MAIN LINE LEVEE ON MISSISSIPPI BREAKS FLOODING LOW LANDS

Forty Mile Stretch of Land Inundated; Fourteen Inches of Rainfall Recorded at New Orleans Last Night

Memphis, Tenn., April 16.—(AP)—The first break in the main line levee of the Mississippi river occurred near Doreno, Miss., early today flooding a stretch of land for 40 miles, according to reports here today. Thousands of acres of lowlands in the vicinity were under water.

Water lapping over the top of the new levee, as a result of a heavy wind washed out a gap 90 feet wide and as the waters rushed through it widened greatly, reports said.

Doreno, across the river from Hickman, Ky., where floods made more than 800 persons homeless yesterday, was apprehensive, and New Madrid, near where the St. Johns bayou floods into the Mississippi, was anticipating the worst flood in its history.

Thousands of men, recruited from every available source today are massed in the greatest battle man has ever had with the Mississippi river.

From southern Illinois to New Orleans, the flood menace is growing in more gigantic proportions. Continued rains throughout the valley and in head headlands of the Mississippi's tributaries promise no decrease from the gradually mounting tide.

Columbus, Ky., where the levee in front of the town gave way during the week registered rapidly rising water in its streets. Only a few citizens remain in their homes and those in upper floors. The remainder of the population moved to the hills when the breach threatened.

At Hickman, Ky., engineers consider the flood more dangerous than at any other point. The contour of the river at Hickman throws the weight of the headland waters flush upon the government dikes.

The Mississippi, normally about one and a half miles wide at the widest point, has spread out in many places to ten, 12 and 15 miles and in some places, where there are no bulwarks to hold the water, 25.

Memphis, built on a high bluff overlooking the majestic stream, is never in imminent danger from overflows, but water has backed into suburban streets, after heavy rainfall of 24 hours duration.

South of Memphis, however, armed guards walk the levee around the clock to prevent a recurrence of attempts to dynamite the bulwarks.

The situation gradually is becoming worse south to Vicksburg, Natchez and on toward New Orleans.

In Arkansas three lives are known to have been lost. The Arkansas and St. Francis rivers, tributaries of the Mississippi are swollen and levees had given way in some places.

New Orleans, April 16.—(AP)—Over fourteen inches of rain fell at New Orleans last night, the weather bureau reported today.

The rainfall broke all records for the past 56 years, the highest previous record being 9.22 inches. Hundreds of blocks in the residential sections were flooded and thousands of persons were unable to get downtown to business.

Business largely suspended for the Easter holidays, came to a virtual standstill and many of the thoroughfares which are high and dry under normal rains were under water from four inches to three feet of water with only boats or high wheeled wagons able to penetrate their bayou-like fastness.

Families were marooned in their homes, with the exception of those lucky enough to have a skiff in their back yards, or such as desired an early morning swim in their front yards.

Virtually every section of the city except certain high portions of the French quarter and certain peaks in the business and uptown sections of the city were under water at some time during the night.

As the pumping system gradually gained control of the situation, the business section was freed of water but hundreds of blocks in the uptown residential section remained under water at 10 o'clock today. In portions of the city, the water had ebbed in houses to attain a depth of six inches.

REVIVAL STILL DRAWING CROWD

Rev. S. H. Styron Delivers Another Forceful Sermon at Free Will Church

Rev. S. H. Styron took his text from Matthew 22:43: "What think ye of Christ?" at the Free Will Baptist church last night.

When a man breaks the greatest law he commits the greatest sin. You don't reject Jesus until you have, known of him.

The heathen hasn't rejected Jesus. He hasn't had the opportunity of learning about him.

It is the sin of rejecting Jesus Christ that causes men to be lost. Jesus came to this world declaring He was the Son of God.

When it became necessary for Him to say that He was the Son of God He did so. He didn't go about boasting that He was the Son of God. Rejecting the Lord Jesus Christ is the one sin that condemns a man.

The world knows whether you love God or not. Let us be careful how we testify to the world today. If you think little of Jesus Christ the world knows it.

Your acceptance or rejection of Jesus Christ shows what you are.

What is religion? Religion is the relationship between God and man.

What do you think of Christ that was with God at the beginning?

Unless you believe the virgin birth of Christ you don't believe in Christ.

What do you think of the Bible? You don't believe in Christ unless you believe the doctrine.

Even the enemies of Jesus spoke well of him. Can you say anything better of Him than that He is a friend of sinners? We are saved through Jesus Christ, because He is our friend.

There are people today who want Jesus to do something great to save them.

Think what his enemies have said about Him. Any man who is an enemy of Christ now would have been an enemy had he lived then.

Jesus taught you to love your fellowman. Some of you walk by each other on the street and do not speak. Forgive your fellowmen is the teaching of God.

FARMVILLE WINS FIRST PRIZE IN FIELD CONTEST

Bethel Won Second Place in Commencement Day Exercises of Colored Schools

Commencement exercises of colored schools of Pitt County were brought to a close yesterday afternoon with annual field day events at the fair grounds. The day was a full one for the thousands of people gathered here from all sections of the county, and the program probably eclipsed anything in recent years.

Farmville took first prize in the track day exercises. Bethel won second prize; Ayden third prize, and the County Training school fourth prize.

The judges in the athletic contests were: Mrs. J. M. Hobgood, Farmville; Miss Tabitha Visconte, Miss Cloe Pickren, Miss Clyde Lawrence, and Mrs. James Patterson. Winners in the exhibits were James Adams, St. Peter's school and George White of Sweet Hope. The Greenville high school won the ball game.

It is estimated that ten thousand people view the mammoth parade of county schools yesterday shortly before the noon hour. The line of march was under direction of Prof. C. M. Eppes, of Greenville schools. The pageant formed on First Street near Pitt and increased by lines formed at the corner of Reed and First Streets. The city schools fell in line on Fifth street. The line of march was down Evans street, out Dickson Avenue to the fair grounds.

Municipal Power Plants Are Revenue Producers In All Parts Of Nation

Municipal power plants are revenue producers, and the minute they are sold to private interests the revenue stops," Carl V. Thompson, secretary and treasurer of the Public Ownership League of America, told members of various water and light commissions of Eastern North Carolina gathered last night in Tarboro.

Mr. Thompson was invited by E. V. Zoeller, mayor of Tarboro. It was the first time he had spoken on super-power in Tarboro but not the first time in Carolina. In fact, he has visited Rocky Mount, Wilson, Washington, and has been in close touch with representatives of other cities in this section of the State who are interested in the inter-connection and improvement of electric light plants.

He not only showed what 7,000 other towns and cities of the nation are accomplishing with their electric plants, but he also told of the great benefits which should be derived from the inter-connection of high tension wires in this section.

It would be little trouble to effect a connection in Eastern Carolina, Mr. Thompson said. The power lines of the larger towns are already within four or five miles of each other. It would be an easy and not very expensive matter to link them up. It would mean that each town would have sufficient power to care for any expansion program in the next several years, and also enable them to electrify every farm within a radius of fifty square miles or more.

No single town would longer be dependent upon the resources of its own plant. The combined power of every plant would be available in case of emergency. He discussed the low rates which would result from the project, and backed up his argument with analysis of rates of one thousand towns and cities in this country with municipal owned electric plants.

He warned his hearers against selling out to private interests. These interests, he declared, would promise anything to gain possession of the right of a town or city, but after they got what they wanted they would do exactly like they wanted to. There is no way in the world to control the rates of the privately owned concerns. The courts have a right to raise rates, but the Constitution the United States automatically prevents the lowering them. The cities are helpless in case of discriminatory rates. They may fall back upon their contracts with the private corporations, but it would be all in vain. These same contracts are easily nullified in courts. There is no recourse for the municipality whatever.

"Your municipal power plant," said Mr. Thompson, "is a revenue producer. Every plant in the country is earning from five thousand to one million dollars annually. That revenue is used in the improvement of your town. Let the private investor have control of your plant and this same revenue would go to satisfy his own self interest.

"Selling municipally owned electric plants is like killing the hen that laid the golden egg. The town suffers an irreparable loss. The buyer uses his purchased right exactly like he wants to. He has representatives in every political office, especially those in Washington. The politician is richly rewarded for carrying out the desires of the large corporations, and they are always producing.

"Municipal plants are able to give lower rates than the privately owned corporations. Cleveland, Ohio, was paying 12 cents per kilowatt hour. They put in a municipal plant and are today enjoying a three cent rate. Seattle, Washington, was paying 20 cents. Today they are paying 4-1/2 cents per hour rate.

"Jacksonville, Florida, has a rate of seven cents per kilowatt hour. Other cities all over the State with private ownership, are paying a flat rate of fifteen cents. Jacksonville people are not only enjoying the lowest rates of any city in the State, but its power plant is turning into the city's treasury around $300,000 annually.

"There are 385 towns and cities linked together in Canada," he said. They have a flat rate of three cents per kilowatt hour. Some have as low as two cents.

"It is no use saying there is not enough power in Eastern Carolina. There is, and there will continue to be if the towns and cities come together and agree to connect their lines. This one more stone would enable them to accomplish one of the things in the interest of the communities served.

Superpower is one of the most important problems before the American public at this time, Mr. Thompson declared. And it will become even more important with the development of new electrical devices. The Governor of New York is fighting for public ownership of utilities, the government is doing the same, and it is incumbent upon the cities of this section to do likewise if they would continue to keep pace with expansion and development of other sections of the country.

GREENSBORO WINS AYCOCK CUP (AP)—Greensboro won the Aycock Cup in the finals of the annual State-wide high school debating contest last night over Wilson High School.

Greensboro won the decision by five judges. Greensboro was represented by Harry Gump and Henry Biggs. The query was "Resolved that Congress should enact the Curtis-Reed bill creating a Federal department of education." Greensboro upheld the affirmative.

McADOO'S VISIT TO WASHINGTON STARTS GOSSIP

Visit of Senator Reed Combined With Other Activities Excites Both Parties

Washington, April 16.—(AP)—Fresh fuel for discussion of the 1928 Presidential campaign has been supplied capital politicians by the presence in the city of two potential Democratic candidates: the Denver statement of William M. Butler, Republican National Committee chairman, and the move by San Francisco to cop next year's Republican national convention.

The two Democrats are William G. McAdoo, and James A. Reed of Missouri. As far as could be learned authoritatively, Mr. McAdoo was on a routine visit, while Senator Reed had come here to spend Easter.

Beside speculating upon this, however, politicians were contemplating Mr. Butler's announcement that his investigating tour of Western States revealed solidified support through the country for President Coolidge. He said that the stops he had made on his way to Denver convinced him that the country had enjoyed a reign of prosperity under the policies of the administration.

During his stay in the capital Mr. McAdoo has visited many friends but declined to discuss publicly his course in the approaching campaign. His presence, however, prompted G. C. Hinckley, secretary of the Association Against Prohibition Amendment, to issue a statement declaring that McAdoo "appears to be going to quite unnecessary expense in touring the East and South to determine whether he will become a candidate for President in 1928."

"All that Mr. McAdoo needs to do is to get an audience with Wayne B. Wheeler of the Anti-Saloon League," Hinckley said, adding that Wheeler "will not have forgotten the appeals of McAdoo for Anti-Saloon League help in 1924."

So far as is known Mr. McAdoo has not met Mr. Reed during his stay here and there are no indications that a meeting is planned. The Senator upon his arrival paid his respects to Senator Keyes, Republican, New Hampshire, who has tied up the funds of the Reed campaign investigating committee. He said Mr. Keyes as chairman of the Senate committee on audit and control had used "bad political judgment" in refusing to approve vouchers of the Reed committee.

Meanwhile, from San Francisco came the report that the city's Chamber of Commerce had taken the initial steps looking to the underwriting of $250,000 to bring the 1928 Republican convention there in 1928. Five other cities, Chicago, Detroit, San Antonio, Cleveland and Kansas City, already have indicated they may contest the bid.

But that doesn't diminish the value of the work that Mrs. Pankhurst did, when she COMPELLED BRITISH STATESMEN TO PAY ATTENTION TO BRITISH WOMEN.

Jacob Wassermann, able German novelist, author of the "World's Illusion," finds "no happiness in this country." He calls Chicago's industrial life "intensely depressing."

Chicago's industrial workers might call Mr. Wassermann's life intensely depressing. It is hard to judge. The prairie dog in his village may be happy as Napoleon looking up at the pyramids. The prairie dog doesn't have to go to St. Helena.

Napoleon crossed the Alps in winter and told those that complimented him on the "great achievement": "Winter is the best time to cross; the snow does not slip. I deserve credit only for not believing fools who said IT COULD NOT BE DONE."

German fliers don't believe it cannot be done, therefore they are establishing a commercial flying service that amazes the world. It would interest Napoleon to know that a German passenger ship yesterday flew from Munich to Milan, over the Alps, 235 miles in a heavy snow storm, in three hours. THAT'S FLYING.

Japan denies any army mobilization; says troops sent to China are "men to replace soldiers now there." We shall know more about that later also.

Britain would LIKE to retain the respect of all Asia by her conduct in China. JAPAN INTENDS without ifs or buts, to maintain Chinese and all-Asiatic respect for Japan.

COOLIDGE DENIES SPLIT IN CABINET

Washington, April 16.—(AP)—The White House had laid out political ghost with a denial that there is any split in the cabinet but the vigor of the official spokesman in announcing the demise may raise a stir.

The big ghost is the rumor that Secretary Kellogg was going to resign was split over the administration's policy in China.

In making his announcement the spokesman added that even were Hoover, whose name had been linked in capital gossip, would not be appointed to the place. Although it was added at the White House that Mr. Hoover was a warm supporter of the administration's Chinese policies, those who do not on conjecture and speculation, seized immediately on this bit of information as something offering great possibilities for lights of political fancy.

Rumor and speculation have continued several weeks, especially since the Chinese situation developed serious aspect, that Mr. Kellogg would retire and that one of the basis for pushing Mr. Hoover's name forward rests on the fact that he has had long experience among the Chinese, having resided in that country when he was a consulting engineer.

Those close to Mr. Hoover have denied repeatedly that he had any differences with his cabinet colleagues over the Chinese policies.

New Flight Record. No Desert, An Oasis. Modernism and Crime. Gold Snakes for Ladies. (By Arthur Brisbane)

ACOSTA AND CHAMBERLAIN stayed up in their Bellanca monoplane 51 hours 11 minutes breaking all records for continuous flight. Their joy is not un-mixed. When they rose into the air for a test, if they had started straight for Paris instead of flying around New York, to see if they COULD do it, they would be in Paris now and the first ever to have crossed the Atlantic ocean in a straight one-hop unassisted flight.

George F. Milton, able editor of the Chattanooga News, says Burleson is not "as dry as the Sahara Desert."

On the contrary, says he, Mr. Burleson is "a well known wet," more like a charming oasis raising its fringed palms in air. Mr. Milton writes that "Burleson's declaration for Governor Smith in 1928 by no means indicates that Texas will send a Smith delegation to the next Democratic convention."

The Rev. John Roach Straton, brilliant, militant fundamentalist, will report the Snyder-Gray murder trial for the New York Evening Journal, and says: "I do so because patriotic citizens should unveil the hidden dangers growing out of political, educational and RELIGIOUS MODERNISM, resulting in the appalling wave of vice and crime."

Some will wonder whether modernism is responsible for all our crime and vice.

Mrs. Snyder and Mr. Gray confessed that they killed Mrs. Snyder's husband, who stood in their way.

Adam and Eve were not perfectly happy. She listened to the serpent, instead of obeying her husband and direct orders from heaven to let the apple tree alone.

One of their boys, Cain, killed his brother Abel. There was no "modernism" then. As for vice, Solomon, whom we respect, with his thousand wives of one kind and another, made a modern "triangle" look rather simple.

British ladies anxious to attract attention, and perhaps not quite as beautiful as they once were, wear snakes made of fine, flat gold wire twisted around their necks. The snake goes around two or three times, hanging down in front. How do you explain that psychologically?

A few years ago, Mrs. Pankhurst, trying to get votes for British women, could be seen struggling in the arms of brawny good-natured policemen, tearing her away from the entrance of the House of Commons.

Now Premier Baldwin tells the Commons of his plan to let women vote at twenty-one years of age. Hitherto British women had to be older than men before they could vote.

The British "flapper," with her little box of cosmetics, and very little skirt, will get the vote, and probably won't want it.

Sanford, N. C., April 16.—(AP)—The jury in the Turner murder case retired for lunch today with only two more attorneys speeches and Judge Sinclair's charge between it and final receipt of the issues in the case which has been in progress for two weeks.

Court attaches expressed opinion that the jury would get the case about six o'clock tonight. A. A. F. P. Seawell, for the State, concluding the morning session with a broadside for conviction of the four men charged with murdering the Lee County sheriff in a rum raid last January.

W. H. Yarborough, for the defense had the last word in behalf of the defendants this afternoon and Solicitor Clawson Williams closed for the State—ending two days of speechmaking. Judge Sinclair had promised his charge would be brief.

Spectators said Bud Oavis and Tom McAviney appeared downcast as the trial approached its end, but that Parker Robbins and Macon Harrison took on new life as the contending attorneys battled who a pulping had been removed from a pistol alleged to have been carried into the swamp, when the raid took place, by Robbins, and alleged to have been given by him to Harrison.

Mrs. Ida Turner, widow of the slain sheriff, bore up well today after breaking down once yesterday. Her three children were with her in the courtroom.

Shanghai, April 16.—(AP)—Cantonese extremists at Hankow must yield, or the Moderates will launch a definite and thorough drive to oust the Communists and establish the Cantonese capital at Nanking until China is unified.

This declaration Pai Tsung-Chi, Cantonese commander for the Eastern coast, in a formal statement to a conference of representatives of the Vernacular Press.

The question must be decided, he said, before continuing the military drive northward undertaking a campaign on a large scale for establishment of the position among the powers to which China was entitled.

Forty Gallons of Booze Taken In Raid Today

One of the largest distilling outfits captured in this county in some time, was taken in Chicod township this morning by deputies sheriffs Sellars and Pierce. The haul consisted of forty gallons of whiskey, a twenty-foot worm and ten five hundred gallon government vats.

The plant was operated by steam when the officers arrived. The operators were warned by outposts in time to make their escape.

The plan was operated by steam and was capable of producing an enormous supply of illicit beverage in a short space of time. With the exception of the capture of a huge steam plant some time ago today's haul is considered one of the most important made in this section in months.

REPLY TO REPARATIONS NOTE UNSATISFACTORY TO FIVE GREAT POWERS

Paris, April 16.—(AP)—The representatives of the five powers in China have recommended to their governments that they be authorized to draft a new identic note on the Nanking incident in reply to the communications from Eugene Chen, Cantonese foreign minister, which they regard as unsatisfactory.

The note is expected to be ready within five or six days. It is understood it will make it absolutely clear that Great Britain, the United States, France, Japan and Italy are united in demanding that the lives and property rights of their nationals in China be protected and that reparations be made for the damage suffered.

Shanghai, April 16.—(AP)—An American sailor suffered a flesh wound when the destroyer Grebe was fired on with machine guns yesterday from the north bank of the Yangtze opposite Kiangyin, it was learned today.

The Chinese persisted in their firing until the Grebe turned loose her main battery of four-inch and three-inch guns.

Washington, April 16.—(AP)—Another American naval vessel has found it necessary to use tear gas in Chinese waters, the Navy Department was informed today in a dispatch which reported that the destroyer Grebe had fired upon Chinese on the north bank of the Yangtze river, opposite Kiangyin Port. One Chinese sailor on the Grebe received a flesh wound in the leg during firing from the shore directed at the ship.

Admiral Williams, commanding the American forces, advised the Department that the Grebe was proceeding from Shanghai to Hankow when it was fired upon by the Chinese soldiers. The destroyer returned the fire, bringing her four and three inch batteries and machine guns into action. The Chinese, however, continued to fire at the Grebe, for several minutes after the destroyer's heaviest guns had been turned on them.

Hong Kong, April 16.—(AP)—Fighting and shooting throughout Canton which about 100 radicals were killed, were reported in a wireless dispatch from that city, bearing yesterday's date received here today. The fighting is said to have occurred while Conservative forces were rounding up and disarming many radical Unionists by orders of the Canton government.

The headquarters from which it is alleged the Chinese strikers were directed was raided, and officials and others on the premises were arrested. A number of rifles were seized.

Shanghai, April 16.—(AP)—Cantonese extremists at Hankow must yield, or the Moderates will launch a definite and thorough drive to oust the Communists and establish the Cantonese capital at Nanking until China is unified.

This declaration Pai Tsung-Chi, Cantonese commander for the Eastern coast, in a formal statement to a conference of representatives of the Vernacular Press.

The question must be decided, he said, before continuing the military drive northward undertaking a campaign on a large scale for establishment of the position among the powers to which China was entitled.

OUR SATURDAY NIGHT MEDITATION

THE PLACE WHERE THE LORD LAY

(An Easter Meditation)

St. Matthew 28:6:—"He is not here; for he is risen... Come, see the place where the Lord lay."

1. One does not associate gladness with the grave. That is not the experience of men. The sepulchre is the quiet home of sorrow, where tears fall in gentle loving memory. How often, visiting a graveyard, does one see somebody lingering by a tomb, taking away the flowers that are withered, tending the sleeping place of the loved one with a sweet and careful reverence. I have seen thousands such, yet never caught any singing with a great gladness in their voice and shining on their face. There are the children of memory and sorrow. Summoned to a grave, we know at once that we are summoned to a place of sadness. Women clothe themselves in decent black, as perceiving the unseemliness of color. And yet, in the passage in which our text is found, when the angel wanted to make these women glad, he bade them come and investigate a grave!

It is one of the strangest episodes of history. To exaggerate its uniqueness is impossible. It is the only time in all the centuries when a grave is the triumphant argument for gladness: "Come see the place where the Lord lay."

2. One marvelous thing was that THAT PLACE WAS EMPTY—though only the angel knew why it was empty.

It had not been rifled of its priceless treasure. "He is not here; He is risen." The Sadhu Sundar Singh tells of a friend of his who visited Mohammed's tomb. It was very splendid and adorned with diamonds, and they said to him: "Mohammed's bones are here." He went to France and saw Napoleon's tomb, and they said to him: "Napoleon's bones are here." But when he journeyed to the Holy Land and visited the sepulchre of Jesus, nobody there said anything like that.

THAT was the marvelous thing about "the place where the Lord lay." It thrilled these women to the depths. The grave was empty! The Master was not there. In the power of an endless life He had arisen! That empty grave, flung open for inspection, lies at the back of all the Easter gladness which has transformed and revived the world. For once, the grave is not a place of sadness. It is the home of song, and not of tears. It is the birthplace of a triumphant joy that has made music through the darkest hours. HE has won the victory over the last great enemy. "Come, see the place where the Lord lay."

3. Not only was the place empty; we are told THAT IT WAS ORDERLY. There were the linen clothes lying and the napkin folded by itself. That means, to me, that our blessed Lord, awaking, had deliberately put all these things in order. There is here the same Kingly touch of sublime assurance which he revealed in the storm on the Galilean lake, and when on the Cross. His victories are never desperate nor hasty; they are always marked by a majestic and unruffled calm.

Drowning men struggle for the surface. Men entombed fight to gain their freedom. But the grave of Jesus bore not a single trace of any desperate or struggling haste. It was orderly. There lay the folded napkin. Leisurely calm marked the triumph of our arising King!

4. We must not forget that THE PLACE WAS ALSO FRAGRANT.

Spices had been strewn around His body, and the odor of them filled the tomb. The Lord had left the grave, and it was empty. He had left it, and it was orderly; but there is a beautiful suggestiveness in the fact that He left it fragrant.

For now, through Him who died for us and rose again, there is something of fragrance in the common grave that none had ever perceived before. There is the hope of a life that lies beyond, in the light and love and liberty of heaven. There is the hope of meeting again those whom we have lost, and without whom we never can be perfected. There is the hope of seeing face to face, at last, in a communion that never shall be broken, the Friend and Master to whom we owe the fragrance of these hopes!

Let us this Eastertide, not only accept the angelic invitation by faith to "Come, see the place where the Lord lay"; but by the same faith let us appropriate all the comforting assurances of His empty tomb—and then, setting out on the dusty road of our common duties, may we, like the two journeying to Emmaus, meet the Lord Himself!

GRAIN

Chicago, April 16.—(AP)—All grain recovered at the last today from early weakness in which corn touched the lowest prices that May and July have reached this season. Good commission house buying of wheat developed in the final half hour, especially on the part of a concern that has been on the bear side for weeks. Wheat closed unsettled as the same as Thursday's finish to 1-8 to 1-4 higher; corn at 1-8 decline to 5-8 advance; oats 1-8 to 3-8 up and provisions varying from 10 cents decline to an equal gain.

Georgia Lady Could Not Sleep Nights, But After Taking Cardui She Was "Like a Different Person."

Comer, Ga.—Mrs. C. H. Smith, of this place, related the following interesting experience: "I was weak and nervous and run-down. I couldn't sleep at night. I felt tired and not in condition to do my work. I had Cardui recommended to me, but always thought I could out-do most sickness, but this was one time I needed help. I was so weak I could hardly lift my hand. "I can't express how bad I felt. "I know I improved after taking Cardui. I was like a different person. I was built up and was stronger and better than in a long time. "I have a young daughter who had the 'flu,' and after she got up she would once in a while have such severe cramping spells, just awful terribly. I knew there was a weakness and, hoping Cardui would reach this trouble, I had her take it, and the first bottle helped her so much she was able to leave it off and does not have this trouble now." Cardui has been in use for more than 50 years. Purely vegetable, mild, harmless. At all drug stores. NC-173

EIGHT KILLED IN EXPLOSION

Four Buildings Razed by Explosion and Following Fire in Chicago

Chicago, April 16.—(AP)—Eight persons were killed and their bodies buried beyond recognition, and four buildings were razed, the result of an explosion, followed by fire. The dead, members of two families are:

Barnett Levin, 40, his wife, Rose, 40, their two sons, Albert 20 and Leonard 13; Harry Sokolovsky 40, his wife, Sarah, 40, a son, Samuel, 14, and daughter Anna 15. Police the coroner's office and the fire department said the explosion apparently was due to the ignition of a gas pocket in a tailor shop operated by Levin. The Levins had living quarters above the shop, as did the Sokolovskys above their dry goods store adjoining. A theory that a till may have exploded in a grocery store operated by Andrew Cardenall was discarded when the police found there had been no still in his store. Several relatives of the Levin and Sokolovsky families called at the morgue during the morning but none could identify any of the remains. Police finally decided it was futile to make further attempts at identification, due to the charred condition of the bodies.

ASKS FOR CHANGE OF BRIDGE NAME

Scotland Neck, N. C., April 16.—(AP)—Scotland Neck Post No. 34, American Legion, today protested against naming of Edward's Ferry Bridge as Hart's bridge, calling upon the State Highway Commission to recognize the point of historical interest by changing the name officially. The post asked, in a resolution, that the bridge be named something alike or in relation to the Confederate ram "Albatross," which they contend was built on the site. Peter Evans Smith, of Scotland Neck, had an important part in building the ship. The name "Hart's Bridge" was selected recently to honor the late W. A. Hart, highway commissioner for the fifth district.

ROUND TABLE CLUB MEETS

(Reported)

The Round Table Club was entertained Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Dot Patrick, with Mrs. H. L. Carr as hostess. The hall and living room were decorated with beautiful dogwood and suggestions of Easter. Eighteen members were present and two guests, Mrs. Ramsay, of Schneetady, and Miss Liverman of Norfolk. Mrs. R. L. Smith was elected to represent the Round Table Club at the state convention in Durham.

The subject for the afternoon "Favorite Trees," was presented by Mrs. R. L. Smith. In her article, "The Friendly Trees," she felt that indeed the trees have been the oldest friend of man and the best friend of man, with him from the cradle to the grave. Mrs. Smith stressed the importance of tree planting, especially in beautifying cities, as evidenced in the beautiful trees of Washington, D. C. The red maple, white elm, white and silver leaf poplar, chestnut, sturdy oak and white pine, made up her group of favorite trees, to be admired and protected.

Mrs. Wiley Brown gave Joyce Kilmer's "Trees," in which one recalls the beautiful lines: "Poems are made by fools like me, But only God can make a tree."

Interesting items about famous trees, given by the members of the club, concluded a very delightful study of trees.

The hostess, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. W. A. Darden, served a delicious ice course, and the club adjourned to meet in two weeks.

Dramatic Recital at College auditorium, next Monday night 8:15.

Babe Ruth Hit His First Home Run Of The Season Off Athletics Yesterday

(By The Associated Press.) A big star and a little star, who proved their worth in the last world series, are proving it again in the current campaign.

One is Babe Ruth, six feet two, and the other is little Bill Sherdel, five feet ten inches tall. Ruth had a 12 to do with winning yesterday's game for the Yankees, while Sherdel is known as the losing pitcher for his team, the Cardinals. Yet both were playing the old ball game.

The big man is the more spectacular. Babe's bat started the slugging that beat the Athletics 6 to 3, by taking the confidence from Pitcher Egan's arm with a howling homer in the opening inning. It was the Babe's first of the season and the thunderous approval that went with it didn't help the condition of the luckless pitcher at all.

But in Chicago Little Bill was playing baseball from the opposite end of the groove. Instead of receiving them with a budgeon primary, he was serving them up with all the cunning of nine years in the major leagues. In the entire game he granted two hits—but one of these changed to be a homer by Hack Wilson and the Cubs won the ball game 1 to 0.

Joe Schaetz, Cleveland sonepaw, had the same kind of luck. Up to the seventh he allowed only one hit, but then Falk, White Sox left fielder, slammed a home and Shoute began to weaken. After that the Sox won, 6 to 1.

All three of those games virtually were won by home runs. Two good pitchers had a duel at Boston and Charlie Robertson, new comer to the campfire of the Braves a 3 to 1 victory.

Baseball of the slugging kind was played by the unbeaten Pirates as they stayed on the roof of their league by letting down the Reds 10 to 6. There were no homers but there were 14 hits and every freebater who played nine innings got at least one.

The hitting and the pitching both were present in the Senators' 7 to 1 win over the Red Sox, while Crowder held the Sox to five hits, the Washington big guns were blazing away, led by Goslin and Spenger.

Errors featured the game at Philadelphia which the Giants won from the Phillies, 6 to 3. Eddie Farrell selected the city where he got his baseball start with the University of Pennsylvania nine as the place to make three errors. But the Phillies accommodate with three of their own which the Giants did not hesitate to cash in on.

Rain at St. Louis stopped the Tiger-Browns game in the fifth at 2-0.

All teams face new opponents today with all the boys loaded for war.

SPORTS SLANTS

By ALAN J. GOULD Associated Press Sports Editor

The proud tradition of the Waner family of Ada, Okla., for years had rested on the fact that "Dad" Waner once had an offer to play ball with the famous old Chicago White Stockings. But the clan now has a greater and two-fold badge of distinction—the presence of Dad's two strapping boys, Paul and Lloyd, as regulars in the outfield of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Even more remarkable than the spectacle of the brothers patrolling the same outfield is the sensational manner in which both have jumped to fame in their first year under the top.

Paul, who celebrated his 28th birthday today, came to the Bucs as a slugger with a reputation as a slinger, gained on the Pacific coast. He cost Barney Dreyfuss something like $50,000 but convinced the Pirate owner he was cheap at this price by leading the club in batting last year with a mark of .355 that also put him around the top of the league's clouting list.

Paul's "little" brother, Lloyd, just turned 21, jumped to the majors from the obscurity of Columbia in the South Atlantic Association, where he exhibited the family's traditional batting wallop. He ousted the veteran Barnhart to start the season in left field for the Pirate.

The Waner boys ascribe their hitting prowess not only to the fact that they were born and reared in baseball atmosphere but also to their "corn cob practice."

"I have never batted a curve ball thrown by any pitcher that was as hard to hit as the cobs the boys used to throw at me down on the farm," Paul said. "A corn cob, thrown hard enough, just naturally takes all kinds of unusual shots and jumps. We used a tick for a bat and played that game every day in the week. That's where I learned to follow the ball."

Only one other family, so far as modern records go, rivals the Waner cal in having brothers in similar positions on the same major league team. The Barnes boys, "Zeke" and Jesse, were together on the Giants' plugging staff for several seasons but Jesse now wears a Brooklyn uniform. The Mensels

Wilson Bugs Defeat Eagles

Raleigh, N. C., April 16.—(AP) Wilson won out over Kinston yesterday, 4-1, in a regular Virginia League battle. Norfolk defeated Portsmouth, 17-12, while Petersburg split a double-header with Richmond, 9-4, and the North Carolina score was 4-1 favoring Wilson.

The standings put Wilson, Richmond and Norfolk tied for first place at 667 each. Today's contest were Kinston at Wilson; Portsmouth at Norfolk and Richmond at Petersburg.

Bob and Emil both are outfielders but in different leagues.

The Pirates would have smashed all records by having two sets of brothers in the field if Guy Morrison had made the grade as a pitcher. The brother of the veteran "Inghandle Johnny" Morrison was released after the spring training trip.

"It may or may not be taken as an omen for another good year for Babe Ruth, but the big hitter's first 1927 homer sends him off on the clouting trail one day ahead of his record breaking 1921 schedule. He hit the first of his 59 homers of that year on April 16.

The Babe is usually a slow starter. He rose to the occasion in 1923 to bank out a home run in the first game played at the Yankee stadium but in 1920, when he got 54 homers, he did not register the first until May 1. Last year he got the first round tripper on April 20 and totalled 47.

PROMISES MOTORISTS NEW MEASURE OF MILES FROM MODERN BALLOONS

"Tire manufacturers can give the public a new measure of miles in balloon tires, if they will first forget their ideas of tire building gained from the old high pressure tire," says Mr. P. G. Luper of the Central Tire and Battery Co., local Goodrich dealers.

"By the adoption of new principles of design in the Goodrich Silvertown balloon, we find that it is surpassing the mileage records of the finest Silvertowns of high pressure design.

"The first step in building balloon tires, is to recognize that low pressure is almost exactly opposite to high pressure. That is, the tires which were inflated to 60 to 80 pounds were so hard that they rode on a comparatively narrow strip of tread, in the center of the tire. But the balloon tire flattens out—and instead of putting the load on the center of the tread, it puts the weight on what tire men call the shoulders or two outer sides of the tread.

"Meeting this problem of tread design, will stop the waste of millions of dollars worth of tire mileage for motorists. When the heavy tread design, which has been so common in many balloon tires, eliminated from the center of the tire it keeps the whole tread from being distorted under load—and this prevents the destructive 'cupping' action and rapid uneven tread wear—one of the greatest causes of short life in balloon tires.

"This discovery is an important reason for the exceptional mileage records made by Silvertown Balloons which have been in use by the public, with this new design, for almost two years."

Remember this, you folks who are interested in poultry—the best feed you can buy is the cheapest. You'll save those little chicks by feeding Purina.

We're pretty safe in saying that you dairymen are not in the business for the fun of the thing, or for your health. What you want is bigger profits. And that's where Purina Cow-chow comes in. You'll be surprised with the results. Feed it thirty days and see.

Out of the mouths

of children comes the truth. Yesterday we overheard a small boy say to his companion:

"Gee, this is where they have Stonewall Jackson Flour. That's the best flour of all." He had heard it at home. And he'll hear it here at our store, too, if he stays around very long.

Why not change the name of an engine's 'cow-catcher' to 'Lizzie-tosset'?

Too much corn—not enough protein of the right kind. That is what causes such heavy losses every year among pigs. Purina Pigchow, when fed to the brood sow, will give you a larger, stronger and faster growing litter.

Poor seeds costs the farmers of this community a lot of money every year. Ever think of that? You can cut down that loss by planting our seeds. They're dependable.

Going to need a new disc this season? We certainly would like to have little opportunity to show you the new one we have. It won't take more than a minute to see its merits and value.
