AMERICAN ACE IS PRESENTED GOLDEN EAGLE

Treasure Dug From Grave of Indian Chief Given Lindbergh by Panamans.

Balboa, Canal Zone Jan. 11—(AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh today became the guest of the 27,000 Americans in the Canal Zone, visiting the city of Balboa after his stay at Panama City.

With cheers and colors flying, the American air hero's compatriots turned out en masse today bestowing upon him that same eager affection which prevailed in the many central American capitals which Colonel Lindbergh had visited on his good will tour. They were eager to show him the buties and wonders of the Zone, just eleven miles wide and forty-seven miles long between the Atlantic and Pacific oceans.

Panama, Jan. 11—(AP)—A golden eagle, dug from the grave of an Indian chief today bore witness to Panama's delight in the coming of the Lone Eagle.

The talisman was given to Col. Charles A. Lindbergh at a farewell banquet by the Panama reception committee. The eagle is of solid gold and of primitive design, weighing 312 grains. It was dug from a grave in the Chirique mountains. The tail and wings of the eagle are spread and its talons clenched.

The present was in a box of native mahogany and cedar Panamans carved eagles on each corner of the box.

If the present is added to the collection of Lindbergh gifts in St. Louis, it will attract lovers of primitive Indian art. Another unique gift for the collection was an exceptionally fine Panama hat, rarely seen outside this region. It was concealed in a box fashioned to look like a book on which a wooden globe tracing the flyer's routes. The present was from Manos of Panama.

The eagle was accompanied by parchment of presentation, and was illuminated in the form of an old manuscript. The Indians of the isthmus had many symbols of rank and the gift to Lindbergh was their highest symbol because the eagle soars to the greatest heights.

In a day crowded with other events, Lindbergh found time to slip away where mules bore the gold of conquest across the isthmus. Lindbergh was especially interested in the ruins of the old Panama Cathedral which was blown up by Morgan, the raider, but whose wooden beams have stood intact these four hundred years.

President Chiari and vice-president Dugue of Panama made 15 minute flights in a borrowed plane with the flyer. It was the president's first ride in an airplane and he said on its completion: "A man must fly in order to realize how insignificant he is in the universal order of things."

Lindbergh sipped wine twice. Once in response to a toast to a former class mate at Kelly field, Robert W. Douglas, Jr., who is now working in Panama, and once in responding to a toast to the republic.

Today the flyer became the guest of the canal zone. At the office of the American Charge d'Affaires it was stated the flyer might remain in the zone for an additional day for a much needed rest.

Brevard, N. C., Jan. 11—(AP)—Charged with criminal attack on a young girl, J. F. Cutter, bandmaster was held in Transylvania county jail today for preliminary hearing before Mayor T. W. Whittemore.

Cutter was arrested yesterday on complaint of the girl's father, a prominent local business man. He denied the charge.

Cutter who is about 50 years old and married came to Brevard several years ago and organized the local band.

YOUTH KILLED WHEN HIT BY CAR NEAR KINSTON

Kinston, Jan. 11—(AP)—Fatal injuries for one youth and serious injuries for his companion today was the result of their walking along the Kinston-Greenville highway before dawn and being struck by a hit and run automobile driver who was the object of a search of Kinston and nearby city authorities. Roland West, 22, was killed. W. A. Rice, 23, received serious injuries both lived at Sand Hill, near here. When found by passers-by who said they heard the impact of the car against the men's bodies, Rice was lying across the body of West in a ditch beside the highway.

Snow and Sunshine.
Surprising Mr. Sandino.

Eastern visitors wonder at little striped awnings seen at the driver's window on California automobiles. Driving about Southern California, they soon understand. Without such awnings, sunshine makes the driving wheel too hot for pleasant driving.

On this Mojave table land, 2,000 feet above the Pacific, the sun is less hot, snakes and lizards hibernate, but onions and other crops grow through the winter, and nothing grows unless you plant and irrigate it, therefore there are no weeds. Onion growers will know what that means.

In nearby mountains, 4,000 feet higher than this desert, the snow lies very deep. Los Angeles people motor up to Big Bear, for skiing and tobogganing, and return with snow piled high on running boards and mud guards to let neighbors see what it looks like. You find variety here.

Mr. Sandino, Nicaraguan rebel, who shot our marines—getting his money, ammunition and khaki uniforms from "some other country," according to Colonel Guich, is said to be fleeing to the mountain forests with his men. It took Uncle Sam a long time to persuade Sandino that killing our men is dangerous pestime. Many Mexicans, to this day, believe that they could beat the United States easily enough, if it were not for Texas, which won't let them. They have fought Texans, and know what that means.

The Navy plans to send a flock of airplanes carrying reinforcements of marines to Nicaragua, on a non-stop flight. That excellent idea should have a wholesome effect. Instead of sending a few planes, we should be able to send a swarm of a thousand, and on the trip let gentlemen that send ammunition to Sandino know what sort of trouble they are inviting.

Even a few planes from our pathetic little collection, will have some effect. Gringos, writing let-

BOOZE CASES PREDOMINATE LOCAL COURT

Two White men Sentenced to Roads by Judge Darden Yesterday Morning.

Frank Elks and Daniel Elks, white men residing about three miles from this city, were found guilty of receiving, possessing and transporting whiskey and sentenced to eight months on the county roads by Judge W. A. Darden, presiding over the regular weekly session of county court in this city yesterday morning. Notice of appeal to Superior court was filed under bond of $400 each.

The charge against the two men grew out of a raid on a barn at their home by county officials the latter part of last week in which about a half gallon of whiskey was seized. This was offered as evidence in the hearing yesterday.

G. W. Hughes, white man of this community, was found guilty of driving an automobile while drunk and sentenced to six months service on the county roads.

Judgment was suspended for a period of two years in the case of John Adkins, charged with possessing whiskey and being drunk. Only about one-half pint of whiskey was found in his possession when arrested, it was stated by those making the arrest.

Noah Smith, charged with transporting whiskey, paid a fine of $25 and cost of action.

George Barfield, appearing on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon, paid a fine of $100 and cost of action.

Lawrence Gay, charged with driving reckless and dandaking a truck of the Water and Light commission, was found guilty of reckless driving and ordered to pay Kirk Patrick the sum of $186 for damages, or go to the roads for a period of 90 days.

JACKSON DAY DINNER GETS GREAT CROWD

Prominent Democrats Gather at Washington Today For Dinner Tonight.

Washington, Jan. 11—(AP)—The eve of the Jackson Day Dinner drew arrivals for the traditional Democratic get-together speculation today on the nomination of a candidate, the choice of a convention city, the absence from the meeting of Gov. Smith of New York, and on many other questions of party interest.

Advocates of Governor Smith were the most active among those arriving early, many giving optimistic views on his chances.

Committeemen from New York, Illinois, California, Wisconsin, West Virginia, Washington and Minnesota asserted that the New York Governor leads in sentiment in those states.

Numerous other names, including "favorite sons" also were heard, including Reed, Ritchie, Walsh, Donahy, Woolen, Hull, Glas, Pomerehne, Robinson of Arkansas, George of Georgia, and Ayers of Kansas.

Preliminary talk pointed to a fight among Chicago, San Francisco, Cleveland, Detroit and Miami for the convention with several other cities, among the St. Paul and Houston, also possibilities. George E. Brennan, Illinois representative on the national committee, has argued for Chicago on the basis of its facilities and central location. Isadore D. Dockweiler, California member, is prepared to submit a bid for $200,000 to put the convention in the coastal metropolis, and an equal bid is expected from Miami.

Secretary Wilbur Tells Naval Committee U. S. Needs First Class Navy

Washington, Jan. 11—(AP)—Stressing his own belief that "America needs a first class navy," Secretary Wilbur placed today before the house naval committee both his personal reasons and those of the navy general board for asking congress to authorize a $725,000,000 new warship construction program.

"In the preparation of this program the general board has primarily considered the need of this government for its naval defense," he said. "It is true that in determining this need the general board at all times has taken into consideration the facts as they are known to us."

"Future wars must be fought largely by vessels already completed at the beginning of the war. Great Britain announced at the Geneva conference that she needed more vessels of the cruiser class. Our original proposal at Geneva was for cruiser tonnage of between 250,000 and 300,000 tons, a tonnage less than we felt necessary for our fleet. We were willing to accept the hazard of building less tonnage.

"The insistence of great Britain and of her naval experts and of her delegates at the Geneva conference upon her absolute need for a larger tonnage of cruisers, regardless of the naval program of other powers, is most persuasive evidence that we also have a definite need for cruiser tonnage, regardless of the program of other powers. If we are to have a well-rounded fleet for our defense, and also that such a program for us is in no sense competitive."

"The secretary said that the program proposing construction of 15 cruisers, five aircraft carriers, nine destroyer leaders and 32 submarines was "in no sense competitive but is based upon the needs of our navy as determined by the secretary of the navy upon the technical advice of the general board."

"The president is opposed to competitive building," he continued. "Congress has also manifested its unwillingness to engage in competitive building.

"We do not ask you to build a certain number of tons of each type of vessel for the reason that Great Britain has that number of tons or because to do so would bring us up to a parity with Great Britain nor do we ask you to construct a certain amount of tonnage in order that we may be on a 3-3 ratio with Japan.

HICKMAN TO PLAY DOUBLE FOR DOCTORS

Slayer of Marian Parker Ignores Three Prosecuting Aliens at Jail.

Los Angeles, Jan. 11—(AP)—William Edward Hickman, confessed and indicted slayer of Marian Parker, has demonstrated that he intends to maintain a dual character so far as aliens are concerned.

"The Fox" of the kidnaping and slaying case yesterday ignored three prosecuting aliens, who sought to question him at the county jail.

A few hours later we were all smiles when visited by Dr. J. W. Pettis, Sioux City, Iowa, physician, the first of the probable expert witnesses of the insanity defense.

On his return to his cell he told jailers he would not permit himself to be examined by any state's specialists unless his attorney and his own psychiatrists were present.

Dr. Pettis said he gave the youth a complete medical examination including a test of the spinal fluid, sometimes said to be a factor in insanity tests.

Just before the doctor's arrival Hickman had been reading a letter purporting to come from an "Andrew Cramer" of New York, who assumed, in the missive, the entire blame for the slaying of the Los Angeles school girl.

"That guy's crazier than I am," was his smiling comment.

Hickman's first confession should credit the blame for the killing on an "Andre wCramer," who he later admitted, was a figment of his imagination.

Welby Hunt, Hickman's 16 year old accomplice in the holdup of a Rexall drug store on Christmas Eve, 1926, which resulted in a gun battle in which C. Ivy Thoms, the druggist, was fatally wounded, entered a plea of not guilty yesterday to an indictment jointly charging him and Hickman with the murder.

Sheriff's officers placed little stock in testimony given by a girl witness in a murder trial yesterday indicated that Hickman might have been involved in another drug store holdup killing. The witness in the trial of three men accused of murdering A. V. Miles, the druggist, said Miles' slayer looked more like Hickman than one of the three defendants.

Officers pointed out, however, that the Miles slaying was on November 1, and they were certain that Hickman was in the middle west at that time.

Want Pretty Knees? Don't Wear Shoes With High Heels

Philadelphia, Jan. 11—(AP)—If you would have nicely shaped knees, don't wear high-heeled shoes.

Their advice to women and girls by pediatricists. The Philadelphia Pediatric Society was told last night by Dr. J. Torrance Hugh that the wearing of high-heeled shoes causes the foot to assume an unnatural position with the result that the muscles and bones are thrown out of balance. When that happens, he said the knees become less stable, the knee action becomes much less secure and fatigue results.

SIX MORE BODIES ARE TAKEN FROM SUBMARINE

Provincetown, Mass., Jan. 11—(AP)—The bodies of six more of the submarine S-4's crew were recovered this morning in the motor compartment by divers Thomas Campbell and Frank Crilly. These brought the total recovered to 23.

TEAPOT DOME FINDS WAY TO SENATE AGAIN

Long Trail of Naval Oil Reserve Investigation Doubles Back To Lawmakers.

Washington, Jan. 11—(AP)—The long trail of the teapot dome naval oil reserve investigation that from its senate source had wound its way through civil and criminal courts, doubled back today to the senate.

It led to the room of the public lands committee, called into session by Chairman Nye to determine its course under the Norris resolution directing an inquiry to learn what became of the profits of the Continental Trading Company of Canada, now extinct.

In pressing for action on his resolution, Senator Norris, republican, Nebraska, told the senate that Harry F. Sinclair, teapot dome lessee, and others had bought the company and used it as an intermediary in the sale of oil. Of its profits, he said, $230,000 had been traced to Albert B. Fall, who as secretary of the interior signed the lease to Sinclair. The senator said the company's records had been destroyed but that in addition to Sinclair the concern's guarantors were Robert Stewart, chairman of the board of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana; B. M. Blackmer, chairman of the board of the Midwest Refining Company, and James O'Neil, president of the Prairie Oil Company, the latter two missing witnesses in the government's criminal cases against Fall and Sinclair.

Senator Norris said the guarantors "agreed to buy oil through the Continental Trading Company at $125 a barrel and sell it to their companies at $150 a barrel." He added that John D. Rockefeller, Jr. was interested in the Indiana Standard Oil Company and he wondered if Rockefeller "knew his company was being created in this manner."

LOCAL BANK SHOW GROWTH FOR PAST YEAR

Eight Percent Dividend Paid Stockholders of the National Bank.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the National Bank of Greenville, was held at the city hall yesterday morning at eleven o'clock. President J. L. Little presided over the session. A majority of stock was represented either in person or by proxy. An eight per cent dividend was declared to stockholders.

The report of Cashier Fred Forbes was one of the most illuminating and satisfactory in years. It showed the institution to be in healthy condition with brightest prospects for continued development and expansion in the future.

The report showed that the net earnings of the bank last year amounted to $175,568.88. Resources were given at over $2,000,000.

Summing up activities of the institution since organization in 1907, Mr. Forbes showed that total dividends paid out since that time amounted to $152,750.00, with total profits of $269,810.15.

President Little and Mr. Forbes expressed gratification at the progress made by the bank during the past year. K. W. Cobb and J. C. Galloway, stockholders, also spoke briefly, commending officers for the splendid progress reflected in this report of the cashier.

Following the stockholders meeting, directors of the institution met and re-elected the following officers:

J. L. Little, president; F. G. James, vice-president; P. J. Forbes, cashier; Charles James, assistant cashier.

NINE REBELS ARE KILLED BY MARINES

Three also Wounded When Sandino Forces are Attacked by U. S. Bombing Plane

Managua, Jan. 11—(AP)—Rebels attempting a concentration four miles north of Quilali in the Province of Nueva Segovia yesterday, were attacked by a United States marine airplane commanded by Major Ross E. Powell. Nine of the Rebels were killed and three wounded.

United States marines occupy Quilali, and careful watch for an attempt of the Sandino forces to make a sudden raid led to the discovery of the Rebel contingents assembling from various quarters for a possible assault of the town. Flying over the groups Powell dropped bombs and dispersed them. He said he might have done some more damage, had he so desired.

Col. Mason Guile, in command of the marines in Nicaragua, declared today that planes would be sent out regularly to bomb the Rebels when and wherever they appear.

Washington, Jan. 11—(AP)—American marines in Nicaragua are dealing with a situation in many ways similar to that which marked the last phases of the pacification of the Philippines. A handful of hostiles, flitting through the jungle covered area along the Honduran border, must be rounded up and that process has begun with the return of the dry season making jungle trails available again to the marine patrols and detachments of Nicaraguan national guard under marine commanders.

The system expected by officials here to be followed by the combined force is occupation of each town and cross-trail village by small garrisons and the establishment of interconnecting patrols over the territory.

The main source of revenue of the Sandino and Salgado bands, Washington officials say, has been the coffee crop in scattered cultivated patches in the area where they operated. A market for this coffee is found across the border in Honduras where it is sold at half the usual price.

Washington political officials also seemed inclined to look upon estimates of heavy casualties among the Sandino forces in clashes with the garnes as highly imaginary.

Sandino himself has never had any previous importance, politically speaking, in Nicaragua. The state department bluntly calls him a bandit leader, intent only on pillage. Moncada, the liberal military chieftain with whom the Sinsuara disarmament agreement was put through the probable liberal candidate for president at the elections this summer, is said to have informed American authorities that Sandino was always a troublesome and insubordinate unit of the liberal army. Both political factions have disavowed his present activities.

Renewal of the Sandino operations last month came as the result of the reopening of the campaign against him as soon as the trails dried up sufficiently to permit pack trains and other transport of the marines and constabulary to move. Up to that time, Washington officials were inclined to regard the defection of Sando at the time of the disarmament as merely a troublesome incident. They do not now see any political significance whatever in his raids and their chief fear is that as the marine and Nicaraguan forces ring him in toward the border, the trouble makers will vanish. Capture of Sandino it is said, would be desirable to satisfy everybody concerned that he is only a bandit.

Truck Crops Badly Hurt By Weather

Washington, Jan. 11—(AP)—Crop conditions for the week ended yesterday as summarized by the department of agriculture says that precipitation during the week was moderate in amount over most of the southern states. Showers and much warmer weather the latter part of the week were favorable in reviving hardy truck crops that were damaged by the recent freeze. Late reports on the unseasonably low temperatures prevailing throughout the south during the latter part of last week and the early part of that just closed indicate that serious damage was sustained by winter trucking interests. Practically all tender vegetation was killed and the hardier truck crops were either damaged or destroyed in many localities, while cereals, particularly oats, suffered materially. The succession of nights with low temperatures, however, was probably destructive to many boll woods.

Greenville Wins Opening Game Of New Conference

VICTORS OVER FARMVILLE BY 22 TO 16 COUNT

The Greenville high school basketball team opened the season here last night by defeating Farmville by the score of 22 to 16 in a hotly contested game at Gorman's warehouse.

This game marked the opening of the North Eastern Athletic Conference organized some time ago to supplant the old North Carolina High School Association. Other games were played among fourteen schools coming under supervision of the conference.

The game last night was one of the most exciting ever played on the local court. Both teams showed incomparable form and battled furiously from start to finish.

The play of Respass, captain of the Greenville aggregation, was one of the outstanding features of the game. He made the high score of ten points for Greenville, being followed closely by Bostic with six points. The latter stood out prominently as floor man.

For the visitors the work of W. Smith commanded more than usual attention. He made ten of the sixteen points scored by his teammates.

Yale Students Go to Court At New Haven

New Haven, Conn., Jan. 11.—(AP)—Arrested for distributing hand bills relating to a labor dispute, 19 Yale students had to go to court today.

The American civil liberties union retained counsel for them.

The students, seven of whom were members of the divinity school, were arrested last night while passing out pamphlets to the general public concerning conditions in the neckwear industry.

The pamphlets were headed, "Is this fair play?"

Yale students have been aiding efforts to unionize necktie makers, but the pamphlets gave both sides of the matter, without directly urging unionization. A city ordinance forbids distribution of handbills.

Two New York firms, Stern and Merritt, and Berkman and Adler, moved their plants to New Haven last September when they found the terms of the union workers contract disagreeable.

Since the two firms gave the United Neckwear Makers' Union a branch here and enlisted the aid of the Liberal Club of Yale. Members of the club from time to time arranged meetings at which the workers were addressed by labor leaders.

The distribution of the pamphlets last night followed a survey of the situation made by three students.

Among those arrested were: Henry C. Springle, Jr., divinity; Salisbury, N. C.

Women Improve On Golf Play

Pinehurst, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Women's golfing skill has increased astoundingly during the past few years, says Glenn Collett, former national women's champion, and she sees three good reasons for it.

First, women get a chance to observe the play of men professionals more than in the past because of tournaments and exhibition matches in all sections of the country.

Second, competition has grown to a point that a player cannot "lag" and win. Competition also has increased the general interest.

Third, women's tournaments have grown so numerous that so-called tournament experience can be had easily, thus giving the player an opportunity to put practice conclusions into competitive matches.

Miss Collett, spending the winter here, plays a round daily and is otherwise going through close training in an effort to regain some of her laurels during the spring and summer season.

OPERA IN AMERICAN GETS SECOND HEARING

New York, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Opera for Americans, by Americans, and in the American language will have its second trial this year beginning January 10, when the American Opera company begins a four week season in New York.

Baskets and Backboards Championship Features in Basketball

By DR. FORREST C. ("PHOG") ALLEN

Lawrence, Kan.—(AP)—The old year, replete with sensational victories and sensational upsets, has served its purpose well. It has provided genuine entertainment for its followers of sports on gridiron, court diamond, track and field.

The burdens are now shifted to younger shoulders. A new year swings into action, and with it the indoor season of basketball takes the spotlight.

Champions and co-champions alike are spurred on by a perennial optimism that the new year will find them in the vanguard in the basketball championship hunt.

Thanks to the kiss of hope there is an inspired confidence in the best of every successful American athlete that will not admit defeat. Last year's champions are clinging to the hope of a renewed championship. The teams that have never known a championship are invoking Lady Luck and Good Old Fight to turn the trick for them.

But when the maple-floor season is over, more than luck and good old fight plus forwards and guards will figure in the final reckoning. Achievement will come only after the drudgery is done. This drudgery incorporates weary hours of practice—tail on fundamentals. Pivoting, passing, rebounding, free throwing, dribbling, shooting and constant heavy-guarding against outbouncing opponents must be the order of the day for every practice scrimmage for the full season. Winning basketball cannot tolerate any drones or date-hounds.

When the Greeks crew fonder of their banquets and their baths than of their work the day of their achievement began to wane. Severe self-denial for the successful athlete is the twin brother of hard work.

HORNSBY IS TRADED TO THE BRAVES

New York, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Roger Hornsby, captain of the New York Giants and the biggest star in the National League, has come in a lightning trade to the Boston Braves.

The trade came as a stunning surprise to baseball circles and was equally unexpected to Hornsby, who is the national league's highest salaried player at a reported sum of $90,000 a year, the Giants receive Catcher Francis Hogan and Jimmy Welsh, an outfielder, both virtually unknown. They are just ordinary players. No cash was involved.

A brief statement signed by President Charles A. Stoneham and Manager John J. McGraw said the trade was made "for the best interests of the club."

Hornsby made a brilliant showing as acting manager of the Giants during the closing days of the 1927 race during McGraw's illness, driving the team into a contending position for the pennant.

The only plausible explanation of the deal appeared to be a desire on the part of the Giants to bolster a weak member of the National League.

After receiving a telegram from Judge Emile E. Cohns, owner of the Braves, notifying him of the deal, Hornsby said it didn't make any difference to him whether he was with the Braves or any other club.

However, Hornsby was puzzled over the "best interests" section of the Giants' announcement and declared he didn't believe McGraw was responsible for that part of the statement.

Hornsby was born in Winters, Texas, in 1896 and started his baseball career in 1914 with the Dallas Club of the Texas league. He was with the Cardinals from 1915 to 1926 when he was traded to the New York Club in a sensational deal in exchange for infielder Frank Frisch and pitcher Jimmy Rynn.

In 1926, the first complete season he was pilot of the Cards, he brought the pennant to St. Louis for the first time in history and then directed the club to a world's series championship against the New York Yankees.

Differences with Sam Brandon, the owner of the Cards, developed at the close of the campaign, when, according to reports Hornsby demanded a $50,000 bonus and an increase in salary. While the dispute was at its height he was traded to the Braves.

Hornsby's departure from St. Louis raised a lull and cry from the fans there and several organizations campaigned for the return of their idol, who was hailed by his admirers as the "rajah."

CHICAGO TO FIGHT HARD THIS SEASON

Chicago, Jan. 11.—(AP)—The desperate bid of Chicago's Cubs for the National League pennant in the mid-season race of 1917 is to be duplicated right from the fall of the flag in the 1928 season, President Veck and Manager McCarthy declare, with extra talent in those spots on the club which proved weakest last August.

The Winter deals of the Cubs have been few in number but momentous in possibilities, beginning with the trade which brought Hazen "Kiki" Cuyler to the team in exchange for Sparky Adams. Manager McCarthy is the kind of a leader who could sell Grover Cleveland Alexander down the river at the height of his ability for the mere price of a drafted rookie. He said he had no fear of Cuyler's temperament, or whatever it was that caused all the rumors while "Kiki" polished the bench at Pittsburgh during the 1927 world's series.

Cuyler said he was delighted to be taken up by the Cubs and his acquisition gave the team six heavy hitting outfielders, Wilson, Stephenson, Webb, Heathcote and Kelly being the others.

To strengthen the pitching corps, where the strain of the pennant chase really caused the beginning of the slump, the Cubs bought the 1927 strike out king of all the leagues in the country, Pat Malone, of Minneapolis. He turned back 214 batters last year. Malone's purchase makes six pitchers figured to be ready for regular turns—Charlie Root, who won more games than any other major league twirler last year; Hal Carlson, Sheriff Blake, Guy Bush and Percy Jones. Each of these is the veteran southpaw, Art Nehf, who is being primed as the relief pitcher.

To fill the place of Sparky Adams at second, the Cubs already had a string on Freddy McGuire, a youngsters from Toledo with a little major league seasoning, and a fielder expected to rank with the best in the game when he gets accustomed to Major League diamonds. For shortstop and third base the Cubs have a flock of candidates.

"The Cubs of 1928 will measure with the best," President Veck said today. "They will be much stronger in every department, hitting, fielding and speed on the basis, and we look for the biggest improvement of all in the pitchers."

Other outstanding teams that have gone through their early pre-season fundamental game-drills have chosen inter-sectional opponents with a view to acquiring different methods and new ideas. Such newly acquired talents will come in good stead for these visiting quietists in their drives down their sectional championship roadways.

Two big ten teams have just been repulsed in inter-sectional jousts. The University of Pennsylvania has defeated the University of Wisconsin in a recent conflict in Philadelphia. The University of Illinois, traveling into the far west, met defeat in a series of three games at the hands of the University of Washington huskies. Illinois won only the second game of the series.

Jacksonville, Fla.—Sid Terris, of Chapel Hill, N. C., won from Big Ben Pound, Florida (10).

Chicago—Bud Taylor, of Terre Haute, defeated Babe Ruth, Louisville, 10, Les Marriner, Chicago, won by technical knockout from Bud Doran, Chicago, (5).

Indianapolis—Clay De Marco, Pittsburgh, and Jack Silver, Oakland, Calif., drew (10). Jimmy McDermott, Terre Haute, won by technical knockout from Kid Nacho Mexico City, (5).

Reading, Pa.—Sylvan Bass, Baltimore, and Harry Wallace, New York drew, (10).

Portland, Ore.—Joe Anderson, of Covington Ky, won over George Dixon, Portland, (10).

San Jose, Calif.—Joey Hall, New York, and Jimmy Evans, Vallejo, Calif., drew (10).

Jerome, Ariz.—Allen Waitlow, of Superior, Ariz., knocked out Pat Spoff, Memphis, Tenn., (5).

COMING STARS of the MOVIE

We present for your inspection today, ladies and gentlemen, the likeness of one Richard Arlen. Probably you're not acquainted with him just now, but it won't be long before you are—unless all Hollywood signs fail.

Arlen is the youngster who shares nearly all the glory of the twin starring role in "Wings." Since then he has been leading man for Esther Ralston, Bebe Daniels and Clara Bow.

Like his co-star, Charles Rogers, young Arlen represents the advance guard of a new type that's marching on the silver screen. He's not a Latin, and he's not of the "sneak" vintage—but a clean-cut, thoroughly American, thoroughly likable and thoroughly "non-actory" young fellow whose work and personality augur big things for him in the future.—(IIN).

TUNNEY MAY FIGHT HEENEY

By EDWARD J. NEIL, Associated Press Sports Writer.

New York, Jan. 11.—(AP)—The possibility of a fight with Gene Tunney in London for the heavy-weight championship dangled today before Tom Heenev, burly hope of the British empire, in Tex Rickard's ever-ending hunt for title material.

Heenev, who left his plumbing tools "down under" in New Zealand, to fight his way into a bout with Jack Sharkey, would like nothing better than the match now drifting about in the back of the promoter's mind. First, of course, he must dispose of the loquacious Gop from Boston in a 12-round match in Madison Square Garden Friday night. Betting odds are 8 to 5 that he won't, but none have been made within Tom's hearing.

"Blimey," said Heenev in a cockney accent as he perched on the edge of a ruffing table, training ground over, and stroked his square, bristly chin at the prospect. "Now I'll have ter whip Sharkey for a fact."

"Ginger goodness," said his manager, Charley Harvey, as he bustled busily about the gladiator, "better crowd over and stoked his square, bristly chin at the prospect. "Now I'll have ter whip Sharkey for a fact."

The blue-eyed, curly haired giant appeared today to have more than a possibility of facing a "home" crowd sometime next summer in the Wembley stadium just outside of London, and the hope came straight from Tex Rickard.

"All England needs to gain such a match is courage and a willingness to co-operate," Tex said. With him was Bernard Mortimer, London fight promoter, who assured Rickard that the site was available, the Olympic season previous and that financial backing would be forthcoming as soon as he retired to Great Britain.

There was also an indication that Heenev need only make a stirring showing against Sharkey to arouse consideration of a match abroad with Jack Dempsey, who toured Europe in triumphant fashion several years ago. Many people believe that Dempsey, even without the title, would draw as well in England as Tunney.

This the 27th day of December, 1927.

Director of Feature Photoplays, writes:

"In the direction of any of my big pictures, and especially during the filming of the Covered Wagon, the constant use of my voice demands that I keep it in first-class condition. As a cigarette smoker it was necessary that I find a cigarette which I could smoke without any chance of throat irritation or cough. After trying them all, I decided on Luckies. They are mild and mellow—which both protects the throat and gives real smoke enjoyment."

The Cream of the Tobacco Crop

"The growth of LUCKY STRIKE Cigarettes is a wonderful thing but there is a reason. I know, because I buy the Tobacco for LUCKY STRIKE, I buy 'The Cream of the Crop,' that mellow, sweet smoking Tobacco that the Farmer justly describes as I have described it above. The quality of LUCKY STRIKE Cigarettes is telling. It is natural that the brand should show the tremendous growth that it is showing today."

In a few well-chosen words, he expressed the appreciation of the entire membership for the valuable service Mr. and Mrs. Rice have rendered the Union and the deep regret felt in losing them.

MRS. DAIL HOSTESS TO SANS SOUCI CLUB

Mrs. W. H. Dail was hostess to the Sans Souci club on Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 10, having Mrs. Preston Tyson as guest of the afternoon. The routine business was rapidly dispensed with and the meeting given into the hands of Mrs. C. S. Forbes, who gave us a most interesting talk on Arcadia, her subject for the afternoon. She told something of the history of Old Arcadia and recalled for us the beautiful story of Evangeline in which Longfellow has forever made immortal the name Arcadia. The usual current events were enjoyed and proved to be particularly sly and interesting. The hostess served delicious refreshments at the close of the meeting. —Reporter

Literary Department Meets

On Tuesday afternoon the Literary Department of the Woman's Club held a most interesting meeting with Mrs. A. D. Franks. The meeting opened with the reading of the Collect. The role was called and 23 members responded with current events. We were delighted to have as our guests, Mrs. Slay, Mrs. B. H. Knight and Rev. R. J. Bamber.

After a brief business session the president, Mrs. Mangum, announced that instead of the regular program, Rev. Bamber, pastor of the Christian church, would speak to the club. Mr. Bamber used as his subject: "The Higher Value of Literature." This was instructive and enjoyed by every one present. At the conclusion of the program the hostess, assisted by Mrs. E. B. Ailsbrook and Mrs. Slay, served tempting refreshments. —Reporter

Catches 'Possum On Veranda of Local Parsonage

Possums in this part of the country evidently are suffering from the wanderlust and are beginning to hibernate far away from the dense growth of Pitt county woodland. This fact became evident yesterday when W. L. Woltz, local baker, caught a nice black specimen of the possum kingdom on a porch at the Episcopal parsonage, corner Third and Pitt streets.

The animal grinned and bristled threateningly when approached by the intruders, but soon found himself in a bag being displayed to interested persons along Evans street. The parsonage porch seems to hold a peculiar attraction for wild animals and insects. The past two summers a swarm of bees found a home in one of the large columns on the front porch and began a honey factory that probably would have been a permanency had they not been disturbed.

FOXHOUND CATCHES DEER AT BLOUNT'S CREEK

On Wednesday morning Mr. Wade Phillips, head of state game and fisheries, Messrs. Steers, of Charlotte; Chas. Moore of Washington; Bryan Marsler and Ed Godley and son, of Blount's Creek; J. R. Tucker and Brooks Tucker of Greenville, met at Mr. Gooses for a deer hunt.

Shortly after unloading the dogs, Ringwood ran a deer to Mr. Godley, who succeeded in killing it. Callie, a foxhound, owned by Mr. J. B. Tucker, and three more dogs jumped another deer, which kept out of gunshot range. The dogs kept after it until late afternoon, when they gave up the chase except old Callie, and came in. She could be heard far into Blount's oxcross driving hard. They had to leave her.

Next day after running over 24 hours, she caught the deer in Mr. Edwards' field in full view of him, Henry Jones and Fenner Norris. Callie has been carried down to Blount's Creek several times, which is 25 miles from home. Twice she was left there, in a few days she would return home, foot-sore and weary, where she is well cared for.

Turn Hair Dark With Sage Tea

By JEAN MACON
The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is a grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good even color which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage. Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product for only 75 cents, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.

Here's the life history of the world's best pipe tobacco
WE took the finest Burley that ever came out of old Kentucky. We aged it, then mellowed it by an old-time slow-but-sure secret process—the Wellman Method.
We cut it, not in fine, quick-burning chips, but in coarse, shaggy flakes that smoke as cool as a brisk sea breeze.
Then we packed it in sensible, comfortable foil (instead of costly tin) and called it Granger Rough Cut.
To half a million smokers it's "the finest pipe tobacco I ever laid a match to."

same will be true with hundreds of our readers, for despite our earnest efforts, are numbers of happenings daily that we no doubt miss because we do not know that they happen.

Did you ever stop to think that probably what you know, others would be glad to know and that what others know, you would be pleased to read about? A little effort on the part of our readers in giving us a ring to let us know of news happenings will help us greatly in our efforts to get out a better and newsier paper and each individual reader will be the gainer.

If one hundred of our readers gave us a news item each day it would mean that each of these readers in return would find in the paper 99 items about which they had not heard in addition to the regular run of news that we cover. If the number of helpful readers were increased beyond that number, just think how newsy and how much better the paper would be and how much more ably the community would be represented in the columns.

No matter how unimportant you may think the news happenig is, there is somebody who would like to read it. When you give us a ring, if you can give us full authentic details of the news happenig, it will be fine, but if you cannot give full particulars and prefer not to assume responsibility for the details, just give us the tip as to where we can get the news and we will do the rest, keeping your name as informant absolutely confidential.

Let's try this method for just a short while and see if you don't feel fully repaid for your effort in the increased local news happenings.

ABOUT TOWN

"There are considerably stronger on the Greenville tobacco market."

This message was sent out by tobaccoists yesterday after reopening of the market following the holiday season. "It is the best news we have had in some time," those who heard the statement, admitted this morning.

Farmers are always ready to market their crops early when the price situation is favorable, and this season of the year is no exception. Of course there isn't much more tobacco to be marketed but this will help boost the season's average to no little extent and give the farmer extra money to tide him over the winter months.

"This has truly been a wonderful year for the Greenville market, and no one knows it better than the farmer that was wise enough to bring his offerings here for sale."

"The greatest ambassador of good will in the world today," declared a reader of this paper today, discussing the exploits of Colonel Charles Lindbergh in his tour of Central America.

"I know of no other man who has been able to carry the spirit of America to another country in a more forceful and convincing manner. He wins the hearts of the people everywhere he goes because they realize that he has done more to blaze the way for aviation than any other man."

Lindbergh apparently lives a charmed life. No other aviator has been able to fly such long distances and under such peculiar circumstances as he without meeting with some accident. He conquered the Atlantic, flew over parts of Europe, returned home and went on a good-will tour embracing several thousand miles.

"It is impossible to enumerate the benefits to be derived from the trip to Mexico and Central America. It may be a means of drawing the people of these lands closer to America. And this alone is worth the sacrifice which this daring young adventurer of the air has made."

"We opened our basketball season here last night, playing for the first time under rules of the recently organized North Eastern Athletic conference," C. W. Porter, director of athletics of the local high school, said this morning.

"We hope to be able to establish quite a record this season, but one thing is very necessary before this becomes possible—that is the co-operation of the public. Heretofore the high school boys haven't had the support they should have had, and consequently they have been unable to turn out the teams they would have under improved conditions."

"Help that boy of yours measure up to present day standards by letting him know you are interested in his physical development. There is no better way of doing this than by attending some of the games in which he participates."

"I advertised a house for sale in the Reflector one afternoon and made a sale next morning," J. J. White, junior member of the firm of H. A. White & Sons, told a member of this staff today.

"We have always believed advertising paid, but never in my experience did we get such rapid results as in the case of this house for sale."

"We realize that legitimate advertising in the Reflector pays in the long run, because you have the circulation in this immediate territory and a news service that causes people to want to read the paper."

"My, but this is fine weather for this season of the year," remarked Judson Elbicht, member of the firm of Boutt Harvey & Co., while standing on the street yesterday afternoon, basking in the sunshine.

"It certainly would be nice if we could have the same temperature all the year around. Florida nor California would have anything on us. Instead of confining our time to the cultivation of tobacco, cotton and corn we would be able to vie with the tropics."

"But I am content with things as they are. Other sections have their advantages and disadvantages like we do, but even then it is believable that our advantages outweigh disadvantages. Pitt county is truly the proverbial garden spot of the world, and I am willing to stay here and enjoy the fruits of this old garden just as long as permitted."

"With smallpox still on an increase in this county, we would urge you to vaccinate immediately," said members of the local department of health this morning.

"Vaccination is the only way you have to immunize yourself against this dread disease. We have vaccinated numbers of people within the last few days, and expect to have numbers of others visit us before the epidemic comes to an end."

"A real 'take' assures you of being safe from contagion. If you don't get the necessary 'take' the first time it is important that you try again."

Looking Backward

Items Taken From The Reflector Of Twenty and Thirty Years Ago

January 11, 1908
 Probably the most interesting and most important item in the Reflector of the above date was a communication from the late Mr. Ola Forbes, setting forth the need of regular boat service between Greenville, Washington and Norfolk as a means of lowering the high freight rates to and from Greenville. The article pointed out the discrimination the town was suffering at the hands of the railroads and urged water transportation with its cheaper rates as the only escape from the high rates.

January 11, 1898
 The Ayden items of this date carried the following announcement: At the residence of Mr. Adolph Garris, of Ayden, on Sunday afternoon, Mr. Guy Evans of Greenville, was married to Miss Platt Garris, J. J. May, Esq., officiating. May their journey through life be as happy and free, As the dancing waves On the bright blue sea.

COTTON

New York, Jan. 11--(AP)--The cotton market was comparatively quiet today. Fluctuations were irregular. Trade buying accompanied by reports of a firm spot basis in the South, was in evidence on the declines but the advances seemed to meet selling on talk of prospects for increased acreage next spring.

After showing early net losses of 9 to 14 points, active months sold about 3 to 10 points net higher and were within a point or two of the best in mid-afternoon.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Jan. 11--(AP)--Active buying which developed after early downturns in price lifted the corn market briskly toward the last. Improvement in cash demand for corn was a strengthening factor, and so too were firmer export bids and smallness of rural offerings.

Corn closed strong, 3-4c to 1-1-4c net higher, wheat 1-2c to 5-8c to 3-4-7-8c up, oats showing 1-2 to 5-8c, 3-4c advance and provisions un-

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

New York, Jan. 11--(AP)--The stock market resumed its upward march today after an early period of irregularity. Operators for the advance, acting on the theory that the recent reaction had sufficiently corrected the weakened technical position of the market and that there was no immediate danger of a rise in money rates, started aggressive operations in a dozen or more specialties.

Call money was in plentiful supply at the renewal figure of 4 1/2 per cent. Importation of more than $8,000,000 in gold from Canada also had a favorable effect on the credit situation. Bullish sentiment likewise was created by the Interstate Commerce Commission's approval of the St. Paul reorganization plan and by the reported increase in steel mill operations and the firming commodity price tenancy.

Borden soared 9 3/4 points to 124 by early afternoon and Mullins Body jumped 5 points to 84, both new high records. Freeprot Texas, Reid Ice Cream, Christie Brown, Curtis Alphin preferred and Reynolds also reached their best prices since 1926 or 1927. Early losses of a point or so in General Motors and Radio were converted into moderate gains.

Speculative interest in the railroad group was divided between the establishment of new peak prices by the St. Paul issues and the resumption of the rise in Texas & Pacific to new high levels.

Warns Against Unlicensed Mail Order Insurance

Raleigh, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Warning against unlicensed mail order insurance companies operating in North Carolina is contained in a statement issued today by Dan C. Poney, insurance commissioner, who at the same time declared his department has no jurisdiction over such concerns.

The department, Commissioner Poney said, receives "almost daily complaints" from citizens concerning operation of the mail order insurance concerns and requests for help in collecting the benefits promised under policies issued by them.

Persons dealing with such concerns, Mr. Poney pointed out, have no redress in the courts of North Carolina.

"We have done our best," said Commissioner Poney, "to warn the people against these companies. The newspapers have helped and we have sent out hundreds of letters warning the people but still they fall for it. Nearly all of these companies offer an accident policy for one cent per day, which provides for a death benefit of $1,200. And benefits for other injuries in proportion. This looks like a bargain until you examine the coverage and find that death or injury must be sustained in the wrecking of a pleasure car, a taxicab or motor bus, a railroad passenger car, a street car, a steamship, a passenger elevator, or you must be struck by lightning, or hurt by a tornado, or be caught in the collapse of a building, or be hurt in a burning church or school, or drowned at a beach which has a life guard standing around.

"The only real protection offered the average person is that provided for injury in the wrecking of automobile of a pleasure type of car and in this there is always room for argument as to what constitutes a wreck.

Whole Air Force

LT. BENJAMIN MENDEZ

Norfolk, Va.—(AP)—Columbia's entire air force is at Hampton Roads naval air station, undergoing intensive training in the operation of seaplanes.

He is Lieutenant Benjamin Mendez.

Soon, however, the force is to be tripled. Two other army men, ranked as cadets, are in preliminary training and are coming here to complete their education in aerial navigation.

Four years ago Lieutenant Mendez entered the Curtis flying school, where he became a skilled mechanic. Last year, after becoming attached to the Columbian army, he went through a course in flying at Brook's Field, Texas, and then was graduated in advanced flying at Kelly Field. From there he went to Mitchell Field, New York, to pursue his studies and then came here to learn more about seaplanes.

Morned as Dead Man Shows up at Asheville Home

Asheville, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Mourned as dead for six months after he had been reported critically wounded while fighting with the marine corps in Nicaragua, Charles Sidney Garrison, 24, gave his family a startling moment today when he walked into the home unannounced.

His shoulder, arm and face received during last year's sharp skirmishes. Garrison first was taken to a naval hospital at San Diego, Calif., and later removed to Norfolk when he received an honorable discharge because of physical disability. He hadn't written home through all these months, he said, because he had not the heart or physical strength and assumed the government was keeping his family informed.

"Catch Sandino, and the Nicaraguan war is all over at once," he said today. "Sandino gets recruited by shooting all men who refuse to join him. All the fighting down there is ambushing and that's had nothing to do with it."

Notorious Mafia Gets Death Blow

Rome, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Government officials were confident today that the notorious Mafia had been given a death blow. After a trial lasting three months, 147 members of the organization have been convicted of various crimes ranging from larceny to murder. Seven were acquitted.

The trial was the outcome of a promise made by Premier Mussolini to free the country from the shadow of the Mafia. Under the premier's orders, Prefet Mori rounded up the brigands.

It took the jury three days to reach a verdict on all of the accused.

When the verdict was read, the public prosecutor asked the court to impose these penalties: hard labor for life for seven, 30 years, imprisonment for eight and imprisonment of from five to 25 years for the others convicted.

Actresses Find Divorces Easy At Chicago, Ill.

Chicago, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Just why Chicago should have been chosen by several actresses during the past few months as the place to get divorces is not readily apparent to lawyers unless it be that the Illinois laws are reasonably broad and residential requirements not so strict.

Fannie Brice, the comedienne who has sung so feelingly of "My Man" was the leader in the most recent list of stage personalities to seek and obtain divorces here. There have followed through the past few weeks the divorce cases of Helen Menken, Marion Harris, Suzanne Caubet (Mrs. Crane Wilbur) niece of Sarah Bernhart, and just this week Evelyn Herbert, who came from New York for the short court proceedings and then hurried back to the east of "My Maryland".

Illinois' legal requirements for divorces remain as stringent as ever, said one attorney, but compliance with them leads in many instances to facility and speed.

Capone Still Heads Chicago Gang Forces

Chicago, Jan. 11.—(AP)—All the talk about Al Capone transferring the mantle of gang leadership in Chicago to big Tim Murphy, erstwhile head of the gas house workers' union, is "bunk" so far as big Tim is concerned.

Murphy denied having conferred with Capone, now in Miami, Fla., and pooh-poohed report that he was to take any part, let alone a leading one, in gang affairs here.

Capone has sent for his wife and children to join him in Miami having been assured by the police that there that he was not persona non grata as he was in Los Angeles last month as he now is in Chicago, as the police have repeatedly asserted.

Airplane Carrier Off on Maiden Trip

Delaware Breakwater, Del., Jan. 11.—(AP)—The giant airplane carrier Saratoga, which had been anchored here since last Friday calling her radio compasses, passed out to sea this morning. The Saratoga, which is on her maiden sea trip and will join the Pacific fleet, will stop at Hampton roads for ammunition and then proceed to Newport, R. I., where the carrier will take on torpedoes. The vessel will then go to the west coast by way of the Panama canal.

Long Skirts Next Spring is Edict of N. Y. Style Show

New York, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Women of fashion will wear longer skirts next spring—fully one inch below the knee—if the modes displayed at the semi-annual style review of the garment retailers of America are allowed.

There are new colors for spring—red, independence blue, a light gray blue, water blue, a blue with greenish tinge and natural beige, grayish tone of beige, beige, a grayish tone of beige.

Judge Winston a Candidate Windsor, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Judge Francis D. Winston, veteran Windsor barrister, again is to be a candidate on the Democratic ticket for the House of Representatives at Raleigh.

CIGARET SMOKING WOMAN TO PREACH IN LOUISVILLE

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 11.—(AP)—Whether or not Agnes Royden smokes cigarettes has nothing to do and will not interfere with the scheduled appearance of "England's most distinguished preacher" here February 1, according to Mrs. Dennis L. Miller, of the Louisville chapter of the American guild of health.

The position of the Louisville chapter of the American guild of health was explained by Mrs. Miller when she said:

"We are bringing Miss Royden to Louisville because we consider her a gifted speaker and one of the most spiritual powers of our day, and we are in absolute accord with her when she says that she does not consider cigarette smoking of religious importance."

Lyle Womack, husband of Ruth Elder, stamps the alleged misconduct charges made against her in Georgia as "blackmail," and adds that he would like to knock down her accusers.

Senator Capper of Kansas seeks reduction in railroad freights on grain. Not all farmers realize that uncle Sam's money has been spent to make it impossible for farmers in Washington, then swiftly backing down when anything happens, are not convincing to Mexicans.

But brings dropping solid, explosive messages from the air would be most convincing.

In one way or another this country should uphold its treaty rights for a Nicaragua canal and prove that it takes seriously President Coolidge's warnings and accusations of last January and last April concerning Mexico's conspiracy, and secret warfare against the United States.

If you are fat, you treat your heart unjustly. So says Dr. James to carry extra weight, but that is only a part of it. Fifty to 100 useless pounds of weight represent endless billions of living cells that demand nourishment, heat, water, and their added share of the energy that causes metabolism, or the change of tissue.

Extra weight tires the body, the brain and the heart, constituting a "loafer class," or idle rich class in the system that shortens life, diminishes comfort and usefulness. In that, a human body is like a government, idle rich that consume and contribute nothing, except silly opinions, are harmful to the entire body politic and a way should be found to make them work.

An insane person is not allowed to control his property. Is there any good reason why an idle, non-productive drone should be allowed to control his? That may sound like the dreaded "Bolshevism" now. But some day it will become necessary to recall earnestly Prudhomme warning "Monarchs are destroyed by poverty, republics are destroyed by wealth."

Farmers in this country, away from the seaboard, pay very high railroad freights to either coast, and cannot compete with more fortunately placed Canadians. That applies to products other than grain.

Railroads must live and grow, of course. But if the government cannot or should not reduce the freight rates on grain, why not give a bounty or subsidy to farmers, unfortunately situated. Better, still, why not build canals, as Europe does, and give farmers water transportation to the Atlantic and the Gulf.

B. C. Forbes says that great banking houses, notably Morgan & Co., biggest of the aggressively enterprising firms, admit to partnership men about forty years old. Davison, Lamont, Morrow and other important Morgan partners were taken in at about forty, the age supposed to combine sound judgment with power to carry a heavy load.

In other days, forty began the "graybeard" age. Great careers, Alexander and Napoleon, the two most spectacular were over at that age. Age is pushed farther and farther back, and the J. P. Morgan of 200 years hence may be selecting 75 year old partners for their "combination of mental and physical strength."

Senator Capper of Kansas seeks reduction in railroad freights on grain. Not all farmers realize that uncle Sam's money has been spent to make it impossible for farmers
