EIGHT KILLED BY EXPLOSION AT COAL MINE

Eight Men Also Reported Missing in Disaster at Kentucky Coal Co. Mine

Clay, Ky., Aug. 4.—(AP)—Hope of the death list resulting from an explosion here yesterday in the number 7 mine of the West Kentucky Coal Company eventually totaling less than sixteen was abandoned today by officials. Eight bodies had been recovered and rescue crews worked at full speed in order that nothing be left undone toward saving eight other miners remaining unaccounted for and believed dead. Rescue crews continued to work in relays, bracing the damaged workings and forcing fresh air into the passageways. Preparations were made to give attention and nourishment to any of the missing men saved.

The known dead: Manly Gobin, married, Charlie Harper, single, Burgess Harper, single, Luther Melton, married, Boyd Lane, married, Jas. Myers, married, Arthur Shelton, married, an unidentified man.

The missing: George Coleman, Mark Townsend Corbett Tabor, Wes Carter, negro, Corbett Tabor, Wes Carter, negro, Russell, John Dogan, negro, John Clark, Boss Money, Ada Chanekin, negro.

The blast occurred in the heading of the West pit just beyond the No. 7 shaft a half mile from the No. 7 entry. No sooner had the disaster become known than authorities summoned a federal bureau of mine trains with first aid and equipment from Sturgis. The nineteen-mile run was made in thirty six minutes. In addition to the government and Clay groups, first aid crews came from Providence, Madisonville, Lexington, and Norton, Ky.

Of the 150 miners in the workings when the disaster occurred, all except sixteen made their way to the surface without suffering injury. The emphasized the violence of the explosion which made the work of rescue parties tedious.

The first shift of men that entered the mine after the explosion encountered gas fumes. Eight members of the party were overcome, but all were revived.

James Meyers, whose body was the first discovered after dawn today, survived an explosion in the same mine ten years ago in which sixty seven other men were killed. Six other bodies were brought to the mine opening at 3 o'clock this morning while an eighth, found at 8 o'clock, remained in the workings while rescue workers pushed forward permitting the removal of the body to await the outcome of their efforts and to learn the fate of the missing.

Clay, Ky., Aug. 4.—(AP)—Three unidentified bodies were found early today by rescue workers in the number 7 mine of the West Kentucky Coal Company, where an explosion occurred yesterday. The total number of known dead was eight with nine still missing.

Positive identifications have been made of the bodies of James Myers, 60, George Cole, Mark Townsend and Arthur Shelton, all found yesterday. The three bodies discovered today were those of miners in the list of twelve men from whom the rescue workers are pushing their search.

The explosion yesterday occurred on the tenth entry of the mine and the four bodies found on the seventh level. The rescue workers were hampered in their progress as all the batties of the pit shaft were destroyed in the explosion.

They were ordered to construct new batties as they went down into the pit and had progressed as far as the eighth level. The twelve men who are missing were believed to be on the tenth level where the explosion occurred. Little hope is held that they are alive.

The air in the mine was reported to be bad and Byrd Sampson one of the forty one rescue workers was overcome by after damp. He was brought to the surface and revived through first aid treatment. No fire has been discovered thus far.

Wright Attends International Meet at Toronto

R. H. Wright, president of the Eastern Carolina Teachers College, left today for Toronto, Canada, where he will attend the meeting of the world federation of education associations.

Mr. Wright is a delegate of the National Education Association. He is one of the fifty members appointed from various districts throughout the United States to attend the international meeting. He expects to return to Greenville about the middle of August.

Ford's Something Ahead.
30,000,000 in 30 Years.
A Trust in Himself.
Gen. Motors, Steel, DuPont.
(By Arthur Brisbane)
Copyright 1927, by Star Co.)

Happy the man with "something else and something bigger to do." Henry Ford told Detroit reporters on his sixty-fourth birthday: "The biggest job of my life is ahead."

The word "ahead" is what counts. When everything is behind them, men wither and die at the top, as the trees do.

The big job ahead to which Ford alludes is making automobiles. In less than nineteen years Henry Ford has built 15,000,000 automobiles of his "model T" type. His new job is to build 16,000,000 automobiles of a different, better kind, in much less than nineteen years.

Mr. Ford says he doesn't want to take business from any other concern. Unless every man building a good car is prosperous the industry is on a wrong basis. Mr. Ford wants to build 15,000,000 more light cars, low in price, faster and more powerful than the old car. He is also working on a new 1,000 horsepower air cooled airplane motor to run his new super multiple engine airplane, built to carry 100 passengers.

In addition Ford is planning to put out a new heavy power truck to sell at a low price and haul four tons or more. He is increasing the engine power of his tractor, running his railroad, operating lumber works, coal mines, iron mines, steel works, and does not neglect his big Lincoln car. You might say that at 64 years of age, he is busy enough to make life interesting. The busier, the better, work means youth.

Our government, as solemn as any that ever locked the barn door a little late, will "quit" the big steel company, General Motors and the giant DuPont De Nemours Company. Government suspects that they are combining. If so, all the better for them and this country. The bigger our business the better the nation can compete with other nations, and the better for the American people.

MUCH INTEREST IN DOLLAR DAY

Merchants Making Unusual Preparations For Great Trade Event.

Advertising matter has already been issued for "Dollar Day" to be put on in Greenville August 9th by thirteen members of the Greenville Merchants Association, according to information issued from association headquarters this morning.

"Dollar Day" this year will surpass anything put on by local merchants in many years, it was stated today. Preparations for the event have been under way the past several days, and when doors of the thirteen participating merchants swing open next Tuesday morning, the buying public will be offered countless bargains in virtually every line imaginable.

The Merchants Association is giving more than usual time and attention to the great trade day, and considerable advertising matter graphically portraying the offerings to be placed on the counters during the day, has been distributed in all parts of the trade territory.

Names of the merchants taking part in Dollar Day appear in an advertisement appearing in the columns of this paper today.

Farmville Woman Dies in Richmond

Mrs. Myrtle Keel Bynum, 48, of Farmville, passed away at the Memorial hospital in Richmond yesterday afternoon at five o'clock. Death followed an operation and illness of several weeks.

Funeral services will be conducted from the Methodist church at Farmville tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock. Interment will be made in the Farmville cemetery.

Mrs. Bynum is survived by seven children, Mrs. Sidney M. Morris, of Winston-Salem, Miss Ethel Bynum, of Wilson, Miss Nancy Bynum of Farmville, Mrs. Fred P. Bynum of Greenville, James P. and Pete Bynum of Greenville, and Charles E. Bynum, of Constantinople, Turkey.

SAY COOLIDGE NOT OUT FOR RENOMINATION

Opinion Prevails That President Has Eliminated Himself From The White House.

Rapid City, S. D., Aug. 4.—The opinion that President Coolidge's statement that he does not choose to run for President in 1928 might have more than one meaning dwindled further in the summer capital today and the belief had become almost positive that he has unequivocally eliminated himself from occupancy of the White House after March 4, 1929.

Several reasons for this belief come most prominently to the fore in Rapid City. First, it is pointed out, Mr. Coolidge could scarcely have used any other than the word "choose" in making his pronouncement and still keep the country from thinking him to be presumptive to the extent of believing the nomination next year actually was his. Had he said: "I will not run for President in 1928" he would have presumed, it is held, that the Republican convention would nominate him. It is argued further that if Mr. Coolidge had said, "I will not be candidate for the Republican nomination in 1928," the same controversy would have arisen with the belief that the President was merely declaring himself not a candidate but that he would decline the nomination if forced upon him.

Second, it is declared by those in regular touch with the President that by his statement Mr. Coolidge closed the door to pledged delegates from some States which hold their primary election before the national convention. In those States, it is necessary for an aspirant to certify himself in order to make a primary election result legal. It is held that if the President had any desire to continue in the White House, he would not have gone out of his way to eliminate himself in these elections.

Third, it is pointed out that the statement could in no way be construed as leaving the President in an easy position to go one way or another in the event the nomination was tendered him. It is held that in the final analysis, when the time came for him to accept or reject the renomination the choice would be up to him and since he already has made his choice not to run, that there was little reason to hold he would reach a different conclusion.

In addition, the President by making his pronouncement was held to have tacitly assented to any other individual declaring himself a candidate and seeking support, because when he made his choice he must have appreciated that he could not expect the field to remain closed to others who do choose to run for President.

Mrs. Elks Buried Near Cox's Mill This Afternoon

Mrs. Myrtle Elks, 29, died this morning at one o'clock following an illness of several weeks.

Funeral services will be conducted this afternoon at 2 o'clock at her late home in the Cox Mill section by Rev. L. B. Jones, pastor of the Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church. Burial will follow in the Henry Jordan Williams burying ground near Cox Mill.

Besides a husband, William Roy Elks, the deceased is survived by a mother, Mrs. S. A. Evans, three sisters, Mrs. Lillie Duke and Mrs. Eva Duke, of Washington and Mrs. Ella Webster, of Grimesland. She was a member of the Washington Methodist Church.

Mine President Killed Today

Columbus, O., Aug. 4.—(AP)—Difference of opinion regarding the operation of the Lick Run Mine near Nelsonville, resulted today in the killing of C. J. Merz, president of the Lick Run company. Jim McManaway, Merz's son in law, surrendered to county authorities declaring he had killed Merz in self defense.

McManaway had approved the proposed union of miners and held office in the local union organization. Merz had been operating the mine on a non-union basis. The killing was regarded by authorities as a personal affair and not indicative of a flare up between workers and union adherents.

ANARCTIC TRIP TO COST HUGE SUM OF MONEY

Byrd's Scientific Expedition to be one of Most Stupendous Trips in History.

New York, Aug. 4.—(AP)—The New York Evening Post today says Commander Richard E. Byrd's scientific expedition to the Antarctic promises to be one of the most stupendous undertakings in history and will cost about a quarter of a million dollars.

This Commander Byrd admitted is an extraordinary large sum, but declared it really a very conservative one measured against the size of the expedition, the distance the supplies will have to be transported and the fact that two, and perhaps three, years will be required for its completion.

Commander Byrd said that Edsel Ford will not be the sole backer of the expedition. He said conferences have been arranged with other men who have expressed a desire to back it financially.

The Commander declined to reveal the names of the projected backers. What is more important, he said, is the extensive preparations that must be made before the fight to the South Pole, which, in itself, will not take more than a dozen hours or so.

At the major base in Discovery Bay a miniature city of thirty persons will be constructed. Portable houses will be brought from Norway to serve as homes and workshops for the scientists, mechanics, and fliers who will comprise the community.

The houses will be provided with telephones, and heat will be furnished by coal and oil. A radio station, operating on a short wavelength is expected to maintain communication with the United States. An airfield will be erected at the edge of the city for the housing of the two planes that will be used in the expedition.

There will be no automobiles in the expedition, but there will be several small tractors for towing the planes to the runways and for the transportation of supplies.

A large amount of canned goods will be taken along but the party expects to depend for meat on birds, polar bears and other Antarctic animal life.

Commander Byrd said he and Floyd Bennett, his pilot on his flight to the North Pole, have been working on plans for the last three weeks and have made remarkable progress.

National Airway Expected to Be Operating Soon

Washington, Aug. 4.—(AP)—A national airway from New York to Atlanta is expected by the commerce department to be in operation before winter.

The preliminary survey of that section of the route between Richmond and New York has been completed by August 15.

Specifications are now being prepared for the installation of beacons and the clearing of intermediate landing fields on the northern half, upon which bids will be asked shortly. This will be followed by similar action when the results of the survey on the southern half have been summarized.

Governor Fuller Declines To Intervene In Fate Of Italians Doomed to Death

Boston, August 4.—(AP)—Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti showed no outward signs of dismay when informed this morning of Governor Fuller's decision not to interfere in their case.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 4.—(AP)—Exactly one week from today Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti's seven year battle to escape death for murder, which has had echoes in every country on the globe, will end in the electric chair at the Charleston state prison unless their counsel can discover an avenue of appeal to the Federal courts. That possibility is admittedly a slender one.

Governor Alvan T. Fuller last night in a 2,500 word decision definitely closed their last hope of escape through intervention of the Judicial or executive branches of the Government of the Commonwealth, by rejecting their plea for clemency.

The Governor declared he concurred with the jury which tried them in 1921, in the belief they were the murderers of Frederick A. Parmenter, South Braintree paymaster and Alessandro Berardelli, his guard. He further asserted that the trial of the two had been fair and just and that he saw no reason for granting them a rehearing.

"As the result of my study of the records and my personal investigation of the case, including my interviews with a large number of witnesses, I believe with the jury that Sacco and Vanzetti were guilty and that the trial was fair," declared Governor Fuller at the conclusion of his long review of the case.

"This crime was committed seven years ago, for six years, through dilatory methods, one appeal after another, every possibility for delay has been utilized, all of which lends itself to attempts to frighten and force witnesses, to influence changes in testimony, to multiply by the years of time elapsed the possibilities of error and confusion."

"It might be said that by undertaking this investigation I have contributed to the elaborate consideration accorded these men. My answer is that there was a feeling on the part of some people that the various delays that had dragged this case through the courts for six years were evidence that doubt existed as to the guilt of these two. The feeling was not justified. The persistent, determined efforts of an attorney of extraordinary versatility and industry, the Judge's illness, the election efforts of three district attorneys and dilatoriness on the part of most of those concerned are the principal causes of delay. The delays that have dragged this case out for six years are inexcusable."

"This task of review has been a laborious one and I am proud to be associated in this public service with clear eyed witnesses, unafraid to tell the truth, and with jurors who discharged their obligations in accordance with their convictions and their oaths."

"Asserting he had realized at the outset of his inquiry that there were many sober minded and conscientious men and women who were genuinely troubled about the guilt or innocence of the accused and the fairness of their trial," Governor Fuller described the care he has given to the selection of the special commission composed of President Abbott Lawrence Lowell of Harvard University, former Judge Robert Grant and President Samuel W. Stratton of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, which "arrived unanimously at a conclusion wholly in accord with mine."

"The court proceedings in this case may be divided into two parts: the statement continued, "first, the trial before the jury with Judge Thayer presiding; second, the hearing on the succession of motions for a new trial which were addressed to the Judge and passed upon by him. All of these proceedings have been attacked by some of the friends of the accused men and their counsel."

"The attacks on the jury take two forms—first, it is asserted that the men are innocent and there was not sufficient evidence before the jury to justify and finding of guilt second it is asserted that the trial itself was unfair. The attacks on the proceedings and on the motions for a new trial are in substance that the Judge was biased and unable to give the motions fair and impartial consideration."

"I have consulted with every member of the jury now alive, eleven in number. They considered the Judge fair—I see no evidence of prejudice in his conduct of the trial."

Governor Fuller was not present when, shortly before midnight his secretary Herman A. MacDonald, gave to newspapermen the typewritten sheets that spelled doom for the internationally known radicals.

"The chief executive, plainly worn by the rigors of the long investigation and by the almost constant application in the past few days to the formulation of his decision, declined to be interviewed. He left the state house about nine o'clock."

"I am very tired," he said, "I will have no further statement. The decision will speak for itself."

Crowds which had watched news paper bulletin boards throughout the night for the announcement received the news with scarcely a murmur. Only the anticipatory whisper of "die," ran through the gatherings as the words, "Sacco and Vanzetti must," were chalked on the back grounds.

GENEVA NAVAL CONFERENCE BROUGHT TO END FOLLOWING FAILURE TO REACH DECISION

TWENTY-FIVE DROWN IN BRIDGE COLLAPSE

Mexico City, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Twenty-five persons gathered on a bridge to watch the swollen waters of the Contepec River after a cloud-burst near Sam-miguel, were drowned as the bridge collapsed yesterday, say special dispatches from Zitacuaro, state of Michoacan. The bodies were carried off by the rushing waters and efforts by scores of men to recover them were fruitless.

Crops in the San Miguel district were destroyed by the cloud burst.

American Delegate Makes Final Address Before Adjournment Occurred Today.

Washington, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Hope of the Washington government that the efforts for further naval limitations which failed today at Geneva can be resumed at an early date was indicated in a formal statement issued today by Secretary Kellogg.

Geneva, Switzerland, Aug. 4.—(AP)—The tri-partite naval conference came to an unsuccessful end today. After nearly seven weeks of discussion the delegates of the United States, Great Britain and Japan found themselves unable to reach an agreement on the limitation of cruisers, destroyers, and submarines which was the object of the conference.

The end came after Hugh S. Gibson, chief of the American delegation had made the final address of the session, the conference adopting a joint declaration adjourning the conference sine die.

The immediate adjournment came after a vote of thanks had been adopted for Mr. Gibson, the motion being made by W. C. Bridgeman, chief of the British delegation, seconded by Admiral Viscount Jellicoe of Japan.

In his final address to the conference denouncing the American position, Mr. Gibson head of the American delegation pointed out that the invitation to the conference by President Coolidge left no room for doubt as to the nature of the proposal the American delegation would make. These proposals, he said, had been formulated strictly in the spirit of the invitation and he recalled that the Japanese had indicated willingness to negotiate on the basis of minimum figures suggested by the American delegation.

"From the first, however, we encountered a serious difficulty in the claim of the British government that it needed a considerably larger number of cruisers than it now possesses," Mr. Gibson said.

He added that while the British claim had been defended on the ground of absolute naval needs of the empire the American delegation never had been able to reconcile "the concession of absolute naval needs with the negotiations of a treaty to fix limitation on the basis of mutual concession."

"Further," he said, "we have not yet been able to understand why, in a time of profound peace and at the moment that we are seeking to reduce the burdens of naval expenditures, the British government considers a considerable program of naval expansion as an absolute and even a vital necessity."

Calling attention to the British suggestion for strict limitation of the larger type of cruisers armed with eight inch guns and for limiting all smaller craft to six inch guns, Mr. Gibson said the smaller ships would be of relatively small use to the United States for lack of cruising radius and protection.

"The immediate and obvious result of acquiescing in these British proposals," he maintained, "would have been that the British empire what it desired and that we, on the other hand, would be restrained from building what we considered we might need, and yet the tonnage levels insisted on by the British empire would result in a substantial increase over present strength."

London, Aug. 4.—(AP)—A Geneva dispatch to Reuters's, the British news agency, says the tri-partite conference plenary session today closed in the friendliest manner after a few complimentary words by the heads of the British and Japanese delegations in favor of Hugh S. Gibson, chief of the American delegation, who returned his thanks.

Geneva, Aug. 4.—(AP)—A last moment attempt was made by Great Britain today to rescue something from the wreckage of the tri-partite naval conference when W. C. Bridgeman chief British delegate, proposed an agreement restricted to destroyers and submarines.

Hugh S. Gibson, head of the American delegation declined to entertain this suggestion, which was presented at a secret session of the plenipotentiaries held at the mid-day, on the ground that the United States considered the limitation of cruisers, destroyers and submarines as one indivisible whole.

The reason the average man can't tell a woman anything is because she would rather talk than listen.

TELLS STORY OF KILLING AT HICKORY, N. C.

Tom Jacobs Tells Police That Manly Justice Killed Williams.

Hickory, N. C., Aug. 4.—(AP)—Tom Jacobs was arrested about noon today in Charlotte by rural police and has told the whole story of the murder of Earl Williams on the highway here last Monday afternoon, according to information reaching the Hickory police today.

Justice was not yet been captured but local authorities say they have a new clue which they hope to run down before night. It is understood that they believe he is in the South Mountain district.

Chief of Police Lantz said this afternoon that the capture of Jacobs would help in clearing up one of the biggest mysteries he has worked on in a long time. He hopes to learn why Williams if that is his real name, told until the last that he was shot by a negro.

Hickory, N. C., Aug. 4.—(AP)—A deeper mystery surrounded the bold daylight murder of Earl Williams who was fatally shot near here last Monday afternoon when he was announced today by Chief of Police E. W. Lantz, that he has been utterly unable to identify the body of the dead man or get further trace of his slayers. He doubts now that the man's name is Williams at all.

The body is being held in a local undertaking establishment and this city is beginning to experience a taste of Raleigh's excitement when the population turned out in an effort to establish the identity of her unknown bandit not long ago.

The curious of nature are beginning to struggle in to take a look at the man who was mortally shot Monday afternoon on the public highway while a number of persons calmly looked on.

Chief Lantz has the names of the two men who will be charged with murder if they are caught, but he is not giving out those names to the public. He says now that it is just a matter of persistently searching. New clues are being developed and run down but nothing definite has been learned of their whereabouts.

The dead man is about five feet ten inches tall, dark complexioned, long black hair which he brushed straight back, even features, a fresh scar on the left cheek, and weighed about 155 pounds. A distinguishing feature is his long black hair. No fingers or toes are missing.

Police have one clue that leads them to believe the man's name might be Fleming, but nothing definite has been established.

Robbery is about to be settled upon as the cause of the murder since it is known that he sold a car for $150 the day before and had more money besides, all of which was taken, but authorities are at a loss to understand why he told in a dying breath that he was shot by a negro. The case is one of the most mysterious this section has puzzled over in years.

DEMPSEY TO LEAVE FOR CHICAGO AUG. 15

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 4.—(AP)—Assured that his actress wife, Estelle Taylor was recovering rapidly from an illness that kept her in bed for two weeks, Jack Dempsey, today said he probably would be ready to leave for Chicago August 15 to start training for his fight there with Gene Tunney Sept. 22.

GEHRIG GETS THREE LEAD IN HOMER RACE

Baseball interest was divided today between the headlines of Miller Huggins' slugging circus, Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig and the Jeags racers. Banging out two homers in yesterday's double-header between the Yankees and Tigers, Gehrig became three up on the Babe in their heated circuit clout controversy. New York won the second game 6-5 by a four-run rally in the seventh, after Detroit had taken the opener 6-5.

Ruth, who is now four homers behind his mark for the same day of the 1921 season, when he set a record of 59 four baggers, had to be content with two hits in eight times at bat yesterday.

The Bambino laced out a long double in the second game but it was short of the center field wall. The Boston Red Sox occupied secondary interest in the American League. The bean town nosed out Chicago 2-1, on the strength of Ruffing's pitching and Rothrock's timely hitting. Boston now has won seven out of its last ten games and anything approaching this gait over a few more weeks should haul the Carrigan clan out of the cellar.

The Cleveland Indians were jilted twice yesterday by Philadelphia. Eddie Rommel, knuckle ball artist, beat the tribe by a 9-2 score in the opener while Rube Walberg obtained a 7-4 verdict in the wind-up.

Washington and the St. Louis Browns were halted by rain.

There was no change among the leaders in the National League pennant scramble. The Cubs knocked the ball all over the lot in beating the Boston Braves 12-1. Robertson, Wertz and Goldsmith were pounded hard by the Cub batters who collected 15 safe hits. Carlson was given good support and never was in real danger.

Paul Waner's home-run smash with two on the bases enabled Pittsburgh to down Philadelphia 9-6, and match strides with the pace setting Cubs. The Phils scored all their runs in the first four innings, hitting Kremer, Miljus and Crevros hard. Dawson took the mound and held the tail enders at bay.

Manager Wilbert Robinson shook up his batting order against the Cardinals at St. Louis but to no avail. The world's champions won by a 4-0 score. Jesse Haines being in rare form. The fielding of Frank Frisch and Jim Boak helped the big right-hander immeasurably. The New York Giants were set for a hard game with Cincinnati but rain prevented hostilities.

OUT OF KEELER'S GOLF BAG!

The Greatest Woman Golfer

(By O. B. Keeler)

Some say Miss Joyce Wethered is done with major competitive golf for good. Some say she may play again. You can take your choice.

Either way, she has done enough to leave her shining mark upon the record. She very likely is the greatest feminine player the game has seen, or perhaps will see in our day. Certainly her scoring achievements are incomparable in the realm of feminine golf. And her championships mostly have come along with an iron certitude, through her last combat in a major event with Miss Cecil Leitch was a tremendous affair that went into extra holes.

I never have seen Miss Wethered play golf. Jimmy Standish has seen her. Jimmy played a set match with her last summer at the No. 1 Gullane course, while the British amateur championship was in progress. Jimmy won. But he has no intention of playing her a return match.

"I'm satisfied to stop where I am," Jimmy told me that evening at the Marine hotel. "I shot a 71, which is as fast as I ever go these days, and I managed to beat her, 2-1. She had a 73. If she had been putting well she'd have been in the 60's. One hole, a par 3, of 230 yards, she took her spoon and spanked the ball four feet past the pin. Then she missed the putt, I'm contented. They tell me she plays golf a lot with Roger, her brother, and beats him as often as he beats her.

Roger Wethered, by the way, is a former British amateur champion. In 1921 he tied with Jock Hutchinson for the British open title, losing in the play-off.

I've never seen Miss Wethered play. But I walked a good deal with her in the galleries at Muirfield and St. Andrews and Sunningdale, and she talks like a very thoughtful and sensible golfer. At Sunningdale she was watching Bobby Jones in the second of his tremendous rounds of 66 and 69 qualifying for the British open championship. Miss Wethered was carrying an umbrella—good big one, very red. It was no training, but in England it is likely to almost any time. She was employing the umbrella as a golf club taking practice swings with it from time to time discreetly back of the mass of the gallery.

"I've been watching the way he starts the club back in his iron shots," said Miss Wethered speaking of Bobby. "The left side seems to start the motion and the hands seem to move a bit before the club, and the head of the club follows the ground quite a long way back. I've learned something that will help me."

I told Miss Wethered, feelingly that if she really had learned something that would help her I was sorry for her future opponents. She is a serious girl and disclaimed the compliment with a quick nod, immediately reverting to her new idea and illustrating it with the umbrella. Half an hour later I saw her well behind the gallery on No. 10, swinging the umbrella vigorously, after watching Bobby play his iron shot to the upland green.

The greatest of feminine golfers seems to be a keen student of the game. And she's a fine, sedate English girl.

FLORIDA WOMEN TO STAGE BALL GAME

Avon Park, Fla., Aug. 4.—(AP)—In overall, members of the business women's clubs of Sebring and Avon Park will stage a baseball game midway between the towns this afternoon with Mrs. Elizabeth Bayard, Tampa postmistress, as umpire.

Friendly rivalry existing between the two clubs prompted the event, which has attracted considerable interest in this immediate section.

Rickard Says Planned Fight For Chicago From Start

New York, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Tex Rickard let New York know today that he had planned to hold the Gene Tunney-Jack Dempsey fight at Chicago ever since Dempsey lost his title last year at Philadelphia and that the local ballyhoo was doomed to failure from the start.

The promoter related that Governor Len Small, who was at the ringside in Philadelphia, had told him the next heavyweight championship contest "must come to Chicago." From then on Rickard said, he fully intended to hold the bout in Chicago.

"I hope that this will be the last big fight I will have to take out of New York," said Rickard. "By this time next year I hope to have an open air arena with a seating capacity of 150,000 persons."

Rickard appeared relieved at Dempsey's acceptance of September 22 as the ultimate date. His estimate of a $1,000,000 advance sale today was based on $875,000 of checked advance orders which had been opened in his Madison Square Garden office. Rickard will return to Chicago Sunday to arrange for the printing and distributing of tickets.

PITCHING ACE OF MINOR LEAGUES

BEAR CAT "CANTWELL"

Jacksonville, Fla.—(AP)—"Bear Cat" Ben Cantwell, the fans call him, and he is the pitching ace of the minor leagues.

Twenty-three victories and only three defeats—one of these as a relief pitcher sent into the breach too late—is his record. He started the 1927 campaign with 11 straight wins.

Cantwell pitches for the Jacksonville Tars, of the Southeastern

League, Class B. His long string of victories has placed the team far in the lead for the pennant. As many as eight major league scouts have watched him work in a single afternoon this season. A number of offers have been made, but President Charles B. Griner, of the club, is sticking to his price of $25,000.

The "Bear Cat" is 25 years old and weighs 165 to 170 pounds, and is

Salisbury Back In First Place Piedmont Loop

Raleigh, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Salisbury was back in the Piedmont league lead today after a day's tie with Winston-Salem and the credit went to pitcher Huffman who did the iron man stunt by handing Durham two defeats in a single afternoon.

Winston-Salem again scored a shut-out, this time at the expense of Raleigh, giving the Twins a string of 33 consecutive innings they have not been scored on.

Ray's homer in the last half of the ninth gave High Point a 3-2 win over Rocky Mount.

six feet, one inch tall. This is his third year in professional baseball. He set a pace for southern college nines during his four years as a science student in the University of Tennessee.

In 1923 he was with the Paris year found him playing semi-pro ball in the Pennsylvania coal fields. In 1925 he returned to the University as baseball coach. Last year Cantwell was with the Sanford club of the Florida State League and turned in a record of 27 victories (including nine straight wins) and five defeats.

Cantwell's right arm has a world of steam. He couples this with a fair assortment of curves and is considered a "heady" pitcher. He averages four or five strikeouts a game.

The big pitcher has an easy, confident delivery. Only a jerk of the body as the ball leaves his hand mars the appearance of almost perfect coordination of mind and muscle. Tommy McMillan, former Brooklyn Dodger and now manager of the Tars, is devoting much time in tutoring Cantwell and now has him hitting above the 300 mark.

Why should I keep it to myself?

AS THE song had it,—"but I won't be happy, till I make you happy, too." I want you to share with me the joy of a pipe and Prince Albert. I may be prejudiced, but I don't believe you can find the brand of pipe-joy I'm talking about in any other way.

Why, the very moment you open the tidy red tin and breathe that glorious P. A. aroma, you know—then and there—you are going to like this tobacco, and like it lots. And, if you still have the slightest doubt, it will vanish the instant you taste the smoke itself.

Cool as a March rain beating against the window-pane. Sweet as the flowers that attract the honey-bees. Mild as the greeting of a rival—mild, but with that full tobacco body that makes the perfectly balanced smoke. A whole world of satisfaction in every single puff.

Prince Albert has pleased more pipe-smokers than any other tobacco before or since. You can ask any jimmy-piper. But the way to really know is to buy yourself a tidy red tin, tuck a load into your pipe, and light up. That's better than anybody's opinion.

—the national joy smoke!

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, pound and half-pound tin holders, and pound crystal-glass humidors with sponge-moistener top. And always with every bit of bite and punch removed by the Prince Albert process.

BOWLING-CARPER

Mrs. John LaMar Carper announces the marriage of her daughter Mary Moye to

Mr. Leslie Harold Bowling on Wednesday, August the third nineteen hundred and twenty-seven Raleigh, North Carolina

At Home after August the twentieth. Two hundred and ten East Green Street High Point, North Carolina.

A lovely surprise marriage of much interest to friends in Greenville and throughout the State, was solemnized in the parlor of the Sir Walter Hotel at Raleigh Wednesday morning at nine o'clock, when Miss Mary Moye Carper, only daughter of the late John L. Carper and Mrs. Carper, of Greenville, N. C., became the bride of Mr. Leslie H. Bowling, of High Point, N. C.

The bride, never more lovely, attired in a traveling suit of beige crepe satin with accessories to match, and wearing a corsage of pink roses and valley lilies, entered with the groom.

The marriage vows were given by Rev. R. J. Bamber, pastor of the Eighth Street Christian church of Greenville, N. C., in the presence of a few close relatives and friends.

Immediately after the ceremony, beautiful in its simplicity, Mr. and Mrs. Bowling left via automobile for a tour of Western North Carolina and Tennessee, after which they will be at home in High Point, N. C.

NEW NEWSPAPER FOR GREENVILLE

It has been rumored around that there is a possibility of some one starting a new paper for Greenville. We do not know about this, but since some one has asked us about it, we have decided to take the matter up with "Dave" and if he is willing to rent us part of his space in the Reflector, we may try to help him head off this competition. We will try to issue part of a column as often as necessary and will decide on the name of "it" later. We will call it the "Mirror" or something like that with the additional slogan "Chronicler of the neglected truth." "T. A." has a good paper but we feel like he needs some help, he wastes much valuable space on some of his write-ups. We remember one of the most important store openings in the history of Greenville and he gave those fellows a whole two-inch write-up, this may be all right, but it does look like one inch would have been sufficient, especially since they do not have all of their "departments" partitioned off. Just you enter their store you find yourself in a beautiful lobby, or "lounge" (without the lounges) and one is almost overcome with the "architectural splendor" of the interior of the main part of the building. As you wander back through the aisles of their magnificent store fitted with solid mahogany display cases, manufactured in our own North Carolina, you are confronted with their "repair department" or "Charlie's window" which is being used as a stand for the electric fan at present). The other "departments" are concealed behind a very beautiful partition constructed of the best grade of "Beaver Board" and consists of shipping, engraving, jewelry repair and watch repair departments and the "general office." But to say nothing of the store other than a description of the merchandise it is stocked with, would fill a column. There is not a more beautiful stock of silverware, jewelry and watches to be found anywhere in the state than at Tolar's. "The new and better jewelers."—(Adv.)

DISTRICT MEETING CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR HAS BEEN POSTPONED

Falkland, N. C.—The Northeastern District Christian Endeavor leaders' conference, which was to have been held in Greenville this week-end at the invitation of the Young Peoples' City Union, has been indefinitely postponed. This decision was reached by those promoting the conference when it was found that a number of the leaders and speakers who were expected to take part on the program, had found it impossible to be present just at this time. The district officers and leaders desire to express their sincere gratitude to the Young Peoples' City Union and to all those people of Greenville who were co-operating to make the conference a success.

ENTERTAINS AT BRIDGE

Bethel, Aug. 4—On Tuesday evening, from 8 to 11 o'clock, Mrs. S. C. Ives delightfully entertained the members of her bridge club. The house was beautifully decorated with ferns and cut flowers. Attractive tallies aided the guests in finding their places at the tables arranged for bridge. After several progressions high score prize was presented to Mrs. W. J. Bundy. The hostess, assisted by Miss Olive Jones served a tempting frozen salad course.

The out-of-town guests were Mrs. Francis Price, of Tampa; Mrs. C. E. Willis, of Weldon; Miss Jennie Whitt Congleton, of Stokes; and Miss Congleton's house guest, Miss Bridgers.

America May Be Hard Pressed To Retain Davis Cup

New York—(AP)—Is America's Davis cup team of this year facing the fate which befell Uncle Sam's representatives back in 1914? After scanning the present tennis horizon it wouldn't be at all surprising were the famous trophy to go to a European invading force, just as it did 13 years ago.

In 1914, it will be recalled, Australia, led by the famous Anthony Wilding and Norman Brooks swept the United States pastimers aside in one of the most thrilling and hotly contested tussles in the history of the famous classic.

That year Wilding whipped Dick Williams, and so did Brooks. Wilding and Brooks also defeated America's sensational duo, Tom Bundy and Maurice McLaughlin, in the doubles.

McLaughlin, then famed as the "California Comet," saved America from a debacle by beating both Wilding and Brooks in the singles. The challenge round ended: Australia 3, United States 2.

Australia this season sent over one of the greatest invading teams ever to compete for the cup. Wilding and Brooks were two of the outstanding players in tennis annals. As a pair they were virtually invincible.

That was the last time the two Australians ever played together. Rumblings of the war were being heard at the time. Upon their return to their native land Wilding and Brooks both entered the service. Wilding was killed soon after reaching the front. Brooks came through unscathed. Several years ago he essayed a come back, but the once great racketeer was only a shell of his old self.

That 1914 reverse was the last an American entry met in Davis cup competition. Six years later Tilden and Johnston won back the coveted trophy, beating Australia 5 to 0. America has since retained the laurels, defeating Australia, Japan and France during the intervening six seasons.

Last year the French stars, Lacoste, Borotra, Brugnon and Cochet, extended the Americans, but won only one of the five matches. This season the French menace again looms. In fact the American team seems certain to encounter its severest test since Wilding and Brooks crashed through to victory 13 years ago.

With its two veterans, Tilden and Johnston, admittedly past their prime, and Richards no longer eligible, the United States has anything but a rosy prospect of maintaining its long international supremacy.

Asks Damages For Arm Broken In Ring Battle

atertown, N. Y.—(AP)—When a boxer breaks his arm while punching his opponent's head, is the organization sponsoring the bout liable under the workmen's compensation act?

That knotty question arose when William Simpson who is a clerk in daily life, asked compensation for injury suffered in a boxing exhibition in the Knights of Columbus gymnasium.

Simpson, who learned to box in the Army, maintained that he was employed by the Knights of Columbus for the exhibition. Therefore after he fractured his arm in whipping over a fast one to his opponents head he claimed that he was entitled to compensation as one of the organizations employees.

James Richardson, referee of the compensation court, said that he thought Simpson's petition might be granted under a clause in the insurance contract, protecting in the case of amusement as well as regular employment. He continued the case pending a more thorough examination of the contract.

His respiration was reported very labored last night, with stimulants being administered constantly. He was conscious for a time yesterday morning and told doctors he was feeling "very well."

NAVAL ALTITUDE RECORD MAKER SEEKS TO PERFECT OXYGEN TANK

Washington—(AP)—Altitude record making is only part of the task undertaken by Lieutenant Carleton C. Chapman, Jr., sky-climbing naval pilot who successfully brought down his plane the other day from an altitude which he placed at 47,000 feet or better with the motor flying apart and shooting flames.

He is trying to perfect the oxygen tank which makes it possible for aviators to breathe and remain conscious in the extremely rarified atmosphere six or seven miles above the earth.

When the oxygen tube was knocked out of his mouth on his recent flight, apparently by a flying part of his engine, he lost consciousness, but regained his faculties quickly enough to fight valiantly against the flames from his motor and to strive to save the precious barographs which had made a record of his ascent. One was demolished and the other damaged beyond usefulness, he fears, by the bursting motor, but he managed what the Navy Department describes as an "extremely fine" landing.

Chapman, born September 20, 1896, has been flying only five years, but he has put in more than 1,000 hours in the air in all types of crafts. Graduating at the Naval Academy in 1919, he served aboard the U. S. S. Michigan and Olympic in the Mediterranean, and then with the Destroyer squadrons and the Scouting fleet before taking the aviation course at Pensacola.

In the air meet at Philadelphia last September he won the speed and efficiency race and both the speed and the efficiency test in the transport race. He also established the world altitude record of 33,445 feet for single-seated fighting seaplanes at Hampton Roads last May 5 in the same plane, converted to a land type, which he brought down under such perilous conditions July 25. He has been designated alternate pilot for the Navy in the Schneider Cup race at Hampton Roads November 11.

Plan To Recall Four Members Of City Council

Greensboro, N. C., Aug. 4.—(AP)—A meeting will be held here tonight to launch petitions seeking the recall of four of the seven members of the present city council. The movement is reported to be the result of dissatisfaction expressed in certain quarters that the four men have not voted to carry out certain changes in the police and city manager departments of the city.

These changes, it is declared, were voted for at the city election recently. The councilmen whose recall will be sought are Mayor E. B. Jeffress, E. R. Ford, David White and W. M. Ridenhour. Approximately 1,200 signatures will be necessary before the recall election can be authorized.

EVANGELIST M. F. HAM IS SEVERELY INJURED

Dupham, Aug. 3.—Evangelist Mordecai Fowler Ham, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Oklahoma City, Okla., was seriously injured in an automobile accident there this afternoon, according to information received by Chorister William J. Ramsay, of the Cowell-Ramsay evangelistic organization now holding a series of meetings here.

The message stated that the doctors fear Mr. Ham had suffered a fracture of the skull and that at the time of the filing of the message it was too early to predict the outcome. Mr. Ham conducted a revival in Raleigh in January of 1923 and in Durham a little later.

J. Pluvius Wins Ball Game Here

The baseball game here yesterday afternoon between Washington and members of the local military unit was called in the third inning on account of rain. The score at that time stood 3-1 in favor of the visitors.

Brown did mound duty for the locals, and although hit opportunely the first two frames, he settled down and apparently had things going his way when rain interrupted.

The locals have several games on schedule for the month, and those who have followed play closely during the season will have ample opportunity of seeing the boys come back in old time form.

Captain Jones stated the first of the week that football practice of the artillerymen would begin immediately following the closing of baseball season. Material has already been ordered and will be here in ample time for gruelling practice to precede opening the gridiron season.

PLACE FOR PUP ON OCEAN FLIGHT

Bobby, pet dog of Ernest Udet, German flier, has trans-Atlantic ambitions. When Udet (upper left) tries an Atlantic air crossing Bobby he promises, shall go along.

Munich, Germany—(AP)—“Bobby” aspires to be the first dog to fly across the Atlantic.

The little bulldog is the inseparable companion of Ernest Udet, German war ace and stunt flyer, who has announced his intention of trying a trans-Atlantic flight in a Rohrbach hydro-aeroplane.

“If I go Bobby goes,” Udet says. “I could not think of leaving him behind. I tried that once and it nearly broke Bobby’s heart and mine, too. That was last winter, when I descended on a glide from the top of the Zugspitze, the highest peak in Germany, into a valley of the Tyrolean Alps. I’ll never forget Bobby’s look as he saw me take off without him.

“The next big stunt will do together. When I reach the other side of the Atlantic, you’ll find Bobby right there with me.”

REDISCOUNT RATE REDUCED
Washington, Aug. 4.—(AP)—The rediscout rates of the New York and Boston Federal Reserve banks will be reduced to three and one-half per cent from four per cent, it was announced today by the Federal Reserve Board.

The board approved application of the bank for permission to reduce the rediscout rates on all classes of paper of all maturities effective August 5.

Dr. Crissinger, governor of the Federal Reserve system declined to comment on the reduction which follows similar cuts by the Federal Reserve banks of Kansas City and St. Louis.

COTTON

New York, Aug. 4.—(AP)—The big decline of yesterday was followed by partial recoveries in the cotton market today, due to rallies in the markets abroad and rather a less favorable view of weather conditions. Recent sellers were evidently inclined to take profits after the break of the previous day and some rebuying was resorted to on the advances of approximately fifty points from yesterday’s closing quotations.

December contracts sold up to 17.71 and were ruling around 17.66 at mid-afternoon or about 44 to 48 points net higher.

Cotton futures closed 48 to 53 points higher. Spot steady; middling 17.45.

GRAIN

Chicago, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Higher temperatures northwest and continued black rust reports, together with corn market strength, rallied wheat prices today from early declines. Corn went upward on account of buying due to unfavorable crop comment from Iowa and other parts of the corn belt. On the other hand a leading corn crop authority here said that records of 22 years past showed little danger of killing frost until October 1.

Wheat closed firm 3-8 to 7-8 net higher; corn 7-8 to 1-2 up; cash showing 7-8 to 1 1-8 advance and provisions unchanged to a rise of 15 cents.

FOUND GUILTY IN FLOGGING CASE

Oneota, Ala., Aug. 4.—(AP)—Eugene Doss, today was found guilty of assault and battery and kidnapping by a jury in the Blount county circuit court in connection with the flogging of Jeff Calloway, a young youth, several weeks ago.

Trial was immediately begun of L. A. Clayton, another of the seven men indicted for whipping Calloway.

Judge O. A. Steele immediately sentenced Doss to eight to ten years in the State penitentiary.

The verdict came after 18 hours deliberation by the jury.

Horace Wilkinson, chief defense attorney, gave notice of appeal to the supreme court and bond was set at $5,000.00.

Is Saturday Really The Best Day To Shop?

Let’s all try a new kind of Saturday next week. Instead of leaving our shopping until the last minute do a bit each day and when Daddy gets home from work pack up a picnic basket and pile the youngsters into the car for a happy half holiday in the country.

Such a day will prove more soothing to your nerves than the usual mad scramble thru the stores, and in the years to come the kiddies will look back on it as one of the pleasantest memories of their childhood.

Suppose we who live in the city try to make Saturday afternoon our Country Day!

Daily News Letter

San Francisco.—(INS)—Although San Francisco's "Barbary Coast" has lost its aura of vice that once made it known around the world, it is still worthy of a casual visit.

Swinging doors that once led into to run shops still breathe into the street a reeking miasma of strong drink. Prohibition has not entirely weakened this spirituous effluvia.

Driven from their occupation of shoeing horses by the inroads of automobiles and tractors, several San Francisco blacksmiths have taken up art.

Antique shops are as numerous as chain grocery stores in San Francisco, Oakland and Berkeley. Probably no three cities in the country their size can boast so many of these exclusive little shops.

Lovers of risqué literature can easily fill their wants in San Francisco. Italian and French classics which the customs department has lately looked over dubiously are openly offered for sale by book-sellers here.

What has been called the "most superb urban landscape in the world"—San Francisco bay and the great cities fringing upon it—spreads out before one from a number of coigns of vantage in San Francisco and Berkeley.

Stockholders of N. C. Railroad At Morehead City. Morehead City, N. C., Aug. 4.—(AP)—Stockholders of Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad met here today in annual session for routine business, appointment of directors and election of officers.

Gov. McLean, who appoints the officers and directors, was represented by proxy by W. R. Allen, of Goldsboro.

Wm. S. Moye, Rocky Mount, formerly with the State Department of Revenue has been mentioned as a candidate for the office of president or secretary of the railroad. He has also been mentioned in connection with the new management of the State fair.

Recommendations of the Governor have not been made public, though Mrs. John D. Langston, Goldsboro, has announced her appointment as one of the eight directors.

Walter LaRouque, Kinston, is president of the road and Stacy Erewer, Vass, secretary.

NEGRO KILLED IN STREET CAR FIGHT. Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 4.—(AP)—A negro was dead and a street car motorman in a hospital with bullet wounds in his leg following a gun battle on a street car early today when two negroes became unruly on the car and one of them attacked the motorman with a knife.

Henry Ford should have written on his tombstone, may it be sixty-four years from now. "Here lies a man who built enough automobiles to carry at one time all the people in the United States and fifty millions more in other countries, raising prices and raising wages the same time."

has charged them. Mussolini wants to keep Italians in the country and proposes a bill to prevent starting factories in big cities. Factory owners object. Three things in a factory, money, intelligence and labor. Money and intelligence plant factories where labor is plentiful and cheap.

Flying machines, eventually will carry out Mussolini's idea. Men will work in great central factories and fly away to homes on the hills, as fowl go fishing at sea level and fly back to the high rocks. The human race will be better off when it becomes a flying race. There's a great difference between a hop-toad and a bird.

Men that exploit forests, stripping earth of its trees and soil of its fertility, are reported to be changing their tactics. They have found that instead of chopping, slashing, then moving on, it pays to adopt the European method, treat the forest as a crop, felling big trees protecting and preserving little ones.

Lumbermen now cut and use 25 BILLION CUBIC FEET which means twelve times as many lined feet equivalent to a board one inch thick, twelve inches wide, three hundred billion feet long. The new lumbering method is more important to future generations than any other news of this century.

Second Primary In Mississippi Appears Certain

Jackson, Miss., Aug. 4.—(AP)—With fifty nine precincts in 12 counties still missing, a second primary in the Mississippi democratic gubernatorial race seems certain this morning. As the last scattered returns came in the figures stood: Theodore G. Bilbo, 127,356; Governor Dennis Murphree 68,868; Coroner 53,791; and Anderson 22,800. Former Governor Bilbo still lacked 18,105 votes of having a clear majority over the other contestants.

Gov. Murphree last night announced that if he was second man in the first primary there would be a run-off and that he was sure he would win. He said that Bilbo would fail to gain a majority by 30,000 votes. Bilbo headquarters stated that their candidate would lack only 10,000 to 15,000 of a majority when the final votes came in. The second primary has been set for three weeks from the first vote by the democratic central committee.

Forsyth Jury Is Reprimanded by Judge A. M. Stack

Winston-Salem, N. C., Aug. 4.—(AP)—Members of a Forsyth Superior Court jury who acquitted Guy Northcutt, High Point man, charged with violating the prohibition law, were reprimanded severely by Judge A. M. Stack here.

Declaring that the verdict was contrary to the evidence presented by the State and that the defendant should have been convicted the jurist expressed astonishment at the action of the jurors. The defendant himself later stated that he was surprised at the verdict. Speaking to the jury in a body, Judge Stack asked if there was any man on the jury who did not believe in the enforcement of the prohibition law and if there was such a man for him to hold up his hand. No hands were raised. The judge then stated that he did not know how the prohibition law was going to be enforced if the jurors were going to act in a similar manner in such cases.

PRINCE TO SHARE IN DEDICATION OF U. S.-CANADA "PEACE BRIDGE"

Secretary of State Kellogg, upper left, Premier Mackenzie King, lower left, and the Prince of Wales, are among notable to participate in the "Peace Bridge" ceremonies.

Buffalo, N. Y.—(AP)—Where two great nations and the heir apparent to the British throne, the Vice President of the United States and other high-ranking representatives of the United States and Great Britain will meet on the Buffalo-Erie span on Sunday, August 7, to dedicate it.

The occasion, incidentally, will give the American public its first opportunity to hear the voice of the Prince of Wales broadcast through American radio stations.

Besides the Prince of Wales and Vice President Charles G. Dawes such figures as Premier Stanley Baldwin of Great Britain, Premier Mackenzie King of Canada, Secretary of State Frank B. Kellogg and Premier Howard Ferguson of Ontario, will deliver addresses at the ceremony.

Significant was the choice of the site for the Canadian end of the bridge for the terminus is at Fort Erie, only a mile from the site of old Fort Erie where American and British troops, fighting on this frontier in the War of 1812, clashed for the last time.

Of equal significance is the fact that the American end of the bridge rests on the site of Fort Porter, recently abandoned as an army post after half a century.

The desirability of having the structure stand as a memorial to the century of peace between the United States and Canada was urged, and in consequence the name "Peace Bridge" was given the structure. Built by a private company of Canadians and Americans, it will be operated as a toll bridge until the builders are repaid, and then it will become the property of the governments of New York and Ontario.

At the dedication and thanksgiving ceremonies the parties representing the two nations will meet at the middle of the bridge. After courtesies are exchanged, symbolic ribbons will be cut. Then the British and Canadian party will be conducted by the Americans to a stand at the Buffalo terminal where the dedication and thanksgiving ceremony will proceed.

At the conclusion the party will proceed to the Canadian terminus and the bridge for brief exercises.

"Glass Boned" Baby Breaks Fourteen in First Nine Months of His Existence

By L. E. EARLY, International Illustrated News Staff Correspondent.

DENVER, Col., (I.N.N.)—Fourteen broken bones within nine months of life!

A strange affliction beset Orville Connors, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Connors, of Chico, Col. "Glass bones" is what it's known as in the Denver hospital.

Whenever the youngster makes an unusually sudden move, or suffers one of the numerous falls common to baby days, one of his bones breaks. Fourteen times has the tiny framework of the mite snapped, sometimes from no greater cause than rolling over in bed.

The plight of the child is interesting.

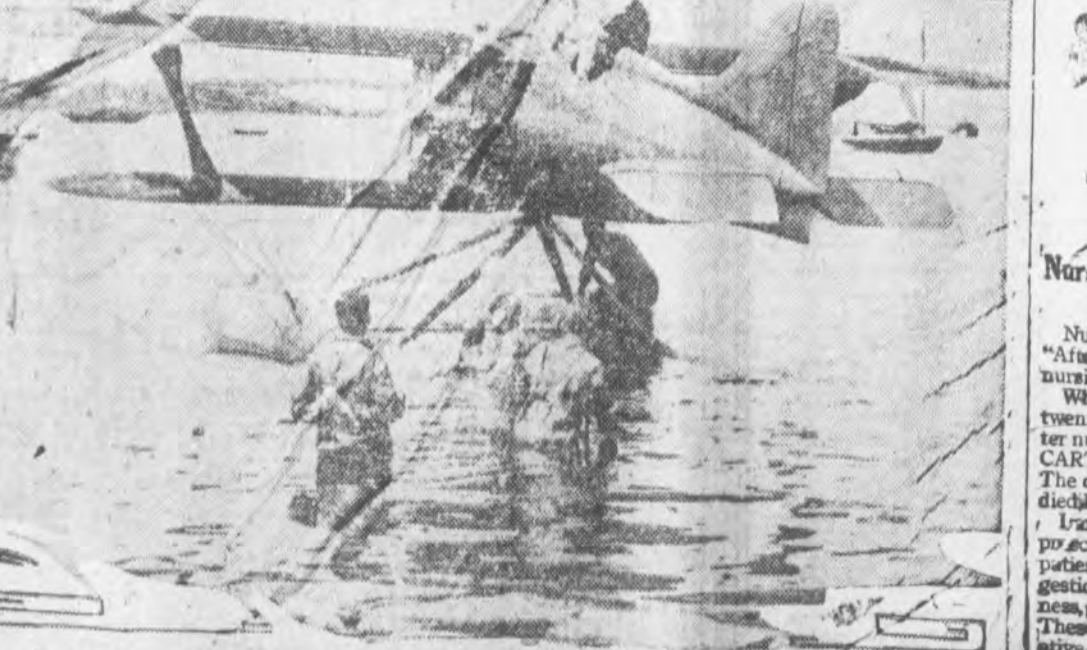

Orville Connors, of Chico, Col., has suffered fourteen fractures of bones in the nine months of his existence. His nurse is shown bandaging his latest break.

ing doctors throughout the West. Noted specialists have volunteered their services in relieving him. Experts are convinced that the fractures are the result of a lack of calcium in the body.

A merciful feature of the strange case is that the child apparently suffers no pain when breakage occurs. Meanwhile, he is cared for in constant attendance, assisting him in every move in order to guard with no less attention than if he was made of spun gold. A nurse is recovering lies largely in a rigid bed.

VETERANS TO MEET NEXT AT TARBORO, N.C.

Annual Gathering of Confederates Came To End at Raleigh This Afternoon.

Raleigh, Aug. 4.—(AP)—After a stirring plea by Col. S. S. Nash, assistant adjutant general and chief of staff, the North Carolina division United Confederate Veterans, today decided to meet in Tarboro, Edgecombe County, in 21st annual reunion next year.

The selection followed a good natured argument over the virtue of Tarboro and Gastonia, extolled by Congressman A. L. Bulwinkle, Gastonia and playful reference as to which place had the prettiest girls.

Congressman Bulwinkle said he hoped "in the language of the President of the United States you will 'choose' not to go anywhere else" but Col. Nash, himself in line for command, of the division, made a long appeal, backed by a Tarboro delegation.

The vote was 67 to 47 among those remaining for the final wind-up of the business session.

Unanimous re-election reinstated all officers of the division. General W. A. Smith of Ansonville, 84 years old, was re-elected division commander, the position he had held for many years and the brigade chiefs followed in re-election without any opposition; Generals A. H. Boyden, of Salisbury, first brigade commander, P. G. Austin, Lewisburg, second brigade, George H. Hall, Red Springs, third brigade, and the fourth brigade commander, due to ill health, J. W. Goodwin, was designated commander emeritus while J. M. Edwards, Asheville, was elected fourth brigade active commander.

Resolutions of thanks to Raleigh, Stat. College, and Henry M. London, Raleigh, and the London family, arranging the three day reunion followed.

No serious illness was noted by State College attendants for the time of the doings although several veterans protested that they were being "killed with kindness." Three slight accidents, no stomach trouble, and only a few indispositions from unfermented fruit juice served by Raleigh hostesses, with an optimistic numerical report from Adjutant General Gormley, Charlotte comprised a convention keynote of vigor.

"You boys," was the greeting from the platform echoing cheerily, closing the reunion with not even division Chaplain C. F. Conrad's closing prayer shuffling "the boys" who fought in the '60s, off the stage of activities.

The activities were sounded by decision of the division to unanimously endorse the Florida legislative resolution for appointment by Governor McLean of a representative to meet with the Governor of Florida, together with other representatives of Southern States, to comprise a Southland Memorial Association to make plans for a Southland Institute of learning to be located in some central Southern State, as a memorial to the women of the Confederacy, an appreciation to last through the years.

General Boydon who introduced and spoke to this resolution, also counseled county pension chairmen as to the $1 a day State pensions, and said he for one never urged a veteran to sell his home, that State Auditor Baxter Durham was tolerant to pension roll applications.

The veterans also endorsed the project put forward by Mrs. John Huske Anderson of Fayetteville, speaking in behalf of the Daughters of the Confederacy, for preservation of old time breakfasts in State parks, and for markers. Her comradely talk brought enthusiastic stamping of canes from "the boys," all 80 years old and more.

The closing session's spirited discussions quickened the step of the veterans on to the final entertainments in homes and at the capitol the rest of the day.

HEAVY EARTHQUAKE SHAKES LOS ANGELES. Los Angeles, Aug. 4.—(AP)—A heavy earthquake shook Los Angeles and suburbs at 4:22 a. m. today.

The tremors was sharp in downtown office buildings, being a double shake with about ten seconds time from start to finish.

Santa Monica on the shore reported a similar one, the first tremor being a heavy thud, rolling out into a lesser vibration.
