TELLS ABOUT IMPROVEMENT AT COLLEGE

President Wright says Work on New Buildings Will Begin Immediately.

At a recent interview with President Albert H. Wright he gave out the following information concerning the building program which is now in progress.

"The last session of the General Assembly" he said, appropriated $400,000 for permanent improvements at the college. "Out of this appropriation $10,000 is to be spent for library books. Between $3,000 and $5,000 of this amount has been spent already for books. A new model school to be erected on the extreme east of the campus has been planned. Only a section consisting of eight rooms will be built now, though the school will contain thirty rooms when completed.

"At a spot on the southeast of the campus, where the temporary power plant now stands, will be placed the new and up-to-date power house. The new laundry building, convenient and modern in every phase will be built in connection with the new power plant. The present laundry side will be converted into a cloak and lounging room for the girls. This will serve as an excellent place for the girls to go just before meals on rainy days.

"A covered walkway will lead from the building to the dining hall. Since the present dining hall will accommodate only 500 students a new unit will be built near the old one, which will take care of the 300 new students expected next year."

The contracts, President Wright, explained had already been let and the work will be commenced immediately.

MONTANA PIONEER, 101 BUILT TERRITORIAL ROAD

Butte, Mont. — (AP) — When William Berklin came to Montana in 1863, the Missouri river was the State's main highway.

Recently, when he celebrated his hundred and first birthday anniversary, he recalled that he constructed the road from Port Benton, then head of navigation on the Missouri river, to Virginia City, territorial capital, and that the road now is the principal thoroughfare between these points. Berklin also laid out the road between Butte and the terminus of the Utah and Northern railroad at Corinne, Utah, over which the first copper ores from Montana went to market.

RUTH ELDER TO TRY IT AGAIN

Young Aviatrix Plans To Attempt to Cross Atlantic Again Next August.

Lisbon, Portugal, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Ruth Elder, undaunted by a forced descent of her plane upon the Atlantic, plans to try to cross from New York to Paris by air again next August.

Miss Elder, who has arrived at Ponta Delgrade, Sao Miguel, Azores, on board the steamer Lima which is bringing her here, declared that she will fly from New York to Paris and then to London. From London she will go by boat to New York immediately to begin preparations for her next venture.

Her ambition is to be the first woman to fly from New York to Paris. Miss Elder said, and now that she has faced the dangers of a trans-Atlantic flight and is accustomed to its sensations she is convinced that she will succeed in her next attempt.

Asked for her personal impression of the Viennese actress, Lilli Dillenz, passenger of the Junkers plane D-1230 now at Horta, the Azores, Miss Elder declared that she thinks Miss Dillenz intention to fly to the United States is a far more risky adventure than her own. She said that Miss Dillenz, whom she met when the Dutch tanker Barandrecht which rescued her, landed at Horta, was a very charming intelligent and cultured woman. Miss Elder, impressed by the spirit of the actress, is convinced she will succeed.

Face Indictment For Fight Films

San Francisco, Oct. 21.—(AP)—With theaters again featuring the Dempsey-Tunney fight films today after holding them in reserve since federal agents raided the Capitol Theatre here September 28 and seized the film of exhibition, three men faced federal indictments on charges of conspiring to bring the films into California.

Those indicted were Harry Burke formerly a copy reader on the New York World, N. W. (Billy) Burke, his son, and J. J. Moore, local theatrical booking agent.

Showing of the films started after the acting United States District Attorney announced that he had not pressed the grand jury to indict W. P. ## NEW GROUP OF G.O.P. MEMBERS TALK FARMING

Five Western Senators Gather to Discuss Agricultural Relief For the Nation.

Washington, Oct. 21.—(AP)—The newly formed group of five Western Republican Senators who have united in the hope of solving legislative problems peculiar to their section were called together today for a discussion of that stumbling block of the last Congress, agricultural relief.

In the nature of a compromise, a new farm bill has been under preparation by Senator Brookhart of Iowa, a guiding spirit in the movement. It would replace the controversial equalization fee of the vetoed McNary-Haugen bill with direct government appropriations, offering this concession in the hope of winning the approval of Senators Borah, of Idaho, one of the group who opposed the McNary-Haugen bill because of the fee provision.

Brookhart's tentative bill would include all crops as well as the few named in the McNary-Haugen measure and would have surplus administered by a governmental agency.

Anxious for a farm bill it can approve, they are removing an important issue of the coming political campaign in the west, the administration is watching closely.

The little band which in addition to Brookhart and Borah (read North Dakota, and Norris of Nebraska, had hopes today of increasing its ranks. Senator McMaster of South Dakota, was invited to attend.

Three Convicted For Irregularity In Penn. Election

Pittsburgh, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Two men and a woman were convicted by a criminal court jury today of various ballot irregularities in the spring primary of 1926. Commonwealth witnesses, among other things, testified the ballots cast in the district were thrown into a sewer to prevent a possible recount.

Charles Golden, a Pittsburgh fire captain and Republican chairman of the ward involved, and J. William Bolster, a member of the election board, were found guilty of conspiracy, making a false count and false return and failure to deliver ballot boxes and other election records. Mrs. Anna Conklin, a clerk of the election board, was convicted of making a false return but was recommended to the mercy of the court.

The prosecution followed an investigation of a State legislative contest. The case also figured in testimony taken by the special committee during its inquiry into the Vore-Wilson senatorial contest.

TODAY

All o.k. Says Coolidge. Bad Times for Socialism. They Want Cruisers. Squandering Oil.

(By Arthur Brisbane)
Copyright 1927, by Star Co.)

President Coolidge, surveying national conditions, finds them excellent. As regards business and prosperity, Secretary Mellon says there is capital in abundance, for all new ventures worthwhile, crops are good, mail order houses are increasing their business, and automobiles are expected to set new sales records.

Secretary Hoover reports that our exports are increasing. This year is ahead of the same period last year and our imports have one pleasant feature. We are not paying England the high prices for rubber that we paid last year. You may reply to questions about the business outlook, as follows: NOTHING THE MATTER. IF BUSINESS DOES NOT BECOME AFRAID OF ITS OWN PROSPERITY.

Victor Berger, only Socialist in Congress, and one of the ablest, best informed men in Congress, is chosen head of the Socialist party to succeed Eugene V. Debs. Nobody knows better than Berger that these times are bad for Socialism. When bricklayers make fifteen dollars a day, or more, and rough labor in the building trades gets nine dollars for eight hours work, Karl Marx fades into the background.

Urging men to "throw off their chains" is one thing. Urging them to throw off their radio set, automobile and talking machine is another thing. Berger would probably tell you privately, that if fifty thousand Socialists each inherited one hundred thousand dollars, there would be not more than five hundred Socialists left, and they would be a little queer. Such is human nature. Berger, by the way, could have been a rich man had he chosen to work for money, instead of the whim that he bestirred.

MAYOR TRAINS GUN ON BRITISH

Thompson, of Chicago, Determines to Wipe out Pro-British Propaganda in Schools.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Mayor Thompson today trained his big guns on another sector in his war against "King George of England." He aimed at a "British lion" crouched upon the shelves of the Chicago public library.

The first offensive in the campaign was directed toward removing William McAndrew from the superintendency of public schools because he was a "stool pigeon of King George." Superintendent McAndrew is not on trial before the school board, charged with insubordination.

The mayor has commissioned W. J. Hermann, well known sportsman, as his lieutenant in the latest drive. A long letter of instructions was sent to Mr. Hermann in which the mayor expressed the fear that the Chicago reading public is being served liberal doses of pro-British propaganda. Hermann was instructed to scrutinize every history book in the Chicago library and its branches for traces of the "British taint."

"My pre-election pledge is a sacred thing to me," wrote the mayor. "I will not rest until I've purged this entire city of the poison that's being injected into the heart of American youth to eulogize England at the expense of their own country."

Former congressman John J. Gorman, who investigated the school history texts and who plans to take the witness chair again at the resumption of Superintendent McAndrew's trial Monday, said: "I expect to show that a deliberate plot exists to inoculate the minds of American teachers with pro-British ideas. The purpose is for these teachers in turn to inoculate the minds of their pupils."

INFANTILE PARALYSIS CLAIMS 101 VICTIMS

EARL CARROLL GOES BACK TO OLD BROADWAY

Theatrical Producer to Forget Shadows of Prison Walls on Great White Way.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 21.—(AP)—Earl Carroll turned to Broadway today to ease the shadows of a prison sentence.

At liberty on parole from the federal penitentiary after having served a third of his year and a day term for perjury, he goes back to New York to resume his work with the expressed intention of staging a comeback "if the world will meet me just half way."

With his wife, his brother James, his sister Mrs. Alice Schneider, and T. V. Rooney, his casting director, the theatrical producer has reserved compartments on a Southern railway train which arrives there shortly after noon tomorrow.

To a happy re-union with his wife and friends, Carroll stepped gingerly, if eagerly, across the threshold of freedom last night, suffering from what he described as fear complex in having to meet people again. It remained, however, for the lights of passing automobiles on his way from the penitentiary to a downtown hotel to furnish his first re-union to liberty.

"They flash in my face and stridled me" he said. "It made me feel as Rip Van Winkle must have felt when he awoke."

Carroll's feeling over his imprisonment, which grew out of his celebrated "bath-tub" party in New York last year, were expressed formally in a statement typewritten on prison stationery, that he handed newspapermen upon his release. His testimony before a federal grand jury concerning charges that champagne was served from the tub in which a nude chorus girl reclined formed the basis of the perjury charge.

He assured those who felt he should be punished by his "misguided gesture of chivalry," that he had suffered.

"I have undergone an irreparable loss of self-respect" his statement said, "a realization of unworthiness such as each and every man feels when the door of prison clangs behind him. My constant companion has been a great shadow of humiliation, a heavy sense of moral degradation."

"I never watched each setting sun through the bars of my windows without seeing written there in those iron shadows the loss of my most priceless heritage—my American citizenship."

He was going back, however, with the even firmer belief that what he did "was the only thing I would do and that there are times when a man's honor is far more precious than liberty, and liberty more precious than life."

As for future plans, he has made none as yet, but he admitted the possibility that his recent experiences will be reflected in some of his future work.

"All experiences make an impression on a man, and some of mine may work into my productions at a later date," he explained. "I have no plans now. Certainly I am going to do the thing I should do—the thing I will know and love, and I want to get back to work."

"I may write some; I did none in the prison but there is a possibility that I will find time for this type of work later."

The actual time and manner of Carroll's release produced a mystery which kept newspapermen guessing until he turned up in the lobby of the hotel, where a suite had been reserved for him accompanied by Mrs. Carroll, his brother and sister.

Winner of Bok Peace Prize Dies Suddenly

Berkeley, Calif., Oct. 21.—(AP)—Dr. Charles Herbert Levermore, 71, winner of the $100,000 Bok peace prize, dropped dead here yesterday while addressing a women's organization on plans to promote world peace. Physicians said death was caused by heart failure.

Dr. Levermore was born in Mansfield, Conn., in 1856, was graduated from Yale University in 1879, and in 1886 received a Ph.D. from Johns Hopkins University. In 1890 he was a professor at Massachusetts Institute of Technology and at the University of California. He was president of Odelphi College Brooklyn, N. Y., from 1896 to 1912.

In 1912 Dr. Levermore began associating himself directly with peace work, although he continued at Odelphi College as professor of history until 1914. He wrote numerous works on international relations, was secretary of the New York Peace Society, and secretary of the World Court League and League of Nations Union.

SAY CAROL TO TAKE THRONE

French Paper Says National Peasant Party Has Asked Prince to Become King.

Paris, Oct. 21.—(AP)—L'Oeuvre, French radical newspaper, today says that delegates of the national peasant party of Rumania have negotiated with former Crown Prince Carol for his return to Rumania and his assumption of the throne.

The possibility of Carol's return, however, is not regarded seriously in competent quarters here as the latest reliable advices from Bucharest say that the Carolist movement is non-existent in Rumania. The leaders of the peasant party are said to admit that they are not working for the former Crown Prince's return.

They content the maladministration of Premier Bratianu will eventually bring about Carol's return. L'Oeuvre in an article signed by Henry Barbe, foreign editor of the paper, says that the peasant party delegates laid down one condition—that Carol break with the titian haired Maeda Lupescu with whom he eloped nearly two years ago, deserting his wife, Princess Helen. Carol accepted this condition, it is stated.

Barbe says that Carol will enter his kingdom at the beginning of next year, and that the Congress of the national peasant party to be held at Abalulia, Rumania, Oct. 27, will issue a pronouncement in favor of Carol's return.

Barbe adds that Premier Bratianu and his brother, Vintila, are so alarmed at the prospect of Carol's return that they are doing all in their power to prevent the Congress from meeting.

Judgment to Be Signed Tuesday

Wilmington, N. C., Oct. 21.—(AP)—Because counsel were unable last night to agree upon statements of fact to be incorporated in a consent judgment to be signed by Judge W. A. Devin in an action started by public school teachers of this county to obtain pay for three months on contract, the judgment will not be signed until next Tuesday, it was announced today. The action was started when the county board of education defaulted because of lack of funds.

At a hearing yesterday afternoon Judge Devin said he would sign a judgment ordering the county to raise sufficient funds to pay the teachers and suggested that the attorneys draw the judgment so the case could be heard immediately by the Supreme Court on an agreed statement of facts. Attorneys said today that it probably would be Monday before an agreement could be reached.

ARMY-YALE GAME TO BE DRY SPIRITUOUSLY

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 21.—(AP)—Federal prohibition authorities determined that the Army-Yale football game here tomorrow shall be dry in so far as they can make it.

Dry agents on duty at New Haven will be supplemented by others from throughout the state, said deputy prohibition administrator Frank T. Putney, of Hartford.

SMITH GOES ON STAND IN OIL HEARING

Director Geological Survey Reports on Findings Prior to Lease of Teapot Dome

Washington, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Through geologists, the government's oil counsel endeavored today in the District of Columbia court to disprove the contention of the defense, that the compelling motive of Alford B. Fall in leasing Teapot Dome to Harry P. Sinclair was the danger of drainage by adjacent oil wells.

George Otis Smith, director of the Geological Survey, testified that in the latter part of October, 1921, six months before the lease was executed by the former Secretary of the Interior, he sent a competent geologist to Teapot Dome who reported that the situation as to possible drainage had been unchanged since the date of the executive order establishing the Wyoming naval oil reserve.

At the outset of the criminal conspiracy trial, held here today, the defense placed before the jury correspondence between Fall and the late Senator Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin, concerning the naval reserves.

Fall's letter was dated April 12, 1922, three days after the lease was signed, and it gave the first information that Teapot Dome had passed from government possession. He spoke of what he thought was the danger of drainage and added that "it is not the purpose to sell oil, but simply to preserve oil above the ground if it cannot be preserved under the ground."

The then Secretary said also that military purposes were involved in the lease, and that details could not be made public without the authority of the President, but he enclosed a memorandum giving the high spots in the lease signed by Sinclair.

It was after receipt of this letter that Senator La Follette set in motion machinery of the Senate, the operation of which resulted in the sensational inquiry of 1923-24.

As the correspondence was read and as Smith continued his testimony, Fall appeared calmer than he did on yesterday when he startled attorneys and spectators by suddenly rising from his seat and addressing the court in an effort to have admitted testimony he said was vital to his defense. He was watched closely by spectators who apparently were waiting some other dramatic move on his part.

Smith told the court that he sent a geologist, K. C. Heald, to Teapot Dome at the suggestion of Fall to investigate reported danger of drainage.

"Heald told Secretary Fall in my presence," said Dr. Smith. "That there was no imminent danger of drainage in Teapot Dome. I do not remember that I did more at that time than to vouch for Heald. Three days later I went to Falls office with a written transcript of Heald's oral statement which I gave the Secretary. After that I was not consulted by Fall about Teapot Dome at any time."

Questioned by the court, Dr. Smith said Heald was sent to Teapot Dome because of a report made in September, 1921, by Carl H. Waggerman, a government geologist, that there was danger of drainage in Teapot Dome.

Heald, who now is staff geologist of the Gulf Oil Company, identified his report which recommended against leasing the entire Teapot Dome oil reserve but said there was some danger of drainage in the northern part adjacent to the Salt Creek field.

Government counsel offered part of Sinclair's testimony before the Senate oil committee and the jury was excused while counsel argued as to its advisability.

After counsel had disclosed that they would talk throughout the afternoon session, the jury was excused until Monday morning, as there will be no sessions of the court on Saturdays.

MAX GARDNER SPEAKS

Rutherfordton, N. C., Oct. 21.—(AP)—America is not free from intolerance or bigotry but "our fondness for hat has never fully developed," declared O. Max Gardner, of Shelby, in an address here last night to Kiwanians of Marion, Shelby and Rutherfordton.

Mr. Gardner, who recently toured the old World, spoke on "My Trip to Europe." He expressed opinion that "the acid of hate has corroded the heart of Europe."

He urged hearers to keep alive and sustain the spirit of friendship and fraternity that "our country may never suffer from the disease of European social disorders."

PUGH TO SPEAK TO KIWANIS

Lieut-Governor of 4th District to be Guest of the Local Club Tonight.

C. R. Pugh, of Elizabeth City, lieutenant governor of the Fourth Kiwanis district, will be the principal speaker at the regular twice-a-month session of the Kiwanis Club here tonight. This will be the main feature of the evening, although the program provides for several other interesting numbers.

"Mr. Pugh is well known to Kiwanians in Greenville, and his visit is looked forward to with interest," H. E. Austin, club secretary, stated today.

Just what subject the lieutenant governor will discuss could not be learned this morning, but it is believed he will bring a vital message dealing with Kiwanis activities of this district.

President W. H. Woolard this morning requested all members of the organization to make it a point to be present tonight and take part in the program.

Remus to Have Access to Files

Washington, Oct. 21.—(AP)—George Remus, former Cincinnati bootlegger, will have access to the files of the Department of Justice in defending himself against the charge of murdering his wife, attorneys interested in the case announced today after a conference with Justice officials.

Charles Elston, counsel for Remus, and Charles E. Basler, representing prosecution, conferred at length with department officials today and afterwards said that in view of this development they would not seek to obtain depositions here from high officials of that department. It was added that a statement would be given out later in the day as to what took place at the conference.

Elston came to Washington with a view of obtaining testimony to show alleged intimate relations between Mrs. Remus and Franklin L. Dodge, Jr., department of justice agent who figured prominently in the investigation that led to Remus' conviction.

At a hearing yesterday afternoon Judge Devin said he would sign a judgment ordering the county to raise sufficient funds to pay the teachers and suggested that the attorneys draw the judgment so the case could be heard immediately by the Supreme Court on an agreed statement of facts. Attorneys said today that it probably would be Monday before an agreement could be reached.

Continue Search For Missing Flier

Quebec, Oct. 21.—(AP)—A pair of broken airplane wings, found in the St. Lawrence river at Sandy Bar today guided searchers for Count Jacques De Lesseps, veteran aviator, reported missing on a flight from Quebec to Gaspé Val Brillant.

Count De Lesseps, who came here in 1910 as one of the first fliers in Quebec, with a mechanic took off early yesterday and was long overdue at his destination when a search led to discovery of the wings, a description of which tallied with that of the titled aviator's craft.

Count De Lesseps is a son of Count Ferdinand De Lesseps, noted for his work on the Suez and Panama canal projects.

HOT CONTESTS ON SCHEDULE FOR SATURDAY

Atlanta, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Tomorrow marks a renewal of Dixie's oldest rivalries on the football field with most of the teams meeting opponents that have appeared on their schedule for a score or more years.

Auburn and Georgia play for the thirty-second time when they clash at Columbus.

Vanderbilt and Tulane's athletic relationship on the gridiron dates back 23 years, although the teams have met only a few times over that long stretch.

Sewanee and Alabama have played each other for more than a score of years.

Mississippi A. & M. and Louisiana State date their feud back to 1905.

Maryland and Virginia Institute have played for almost two decades although they have had their off years.

Virginia Poly and Virginia have memories of contests running back to the early days of the present century.

South Carolina and Clemson, playing their annual game yesterday, count many years of friendly rivalry on their roster.

For major attraction the Mississippi Argies and Louisiana State probably claim the spotlight, both undefeated and both carrying challenges for the conference title.

The Baton Rouge team carries the weight of a tie with Alabama's powerful Crimson Tide into this game while the Argies chief victory is that over Tulane.

State College, Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 21.—(AP)—The Wolfpack, winner of Elon, Clemson and Wake Forest by wide margins, today was enroute to Tampa, Fla., for tomorrow's game with Florida, an eleven defeated by Davidson recently.

Coach Tebell took two full teams with him aboard a special chartered Pullman. The mentor, dubbed "Silent Gus" by State students, declined to venture a prediction as to the probable score. His associates, however, expected a close count with State's attack due for a change from the forward passing method, used in early games.

Duke University, Oct. 21.—(AP)—The Blue Devils were slated to leave tonight for Annapolis for the battle with Navy on tomorrow. Coach De Hart said he would use the same lineup against the midshipmen which defeated Richmond last week.

Only a light signal drill was engaged in this afternoon. The squad was put through its weekly scrimmage yesterday. No injuries to players was reported.

Wake Forest, Oct. 21.—(AP)—The Deacons may be expected to display a different brand of gridiron fireworks against Davidson tomorrow as they will be primed with the teaching of Assistant Coach Emerson, campus scribes asserted today in summing up the week's practice.

Head Coach Baldwin, who was called North on account of the death of his father, left the team in charge of his assistant.

Emmerson, young in years but mature in experience, today put the squad through its final workout. He shifted Johnny Cove to James' position as safety man on the defense. Other changes were also made due to injuries keeping Ober, Clayton, Dorsett and L. Person out of action.

OUT OF KEELER'S GOLF BAG

Moureen's Future Bright

"The next day Maureen played the last nine holes a stroke better than the open champion of the world."

"Now Bobby, no chivalry! Beat us if you can, we're going to beat you if we can!"

"a tall, slim youngster with a striking combination of black eyebrows and light golden hair"

The runner-up in the late feminine golfing championship of the United States is Miss Maureen Orcutt, a tall and somewhat angular damsel of 20 years and Irish-Scottish derivation.

I mention the Irish first, in contradistinction to the usual term because Maureen always appealed to me as mostly Irish, ever since the day I first beheld her, back in 1923 standing anxiously in the crowd before the score board at Westchester Blimmore, as the qualifying score were posted.

Maureen wanted to show off that sweater—she knows she's qualified—said somebody in the gathering. Maureen, a tall, slim youngster with a striking combination of black eyebrows and light golden hair, was wearing a white sweater with a big cherry initial on it. I forgot the initial.

I told her about this last summer at Basside and she promptly denied that it was a boy's sweater, as the implication was.

"It was my own school sweater," she asserted.

Maureen is a great youngster, and one of these days she is going to win a national championship. I told her that at a dinner party in New York the evening before she and Glenna Collett played their famous match against Bobby Jones at Basside. I had watched Maureen's game for some years and it was good and getting better. I liked her attitude also. At this dinner party the girls and Bobby were talking over the match next day, the first of its kind ever played among champions, with Bobby then open champion of the world playing against the best-ball of Maureen, Metropolitan champion and Glenna, national champion.

"Now, Bobby, mind this," said Maureen, "no chivalry! Beat us, if you can! We're going to beat you, if we can!"

There was a spark in her eyes as she said it. And while Bobby beat them next day one up, it may be recalled that Maureen played the last nine holes a stroke better than the open champion of the world.

Well, she fought to the end at Cherry Valley, though her game as that of a new champion, did not hold up the promise of their mutual qualifying card of 78, or of the week of good play. Maureen had a 29-hole match with Marie Jenney after having her three down, and Ada MacKenzie, the Canadian champion, took her to the last or after being four down. The girls wouldn't let Maureen get away with anything on her march to the finals. And there she tried too hard to "steer" her shots, especially her irons, and was never able to get going.

She hit the two finest wood shots on the tenth hole that were coupled up in that tournament, traveling 450 yards with the pair, only to shank a pitch and take a ruinous seven on the hole. When she omitted steering the irons and simply smacked them she was superb as at the long and deadly seventeenth one of the finest two-shot holes for women I have ever seen. There she stuck a full iron of close to 190 yards fairly in the middle of the ferociously guarded green and won with a beautiful four. In the morning round also she spanked a net iron 180 yards to a position eight feet to the left of the pin at the fifteenth green and canned the putt for a duce.

Maureen can play the iron. She can play all the shots and there is a world of power in her rangy frame, and a world of determination back of her sparkling eyes. Her trouble now is not being able to make hole after hole stick together. But she will do it one of these days. And a crown will look well on her light-gold hair.

Football Players Are Under Cloud

New York, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Because of violations of training rules or cribbing at examinations, football players were under a cloud in two Eastern cities today. In a third, football writers demanded an investigation of charges that one of their number had divulged plays of one college team to an opponent. Syracuse newspapermen have been stirred by a letter to the athletic governing board at Syracuse University by the coach of William and Mary at Williamsburg, Va., saying he had received information regarding Syracuse plays in advance of the game on October 15. William and Mary made a better showing against Syracuse than ever before.

The letter said the information was divulged by a newspaperman through a third party. Nine newspapermen joined in a letter to Chancellor C. W. Flint requesting a complete investigation. They said they had been unable to find one who had acted improperly. Because of a break in training rules Captain Tom Sawyer and three first string men, Christie, Elliott and Begg of the American University squad at Washington have been suspended. The American game with William and Mary tomorrow has been cancelled due to lack of players.

At Vineland, N. J., five members of the high school football team have been suspended for looking at examination papers alleged to have been stolen by three students two weeks ago. The students are barred from athletics until February 1.

SOPHS TRIM FRESH CREW

The two older class teams of the Greenville High School clashed yesterday in a football game that proved a tussel from whistle to whistle. From the first kickoff, which the Sophs ran back nearly to midfield, they reeled off one first down after which the Freshmen held for downs and carried the ball into Sophomore territory, and runs by Deal, and Whitehurst gaining most of the ground, and off tackle dashes by Bullock contributing the element of surprise. The Soph line seemed easy for the Freshmen forwards to break through, but their backs lacked concerted interference, and they set the ball on the 30-yard line. From there, the Sophs marched down the field, and alternate runs by Swain and Johnson, with one long forward pass gave them possession of the ball within striking distance of the goal as the quarter ended.

Second quarter saw the high spots of the game, in the way of Soph attack and Freshman defense. All quarter, the game little Freshman team was bearing the brunt of an attack near the goal line, as their lack of a punter made the gallant defense of little avail in gaining even a rest. Brown, Hardee and Ethridge constituted a stone wall through which the Sophs could not penetrate for the final plunge, and although they had the ball on the three yard line, with four downs to go, the Freshman goal was uncrushed as the half ended.

Third quarter counted the Sophomore goal. Whitehurst, punting from behind his own goal line, dropped a poor one into the line of scrimmage, and Ratcliffe dropped on the ball for only touchdown. A pass scored the extra point. The first year team made a good comeback, and gained as much ground in the quarter as their older and heavier opponents, principally on end runs by Deal, who was a constant threat. Time and again it appeared that he was clear for a touchdown, only to be finally nullified down by some desperate Soph back.

The fourth quarter saw the Freshmen in possession of the ball for most of the period, but unable to get within scoring distance. The weight of the Sophs was tell-

CHEVROLET SETS NEW SALES RECORD IN SOUTH
Applause rang through the banquet room of the Charlotte Hotel yesterday when figures were released showing that the Chevrolet selling organization in the Southeast delivered more new cars during the first half of October this year than during the entire month of October last year. Six hundred and fifty Chevrolet dealers, associate dealers and sales managers from all parts of the two Carolinas listened spellbound to the announcement of the remarkable accomplishment of the Southeastern region. Confidence was expressed on every hand that sales made during the last half of October will enable the region to shatter all former records of Chevrolet new car deliveries made in the Southeast during any one month.

posed of Indiana, parts of Ohio and Tennessee, Kentucky, West Virginia, North and South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, and Florida," stated R. H. Grant, vice-president in charge of sales of the Chevrolet Motor Company, who came to Charlotte especially to conduct the meeting. "With the sale this year in the Southeastern region of 11,138 new cars for the first 15 days of October, as against 11,019 cars Chevrolet for the entire month of October last year, it is easy to see why the Chevrolet Motor Company has decided to invest in a large assembly plant for the South. The Atlanta plant, which we expect to be in operation by April, will relieve our plant at Norwood, which for some time past has been forced to work overtime to supply the demand for Chevrolet cars in the South."

Bite yourself an Alphabet

Here's a tip for pretzeleers on wheels

Suppose you go fast, and the naughty policeman stops you and gives you a lot of jaw. Can you jaw back? You can, but don't. While the speed cop uses his jaws to talk, you use yours to pretzelize. Bite out these five letters for him:

S O R R Y

Chances are he will let you eat your word and depart in peace.

Of course you'll want O-So-Gud Pretzels baked by Uneeda Bakers. This is the kind that all good pretzeleers use for eating and for pretzeleering.

They're brown. They're crisp. They're crunchy. They're salty. Easy to digest. Good for grand children and grand parents.

Eat them with soup, with salad, with cheese, with sweet desserts. Serve them with cool iced drinks. Eat them between meals. Eat them without any excuse at all—except that you want to.

Ask for pretzels made by Uneeda Bakers. You will like them better.

We would feel better, however, to learn that she had for the present at least, abandoned the hazardous undertaking.

The middle of next month about two thousand school teachers will visit this city to attend the meeting of the Northeastern Education Association. Since accommodations here are limited and will not take care of that number, Greenville citizens have been asked to open their homes in order that these visitors might have a place to stay while in our city. It is to be hoped that no second appeal will be needed to provide sleeping quarters for these visitors. Greenville should feel proud that the association has again voted to hold its meeting here and our citizens should welcome the teachers.

About Town

"We should be able to get 75 members easily," said M. H. Barmettler, of Wilson, district manager of the Carolina Motor club, who has been in Greenville the last two or three days in the interest of increasing the club's membership.

"If we are able to obtain this number of members the name of the town will be printed on the Motor Club emblems distributed here.

"Greenville is one of the thirty or more cities in North Carolina having a branch office of the Motor Club. The local office has been able to render great service to the motorists of this section, and its activities will be increased by growth of membership.

"Our goal is 75 members for this year. We not only hope to reach it, but believe we shall go beyond."

Greenville will have the honor of entertaining members of the Northeastern district of the North Carolina Educational association next month," said a member of the department of education today, and it is to be hoped nothing will be left undone in giving the visitors a big time.

"It is a distinct honor for a town to have the privilege of entertaining a body of educators two years in succession, and we ought to appreciate the fact enough to give the best we have.

"About two thousand members of the association will be present at the convention and while we have splendid hotel and rooming house accommodations, these will not be adequate to care for the crowd. Therefore, the Merchants association has found it necessary to provide two hundred extra rooms. Anyone having a spare room is urged to get in touch with the association at once so they will know exactly what to expect."

"Good tobacco, like anything else invariably demands good prices," said a leader in agriculture today, "and Pitt county farmers should confine their attention to the cultivation of the better grades.

"At this time numbers of farmers are experimenting with a new kind of bright leaf produced in Craven county. This tobacco, so it is said, brings more money, and Craven farmers are finding farming far more lucrative than formerly.

"Experiments in progress in Pitt county ought to result in increased earnings for our farmers, and enable them to find the industry returning more dollars to the acre."

Charles W. Porter, more popularly known by the sobriquet "Soup" says the football teams of Greenville are not getting proper support.

The High School team is one of the best put out in years. The military unit has a strong club, but neither of them has received more than passing attention of the public.

"The boys have been working hard to put out a winning club, but little good it will do them if the home town people do not go out and see them 'strut their stuff,' to use a little parlance of the gridiron.

"We want to win, but we also want to feel that we have the moral support of the community."

"Who is the most talked of man in town? a lady asked the writer today.

It was almost as hard as the question propounded by the fabled Sphinx thousands of years ago, and we didn't even attempt to answer.

But it gave us an idea. And, as some of you may realize, ideas are precious possessions these days and times.

We shall attempt to answer the question for the lady, but not right at this time.

We are going to give the wives a chance of determining which of their "hubbies" is the most popular or the most talked of man in Greenville.

Simply mail us a letter, giving the name of the person that appeals to you the most. The appeal is not confined to any particular attribute of character, but should be sufficiently strong to give the gentleman's name all the lustre of a star.

We will not divulge any names, it's all strictly confidential. Come on and help our inquisitor solve the problem.

Every Baby Needs Vitamins.

Baby often requires special vitamin-nourishment to assure development of sound bones and avoidance of rickets.

Science has rightly given emulsified cod-liver oil, as in Scott's Emulsion, a place of premier importance as a help to perfect baby's nutrition and to furnish its growing organism with a needed abundance of rickets-preventing and growth-promoting vitamins.

Young children who are not absorbing a full abundance of essential vitamins, should receive, as an added food-ration, regular doses of easily-assimilated, pleasantly-flavored, emulsified cod-liver oil in the form of leaves to be right. Such is human nature also, occasionally, but not so often.

You wonder that sane men demand a great fleet of expensive battle-cruisers for this country, and you ask: "Don't they know that enemy airships would sink a thousand fast cruisers, if we had them as fast as we could send them to sea. Don't they know that it is futile to talk about Britain's cruiser fleet, compared with ours, Britain having a real commercial navy, building convoys in war."

What want the fast cruisers? They know that they mean only wasted money now, so for a national defense goes.

But there are underground lakes of oil in Venezuela, greatest in the world perhaps. There are valuable properties in Nicaragua and in other countries to the south, and there are millions of United States money invested there. You can scare a small republic with battleships, but the American flag. You could not so easily scare them with flying machines, especially if you did not know how to make your flying machines fly. Our prosperous gentlemen that noiselessly run the government know what they are doing, when they demand plenty of fast fighting cruisers. They may be obsolete for war, but not for bullying.

The oil business, through representatives, gets together in Ponca City, Oklahoma. They have been seeking a way to protect their interests without government interference or compulsion. That they will find the way is doubtful. The country's oil wealth is being squandered, oil is wasted, hundreds of millions of barrels of it, by reckless exploitation. Warnings that the supply cannot last forever, are disregarded.

Oil, for automobile, ships, and work of innumerable kinds, is a national necessity. And it is the business of government to prevent reckless waste of that which cannot be replaced, once it is gone. To protect the public from outrageously high prices for oil and gasoline, sure to follow the present waste, it is necessary for government to do something now. The nation would not tolerate wholesale burning of national forests. It should not permit deliberate waste of oil.

Reports from Maine, received out here on the Mojave Desert, indicate that voters mean to keep the direct primary system, for a while at least. Professional politicians will not be able to "deliver" nominations in pre-arranged conventions. And poor millionaires, determined to be somebody, will have to buy direct primary first, and the election afterwards. Hard on politicians, who have less to sell, and on office buyers that must pay high prices for an uncertainty. Toronto University proves that sunshine will cure rickets, of which many children die. A German wrote more than 100 years ago: "God may forgive you for not giving to children bread that costs money. But he will not forgive you for depriving them of fresh air and sunlight that cost nothing." To prove that sunshine cures rickets does not mean much, when millions of city children cannot have the sunshine. Mussolini tells Italy, and the rest of the world that his country is filled with peace, prosperity and energy. Nothing causes worry, and the anniversary of his march on Rome, at the head of the Fascists will be celebrated this year with extra enthusiasm. Mussolini mixes deeds with words, and decides that Italy shall borrow no money, except to build up industry. What will happen when Mussolini fades from the scene, no one knows. That is the big problem of dictatorship. But he is a blessing to Italy just now, as a source of will and discipline.

Cotton Crop Is Reduced

Raleigh, Oct. 21.—(AP)—The cotton crop of the South has been reduced this season by approximately 1,143,328 bales in the States of Texas, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, South Carolina and North Carolina by the cotton boll weevil, Dr. R. W. Leiby, entomologist for the State Department of Agriculture, today reported.

The reduction is based upon estimates of damage that he has obtained from the entomologists of these States. The boll weevil loss effected in the States of Alabama, Louisiana and Mississippi are not included in the above figures, but it is understood by Dr. Leiby that the damage in those States was above the average.

Cotton farmers are inquiring whether the damage in North Carolina will be reported another year. Dr. Leiby said, and are wanting to know if they should plant cotton next year. He says it is impossible to forecast boll weevil conditions for next season with any degree of accuracy.

"One factor favorable for much injury next season appears certain, and that is the present abundance of weevils in the field and the likelihood of their entering winter quarters in a healthy condition. Whether the winter will be changeable or severe enough to reduce the wintering weevils to negligible numbers remains to be seen.

"The final and most important factor in the natural control of the weevils is weather conditions. Breaking up cotton stalks in the field after cotton has been picked will help more than ever to lessen the prospects for weevil damage next year, but the sooner the stalks are destroyed before frost the more effective will this control operation prove to be."

"Funsters" Score Heavily in First Appearance Here

Mr. Herbert C. Taylor and his fellow entertainer, "Mr. Keylor" whose real name is Leo Sullivan lived up to their title, the "Funsters," in their delightful entertainment at East Carolina Teachers College last night.

Mr. Taylor is one of the cleverest magicians that has ever appeared in the college and the clever chatter and nonsense accompanying his tricks caught the fancy of his audience. He is a member of the society of American Magicians, of the International Brotherhood of Magicians, and of the London (England) Club of Magicians.

His juggling was especially skillful. The best thing was, perhaps, the liking ring trick, a Chinese trick hundreds of years old. His juggling with cigar boxes was marvelous. The most original and striking trick was the making of a rag picture, a landscape with snow and moonlight and the old home at ad. The two men sang an old song "The Old Brass Knocker," while he was doing this.

The ventriloquist feature with "Jinny," the puppet, was one of the favorites. The jokes and dialogue were excellent.

The singing of "Mr. Keylor" in double voice, the record voice like a woman as if he was singing a duo with him, it was a difficult feat and well done.

There were a great many stock tricks of magic, the usual run of card trick, hand-rapping, and many others, but even these had a touch of novelty.

Little Herbert Scoville starred when called to the stage he caught the spirit and delighted the audience with his responses to the trick. When Mr. Taylor dismissed him he graciously presented him

DAIRY EXPOSITION PLANNED AT MEMPHIS

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 21.—(AP)—A dairy exposition devoted solely to the interest of the mid-southern farmer, rivalling in magnitude the national dairy show and replacing the present tri-state fair, will be held in Memphis annually, beginning next fall, Fair directors announced.

The fair will be known as the Mid-South Dairy Exposition and fair and will be under the same management in the same quarters as the tri-state fair, which next week will end its twentieth and last year.

The success of the National Exposition and the high quality of southern Dairy cattle, which took many of the National prizes are among reasons for the change, directors said
