BOSTON PLAYS HOST TO MANY FLIERS TODAY

Interest of Two Hemispheres, However, Centered About Other Projected Trips.

New York, July 23.—(AP)—While Boston today played host to eight aviators who had dashed the Atlantic and Pacific in record non-stop flights the interest of the two hemispheres was focused on other projects designed to add new chapters to aerial history.

In the Fokker-Airplane works at Hasbrouck Heights, N. J., workmen were rapidly completing the monoplane Old Glory, in which Lloyd W. Bertaud and James D. Hill, air mail fliers, attempt to reach Rome in a single hop. Berni Balchen, who safely lands Commander Richard E. Byrd's America off the French coast plans to take the plane upon its initial test Monday.

At Detroit Paul R. Rerferen awaited installation of special instruments and completion of tests on the Stinson-Detroit monoplane in which he will try to jump the 4,300 mile gap from Brunswick, Ga., to Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, about August 5th. He plans to hop off early Wednesday for the Georgia City.

Hints of an attempt at a non-stop flight from Germany to America was seen in a statement issued at the Junkers Airplane Works at Dessau, Germany, in connection with the endurance flight of Friedrich Loose and Johann Ristetz, which began early yesterday. "If the flight succeeds both pilots as well as the machine and motor will have brought proof of their fitness for crossing the ocean," says the statement. The plane carries sufficient gas for a sixty hour flight.

Clarence D. Chamberlin, who flew from New York to Germany has accepted an invitation from Chairman O'Connor of the shipping board to hop off from the liner Leviathan with a view to testing the feasibility of speeding trans-Atlantic mail and emergency passenger service by air plane. He said he hoped to look over the Leviathan which is at Boston, and see whether a suitable airplane take off course could be erected above the ship's bridge. A trial launching might be made after the liner leaves Boston Tuesday for New York, he indicated.

Fraulein Thea Rasche, German stunt flyer who hopes to attempt a flight to Germany next spring, made her initial American flight at Roosevelt field yesterday. Army pilots, seeing her loop and a "barrel roll" in her little flaming plane, called her a "skilful and graceful flier."

Lieutenants Mateland and Hegenberger, San Francisco to Hawaii fliers, met Fraulein Rasche at Roosevelt field when they stepped off en route from Washington to Boston. Byrd and his "ship-mates," Balchen, Bert Acosta and Lieut. George O. Noville, left with Chamberlin for Boston last night they made the concentration of America's recent air heroes in that city complete, as Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh had arrived there amid loud acclaim yesterday on his nation-wide tour under sponsorship of the Guggenheim Foundation.

TODAY

Because They Like It. One Tired, One Hungry. An Octopus Row. O. H. Kahn, Wise Father. (By Arthur Brisbane) Copyright 1927, by Star, Co.)

Why do intelligent human beings pay a million dollars to see a prize fight? Why do twenty million people eagerly listen to radio talks of swings, jabs, left and right hooks, etc.? A solemn editor says it is because men are interested in "spectacles of rivalry," and points to the interest in Lindbergh's arrival.

That doesn't answer the question. How many would have paid $125 to see Lindbergh from front row seats, or $15 to look at him from the last row?

American paid more than a million dollars last night to see a prize fight because they like prize fights—and keenly enjoy fighting—especially when somebody else does the fighting.

Kingship is on the wane. Ferdinand of Rumania dies saying sadly, "I feel so tired." And his grandson, Prince Michael, aged five, weeps at his inaugural and says, "Let's go home, mamma, I'm hungry."

Ferdinand of Rumania, born and educated in Germany, member of the Hohenzollern family, sided with the Allies against the Hohenzollerns when that seemed the wisest thing to do. He didn't enjoy it.

His little grandson doesn't know what all the noise means, and nobody need envy him.

A quarrel is on in the prosperous Standard Oil family. Standard of New York, buys oil from wicked Russian Bolsheviks. Standard of New Jersey says: "We would not touch the wicked oil. We won't." (Continued on page six.)

BUD STILLMAN GETS HIS GIRL

Steals Sweetheart of North Woods and Carries to His Mother's Camp Quarters.

New York, July 23.—(AP)—The New York Daily News today in a copyrighted dispatch from Grand Anse, Que., said a quarrel between the Stillman and Wilson families resulted in Bud Stillman "kidnaping" Lena Wilson, his 18-year-old North woods sweetheart and taking her to his mother's camp for their marriage next Tuesday.

Prior to the kidnaping, says the Daily News, Bud had announced his intention to plunge into the woods and stay there for months, while his bride-to-be tearfully insisted she would go to Montreal to become a manicurist.

The quarrel is reported to have been due to religious and social barriers raised by the Wilson family, farmers, and the matter was only settled when Bud literally kidnaped the hysterical Lena and carried her in a battered car over 30 miles of forest trails to his mother's camp.

First, says the Daily News, Bud signed a document agreeing that the marriage should be by Catholic ritual and that any children of the union should be reared in the Catholic faith. In return, he received from Lena's mother her written consent which is necessary under Quebec laws for the marriage of a minor daughter.

But none of Miss Wilson's relatives says the dispatch, will be permitted to attend the wedding and a gown brought from New York for one of Lena's six sisters to wear as bridesmaid now awaits a wearer of somewhat similar size.

Mrs. James A. Stillman, Bud's mother, is reported to have ordered the Wilsons from the house at Latuque which she presented to her son when his engagement was announced and also has advised storekeepers in Montreal, Latuque and Grand Mere that the Wilsons are to receive no more credit in her name.

EQUALIZATION BOARD MAKES SOME CHANGES

Pitt County Receives Increase of $6,000 by Action of Board at Morehead City.

Morehead City, N. C., July 23.—(AP)—Reductions of five million dollars in valuations for four counties and distribution of $35,000 of the hundred thousand dollar stimulating fund resulted from the two-day session of the State Board of Equalization here, which ended late yesterday.

The board canvassed the entire list of counties but made no changes except in Camden, Dare, Pitt and Rockingham.

Camden has been the storm center of the criticism leveled at the board, and this was answered today by reducing its valuations one million dollars, which means an increase of four thousand dollars from the equalization fund and it was given one thousand dollars additional from the stimulating fund, which makes a total increase of five thousand dollars or the total five thousand dollars of the total reduction of two million dollars in the valuation for Rockingham County was said to be necessary in order to correct unusual conditions there and a patent error, and the same was true as to the one and one-half million dollar reduction for Pitt County.

Pitt County's reduction of one and one-half million dollars will increase its share of the equalization fund by about $6,000 dollars.

Reduction of Dare's valuation one half million dollars and the allotment of thirteen hundred dollars from the stimulating fund will increase the quota thirty-three hundred dollars.

Allotments made from the stimulating funds of $100,000: Bertie, $2,000; Camden, $1,000; Chatham, $2,000; Dare, $1,300; Halifax, $3,000; Caswell, $2,000; Hoke, $1,000; Hertford, $870; Jones, $2,000; Jackson, $2,000; Lincoln, $2,000; Mitchell, $2,000; Moore, $3,000; Onslow, $2,000; Pender, $3,000; Perquimans, $2,000; Vance, $2,000; total $35,250.

The Kiwanians enjoyed a delightful supper served by ladies of the Christian church. A musical program was furnished by Mrs. J. Knott Proctor and Mrs. Harper Holiday, each scoring highly with solos at the beginning and conclusion of the meeting. They were accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Evan E. Settle. The opening prayer was made by Rev. J. Bamber, pastor of the Christian church.

Mr. Deal spoke in an interesting way of the qualifications of men who have mounted the ladder of fame in the field of Kiwanis, and declared the speaker of the evening combined all of them.

Governor Lynch spoke about the work of Kiwanis, Kiwanis ideals and the part it is playing in moulding the destiny of one hundred thousand communities today.

He declared Kiwanis is not content to stand for something—merely a name—this great driving force is working away continuously in an effort to improve the condition of the lives of men and women of the communities it serves.

TWO GERMAN AVIATORS ARE FORCED DOWN

Pilots Loose and Ristetz Forced to End Endurance Test After 20 Hours Trial.

Dessau, Germany, July 23.—(AP)—Pilots Friedrich Loose and Johann Ristetz, who started an endurance test in a Junkers airplane yesterday, were compelled to make a forced landing shortly after midnight. After they had been flying about twenty hours there was a partial failure of the gas feed, the Junkers Works announced.

Loose and Ristetz took off at 4:43 o'clock yesterday morning, according to the Junkers Works, their plane carried a load of 8,140 pounds including fuel to fly sixty hours. It had a 310 horsepower motor.

Making its landing in the dark, rainy night, the plane came down on uneven ground. It motor hood and landing gear were said to have been slightly damaged.

After an examination, Junkers representatives announced that the trouble was due to one of the feeding tubes falling to supply gasoline properly. This is believed to have been caused by the take off, when the plane, heavily loaded, bumped several times.

A representative of the Junkers Works said Loose and Ristetz would make another flight next week to test the feeding tubes.

Aimee McPherson Faces Dissension At Angelus Temple

Los Angeles, July 23.—(AP)—A test of diplomacy and church statesmanship in preserving the unity of her followers, faced Aimee McPherson as Angelus Temple, buzzing with dissension and strife, awaited the arrival today of the evangelist from Alton, Ill.

A rift in the large congregation was revealed recently when Mrs. Kennedy, mother of the evangelist and manager of the temple, charged irregularity in the collection of contributions.

Publication of a telegram and a letter from Mrs. McPherson yesterday was interpreted by many of her followers to indicate dissension between the evangelist and her mother.

With both temple factions insisting the evangelist is on their side and displaying letters and telegrams to prove it, a showdown was anticipated at a mass meeting called by her tonight.

POLICE PROBE POISON CANDY AT RICHMOND

Hold Matron of Methodist Orphanage Charged With Mailing Packages Candy.

Richmond, Va., July 23.—(AP)—Mrs. Eva Hollowell, charged with sending poisoned candy through the mails, left Richmond today for Portsmouth, where she will await investigation of the charge by a federal grand jury in October.

Rev. A. B. Sharpe, superintendent of the Methodist orphanage here where Mrs. Hollowell was employed as a matron, said today that she had been in the employ of the orphanage only five days when arrested. She came with high recommendations, he said, from Norfolk and Portsmouth.

Richmond, Va., July 23.—(AP)—While Mrs. Eva Hollowell, 50 year old matron of the Methodist Orphanage here, was at liberty on bail of $500 today, federal officials continued their investigation into the woman's past to uncover a possible motive for the "poisoned candy" case.

Among the features of the case which remained a mystery today was why Thompson suspected the candy was poisoned. It was sent to post office inspector W. C. Webb, who had it examined by a chemist who found it contained poison.

Raleigh, July 23.—(AP)—Robert Thompson did not even see the candy alleged to have been sent him by Mrs. Eva Hollowell, he told the Associated Press over long distance telephone from Aurora, today but his brother-in-law, Oscar Paul, received the package without his knowledge and turned it over to Herbert Bommer, who Thompson said was connected with the Federal Government "in some way."

Thompson, 43 and an employe of an oil company, today told a story of numerous residents of this little town receiving similar packages, all of which, he said, were destroyed or thrown away. He did not believe any other parties had informed federal authorities of the mysterious packages, all the recipients of which believed contained poisoned articles.

The candy packages, which were, according to Thompson, all addressed in the same handwriting, followed numerous letters, equally as mysterious, received by Aurora residents. These letters he said were addressed to as many as half a dozen people, and all contained threats. "All were written in a handwriting similar to that used on the candy package."

"I can not repeat the contents of the letters over the telephone," he told the Associated Press. Thompson received none of these letters, but had seen those of his neighbors. He was away from home the day the package addressed to him arrived.

Paul's suspicions were aroused over the package addressed to Thompson, when he realized it bore marks similar to those of a box he had received a few days before, and which he burned. He immediately carried Thompsons package to Bommer.

JUDGES SAY DEMPSEY DID NOT HIT FOUL

New York, July 23.—(AP)—Jack Dempsey and Jack Sharkey today were far from the scene of their memorable battle of Thursday night, either at home or on the way there, but a self-appointed jury of countless fans still was locked in hopeless disagreement over whether the blow that gave Dempsey a knockout victory was fair or foul.

Carefully avoiding Pennsylvania Dempsey was homeward bound for Los Angeles and a brief rest after the victory he believes he fairly won. He visited his wife's relatives at Wilmington, Del., then resumed his trip.

Sharkey back home in Boston after motoring from here with his wife, was as positive he would have won but for a blow he declared was below the belt just before he went down for the count in the seventh round of the Yankee stadium fray.

Opinion appeared as evenly divided as it was on the probable outcome before the fight but the official verdict that the blow was fair stood unshaken above the storm of argument.

The State Boxing Commission which never has reversed a decision of an official, stood squarely behind Jack O'Sullivan, the veteran referee who counted out Sharkey and even Sharkey's manager held to hope of reversal by appeal to the commission.

O'Sullivan himself said "there is no question about a punch on Sharkey's leg in the seventh round by Dempsey's right. It was a sweeping blow which glanced off the leg and it was followed by Dempsey's left to the solar plexus, which was the blow which started the finish."

"Before the solar plexus blow was delivered and after the right landed on Sharkey's leg, I stepping in saying 'watch your punches Jack.' Then realizing there were two Jacks: 'I said I mean you Dempsey.'"

Then Dempsey hit the solar plexus blow. Sharkey dropped his right hand and Dempsey hit him with his left on the jaw.

"I do not regard the blow Sharkey received on the leg as sufficient cause for disqualification. They are delivered quite regularly in the excitement of competition, and are not harmful. They merit simply a warning to remind the deliverer that he is hitting dangerously low. The punches do not incapacitate the recipient."

"The silence of the radio broadcast account concerning the disputed blows was explained today when it was learned neither Graham McNamee, nor Major J. Andrew White, who broadcast his impressions from a studio, immediately after the fight, believed a foul was committed.

"It was distinct to me from the position I was occupying at the ringside that no foul blow was struck."

"Both sides in the dispute admitted Dempsey's attack was aimed for Sharkey's mid-riff and it was recalled that Dempsey's manager, Leo Flynn, before the fight asked the boxing commission to make an indelible mark about the boxer's waists to prevent a false claim of a foul. This request was denied with the statement that 'competent officials will be provided to handle any situation that may arise.'"

"I'm going to have the referee especially cautioned to watch particularly for fouls. Flynn was quoted the day before the fight as saying in an interview with Benny Leonard, and 'also to watch just as particularly blows that are not fouls so that there will be no chance for Mr. Sharkey to get away with anything.'"

Mayor Walker was of the opinion that Sharkey wore his lights higher than ordinarily is done, giving a false impression that the blow was low.

Movies of the fight served out to convince fans and experts alike of their original opinions.

OUT OF KEELER'S GOLF BAG!

Don't Forget The Caddy

(By O. B. Keeler)

Two caddies occupied a good deal of my attention on the British invasion last year, when America sent over the pick of her amateur golfers, and the choice of most of her professional golfers to play in the various events in which they were qualified—the British amateur championship at Muirfield, the Walker Cup international match at St. Andrews and the British open championship at St. Anne's. Also the first matches of the Ryder Cup international matches, in which our own homebred boys lately got revenge for the drubbing the British professionals gave them at Wentworth.

At Muirfield, the first of the big events, Jess Sweetser, the St. Annes golfer, who was the ultimate winner, acquired as his caddy a skinny little red-headed, freckle-faced Scottish urchin named Jamieson Hogg. He looked hardly large enough to carry the bit outfit used by Jess; but never a boy strutted more proudly as the matches wore on, and Jess won, and won and won.

He is a student of music, this little Scot; he studies the violin, and he rode a bicycle a dozen miles to the Muirfield course, to take up his day's labor, and his day's triumph.

What a light danced in his blue eyes when Sweetser won! The proudest boy in Scotland just then was Jamieson Hogg.

Well, Bobby Jones' caddy would not give up.

"I know he's the greatest of them all," said Jack McIntyre, tears in his eyes, after Bobby was beaten. "You'll find me waiting at St. Anne's. He'll show 'em all in the open championships."

Simple faith—and mayhap a bit of Scottish Presbyterian predestination! Jack was waiting for Bobby at St. Anne's. He carried Bobby's clubs like a conquering hero through those four tremendous, fighting rounds on a wind-swept course, when Bobby, never in front of the field in a single round, turned up two strokes ahead when all the four rounds were added.

Don't overlook the caddies, gentlemen. They fight, and bleed and die with the best of the golfers. Some time I'll write you the story of Luke Ross perhaps, the boy, just Bobby Jones' own age, who carried his clubs in a dozen national championships. But this is of Jack McIntyre, the Scottish boy, who would not admit that Bobby Jones could be beaten, even after Andrew Jamieson had sent him out of the British amateur championship. There is something to be said for Caledonian persistence, and Jack McIntyre is a fair sample.

I'll never forget the scene in the lobby of the Majestic Hotel at St. Anne's when Bobby, British open champion, said goodbye to Jack McIntyre.

Bobby held out his hand. "Goodbye, Jack, old man," said he. "We won it together!"

Jack tried to speak and failed. He shook Bobby's hand hard. Then he suddenly let go and sat down on the floor and sobbed like a child.

Don't forget the caddies, gentlemen. The players may get the glory or the sting of defeat. But they don't do all the fighting.

PIRATES BACK IN TOP PLACE IN NATIONAL

(By The Associated Press) A victory for the Pirates while the Cubs were losing carried the Pittsburgh crew into first place in the National League race again, and drew attention today as a hot mid-season battle for the lead as has been waged in many a year.

When the Buccaneers forged ahead by beating the Braves by 5-2 yesterday while the Phillies were downing the Cubs again 6 to 5, the leadership changed hands for the fifth time in five days.

Hard hitting helped the Pirates win their latest battle and errors caused the Cubs to lose theirs. The Waner brothers were the big guns in the Pittsburgh attack while it fell to the lot of Eddie Pick and Hack Wilson to make the costly Chicago errors.

Meanwhile the Cardinals were coming at a merry clip, banging two hefty homers in the seventh to humble the Giants by 7 to 4. Taylor, Douthit, outfielder, and Heinie Schulte, the recruit shortstop, swung the home-run bats.

One of the finest pitching exhibitions of the year was given by Fred Lucas, the little red haired hurler of the Cincinnati Reds who blanked the Robins by 3 to 0 winning a duel with Dazzy Vance, granting but one hit and allowing just two Brooklynites to reach first. He lost his chance for a no-hit game when Hank DeBerry scratched a grounder in the sixth inning which Hugh Critz was unable to field.

Upsets were the rule in the American League. Of three games played one was lost by the league-leading Yankees and the other by the Senators. Even the home-run twins for the Yankees and the pitching of Walter Johnson for the Senators was not enough to stop their Western opponents.

True to form the Yankees had a ninth inning rally in their losing battle with the White Sox but it failed with Babe Ruth on third when his "twin," Lou Gehrig, grounded to second for the final out. The 7 to 5 victory for Ted Lyons, the youthful Sox pitcher, won his 15th of the season.

Walter Johnson met rough going in the first half of the Washington-St. Louis doubleheader which the Browns won by 7 to 6. The veteran was touched for seven hits in the three innings he worked. The second half of the bill the Browns took by 3 to 2 although they were outfit in both games.

Statesville, July 23.—(AP)—Accused of breaking into the home of A. W. Johnson last night and shooting Johnson, Quince Summers 35 years old, was arrested and placed in jail here today. Summers denied the charge.

Johnsons lives 8 miles northeast of Statesville. About 11:30 o'clock last night some one entered the Johnson home and shot Johnson through the left arm as he lay asleep in bed; the wound was slight.

According to Rapid City dispatches, Mr. Hoover "told the President" that prompt flood relief legislation is "imperative" and an early session of Congress should be called. Though so long of a different opinion, the President may be disposed to admit that Mr. Hoover ought to know.

There is an impression that Chicago elected Mayor Thompson, Republican, because he threatened to "bust King George in the nose," but according to ex-Mayor Dever, Democrat, he was defeated because he considered it his duty to try to enforce the prohibition law—which cast him "the large negro vote of the city and a goodly portion of the Irish-Democratic vote."

KLAN RESPONSIBILITY

Everywhere, South or North, when an outrage is committed by masked persons, the known leaders of the Ku Klux Klan disclaim responsibility, insisting that the deed was done by outsiders masquerading in the name of their order. Even where this is true, a certain responsibility remains because the Klan is the inspiration and ready vehicle of the outsiders. And it is so often proved untrue that such side-stepping is becoming increasingly difficult. According to the Birmingham News, the floggings in Alabama "are committed not only by hooded and robed men, but by men who, in almost every case, according to well-considered statements of the Governor's law enforcement officers, are members of the Ku Klux Klan." The Georgia "State Dragon of the Ku Klux Klan" indignantly denied that his order was in any way concerned in the brutal flogging of Mrs. Ashley Bowers at Toccoa, Ga., but the testimony at the trial of W. G. Acree, one of the men accused, showed that at least four of the five were Klansmen and that Acree was cyclops of the local Klan at the time, as well as principal of the Stephens county high school, superintendent of a Sunday school and "moderator of 20 churches of his association."

Tobacco Industry Of E. Carolina To Appear on Screen

Moving pictures are being made of the tobacco industry in Eastern North Carolina, according to an announcement made by M. Z. Moore of Wilson county, who spent a day in Greenville this week going over the local situation. Mr. Moore, a former resident of Pitt county who left about thirty years ago, has made his home in Wilson county the past twenty years, and is familiar with the great strides made by the tobacco industry during that period.

BURN DANCE HALL AND PAVILION NEAR CHARLOTTI

Charlotte, July 23.—(AP)—The pavilion and dance hall at McAlpin's Beach, a resort eight miles from Charlotte on the Monroe road, were badly burned today by incendiaries, according to information brought to Mecklenburg county officials today.

Two men threw gasoline on the building, set fire to it and fled when Paul Partlow, caretaker, opened fire on them with a rifle. The men escaped but hospitals today were searched in the belief that one of the men might have been struck. The loss is estimated at $10,000.

prominent religious publications, one Methodist and one Baptist, being named as failing to print "one word in protest."

MORE WAR IN NICARAGUA

It would appear that all is not well in Nicaragua as had been reported and, in this country at least, widely believed. For we now read of a battle in which 39 American marines killed 300 insurgents—the former rendered the more formidable by the employment of machine guns and bombing aeroplanes. Taking the side of Diaz, the Nicaraguan President who had formerly been long in the employ of an American mining company operating in Nicaragua, the Administration at Washington sent eleven warships and more than 5,000 marines to "protect American lives and property" while seeing to it that the formidable rebellion against Diaz should be crushed. After this had been accomplished Henry L. Stimson was sent to Nicaragua early last May to "disarm all factions" and "disarm forcibly" all who refused to surrender their arms without a fight. This, too, was duly accomplished, according to the reports. But now a small force of our marines has found it necessary to kill 300 "insurgents."

This is unfortunate, to say the least. For quite apart from the spirit of resentment against American interference and dictation revealed in Nicaragua itself, the effect will be bad through Central and South America, where the United States is charged with seeking to control and exploit the weaker republics of this hemisphere in the interests of its outreaching commercial corporations which even here at home are alleged to dictate in great part the Government's foreign policy.

WEEKLY GRAIN

Chicago, July 23.—(AP)—Whether or not the bulk of the 1927 wheat crop has won the race against black rust, speculators are being hunted by remaining damage possibilities. For the most part, anxiety expressed at present is regarding the outcome in northern North Dakota, northern Minnesota and in Canada. Pending further reassurance of spring crop safety, wheat this morning compared with a week ago was 1-2 cents to 1 5-8 cents a bushel higher, with corn showing 2 cents gain, and provisions 15 cents to 75 cents down.

GRAIN

Chicago, July 23.—(AP)—Expectations of a heavier movement of new winter wheat to market, had a bearish effect on wheat values today toward the last. Word of 400,000 bushels of North American wheat having been bought today for shipment to Europe failed to check setbacks from an early advance that was due largely to black rust. About 1,200 cars of new wheat are expected to arrive on Monday from Omaha.

WEEKLY FINANCIAL

New York, July 23.—(AP)—Easy money rates continued this week to stimulate the upward movement of stock prices, which, again moved into new high ground. The advance, however, was more stubbornly contested, and several weak spots cropped out. Profit-taking sales, inspired by the belief that the recent upward pace had been too fast, reached substantial proportions, and accounted for much of the irregularity in the closing days of the week.

Death Ends Fight Of Money Powers For River of Oil

Principals in the noted "River of Oil" struggle waged in Lombard Street, the Wall Street of London. Upper right is James White, who once had millions of pounds behind him in his South American promotion. Left is Sir Edward Edgar who led the group opposed to White and which eventually brought White down.

By ANDRUE BERDING (Associated Press Staff Writer) London.—On the immaculate rich-linen cloth of a round table in a restaurant near Piccadilly Circus a knife traced a map of a portion of a Venezuela. Through the center of the map the knife drew a wavy line.

Around the table sat the financiers of Lombard Street, the Wall Street of London. They were rigid, with eyes welded to that wavy line. The knife continued its course until the hesitant, uncertain furrow reached the sea.

"That," said a voice, "is the River of Oil." The speaker was a millionaire sportsman and promoter, James White, now dead by his own hand and buried at Wanborough. "This river," his voice went on, "is an underground river of oil. It has been there for centuries. Geologists have told me so. It flows on and on. It has thousands and millions and billions of gallons of oil. I shall tap that river. I shall bring the oil to the surface. I shall make—yes, I shall make millions for each of you."

Quickly the word spread to the thousands of men who followed Jimmy White on his speculations. Money poured in for the venture. Millions of pounds piled up behind him. Some financiers grew skeptical. One went to Venezuela. He returned. "No river of oil there," he said. "There is," Jimmy came back. "There is." I know. Geologists My reports. I'm never wrong. But there were other "big men" in Lombard street who were financial opponents of Jimmy White. There began such a manipulation of the London stock market as it had not seen since the world war. For four months the group opposed to Jimmy White led by Sir Edward Mackay Edgar, worked to bring him down from the heights. Since February the group had been gradually absorbing preference shares of the British controlled oil fields. Suddenly during the past few weeks came a great battle of money. Sir Edward's group began to sell thousands of shares. Jimmy had to buy them up to keep the market firm.

One Saturday Jimmy sent letters to his friends and also to men who were not within his inner circle promising a spectacular rise in the Preference shares. On the following Monday 750,000 shares changed hands. But the rise was only one shilling per share, and the bears or sellers, worked quietly and undetermined Jimmy's work.

In the battle of money 6200,000-000 was used in the turnover of shares.

At last the sellers had no more shares to sell. Jimmy had no more money to buy.

But the sellers said they had more shares to sell. Jimmy, too, tired to bluff, admitted he had no more money to buy.

He went quietly off to his country home near Wanborough. He scribbled a few notes, appealing to his wealthy friends for help for his wife, his son, his daughter, now penniless. Then poison took from the financial world one of its dominant figures.

On Jimmy White's desk the next day was found a letter from a friend, Sir Harry McGowan, offering to lend him $3,750,000. Had Jimmy held on just another day longer he would have passed the crisis with this assistance.

So the jury, meeting in Jimmy's ornate dining room at Foxhill, decided he committed suicide while insane.

Jimmy now lies buried in the little churchyard of the Wanborough parish church, within sound, could he but hear, of the padding hoofs of the racehorses in training, the muffled pounding he liked so much to hear.

SURVEY SHOWS MODERN GIRL HOME BUILDER

MRS. JOSEPH C. GAWLER, Yakima, Wash.—(AP)—No generation ever produced girls more eager to be good housewives than those of today. Mrs. Joseph C. Gawler declares.

She bases her conclusion upon a nationwide survey of home economics teaching recently made by her as chairman of the home economic division of the General Federation of Woman's Clubs.

The much criticized flapper, she finds, is displaying more interest than her mother did in methods that will make her a good home-builder.

"Despite eccentric barbering, mannerisms and dress, the girl of 1927," Mrs. Gawler says, "wants to know how to cook and how to raise strong, healthy babies. Girls are even more keenly alert than mothers and school authorities to the value of instruction in home economics."

The following have improved and returned to their home from the hospital.

Mrs. Joseph Smith, Mr. J. J. Gilbert, Miss Lillian Hapdee, Mrs. J. B. Porter, Master Ben F. Owens, Mr. T. A. Etheridge, Mrs. J. D. McNab and daughter, Mr. L. D. Norwood

Denver. — The passion for synchopation and "jazz" which has gripped the world of music is passing, in the belief of Dr. J. Christopher Marks, organist and choir-master of the Church of the Heavenly Rest in New York City and one of the ranking organists and composers of church music of the age, who is in Denver on his vacation.

"I am not discouraged with the musical trend of the time," said Dr. Marks. "Synchopation not only lacks solid foundation, but is neither symphonic nor melodic and inevitably the swing must come back to the true vales and beauty in music as in other arts."

Among the musicians of this country Dr. Marks is notable not only for his work as choir master and organist, but also for his compositions which seem to be almost a library of church music. His "Victory Divine" is a well known example of his work.

It is one of his ambitions to see a choir school where boys may be boarded and educated for choir work included in the new three million dollar church of the Heavenly Rest which will stand at Nineteenth Street and Fifth Avenue.

Dr. Marks came to the United States from Ireland 25 years ago. He was for several years organist of St. Andrew's Church in Pittsburgh, prior to taking up his present duties.

Although she has two artificial limbs Mrs. Ella M. Johnson, Denver, has driven an automobile for 18 years without an accident, and even won an auto race from Lincoln to Omaha in 1921 from 36 other contestants.

Mrs. Johnson lost both legs below the knees in a train accident when she was 10 years old. Undaunted by this she learned to drive and has traveled thousands of miles in many makes of cars.

Public lectures on such topics of common interest as the conservation of childhood, and birth control, and an unusual pageant, "The Luminous Shadow," which will present the history of osteopathy since its beginning in 1892 will be the features of the convention of the American Osteopathic Association which will be held here, July 23-30, according to Doctors D. L. Clark, president of the organization, and Dr. C. C. Reid, in charge of the arrangement of the program.

The Denver Association expects 3,000 delegates to the convention. Among them will be some of the most prominent men and women of the profession in the United States. These will include Drs. C. F. Atzen, Nebraska; J. H. Styles, Jr., Kansas City, Mo.; Francis D. Eliscut, Philadelphia, Penn.; W. Curtis Brigham, Los Angeles, Calif.; Percy H. Woodall, Birmingham, Ala.; Evelyn R. Bush, Louisville, Ky.; and Jeanette Bolles, Denver, President of the Osteopathic Women's National Association.

Charlie Murray is one of the most sought after comedians wherever film notable gather. With his vast collection of humorous stories all retained in memory, Murray can surely vary to fit any occasion. Years on the road as a stage comedian and a retentive memory are responsible, he explains.

but anything from Russia until she learns to respect private property." But standard Oil brothers should not rebuke each other. Standard Oil mamma octopus allowed her child to be cut into little pieces, each now worth as much as the original mamma. She little dreamed that her children would quarrel. Big corporations fight privately, never in public. Leave that to rival labor unions.

A wise father lets his son do what he wants, within reason, for what a boy wants is, usually, what he can do best.

One of his boys liked music and wanted to lead a jazz band. Mr. Kahn said: "Go ahead and lead it." He knew the jazz band fit would not last long.

Now Mr. Kahn's youngest son, Figger, nineteen years old, has taken to flying. It is his own idea. Figger. That does not make his father and mother sleep more soundly, probably, but Mr. Kahn says: "Go ahead and fly."

If more Americans with money would let their boys fly—as thousands of normal American boys would like to fly—this country would soon lead the world in aviation.

France according to an American banker, "has so much money that French bankers hardly know what to do with it." Good news the greater French prosperity, the better for the world.

New York is also prosperous. "reservoirs of credit" are literally overflowing. There is a plethora of money.

Some people that try to borrow don't find it so, but the trouble may be with their collateral. You could borrow for stock speculation yesterday at 3 1/2 per cent. Stocks went up, General Motors again climbing to a "new high" of $71 a share above its price earlier in the year. But don't gamble. You'll be sorry.

The able Dudley Field Malone and his intellectual wife, who contracted after marriage to call herself "Miss Doris Stevens," decided on a divorce, and asks Paris to kindly provide one.

Friends say this brilliant intellectual couple "could not get along because they had equally strong minds." That unusual. As a rule the wife has the stronger mind does not let the husband know it and everything goes smoothly. That's the wise plan.

Postmaster-General New is to be congratulated on the suggestion of a mammoth post office building in New York to cost $30,000,000 and include ship landings on the roof. To those air landings fast elevators would carry the air mail and from the high roof the mail planes would be launched, as planes are launched from the decks of battleships. That's progress.

LET'S GO TO CHURCH

SPREAD GOD'S GOSPEL

(By REV. L. B. JONES)

There was a time when a business man simply hung a sign, giving his name and business, but that was almost a century ago. To attempt to do business today without publicity is like winking in the dark; you know what you are trying to do, but no one else does. "When a goose lays an egg," said Andrew Lang, "she just waddles off as if she was ashamed of it—because she is a goose. When a hen lays an egg—ah, she calls heaven and earth to witness it!" The hen is a natural-born advertiser. Hence the demand for hen's eggs exceeds the demand for goose eggs, and the hen has all the business she can attend to.

One of the chief duties of the church is to advertise—the good news everywhere. This advice runs all through the scriptures. Moses declares: "I will publish the name of the Lord; ascribe ye greatness to our God." Jeremiah proclaims it is the duty of the righteous to publish the goodness of God to all the nations, to set up a standard, to "publish and declare all that He has done for the Jews." Jesus Himself, announces the duty of His followers in His great commission: "Go ye into all the world and PROCLAIM the gospel to every creature." Again He says, "Constrain them to come in, that My house may be filled." It's a tragedy to have a church half empty when through judicious advertising it might be filled!

It is the church that has sustained whatever progress we have today. Without the church, your family would be unsafe. You and your neighbors would revert to the social condition of the cave men when the strongest arm, swinging the biggest club, took whatever its owner desired. It is religion that rules mankind. It is the backbone of our laws. It is the cornerstone of our faith in one another. It's our only hope.

It is the plain duty of every citizen of Greenville to attend the church. Are you doing your part? The church wants YOU—your presence—your interest in church enterprises. Prove yourself a good citizen, show your gratitude for the good things you have in life, by attending the church of your choice regularly.

I love thy church, O God! Her walls before thee stand, Dear as the apple of thine eye, And graven on thy hand. For her my tears shall fall; For her my prayers ascend; To her my cares and toils be given; Till toils and cares shall end. Don't knock and kick and slam and slap At everybody on the map; But push and pull and boost and boom And use up all the standing room AT CHURCH NEXT SUNDAY!
