KING FERDINAND OF RUMANIA DIED TODAY FOLLOWING LONG BATTLE AGAINST GRIM REAPER

Prince Michael To Be Proclaimed King of Nation This Afternoon at 4 O'clock.

Bucharest, Rumania, July 20.—(AP)—Prince Michael, young son of former Crown Prince Carol, will be proclaimed King of Rumania at 4 o'clock this afternoon, it was announced early today.

Bucharest, July 20.—(AP)—King Ferdinand of Rumania, long fallen in health, died at 2:15 o'clock this morning.

The monarch's long and courageous battle with cancer came to a close at the Chateau de Pelissor at Sinaia, the summer residence of the Rumanian royal family. The end was peaceful, the king closing his eyes calmly as if falling asleep. Members of the royal family were at his bedside, Queen Marie and their daughter, Queen Marie of Yugoslavia, having arrived before death came. Former King George of Greece, and his wife Elizabeth, another daughter of the Rumanian monarch, also were present.

Ferdinand's death long had been expected and even the simple country folk who loved him more as a kindly father than as a King, knew that the disease which he was so courageously battling, would be fatal.

Recently rumors flew thick and fast and for days at a time reports would spread like wildfire that he had finally died. These would meet official denial and then conflicting reports would follow that the King was receiving visitors daily, that his condition was steadily improving, that he was able to take part in councils of state.

But these favorable reports failed to deceive and the blow that fell today was long feared.

Ferdinand the loyal was what the allies called him during the trying days of the World War and Ferdinand the loyal was what he remained to his own people who were disturbed by the dynamic politics that trouble the upper strata of Rumanian society, looked to the young King to lead them through the unhappy past war years to contentment and plenty.

It was Ferdinand's strong will, say those who knew him, that put death off so long.

Last year, just after Queen Marie's hurried return from her visit to the United States, his physicians gave him up. But the King was firm in the hope that he might help to place his country on a stable political basis despite factional disputes and conflicts among powerful interests and clung to life. Then too, say friends, he hoped to see once more before death came, his wayward son, Carol, "the Madcap of the Balkans," whom his paternal discipline had sent into exile.

His physicians urged him to go abroad to a warmer climate to give nature a chance to assist their healing efforts, but dynastic and political elements decided their part and Ferdinand placed their faith in Bucharest sacrifices, himself rather than as he thought sacrificing his country.

From time to time there were indications that the physicians' battle was having some effect and the cancerous condition seemed all alleviated in a measure by applicants of radium and other treatments, but the weakening nature of his illness would be demonstrated and the royal patient would again be forced to bed, once with a slight cold that threatened pneumonia, then again by stomach ailment.

For months King Ferdinand's body, assailed by many maladies, has been withering away and his weight reduced to less than a hundred pounds.

One of the last acts of Ferdinand's reign was to bring about the creation of a government under the Boratians whom he trusted and who with him, were influential in swinging Rumania into the war on the side of the allies, an act in which Ferdinand himself acted against his own kin as he was a Hohenzollern.

Prince Michael, the six year old son of Carol, who is destined to become King when he comes of age has not been a particularly healthy child.

Princess Helen, Carol's wife, who has conducted herself with dignity since Carol abandoned her, in a popular figure in Bucharest, where apparently all classes sympathize with her. She takes no part in the public life of the court or Rumanian society, her public appearance being confined to functions given for charity.

What Queen Marie will do in regard to politics now that she is barred from the throne is a question which already is being thought of. Whether she will be an influential in international affairs with agency ruling as she was sharing the throne with Ferdinand is the problem.

POSTPONES FLIGHT TO NEW YORK

Defective Wireless Caused British Airman to Defer Trip Over Atlantic Today

Calshot, Eng., July 20.—(AP)—Captain P. T. Courtney announced this afternoon that he intends to take off at seven o'clock tomorrow morning for Valentia, Ireland, for his proposed trans-Atlantic flight to New York.

Calshot, Eng., July 20.—(AP)—Failures of the wireless apparatus to function properly in a last minute test flight, caused Captain P. T. Courtney, noted British airman, to postpone the start of his trans-Atlantic flight to New York, set for this morning.

The pilot took his flying boat, the "Whale" into the air in rainy weather, at about 7:30 this morning to test the engines and make a thorough try-out of the radio outfit. The motors functioned perfectly, but on alighting after an hour, it was learned that the wireless failed to respond to all the calls made on it. After consultation with navigator Downer and engineer Little, and with his business manager, Courtney announced, he would postpone the flight until tomorrow, when he hopes to hop off again at dawn.

Marine experts immediately set to work to remedy the defects and other experts took advantage of the postponement to make several small adjustments to the "Whale's" controls. Courtney was at the Calshot field, 5 miles south of Southampton at dawn all set for the 400 mile hop to Valentia, Ireland, where he was to refuel and start this afternoon for New Foundland and thence to New York. Mechanics who had been busy throughout the night going over the flying boat, from stem to stern, declared the "Whale" was in excellent condition and all that remained was the final test of the wireless.

There was a steady drizzle when the flier appeared, and although this soon turned to a real rain and the onlookers were depressed, he and his two companions refused to be downhearted.

Officials at the Calshot camp told the Associated Press that Captain Courtney wanted it understood he was not out for personal record or to try to diminish the splendor of the achievements of Lindbergh, Chamberlin or Ryer. He merely wished to prove that a round trip between England and New York within four or five days was a practical possibility and actually would be realized in the near future.

Brummitt Named State Chairman

Raleigh, July 20.—(AP)—A quiet, studious and good natured Granite county man today stood on top of the North Carolina house of Democratic Dennis G. Brummitt of Oxford is the new Democratic Executive Committee Chairman, succeeding John G. Dawson, Kinston, re-elected.

Elected last night by unanimous vote of the 107 members present, Brummitt today had committed himself to building up the Democracy of the state, the state itself, with a goal "always ahead and it always will be," and had committed himself more pertinently to welfare of the Democratic party as a coherent unit, and never for the welfare of any one faction.

He retained his position as Attorney General—for the time being—at least. His position as Democratic Committee Chairman will hold until April, state convention time next year.

Retelling of Mr. Brummitt's sagacity, integrity and character, the meeting resolved itself into a placid evening of party heads disposing itself to.

An appreciation of Mr. Dawson's four years' work in which he headed the party and built up majorities, growing larger each campaign. A ringing send-off from the entire party to Mr. Brummitt. A tribute to the late A. D. Watts of Statesville who died last Friday. "In this position I shall not ever seek to serve any group or factional interest, but the great body of the Democratic party, and thus the state itself," Mr. Brummitt gave as his keynote.

GERMAN GIRL AVIATOR HERE TO START OCEAN HOP

New interest has been injected into trans-Atlantic flight news by the preparations of Thea Rasche, beautiful German aviatix, to hop the Atlantic. She is now in New York, in training for the attempt. Photos show her on arrival, and her plane being unloaded from the ship.

300 ARRESTED AS RESULT OF VIENNA RIOTS

Authorities Today Seeking to Punish Instigators of Recent Disorders.

Vienna, July 20.—(AP)—Now that order has been restored after the serious rioting that broke out in Vienna Friday, the authorities are seeking to punish the instigators and leaders. Nearly 300 persons have been arrested and of these 75 have already been brought before the courts for preliminary examination. Heavy penal sentences will be given to those found guilty of participating in an uprising which it was announced, resulted in the death of 187 persons. The wounding of 400 and damage to public and private property estimated at millions of dollars.

To prevent a recurrence of the disorders the authorities gave instructions that the funerals today of those killed in the rioting must be private.

Apart from the material damage wrought by the infuriated crowds government leaders and financiers are beginning to count the loss through the damage prestige from abroad. Foreign Minister Kienkeek is of the opinion that the Austria Bank rate will rise one percent. The three day tie-up of the railroads is believed to have cost the companies about two million dollars in revenue.

It has been announced that Parliament will meet Monday and already hundreds of petitions have been received from provincial governments calling for anti-riot and anti-strike legislation, giving authority to hold instigators criminally responsible for the loss of life and property.

PLANS COMPLETED FOR SOUTHERN FREIGHT STATION

Asheville, N. C., July 19.—(AP)—Plans for the Southern Railway Company's new freight depot and terminals at the Biltmore bottoms site are complete and only minor details remain to be adjusted before building operations are actually started, it was announced here Tuesday by R. E. Simpson, general manager of the company's lines east, with headquarters at Charlotte.

The general plans for the new depot were finished some time ago," said Mr. Simpson. "Nothing is blocking the plans," said the general manager. "Some minor details remain to be worked out about new Biltmore Viaduct, but this is no obstacle."

TULSA WRITES NAME ON HILL FOR AVIATORS

Tulsa, Okla.—(INS)—The name "Tulsa" is being lettered on a hillside just north of the city to let aviators know exactly what city they are about to disembark.

The letters will be made of rock piled 24 feet high and 157 feet long. In addition an arrow 150 feet long will point to the city. It is estimated the sign will be visible from an altitude of 10,000 feet.

Chowan River Bridge Opens Connecting Outside World With The "Lost Provinces"

Edenton, N. C., July 20.—(AP)—North Carolina's nationally outstanding highway system today, by virtue of formal opening of the Chowan bridge, ushered into everyday communication with the rest of the ribboned run region a half dozen progressive Eastern Carolina counties, looking west from Currituck County and from Elizabeth City.

Under a beaming sun, ceremonies at the bridge were climaxed by cutting a ribbon across the bridge by Frank Kugler, highway commissioner. Miss Virginia Askew representing Bertie County, and Mrs. J. L. Hassell, formerly Miss Elizabeth Wiggins, representing Chowan County, jointly held the blue and white ribbon.

Standing just back of Mrs. Hassell, and facing the west were Miss Margaret Hines, impersonating Virginia Dare, for Dare County, B. Warner Evans, as Governor Samuel Johnston, for Chowan County, R. M. Riddick Sr., impersonating General Horatio Gates, for Gates County, W. F. Morgan, as John Harvey, for Perquimans, J. K. Wilson as General Isaac Gregory for Pasquotank, W. S. Berry, as the Earl of Camden for Camden and C. R. Morris as Samuel Jarvis for Currituck, all representing historic characters and standing as present day Eastern Carolina folk being welcomed today by Lieut. Gov. J. E. McLean, at the other end of the bridge, welcomed into the rest of the Tar Heel State after long years of separation by reason of the wide Chowan River and Albemarle Sound.

The union by virtue of building of the great Chowan bridge was then extolled.

The ribbon cut, the last barrier between these "lost provinces" was severed and closer commercial and social relationship of the day and future demonstrated with the ceremonies, a motor trip to Edenton, banquet at noon on the court house lawn at Edenton with more ceremonies, under direction of Senator P. H. Williams, of Elizabeth City, music by the U. S. Army Band, welcome by J. C. B. Ehringhaus, Elizabeth City, response by Joseph Daniels, introduction of Acting Governor Long by Congressman Lindsay C. Warren and address of Mr. Long.

Gen. A. J. Bowley, commandant Fort Bragg, had his say while Fred G. Ward, general secretary, South Atlantic Coastal Highway Association, Brunswick, Ga., Frank Page chairman of the State Highway Commission, Albert L. Roper, Norfolk, Va., also were on the program.

The Edenton band struck up for the first time the "Chowan Bridge March," written for the occasion by Band Master Leslie Waldorf.

At the bridge in the morning Mr. Long had been escorted to his position to the west of the bridge by a Bertie county representative. Impersonating Nathaniel Duckingfield where he greeted the seven counties east of the Chowan River—Gates, Chowan, Perquimans, Pasquotank, Camden, Currituck and Dare.

Invocation and benediction were the pleasant tasks of Rev. P. B. Drane and Rev. H. I. Glass, both of Edenton.

LINDY BEGINS AIR TOUR OF THE NATION

Lindbergh-Mitchell Field, N. Y., July 20.—(AP)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh in his Spirit of St. Louis hopped off from Mitchell Field at 12:50 p. m., today for Hartford, Conn., on the first leg of his three months air tour which will take him to seventy-nine cities and every State.

New York, July 20.—(AP)—Before starting today on a tour of the 48 States, Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh pointed out that his nation-wide air journey is in no sense to be personal journey.

It is being made, he said, solely to interest people on the possibility of commercial aviation.

People throughout the country both on the farms and in the cities, have now come to realize that aviation is a reliable means of transportation which has possibilities of furthering the development of our commercial life and social welfare," he said.

"In almost every section the desire to do something to advance aviation locally has been expressed. "Many cities have honored me by suggesting that the opportunity for their people to see my plane, "The Spirit of St. Louis" which recently flew from New York to Paris, would possibly advance the development of aviation through encouraging the establishment of municipal airports and focusing attention on air transportation and especially on the air mail.

"While time and circumstance do not permit my going to all the cities which have invited me, I am starting out today to make one or more visits in every State in the Union. The trip, which has been arranged and will be financed by the Daniel Guggenheim fund for the promotion of aeronautics is made solely to interest people in the possibilities of commercial aviation.

"The Department of Commerce through the kindness of Wm. P. MacCracken assistant secretary for aeronautics, has been most helpful in arranging the tour and I want to publicly thank the department and Mr. MacCracken for their invaluable co-operation and at this time I want to thank you all for the people in New York who have been so kind to me personally and who have given me a welcome which I hope the development of aviation will justify.

"Unfortunately, only a comparatively small number of stops can be made on a tour of this kind. Visits to many cities have necessarily been omitted and many local dates have been missed unavoidably, although I would personally like to have made them, "this trip is being undertaken in no sense as a personal journey. It is an opportunity for me, as one interested in forwarding aviation to join with civilian gatherings all over the country to promote the cause.

"I hope such a purpose will be accomplished but it cannot be accepted by a limited number of people. The great development which will make the United States take its rightful place in leadership can only be accomplished by the united efforts of people all over the country."

Byrd and Norville Get Service Cross

New York, July 20.—(AP)—Two more American aviators today possess that coveted honor of the air, the distinguished flying cross, highest trophy of American aeronauts.

Curtis D. Wilbur, secretary of the navy last night pinned crosses on the breasts of Commander Richard E. Byrd, Jr., and Lieut. George O. Norville for flying the America from New York to France under adverse conditions. The presentations were made at a municipal banquet.

Clarence D. Chamberlin, pilot of the Columbia that ploughed through fog to win its way to Germany and Bert Acosta and Batchen shipmates of Byrd and Norville, saw the medals pinned on the natty white uniforms of the heroes, and joined in the vigorous applause.

Mayor Walker, toastmaster, suggested that Balchen, Acosta and Chamberlin, all civilians should be inducted into the reserve officers corps so that Congress might award them similar crosses.

He said the suggestion came to him from Commander Byrd. Only members of the army or navy can be awarded the cross.

Heroes Are Gentle. Worse Than Tigers. Two Duels, One Real. Be Just to Elijah.

(By Arthur Brisbane) Copyright 1927, by Star Co.)

Commander Byrd returned to the United States yesterday with Chamberlin and Byrd's three flying companions, Acosta, Noville and Balchen. This country delights to honor them all, and is proud to send such men to Europe, following Lindbergh.

Real course is always gentle. Homer's "mildest manners and gentlest heart" are part of a fearless nature. Of all photographs taken of those fliers, the finest shows Commander Byrd standing beside a wounded French soldier, helpless in a wheel chair. The expression on Byrd's face, pitying and tender, is that of a real hero. Happy the mother and father of such a son.

Hankow's news that China has had enough of "Red" Russian doctrines is not surprising.

Confucius, as great in China as ever, although he died ten years before Socrates was born, warned the Chinese against "oppressive government." Confucius saw, waiting beside a grave, a woman, who told him, "My husband's father was killed here by a tiger, and my husband, also. And now my son has met the same fate."

LEGION POST TALKS ABOUT MANY THINGS

But Mainly, The Washington Convention And Boy Scouts, Featured Last Night.

The regular monthly meeting of the Pitt County Post of the American Legion was held at the Rotary building last night at 7 o'clock, being featured by a chicken supper, appointment of committees, and last but not least, an exceptionally brilliant display of oratorical fireworks in which numbers of members took part.

The session was presided over by Dr. A. M. Schultz, post commander, who succeeded in dispatching business so rapidly that the meeting lasted hardly more than an hour.

One of the principal matters considered during the evening pertained to the State American Legion convention to be conducted in Washington, N. C. (the original) August 15th. A committee of five was appointed to represent the local post at the gathering. They were Dr. A. M. Schultz, F. A. Jordan, Herbert Waldrop, W. H. Rogers, Jr., and J. B. Kittrell.

It was stated that considerable interest is centered in the Washington convention and that numbers of members from all parts of the State would be in attendance.

The Boy Scout movement in Greenville came in for greater consideration last night, and the committee appointed sometime ago to assist in improving the local organization, was instructed to appear at the next meeting of the school board and offer their co-operation in enlarging Scout activities.

It was stated that Boy Scouts are doing splendid work in other cities of the State where activities are given proper consideration, and it is the purpose of the Legion to assist other organizations of Greenville in promoting greater interest in this line of endeavor.

To Dedicate Memorial To Hoosier Poet

Asheville, N. C., July 20.—(AP)—memorial tablet to James Whitcomb Riley, the Hoosier poet, will be dedicated in the Calvary Episcopal Church yard at Fletcher, near here Sunday afternoon. Dr. Jose Shelby Riler, of Washington, D. C., at St. Petersburg, Fla., cousin of the poet will make the dedication address and unveil the tablet. Dr. Viola Riley Berry, another cousin, will be here from Indiana for the occasion.

Douglas Day Nye, son of Bill Nye, will sing a Riley poem at the festival, and his wife will play the piano.

The historic old Fletcher church is known as "The Westminster Abbey of the South" and memorial to many of the leading figures in the South's history are to be found in its churchyard.

JAP PROBLEMS TO BE TAKEN UP AT GENEVA

Many Minor Matters To be Considered During Absence of British Delegation.

Geneva, July 20.—(AP)—"Business as usual," the British motto in the early war days, was appropriated by Hugh S. Gibson today to describe the attitude and intentions of the American delegation to the three power naval reduction conference during the time the British plenipotentiaries are detained in London talking with Premier Baldwin and the rest of the cabinet.

When it became known that W. C. Bridgeman and Lord Cecil, the chief British delegates were to London, there was consternation over what was in the offing—the fears of pessimists were somewhat when it became known that they had met with the Prime Minister and his son.

Mr. Gibson, as chief American delegate subsequently asked that the departure of the two British leaders, be not looked upon as an adjournment of the conference, but only as a temporary suspension of the chief delegates' negotiations.

As Admiral Sir Frederick and Field and Sir Aubrey Smith and most of the British technical experts remained behind the Americans feel that considerable of what Mr. Gibson terms, "light house work" can be done in consultation with the Japanese technicians in order that the British plenipotentiaries can find minor matters fairly well cleared up by the time they return to resume the more arduous labor.

Tells of Danger Of Tuberculosis

Chapel Hill, July 20.—(AP)—"If we could only make tuberculosis a more spectacular disease we could easily arouse the public to its dangers," Dr. P. P. McCain, head of the State Sanatorium, told the eighth public welfare institute in session here this morning.

"We think with horror," he said, "of the 70,000 men who died in this World War, yet in the same year, there were in this country 150,000 deaths from tuberculosis, which is a preventable disease."

Declaring tuberculosis has cost in State over $15,000,000, Dr. McCain urged the superintendents of public welfare who, he said, have been of great help to him. To teach people to protect themselves from infection and to prevent further spread of the disease.

"Tuberculosis used to be our greatest death producing disease," he said, "but in the last ten years it has been moved down the list to sixth place. Yet in North Carolina during 1925, 2,750 persons died of tuberculosis."

Miss Lily E. Mitchell, director of mothers' aid in the State and head of the division of child welfare of the State board of charities and public welfare, presided over the sessions, and spoke on the administration of mother's aid, which has a fund of $600,000 annually, put aside by State and counties to help mothers without means of support, to care for their children.

A more complete use of the facilities of the communities, the careful keeping of budgets and the ideal of making the families self supporting were stressed by Miss Mitchell, who said 75 counties will participate in the fund this year.

FORSYTH COUNTY GETS 8-MONTH SCHOOL TERM

Winston-Salem, N. C., July 20.—(AP)—Elections giving Forsyth County, except for one large area around the Pine Grove section, a uniform eight months' school term were yesterday carried in three districts in the county by large majorities.

Final check-up today revealed that following results—East of the city: 97 registered, 80 voting favorably, 1 voting against, and 16 not voting; Union Grove section: 110 registered, 98 voting favorably, none voting against and 14 not voting; Leesville district: 139 registered, 177 voting favorably, none voting against, and 32 not voting.

PACIFIC FLIERS OFF FOR DATON

Milwaukee, July 20.—(AP)—In a Fokker monoplane, Lietta Lester J. Maitland and Albert J. Hengenberger, trans-Pacific fliers, soared into the skies today at 9:45 a. m. and headed for Dayton, Ohio. They were accompanied by three planes.

CUBS REGAIN TOP POSITION IN NATIONAL

(By the Associated Press) Choosing John McGraw's silver anniversary festivities for their setting, the Chicago Cubs climbed back into the National League leadership only a day after they had been hauled down to second place. While the Pittsburgh Pirates were being rained out at Philadelphia, the Basting Bruins subdued the Giants at the Polo grounds 6-5. The game was played in a steady drizzle.

Fighting an uphill battle the Cubs tied the score in the sixth and then came through with an eighth inning rally that clinched their victory home runs by Harnett and English provided the winning margin.

Cincinnati bested Boston in the last place due to Bressler's hitting being a big factor in the 8-2 decision.

Rixey held Boston to 6 hits. The Yanks won their 13th consecutive game from the St. Louis Browns, 6-1. The Ruppert ruffians got to Stewart, St. Louis southpaw, in the third inning and drove him out of the box. Ruth and Gehrig failed to furnish any excitement in their home run scramble. Both the sluggers got a hit. Ruth a single, and Gehrig a triple that came near being a homer.

Detroit's Tigers put on one of the most thrilling ninth inning rallies of the season, scoring seven runs and beating the Philadelphia Athletics 10-9 in the last game of the series. Pate, the third pitcher for the inning, walked two batters and then permitted Bassler to single home the tying and winning runs.

Firpo, Marberry rescued Willis Thurston at Chicago and the Washington Senators nosed out the White Sox 4-3. Schalk's team was about to crash through in the fifth when Marberry went to the mound and forced Peckinpaugh to hit into a double play. Thereafter Chicago did not get a hit.

Cleveland and the Boston Red Sox split even in a double header, the Indians taking the first 4-2, and Boston the second 6-5. The games were marred by casualties, Wiltz, Audrey, Tuding and Hoffman being injured.

Sharkey Confident On Eve of Battle

New York, July 20.—(AP)—His hard work all behind him, Jack Sharkey was more confident than ever today that he would beat Jack Dempsey in their 15 round bout tomorrow night at the Yankee stadium, leading to a championship battle with Gene Tunney.

"I want to see what Dempsey will do when I sock him on the jaw," that was one of the Bostonian's first remarks after he laid his gloves away following his final workout yesterday and hurried to his dressing room for a rub-down.

Not the faintest of doubts crept into the ex-sailor's speech. "I'll be at him, I'm bigger than I ever was. I'm stronger, I'm hitting harder. I always could hit when I wanted to, so I have no fear of Dempsey's hitting."

Sharkey's plan of battle he said, has not been determined. "That's up to Dempsey. You have to adjust yourself to conditions inside the ropes as you find them. I'll go into this fight with no set plan of battle."

Elliot Has Fifteen Wins For Season

Raleigh, July 20.—(AP)—Pitcher Slim Elliott, not to be outdone by his mate, Harry Moger, league leader hurler and reported wanted by a big league club, today had 15 wins to his credit this season, after handing Salisbury, top rung holder a 2-1 defeat.

Elliott gave but five hits to Bertell's on the slab. Durham, tutored by a new boss, George Whitted, pepped up to beat Rocky Mount while pitcher Gober did a "worm will turn" stunt to beat his old mates, Winston-Salem, at High Point, 4-3.

WORLD'S DISTANCE SWIMMERS ENTER $50,000 ONTARIO CONTEST

Toronto, Ont. (AP)—The wide waters of western Lake Ontario are beckoning to a host of the world's best long-distance swimmers. Preparations are well under way for the $50,000 marathon swim over a 21-mile course to be held here in connection with the Canadian National Exposition on August 31.

From a half dozen countries of the Old World and from practically every State of the United States and every province of Canada have come more than 100 applications for entry. The event bids fair to take its place with the English channel and Catalina Island swims.

Veterans of those waters are entered in large numbers, with others who will be seeking fame and fortune for the first time.

Among those who have registered are George Young of Toronto, and winner of the $25,000 Catalina Island event early this year; Ernest Vierkotter of Hamburg, one of the conquerors of the English channel, Ishak Helmy, Egyptian contender for channel honors; and Jane Sion of Brussels another unsuccessful swimmer but holder of many women's records in European swimming.

Miss Sion will have plenty of companions of her own sex. Attracted by prizes of $5,000, $2,500 and $500, for the first, second and third places for women contestants a dozen have entered their names. Neither are Miss Sion, Vierkotter nor Helmy alone in representing foreign lands. Italy and Sweden also have entries.

Both the start and finish of the event will be at the Canadian National Exposition grounds on the lake shore just west of this city. The 21-mile course will be roughly triangular, with the farthest point practically out of sight of land.

Of a total purse of $50,000 the winner of the event will receive $30,000, while second place will net the runner-up $7,500, and third place $2,500. The fourth prize will be $1,000 and fifth and sixth $500. Women's prizes will be in addition.

Training camps have been established by some of the contestants at widely-separated places, with Vierkotter and Miss Sion at Montreal, George Young is expected shortly to take up training on the lake shore at Picton, a small town on Prince Edward Island near the eastern end of the lake.

Sharkey Bigger Than Dempsey

New York, July 20.—(AP)—Jack Sharkey is bigger than Jack Dempsey in the waist, thigh and wrists, across the hips the fighter's measure alike, 42 inches.

Sharkey measures 35 inches around the waist as against Dempsey's 34. Sharkey's thigh measures 26 inches, one-half inch bigger than Dempsey's, and his first, 19 1-2 inches, is a half-inch smaller than that of the Manassas mauler. A wrist measurement of eight inches gave Sharkey a quarter inch advantage. They wear shoes of the same size, 10 1-2.

DEMPESEY SAYS HE IS READY FOR SHARKEY

By EDWARD J. NEUL (Associated Press Sports Writer)

Saratoga Lake, N. Y., July 20.—(AP)—The calm confidence of the man physically and mentally tuned to perfection gripped Jack Dempsey today as the once great czar of the heavyweight division hung up his training gloves—perhaps forever.

Behind the most powerful man modern ring history has known, lay three months of toll in the Ventura mountains of California and three weeks of grim battling here to rebuild the splendid two-fisted fighting machine that once ruled the world. Ahead of the 32-year-old warrior loomed the most dramatic night of his career—the night when he must win or quit the game he loves.

Eight years ago this month, a pop-eyed youth of 17 thrilled as his idol, the young iron fisted Jack Dempsey, crushed the great bulk of Jess Willard to win the world's championship in the suffocating heat of Toledo Thursday night in a flash—hardly the Yankee stadium that same youth, Jack Sharkey of Boston, who has been surging through the heavyweight ranks that Dempsey once did will attempt to end and for all the fighting career of the man he thought all powerful.

"I am ready," Dempsey said today, as ready as any time in my life. If I lose there will be no allib, no comeback, and I'll quit forever the game I love. I never had made an excuse before and I won't start now. But put it down in the book I'll kick that Sharkey kid in just two punches."

And the Dempsey who ended training today to depart for the scene of the battle in New York

Then and Now

Once a rival of the great Alexander was Joe Wood, star extraordinary of the Boston Red Sox. He joined the team in 1908, and became the outstanding star almost overnight. Later to Cleveland, where he played with indifferent success as an outfielder. He quit baseball to become coach for Yale, a post he's held for some years. Pictures show Wood as Boston's star and as Yale's coach.

appeared fit to do just that. Three weeks ago Jack was fat, slow of foot and sluggish despite his early training grind in California. He weighed 205 pounds. The reason was a pad of excess flesh around his abdomen and hips. His legs were heavy and the thickness of unnecessary weight was on his shoulders. But today the Dempsey who seeks to storm a come-back trail too rugged for any other former heavyweight champion to conquer, is lean and trim. Stomach muscles are hard as nails, his waist is narrow, legs are thin and speedy. Through his shoulders and back were the muscles that stretch and flex under a sub blackened that covers not an ounce of excess flesh.

Bulls May Have To Forfeit Double Header To Pointers

High Point, N. C., July 20.—(AP)—The double-header which the High Point baseball club lost to Durham last Saturday by a score of 6-2 to 9-7 will be reverted to the win column of the local organization if the allegation that the Bulls failed to observe the league rule can be substantiated. Dan Boone, manager of the Pointers, declared today.

According to the High Point baseball pilot, Durham used only one rookie, Johnson, in the two protested games of Saturday, where the ruling of President Bramham states that any game of the third-month league, in which at least two rookies are not used, will be illegal and forfeited.

Barney Cleveland, manager of the Durham club at the time, told Manager Boone of this yesterday and averred that he could prove the fact that only one rookie played during the double header, Boone says.

President Bramham knows of this "asserted the Pointer skipper" but according to reports, stated that he will take no action until an official protest is filed by me. I mailed such a protest to him last night, giving each name of the men who played for Durham Saturday. According to the laws of the league the visitors broke the class rules and the games were technically won by the Pointers.

Tar Heel Clubs Virginia Loop Lost Yesterday

Raleigh, July 20.—(AP)—Homer Dierl, Stark and McCarty gave Richmond a victory over Portsmouth, who in spite of defeat turned in four fast double plays to nose down an 8-4 score.

Unable to collect but three hits off pitcher Peterson, Wilson was shut-out by Norfolk 4-0; and Kinston dropped the second straight to Petersburg 10-2.

Noted Players To Appear At College July 21

The Devereux Dramatic Company will present at East Carolina Teachers College on July 21 "The Romance of Youth," a play of unusual charm, dealing with the love of Berto Cellini, the scapegrace son of a village innkeeper, for Aurea, the daughter of the Duke de la Fontana. The scenes are laid at Solar de la Montana, a small town of northern Spain, Seville and Madrid. The romance, which is an adaptation of "Le Flo de la Vida," by Serafin and Joaquin Alvarez-Quintero, is skillfully constructed and brilliantly written, depicting with rare fidelity the manners and customs of Old Spain; it contains dramatic situations of great effectiveness and affords Mr. Devereux and Miss Graf unusual opportunity in the respective roles of Cellini and Aurea to which they are peculiarly adapted.

For a hundred years back, Spain has not lacked characteristically Spanish dramatists, who were men of genius, and the Quinteros never for a moment lose sight of their true object—of painting manners, and illustrating character. Their one preoccupation is to present their characters and let them work out their own destinies. This will be the sixth appearance in Greenville of the Devereux Players and Miss Graf. Each appearance has added to their popularity. They are artists without superiors in their dramatic ability and backed by a company of unusual talent and strength, the public can be assured of an evening of delightful entertainment.

Assistant Forester Discusses State Loss By Fire During Each Year.

H. F. Claridge, assistant Forester of North Carolina, spoke last night to the students of the summer school at East Carolina Teachers College. This lecture was one of a series of interesting topics by outstanding men arranged by the director of the summer school, L. R. Meadows.

Mr. Claridge stressed the fact that we should look upon forests and timber as a crop and not as a natural deposit of the land to be taken off but once, as we mine coal and iron. He showed pictures of saw mills that had been stationed at the same place generation after generation working up the crops of timber that mature year after year just as regularly and probably more so than the annual crops that are gathered from the farms.

Mr. Claridge laid stress upon the loss the state sustains each year from fires. He carefully started. He called attention to the fact that the prevention of such fires was a matter of sentiment and that North Carolina certainly needed such a sentiment. The study of forests, he said, should start with the school child in the grade and that a sentiment and knowledge of the forest and its value should be built up so that eventually we will appreciate and protect our forests.

This week rounds out the first half of the summer school. This has proved to be one of the best summer sessions the college has ever had. Each year sees a higher type of teachers preparing herself for the profession. Many of the students here this summer are doing work that leads directly to a degree. At the same rate of progress North Carolina has made during the past seven years in bringing up the training of her teachers. In twenty-five years the state will have a body of teachers as well trained as the physicians and lawyers are trained now. It will be a great day for the schools when this happens. The children of the state have a lot to put up with while it is happening. But it may not be this long. North Carolina has a way of speeding up things a bit at will.

the aggregate enrollment in summer schools of East Carolina Teachers College has been 7,308 students. This is the equivalent of 2,436 years of college work. It looks like we would soon get enough teachers trained to fill the schools, but there is always some fellow waiting around the corner to make compromising proposals and begin entangling alliances with the girl who has the personality and culture that makes her valuable in the school-room. If the training these teachers receive while they are specializing in psychology and child study were all lost when they begin the task of seeing to it that two can live on as little as one, then we would have a leak in our educational system that would need attention, but Chas. D. McIver used to say, "educate a woman and you have educated a whole family."

So maybe it isn't as bad as the school men feels it is when he sees his good teachers "marrying off."

Mr. L. R. Meadows, professor of English and director of the summer school, Prof. E. L. Henderson, director of teachers training, Miss Louise Grogan, teacher in the practice school, and summer school, all have leaves of absence for the coming year and will spend the year at Teachers College, Columbia University, New York.

LONDON, BOBBY CALLES SEGRAVE "SLOW COACH"

London. —(INS)—Major H. O. D. Segrave, holder of the world's motoring speed record, has failed to live up to his reputation—at least in the eyes of a London "bobby."

Segrave was driving in the West End of London when he was held up at the head of a long line of cars. The traffic cop gave the all clear signal. Segrave tried to obey, but the clutch of his car was sticky, and it took him some five minutes before he could get started.

With angry drivers behind honking their horns, the cop came over to Segrave and remarked, "Hurry up, slow coach." Segrave gave him his card, remarking that he had been called many things before, but never "slow."

FRIDAY WILL BE GALA DAY TO SOLDIERS

Greenville People Invited to Visit Local Military Unit at Camp Bragg.

Friday, July 22 will be the big day at Fort Bragg and all Greenville and Pitt county people are invited to visit the Fort on that date, according to an invitation received this morning by the Reflector from Lester Jones, captain of the local military unit, which in military circles, is officially known as 113th Field Artillery, N. C. National Guards.

Captain Jones stated that members of the unit were well and happy and doing their best to make a splendid record.

"The only thing we do not like," he said, "is that we lost the first ball game of the encampment period to Lenoir by the score of 1-0. Greenville made two hits and only one error. Lenoir was credited with two hits and no errors. Forbes pitched brilliantly for Greenville, but his teammates were unable to hit when hits would have resulted in tallies."

It is hoped that many Greenville and Pitt county people will visit the soldiers Friday, and in that way express appreciation of what they are doing to establish an enviable reputation for the city. The unit last year won favorable recognition through unusual ability in drill work, and they are doing everything possible to make even a better showing this year.

"ONE PRICE TO ALL"

IF A STORE HAS TWO PRICES ON ITS COATS AND SUITS, WHY HASN'T IT TWO PRICES ON ITS MUSLINS?

When you come to think of it—it does seem rather peculiar, doesn't it. If they can reduce one thing, why can't they make a proportionate reduction on everything?

THERE'S A REASON—AND A VERY GOOD ONE, TOO

Take the muslins, for instance—every woman knows muslins—knows what they are worth—knows what other stores are asking for them. Consequently, it is impossible for the "two price" store to add one cent, to be taken off later, if necessary. But coats and suits, well they are different. Just a little difference in the tailoring—in the material—in the lining—in the trimmings—make a great deal of difference in the price—so much so, in fact, that the most experienced department managers cannot tell exactly what the garment is worth.

—And right in that fact is where the "Two Price" stores take the advantage to tack on an additional $5.00, $10.00 or even $15.00, which they will later take off in selling the garment, if properly approached. If they are not so approached naturally the purchaser pays that much more than the article is worth.

THERE IS ONLY ONE PLACE TO BUY

—And that is at the strictly "ONE PRICE STORE"—where every item is plainly marked and sold to everyone at that price—Such a place is Coplon's, and it cordially invites your patronage on its merits only.

The Springfield (Mass.) Republican, "speaking frankly" of the widely circulated picture, says that "Mr. Coolidge as a cowboy is a horror" and can hardly be counted on to "make votes."

Mussolini has abandoned his effort to revalue the lira at a higher and permanent level. There are some things that even a dictator with vast powers can not put across.

It was hardly to be expected so soon, but the news comes that already aeroplanes are being stolen, altered in appearance and sold in distant cities. After all, perhaps a white elephant is the only thing a thief has never tried to run off with.

Arthur Hitt, an Alabama negro, claims he was flogged by masked men until he agreed to sell land worth $6,000 for $800. There can't be a sale without a deed and Hitt ought to be able to produce the name of the person to whom the property was conveyed. If Hitt's tale is quite straight, official investigation should not only get back his property, but make it clear whether the floggers were Ku Klux or—as is so often claimed—criminals masquerading under that name.

THE WEST NOT YET WON

There have been announcements that agricultural discontent is rapidly waning the West in consequence of Mr. Coolidge's gracious presence in the Black Hills. The impression conveyed thereby is that no sooner does a farmer become downhearted about crops and market conditions—about mortgages and excessive prices for everything he buys, than he remembers that Mr. Coolidge is in the Hills dressing in cowboy costume and fishing with half a worm, whereupon his soul is immediately uplifted toward higher things and he feels 100 per cent better. Nevertheless Mr. Coolidge must at moments have his doubts as to whether all is quite so well and whether the goose really hangs as high as is optimistically claimed. For example, there was that recent meeting of the Northwestern Agricultural Conference at St. Paul which unapologetically adopted a resolution declaring that, by vetoing the McNary-Haugen bill for farm relief, the President "clearly repudiated the Republican platform upon which he was elected," and there was that farm gathering attended by Mr. Coolidge himself which compelled him to listen to a severe attack upon the Republican tariff.

It is true that the demand

October 16-30—Baltimore, Atlantic City, Washington, Wilmington Philadelphia and New York City. Stops also will be made at Schenectady, Erie, Pa., Springfield Ill., St. Joseph, Mo., Wichita, Sioux Falls, S. D., Lordsburg, N. M. and Abilene, Texas.

of the Governor of South Dakota for "repeat of tariff legislation that discriminates against the agricultural sections of our country" could be contemptuously dismissed as the nonsense of a Democrat, but even the reply of Senator Norbeck, a Republican, breathed heresy, for he said "the only thing worse than a Republican tariff is a Democratic tariff." Mr. Coolidge, after all his efforts to please, must have felt a little discouraged when a Western Senator presumed to tell him to his face, or maliciously to imply, that the tariff is not the sacred thing he and his New England neighbors have regarded it from the cradle even until today.

Daily News Letter

Goings of Staff Correspondents at World Centers of Population

Rochester, N. Y.—(INS)—In spite of the fact that the marriage license clerk in the City Hall reports a fall in the number of June brides, the public library branches throughout the city show an increase that will gladden many a hubby's heart, or where they say a husband's heart is—his stomach. The number of self-conscious young women who ask shyly for the location of the culinary department is increasing by leaps and bounds, if William P. Yust, librarian, is to be believed.

Attendants, although they have no means of gauging the results of the onslaught, believe that the results in general augur well for the newly wedded husband.

Dinky fingers and nails in deep mourning will be taboo on city playgrounds from now on. The effects of a merry bean bag game or an inning or two of indoor baseball will not tarry long on the dainty hands of members of playground girls clubs, for nail files will play an important part in the program on all the municipal recreation grounds. This is the reason why personal hygiene, in all its latest wrinkles has been added to the curriculum of the playground classes. In addition to the gentle art of manicuring the care of the hair will be taught aspiring beauty contest entrants.

All the incantations, prayers and supplications of the Indian, offered up with all the mysterious rites known to the medicine man, were insufficient to save the biggest meeting of the Six Nations since Sullivan laid waste the fertile valley of the Genesee with his expedition in 1777, were unable to appease the Rail God, who deluged the Letchworth Park meeting with his floods.

Historical background for the meeting was furnished by a council meeting of thirty-six sachems of the tribes in full regalia. A dance "Death to the Corn Borer," in celebration of the state's successful campaign against the pest was danced by braves for the first time. Among the delegates was Nancy Squirrel, 119 years old, whose puffing pipe was in evidence wherever the slightest bit of excitement drew the crowd.

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, for only 75c it is improved by the addition of other ingredients, and is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides being carefully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound or lothes on face, neck, arms or nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides being carefully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.

STOCK MARKET
New York, July 20.—(AP)—Despite the heavy liquidation inspired by the belief that the market had been climbing too rapidly, stocks continued to move upward today under the stimulus of aggressive pool operations in a wide assortment of specialties. Scores of issues were bid up 1 to 6 1/2 points. Relatively few weak spots were noted throughout the list. Money was again in plentiful supply, but the call rate was maintained at 4 per cent, although conclusions were allowed the "outside market." The weekly steel trade news reported a moderate improvement in business.

STATE RESTS CASE IN MURDER HEARING
Benton, Ill., July 20.—(AP)—The State rested shortly before noon today in its trial of Charles Birger gang chief, Art Newman and Ray Hyland for the murder of Mayor Joe Adams of West City and attorneys for Birger announced his defense would be an emphatic denial of guilt.

KING FERDINAND OF ROMANIA
DIED TODAY FOLLOWING LONG BATTLE AGAINST GRIM REAPER

Bucharest, July 20.—(AP)—"I feel very tired," King Ferdinand breathed as he sank into Queen Marie's arms on his death bed today.

These were his last words, for his eyes closed and death came almost instantly.

Paris, July 20.—(AP)—Former Crown Prince Carol of Rumanian, who left his villa in Neully early this morning for a trip into the country, returned shortly before noon and still was in his home at two o'clock this afternoon.

When news of the death of King Ferdinand was received here the question that instantly arose in the minds of all was "How will this affect Carol?"—the former Crown Prince, who renounced his rights to the throne a year and a half ago.

Carol for the last few months, has been living quietly at his villa at Neully, outside Paris, giving no indication of what action he planned in view of the certainty that his father's life was nearly at an end.

Even rumors—constantly afloat the past few months—that he would at least try to visit his father's bedside before the end came, ceased recently and it was assumed by Rumanian circles here that the easy going Prince had accepted the dictum that he had forever given way to favor of his young son, Prince Michael, born of his marriage with Princess Helen of Greece, who now becomes titular ruler. The power under the Constitution, however, will really rest in the hands of a regency, consisting of the King's second son, Prince Nicholas, the patriarch of Rumania, and the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court.

News of the death of the King after a long illness that lasted more than a year, caused little surprise in Paris, for despite official denials, it was known that the monarch's malady was incurable.

TODAY

Confucius told his disciples never to forget that, and those disciples, descendants including practically all educated Chinamen of today, suspect that Communist government might be more oppressive than the capitalistic kind.

Tigers that eat your father, husband and son, are not as bad as oppressive government. And their retical government, of the Bolshevik kind, with the best of intentions might give a good imitation of tigers and oppressive government combined.

A gentleman in the movies, who says he is a grand-nephew of Emperor Francis Joseph, and would probably be pained by publicity, wants to fight a duel with Count Laszlo Szechenyi, who married Miss Gladys Vanderbilt, has much to live for, and probably will NOT oblige.

As we rise in civilization and comfort, dueling falls off.

A real duel was fought in a Missouri penitentiary by two convicts, both called "refractory" and confined to "isolation quarters." Each stole a knife from the dining room and their duel started in the basement of the isolation quarters. When it was ended, one was dead. The other will probably die.

To understand this bitterness of hatred is difficult now. It was easy in Benvenuto Cellium's day.

Uldine Utley, fifteen year old rivalist, who says Billy Sunday is greater than Mussolini, because Sunday conquered the devil, is in New York City saving souls. She saved forty last Sunday, and doubtless they will show gratitude when they meet her in heaven.

Miss Utley, who brings everything close to her hearers, says "Lindbergh was not the first to make a non-stop flight—the Lord did it, before him, by flying from heaven to earth, and then from earth to heaven."

It is an excellent thought, but not fair to Elijah, who, in a "chariot of fire and horses of fire" went up "by a whirlwind into heaven." See Second Kings, chapter two, verse eleven.

That happened 900 years before the birth of Christ.

Group life insurance covering large groups of employees now amounts to five and one-half billions of dollars in this country and insures the lives of 4,700,000 employees. The average insurance per worker is $1,200, as compared with $500 among employees of the same class carrying standard life insurance.

Group insurance costs about $60,000 a year, employers paying the biggest part. An interesting development in modern industrial civilization.

Primo De Rivera, Prime Minister and half-way dictator, says Spain is out of the League of Nations to stay out. Spain knows her mind on that subject. Uncle Sam ought to know his. Twice this month voted by a plurality of seven millions against having anything to do with the League. It seems hard for our government to believe what the voters say when one section of high finance says something else.
