SHANGHAI'S REIGN OF TERROR IS REPORTED BE SUBSIDING TODAY

City of Shanghai is to be Made Base for "World Revolution" Says Manifesto Today. Three Americans Reported Injured in Recent Disorders

(By The Associated Press) Shanghai is to be used by the Cantonese as the base for a "world revolution," a manifesto containing this familiar communist phrase, was issued today by the Cantonese commander Pa Tsung-Hsi.

Pa assured the foreign consular officials, however, that he intended to maintain order, and he warned the Chinese population that the lives and property of foreigners must be respected.

With American marines assisting the other foreign troops in holding the barricade protecting the international settlement the situation today appeared much easier.

Chinese shops began to open in the native districts indicating that the reign of terror which reached its peak yesterday, with unrestrained looting, murder and incendiarism, was over.

There was some firing in the Chapel district where a small body of Shantungese held against the increasing weight of the arriving Cantonese soldiery.

Shanghai, March 23.—(AP)—A night of comparative quiet, after two days and a night of chaos and disorder, was followed this morning by a resumption of firing in the northern part of Shanghai, not far from the border of the international settlement, where a small remnant of Northern troops was still holding out. A number of houses were set on fire.

Nevertheless, the general situation in and around the city was more peaceful than at any time since the vanguard of the Southern armies marched into Shanghai Monday morning. Their coming marked the beginning of disorders of all descriptions—fighting, killing, looting and destruction. It was only after the arrival of more than 5000 Cantonese regular troops in the native city late yesterday that a semblance of quiet was restored.

Throughout the last two days the foreign defense troops have been on the alert, guarding against any incursion into the international settlement. This morning forty United States marines were hurried to the Markham Road bridge, on the border between the international settlement and the native district of Chapel, because it was feared there might be an attempt by southern sympathizers to blow up the bridge. The detachment was sent at the request of General Duncan, in command of the British forces.

Armed with a mortar and machine gun the Americans hold a position flanking the bridge, across Soochow Creek, which separates the Anglo-American position from one of the most turbulent portions of the native city. The bridge has been the target of rifle and machine gun snipers from Chinese trenches the past two days. The position is shared with the British Coldstream Guards.

CLOTHING FIRM GIVEN VERDICT IN CIVIL CASE

Curlee Clothing Company Awarded $1,330 Against Ayden Merchants

A jury in yesterday's session of Pitt County Superior Court awarded the Curlee Clothing Company the sum of $1,330.00 in their suit against R. C. Cannon & Sons, of Ayden. The verdict came after the case had occupied attention of the court practically all day Monday and a part of Tuesday.

The suit grew out of failure of the Ayden firm to make settlement for a bill of goods purchased from a representative of the Curlee Clothing Company some time ago. They claimed the goods did not come up to expectations. The plaintiffs contended the goods were according to order, and that they had filled their part of the original contract.

Following completion of this case the court began hearing of the case of C. B. West, local contractor against Paul, Smith and Price for payment of a sum of money claimed to be due from construction of a building. The defendants filed notice of a counter claim.

CRACKER STATE VISITORS PRAISE NORTH CAROLINA

Officialdom Completely Overwhelmed by Barrage of Georgia Adulation

Raleigh, N. C., March 23.—(AP)—North Carolina officialdom was admittedly overwhelmed today under a barrage of Georgia praise.

State College was the object of the first attack. Fresh after a night's rest, the Southern pilgrims joined forces with a Tar Heel delegation and took to the streets in order to cover the program outlined.

The visitors enthusiastically said that they had gathered numerous valuable suggestions to be submitted to the Georgia General Assembly which convenes June 21 two days before Governor Hardman is inaugurated.

Governor Hardman was especially full of praise over the work done by Highway Commissioner Frank Page and that of former Health Secretary Rankin.

Among members of the Georgia party were: State Senators I. F. Dungan, J. K. Patrick and Joe S. Burgin and Mrs. Burgin; Representatives Homer Hancock, Richard B. Russell and C. M. McClure; Dr. T. F. Abernethy, State Health Officer, and Dr. Fort E. Lund, Georgia Public School head. Mrs. Hardman was also with the party.

The Tar Heel reception committee in addition to Governor McLean included W. N. Everett, Secretary of State; Heriot Clarkson, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court; J. Van B. Metts, Adjutant General; A. T. Allen, State Superintendent; L. L. Col Gordon Smith, and other State officers.

STATE LAND BANK STILL IN POSITION TO SERVE FARMER

Dr. Dixon Returns From Meeting of Directors in Durham, Highly Grati

Dr. Joseph Dixon returned last night from Durham where he attended a meeting of directors of the North Carolina Joint Stock Land Bank. He stated today the session was one of the best in the history of the organization, and that virtually every section of the State was represented by its director.

Dr. Dixon said the organization found business conditions in North Carolina fairly promising, and would continue to loan money to farmers with productive lands.

The Joint Stock Land Bank already has loaned over a million dollars to the farmers of Pitt County. Dr. Dixon said, and will continue his operations in all sections of the institution.

MAKES REQUEST FOR MEETING TO CONSIDER INLAND WATERWAYS

Wilmington, March 23.—(AP)—Request for a meeting of the state transportation commission during the month of April for the purpose of laying preliminary plans for obtaining rights of way for the inland waterway extension from Beaufort to the Cape Fear river has been made by J. Allan Taylor, of Wilmington, a member of the commission.

Announcement of this effort was made today by Mr. Taylor, who said that he had retasked for the meeting to be held earlier because the appropriation of $75,000 made to the commission for the prosecution of its work would not become available before July 1, and the commission therefore would be powerless to proceed definitely and actually until the money became available.

SAPIRO ACTS AS ATTORNEY IN HIS LIBEL SUIT TODAY

Takes Part in Reading of Documents to Give His Counsel, Gallagher, a Rest

Detroit, March 23.—(AP)—Three times today Aaron Sapiro participated in a reader, in his $1,000,000 libel suit against Henry Ford and unfavored what otherwise was a session devoted almost exclusively to arguments of counsel in the absence of the jury.

The chief argument was over whether the plaintiff could introduce a letter from A. C. Cherry, of Detroit, Wash., of the Northwest Hay Association to W. J. Cameron, son of the Dearborn Independent, pointing out alleged erroneous statements in an article printed by the weekly.

The letter was barred by Federal Judge Fred M. Raymond because he said if that type of correspondence was admitted the trial would become hopelessly complicated and too broad for comprehension by the jury.

Sapiro's counsel did gain permission to cite authorities on the admissibility of letters to prove the unreliability of a writer or reporter and that meant an extended argument at a later date.

William Henry Gallagher, chief of Sapiro's counsel, sought to show the irresponsibility of H. H. Dunn, of Berkeley, Calif., writer of some of the articles in the Dearborn Independent attacking Sapiro which led to the libel suit.

Gallagher was denied permission to withdraw Cameron as a witness and by the presentation of other witnesses prove the inaccuracy of the articles.

Cameron, in the witness chair for the fourth day, was not questioned by Sapiro, who merely read to the jury excerpts from a back issue of the Ford owned Dearborn Independent so that Gallagher's voice, but by no means in arguments and reading yesterday, might be spared.

Washington, March 23.—(AP)—After the finding of a woman's body in the Potomac river today the Washington police telegraphed to the Madison, Wis., authorities to take into custody for investigation Dr. Knute Houck, formerly a physician at St. Elizabeth's hospital here, whose wife disappeared several months ago.

BODY OF MISSING WOMAN IS FOUND IN THE POTOMAC

Authorities Order Arrest of Dr. Knute Houck at Madison, Wisconsin

The police said the body had been identified as that of Mrs. Gladys Houck, by calling cards on her person.

The woman had been missing from her home here since December 14. Dr. Houck was found in an extremely nervous condition at Hornell, N. Y., two days later and was brought here to Washington where he was placed under observation at the Gallinger hospital.

The circumstances under which Mrs. Houck disappeared provided the Washington police with one of the most puzzling cases they had ever faced. For weeks, assistants groped through a maze of clues in an effort to establish whether she had been killed, whether she had committed suicide or whether she was alive and concealed somewhere.

Mrs. Houck was last seen alive on the night of December 17. Two days later Dr. Houck was found tramp in around the streets of Hornell, clothed in his underwear. He was never able to throw any light on his wife's disappearance, although he had expressed assurance that she was still alive.

After undergoing treatment both here and in Baltimore, Dr. Houck went to Wisconsin to join his relatives. A small child, left alone by the couple, was taken in charge by Mrs. Houck's parents.

No charge has ever been placed against the physician here.

Geneva, Switzerland, March 23.—(AP)—France insists that naval strength in any plan for limitation of armaments shall be based on total tonnage. This is contrary to the British and American view that tonnage should be measured by categories of ships.

The French draft of a general treaty for limitation of armaments, as submitted to a commission of the League of Nations now in session preparing for a disarmament conference, emphasizes that it should be left to the various powers to make up their tonnage by the style of warships best suited to their own interests as regards defense and security.

Far Cathay is Boiling. Great Price War? Not Yet Wanted—An Issue. Whiskey Plays a Part. (By Arthur Brisbane)

In China the expected has happened, and that is the most unexpected thing that could happen. Cantonese have fought their way into Shanghai, foreigners occupy a thin strip of territory, with a big fleet of American and European warships in the harbor, ready to do what they can. Many foreign troops landed on Chinese soil yesterday, including 1,500 troops from this country. The situation does not look cheerful.

"China for the Chinese" is the Canton program. If Europeans are careless or too aggressive, some of them will be hurt.

French troops have had troubles with victorious Cantonese. A British officer and three men were wounded by snipers and the British opened fire with machine guns, threatening to "wipe out the entire neighborhood." That is a big order. The "entire neighborhood" contains 400,000,000 people.

INDOOR CIRCUS AND AUTO SHOW HERE APRIL 16

Six Day Attraction to be Staged Under Auspices of American Legion

George S. Marr and E. L. Eggers are in Greenville making preliminary arrangements for the Indoor Circus, Auto Show and Exposition to be conducted under auspices of the Pitt County post of the American Legion. The attraction will be held at Gorman's new warehouse during the week of April 16th.

There will be six big days and nights. Director Marr stated this morning and Pitt County people will have the opportunity of witnessing one of the greatest exhibitions of the kind ever staged in North Carolina.

Mr. Marr stated that contract had already been awarded to a decorating firm of Washington, D. C., to handle decorations for the occasion. Music will be furnished by a nationally known orchestra. There will be twelve circus acts. The style show will be Friday night.

The real feature of the occasion, however, will be the automobile show. Many of modernity's finest cars will be on display, and nothing will be left undone to make this the outstanding feature of the week.

The style show Friday night will be participated in by leading merchants of the city and county, and will undoubtedly surpass anything of the kind ever before held in the county.

Mr. Marr has just completed an exposition at Wilson. He comes to the local post of the American Legion as one of the best producers in the South.

Considerable publicity will be given the affair and it is expected Greenville will be the mecca of the entertainment loving public during the entire six days and nights of the exposition.

Brummit Considers McLean's Request For Graft Inquiry

Raleigh, March 23.—(AP)—Attorney General Dennis G. Brummit returned to office today after an absence of several days due to illness. He found Governor McLean's letter relative to an investigation of allegations of graft in administration of state health board sanitary provisions, but said no action probably would be taken before next week.

HENRY JUDD GRAY TOLD FRIENDS TO COVER UP FOR HIM

Told Friends He Had Engagemet With a 'Girl Friend' in New York

New York, March 23.—(AP)—Haddon Gray and Harry Platt, Syracuse friends of Henry Judd Gray, accused of the murder of Albert Snyder, today told District Attorney Newcomb that the coroner's salesman had asked them to "cover up" for him at Syracuse Sunday, according to information coming from the room where the two men were being questioned.

Henry Judd Gray, the police say, told the two friends that he had an engagement in New York City with a "girl friend" and that his office might check up on him and be "peevish" at him for leaving Syracuse, where he was supposed to be working his sales territory.

Hudson Gray, according to the attaché of the district attorney's office, is said to have declared it was he who used the telephone from Henry Judd Gray's room in the salesman's absence, and who rumped the bed, making it appear the salesman had slept there Saturday night.

E. F. Hazelton, attorney for Mrs. Ruth Snyder, whose alleged confession to participating in the murder sent detectives to Gray in Syracuse as the other principal in the plot, today issued a statement saying that he was not considering an insanity plea for his client.

He added that he was not yet decided whether to request that the woman be tried separately on the murder charge, or whether he would agree to the woman and her lover being tried at the same time.

"I have learned authoritatively," he said, "that Mr. Snyder did not recently raise his insurance, as it has been commonly reported. On the other hand, he raised his policy to $50,000 two years ago."

Counsel for Henry Judd Gray indicated today, before going into conference that insanity might be advanced in his defense at the trial. Samuel L. Miller of this city, who has been retained by Mrs. Gray, when asked if insanity would be retained, said that point would be decided during the day.

Mr. Miller said Mrs. Gray was in a state of complete collapse, as she had held the greatest faith in her husband until after she had visited him in jail yesterday.

When she first saw her husband she rushed to him and embraced him affectionately.

"I can't understand it," she sobbed, repeating the words again and again.

Then she looked him straight in the eyes and said: "Did you do this thing? We never had any trouble."

"Yes," "Did you make a confession?" "Yes."

Stunned, she remarked that it must have been drinking bad liquor and she left soon afterwards after first promising that she would come to see him as soon as she would be allowed.

Dark Cloud Shows Silvery Lining In Camp of Chicago White Sox

(By Brian Bell)

Shreveport, La., March 23.—(AP)—A dark cloud in the Chicago White Sox camp, causing the removal from the east of John Mosil, sensational outfielder, has shown a silver lining. To offset in a measure the loss of the outfielder, the Sox will have to depend on their home pitching. The Sox have been woefully shy of effective out-pitching in recent years. Although both Bert Cole and Charles Barnabe are from California, they offer contrasts in other particulars.

Barnabe is just coming up to the major leagues while Cole is on his way back after a brief eclipse. Barnabe did his stunt for Shreveport of the Texas League last year while Cole was with the Mission on the Pacific Coast League. If their early promise holds true, the Chicago pitching staff will be greatly bolstered.

There is ample right handed talent available. The two Teds, Lyons and Blanche-Ship, are being counted on strongly, and the veteran Urban Faber will lead a hand once a week. Conally and Thomas are brought over from last year and the experienced Elmer Jacobs may assist. Joe Brown, who had a trial with Pittsburgh, and Homer Blanks, brother of Ted, are seeking success. There are other candidates but these have the most votes at the moment.

Ray Schalk, called "Cracker," is having his first fling as a manager but has fitted comfortably into the niche so far. He will do a great deal of the catching when an injured finger hinders him. He has no worries behind the plate as Harry McCarday and Clyde Crouse are both competent craftsmen.

The Yankees and Senators were called upon to complete the White Sox infield. Anson Warg and Roger Peckinpaugh coming in trades. Warg will play second with Peck starting at short. If the veteran shortstop's knee troubles him, Willie Hume, a new-gown infielder is available to take his place. Earle Sheely will be back at first with Captain Kamm taking care of third. John Clancy, hard hitting first baseman from the Southern Association will be kept and Moe Berg, former Princeton infielder, will join the club when he has completed some post-graduate work at Columbia University.

Mosil's attack on himself with knife and razor blades left a serious outfield problem. The Sox had only five outfielders and expected to keep them all. Mosil, Falk and Barrett were brought over from last season and Ike Boone and Randolph Moore added. Boone is a hard hitter with a good arm who does not always make the necessary arrangements to catch fly balls. Moore, only 20 years of age, is making a long jump from Longview, of the East Texas League to the majors and still has something to learn. Moore, however, has shown enough in the training period to convince Manager Schalk that he is a prospect and he will play many games, or parts of games, his first year. The starting outfield probably will be Bill Falk in left, Bill Barrett in center and Ike Boone in right. This will leave young Moore the only reserve available, but some likely outfielder will probably be taken on from another club suffering from a excess of talent.

Moore, who sat on the New York Yankee bench last year, playing only twenty-two games all season has been going at a fast pace in spring training and is ready to assume full responsibility for the position. Peckinpaugh is also in good shape to have a good season with his fourth major League Club in 16 years. Peck played only six games for Washington last year, but may raise the ante considerably with the Sox.

The White Sox problem will be the unexpected one of the outfield. Barrett, while a good player, will not be able to take Mosil's place. Boone will add to the offensive but may leave something to be desired in the defense.

Schalk is depending on his pit-inners to carry him out. If Cole and Barnabe come through as expected, the Sox will have a well balanced staff.

"The boys will hustle," said the "Cracker," "and that will mean trouble for the rest."

TWO MORE ON INJURED LIST

Washington, March 23.—(AP)—Two more Senators, Tris Speaker and Sam Rice, have been added to the injured list along with manager Bucky Harris and Walter Johnson.

Word of the injury of Speaker and Rice in the 8 to 0 drubbing the St. Louis Cardinals handed the Washington club at Avenel Park, Fla., yesterday was received at the Tampa training camp today. President Clark Griffith had announced Speaker would pilot the team until Harris returned to the line up.

HITS SEVEN OUT OF NINE TIMES UP

Boston, March 23.—(AP)—The Red Sox at New Orleans are still hustling for permanent berths. Tobin who has made seven hits in nine times at bat, is making a strong bid for left field against Shaner and Carlyle. It seems certain that center and right will be given to Flaggstead and Jacobson while Regan and Todin will be regular at second and first, respectively.

GIVES ONE RUN TO OLD FRIENDS

VETERAN GOLFERS MAY GO DOWN BEFORE ASSAULT OF YOUTHS

Pinehurst, March 23.—(AP)—The tendency of youth to be "served" in any line of sports is leading followers of the annual women's united North and South golf tournament, which starts here tomorrow, to speculate as to whether or not the veteran champions in the contest may not be toppled from their throne.

Much of the basis of this speculation is found in the fact that Miss Maureen Orent, Hawthorn, N. J., youthful metropolitan champion, and Miss Virginia Van Wie of Chicago, have been showing up unusually well in practice for the event. Miss Orent yesterday

Youth Enables Mother of Five Make Greatest Tennis Record

Three Titles in One Day; Twenty-Seven Victories in Thirty-Two Tournaments; Mrs. Wightman's Story

Here is Mrs. George Wightman, of Brookline, Mass., in action. Strokes like this won three national indoor titles in one day.

TENNIS is a young folks' game. When Helen Wills, while still a youngster, won the National Women's Lawn Tennis Championship three times in succession, all observers conceded that it was Helen Wills had proved it.

And here is more proof that the game belongs to young people: Mrs. George Wightman, of Brookline, Mass., has just won the national women's indoor championship.

On the same day, in play on the covered courts at Longwood, Chestnut Hill, Mass., she and partners won the women's national indoor doubles championship and the mixed national indoor championship.

And Mrs. Wightman is young! True, she is the mother of five children. True, too, that she played tennis before Helen Wills was born. Nevertheless, she is youth itself. Her opponents bore down on her time and time again. She was playing eighty-one games within four hours. Yet it was only the youth in her muscles and an inner spirit that won for her.

Her record is the most remarkable in the realm of tennis. Eighteen years ago she came East from Berkeley, Cal.—Helen Wills' home town—as Miss Hazel Hotchkiss. Since that time she has figured in thirty-two national tennis tournaments, winning in twenty-seven of them. This year is the first time since 1919 that she played for the national women's indoor singles title. But she won again, just as she did eight years ago.

Her victory in this event was unusually dramatic in that she was pitted against Margaret Blake, of Longwood, who she has helped to develop. During the last set Miss Blake became disturbed, and made several bad plays.

"Oh, Margaret!" exclaimed Mrs. Wightman, with a note of disappointment in her voice.

The final score in the match was 6-0, 2-6, 6-4. Within a few minutes she appeared with Mrs. Marion Zinderstein Jessup. Together they took the doubles title from the grasp of Miss Blake and Miss Edith Sigourney, 8-6, 1-6. Then, with G. Feabody Gardner, Jr., she defended the mixed doubles title they won last year, defeating Miss Sarah Falfret and Malcolm Hill.

Mrs. Wightman seemed fresh throughout the games. She was almost always on the offensive, sending spins and twists volleying over the net.

turned in an 81 for an 18 hole practice round, having two steady 42's, while Miss Van Wie, who last year showed unusual promise in the north and south, played a steady nine holes. The sand greens apparently gave the youngsters little trouble.

Miss Louise Fordyce of Youngtown, reigning north and south champion, and Miss Glenna Collett, former champion, were on the links all day but neither turned in cards although both experienced some trouble. Miss Collett was paired in a best ball match with Dick Jones, of New York, playing against Miss Bernice Wall of Oshkosh, Wis., and John Dawson, of Chicago. No individual cards were turned in but Miss Collett and her partner scored a best ball of 74 while Miss Wall and Dawson had a 73.

The courses today were dotted with contestants, late arrivals getting out their clubs for a round or two to "get the lay of the land." Miss Collett was out again and her tee and iron shots showed greater length and accuracy than at any time this week.

ELON AND SPRINGFIELD CROSS BATS TODAY

Elon College, March 23.—(AP)—Nine Bay State youths, comprising the 1927 Springfield College baseball team, faced another group of Tar Heel ball tossers today.

Having defeated State College 5 to 3 in the opening combat of the season yesterday at Raleigh, the Springfield team was ready to cross bats with Elon College today.

LOUISIANA DERBY DRAWING ATTENTION

New Orleans, March 23.—(AP)—Bradley's B's are buzzing again. With the Louisiana Derby but three days away, track followers are turning their speculative interest toward Colonel E. R. Bradley's string of B's, which last year showed a clean quartet of heels to all comers in both the Louisiana and Kentucky Derbies.

Last year Bagenbaggage romped in to win the Louisiana Derby with Boot-to-Boot, another Bradley horse, second. Bubbling Over dusted the rest of the pack in the Kentucky Derby, trailed in second place by another running mate, Bagenbaggage.

This year, Boo, Bright Shawl, Binary Star, and Birley Mc., are exciting the rail birds by their performance. All four are entered in the Kentucky event as well as the Louisiana Derby.

Boo ran a mile in 1:39 at Jefferson Park last Saturday, beating a field of Kentucky Derby eligibles by three lengths.

Previously, Boo had won three races out of four starts. He was beaten in one race by Overlooked, a Greentree Derby colt, but experts threw blame for this loss upon his jockey.

Education Board Members Resign in New Hanover

Wilmington, March 23.—(AP)—A shakeup in the board of education of New Hanover county resulted today in the resignations of J. Laurence Sprunt and Dr. C. F. Bolles. The resignation of Sprunt and Dr. Bolles came after an overdraft in the school system of the county amounting to approximately $300,000 had developed and after they had reached "the conclusion that the taxpayers of the county would not approve the assumption of the debt by the board of county commissioners unless the extra resigned." The remaining member, Herbert McClammy, chairman, has not indicated as to whether or not he will resign.

GERMAN SPINNERS STUDY BUSINESS METHODS IN AMERICA

New York, March 23.—(AP)—Seventy-two representatives of the German textile industry have arrived here to study progress made by the American spinners since the world war and to renew relations broken at that time. The group includes textile manufacturers, engineers, jobbers and distributors. Their itinerary will include the chief cities of the Lake states, New England and the mid-Atlantic coast. Their first stop on the way to Chicago will be at Detroit.

HAVANA, CUBA EXTENDS INVITATION TO JEWELLERS

Sanford, N. C., March 23.—(AP)—Reports of officers and committees selection of time and place of the next meeting and election and by invitation of officers, with adjournment this evening comprised business before the North Carolina Retail Jewellers' Association today. Havana, Cuba, extended the first invitation for meeting, two next week at the Goldboro, Durham, Greensboro and Wilmington, the 1927 officers.

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

Gray hair however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance.

Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks frayed, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur restores its appearance a hundred fold. Don't get gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of "Wyer's Sage and Sulphur Compound" for only 75 cents. This is merely the old time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You maintain a poise or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger. All

NEWSPAPER BUSINESS

According to figures just made public by the Department of Commerce, the receipts in 1925 of American newspapers amounted to $230,580,000 from subscriptions and sales and $661,513,000 from advertising. The receipts from subscriptions and sales did little more than pay the salaries and wages of the 100,000 persons engaged in the mechanical production of the newspapers, for their wages approximate $200,000,000 a year. The money needed for news collecting, plants and presses, paper and ink, trucks and postage—to name but a few of many cost items—came largely from the advertising of a billion dollars.

When The Sun was founded in 1833 the United States had fewer than 1,000 newspapers. Their combined annual circulation was 68,000,000 copies. Then began the rise of popular journalism. Now there are 2,450 dailies and 13,800 weeklies. The dailies alone sell about 33,000,000 copies each day, or over ten billion copies a year. Newspaper publishing has almost reached the "billion dollar stage," the combined receipts for sales and advertising being $892,093,000. Advertising brings in its heavy percentage of the money necessary to produce the great modern journals. They in turn stimulate the trade that makes advertising profitable. Yet advertising does not control the news or news the advertising. The reader rules them both to the extent that they must suit his taste.

And fitting the reader, the news matter and the advertising calls for delicate balance. The reader naturally is the first consideration. Unless he participates the effort falls. A newspaper of the first class depends upon readers of the first class and advertising of the first class. —New York Sun.

Pretty Girls in Cotton Costumes Feature Carnival

Asheville, March 23.—(AP)—Nineteen pretty girl students of David Millard High School here wearing all cotton costumes, were the headline attraction in the cotton carnival held at the school auditorium today in connection with the wide-spread movement to encourage the use of cotton goods to better the South's economic condition.

No silk, visible or invisible, appeared in the costumes. Even hose and other silk things were barred. The girls have sternly sworn allegiance to King Cotton and their battle cry is "Death to the Silk Worm."

The girls are students in the arts department and their move had been sponsored by virtually every woman's organization in the city. They wore cotton frocks designed by themselves.

MYSTERY MAN BEGINS SENTENCE AT RALEIGH

Raleigh, March 23.—(AP)—"Paul Turner," Hendersonville's man of mystery, was put to work making chairs at state prison today. Turner arrived yesterday from the western Carolina city with a 3 to 5 year sentence for manslaughter hanging over him.

Since he was jailed on a charge of running down and killing W. O. Jordan at Hendersonville, the "mystery man" has refused to disclose his identity. He gave his age as 47, talks with a northern inflection, and appears to be a man of culture. At the prison he still refused to talk about himself except to tell officials that he had accidentally run over the man while on his way to Florida, and that he was a "professor of music."

COOPER HEARING SET FOR MAR. 24

To Consider Parole of Wilmington Banker With Gov. McLean and Hoyle Sink

Wilmington, N. C., March 23.—(AP)—Local attorneys for Thomas E. Cooper, former Wilmington banker now serving a term on the roads of New Hanover County, were to leave here late this afternoon for Raleigh, where they will appear tomorrow before Governor McLean and Pardon Commissioner H. Hoyle Sink, in an attempt to obtain a parole for Cooper.

Cooper reported to the superintendent of the New Hanover road force on the afternoon of March 20 and began an eight year sentence which was given him following his conviction in Superior Court on charges of violating the State banking laws. He began his sentence following his release from Federal prison in Atlanta, from which he was paroled after serving the major portion of a three year sentence and after a 20 day reprieve granted him by the Governor, that he might spend some time with his family prior to beginning his road sentence here.

It was understood here today that R. C. Lawrence, Lumberton attorney who represented W. B. Cooper in the case against him charging him with violating the national banking laws, would appear with the local attorneys tomorrow in their efforts to gain a parole for Thomas E. Cooper. W. B. Cooper's case has been well pressed by the district attorney. Friends of Thomas E. Cooper today said that many letters from some of the most prominent citizens of the State have been sent to the Governor urging him to grant a parole.

SAY CLARK WILL BE CANDIDATE FOR U. S. CONGRESSMAN

Wilmington, March 23.—(AP)—Local political observers who have been in Raleigh recently bring back the news that friends of J. Bayard Clark of Fayetteville, are authority for the statement that he will be a candidate for Congress in the sixth district in the next Democratic primary. At least one political observer said that he had been told by friends of Mr. Clark that he was giving serious consideration to the matter, and would make an announcement within the near future.

Mr. Clark is a native of Bladen county, but has been practicing law in Cumberland for several years. Representative Homer Lyon, who now represents the sixth district in Congress, will be a candidate to succeed himself if his friends here say.

Duchess Is Again Bess by Tragedy

Duchess Dorothea Marie.

THE lifetime search for happiness by Duchess Dorothea Marie, of Schleswig-Holstein-Gotha, has again uncovered tragedy. The son she adopted in her childless middle age is now attempting to thrust her into bankruptcy. The suit was brought through his father, Prince Albert, of Schleswig-Holstein. The nature of the suit was cruelly embarrassing. It was brought at a time when other creditors of the war-impoorished woman had granted her a moratorium, largely on her prospect of inheriting a large part of the fortune of Carlotta, the mad widow of Maximilian, of Mexico, who was closely related to the Duchess.

The suit charged that the Duchess failed to preserve her once great fortune by not withdrawing it from Germany before inflation wiped most of it out. Her refusal to withdraw it was considered highest patriotism at the time, and even today many Germans look upon the suggestion that she should have extracted it as a scandal. Once again the Duchess finds herself an innocent person in the midst of unsavory gossip.

Such sorrows began early for the Duchess. When she was barely seventeen, in 1877, she was betrothed to Duke Ernest Gunther. He was thirty-five, his career had ever been a thorn in the side of his brother-in-law, the now deposed Emperor Wilhelm, his escapades had made a disgraceful reputation for himself over Europe, and it had been thrown in his face by several paternal royalties when he sought their daughters in marriage.

No children were born to the couple. It was just as well, the gossip said. They recounted her husband's unstable character and the fact that the Duchess was not only related to the mad Carlotta, but was also a granddaughter of Louise, of Belgium, who fled from her husband's cruelties into the arms of a young Austrian lieutenant of Hussars, and who later went insane. "A curse is on the line," the gossip said.

Her husband died in 1921.

In her adoption of Prince Albert's son, friends thought she had found happiness in an outlet for her long-pent mother love. So it seemed for a while.

But once again Dorothea Marie has found sorrow.

Tiny Baby Cheats Death

Using the methods that failed to save the life of Albert Frick, doctors cheated death from taking Justice Braley, twenty months' old Chicago child. The baby's life was despaired of after pneumonia attacked its lungs. Manual respiration was resorted to, and after four hours the infant showed signs of life. Improvement was steady, and now, according to Nurse Betty Rohrsen, the child is normal.

Visit Innocent, Beauty Says

Mrs. Sarah Mildred Petite Standish, twenty-three-year-old Virginia beauty and belle of Providence, R. I., was lodged in the East Cambridge, Mass., jail after her husband, Granville S. Standish, a descendant of Captain Miles Standish, declared he had found her in the room of Ormond Cook, Harvard law student. The woman vehemently denied wrong-doing. Standish recently sued for divorce, but lost his case when courts held that he had not come into court "with clean hands."

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

CROP CONDITIONS

Washington, March 23.—(AP)—The Department of Agriculture in its summary of crop conditions for the week ended yesterday, says that under the influence of persistently warm weather over the eastern half of the country, fruit trees continued to advance prematurely and unfavorably, with the early varieties blooming as far north as Maryland. In fact all vegetation in the southern states has now developed to a state two or three weeks ahead of an average season. The cold weather the latter part of the week was favorable in checking the too rapid development of fruit but at the same time some damage resulted.

Most of the week was favorable for field operations in the cotton belt and preparations for planting made fairly good progress.

Condition by states:
Virginia—Good progress in all farm work under very favorable conditions.
North Carolina—Farm work well advanced and vegetation two to three weeks ahead of average. Truck, small grains and pastures doing well.
Tennessee—Plowing and farm work delayed. Wheat growing nicely. Oats, rye and barley made considerable progress.

New York, March 23.—(AP)—Prices moved within narrow limits at the opening of today's stock market with the trend generally downward. St. Louis and Southern western feel of a joint on the initial sale while Baldwin displayed early strength.

COTTON OPENING

New York, March 23.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened steady; March 13.84; May 13.98; July 14.18; October 14.33; December 14.47.

Cotton market opened steady today at an advance of 1 to 5 points in response to relatively steady Liverpool cables but there was considerable selling attributed partly to the South. After advancing to 14.00 May reacted to 13.95 or to about yesterday's closing quotations. Trading was quiet at the start, but became more active after the call. There appeared to be more or less trade buying in the dips, as well as covering, but the advances met realizing. It was rumored that some continental selling here represented liquidation of investment holdings.

Private report pointing to an intended decrease of 11 per cent in the cotton acreage appeared to be without influence on the early market.

LIVERPOOL COTTON

Liverpool, March 23.—(AP)—Cotton spot moderate business; prices easier; American strict good middling 8.58; good middling 8.23; strict middling 7.88; middling 7.63; strict low middling 7.13; low middling 6.68; strict good ordinary 6.38; good ordinary 5.93; sales 6,000 bales included 5,800 American. Receipts 52,000 bales, including 31,600 American. Futures closed March 7.28; May 7.40; July 7.54; October 7.63; December 7.68; January 7.71.

POTATOES

Chicago, March 23.—(AP)—Potatoes receipts 93 cars, on track 251; total U. S. shipments 656; supplies liberal; demand and trading slow market steady; Wisconsin sacked round whites 1.85 to 2.00; mostly 1.95; Idaho sacked russets 2.70 to 2.95; mostly 2.85 to 2.90; fancy shade higher.

COTTON

New York, March 23.—(AP)—The cotton market was comparatively quiet and steady in today's trading. An opening advance met liquidation and southern selling, but offerings were absorbed by covering of trade buying, and prices later were firm up again. May was selling around 14.02 and October 14.41.

Spot steady; middling 14.25; High Low Close P. C. Mar. 13.97 13.75 13.87 13.82; May 14.10 12.93 14.09 14.00; July 14.29 14.12 14.28 14.10; Oct. 14.37 14.25 14.46 14.30; Dec. 14.64 14.43 14.64 14.47; Opening: March 13.84, May 13.98, July 14.18, October 14.33; December 14.47.

GRAIN

Chicago, March 23.—(AP)—Grain rallied sharply here today after all deliveries of wheat, corn and oats had dropped to a new low level for the season. Lively speculative buying took place on the downturn and there was also fair buying of red winter wheat for export.

Wheat closed firm 3-4 to 1-1-8-

net higher; corn unchanged to 1-4 to 3-8 up; oats unchanged to 3-4 advance and provisions varying from 5 cents decline to a rise of 2 cents.

STOCK MARKET

New York, March 23.—(AP)—Frequent shifts of speculative sentiment characterized today's stock market with the line of least resistance on the downside. Margin calls, a higher renewal rate on call money and disquieting overnight developments in China probably inspired much of the early selling. The market turned upward around noon under leadership of the rails, but softened again

PINK MULL GOES ON TRIAL IN ASHEVILLE

Asheville, March 23.—(AP)—Pink Mull went on trial in Superior Court here today charged with the slaying of Paul Gibbs, whose body was found by searchers near the Mull home, with gunshot wounds in the heart, after the youth had been missing for several days.

A crowd which took up all available space in the courtroom and the corridor included a special venire of 75 men summoned for the selection of a jury. The prosecution announced that a verdict of murder in the first degree would be their aim.

Wise Farmers Will Demand High Grade Tobacco Fertilizers

Winterville, N. C., January 14, 1927

I used 17 tons of your Tobacco Special 8-3-3 last season at the rate of 900 to 1,000 pounds per acre. I got 1,000 to 1,200 pounds per acre of tobacco, which sold from $400 to $450 per acre. I also used some of this same fertilizer under my cotton and made a fine crop.

Gossip of Staff Correspondents at World Centers of Population.

Honolulu, March 23.—(INS)—The territorial legislature has under consideration a bill which proposes to connect the windward and leeward sides of the island of Oahu with a tunnel which would pierce the Koolau mountains somewhere in the vicinity of the world-famous Paoli. Construction work would be carried on mainly by territorial prisoners under the direction of the superintendent of public works. At the present time a narrow and winding road is the only means of direct access from one side of the island to the other. The construction of a tunnel through the Koolau range has been talked of for years, but this is the first time that the problem has come before the legislature for serious consideration.

Because the territory of Hawaii is held to be a "possession" of the United States and outside the realm of award of the Carnegie medal, national recognition by the Carnegie hero fund has been denied Saburo Shishido, a Hawaiian-born Japanese boy, who last November plunged into the sea and saved the lives of his two brothers at imminent risk of his own life. The three lives at the village of Hoesa, Hawaii, and the two other brothers were fishing when a huge wave knocked them off a rock and swept them seaward. Governor W. R. Farrington, upon hearing of young Shishido's heroic deed, presented the matter to the Carnegie commission, who held that Hawaii was outside their realm.

Word has been received here that Father Rouzier, former French Catholic priest, who owns Christmas island is to establish there one of the largest coconut and copra plantations in the Pacific. The island occupied by Father Rouzier lies several hundred miles south of Honolulu. The aged priest who is reputed to be immensely wealthy spends a large part of his time there and on Washington island, making visits abroad only at long intervals.

Hikers who venture in to the mountains of Hawaii must be content to follow the marked trails unless they have the assistance of a trained guide or are themselves familiar with the jungle area which they desire to enter. This fact is not infrequently proven by parties of strangers, becoming lost and spending a night or two at the foot of a precipice or the head of a waterfall, until help can reach them.

Thanks to the mild climate of Hawaii, few of these expeditions have ended tragically, but no one who has been lost in a Hawaiian jungle cares to repeat the experience. The Hawaii Tourist Bureau and the Trail and Mountain Club take every precaution to furnish competent guides to those who wish to explore the mountain fastnesses. But from time to time confident individuals come along who insist on taking the trail alone. These are the people who are apt later to require assistance from army or civilian searching parties.

The Hawaiian mountains are quite different from those of the mainland, in that they contain many so-called "pockets" which apparently have no outlet and are apt to lead the unwary to the edge of an abrupt precipice. "Stay on the ridge" is the advice of the guides. The hiker who loses the trail and tries to go down the side of the mountain will soon find himself in trouble.

Governor Ritchie of Maryland, tells Louis Seibold the Democratic party should stop squabbling, and select some issue to fight for. Two Democratic candidates at least would fight for a change in the prohibition law. They will find it hard sledding.

Fighting "issues" seem scarce. It is hard to take children's minds off Santa Claus at Christmas time. It is hard to take the minds of Americans from prosperity which happens to bear a Republican brand. The Republican elephant is the national Santa Claus, and his "fighting" campaign issue will be "If you like me, keep me."

In many tragedies whiskey plays a part. A man is found murdered in bed, his head battered, wire twisted around his neck. A man did it to oblige his wife, younger than the dead husband. Detectives found a glassful of whiskey on the table beside the bed.

Mr. Clancy is picked up dead after fighting another gentleman. Having eaten "pleasantly enough" in a restaurant, they were told a lady upstairs would supply them with drink. The men went up, the ladies waited. One man was brought down dead.

There are in the city of New York at least 20,000 of those places where you "can get anything you want to drink." Sneak-easies outnumber the old saloons. Can anything be done about it? Probably NOT.

Robels, Spanish bullfighter, kill bulls for two months in Mexico, earned $65,000. He spent a few hours in gambling institutions at Tia Juana, across the California border, and Tia Juana gentlemen have his $65,000.

"Bullfighters never have any money," says a friend of Robels. "They are all gamblers." That fact keeps them working, killing bulls.

Many Americans are not so different. They also rarely have money, or don't have it long. They buy real estate they have never seen, stock in wells without oil, gold mines without gold. That keeps THEM working.

Foolishness is perhaps humanity's greatest asset. If those that save money, all lived on it in idleness instead of losing it to sharpers, there might be too much idleness in the country.

For one thing we should be grateful. Our cousins in Europe will teach us to fly, whether we want to learn or not. The British expect to send to New York next fall an airship "as big as the Mauritania," with room for 100 passengers. That will be one good lesson.

The courageous Italian flier, Pinedo, having flown across the Atlantic, is on his way skimming over strange Brazil, along the surface of the Amazon. We learn something from him.

The middle-West fights the corn borer with a machine that squirts blazing oil over the fields. Huge stubble pulverizers will help the work. Blazing oil will dispose of corn borers, and of part of our oil surplus at the same time.

SAYS OUTSIDERS SHOULD APOLOGIZE FOR HARM TO CHINA

National Student Secretary Tells Young Men of Human Relations Today

Chapel Hill, March 23.—(AP)—The powers engaged in helping China should get out and apologize for the great harm they have already done, Arthur Rugh, national student secretary in China of the Young Men's Christian Association, told the institute on human relations here today. He has just returned to America after 25 years of missionary work in the Orient. The Cantonese are bound to win, he said, adding that the so-called southern army is in reality not a southern army but is composed of Chinese from all sections of the country. Many of the paid fighters in the opposing armies have deserted to join the Nationalists, he said.

"All the powers engaged in helping China should get out and apologize for the great harm they have already done," he said. "Foreigners may lose some of their investments in China but they will lose far less if they will withdraw their forces; they may lose some lives but they will lose least by withdrawal of forces.

"In the past America has proved to be China's best friend but the present situation has made China look to Red Russia and the result is that the Nationalists are rapidly turning to Communism." Asserting that America's greatest curse is materialism, the speaker declared that although this country with only 5 per cent of the world's population, has 72 per cent of the world's gold, pro-

BELIEVES CONFIDENCE IN COOLIDGE STEADFAST

New York, March 23.—(AP)—Charles D. Hilles, vice chairman of the Republican National Committee, believes confidence of the country in President Coolidge is undiminished except in sections of the middle and northwest where farmers resent his veto of the McNary-Haugen bill. Mr. Hilles statement was issued upon his return from a trans-continental tour, during which he talked with representative Republicans of 24 states. He visited President Coolidge last Sunday, but said he had no information as to whether the President would be a candidate for renomination.
