

RUSSIA READY TO CONFER ON DISARMAMENT

Soviets Express Willingness to Collaborate With League of Nations Members.

Geneva, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Russia has notified the League of Nations that the Soviet government will participate in the work of the preparatory commission on a disarmament conference it was announced at League headquarters today.

The absence of Russia had been considered one of the biggest obstacles to the convocation of a conference which would stand a chance of success in the reduction of armaments. The commission meets here November 30.

The agenda of the conference includes an examination into the resolutions recently adopted by the League assembly and council concerning disarmament, especially the question of appointing a special committee to study the question of security raised by the French delegates at the last assembly.

The Soviet government hitherto has refused collaboration in the disarmament conferences of the League, because of the unsettled controversy that grew out of the assassination of Vaslav Vorovsky, Soviet representative at the Lausanne Conference in 1923.

Sir Eric Drummond, league secretary, today received a telegram from Foreign Minister Tchitcherine saying that now that the Vorovsky incident had been settled, Moscow is willing to participate in the disarmament commission. A request for information as to the place, date and agenda of the next meeting was included.

League circles regard Russia's decision as of the greatest importance to the future of disarmament. In principle it is regarded as removing the chief objection to the nations bordering Russia to serious discussions of the disarmament problem.

Coming after Soviet collaboration in the international economic conference, Moscow's latest decision is regarded as additional proof that Russia seeks to return to the European concert of nations. Several conferences hitherto have sought to bring Russia back into this concert, but failed.

The United States is represented on the preparatory commission which next meets on Nov. 30. Soviet participation in the conference also is expected to throw new light on the treaties Russia has made with Germany, Persia and Lithuania and the pact of non-aggression of which there have been some negotiations with other countries.

Pointing out how closely reduction of armaments is linked with European peace, some observers believe that Russia's acceptance may be the first concrete move to make Russia a part of the European peace fabric. In all events, it is believed that it will demonstrate whether Russia's intentions are to collaborate effectively with the League of Nations as a continually machinery for peace or openly attack the League at Geneva.

State Takes Hand In Colorado Strike

Dever, Colo., Oct. 31.—(AP)—The state today for the first time openly challenged leaders of the Colorado Coal Strike called by industrial workers of the world with an order to stop picketing tomorrow.

"Patience has ceased to be a virtue," Gov. W. H. Adams told I. W. W. chiefs through adjutant general Paul Newlon.

The governor's ultimatum was delivered to Roger Francezon, head of the I. W. W. in the United States at his Walsenburg headquarters by adjutant general and Col. Arthur L. Heart, ranking officer of the Colorado National Guard.

In informing Francezon that Gov. error had decreed picketing was unlawful the adjutant general warned that any intimidation of miners wishing to work, any demonstration or attempts to communicate with workers would not be tolerated.

CHARLES M. SCHWAB, who ought to know, says the "steel slump" is over, and urges "curb ill advised competition."

He and Mr. Farrell will perhaps arrange that. The public, which didn't know there was a slump, should remember this. The late Judge Gary's statement, "The United States Steel Company can sell steel at a profit for less than it cost other companies to make it." That would make real competition painful.

Two sons of a great father, half brothers, will today enter a contest to decide their superiority. Both inherit the father's power. The sons, named Mars and Crusader, are race horses, out of excellent mares, sired by the great horse Man O' War. They race in Maryland today, carrying equal weights, 100 pounds.

Some believe that human beings could be bred to greater perfection, as horses, cows, pigs, sheep and bulldogs are, by careful selection of mothers and fathers. And that helps to keep "all men equal," or nearly so.

A financier, referring to "our national wealth of $400,000,000,000" might as well refer to John D. Rockefeller's wealth of "a bagful of golf clubs."

Mr. Rockefeller has other things so has the United States. The oil, gold, iron, coal, copper, silver, lead, zinc, to the United States are worth alone far more than 400 billions. Some brain, now at work in the United States, will produce AN IDEA worth more to the nation than the $400,000,000,000.

WIND TAKES HEAVY TOLL IN IRELAND

Sixty Persons Perish When Fishing Boats Are Wrecked by Heavy Gales.

London, Oct. 31.—(AP)—The death list in the gale which has swept over British Isles since Friday stood at more than sixty today. Most of the deaths were due to destruction of fishing craft along the west coast of Ireland, where 40 persons were reported to have perished.

Dublin, Ireland, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Two Irish Free State airplanes were searching the Galway and Mayo coast today for the bodies of victims of the Irish fishing fleet overtaken by a great storm Saturday.

It is now feared that more than fifty were drowned. Virtually every breadwinner at Lacken Bay, a village in County Mayo, was drowned within 200 or 300 yards of his home when the fishing boats were dashed to pieces on the rocks.

In Cleegran County, Galway, and nearby fishing towns, 31 fishermen are missing, while eight bodies have been washed ashore.

Ruth Elder Does Some Broadcasting

Paris, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Ruth Elder and Captain George W. Haldeman broadcast to all France today their appreciation of the "magnificent reception" they have been accorded since their arrival in Paris.

Miss Elder told her radio hearers how glad she was that she did not have to leave France immediately, while Captain Haldeman echoed his flight partner's words saying that his only regret was that the flight had not been entirely successful so that they could have seen Paris a fortnight sooner.

"I'll be ready to try again next year, however," Captain Haldeman concluded.

The speeches were broadcast from the Sorbonne radio laboratory. Miss Elder, making her debut as a radio broadcaster, said that she found the experience more terrifying than trans-Atlantic flying. Sitting behind the microphone she read her set speech with nervous actions, her hand trembling and her emphasis sometimes misplaced just like any school girl orator.

DAWN PILOT DECLARES HE IS THROUGH

Flight to Copenhagen Indefinitely Postponed by Split With Mrs. Grayson.

New York, Oct. 31.—(AP)—With the amphibian monoplane Dawn back at Curtis Field today, indefinitely out of the trans-Atlantic flying list, Wilmer Stultz, the pilot who had taken the plane nearly 500 miles on its third start for Copenhagen and then turned it back, declared himself through with the project and the prospect of flying blind over the ocean.

Differences between Mrs. Frances Wilson Grayson, owner of the plane, and the pilot became noticeable after the unsuccessful attempt to fly the Dawn from Old Orchard, Me., to Copenhagen, and were revealed in more detail when the craft was brought back from Old Orchard yesterday.

Mrs. Grayson, downcast over the failure of her expedition insisted that the Dawn would yet complete the trip over the Ocean.

Stultz charged he had been made the "goat" since the return of the Dawn to Old Orchard after its third take-off and said it would have been suicide to have continued the flight against changing winds and inability to get the plane higher than 400 feet. He charged that Brice Goldsborough, radio operator and navigator, instead of being beside him during the crucial period, was sending messages that "didn't mean anything" from Mrs. Grayson to Mrs. Coolidge and others.

Numerous times Mrs. Grayson and Goldsborough wanted him to go ahead. Stultz said, but he declined as he decided it was "purely suicidal."

"Now that the plane is back here safe, it can remain forever as far as I am concerned, for I am through," he added.

LINDBERGH TO HELP PROMOTE FLYING IN U. S.

First Conqueror of Atlantic Retained by The Guggenheim Fund Movement.

New York, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh has been retained in a consulting capacity by the Daniel Guggenheim fund for the promotion of aeronautics and will not identify himself, at least for the present, with any commercial undertaking. His arrangement with the Guggenheim fund will leave him free to engage in any activities to promote the cause of flying.

Harry F. Guggenheim, president of the Guggenheim fund issued the following statement today: "Col. Charles A. Lindbergh has determined that for the present, at least, he will not identify himself with any commercial undertaking."

"The Daniel Guggenheim fund for the promotion of aeronautics has therefore retained Col. Lindbergh in a consulting capacity. Under the arrangement with him, he will be free to engage in any activities which will in his judgment promote the cause of aviation."

"At his request he will be at liberty to make such flights of other experimental efforts in behalf of aviation as he may choose upon his initiative and responsibility."

"He will become a member and trustee of the fund and his official headquarters will be at the office of the fund."

It was under auspices of the Guggenheim fund that Col. Lindbergh made his tour of the country after making the first flight across the Atlantic from the United States to France.

MRS. GRAYSON ABANDONS OCEAN FLIGHT

AGED GREEK LEADER SHOT

Admiral Knodouriotis First President of Greece, Fired on by Waiter.

Athens, Greece, Oct. 31.—(AP)—President Kondouriotis, who was wounded in the right temple by the bullet of a would-be assassin yesterday, passed a good night and his condition was reported as satisfactory. No fever has set in this morning and the president appeared in his usual good humor.

Athens, Greece, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Admiral Paul Kondouriotis, 72, first president of Greece today bore on his right temple, the scar of a bullet fired by an unemployed waiter in an attempt to assassinate him.

The waiter was saved from a lynching by a mob. Lodged in jail he told police that the attempt was made because the Greek state refused to support him during the time he was without work.

The president entered his automobile in front of the Municipal building where he had just opened formally the congress of Greek Mayors.

A youth of 25, Zafios Goussios, drew a revolver and fired two shots. One of the bullets passed through the windshield of the presidential automobile, shattering the glass in Admiral Kondouriotis's face and striking him in the right temple. As the crowd rushed at the assailant police surrounded the youth and hurried him to jail.

After president Kondouriotis was treated at a hospital surgeons issued this bulletin: "The president was wounded in the right temple, the bone being splintered. The president bore a slight operation very well; his condition is satisfactory and he was able to return home."

Goussios, born at Larissa in Tressaly, came to Athens two weeks ago for treatment of an aurial infection. Police allege, communistic literature was found in his luggage.

Cold Wether Moving South

Dever, Colo., Oct. 31.—(AP)—Rain and snow moved southward on both sides of the continental divide today to break up several weeks of Indian summer in Montana, Wyoming, Idaho and other northwestern states.

Points along the divide in Montana reported snow flurries with temperatures below freezing while the mercury stood in the upper thirties in lower altitudes.

Air mail service was delayed in some sections of the Pacific coast by wind and rain. One was forced down between San Francisco and Reno and the other forwarded by train.

CONTINUE MINING

Houghton, Oct. 31.—(AP)—True to the contract their craft that workers employed shall be brought to the surface dead or alive, rescue teams continued today their hazardous task of clearing the wrecked forty-first level of the Quincy Copper Mine here, where seven men were trapped Saturday by an air blast.

JUDGE LYON OPENS COURT HERE TODAY

Stresses Need of Law Enforcement in Charge to Grand Jury This Morning.

The need of more complete enforcement of laws as they pertain to prohibition and the driving of unlighted vehicles along the public highways, was stressed by Judge C. C. Lyon of Elizabethtown, in his charge to the Grand Jury at the opening of a one-week criminal term of Pitt County Superior Court here this morning.

"The illicit whisky traffic is flourishing in the larger towns and cities of the nation because prohibition laws are not being enforced," declared Judge Lyon.

He expressed opinion that prohibition had improved conditions in this country the last few years, and that men and women as a whole are more sober and reliable than in years past when whisky could be obtained for the asking.

"You seldom ever see a drunken man now days. In the old days there were plenty of them. They had as much to drink as they wanted, and didn't fail to consume it."

In discussing the danger of unlighted vehicles, he declared they were a menace to public safety. He told of an instance a few days ago when a car in which he was riding nearly had an accident because a wagon ahead of them failed to carry lights.

"Had it not been for the careful manner in which the automobile was being driven, we would have run into the wagon in spite of all we could do. A car coming from an opposite direction blinded the driver, and obscured the vehicle ahead. We didn't see the wagon until we were almost upon it. The driver frantically applied brakes and stopped just in time to avoid a wreck and probably serious injury or death to those occupying the cars and the wagon."

This law should be enforced, he said, because human life is being jeopardized daily by those who are careless and indifferent of their own fate and the fate of those who constitute the traveling public. Persons guilty of violating prohibition or traffic laws should be punished in proportion to the seriousness of their crime.

He brought before the jury several other laws more frequently violated and explained their application in a brief and interesting manner.

The grand jury is composed of the following: J. F. King, Epps Teal, Mark Smith, D. C. Stokes, G. A. Benson, J. E. Hammond, J. H. Briley, Robert J. Worthington, A. D. Wooten, M. O. Speight, G. O. Ward, Bryce Spymond, J. J. Manning, D. J. Spain, O. W. House, W. N. Simmons, Robert Tugwell, Fenner Hudson.

OFFICERS GET THREE STILL

Two Operators Captured With Two Outfits Taken in the Pactolus Section.

Activities of members of the local sheriff's office Saturday and Sunday night resulted in the capture of three whiskey distilling plants and two operators in Pactolus and Belvoir communities.

The distillers, Noah and Willie Moore, colored, were taken with the outfits in Pactolus. Willie Moore is about ten years of age and is generally conceded to be the youngest member of the illicit whiskey traffic ever captured in this part of the country. The other distiller was his brother, but is much older. They are being held in county jail here awaiting preliminary hearing.

The two stills were in close proximity to one another but were not in operation.

The still captured in Pactolus was a steam affair. Six barrels of beer were taken with the outfit.

German Flier Off For India

Bender Arrabass, Persia, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Lieut. Otto Koennecke hopped off the 6:30 A. M. today for Karachi, India, 700 miles away, in the plane Germania which he is flying to the United States by way of the Orient.

Lieut. Koennecke, who started from Cologne September 20, has been at Bender Abbas since Oct. 8. While there his plane was damaged by a bomb and he was injured and it was feared that this would mean the cancellation of the flight.

The first hop of the flight from Cologne to Angora, Turkey, was the most successful, the plane covering the 1,775 miles at an average speed in excess of 100 miles an hour.

OWEN ROBERTS TESTIFIES IN OIL HEARING

Prosecution in Conspiracy Case to Show Sinclair's Connection.

Washington, Oct. 31.—(AP)—The prosecution of the Teapot Dome oil conspiracy case plugged persistently along today in its effort to show that Harry F. Sinclair was connected with the Continental Trading Company, Ltd. of Canada, through whose profits it charges $230,500 in Liberty bonds reached the hands of Albert B. Fall.

Through documentary evidence and witnesses, Owen J. Roberts, government counsel, continued to trace out the organization of the company which he claimed was formed merely to take a profit on oil purchased from the late A. E. Humphreys, of Denver, for $1.50 a barrel and sold to other companies including Sinclair's own company, for $1.75.

The Continental company was a mere shell, gotten up by these gentlemen for their own purposes," Roberts asserted.

The defense scored a point today when Justice Siddons ruled out a question as to whose name was originally discussed as the purchaser of oil subsequently bought by the Continental Trading Company, from the A. E. Humphrey Companies.

Government counsel have been seeking to link Harry F. Sinclair, who obtained the lease on the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve with the Continental. This company, the government contends, was in possession of $230,500 in Liberty bonds which found their way to Albert B. Fall, former Secretary of the Interior, after the lease was signed.

Through former Senator Charles S. Thomas, of Colorado, the prosecution wanted to establish that Sinclair was named as the vendee in the original draft of contract Thomas drew. Whatever name was in the draft was changed to that of the Continental company.

Thomas said he had placed a name in the original or skeleton draft; that this draft became the subject of discussion among those attending the conference at the Vanderbilt Hotel in New York on November 15, 1921 and that as Thomas was leaving the room to draw the final draft, Harry M. Blackmer, a mining witness in this trial, told him to put in the name of the Continental Trading Company as vendee.

Four Killed When Airplane Crashes New Market, N. J.

South Plainfield, N. J., Oct. 31.—(AP)—A pleasure jaunt in a new airplane ended at Newmarket, near here yesterday in the death of Ansel, pilot, his fiancée and two other passengers when their craft plunged 500 feet into a corn field five minutes after the take-off.

The dead are: Leroy Thompson, 28, of Woodbury, Conn., pilot and manager of operations for the Colonial Air Transport Company at Teterboro airport; Elizabeth McGowan, 20, school teacher, Hillsdale.

Wesley Hubbell, 27, of Southbury, Conn., Thompson's room mate; George Hauber, 26, of Hillsdale.

The craft landed about a mile from the field in which Reynolds Airways plane loaded with twelve passengers who paid their fare on a "penny-a-pound" basis, crashed on September 12, resulting in the deaths of seven.

The Thompson party took off on what was intended to be an sight-seeing flight over New York from Teterboro field. About a mile away it crashed, the engine still roaring.

One explanation of the crash advanced was that Thompson may have fainted at the controls, as he was known to have suffered an attack of grippe.

The bodies were crushed beyond recognition.

PLAN TO CUT NATION'S TAX BURDEN SOON

House Ways and Means Committee Called to Capital to Draft New Revenue Bill.

Washington, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Limitation of the prospective tax reduction to approximately $225,000,000—a lower figure even than previously estimated—was recommended today by Secretary Mellon at the opening of the tax hearings by the House Ways and Means committee.

The tax reduction program he submitted follows:

1. Reduction of the corporation tax from 13 1-2 per cent to 12 per cent.
2. Extending permission to corporations with net income of $25,000 or less, and with not more than ten stockholders, to file returns and pay the tax as partnership corporations at their option.
3. Revision of the surtax rates applying on individual incomes between $16,000 and $90,000.
4. Repeal of the estate tax.
5. Exemption from taxation of the income derived from American Bankers' Acceptances held by foreign banks of issue.

Contrary to expectations, the Secretary opposed any change whatever in the remaining wartime excise and miscellaneous taxes. He argued at length for the retention of the present three per cent levy on automobiles and the ten per cent tax on admissions applying to tickets selling for more than 75 cents on the ground that these duties and the excise tax on tobacco should be kept "in the interest of a well balanced tax system."

Washington, Oct. 31.—(AP)—For the fourth time since the war, the house ways and means committee was called back to the capital today to draft a new revenue bill that will reduce the nation's tax burden.

Hearings which will be confined, if possible to a ten day period, the committee proposed to begin every effort to expedite its work so that the prospective measure may be presented on the house floor shortly after congress convenes the first week in December.

Among the half hundred or so persons who will testify during the hearings will be representatives of the treasury department industrial, commercial, and other business organizations when in about two weeks it will retire behind closed doors to begin actual writing of the new measure.

First on its program today was an executive meeting at 11 A. M. to approve, in a perfunctory manner steps that its chairman, representative Green of Iowa, has taken in preparing for the series of meetings and to consider odds and ends of business incidental to its convening ahead of the turn of congress.

A second meeting, however, at 3 P. M. called for the beginning of actual work on the tax bill. Under previously arranged plans, the witness chair at this hour was placed at the disposal of the treasury department where, it was said last week, that secretary Mellon assisted by undersecretary Ogden Mills, already had completed the department's recommendations.

These views have been awaited with interest not only on capital hill but also throughout the country as, in the drafting of previous tax laws, the position that the treasury has taken always has commanded weight during deliberations on the subject both in the committee and on the floor of the house and senate.

While the views of the treasury had been closely guarded by Mr. Mellon, pending today's meeting on the ground that the committee should be the first to hear them, a number of members of congress enlivened the weeks preceding the committee meeting with a thorough discussion of their views on how far tax reduction should go.

It was generally regarded that the treasury recommendation would be well under $300,000,000 many members advocating a tax cut approximating that figure, although Mr. Green recently cautioned his colleagues against optimistic predictions as to the size of the reduction to be made.

LET'S KEEP IT

The yearly statement just compiled by the Water and Light Commission shows that the institution is not only making money, taking care of its own obligations and helping to lower the city tax rate by taking care of obligations that would otherwise have to come from the general tax fund, but is giving the citizens unsurpassed service and at prices in keeping with or lower than other cities. Not only is the local water and light plant doing these things but it is giving employment to a larger number of persons than would be the case under the big power company system, which means that business houses of the city enjoy the benefits of bigger payrolls in the city.

COMMUNITY CHEST BEST PLAN

Other cities about us are staging their drives for their annual Community Chest and within a short time they will have provided for all their charities and welfare institutions for the coming year and will be free from begging until another season. In cities where the Community Chest idea has been adopted it has been found to be most satisfactory and none would go back to the old method. How long will Greenville progressive along other lines continue to take care of its charities and welfare work in the old hand-to-mouth slipshod method, when it would be so easy to turn to the better system of the Community Chest? Again we urge some of our wide-awake civic organizations to get behind the Community Chest movement and not let up until same has been made a reality here.

The present plan under which we are operating is not only costly but the continuous series of drives for funds, day in and day out, gets to be a nuisance. Let's have the more progressive plan of doing our driving once a year. It is far the best in the long run.

About Town

"Are you going to attend the convention of the North Eastern District of the North Carolina Education Association, which meets in Greenville November 18th and 19th?"

This question is asked several hundred school teachers of the North Eastern district in a letter recently mailed out by the Merchants Association of Greenville, whose members have assumed the responsibility of providing 200 rooms for the visitors. "We hope to have accommodations ready when the teachers arrive," Judson Blount, president of the association said today.

The letter continues: "We hope you are going to attend this session, because the business interests of the city anticipate with pleasure your coming, and assure you a hearty welcome to 'Our Greenville, Yours if You Come.' It is our privilege to again entertain the teachers at a barbecue dinner, which will be served at the East Carolina Teachers College at 6 o'clock Friday evening.

"For your convenience our organization will establish at the administration building of the college a registration booth where you will be expected to register, and be assigned to room accommodations which will be provided for you at the rate of $1.00 per day. "In order to facilitate matters for both your convenience and ours, may we suggest that you drop us a post card, advising that you will attend. This will enable us to make the individual reservations without any wait or confusion upon your arrival."

"Unlighted carts and wagons continue to menace the lives of the traveling public," said a member of the automobile association, talking with the writer of this column today.

"I saw several such vehicles on the public highways while coming to Greenville last night, and it was providence alone that prevented my running over them. Why in the world people will endanger their lives and the lives of others by such rank carelessness is unthinkable.

"There is a law requiring lights for all vehicular forms of travel, but it might as well not exist so far as it applies to this section of the State."

"Nine years ago thousands of strong able-bodied men were being slaughtered every day. Suddenly the firing ceased—an Armistice had been signed. It was eleven o'clock on November 11th, 1918, the most terrible, horrible, human misunderstanding that has ever taken place since the beginning of time," said J. H. Waldrop today, recalling that memorable period in world history when millions of men laid down arms to return to the roar and din of industry of their native lands.

"The whole world was mad with joy, whistles blew, bells rang, people shouted, parades marched. The world was at peace again. Over five million of our mothers' sons returned home to their mothers, wives, children and friends. The world was happy.

"When these five million men went away we promised them everything. We bought liberty bonds, war savings stamps, did without things to eat and made sacrifices for their comfort. Is there a home in America today that was not made happy by the return of one of these boys. Wouldn't you have done anything humanly possible to bring them back. They sacrificed their loved ones, their jobs, and millions their lives and won their own battles, so that they could return.

"Now doesn't the world owe it to these boys to fittingly celebrate the greatest holiday, save one in history. Not a man that is living and was in the service that will not remember where he was on November 11th, 1918, and how his heart almost burst with joy at news of the armistice.

"Many of these men are in our midst. Greenville will have one of its best Armistice celebrations this year. All ex-service men should have a part in it. They will not ask to get off from work, nor will they want to leave others to do their work. Let's close our places of business and see that every one has an opportunity to fittingly observe the day and take part in it."

THIS WEEK TO TELL TALE IN CHAMP RACE

Atlanta, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Well past the halfway turn, 18 Southern Conference teams this week engaged in games with foes within the group and soothsayers of the circuit have it that next Saturday will effect a decided tightening in the race for titular honors.

The conference games on the heavy week and schedule include one fray that brings together two of the seven teams that have not yet had their records marred by sister teams. The struggle between Vanderbilt and Georgia Tech in Nashville is viewed as critically important, since it will dampen the ardor of at least one claimant—unless the Tornado and the Commodores battle to a tie, and ties are not the vogue in this year's conference plays.

Four more undefeated elevens face the danger of blemished records. Georgia faces a team of proven scoring powers in Florida, although the Gators have lowered their colors to North Carolina State.

Washington and Lee goes up against the Cavaliers of Virginia to risk its perfect standing. Tennessee will carry its unscathed colors in the fray with Sewanee. L. S. U. meets a rejuvenated Ole Miss in the only other game within the group involving undefeated contenders.

North Carolina State, the other squad with an unbroken string of conference victories, can suffer no championship damage no matter what the outcome of its contest with Davidson.

Alabama faces the Kentucky Wildcats, Auburn takes on Tulane, V. M. I. plays North Carolina and V. P. I. engages South Carolina in other strictly conference tilts.

Maryland steps up to New Haven to take on Yale in an inter-sectional combat of note.

Clemson plays Citadel and the Mississippi Aggies play Mississippi College in the other games scheduled for the Southern Conference outfits.

BRITON SAYS YOUTH ADVANCED U. S. POLO

London.—(AP)—Youth in taking up Polo has raised the United States to a position of superiority over the British, said Colonel H. A. Tomkinson, manager of the British polo team defeated recently in the Westchester cup match in America. Col. Tomkinson told friends that the United States' side was the most marvelous team which had ever been fielded in that country. "The superiority of American polo is probably due to the fact that in the States boys begin to play at the age of 12 to 15 or at about the same age that British boys take up cricket and football whereas in Britain nobody thinks of playing polo unless he is at the university or in the army."

Hi Champ Series In Full Swing

National Pro. Golfers Meet Dallas Today

Dallas, Tex., Oct. 31.—(AP)—A record card of 68, three under par for the new 6,411 yard Crdar Crest Country Club course, was the target provided by Gene Sarazen of New York for the 60 odd entrants in the opening round today of the national professional golf association's Eastern players had the edge in today's round in which all but 32 entrants will be eliminated. Of the five men able to break par in the last week's practice, Gene Sarazen, of New York, held honors with a 68 and 70.

Johnny Farrell, also of New York and winner of eight open championships this year, pressed closely with 69. Jim Foulis, Hinsdale, Ill., Al Espinoso Chicago and Mort Dutra, Tacoma, had 72s to rank as favorites.

Walter Hagen defending champion from Pasadena, Fla., failed to report his score after battling a wind yesterday that even caused putts to roll off line.

STATE AND DUKE LEAD GRID RACE

Raleigh, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Hallow-'en today found football elevens of Duke University and State College sharing the spotlight in the State championship race by virtue of their decisive victories the past Saturday.

Davidson, title holder last season peeped in at the back door and claimed the right to consideration as the big five race began to clarify ratings. The Wildcats record stood marred by State and Duke.

Carolina, Notre Dame style-coached outfit, rereated to the background after suffering bitter setbacks at the hands of the Deacons and Wolfpack.

Davidson's chance to cop another Pennant hung in the balance with the game at Greensboro Saturday with State destined to decide matters. On paper the Wolfpack should win, observers said, but supporters of the Presbyterians aggregation pointed out that a Wildcat has never been whipped before the final whistle.

Wake Forest was content to retire from the limelight and finish its schedule without outsiders. The Deacons invade South Carolina to meet Furman at Greenville Saturday.

Carolina moves east for annual negotiations with V. M. I.

BOY VIOLINIST GETS GENUINE STRADIVARIUS
New Haven, Conn.—(AP)—The dream of all violinists, to possess a Stradivarius, one of the famous violins made by the master craftsman of Cremona, has come true early in life for Harry Braun, 18-year-old New Haven lad.

August Heckscher, New York philanthropist, was impressed with the musical talent of the young man when he heard him at a recital and sent him a violin made by Stradivari in 1691. Until a few years ago it was used by Mischa Elman on his tours. Heckscher paid $10,000 for it.

The violin has been patched many times, but its tone is rich and mellow and in its lower registers has the resonance of a cello.

Braun will make his New York debut playing the Stradivarius on November 6.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA
Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat trouble. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germ.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (Adv.)

The former kaiser says that out England, Britain wouldn't put a hanging in the records of its royal family, and that saved William Hohenzollern from that uncomfortable regard for his first cousin, King George, whose father, King Edward, was the kaiser's uncle, he, the kaiser, forbade his Zeppelings to drop high explosives on King James' palace and blow King George into the presence of their joint grandmother, Queen Victoria.

However, King George owes the kaiser nothing, for the relationship between the two made all the talk about "hanging the kaiser" meaningless. "A matter of an hour" to which the French king referred to when his former favorite was being tortured and executed.

Famous Star of "Padlocks of 1927" urges a group of her girls back of the stage to adopt Lucky Strikes.

Queena Mario, Star of Metropolitan Opera, writes:

STOCK MARKET

New York, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Despite stiffer call money rates and the lack of any important trade news, stock prices staged another brisk recovery today under the leadership of the high price industrial. A few issues of which the floating supply is small, were marked up 5 to 10 points, while gains of two to four points were scattered throughout the list. Trading was only moderately heavy in volume.

Banks called about $15,000,000 in loans, presumably in preparation for the heavy first of the month currency demands. The first 74 railroads to report their September earnings showed an aggregate net operations income 6.53 per cent below that of the corresponding month last year.

Pools resumed activities in a number of specialties. American Machine and Foundry was run up nearly 10 points and the American Tobacco issues and Warren Brothers each advanced 3½ points, all to new high records. Russia Insurance which broke more than 20 points Saturday, recovered about half the loss in today's trading.

The closing was firm; total sales approximated 1,700,000 shares.

Beautiful Designs On Backgrounds of Lovely Linen Colorings WITH KLEARFLAX ANTUFT RUGS

On account of their strength and durability ropes of linen were used to build together the bridge across the Bellefontaine over which Xerxes passed with his army to invade Europe. Linen floor coverings offer durability with beauty at low cost.

A background of coloring only possible in linen, with a beautiful hand-work design in the finest of wool yarns—that is the Klearflax Antuft.

Everybody knows, there is no fabric which takes dyes like linen. No other fabric in which such soft, beautiful, pastel shades can be obtained as well as the brighter colors.

Added to this background of color beauty, you now can have beautiful designs in the finest wool yarns which are worked into these rugs by hand—and at what surprisingly low cost in the Klearflax Antuft.

The Klearflax Antuft is America's most distinctive contribution to the centuries-old art of rug making. The Klearflax Antuft is not an imitation of anything else but is that finer and better thing itself. Those who dislike imitations, will like the Klearflax Antuft.

One of the most interesting things about Klearflax is its rough new-linen texture which blends perfectly with the choice of modern home decoration for a rough finish in hangings, upholstery and all interior textiles. Klearflax, like all linen when new, is rough to the finger tips but is not rough to the feet and due to its cleanliness and many soft, lovely, pastel colorings, is a great favorite for bedrooms.

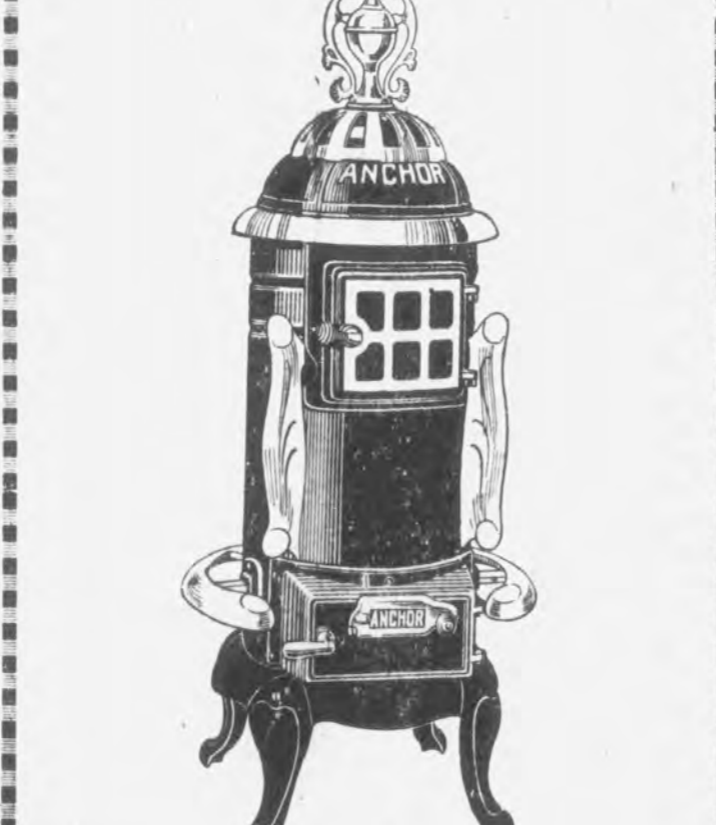

Dirt can not become imbedded in the thick, heavy, compact weave of Klearflax linen rugs and carpets but stays on the surface where it can be easily brushed away either with a power-driven brush, suction sweeper or just a broom. Klearflax that is clean on the surface, is clean all through and a new standard of cleanliness for your floor coverings is possible with Klearflax.

Why The Anchor Hot Blast Saves Fuel

When you purchase a stove or heater for your home, you want heat first—dependable heat that will keep your home warm all winter regardless of zero weather outside. But you also want this heat at a fair price. You want a heater which will give you the greatest possible amount of heat from your fuel, assuring a cozy, comfortable home.

The Anchor Hot Blast saves one-third or more in fuel over any lower-draft or oak air-tight type of heater of the same size, it holds fire 36 hours, and will save 25 percent in fuel over any other hot-blast stove on the market. A lifetime of service is guaranteed by the sectional inner linings and the air space which insures uniform radiation from top to bottom of the stove body.

Coal burned in the ordinary lower draft heater burns at the bottom and all of the gases escaping from the coal on top are lost up the chimney. So when you see smoke pouring out of your chimney it means that fuel is being wasted.

By permitting the right amount of pre-heated air to enter the Anchor Hot Blast fire-box through the hot-blast tube, all these gases which otherwise would be lost are completely burned, thereby insuring the fullest heating result.

By a simple regulation of the main draft damper in the ash-door, the hot-blast slide damper at top, and the check damper located in the reversible smoke collar, the fire is instantly controlled to give just the amount of heat desired.

Study this hot-blast system of combustion and design and construction of the Anchor Hot Blast and you will see why it is superior to any other heating stove on the market.

The Anchor Hot Blast is made in both Front Door and Top Door types, and in five sizes to meet every home-heating need. Your dealer will gladly show you the Anchor line of Hot Blast Heaters and the price will prove a pleasant surprise to you. In point of looks, service and economy, the Anchor Hot Blast represents the most in value for the least in price.
