STEWART TO FACE COURT DURING WEEK

Indiana Oil Official to Answer Contempt Charges Preferred By Senate.

Washington, Feb. 6.—(AP)—A grand jury in District of Columbia Supreme Court will be asked this week to indict Robert W. Stewart, Indiana Standard Oil official, for contempt of the senate because of his refusal to answer questions of the teapot dome investigating committee.

District Attorney Peyton Gordon is to give the case to the jurors as soon as possible.

Transfer of the case to the courts was voted by the senate when it was voted to bring Stewart before the court to face a contempt charge was frustrated by the issuance of a restraining order lifting the oil man's arrest by the senate. Thus Stewart may have to defend himself almost simultaneously in two actions designed to hold him subject to a contempt sentence of from one to twelve months in jail.

Counsel for the senate will oppose the restraining order at a hearing Tuesday. Should the senate's power of arrest be upheld, Stewart still might for a time escape the senate's jurisdiction, however, by appealing to the court of appeals and the supreme court of the United States.

The oil committee turned today to other witnesses who were hoped to give clues to disposition made of the continental profits, $1,000,000. It called H. L. Phillips, president of the Sinclair Crude Oil Refining Company, and J. B. McMann and S. S. Gano, directors of that company. Sheldon Clark, vice president of the concern and one of Harry F. Sinclair's close associates, also is under subpoena.

Another figure in the teapot dome story whose whereabouts are being sought by the committee is Eugene C. Nelson, of W. E. Hill, former chairman of the board of the Prairie Oil and Gas Company and now in Europe where he has refused to answer summons to testify in the Sinclair-Fall conspiracy trial. The younger O'Neil enters the story as the man who transferred $800,000 in Liberty bonds, owned by his father to the Prairie Oil and Gas Company and the committee may wish to learn what he knows of other transactions.

Senator Walsh, of Montana, prosecutor for the committee, said today that Mr. Wickham would be here tomorrow when Stewart's hearing begins before Justice Jennings Bailey in the District of Columbia supreme court. Grand jury action against Stewart for his refusal to answer questions asked him by the oil committee is expected by District Attorney Gordon by the end of the present week.

Gordon has received the transcript of the record and intends to appear personally before the grand jury as soon as he can complete his case, probably by Friday and ask that Stewart be indicted. The criminal code provides that such a refusal is a misdemeanor and it was on this section that Harry F. Sinclair was convicted of contempt of the senate.

Sashcord Murder In New Jersey

Somerville, N. J., Feb. 6.—(AP)—A sashcord murder puzzled police today. In a field on the old Bathgate farm in Basking Ridge a man's body was found yesterday. A 10-foot length of sash cord was knotted tightly about the neck and there was a severe bruise on the right cheek.

TODAY

Good-bye to Cosgrave.

Justice Daniel F. Colahan invited great and small to luncheon yesterday with President Cosgrave of Ireland's free state, now on his way to Ireland.

Mayor Walker hoped that Cosgrave would come back some day as president of "the Irish nation." Justice Colahan, a really powerful American of Irish blood, hoped to see Ireland free from the centre to the sea.

Mayor Walker's father and Justice Colahan fought the home rule battle together years ago.

President Cosgrave talked of practical things as they are. He and good men like him in Ireland will make a success of the free state. They made an excellent start, giving twenty per cent of the state's income to educate Irish children.

The great water power now being developed in the river Shannon, enough to supply the whole state, will be the property of the Irish people, not the property of exploiters of the Irish people. That is something we don't do in America.

Samuel Untermyer, at the luncheon, told Otto H. Kahn, "This is the greatest time that ever was for lawyers, especially for good advocates. Any lawyer of ability can make a good income. Big lawyers that once appeared in court now sit in their offices, telling men like you what they may do and must not do." Mr. Kahn, you know, is very rich.

Mr. Untermyer offered to bet 3 to 1 that New York's street car trust would succeed in raising the fare from 5 to 7 cents. Still youthful, Mr. Untermyer bet recklessly. What a street car trust wants it usually gets, especially in New York.

You think of Cosgrave, sailing back to wonderful Ireland, on his way to receive his work among a great people. It is hard to realize that the population of Ireland is one-half the population of New York City. It's what you ARE, not how MANY you are, that counts.

An unfortunate woman, falling into the hands of a medical "beauty specialist" was advised to have her "low legs" straightened.

While one doctor worked on the legs, sawing the bones, another, Dr. Schreiner, was busy "removing a scar from her shoulder."

Gaughan attacked the unfortunate young woman's legs. Both were amputated, and she may die. No body probably had noticed the poor.

PHILLIPS ON STAND TODAY IN OIL CASE

President of Sinclair Oil Gives Testimony About Transactions.

Washington, Feb. 6.—(AP)—Turning over to George V. Wickham, as special counsel, it is against Robert W. Stewart, who denied his authority to question him, the Senate oil committee today went about its business of trying to uncover the disposition of the $3,000,000 in profits made by the Continental Trading Company of Canada, part of which found their way to Albert B. Fall.

Sheldon Clark, of Chicago, vice-president of the Sinclair Refining Company, the first witness, told the committee that he knew nothing of the Continental Company or the disposition of its bonds.

"Is your company the owner of any of the bonds in question?" asked Senator Walsh.

"I could not tell you, off-hand," Clark said, "but I think not."

H. L. Phillips, of Tulsa, Okla., president of the Sinclair Crude Oil Refining Company, was next called. Asked about the whereabouts of G. S. Taber, Jr., president of the Sinclair Company, at the time that company bought one-half of the 33,333,333 barrels of oil from the Continental Company, Phillips said he is now in Pittsburgh. The oil was bought for $1.50 a barrel, on the guarantee of Harry F. Sinclair and Stewart, and was immediately resold to Stewart and Sinclair companies for $1.75.

"Well, let us get to something you may know something about," the committee prosecutor suggested, as he asked about the purchase by the Sinclair Crude and the Prairie Oil of the Continental contract in 1923 for $400,000 when it still had a potential value of $5,000,000.

The witness said that before the purchase he had a conference in New York with H. S. Coler, of Toronto, president of the Continental Company, who obtained the consent of the Prairie Gas Company to the agreement.

"Was the $400,000 price arrived at?" Walsh asked.

"I don't know," Phillips replied, agreeing, however, that it was "an extraordinary transaction."

Describing the meeting of the directors of the Sinclair Crude Oil at which the contract with the Continental was approved, Phillips said that both Stewart and Sinclair were present. Stewart represented the Standard Oil of Indiana which owns one-half of the Sinclair Crude stock, and Sinclair represented the Sinclair Consolidated which owns the other half.

Phillips testified that he, as a director of the Sinclair Crude, ratified the Continental contract with little or no investigation. He could not recall whether the board had before it the supplemental contract by which the companies purchased the oil from the Continental—the Sinclair Crude and the Prairie Oil & Gas Company—guaranteed to the late A. E. Humphreys that the Continentals would fulfill its agreement to purchase and pay for the 33,333,333 barrels of oil.

OHIO STRONG FOR HOOVER

Battle Lines Drawn Against Effort of Willis to Influence Convention.

Columbus, Ohio, Feb. 6.—(AP)—The first formal step in behalf of Secretary Herbert Hoover's candidacy for the republican presidential nomination has been made by his Ohio supporters, who at the same time have drawn the battle lines against efforts of Senator Frank B. Willis to obtain Ohio's delegation to the national convention.

Thad J. Brown, former secretary of state of Ohio, and Robert A. Tait, former majority leader of the Ohio house of representatives, called a meeting of Hoover's Ohio friends today to prepare an address urging him to enter the state primary as a presidential candidate.

The meeting marks the first formal step in behalf of Mr. Hoover's candidacy, and has added significance because the secretary of commerce has not formally announced his intention to seek the nomination. He is reported as Washington to have assured his friends he will enter the Ohio lists at once if an address is made to him, backed by a "considerable showing of public sentiment," and he must formally announce his candidacy if he is to seek delegates from Ohio to the national convention.

The meeting today, it is thought, will bring the conflict between Hoover and Senator Willis into the open at once. That there would be such a conflict has grown more obvious each day since last Friday when the Republican state central committee endorsed Senator Willis' candidacy by a vote of 19 to 1, while at the same time Congressman Theodore E. Burton of Cleveland asserted in Washington that "the sentiment in Ohio is for Hoover."

Plan to Abolish Submarine Meets With Indifference

Paris, Feb. 6.—(AP)—The proposal advanced by Secretary of State Kellogg looking toward the abolishment of submarines has been received in Paris with marked indifference.

This question, as far as French opinion is concerned, was settled at the Washington disarmament conference when the French delegation agreed to take a lower rank in capital ships on the understanding that defense craft, such as submarines would not be limited.

Comment on the proposal of the American secretary of state is generally refused in official circles because the government has received no official information of any action. It is said, however, by those in touch with Foreign Minister Briand that the question will not be reopened unless the whole subject of reduction in naval armaments is considered at the same time.

The general view here is that France, obliged to reply on defensive craft, cannot give up submarines without substantial guarantees of security at sea.

Arrest 2,000 In Effort to Purify Paris

Paris, Feb. 6.—(AP)—The process of "purifying" Paris, which M. Chiappe, prefect of police, began just before the arrival of the American legion last year, reached a climax over night with the arrest of more than 2,000 persons for various minor offenses.

Many of those picked up by the police were foreign interlopers who often lured tourists into the lowest dives of the Montmartre, while others were foreigners who could not furnish satisfactory identification papers. Some of these will be deported.

OPENS SERIES OF SERVICES

Dr. Loring-Clark Delivered Opening Sermon at St. Paul's Church Sunday.

Dr. Loring-Clark, general missionary of the Episcopal church in the Southern province, commenced his mission services at St. Paul's Episcopal church here, last night at 7:30 o'clock.

His subject, "The Worst Thing in the World," was very ably and forcefully portrayed. The doctor used the narrative of Heintz, a man of wealth, high social position, a general in the Syrian army, but a leper. This malady is the worst bodily affliction that could befall a man.

Neimiah would have given all his worldly possessions to be cured of this dreadful malady, and was cured when he became obedient to the Will of Almighty God.

These are men and women of today, instead of being a leper, have a worst malady, that of sin, and their only hope of being cured of this dreadful malady is when they become obedient to the Will of Almighty God.

The sin of greed, selfishness, and pride are to the minds of most Christian people the worst thing in the world today, let us all with one accord put on the gospel armor and fight the good fight, to blot out this awful malady that befalls us so that we may be worthy of being generals in the Holy Army of the King of Kings.

Dr. Loring-Clark will be here throughout this week and will conduct the services at St. Paul's Episcopal church every morning at 10:30 and every evening at 7:30.

The citizenship of Greenville and the surrounding community are cordially invited to attend all of these services, and we are sure you will receive a helpful message from Dr. Loring-Clark, a gifted speaker, and truly a man of God. Come and bring your friends.

Three Robberies At Charlotte

Charlotte, Feb. 6.—(AP)—Three robberies, one of them $1,000, from a Charlotte Piggly Wiggly store, were reported to local police headquarters today.

VARE PLEADS CONSPIRACY

Attack by Wilson Declared Cowardly and Unjustified by Pennsylvania.

Washington, Feb. 6.—(AP)—Charges of conspiracy made against him by William B. Wilson, Democrat, in the contest over the Pennsylvania election of 1926, were declared today by William S. Vare, Republican senator-elect to be "wholly false, wilfully made and without the slightest foundation in truth or in fact."

"It is a cowardly attack without any justification," Mr. Vare declared in his answer filed today with the senate elections committee. "It is a wanton assault upon me and made solely for the purpose of securing a recount to which the complainant was therefore not entitled, and the oath attached thereto averring the truth thereof is a wilfully false declaration, not based on any information as to my conduct throughout, for such information does not exist, and this complainant well knows."

As Vare filed his answer, the sub-committee of the elections committee was organizing to start later in the day the recount in the six counties contested by Wilson.

It was announced that Leon D. Riley, who had been chosen as supervisor of the recount, had resigned, but chairman Waterman of the sub-committee, said that work nevertheless would be begun this afternoon on the ballots in Allegheny county.

A dozen large wooden tables were set up in the large marble caucus room in the senate office building and a force of about thirty men and women were ready to tackle the counting. The special campaign funds committee will be represented by counsel throughout the recount.

Answering the Wilson charges that he conspired with the officers of the Philadelphia and the Allegheny county committees prior to the primary election of 1926, Vare said he had resigned from the Philadelphia committee prior to the election.

He said he did not discuss with any of them the conduct of the said election as that was provided by law.

When named John G. Armstrong as chairman of the Allegheny county committee, but Vare said he knew of no such person, although he did know Joseph G. Armstrong of Pittsburgh, he denied "any association or communication direct or indirect with him touching the said election."

"I further aver," Vare answered, "that I have never conspired or conferred with, advised or even suggested or intimated to any person or persons in the commonwealth of Pennsylvania, or elsewhere, to do or commit any unlawful act touching the conduct of either the primary or general election of 1926, or of any other election, and I therefore aver, without qualification or restrictions, that the charge in the second amended complaining of conspiracy affecting me is wholly false."

Hard On Teachers

Diana, W. Va., Feb. 6.—(AP)—S. W. Cutlip, Democrat, has announced as a candidate for school board of the Holy district, Westover county, and among the planks in his platform is one stating that he would not vote to hire any teacher who "wilfully refuses to buckle her girdles" neither would he sanction the hiring of an instructor whose "skirts do not cover within nine inches of the ground."

LEVINE TRIP DELAYED BY BAD WEATHER

When and Where Columbia Will Fly Matter of Conjecture this Afternoon.

Roosevelt Field, Feb. 6.—(AP)—A cross wind on the runway today precluded any possibility of Charles A. Levine taking off on his mystery flight for Havana or points south.

Neither he nor Miss Mabel Doll, his passenger, nor Wilmer Stultz, his pilot, came to the field when they learned of the adverse conditions. Levine announced that he would decide at ten o'clock tonight when he receives a report from the weather bureau, whether he will take off tomorrow.

New York, Feb. 6.—(AP)—The mystery of Charles A. Levine's proposed airplane flight increased today with the addition of the question of when to that of where.

Delayed Saturday by the late arrival of Roosevelt field of Levine and Miss Mabel Doll, the "queen of diamonds," who is to be a passenger, and Sunday by rain and adverse winds, the Columbia's owner announced that predictions of unfavorable winds would prevent a flight today.

He also said that since he had already announced that Havana was to be the destination no other announcement was necessary.

But airmen pointed to the 400 gallons of gasoline which was loaded in the plane's tanks Saturday—enough to fuel for a trip to Europe—and say "Havana" with a rising inflection at the end.

It is 1,400 miles by air to Havana and 400 gallons of gas is enough to carry the Columbia 4,000 miles or more.

There have been published reports that Levine intends to go to Havana and then keep right on going toward and over South America until the gasoline gives out in an effort to set a new long distance flying record. Clarence D. Chamberlin and Levine hold the present record, set on their flight to Germany in the same plane last summer.

Mr. Levine's previous acts gave weight to these reports. Last summer he said nothing about easting himself for the role of the first trans-Atlantic passenger, climbing into the plane at the last moment and flying to Germany without even a hat.

Wilmer Stultz, engaged as pilot of the Columbia, explained the extra fuel as a reserve supply in case they arrived at Havana after dark and had to cruise above the field all night.

Meanwhile the plane, a special cabin built in for Miss Doll, remains in her hangar at Curtiss field, ready for a takeoff at any time.

If the Columbia should make a flight to Havana this week the Cuban capital would be host to two trans-Atlantic flyers at the same time. Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh is scheduled to arrive at Havana Wednesday, completing his tour of Central and South America.

Heavy Course in Texas

San Antonio, Feb. 6.—(AP)—With mud proving an effective bar to par cards in the first round of the Texas open golf tournament, the 100 entries today had the prospect of another 18 holes over a heavy course.

Ed Dudley, of Hollywood, led the field yesterday with a 72, one over par, while Tom Lally, San Francisco professional, was second with a 73.

HATTI GOAL OF AMERICAN FLYER TODAY

Lindbergh Given Rousing Send Off by Citizens of Santo Domingo.

Port Au Prince, Haiti, Feb. 6.—(AP)—Completing a new lap of his good will flight that is carrying him to the pan-American conference at Havana, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh landed here at 2 p. m. This afternoon from Santo Domingo, Dominican republic.

Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic, Feb. 6.—(AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, now nearing the end of his good will flight to the pan-American conference at Havana, took off for Port Au Prince, Haiti, at 11 a. m. local time.

Port Au Prince, Haiti, Feb. 6.—(AP)—All Haiti prepared today to give a royal welcome to Col. Charles A. Lindbergh. The city was never so beflagged before. The Haitian and American flags mingled everywhere. It was a public holiday.

During the night new street signs were posted designating the principal avenues by the names of Lindbergh, Washington and Bolivar.

Early this morning spectators began pouring into the city. Gaily decorated automobiles entered the city gates. Some of them coming from towns far distant. Hours before the American air hero was scheduled to arrive marines and gendarmes took up their posts on the Bowen flying field to guard the Spirit of St. Louis.

Over the great empty hangar which will house it was painted in huge black letters the symbolical "we" of world wide fame.

Detailed provisions were made in the reviewing stand for President Borno, his staff, Haitian school children of the foreign colony.

Word received from Santo Domingo said that the colonel planned to make detours along the 160-mile hop to Port Au Prince, covering a total distance of about 300 miles. From Santo Domingo he planned to fly over La Vega and Santiago, in the interior of the Dominican republic. Thence he planned to cross the border and to fly over Cap Haitien and the famous Christophe Citadel.

Palace Sans Souci. Conives on the western coast of Haiti was next with Port Au Prince his landing place. He was expected here about 2 p. m.

Santo Domingo, Feb. 6.—(AP)—Haiti, where Toussaint L'Ouverture led slaves to freedom, was the goal of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh today.

The route to Port-Au-Prince, 160 miles by air from here, led entirely across land, unless Lindbergh in his flight should venture across the inland waters of Lakes Enriquillo and Lake Saumatre. The path of the Lone Eagle was over a country teeming with bird life, wild duck, flamingo, herons and other shore birds.

The route passed over mountains and deep forests, were wooded and brought from Africa and practiced for many years. It led over a land where negro slaves by their own efforts freed themselves and set up a republic of which Port-Au-Prince is the capital.

Haiti is the second country to be visited by Colonel Lindbergh in his good will tour where American machines are present. In Nicaragua, he found them engaged in an active campaign against the rebel General Augusto Sandino. In Haiti they are engaged in maintaining order until the new republic is considered, capable of exercising in full its rights of sovereignty.

Before leaving Santo Domingo, Lindbergh placed a wreath on the monument to Christopher Columbus.

A military parade was held in Lindbergh's honor.

Evan E. Young, American minister, gave him a luncheon which President Vasquez and other officials attended. W. E. Pulliam, receiver general of customs gave a reception in Lindbergh's honor which the President again attended. Colonel Lindbergh was kept busy until late last night. He was the guest of honor at a brilliant ball held at the presidential palace which was decorated with flowers and lights. All the diplomatic body, members of the government and prominent society figures attended.

The colonel previously had been honored at a special celebration in the Syrian center where a medal of honor was presented to him. A huge crowd attended this function and speeches of felicitation were delivered.

SPRING GRID WORK BEGINS

Birmingham, Ala., Feb. 6.—(AP)—Spring training in southern conference football has started in earnest, practically all of the 22 member institutions either already having their candidates down at hard work chasing punt and passing, planning to get them started today.

For Alabama and Louisiana the drills have been on two weeks while at North Carolina the blue and the white hopefuls have been drilling almost as long and have been going through full sixty minute practice sessions.

The Tar Heels plan approximately a dozen such games, Coach Collins turning his men loose with the admonition to play as if they were in a regular conference game of 1928.

To make the situation more realistic he has even named the teams after strong opponents of the 1928 card and is getting the squad fully into the fundamentals of play.

University of Mississippi is another already started. Coach Homer Hazle has first string men of 1927 to replace and is hopeful that the spring work will give a line on who their stars will be.

McVeer, McTeer, Devine, Blair and others have been showing up well at the University of Tennessee.

Tulane gets started today. Thirteen letter men will participate in the workouts for the next six weeks.

Some fifty men are working out at Lexington in an effort to impress coach Harry Gamage of the University of Kentucky.

Georgia Tech, Vanderbilt, and Georgia have been a little slow in warming up but will get in line in earnest this week.

Indications are now that the Golden Tornado will have all of its 1927 championship contending team back with the exception of Crowley, Hood and one or two other linemen.

SPORTS SLANTS SHIPS FOUND IN TUT TOMB

By ALAN J. GOULD

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—(AP)—The huddle system of deciding on Athletic Maneuvers has spread generally since Bill Roper started to make it popular on Eastern Gridrons a few years ago.

It seems to be necessary for instance, for Doctor Otto Pelizer to go into a huddle with amateur athletic union officials every time the German School master displays a desire to get off the marks. It took at least separate and distinct huddles before the Doctor finally galloped out to win his first race in the Millrose meet.

Dr. Pelizer will not make more than three racing starts while in the United States but he will get plenty of exercise sprinting from one conference to another.

The difficulty with these huddles is to put any time limit on them as is done on the football field. Gene Tunney and Tex Rickard have been huddling together on Florida links for some time without yet disclosing the signals for the next big fistic play. The chief development so far has been to put Jack Dempsey on the side lines.

Perhaps Rickard has borrowed the Rocke system and decided to save Dempsey for the second half of this year's heavyweight championship game, meanwhile using Delaney, Sharkey, Risio and Heiny at shock troops.

The Pan-American conference and Lindbergh may not have had anything to do with it but the United States and Mexico are paired in the first round of the Davis Cup Tournament anyway.

This will develop a curious situation if Robert Kinsey, a former co-holder of the American Doubles champion, is again a member of Mexico's Davis Cup team.

Kinsey satisfied the tennis authorities last year that for competitive purposes he was a Mexican. He married a Mexican girl established a residence in Mexico City and played in the Davis Cup matches against Japan at St. Louis last summer.

Brother Howard Kinsey, who helped Brother Robert lift the National Doubles Title in 1924 at Longwood, is now a professional, which is the same thing as being a Mexican so far as helping the United States in this year's Davis Cup play is concerned.

The latest tip on Finland's Olyouphant, Paavo Nurmi, may implicate preparations is that the fampus up the shorter distances and run the Marathon at Amsterdam.

This will be Paavo's third Olympic and possibly his last. He is represented as being anxious to cap his career by leaving the pack over the long grid, adding his name to those of his countrymen, Kolehmainen and Stenroos, previous winners of the classic.

If there any important tennis titles that France's agile Davis Cup players haven't won within the last year its probably because they haven't heard of them.

Jumping Jean Borotra has just travelled half way around the world to win the Australian championship title. Rene Lacoste defeated Tilden for the French and American crowns while Henri Cochet lifted the British Honors at Wimbledon.

BIG GEORGE GODFREY GETS TEST IN FISTS OF POUNDING BASQUE

Three inches shorter and 25 pounds lighter than his opponent, the durable Spaniard, Paulino Uzcudun (left), takes on the giant Negro, George Godfrey (right), February 28, at Los Angeles, something other white heavyweights have been loath to do. Paulino, who knocked out Harry Willis last summer, knows no color line.

By F. G. VOSBERGH, Feature Service Sports Editor.

NEW YORK, (AP)—Paulino Uzcudun, the Pounding Basque who ended the myth of Harry Willis' invincibility with a few well-directed blows of a club-like right, has started out to do as much for O'Hara's successor as the Dark Menace of the heavyweight ring.

If there is a color line, Paulino never heard of it, and in Los Angeles, February 28, he takes on the current Negro standard-bearer—George Godfrey—in a ten-round decision bout.

In preparation for this coming test of his prowess as a menace-mauler, Paulino has peppered his path well with knockouts. His lastings an dthe golden-toothed Spaniard makes his first invasion of California in somewhat confident and benignant mood.

The Basque undoubtedly is up against a considerably harder proposition in Godfrey than he was in his last three fights, however. This dusky panther from Leipsville, Pa., looms as much more formidable than Pat Lester, Ed Keeley or even Quentin Romero Rojas, all of whom Paulino added to his knockout list last month.

Except for a 1926 bout with Jack Cluskey which he lost, Godfrey has not met any of the leading white heavyweight contenders, but he has a fairly impressive record featured by a one-round knockout of Jim Maloney.

The giant Negro will have a big advantage over Paulino in size. Weighing 225 pounds and towering

Speaker Lands With Athletics

New York, Feb. 6.—(AP)—Tris Speaker has landed with the Philadelphia Athletics.

The veteran outfielder who was released a few days ago by the Washington Senators, came to terms with Connie Mack and as a result will report at the Athletics' training camp at Fort Myers, on March 1.

Speaker arrived in New York yesterday from a hunting trip and arranged details by telephone with Mack, who is vacationing at Mount Plymouth, Pa.

Mack's signing of Speaker fills a gap in the Philadelphia outfield by the release of Ty Cobb and Zach Wheat. Last season "Spoke," as he is understood, received a salary from the Senators ranging from $40,000 to $50,000 which price was an obstacle this year for a renewal of contract. Speaker declined to accept a reduction, as suggested by Clark Griffith of the Washington club.

Neither Tris nor Mack would comment on the salary arrangement.

"I'm satisfied with the terms, and so is Connie," Speaker said.

FOOTBALL PLAYERS DUMBBELLS

NEW YORK.—It would appear that football players are the real dumbbells among College Athletes. Intelligence tests of students conducted for the Carnegie Foundation for the advancement of teaching averaged as follows: Tennis players 87.16; Fencing, 81.10; Wrestling 80.91; Rowing 80.75; Golfing 79.25; Non-Athletes 79.01; Football 73.47. The foundation notes that the figures doubtless surprise those who do not associate the Physical appearance of the wrestler with high intelligence.

Pay Farewell to Haig.

Edinburg, Feb. 6.—(AP)—Throng of Earl Haig's fellow Scots took advantage today of their last opportunity to pay him tribute as his body laid in state in St. Giles cathedral. It was estimated that 15,000 persons will have paid the late Field Marshal homage before the coffin is taken tomorrow to Dryburgh Abbey, Haig's last resting place.

Despite snow and sleet a long queue formed before the doors were opened today and it was announced that the cathedral would continue open until late at night.

PROGRESS OF THE SUNDAY CAMPAIGN IN ST. LOUIS

The meetings in the St. Louis Coliseum at which Mr. William A. Sunday is doing the preaching, and which began on the first Sunday in January, have been well sustained in point of attendance. This is true with reference to the afternoon as well as the evening meetings, which latter have frequently filled the house, which seats about 10,000 people. The newspapers have given generous reports. Some of them have published the sermons in full. Many people passing thru the city have availed themselves of the opportunity of attending. The Coliseum is within fifteen minutes walk of the Union Station and may readily be reached by street car or taxicab service.

ed in a wonderful way with the sermons. As a part of the opening exercises it has brought the people to the height of expectation and at the close has helped to fix the appeal of the sermon in their hearts, and thereby commit them more fully to the program. For a part of the time other notable singers have been present, including Homer Hammon, also of Chicago, who has often assisted Mr. Sunday elsewhere.

Auxiliary meetings in homes, hotels, schools and churches are undoubtedly doing a great immediate good and are extending general effect of the campaign.

The meetings are under the auspices of a group of St. Louis church men who are assured, by the growing interest in the campaign, that their highest hopes will be realized in results that will be manifest to all when the invitation of the gospel is extended.

Up to this time, and until Mr. Sunday shall deem it wise to extend the invitation, the sermons have been largely addressed to the Christian people with certain specific objectives in view; making clear the distinction between righteous and unrighteous living; giving due exaltation of the Christ and His Church; pointing out the joy and the reward of releasing the powers for good residing in Christian men and women, and the impossibility of escape from the ultimate rendering of account before the living God.

Mary Lewis To Sing Here. Capacity houses greeted Mary Lewis from coast to coast during her recent concert tour, 4,000 in San Francisco, 3,000 in Los Angeles, capacity of 2,000 in Nashville, and everywhere the same story. Great interest is evinced in Miss Lewis' recital here and undoubtedly the campus building at East Carolina Teachers College will be crowded on February 23 when she will be heard here.

Now she is on another tour, winning laurels wherever she goes. At the end of each tour the cost of the engagement goes up and there is greater and greater difficulty in securing an engagement at any price. The price has advanced considerably since the contract was made at the college. This is perhaps the last chance the people of this section will have to hear her at a reasonably low price.

BOY SCOUT WEEK

This week is set aside as Boy Scout Week in celebration of the founding of the movement. The Boy Scout movement is one that has meant much to the nation and should have the hearty support of every citizen.

From the Boy Scout's oath we read: "On my honor I will do my best to do my duty to God and my country. . . . To keep myself physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight." Such are the principles upon which the scout organization is founded and observing such teachings during his growing years, a boy cannot help being the right kind of citizen when he reaches the age of maturity.

We say again, the Boy Scout movement has meant and will continue to mean much to our nation and the world, and should have all the support possible.

PUBLICITY NECESSARY

Declaring that North Carolina is king of the tobacco industry and that PUBLICITY has been one of the important and necessary factors in the state attaining this goal and that the same will be found true in the success of any legitimate enterprise regardless of its size or its product, Tobacco, a trade journal published in New York, says:

"Each one of the forty-eight States of this nation is supreme in possibly one or more industries. At least, each one is a leader in either a particular business or a certain product of agriculture.

"But when one State is also supreme in the growing and fabrication of a product, it is indeed entitled to be crowned king of its class. And such is the position of North Carolina.

"It grows and sells more bright leaf tobacco than any other State. It manufactures more tobacco and cigarettes than any other State. It pays more Internal Revenue taxes than any other State.

"North Carolina continued to lead in payment of the Federal tobacco taxes, contributing $197,107,302.94 in tobacco taxes in 1927, or more than half the entire total for the Union, compared with $180,069,360.22 in 1926, which was slightly under half the total paid by all the States in 1926.

"On cigarettes alone North Carolina in 1927 paid $174,862,268.40, or more than all the rest of the States combined. Virginia was her nearest competitor, paying a cigarette tax of $57,537,606.54. New York paid tobacco taxes of $30,778,647.95 in 1927, compared with $27,352,038.47 in 1926.

"North Carolina, indeed, is the pulse of the cigarette and smoking tobacco industry. Other States compete, but they are hardly in the running. Being the home of the product it produces, it is the natural thing for North Carolina to lead.

"It must not be overlooked, however, that there is one vital element which renders North Carolina supreme in its tobacco business. And that one thing is publicity. Minus publicity North Carolina would not be the crowned king of a vast industry. Minus publicity no other State, either, could be a competitor.

"After all, it is simply advertising which makes the huge totals representing a mighty business. Stop the advertising, and see whether this is right or wrong. But what real business man would cease the work which is the life blood of his industry? Where is there a modern manufacturer who does not realize the power of the press, the power of the printed word?

"Business of every sort today is built upon publicity. Unless there is the pressure of publicity, what is the demand for the product? Brands are merely the trade names for established reputation. They are merely the expression in the product of what is behind the label.

"And North Carolina manufacturers know full well that their State would be dethroned as king of tobacco if they decided they could not afford to advertise."

"Yet such is the oft repeated phrase of many men in the trade. They say the words, knowing well that they are refusing markets which they need, and which they may only obtain by advertising, plus good business management.

"In North Carolina, though, those in the tobacco business who 'cannot afford to advertise' are not represented in the glorious tobacco total for that State!"

ELECTRICAL ENGINEERS TO DISCUSS RADIO

New York, Feb. 6.—(AP)—Electrical engineers in London and New York on February 16 will hold a "joint" session made possible by radio's seven league boots.

Addresses made at the meeting in New York of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers and in London at the meeting of the British Institute of Electrical Engineers, on that date, will be simultaneously broadcast for the first time, Bancroft Ghehardt, president of the American organization has announced.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified crocote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, crocote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to crocote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the crocote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory disease, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (Adv.)

ABOUT TOWN

"Crime is on an increase in Pitt county", a reader of this column remarked to us today.

"This fact has been called to our attention quite force fully the last few years in the numbers of cases coming up before our courts. Each session of police court, of county court, of Superior court and minor magistrates courts handle numbers of cases.

"The situation in this county is declared to be more pronounced, more serious than any other county in the state.

"What is the reason?" Many solutions to the question have been advanced from time to time, but in my opinion the only real solution lies in the employment of that great mass of people who have nothing to do for three or four months of the year.

"Put the people to work somewhere and our congested court dockets will no longer bear the reputation of having more crime than any other part of the state.

"This is the best argument in the world for providing more manufacturing enterprises such as proposed in the establishment of a branch factory of the Philadelphia Plush concern. With numbers of industries humming all the year around our people would be too busy to become criminal and even the criminally inclined would become discouraged in the intense activity of their fellowmen.

"That old piece of philosophy about an idle mind being the devil's work shop is just as true today as it ever was. So if we would improve conditions let's provide work for the great mass of unskilled laborers who find employment impossible during certain parts of the year."

"Members of the Salvation army of this city are desiring an expression to the citizenship of Greenville their appreciation of the splendid way they responded to the recent call for funds with which to complete the budget for the year work. The campaign was everything we could have desired it to be, a member of the budget informed the writer of this column today, and there is every reason to believe our work will be far more successful this year than ever before because of the new possibilities opened up to us by the supplying of these additional funds.

"The local post is doing everything possible to reach out into the isolated communities of the section and carry cheer and happiness into homes where despair and desolation prevail. The numbers of indigent people to be found in these localities is appalling but with proper funds we should be able to bring about quite an improvement within the next few months."

"With another cold wave promised this community within the next few hours, it is to be hoped Greenville and Pitt county people will do everything in their power to assist the Welfare department in providing clothing for poor families. A recent check-up of these cases showed there are numbers of persons who will suffer the pangs of hunger and cold during the approaching weather if they are not provided with proper clothing.

"In case you have second-hand clothing of any kind, let us know at once. It is our purpose to provide for as many of these people as possible, but without assistance of liberal minded men and women we shall be unable to do so.

"Go through your wardrobe and if you have anything you think would prove of benefit to the poor make arrangements to contribute at once."

"Well, I see the Reflector is still expanding", remarked an old subscriber as he entered the office today and inquired about certain improvements which the paper has under consideration at this time.

"I am mighty glad to see you boys coming toward like you are. It is indicative of the expansion and development of the community which the paper has served so faithfully for the past forty odd years."

"With improvements from year to year like those of the past two years it is easy to believe the Reflector will be among the largest papers in the state.

"Stick to it boys—the future is filled with glittering opportunities for those striving to climb the shining ladder of success."

"Don't forget Dollar Day, Thursday, February 9th", C. B. Rowlett, secretary of the Greenville Merchants Association told the writer today.

We are planning to make the occasion of greater significance than ever before. It will be the biggest selling event ever staged in this city—and event in which every man, woman and child of eastern North Carolina should be intensely interested.

"Fifteen of our largest merchants have signified their intention of taking part in Dollar Day this time and those who come from miles around may rest assured of having the opportunity of picking from one of the most mammoth stocks of merchandise ever assembled here.

"Keep the date in mind, and by all means be on hand early in the morning and take advantage of some of these splendid offerings and prices."

Looking Backward Items Taken From The Reflector Of Twenty and Thirty Years Ago

February 6, 1898. A GREAT SUCCESS.

Was the "Sub Rosa" Masquerade.

Thursday night Germania hall presented a fastastic picture. It was the occasion of the masquerade given by the Sub Rosa Society, and its success proved that the young ladies know how to get up and manage such an affair.

For some days previous the occasion had been much talked and our people were expected something interesting. None present were disappointed in this particular. A large number of spectators gathered in the hall, while the masquers met in the office of Mr. H. A. White just opposite.

About a quarter past nine o'clock the door was thrown open and the masquers entered, keeping step to Italian band. L. I. Moore acted as leader and the grand march was interesting and well executed. The masquers and costumes were the best ever seen here and the personality of the wearers could be detected only in rare instances.

At 10 o'clock manager Moore drew them up in a circle and gave them a word to unmusk, and as merry, smiling faces began to appear from behind the masques there was much laughter among the spectators over how they had missed guessing who they were.

C. J. Woodward as the Yellow Kid was just out of sight. The yellow journal's original articles never cut more capers than did George.

Misses Rosalind Rountree and Lil Cherry represented Liz and Jen. They were awful chummy, and such love as they did carry around with them.

J. B. Lightfoot was a regular North Western bandit, with the fierce look and all. He'd almost make cold chills run up your back and put you to feeling for your pocket book.

Misses Sophia Jarvis and Blanche Flanagan were two sailor girls that were as chipper as could be. Jack wouldn't mind having such girls for his lassies.

Virgil Lee was a stunning New York sport, one of the four hundred. Mrs. R. J. Cobb was a pink domino, a very attractive one too.

Miss Ada Wooten was a waitress who kept quite busy here and there. Walter Tender as the double faced clown was immense in fact he took up more space both ways, than anybody in the room. His hobby was trying to feed folks with a spoon.

Miss Lina Sheppard was very charming indeed as "Queen of Hearts" a character natural to her.

O. P. Smith was a devil sure enough. His costume was flaming red, horns, pitchfork and all, the make-up and character fitting to a nicety.

Miss Helen Perkins charmingly represented Kate Greenway, while Miss Annie Perkins was little Miss Moffitt right over and over.

Arthur Gray was a broken down sport, but he kept in the ring just the same.

Miss Bettie Tyson was Little Red Riding Hood, and if the original was half as attractive as she no wonder the wolf tried to eat her.

Miss Sallie Lipscomb represented a Novice, but it wouldn't do to take her for one unless you want to go left.

Mrs. Thos. Wilkinson was a Yellow Rose of Texas, but there wasn't any Texas ways about her.

Miss Margaret Laughy was a Sister of Charity ready to do any act of kindness that comes to hand.

W. J. Corbett was Willie Pew Clothes, and poor boy, he looked like he had lost his own clothes, sure enough, and borrowed some his little bud.

Miss Rosa Hooker was very charming indeed as the Admiral's daughter.

Bob Moye was a Chesterfield gent all the way through.

J. L. Fleming was a baseba user and took his bat along, which he struck on the heads of the sports. He struck all the figures on the diamond and how some of the girls did envy his arm.

Joe Jarvis was the girl who came too late but he got there in time to unmusk.

Ernest Forbes was an up-to-date bloomer girl, with the exception of having no wheel along.

Bo Cherry as a magician was there in great shape but the nearest his legs had was that of two broom sticks. How he got in and out of those breeches is a mystery.

King Gasparilla Captures Tampa

Tampa, Fla., Feb. 6.—(AP)—For the twentieth time—this city today willingly offered itself for capture by King Gasparilla and his pirates and a plunge into festivities of the yearly carnival, which bears that regent's name.

High noon marked the hour of the city's official surrender to the crew of merry-makers who sailed up the bay, when Mayor D. B. McKay, according to the schedule, handed over the keys of the city to the king—this year appearing in the person of Don Thompson.

Miss Carlotta Cuesta is queen of the two-day carnival ushered in by today's festivities and Edward Nelson is captain of the pirate crew which each year dominates the elaborate program of social events and pageantry. The climax of the unique celebration will arrive tomorrow night with the grand coronation ball.

New York Grippd By Cold Wave

New York, Feb. 6.—(AP)—New York shivered today in a sudden "old snap" which sent the mercury down to 14 degrees. The cold wave followed one of the mildest days of the winter yesterday, when a balmy temperature sent 100,000 people to Coney Island and other seashore resorts.

GRAIN MARKET.
Chicago, Feb. 6.—(AP)—With the southwest reporting widespread soaking rains, the first in four months, wheat prices underwent a material setback today. Closing of spreads between here and the northwest however, checked the decline. Corn eased down in the late dealings as a result of scattered selling which developed notwithstanding increased corn export business which by some estimates was as high as 1,000,000 bushels.

Wheat closed unsettled 1-2c to 7-8c net lower, corn 1-8c to 3-8c down, oats a shade to 1-8-1-4c off and provisions showing 10 to 22c decline.

STOCK MARKET
NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—(AP)—The stock market today lacked uniformity after a strong forward movement in the morning had spent much of its force. Profit taking in some issues which have recently advanced sharply, and a growth of selling for both accounts reduced a number of early gains of 3 to 6 points shortly after noon. Banks called about $10,000,000 in loans.

Confidence in the business outlook, reinforced by a statement by Secretary Hoover that he saw distressing in the business situation, had impelled active buying in the early hours, particularly in the Steel, Public Utility, Cooper and miscellaneous groups. The extraordinary interest in Vanadium Steel which has advanced about 20 points in the past week or so, was reflected in an increased inquiry for other independent Steel Shares, particularly midland registered gains of 3 to 5 points.

Pool operations were prosecuted in many quarters in the morning, but were considerably modified when the market began to reflect the increased volume of sales for both accounts shortly after mid-day.

The closing was irregular. Total sales approximated 2,000,000 shares.

OLDER BOYS CONFERENCE OPENS 10TH

Four Hundred High School Boys to Attend Three Day Session in This City.

Four hundred boys representing many high schools of Nor. Carolina will attend the Older Boys Conference which convenes here Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, according to announcement made today. The conference will be held under auspices of the Y. M. C. A. and will continue for three days. Between seventy-five and a hundred schools will be represented.

Registration will begin at Jarvis Memorial Methodist church Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The opening session of the conference will be held at four o'clock. Problems dealing with the home, school and church will be discussed by prominent Y. M. C. A. workers of the state.

The outstanding feature of the conference will be the round table discussions. J. T. Fesperman, of Rocky Mount, former state secretary of boys' work, will be in charge of this program. He will be assisted by ten young men representing the Y. M. C. A. at State College.

J. A. McMillan, alumni secretary of Wake Forest, will be toastmaster at a banquet to be tendered the young men in the campus building at the Teachers College Saturday evening at 6:30 o'clock. The final session will be held at Jarvis Memorial Methodist church Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The committees on registration and entertainment started to work this week making arrangements for the coming of the visitors. Greenville people are urged to throw open their homes to the boys. The entertainment program includes supper Friday evening, two meals Saturday and Sunday.

Cooper Still Taken Sunday

A cooper still and seven or eight hundred gallons of beer were captured by members of the Pitt county Sheriff's department in the Belvoir community yesterday afternoon, according to information given out this morning by Sheriff Sam Whitehurst. The still was one of the finest varieties used in the manufacturing of illicit beverages in this part of the county. The outfit was not in operation and consequently nobody connected with it was present when the capture was made.

Local Red Men Stage Social

Withlacoochee Tribe No. 35, Improved Order of Redmen, held their regular meeting and social on last Friday's evening and transacted much important business. Redmen hall is a very busy place, especially on Friday evenings. We meet for business the second, third and fourth Fridays and for social on the first Friday of each month. We would consider it a very poor attendance if there were less than fifty at a council meeting and we are never much surprised when the number is more than one hundred.

Our new officers which were installed in January with O. C. White as sachem, are doing fine work, each one showing an improvement in their part as they become familiar with their work. Some new candidates are always waiting for initiation at each business meeting of the council. We help our usual meeting, balloting on new candidates, but did not initiate Withlacoochee Tribe has enjoyed. Three very nice meetings in the past month, and now that cold weather is going we look forward to and increase in attendance.

We ask that every member who has not been in the habit of attending do so as there is always something of interest. You are urged to be at the next meeting and learn about the two new prizes which are to be given to the members. The first is a grand prize of $40 to be given the first meeting in May. At the close of our regular business sessions we have what is called an attendance prize. The names of all members are in a box and the name drawn out, if present when called, receives a gift.

The only thing dead about Withlacoochee Tribe are those members who stay at home and do not attend the meeting—so come out and help swell our constantly growing attendance and we will soon have to hunt for a larger hall.

GLEE CLUB CONTEST OPEN AT GREENVILLE

Greenville, Feb. 6.—(AP)—Representatives of more than half a dozen leading colleges in the south are expected to attend the second annual southern Glee Club contest here Friday night when a team will be picked to represent the south in the national contest at New York. Governor John G. Richards, of South Carolina, has been invited to present the glowing cup to the winning team.

THREE INJURED AT MINE RIOT

Two Coal and Iron Policemen Shot in Demonstration at Pennsylvania.

Pittsburgh, Feb. 6.—(AP)—Two coal and iron policemen were shot and a woman was injured by a state trooper's horse during a mine strike riot at Phillipsburg, near California, Pa., today.

The coal and iron policemen, J. D. Buttermore and P. P. Byrne, employed under state commissions as guards at the Crescent mine by the Pittsburgh Coal Company were struck by the charge from a shotgun. They were not dangerously wounded.

Police reported that several hundred men and women, acting as union pickets, appeared at the mine and tried to persuade the non-union miners not to go to work. The coal and iron police attempted to disperse the pickets, it was said, and during the brush between the officers and members of the crowd, a shotgun was fired, wounding the policemen. State troopers were summoned and restored order quickly. An unidentified woman received a crushed foot when a trooper's horse stepped on her.

The union pickets had concentrated for several days last week at the Daisy mine of the Vesta Coal Company but today they turned their attention to the Phillipsburg workings.

RALEIGH BOY SCOUTS TO GIVE RADIO PROGRAM

Thirteen other Scout councils in the state with a membership of several thousand will be listening in. The program begins at 7 o'clock.

French Aviators Off For Alabama

New Orleans, La., Feb. 6.—(AP)—Pleasant memories of a cordial welcome from a city over which they flew the flag of their country lingered with Dieudonne Costes and Joseph Lebris, daring French aviators, today as they faced the east on the first leg of their tour of the United States in their plane, the Nungesser-Coll.

Their plans for today consisted of a hop to Montgomery, Ala., to land at Maxwell field and spend the night as the guest of the former capitol of the Confederacy. Tuesday they were scheduled to fly to Washington.

Sharing honors with Mayor William H. Thompson and his party of Chicagoans on their arrival Saturday, the globe-trotting French aviators came into their own yesterday for numbered among their admirers were scores of lineal descendants of the early French settlers who carved a thriving colony from the heart of a wilderness.

Ovation after ovation greeted the aviators as they toured this city founded by St. de Bienville and his colonists more than two centuries ago. Many greetings in their native language were shouted to them from overhanging balconies and ancient court yard gates as their car rolled through the Vieux Carre, the old French quarter of the city.

OBSERVE FIRST TREATY WITH UNITED STATES

Paris, Feb. 6.—(AP)—The Paris press today heralded the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the signing of the first treaty of friendship and peace between France and America.

This, the papers observed, will lend special lustre to the signing today of a new pact which virtually renounces war as an instrumental-ity ever to be called into play between the two republics.

Many papers printed photographs of the original document of February 6, 1778, which now stands as number one in the archives of the American state department. Portraits of King Louis XVI of France and Benjamin Franklin and others concerned in its negotiation and signature were also printed along with articles tracing the history of the document.

THREE MIAMI BANKS CLOSE

Heavy Withdrawals of Deposits Force Institutions to Close Doors Today.

Miami, Fla., Feb. 6.—(AP)—Three Miami banks failed to open for business today. They were the Southern Bank and Trust Company, the Citizens Bank and the Bank of Allapattah.

The Southern Bank and Trust Company requested Comptroller Amos to assume charge of its affairs pending strengthening of finances, following heavy withdrawals caused by circulation of anonymous letters predicting its failure. Mr. Amos ordered the other institutions not to open for business under the belief that they were not in financial position to withstand any heavy withdrawal which might result from the excitement incident to the closing of the Southern Bank and Trust Company.

The comptroller said there had been no sign of heavy withdrawals at either the Citizens Bank or the Bank of Allapattah. Other banks reported no unusual withdrawals.

Mr. Amos entered plea for a "cool and collected public spirit." "If the public remains cool and doesn't rush the banks this ought to blow over," he said. "If I hammer the remaining ones I can't answer for the result."

In announcing that the Southern Bank and Trust Company had suspended business but would re-open March 15, and that the state comptroller had taken charge at the request of its officials, President J. E. Lummus said in a public statement that large demands for cash during the last few days had been caused by anonymous letters written to depositors and advising them to

"quietly get your money of the Southern bank."
The letters, he said, were signed "Hiram" and bore a crudely drawn Masonic emblem. They were mailed Saturday, January 28, in Miami, but Mr. Lummus was unable to estimate their number more accurately than that there were "more than a dozen." Some were sent to persons who were not depositors, he added.
The police are seeking to trace the sender.
President Lummus said that deposits in open accounts and trust funds were fully protected.
The Southern Bank and Trust Company was capitalized at $100,000 and had $149,480.55 in deposits. Capital of the Bank of Allapattah was $15,000 and deposits were estimated by officers today at $110,000.

Miami, Feb. 6.—(AP)—A determined run on the First National Bank began during the noon hour, following the failure of three other Miami financial institutions to open for business today.
Miami, Feb. 6.—(AP)—Seven million dollars in cash will be sent to the First National Bank by the Federal Reserve Bank branch in Jacksonville by airplane and train to pay all depositors who wish to withdraw their funds, officials of the local institution announced this afternoon following an orderly run on the bank growing out of the closing of three other local financial institutions this morning.

It should come back to this country, and the government ought to buy it for the Smithsonian Institution. Henry Ford would buy it for his museum, if the world's richest government can't afford it.

Mussolini continues simplifying Italy's government which in substance is the expression of Mussolini's "I will." Only one political party is to exist. Only those will vote "who contribute to the progress of the nation."
The number of deputies will be reduced from 560 to 400. It would be simpler to let Mussolini cast one vote for the whole nation. That is what happens in reality.
