CHAMBERLIN PLANE CRASHES TODAY IN THIRD ATTEMPT TO SHATTER ENDURANCE RECORD

Big Bellanca Mono-plane Rose 40 Feet in Air at Richmond And Then Crashed In a Ditch... Chamberlin and Williams Uninjured.

Byrd Field, Richmond, Va., Feb 4.—(AP)—Clearance D. Chamberlin, New York to Germany flyer, and Roger Q. Williams failed in their third attempt to break the world's endurance flight record today when the Bellanca monoplane failed to gain sufficient speed on the runway and crashed after rising about forty feet. No one was injured.

Chamberlin was at the controls as the monoplane, loaded with 460 gallons of gasoline, hurtled down the runway at seven o'clock. It started to rise gracefully near the end of the path but the tail skids struck a pile of railroad ties at the end of the field, the monoplane shooting up and suddenly veering to the right, crashing in a ditch. The right wing cracked, the propeller broke off, the under carriage smashed and the fuselage torn.

Aviation officials at the field said that the crash was due to the short runway, which was insufficient for a plane loaded so heavily.

Chamberlin and Williams climbed out apparently unscathed as the crowd of spectators gathered to the take-off broke through police lines and surged on the field. The big plane was covered with dirt and appeared to be a mass of wreckage.

Chamberlin said that he saw that he would be unable to take off when the ground observers signalled for the plane to rise. He said that he then signalled to Williams to let the gasoline out so that they might be able to get into the air and land again, saving the plane. Williams was trying to let the gasoline off when the tail skid struck the railroad ties he said and the plane crashed.

Chamberlin's officials as he climbed from the wreckage that he suddenly realized that their lives were endangered due to the arrangement of the gasoline tanks. It was to lighten these and thereby lessen the impact against them that the gasoline was ordered to be released. Immediately after this the motor was cut off and the rudderless plane crashed into the ditch about five hundred yards from the runway.

Chamberlin appeared to be crestfallen as he moodily studied the ruins of the big monoplane. Williams on the other hand was optimistic, saying "we will be able to make it next time." He immediately went to work putting bits of broken wood into place as the crowd thronged on the field and crowded closer to the plane.

A. R. Martine, backer of the flight when asked when another attempt would be made said "I am not in the mood to talk about that now." Like Chamberlin Mr. Martine appeared very disappointed.

He had expressed great confidence as the plane was trundled out on the runway today.

Expert mechanics after a cursory examination of the plane said the engine was apparently alright but that the rest of the machine appeared to be damaged beyond repair.

Inspectors of the wrecked Bellanca described the escape of the two pilots from the plane unharmed as nothing short of a miracle. Virtually all the glass enclosed section of the plane was crashed into bits and the seats were littered with the shavings of it.

Fueling of the big Bellanca was completed about 4 o'clock with 60 gallons of gasoline and 16 gallons of oil. Gasoline of a less than ordinary density was used to make the machine as light as possible under the conditions attendant upon what was expected to be a gruelling flight. The fuel was expected to last 60 hours.

The official biograph was installed shortly before the take-off from the plank runway by Carl F. Schory of the National Aeronautic Association. Chamberlin and Williams in company with A. R. Martine, financial backer of the flight, came on the field about six o'clock. All three expressed confidence of making a new record. The plane was tested yesterday by the two flyers and its lifting powers were pronounced "excellent". The Curtis Reed propeller which Chamberland brought from New York was tried out, but rejected for the original.

STEWART IS RELEASED AT WASHINGTON

Habeas Corpus Proceedings Granted Oil Operator During the Morning.

Washington, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Robert W. Stewart, chairman of the board of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, arrested last night by the United States senate today was released on a writ of habeas corpus granted by Justice Bailey, in the Supreme court of the District of Columbia.

The writ ordered that Stewart, who is held in custody by a sergeant at arms, be produced forthwith before the court on the ground that he was being held illegally.

Hearing on the writ was set for next Tuesday and bond for the oil man was fixed at $1,000.

Washington, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Under arrest by the senate because he refused to give its teapot dome committee desired information Robert W. Stewart, Indiana Standard Oil official stood at a crossroads today.

One path led to the bar of senate where, in the custody of a deputy sergeant at arms who remained with him all night, he was ordered to appear to maintain or abandon his refusal to tell what he knows of disposition made of profits of the Continental Trading Company of Canada.

The other led to the District of Columbia courts and recourse to habeas corpus proceedings to escape the senate's clutches upon him.

Stewart, who is chairman of the board of the Indiana Standard was arrested at his hotel last night soon after the senate, ordered it by adopting a resolution presented by Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana, prosecutor of the renewed oil inquiry by the lands committee.

David S. Barry, the sergeant at arms, and his deputy, John McGrain, went to Stewart's hotel, the Willard. Behind locked doors they took the oil man into custody.

The arrest and senate action capped a tense day before the oil committee where Stewart, with renewed flashes of temper and jocularities, persisted in his declination to tell of liberty bond transactions of the Continental Company, which already in testimony have involved payments by Harry P. Sinclair, teapot dome lessee, to Albert B. Fall, former interior secretary.

His refusal was on the ground that the case is at issue in the courts and that his testimony should be given before a jury.

Washington, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Ohio, home of many presidents, looms large as a battlefield in the coming presidential campaign.

Virtual certainty of a contest between Senator Frank B. Willis and Herbert Hoover in the preferential primary came overnight with developments at Columbus and here that brought to light an under-surface struggle for convention delegates that has been going on for some time.

At Columbus the republican state committee gave a 19 to 1 endorsement to Willis and soon afterward Representative Burton of Ohio, announced here that the "dominant sentiment" in his state is for Hoover.

Burton urged Secretary Hoover to file his candidacy and challenged Willis to a contest. The Senator promptly accepted in a statement that warned that "this contest will be no kidglove or powder puff affair."

For several days partisans of Senator Willis had sought in conferences here with friends of Secretary Hoover to smooth over the Ohio situation to afford the Senator a clear field in the primary. The statements of Willis and Burton clearly indicated that the parties have failed and that if Mr. Hoover enters his candidacy before the closing date, February 24, it will be at least a dual contest with interesting ramifications.

Involved to a degree in the prospective serimame are the political fortunes of two other Ohioans who are mentioned as presidential possibilities—Vice President Dawes and Speaker Longworth. Also on the ballot, anxious lest they fall as innocent by standers when the ballot bullets begin to fly, are Representative Begg, who has announced for the republican nomination for governor, and Senator Fess, who is seeking re-election.

Longworth and Begg are understood to be watching developments in the Willis-Hoover parleys, but so far as surface indications go, Vice President Dawes has done no more than reserve a seat at the right side. Senator Fess' only comment on the newest turn of events was that he regretted it, and that he "will stand by Senator Willis, of course."

Another possibility is that Mr. Hoover decides to abandon the shadows of the movement in his behalf and step into the sunlight of an entry in the Ohio primaries. Representative Burton very likely will run as a convention delegate at large, pledged to the commerce secretary.

Two Children Killed When Trains Hits Car

Charlotte, Feb. 4.—(AP)—While George Watts prepared today for the burial of his two little sons J. P. Watts, 6, and Joseph Watts, 4, the mother was in a local hospital under observation for the extent of her injuries as a result of the Watts automobile being struck late yesterday by a Seaboard Airline train.

The accident occurred at Stanly in Gaston county 18 miles from Charlotte.

The two little boys were the only children of the Watts' who live on a farm in Gaston county.

Mr. Watts was driving the car at the time of the accident and he said after the accident that the road was clear but that he did not see the train and could not tell just how the accident occurred.

New Record for Commitments to The Penitentiary

Raleigh, Feb. 4.—(AP)—A new record for commitments of state's prison during a single month was established in January. Dr. J. H. Norman, Jr., warden, reported today. A total of 101 prisoners were received into the prison last month. Of the 101, fifty-five were negro males, 40 were white males, and 6 were negro females. It was the first time in several months that the number of negro men received exceeded the whites previous records were 9 in December and 93 in September.

Larceny in its various forms, led in the crimes for which the men and women were sentenced. 17 drawing sentences for committing this crime. Eleven came up for second degree murder; 11 for store-breaking; seven for highway robbery; ten for manslaughter; and others for miscellaneous crimes.

FRANK WILLIS AND H. HOOVER OHIO'S CHOICE

State Now Looms Large as Battlefield in Next Presidential Campaign.

Washington, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Ohio, home of many presidents, looms large as a battlefield in the coming presidential campaign.

Lindberg Celebrates His 26th Birthday By Flight to San Domingo

San Juan, Porto Rico, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh hopped off for Santo Domingo, Dominican republic, at 10:57 8:57 a. m. central standard time. The distance to Santo Domingo is 250 miles.

The crowd which had gathered to see him off did not know that it was his birthday, so reluctant is the colonel regarding his personal affairs.

Before taking off Colonel Lindbergh tinkered with his plane and chatted with Governor Tower and others. After half an hour of adjustments, he said his goodbyes and entered the plane. As the crowd cheered and applauded, he struck his head out of the window, smiled and waved his hand and then started.

San Juan, Porto Rico, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh in celebration of his 26th birthday today had before him a flight of 250 miles. The mechanical half of "we" has had an existence of about a year, of which 249 hours have been in the air.

At the journey's end lay San Domingo, where the white men first discovered that for which they had ventured westward across an uncharted sea—gold.

Across the Mona passage the capital of the Dominican republic was ready to welcome the lone eagle. A new adventurer, an ambassador of good will, was coming to these people whose ancestors saw Balboa leave for the discovery of the Pacific. Cortez set sail for Cuba and the conquest of Mexico and many another conqueror who had his reputation by the sword entered and leave port.

Before he left here Lindbergh was entrusted with "a message from the people of Porto Rico to the people of the United States," making a plea for freedom.

The Porto Rican legislature gave it to Lindbergh at a special session when they bestowed upon him a medal of honor.

The ambassador of good will thanked the legislature for its welcome but made no reference to the message. He spoke instead of commercial aviation, saying that it was easy to link the island of Porto Rico with the United States by air and that such an event was not far off.

The first part of the legislature's message was in tribute to the exploits of the flyer and said he was truly a messenger of progress and good will of the American continent to the old world, answering the message of Columbus who once set foot upon the soil of Porto Rico.

At a dinner given by the Chamber of Commerce, Lindbergh received a chest of native table linen for his mother from the wives of merchants.

Two thousand school children in mass drills passed in review as the tribute of the youth of Porto Rico. As each company marched before the airman they saluted.

Miami, Fla., Feb. 4.—(AP)—In a three motored Fokker monoplane destined for service with United States marine troops in Nicaragua, Lieutenant George T. Towner and two fellow flyers took off at 5:15 a. m. eastern standard time today on a projected non-stop flight to Mangagua, capital of that central American country.

Second Lieutenant James M. McHugh, radioman and relief pilot, and Sergeant Robert Wenc, mechanic, were the other occupants of the huge transport plane when it rose into the moonlight to begin its 1,000 mile voyage. Ideal weather conditions prevailed along all the route, aided by a northeast breeze, said all available reports.

Twelve Accused of Complicity in Bank Robbery

Greensboro, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Twelve persons today were definitely accused of complicity in the robbery of the Bank of Bennett and wholesale automobile thefts in Cuthman county and other sections of the state.

The twelfth Will Rainey, was identified yesterday as the driver of the car used by robbers who locked two officials of the Bank of Bennett in a vault several weeks ago and escaped with about $4,000. Rainey was held for a time in the Wentworth jail but after being identified was taken to Pittsboro.

Seven persons are now held in the Pittsboro jail, four are free on bail and another is held in jail at Ayboro in connection with the robberies.

Russia is afraid, wisely, that Berlin and London will join to fight bolshevism, financially and otherwise.

Russians will learn what a child might teach them, that money supports money, internationally, whereas the proletariat of one nation, to use Karl Marx's name for those that work for a living, does not support the proletariat of another country.

"Money goes to money," as the old French peddler said in Nice, leaving his little fortune of ten thousand francs to Baron Rothschild, whom he had never seen. Money goes to money and sympathizes with money.

That's why it's strong.

William T. Cosgrave, president of the Irish free state, telling this country of extraordinary work that free Ireland has done to establish prosperity and rebuild industry, adds:

"Of all the money we collect in taxes we spend 20 per cent on education."

Development of water power in the river Shannon, which will take care of the whole free state and leave a surplus for sale to Belfast, is a remarkable achievement, costing $25,000,000.

But the education of Irish children is more important than water development, factories or anything else.

In Detroit yesterday Commander Byrd and Edsel Ford met and the reporters guessed it was "a discussion of Commander Byrd's flight to the South Pole."

It is believed that Byrd will make the flight in one of Henry Ford's three-engine, all-metal planes similar to that in which the Standard Oil of Indiana directors have been flying about the country for a year.

Byrd's flight to the north pole, which Edsel Ford helped to finance, was made in a Fokker plane.

By the time Byrd flies back from the South Pole, Henry Ford may have completed his super-airplane with a flock of 1,000-horsepower engines of a new type.

LEVINE DELAYS FLIGHT TODAY

Definite Announcement to be Made at Take Off This Afternoon.

Roosevelt Field, N. Y., Feb. 4.—(AP)—The trans-Atlantic monoplane Columbia was ready for flight at dawn today but during the morning Charles A. Levine postponed the take-off, presumably for a non-stop flight to Havana, although enough gasoline was aboard for a trip to Europe.

At mid-morning he announced that he would not hop off until between noon and one o'clock. No reason for the delay was given.

Levine said that when he was ready to leave he would make definite announcement of his destination.

The weather bureau announced that flying conditions were good to Havana but bad for an ocean flight. Wilber Stultz is to be Levine's pilot and Miss Mabel Boll a passenger.

Levine telephoned that he had been forced to delay the take-off by business matters. He declined to name his destination. Wilmer Stultz, who is to be at the controls, had been at the field since early morning and the motor had been warmed up, preparatory to an immediate take off. Miss Mabel Boll, "Queen of Diamonds," is to go as a passenger.

While Levine had publicly announced Havana as his destination there was some doubt among observers at the flying field as to whether he intended to fly to the Cuban capital or elsewhere. The monoplane Columbia was loaded with enough gasoline for a 4,000 mile flight, while the distance to Havana is but 1,500 miles.

INDEPENDENCE DISCUSSED AT HAVANA, CUBA

Definition of Sovereignty of Nations Considered by Pan-Conference Today.

HAVANA, Feb. 4.—(AP)—What was regarded as the most fundamental question facing the Pan-American Conference was before the Public International Law Committee today for discussion. It concerns the definition of the Sovereignty of American Nations and determination of the limits of their independence.

A report of Dr. Victor Maurtua, Peru, on the subject was the basis of the discussion. From the moment it was made public Thursday it has caused controversy.

Dr. Maurtua also proposed amending the unconditional statement of the Rio Janeiro Jurists' Conference prohibiting intervention by one state in the internal affairs of another in such a fashion that while condemning intervention as a general rule, it would be recognized that emergencies might arise to make intervention justifiable.

Dr. Maurtua's recommendations for a declaration on the part of the Congress of the fundamental principles of International Law read:

"One—Every Nation has the right to exist, and to protect and to conserve its existence; but this right neither implies the right nor justifies that act of the state to protect itself or to conserve its existence by the commission of unlawful acts against innocent and unoffending states.

"Two—Every Nation has the right to independence in the sense that it has a right to the pursuit of happiness and is free to develop itself without interference or control from other states, provided that in so doing it does not interfere with or violate the rights of other states.

"Three—Every Nation is in law and before the law the equal of every other nation belonging to the society of nations, and all nations have the right to claim and to assume among the powers of the earth the same and equal status to which the laws entitle them.

"Four—Every Nation has the right to territory within defined boundaries and to exercise exclusive jurisdiction over its territory, and all persons whether native or foreign found therein.

"Five—Every Nation entitled to a right by the law of nations is entitled to have that right respected and protected by all the nations, for right and duty are correlative and the right of one is the duty of all to observe.

"Six—International law is at one and the same time both national and international; national in the sense that it is the law of the land and applicable as such to the decision of all questions involving its principles; international in the sense that it is the law of the society of Nations and applicable as such to all questions between and among the members of the Society of Nations involving its principles.

Headed by Gustavo Guerrero, Salvador, several of the smaller Latin-American Republics expressed dissatisfaction with Dr. Maurtua's recommendations. The Salvadorean delegate opposed the report on the basis that it did not seem to give a concise definition of the Sovereignty of Nations. The principles proposed, he said, could not provide sufficient guarantee for a small weak country which did not have sufficient force of its own to rely upon and whose chief safeguard of national integrity lay in international law.

The American delegation was stated to be heartily in favor of the report.

Raymond Potter, young white man of this city, was released under bond of $300 for his appearance in police court Monday morning following his arrest last night on a charge of handling and sale of intoxicating liquors.

The arrest was made by Officer Johnnie Piver on the outskirts of the city. Potter is said to have been driving an automobile at time of his arrest. The officer entered the car with the prisoner to bring him to the police station. Young Potter is alleged to have attempted to head the automobile into a telephone pole and make his escape. He did manage to leave the car but was recaptured.

Mary Lewis to Appear in City February 23rd

Just three years from the day she first heard an opera at the Metropolitan Opera House, New York, Mary Lewis, Little Rock, Arkansas, soprano, made her debut in opera in Vienna. It sounds like the Boratio Alger books that were the idol of boys of the last generation, and probably are devoured by the present day youth. No story ever written has more drama, tragedy, humor, pathos, ambition, determination, than the story of Mary Lewis' life, her rise to fame and her climb over seemingly unsurmountable obstacles. But none of this is revealed on the beautiful face of this American prima donna who accomplished in a few short years what has taken others a decade, and having accomplished the seemingly impossible, has set even higher goals for herself to reach.

An Arabian Knights story of the Twentieth Century has Mary Lewis lived in her brief twenty odd years and perhaps that is why she is the simple unaffected natural person that she is. Only people who have lived and know can afford to be natural for they have learned the fruitlessness of affectation.

Running away from her Little Rock home in 1918, Mary Lewis joined a road company of the "Reckless Eye" which stranded in San Francisco, where Mary Lewis undauntedly obtained a position singing in a cabaret. From there to Los Angeles and the pictures, where incidentally it must be related she played character roles chiefly, as a short step and from Los Angeles to New York the next one in the upward climb, a longer and much more fearful one. Promotion from chorus girl to prima donna in a Broadway production was the next step and from there to the "Follies" the one stop in her career that Miss Lewis wants to forget, not because it wasn't pleasant but because so much stress had been laid on it. That was in 1922 and Mary Lewis spent all her spare time and money studying with William Thoner, and also in mastering French and Italian.

One thing definitely planned is her appearance in concert at East Carolina Teachers College, in the Campus Building, on February 23.

OPEN FORUM

The Teacher

The architect works on wood and stone and brick and mortar; the sculptor on bronze and marble; the painter on canvas, the teacher on the living, breathing, active, responsive, immortal SOUL.

Sooner or later the most beautiful and imposing structure will topple to earth; bronze will corrode, marble will crumble; canvas will fade and rot; but the parchment upon which you work—the soul—is everlasting, eternal as God Himself. Therefore my dear teachers, your are, in my opinion, members of one of the greatest, one of the most sacred and one of the most responsible of the professions.

Yours is a profession whose far-reaching results cannot possibly be accurately measured. Yours is a profession that is marvellously CONSTRUCTIVE, or tragically DESTRUCTIVE, because out from the teacher ever goes a subtle, invisible, almost magic power, moulding and fashioning the pupil's life whether the teacher wills it or not.

The destiny of our boys and girls, our young men and young women is largely in your hands. When I have said this it is equivalent to saying you are largely responsible

Beaver Dam Man Makes Success Crop Rotation

Wm. McArthur, of Beaver Dam township, Greenville, N. C., R-6, does not have the distinction of being one of the master farmers of the state, but he is a man using practical business methods in farming and lives at home. Mr. McArthur stated that he had not bought a pound of corn or meat for feeding or eating purposes in 25 years. He cultivates around one hundred acres of land and uses a special method of rotating his crops. He tries to plant the following number of acres in the different crops each year: 20 acres in corn, 16 acres in cotton, 14 acres in tobacco, 15 acres in small grain, 5 acres in alfalfa which he re-sows every third year, 15 acres of beans which is used mostly for pasture, 4 acres of peanuts which is used for hog pasture, and five acres of sweet potatoes. On the five acres of sweet potatoes which he had planted this past year, he made 1,500 bushels. He will feed around 500 bushels of these potatoes to his hogs and has 1,000 bushels stored away for sale in the spring and summer. Besides wanting these different crops Mr. McArthur keeps around 25 head of cattle and 125 head of hogs. After furnishing meat to his family and to his tenants he sells around 5,000 pounds of meat a year.

By using this method of farming Mr. McArthur does not have to depend on any one crop for his cash income. He believes in cooperative marketing of his farm products and has been a member of the North Carolina Cotton Growers Co-operative Assn., for the past six years, but does not believe this organization

BEGIN TEST TAX COST AT RALEIGH

Raleigh, Feb. 4.—(AP)—The state today began presentation of evidence to support its contention that the license tax of $50, placed on each chain of organizations operating more than six stores in the state, is valid and constitutional, in the test case in Wake superior court.

The twelve business concerns, bringing suit to have the law declared void maintain the tax is class legislation and unconstitutional. These concerns, bringing suit, operate 470 stores in the state and seek a refund of $22,500 paid in license taxes last year.

Similar suits are pending in other states. If the chain stores lose in superior court, an appeal will be carried to the state supreme court.

Georgia Lady Could Not Sleep Nights, But After Taking Cardui She Was "Like a Different Person."

Coker, Ga.—Mrs. C. H. Smith, of this place, related the following interesting experience:

"I was weak and nervous and run-down. I couldn't sleep at night. I felt tired and not in condition to do my work. I had Cardui recommended to me, but always thought I could out-do most sickness, but this was one time I needed help. I was so weak I could hardly lift my hand.

"I can't express how bad I felt. I know I improved after taking Cardui. I was like a different person. I was built up and was stronger and better than in a long time.

"I have a young daughter who had the 'flu' and after she got up she would once in a while have such severe cramping spells, just suffer terribly. I knew there was a weakness and, hoping Cardui would reach this trouble, I had her take it, and the first bottle helped her so much she was able to leave it off, and does not have this trouble now.

Cardui has been in use for more than 50 years.

HERE'S HOPING

The committee that has been in charge of the stock solicitation for the proposed factory here, today notified the Philadelphia headquarters of the concern that $30,000, half of the first stipulated required amount, had been subscribed.

Just what the outcome will be cannot say now but we certainly hope that it will be favorable. If the Philadelphia manufacturers find that they cannot accept the offer as it now stands, citizens here should ask for further time and should make every effort to raise enough more stock to assure us the mill. Surely we need this manufacturing enterprise here, and Greenville will certainly be the loser if we do not get it.

DOLLAR DAY

Announcement that next Thursday, February 9, has been designated by the Greenville Merchants Association as "Dollar Day," should be good news to shoppers of Greenville and the surrounding territory.

ABOUT TOWN

"Did you read our Dollar Day advertisement carried in the columns of the Reflector yesterday," a local merchant inquired of one of his shoppers today.
"That I did," was the laconic reply.
"What did you think of it?"
"Well, I believe the event will be exactly as advertised. I have always had faith in the integrity of Greenville business men and when they say they will do a thing, they generally do it.

"I haven't the slightest idea in the world but Dollar Day will be truly the greatest occasion of the kind ever held here, and I honestly believe the public from miles around will take advantage of this opportunity of buying dependable merchandise at greatly reduced prices.
"Greenville is really becoming the shopping center of this section of the state, and it is my opinion these Dollar Day events are doing much toward making this possible."

"Surely the people of Greenville are not going to let the opportunity of bringing a branch of the Philadelphia manufacturing concern to their midst slip through their hands."
This question was propounded by a man who has long been associated with the industrial development of the city, and who has watched with more than usual interest the stock soliciting campaign to make the plant possible. Like many others he is puzzled over inability to raise the stock. He is not able to understand why this opportunity of bringing a new industry to the city is not accepted.

"Surely a matter of $60,000 covered by preferred stock is not standing in the way of our business men. Towns considerably smaller than Greenville have raised sums just as large to encourage establishment of industries in their midst. And they have been richly rewarded.
"We are on the verge of the greatest period of expansion in history, and this will be made easier and more pronounced with more payrolls, more people to assist us.
"We should not stop when our footsteps rest upon the threshold of success. Let's keep soliciting until the desired sum has been subscribed."

"You boys are always hammering away on some question constructive to the community," a reader of this paper observed today.
"Nearly every day you take up some new issue of public interest and continue bringing it to the attention of your readers until some definite end has been obtained.
"Such publicity is doing much for the development of this great locality. It is my honest opinion that every man and woman in the country appreciates what the paper is doing for advancement of humanity—a cause as holy as the cause of life itself.
"It requires grit and perseverance to grapple with these problems day in and day out, year in and year out, as you boys are doing and I want to take this opportunity of commending you for your achievements."

"The six thousand dollar saving in operation expenses of the city of Greenville during the last six months is of interest to every man and woman in the city," a tax payer told the writer of this column today.

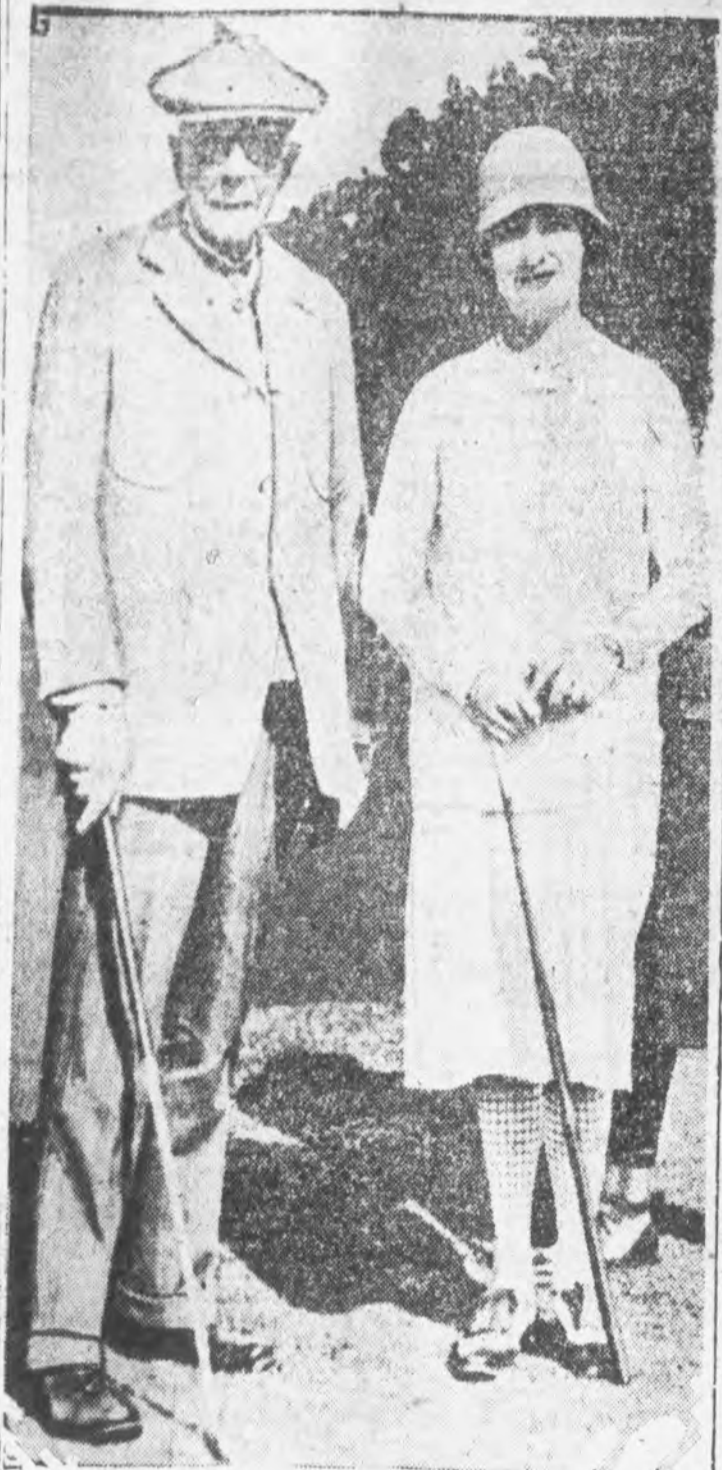

"Mayor Lanier and the board of aldermen are to be congratulated upon the program of economy. It goes to show they have the best interest of the city at heart and are striving to spend as little as possible and at the same time keep the administration at a high state of efficiency.
"Such a saving registered over a period of a few years would certainly put the city coffers in good condition and enable the aldermen to lift some of the weight from their shoulders."

"We will know the name of the manager of the Greenville baseball club in the next two or three days," Guy Smith, president of the local club of the Eastern Carolina league told the writer of this column today.
"We have had numbers of applications for this position. The applicants are all men of splendid reputation and ability, and it has been rather difficult for us to make our selection.
"One thing is certain, the manager of this club is going to know his onions, as the slang expression goes, and when the season opens this old town is going to take a perch at the top of the win column and stay there."

Items Taken From The Reflector Of Twenty and Thirty Years Ago

Warehouse Changes
There have recently been some important changes in tobacco warehouse circles here that look to the enlargement and strengthening of the Greenville market. Mr. G. F. Evans, one of the proprietors of the Eastern Warehouse, has sold his interest in the house to Mr. G. B. Hughes, of Tarboro. Later Mr. Hughes and Mr. O. L. Joyner both sold their interest in the Eastern to Mr. O. Hooker, leaving the latter sole owner of that house.
Messrs. Joyner and Hughes then formed a new co-partnership to engage in the warehouse business. They will have a new warehouse built on the Munford property, just across Dickinson avenue opposite the terminus of Ninth street. This new house will be 100 by 200 feet in size the largest on the market, and will be a modernly constructed warehouse in every respect.
This new firm and new warehouse will add much to Greenville's growing tobacco market.
The New Bern, Washington, Greenville and Rocky Mount Fair Associations have arranged a circuit of four weeks racing, and offer the large sum of eleven thousand and four hundred dollars in purses.

HELEN ARDELLE

New York, (AP)—Helen Ardele, soprano, who began the study of music in Kansas City while employed as a stenographer, will be the featured artist with Roxby and his gang at 6:30 p. m., Feb. 6, over WJZ and Chain.

Miss Ardele, who was born in Tucson, Ariz., went to Kansas City to take employment as a stenographer. On Sundays she sang in a choir, and finally at the insistence of the choir director, began to study voice.

Last September she came to New York, first taking a stenographic position but later becoming a member of the quartet of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church. Soon she was singing leading soprano roles with the Little Opera company in Brooklyn. She joined Roxby's gang about two months ago.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, Feb. 4.—(AP)—With widespread unfavorable weather prevailing for the movement of the corn crop fresh strength developed in the corn market today, whereas wheat was inclined to sag. Corn export business was estimated at 250,000 bushels or more, partly from the Atlantic seaboard. At the Gulf of Mexico, the corn trading basis was firm, 6 3/4c over the Chicago May price below par, and offerings not large even at seven cents.

Corn closed firm 1-4 to 1-2 net higher; wheat unchanged to 5-8 off; oats at 1-8 decline to 1-8 to 1-4 advance and provisions 22 to 60 down.

NEW YORK COTTON

New York, Feb. 4.—(AP)—The cotton market was lower today under selling inspired by reports of rain in the western belt, which traders evidently thought might extend into West Texas over Sunday, and the uncertainty of the labor situation in Manchester. After selling off to 17.24 at the close, May rallied to 17.33, but broke to 17.10 on 20 points net lower. It closed at 17.14 with the general market closing steady at net declines of 16 to 23 points.

Futures closed steady, 16 to 23 lower; spot quiet, middling 17.50.

WEEKLY GRAIN REPORT

Chicago, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Broader distributive demand for corn together with some let-up in the movement to terminals is focusing more and more attention on the corn market. Much notice, meanwhile, is being devoted to current predictions that receipts of corn will fall off at a fast rate as soon as growers have completed shipments that are not in shape to carry through the advent of warm weather.

With such an outlook the corn market this morning showed 3-4c to 1 5/8c a bushel advance compared with a week ago. Simultaneously, wheat was at 1 1/8c net decline to 1-2c gain; oats 1-2c to 3-4c up, and provisions 15 to 52 off.

Notwithstanding that arrivals of corn at terminal markets are at present averaging about 2,500,000 bu. a day, and that a liberal increase of the United States visible supply total on Monday is in prospect, the gain in stocks between No. 1, and Feb. 4, is hardly 11,000,000 bu., despite receipts that aggregate close to 100,000,000 bu.

Various sections of the main corn belt are reported as already giving evidence of a scarcity of corn for immediate use.

Considerable irregularity is apparent in the wheat market. July wheat, representing the new 1928 domestic crop not yet above ground, is sensitive to reports of continued drought in the west and southwest. Oats are borrowing strength from corn.

Provisions show the effect of 17,000,000 lbs. January increase of the warehouse stock of lard in Chicago.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Feb. 4.—An early period of uncertainty in today's stock market was succeeded by a general down turn of values. Raising of the San Francisco rediscount rate apparently convinced many traders that a curtailment of speculative resources was being resorted to by a gradual lifting of these rates in interior federal reserve districts.

A decrease of $12,000,000 in stock exchange member loans seemed to have no more than temporary effect on sentiment and efforts to combat the wave of selling for both few issues which had powerful pool support. Offerings of standard railway stocks were more abundant seeming to point to liquidation but conservative interest not in sympathy with efforts to bid up the volatile issues.

Short covering caused recoveries in roots in the final hour and some of the early losses were turned into gains before the session ended. Vanadium Steel continued to show strength, setting up around the 85 level, and Nevada Copper sold above 21, the highest for an extended period.

Earlier the sensitiveness of radio to pressure despite willingness of pools yesterday to take large blocks, had encouraged speculative drives against other popular shares. Erie had dropped about three points on sharp criticism by the Kemp committee of Chesapeake and Ohio purchases of Erie shares. Delaware and Hudson also was down about three points before the list showed signs of rallying and losses of two points or more had been recorded by DuPont, General Asphalt, International Harvester, United Drug, Peoples Gas, Greene Cananea Copper, American Radiator and Calumet, and Arizona.

The closing was irregular. Total sales approximated 1,300,000 shares.

"BOSSY" GILLIS TAKES NEW YORK BY STORM

quest that bus lines be declared common carriers and ordered to provide separate accommodations for negro passengers.

The Corporation Commission has held, said Mr. Lee, that the proper way for the negro bus question to be handled was for a negro to try to buy a ticket, and if refused one, to bring suit, thereby placing the matter before the courts.

TWO YOUTHS HELD FOR FATAL SHOOTING

Spartanburg, S. C., Feb. 4.—(AP)—Harry Clark and Spartan Duncan, Spartan Mills village youths arrested last night in connection with the attempted robbery and possibly fatal shooting of Joe Seaman, Syrian confectioner, were identified this morning by Andrew Mandanis as the two boys who at the point of a pistol staged a bold hold-up at the Diana Sweet Shop here last Wednesday night.

The youths were arrested last night after they had wounded Seaman when he refused to throw up his hands. They are alleged to have entered the confectionery shop about 10 o'clock and commanded Seaman at the point of a pistol, to hold up his hands.

Instead, the proprietor lunged for the revolver in the hand of one of the bandits who then fired at close range. Seaman grappled with the bandit, however, and the pair rolled through the door into the street. Weakened by the wound, Seaman was forced to loosen his hold and the bandit fled.

Police took up the pursuit and arrested the pair near the mill.

COMMISSION DOES NOT DECIDE CARRIERS

Raleigh, Feb. 4.—(AP)—It is the business of the State Corporation Commission to deal with common carriers, not to decide what common carriers are.

burgh might fly "non-stop" from Detroit around the world and back to Detroit.

"Visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children" is still part of human life.

In Brooklyn, a former clergyman afflicted with an incurable disease, fearing it would be transmitted to his two sons, killed them and their mother.

It is the work of science to prevent that horrible visitation and end the relentless cruelty that punishes children unborn, for their father's sin.

Mr. McAdoo says, "There must never be a wet in the White House," a virtuous expression of opinion from a dry.

But there has already been a wet in the White House. President Harding was not a "dry" although he enforced the law.

A man can enforce the law justly and efficiently even though he may think it unwise, and even a President has a right to think as he chooses about prohibition.

The people elect a President to enforce laws, not to believe in all of them.

What is called "a glaring, shameful instance of anti-semitism" is the sentence imposed upon Ludwig Hatvany, well known Hungarian author, whose only "crime" was criticism of Hungary's government after the war.

Hatvany's sentence is seven years in prison and a $500,000 fine, which will wipe out the remains of his once large fortune.

Past middle life, broken in spirit, and impoverished, Hatvany may die in prison. His comfort will be the certainty that such a government cannot last.

A book by William Blake, containing seventeen illustrations, sold yesterday for $11,300. That would interest Blake, who died one hundred years ago in a little room off the Strand after spending his last money to buy lead pencils.

Let your children learn by heart Blake's verses about building Jerusalem "in England's green and pleasant land," or his "tiger, tiger, burning bright."

Politicians, well satisfied with things as they are, still hope against hope that they will be able to "drift Coolidge." So says Loui Seibold. "Hoping against hope" is all very well, but hoping against Coolidge's "I do not choose," is folly. What he does not choose, he does not do.

REUBEN BLAND DANCE WINNER

Father of 34 Children High Light at Fiddlers Convention at Ayden.

Reuben Bland, 73, of Robertsonville, champion father of the United States, won first prize in a clog dance given as a part of the program of the Old Time Fiddlers' convention held in Ayden last night. Bland clogged as he probably never clogged before and it was hard to believe that the hoary father of thirty-four children had seen a day's worry in all of his long life.

Bland has been highly honored by men and women of national prominence because of his child raising proclivities, but it is probably his achievement in that line was not near so brilliant as that at the convention last night. His clogging was witnessed by numbers of persons from all parts of the county who were amazed at the nimble, sprightly way he staged his performance. One other contestant was awarded a prize, that being Wyatt McLawhorn, who took second place.

Merton Williams, of Newton Grove, Sampson county, took first honors in the violin contest. Second prize was won by Thomas Stokes of Ayden. In a Charleston contest Bob Davis, of Ayden, won

Pitt Negress Paroled

Raleigh, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Nellie Fisher Pitt county negress, who was sentenced in September, 1922, to serve from eleven to fifteen years for infanticide, was paroled today. The negress, who was 14 years old at the time of her sentence, was "by reason of her immature age not entirely responsible for the crime of which she was convicted," said the Governor.

ROBBERS MAKE JEWELRY HAUL

Jewels Valued at $3,000 Taken From Home of Asheville Millionaire.

Asheville, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Police here today were baffled by one of Asheville's boldest and most costly jewelry robberies committed last night at the home of Francis Guder, millionaire resident of the city. Loss of fine jewelry from the Guder home amounted to more than $3,000.

Pierre Lavignette, chauffeur for the Gudgers, was in a hospital and with a bullet wound in his jaw, as the result of a hand to hand encounter with the robber who had looted the house and was preparing to steal an automobile.

W. T. Boone, of Asheville, was in the city jail, awaiting trial on charges of implication in the robbery and of assault with a deadly weapon on police. Boone was arrested near his home late last night after bloodhounds had trailed him down. He fired on police who returned the fire. No one was injured.

Among the jewelry taken from the Guder home was a set of costly cuff links, a present to Mr. Guder from the moving picture actress, Mable Normand. A fur coat and several articles smaller value were found in the Guder Garden this morning, apparently abandoned by the burglar after his encounter with the chauffeur.
