SAYS CREW OF ITALIAN LINER SHIRKED DUTY

Wealthy Passenger of Ill-Fated Ship Declares Officers Were Negligent.

Rio Janeiro, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Survivors of the Princess Mafalda disaster today were bound for new homelands in Brazil and the Argentine, sorrowing over the loss of some three hundred companions over the loss of some three hundred companions on the trip from Italy. Horrors of the foundering of the boat, which was one of the fastest in the South American trade, were recounted and charges of negligence, inadequate life saving equipment and a ship in bad condition were aired.

George Grenade, a wealthy Belgian resident of Buenos Aires, made public through the correspondent here of La Nacion of Buenos Aires a letter which he said he had sent to the Italian Royal Maritime Commissioner at the latter's request.

Grenade, a first-class passenger, wrote:

"The commander and officers were negligent in complying with their elementary duties, for had they acted with energy they could have subdued the frantic emigrants and the work of saving the passengers could have been carried out normally in five hours.

"The Mafalda did not have a sufficient number of lifeboats aboard to save all the passengers, for when the boats were filled only 500 passengers were accommodated. (The Italian embassy has stated that there was room in the lifeboats for 1,223 persons, the Mafalda carried 1,256.)

"The engines of the Mafalda were not in good condition on leaving Genoa, as it has been established that the ship was detained several times at sea.

"The captain had full knowledge of the bad condition of the ship, for it has been established through the indiscretions of some employees that attempts were made to cancel the sailing.

"The commander and the first engineer confirmed that this was to be the Mafalda's last South American trip. She was to be sold for Mediterranean cruises for her condition did not longer permit long voyages.

Grenade charged that members of the crew became drunk after the disaster occurred, that the ship was looted by steerage passengers and stewards, and that there was a wild scramble for boats which could not be halted.

A check up of survivors in various Brazilian ports accounted for 963 of the 1,256 persons aboard. Leaving 293 for dead or missing.

Try to Interpret Archic Blue Law

Greensboro, N. C., Oct. 29.—(AP)—To determine whether North Carolina's archaic blue law will be enforced against Greensboro Sunday golfers at the Sedgewick links, Magistrate O. W. Duke was today poring over State Supreme Court records in an effort to discover whether the law is a criminal or civil statute.

"If it is a civil statute, I am going to drop the matter," Magistrate Duke announced. "If it is a criminal statute, I am going to enforce it."

The magistrate explained that if the statute is civil law, the only way it could be enforced would be for some person to appear before a magistrate or justice of peace and summons the defendant to magistrate's court. He said that if he attempted to help the defendant, would be on the watch for Greensboro golfers tomorrow, arrest violators, the constable would be committing assault, unless the statute was classed as a criminal law.

The civil procedure would have little effect, the magistrate said, since the maximum penalty is only a dollar, and this sum could be forfeited by the defendant by refusing to appear in court in answer to the summons.

While legal minds are seeking to disentangle the complications arising in connection with the uncovering of the statute, officials of the Sedgewick links remained silent.

SEVERAL DEATHS RESULT FROM GALE IN IRELAND

London, Oct. 29.—(AP)—A sixty mile gale swept Ireland and part of England today. Several deaths and injuries resulted. Property and telegraph and telephone lines over a widespread area were damaged.

TODAY

Good Citizen; Good Son. Thankful? VERY. To Kill Gorillas. Gianni Methods.

(By Arthur Brisbane)
Copyright 1927, by Star Co

S. Davies Warfield, head of the Seaboard Air Line, an admirable worker for his country, was buried yesterday in Baltimore.

His life of energetic work and building earned the respect and gratitude of his fellow citizens. And they learn with admiration the use to which he left his fortune of several millions.

The money will be used to found a home for dependent aged women, in memory of Mr. Warfield's mother who died many years ago.

A proclamation by the President fixes November 24 as Thanksgiving Day and mentions some things for which we should be thankful, such as "greater knowledge of the higher values of life" and "advancement in our physical well being."

It may also be mentioned that we are still out of the League of Nations; prosperity continues, high wages HAVEN'T gone down while the cost of living HAS come down.

We may well praise the Lord, for we are fearfully and wonderfully fortunate.

Every prospect pleases. Foreigners buy from us, although our money is high in value.

In September we exported 33,748,000 bushels of wheat, 10,948,000 bushels more than September, 1926. We got, this year, $13,955,000 more than for last year's September wheat exports.

Miss Alice O'Brien, with a rich father, able to do as she pleases, wants "to hear African drums vibrating through the tropical Congo," and see "weird ceremonies of an African witch doctor."

Most interesting, the young girl thinks she is going to kill gorillas.

That a young girl should want to kill gorillas is not unusual, but we shudder if we heard that a young girl was coming north to kill human girls.

Miss O'Brien, of course, will not really kill any gorilla. Looking into the dark, strange face, she could kill.

MILLS WINS SUIT HERE

Tenant Awarded Sum of $350.26 Against George Hardee in Crop Controversy.

Aaron Mills was awarded judgment for $350.26 against George Hardee in the closing session of civil court yesterday afternoon. The decision came following short deliberation of the jury. The case was begun Thursday afternoon and was featured by considerable evidence.

The following divorces were also granted:

Mrs. Nell Morton vs. S. V. Morton.

Bertha Bright vs. Eddie Bright.

Elnora Taft vs. Horace Taft, colored.

The case of Mills against Hardee grew out of a dispute over a crop which Mills raised while a tenant on the Hardee farm during the year 1923. It was contended that the defendant refused to furnish any money to the hands that had been hired to help on tobacco in the curing barn, and by means of threatened violence caused the plaintiff to move off the premises and out of the house which he had rented and took possession of the crop.

The jury found that Hardee breached his contract with Mills by means of threats, as brought out in referee's hearing conducted sometime ago.

A one week term of criminal court will convene Monday morning with Judge Lyon presiding. A considerable number of cases are on the calendar for the term, and it is expected the session will be one of the busiest in months.

Three Russians Executed Today

Moscow, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Three former Russian millionaires, the brothers Vladimir and Cyril Provo and their brother-in-law Korepanoff, sentenced to death on charges of military espionage were executed today.

CHICAGO BOOK ROW AROUSES WORLD-WIDE INTEREST OVER OUTCOME

Here are the principals in Chicago's war on alleged pro-British history textbooks, shown before two pages of the book with typical quotations that are hotly attacked: Left, "Sport" Hermann burning one of the books. Left center: Clarence Darrow, famous lawyer, who says Chicago will have to destroy everything but fairy tales if it continues its policy. Upper right center: Queen Victoria, who donated thousands of books to Chicago's library after the great fire. Below: Congressman John J. Gorman, who is being sued for $100,000 by Prof. D. S. Muzzey, author of one of the histories under fire. Right: Mayor William Hale Thompson, whose anti-British campaigns have attracted much attention and comment. (International Newsreel)

MRS. GRAYSON PREPARES FOR FOURTH FLIGHT

Woman Flier Back at Old Orchard, Maine, Awaiting Favorable Weather.

Old Orchard, Me., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Having conferred in Boston with Charles D. Chamberlin, trans-Atlantic flier, Mrs. Frances Wilson Grayson was back in Old Orchard today awaiting favorable weather for a fourth attempt to fly to Copenhagen.

To those who suggested that she noted her services in place of Wilmer Stultz, pilot with whom she admittedly has had differences, Mrs. Grayson denied that the man who carried the first passenger over the Atlantic had been asked to join the crew of her Amphibian plane, the Dawn.

She declared that she and Stultz were on amicable terms and said her talk with Chamberlin had been solely for the purpose of obtaining his advice.

Stultz himself denied he would quit the projected flight although he admitted he had twice submitted his resignation. "I would be delighted if Mrs. Grayson would get some other pilot because I do not believe we will have any suitable flying weather this season," he declared, but quickly added that he was staying as per contract and, if necessary, would rejoin the expedition in the spring should weather force its present abandonment.

Mrs. Grayson confessed that she did not know when they could get away although she hoped it would be before next Tuesday.

Killed in Effort To Evade Police

Mount Airy, N. C., Oct. 29.—Otis Shumaker, 24, is dead, and Paul Carter may die as a result of an alleged attempt of Shumaker to evade a police car here early today. Paul Kelly of Charlotte, was seriously but not fatally injured. Police had tried to stop the Shumaker car on which only one light was burning. Shumaker fled, but at Lovell's Creek bridge, his automobile overturned and burned. Shumaker was dead when the car was lifted off his body.

Carter suffered two broken legs and other injuries. Kelly's head was washed. Carter was resting fairly well today with hope held out for his recovery. The three men were living here.

Chicago Mayor Appeals For "America First"

Chicago, Oct. 29.—(AP)—A dash of George M. Cohan's "Grand Old Flag," a touch of Stephen Decatur's "My Country, Right or Wrong," and a taste of opera bouffe seasoned Mayor Thompson's "America First" efforts today.

His appeal for support of the "America First Foundation" with a $10 membership fee, brought many returns. Some were complimentary. Not a few were condemnatory. Several were ironic.

The plea for members in the Foundation, a national, patriotic organization "for better citizenship, based on loyalty, with a nationwide educational program to teach the Constitution of the United States and respect for our form of government and a thorough knowledge of its fundamental laws," was telegraphed to Mayors, Congressmen, Senators and Governors.

Alfred M. Phillips, Jr., Mayor of Stamford, Conn., wired back, charges collect: "Did you say fee or free?"

No reply was received. Again he wired also tells collect, cautioning Mayor Thompson that the tricky British "might have some pretty mean propaganda against him in 'Alice in Wonderland'."

Another reply from Congressman Emmanuel Celler, Brooklyn, N. Y., read: "Were you not so enthusiastically misguided in your campaign against anything British and were it not for your raid on the Chicago library, I might consider your proposal seriously, but your anti-British mania has made you ridiculous in the eyes of intelligent people."

To which Mayor Thompson rejoined telegraphically: "If you wanted so much money are not beyond advice permit me to suggest that you should use the word intelligent over your own signature because if you had more brains you would have sense enough to learn the truth before spending your money in such long telegrams. With best wishes for future, I am, sincerely yours."

"Glad to join and support in any way the America First association (or purposes) outlined in your telegram," was the answer from Mayor L. C. Hodson, St. Paul, Minn.

Mayor Arthur J. O'Keefe, New Orleans, supporters of Mayor Thompson in the Gulf-to-Waterway and flood relief projects, said: "Will be glad to see you again. Sending you by mail $10 for dues in the America First Foundation."

From Detroit, Wis., Mayor William Maell cautioned: "Don't let King George buy you off."

Caution and skepticism were also expressed by Congressman J. J. McSwain, of Greenville, S. C.,

NEW SIDE TO INDIANAPOLIS OFFICE ISSUE

City Controller Would Place Mayorality Tangle in the Hands of Judges.

Indianapolis, Oct. 29.—(AP)—A new side to the many-faced mayorality situation in Indianapolis was turned up yesterday when Joseph L. Hogue, city controller in the administration of the late Lew Shank, presented a compromise plan under which all claimants for the mayor's office would waive their claims and agree to let the nine judges of the Marion County courts select a mayor. With two active mayors and two more in the offing, including Hogue, the proposal gained some attention.

Hogue said that the legal qualifications of any man for the mayor's office would not be decided for six months or more as the case would have to be finally decided by the State Supreme Court.

The muddled situation will be partly cleared up today, however, with a ruling by Judge Joseph M. Milner of the Superior Court on an injunction suit filed by Claude E. Nesley, appointed Mayor by the city council, asking an order restraining others from interfering with his assumption of the office.

Ira M. Holmes, attorney, and Nesley, erstwhile president of the city council, occupied chairs at the mayor's desk yesterday following the resignation Thursday of Mayor John L. Duval.

The city council, in appointing Nesley Mayor, held that Duval's conviction barred him from holding office. The basis for Holmes' claim was more complicated. Duval resigned and his wife, Mrs. Maude E. Duval, as city controller became mayor. She appointed Holmes city controller and fifteen minutes later also resigned.

Despite Nesley's contention in the injunction suit that Holmes was interfering with him, there was no indication of this in the mayor's office yesterday. The two got along famously, sitting in the side at the mayor's desk and making separate appointments for the same offices.

Report Tropical Disturbance Washington, Oct. 29.—(AP)—The Weather Bureau today issued the following storm warning: "Advisory 11 a. m. tropical disturbance of slight intensity apparently moving west or west north-west, passed over St. Lucia, Windward Islands, last night. Pressure is relatively low south of Cuba."

Rumania Honors Birthday of Queen

Sinaia, Rumania, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Rumania honored its widowed Queen Marie on her fifty-first birthday today by holding religious services throughout the country and sending delegations of peasants and others to wish the royal "mother" of the country a happier year than she had last year.

Ira Nelson Morris, former American minister to Sweden, and Mrs. Morris who spent the day with the Queen brought her greetings from many American friends while four cabinet ministers journeyed from Bucharest to felicitate the Queen in behalf of the government. William S. Culbertson, American minister to Rumania, conveyed the good wishes of the people of the United States.

GOOD TOBACCO SELLING HIGH IN GREENVILLE

Local Market Averages $28.03 Per Hundred Pounds on 880,074 Pounds Friday.

The highest average of the season was made on the Greenville tobacco market during the week just closed when 4,429,914 pounds sold at an average of $27.84 per hundred pounds, according to official figures made public this morning by K. W. Cobb, secretary of the Tobacco Board of Trade. The total amount paid out was $1,238,044.13.

For the entire season the market has sold a total of 37,530,000 pounds for $8,265,551.09. The average price is $22.02.

The market yesterday sold 880,074 pounds at an average of $28.03 for a total sum of $246,744.09.

Good tobacco brought favorable prices this week, the report stated, several piles of wrappers yesterday selling as high as 94 cents.

Raleigh, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Tobacco prices reported variously this week in North Carolina had several figures showing the highest peaks of the season. The best quality of the season was in order. Steady price improvement was generally noted.

Yesterday's sales on the Durham market reached the peak of the season with 504,800 pounds of tobacco bringing an average of $29.76 a hundred pounds. Farmers selling on the Durham market have received one million dollars this season.

The Greenville market noted a new high price record for the season, the first of the week 1,042,592 pounds sold for $297,920.40, an average of $28.58 a hundred, with total season's sale soaring past the 34 million pound mark.

Rocky Mount also came in for a new record price of $27.11 average when the week's sales opened while a report from Wilson told of ten million dollars and more paid growers for almost 50 million pounds sold on that market this season. Thursday's average reached $26.72.

Henderson's market joined the soaring price class with $26.62 average with start of the week. Zebulon reported better than $25 for the week. At Mebane 100,000 pounds were sold one day for $28.50. Oxford's sales soared with the average price around $23.50.

Winston-Salem, N. C., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Season sales on the Winston-Salem leaf market totaled 16,593,544 pounds at an average of $19.40 a hundred, according to official figures issued today. A new high average of $24.47 a hundred was reached.

Friday, a few baskets of fancy wrappers ranging as high as $63 to $80 a hundred.

The week's sales were 4,589,836 pounds at an average of $23.51 a hundred.

JUMPS TO DEATH FROM HOTEL WINDOW

New York, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Leaving a note to her mother saying "You know I do not love buddy and this New York life is driving me mad," a 24-year-old woman who registered as M. E. Greene, of Passaic, N. J., jumped to death from her eighth floor room in the Hotel Knickerbocker early today. Her body landed on the roof of a second story extension.

16 Lives Lost When Boat Sinks

Provincetown, Mass., Oct. 29.—(AP)—The Gloucester fishing schooner Avalon was rammed and sank in a heavy fog off Highland Light today by the Colliery liner, President Wilson, with probable loss of more than 20 members of the fishermen's crew.

The collision occurred five miles off the tip of Cape Cod. After standing by four hours the President Wilson reported it had only been able to pick up three survivors.

OIL HEARING RECESSES FOR THE WEEK END

Government Gets Decisions From Bench Which Prove Disadvantageous.

Washington, Oct. 29.—(AP)—With ten days of bitter legal skirmishing behind, the Fall-Sinclair conspiracy trial came today to its week-end pause.

Counsel for the government looked back on two decisions from the bench distinctly disadvantageous to its cause. Both involved the laying of important evidence before the jury one the source of the $200,000 in Liberty bonds which reached M. T. Everhart, Fall's son-in-law, and business associate, shortly after the Teapot Dome lease was signed, and the other, Sinclair's statement before the Senate investigating committee that his renowned "Christmas visit" to Fall at the latter's New Mexico ranch in 1921 was for the purpose of opening negotiations for a lease on the Wyoming naval oil reserve.

Both questions were sharply contested by the opposing attorneys and were taken under advisement by Justice Siddons after much acrimonious argument.

In the former, the court upheld Everhart's contention that to tell from whom hands he received the bonds would tend to incriminate him in the same conspiracy charged against Fall and Sinclair, and that in declining to give this evidence, he was acting within his Constitutional rights.

Justice Siddons also ruled the Sinclair statement inadmissible because the oil operator was under oath at the time it was made and an act of Congress forbids the use of evidence laid before Congressional investigating committees in subsequent court action. Any portion of Fall's or Sinclair's testimony to the committee made when they had not been sworn, he said, however, could be laid before the jury.

Government counsel looked with satisfaction, however, upon its success yesterday in connecting Sinclair directly with the Continental Trading Company, Ltd., of Canada, which at one time held the bonds that eventually reached Everhart.

Through former Senator Charles S. Thomas, of Colorado, the government showed that Sinclair took part in a conference, called for the purpose of negotiating the purchase of a huge quantity of oil from A. E. Humphreys of Denver, by the Continental Company, Sinclair, Thomas, as said, acted as co-guarantor of the contract, which subsequently was executed.

THOUSANDS TO WITNESS THE GRID CLASSICS

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 23. — (AP)—Duke's football teams have established themselves as favorites today as they sought to entrench more solidly behind mid-season victories.

Between 85,000 and 100,000 fans were expected to witness the thirteen games in which Southern Conference teams participated in seven widely scattered southern states. Many other thousands were certain to see Georgia Tech make its bold advance on Notre Dame at South Bend.

Louisiana State and Arkansas, playing at Shreveport and Virginia and Tennessee, meeting at Knoxville, were expected to draw 15,000 each.

Some of the high lights of the day's games show five teams boasting spotless conference records standing a chance to have their scutcheon besmirched. Most of these chances, however, are considered slim.

Georgia ruled a favorite as the Bull Dogs met Tulane at New Orleans.

North Carolina State carried McDowell, flashy half back, as its edge apparently against North Carolina at Raleigh.

Bill Spears and Armistead of Vanderbilt, were expected by critics to be too much for Kentucky at Nashville.

Tennessee and Washington and Lee, however, had a different story confronting them. Virginia, opponents of the Vols, has shown great latent power of late and Maryland has displayed enough force to crush three conference elevens.

Louisiana State met Arkansas, non-conference foe, with little known of the razorbacks.

Alabama and Mississippi A & M both defeated, met at Tuscaloosa with the opinions of Longheads.

Sewanee was host to Ole Miss and this game looked uncertain to the so-called experts.

Others played against non-conference opponents. V. M. I. met Davidson's agile Wildcats.

The suburban pliansmen tried Howard's Bull Dogs at Birmingham. Virginia Poly engaged Chattanooga. Clemson was host to Wofford. Florida is at home at Gainesville to Mercer.

New York, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Stellar football attractions with a cast of a few of them bearing on the mythical championships and others involving rivals of years standing today were magnets for approximately half a million persons.

The Yale-Dartmouth contest was the leading contest so far as football itself was concerned. Coach Jesse Hawley's Hanover lads hoped for their first football victory over the Elis. The best Dartmouth has been able to get against Yale on the football field was one tie score.

Harvard, having lost to Purdue, hoped to fare better against Indiana, another western conference team.

Penn. defeated in its two last starts, meets in the Navy a team that has lost only to Notre Dame.

Army looked for a stiff fight from Bucknell.

Princeton was unperturbed about William and Mary and coach Bill Roper ordered his star players used sparingly in view of the Ohio State game next week.

Cornell entertained a heavy Columbia team.

New York University hoped to maintain its clean slate against Colgate; Boston College essayed to beat its former coach, Major Frank W. Cavanaugh, now at Fordham.

Among other entertainments offered were West Virginia vs Carnegie Tech at Morgantown; Penn State vs. Lafayette at State College, Pa.; Georgetown vs. Waynesburg at Washington; Washington and Jefferson vs. Thiel, at Washington, Pa.; Pittsburgh vs. Allegheny at Pittsburgh.

PLAYING THE GAME

Sportsman ship In The Stand

By Fielding H. Yost

Ann Arbor, Mich. — (AP) — One of the editors of the middle West has pointed out in a pungent editorial that the youth of America receives a square deal in the games he plays, but that his good-sportsmanship or honesty sometimes seems to be lacking in contests of politics, business and professions.

In other words the realm of sports is a cleaner one than the one the youth enters when he has completed his college years and pits his training against that of other men to earn a place in the world.

On the track of youth he is guaranteed a fair start, and obstructed course and an impartial decision at the finish. In football he is given the direction of clearly defined rules and officials trained to see that all entering the game play under the direction of the rules.

The mutual respect and understanding engendered by knowledge that there is an equal chance for all has been one of the firm foundations upon which intercollegiate competition has builded. The mutual respect and confidence of one student body for another has been a large, if not the largest, factor in the expansion of relations between natural rivals.

American youth has progressed far in this direction, and to some extent at least is carrying the lessons of the gridiron and track with it when it takes its place in the bleachers. There is room for improvement, and the newspaper reading public, the largest cross section of the supporters of college competitions in the United States, have the improvement largely in their hands.

When two universities agree to meet each other in an athletic contest they agree to two tests. One is definite—to determine which is the stronger team. The other is real, yet intangible—to determine which has instilled into its team, students and supporters the better quality of sportsmanship. In other words—which one of the schools will show that it has adopted the square deal of the playing field in all the details of its support.

In my opinion football players are infinitely more sportsmanlike than the spectators. Before intercollegiate athletics can mean all they should mean, spectators, students, critics and college authorities must school themselves to the same point as the competing athletes. Sometimes a player may think that a certain rule or a certain decision is not as it should be. Nevertheless he abides by that rule or that decision. That is rugged self government. To get along, each individual—student or spectator—must agree to the rules of the game as accepted by the majority.

Today when one goes to see a college football game it is taken for granted he will see a high quality of sportsmanship on the playing field. No one expects anything else from the players. We expect them to "come clean." It is the tribute we expect from youth to the fact it is engaged in sports.

It should be brought home to every one that there is not a division between the players on the field and the spectators, for most of the latter are partisans. The group on the field are the representatives of the group in the stands. It should not be a one-sided representation—both should be judged by the same standards.

When the day comes in which spectators are capable of the same high standards of conduct as are now almost universally applicable to players, then—and not until then—football will have come to mean all it should in the widely varying communities of the United States.

GRID CAPTAIN IS HERO OF "COME BACK"

HAROLD HOEKELMAN

Ithaca, N. Y.—(AP)—A football sailing high over the Cornell gridiron carried a load of calamity for Harold Hoekelman three years ago. But he "came back" and is captain of the Cornell eleven this year his last in college football.

Cornell was playing Williams. Hoekelman, sturdy Cornell half-back, stood on his own five-yard line as a high punt sailed toward him. He elected to catch it instead of letting it roll over the goal line and be brought back to the 20-yard mark. But he muffed the ball instead and a feet Williams end scooped it up and rushed it over the line, enabling Williams to win the game, 14 to 7.

It was tragedy for Hoekelman. But like Merkle, whose famous

"bonehead" play still lives in baseball annals, he came back. That is, he left college for a year and then returned seeking to regain his lost laurels on the gridiron.

He played a sterling game in subsequent football battles. Coach Gilmour Doble, usually relentless, was quick to excuse Hoekelman's mistake when the New York 165-pounder, fought his way back to a valuable place in the Red and White ranks.

GREENVILLE HIGHS VICTORS IN CHAMPIONSHIP CONTEST AT SCOTLAND NECK FRIDAY

For the first time in the history, Greenville High School has entered the State football championship and emerged victorious in the first game. The strong Scotland Neck team was defeated yesterday by a score of 6 to 0.

The touchdown was made early in the first quarter as Scotland Neck kicked off to Greenville. A first down was then registered and on the following plays the opponents secured the ball as it became necessary to kick. Scotland Neck also was forced to punt and Greenville gained possession of the ball on the 35 yard line. A 20 yard pass from Respass to Bostic, followed by a nice 15 yard run by Bostic scored the touchdown. The kick for extra point, went low, however.

During the second quarter Greenville threatened to score when Bostic caught a long, overhand pass from Respass but stumbled after the catch was made.

Scotland Neck came back strong at the beginning of the second half determined to score. The third period passed, however, with neither team threatening, the ball being exchanged several times on punts and passes.

It was during the fourth quarter that the Greenville lads showed great defense. Scotland Neck was unable to gain except an occasional pass or end run. Using these to an advantage, the opponents brought the ball to the twenty yard line. But then a long fifty five yard punt by Bostic took the ball back into safe territory and enabled the Greenville boys to hold the lead. The game ended with Greenville in possession of the ball on Scotland Neck's 40 yard line.

All through the game Greenville showed a decisive advantage in the aerial attacks and it was by using this that the game was won. The passing combination of Respass to Bostic was responsible for several long gains. Greenville's offensive was made use of end runs for gains, frequently.

The features of the game were the running of Respass and Bostic for Greenville. Robeson also made nice gains on line plays. Greenville's two ends, Hicks and Tucker deserve mention for their defensive work as well as Captain Whedbee in the line. In fact Greenville's defense as a team was remarkable. By winning this game, Greenville has won the right to play the finals for the group championship which will be played on Armistice Day. It is hoped that the team will receive the proper support, with which they will be able to advance much faster in the championship race.

- The line-up follows:

Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Moore and Family.

Round Table Club Meets The Round Table Club met with Mrs. H. L. Carr on Greene street, on Tuesday, October 25, in one of the most interesting and instructive meetings of the year.

The Halloween decorations added a festive note to the occasion. After a short business session, in which Mrs. J. E. Winslow gave a glowing report of the district meeting of the Federation at Aulander, Mrs. E. J. Everett introduced Miss Andrews, head of the English department of East Carolina Teachers College. Miss Andrews gave a delightful informal talk on "Folklore Its Effect on Literature and Lan-

Gould's Widow Wins

Lady Dunsford, widow of George Gould, will receive $650,000 allowance from her late husband's estate, according to a ruling of London vice-chancellor.

She traced the gradual growth of folk-lore, folk song and folk dance from the customs of the primitive peoples, and showed how present day poetry and literature go back to such treasure houses of folk lore, as "Aesop's Fables," and to such storehouses of wonder tales as "The Arabian Nights." She discussed many of the survivals of primitive magic, old rhymes, idioms and riddles. Her reading of the old English and American ballads was most interesting.

MESDAMES DEAL AND FRANK ENTERTAIN FACULTY

On Thursday evening, Mrs. R. C. Deal and Mrs. A. D. Frank gave a most delightful party for the officers and faculty of the East Carolina Teachers College, and their wives at the country club.

The grounds were brilliantly illuminated, and the club house was lavishly decorated with yellow chrysanthemums and autumn leaves.

A roaring log fire burned in the big fireplace, and for the first half hour the room buzzed with conversation, as greetings were exchanged, and vacation experiences were related. Then a game of "Guess Who" was played, affording much amusement, and causing some thought.

Tables were placed for those who wished to play games, while others sat around the fire and chatted, and all enjoyed several selections on the piano by Mrs. H. C. Haynes.

A delicious salad course was served. About 80 guests enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. Deal and Mrs. Frank.

Local Talent Show Is Well Attended Here

"The Spice of Life," local talent show, was presented in the auditorium of the East Carolina Teachers College last night, under auspices of the Greenville chapter of King's Daughters. A fairly good crowd attended the attraction and each act received liberal applause.

The show was presented under direction of Miss Agnes King, representing the Daniel Producing Company of Millen, Georgia, and featured numbers of interesting scenes.

Among the outstanding specialty numbers were the Mannequin dance by Rose Hadley and Bet Dixon and a Gypsy dance interpretation by Miss Virginia King and Jack Spain. Little Ruth Luper also featured in a dance and song number.

The choruses consisted of a bevy of pretty high school girls. Miniature dancers consisting of girls of about six or seven years of age, added much to the attraction.

Weather Outlook for Next Week South Atlantic and East Gulf States a period of showers about middle of week and again at end. Moderate temperatures most of week.

Bamber Talks on Five Amazing Things

(By REV. R. J. BAMBER) In the "Bulletin" of one of our city churches, there occurred recently the following statements which seem worth while to reproduce, under the heading:

- "FIVE AMAZING THINGS"
1. The man who believes that Christ died for him, yet refuses to give him anything in return.
 2. The parent who sends his children to church, but stays at home himself.
 3. The Christian who spends money freely on himself and family, and has only a pittance (if that) for the church.
 4. The teacher or leader in the church who does not attend the Sunday morning service.
 5. The church member who never comes to church, yet expects the church to bury him with the "odor of sanctity" when he dies.

Second Annual Flower Show Is Great Success

The 2nd annual Flower Show of the Garden Club was held on Thursday afternoon and evening, in the room of the Singer Sewing Machine Company on Dickinson Ave. The display of ferns, potted plants and cut flowers proved that there are many amateur florists in Greenville and was a most creditable showing. The dahlias and chrysanthemums were of every kind and hue, and were truly gorgeous. There were many visitors all of whom expressed their pleasure in seeing so many lovely plants and flowers on exhibition and pronounced the Show a great success.

Premiums were awarded for 24 different groups, and the judges were Dr. R. L. Carr, Mrs. D. D. Haskett, and Miss Marie Graham. Blue ribbons signified first premiums, and represented something for the winner to use in her garden. Each premium was donated by a florist, and the Garden Club acknowledges its indebtedness and gratitude to J. P. Watt and Sons of Raleigh, T. W. Wood and Sons of Richmond, W. Albee Burpee Company of Philadelphia, Conard Pyle Company of West Grove Pa., Henry A. Reer of Philadelphia, George Tait and Sons of Norfolk, and the Continental Plant Company of Kirtrell, N. About Town

Her Statue as Prize

Nadine Dore, "Miss Southern California," appealed so much to beauty judges that they had statue made of her, and it will be formally presented to her at Los Angeles as first prize in big tournament.

"Every day reports of new cases of diphtheria come to the health department," today remarked Dr. W. E. Futrell, director of the Pitt county Department of Health.

"The number of cases in October will exceed the number reported for the entire four months preceding. The fact that the cases so far have occurred among those who have not been vaccinated with toxin-antitoxin goes to prove the value of these preventative measures.

"Diphtheria is primarily a disease of childhood although a person of any age may have it, and the child who has from three to five doses of toxin-antitoxin need have little fear, but the child whose parents have neglected to give him other these treatments may live in constant dread of this dreadful disease.

"Again parents are urged to take their children, especially those from 6 to 10 years of age, to their family physician or bring them to the Health office and have them vaccinated, if they have not already done so."

"The election of Clarence Pugh of Elizabeth City, as governor of Carolina Kiwanis, will be received with more than general interest by Kiwanians in this section of the State," declared C. S. Forbes, delegate from the Greenville club who returned from Durham convention yesterday.

"Mr. Pugh served most efficiently as lieutenant-governor of the fourth district and his elevation to the governorship is a well deserved honor.

"He is not only well equipped for the high office conferred upon him but, is also quite popular in his district and should be able to wield great influence in behalf of continued development of the organization."

"Greenville, N. C., the hub in East Carolina's wheel of progress." This is a prominent line of an advertisement appearing in the October number of the Manufacturers Record, one of America's leading business publications.

"The advertisement is a part of the publicity drive recently inaugurated under auspices of the Greenville Merchants Association," today stated J. J. White, member of the committee who had the soliciting of funds for the campaign in charge.

"The advertisement further says: 'A live city with a population of approximately 12,000 offers advantages as few cities of the South, even with a much larger population, can equal. Located in the best section of Dixie where weather conditions are ideal the year round.

"Lowest power rate in the State. There is a surplus amount of power in Greenville. With its Million Dollar Municipally owned water and power plant, the city offers to the industrial world the lowest general rate in the State for industrial uses. The plant has 3000 H. P. capacity, with 2,000 H. P. surplus available at once. Sinking fund sufficient to double capacity of plant should increased business demand it. Water is ideal for industrial uses, such as dyeing, washing, and for boiler use, there is no scale and no tubes to bore or clean.

"Ideal manufacturing sites and plenty of cheap labor are available."

The Reflector this afternoon is furnishing its leased wire play-by-play reports of the Carolina-State football game.

This service, according to numbers of sport lovers in the city and the country is the best afforded by modern newspaper service.

"That this opinion is correct cannot be denied. The Associated Press leased wire is the fastest service in the world. It is headed by a staff of the most capable newspapermen who always strive to give news while it's new.

The Reflector believes it is giving Pitt county people service just as good as that enjoyed by larger cities and expressions of appreciation coming in from hundreds of subscribers from time to time are very gratifying indeed.

"We feel that we are fully protected on all news either of national or international importance," a reader remarked this afternoon, "and we know we receive it just as quickly in many instances, more quickly, than other localities."

NOTICE OF SALE OF REAL ESTATE

By virtue of the power of sale contained in that certain mortgage deed executed by G. A. Clark and wife, George A. Clark, to E. T. Forbes, dated November 16, 1918, which appears of record in Book T-12 at page 189 in the office of the Register of Deeds of Pitt County, default having been made in the payment of the indebtedness thereby secured, the undersigned will, on Monday, the 28th day of November, 1927, at 12 o'clock noon, before the courthouse door in Pitt County expose to public sale to the highest bidder for cash the following described real property, to-wit:

NEW YORK COTTON

New York, Oct. 29.—(AP)—While nervous and irregular, the cotton market was generally higher today on covering for over the week-end, stimulated by prospects for a cold wave in the south.

After selling up to 20.64, January reacted to 20.17 under a renewal of selling, promoted by the unsettled ruling of the stock market, but later recovered part of the loss, closing at 20.37. The general market closed steady, with advances of 21 to 29 points.

Futures closed easy: 20 to 29 net higher. Spot quiet; middling 20.70.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Reports of cold and frost threatening damage to new wheat crop in Argentina led to general buying of wheat here today and to a sharp advance in prices. Offerings were very limited on the way up with previous sellers in a scramble to purchase the advance was easily attained.

Much notice was taken, however, of the fact that the Buenos Aires market closed unchanged.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Irregular movements at the opening of the stock market today were turned into a definite downward trend when the persistent hammering of United States Steel by the bear element forced it below 129 the lowest price reached since its higher price of 180 1/2 was attained about two months ago.

Contributing causes of the reaction were the publication of some more disappointing third quarter earnings reports, signs of increasing unemployment shown by reduction in the working forces of Colorado Fuel and Iron and the omission of the usual extra dividend on pure

Seek Repeal Of Excess Tax On New Automobiles

Greensboro, Oct. 29.—So far as North Carolina members of Congress are concerned the 3 per cent war excise tax now collected on automobiles will be repealed at the forthcoming session of Congress, thereby saving motorists of this state more than $1,319,760 annually.

Charles S. Wallace of Morehead City, president of the Carolina Motor club and James P. Harris, of Charlotte, president of the North Carolina Automotive Trade association, have in hand communications from both North Carolina Senators and all Congressmen indicating that they are in sympathy with the repeal of the war excise tax. This levy is one of the only three war excise taxes remaining—10 years after the end of the world war. The other two are taxes on amusement admissions and club dues.

It is felt by those who are making a study of the subject that the Democrats, under the leadership of Representative Garner, of Texas, probably will demand a cut of $500,000,000 in taxes while the Republicans are talking about a reduction of $250,000,000 which will likely result in a compromise of around $300,000,000. Repeal of the 3 per cent excise tax will affect more people than the reduction of any other form of taxes. The benefit from a cut in the lowest rates of the normal tax on personal income would only be felt by around 2,500,000 people, while relief from the automobile excise tax will pass on to approximately 3,000,000.

More than a score of automobile manufacturers have gone on record agreeing to pass on to the consumer the reduction in new car prices immediately after the levy is lifted. This will result in an average reduction of about $12 per car. The present excise tax, inaugurated strictly as a wartime measure, is felt by the Carolina Motor club and the North Carolina Automotive Trade association to be discriminatory and should be repealed at the next session of Congress.

Through concerted effort of motor clubs, automobile manufacturers and dealers the tax was reduced in 1925 from five to three per cent on new cars and the levy on accessories parts and tires revealed entirely. The American Automobile Association, comprising 923 motor clubs and in which the Carolina Motor club ranks 16th in membership, is leading the fight on the automobile war excise tax.

Bobby Jones Again Honored

New York, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Robert Tyree Jones today has another honor on his fast growing list. Atlanta's illustrious golfing son is now a member of the executive committee of the United States Golf Association.

The nominating committee has named him to succeed his fellow townsman, Thomas B. Paige. Nomination is tantamount to election at the annual meeting, scheduled early in January, 1928. George V. Rotan, of Houston, another youthful star of the game, also was named for the committee.

Charles O. Pfeil, Memphis, Tenn., architect, is the new President of the association. He was nominated to succeed William C. Fownes, of Pittsburgh, former national champion and for two terms president of the American National Golf Association.

The number of Ton and 1/2-Ton trucks in use today is far greater than that of any other capacities—for these are the units used by thousands upon thousands of retail merchants to meet the requirements of modern delivery service.

And because Chevrolet offers the greatest value available in each of these two sizes, both the Chevrolet Ton and 1/2-Ton trucks are leading the world in popularity.

Come in—and see for yourself what Chevrolet offers you in comparison with other trucks. Note the advanced, modern design in every unit—the sturdy, oversize construction—the wide variety of body types. Go for a trial load demonstration, and test the certainty of Chevrolet's power—its handling ease—its flexibility in traffic.

Then look over the economy records established by Chevrolet trucks in every line of business—records which definitely establish Chevrolet as the world's most economical haulage unit with the world's lowest ton-mile cost.

Then you'll know why Chevrolet is the world's largest builder of gearshift trucks—with undisputed leadership in both the Ton and 1/2-Ton fields!

GORMAN'S MARKET REPORT

October, 29, 1927

We have First Sale Monday, Second Sale Tuesday, First Sale Wednesday, First Second Sale Thursday and First Sale Friday. The sales have been lighter the last three days of the week. With third second sale Friday: GORMAN'S finished but we had three sales going at the same time in our house and although it was so near night we had less than a dozen piles taken in out of a house half filled. Prices with us this week have been very satisfactory to our customers. GORMAN'S sold this week 746,952 pounds for $212,647.21 averaging $28.47 for all we sold. We notice two houses advertising thirtythree cents average for a stated number of pounds. You will notice they do not say for the whole sale. We give facts and figures and never try to mislead. GORMAN'S averaged (although we get such a large percent of common tobacco) has been higher each day for the entire sale than any house in Greenville. WE GET MORE FOR ALL GRADES or our averages would not be what they are. Below we give you a few of the many good sales made at GORMAN'S

PEANUT SHOW TO BEGIN AT AHOSSKIE 5TH

Exposition Sponsored by Eastern Carolina Chamber Commerce To be Big Event.

The next big event after the regular fall fairs close the first week in November, will be the second annual Eastern Carolina and Tide Water Virginia Peanut Exposition which will be held this year the week of December 5th in Ahooskie, N. C. According to announcements from headquarters of the Eastern Carolina Chamber of Commerce at Winton which organization is sponsoring the second annual show, this year's fair will be much larger and more interesting than last year's although it was more than was expected by the multitudes who witnessed the first show at Windsor last year, December 27th-31st.

A program of entertainment is being arranged that will appeal to all classes of people. A special effort is being put forth to have every square foot of floor space used by some distributor whether he be a peanut manufacturer or a peanut grower or a manufacturer of any kind from groceries received up to this time for their space, it looks as there will be no floor space left.

As an extra feature this year a pageant is being arranged for the opening night. This will be under the direction of Mrs. Frances Winston of Windsor, N. C. Talent will be selected from towns and counties in Tide Water Virginia and Eastern Carolina and will be brought to Ahooskie the opening night for the presentation of a Historical Pageant relating to Northeastern North Carolina. Definite announcement will be made of this from time to time.

Another feature this year will be the beautifully lighted streets of Ahooskie. The parade and opening program will not be in the afternoon as has been the custom, but will be at 6 o'clock in the evening. The main streets of Ahooskie will be beautifully lighted by the Virginia Electric and Power Company. The floats will all march down these principal streets where the reflection of the lights will be very pleasing and will be quite an innovation in the way of staging a parade in Eastern North Carolina. Secretary N. G. Bartlett promises the most spectacular parade ever held in North Carolina, on the night of December 5th, 1927, at 6 P. M.

The usual Queen contest will be held and $100.00 in gold will be given to each of the candidates in three separate contests. One Queen will be selected from Heartford County; one will be selected from Eastern North Carolina towns outside of Hertford County and one will be selected from the Tide Water Towns of Virginia. A Junior Queen Contest this year has been added and in this particular there will be two separate contests, a Junior Queen contest and a Senior Queen contest. The ages of the Junior Queens will run from 2 years to 12 years old. The Senior Queens will be from 17 years old up. Northeastern North Carolina will have her greatest even the week of December 5th, from all indications at this time.

RUTH ELDER TO DRESS UP

Young Aviatrix Plans Extensive Purchases of Clothing While in Paris.

Paris, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Tired of the masculine togs she has worn since she hopped off from Roosevelt Field, New York, on October 11, Ruth Elder today turned her thoughts to the dressmakers of Paris.

"Am I going shopping?" she said. "You bet, I am going to get clothes, lots of them, all kinds. They will be feminine things, you bet I am sick and tired of these," and she indicated the knickers and sweater she wore.

"I have realized my dream. All the rest is forgotten, I am in Paris at last," she exclaimed.

"What are my plans?" Why, to visit the chief dressmakers the very first thing I had enough of these (indicating the flying togs) they are my whole wardrobe. For contrary to reports, my trunk has been sent to me. What I have on is all I managed to save when rescued.

She hesitated and then continued, "Well, perhaps not all." She dug into her pockets and pulled forth the keys to the cabin of her plane, The American Girl, and a lipstick.

"I was distressed to death," she said, "when I thought I was going to sail right away without a chance to buy even one Paris dress. I wouldn't have dared to face my friends at home. I don't know what I will buy, but you can be sure they will have skirts."

"Our present plans, which are liable to be modified, are to sail on the Aquitania Nov. 5, but before leaving Europe we hope to make a little trip to London," she said.

Paris has taken Ruth to its heart. Youth and beauty are perennial attractions to Parisians and they agree that she has plenty of both.

Everybody is touched by her delicate thought of paying her respects to the sorrowing mother of Charles Nungesser, the French hero whose fate she so nearly shared.

Enthusiasm for this American girl burst all bounds at the Old Timers club dinner. She revealed herself as a worthy rival to Lindbergh in the art of saving just the right thing. Her words were few.

"Your kindness overwhelms me," she declared. "I feel that I do not deserve half of it, but my heart goes out to you. I am so happy to be here and awfully disappointed that I did not finish what I started to do. Although I did not do it, I am sure some other woman is going to do it."

George V. Haldeman, Miss Elder's flying companion, felt so much at home that he made what was probably his maiden speech. He is not such a ready speaker as his fair companion, but he got an ovation after expressing regret that they failed to accomplish what they set out to do.

Square Neck Lines

Paris.—(AP)—Square neck lines seem to be less in favor than they were. They have by no means disappeared from the collections of exclusive dressmakers but the models having the biggest success more often show round or V necks than the square line.

In evening dresses one of the newest decolettes is a moderate V in front and a deep U in back. Sport sweaters almost invariably show the V neckline.

The powerful Bank of Italy hands to its stockholders a dividend of 300,000 shares. 250,000 other shares will be offered to stockholders at $100 a share, and the Bank of Italy corporation, will buy 250,000 shares at the same price. The Giannini brothers, with their 165 different branch banks in California, buying banks rapidly throughout the country, are teaching old fashioned finance some new methods.

Jack Dempsey, who fights and lives to fight another day, can't pay his manager, Mr. Flynn, as he would like to, because, says Mr. Dempsey, "I am not making big money and can't afford to give them everything they want."

Dempsey made about $500,000 in thirty minutes the other day and will soon make $500,000 in thirty more minutes or less again. But you can't call that BIG money for a heavyweight.

Some clergymen that work very hard for smaller pay will be inclined to quote:

"Now, in the names of all the Gods at once,
Upon what meat doth this our Caesar feed,
That he is grown so great?"

Nevertheless, when you have become accustomed to earning a million dollars in thirty minutes, it is hard to be cut down to half a million.

The heirs of an Indian Rajah of Bhopal offer for sale in New York a collection of carved emeralds. One weighing 3,500 karats is carved to represent a Chinese woman. The price, should you want to buy something for Christmas, is $500,000. The value of the stone is barely equalled by the fact that it is intensely colored instead of being polished and set alone.

That's what happens often to careful writing. Too much fancy carving when reasonable polishing would be better.

Treasure chests of the middle ages contain quantities of linen. The same sterling characteristics which have made linen one of the most cherished possessions of all ages, are today available in floor coverings of linen.

Bedrooms restful, cheerful with rugs of lovely linen

—at very little cost with KLEARFLAX!

You want your bedrooms to be bright and cheerful yet soft and restful in effect. With the lovely colors of Klearflax seamless linen rugs and carpets you can now attain just such charm.

And you can have it without extravagant cost. In fact, Klearflax offers artistic possibilities never before attainable at so little cost!

Woven entirely of linen! To this fact is due the color beauty of Klearflax. Colorings for any interior scheme, for any room; rich solid tones—grey, taupe, chestnut, rose, blue, green, mulberry, golden-rod. For gay effects there are handsome heathers and Picwicks; smart all-overs, stripes and borders.

You can always tell Klearflax by its look and feel of the pure virgin flax. This gives it a finish which blends perfectly with the decorative vogue for rough homespun fabrics in hangings and upholstery. Klearflax like all linen when new, is rough to the finger tips but is not rough to the feet and due to its cleanliness and many soft, beautiful, pastel shades, is a great favorite for bedrooms.

Dirt can not become imbedded in the thick, heavy, compact weave of Klearflax linen rugs and carpets but stays on the surface where it can be easily brushed away either with a power-driven brush, suction sweeper or just a broom. Klearflax that is clean on the surface, is clean all through and a new standard of cleanliness for your floor coverings is possible with Klearflax.

So much wear and beauty, at so little cost!

Notice these very moderate prices and consider the many unusual advantages Klearflax Linen Rugs and Carpets offer. Seamless rugs:

SMITH & SUGG MARKET REPORT

The Star broke the record last week for quantity of tobacco sold from Green, Duplin, Lenoir, Martin and Beaufort counties, many receiving over $100.00 more for their load than they expected. Some warehouses on the different markets are "doctoring" their reports of what they are doing. Thinking farmers know these "doctored" reports do not get them any more money for their tobacco. In fact, they are harmful. All houses are now selling out daily and the market is in finest possible condition.

SAYS CREW OF ITALIAN LINER SHIRKED DUTY

Wealthy Passenger of Ill-Fated Ship Declares Officers Were Negligent.

Rio Janeiro, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Survivors of the Princess Mafalda disaster today were bound for new homelands in Brazil and the Argentine, sorrowing over the loss of some three hundred companions over the loss of some three hundred companions on the trip from Italy. Horrors of the foundering of the boat, which was once one of the fastest in the South American trade, were recounted and charges of negligence, inadequate life saving equipment and a ship in bad condition were aired.

George Grenade, a wealthy Belgian resident of Buenos Aires, made public through the correspondent here of La Nacion of Buenos Aires a letter which he said he had sent to the Italian Royal Maritime Commissioner at the latter's request.

Grenade, a first-class passenger, wrote:

"The commander and officers were negligent in complying with their elementary duties, for had they acted with energy they could have subdued the frantic emigrants and the work of saving the passengers could have been carried out normally in five hours.

"The Mafalda did not have a sufficient number of lifeboats aboard to save all the passengers, for when the boats were filled only 500 passengers were accommodated. (The Italian embassy has stated that there was room in the lifeboats for 1,323 persons, the Mafalda carried 1,256.)

"The engines of the Mafalda were not in good condition on leaving Genoa, as it has been established that the ship was detained several times at sea.

"The captain had full knowledge of the bad condition of the ship, for it has been established through the indiscretions of some employees that attempts were made to cancel the sailing.

"The commander and the first engineer confirmed that this was to be the Mafalda's last South American trip. She was to be sold for Mediterranean cruises for her condition did not longer permit long voyages.

Grenade charged that members of the crew became drunk after the disaster occurred, that the ship was looted by stowaway passengers and stewards, and that there was a wild scramble for boats which could not be halted.

A check up of survivors in various Brazilian ports accounted for 963 of the 1,256 persons aboard. Leaving 293 for dead or missing.

Try to Interpret Archic Blue Law

Greensboro, N. C., Oct. 29.—(AP)—To determine whether North Carolina's archaic blue law will be enforced against Greensboro Sunday golfers at the Sedgewick links, Magistrate O. W. Duke was today poring over State Supreme Court records in an effort to discover whether the law is a criminal or civil statute.

"If it is a civil statute, I am going to drop the matter," Magistrate Duke announced. "If it is a criminal statute, I am going to enforce it."

The magistrate explained that if the statute is civil law, the only way it could be enforced would be for some person to appear before a magistrate or justice of peace and summons the defendant to magistrate's court. He said that if he attempted to have Constable R. H. Neely, who Duke had announced, would be on the watch for Greensboro golfers tomorrow, arrest violators, the constable would be committing assault, unless the statute was classed as a criminal law.

The civil procedure would have little effect, the magistrate said, since the maximum penalty is only a dollar, and this sum could be forfeited by the defendant by refusing to appear in court in answer to the summons.

While legal minds are seeking to disentangle the complications arising in connection with the uncovering of the statute, officials of the Sedgewick links remained silent.

Good Citizen; Good Son. Thankful! VERY. To Kill Gorillas, Giannini Methods.

(By Arthur Brisbane)

S. Davies Warfield, head of the Seaboard Air Line, an admirable worker for his country, was buried yesterday in Baltimore.

His life of energetic work and building earned the respect and gratitude of his fellow citizens. And they learn with admiration the use to which he left his fortune of several millions.

The money will be used to found a home for dependent aged women, in memory of Mr. Warfield's mother who died many years ago.

A proclamation by the President fixes November 24 as Thanksgiving Day and mentions some things for which we should be thankful, such as "greater knowledge of the higher values of life" and "advancement in our physical well being."

It may also be mentioned that we are still OUT of the League of Nations; prosperity continues, high wages HAVEN'T gone down while the cost of living HAS come down.

We may well praise the Lord, for we are fearfully and wonderfully fortunate.

Every prospect pleases. Foreigners buy from us, although our money is high in value.

In September we exported 33,748,000 bushels of wheat, 10,948,000 bushels more than September 1926. We got, this year, $13,955,000 more than for last year's September wheat exports.

Miss Alice O'Brien, with a rich father, able to do as she pleases, wants "to hear African drums vibrating through the tropical Congo," and see "weird ceremonies of an African witch doctor."

Most interesting, the young girl thinks she is going to kill gorillas.

That a young girl should want to kill gorillas is not unusual, but when we hear that a young gorilla girl was coming north to kill human girls.

Miss O'Brien, of course, will not really kill any gorilla. Looking into the dark, strange face, she could think of anything.

MILLS WINS SUIT HERE

Tenant Awarded Sum of $350.26 Against George Hardee in Crop Controversy.

Aaron Mills was awarded judgment for $350.26 against George Hardee in the closing session of civil court yesterday afternoon. The decision came following short deliberation of the jury. The case was begun Thursday afternoon and was featured by considerable evidence. The following divorces were also granted:

Mrs. Nell Morton vs. S. V. Morton.

Bertha Bright vs. Eddie Bright.

Elnora Taft vs. Horace Taft, colored.

The case of Mills against Hardee grew out of a dispute over a crop which Mills raised while a tenant on the Hardee farm during the year 1923. It was contended that the defendant refused to furnish any money to the hands that had been hired to help on tobacco in the curing barn, and by means of threatened violence caused the plaintiff to move off the premises and out of the house which he had rented and took possession of the crop.

The jury found that Hardee breached his contract with Mills by means of threats, as brought out in referee's hearing conducted sometime ago.

A one week term of criminal court will convene Monday morning with Judge Lyon presiding. A considerable number of cases are on the calendar for the term, and it is expected the session will be one of the busiest in months.

MRS. GRAYSON PREPARES FOR FOURTH FLIGHT

Woman Flier Back at Old Orchard, Maine, Awaiting Favorable Weather.

Old Orchard, Me., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Having conferred in Boston with Clarence D. Chamberlin, trans-Atlantic flier, Mrs. Frances Wilson Grayson was back in Old Orchard today awaiting favorable weather for a fourth attempt to fly to Copenhagen.

To those who suggested that she had attempted to obtain the noted flier's services in place of Wilmer Stultz, pilot with whom she admittedly has had differences, Mrs. Grayson denied that the man who carried the first passenger over the Atlantic had been asked to join the crew of her Amphibian plane, the Dawn.

She declared that she and Stultz were on amicable terms and said her talk with Chamberlin had been solely for the purpose of obtaining his advice.

Stultz himself denied he would quit the projected flight although he admitted he had twice submitted his resignation. "I would be delighted if Mrs. Grayson would get some other pilot because I do not believe we will have any suitable flying weather this season," he declared, but quickly added that he was staying as per contract and, if necessary would rejoin the expedition in the spring should weather force its present abandonment.

Mrs. Grayson confessed that she did not know when they could get away although she hoped it would be before next Tuesday.

Another reply from Congressman Emmanuel Celler, Brooklyn, N. Y., read: "Were you not so enthusiastically misguided in your campaign against anything British and were it not for your raid on the Chicago library, I might consider your proposal seriously, but your anti-British mania has made you ridiculous in the eyes of intelligent people."

To which Mayor Thompson rejoined telegraphically: "Sorry you wasted so much money in such a long telegram and if you are not beyond advice permit me to suggest that you should use the word intelligent over your own signature because if you had more brains you would have sense enough to learn the truth before spending your money in such long telegrams. With best wishes for future, I am, sincerely yours."

"Glad to join and support in any way the America First association for purposes outlined in your telegram," was the answer from Mayor J. C. Hodson, St. Paul, Minn.

Mayor Arthur J. O'Keefe, New Orleans, supporters of Mayor Thompson in the Gulf-to-Waterway and food relief projects, said: "Will be glad to see you again. Sending you by mail $10 for dues in the America First Foundation."

From Raleigh, Wis.—Mayor William Maestl cautioned: "Don't let King George buy you off."

Caution and skepticism were also expressed by Congressman J. J. McSwain, of Greenville, S. C.

Chicago Mayor Appeals For "America First"

Chicago, Oct. 29.—(AP)—A dash of George M. Cohan's "Grand Old Flag," a touch of Stephen Decatur's "My Country, Right or Wrong" and a taste of opera bouffe seasoned Mayor Thompson's "America First" efforts today.

His appeal for support of the "America First Foundation" with a $10 membership fee, brought many returns. Some were complimentary. Not a few were condemnatory. Several were ironic.

The plea for members in the Foundation, a national patriotic organization "for better citizenship based on loyalty, with a nationwide educational program to teach the Constitution of the United States and respect for our form of government and a thorough knowledge of its fundamental laws," was telegraphed to Mayors, Congressmen, Senators and Governors.

Alfred M. Phillips, Jr., Mayor of Stamford, Conn., wired back, charges collect: "Did you say fee or free?"

No reply was received. Again he wired also tolls collect, cautioning Mayor Thompson that the tricky British "might have some pretty mean propaganda against him in 'Alice in Wonderland'."

Another reply from Congressman Emmanuel Celler, Brooklyn, N. Y., read: "Were you not so enthusiastically misguided in your campaign against anything British and were it not for your raid on the Chicago library, I might consider your proposal seriously, but your anti-British mania has made you ridiculous in the eyes of intelligent people."

To which Mayor Thompson rejoined telegraphically: "Sorry you wasted so much money in such a long telegram and if you are not beyond advice permit me to suggest that you should use the word intelligent over your own signature because if you had more brains you would have sense enough to learn the truth before spending your money in such long telegrams. "Glad to join and support in any way the America First association for purposes outlined in your telegram," was the answer from Mayor J. C. Hodson, St. Paul, Minn.

NEW SIDE TO INDIANAPOLIS OFFICE ISSUE

City Controller Would Place Mayorality Tangle in the Hands of Judges.

Indianapolis, Oct. 29.—(AP)—A new side to the many-faced mayorality situation in Indianapolis was turned up yesterday when Joseph L. Hogue, city controller in the administration of the late Lew Shank, presented a compromise plan under which all claimants for the mayor's office would waive their claims and agree to let the nine judges of the Marion County courts select a mayor. With two active mayors and two more in the offing, including Hogue, the proposal gained some attention.

Hogue said that the legal qualifications of any man for the mayor's office would not be decided for six months or more as the case would have to be finally decided by the State Supreme Court.

The muddled situation will be partly cleared up today, however, with a ruling by Judge Joseph M. Milmer of the Superior Court on an injunction suit filed by Claude E. Negley, appointed Mayor by the city council, asking an order restraining others from interfering with his assumption of the office.

Ira M. Holmes, attorney, and Negley, erstwhile president of the city council, occupied chairs at the mayor's desk yesterday following the resignation Thursday of Mayor Joseph L. Duvall.

The city council, in appointing Negley Mayor, held that Duvall's conviction barred him from holding office. The basis for Holmes' claim was more complicated. Duvall resigned and his wife, Mrs. Maude E. Duvall, as city controller became Mayor. She appointed Holmes city controller and fifteen minutes later also resigned.

Despite Negley's contention in the injunction suit that Holmes was interfering with him, there was no indication of this in the mayor's office yesterday. The two got along famously, sitting side by side at the mayor's desk and making separate appointments for the same offices.

Washington, Oct. 29.—(AP)—The Weather Bureau today issued the following storm warning: "Advisory 11 a. m. tropical disturbance of slight intensity apparently moving west or west-northwest, passed over St. Lucia, Windward Islands, last night. Pressure is relatively low south of Cuba."

Arrest of Former Under Secretary of Crown Prince Brings Out Facts.

Paris, Oct. 29.—(AP)—The flogging of Carolist plans in Rumania and the arrest of M. Manolescu, former under secretary of finance of Rumania, today appeared to be directly connected with the burglarizing of the villa of former Crown Prince Carol at Neully.

Carol's valet, on being questioned by the police, admitted that the theft of papers belonging to Carol took place more than a week ago but since he had been left to guard the villa he was afraid to say anything about it at the time.

Love of gossip, however, proved stronger than discretion and he told the whole story of how he had been lured from his post of duty by a woman friend of Carol, who had called to ask when the latter would return. The friend informed the police who started an investigation and telegraphed Carol who was at Saint Malo to return.

Police at present, although regarding the valet's story with some suspicion that he is concealing something, favored the theory that the burglary was inspired by political not pelf.

Rumania Honors Birthday of Queen

Sinaia, Rumania, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Rumania honored its widowed Queen Marie on her fifty-first birthday today by holding religious services throughout the country and sending delegations of peasants and others to wish the royal "mother" of the country a happier year than she had last year.

Ira Nelson Morris, former American minister to Sweden, and Mrs. Morris who spent the day with the Queen brought her greetings from many American friends while four cabinet ministers journeyed from Bucharest to felicitate the Queen in behalf of the government. William S. Culbertson, American minister to Rumania, conveyed the good wishes of the people of the United States.

GOOD TOBACCO SELLING HIGH IN GREENVILLE

Local Market Averages $28.03 Per Hundred Pounds on 880,074 Pounds Friday.

The highest average of the season was made on the Greenville tobacco market during the week just closed when 4,428,914 pounds sold at an average of $27.84 per hundred pounds, according to official figures made public this morning by K. W. Cobb, secretary of the Tobacco Board of Trade. The total amount paid out was $1,233,044.13.

For the entire season the market has sold a total of 37,530,008 pounds for $2,265,551.09. The average price is $22.62.

The market yesterday sold 880,074 pounds at an average of $28.03 for a total sum of $246,744.09.

Good tobacco brought favorable prices this week, the report stated, several piles of wrappers yesterday selling as high as 94 cents.

Raleigh, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Tobacco prices reported variously this week in North Carolina had several figures showing the highest peaks of the season. The best quality of the crop was in order. Steady price improvement was generally noted.

Yesterday's sales on the Durham market reached the peak of the season with 504,869 pounds of tobacco bringing an average of $29.76 a hundred pounds. Farmers selling on the Durham market have received one million dollars this season.

The Greenville market noted a new high price record for the season, the first of the week 1,042,920 pounds sold for $297,930.40, an average of $28.58 a hundred, with total season's sale soaring past the 34 million pound mark.

Rocky Mount also came in for a new record price of $27.11 average when the week's sales open while a report from Wilson told of ten million dollars and more paid growers for almost 50 million pounds sold on that market this season. Thursday's average reached $26.72.

Henderson's market joined the soaring price class with $26.62 average with start of the week. Zebulon reported better than $25 for the week. At Mebane, 100,000 pounds were sold one day for $28.50. Oxford's sales soared with the average price around $23.50.

Winston-Salem, N. C., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Season sales on the Winston-Salem leaf market totaled 16,593,544 pounds at an average of $19.40 a hundred, according to official figures issued today. A new high average of $24.47 a hundred was reached.

Friday, a few baskets of fancy wrappers ranging as high as $83 to $80 a hundred.

The week's sales were 4,589,836 pounds at an average of $23.51 a hundred.

JUMPS TO DEATH FROM HOTEL WINDOW

New York, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Leaving a note to her mother saying "You know I do not love buddy and this New York life is driving me mad," a 24-year-old woman who registered as M. E. Greene, of Passaic, N. J., jumped to death from her eighth floor room in the Hotel Knickerbocker early today. Her body landed on the roof of a second story extension.

TWO KILLED IN AUTOMOBILE WRECK

Chicago, Oct. 29.—(AP)—John J. Mitchell, Jr., chairman of the board of the Illinois Merchants Trust Company, and Mrs. Mitchell, were killed today when their automobile went into a ditch while they were returning from their summer home at Lake Geneva.

OIL HEARING RECESSES FOR THE WEEK END

Government Gets Decisions From Bench Which Prove Disadvantageous.

Washington, Oct. 29.—(AP)—With ten days of bitter legal skirmishing behind, the Fall-Sinclair conspiracy trial came today to its week-end pause.

Counsel for the government looked back on two decisions from the bench distinctly disadvantageous to its cause. Both involved the laying of important evidence before the jury on the source of the $230,000 in Liberty bonds which reached M. T. Everhart, Fall's son-in-law, and business associate, shortly after the Teapot Dome lease was signed, and the other, Sinclair's statement before the Senate investigating committee that his renowned "Christmas visit" to Fall at the latter's New Mexico ranch in 1921 was for the purpose of opening negotiations for a lease on the Wyoming naval oil reserve.

Both questions were sharply contested by the opposing attorneys and were taken under advisement by Justice Suddens after much acrimonious argument.

In the former, the court upheld Everhart's contention that to tell from whose hands he received the bonds would tend to incriminate him in the same conspiracy charged against Fall and Sinclair, and that in declining to give this evidence, he was acting within his Constitutional rights.

Justice Suddens also ruled the Sinclair statement inadmissible because the oil operator was under oath at the time it was made and an act of Congress forbids the use of evidence later before Congressional investigating committees in subsequent court action. Any portion of Fall's or Sinclair's testimony to the committee made when they had not been sworn, he said, however, could be laid before the jury.

Government counsel looked with satisfaction, however, upon its success yesterday in connecting Sinclair directly with the Continental Trading Company, Ltd., of Canada which at one time held the bonds that eventually reached Everhart.

Through former Senator Charles S. Thomas, of Colorado, the government showed that Sinclair took part in a conference called for the purpose of negotiating the purchase of a large quantity of oil from A. R. Mumfries of Denver by the Continental Company, Sinclair, Thomas said, acted as co-guarantor of the contract which subsequently was executed.

Miss Elder Visits Unknown Soldier

Paris, Oct. 29.—(AP)—The first official pilgrimage of Ruth Elder in Paris was to the tomb of the French Unknown Soldier. Accompanied by her co-pilot, George W. Haldeman, she placed a beautiful wreath of flowers there this morning while several thousand persons stood silent around the Arc de Triomphe.

Ruth arrived at the tomb nearly an hour after the scheduled time for her appearance, 9:30 a. m. Patiently the crowd waited while women chatted, saying Ruth was probably fixing up her feminine trimmings as became a pretty girl and for the first time in three weeks shedding her masculine garments.

The crowd's patience was rewarded for it was an entirely different Ruth Elder who emerged from an American embassy automobile in front of the Napoleonic monument from the boyishly attired girl they had seen at Le Bourget field yesterday.

Ruth was stylishly attired in a wonderful milk fur coat, reaching below her knees and covering a sea green tailormade suit. She also wore a toque of the same sea green color and stockings to match.

There was gasps of admiration from the feminine section of the crowd. "Doesn't she look sweet," they said. "She's late but it was for a good reason."

THOUSANDS TO WITNESS THE GRID CLASSICS

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Dixie's football teams have established themselves as favorites today as they sought to entrench more solidly behind mid-season victories.

Between 85,000 and 100,000 fans were expected to witness the thirteen games in which Southern Conference teams participated in seven widely scattered southern states. Many other thousands were certain to see Georgia Tech make its bold advance on Notre Dame at South Bend.

Louisiana State and Arkansas, playing at Shreveport and Virginia and Tennessee, meeting at Knoxville, were expected to draw 15,000 each.

Some of the high lights of the day's games show five teams boasting spotless conference records standing a chance to have their scutcheon besmirched. Most of these chances, however, are considered slim.

Georgia ruled a favorite as the Bull Dogs met Tulane at New Orleans.

North Carolina State carried McDowell, flashy half back, as its edge apparently against North Carolina at Raleigh.

Bill Spears and Armistead of Vanderbilt, were expected by critics to be too much for Kentucky at Nashville.

Tennessee and Washington and Lee, however, had a different story confronting them. Virginia, opponents for the Vols, has shown great latent power of late and Maryland has displayed enough force to crush three conference elevens.

Louisiana State met Arkansas, non-conference foe, with little known of the razorbacks.

Alabama and Mississippi A & M both defeated, met at Tuscaloosa with the opinions of Loggansheads.

Sewanee was host to Ole Miss and this game looked uncertain to the so-called experts.

Others played against non-conference opponents. V. M. I. met Davidson's agile Wildcats. The Auburn plainsmen tried Howard's Bull Dogs at Birmingham. Virginia Poly engaged Chattanooga. Clemson was host to Wofford. Florida is at home at Gainesville to Mercer.

New York, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Stellar football attractions with the east, a few of them bearing on the mythical championships and others involving rivals of years standing today were magnets for approximately half a million persons.

The Yale-Dartmouth contest was the leading contest so far as football itself was concerned. Coach Jesse Hawley's Hanover lads hoped for their first football victory over the Elis. The best Dartmouth has been able to get against Yale on the football field was one tie score. Harvard, having lost to Purdue, hoped to fare better against Indiana, another western conference team.

Penn. defeated in its two last starts, meets in the Navy a team that has lost only to Notre Dame.

Army looked for a stiff fight from Bucknell.

Princeton was unperturbed about William and Mary and coach Bill Roper ordered his star players used sparingly in view of the Ohio State game next week.

Cornell entertained a heavy Columbia team.

New York University hoped to maintain its clean slate against Colgate; Boston College essayed to beat its former coach, Major Frank W. Cavanaugh, now at Fordham.

Among other entertainments offered were West Virginia vs Carnegie Tech at Morgantown; Penn State vs Lafayette at State College, Pa.; Georgetown vs. Wabashburg, at Washington; Washington and Jefferson vs. Thiel, at Washington, Pa.; Pittsburgh vs. Allegheny at Pittsburgh.

On the track of youth he is guaranteed a fair start, and obstructed course and an impartial decision at the finish. In football he is given the direction of clearly defined rules and officials trained to see that all entering the game play under the direction of the rules.

The mutual respect and understanding engendered by knowledge that there is an equal chance for all has been one of the firm foundations upon which intercollegiate competition has builded. The mutual respect and confidence of one student body for another has been a large, if not the largest, factor in the expansion of relations between natural rivals.

American youth has progressed far in this direction, and to some extent at least is carrying the lessons of the gridiron and track with it when it takes its place in the bleachers. There is room for improvement, and the newspaper reading public, the largest cross section of the supporters of college competitions in the United States, have the improvement largely in their hands.

When two universities agree to meet each other in an athletic contest they agree to two tests. One is definite—to determine which has the stronger team. The other is real, yet intangible—to determine which has insidled into its team, students and supporters the better quality of sportsmanship. In other words—which one of the schools will show that it has adopted the square deal of the playing field in all the details of its support.

In my opinion football players are infinitely more sportsmanlike than the spectators. Before intercollegiate athletics can mean all they should mean, spectators, students, critics and college authorities must school themselves to the same point as the competing athletes. Sometimes a player may think that a certain rule or a certain decision is not as it should be. Nevertheless he abides by that rule or that decision. That is true self government. To get along, each individual—student or spectator—must agree to the rules of the game as accepted by the majority.

Today when one goes to see a college football game it is taken for granted he will see a high quality of sportsmanship on the playing field. No one expects anything else from the players. We expect them to "come clean." It is the tribute we expect from youth to the fact it is engaged in sports.

It should be brought home to every one that there is not a division between the players on the field and the spectators, for most of the latter are partisans. The group on the field are the representatives of the group in the stands. It should not be a one-sided representation—both should be judged by the same standards.

When the day comes in which spectators are capable of the same high standards of conduct as are now almost universally applicable to players, then—and not until then—football will have come to mean all it should in the widely varying communities of the United States.

PLAYING THE GAME

Sportsmanship In The Stand

By Fielding H. Yost

Ann Arbor, Mich.—(AP)—One of the editors of the middle West has pointed out in a pungent editorial that the youth of America receives a square deal in the games he plays, but that this good-sportsmanship or honesty sometimes seems to be lacking in contests of politics, business and professions.

In other words he realm of sports is a cleaner one than the one the youth enters when he has completed his college years and pits his training against that of other men to earn a place in the world.

GRID CAPTAIN IS HERO OF "COME BACK"

HAROLD HOEKELMAN

Ithaca, N. Y.—(AP)—A football sailing high over the Cornell gridiron carried a load of calamity for Harold Hoekelman three years ago. But he "came back" and is captain of the Cornell eleven this year his last in college football.

Cornell was playing Williams. Hoekelman, sturdy Cornell half-back, stood on his own five-yard line as a high punt sailed toward him. He elected to catch it instead of letting it roll over the goal line and be brought back to the 20-yard mark. But he muffed the ball instead and a fleet Williams end scooped it up and rushed it over the line, enabling Williams to win the game, 14 to 7.

It was tragedy for Hoekelman. But like Merkle, whose famous

Ten More Teams Eliminated In The Hi Chap Series

Raleigh Oct. 28.—(AP)—Ten more contestants stood eliminated from the State high school championship series today as their conquerors awaited new combatants in games carded for next week.

In the East Raleigh, Durham, Goldsboro, Sanford, Greenville, Wilmington, Washington and Roperford survived the initial battles. New Bern and LaGrange fought to a scoreless tie and agreed to play again early in the week.

In the West, Gastonia and Statesville won from their opponents. Other Western entries were booked for games today or next week.

GREENVILLE HIGHS VICTORS IN CHAMPIONSHIP CONTEST AT SCOTLAND NECK FRIDAY

For the first time in the history, Greenville High School has entered the State football championship and emerged victorious in the first game. The strong Scotland Neck team was defeated yesterday by a score of 6 to 0.

The touchdown was made early in the first quarter as Scotland Neck kicked off to Greenville. A first down was then registered and on the following plays the opponents secured the ball as it became necessary to kick. Scotland Neck also was forced to punt and Greenville gained possession of the ball on the 35 yard line. A 20 yard pass from Respass to Bostic, followed by a nice 15 yard run by Bostic scored the touch-down. The kick for extra point, went low, however.

During the second quarter Greenville threatened to score when Bostic caught a long, overhead pass from Respass but stumbled after the catch was made.

Scotland Neck came back strong at the beginning of the second half determined to score. The third period passed, however, with neither team threatening, the ball being exchanged several times on punts and passes.

It was during the fourth quarter that the Greenville lads showed great defense. Scotland Neck was unable to gain except an occasional pass or end run. Using these to an advantage, the opponents brought the ball to the twenty yard line. But then a long fifty five yard punt by Bostic took the ball back into safe territory and enabled the Greenville boys to hold the lead. The game ended with Greenville in possession of the ball on Scotland Neck's 40 yard line.

All through the game Greenville showed a decisive advantage in the aerial attacks and it was by using this that the game was won. The passing combination of Respass to Bostic was responsible for several long gains. Greenville's offensive also made use of end runs for gains, frequently.

The features of the game were the running of Respass and Bostic for Greenville. Robeson also made nice gains on line plays. Greenville's two ends, Hicks and Tucker deserve mention for their defensive work as well as Captain Wheeler in the line. In fact Greenville's defense as a team was remarkable.

By winning this game, Greenville has won the right to play in the finals for the group championship which will be played on Armistice Day. It is hoped that the team will receive the proper support, with which they will be able to advance much faster in the championship race.

The line-up follows:

Greenville	Pos.	Scotland Neck
Hicks	R E	Pittman, G
Anthony	R T	Overy
Ferguson	R G	Ailsbrook, M.
Wheeler	C	Alexander
Mills	L G	Low
Briley	L T	Madrid
Tucker	L E	Herring
Respass	Q B	Ailsbrook, H.
Bostic	RHB	Byrd
Smith	LHB	Riddick
Robeson	F B	Handolph

Substitutions: Greenville, none; Scotland Neck R. Pittman for H. Ailsbrook, H. Ailsbrook for J. Pittman, J. Pittman for Herring.

MEADAMES DEAL AND FRANK ENTERTAIN FACULTY

On Thursday evening, Mrs. R. C. Deal and Mrs. A. D. Frank gave a most delightful party for the officers and faculty of the East Carolina Teachers College, and their wives at the country club.

The grounds were brilliantly illuminated, and the club house was lavishly decorated with yellow chrysanthemums and autumn leaves.

A roaring log fire burned in the big fireplace, and for the first half hour the room buzzed with conversation, as greetings were exchanged, and vacation experiences were related. Then a game of "Guess Who" was played, affording much amusement, and causing some thought.

Tables were placed for those who wished to play games, while others sat around the fire and chatted, and all enjoyed several selections on the piano by Mrs. H. C. Haynes.

A delicious salad course was served. About 80 guests enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. Deal and Mrs. Frank.

Local Talent Show Is Well Attended Here

"The Spice of Life," local talent show, was presented in the auditorium of the East Carolina Teachers College last night, under auspices of the Greenville chapter of King's Daughters. A fairly good crowd attended the attraction and each act received liberal applause.

The show was presented under direction of Miss Agnes King, representing the Daniel Producing Company of Millen, Georgia, and featured numbers of interesting scenes.

Among the outstanding specialty numbers were the Mannequin dance by Rose Hadley and Bet Dixon and a Gypsy dance interpretation by Miss Virginia King and Jack Spain.

Little Ruth Luper also featured in a dance and song number.

The choruses consisted of a bevy of pretty high school girls. Miniature dancers consisting of girls of about six or seven years of age, added much to the attraction.

Gould's Widow Wins

Lady Dunsford, widow of George Gould, will receive $650,000 allowance from her late husband's estate, according to a ruling of London vice-chancellor.

She traced the gradual growth of folk-lore, folk song and folk dance, from the customs of the primitive peoples, and showed how present day poetry and literature go back to such treasure-houses of folk lore, as "Aesop's Fables," and to such storehouses of wonder tales as "The Arabian Nights." She discussed many of the survivals of primitive magic, old rhymes, idioms and riddles. Her reading of the old English and American ballads was most interesting.

Guests of the club were: Mrs. Wade Anderson and Mrs. Lawrence Bryan, of Wilson.

The hostess, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. W. A. Darden, served a tempting salad course.

Bamber Talks on Five Amazing Things

(By REV. R. J. BAMBER)

In the "Bulletin" of one of our city churches, there occurred recently the following statements which seem worth while to reproduce, under the heading:

"FIVE AMAZING THINGS"

1. The man who believes that Christ died for him, yet refuses to give him anything in return.
2. The parent who sends his children to church, but stays at home himself.
3. The Christian who spends money freely on himself and on family, and has only a pittance (if that) for the church.
4. The teacher or leader in the church who does not attend the Sunday morning service.
5. The church member who never comes to church, yet expects the church to bury him with the "odor of sanctity" when he dies.

Would it be helpful for a large number of our so-called church members in Greenville to ponder these sentiments?

Are you, dear reader, one who comes under the condemnation of these "Five Amazing Things"? And then do you grumble because "the church does not come up to its duty," forgetting all the while that whatever order, decency, sobriety, safety to life and property; cultural, intellectual, social and even economic advantages your community affords, are due largely to the influence of the church?

Sit down with yourself and ask yourself the question seriously: Do I owe anything to the churches in my community? Then sing, whistle, or repeat the lines:

"What kind of a church would my church be, if every member was just like me?"

Second Annual Flower Show Is Great Success

The 2nd annual Flower Show of the Garden Club was held on Thursday afternoon and evening, in the store of the Singer Sewing Machine Company on Dickinson Ave. The display of ferns, potted plants and cut flowers proved that there are many amateur florists in Greenville and was a most creditable showing.

The dahlias and chrysanthemums were of every kind and hue, and were truly gorgeous. There were many visitors all of whom expressed their pleasure in seeing so many lovely plants and flowers on exhibition and pronounced the Show a great success.

Premiums were awarded for 24 different groups, and the judges were Dr. R. L. Carr, Mrs. D. D. Haskett, and Miss Marie Graham. Blue ribbons signified first premiums, and represented something for the winner to use in her garden. Each premium was donated by a florist, and the Garden Club acknowledges its indebtedness and gratitude to J. W. Patt and Sons of Raleigh, T. W. Wood and Sons of Richmond, W. Atlee Burpee Company of Philadelphia, Conard Pyle Company of West Grove Pa., Henry A. Rreer of Philadelphia, George Tait and Sons of Norfolk, and the Continental Plant Company, of Kittrell, N. C. for their generous donations.

About Town

Nadine Dore, "Miss Southern California," appealed so much to beauty judges that they had a statue made of her, and it will be formally presented to her at Los Angeles as first prize in big tournament.

Just how far "Big Bill" Thompson will get with his America First Foundation we cannot venture to say but at least he is keeping the eyes of the nation focused upon the Windy City despite the absence of a championship prize fight and a lull in murders for the present.

Despite the fact that Ruth Elder arrived in Paris only after an interrupted flight, reports indicate that her reception there has been no less enthusiastic. Possessing youth and beauty, no doubt this American girl will be able to give a few timely tips to her French sisters.

THE MAGRUDER CASE

Two questions arise in the disciplining of Rear Admiral Magruder—the one interesting, the other important. The interesting question is this: How long will Secretary of the Navy Wilbur be able to go around with as much tongue stuffed into his cheek as he has today? The important question is this: Can an officer of the navy be permanently humiliated in punishment for open speech, on as little evidence of injury or disloyalty to the service and the government as has thus far been adduced against Admiral Magruder?

As to Secretary Wilbur's stuffing of the cheek with his own very active and not always discreet tongue, the public may find a bit of amusement in the declaration that Admiral Magruder has been relieved of his post in command of the Philadelphia district, not because of his articles in The Saturday evening post criticizing the administration of the navy, but because of his subsequent expressions. For these subsequent expressions are mere shirt-tails of the articles. Also, it happens that the somewhat loquacious Secretary explains that he is now chiefly interested in ascertaining whether "the navy can benefit by Admiral Magruder's knowledge or experience in regard to naval organization or naval economy." Thus we have the unique spectacle of an officer being punished for statements to the public and to his superiors at the same time that his superiors profess to find in his statements occasion for consulting him upon ways and means of improving the service. What bunk! And what babyish bunk!

A Hardy Family
Salem, Va. —(AP)— Mrs. Lou Emmie Hall, Roanoke County tennarian, rocks the cradle of her descendants to the fifth generation. There has been but one death in her family of five children, thirty-three grandchildren, seventy-five great grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren.

"Every day reports of new cases of diphtheria come to the health department," today remarked Dr. W. E. Futerelle, director of the Pitt County Department of Health.

"The number of cases in October will exceed the number reported for the entire four months preceding. The fact that the cases so far have occurred among those who have not been vaccinated with toxin-antitoxin goes to prove the value of these preventative measures.

"Diphtheria is primarily a disease of childhood although a person of any age may have it, and the child who has from three to five doses of toxin-antitoxin need have little fear, but the child whose parents have neglected to give him other these treatments may live in constant dread of this dreadful disease.

"Again parents are urged to take their children, especially those from 6 to 10 years of age, to their family physician or bring them to the Health office and have them vaccinated, if they have not already done so."

"The election of Clearence Pugh of Elizabeth City, as governor of Carolina Kiwanis, will be received with more than general interest by Kiwanians in this section of the State," declared C. S. Forbes, delegate from the Greenville club who returned from Durham convention yesterday.

"Mr. Pugh served most efficiently as lieutenant-governor of the fourth district and his elevation to the governorship is a well deserved honor.

"He is not only well equipped for the high office conferred upon him but, is also quite popular in his district and should be able to wield great influence in behalf of continued development of the organization."

"Greenville, N. C., the hub in East Carolina's wheel of progress." This is a prominent line of an advertisement appearing in the October number of the Manufacturers Record, one of America's leading business publications.

"The advertisement is a part of the publicity drive recently inaugurated under auspices of the Greenville Merchants Association," today stated J. J. White, member of the committee who had the soliciting of funds for the campaign in charge.

"The advertisement further says: 'A live city with a population of approximately 12,000 offers advantages as few cities of the South, even with a much larger population, can equal. Located in the best section of Dixie where weather conditions are ideal the year round.

"Lowest power rate in the State. There is a surplus amount of power in Greenville. With its Million Dollar Municipally owned water and power plant, the city offers to the industrial world the lowest general rate in the State for industrial uses. The plant has 3000 H. P. capacity, with 2000 H. P. surplus available at once. Sinking fund sufficient to double capacity of plant should increased business demand it. Water is ideal for industrial uses, such as dyeing, washing, and for boiler use, there is no scale and no tubes to bore or clean.

"Ideal manufacturing sites and plenty of cheap labor are available."

The Reflector this afternoon is furnishing its leased wire play-by-play reports of the Carolina-State football game.

This service, according to numbers of sport lovers in the city and the country is the best afforded by modern newspaper service.

"That this opinion is correct cannot be denied. The Associated Press leased wire is the fastest service in the world. It is headed by a staff of the most capable newspapermen who always strive to give news while it's news.

The Reflector believes it is giving Pitt county people service just as good as that enjoyed by larger cities and expressions of appreciation coming in from hundreds of subscribers from time to time are very gratifying indeed.

"We feel that we are fully protected on all news either of national or international importance," a reader remarked this afternoon, "and we know we receive it just as quickly in many instances, more quickly, than other localities."

PEANUT SHOW TO BEGIN AT AHOSSIE 5TH

Exposition Sponsored by Eastern Carolina Chamber Commerce To Be Big Event.

The next big event after the regular fall fairs close the first week in November, will be the second annual Eastern Carolina and Tide Water Virginia Peanut Exposition which will be held this year the week of December 5th in Ahoosie, N. C. according to announcements from headquarters of the Eastern Carolina Chamber of Commerce at Kinston which organization is sponsoring the second annual show, this annual fair will be much larger and more interesting this year than last even though it was more than was expected by the multitudes who witnessed the first show at Windsor last year, December 27th-31st.

A program of entertainment is being arranged that will appeal to all classes of people. A special effort is being put forth to have every square foot of floor space used by some exhibitor whether he be a peanut manufacturer or a peanut grower or a manufacturer of any kind. From inquiries received up to this time for floor space, it looks as there will be no floor space left.

As an extra feature this year a pageant is being arranged for the opening night. This will be under the direction of Mrs. Frances Winston of Windsor, N. C. Talent will be selected from towns and counties in Tide Water Virginia and Eastern Carolina and will be brought to Ahoosie the opening night for the presentation of a Historical Pageant relating to Northeastern North Carolina. Definite announcement will be made of this from time to time.

Another feature this year will be the beautifully lighted streets of Ahoosie. The parade and opening program will not be in the afternoon as has been the custom, but will be at 6 o'clock in the evening. The main streets of Ahoosie will be beautifully lighted by the Virginia Electric and Power Company. The floats will all march down these principal streets where the reflection of the lights will be very pleasing and will be quite an innovation in the way of staging a parade in Eastern North Carolina. Secretary N. G. Bartlett promises the most spectacular parade ever held in North Carolina, on the night of December 5th, 1927, at 6 P. M.

The grand Queen contest will be held and $1000 in gold will be given to each of the candidates in three separate contests. One Queen will be selected from Hertford County; one will be selected from Eastern North Carolina towns outside of Hertford County and one will be selected from the Tide Water Towns of Virginia. A Junior Queen Contest this year has been added and in this particular there will be two separate contests, a Junior Queen contest and a Senior Queen contest. The ages of the Junior Queens will run from 8 years to 12 years old. The Senior Queens will be from 17 years old up. Northeastern North Carolina will have her greatest even the week of December 5th, from all indications at this time.

RUTH ELDER TO DRESS UP

Young Aviatrix Plans Extensive Purchases of Clothing While in Paris.

Paris, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Tired of the masculine toga she has worn since she hopped off from Roosevelt Field, New York, on October 11, Ruth Elder today turned her thoughts to the dressmakers of Paris.

"Am I going shopping?" she asked. "You bet. I am going to get clothes, lots of them, all kinds. They will be feminine things, you bet I am sick and tired of these," and she indicated the knickers and sweater she wore.

"I have realized my dream. All the rest is forgotten, I am in Paris at last," she exclaimed.

"What are your plans?" Why, to visit the chic dressmakers the very first thing I've had enough of these (indicating the flying togs). They are my whole wardrobe. For contrary to reports no trunk has been sent to me. What I have on is all I managed to save when rescued.

She hesitated and then continued. "Well, perhaps not all." She dug into her pockets and pulled forth the keys to the cabin of her plane, The American Girl, and a lipstick.

"I was distressed to death," she said, "when I thought I was going to sail right away without a chance to buy even one Paris dress. I wouldn't have dared to face my friends at home. I don't know what I will buy, but you can be sure they will have skirts."

"Our present plans, which are liable to be modified, are to sail on the Aquitania Nov. 5, but before leaving Europe we hope to make a little trip to London," she said.

Paris has taken Ruth to its heart. Youth and beauty are perennial attractions to Parisians and they agree that she has plenty of both.

Everybody is touched by her delicate thought of paying her respects to the sorrowing mother of Charles Nungesser, the French hero whose fate she so nearly shared.

Enthusiasm for this American girl burst all bounds at the Old Timers club dinner. She revealed herself as a worthy rival to Lindbergh in the art of saving just the right thing. Her words were few.

"Your kindness overwhelms me," she declared. "I feel that I do not deserve half of it, but my heart goes out to you. I am so happy to be here and awfully disappointed that I did not finish what I started to do. Although I did not do it, I am sure some other woman is going to do it."

George V. Haldemen, Miss Elder's flying companion, felt so much at home that he made, what was probably his maiden speech. He is not such a ready speaker as his fair companion, but he got an ovation after expressing regret that they failed to accomplish what they set out to do.

Square Neck Lines

Paris. — (AP)—Square neck lines seem to be less in favor than they were. They have by no means disappeared from the collections of exclusive dressmakers but the models having the biggest success more often show round or V necks than the square line.

In evening dresses one of the newest decoeties is a moderate V in front and a deep U in back. Sport sweaters almost invariably show the V neckline.

not shoot. She will visit King Musinga, last of the many African potentates, seven feet two inches tall, rich, handsome, with twenty wives—not many, in that climate.

The powerful Bank of Italy hands to its stockholders a dividend of 300,000 shares. 250,000 other shares will be offered to stockholders at $100 a share, and the Bank of Italy corporation, will buy 250,000 shares at the same price. The Giannini brothers, with their 165 different branch banks in California, buying banks rapidly throughout the country, are teaching old fashioned finance some new methods.

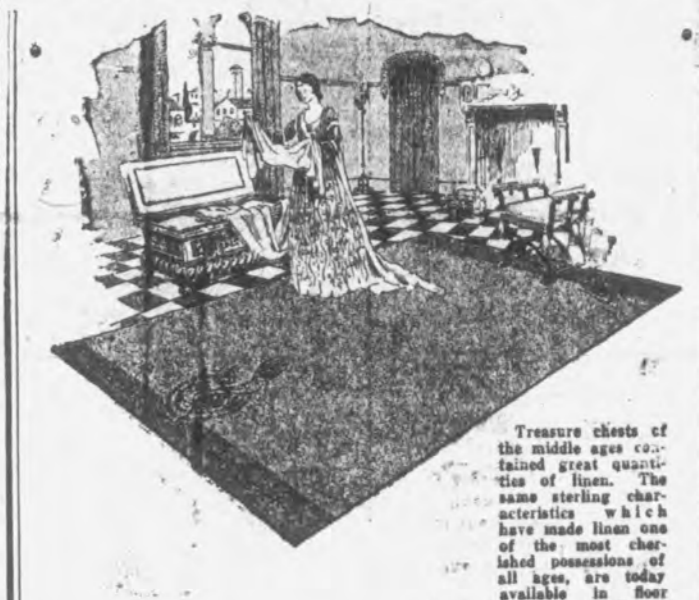

Jack Dempsey, who fights and lives to fight another day, can't pay his manager, Mr. Flynn, as he would like to, because, says Mr. Dempsey, "I am not making big money and can't afford to give them everything they want." Dempsey made about $500,000 in thirty minutes the other day and will soon make $500,000 in thirty more minutes or less again. But you can't call that BIG money for a heavyweight.

Some clergymen that work very hard for smaller pay will be inclined to quote: "Now, in the names of all the Gods, at once, Upon what meat doth this our Caesar feed."

That he is grown so great? Nevertheless, when you have become accustomed to earning a million dollars in thirty minutes, it is hard to be cut down to half a million.

The heirs of an Indian Rajah of Bhopal offer for sale in New York a collection of carved emeralds. One weighing 3,500 karats is carved to represent a Chinese woman. The price, should you want to buy something for Christmas, is $600,000. The value of the stone is largely spoiled by the fact that it is intricately carved instead of being polished and let alone. That's what happens often to careful writing. Too much fancy carving when reasonable polishing would be better.

Bedrooms restful, cheerful with rugs of lovely linen

—at very little cost with KLEARFLAX—

You want your bedrooms to be bright and cheerful yet soft and restful in effect. With the lovely colors of Klearflax seamless linen rugs and carpets you can now attain just such charm.

And you can have it without extravagant cost. In fact, Klearflax offers artistic possibilities never before attainable at so little cost!

Woven entirely of linen! To this fact is due the color beauty of Klearflax. Colorings for any interior scheme, for any room; rich solid tones—grey, taupe, chestnut, rose, blue, green, mulberry, goldenrod. For gay effects there are handsome heathers and Picwicks; smart all-overs, stripes and borders.

You can always tell Klearflax by its look and feel of the pure virgin flax. This gives it a finish which blends perfectly with the decorative vogue for rough homespun fabrics in hangings and upholstery. Klearflax like all linen when new, is rough to the finger tips but is not rough to the feet and due to its cleanliness and many soft, beautiful, pastel shades, is a great favorite for bedrooms.

Dirt can not become imbedded in the thick, heavy, compact weave of Klearflax linen rugs and carpets but stays on the surface where it can be easily brushed away either with a power-driven brush, suction sweeper or just a broom. Klearflax that is clean on the surface, is clean all through and a new standard of cleanliness for your floor coverings is possible with Klearflax.

So much wear and beauty at so little cost!

Notice these very moderate prices and consider the many unusual advantages Klearflax Linen Rugs and Carpets offer. Seamless rugs:

LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

SMITH & SUGG MARKET REPORT

The Star broke the record last week for quantity of tobacco sold from Green, Duplin, Lenoir, Martin and Beaufort counties, many receiving over $100.00 more for their load than they expected. Some warehouses on the different markets are "doctoring" their reports of what they are doing. Thinking farmers know these "doctored" reports do not get them any more money for their tobacco. In fact, they are harmful. All houses are now selling out daily and the market is in finest possible condition.

Let our 14 years experience at the same stand be worth something to you in the sale of the balance of your tobacco.

1st Second Sale Monday October 31. First Sale Tuesday November 1. First Sale Wednesday November 2. First Sale Friday November 4
