AMERICAN ACE WAITS ARRIVAL OF FRENCHMEN

Lindbergh on Colon Flying Field Ready To Greet Costes and Lebrix.

Panama, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, who will not take off before tomorrow on his flight to Caracas, Venezuela, en route to Havana, was standing by at France field, Colon, today for the news of the progress of Dieudonne Costes and Joseph Lebrix, French aviators, whose next scheduled stop is Panama.

Panama, Jan. 13.—(AP)—The Spirit of St. Louis was being grounded today for further aerial adventures, as Panama prepared to welcome two other airmen.

It was expected that the French flyers, Dieudonne Costes and Joseph Lebrix, would arrive today from Guayaquil, Ecuador, 800 miles distant. In honor of their coming President Chiari proclaimed a national holiday.

In army circles in the Canal Zone it was freely said that Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh would be spirited away for a two day's rest while his plane was tuned up at France field for the 900-mile hop to Caracas, Venezuela.

Lindbergh was stated to be very tired and it was intended that he be taken to Buquete. Buquete is that portion of the province of Chiriqui which includes the Barú volcano, now extinct. It is an ideal health resort because of its cool climate. It is 4,000 feet above sea level and is not for its coffee, strawberries and other fruits of a temperate climate.

Lindbergh is expected to fly in any plane there, as the district is equipped with an airfield.

The Spirit of St. Louis was partly dismantled while mechanics including one from the Wright factory checked its motor.

Presents Bell As Memorial To Her Daughter

A bell, the gift of Mrs. Clara J. Forbes, as a memorial to her daughter, Mrs. Rose Forbes Quinerty, is being placed in the belfry of Jarvis Memorial Methodist church here. The bell is a Blymer 54 inch cast steel one, weighing three thousand pounds.

It is of the type used in some of the greatest church edifices of the world and is noted for its clear, rich, mellow tone.

The necessary remodeling of the belfry and the placing of the large bell will require several days. The memorial will be formally presented to the church and used for the first time on Sunday, Jan. 22.

Mrs. Rose Forbes Quinerty, to whom the bell is a memorial, died September 11, 1922. She was a native of this city and a staunch believer in and supporter of the Methodist faith from her early childhood. She was one of the first, if not the first, teacher of the organized Philaeba class of the Methodist church here, and was an important factor in the various women's civic organizations of the city and county.

Hammer Slayer To Go On Trial For Life Soon

Painesville, O., Jan. 12.—(AP)—Mrs. Velma West, confessed hammer slayer of her husband, Thomas Edward West, will go on trial some time next month on a charge of first degree murder.

The 21-year old widow of the Perry, O., nurseman, was indicted on the first degree count in an unexpected partial report of the Lake county grand jury late yesterday.

Prosecutor Seth Paulin, who had presented more than 40 witnesses said he would demand the extreme penalty when she is brought to trial.

Mrs. West received the news calmly.

The prosecution has not indicated how it will attempt to prove the "deliberate and premeditated malice" charged in the indictment. Mrs. West has admitted the killing in a confession, parts of which have never been made public, but claims he struck in self defense during an argument over her going to bridge party in Cleveland.

West, who was 26, was slain at the West's cottage at Perry, O., last December 6. He and Mrs. West had been married scarcely a year.

Santa Barbara, Calif., Jan. 11.—Among our 48 states, California stands fifth in wealth, climate and scenery, as a Los Angeles editor remarks, not included. A 250-mile motor trip from San Simeon, south to Ventura before noon today, convinced this writer, and would convince anyone, that California, in the future, will have wealth greater than the present total wealth of the United States.

The sun almost uncomfortably hot, shiner on fields covered with deep green new grass and clover. Thousands of cows, in the dairy district north of San Luis Obispo, seem almost bored with their luxury as they stand knee deep, in rich pasture.

Part of the time, the wide concrete road runs close to the ocean, more of it runs through fertile valleys, round green high hills on either side providing unlimited grazing lands.

Where the velvet green carpet is stripped off on the hill sides the earth below is black as soot, rich as Texas black wax land, and with "spring" crops well advanced.

There is wealth of all kinds in this land, its mines, oil wells and water power. But the great wealth, permanent, inexhaustible, is in the soil.

A run of a little more than 200 miles takes you to Ventura, where hundreds of men are working their wells out in the ocean, and running temporary oil pipe lines along the road side, dozens of welders uniting the pipe joints with gaseous fire, fed from tanks.

Ventura county holds hundreds of millions of barrels of oil. Only the beginning of that wealth has been developed. But the wise citizens of Ventura county, seek to develop industries, and tell you that $40,000,000 worth of manufactured articles were produced in the county last year.

California is not recommended to the man without money, who

DEAD BABY IS REVIVED

Application of Oxygen and Blood Transfusions Save Life of Child at Chicago.

Chicago, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Baby George Smith, born New Year's Day, pronounced dead Wednesday noon, and then revived by oxygen and later strengthened by two blood transfusions, today was given a "long chance for recovery" by attending physicians.

Steady improvement in the child's condition was noted after midnight, when his breathing was deeper and his cries became louder and more frequent. Feeding with a medicine dropper continued regularly and the infant appeared to be improving under the nourishment.

Mrs. Mary Smith, the mother, who submitted twice to blood transfusions, and a squad of firemen, who have administered oxygen unceasingly since Wednesday, were the other principals in the drama of life and death.

Last Saturday, the infant who weighed nine and a half pounds at birth, underwent a minor operation but failed to improve. About noon Wednesday, he apparently had ceased breathing, and a frantic call to the fire department brought men to the house with regulation fire fighting equipment.

The fireman squad remained and worked over the tiny form for 36 hours. Then came the first faint cry. Baby George's eyelids flickered. His tiny hand tightened around the finger of an attending fireman. And the squad moved in happiness.

A short time before, the mother had given her son two ounces of blood. A second transfusion operation was performed last night and soon afterward the condition of the infant prompted Dr. I. A. Abel, a baby specialist, to hold out hope for recovery.

Up to 3 a. m. today 50 tanks of oxygen had been consumed.

CHAMBERLAIN STILL ALOFT OVER N. YORK

Flying Ace Continues Circling Over City In Effort to Beat En- durance Record.

Roosevelt Field, N. Y., Jan. 13.—(AP)—Gasoline and oil leaks, trouble with flying instruments, and sickness from had food were reported in a note dropped to the ground today by Clarence D. Chamberlain, trans-Atlantic flier, who yesterday began an endurance flight with Roger Q. Williams.

Roosevelt Field, N. Y., Jan. 13.—(AP)—A Bellanca monoplane piloted by Clarence D. Chamberlain, New York to Germany flier, with Roger D. Williams as co-pilot, today was circling slowly over Long Island in an attempt to remain aloft longer than any plane has ever remained.

Chamberlain, however, said nothing about abandoning the flight, but asked about weather reports, indicating that he planned to keep on flying.

He requested A. A. Martine, the backer of the flight, to ascertain if weather bureau officials advised a flight to Washington in search of better flying weather. Martine learned that unsettled weather conditions were reported at the capital and this information was relayed by megaphone to the two fliers.

If the plain remains in the air until 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon it will have brought back to the United States the endurance flight record which Chamberlain held with Bert Acosta until last August when Johann Ritzel and Cornelius Edward took it to Germany.

The monoplane resembles the Columbia, in which, after establishing an endurance record last spring, Chamberlain piloted Charles Levine across the Atlantic to Germany.

Chamberlain and Williams traveled at an average speed of 80 miles an hour, at an altitude varying between 500 and 1,000 feet.

The present record is 52 hours, 22 minutes and 31 seconds. G. M. Bellanca, builder of the plane, estimated that the 471 gallons carried on the take-off would keep the plane aloft about 59 hours.

In a message dropped for A. R. Martine, the plane's owner, Chamberlain reported a lower gas consumption than expected and said there was "no doubt about breaking the record if no trouble."

The exhaust heater connection had broken off from vibrations, he said, "so it looks like a cold ride." But he said it was quite pleasant in the cabin. The aluminum strip used to stream-line the landing gear, had also fallen off.

The take-off was made at 10:11:52 Thursday morning, from the field alongside the runway. At that time the plane was carrying a load of more than 5,500 pounds, exceeding by 100 pounds that with which the Columbia set out for Germany.

Woman Voters For Houston

Washington, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Women on the democratic national committee voted differently from the men delegates of their respective states in only eight cases in selection yesterday of a convention city.

In seven states, Colorado, Iowa, Maine, Maryland, New York, Ohio and Utah, and in the Philippines, there was a difference of opinion, the men, except the Ohio committee, favoring San Francisco and the women Houston. In the case of Ohio this preference was reversed.

In six other states there was a difference of opinion between the men and women in the early balloting that was smoothed out before the final vote. In every instance except Missouri, this agreement was accomplished by the women swinging around to stand of the men.

On the final vote, 20 women voted for Houston and twenty-one for San Francisco.

Trotzky At Work On Soviet Paper At Berlin Today

Berlin, Jan. 12.—(AP)—A special dispatch from Kovno, Lithuania, today says that Leon Trotzky has been assigned to editorial work in the Soviet State Publishing House but that he will not be permitted to publish his memoirs.

Recent dispatches received in Berlin have reported that Trotzky and other prominent members of the group opposed to the Stalin regime would be banished to remote parts of Soviet Russia as punishment for their so-called counter-revolutionary activities.

Pitt Medical Society Holds Rousing Meeting In Town of Farmville

In the midst of one of the most brilliant displays of oratorical fireworks launched by its membership in months, the Pitt County Medical Society in regular monthly session at the high school building in Farmville last night, enjoyed a further supper, discussed plans vitally affecting the organization at the present time and inducted into the office of president Dr. W. M. Willis, of Farmville, who was elected at a previous meeting. He succeeds Dr. E. T. Dickinson of Greenville, of the Pitt Community hospital.

It was the first time in months the society had held a meeting outside of Greenville and it will be a long time before members forget the splendid way they were entertained on their visit to the thriving young Pitt county town. Supper was served by members of the domestic science department of the Farmville high school with Drs. W. M. Willis and Paul Jones acting as hosts.

The principal address of the evening was delivered by Dr. J. M. Baker, of Tarboro, one of the oldest and best known physicians of the community in which he has served so many years. He spoke on the subject, "Professional Ethics and the Doctor," giving a vivid portrayal of the qualifications necessary to the successful practice of the most important science of all—cras—the preservation of human life.

Dr. Paul Fitzgerald, of Greenville, read an interesting paper, dealing with the subject, "Dental Ethics." He gave an illuminating description of the ethics dominating the life of his profession, and declared that the Golden Rule had always been an important factor in the application of their code dealing with human morality and duty.

The retirement of the old president and induction of the new president was marked by the utmost simplicity. Dr. Dickinson presided over the first part of the session, and surrendered the gavel to Dr. Willis following an eloquent expression of the pleasure and joy of his services in behalf of the organization. He said he had been a member of numbers of societies during his day, but had never enjoyed a more profound spirit of fellowship and co-operation than marked his administration of the office of president of the Pitt county society.

He paid tribute to the motive impelling members of the society to work in such close harmony, and reiterated the belief that the future held forth wonderful opportunities for continued development and achievement.

After being ushered to the executive chair by Dr. Thompson and Schultz, Dr. Willis thanked his hearers for the high honor which had been conferred upon him, and assured them that he would labor untiringly for the high ideals made extant by those who filled the office before him. He was optimistic over the outlook of the organization, and declared the future was filled with greater opportunities for service than ever before.

Dr. Baker prefaced his address by referring to the records of illustrious members of the profession of the section who had played such an important part in development of medical science. He recalled the names of Drs. O'Hagan, and Brown of Pitt, and Taylor, McDonald and Pitman of neighboring counties, and paid tribute to wonderful heritage which they have handed down to the present generation.

"It feel like a connecting link between these pioneers and the doctors of today," Dr. Baker declared, "and having passed the allotted period of the Psalmist, with nearly 50 years of professional life behind me, I am in position to realize the glory of the treasures which these predecessors have handed down to us."

Deploping the tendency of some physicians to excessively commercialize the profession, Dr. Baker said: "But some will say, 'Destroy the spirit of commercialism and the doctors will become pauperized.' Doctors have families to support, children to educate, and various other obligations of citizenship which require money. His position of respectability and standing must be maintained. His wife has social obligations to be fulfilled; and so had he, and is doing his part every day but the time has never yet been and never will be, when to do this it was necessary for the faithful, conscientious, painstaking doctor to descend to the level of a com-

ONE KILLED IN SKIRMISH WITH MINERS

Three Also Injured in Disorders Among Striking Coal Miners In Colorado.

Walsenburg, Colo., Jan. 13.—(AP)—Scores of state and volunteer police were on guard here today, following the latest skirmish with sympathizers of striking coal miners which resulted in one death and wounding of three persons.

While machine guns were placed in positions commanding the principal streets during an exchange of shots yesterday between police and miners led by alleged representatives of industrial workers of the world, these weapons were not used.

The firing started when police attempted to break up a parade of approximately 600 strike sympathizers following a meeting of miners in a hall used by I. W. W. leaders since the walkout was called Oct. 18 last.

As the parading miners approached a group of officers, Salentino Martinez, 20 stepped from the ranks and shot Max Lordman, a state law enforcement officer. Martinez was shot and probably fatally wounded by an officer as he attempted to escape. Peter Verlich another miner was slightly wounded. Lordman was said to have a chance of recovery.

The shooting broke up the parade and the demonstrators rushed back to the hall where they barricaded themselves and began sniping from windows. Police returned the fire and Klementz Chavez, 35, fell from a window mortally wounded. His companions quickly recovered the body.

NAVAL COURT STILL PROBES BOAT SINKING

Assistant Commander of First Naval Dis- trict First to Take Stand Today.

Boston, Jan. 13.—(AP)—After a recess from Wednesday to make possible a reenactment of the collision between the coast guard destroyer Paulding and the Submarine S-4 of Provincetown harbor, the Naval court of inquiry reconvened today at the Boston Navy Yard.

The destroyer Monaghan and the Submarine S-6 went over the course of the vessels which collided November 17. Captain H. D. Cooke, assistant commander of the first Naval district, was the first to take the stand today. Describing his observations during yesterday's test, Captain Cooke said that with 7-power glasses he had observed the periscopes of the S-6 at a distance of 5,200 yards. After discarding the glasses he was able to sight the periscopes at a distance of 600 yards, although it had been possible to see something moving through the water at a considerable greater distance. The visibility was excellent, sea smooth.

The witness said a test to determine the time required for the destroyer to slow down from a speed of 18 knots to one knot or less had shown that this operation required one minute, 12 seconds.

To put the helm of the destroyer full right required 7 seconds. After five seconds the bow had moved two degrees and after thirty seconds, the change was 22 degrees.

In response to questions by commander Leslie E. Bratton, Judge Advocate, Captain Cooke said that under the weather conditions prevailing December 17 he probably would have been able to sight the periscopes with glasses at a distance of from 500 to 600 yards and without glasses at a distance of from 300 to 500 yards. In each case, the estimated depended on whether he actually was looking for periscopes, he said, the distance would be cut in half in each case.

The witness said that if he were in command of a destroyer making 18 knots, then suddenly noticed the periscopes of a submarine 200 feet away one point off the port bow, he would back full speed first giving the order "full right rudder." He would feel that a collision was inevitable unless the submarine submerged before the destroyer reached her.

MRS. SNYDER AND JUDD GRAY PAID SUPREME PENALTY LAST NIGHT AT SING SING PRISON

Illicit Lovers Died in Electric Chair Short- ly After Eleven O'clock Following Failure of Attorneys To Stay Sentences.

Ossining, N. Y., Jan. 13.—(AP)—Mrs. Ruth Snyder and Henry Judd Gray, illicit lovers, died in the electric chair of Sing Sing prison seven minutes apart last night.

They were executed for the murder of her husband, Albert Snyder, magazine art editor, who was beaten to death while asleep in his home at Queens Village, Long Island, March 20 last.

Mrs. Snyder was pronounced dead at 11:09 o'clock and Gray at 11:15. Suggestions freely made that Mrs. Snyder would collapse at the end were not borne out. She walked to the death dealing chair and seated herself in it with little direction from two matrons accompanying her. They held her arms but were guiding her more than lending support.

Gray was the Gray of the Long Island city court room, who walked with elastic tread to and from the court room each day. In court, however, Gray for all his almost jaunty walk, always stepped in and out of the room with eyes averted. At his execution, the former corset salesman looked directly into the faces of the witnesses, numbering almost two score.

Mrs. Snyder walked into the execution chamber with slightly dragging step and although her eyes were wide open they were apparently unseeing and it was evident that for her the crowded room did not exist. She closed her eyes as she slipped into the electric chair.

Both died with prayers on their lips. Just before the black mask, the last detail of the final arrangements, was placed over her face, Mrs. Snyder cried: "Forgive them, Father, for they know not what they do." Gray's last words were not audible but it was certain that his lips were moving in prayer as the current was applied.

The Sing Sing death chamber issued a bold black warning to those who assemble there, "silence." The warning was not necessary as Mrs. Snyder, the first woman to be executed in the state in nearly 30 years, came through the door bearing the sign. The 20 newspaper men and seven physicians, three of them prison doctors, were silent. Only the slight sound of escaping steam from a radiator could be heard.

Mrs. Snyder wore a black dress with a tan sash and she walked 25 feet from her cell. One of her black stockings, the right was rolled down. Her slippers were gray felt. Her heels were moving but the words could not be distinguished until she was heard to murmur, "Have mercy on my soul." The Roman Catholic chaplain of the prison stepped forward as she was placed in the chair and Warden Lewis E. Lawes asked if the condemned had anything to say. Then the woman repeated the words of Christ on the Cross.

Immediately the black mask hid her face from the lookers-on, and four minutes later she was pronounced dead.

As soon as the body of the woman could be removed from the chair and the room, Gray was brought in, walking with two guards who barely touched his elbows.

Gray was carefully groomed, in contrast to the bedraggled appearance of his erstwhile paramour. He wore a gray suit with a handkerchief showing from a pocket of his vest and was freshly shaven.

Mrs. Snyder had washed her hair on her last day alive but prison confinement with no access to beauty parlor equipment had destroyed the wave of her blonde hair apparent to court at her trial. Her hair was streaked with brown and was much longer than she wore it when she was the Queens Village housewife.

Gray seated himself in the chair and the protestant chaplain of the prison began to repeat each of the "blessed" as he quoted the assurances from the scriptures of instant forgiveness for many. The prisoner's lips seemed to move in response but no one could hear what he said.

Three times the pulsing current of the dynamo feeding the chair with electricity had been sent through the form of Mrs. Snyder but only twice was it called on to snuff out the life of Gray.

The second execution over in absolute quiet, the witnesses filed slowly and solemnly from the death chamber. As they left the prison Dr. C. C. Sweet, chief Sing Sing surgeon, and his assistants, Dr. Kerney and Godin, were performing the autopsies the law requires.

Relatives of Snyder, through counsel, had sought to prevent this but their contention was overruled.

COOLIDGE TO BEGIN CUBAN TRIP TODAY

President Scheduled To Speak at Pan- American Congress Next Monday.

Washington, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Promised a week of sunshine and warm weather, President Coolidge looked to the balmy breezes of the south today with everything ready for him to begin his journey to Havana, Cuba—the fourth chief executive to leave American shores while in office.

One of the longest special trains in history of presidential travel in history of Union station for the start this afternoon of a trip which will take Mr. Coolidge, accompanied by a party of eighty-five along the Atlantic seaboard through Virginia, the Carolinas, Georgia and Florida to the miniature Island of Key West. There he will board the battleship Texas for the crossing to the Cuban capital.

Carrying a message of friendly feeling from the people of the United States, the President will open the sixth annual pan-American congress in Havana Monday with an address that will be heard by the representatives of nearly all of the countries of the western hemisphere comprising the international conference of American states. The President's speech, and that of President Machado of Cuba, will be broadcast.

A group of distinguished Americans had been invited by the President to make the trip with him. These included secretary and Mrs. Kellogg and Secretary and Mrs. Wilbur. Secretary Davis of the labor department had business in Florida and was invited to ride with Mr. Coolidge to Jacksonville.

Although a number of operating stops will be made en route to Key West the only formal stop on the way south will be at Miami tomorrow afternoon where the President and his party will detain to make a tour of the city. From Miami the special train will push southward over the bridge which connects the numerous keys of southern Florida.

Embarking on the Texas early Sunday morning, the seven hours to cross to Havana in the Cuban executive and a welcoming party of distinguished citizens. He will go directly to the National Palace where he and Mrs. Coolidge will live during their two-day visit.

After delivering his address Monday and attending a dinner in his honor in the evening, the President will remain in the palace overnight and begin his journey homeward the following morning. Taylor is Third Doomed to Death On Robbery Charge

Raleigh, Jan. 13.—(AP)—If Will Taylor, negro convicted in Onslow county of burglary and sentenced to death in state prison electric chair a week from today, is executed he will be the third man for that crime, prison authorities pointed out today.

Since the state adopted the present means of exacting the death penalty, only ten men have been convicted of burglary in the first degree. Of these ten, only two were executed, the seven having their sentences changed to life imprisonment. Taylor awaits his fate.

Governor McLean is expected to hold a final hearing on the case here next week.

Brazilian City Wiped Out By Flood Waters

Rio Janeiro, Jan. 13.—(AP)—The city of Diamantina has been wiped out by floods, advisers received here state. Diamantina, which is in the state of Minas Geraes, is the center of the diamond industry in Brazil. More than one thousand houses are declared to have been destroyed by the rushing waters of the mountain streams. Five thousand persons were estimated to have been made homeless. They are suffering from lack of food and medical attention.

HAS FAITH CINCINNATI

Cincinnati, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Jack Hendricks is expected to introduce his 1927 Reds to the diamond world in April as the "stand pat" of 1928. Professed faith in his 1927 crew, Hendricks has faced the player-swaps intended to strengthen his adversaries apparently with unconcern.

Aside from the unsuccessful negotiations for Cuyler when the Pirates walked him on the plank into the welcoming Cubs camp, Hendricks has had no noteworthy trades under consideration although he has taken in a few rookie recruits from the reserve bench.

Despite its early season flop the 1927 cast demonstrated championship ability in reeling off 650 percent baseball in the closing three months of last season, but the rally came too late to put the boys seriously in the flag class.

Lugue, Lucas, Klop and Jablonowski will constitute the "Big Four" in the hurling shop. The latter, a Waterbury, Conn. recruit showed prominently in the last of the season.

Eppa Rixey may be all but out of the game. Being a veteran in service put him near retirement and he has weakened this winter by a long illness. He may see relief duty late in the season. Jim Edwards, a Seattle importation, is said to hold promise and two youngsters, Kenneth Ashe, of the South Atlantic League, and Aloysius Sweeney, or Orlando, are new pitching blood.

Hendricks' main concern is how to arrange an already excellent outfield with two as good or better men of the bench. Oressler, left; Allen, center; Walker, right; and Titzman, utility, compose the surveyed, heavy hitting 2-3-4's.

Sufforth will carry first catcher honors, with Plimlich second in command of the plate, while Hargrave and his batting eye will be cast in more of a savior of the day role.

Kelly and Pipp will again alternate on the initial sack, Huggins Critz is on the dotted line for the keystone bag and will have no holdout to stage this year. Ford will again be in the short field with Pittinger in reserve and Drexler undisputedly corners the third bag. R. Emmett McCan, taken from Columbus, will understudy Critz.

HORNBY DEAL MYSTIFIES BASEBALL EXPERTS

Outfielder Jim Welch (left), and Catcher Frank Hogan (right), have been exchanged by the Boston Braves to the New York Giants in return for Rogers Hornsby (center). Hornsby's value is estimated at $250,000, while Welch and Hogan are practically rookies, and no one can quite fathom the reason for this weird trade, as it's claimed no money changed hands in the transaction.

Babe Ruth Goes Back to N. York

Goldboro, Jan. 13.—(AP)—George Herman Ruth returned to New York today after a hunting trip in eastern North Carolina, with unqualified evidence that he is a good shot at field.

Embarking on a train east from here, the Babe carried with him a goodly collection of North Carolina wild duck, quail, rabbits, geese and turkeys.

At a banquet here last night given in his honor by Goldsboro citizens, including several score boys, Ruth declared: "I love North Carolina and I'm coming back next year. The hospitality has been wonderful; hunting possibilities unlimited, and the climate fine."

SPORTS SLANTS

By ALAN J. GOULD, Associated Press Sports Editor.

New York, Jan. 13.—(AP)—It appears now that if John McGraw has any idea of grooming a successor or himself as manager of the Giants he must look for some one else besides a second baseman.

The two keystone workers who have been picked in recent years as heirs apparent to the McGraw throne both have gone away from here on short notice, a circumstance that lends color to the expert theory that the money interest behind the Giants desire to keep the "little Napoleon" lashed to the helm.

Just four years ago Frank Frisch, a product of McGraw's developing skill, was publicly picked out as the man upon whom the veteran's mantle would fall. But the Fordham flash developed what McGraw regarded as temperamental tendencies. He was traded to St. Louis in the deal that brought the great Rogers Hornsby to the metropolitan fold as captain and new "logical successor" to McGraw.

Hornsby, in an interview with the Associated Press late last season, said: "I would rather work for McGraw than any other man in baseball. I have the utmost respect for his judgment and methods. I think in return, he has confidence in me. Our ideas run along the same line. McGraw is a fighter. He has forgotten more baseball than I will ever know."

It's all business with him. That's what I like. When McGraw issues an order no one questions it. He may be wrong but if he is, he will take the blame."

This was typical of seeming harmony of thought and action between the veteran and his field leader.

In view of such relationship it is difficult for observers to reconcile that sends Hornsby to the graves, leaving the Giants without a second baseman of known ability.

It also leaves the Giants without a "crown prince" unless the veteran Coach Roger Bresnahan, is elevated to that position.

Bresnahan, if he has any managerial ambitions, has the advantage of not being a second baseman.

At this point he quoted a poem in which a doctor dreamed of going to heaven. An angel was sent down to show the dreamer the way to glory. On the way they passed the portals of hell, where the devils who never paid their doctors' bills were confined. The doctor paused and looked upon the scene in wonderment. The angel urged him to continue the trip, that they had not reached heaven yet. "Come, doctor, the pearly gates I see." But the doctor only muttered, "This is heaven enough for me." The lines were couched in a light vein and provoked considerable merriment.

Taking part in the round table discussion of two subjects presented by the speakers were Drs. E. T. Dickinson, Perry, Thompson, Grady Dixon, Massey, Shultz, Pace, Jones, Merrill and Frizelle.

Dr. Malcolm Thompson was appointed chairman of a committee to provide a complete program for each meeting of the present year.

Dr. Paul Jones invited the society to attend a conference of Fifth District Dental Society to be held in Greenville at the college next Monday.

Sharkey Out For Heavyweight Glory In New York Tonight

New York, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Making his first ring start since being knocked horizontal by Jack Dempsey last summer, Jack Sharkey returned his heavyweight title pursuit tonight in a 13-round bout against Tom Heeney, of New Zealand, in Madison Square Garden.

The ex-garrulous ex-gob from Boston is a favorite although many boxing followers are cautiously withholding opinions. Sharkey is expected to be the choice by 2-1-2 to 10 o'clock for the prospect of punching his way into a championship affair with Gene Tunney.

Tex Rickard hopes to match the winner against Tunney but he has announced that his decision will depend on the showing of the battlers.

Dempsey's reputation for "raining" his opponents has created doubt as to what showing may be expected from Sharkey. The terrific body punches which the Bostonian absorbed from Dempsey continue in the discussion.

Physicians said that Sharkey was in fine condition, even better than when he faced Jim Maloney and Dempsey. To outward appearance he was not harmed permanently in his clash with the manassa mauler.

DEMOCRACY IS SET FOR CONVENTION

Forces to Get Presidential Nominee Lined Up for Houston Meeting this Year.

Washington, Jan. 13.—(AP)—With the fires of Jackson Democracy kindled anew to guide it to power, the Democratic party was squared away today for the task of selecting its presidential nominee next June at Houston, Texas.

The picture of a pathway to the White House, illuminated by the principles of Jackson and Jefferson stands before the party leaders; portrayed to them last night by a parade of contenders for the nomination who voiced pleas for internal accord and united front for the coming campaign.

All of the prominently mentioned candidates except Governor Smith of New York, who sent a message, appeared before party leaders who with the Democratic National Committee, paraded a Jackson day dinner that had harmony as its main course. The dinner gathered after the Committee earlier had surprised everybody by selecting Houston for its convention, to begin June 26 two weeks after the Republican convention opens in Kansas City.

From a decidedly dark horse position in the race before the committee met, Houston sprang into the lead on the first ballot, ahead of San Francisco, Detroit and Chicago, and staved there until its victory on the fifth ballot. The victory came after Texas delegation, headed by the party's finance committee chairman, Jesse H. Jones, who waved a certified check for $200,000 made an earnest invitation, and thus the south was given a Democratic convention for the first time since the civil war.

All of the factional strife that has marked recent party history appeared forgotten at the banquet table, the one suggestion of controversy coming with a triple mention of prohibition. The subject was introduced by Governor Ritchie of Maryland, who urged that prohibition be settled by self-determination and home rule. That prompted John W. Davis, the 1924 standard bearer and the banquet toastmaster, to voice his opinion that the test of a candidate's fitness should not be based upon his views on prohibition.

The other mention was by Dan Moody, Texas youthful Governor, who said the Republican party must be held responsible for failure to enforce the Eighteenth Amendment. He added his view that the amendment could no more be repealed than could the Ten Commandments or the Golden Rule, and that the Democratic party should unite for law enforcement.

The prohibition discussion came after the assemblage cheered the reading of the message from Governor Smith, who said the press of official business kept him at home. Read by the former Lieutenant Governor Lunn of New York, the message counseled the party to adhere to the principals of Jackson and to apply them in its platform to the problems of the day.

Wild applause shattered the silence that marked the reading of the letter and as the diners rose to their feet William G. MaAdoo, Smith's opponent in the 1924 convention deadlock, also stood up smiling.

Similar counsel came from other speakers, with some of them interspersing jibes at the Republican party. A lighter side was offered by Will Rogers, the comedian, who wisecracked his way to continuous applause by poking fun at both Democrats and Republicans parties and personalities.

TEN REBELS ARE KILLED

Marine Forces in Nicaragua Still Attacking Sandino From Land and Air.

Washington, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Marine corps aviators operating in conjunction with land forces against General Sandino in Nicaragua have slain ten more of the latter's forces by aerial bombing, the basis of dispatches to the Navy Department from Rear Admiral Sellers, commanding the special service squadron in Nicaraguan waters.

The message said the aviators on January 11 located a group of Sandino's followers at Laguna Vista, near the point where they ambushed marines on January 1. The bombing attack followed another on Tuesday, in which the aviators killed nine members of Sandino's army in the neighborhood of Quitali, as they attempted to concentrate, supposedly for an attack on the marines holding that village.

Admiral Sellers reported that a detachment of marines is moving from Quail to San Albin. The marines are endeavoring to take over the garrison as many villages as possible to deprive Sandino of a base and cut him off from supplies.

From a decidedly dark horse position in the race before the committee met, Houston sprang into the lead on the first ballot, ahead of San Francisco, Detroit and Chicago, and staved there until its victory on the fifth ballot.

The victory came after Texas delegation, headed by the party's finance committee chairman, Jesse H. Jones, who waved a certified check for $200,000 made an earnest invitation, and thus the south was given a Democratic convention for the first time since the civil war.

pipe smokers: "Twenty degrees cooler" — come on in

YOU know how small kindlings make a quick, hot blaze, while big logs burn slowly and evenly? Same way with tobacco — the finer the cut, the faster and hotter it burns. So Granger is "Rough Cut" in big shaggy flakes that burn more slowly, last longer, smoke cooler. There's only one right way to cut tobacco for pipes — and this is it. Just match it against them all — REGARDLESS!

Pitt County Farm News

(By E. F. Arnold, County Agent)

We as farmers are not setting the world afire with our hog and hominy program but we are hammering away. Since last June we have immunized more than 5,000 head of hogs, shipped three cooperative cars and have more corn to feed hogs on for the spring market than we have ever had. Plans are under way now to feed several cars of hogs for April shipments. Farmers who have a few hogs they would like to feed out should get in touch with this office and line up for the spring car lot shipments. It does not pay to keep last fall farrow of pigs for next winter's meat. Spring farrow pigs that is to say in April can be made to weigh more than 200 pounds gross which should be big enough for any normal man. The meat is sweeter and lard just as good.

Poultry Work Moves Forward

We are still plugging at our program of more and better poultry on the farms of Pitt County. This week orders were placed thru this office for 2000 baby chicks which will be fed out and shipped with the March and April carlot shipments of poultry. Last year more than 30,000 lbs. of poultry was shipped from Pitt County and this year we hope to make it 40,000. There are now two modern poultry houses going up in Pitt County.

The Dairy Cow is Not Being Over Looked

A survey will be made in February among the farmers of Pitt County to determine if the farmers will purchase enough cows to justify the operation of a butterfat plant in Greenville. This office has been assured of finances to operate a plant of this kind if the farmers will put in the cows. A number of farmers have solicited this office to become active in securing a plant for Greenville of this kind and those who would like to put in a few cows if a market were available should get in touch with this office and help start the movement.

AIRPORT NEEDED

As each day passes there comes a clearer realization that flying as a means of rapid transportation is here to stay, and soon the town or city that has no provision to take care of this mode of travel will be listed among the has-beens. Already cities about us are taking steps toward municipal airports and unless Greenville, leader in other lines, wants to lose its standing we must get busy. The cities that have suitable airports have found that expenditures for same have been a good investment by way of advertising their town and what is true in their case should be likewise true in our own, especially when Greenville now has opportunity to establish a flying field at very little cost.

There is a private landing field here that could be converted into a suitable airport at very little cost, and we are already reliably informed that the city can procure half interest in this field with rights of designating it as a municipal field for a very small sum annually.

Not only would an airport here attract prominent visitors to the city and section, but there is little doubt that Greenville would be designated as an army emergency landing field if there was an airport here. Situated in a direct line between Langley Field, Virginia, and Pope Field, Fayetteville, the establishment of an airport here would mean that all direct army flying between the two above named fields would use this route which would mean much to the future of this city.

We reiterate that airplanes are here to stay and flying as a means of travel is fast developing, and eventually Greenville must have an airport. Why wait longer to put the town on the map when the opportunity to do so now is at hand and the thing can be done without any great outlay of money?

ABOUT TOWN

"It is evident the criminal element of the city is still confining their operations to the entrance of homes," a member of the police department said today.

"That was a bold attempt made by two negroes to enter an Evans street home here Wednesday afternoon by telling the lady of the house that they were sent there to inspect her telephone.

"Had this lady not maintained her composure, it is possible the negroes would have accomplished their purpose of entering the home to rob and lay waste.

"Our people can not be too careful of suspicious characters appearing in their neighborhood. All such cases should be reported immediately to the police department so they may check up and determine the cause."

"That stock market page of the Reflector is worth the price of many small town papers," a reader told the writer of this column today.

"Only one or two other papers in this section of the state carry complete market reports. They are the ones that are keeping abreast of the times and trying to give real service to their hundreds of readers.

"The Reflector has always been on the alert for the best interest of its readers, and inauguration of the market page several months ago was one of the most important improvements made in months.

"We are confident the paper will continue to expand as the town does and that the future holds forth great things for both."

"That was a splendid meeting of the medical society held in Farmville last night," Dr. L. S. Skinner, local physician, declared today.

"This is the first time the society has held a meeting away from Greenville in quite awhile. I believe the plan of carrying the meetings into other towns will create a greater spirit in activities of the society, especially by members in the city where the meetings are held.

"The Pitt County Medical Society has long worked for the development of the wonderful locality it serves and the future is bright for continued achievements."

"Give your tobacco plants a chance by cleaning out the light, chaffy seeds," E. F. Arnold, director of the county department of agriculture urged today, in speaking of the number of farmers who have visited his office to use the re-cleaning machine.

"Tobacco is the principal crop of the great section, and it is incumbent upon the growers to do everything to increase the value of their productions. I know of no better way to improve the plant than by careful attention to seeds. It has been demonstrated from time to time that the seed that has been properly cleaned and separated produces better fruit. In fact, it is about the only direct way we know of to eliminate diseased plants.

"If you haven't given this matter the consideration it deserves, Mr. Grower, get busy at once and do so."

"Kiwians are urged not to forget that tonight is installation night with their club," Ed Griffin of the program committee said today.

"Frank Harrington, elected to the presidency sometime ago will be inducted into office. He succeeds W. H. Woolard, who has served as chief executive most efficiently during the past year.

"An interesting program has been arranged for the occasion and it is hoped every member will be present and take part."

"The efficiency of the Greenville fire department was demonstrated at the fire in the New theatre here Wednesday afternoon when the firemen appeared upon the scene nearly five minutes ahead of the general alarm," a local citizen remarked today.

"This goes to show the department is right on the job. The audience in the theatre at the time the alarm was sounded didn't know anything of the fire so quietly were they gotten out of the building by the firemen and theatre operators.

"Had there been the slightest excitement it is probable someone would have been killed or injured in the rush from the structure. It was fortunate that the flames were confined to the ceiling of the operating room and the smoke did not have time to penetrate the main floor before the firemen arrived.

"There may be better fire departments, but we feel satisfied the local boys always do their best under all conditions."

STAGE EFFECT TO BE OFFSET HICKMAN CASE

Hickman's Rehearsing For Appearance Before Jury Will Come To Naught.

Los Angeles, Jan. 13.—(AP)—The alleged rehearsal of "insanity scenes" by William Edward Hickman in his cell here pending examination by alienists caused the district attorney's office to lay plans today offsetting and "stage effect" that might result.

George Contreras, chief investigator for district attorney Asa Keys who reported that confessed kidnaper and slayer of Marian Parker had been rehearsing for his appearance before a jury which will pass upon his sanity, promised that his efforts would come to naught because of a plan which the prosecution already had adopted. The investigator did not reveal how this would be done.

The prisoner today had the prospect of facing the battery of six alienists through whom the prosecution hopes to tear down the indicted boy's insanity defense.

The defense expert witness, Dr. R. C. Shelton and Dr. E. M. Fettes, have virtually completed their examination of Hickman and in their preliminary report to his attorney, Richard Cantillon, branded the prisoner "wildly insane." Dr. Shelton said in his preliminary report. "He is affected with a disease of the emotions and is no more responsible for his acts than the worst case in any state hospital. He is suffering from dementia praecox."

reasoning insanity which is of a hereditary nature and which comes to a climax in his last year of school. Hickman does not recognize the difference between right and wrong. His emotions and reactions are gone. He is very intellectual and his memory rating is exceptionally high."

Jerome Walsh, chief of defense counsel, who has been questioning classmates of Hickman at Kansas City, left last night for Little Rock Ark., to investigate the record of Mrs. Eva Hickman the youth's mother who was confined to an asylum there several years ago.

Hearne Buys Salem Club

Market Report

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

NEW YORK COTTON
New York, Jan. 13.—(AP)—The sharp falling off in the consumption of cotton in this country for December as indicated by the Census Bureau report today seemed responsible for considerable liquidation and selling pressure in the cotton market.

Prices broke 25 to 32 points but offerings were absorbed by trading and covering on the decline to 18.55 for May with partial recoveries later.

The mid-afternoon market was quiet at a net decline of 19 to 20 points.

Features closed steady 20 to 25 lower. Spot quiet; middling 19.45.

CHICAGO GRAIN
Chicago, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Wheat developed increasing activity today and advanced as a result of buying induced through strength of wheat values at Liverpool and of Oetzer export demand. There was also closing of spreads between wheat and corn, with wheat being bought. Need of moisture for the winter wheat crop was noted in central Nebraska, as well as in parts of Kansas and Oklahoma.

Wheat closed unsettled, 1-2-5-8 to 7-8 net higher, corn unchanged to 5-8 up, oats unchanged to 1-4c. Advance and provisions unchanged to a rise of 15 cents.

STOCK MARKET
New York, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Ralls superseded the industrial as leaders of the upward price movement in today's stock market. Operators for the rise succeeded in marking up a number of industrial specialties 3 to 6 points in the early trading, but they made little headway among the standard issues, whereupon speculative attention was diverted to the rails which moved forward in impressive fashion. Trading, which had been rather dull during the morning, picked up measurably in the early afternoon.

Banks called about $5,000,000 in loans but there was a plentiful supply of call funds available at the renewal figure of 4 per cent. The further increase in brokers' loans reported by the New York Federal Reserve Bank apparently was disregarded as a market influence. The weekly mercantile reviews characterized business as fair, and stressing the improvement shown in some of the country's major industries.

Canadian Pacific was the leader in the railroad group, quickly moving up 5 points. Nickel Plate common recorded a similar gain and Chesapeake & Ohio, Iere Marquette, Pittsburgh & W. Va., New York Central Delaware & Hudson, Frisco common and Lehigh Valley moved up 2 to 4 points. Others advanced a point or two.

U. S. Steel common and General Motors fluctuated with a rather narrow range. Good buying was noted, however, in such specialties as Montana Power, Warren Bros. Wright Aeronautical, Commercial Solvents, Purify Baking B and Greene Cananea.

The closing was strong. Total sales approximated 2,000,000 shares.

Dark Strangler Hanged Today
Winnipeg, Man., Jan. 13.—(AP)—Earl Nelson, the "Dark Strangler," to whom police ascribe 22 slayings, was hanged today for murder of Mrs. Emily Patterson.

The hanging ended the grim story of criminal trail, winding from the Atlantic to the Pacific, among which police ascribe the 22 murders to Nelson's brutality.

Known as "the strangler" the "Gozilla man" because he was believed to have strangled all his victims, Nelson had been indicted also for the killing of 14-year-old Lola Cowan, Winnipeg schoolgirl, whom he was accused of strangling.

Police said that Nelson, on Feb. 2, 1926, in San Francisco, Cal., beheaded for 7,000 miles along the Pacific coast, across the United States to the Atlantic seaboard, then doubled back into Canada and ended in Manitoba. Of the 22 murders for which he was blamed, 20 of the victims were women, one was a Winnipeg schoolgirl and another a baby.

Ayden College To Stage Educational Rally January 18
Ayden, Jan. 12.—(AP)—There will be an Educational Rally at Eureka College on January 18th. The people will come together from the various churches and Sunday Schools to spend the day at the college. They will bring basket dinner which will be spread on the campus in picnic style.

There will be several short speeches on education by prominent educators. The school work will be suspended for the day and the students will take part in the rally. The visitors will be shown the library, the science department, and the Boys Dormitory.

The Board of Trustees will hold two business sessions, one in the morning and one after lunch. Plans to increase the present library facilities will be discussed. The question of raising the endowment from fifty-one thousand dollars to one hundred thousand will be taken up for action. Also the work of the school for another year will be outlined, and plans for the solicitation of students will be arranged.

It is hoped that a large body of people will be present. The ministers, Sunday School superintendents, teachers, and other leading church officials of the various Free Will Baptist churches are especially requested to be present. All are urged to bring a well filled basket for lunch. Come early and enjoy the day together.
