SITUATION IN AUSTRIA WELL IN HAND TODAY

All Danger of Further Outbreaks in City of Vienna Had Passed Today.

Vienna, July 19.—(AP)—With the restoration of railway, postal, telegraph and telephone services Vienna today resumed its normal course. The Boulevard cafes were crowded and the theatres were reopened with the smouldering walls and roof of the stately palace of justice which was set afire today remained the only external sign of the city's reign of terror.

The palace of justice, as it now stands, is a charred pile of marble and granite which must be torn down. A new structure will cost at least $2,000,000 without counting the incalculable loss of valuable political, historical and judicial documents which the routing mob burned.

The city has appropriated $15,000 toward the cost of burying the victims of Friday's clash which numbers at least 100. They will be interred in the Central Cemetery tomorrow and an obelisk bearing their names will mark the site.

Vienna, Austria, July 19.—(AP)—Chancellor Seipel has succeeded in winning the Socialist leaders, Burgomaster Seitz and Otto Bauer and the labor leader Tomischek to his view that parliament should be the final arbiter in the dispute that has kept the country in a turmoil since Friday, and it was believed today that all danger of further outbreaks had passed. Parliament will meet Thursday when the dispute will be placed before it. Thus spokesmen have won over the social Democrats who had been engaging in an obstructionist campaign against the Seipel government.

Vienna presented an almost normal appearance today, except for strong patrol of regular and volunteer police. The capital continued under a state of emergency. Financial interests and hotel keepers, who had one of the best seasons in years, united in warning the socialists that serious consequences for the country's finances both at home and abroad, might ensue if they persisted in trying to force the government to grant concessions. Even among the laboring masses the general strike had been unpopular.

In announcing the termination of the walkout, the minister of finance Herr Kleinbeck said: "The government has achieved a great success." He added that the palace of justice, wrecked in Friday's outbreak of rioting and arson was to be rebuilt.

The number of persons killed in the disorders has been fixed at 84 while something like 500 wounded are being treated at city hospitals. Among those arrested is a man described as a communist agitator, who, it is alleged, came to Vienna under a fictitious name. The police say he was supplied with funds to inflame the socialists and communists against the government.

Americans and other tourists are remarking on the rapidly with which the capital returned to its usual gaiety as soon as the disorder subsided and the apparent outward indifference of the populace to the crisis.

Even while the rioting was at its height, thousands of Viennese calmly walked past the hotels or chatted over the coffee cups at the many outdoor cafes. The foreigners were not so self-possessed. When the first shots were heard, a group of Americans in the lobby of the Hotel New York demanded the management to close the iron gates fearing the rioters might invade the premises.

So far as known, however, foreigners were not molested. "We have the situation well in hand," said the foreign office. "We neither expect nor desire help from outside."

LOVE-CRAZED JEWELER SHOOTS DURHAM WOMAN

Raleigh, N. C., July 19.—(AP)—Walter O'Brien, proprietor of a Durham jewelry shop and Sallie Williams, also of Durham are in a hospital there in serious condition as the result of bullet wounds suffered from a pistol in O'Brien's hands, advices state.

The shooting occurred early this morning, according to reports O'Brien attacking the woman in her car on a downtown street and inflicting a bullet wound in her left side. Leaving her, it was said, he returned to his place of business and shot himself through the stomach.

O'Brien is said to have told police the episode was the climax to a love affair.

More riots are expected in Vienna. The former allies do not like the situation in what is left of Austria. They believe that Germany will absorb the Austrians, and dislike the idea of increasing German power.

Mussolini, it is said, will act promptly to prevent the setting up of any imitation of Russia's Soviet government in Austria, and Hungary would join Italy in preventing that.

A story is told of Mussolini's son questioned in school on the imperative of a verb. He was asked what "person" could not be used in the imperative sense. The answer expected was "first person singular," but young Mussolini replied, "two persons that cannot be commanded are the king and my father."

Mussolini cannot be commanded, but he can command others, including the king, in an emergency. He is determined that no Socialist, Communist or other similar government shall rise to power.

Napoleon, on Saint Helena, said "In ten years Europe could be Cossack or Republican," meaning that autocracy or republicanism might have full power. He little dreamed how many different forms of power could come out of one war.

Commander Byrd, always in search of interesting occupation, plans a flight to the South Pole before the new year he will be flying through the coldest region on earth. He is determined to be the first man to fly over both poles.

In centuries to come, what we call our north and south poles will again be warm, and some other spots on the earth will be the poles. Oil wells that Standard Oil has located inside the arctic region will supply nearby gas stations. If men still use power as primitive as gasoline in that future day.

Gas by then will probably be completely out of date, as whale oil is now, for lighting. But do not be frightened into selling good oil stocks, if you have any. Things move slowly. There are more sail.

THREE CASES ARE HEARD IN COURT TODAY

Negro Draws Four Months on The Road On Charge of Cruelty to Animals.

Leroy Perkins, colored, who resides across the river from Greenville, was sentenced to six months on the county roads by Judge W. A. Darden presiding over this morning's session of county court. Attorneys for the defendant filed notice of appeal to Superior Court under bond of $250.

The charges against the negro grew out of his cruelty to a mule. He is alleged to have whipped the animal unmercifully with a single tree and an other instrument of similar size, producing probably permanent injuries.

A. S. Johnson, white man of the Grimesland community, drew four months on the county roads on a charge of having whiskey for sale. He appealed to Superior Court under bond of $250.

Janie Rhem, negress, was ordered to pay fines of $50 and costs each on charges of carrying a deadly weapon. Upon failure to pay the fines, she will be confined in jail for a period of thirty days in the first offense and ninety days in the latter.

The woman is from Kinston. Charges against her grew out of a shooting affray on the Cox Mill road a short distance from Greenville, Sunday night, July 16, in which she is alleged to have shot and injured a negro by the name of Major Freeman. Freeman has been confined in a hospital in Kinston since the time, and the woman was held in jail here pending his recovery.

AVIATION ON AN INCREASE IN AMERICA

Commercial Development Noted in Figures of Commerce Department Today.

Washington, July 19.—(AP)—Cold figures made available today at the commerce department, showed in unmistakable terms the upward sweep of American Commercial Aviation during the last year. Notable by the record-breaking trans Atlantic and trans-Pacific flights of American Aviators.

Officials of the department's aeronautical section who have studied the plugging, work-a-day performance of infant transport lines now operating in every section of the country are plainly pleased with the developments of the last year but they still see many difficulties to overcome.

Even as they translate the figures that show an unexpected degree of present day accomplishment, they can point out the need for yet more effort an ingenuity. With it all the perspective they have from long years of contact with the pioneer period makes them surer of the expansion that is coming.

Operating in commercial service the country today there is a total of between 3,500 and 5,000 airplanes, according to the best estimate of director Young, of the aeronautics section. The number is increasing so rapidly that the new system of plane registration which went into effect last February has been unable to catch with the situation.

There are 12 airways under systematic schedule service, with ten transport companies participating.

Possibly the best index of growth of utility is the figures compiled for the air mail. In the fiscal year 1926 the air mail poundage was 560, 1925 and for the fiscal year 1927 which ended June 30 the total was 1,144,595.

Since 1926 the value of all aircraft and air materials produced in the country was $24,161,752 or twice as much as the $12,775,181 total for production in 1925.

Much of the enterprise under way is so new that results from it can not yet be estimated. One of the transport companies as recently as July 1 put a fleet of 25 planes on the Chicago-San Francisco route for carriage of mail, express and passengers. The set fare for the 22 hour air trip is $200 per passenger and the machines take two passengers on each flight.

HOME DEMONSTRATION WORK BARRED TODAY

IN NEW HANOVER COUNTY

Wilmington, July 19.—(AP)—Continued operation of home demonstration work in New Hanover County is barred under a ruling of the attorney general, the board of education announced today.

A) the same time it was stated that many other counties in the State would be affected by the opinion.

The board has received a letter from A. T. Allen, State superintendent of public instruction stating that the board had no legal right to appropriate money for home demonstration work. He stated, the board said, that this was the opinion of the attorney general of the State.

The opinion was sought by J. O. Carr, chairman of the New Hanover Board of Education, who felt some doubt as to the legality of an appropriation of $400 for this work.

DELEGATES OPTIMISTIC AT GENEVA

Hugh Gibson, American Delegate at Naval Conference Sees Light Ahead.

London, July 19.—(AP)—Reuters Ottawa correspondent says he learned that the naval delegates have reached an agreement "in principle" under which the total tonnage of Great Britain and the United States and 325,000 for Japan.

Geneva, Switzerland, July 19.—(AP)—A sensation was caused here today by the official announcement that Earl Cecil, member of the British delegation to the tripartite naval conference will return to London tonight and W. C. Bridgman, head of the British delegation tomorrow, for the purpose of consulting with the British cabinet and elucidating the British position at the naval conference.

Geneva, July 19.—(AP)—"We are more optimistic than we have been for some days," Hugh S. Gibson, chief American delegate to the tripartite naval conference, declared after a conference today between the six principal delegates.

"The discussions are continuing in a most cheerful and friendly atmosphere," added Mr. Gibson, "we are beginning to see the light ahead."

Mr. Gibson however, indicated that this morning's deliberation, which were devoted to the broader phases of the cruiser problem as a whole, would have to be followed by several other sessions of the "big six," and that the harmonious spirit prevailing today did not necessarily signify rapid progress in concluding the work of the conference.

The American delegate stated that there would be no meeting of the executive committee of the conference for three or four days. This indicates that there is little likelihood of another public plenary session of the conference before next week.

The question of defining the obsolescence of cruisers—determining what ships shall be counted as active units and including in the total tonnage limitation of surface craft—appears to have formed the subject of today's discussion.

Replying to a question as to whether the agreements were in sight on the number of 10,000-ton cruisers carrying eight inch guns to which each of the three powers would be entitled, Mr. Gibson said that that problem had not yet come officially before the conference and that it would be sometime before it was reached.

One indication that there was some progress to report was the decision of the American delegation to receive representatives of the work press this afternoon, these meetings having been suspended several days ago.

Armour Reported Critically Sick

Chicago, July 19.—(AP)—The Herald and Examiner said today that J. Ogden Armour is critically ill in London and that his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Mitchell, Jr., are racing against time across land and sea to reach his bedside. The paper said that the packer was stricken with typhoid fever a week ago last Wednesday.

The Mitchells left Chicago last night on the second leg of their dash across the continent to make the Berengaria of the Cunard line, which sails from New York City at midnight tonight. They started last Friday, when they received a cablegram from Mrs. Armour at their summer home in Southern California to "come immediately."

Mrs. Armour supplemented the cablegram with a long distance telephone call from London to Santa Barbara.

Mr. Armour is 64 years old. London, July 19.—(AP)—J. Ogden Armour, who has been seriously ill at the Carlton Hotel, was believed today to have passed the critical stage and to be on a niche mend. He was still too weak, however, to see any one but his wife.

100 PER CENT STOCK DIVIDEND

New York, July 19.—(AP)—A stock dividend of 100 per cent was authorized today by directors of Commercial Solvents Corporation on the "B" stock.

FIRST SUPERINTENDENT OF JOHNS HOPKINS DEAD

Baltimore, July 19.—(AP)—Dr. Harry Mills Hurd, 85, the first superintendent of Johns Hopkins hospital is dead at his summer home near Atlantic City, it was learned here today.

PACIFIC FLIERS FETED IN MILWAUKEE TODAY

Milwaukee, Wis., July 19.—(AP)—Heading an aerial procession from Chicago, Lieutenants Lester J. Matland and Albert Hegenberger arrived at the country airport at 10:30 a. m. to participate in an all-day reception given in honor of the trans-Pacific fliers by Matland's native city.

BYRD TALKS OF TRIP TO SOUTH POLE

Five Returned Trans-Atlantic Fliers Face Day Free of Official Ceremony.

New York, July 19.—(AP)—A day virtually free of official ceremonies greeted the five returned trans-Atlantic fliers today after their enthusiastic welcome home.

A baseball game in the afternoon at which ceremonies were arranged in honor of the 25th anniversary of John J. McGraw's connection with the New York Giants and a municipal dinner at the Hotel Commodore tonight comprised their official program.

Meanwhile Commander Richard E. Byrd and his crew of the America already are looking forward to their next great adventure—a flight to the South Pole—while Clarence D. Chamberlin, a pilot of the Columbia, is anxious to perfect plans for a trans-Atlantic flying service.

Byrd considers his South Pole flight as another "great air battle," an undertaking of such magnitude that it will claim all of his time and attention.

"And I hope it will be a conquest in every sense of the word," he said. He will be accompanied on the new adventure by the three who flew with him to France and Floyd Bennett, pilot on his North Pole flight, who is recovering from injuries received in a test flight of the America. Byrd said his original plan of accomplishing the South Pole flight in a year must be scrapped. In all likelihood the undertaking will require two years he said and his crew might have to spend three years in the Antarctic if he carried out extensive explorations of the region.

"As I see it now we can really expect to get little done our first summer season down there except lay our bases," he said, "we hope to establish a home base somewhere near Littleton, New Zealand. From there in, on the New Zealand ice cap we have to set up secondary bases. This is hard and trying work and is going to take a lot of time. After we have all this work done we will still have the main flight ahead."

The main flight will be from the primary base to the Pole and back. He believes the exploration flights will be on the same order. The expedition expects to set out from Norfolk, Va., about the middle of September.

Chamberlin is busy planning a new ship with automatic controls for trans-Atlantic flying service.

"It probably will have to be called a 'service' by courtesy for a while," he said. "What I am thinking about right now is a new ship with automatic controls which we can be certain will do the job. How often it can accomplish the flight won't bother us at first."

Chowan Bridge To Be Opened On Tomorrow

Edenton, N. C., July 19.—(AP)—East and west met on the Bertie shore of Chowan river tomorrow to celebrate completion of Chowan bridge. The crowd, which committee estimated will reach 5,000 later will move to Edenton, capital of the state from 1722-66 for a program of speeches.

Lieut. Gov. J. Elmer Lorc of Durham will speak in behalf of Gov. McLean, now on his vacation. The bridge will link northeastern counties' roads with the state highway.

Gov. McLean Enjoys Rest In Wisconsin

Raleigh, July 19.—(AP)—First word from Governor McLean, on vacation at Land o' Lakes, Wisconsin, was received by Secretary of State Lacy today.

"Enjoying my rest and feeling fine," the Tar Heel head wrote from the lake country. He did not say that he had tried the chilly but bracing waters of the Land o' Lakes or caught any muskellunge, or done any wood chopping, but Mr. Lacy ventured a good guess on all three. The Governor will return to his desk, which he cleared before departure, in August.

Neck's Broken

Merrill V. Beagle, of Rosemont, Va., isn't permitting a broken neck to interfere with his chosen career. A year ago, while taking a radio course, he was injured in an auto wreck. Now, his neck increased in hardness, he is a licensed radio operator, working regularly.

NO POLITICAL QUESTIONS IN OCOTAL FIGHT

American Government Men Says Battle With Sandino's Forces Resulted From Banditry.

Washington, July 19.—(AP)—The American government, through the State Department, has expressed the view that the clash between U. S. Marines and the forces of the Nicaraguan General Sandino was the result of banditry on the part of Sandino's forces and involved no political questions.

This was the reply of Secretary of State Kellogg to protests against the marines' defeat of the Nicaraguan general voiced at the fifth Pan-American Congress here. The Ocotol battle formed the outstanding topic of discussion at the congress' opening session yesterday and the Nicaraguan delegate Saomnon De La Selva, attempted to place the organization on record opposing the presence of marines in his country and deploring the killing of Sandino's men.

Sandino and his force were described by the secretary as merely "outlaws and resorting to banditry" and the general, formerly a liberal military leader under General Moncada, was said by Mr. Kellogg not to "have the support of either of the Nicaraguan political parties."

Mr. Kellogg addressed his reply to President William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, who had received protests from the Nicaraguan delegates to the congress against the use of marines against Sandino.

Although Mr. Green in opening the congress had declared the American Federation opposed to the "use of arms" in the settlement of any dispute between the U. S. and a Latin-American country he halted immediate action on De La Selva's resolution in the first day's session. Luis Morones, secretary of commerce, labor and industry for Mexico, averted discussion of the trouble by a motion that it be the first considered by the resolutions committee and be preferential consideration. De La Selva before introducing his resolution declared the marines "would have to destroy the entire population" if they did not leave Nicaragua and said they "have no right there" no matter who was president of the country.

Dr. R. D. W. Connor of the University history department her took a dig at "the provincial outlook in North Carolina," and inferiority complex which brings "a spirit of boastfulness inciting ridicule from the outside."

The "new star in the life of the state," however, one of assuming generally a critical attitude, was held up as ideal by Dr. Connor.

The institution continues through Friday.

Demand Lower Freight Rates

Raleigh, July 19.—(AP)—Delegations appearing here today before the Corporation Commission asked that body to lower freight rates on hollow brick tile and bananas in less than carload lots between points in the State.

Roger Moores and Sons, Wilmington, sought lower rates on hollow tile, while W. L. Thornton, Jr., secretary of the Association of the Carolina Shippers Association and W. J. Williams, wholesaler, both of Williamsport, sought lower rates on bananas.

Hearing on the application of the Atlantic and Yadkin Railroad Company to remove two of the four trains running daily between Mt. Airy and Sanford and to close five stations between these points will be held Friday. Opposition has developed and Mt. Airy and Sanford may send delegations here to protest against the removal of the trains.

The regular monthly meeting of the American Legion will be held at the Rotary Club building tonight. An interesting program has been provided for this session, and it is hoped every member will be present.

PLAN TO NAME SUCCESSOR TO JOHN DAWSON

Democratic Committee Leaders To Elect Chairman at Meeting Tonight.

Raleigh, July 19.—(AP)—With unanimously announced support of the democratic executive committee leaders of the state gathered tonight to elect a successor to John G. Dawson of Kinston, who for the last four years has held the post of chairman of the committee.

Mr. Dawson on June 24 announced his intention of resigning in order to devote himself to his personal business.

Mr. Brummitt comes to the spotlight of tonight's rather perfunctory meeting with endorsement of the organization committee headed by United States Senator F. M. Simmons and endorsement of O. Max Gardner of Shelby, embracing the leader Dennis G. Brummitt of Oxford, at ship of the party in the state.

Mr. Dawson as speaker of the house in 1923 and the same year was elected state chairman. His administration has been marked by increase in party majorities each campaign. Mr. Dawson will continue to serve as a member of the speaker of the house and was elected attorney general in 1924. Some speculation have liked his name with the party's gubernatorial campaign in 1932.

Others, however, have been mentioned for the Dawson post, John D. Landon, of Goldsboro, state committee member comprising 12 men, six men and six women, from each of the ten congressional districts of the state, a total of 120.

Mr. Brummitt has also served as from him that I have been so much Frank Hancock of Oxford, state senator Charles A. Hines of Greensboro, but these have expressed no active entry in any effort for the office and the situation since June 24 has rested on endorsements of Mr. Brummitt and a brief statement of Mr. Brummitt's general management, honored by the party not to be willing to yield to a challenger.

Hart Speaks At Welfare Meeting At Chapel Hill

Chapel Hill, July 19.—(AP)—Love as a method "based upon spontaneous service of one another in joint activities rather than on demands," is the working keynote for social workers. Dr. Hornell Hart of Byram Mawr College, Byram Mawr, Pa., believes.

Dr. Hart tells the eight annual Public Welfare Institution of North Carolina, conducted by the state board of charities and public welfare and the school of public welfare of the University of North Carolina, that when one uses "love as a method" that an effort is made to understand purposes and possibilities of others, that "his own reputation, his own comfort, become relatively insignificant" and therefore "the joy of life comes."

On the other hand "in any social relation, the demand for rights crystallizes antagonism and promotes destructive conflict."

The "new star in the life of the state," however, one of assuming generally a critical attitude, was held up as ideal by Dr. Connor.

The institution continues through Friday.

LICENSE PLATE SALES BEAT LAST YEAR RECORD

Raleigh, July 19.—(AP)—Approximately 330,000 license plates had been sold in the State through Monday as compared with 270,000 through the corresponding day of a year ago, the State automobile license department announced today.

Of the 330,000, around 125,000 were sold during the past month. Two-thirds of the 330,000 license plates, it was said, have been distributed through branch offices.

American Legion To Meet Tonight

The regular monthly meeting of the American Legion will be held at the Rotary Club building tonight. An interesting program has been provided for this session, and it is hoped every member will be present.

PIRATES TAKE LEAD AGAIN IN NATIONAL

(By The Associated Press)
The Pittsburgh Pirates again were on the top of the National League by the narrowest of margins. The Chicago Cubs lost the lead they took from the Corsairs earlier in the month.

Chicago managed to get an even break with the Giants yesterday but that wasn't enough for a clinch with championship aspirations. Meanwhile the Pirates were avenging a double defeat at the hands of Philadelphia. Don't Bush's club drove Tony Kauffman off the mound in the third inning of the opener and won, 9-7. In the second the Pirates pounded Ferguson out and snatched a 6 to 5 win although the Phillies rallied with three runs in the ninth.

Gabby Hartnett's home run in the tenth inning of the first game gave the Cubs a 6-4 margin on the Giants but the New Yorkers beat Charlie Root in the next game 3-2. Harper clinching the contest with a homer in the seventh.

Hughie Critz was almost the whole show at Boston in Cincinnati's 3-2 victory over the Braves in ten innings.

The Reds' second baseman drove in two runs and scored another on a home run.

Brooklyn and St. Louis were halted by rain.

George Sisler hit a four bagger with the bases loaded in the ninth at St. Louis but the Yankees beat the Browns, nevertheless, 10-6. Lou Gehrig took the home run lead away from Babe Ruth by knocking out one of Ernie Nevers' twisters out of the sportsman's park in the eighth. Gehrig now has 31 on his list, one more than Ruth.

The lowly Boston Red Sox went on a batting rampage in the first game of their double header with Cleveland, pounding four Indian pitchers from a 14-5 lacing. Cleveland stood the Carigans on their heads in the second, winning 4-0.

Sam Gibson shaded Lefty Grove in a pitching duel at Detroit and the Tigers beat the Athletics 5-3. Fothergill's homer in the first inning with two on, really won the game.

The Chicago White Sox were easy for Irving Hadley, Washington's rookie pitcher from Birmingham. Hadley turned in a 5-1 victory, the Sox getting their home tally in the ninth. Ted Blankenship was hit hard.

Second Day Tennis Tournament Now In Progress

Raleigh, July 15.—(AP)—With rain laden clouds again hovering perilously close, tennis stars of the state again braved the weather for second day's attempt at the Tar Heel Tournament's schedule.

The opening yesterday of the meet the first annual one to be held here, sanctioned by the U. S. Lawn Tennis Association, and arranged by the Raleigh Tennis Club in effort to make the capital city a center for racket activities of the state, saw but two matches played out with victories of Harry L. Hall, Wake Forest, over Sam Paulson, Chapel Hill, 6-2, 6-2, and C. E. Todd of Wendell over J. P. Lynch of Chapel Hill, 6-1, 6-1.

Six first round matches in the singles set for today and two second round affairs were calculated to cut the contenders down to ten trying for permanent possession of the championship trophy.

Three doubles matches were also scheduled for late today, two first round battles and one second round affair.

No seeded player had been eliminated before play was scheduled to start this morning.

A local sporting goods company has donated a large silver loving cup to the singles winner, the Raleigh Times, the men's doubles trophy and Raleigh News and Observer in donating the women's singles cup.

In the opening play this morning R. S. Shore defeated Mack Fuller, local fellow townsman 6-1, 6-0.

OUT OF KEELER'S GOLF BAG!

Oakmont Greens Kept Ray Guessing

(By O. B. Keeler)
Every golfing championship affords food for thought. If you have an apparatus for thinking. Especially an open championship I am dubious as to my cranial equipment, but I manage to collect some thought about the recent American open championship at Oakmont, from other people better qualified to do the thinking on such subjects.

Ted Ray, captain of the invading British professional team was one. Ted is past the half century mark and a wise golfer who has won both the British and the American open titles. Also he is one of the finest putters in the game. He is an unusual combination—a huge man with relatively delicate hands. They say Harry Vardon's gigantic hands, useful in other departments of the game, spoil his putting touch, and that big Jimmy Braid has a similar difficulty. This may be only a theory but I've heard it more than once.

Anyway, Ted Ray is a great putter with a delicate touch easily adjusted to the keenest greens. Except at Oakmont. I checked up the putts on Ted's last two rounds, of 77 and 78—not bad rounds at all, as the scores were running over that tremendous course—and he used 38 putts in one round and 40 in the other. Which is to say, that putting as he usually does, he'd have been around in 71 and 72, or thereabout. It makes a difference.

"The greens were beautiful," Ted told me. "It was my fault. I could not get the touch."

George Duncan, of the British team had a read explanation. "When our greens in Britain dry out and become really keen," said he, "they are brown. These greens are as fast as any we ever saw—and they are green, and the texture looks fairly dense. Ted could never make up his mind that they were lightning fast, like ice."

Big Ted shook his wise old grizzled head. "I tried three putters," he said, "and on the face of one I pasted a bit of stamp-paper, to slow up the ball a bit. But I could not control the putts, on the slopes."

There is a point. Is Oakmont, the greatest championship course in America, too much golf course? Should greens kept to the exquisite keenness and finish of those massaged by Emil Loeffler—the first greens in the world—also be designed with undulations? Putting plays a tremendous part in the last championship, and some great putters were hopelessly lost, on the greens.

Bobby Jones, usually a good putter, averaged 35 putts to the round, which is a couple of putts too high for Bobby, though his putter saved him again and again in the first round. Duncan was lost but he is an uncertain putter. Long putts figured greatly in Armour's ultimate victory—and any long putt is a matter of fate, though I shall always believe Armour deserved to win this championship.

The beautiful greens at Oakmont are the finest I have ever seen, in texture. The design is severe, sometimes puzzling, considering the speed of the texture. The first and tenth and twelfth are falline greens, so fast that a shot that reaches their front will rarely desert from running until it is well over. And the tendency to undulation, by no means as pronounced as at the Engineers Club and some others I could name, coupled with the amazing speed of the green at Oakmont, seems a bit severe, and on the side of fate in determining a championship.

SPORTS SLANTS

By ALAN J. GOULD

(By The Associated Press)
New York, July 15.—The only thing Jack Sharkey fears in his battle with Jack Dempsey Thursday night at the Yankee Stadium is that the former champion may pull a "sneak punch," as his manager calls it, or in plainer terms, land a lucky blow. Sharkey himself dismisses the idea with a gesture. He is confident Dempsey won't be able to slip anything over at any time. He is confident that he will be ready to meet the ex-hilt holder on any terms or in any style of milling. But his manager, Jonny Buckley doesn't want any chances over looked. "I don't want Jack to be confident," Buckley declared today. "The only thing he has to fear is that Dempsey may slip on through, a sneak punch. A lot of things can happen in the ring but I don't see how Sharkey can fail to win by a knockout, anyway you figure the two. Jack is younger, stronger, faster and more accurate, if not a harder hitter than Dempsey."

The finishing touches were scheduled today for two of the most unusual training programs any pair of heavyweights have ever indulged in for a fight of such importance as the million dollar spectacle assured for this Thursday night.

Sharkey's almost indifferent pay-as-you-enter workouts in Madison Square Garden's top floor Gymnasium have contrasted sharply with the secrecy of mystery surrounding Dempsey's preparations under the direction of a new mentor, Leo P. Flynn. Publicly both have appeared to work under wraps.

The principal result of all this has been to throw the expert talent into more confusion than usual when it comes to picking the winner.

Critical verdicts, based on ring form, have kept Sharkey a favorite in most wagering but newspaper polls among the average fans have revealed decided confidence in Dempsey.

Wilson Wins From Norfolk

Raleigh, N. C., July 13.—(AP)—Frank Bell had one bad inning and then blanked Norfolk at Wilson yesterday to end Wilson's losing streak with a 5-3 win over the Tars at Kinston the Eagles lacked much against Manager Parritt and Petersburg won the opener. Rato kept Portsmouth and Richmond idle, and as a result Wilson and Petersburg gained a half-game on the league leading Tigers.

MERCHANTS ELECT DOWELL SECRETARY

Raleigh, N. C., July 15.—(AP)—Election of W. L. Dowell, former city clerk of Raleigh, as executive secretary and decision to move headquarters to Raleigh featured a meeting here yesterday of a State Merchants Association committee. Mr. Dowell, who takes office August 1 when headquarters will be moved, succeeds J. Paul Leonard, of Statesville, resigned.

Carolina Champion Finds Links Easiest Place To Rear Family

Charlotte, N. C.—(AP)—Learn to play championship golf and raising a family at the same time is not nearly as hard as it sounds. Take it from a woman who has done both. Mrs. W. L. Pierce of Charlotte who has won the Carolinas Women's title for the second time after six years, started raising her family and then switched the scene to golf courses. "The country club is one of the easiest places I know of to raise children," Mrs. Pierce says. "When I started learning the game, I took a nurse and the children along

McGraw Celebrates 25th Anniversary As Team Manager

New York, July 15.—(AP)—Completing a quarter of a century as manager of the New York Giants John J. McGraw today will celebrate his silver jubilee to the accompaniment of several brass bands and a galaxy of stage talent. The silver thatched pilot will stand by while he hears the acclaim of the baseball public as expressed by Mayor Walker. A big parade and an extended program of entertainment at the polo grounds will precede the earnest business of the afternoon, a game between the Giants and the Chicago Cubs.

Ten National League championships, three world titles and nine second place teams are among McGraw's accomplishments during 25 years in the same managerial capacity.

A dominating personality has made him feared and respected. A firebrand in his earlier days, the New York manager has demanded the fighting qualities from his men. There have been rumors that this was to be McGraw's last season at the helm but his friends are certain

General Shake Up In Durham Team

Raleigh, July 15.—(AP)—George Whitted, old big leaguer and Duke University's baseball tutor, today had assumed charge of the Durham Piedmont League entry. He set about his new duties with a bang, trading a player, suspending two and reinstating another in an attempt to "wake up the Bulls."

TWO NEGROES HURT IN AUTOMOBILE WRECK

Two negroes received minor injuries when two automobiles ran together on the Greenville-Kinston highway, near Winterville, Sunday night. Several exaggerated reports of the wreck were in circulation yesterday, but these were offset by an official report made yesterday afternoon by officers from the sheriff's department. Occupants of both automobiles were negroes. A magistrate's hearing was held at Winterville during Sunday night and the case was settled.

THREE DEEDS FILED HERE DURING WEEK

The transfer of real estate in Pitt county has moved along slowly during the last week, according to records in the office of the register of deeds. Only three deeds were filed during that period.

F. C. Hardine, commissioner, to L. W. Tucker, 28 acres, $200; Myrtle Williams to W. J. Williams, 1-2 acre, $2,000; S. J. Everett, commissioner, to R. F. Clark, acreage, $200.

SMITH-OWENS

(By Rev. C. J. Harris)

Saturday night, at 7:30 o'clock, in Beaufort township, at the home of the officiator, a quiet and beautiful marriage was solemnized by the writer when Miss Ellen L. Owens, the accomplished and charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Owens, became the loving and attractive bride of Mr. Walter Taylor Smith.

Miss Owens is one of Pitt county's pretty school teachers and possesses a much admired personality. Like the mild radiance of the morning sun, she sheds the light of friendship wherever she goes.

Mr. Smith is the son of Mr. Sherrod M. Smith, of Farmville, and is a young man of excellent character.

Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Smith left for western North Carolina, where they will make their home. May peace, joy and prosperity ever accompany them on their happy voyage on the beloved sea of marriage life.

Woman, what a word! No language on earth would be complete without it. Woman, man's mother; Woman, man's sister; Woman, man's daughter; Woman, man's wife; Woman, man's hope, and without her this old earth would roll into eternity without the melody of God, as the magic word Woman, makes the world akin, and her inhabitants brothers.

Man in his natural state, Craves a fair, sympathizing mate. That his heart in hers may beat, Where love's ideal and aspiration meet.

Hence:—
"There came a female form more soft, more fair,
And Eden smiled to see the stranger there;
Then tones of joy from harp seraphic rung;
The stars of morning in their chorus sung,
Earth echoed back a heart of grateful love,
From every valley, cavern, stream and grove,
Man filled with praise in praise in solemn rapture stood,
God bower to view His work and God pronounced it good."

Therefore, man should take a wife,
An essential helpmeet thru life,
Created by the All-wise Hand,
To excel all for the glory of man.

LENOIR GUARDSMEN DEFEAT GREENVILLE

Fort Bragg, N. C., July 18.—In a thrilling game of ball here this afternoon, the Lanier National Guardsmen defeated the Greenville Guard aggregation by a 1-0 shutout.

Both teams played neck and neck ball throughout. Not until the eighth inning did the Lenoir score the winning run.

Crasp pitched a great game for Lenoir, allowing only four hits, while Curry's catching featured the playing on the Greenville side.

Handkerchief Dress

MISS MARGARET SYMES

Durham, N. H.—(AP)—While choosing materials for 49 fashion shows in this state Miss Daisy Dean Williamson, home demonstration leader of the University of New Hampshire extension service, had a novel idea.

She bought four and a half yards of "handkerchief thirds" at a large mill. From this she made a dress, the entire cost of which was sixty cents, including findings.

Miss Margaret Symes of Somersworth posed in the dress at the style shows.

Byrd's Monoplane To Be Placed In Central Park, N. Y.

New York, July 19.—(AP)—The trans-Atlantic Monoplane America, which during the reception to Commander Byrd and his associates yesterday lay dismantled and crated in the hold of the Leviathan, will have its day of glory in due time. John Gillespie, spokesman for the commander, announced today.

The storm battered ship will be rebuilt, he explained and placed on exhibition, probably in Central Park, New York City.

The plane in which the command hopes to fly over the South pole, is nearing completion at the Fokker plant, and is similar to the Josephine Ford, with which Byrd conquered the North Pole. Mr. Gillespie explained, in addition, two small scout planes will be used, he said.

MAY SET ASIDE STATE GAME PRESERVE

Raleigh, N. C., July 19.—(AP)—A State game preserve covering 20,000 acres or more in the section of Oregon National Forest adjacent to Mt. Mitchell State Park will probably be set aside in a short while. It was announced today at the department of conservation and development.

Negotiations, it was revealed have been under way for some weeks between federal forest officials and James G. K. McClure, Asheville, member of the board of conservation and development, with a view to establishing the preserve. The proposal was approved at the last meeting of the board.

Federal authorities are willing to co-operate in the State game program, they have signified.

BE FEMININE URGES WOMAN LA WMAKER

MISS BESSIE KEMPTON

Atlanta.—(AP)—While admitting politics is a man's game, Bessie Kempton, Georgia's only woman legislator, believes a woman can play it without displaying any trace of mannishness.

Miss Kempton has started her third successive term as representative from Fulton County.

Although she has been in the legislative body for four years she still has her first "real" speech to make. She lets the men do the talking.

Men lawmakers, she believes, are considerate of women but the woman in politics should not take advantage of her sex.

Miss Kempton was a reporter at the Atlanta Constitution before starting her political career and confesses she still prefers the newspaper profession.

This summer has proved to be a big one for New Yorkers from the standpoint of welcoming heroes. First Lindbergh, then yesterday, Byrd and his crew and Chamberlin and soon Bobby Jones will return home bringing with him for the second time, the British Open Golf Crown.

This series of gala occasions to say the least, is helping the population of the great city forget for a while its many cares and troubles and join in the festivities. In addition it is creating hero worship which in turn will cause many to strive for higher goals and greater accomplishments.

East and West, of North Carolina, meet tomorrow when the bridge across Chohan River is officially opened and the state and the people of the northwestern counties will come into their own. JEWS SUPPORT FORD PRESIDENTIAL BOOM

Henry Ford's sudden about-face on the Jewish question lends a special interest to an article on "Woodrow Wilson's Ford Boom," which appears in The Forum magazine. It is written by A. R. Pinci, veteran political writer, who declares that as a Presidential candidate Ford could probably beat even President Coolidge. He also says that in the previous Ford Boom for the Presidency, the Jewish vote was already behind him, in spite of the Dearborn Independent.

The article also contains the revelation that Woodrow Wilson was the original Ford backer, and that Ford's senatorial candidacy was Wilson's wish rather than Ford's. It declares that Wilson was actually grooming Ford for the Presidency, and that had he lived and kept his health, Ford would be in the White House today.

"Would Ford have acquiesced, had Wilson nominated him?" asks Mr. Pinci and answers his own question:

Would Ford have acquiesced, had Wilson nominated? Undoubtedly, for Ford is nothing if not a good soldier. Any appeal by Wilson to expand the Ford industrial doctrine by making it political and international—to make possible, in other words, the emancipation of foreign peoples from the vicious war psychology by setting them to work at high wages—would have been irresistible. And none of the Democrats—nine out of ten of them Wilson may anyway—would have dared to deride Ford's candidacy, for to have done so would have been to deride their master's judgment. What a predicament that would have been for some of them!

There was to be sure, the Jewish question. Its influence in politics can hardly be ignored, and I myself once undertook to test it. The conclusions reached are quite possibly not infallible; but they are representative enough, since my inquisitiveness was most pointed in the districts where the Jewish vote was most substantial and where the so called anti-Ford prejudice was the keenest. Since I wished to disguise both my object and the extent of my information, my attitude was invariably jocular. A few of the Jews whom I interrogated became characteristically voluble and even threatening; but the rest were—quite as characteristically—cool about it. Yes, just as Ford sold them his magistry."

SOMETHING RADICALLY WRONG

In standing out for a square deal in the distribution of the equalization fund the counties of the east are not trying to pose as pauper counties. But they do not wish the value of lands that produce our fine crops to be taken as a standard, by which to value our idle, wilderness acres. Moreover, anybody that knows both counties is bound to know there's something radically wrong with any distribution of funds under which a wholly rural county like Camden receives only $5,000 while Robeson gets $82,000. —Elizabeth City Advance.

FARM HINTS

(By the Dept. of Agriculture) In purchasing a dairy cow, attention should be given to age, soundness, size, disposition, length of teats, ease of milking, milk or butterfat records and the condition under which these records were made, also the age at which they were made.

A total of 874 cities and towns have ordinances which require tuberculin testing of cattle furnishing milk for their use. In addition, 375 others provide an option between the tuberculin test and pasteurization.

Aspen, basswood, cottonwood, willow and yellow poplar can be marketed in many communities for excellent.

Bakers are using honey in the manufacture of whole wheat bread not only because of its value as a sweetener, but for its properties in keeping bread soft and moist for several days. One of the problems in distributing whole wheat bread has been the difficulty of keeping it palatable until it reached the consumer.

The open herding and bedding cut system of handling sheep is applied on 60 per cent of the National Forest ranges.

It provides for open quiet herding throughout the day, holding the leaders in check and using dogs as little as possible. The sheep are taken to shade during the heat of the day and bedded at night where night overakes them. Under this method very little area is covered each day. Sheep have fresh feed every morning when they leave the bed ground, and they do not run off any flesh, which the forage puts on. There is an increase in the grazing capacity of the range, cleaner and larger wool production and a heavier weight among lambs.

Production of fruits and nuts on irrigated land has become an important part of agriculture in the western states.

Cleveland Has Homicide Rate For Big Cities

Cleveland, July 19.—(INS)—With nine murders annually for every 100,000 of population, Cleveland leads the cities in its proportional homicide rate.

This information was made public in a recent report of the Cleveland Association for Criminal Justice. It is based on figures for the year ending June 30, 1927.

A person living in Cleveland has 21 times greater chance of being murdered than one living in London. The report shows.

Moreover, the "homicidal wave" here seems to be on the increase, as 47 murders have occurred within the city since the first of the year. Approximately 40 per cent remain unsolved.

Inadequate police facilities and failure of city council to appropriate more money for the police department are responsible for the crime situation, according to the Association. The report says, in part:

"In a bulletin issued on September 30, 1925, the Association published the comparative sizes of the police forces of various large cities of Europe and the United States. Cleveland ranked lowest in the ratio of policemen to population."

"More than 400 men, women and children have been murdered in the city of Cleveland since January 1, 1922; almost half a hundred murders have been committed during the past six months within the well-paved, newly widened and brilliantly lighted streets of Cleveland."

Ask Help From Stimulating Fund

Raleigh, July 19.—(AP)—Twenty-four counties have asked the State Board of Equalization for aid from the $100,000 "stimulating fund," Leroy Martin, secretary to the board, reported today.

The equalization board which meets Thursday at Morehead City to hear further complaints from counties about the amounts received at the recent distribution of the equalizing fund and also the complaints about the valuations placed upon land, will consider the requests during the meeting at the seat of the state.

County's seeking aid from the "stimulating fund," set aside to help out counties encountering unforeseen difficulties, are—Alleghany, Bertie, Camden, Carteret, Caswell, Chatham, Currituck, Dare, Franklin, Gates, Granville, Greene, Haywood, Hertford, Jackson, Jones, Lincoln, Mitchell, Onslow, Orange, Rockingham, Stanly, Vance and Wayne.

PRINCE OF WALES TURNS PIT BOY IN COAL MIN.

London.—(INS)—England's heir to the throne turned pit-boy for an hour recently when he descended the Halsk pit of the Whitehall Colliery Company, rode in a miner's tub through the workings, and at a point more than a mile under the sea, spent thirty minutes at the coal face, during which he handled the pneumatic picks used in heaving the coal.

The Prince wore blue dungarees overalls, black and white check scarf and a gray peaked cap. The outfit was voted by girls clustering around the pit head to suit him to perfection.

CRASH OF OIL COMPANIES INVOLVE MILLIONS

Los Angeles.—(AP)—Receivership proceedings that threw the Julian Petroleum Corporation into the courts developed into a so-called $100,000,000 stock scandal. Prominent business men of the southwest are among those indicted on various charges, including conspiracy to defraud and legal acceptance by bankers of bonuses for making loans.

The defendants include men well known in banking, brokerage and insurance and the motion picture and oil industries. Among them are C. C. Julian, organizer and first president of the Julian corporation S. C. Lewis who succeeded him as president, and Charles F. Stern, president of the Pacific Southwest Trust and Savings bank.

SEA, MOUNTAIN AND JUNGLE IMPERIL SOUTHERN AIR ROUTE

Dr more into British Guiana would mean instant death, in the opinion of airman. From these mountains, Redfern plans to wade his way into the interior of Brazil, which in area is larger than the United States, and for the next 1,500 miles would fly over an expanse of territory with tracks as large as New England unpenetrated by even the most venturesome explorers.

Below him would be the Amazon valley, in which danger lurks. A descent into the jungles, miles of which are covered with water, or upon these un-baked or semi-baked Llanos plains is less inviting than alighting upon the sea and equally as dangerous as the mountains just passed.

Only the native aborigines are said to be able to withstand the torrid atmosphere prevailing in the lowlands and even the small tribal villages of the half wild Indians are few between confined mostly to the banks of the Amazon and its tributaries.

After flying over the state of Para, and perhaps the northwest corner of the state of Mato Grosso, Redfern would have completed approximately three-fourths of his journey when he crosses the border line of Goyaz and again strikes mountains. The Serra do Parana, the first before him, ranges in altitude from 3,000 to 5,000 feet and extends throughout the length of Goyaz. Less than 200 miles from where he crossed this range, Redfern would

Man Is Charged Altering Bonds

Winston-Salem, July 19.—(AP)—John Conley, alias "Whitney" Conley, alias "Whiter" Anderson, said to be from Detroit, Mich., is on trial in U. S. District Court here charged with altering government bonds, evidence being introduced by the U. S. in an effort to show that the defendant erased the names of the legal owners of Liberty Bonds, making them unregistered and payable to bearer on demand.

Many government witnesses have examined their evidence covered activities centered in points in widely separated sections of the U. S. Interest in the trial rose to white heat when James Merrell, Detroit police officer, testified that he raided a "blind pig" cabaret in Detroit, November 19, 1925, and arrested the defendant in whose possession he found three bonds with numbers corresponding to the numbers on bonds that had been stolen in a robbery in Greensboro, October 3, 1926.

Officer Merrell stated that he in company with other officers went to the cabaret on a tip that they would find there a member of a hold-up gang then active in Detroit. On gaining entrance, according to Officer Merrell's testimony the officers found nine men and three women in the place whom they immediately placed under arrest. The women were finally allowed to go. The men being forwarded to police station for investigation after they had been searched for weapons. Mr. Merrell's evidence went on to show that he found the bonds folded around a string of pearls immediately beneath the table where Conley had been seated with a man named Burns and a woman, supposedly Burns' wife.

Only Two More Witnesses In Flogging Case

Oneonta, Ala., July 19.—(AP)—State authorities directing hearings before the special Blount County Grand Jury convened yesterday in an effort to bring to justice the floggers of Jeff Calloway, Oneonta farm youth, hinted strongly as today's session opened that only two more witnesses would be placed before the Grand Jury and that from seven to nine persons would be speedily indicted.

Following Judge Woodson J. Martin's charge to the Grand Jury yesterday five witnesses testified before the inquisitorial body. Calloway, who was taken from a rural church service June 26 by a masked band, carried into Jefferson County, lashed into semi-consciousness was the first witness to testify. He was followed by Mrs. A. Trammell, Taritan City, Jefferson County; Tom Hughes, Mt. Pinson, Jefferson County; Mrs. Sallie Mokes and Walter Crel, both of Jefferson County. One hundred and twenty witnesses were subpoenaed for the investigation.

Both Attorney General McCall who is personally conducting the hearings here and Solicitor W. G. Rains of the sixteenth judicial circuit, expressed themselves as "very well pleased" with evidence submitted yesterday and were optimistic over prospective results today. Secrecy has veiled the Grand Jury probes and names of today's witnesses were not made known.

MEN WHO ATTEMPTED TO ATTACK GIRL TO BE SENTENCED

Charlotte, July 19.—(AP)—Terrel Meng and John McCullough, young white men, will be sentenced Thursday for an alleged attempt to attack Ruby Lee Roberts, 13-year-old Greensboro girl. They were convicted in Mecklenburg Superior Court here late yesterday.

The girl accused the two of taking her automobile riding, getting her intoxicated and attempting to attack her.

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

When Back Hurts Flush Your Kidneys as You Clean Your Bowels

Most folks forget that the kidneys like the bowels, sometimes get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally. Also we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region sever headaches rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorder. You simply must keep your kidney active and clean and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region began drinking lots of water. Also get about four ounces of Jad Salts for any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice combined with lithia and is intended to flush clogged kidneys and help stimulate them to activity. It also helps neutralize the acids in the urine so they no longer irritate, thus helping to relieve bladder disorders.

Salesman For Face Cream Learns a Good Lesson

Mr. Vandivier, New York, writes: "I was a salesman of creams for healing pimples, blemishes, etc., but when my face broke out with blotches, pimples and blackheads, I tried one salve after another with no results. I found it impossible to sell skin creams as a bald-headed man finds selling hair tonic. Finally I decided I would have to get at the cause—constipation. I was amazed to find that within a few days after taking CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS my skin took on a new healthful look. Druggists, 25c and 75c red packages. Try to-night—To-morrow refreshed."

STOCK MARKET
New York, July 19.—(AP)—Responding to growing expectations of favorable fall business, the stock market today resumed its march to higher ground with new leaders brought forward as some of the old favorites showed signs of wavering on profit-taking. Investment issues continued to attract the most interest, with much of the buying reported to be for institutional and European account.

The credit outlook continues fa-avorable. The declaration of a 100 per cent stock dividend by the Commercial Solvents Corporation and the publication of the quarterly report of the Hudson Motor Car Company showing $3.62 a share as against $2.52 in the preceding quarter had a bullish effect on sentiment. Public participation, however, continued on a relatively small scale.

The closing was irregular. Total sales approximated 1,800 shares.

Children Like What's Good for Them
Only a physician or an experienced dietician can appreciate how important it is for mothers to watch carefully what their children eat and drink. Many beverages which adults take with comparatively little harm are not at all permissible for growing children.

Fortunately, the one drink which children like best of all possesses real food value. Actually it contains more energy-replacement value, or food calories, than an equal quantity of fresh ripe oranges.

There are six reasons why Orange-Crush is so surprisingly delicious: First, the juice of luscious oranges; next, the delicate flavor of their peel; next, the zestful tang of the fruit acid found in oranges, lemons and limes. Added to this, a pure food color such as is used in cakes and candies, healthful carbonated water, pure cane sugar. Nothing else.

There is so great a difference between Orange-Crush and the many so-called orange drinks which derive their flavor entirely from imitation extracts that it is highly important to insist on the genuine. Parents are warned to instruct their children to ask for Orange-Crush by name and to see that it's served them in the Krinsky Bottle.

New Haven, Conn.—(INS)—Whenever woman may turn to get her styles in clothes, man looks to New Haven for the proper thing in wearing apparel. So a few dozen merchant tailors, whose shops are clustered beneath the walls of Yale...

The thing started five years ago the tailors say. In other days when a man went to buy a suit for everyday wear he said: "Don't show me college clothes. I want a business suit."

The scene is repeated in town after town across the country and up and down. Scouts sent out by the New Haven tailors have returned with the word, backed substantially by orders. Three thousand people labor on the clothes during forty weeks of a year. New Haven tailors sell five million dollars worth of the clothes a year and see a bigger trade ahead.

One man who saw the hand writing on the wall, back set up a factory here, after trying his ideas out on students. He sells twenty thousand suits a year. He is no longer a tailor, but a manufacturer. The leading tailor does a business of a million dollars a year and is still growing, business wise.

The "New Haven style" is a matter provided by the years. Wave after wave of youngsters flows here to enter Yale, and spend four years in college and then flow back to the ends of the country. They spend, on an average, one hundred dollars a year for suit. When they leave Yale they keep in touch with their tailor "back in New Haven."

There are tailors here who have furnished their customers for twenty-five years after graduation. The average graduate tries to get back for his "trienial," a reunion that takes place three years after graduation. Then he orders suits. Meanwhile his tailor has his measurement and has made up a suit and sent it out. The customer gets re-measured whenever he comes back. He hears the latest college gossip, for the Yale tailor knows all that's going on. The shop walls are lined with pictures of famous and crews of other days, and his customer goes back to old times. He emerges with a new suit.

New Haven tailors are united in an association to disperse ideas. Someone, whose name is not recorded, designed a conservative suit that hit the mark. Yale men bought the suit and carried it over the land. Not Oxford nor the jazz age could affect Yale in the matter of clothes. New Haven tailors saw the idea and they are profiting by adopting it.

Wherever a particularly large group of Yale men has gathered there some New Haven tailor opens a branch or sets up an agency. "The college man gets the standard for what is correct in wearing apparel," says a leading tailor of New Haven. And Yale men seem to lead in setting the standard for the college man elsewhere. At least there are more clothes being made and sold out of New Haven than out of any city in the country with a population three times as large. To the Yale tailor that is the proof of the pudding.

For the first time since Gautama left his young wife and new baby and went wandering in search of poverty the Mahant, or high priest in charge of the monkey temple, near Lima, is a European, not a Hindu.

The new priest of the monkey temple is seventy years old and underwent long preparation for the high honor. At one period he spent two years under a tree with no companions except the monkeys of the temple.

To no one would that seem more foolish than to Gautama, who established Buddhism, little dreaming how his teachings would be corrupted. Christianity itself has not been more thoroughly encrusted with superstitions.

Long before Darwin men seem to have noticed something familiar in the faces and manners of monkeys.

To the credit of the monkeys, it should be pointed out that they have been too intelligent to establish a temple for men, putting a monkey high priest in charge of it.

It is pleasant to learn that the nation spends more on public schools than on any other government function—not excepting the cost of keeping ready for war. Our public schools cost two thousand million dollars a year, about one-fourth the total amount for public purposes.

Two million dollars a year seems a great deal, but it is not much really. Public education, on which the future depends, absolutely costs less than twenty dollars per capita. And, by the way, it costs less than half the money spent on cigarettes.

It is at last an encouraging fact. It proves that when the people want a thing they get it, somehow or other. Just now, they want the best cigarette. So, they will decide that they want the best possible public education. Then they will spend ten billions and more a year for it instead of two billions.

The east has been visited by heavy storms. New York City and Brooklyn drowned in heavy rains, with extraordinary severe lightning and thunder. Many were killed by lightning heat, and lightning killed three Brooklyn last Saturday.

Three such deaths frighten millions, yet lightning as a death risk amounts to little. Few are killed by the constant stream of electricity from clouds to earth, although every lightning discharge carries within it the possibility of many deaths. Man's strongest artificial electric spark, or "lightning flash" is only a few feet long, as compared with a flash in the sky eight miles long.

Explode Bomb In Front of U. S. Consulate. Nice, France, July 19.—(AP)—A bomb was exploded today in front of the building in which the American consulate is located. No one was hurt and only slight damage was done. The police started an investigation.

Presumably the bomb was exploded by sympathizers with Sacco and Vanzetti as there have been similar occurrences abroad since these two radicals were convicted in Massachusetts of murder. Counsel officials today expressed the belief that the bombing was the work of some one who wished to make a demonstration in behalf of Nicolò Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti without causing bloodshed. Nearly every window in the consulate was broken but there was no other damage.

Building & Loan Associations in Fine Condition. Asheville, July 19.—(AP)—The prosperous condition of the nation is well reflected in the continued prosperity of building and loan associations' delegates at the annual convention of the United States League of local building and loan associations were told today by H. F. Cellarius of Cincinnati, secretary of the association.

Mr. Cellarius made his annual report at the initial meeting of the four day convention here. "Loaning substantially all their funds for home buying or building purposes, the building and loan associations are giving a practical demonstration of their distinct benefit to the communities in which they are doing business, besides pre-ceptibly raising the character of the citizenship," said the report. "The 12,626 building and loan associations of the United States have a membership of 10,665,705 and assets of $6,334,103,807. This is a net increase in membership for the year of 778,708 or nearly eight per cent. as compared with the increase in the previous year of $743,238,957. During the past year the associations loaned $1,945,000,000 on mortgage security, which provided the means for the purchase or building of over five hundred and fifty thousand homes. The total investment of the building and loan associations in mortgage loans in the United States is now nearly six billion dollars." In referring to the financial side of the association, Mr. Cellarius said that there were but twelve building and loan associations failures in 1926. "The loss from failure of building and loan associations in 1926 amounted to $380,725. Seven were due to defalcations three were due to bad loans, one was a promoted company mismanagement and there was one small association placed in liquidation because its assets had depreciated and its earning capacity was impaired."

BADIN WOMAN KILLED IN AUTOMOBILE WRECK. Salisbury, N. C., July 19.—(AP)—Mrs. Tom Biles of Badin, N. C., was killed last night about 7.30 o'clock in an automobile accident which happened at Five Points in this city. A touring car of light make driven by her husband and a sedan of a heavier type driven by H. M. Morton, business man of this city, collided, Mrs. Biles, being thrown with such force against a telephone pole that her head was badly crushed and death occurred in a short time. The funeral services will be held at Badin this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

WANT ADS PAY. Kadikuey, Turkey.—(AP)—Suad Dervisch Hanem, Turkish author, left Germany and motion picture work to return home for her trial on the charge of attacking religion. The novelist, first person in Turkish history to undergo such a trial, lives in Chalcedon, a suburb of Constantinople, famous as "the city of the blind" in Byzantine days. Her trial is based on utterances in a novel to the effect that religion is more harmful than opium and that prophets are charlatans. Under the new penal code, she is liable to imprisonment of from two to six months—convicted. Her visit to Germany was for the purpose of working on scenarios dealing with Turkey. She is the first Turkish writer to enter the motion picture field.

Georgia Preparatory School Adds Flying To Curriculum

The courses in aircraft will be offered Georgia Military students this year. Above is the type of plane which Captain Beeler Blevins (lover) will use in instruction.

Atlanta—(AP)—Drowning of airplane motors will vie with the cheering of ex-cadet athletic teams at Georgia Military Academy this fall as student aviators learn the art of taking off, landing, banking and gliding planes. The academy is the first preparatory school in the South to offer courses in aviation leading to a pilot's license and already a number of youths have filed applications to include flying in their courses. "We believe the youth of the land is ever eager for new fields of endeavor and have the courage to become aviators," says Colonel J. C. Woodward, in aid of the school in announcing addition of aviation to the curriculum. "Rapid development of aviation since the World War has opened a new field for intrepid young men and we are attempting to give them an opportunity to take advantage of it. Three courses will be offered the basic study, which includes ground school training and actual flying in a dual controlled plane, an observation and an advanced course. Captain Beeler Blevins, former army aviator and now a commercial pilot, will be the instructor. He was the first pilot to penetrate the hurricane wrecked districts of Florida last September, carrying Associated Press correspondents to "cover" the story.

Overdoing? Hurry, Worry and Overwork Bring Heavy Strain.

MODERN life throws a heavy burden on our bodily machinery. The eliminative organs, especially the kidneys, are apt to become sluggish. Retention of excess uric acid and other poisonous waste often gives rise to a dull, languid feeling and, sometimes, toxic backaches and headaches. That the kidneys are not functioning perfectly is often shown by burning or scanty passage of secretions. More and more people are learning to assist their kidneys by the occasional use of Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic. Ask your neighbor!

Try this delicious LAYER CAKE

and prove to yourself the new satisfaction that women find when they bake with FLUFFO—the pure vegetable shortening that helps the cake to rise. Your grocer sells FLUFFO under a money-back guarantee.

Nut Fudge Cake

Cream 1/2 cup FLUFFO, adding 1 1/2 cups sugar gradually. Blend thoroughly and add 3 well-beaten egg yolks. Mix and sift 2 1/2 cups flour, 1/2 teaspoon baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, and add alternately with 1 cup milk to first mixture. Stir in 1 1/2 cups chopped nut meats, well floured, and add 1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla. Fold in 3 stiffly beaten egg whites. Bake in well-greased layer cake pans in hot oven, 380° to 400° F., for 15 to 20 minutes. When cold, spread Fudge Frosting between layers and over outside.

Fudge Frosting

Melt 1 tablespoon FLUFFO and 2 squares unsweetened chocolate together in a saucepan. Add 2 cups sugar, 1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar, and 1/2 cup milk. Cook until mixture reaches 238° F., or until a little dropped in cold water forms a soft ball. Cool until tepid, add 1/2 teaspoon vanilla, beat until mixture thickens to spreading consistency.
