of home made whiskey to $4.50 a gallon, over production is the trouble. Wine continues to sell for $6 a gallon. New Yorkers pay $25 a gallon for whiskey no better, but before they move to Omaha to get a cheaper bootlegger they should read item No. 2.

"For the third time in six weeks government chemists in Omaha have found large quantities of wood alcohol in recent seizures of 'Gordon Gin.'" One to four percent of wood alcohol is the average. Gordon gin with three percent of wood alcohol will kill you if you drink two quarts of it.

No. 3. A United States soldier from Fort Omaha, booked at the police station as drunk and damn. (Continued on page four)

ADMINISTRATION BLOCKS ACTION BORAH PROPOSAL

Idaho Senator Wants Committee to Visit Central America and Mexico This Summer

Washington, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Administration Senators temporarily blocked action today on Senator Borah's proposal that the Senate Foreign Relations Committee go on tour this summer in Mexico and Nicaragua.

Taking the view that the American government should be given an opportunity to say whether it thinks the trip is advisable, the bloc on the resolution put through a motion on which the committee directed Senator Borah as chairman to inquire whether Secretary Kellogg desires to appear and discuss the proposal.

The resolution will be taken up at another committee session tomorrow. In voicing this opposition administration Senators expressed the view that a visit of a Senatorial committee to the Central American republics just at this time might prove embarrassing to the State Department in its handling both of the Nicaraguan situation and the controversy with Mexico over oil and land laws.

Chairman Borah, under whose tutelage the trip would be made, is openly opposed to the administration's Nicaraguan policy, and has expressed sympathy for the Mexican recognized Saens group which is opposing the Nicaraguan regime recognized by the United States. The Senator also is counted a doubtful supporter of President Coolidge's policy toward Mexico.

LOCAL TELEPHONE EXCHANGE MADE GAINS LAST YEAR

Records Show Average of Over 85,000 Local Calls Handled Daily

More than thirty million local telephone calls were handled by the telephone exchange here last year in addition to more than eighty thousand long distance calls traced from this city to say nothing of the number of calls to this city from other points according to figures furnished by L. A. Corbett, manager of the exchange.

The year 1926 was a record one here for the telephone company according to Mr. Corbett and indicates that the town is enjoying a period of growth. The tolls of the local office ranked among the first in this section of the State while the number of stations gained, that is the number of telephones installed above those discontinued during the year, was the largest on record here.

80,173 long distance calls were placed from the Greenville exchange or an average of about 220 daily during the year while the number of local calls averaged 85,000 daily or ten calls each for every man woman and child in Greenville. The local exchange showed a net gain in stations of 143 during the year.

There was a time when patrons of the local exchange upon calling for a number heard the number repeated to them by the operator but during the middle of the year 1926 this practice on the part of the operator was stopped and in its stead the operator upon receiving a call returns a polite "Thank You" and proceeds to ring the party called.

Close observation of this change has revealed that more than a second saved in the time required to complete the call each month by the telephone patrons here since last July by this method is close to two hundred days.

Seek Clubber of Detroit Woman

Detroit, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Identity of a clubber who killed Mrs. Grace Loomis, 34, last night, while their children slept in an upstairs bedroom, was sought today. The woman's husband, Dr. Frank R. Loomis, said the clubbing occurred while he had gone for a short walk.

The body was found on the floor of a sun room, near a blood-stained settee. A pane of glass in a window near the settee was broken, but no other evidences of a struggle were found. Deep cuts and bruises on the woman's head pointed to the clubbing attack, although a search of the house and the neighboring grounds did not reveal the weapon.

Bloodstains were on Dr. Loomis' coat when he ran to a precinct station two blocks from his home to notify officers. He explained the stains by saying that he had lifted his wife's body from the floor to ascertain if she were alive.

SENATE PASSES UNMASKING BILL WITHOUT DEBATE

State Capitol, Raleigh, Feb. 23.—(AP)—In less than 60 seconds time, at 1:45 p. m., today the Senate passed today the House the "unmasking" bill unanimously. The measure's title read, question on second reading, put, ayed, third reading, ayed, and the bill was sent to the House by special messenger.

No word of discussion marked the bill's passage.

SUB COMMITTEE TO DRAFT A NEW EDUCATION BILL

Measure to be Substitute for Bills in Support of Six Months School Term

Raleigh, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Joint committee on education today had appointed a sub-committee from both House and Senate and instructed it to write a substitute bill for various measures proposed for support of six months schools.

The sub-committee is to report back Thursday afternoon. This decision came after a roll call vote, 29 to 16, had voiced opinion of members present that there should be an ad valorem tax on all property in the state for support of education, money to be raised by such levy to be augmented by funds from indirect sources of revenue.

Before the vote was taken, numerous committeemen spoke, charges and counter charges being made by Representatives and Senators.

Rep. McLean, Beaufort, reported the House committee was ready to offer a favorable report on the Graham bill. Senator Sharp, Rockingham, announced his committee was not ready to report and could not endorse the Graham bill as it had not been called into the House conference when this bill was adopted as the committee report.

Rep. Winston, Bertie, announced he would support the bill, if out of deliberation, there came a bill providing a four million dollar equalizing fund.

Rep. Folger, Surry, like Winston, as author of general property tax bill, said that if Senator Woltz, Gastonia, would write "four million" instead of "two and a half million dollars," into his bill, it would be acceptable.

Rep. Folger believed the committee should take into consideration possibility of proposing some measure which would have a chance to get through both the Houses.

ALEXANDER GETTING READY FOR ANOTHER BASEBALL SEASON

St. Louis, Feb. 23.—(AP)—The approach of his 40th birthday Saturday has failed to dampen the friskiness of Grover Cleveland Alexander, pitching hero of the Cardinal world's series conquest, as he hunts and shags fly balls in the outfield at Avon Park, Fla.

The years have dealt kindly with "Old Pete" and the start of his seventeenth season in major leagues yesterday found him as peppy as ten lads from the Cardinals' minor league farms who are trying for a place on the roster. Manager Bob O'Farrell is also stepping lively to take off fifteen pounds which is in excess of his playing weight.

DENY REPORTS AS TO DISSOLUTION OF KU KLUX KLAN

Raleigh and Wilmington Give Up Charters But Other Places Deny Such Action

Raleigh, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Nothing authentic further than the resignation of Judge Henry A. Grady, of Clinton, N. C., as Grand Dragon of the State Realm of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, confirmed by him personally, was made public today as local Klans continued to vote for and against surrendering their charters.

Dissolution reports were discontinued more or less over the state. The Raleigh Klan No. 1 formally voted last night to surrender their charter. Wilmington had surrendered its charter the night before, a report stated.

T. D. Grimes, Cyclops of Asheville Klan No. 40, said Judge Grady's resignation meant the Asheville Klan would get a new charter. The Craven county chapter officials denied any report of dissolution of the Klan, while Fayetteville's organization was reported to have taken no action.

The Greensboro Klan was reported by L. J. Lattin Barr, secretary, to be remaining with the national body, and to have added that reports of any dissolution were exaggerated.

Winston-Salem officials said no discussion as to surrendering their charter had been started, that unauthorized reports of 66 of 82 local chapters abandoning their charters emanating from the Grand Dragon's office here yesterday was "news" to them.

From office of the Exalted Cyclops of the Charlotte Klan came word that resignation of Judge Grady would have "no effect whatsoever on the activities of the Klan at Charlotte and in the state."

The Charlotte Klan, in resolution, pledged continued support to the Imperial Wizard with whose legislative program Judge Grady differed.

ANTI EVOLUTION BILL WITHDRAWN FROM ASSEMBLY

Proponents of Bill State That Measure Will Not Be Pressed at This Session

State Capitol, Raleigh, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Uneventfully a formal step of withdrawal of the North Carolina Bible League anti-evolution bill was taken today in public statement from its leading proponent.

Similar bill was killed by one vote in the House in the 1925 session, but only after a hot fight. No intense battle preceded this year's defeat.

The bill had been killed in House education committee, 25 to 11. Had one through formality of placing a committee report on the calendar, but a pool taken by The Associated Press had revealed the bill to be dead in the House.

Today Representative Burlington of Iredell County bill proponents reported in written statement that advocates of the bill after careful consideration, have decided that they will not press for this legislation.

He said in his 150 word statement more than 15,000 citizens of the State had petitioned the assembly for the passage for good of State owned schools, maintained the present system of teaching on question of evolution was tyrannical words of the conceded defeat drew no surprise and created no comment here. The bill had never been before the House proper for consideration.

The anti-evolution leader's statement read: "House Bill No. 263, known as the 'Good Bill' is now on the calendar on a minority report. The advocates of this bill, after careful consideration, have decided that they will not press for this legislation now. More than fifteen thousand citizens of North Carolina, from every part of the State have petitioned this Legislature to pass this bill for the good of the State owned schools.

The proponents of this measure feel that many of the teachers in the schools, colleges and universities, act not as teachers, but as propagandists of strange doctrines that neither make for character nor for equipment, that much of the so-called science teaching, in the words of Rev. Mr. Patrick of Scotland Neck, is 'half baked.'

"The friends of this measure feel that the present system of teaching a conception of religious things in which they heartily disbelieve, and they feel that this, in the language of Thomas Jefferson, is tyrannical. Sole outstanding final passage of the day's enactment in law was still sitting to the federal government right of way to complete the south-eastern inland waterway from Norfolk, Va., to Wilmington, N. C., in a measure appropriating $75,000 in interest of extending the way from Beaufort, N. C., to Wilmington, in interest of Southern shipping to foreign seas. Passage was unanimous in the Senate following similar House action.

The House, before it began consideration of the Australian ballot bill on question of initial passage to the Senate, passed to the Senate the Sharp anti-loan shark bill to prevent usurious interest on loans to wage earners. Motion in the House to table the Australian ballot bill was defeated by the House 49 to 62, forecasting the bill's passage to the House. Debate follows.

The Senate deferred action on the Confederate pensions bill until Thursday as a special order after spirited oratory in behalf of the veterans. The Senate increased to $1,500,000 the total annual fund of $1,200,000 which the appropriations bill had provided when it adopted minority report of the pensions committee.

Regular order of committee reports stayed the afternoon scheduled consideration of the day's special Senate order, the Johnstone disrobing bill.

In brief joint session at noon, the General Assembly unanimously approved committee appointments of trustees of the University of North Carolina and of State College.

CANTONESE ARE MAKING PROGRESS TOWARD SHANGHAI

Marshall Sun Today Surrendered Capital of His Last Remaining State

Shanghai, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Marshall Sun Chuan-Fang, once overlord of five of the richest provinces in China, today surrendered the capital of his last remaining state to an erstwhile nemesis in a desperate effort to prevent Shanghai and surrounding important territory in Kiangsu province from falling into the hands of his mortal foes, the Cantonese.

Meanwhile, the International city remained on edge as the result of being bombarded yesterday by a Chinese gun boat in the Whangpoo river here which asserted Marshall Sun's cause and attempted to shell his arsenal by firing over the metropolis. The shells fell short, five landing in the French concession and five in the Chinese section killing two natives and damaging two American residences.

Instantly the French forces were aroused. Two French gunboats trained their guns on the other two Chinese war craft which were nearby and which also were reported to have turned against Marshall Sun in favor of the Cantonese. The other two Chinese craft did not open fire, however, and a clash was averted.

The series of events in and around Shanghai recently including the capture of Hankow, south of here, by the Cantonese, the general strike of workmen in Shanghai and the bombing incident, all woven into the Cantonese plan to capture this city, has caused Marshall Sun's power to waver.

General Chang Tsung-Chang, military governor of Shantung province, nominally Sun's ally, but once his enemy, entered Nanjing this morning and assumed control of the city preparatory to sending 30,000 northern troops to the defense of Shanghai. The move taken as an indication that Sun has practically been eliminated as a factor in the military situation, the general belief being that Chang, while defending Shanghai, will oust Sun and take over his last remaining province, Kiangsu, of which Shanghai is the principal city.

Require $25,000 Bond of Henderson Banker

Henderson, N. C., Feb. 22.—(AP)—Surety bond of $25,000 has been required by Recorder R. J. Southard of R. D. Crowder, pending March term of Vance County Superior Court, following a hearing which lasted two days.

The hearing was a sequence to the Supreme Court's decision, reversing the verdict returned against the defendant in Superior court on charges of embezzling more than $50,000 of funds in the defunct Farmers and Merchants Bank.

Bail was furnished by M. Dorsey, father-in-law of the defendant, who with Mrs. Crowder, had been surety in the $25,000 bond, pending Supreme Court ruling after the trial here last June, when an appeal was taken.

Solicitor R. Hunt Parker argued before the recorder that the decision of the higher court nullified the $25,000 appeal bond. Defense counsel contended that it held good. The recorder's ruling was that the $25,000 bond required by him today was effective in event the former one was nullified by the Supreme Court decision.

The bond was argued on face of 24 warrants against Crowder, most of them included in 11 counts on which the first trial was based. Virtually all of Crowder's testimony at the trial last June was heard by the recorder as a basis for his ruling.

The time of the next trial for Crowder has not been definitely announced. Attorneys today suggested that a special term might be called.

FEWER LYNCHINGS SOUTHERN STATES DURING PAST YEAR

Thirty Victims Mob Violence Last Year Compared to Forty Year Average of 107

Atlanta, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Marked strides of advancement in several phases of race relations were made in 1926, the commission of interracial co-operation has reported.

The commission did not give the number of lynchings in the South but referred to Tuskegee's report showing 30 victims of mob violence in the year. The situation was described as "discouraging" "at not hopeless," when considered alongside the former average of 107 a year for a period of 40 years.

No lynchings are reported for the year from North Carolina, Alabama, Louisiana or Oklahoma, the report said, and only one each from Arkansas—(44 year average, seven a year); Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia, and Georgia.

"Georgia, for example," it continued, "had but one lynching last year that of a white man against a forty-four year average of 11. It is significant too, that nine alleged participants in this crime, were indicted, tried and sent to prison, one of them for life. (Since the report was prepared another man has been convicted of participation in the lynching and sentenced to life imprisonment.)"

Since Florida seemed to be the chief remaining stronghold of the lynching evil, every effort possible was put forward to enlist the forces of law and order in that State for its suppression, the report said. The number of lynchings was said to be unavailing but the commission said "members of the staff have investigated a number of cases personally, making altogether seven trips to Florida spending in the aggregate several weeks in the State."

"They have succeeded in enlisting the interest of the State Bar Association, State and local chambers of commerce, officials, church men, educators, private citizens and students in the effort to have the perpetrators of mob violence brought to justice."

An opinion current in some quarters in Texas the report said, is that four of the seven lynchings in that State grew out of private vengeance and that if such cases are to be classed as lynchings, the many group murders in Herrin, Chicago, and elsewhere should be put into the record also.

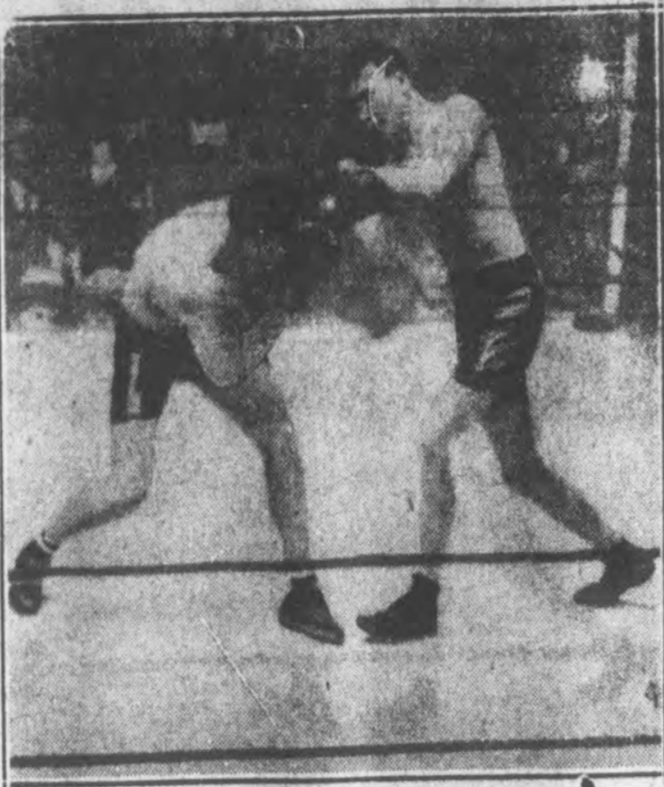

"The foes of lynching," it asserted, "might as well face the fact that to eradicate this crime they must wage not a single battle but an unrelenting war."

No strong point in this war has been more gratifying, the commission said, than the working among college students.

Immediate results in negro welfare work are significant, the commission believes, and promise permanence. A "helpful change of public sentiment" is noted in Alabama, Louisiana, Tennessee, Georgia and the Carolinas.

Negro welfare agencies have been included in community chest budgets in several Southern cities, notably Dallas, Greensboro, Houston, Louisville, Lynchburg, Memphis, Mobile, Nashville, New Orleans, Richmond, Savannah and Atlanta.

WORLD'S OLDEST CONVICT IS REPRIVED BY DEATH

Waupun, Wis., Feb. 22. (INS)—Death has granted a parole to Bill Maxwell, 88, said to be the oldest convict in the world. Maxwell died in the Wisconsin state penitentiary here from infirmities of old age. Maxwell started to serve the 55th year of a life term October 5th.

He was sent to Waupun for killing a man in defense of a woman in a northern Wisconsin dance hall. His act aroused the patrons of the dance hall and he was strung up on a tall tree when the sheriff arrived and cut him down. Maxwell never regretted the act and had repeatedly declared that he would do it again if similar circumstances presented themselves.

CROWDS ATTEND REVIVAL SERVICES BAPTIST CHURCH

Dr. George W. McDaniel Heard in Another Strong Sermon Last Night

Another large audience greeted Dr. George W. McDaniel last evening in the Memorial Baptist church and heard a powerful sermon from the text, "Now Jacob's well was there. Jesus therefore, being wearied with His journey, sat thus on the well," John 4:6.

Prior to taking his text the speaker read the fourth chapter of John in its entirety. Commenting on the great truths therein and stressing the fact that the Woman of Samaria who visited the well for water to quench her thirst, found the water of everlasting life. Dr. McDaniel also emphasized the fact that Christ, although He preached and saved souls, never baptized anyone, but worked through His disciples to this end. Christ was weary when He reached the well and rested while His disciples went on into the city.

"It isn't the outward work that makes us weary, bringing premature gray in our hair or wrinkles in our forehead," declared the speaker, "but it is the inward worry, the burden on our hearts so to speak." Christ was tired and weary. He had the burden of our sins on His heart. While He thus sat thinking of the heavy load and the sorrows of the world, He in a few brief words, led the Woman of Samaria out of darkness into the light that will never grow dim.

"If we wish to help men and women find Christ," said Dr. McDaniel, "there are three things absolutely essential in our lives, namely, 'conversion,' 'conviction,' and 'consecration.' We must be true followers of Christ, we must be convicted about sin, the Bible and 'God.'" The Bible, said the speaker, is the sweetest book in the world today. Even the truths contained there are of more current events than the newspaper which hasn't yet come from the press. The sale of Bibles last year in both the States and China was the largest ever recorded.

The Bible is the anvil upon which the hammers of the skeptics have fallen, and the hammers wear away, the Bible remains, and will remain throughout all time. It is not about the word of God, but is the word of God.

Bringing the above facts out in beautiful, well chosen words, Dr. McDaniel directed his thoughts toward sin and the effects of same upon men. In order to win souls true consecration is essential and this wonderful man of God appealed to his hearers to be consecrated and to love God with all their hearts.

Mr. Alwyn Howell, who is conducting the song services, sang "Living for Jesus." He has a splendid voice and both his solo and the chorus singing were thoroughly enjoyed.

During the services quite a number of out-of-town preachers and laymen were in attendance, some of whom have known Dr. McDaniel intimately, others who have heard of his great work for the Master and have learned to love him.

Services again this evening at 7:30 o'clock. The public is cordially invited. "Come ye, and let us go up to the house of God."

We've seen bed springs, buckets, coal scuttles and the like used for radio aerials, but the "moonshiner" who advised the new Asheville broadcasting station that he was getting perfect reception using his copper still for an aerial, should win the grand prize.

A high official of the Ku Klux Klan in this state is credited with the statement that the Klan must cease to operate in this state or completely change the present rules and edicts laid down by the national organization if the Haywood and Johnson bills, now pending in the legislature are enacted into law. As we see it, that is just the intent of the bills and that is just what should happen. If the Klan or any other secret organizations are of such a nature that their membership must be secret, and appearance in public is only possible behind masks, these organizations have no place in the makeup of a free country and no just reason for existence.

"Old stomachs made new" says an advertisement. These birds who keep patronizing bootleggers should not fail to get the address of the party placing that advertisement, as sooner or later they will surely need his services.

The attention of parents of the city is again called to the risk that their children are taking by skating on the streets and hanging onto automobiles and other passing vehicles. These little folks should be warned against the dangers that accompany taking such chances. It is better to be safe than to be sorry. With the heavy traffic on our streets a continuance of this pastime by the children will sooner or later end in the serious injury to or death of one of them, and being sorry then will not undo the damage.

Now that it is apparent that ere long the Ku Klux Klan in North Carolina will be a thing of the past, maybe the housewives won't have such a hard time keeping up with the bed sheets.

Senator LaFollette yesterday urged the Senate to go on record as favoring the Washington policy of retirement after the second term. Whether or not the Senate approves the resolution, we are of the opinion that in the past the people of the nation have adhered to the precedent of the First President and no doubt they will continue to force this precedent upon would-be third terms.

There were 30 victims of mob violence during 1926, as compared with an average of 107 a year over a period of forty years. While such marked advancement toward law and order is indeed gratifying, the day should soon come when the year's records should show no victims of mob violence. Punishment for crime should be meted out by the courts and not by violent mobs, and the person or persons who take the law into their own hands are just as guilty of violation of the laws of the land as the person toward whom their attacks are directed.

MIKADO'S FUNERAL OXEN HAVE EASY TIME FOR LIFE

Tokyo, Feb. 22.—(INS)—The four oxen that drew the funeral cart in the cortege of the late Emperor of Japan earned a life of ease in the performance of their task. Immediately after the funeral, the oxen were turned out to pasture in the Imperial estates at Shimosa, Chiba Prefecture, and all they will have to do for the rest of their lives is brose the tall grass.

San Antonio, Texas, Feb. 22.—Sunny San Antonio, America's playground, as this city is heralded by the chamber of commerce, is enjoying the height of the annual tourist season. More than 35,000 tourists from colder climes have been here this season, with an equal number yet to come before hot weather sets in about the first of June.

Full hotels and apartment houses are the barometers of the season. Many new structures are going up to house the increasing number of visitors and civic leaders are making efforts to increase the number by making the city and its environments more attractive.

Major steps being taken include the overhauling of the historical mecca and old landmarks in and near here. The Alamo, heralded as the birthplace of Texas located in the heart of the downtown district, is the scene of most activity. This old stone and abode mission which was converted into a fort from where the Texas pioneers withstood attacks of Mexican armies, is being reconstructed. The bullet riddled and time worn walls of the Alamo and its encircling stone fence are being patched with cement and new stones. The fence in many places has been rebuilt from the ground after it had been allowed to crumble from negligence.

Old cannons are being remounted around the outer wall and the gardens are being replanted with palm, hysache and other trees and shrubs. Governor Dan Moody has signed a law passed by this year's legislature, providing for the necessary appropriation and purchase of all the property surrounding the Alamo, to the extent of a large city block. This property will be added to the plaza of the Alamo, with the encircling walls extended to take in the block as a park. Business establishments that have obtained possession of the old building adjoining the Alamo will have to relinquish the property. Everything will be made as near as possible like it was when Travis, Bowie and Crockett made their last stand.

San Antonio constantly is adding to its system of parks, representing the greatest acreage in the southwest. Probably the most unique part of the system is that in which the San Antonio River takes such an important place. Banks of this stream, which wind sang coils for 13 miles through the heart of the business district, make up one continued park, with neatly grassed banks fringed with palms and blooming shrubs.

Brackenridge Park with its famous Japanese garden maintains a warm spot in the hearts of tourists and natives.

Other points of attraction in and near San Antonio include the Conception, San Jose and Espada missions built by the first priests accompanying colonists from Mexico. Then, too there is the old Spanish governor's palace, downtown, from which Texas was governed before it reached the republic stage; Medina Lake, near the city, which boasts of twenty miles of length, and Fort San Houston and other army and air corps posts of the United States Army, where about 30,000 men are quartered.

Not to be overlooked by the tourists is the Mexican quarter, where thousands of Mexicans live very similarly in the ways and modes prevailing in Mexico. This nationality comprises a large part of San Antonio's population. It is felt to such an extent that Spanish is spoken by salesmen in practically all stores, the language is used in newspaper advertising and placards and conversations in Spanish are very common. Use of the language lends momentum to the Latin atmosphere about the city.

STOCK MARKET
New York, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Easier call money rates and expanding steel mill operations provided the background for another advance in prices in today's stock market. Founders Rotary Find Selves Famous In Twenty Years

Chicago, Feb. 23.—(AP)—The four original Rotarians lay claim to no great fame, but their names will be spoken around the world tonight. Twenty-two years ago this evening—on February 23, 1905—Gus Loehr, Sylvester Schiele, Hiram Shorey and Paul Harris met in the office of Schiele, a coal merchant, and formed the first Rotary club. Harris, the originator of the Rotary idea, was a lawyer here. Loehr, a mine operator and Shroye a tailor. From these four members, who chose the name of Rotary for their group because of the plan of meeting successively in the office of each member, Rotary has grown to a membership of 125,000 in 38 countries. Harris is president emeritus of Rotary International, and he and Schiele are still active members of the original Chicago club. Commemorative meetings in every nation to which the club has spread are being held in honor of its birth day.

New Hanover May Annex Township Pender County

Raleigh, Feb. 23.—(AP)—By a vote of 6 to 4, Senate committee on counties, cities and towns has voted favorably to report Senator Clayton Grant's bill, which provides for annexation of Township Pender county, by New Hanover county. A minority report was filed on the bill and attempt will be made to kill the measure on the floor. Rep. Wells, of Pender, fought the bill and made a speech in which he urged members of the committee not to report the measure favorably. A delegation of close onto 100 citizens of the township appeared at the hearing. Some favored and others opposed the bill. Under the provisions of the Grant bill, citizens of the township, which contained about one-tenth of the taxable property in Pender county, would be allowed to vote on the question of whether they wanted to stay in Pender or move over into New Hanover. Opponents of the bill argued that it would hurt Pender to lose the township.

Alabama Will Assert Claim Muscle Shoals

Washington, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Speaker Longworth today made public a letter from Governor Graves of Alabama, declaring that Alabama proposed to claim and assert its interest in the dam and Muscle Shoals and ownership of the bed, shores and water of that part of the Tennessee River within its boundaries.

NOTICE OF SALE
By virtue of authority vested in me by that certain mortgage executed by C. M. Harris and wife, Lula M. Harris, on the 1st day of April, 1920, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of Pitt County in Book C-13, at page 352, default having been made in the payment of the indebtedness thereby secured, I shall offer for sale at public auction at the court house door in Greenville, to the highest bidder for cash on Thursday, the 24th day of February, 1927, the following tract or parcel of land: Situate and being in Greenville Township, Pitt County, North Carolina, adjoining the lands of Ed Jolley's heirs, B. F. Jolley, J. E. Allen and others containing thirty-seven (37) acres, more or less, and being the same tract of land upon which the said C. M. Harris and wife, Lula M. Harris, now reside. This the 22nd day of January, aged, tried to walk a tight wire stretched from the Pullman Hotel toward the Burlington station. He fell, but will recover. There was wood alcohol in his "Gordon Gin."

This part of the country, once wild with shooting men now looks to Chicago and New York for excitement. New York supplies wine bath parties, and hold-ups, Chicago the gunmen equipped with machine guns and gas bombs. Really interesting elections. A Chicago mayorality primary that calls out 60 detective bureau squads, each with a machine gun, rifles, shot guns and a supply of tear bombs makes the old time cowboy with his little popping six shooter seem rather tame. Are the voters so much interested in the election? Not at all, but the politicians are in the jobs and graft.

Yesterday we celebrated Washington's birthday, taking a holiday without much thought of Washington. The average man knows that he fought and beat the British, and that's enough.

Washington did more than beat the British, he conquered himself, when he took the side of the colonists, common people for whom he never had very much sympathy, opposing his own class, and the British crown for which he had respect.

Washington was an aristocrat, which means that he thought himself—for good reasons in his case—rather better than other men. He received visitors with his hands behind his back that he might not be expected to shake hands with them; owned lands and slaves. He had no high opinion of the average man, and many average men justified his opinion by running away and leaving Washington to endure defeat, because they wouldn't fight as they should have fought.

Manning in April 1920, and registered in Book Q-13, page 600, and the terms of the same not having been complied with, I shall sell on Monday, March 7th, 1927, at twelve o'clock noon at the courthouse door in Greenville to the highest bidder for cash the following described property:

OWNER AND AUCTIONEER

It annoys our patriotism, but it is true, that not all the men of 1776 were marvelous heroes. In spite of his British blood, Washington considered himself an American, and held that King George III's way of treating the Americans was insulting to him. So he fought the British and beat them, partly for the sake of the crowd, more for the honor of George Washington.

No matter how he did it or why he did it, we are all much obliged to him and should honor his birthday.

This western country asks what President Coolidge will do with the McNary-Haugen bill. The train rushes through miles of rich black soil, fields covered with standing corn stalks. The corn has been taken, the stalks stand, wasted, a few cattle nibbling the softer leaves. If government wants to help the corn grower it might begin by helping to utilize millions of tons of wasted corn stalks.

On board is L. A. Grace, of New York, who understands textiles and says corn stalks might be used to make artificial silk. Others have thought they might make newsprint paper. Our successful great industries are made possible by organizing production on a huge scale, preventing waste, utilizing every by-product. Agriculture and farmers are disorganized. Billions are wasted every year because "it doesn't pay" to utilize the soil's products.

The way to help a disorganized industry is to organize it. Whether anything can be done by financing over production and lack of organization at public expense remains to be seen.

SOMETHING OUGHT TO BE DONE, OR AT LEAST ATTEMPTED.
It is known that President Coolidge believes the McNary-Haugen bill would not do what it was planned to do. Nobody doubts that he will veto the bill, regardless of political results, if his conscience orders it. But he may decide, since farmers, who are the support of the nation, want it, and since Congress has voted it, that he will not upon his individual judgment, veto it.

You remember that the wisest of "our great financiers" denounced as dangerous and destructive, the Federal Reserve law that has proved to be the financial salvation of the country, putting an end to financial panics. The country is rich enough to make the McNary-Haugen experiment, why not try it?
