WOMAN KILLS HER BROTHER IN CHARLOTTE

Lawyer Robinson Dies of Injuries Received in Scuffle Over Pistol.

Charlotte, Oct. 27.—(AP)—Conley E. Robinson, young local attorney, died at the Presbyterian hospital here at 9:20 o'clock this morning as a result of a pistol wound inflicted when a gun in the hands of his sister, Miss Katherine Robinson, was discharged late last night during a scuffle at the Robinson home.

Robinson is alleged to have come home late last night under the influence of liquor. In a dispute that followed he and his sister engaged in a scuffle. A gun she had picked up during the scuffle was discharged, the bullet striking the young attorney in the groin. Miss Robinson claims the shooting was accidental.

Miss Robinson was hurried to the hospital accompanied by Mrs. Elsie B. Brown, policeman, Mrs. Robinson and another sister Miss Louise Robinson, when word was received that Robinson was dying.

They arrived at the door of the hospital just a moment after the young attorney expired.

Miss Katherine Robinson and her sister-in-law grew hysterical as Dr. R. M. Gallant, attending physician, arose from the bedside and confirmed the word of a nurse who met the women. They were both placed under the care of physicians and remained at the hospital.

Mrs. Brown remained at the hospital with Miss Robinson but soon afterward Chief of Police Alex West announced that the girl would be allowed freedom on $1,000 bond.

Police investigation disclosed that Robinson, under the influence of liquor, attacked his wife with a hand mirror, Chief West said. The mirror was shattered and he continued attacking Mrs. Robinson with his fist.

Miss Katherine Robinson, just two weeks out of a hospital from an appendicitis operation, stepped into the room and interfered. A pistol was hidden under Mrs. Robinson's pillow. Both brother and sister made a grab for it. The sister reached it first. She stood in the middle of the bed commanding her brother to stop. Then, the chief said the girl told him, Conley drew a knife and shouted that he would kill her.

She fired once in an effort to frighten him, the bullet hitting the wall above a door. He continued to advance and seized the pistol. In the ensuing scuffle the gun was discharged again the bullet striking the attorney in the groin.

Even after he was wounded, the struggle continued until finally Robinson, weakened by the loss of blood, fell over on a bed. The police chief said a trail of blood about the house revealed the extent of the struggle.

Even after he had fallen on the bed the attorney pleaded for the pistol, the sister told the police. "Katherine, you have shot and killed me," the girl quoted the attorney as saying, the chief said. "But I don't hold it against you. You are the best sister I have and I love you."

Describing the scene the chief said the girl told him, "Oh, I was so tired. I felt like I was going to faint, but I knew I had to hold on to that gun. I knew if he got it he would kill me and Dot (Mrs. Robinson) too."

Robinson's young son was ill in the room with tonsillitis at the time of the battle.

ADMIRAL ASKS COOLIDGE FOR AN INTERVIEW

Magruder Wants President to Revoke Order Relieving Him of His Command

Washington, Oct. 27.—(AP)—A letter of Rear Admiral Magruder to President Coolidge asking for an interview and a revocation of the order which relieved him from the Philadelphia Navy Yard command was delivered at the White House today by Secretary Wilbur.

There was no comment forthcoming from the naval secretary regarding this conference with Mr. Coolidge, although he spent upwards of half an hour with the President.

It has been arranged, Mr. Wilbur said, for Rear Admiral Magruder to confer with him in Washington on November 5. Whether the President will grant or decline the Admiral's request for an interview before that time was not stated.

With Secretary Wilbur ready to consider any request Rear Admiral Magruder might make for an investigation of his removal from command of the fourth naval district following written and spoken criticism of navy methods, a Congressional inquiry loomed as well today with announcement from Senator McKelvey, Democrat, Tennessee, that he planned to introduce a resolution calling for such action.

Correspondence between the Department and Admiral Magruder since publication of his magazine article which aroused the present controversy, was made public yesterday. It was said that Magruder had evaded or answered unsatisfactorily a group of questions out to him to elicit information to support charges he had made.

Secretary Wilbur made it clear that Magruder's removal was not motivated by the magazine article itself but rather by his subsequent assertions in speeches and in official correspondence. The charges he said was "administrative" and not punitive and no disciplinary action has been or will be taken as a result of the magazine article itself.

Magruder's next assignment will depend upon the outcome of the conference with Secretary Wilbur after he has been relieved at Philadelphia by Rear Admiral Dillan T. Johnson, probably during the week of November 7.

TURNER ENDS REVIVAL HERE

The series of revival services which have been in progress at the Immanuel Baptist church the past ten days, were brought to a conclusion last night. Dr. James B. Turner's final subject was, "Hell." He told of the Biblical interpretation of the infernal regions and the warfare the devil is carrying on against humanity.

Rev. L. R. O'Brien, pastor of the church, said this morning the services had been highly successful. Large crowds attended nightly, and manifested much interest in the logical sermons delivered by the Raleigh minister.

There were nine converts and several professions of faith.

Z. T. Rule Presents Testimony in Fall-Sinclair Hearing at Capital

Washington, Oct. 27.—(AP)—Direct testimony that $90,000 in bonds were deposited to the safety deposit box of Albert B. Fall after the lease of Teapot Dome to Harry F. Sinclair, was introduced by the government today in the trial of the two men for criminal conspiracy.

The testimony was given by Z. T. Rule, assistant cashier of the First National Bank of Pueblo, Colorado, who said that M. T. Everhart, son-in-law of Fall, and a director of the bank, placed the bonds with him on May 29, 1922, after a trip to the east.

This line of evidence which was begun soon after the government had suffered a temporary setback in its attempt to get Sinclair's own testimony before a Senate investigating committee admitted as evidence, was designed to show that Fall made huge profits out of the leasing of Teapot Dome. In refusing this sworn testimony, however, the court held voluntary testimony by Sinclair could be offered.

The trip was the result of a telegram received from Miss Elder, dated Lisbon, requesting Weiss to be at Bayonne today. Miss Elder is expected to leave Bayonne at nine o'clock tomorrow morning, reaching Le Bourget tomorrow afternoon.

(Bayonne, which is on the Bay of Biscay near the Spanish border, is about 250 miles from Madrid.)

After the reception she and Capt. Haldeman went to the American embassy where they will be guests until their expected departure for France.

FRENCH REACH AGREEMENT ON TARIFF ISSUE

Recently Imposed High Rates of American Goods Have Been Suspended.

Paris, Oct. 27.—(AP)—An agreement in principle has been reached with the United States on the French tariff question by which the United States will enjoy what amounts to a most favored nation treatment under the new French tariff during the negotiation of a permanent commercial treaty.

The agreement, by which the recently imposed high rates on American imports have been suspended, was arrived at through a series of conversations between Sheldon Whitehouse, American Charge d'Affaires, and Maurice Bokanowski, the French Minister of Commerce.

In announcing the accord, the French Minister expressed gratification at the favorable turn of affairs. He said that it would facilitate a definite commercial treaty.

Bokanowski added, however, that France would require some time as a number of details had to be adjusted and several points cleared up.

Conversations had also been held with Belgium and Switzerland on the French tariff, he said. These countries had raised protests similar to those of the United States after the recent commercial accord between France and Germany became effective. He declared that every effort was being made to give Belgium and Switzerland satisfaction.

In the agreement with the United States, Bokanowski declared a provision regime for the exchange of goods with the United States the same duties American imports had before the signing of the agreement with Germany, except in cases where the minimum tariffs conceded to Germany are higher than those duties.

Young Reynolds On Protracted Stay From N. Y.

New York, Oct. 27.—(AP)—Richard J. Reynolds, 21-year-old heir to the Reynolds Tobacco millions, aviation enthusiast, and Broadway favorite, who was found in a St. Louis chop suey house after he disappeared recently, was reported today as being on a "protracted vacation" from New York.

G. W. Orr of Winston-Salem, N. C., his attorney, said Reynolds was simply "taking a personal rest," during which time he is directing his business ventures, including the Reynolds Airways Inc., and part interest in the Reynolds Tobacco Company.

Upon Reynolds' success in the business world a clause in the will of his father places a premium, and payment of two dollars is to be made annually, under the provision, for every dollar made by business or investment. Aside from this bonus, the will provides an income for Reynolds of $50,000 a year until he is 28, when he is to come into a fortune estimated variously at $10,000,000 to $25,000,000.

Reports were that Reynolds made considerable money in his purchase of the Curtiss flying field at Minnola and through operation of his air line. His associates pointed out that on a down payment of $50,000 he took title to the field which was said by real estate men to have a value of more than $1,000,000 if sold in house lot subdivision.

The Los Angeles will return to Lakehurst tonight and possibly will make a flight Saturday with Sir Philip Sasson, British Under Secretary for Air.

TAKE STERN MEASURE TO STOP CAROL

Rumanian Government Attempts to Suppress Effort to Restore Former Prince

Paris, Oct. 27.—(AP)—Advice from the Rumanian border indicated today that the government had taken stern measures to suppress any attempt to restore former Crown prince Carol to the throne which he renounced.

Many supporters of Carol have been arrested according to reports from Belgrade. In Bucharest it was stated that the government firmly intended to defend the established constitutional regime and that complete calm prevailed throughout the country which is under martial law.

M. Manolescu, former under secretary of finance in the Averescu cabinet, is awaiting trial before a military court charged with plotting for Carol's return. On Manolescu were found letters from Carol to leaders of the various Rumanian political parties, stating Carol's position.

Also found on Manolescu, Bucharest newspapers say, was a letter from Magda Lupescu, Carol's companion at his French Villa.

Carol, who is at present at St. Malo on the French sea coast, said that the letters carried by Manolescu were intended to bring before the party leaders his statement issued after the death of his father, King Ferdinand. This, he asserted had been suppressed by the government of Premier Bratianu.

"It is the government itself that keeps the dynastic question boiling," he declared, "because it refuses to allow free discussion of it."

The leaders of the various parties had asked confirmation of his declaration, so that the people might understand the question, he said.

"The government has taken a responsibility in arresting Manolescu," he asserted, "and the consequences will fall upon it. May God protect my country and give it wisdom to act according to its interests. That is all I ask."

Carol said the general tenor of the seized letters was that recent events and advice had compelled him to put aside the reserve which he had imposed on himself. Declarations denuded publication in Rumania were published by Le Martin here July 31, he continued.

In the statement to Le Martin Carol said: "As a Rumanian and a father I have a right and duty to watch that the greatness of our nation shall submit to no harm in order that my son (the six year old king) shall receive intangible heritage when his day comes"

Numbers of other cases are contained on the calendar for this term, but so much time has been consumed in the hearing of the above case that only a few will be reached.

A one-week term of criminal court will begin next Monday morning. Many issues of more or less importance will be given hearing during the session. The majority however, are of a minor nature and it is expected work will progress rapidly.

Flying Fare, $18.60.
Another Woman Scorned.
No Book Bonfire.
The Fanatic's Grip.
(By Arthur Brisbane)

Copyright 1927, by Star Co

While we talk about flying commercially, and about the possibility of cheap flying, Britishers fly from London to Paris for $18.60.

In 1919 the flying fare was $100. How many long-distance passengers will railroads and steamships carry, when real flying days come, across this continent, or across the ocean, in ten hours. Fare about two dollars an hour, $20 to Europe?

Few men can't realize it, but it is dangerous to trifle with the wrong young lady.

Irene Johnson, young, energetic and colored, handed a bill to her taxi driver and an automatic to the police sergeant. "Here's my tax," said she. "I've just killed my boy."

Her boy is, or was before he acted foolishly, a Pullman car porter. He called on Irene, bringing four other young ladies with him, and met the girl.

Whether he has gone now, that "boy" will tell the inhabitants: "That's all true about him having no fury like a woman scorned."

Mayor Thompson, of Chicago, wise man up with the time, never ordered any bonfire to be made of books that he did not like. That was the idea of Chicago's public library administrator, Mr. Herman, who has been a stage hand and has an eye for the dramatic. There will be no medieval burning of books or their writers while Thompson is Mayor.

Four French hostages, captured by Arabs, are held in a mud blockhouse, heavily chained and in the power of a powerful sheik named Temu, known as the "Terrible Fanatic." In his eye to chain, then kill anybody that does not believe in the prophet, is the shortest road to paradise.

REDUCTION OF TAXES TALKED

Believe Four Sources of Revenue Will be Affected by Congressional Action

Washington, Oct. 27.—(AP)—Four sources of revenue, that from corporations, individual incomes, excise stamp and estates, have been mentioned prominently to date as those most likely to be affected by prospective congressional action.

Of this group, the corporation and excise stamp taxes have been referred to most frequently in pre-session talk as those that will receive first consideration by the House ways and means committee which has original jurisdiction in all revenue matters.

While this committee will not initiate hearings on the subject until Monday, practically all of its membership has returned to the capital and those who have spoken have been in accord as to the source of tax income that should benefit by a reduction in rates.

They, however, have differed materially as to the amount of reduction, both in gross amount and specific rates that should be made with party lines appearing sharply in the disagreement.

While most Republicans who have made public announcements are of the opinion that $300,000,000 represents about the maximum reduction that can be effected, Democratic members have come out for a minimum reduction of $140,000,000 and a maximum of about half a billion.

As yet the committee chairman, Representative Green of Iowa, has said nothing since his return to Washington except that he favored a general reduction of the corporation tax.

WALTER JOHNSON TO BE MANAGER OF NEWARK CLUB

Washington, Oct. 27.—(AP)—Walter Johnson, for 20 years a big league star, has signed a contract to pilot the Newark team of the International League over the next two seasons at a salary termed by Paul Block, owner of the club, as "the highest ever paid a player-manager" outside the major circuits.

The "big train" affixed his signature to the document late last night a few hours after announcing by radio that he had "abandoned" to accept the Newark offer.

SHIPS SNATCH NUMBERS FROM WATERY GRAVE

Sixty-Eight of Total of 998 Passengers of Italian Liner Believed Lost.

Rio Janeiro, Oct. 27.—(AP)—Rescue ships sped toward this port today carrying hundreds who were snatched from death when the Italian liner Principessa Mafalda sank after an explosion eighty miles off the coast of Brazil opposite Porto Segura, about 600 miles north of here.

Indications were that the rescue ships, the first of which is due here at midnight tonight, picked up all but 68 of a total of 998 passengers and a crew of 240 board the Mafalda.

The survivors of the disaster told graphic stories to the commanders of the ships which rescued them and their accounts were forwarded by wireless. The exact number of victims was not included in these accounts.

The passengers, 800 of whom were Italian emigrants bound for the promised land of South America, were in high spirits as the Mafalda approached the coast. Soon they would be in the beautiful harbor of Rio or settled in the fertile hinterland of the Argentine.

Supper had been served and there was singing and dancing as the fulfillment of the dream of a new homeland neared. The merry celebration was greatest in the third class quarters, where the emigrants revelled.

Suddenly the ship came to a brusque halt. The Mafalda's radio frantically called S O S. The nearest ships responded to the call but rescue operations were delayed by fog. The radio operator in a later message said that a final accident had occurred aboard the Mafalda because of dryness in the boiler plates. Experts here were inclined to believe that the boilers exploded due to an improper water supply.

Dancing and rejoicing among the passengers turned to consternation and trembling. The coolness of the ship's officers prevented a panic.

The orders which had been playing for the emergency began playing the Italian National Anthem with more serious purpose in mind. The quieting of the fears of the terror-stricken passengers.

Captain Simon Gull, a veteran of the sea, stood on the bridge, outwardly undisturbed, barking his orders. The officers and crew directed the passengers to the lifeboat stations and assisted them in donning life preservers.

The crew laughed and joked to quiet sobbing women and terror-stricken children. Lifeboats swung from the davits and were lowered into the sea, fortunately calm. Families were separated in the hurried work of rescue.

Soon heartening news came from the radio operator. The French steamer Formosa had replied to the S O S. She was rushing to the scene at full speed. Other ships wireless that they were responding to the call for help. Cheers arose from the deck as despair turned to hope.

About eight o'clock, less than an hour after the S O S call had been picked up, the Formosa hove in sight. It was already dark but the night was clear. Lifeboats dotted the surface of the sea about the doomed liner.

Soon the Dutch steamer Alhena, the British Empire Star and the French Mosella appeared on the scene. Later the Italian steamship Rosetti and others approached.

There was an explosion in the Mafalda's boilers and the ship began to sink rapidly. The commander of the Formosa signalled the other ships that he would attempt to manoeuvre close to the Mafalda and pick up those on board before the liner sank. He rescued 110 persons. His daring exploit was hailed by survivors as one of the great deeds in the annals of the sea. The darkness of the night made his task difficult.

The other ships labored valiantly picked up those who had taken to the boats. As they worked other ships offered in wireless messages to come to the scene. The Brazilian liner Baco and the British steamer Andes, 120 miles off at the time of the call for aid, asked if their presence was necessary. The Mosella radioed back that they need not come as there were plenty of ships on the scene.

As soon as the passengers and crew were picked up they were transferred to those ships best able to transport them to land.

END RUNNING FEATURE IN GRID GAMES

Adapted Oct. 27—(AP)—Old-fashioned end running has been the principal weapon of Southern Conference football teams in hurdling their principal barriers so far, the lateral pass and other new fangled ideas of gridiron combat notwithstanding.

This is the answer to the general questions "what plays are largely being used in blasting the stern opposition to mid-season?"

The biggest upset of the season to date was the detouring, temporarily at least of Alabama. The play that all concede brought the "turning point" in that game was a 30-yard run around the crimson end by Stumpy Thomason, speedy Georgia Tech halfback who reversed his field slightly after turning end and evaded Alabama secondary men.

Georgia employed its two stellar ends, Nash and Shiver, to box Yale's wingmen so McCrary and other Red and Black backs could go around.

The much discussed lateral pass has been little used. North Carolina and Vanderbilt used it once for a long gain in a minor game. The gain Vandy made with it is one of the few recorded so far although Georgia Tech used the reverse play in its backfield one man taking the ball and starting with it for the right or left side of the field as the case may be used and then transferring the ball to a runner going in the opposite direction. This play constitutes end running almost wholly.

Oklahoma Coach Wants Season Opened Sooner

Kansas City, (AP)—Bennie Owen, veteran coach at Oklahoma University, hopes to see two new changes in the football regulations in the six-team conference formed by the teams which have withdrawn from the Missouri Valley conference.

Owen wants the season opened for practice, not later than September 10 instead of September 15, as has been the rule in the Missouri Valley for several years, and would like to have authorization for freshmen teams to meet freshmen teams from other schools in one game each year.

The Oklahoma mentor believes the time between September 15 and October 1, when first games usually are played, is too short to enable football men to get in the best of condition.

ON THE GRID

Raleigh, Oct. 27—(AP)—With only one more day left in which they must whip their charges into shape for games that are destined to have important bearings on the state championship, football coaches at the University of North Carolina, N. C. State, Wake Forest and Duke today put their respective squads through lengthy drills.

Attendance at the games is expected to equal state records, managers and State College, scene of the Carolina State battle Saturday, is prepared to handle 18,000 spectators. The Chapel Hill student body will attend almost to the man, it was said. Reservations were not to be had today, officials declaring they were "sold out."

Games at Wake Forest, graduate manager J. B. Carroll said he had approximately seat 6,000 at Gordonsville Saturday and expected about a hundred more than that figure.

Disciples followers watched with interest a new backfield combination, coach B. J. Carroll is testing for the Duke contest. Knepper's fullback, runner in James' quarterback with Coy Stallings and Connelly the other ball carriers. Hackney, reserve, was given his chance also. Tennon, another candidate, worked on end in H. Weir's position.

For more than two hours, the Duke Deak trained in Durham, with Lake, Olin kid, punning at halfback, taking some of the glory from Tenberk and Adams in long runs. Kietler, replacing Warren at end, caught 10 passes from Bulk without a miss.

Secret practice held forth for State's Wolfpack with little information coming forth as to what coaches Tebell and Slaughter were up to in the way of tricks with which they hope to win from Carolina.

Chapel Hill surmises believe there will be some changes in the Tar Heel lineup as they watch various backfield combinations drill.

The same line that faced Georgia Tech last week was running with the varsity.

Priest is Pitcher

Minneapolis, (AP)—Waconia, a small Minnesota town, has a Catholic priest for a pitcher on the local ball team. Father George Karles is 39 years old and well knit. He pitched his team to a double victory on one occasion this season. In the first game, with the home team one run behind in the ninth with two men out and one man on base, Father Karles drove out a home run, giving his nine a one-run victory. Then he went back into the box and hurled his club to an easy win in the second game.

Citadel Loses to S. C. University

Orangeburg, S. C., Oct. 27—(AP)—Before a capacity crowd at the Orange County Fair Grounds Citadel of Charleston, today lost to the University Game Cocks, of Columbia, in the second of the annual South Carolina football classics, by a score of 6 to 0.

Following two scoreless quarters South Carolina cut loose with a varied attack at the outset of the third period. After the Game Cocks had been stopped on Citadel's 45-yard line, Wingfield punted to the one-yard line. The Cadets tried two forward passes the latter intercepted by Zobel of South Carolina, who passed 30 yards to Wingfield who carried the ball over the goal.

The fourth period was a repetition of the first two with no scoring.

BOBBY JONES SAYS GOLFER BEST FROM 30 TO 35 YEARS

Asheville, N. C.—(INS)—Bobby Jones, unchallenged ruler of golf, believes that he is just about beginning to come into his own as a golfer.

"A golfer," the Atlantan said in an interview here, "should be at the very height of his game from the age of 30 to 35. I mean he should be in his prime—shooting his best stick."

"The physical drain on the body is not so great in golf as it is in football, tennis, boxing and other athletic endeavors. I see no reason why a golfer should not enjoy those five years of his life at the very zenith of his game."

JAPAN PLANS AIRDROME FOR AERIAL VISITORS

Tokyo—(AP)—The communications department of the Japanese government is planning the construction of an "international airdrome" near Susaki, on the Chiba side of Tokyo Bay, and for the purpose has inserted an item of about $1,000,000 in next year's budget.

The field would be so arranged that both land planes and sea-planes could land and take off from it. The authorities believe that the next few years may bring many aerial visitors to Japan and it is hoped that accommodations for their comfort and convenience can be provided. The site of the proposed airdrome is so located that foreign aviators will not have to fly over Japanese fortifications when visiting the Empire.

Vernon Quartet Gives Program At The College

The Vernon String Quartet at Carolina Teachers College last evening presented an interesting program of chamber music that covered the range of quartet music from its beginning with Haydn to the Russian composers of the recent day.

The opening group was the quartet in G Major, by Haydn, with its four movements that are marked by melody, simplicity and purity.

The next group began with the "Menuet" by Mozart, the first movement to have the Menuet as a single composition. "Canzonetta," by Beethoven, comes next historically.

"The Andante Cantabile," by Chopin, was, perhaps, one of the favorites of the evening. The descriptive piece, "The Mill," by Schumann, with its "click-click" was a hit, relief number. "The Prussian" a transcription by Pochon of Moussorsky, a contemporary Russian composer, is decidedly modern. The strides were well repeated in the music.

The closing group was Dvorak's "In F Major," four movements based on American negro songs. The "big" character of the first music could be discerned in the movements. The second movement, "Lento," which is a lament for the Indian, is a beautiful number on the program.

The quartet is composed of Paul Vernon, first violin; Josef Vavak, second violin; William Cheesman, viola; Ninaq Warner, violoncello.

BAD PAINS IN SIDE
Wells of Nervousness Also Troubled This Lady Who Gives Cardui Credit for Helping Her Get Well.

Depew, Okla.—"For six years," says Mrs. Edd Burton, of this place, "I suffered as bad as a woman can suffer and still keep going."

"I was good for nothing, was lifeless and pale, unable to eat anything. Nothing agreed with me. At times I had such bad pains in my sides and back I would have to go to bed. I had cramping spells and would faint if I stood on my feet any length of time. My nerves would become upset at the least little thing and I would have spells of crying that were so exhausting they left me prostrate."

"Several of my friends suggested that I take Cardui. They told me of their experiences with it, how much they have been helped. At last I decided to try it."

"In a few weeks, I could see that I was improving, so I kept on. I did not expect the troubles of years to disappear in a few days, but they did. In time I was much better. I kept up the Cardui treatment for several months and thanks to it I am a well woman now."

Mother's Movie-Going Ends Screen Career Of Daughter

Caroline Whitney (left) who won a screen beauty contest but whose mother, Mrs. E. H. Whitney (right) of Portland, Ore. decided the atmosphere of the campus was better for her daughter than that of the movie studios, has returned to the University of Southern California.

Portland, Ore. — (AP) — Found time she did nothing but attend movie shows. Then she sent a telegram to Miss Caroline Whitney advising to the daughter's becoming a screen star and the reply came, "O. K. Beautifully. Love and kisses—Caroline."

Mrs. E. H. Whitney, wife of the assistant superintendent of Portland schools came to the difficult detention only after wrestling with the problem for two days. In that was feted at Hollywood before her mother made up her mind that she preferred her daughter to finish her education rather than to try for possible fame and wealth before the camera.

"It is easy enough to say, 'I never would let my daughter go into the movies' but I want to tell you you would think of many things if the opportunity came."

Perhaps there are no more temptations in this than in other work. If a daughter has had the proper background she's not going to fall among the wrong companions, as a rule.

When this offer came, and I had to help to decide, I spent two days in going to the movies. I have never been much of a movie-goer, but for two days I didn't do much else. Of course the heroine always was used to a hard, and the moral was good, but I couldn't vision my daughter taking such parts in some of those

GORMAN'S MARKET REPORT

We have First Sale Monday, Second Sale Tuesday, First Sale Wednesday, First Second Sale Thursday and First Sale Friday.

Prices were full up Wednesday and our customers were highly pleased. Gorman sold 145,700 pounds, for $42,414.98, averaging 29.10 for the entire SALE. Some of the advertisements we have seen in the paper this week are misleading. WE GIVE FACTS and FIGURES and never try to mislead anyone. In our Monday's sale we believe we could have cut out the low grades sold and showed two hundred thousand pounds which would have averaged $35.00 or more. In Wednesday's sale by taking out only 13,312 pounds which brought $1,233.78 we have left 132,408 pounds which sold for $41,181.20, averaging 31c. No one can or will do better by you than Gorman. The sales are getting lighter and we do not look for any more block sales unless we have rain to hold up a days sale, which would throw two days sale in one.

About Town

From Goldsboro comes the report of another death as a result of an accident caused by an unlighted vehicle. Will drivers never realize the fact that death stalks them when they venture upon the road at night without lights?

The Home Demonstration Department is to be congratulated upon the fine record made this week at the Tarboro fair. Exhibits placed at the fair by Pitt county woman and girls drew nearly fifty prizes, the majority of which were firsts. Such a record is an enviable one, and shows that throughout the county workers of the department are getting splendid results.

Mitchell talked "too much" and as a result was court-martialed and ousted from the military service. Now it appears that Admiral Magruder will suffer like fate. Apparently upon entering the service a man

A few nights ago J. Frank Harrington, clerk of Pitt County Superior Court, inducted into office three new members of the Kiwanis Club of this city.

His instructions were couched in eloquent terms.

Clarence Pugh, of Elizabeth City, district Kiwanis governor, heard the charge. He liked it so well that he returned home and wrote Mr. Harrington a letter, inviting him to deliver words of instruction to new members at the district Kiwanis convention in Durham the latter part of this week.

This is a signal honor, but court is in session here this week, and Mr. Harrington stated this morning it looked like he would be compelled to decline the invitation. It's hard luck, Frankie, old boy. But honors don't always come singly.

Prices continue to go skyward on the Greenville market.

Monday's average was $28.58, the highest of the season, according to official figures given out by the Tobacco Board of Trade.

"Farmers are always assured of receiving the top of the market in Greenville," O. L. Joyner, pioneer tobaccoist said today. "This market has always had the best interest of the grower at heart, and as long as prices remain favorable Greenville will be found paying the top of the market."

"No one doubts but this year is destined to be the greatest in history, but we shall not stop to rest with our honors. The future is filled with greater possibilities, and we are going to forge ahead and keep our position in the front ranks of the tobacco industry."

"Well, I see where the proposed new bridge over Tar River has been approved by the War Department," remarked a reader of this column today.

"This action might have been expected following approval of the State Highway Commission.

"Not many Greenville people are favorably impressed with the building of a new bridge when it is believed the old one would last for many years longer.

"This money should be spent in the improvement of our highway system. To be plain, it ought to be used for building more hard surfaced roads.

The roads are more imperatively necessary than the bridge. The Highway Commission and the War Department may see the advisability of the new bridge, but we haven't been able to do so yet.

"If you want to know who's who in Greenville and Pitt County, read the Daily Reflector." is the advice of a reader who walked all the way from his office the other morning to ask us about a certain distinguished individual who used to reside in this county.

We think the advice is mighty logical. It embraces a certain amount of psychology the average reader cannot absorb without first being familiar with certain facts connected with the paper.

We shall not attempt to enumerate the many advantages to be derived from reading the Reflector. We shall merely state that it is being read by approximately twenty thousand people daily. These twenty thousand people are kept informed of who's who in Greenville and Pitt County. They know who is doing things and who is not doing things. They also know what is doing in every other part of the universe because they are protected by an Associated Press leased wire that runs continuously for eight hours daily.

But we didn't start out to do in bragging. It isn't our part of the job to brag. We simply wanted to pass on to our readers the impression made by the remark of the individual who walked all the way from his office to express his appreciation of the kind of service we are attempting to give the reading public of this great section.

DILLON-BROWN

Beautiful Afternoon Wedding in Episcopal Church

St. Paul's Episcopal church was the scene of a beautiful wedding on Wednesday afternoon at five o'clock, when Miss Helen Brown was married to Mr. Percy McNeer Dillon, of Statesville. Before the appointed hour, throngs of admiring friends had filled the church to witness the impressive ceremony. A green and white color scheme was carried out with effectiveness in the elaborate decorations of the church. Stately palms, ferns, white Japanese asters, chrysanthemums and dahlias were profusely used, while the soft glow from myriads of tapers cast a radiance over the scene. The church was brilliantly lighted as the bridal party entered but all lights except the burning tapers, were extinguished when the couple were plighting their troth.

Miss Mary Bertolot at the organ, and Miss Correll, violinist, furnished an appropriate musical program as the guests assembled. They were gowning in white and wore shoulderets of sweetheart roses, showered with sweet peas. Just before the ceremony, Miss Margaret Fleming sweetly sang "All For You." She wore a hand-painted yellow velvet frock in bouffant style and her shoulderette was sweetheart roses showered with sweet peas. Miss Bessie Brown beautifully sang "When Song Is Sweet," by Sans Souci. She wore an ornate velvet frock in bouffant style with a shoulderette of sweetheart roses showered with sweet peas.

As Lehengrin's Wedding March pealed from the organ and violin, the brides entered, two at a time. They were Curtis Perkins and Frank W. Brown, of this city; B. C. Vitt, of Greensboro, and Chester Ensign, of Statesville. They were followed by the two groomsmen, C. C. Connor, of Greensboro, and George Lowe, of High Point, who entered singly. Next came the two bridesmaids, Miss Mary Lou White of this city, and Mrs. Chester Ensign, of Statesville, a sister of the groom. They wore yellow tulle sateen dresses embroidered with green with satin slippers to match, and carried arm bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums. Miss Margaret Fleming, as maid of honor, was next to enter. Her dress was orchid satin embroidered with pearls and made in bouffant style, and she carried an arm bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums. Mrs. Curtis Perkins, as dame of honor, wore her own wedding gown of ivory satin and carried an arm bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums.

Next came the ring bearer, Master V. C. Fleming, Jr., dressed in a miniature conventional black tuxedo. Little Miss Alice Lee Blow was daintily dressed in a frock of yellow georgette trimmed with clusters of rose-buds in the pastel shades. She carried a yellow tulle basket filled with rose petals, which she scattered in the pathway of the bride.

The bride entered with her brother, Jack Brown, of Whitakers and was joined at the altar by the groom attended by his brother, William P. Dillon, Jr., of Statesville. The bride wore a handsome gown of ivory satin elaborately embroidered with pearls and crystals. Her veil was worn in coronet style and fell over a court train of rose point lace embroidered in silver. Her bridal bouquet was bride's roses with a shower of valley lilies. Her bridal costume emphasized her queenly beauty.

As the music changed into McDowell's "To a Wild Rose," Dr. James E. W. Cook, assisted by Elder S. B. Denny, of Wilson, performed the ceremony, using the ever beautiful ring service.

After a buffet supper held at the home of the bride's mother, Mr. and Mrs. Dillon left for an extended trip to Florida and Cuba. Mrs. Dillon's traveling costume was brown velvet embroidered in gold, with this she wore a brown coat with fur trimmings, with hat and shoes of the same color.

The bride is the only daughter of Mrs. Nana F. Brown and the late William Mooring Brown. She is both pretty and attractive and has a host of admiring friends. She was educated at Salem College. She is quite popular and has been much feted since her engagement was announced a few weeks ago.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Dillon, Sr., formerly of Greensboro, but now of Statesville.

ie is secretary and treasurer and general manager of the Dillon manufacturing company of Statesville. He is prominent and has a wide circle of friends.

After their wedding trip they will make their home in Statesville. Out-of-town guests here for the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Dillon, Miss Dorothy Dillon, P. M. Dillon, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Ensign, of Statesville; William Dillon, of Washington, D. C.; George Lowe, of High Point; B. C. Vitt, C. C. Connor of Greensboro; Miss Elizabeth Howard and Jack Brown, of Whitakers; Dr. and Mrs. M. I. Fleming, James White, of Rocky Mount, Elder and Mrs. S. B. Denny of Wilson.

Following the wedding Mrs. Brown entertained the bridal party and out-of-town guests at a buffet supper. The home was attractively decorated with white and yellow chrysanthemums and dahlias, ferns and lighted candles.

Misses Virginia Arthur, Mamie Ruth and Francis Fleming and Huldah Nobles served.

Attend Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Parrish and son; Miss Lottie Mattox, Mrs. Grace Talon, Dr. and Mrs. Paul Fitzgerald, Dr. E. P. Spence, and Mrs. O. L. Tucker left today for Goldsboro to attend the Pale-Gardner wedding to be celebrated at the Methodist church tonight. Mrs. Tucker will sing during the ceremony.

Mrs. J. L. Fleming and Miss Margaret Fleming Entertain

Wednesday at noon, Mrs. J. L. Fleming and Miss Margaret Fleming charmingly entertained at a luncheon in honor of the Dillon-Brown bridal party. Members of the bridal party, out-of-town guests and relatives were present. The home was lovely with burning tapers, chrysanthemums and dahlias. Mr. and Mrs. Samuel T. White welcomed the guests on arrival. In the dining room a pink and white color scheme was effectively carried out in the decorations. A salad course and a sweet course, carrying out the pink and white color scheme was served. Mrs. Nannie White and Mrs. M. I. Fleming, seated at either end of the table, poured coffee. This was one of the most enjoyable of the many pre-nuptial affairs given in honor of the popular young couple.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON
New York, Oct. 27.—(AP)—A break of more than fifty points followed an opening advance in the cotton market today, under heavy selling and scattered selling pressure by a reaction that advanced from the low prices early this week had been over rapid, combined with unfavorable trade advices from Japan, and reports of favorable weather in the south. Conflicting opinion as to the interpretation of Secretary Jardine's statement yesterday also had an effect.

The mid-afternoon market was nervous and unsettled within 3 or 4 points of the lowest.

GRAIN
Chicago, Oct. 27.—(AP)—Export talkings of Canadian wheat together with unexpected strength of wheat quotations at Liverpool helped give firmness today to the wheat market here. It was estimated that North American wheat export business today amounted to 1,700,000 bushels, chiefly Canadian. Deferred deliveries of corn touched a new low price record for the season.

Wheat closed steady unchanged to 3-8 higher; corn unchanged to 3-8 off; oats unchanged to 1-8 up and provisions ranging from 22 cents decline to a rise of 10 cents.

STOCK MARKET
New York, Oct. 27.—As recent buying movement in the stock market, which had brought a number of issues up substantially from their low levels earlier in the week, appeared to have lost much of its momentum today. The volume of special sales, pressing on the general market, drove some of the leaders to new low levels for the current decline.

Bar pressure was focused on the Steel group, U. S. Steel and several of the independents suffering severely on pessimistic comment over current earnings and prospects. Efforts to safeguard some of the profits garnered in General Motors on the brilliant third-quarter showing, brought out a steady supply of this stock, and particular heaviness also was displayed by other high grade industrials, including American Smelting, General Electric and International Harvester.

General Motors sold as low as 128 and Steel got down to 133 1/2 before a rebound of about a point occurred.

The setback in the rails, hastened by reports of low earnings by such roads as New York Central, Atchafson, Pennsylvania and Baltimore & Ohio, was especially pronounced in the dividend paying shares, esp-pecially Atchafson, New York Central and Canadian Pacific.

The closing was firm. Total sales approximated 2,000,000 shares.

The Most Important Customer In Our Store

There's an old story about a tiny vendor of plum tarts in London who refused to permit a wealthy man to buy his day's supply, because, as he wisely stated, "I won't have any left for my regular customers."

Young as he was he had already learned the basic lesson of merchandising that isn't the one or two big sales that count, but the "regular customers" who will make or break a business.

The J. C. Penney Company have built up this store with the help of the "regular customer" Mothers often bring their newly-married daughters here, knowing that our spirit of helpful service will assist them in the problems of their new home.

between them is that one is a little more bloodthirsty than the other.

Rothermere, most powerful man in England, because he owns the most powerful newspaper, demands Lloyd George's return to power.

Britain is excited about this, and about Rothermere's statement that Lloyd George is the man to hold the reins in check.

Many of Britain's "great men" will soon smile, when history compares them with Lloyd George. He financed the war, supplied the ammunition, and then with Clemenceau, won the war.

Now the sun needs him to pull the country out of the post-war depression.

Once more you are warned, be cautious about selling anything that is in America. Some that sold several millions short recently had their little fingers pinched yesterday when the stock hopped up over thirty points.

It will top higher today, probably when the world learns that the average in the last three months has earned more than $4,000,000. That means earnings at the rate of more than $14 a share on the new stock, selling at about $100.

We warn you DON'T GAMBLE! and more earnestly we warn you don't sell this country short.

Cotton jumped up more than two dollars a bale yesterday. Steel stock went up money was cheap. You could borrow at a 1-2 per cent for 90 days. Altogether it was a pleasant for brokers, whose seats are now worth a quarter of a million apiece. You could buy one of them for $25,000 not long ago.

A killing that will puzzle the jury comes from McHenry county in Illinois. The police announce that William Schumacher, 28, was innocent of the charge that he had killed his father. Schumacher told them: "You are wrong. I waited for him to come into the barn, pulled the trigger, and the shot almost blew his head off."

His father made him work before and after school when he was nine year old, took him out of school for good when he was twelve, and made him do a man's work. He beat the boy's mother, repeatedly, knocked her into a hot stove and left her there, drove a pitchfork into the leg of a younger brother so far that the boy could not pull it out without help.

Just before the murder he knocked his wife to the floor with a blow on the chin, accusing her of infidelity saying a farmhand was the real father of the 28 year old son. That son killed him. The neighbors corroborate the story of cruelty.

It will not be easy to get a conviction in that case.

After all the talk about "extravagant women" you will be interested in this fact, provided by the U. S. Department of Labor:

On the average, spend more for their clothes than women. The average for husbands is $71.38; for wives $53.55.

Women are the economical half of the household, making ends meet, denying themselves for the children and the future. Not to know it is not to know women or men.

Four thousand miners in Colorado went on strike, under orders of the I. W. W. Miners may do as they please with their working hands and use their judgment about striking.

But coal miners and owners should remember one thing.

Oil is taking the place of coal. Steamships, locomotives, heating plants and engines of highest efficiency, oil spouts from the ground. You need not mine it. Oil flows through pipes, needs no stoker, feeds itself to supply power. Coal once dropped for oil is not taken back again.

All that is no reason why mine owners should oppress their men, or why workers should submit to injustice. But it is a reason for earnest thinking.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)
