EDUCATORS TO MEET IN CITY NOV. 18-19TH

Two Thousand People Expected at Convention of District Educational Association.

A convention of the Northeastern district of the North Carolina Educational Association will convene in this city November 18th and continue through the 19th, according to information given out this morning.

Over 2,000 teachers, representing practically every county in this section of the State will be in attendance. It was stated today, and arrangements are already under way to provide accommodations for them.

A convention of this same organization was held here last year, and it was later voted to return this year.

Some of the best known educators of the State will attend the two day session, and while the program has not yet been completed, it was estimated that it would contain many things of vital interest to the educational development of Eastern Carolina.

Greenville will make more elaborate preparations for the entertainment of the visitors this year. C. B. Rowlett, secretary of the Merchants Association said this morning, and the public is asked to co-operate in every way possible. Two hundred rooms will be necessary to provide sleeping quarters for the guests, it was stated, and persons having extra rooms were today urged to get in touch with the secretary of the Merchants Association.

COURT ENDS ROAD TANGLE

Supreme Court Upholds Highway Commission in Johnson County Road Issue.

Raleigh, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Decision of the State Supreme Court in upholding the contents of the highway commission in the Johnson County road controversy was today regarded as having smoothed the troubled waters between the road department and the county.

Benson, citizens had asked that the Johnson County fathers be reinstated from proceeding with road work. Judge Harris refused it, and the appeal to the higher court resulted in a lost case for the former.

The way was regarded as clear for running a road from Smithfield to Clinton and another from a point on route 22 to Zebulon.

The Supreme Court, in course of its latest handing down of eight opinions, in words of Justice Adams, declared as a general rule that an agent for collection has no authority to receive payment in anything except money, in adding another case from Johnson County.

E. O. Anderson of Halifax, will have a new trial on charge of giving worthless checks for cotton because the judge's charge made it appear that his cult or innocence depended on whether he was a partner.

It is not right that land or home-owner should be brought into court without negotiations looking to an amicable sale, Justice Clarkson said in a higher court opinion holding that the city of Winston-Salem must try to make purchases of land before starting condemnation proceedings to acquire land for widening streets.

A new trial was granted Fleet Melvin, Sampson county negro, convicted of killing his sweetheart, because of hearsay evidence.

SEES VICTORY FOR AL SMITH

Senator Copeland, of New York, Says Smith Will Win With Support of South.

Washington, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Senator Copeland of New York, former Senator Pomerene of Ohio and Mrs. Florence Atkins of Georgia, are the most recent Democratic leaders to make public expression of their views on the presidential possibilities of Governor Smith of New York. Copeland predicts a victory with the aid of the South, Pomerene without committing himself and Mrs. Atkins declaring tersely that his nomination would spell "party suicide."

At the same time, Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, prophesied a political "revolution" in the middle west, should the Republicans nominate a man whose views on farm relief are the same as those of President Coolidge.

With the backing and support of the South, said Senator Copeland, Smith's nomination and election are assured. He declared that Southern opposition was "not so strong as it has been represented" and looked hopefully for assistance from Dixie.

After enumerating seventeen Western and Middlewestern States whose delegations, he said, would be for Smith and "adding" to these New England and the Atlantic Coast States, the New York Senator declared he could not believe "the matter of religion would consolidate the South against the sterling manhood and Democracy of Governor Smith, or cause it to flout the wishes of a larger group of electoral votes than the South possesses."

Pomerene's endorsement was contained in a magazine article appearing today. He praised Governor Smith's accomplishments in New York and defended his attitude toward prohibition. "It is better," he said, "to have a President personally 'wet' who will enforce the law, than a President personally 'dry' who will not or cannot enforce it."

He declared, however, that there were so many able leaders that he did not want to seem unequivocally committed to Smith.

The South does not intend, to support Governor Smith should he be nominated, Mrs. Atkins said last night in an address before the State convention of the women's Christian Temperance Union at Huntington, West Virginia. "The party," she declared, "will go down in dust and ashes at our feet if he gets the nomination. I'd hate to see the Democratic party commit suicide but if a party has no keener vision or no greater love for its country, than to nominate Al Smith for the presidency, I say that it deserves to die and we are ready for a new party."

Senator Walsh, interviewed at Madison, Wisconsin, on his way to Washington, is of the opinion that neither party should put a "wet" or "dry" plank in its campaign platform.

AZORE ISLANDS MAY GET FIRST SEA AIRPORT

Materials Reach Island of Fayal for Use in Repairing Disabled Planes.

Horta, Island of Fayal, Azores, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Plans for the establishment here of the first mid-ocean airport have begun to take definite shape.

Materials have reached here on the German vessel Kapatoria for use in making repairs to planes using the island of Fayal as a port of call on trans-Atlantic flights and a matronly station also has been established with six men assigned to its operation.

Intense interest has been aroused by reports from Berlin that Director King of the Hamburg-American line has sought to the United States to negotiate for a hydro-airplane service between Germany and the United States.

Dispatches from Berlin yesterday said it was understood in German violation circles that the Hamburg-American line is making active preparations to develop a trans-oceanic service, the company being concerned last Luftfahrts, the German aerial league, obtained control of this new line.

The dispatch also said that the Hamburg-American line was financing the flight of the Junkers D-170, which is now in Horta, and the Heinkel D-1220, now in Lisbon, both of which are on a flight to the United States from Germany by way of the Azores.

German engineers and mechanics also have been stationed in New Foundland in order to receive the two German planes. Both planes are awaiting more favorable weather before taking off on the next lap of their flights.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 20.—(AP)—John W. Snook, warden of the Atlanta federal penitentiary, said shortly after one o'clock this afternoon that the parole papers for Earl Carroll had not arrived on the second mail delivery at one p. m. He said he "might ride into town late this afternoon to see if the papers come from Washington on a late train. Until they do Carroll will not be released."

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 20.—(AP)—The wife of Earl Carroll reached here at 9:25 o'clock today and went immediately to a hotel to await the theatrical producer when he is released from the Atlanta federal prison on parole during the day.

Accompanying Mrs. Carroll were Carroll's sister, Mrs. Alice Schneider, and one of his brothers, James Carroll.

The parole papers for Carroll failed to reach the federal penitentiary on the first mail delivery this morning. They are expected on the next delivery at 1 p. m., and preparations have been completed for the release of Carroll within a few minutes after the papers arrive. They were mailed in Washington Tuesday night after attorney-general Sargent had approved the recommendation of the parole board that Carroll be released.

TRY CHICAGO SCHOOL HEAD

William McAndrew Charged with Fostering Pro-British Teachings in School.

Chicago, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Echoes of Mayor Thompson's campaign slogans, "America First" and "Down with King George," came bounding back with power tube volume yesterday at the board of education trial of William McAndrew, suspended superintendent of schools.

Testimony that aimed originally to show that Mr. McAndrew was fostering pro-British teaching in the Chicago schools was augmented to lend substance to Mayor Thompson's charges that a carefully directed propaganda, favorable to England and unfavorable to America, is being carried throughout the entire nation.

Frederick Bausman, former supreme court justice of the state of Washington, was the witness, and he dealt almost entirely with the nationwide propaganda he said exists. At one point in the hearing he volunteered the statement that he knew nothing "about your local schoolbooks."

Mr. Bausman said that the Cecil Rhodes trust fund has as one of its objects the return of the United States to the British Crown, and that this is the apparent origin of the overseas propaganda.

The United States, "influenced by British propaganda," gave up supremacy of the seas, Mr. Bausman said, "because it was foolish enough to sink part of the navy at England's suggestion."

The witness said that American colonies in England and France were "today to France and England," that every member of the English-speaking union favors debt cancellation, and that George Locke, until recently president of the American Library Association is a Canadian and was England's war time director of propaganda.

The American Library Association he said, has been an agency for the alleged pro-British propaganda, moulding the literary habits of America while acting as an agency of propaganda distribution.

"This propaganda is not a nebulous thing," said Mr. Bausman. "It is the deliberate work of human minds, aided by financiers of England who seek first the full cancellation of England's war debt to the United States, and second the placing of the Union Jacket wherever now flies the Stars and Stripes."

Social climbers in America with marriageable daughters have "sickeningly aided" England's cause, the witness said.

"England maintains in New York an English bureau of information which sends out an amazing amount of literature, all political," Mr. Bausman testified. "England fears that if America gets to know England was a guilty party in the cause for the world war, Americans no longer will fawn at her feet, as she does."

"Only one newspaper in England, the London Spectator, deals fairly with us. All the rest hold us in the lowest contempt."

There was an indirect reference to the McAndrew charges when the witness was asked his experience with books written by Columbia University professors. Mr. Bausman replied that "the wealthy classes of Europe have a tremendous influence at Columbia and Princeton."

Prof. Muzzey of Columbia is the author of a history text used in Chicago which has been characterized as pro-British.

When Bausman stepped from the stand, counsel for McAndrew moved that the entire testimony be stricken out. The motion was denied. The hearing is to be resumed Monday.

GOVERNMENT HAMMERS AT CONSPIRACY

E. C. Finney Recalled to Stand in Fall-Sinclair Hearing at Washington City.

Washington, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Introducing testimony designed to show that Albert B. Fall's desire for the lease of Teapot Dome went to the extent of misleading other applicants for the naval oil reserve, special government oil counsel continued their assaults today at the trial of the two men on charges of criminal conspiracy.

Calling E. C. Finney, assistant secretary of the interior under Fall, who testified yesterday, Owen J. Roberts of government counsel, introduced letters written by interior officials to inquirers about the lease as early as February 25, 1922. C. B. Aoland of Minneapolis, inquired whether the lease of Teapot Dome was in prospect. Finney replied that no lease had been granted and that no orders had been issued for opening up the reserve to leasing.

"Did you have knowledge that Fall was negotiating a lease with Sinclair at that time?" inquired Roberts.

"Yes, I did," Finney replied. "Then why did you make such a reply to Mr. Aoland?"

"Because the policy was not to give out any information on the subject."

"From whom did you see that?"

"I understood that was the secretary's desire."

Defense counsel objected sharply to the witness' "understanding."

"From what source did your understanding come?" Roberts pursued.

"I was advised by the secretary himself and also by the contents of one of two letters I saw."

"Fall followed this line of examination very closely. He appeared in better physical shape than here to fore and said he felt much better. Mrs. Fall who has been indisposed for two days also was able to be back in the courtroom."

Before court convened the former interior secretary told newspaper men that his "exultant" letter to Edward L. Doheny, as associate justice Butler of the Supreme Court, had denominated it, would be explained to the jury "even if I have to go on the stand." He added, however, that whether he would take the stand had not yet been determined.

In the letter to Doheny, written in the middle of 1921 Fall said he had obtained control of the administration of the naval reserves and would handle them as he saw fit without consulting with naval authorities except possibly on matters of policy.

Pursuing his inquiry as to secrecy surrounding the Teapot Dome lease, Roberts asked if there Department as to the possibility of leasing the reserve from which Fall is accused of having received $250,000 or more.

"Yes, there were a number of such inquiries," Finney replied.

Taking up the cross-examination, George P. Hoover, chief counsel for Sinclair, brought out that Fall's dissatisfaction with W. C. Mendenhall, geologist, as advisor to the secretary in naval reserve matters, was due to the fact that Mendenhall favored a "compromise" policy.

Going back to the claims of the Pioneer and Belgo companies to lands in Teapot Dome, however, was told that the interior department before the Sinclair lease had twice turned down those claims solely on the ground that the wells they had developed were not producing in commercial quantities when the general leasing act of 1920 was passed.

Sinclair quieted the claims of these companies after he got the lease.

"Is there anything in the general leasing act which must be producing in commercial quantities?" Hoover demanded.

"I object," Roberts cut in. "The law speaks for itself."

When Japanese Swim. An Egg for Babe Ruth. Fidelity? What Kind? Two Bottles, 3 Deaths.

(By Arthur Brisbane) Copyright 1927, by Star Co.

Japan prepares a fight from Tokyo to Seattle and mark this IF THE JAPANESE START FOR SEATTLE, THEY WILL FLY TO SEATTLE. They are thorough.

Have you ever seen sailors of Japan's navy swimming? Led by an officer, they swim in wedge shape formation, each man keeping his proper place in the water, all keeping time with even strokes, as in marching. And thus they swim in the ocean, twenty miles at a time. Men of that sort will fly the Pacific, if they undertake to fly it.

At Omaha, Babe Ruth received, as token of his greatness, an egg laid by Lady Norfolk, champion hen of the world.

It was the 170th egg laid or battered by the hen, in 170 days. Ruth remarked: "A hen's egg by the river's brim, a simple hen's egg was to him, and nothing more, and went on with his batting. It would surprise the idol of America to know that such a hen as Lady Norfolk is more important to the country than all its baseball players."

Mrs. Elinor Glyn, who usually knows more about the human heart than the heart knows about itself, says physical fidelity is not necessary in marriage.

The true woman realizes, says the "only mental and physical fidelity." Police court records do not support that theory. Marriage was designed to make men take care of their children and to make (Continued on page 7)

Says 25 Per Cent School Children Undernourished

Cincinnati, Oct. 20.—(AP)—From 25 to 35 per cent or more of the school children of America are undernourished, declared Dr. R. L. Carlton, health officer of Winston-Salem, N. C., in a talk today on the value of a nutrition worker on the school staff before health officers and educators attending the annual meeting of the American Public Health Association.

Malnutrition to the school child produces a lack of vitality and ambition; interferes with growth and development of mind and body, and less resistance to many kinds of disease, Dr. Carlton said.

"Faulty diet, faulty food habits, and the lack of fresh air and sunshine, all contribute to malnutrition," he explained.

Dr. Carlton described the nutrition program introduced in the schools of Winston-Salem, but said that the burden of health teaching must rest with the teachers, and that the co-operation of the parents must be obtained in the matter.

Gives Deadend Negro Respite

Raleigh, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Dave Devlin, negro, convicted of the murder of Deputy Sheriff Lindsay T. Yarborough at Yadkin on June 2, sentenced to be electrocuted today at State prison, remains in death row. Governor McLean has issued a respite until December 15 in order to complete investigation of the case.

Devlin was brought to prison here on Sept. 17 by Sheriff Kridler of Rowan County.

SAYS ALABAMA KLAN IN GRIP OF MOB RULE

Attorney General Tenders Resignation in Words of Scathing Denunciation.

Montgomery, Ala., Oct. 20.—(AP)—A Klansman whose wholesale investigation of reports of floggings incriminated the invisible empire, has branded "the Ku Klux Klan in Alabama as the greatest menace to constituted authority" in tendering his unconditional resignation from that order.

In a sweeping condemnation of that organization, attorney-general Charlie C. McCall directed his letter of withdrawal yesterday to "The Exalted Cyclops, Klan No. 3, Province No. 12, Realm of Alabama, Invisible Empire, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, Montgomery."

This action follows immediately after the extensive probe of the attorney-general into a series of alleged whippings in Oneonta, Blount and Crenshaw counties. His activities prompted an investigation by a special Crenshaw county grand jury last week at Luverne which scored the Klan in returning 102 indictments against residents of that section charged with complicity in these floggings.

While professing an adherence to "those fundamental principles which the Klan has publicly pronounced," the attorney-general in his letter declared that he had "become convinced that the Klan in Alabama is in the hands of a lawless leadership."

"I have become convinced that it is not the purpose or intent of its leaders to aid the duly constituted officers of the law in their efforts to enforce the criminal laws of these crimes committed by its leadership. I have become personally convinced that many of these crimes by hooded mobs which I have investigated have been planned and executed by Klan leaders, and the perpetrators of these crimes have been encouraged and shielded in the commission thereof."

In conclusion, he said he regarded his oath as an officer of the law superior to any private or fraternal obligation and he did not feel he "would follow longer behind the banner under the leadership of those leaders in their religious, political and criminal conniving, placing themselves at war with constituted authority."

MRS. GRAYSON MARKING TIME

Unfavorable Weather Precludes Any Possibility of Flight Before Sunday

Old Orchard Me., Oct. 20.—(AP)—Worrying Mrs. Frances Wilson Grayson and her companions here as they wait for the first favorable opportunity to take off for Copenhagen in their monoplane "Down."

Frequent postponements of their flight since early in September have not affected the expedition's plans and the vital factor of safety alone will determine when the big amphibian will wing its way eastward.

The former Long Island real estate operator whose flying is backed financially by Mrs. Age Ancker of Copenhagen and Aiken, S. C., made intentions clear when she announced that 600 more gallons of a special gasoline were on their way from New York to replace the fuel lost when two tanks had to be emptied in the forced lightening of the ship on its attempted start last Monday.

Cold, raw weather seems to have definitely precluded any possibility of a take-off before Saturday or Sunday and in the meantime the crew will devote its time to the "creation of the landing gear extension and weighing of the plane."

Price Goldsborough, the "Down" navigator, estimates that on the basis of past averages two weeks are left in which weather ought to be mild enough to permit the trans-Atlantic flight.

Would Consolidate Churches

The quarterly conference of the two churches have voted for the consolidation and plans are under way for one of the finest churches in the State.

S. CAR. LOSES TO CLEMSON SCORE 20 TO 0

State Fair Grounds, Columbia, Oct. 20.—(AP)—A sea of humanity, flicked by the Garnet and Black of Carolina, and the purple and gold of Clemson filled the stadium here today as the Gamecocks and Tigers met in their 25th annual gridiron struggle.

From every corner of South Carolina came men and women to view the acknowledged classic of Palmetto State football. Officialdom and society were represented by their leaders.

The sky was cloudy and there was almost no wind. Clemson College and the University of South Carolina battled furiously throughout the first period without any appreciable advantage to either. For the most part it was a punting duel between Red Swink for the Gamecocks and Rodgers and Ashill of Clemson. Both lines held like stone walls. Score ended first period Clemson 0; South Carolina 0.

The second period was virtually a repetition of the first, both teams displaying an almost impenetrable defense although during the two periods Clemson had scrapped through three first downs to none for the Gamecocks. Padgett broke through Carolina's defense at one point in the second period for eleven yards the longest gain otherwise being three yards. Score: end half, Clemson 0; South Carolina 0.

Eskew went in for Pitts; Magill and Hall and Swofford for Snowden for Clemson at the start of the second half. Ashill and Rodgers continued the punting battle and soon after the start of the period Zobel recovered a fumble by Rodgers and made South Carolina's first down of the game. It was mostly a series of line smashes on both sides with occasional efforts at forward passes that were promptly blocked up. Eskew gained 15 yards through the Gamecock right end as the period closed with the ball on South Carolina's 30-yard line. Clemson nothing; South Carolina nothing.

Clemson cut loose with everything in its repertoire in the last period. Eskew scoring a touchdown quickly Timmerman kicked goal, a second touchdown quickly followed the first Eskew sprinting 38 yards through the entire Gamecock team for it. McCrory kicked goal from placement. The third score came on a series of line smashes and bewildering multiple pass plays after Rodgers had punted from his goal line to the 20-yard line. Eskew carrying the ball over. Martin failed to score the extra point. Final score: Clemson 20; South Carolina 0.

McCrory Batters Way To Stardom As Fleet Fullback Of Georgia

Fitness, coupled with ability to crash through opposing lines, is making a football hero of Herdis McCrory (above), University of Georgia fullback. His playing was largely responsible for Georgia's recent 11 to 0 victory over Yale.

Athens, Ga.—(AP)—A smashing hard-driving attack, the kind of offense that gives football its greatest thrill, is bringing fame to Herdis McCrory, an Indiana boy, playing his second year as fullback for the University of Georgia bulldogs. McCrory has 197 pounds of brawn spread over six feet of height, which he uses to tear through opposing lines, while a pair of nimble feet are capable of taking him around ends at a speed of ten seconds to the hundred yards.

In fact, he depends upon his strength and speed for spectacular feats rather than the tricks of sidestepping and hip-swings. Once during the Florida game last season he charged the forwards from the opposing six yard line and when he headed for the touchdown three Floridians were sprawled unconscious around him. McCrory ran wild when Georgia defeated the University of Virginia, trailing 10 to 0.

ditional rivals, this season, scoring four touchdowns, one each quarter. Once he intercepted a pass and ran 64 yards, through the whole team, across the goal line. He was on the receiving end of most of Georgia's passes, while his line smashes and runs helped put the ball in a scoring position. Georgia won 32 to 0.

After the recent Yale-Georgia game, in which McCrory scored one of the touchdowns that gave Georgia a 14-0 victory, was a consistent ground-gainer and saved the victory for his team in the last few moments of play by stopping Caldwell of Yale. McCrory was described as a "bul-necked battering ram of Dixie."

Reports tell him as one of the leading candidates for the All-Southern and possibly higher honors, if he continues his spectacular performances.

Fight Films Can Now Be Exhibited Anywhere Legally

New York, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Fight films can be exhibited legally in New York or any other State, according to opinion today by United States District Court Judge Henry W. Goddard.

Judge Goddard also ruled that exhibitors receiving fight films from persons other than common carriers, or through the mails, may display them without becoming accessories to an offense against the interstate transportation law. Judge Goddard's ruling was in answer to questions put to him by the federal Grand Jury investigating the moving pictures of the Tunney-Hempsey championship bout at Chicago.

Be One of Our Boosters

3 CONFERENCE CONTESTS SET FOR SATURDAY

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 20.—(AP)—Three Southern Conference football teams must either hurdle or flop Saturday as they play initial games within the ranks, while four others, successful so far, meet in games that will leave two with chalks in the lost column. That is unless they hear the final blast in a deadlock.

Vanderbilt, boasting Bill Spears who has thrown 27 completed passes out of 49 attempts, has Tulane's green wave line, average 207 pounds to dispose of in its Conference debut.

Washington and Lee, emerging from four battles outside the Conference and suffering defeat only once, that at the hands of Princeton, is another to receive baptism. The Generals enter the pool at Lexington, Ky., against the Wildcats of Kentucky.

Spencer has the most difficult opening opponent of any, it would seem, the people warriors trekking down from the mountains to engage Alabama's yet ambitious Blazers.

North Carolina State will travel to Raleigh to meet Tech McCrory's bulldogs. Tech, the leader of the state for the first time this season when the Wolfpack carried their emblemized record into the game at Tampa against Florida, another squad boasting a clean 20-0 record.

Just how good "Mac" is at beating his balance when treading on a slick bridge of wavy alligators is to be seen, especially with such slick backs as Middlekuff and Power to be among those in front of him.

Monticelli A. & M's Marrons are meeting bidders on their poles because these three days with Georgia State looming in the opposition, he'll have tested.

TWO ENGLISH GIRLS SKATE 32 MILES

Brighton, Eng.—(AP)—Two girls have roller-skated here from London, a distance of 32 miles. Miss V. Harper made the distance in 8 hours, 41 minutes. Miss H. Sherwood took 8 hours, 9 minutes. Miss Sherwood fell about half-way but after receiving medical treatment for severe bruises on both knees, continued. The girls left at 4:22 a. m., and skated the first two hours in the dark and in the face of a high wind.

INDIGESTION GONE

Tennessean Was Worried Considerably Until, on Advice of An Acquaintance, He Began To Use Black-Draught.

Swainsboro, Tenn.—"For several years," says Mr. J. L. Russell, of this place, "I suffered continuously with spells of indigestion. Everything I ate disagreed with me, and I was in a bad way."

"Nothing did me any good until I found Black-Draught. One day a man in a store where we traded told me to try Black-Draught. He said he knew of it relieving indigestion, so I decided to give it a trial."

"In my case it seemed to go right to the very root of my trouble. It straightened me out, and ever since that time, over thirty years ago, I have used Black-Draught."

"When I have a spell of indigestion coming on, I begin on Black-Draught. I take several small doses, in a regular course, and I find it will usually have me well in less than no time. Now I never suffer—I take Black-Draught."

"I also found it safe to break up a bad cold. In the winter time, I always keep a box handy, so when I sneeze, or feel chilly down my spine, I take a few doses of Black-Draught, and that wards off the cold."

"How best can I trade in my present car for a new car?"

WHEN you are ready to trade in your present car for a new car, you naturally want full value for your present car. But most of all you want full new car value.

It will therefore pay you to consider varying trade-in allowance offers in the light of these basic facts:

- 1 Your present car has only one fundamental basis of value: i.e., what the dealer who accepts it in trade can get for it in the used car market.
- 2 Your present car has seemingly different values because competitive dealers are bidding to sell you a new car.
- 3 The largest allowance offered is not necessarily the best deal for you. Sometimes it is; sometimes it is not.
- 4 An excessive allowance may mean that you are paying an excessive price for the new car in comparison with its real value.
- 5 First judge the merits of the new car in comparison with its price, including all delivery and finance charges. Then weigh any difference in allowance offered on your present car.
- 6 Remember that you are making a purchase—not a sale. You are buying a new car and simply using your present car as a credit against the new car's purchase price.

STATE TEAMS READY FOR GRID CLASHES

Football squads of the old North State, facing strenuous assignments tomorrow, today were primed for the conflicts which will require their best if they are to emerge victorious.

The card, a delectable morsel for Gridiron followers, offers a pleasing diversity both in relative strength and physical showings this season, as well as in play and attack, with the added element of distance throw in.

The schedule follows:
N. C. State vs. Florida at Tampa, Fla.
North Carolina vs. Georgia Tech at Atlanta.
Wake Forest vs. Davidson at Greensboro.
King College vs. Lenor-Rhyne at Hickory.

Atlantic Christian College vs. Roanoke at Salem, Va.

hour to quarter to replace Adams, Jeffrey placed at full in Warren's place and Jordan relieved Childress at end.

Coach Tebell has some tricks up his sleeve, observers of the Wolfpack believe. He has showed an inclination to experiment here and there. He knows he has to outfish the outguessing the snawing "Gators" to win. His men are in the line of mystic condition, and confidence.

The theory of Wake Forest will be without the service of Captain Monk Ober when they meet the Davidson Wildcats at Greensboro. Ober is out with a leg injury and though he was seen on the Gridiron during practice several days this week the old injury has not healed and it has been stated that he will not be able to take part in the battle.

Season's First 6-Day Bike Race Draws Stars to Chicago Oct. 23

International bicycle riders will start the season of major six-day races at Chicago, October 23. Amico (left), of Italy, and his associate, Bobby Walthour, Jr.

Chicago — (AP) — Chicago will start the six-day bicycle racing season rolling with the first major meet in the country October 23.

Around the Coliseum track the best riders of Italy, Germany, France and the United States will pedal in the long grind.

As has been the case in recent years, the participants will work in pairs. The first riders would start around the track at 10:30 p.m. and the last at 11:30 p.m.

When a particularly nasty spill, the partner takes up the race and continues to the cheers of an assemblage of fans like that seen at no other sporting event.

The six-day bike fans usually represent many nationalities and their huzzas are loud and meaningful. When they cheer a favorite, they hump him up the way around the track they put their heart into it, and in spite of a popular impression that few attend a six-day

Womens Bike Race to Last Until 1929

Chicago, Oct. 23—(AP)—A six-day bicycle race for women that won't be over until 1929, is under way at the Illinois Women's Athletic Club.

Instead of riding round and round a wooden bowl on a dangerous two wheeled contraption and getting no where, the women have adopted a stationary machine which takes them just as far.

The wheel "bicycle" is capable of forty miles an hour on the dia and each contestant rides 15 minutes a day. The mileage is kept by the club statistician and the woman who grinds out the greatest number of miles in an elapsed time of six days will be declared the winner some time in 1929.

W. W. Jackson already has 15 miles to her credit and a number of others have done ten miles. The average speed was 2 1/2 miles an hour.

In addition to the incentive of a prize, the women hope the season will be a health stimulus.

The doctor told me that I would have died had I not taken the pills. I am never without them and have prescribed them for thousands of my patients who were suffering with indigestion, gas and sour stomach, biliousness, sick headache and constipation.

These pills are indeed a wonderful laxative, being purely vegetable, small and easy to take, children, as well as older people can swallow them easily. CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS All druggists—25c and 75c red pack.

Despite the fact that the elephant has no hump, Mr. Borah is trying to make a camel out of the G. O. P. mascot according to one of the noted cartoonists.

One of the Greenville, South Carolina civic clubs is to give a party for Earl Carroll just as soon as he can reach that city after his release from federal prison in Atlanta. No doubt the party will be minus both bath tub and bathing beauties.

In a recent issue of this paper an appeal was made by Public Welfare Officer, K. T. Futrell, in behalf of persons in the community in need of hospital treatment, but who are without funds for same. Persons who desire to render a real service to humanity could find no better way than in these cases. Just a few dollars may be the means of restoring health to some person who needs health in order to provide a livelihood for themselves and their children. It is to be hoped that such an appeal will not go unheeded by the good citizens of this community.

FOOLING THE FARMER

Well, the plan seems to be to tell the farmer that we'll enrich him at once by raising the tariff on his products, and we have fooled him so easily that way on numerous previous occasions that we are now quite confident of triumphantly sweeping the farm belt next year.—Ohio State Journal.

Unfortunately for agriculture, that quip stands not for a joke, but for a grim truth of many past election periods.

It is an axiom of all sports never to change a winning game and always to change a losing game. So in the great national sport of skinning agriculture to support manufacturers and transportation in the style to which they are accustomed, it is neither surprising nor out of line with established tactics to play the old effective methods for all they are worth once more.

So far as agriculture is concerned, there is happily a very plain determination to change a losing game. The agriculturist knows that rabbits come out of the tariff hat, all right, but he has learned, at long last, that for him the hat is empty. Offering him that empty hat, with a sympathetic face concealing an inner grin, is not going to work with the farmer this time.—Des Moines Register.

About Town

A crowd of "stay-away-from-home-at-night-men" were congregated in Dr. Charlie Horne's drug store last night.

As usual, they were talking—discussing mankind in general and woman kind in particular.

Suddenly the conversation took a spasmodic turn.

"I hear Henry Ford is getting ready to spend several million dollars in manufacturing a new kind of plane," observed a member, oracularly.

"I don't see how he gets that way," responded another member of the party, as he walked behind the counter, pushed a soda jerker aside and began making his own drink.

"Why, Mr. Ford can't even get out another automobile—how in the world can you expect an airplane?"

The Memorial Baptist church will celebrate its hundredth birthday Sunday according to announcement received in this city yesterday.

The congregation plans to observe the occasion with a suitable program. And well they might. It is no small thing to have the honor of being a member of one of the oldest Baptist churches of the state.

"The church has a long and honorable record," Dr. B. W. Spillman, prominent Baptist minister said sometime ago, "and its achievements have been many and far reaching."

Dr. Madry, corresponding secretary of the Southern Baptist convention, will be the principal speaker at this important affair, and what he will have to say no doubt will form a fitting climax to the day's activities.

Prices continue to advance on the Greenville tobacco market. This is the result of the marketing of better grades of bright leaf and also like of congestion of the warehouse floors.

That favorable prices will continue the remainder of the season seemed to be the consensus of opinion of a leading tobacconist today. He expressed himself highly gratified at the splendid average made by the local market and believed it would equal if not surpass anything in this district.

"It is gratifying to note the amount of street paving being done in Greenville this time," remarked a citizen today as he watched workmen busily engaged in paving operations.

"Greenville will benefit greatly from the $125,000 worth of pavement authorized by the aldermen some time ago. The program will link up many sections with the business district, and should be a means of speeding up life and industry.

"Where do you get that stuff from?" inquired a visitor to this office as he bent over this scriber's typewriter and watched line after line of copy appear without the writer copying from any visible manuscript.

The typewriting stopped a moment. We scratched our head as we usually do when trying to explain the inexplicable. The typewriter looked as if it might like to scratch something, but it didn't—just remained mechanically cold and unconcerned and left everything to us.

"Well, friend did you notice the electrically operated machines in the front of the office as you came in? They have wires attached to them. We haven't any visible wires strung on to us but there's a little dynamo on the inside of us that produces this stuff as fast as we can write it."

The visitor looked at us. We looked at him.

Burglars Pull New Wrinkle In This State

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 25.—(AP)—The latest wrinkle in things burglarious is causing North Carolinians cautiously to watch for the advent of the most recent innovation in crime annals—the spurious telephone "inspector."

Several days ago a dapper young man, purporting to be a telephonic expert bent upon a tour of inspection, gained ingress to a fashionable Richmond, Va., home, nonchalantly trotted about the premises and departed with loot in gems valued at thousands of dollars. By the time the hoax was discovered, the thief had vanished.

Yesterday a debonair young man, as yet unidentified, attempted to enter the homes of Frank B. Simpson and R. H. Brees on pretext of being a telephone "inspector" from headquarters. He was watched closely and departed without tintering with the instruments or being given an opportunity to roam about the homes.

Police hold to the theory that the pseudo stranger likely is he who is aped such a handsome haul in the Virginia capital, or else is a criminal of similar ilk and identical inclinations. It may be they believe.

Willard Mack, Noted Author, Producer and Actor, writes:

"We people of the theatre are, as a rule, extremists. This is the reflex action from overworked nerves. When a man smokes forty cigarettes a day, as I do, he must be sure of his brand. GOOD CROWD AT REVIVAL

Dr. Turner Last Night Delivered Forceful Discourse Dealing With God's Love.

Rev. James B. Turner, of Raleigh, pastor of Hayes-Barton Baptist church of that city, last night delivered the third sermon of the series of revival services which he is conducting at the Immanuel Baptist church here. He used as his subject, "Decisive Response," and showed that just as the flowers respond to the sun, so does the human heart respond to the love of God.

Another good crowd attended the services last night and heard the capital city minister paint a glowing word picture of the fullness of God's love for humankind. Song services were conducted by Rev. L. R. O'Brian, pastor of the church.

It was stated this morning that considerable interest was being manifested in services at four o'clock in the afternoon. These congregations are made up largely of young women from the teachers college and city schools, many of whom do not get an opportunity of attending at night. Dr. Turner said these afternoon services would continue throughout the ten days the revival is in progress, and that he hoped to have a general increase in crowds each day.

The sermon last night was taken from the first ten verses of the second chapter of Mark, in which he tells of the paralytic being carried to Jesus by his four friends.

"Response is the life of the world," the speaker declared. "A flower responds to the sun; the poet sings that it is better to have loved and lost than never to have loved at all. But love required is a much better boon. God wants us to respond to Him. The fact that God loves has never been instrumental in saving a soul, but when that love is responded to the blessed transaction is complete."

"Jesus left his case in the hands of a sick man. If the response had been lacking the dilemma would have been more pronounced because the people were looking to Jesus to make good or to fail with this man."

"But the man got up and walked out as Jesus told him to do, thereby proving to those critical onlookers that Jesus had the power. He claimed."

"So it is today. Jesus depends upon us to make good His word. One man in an organization often defeats the ends of the organization. It is an individual matter, this business of being a Christian."

In conclusion, Dr. Turner attempted to clinch his argument by reference to a human parallel.

Increase Motor Club Membership In Greenville

M. B. Barmettler, district manager and C. A. Knight, of the Carolina Motor Club, were in the city yesterday and today in the interest of building up the membership of the club.

They said they were making an effort to get 75 members here, as this number would be necessary to get the name of the city on the club emblem.

The motor club maintains a branch office in this city, and has been a means of rendering invaluable assistance to motorists here. This is one of the thirty odd towns in the State having a branch office of the organization.

FALL MODES

That Emphasize Slender Lines for Larger Women

The fact that one's weight is above average doesn't mean that one can't dress fashionably. Indeed, quite the contrary is true, and for several years this store has taken a special pride and pleasure in meeting the specialized needs of the larger woman for smart apparel. This season our task is an unusually simple one because it happens, fortunately, that the styles which the youthful figure has declared fashionable are the very ones that become the larger woman particularly well. The currently smart styles require very little adaptation to make them suitable to the more mature figure, and in this advertisement we emphasize those details of the mode which promise to have a slenderizing effect on the larger woman.

Otto Wood Talks About Punishment

Raleigh, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Otto Wood, convicted murderer, is a believer in capital punishment—with reservations.

The one-armed slayer of a pawn broker in Greensboro is on death row at State prison, where he has something over 25 years yet to serve before he can shed his prison garb.

"I believe in it, certainly, but with reservations," the prisoner said today in an interview.

"Any man that commits a brutal murder or any man that commits an attack upon a defenseless woman should be made to pay with his life, but I think the guilt of any one should always be proven before he is sent down the line to the chair.

"But," he continued, "I don't think any man ought to be sent down on what the courts call circumstantial evidence. You know, the courts could be wrong."

To bear out his claim that he reads sometimes, Wood pointed to his bed. The bed was literally covered with newspapers. There were also some magazines. Not content with reading alone, Wood has been supplying the condemned negroes on death row with reading matter.

Asked if he were thinking about doing another book, Otto replied he was through with writing. Wood said he disposed of about one thousand copies of his book, the main theme of which was to show that crime does not pay.

"You can say for me that I do not intend to do any more writing any time soon," he said.

MOTHER IS INVENTOR OF WATERPROOF COVER

Baltimore.—(AP)—Necessity has been the mother of many household inventions, but it isn't often that the busy housewife has time to develop and patent an invention formally, as Mrs. Ada Coleman has done.

Mrs. Coleman, who is the mother of five children, has received two patents on a waterproof cover designed to fit any schoolbook.

"The idea came to me some years ago," she explained. "One of my children came home crying because her books were not covered. Long experimenting with oilcloth produced the cover."

LOUVRE STATUARY INSPIRES HAIR-CUT

Paris.—(AP)—The new Greek haircut, which combines sleekness with skillful waving, is directly traceable to the Louvre.

It is not the first time that Parisian style makers have gone to the art museums for inspiration. Many of the designers spend days at a time studying work of art for new ideas.

NEW ZEALAND ACTS TO SAVE WHALES AS EXTENSION LOOMS

Whales are becoming so scarce in the oceans of the world that the New Zealand government has curtailed whaling rights in the Ross Sea richest remaining whale fishery. A Norwegian fleet has the entire concession there. At the right is one of its "whale chasers" and above workmen are shown aboard the mother ship cutting up blankets of blubber. At the left below is a typical seaman on a whaling boat.

Whangamumu, New Zealand.—Whales are decreasing in numbers so rapidly that they will be as scarce as sailing ships in a few years.

The New Zealand government has limited the number of whaling ships in its waters in an effort to conserve the world's stock, which is now mostly in the Ross Sea.

A century ago whale catching in New Zealand waters was at its height and around 1825 the only white men in the dominion were those at the many whaling stations around the coasts of South and North Islands.

Since then the Ross Sea has been nearly fished dry of whales, and now only one firm is permitted to go whaling in Ross Sea and Antarctic waters. The concession is held by a Norwegian firm, which pays the New Zealand government $1,000 per month and a royalty of 50 cents per gallon on whale oil obtained. It has three whalers, small, fast vessels, each equipped Down in the Ross sea the 12,000 tonner "factory" produced 711,640 gallons of oil in 1924, a year later 1,286,003 gallons and last year more than 1,500,000 gallons. These quantities form 99 per cent of the world supply of whale oil.

There are still one or two whaling stations in New Zealand home waters around Cook Strait and North Auckland, but the whales there are small, known as "humpbacks," whose chasing and capture is becoming less of an industry among the crews of government chasers than a first-class sport with a thrill.

The humpback, though small, is as strong as a sea elephant, and slippery. Harpooning a Cook Strait whale from a gun on board a bobbing motor vessel needs nerve and an accurate eye.

In a year's whaling in Cook Strait and down Marlborough Channel only 48 whales were taken worth $30,000 for their 250 tons of oil and 40 tons of bone dust.

The world's record whale—or rather, his skeleton—is on show still in Canterbury Museum. He was found stranded on Corvairat Bay in the Australian Bight. From the tip of the tail over 1100 to the muzzle it measured over 101 feet.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Your Essex gives you 50 miles an hour all day long. Far greater speed if you want it. Brilliant activity in pick-up and hill climbing. More than 2½ times the power its motor size ordinarily rates it. Long life and enduring character to all its abilities and quality.

It is exclusive performance because Essex Super-Six design is exclusive. And because every part of motor and chassis is engineered to true balance with every other part.

This unity construction goes beyond Essex performance to Essex comfort, appearance and economy. Thus its compactness gives 15% more passenger room. Its riding ease is not excelled by any car regardless of size or price.

And it is engineered to lowest operation and maintenance cost. During the year Essex has outsold any other "Six" at or near the price, almost two to one, and we believe a single ride will fully reveal the reason.

Market Report

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON
New York, Oct. 20.—(AP)—A further decline of about 4¢ a bale occurred in the cotton market today under continued liquidation and southern selling, promoted by better weather reports and unfavorable Liverpool trade advices.

Prices for all months made new low ground for the movement, March breaking below the 20-cent level, or nearly 5 cents a pound below the high price of last September.

Trading was quiet in mid-afternoon, prices showing rallies of 1/2¢ to 1¢ points on covering and trade buying.

GRAIN

Chicago, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Increase in selling on the part of houses in the north connections broke the market today to a new all-time low. The price of wheat with big country deliveries, based on the latest yet on the crop, was mainly responsible. Wheat closed at 97 1/2¢ a bushel, 1 1/4¢ down, or 3-5 to 5-8 off and unchanged to a setback of 1/2¢.

New York, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Raw sugar was easier today and while no sales were reported, it developed that late yesterday 20,000 bags of Cuban nearby were sold to a local refiner at a decline of 1/2¢ a unit or 4.00 for Cuban duty paid. There was a further buying interest at this level. Refined was unchanged.

STOCK MARKET
New York, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Reactionary price tendencies continued to predominate in today's stock market, despite repeated efforts of bulls and others to rally the market. Declines in many of the popular industrial and utility shares ran as high as 1/2¢ to 3/4¢.

Beard's reaction to the disappointing character of many of the fall business reports of the Ford corporation and the unfavorable nature of some of the Southern railroads earnings reports was particularly marked. Reduction in the Dow Jones index to 112.12, with corrections below that figure reported in the "outside market," was disregarded, at least temporarily, as a market factor.

Persistent liquidation of heavy investment issues, such as United States Steel, common, American Telephone, Woolworth, New York Central, Union Pacific and Canadian Pacific, all of which touched new lows on the market today, swinging had a disturbing effect on the entire market.

Continued liquidation of heavy investment issues, such as United States Steel, common, American Telephone, Woolworth, New York Central, Union Pacific and Canadian Pacific, all of which touched new lows on the market today, swinging had a disturbing effect on the entire market.

Publication of a favorable third quarter report by Hudson Motors early in the afternoon brought about a brisk recovery in that issue, which helped to check the tide of selling elsewhere.

The close was weak, total sales approximately 2,200,000 shares.

Husbands more civilized through self-control. Some mysterious wisdom tells wives that mere mental and physical fidelity is not sufficient insurance for children, or mother.

"Explanation of our modern crime wave?" Nothing complicated about it, says Chicago policemen. They mention Wilfred J. Winters, 21 years old, Margaret Martin, 15 and Catherine Stadler, 19, friends of their lives. After young Winters had shot both girls to death and killed himself in his automobile, the police held up two empty moonshine whiskey bottles, saying, "There's your explanation."

Senator Borah says he will keep after both political parties and make them put a plank on prohibition in their parties.

They might include a plank on young Mr. Winters and the inability of government to keep whiskey away from him. Prohibition in the Constitution does not mean much unless you can have it in the automobile also.

The American Federation of Labor favors a five-day week, giving the worker two days out of seven.

Russia's government, exercising powers, establishes a seven hour week day, a long step from the days of old Russia.

Henry Ford, who started the five-day week, wants men to have one day in which to spend what they earn in five days. Spending is as important to the country as earning, says Ford.

The value to workers of a seven hour day, or five-day week, depends on how they do with the extra day or hour of freedom.

As they read and think more, they will go ahead. If not, they will stay in the same place but in a more leisurely way. That will improve their health. That will make a better next generation, inclined to thought.

Robert A. Millikan, brilliant scientist, list of California Institute of Technology, tells students that science "will free human slaves," meaning, presumably, that science will free men from hard labor. Pray that it may not happen too soon. Free men today from the necessity that drives them, and 99 in 100 would become worthless. If you doubt it, contemplate those that inherit wealth, in so-called society.

The American Public Health Association, gathered at Cleveland, is told that today's greatest cause of death is heart disease. And repeated infections such as "common colds," to which so little attention is paid, cause heart disease. The trouble starts often in childhood, with childhood's diseases, all of which might be avoided. This should interest parents of the dark ages type who think "the children might as well have measles and such little things first and last and get them over with."

Basel Stewart, solemn and British, predicts a great war, to begin in May, 1928, ending in 1936.

Fortunately, he bases his prediction on "the symbolism of the great pyramid" and "prophetic forecasts of the Bible." When the Bible was written, modern war methods were unknown, and forecasts of that period could not apply to airplanes, TNT and gas bomb warfare.

Repair Levees in Flood Area

Aboard Secretary Davis' Train, Pinebluff, Ark., Oct. 20.—(AP)—The levees of the Arkansas River, the largest tributary of the Mississippi River in the flooded region, on which 27 breaks occurred east of Little Rock during last spring's inundation, are now repaired sufficiently to withstand any fall rises of water.

The situation in the river area was reported today to Secretary of War Davis by Army engineers when the Cabinet official commenced his first days survey of flood control work in the region from Big Bend, Ark., along the Arkansas River to Little Rock.

The break from the levees on

Elizabeth Charlotte Anderson won the beauty contest at Furman University, Greenville, S. C.

Spartanburg, S. C.—(AP)—Elizabeth Charlotte Anderson, brunette with bobbed hair, is a modern Gibson girl, Anita Loo and her blondes to the contrary notwithstanding! She was selected as the most beautiful girl by Charles Dana Gibson, the artist, in a contest held by Furman University of Greenville, S. C. She had an abundance of blonde competition. Miss Anderson ranks high as a student at Converse College for Women here, where she is a senior. Her home is in Summerton, S. C.

The river were said to have accounted for much of the flooding of the state which had 1,830,400 acres inundated, being the heaviest sufferer in area of any of the flooded states. The Secretary, who was invited to breakfast by the Pinebluff Chamber of Commerce and officers' reserve corps, had on his program after the affair, an automobile tour of the levees east of here, including inspection of the repair work on the three crevasses of government levees at Big Bend, Pendleton and Medford.
