REYNOLDS IS FOUND IN CITY OF ST. LOUIS

Missing Young Millionaire Discovered Dining With Woman in Restaurant.

St. Louis, Sept. 28.—(AP)—The search for Richard J. Reynolds, one of the heirs to the Reynolds tobacco millions ended here last night in a quiet booth of a Grand Avenue restaurant.

Private detectives found Reynolds dining with a pretty young woman who later vanished, and with a man who identified himself as Fanshaw Jones.

It was Jones, a racetrack acquaintance of Reynolds, who tipped the Hargrave Detective Agency to Reynolds' whereabouts. Earlier in the day Jones offered to produce Reynolds for $10,000. The agency, after getting in touch with the trustee of the Reynolds estate, agreed to pay the money.

The finding of young Reynolds closed a search which has spread from New York to Chicago, St. Louis, southern Illinois and to Florida. At first, when one of the detectives asked him if he were not the missing president of the Reynolds Airway, Inc., Reynolds made denial. When the questioner persisted, Reynolds acknowledged his identity. He said he merely had been on vacation and had been living under an assumed name to prevent being "bothered."

After being questioned at the office of the Detective Agency, Reynolds left in an automobile with such speed that a pursuing newspaperman's car was easily out-distanced. He said he was leaving for New York today.

"I told Capt. Manville Davis where I was going," he expostulated. "I haven't done anything criminal. If the man in New York whom I told where I was going had merely delivered a message, this wouldn't have happened. He seemed perturbed over the publicity his vacation was drawing."

Reynolds who is 21 years old, explained that he had gone to Chicago to see the Tunney-Dempsey fight. From there he came to St. Louis, where he registered under the name of "Fred" at the Claridge Hotel. Then followed afternoons at the Fairmount Race Track near here and evenings at the Dog Races. He denied that he had $5,000 when he left New York, explaining that while he had drawn that amount from the bank, all but $700 was given to John S. Graham, a business associate living at Winston-Salem, N. C., the seat of the Reynolds Tobacco Plants.

This continued for 11 days, he said until yesterday morning he woke up to find his disappearance emblazoned in the headlines of a St. Louis morning newspaper.

The end of the search came after the detective agency had agreed to pay the $10,000 to their informant who negotiated with them over the telephone. A promissory note for the amount was made out last night but C. C. Ruston, manager of the agency said "some more investigating must be done" before it would be turned over to the man he called "Fanshaw Jones."

Jones telephoned the agency at 8:30 last night but hung up the receiver before the detectives could talk to him. Calling again, he directed the detectives to the Grand Inn where he said they would find Reynolds "on the left side in the fifth booth."

Driving to the restaurant the detectives confronted Reynolds with the question: "This is Mr. Reynolds?" Reynolds at first said he was John S. Graham, but readily admitted his own identity after learning that the detectives knew Graham was a business associate. By this time his woman companion, described as 24 years old, blond and well dressed, had slipped from the circle of detectives and reporters. Her name was not learned.

Reynolds said the young woman was a brief acquaintance. Questioned further, Reynolds declared: "I'm going to get out of this place."

"Come along with me," said a detective. "Show me your warrant," replied the man. Reynolds accompanied the detective to a nearby drug store.

There he admitted he was Reynolds, the missing multi-millionaire. Back in the chop suey restaurant he accused his companion of betraying him to the detectives. "Well, you got me into this," he declared indignantly. But his previous good humor quickly returned. "I was giving a party here and I didn't want to be interrupted," he said.

TWO WOMEN PREPARE FOR OCEAN FLIGHT

Ruth Elder and Frances Grayson Complete Preparation for Take-Off Friday.

New York, Sept. 28.—(AP)—Women headed the two remaining expeditions in the trans-Atlantic air field today after Captain Rene Fonck's definite abandonment of his proposed flight to Paris and his announcement that he would sail Saturday for France.

With the withdrawal of Fonck, Miss Ruth Elder, Dixie pilot of the monoplane American Girl, and Miss Frances Grayson, heading the projected European flight of her Sikorski Amphibian plane, were left at Curtiss Field to complete preparations for take-offs which have been set back from day to day by test flights and adverse weather conditions.

Unfavorable weather conditions alone interfered with an immediate take off for Paris by Miss Elder and Captain George Haldeman, her co-pilot. They said they hoped to fly Friday.

If a gasoline and speed test by Miss Grayson's plane is successful today, she and her pilot, Wilmer Stutz, said they would fly to Old Orchard, Me., to inspect the beach there preliminary to a take-off on their cross seas trip.

Fonck's project received a serious setback recently when the navy department recalled Lieut. Lawrence Curtin and Ensign Stephen Edwards, who had been selected as navigator and radio operator, respectively, for the journey. Fonck suspended his plans, he said, because he was without sufficient time to train a new personnel on such a hazardous trip as the journey across the ocean.

Says Science Is Important Study Today

Providence, R. I., Sept. 28.—(AP)—Legislation in some of the Southern States against the teaching of evolution represents "a medieval attitude which we know will soon be outgrown," Dr. William H. P. Faunce, president of Brown University, declared in an address at the opening of the college year today.

There are places in America today where the public teaching does not respect the sciences, said Dr. Faunce, who asserted that the teaching of science is one of the important functions of a University. "In Tennessee and Mississippi partisan rancor has gone so far that the legislature has proclaimed what scientific theories may enter the State and what are disbarred. In those States the teaching of evolution as scientific theory is illegal in all public institutions. In four other States all references to evolution have been stricken out of school and college text books. That is a medieval attitude which we know will soon be outgrown."

TAKES ISSUE WITH CHARGE OF MAGRUDER

Secretary Wilbur says Admiral's Story of Lack of Naval Economy Unfounded.

Washington, Sept. 28.—(AP)—Secretary Wilbur of the Navy has taken issue with the accuracy of the charge of lack of economy in the administration of naval yards made by Rear Admiral Thomas P. Magruder in his recent magazine article.

Disputing the Admiral's assertion that for every dollar expended for repairs in the navy it required nearly four dollars for maintenance expenses, the secretary cited figures which he claimed illustrated the incorrectness of this statement.

At the same time Mr. Wilbur declined to disclose his views on possibility of disciplinary action against the Admiral. He announced that in response to his request for a naval reorganization plan the Admiral had replied that he had "full detailed plans for the reorganization of the navy and the navy department."

The secretary said in reviewing the Admiral's statement on the yards' economy that the total productive work at the yards and stations amounted to $101,000,000 against a total maintenance charge of $80,000,000 which was estimated at 80 cents for maintenance for each dollar of productive work. For industrial yards alone, Mr. Wilbur valued the productive work was valued at $84,000,000 with a maintenance charge of $35,000,000 which gave a maintenance charge of 40 cents for each dollar of production.

The Admiral based his conclusions, Mr. Wilbur believed, on figures which only referred to the charges for repairs to vessels and repairs to ship equipment, totalling $16,000,000. The secretary declared there were "other items of productive work at navy yards such as changes and additions to vessels, tests and experiments, repairs to equipment in storage, operations and repairs of aircraft and manufacture of materials." All these charges, he added, must be considered in computation of the total productive work of the yards and stations.

While secretary Wilbur found alleged errors in the Admiral's views yesterday as believing some of the suggestions in the magazine article may be of value in increasing the efficiency of the navy. The President is said, however, to have disagreed with the naval officers' assertion that the service was over-officered.

Henry Ford's Brother Dead

Detroit, Sept. 28.—(AP)—John Ford, 62, brother of Henry Ford, died suddenly of heart disease at Fordson, a suburb last night.

Mr. Ford, a real estate dealer, president of the Fordson city council, and a member of the Michigan state fair board, was enroute home from a council meeting when he was stricken. He left his machine and entered a house he recently had purchased.

When he failed to reach his home, Fordson police started a search, finding him dead in the house he recently had acquired.

Besides two brothers, Henry and William Ford, he is survived by his widow and three children.

Mr. Ford left the council meeting at 8 o'clock last night and was seen at 8:45 by his son, wife and daughter on Michigan Avenue near Orchard Street where they had been shopping. In another car, they followed Mr. Ford who was driving west on Michigan avenue, but lost sight of him in the heavy traffic.

Tells Bankers of Flood Control Appropriations

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 28.—(AP)—Federal appropriation of upwards of $500,000,000 would end "once for all" the Mississippi valley flood control problem, in the opinion of Governor John E. Martineau of Arkansas, who came here to speak today before the 16th annual convention of the Investment Bankers' Association of America.

TODAY

Rosh-Hashanah No. 5,688. One Ford Antique. When China Flies. Moscow's Orange-outings. (By Arthur Brisbane) Copyright 1927, by Star Co.

This is the Jewish New Year's Day. Those that lamented so eloquently the fall of Jerusalem long ago, would be interested to know that one American city, New York Rosh-Hashanah, the Jewish new year will be observed by 1,500,000 Jewish Americans. In the Jewish calendar this is the year 5,688. They began long before we did.

The Talmud says, "Jerusalem was destroyed because the schools were neglected." American Jewish boys and girls do not neglect the public school in this country.

Are Jewish young people intelligent, earnest students? A definite answer was given when Joseph Pulitzer started his Pulitzer school scholarship prizes, awarded yesterday for this year. When high school boys first competed for these scholarships practically all the winners were Jewish boys.

Mr. Pulitzer, being of Jewish origin, his advisers felt that it would not look well for all his prizes to go to Jewish boys, so it was arranged to give some prizes to "boys especially deserving." That let in some Gentiles.

Henry Ford plans a ten-acre exhibition of antiques of which he has an extraordinary collection. One Ford antique that will outlast all others in public interest is the funny little car with the dashboard and a "stick" to steer it, the first car Ford ever built.

That car protected from weather, like the embalmed body of Lenin, should be kept for a permanent monument marked, "This machine freed 100,000,000 people from the tyranny of gravitation that had kept them in one spot."

"The Spirit of Canton" will attempt a flight from San Francisco to Shanghai. Chinese merchants of Canton and San Francisco will finance the "hop."

China is a peaceful nation, and will not go to war unless war is forced upon her. But when China begins flying in earnest, other nations that have bullied her will bully no longer.

BENTLEY FLIES TO CAPE TOWN

Completes Trip From London to South Africa in Period of Twenty-Eight Days.

Cape Town, South Africa, Sept. 28.—(AP)—Lieutenant R. R. Bentley, instructor for the South African air force who left Hendon on Sept. 1 in a Moth airplane for Cape Town, completed his solo flight of more than 7,000 miles at 2:20 o'clock this afternoon.

Lieutenant Bentley, who made the trip in long hops to prove the feasibility of London-Cape Town communication and to demonstrate the capabilities of a light airplane on long distance flights, created what was said here to be a world's record for a long distance solo flight.

The aviator, who had hoped to make the trip in eighteen days, found 28 necessary for the trip some of it over hazardous and deserted country.

CHAUNCEY WINS SUIT AGAINST COAST LINE

Awarded Sum of $175 For Burning of Broom Straw by Sparks From Locomotive.

Is broom straw real or personal property?

A jury sitting in yesterday's session of the civil term of Pitt county superior court decided that broom straw is personal property and returned a decision awarding W. C. Chauncey the sum of $175 against the A. C. L. railroad for damages caused to him by a broom straw stack which was destroyed by fire started from sparks of a Coast Line locomotive.

This was the outstanding case considered in yesterday's session of court, and consumed a major part of the day. Divorces were granted to Ruby Allen vs. Jasphiet Allen and to Hattie Ebron vs. Archie Ebron.

The plaintiff in the broom straw suit claims that the straw should be classed as personal property because it was a part of the crop of his land. He had engaged to sell the crop for $15 a ton, and was getting ready to make delivery when sparks from the train set it afire.

The defendants contended that it was real property because it had not been cultivated, and that owners of the land should be the ones to bring suit, if suit was justifiable.

It was the first time such an issue had been brought to the attention of the local court, and even disinterested parties followed the case with more than usual interest.

Return Flag Of Confederacy To Floridians

Marianna, Fla., Sept. 28.—(AP)—Formal return to Florida Confederate veterans of a battle flag captured by the Union Army from a Florida brigade at the battle of Franklin, Tenn., Nov. 30, 1864, held the center of interest of the heroes of the grey who gathered here for their annual reunion.

The exercises were set for tonight. A trio of Union veterans from Toledo, Ohio, brought the blood stained flag to Marianna.

Governor John W. Martin, of Florida, grandson of a Confederate soldier, told the veterans of Florida and their guests of the feeling of affection and adoration in which they are held by their descendants.

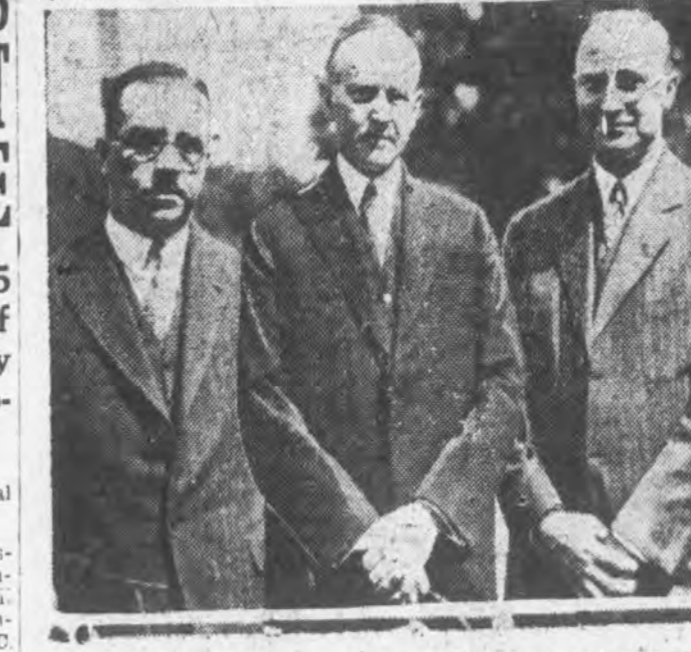

"As long as the valor of men continue to be recorded in American history," the Governor said, "the heroism, patriotism and fidelity of the heroes of this nation would ever be a fount of inspiration to posterity."

Freight Rates Hearing Ends At Cincinnati

Cincinnati, Sept. 28.—(AP)—The Southern classification committee's hearing on the proposed new freight classification on the railroad lines throughout the South entered its final day today with another army of manufacturers' representatives aligned to combat the alleged increases.

The early days of the hearing have heard protests that the proposed new rates would bring destruction to various industries Southern trade.

Greenville Sold 1,000,569 Pounds Tobacco Tuesday

The Greenville tobacco market yesterday sold 1,000,569 pounds of tobacco for a total sum of $185,973.53, at an average of $19.88, according to official figures given out this morning by K. W. Cobb, secretary of the Greenville Tobacco Board of Trade.

Sales today were the lightest of the season, the report continued and will be completed by four o'clock this afternoon.

WETS AND DRIES NOW LINING UP

Drys Hopeful of Getting Through Legislation in Congress at Next Session.

Washington, Sept. 28.—(AP)—Wets and dries are lining up their forces for resumption of their annual warfare in Congress.

Neither side made any material progress in legislation at the last session, but the dries are hopeful of getting through some of the administration proposals in the old Goff bill for tightening up the Volstead act.

Conceding that the dries have a preponderance of the votes in both the House and Senate, the wet side there is no parliamentary method by which they can delay a decision, as the first session of the new Congress will continue for five or six months, probably until just before the Republican national convention next June.

However, proponents of additional dry legislation incline to the view now that with a presidential campaign in the offing the party leaders will not look with any great favor on enactment of more stringent provisions to a law which the wets now charge is impossible of enforcement.

While the prohibition issue is a non-partisan one so far as Congress itself is concerned, it is in national politics, more so at present than perhaps ever before, and party leaders see little prospect of it being removed in advance of the 1928 presidential election unless it should be that both of the major parties nominated candidates pronouncedly dry.

At any hearings held, the Anti-Saloon League will be represented by P. Scott McBride, new legislative superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, selected temporarily at least, to carry on the work which the late Wayne B. Wheeler, looked after for many years both in committee and the halls of Congress.

GERMAN FLIER SHOWS UP AT BAGDAD TODAY

Otto Koennecke and Two Companions to Continue Trip to America Tomorrow.

London, Sept. 28.—(AP)—Lieut. Otto Koennecke, German aviator, flying from Cologne, Germany, to America by the Eastern route has arrived at Bagdad, Iraq, says a dispatch from that city.

This clears up the mystery which has engaged European flying circles since the reported departure of Koennecke's plane, "The Germania" from Angora, Turkey for Basra, at the head of the Persian Gulf, last Saturday morning.

The Bagdad dispatch said Koennecke would take off in continuation of his flight tomorrow. Bagdad is 700 miles from Angora on the route to Basra, which is 270 miles farther to the southeast.

Accompanied by his financial backer, Count George Cedric Selma-Lauback and Johannes Bernann, radio operator, Lieut. Koennecke left Cologne last Tuesday and made a remarkably successful first hop, reaching Angora, a distance of 1,873 miles in a little less than 16 hours.

When he left Angora for Basra it was known that he had a long stretch of desert to fly over before reaching his objective, but an anxiety was felt in view of the proven stability of the plane and the ability of the pilot.

Monday morning brought no news of the arrival at Basra and the cables and telegraph wires were set buzzing in all directions as it was feared the Germania had been forced down in some out of the way place.

Beirut, Syria, Sept. 28.—(AP)—The mystery that surrounded the whereabouts of Lieutenant Otto Koennecke and the "Germania" after his hop from Angora on Saturday in continuation of his flight to the United States by way of the Orient, was cleared up today by news that his plane came down because of engine trouble in the neighborhood of Moslemiyer, north of Aleppo.

After repairs by members of the French air force in Syria, the Germania took off again yesterday at 7 a. m.

Young Woman On Trial For Arson

Georgetown, Texas, Sept. 28.—(AP)—Arraigned on a charge of arson in the courthouse where she secretly married a classmate from the University of Texas two years ago, Rebecca Bradley Rogers, also accused of bank robbery, today summoned more of her friends in the hope of establishing an alibi.

The State completed its case yesterday by calling six witnesses who identified Mrs. Rogers as the young woman who appeared in a "chain of circumstances," surrounding the burning of a deserted house in Round Rock, Tex., December last. The State attempted to prove that she set fire to the house to attract employees of the bank at Round Rock so that she could rob it.

With the filing of the robbery charge, Mrs. Rogers gave up her position as a stenographer in the office of Governor Dan Moody and Otis Rogers, young attorney, who was seriously ill, risked his chance of recovery to come to her assistance and to announce their marriage.

Locke Faces Murder Charge

Antlers, Okla., Sept. 28.—(AP)—Exacting the vigilante penalty known to the whites and Indians of pioneer Oklahoma days, Major Victor Locke, Jr., soldier, chieftain and politician reared in the tepees of the Choctaws, today, faced a charge of murder for slaying a tribesman whom he believed was a despoiler of girls of the tribe.

Major Locke, known as a descendant of Choctaw chiefs who rose from tribal council to chief and then to superintendent of the five civilized tribes, yesterday was charged with the slaying of Alton Battiste, 24-year-old full-blooded member of the tribe.

Battiste was shot to death Monday night after he had called at the home of two of Major Locke's Indian girl wards who were students at the Goodland Indian school near Hugo, Okla.

Chicago, Sept. 28.—(AP)—Report of the early election of a successor to E. B. Johnson as president of the American League, were revived today with intimations that the dissenting club owners, who have received Johnson's resignation effective November 1, might select and install a new president a month ahead of that time.

Edward S. Barnard, now president of the Cleveland club, is the man generally regarded as Johnson's successor.

PIRATES WILL TAKE PART IN WORLD SERIES

(By The Associated Press)

When the world's series opens one week from today Pittsburgh will represent the National League unless there is a great sensation.

The Pirates cling to their two game margin at the top of a home run drive by George Grantham that scored a runner ahead and beat out the Chicago Cubs 2-1. Meanwhile the ace of the American League champions, Babe Ruth, smashed his fifth homer of the season in the sixth inning against Philadelphia. The bases were loaded and the four runs were more than enough to win for New York 7-4.

Pittsburgh had trouble solving Carlson's shoots but the Cubs had more trouble with a trio of Pirate pitchers, Meadows, Hill and Kramer. The Cubs were held to five safeties and the Bucs made seven off Carlson.

The Pirates have three games left to play and can clinch the pennant by winning two of them while the St. Louis Cardinals are taking all of their three games left on the schedule. St. Louis can win the pennant by three victories if the Pirates lose three games.

The best the Giants can do is a tie.

The Cards stayed in the running by trouncing Cincinnati 4-1.

Freddie Fitzsimmons turned back the Phillies yesterday and the Giants won in a romp, 3-2.

Ruth is now only two homers shy of his 1921 record. He can beat the mark by knocking three homers, and he has three games in which to do that. The Bambino has hit for the circuit with the bases loaded six times in his career, three times as a Yankee.

Lou Gehrig slashed out his 46th homer with the bases empty in the fourth.

Dempsey Says He'll Knock Tynney Out Next Time

New York, Sept. 28.—(AP)—Gene Tunney seemed today to have defeated Jack Dempsey for the third time. They came to New York and had a long distance exchange of verbal blows over the Chicago count. The referee, Dave Barry, still supports Tunney and Dempsey is inclined to stop the war of words.

Dempsey said that he received no warning or instructions that in case of a knockout a count would not be started until the man who delivered the blow went to a neutral corner.

Tunney's claim that Barry explained the moot point clearly when the principals went to the center of the ring for instructions has Barry's unqualified indorsement.

Dempsey sees the futility of protesting and has announced he will take no part in a formal complaint, although he is allowing his manager, Leo P. Flynn, to go ahead in that direction. The former champion is chiefly concerned in getting one more chance at the title.

"I am convinced now that it is impossible to remain out of the ring for three years and be as good as ever," he said. "I intend to keep fighting because I am looking forward to another shot at the championship. If I ever get Tunney in the ring again I'm satisfied I'll knock him out again—just as I am satisfied I did at Chicago."

Flynn announced that Dempsey had under consideration two fights for this year. Cleveland seeks the Marana Mauler in October against Johnny Risgo, Flynn said, and would guarantee Dempsey $150,000. The other offer comes from England, carrying a guarantee of $250,000 for Jack to fight Phil Scott in London in November or December.

Tex Rickard also is angling for Dempsey's services and would start him in another elimination tournament against Paulino Uzcudun, the Spaniard.

OUT OF KEELER'S GOLF BAG!

Johnston Arrives Among The Great

(By O. B. Keeler)

Jimmy Johnston, so-called affectionately by a million golfing fans, probably because his name is Harrison R. Johnston—Jimmy Johnston of St. Paul is now definitely established as a factor in national competition in the United States, or wherever he desires to enter a big tournament.

His feat of leading the great field at Oakmont last June the first two days of the open championship was followed by his performance at Minikahda in the amateur championship, when with scores of 74 and 71—the best score of the second day, next to Jones' 67—he established himself third in the qualifying list of 32, only three strokes behind the leader, who had incidentally tied the low record previously held by Ducky Corkran, 142, at Merion in 1921.

Johnston then went to the third round and was the first of the Three Musketeers—Johnston, Outmet and Evans—victimized by Bobby's furious rounds under 70.

Johnston first came to the attention of this reviewer in 1921, at the twenty-fifth amateur championship of the U. S. G. A. was played. He was then a tall, rangy blond youth apparently not yet of age, with a singularly engaging smile and a free golf swing, characterized by an oddly close stance. I mean his right foot was well back of the line of his left, farther from the line of flight, and his entire right side was turned well away from the ball, even more than in the old-fashioned closed stance of the late '90's.

I was told that Jimmy had adopted this stance and body-posture to correct a fault extremely prevalent today—that of bringing the club on the ball from a line outside the line of the shot, to compel the club to come on the ball "from the inside." This was stressed so spectacularly by the late Douglas Edcar, who devised a mechanical method for teaching called "The Gate."

The style looked odd to me, but Jimmy was effective enough with it to qualify well down the list with 152, defeat Albert Seckle, 2-1 in the first round, and then to shock the tournament to its foundation by defeating Francis Outmet, the medalist and the runner-

Says Estelle Thought Jack Had Won Fight

New York, Sept. 28.—(AP)—Under the impression that her husband had knocked out Gene Tunney and regained his title in Chicago, Estelle Taylor greeted Jack Dempsey with smiles and kisses when he returned to their apartment after the battle, says Jack Farrell in the New York Daily News today.

Listening to the blow by blow account over the radio the actress understood the announcer to count "eight, nine and out" over Tunney when describing the flooring of the champion in the seventh round. What the announcer said was "eight, nine and up."

At the end of the count the actress shut off the radio and proceeded to celebrate. She later greeted her husband as the victor.

"Henry, it was remarkable," she said.

"What was remarkable, dear?" inquired the battle-hardened challenger.

"You were won, dear, and by a knockout," she said.

Jack saw Farrell, dropped his head on his chest and muttered: "I'll be no money. I lost the fight in a decision."

FOOTBALL

Chapel Hill, Sept. 28.—(AP)—With the declaration that the University of Tennessee Vols who come here Saturday for a return engagement with the Tar Heels "will not beat us that bad again," Coach Chuck Collins today continued to drill his men against the invaders' formations.

Both second and third string players got into action against the freshmen squad as the coaches, apparently dissatisfied with the showing made by the varsity in the Wake Forest game, tried out the material at hand.

Both Whisman and Grey, understudy of Furches, veteran quarterback, got into action. Bill Doderer, end of two years ago ran in his old position.

State College, Raleigh, Sept. 28.—(AP)—One of the strongest teams in recent years to represent State College on the gridiron will get its first real test of the season Friday when Furman University will be met at Greenville, S. C. The team leaves tomorrow night aboard a special Pullman for the scene of action.

The State backfield, boasting four triple threat men in McDowell, Outen, Warrin and Adams, continues to drill secretly for the encounter. The entire squad came out of the Elon game without injuries, excepting a black eye Capt. Nicholson received.

Wake Forest, Sept. 28.—(AP)—The "minor injury" list of the Wake Forest football squad today included the names of Ralph James, star quarterback and drop-kicker; Jack Smith, H. Weir and Luke Person guards. Indications were that these men would not play the full game against Elon here Saturday, but would rest up for more strenuous engagements later this season. James has a slight leg injury while Smith suffered with another blow to an old sore.

Davidson, Sept. 28.—(AP)—Coaches Younger and Tilson were up to their old tricks again today. They spread more than of gloom over Richards Field as they told the Wildcat squad its 5-0 showing against the Citadel was nothing to brag about.

Facing the strong University of Florida eleven in Tampa Saturday won't be anything like an easy task, the coaches said, as they went about patching up the holes discovered in the varsity lineup. Hampton and De rmon continued to drill at center, position made vacant by injury to Jim Grey.

Many Essays on Animals Are Being Received

Judging from the number of essays received by the Circus Editor of the Reflector, numbers of boys and girls of the county, 14 years of tendance at the afternoon performance of John Robinson's Circus on Saturday, October 8th, on the Higgs brothers circus grounds.

The twenty-five best essays will bring a reward of a free admission to the writers, either boys or girls.

The contest is open to all boys and girls of the city, 14 years of age and under. All that is necessary is to write a short essay, not over 150 words on any animal, and as John Robinson's menagerie contains lions and tigers, camels and elephants, polar bears and brown bears, leopards and pumas, giraffes and zebras, as well as ostriches, kangaroos and hippopotamii the task is fairly easy. Or one can write about the horses, ponies, donkeys, monkeys or zebras.

The Circus Editor of the Reflector advises all boys and girls to write their essays today and mail or send immediately. The contest closes Tuesday, October 4 at six o'clock, p. m., and the names of the winners will be printed in the Reflector on Wednesday, October 5th.

If you need any additional information about animals call at the Reflector office and get a copy of "A Short Lesson in Zoology," issued by John Robinson's Circus, which tells about all species of beasts, brutes and birds.

Negro Attempts To Enter Home Of Mrs. Moye

A negro man attempting to enter the home of Mrs. Lucy Moye, on Dickinson avenue, this morning about four o'clock was frightened away by the screams of a woman-occupant who was awakened by noise of the negro in attempting to raise a window.

When discovered, the intruder had the window half way up, and was preparing to enter the room. He fled when the woman started screaming and officials today had been unable to establish his identity.

This is the first attempted entrance to a home in this city so far reported, but news reported from other cities are to the effect that many such attempts have been successful.

Commissioners Holding Special Session Today

Members of the county board of commissioners met in special session this morning to effect a settlement with sheriff Whitehurst and to consider the appointment of a tax collector.

The settlement with the sheriff was deferred at the last regular meeting of the board because of delinquent taxes and to give the official time to make all collections possible.

The session will not be completed until some time this afternoon it was indicated by members of the board when they adjourned for dinner at the noon hour.

Bullet Ridden Body of Negro Is Found Today

Memphis, Sept. 28.—(AP)—The bullet ridden body of Thomas Williams, negro, alleged to have attacked a 50 year old white woman near Barretville, this county, yesterday morning, was found today in Pleasant Union church yard, two miles from the scene of the crime.

All day yesterday and far into the night bands of men searched for Williams, but none reported he had been found and there was no clue to the persons who shot him. A coroner's jury returned a verdict that the negro died "from gunshot wounds inflicted by unknown parties."

Beside the body lay a package, hurriedly bundled together, containing clothing and personal effects that Williams had snatched up before he fled Barretville.

Williams was said to have attempted to attack the woman in a potato field near her home. He approached her seeking employment and then attacked her, she told officers, but soon was frightened away.

The negro, who worked on a farm nearby, appeared in the store of magistrate J. H. Barrett shortly before the incident and borrowed $2 to "pay off a policy."

Game Rained Out

Skilled Riders With Robinson's Circus

Press agent's statements are often stretched, but the P. A.'s in advance of John Robinson's Circus declare that this pioneer show boasts of more skilled horsewomen than any other "white top" and during the past few years the equestrian and menage display offered by this famous circus have been commented upon highly by the press and public. When John Robinson's Circus, now on its 104 annual tour comes here for afternoon and night exhibitions on Saturday, October 8, circus enthusiasts will have an opportunity to see the best in riding. Thirty-five singing girls and dancing horses appear in one number, concluding with a series of high jumps offered by the Misses Ora Thornton, Etta Carreon, Anna Butler, Ione Carle, Victoria Davis, Pearl Biron and others. One of the outstanding features is the augmented menagerie

"This may be a hard old world at times, but it's the best I've ever seen and I am going to hang around as long as possible," laughingly remarked Dr. Joe Smith, one of Greenville's best known physicians.
 Dr. Smith is an optimist. He has always had the happy faculty of looking on the bright and cheery side of life. He believes in that old piece of philosophy about "Every cloud having a silver lining," and is always on the lookout for it when things get dark and blue.
 We have never been able to determine the proper classification of an optimist. He is either a psychologist or philosopher. Either appellation will fit. But in either instance, they are mighty nice to have around, and should be considered a community's greatest asset.

We wish there were more optimists. We wish there were more Dr. Smiths. It is such people who help keep the world from being a hard old place in which to live, and cause even dark clouds to contain silvery linings.

Is broom straw real or personal property?
 This is one of the perplexing questions which a jury in yesterday's session of superior court had to consider.

Numbers of lawyers have been discussing the issue, but like many others, they were no near a solution when the discussion was completed than when it started.

Many interesting opinions have cropped out as result of the issue. Some members of the bar entertain the opinion that if the broom straw was considered a matter of revenue, it was personal property. On the other hand, some persist that it should be considered real property, because it was a part of the estate.

This is the first time such litigation has been brought to attention of the local court, and it was indicated yesterday that it might be carried to supreme court for final decision.

With a circus and fair scheduled for the month of October, Greenville will more than likely have one of the busiest months of the year, believes L. A. Stroud, manager of Quinn-Miller stores.

"Everybody looks forward to increased activities during the fall and winter months," Mr. Stroud said today, "but this year they are going to get more than expected. This is the first time a circus and fair have occurred within the space of one week apart, and Greenville and Pitt county people are going to find it difficult to keep in touch with the usual trend of activities and take in the extra amusements. "All of us will certainly have ample opportunity of breaking the monotony of the long summer days which have just come to a close."

 Which is the better man—Dempsey or Tunney?
 Everybody thought this question would be definitely settled in the last fight staged between the two istic celebrities, but considerable indecision still lingers in the minds of Dempsey supporters as result of the way the fight came to an end. Tunney's supporters declare without reservation that he is the better fighter of the two. He fights along more scientific lines and relies exclusively upon this one feature.

Dempsey, on the other hand, still has more power behind his blows than any man living. Yet, this is not considered any match against the science of the champion, unless fate intervenes and gives him a lucky opening.

Local supporters are watching with more than general interest present activities looking to another engagement between these great boxers. No one attempts to deny the fact that they are the best the athletic world has ever produced, and for this reason, if for no other, could be elated at a third engagement.

The $100,000 bond election for city school is receiving more than general interest at this time, according to those watching development of the city schools.

The election is to be held next month. It is to provide funds for improving the school system, which at this time is not adequate to meet demands of continued increase of enrollment.

The matter has been put up to the various organizations of the city having community development

Gossip of Staff Correspondents at World Centers of Population

Denver. — (INS)—A congressional campaign, marked by the old convention system of choosing candidates, and with the prospect of the "wet" and "dry" issue having a prominent part in the outcome, looks for Denver today following announcement by Governor Adams that the special election to choose a successor to the late Congressman William N. Valle (Republican) will probably be called for November 8.

Congressman Valle died suddenly atop one of the highest peaks in the Colorado Rockies recently. Despite demand from several quarters that the first congressional district of Colorado (the city of Denver), go unrepresented into the twentieth congress, plans are under way for a lively campaign, with a score of names already mentioned as candidates, including Mrs. Kate Valle, widow of the dead congressman.

Many citizens and political leaders have voiced the belief that it would be a splendid stroke of economy to forego electing a successor to Valle, feeling estimates that the special election would cost approximately $50,000.

The Denver city council adopted a resolution by a vote of 8 to 1 asking Governor Adams not to call the election.

It was contended that Colorado will be well represented in the national legislative body by its three other congressmen and two United States Senators.

The forthcoming special election will be novel inasmuch as the candidates will be chosen under the old convention system.

The regular machinery of an old fashioned political campaign is being oiled up by various factions of the two major political parties and precinct caucuses will name delegates to the congressional convention. There will be but one official candidate for each party on the ballot, although candidates falling to receive the nomination may get on the ballot election day by petition, running no a Democrat or Republican, but as "independent."

Names of a number of political leaders, in addition to Mrs. Valle, have been mentioned already as possible party candidates, including former Congressman Ben C. Hillard; Wayne Williams, former attorney general and friend of the late William Jennings Bryan; William E. Foley, avowed "wet," amongst the Democrats, and Lawrence C. Phipps, Jr., son of the senior United States Senator from Colorado; Karl Schugler, former senatorial aspirant, and Col. Philip S. Van Cise, former district attorney, who won nationwide fame by his prosecution of the notorious "million dollar bunco ring" in city amongst the Republicans.

Mrs. Valle has already launched her campaign, seeking the support of the electorate on the plea that she will follow the policies of her late husband and adhere strictly to the principles of the Republican party. She has the support of several women's organizations.

Bennet J. Doty To Go To Work On Return Home

Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 28.—(AP)—Bennet J. Doty, whose pardon from a prison sentence was announced yesterday by the French government will be "put to work" immediately upon his return home.

His father, Lemuel H. Doty, is authority for the statement that writing is going to replace fighting in the young adventurer's life.

"I expect him to remain at home this time," he senior Doty told the Memphis Evening Appeal over the telephone from his home in Biloxi, Miss., today. "He will be put immediately to work and kept busy. Writing was his own choosing and he probably will continue it—at once."

Doty, whose love for a "serap" found its outlet when as a lad of fourteen he was leader of a gang of boys in Memphis, his home, still sought thrills as a man. He served with distinction in the A. E. F. in the Spanish Legion and in the French foreign legion.

JOYNER'S WAREHOUSE

SELL YOUR TOBACCO IN GREENVILLE AT

Tobacco is advancing and we expect it to continue to advance, if the balance of the crop is marketed in an orderly manner. The crop is not as large as the Tobacco Trade believes it is, and when this fact is realized the price will go higher.

The firm of O. L. Joyner and Sons is in full sympathy with the farmers and realize fully just what present prices mean. We strive with all the influence we have to strain every pile of tobacco to the highest possible bid and we will compare the averages on our floor with any warehouse in the state. Bring us your tobacco and will do our very best for you.
