AMERICANS TO HONOR FLYER IN CUBA TODAY

Lindbergh to Receive Tribute From His Countrymen During Busy Day.

Havana, Feb. 11.—(AP)—Americans today had opportunity to pay tribute to Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh their ambassador of good will to the countries of Central America, South America and the Antilles.

Until this evening the entire day the flyer was devoted to American functions in his honor. He entered upon another busy day with the highest decoration of the Cuban government in his possession—the grand cross of the order of Manuel de Cespedes. The insignia was placed on the airman's breast by President Machado at a presidential banquet to Lindbergh in the national theater last night. In testifying the decoration, the President said:

"The republic of Cuba established the order of Manuel de Cespedes to honor men who have distinguished themselves above others in this and other countries. You are one of them, doing good to humanity by a mission of peace and civilization. My country's government honors itself by honoring you with the highest decoration we can grant."

Lindbergh replied briefly, expressing his thanks for his reception in Havana, he said his trip, begun two months ago, had carried him to interesting places and he was sorry that he was unable to remain longer in each.

In the midst of a busy day, he found time to make two little girls happy. With Catherine and Ann Judah, four and a half year old twin daughters of ambassador and Mrs. Nobel Brandon Judah as passengers he made a flight over Havana and surrounding districts in a commercial plane. The ambassador and Mrs. Judah also flew with him. Before this flight he received the keys to the city of Havana. Expressing his thanks, Lindbergh said that relations of the countries of the Americas might be improved immeasurably, he thought, as a result of progress in aviation.

The greater part of the American colony, and visiting Americans was expected to attend a luncheon given in Lindbergh's honor today by the United States chamber of commerce in Havana, at the national casino. Frederic Snares, president of the chamber, will make the principal address.

American legionnaires and veterans of the Spanish-American war have been invited to a reception for Lindbergh this afternoon at the American embassy.

The last official function in the flyer's honor will be held tonight when the Cuban geographical society gives a banquet at the Academy of Science. President Machado will present him with the geographical medal in tribute to his services to science.

Tomorrow, Lindbergh intends to make final preparations for his St. Louis flight retiring early so as to start at daybreak Monday for his home port.

Says Calles In Political Exile

Los Angeles, Feb. 11.—(AP)—Testimony that the alleged anti-American attitude of President Calles of Mexico, had forced him into political exile here was resorted to by Adolfo de La Huerta, former provincial president of the southern republic, when he took the stand in his own defense at his trial on a charge of conspiracy to violate the American neutrality laws.

The former Mexican official and four associates, who are charged with attempting to provide arms and ammunition to the revolting Yaqui Indians of Sonora by shipping them from this country, rested their defense yesterday after De La Huerta had testified.

De La Huerta recounted that he and Calles had been personal friends until the chief executive turned anti-American.

De La Huerta admitted that he and his personal representative Louis Gayou, one of the defendants purchased 20 rifles and a quantity of ammunition for the sole purpose of taking over police duty in Sonora, if the rebelling Yaqui succeeded in capturing the town. He emphatically denied that he had attempted to furnish Yaqui Indians with arms and ammunition.

The former Mexican executive told scores of conversations with United States governmental officials in which he discussed Mexican border conditions with them.

SIX PERSONS DIE IN MINE FIRE TODAY

Fate of Forty More Miners Trapped by Fire at Timmins, Ont. In Doubt.

Timmins, Ont., Feb. 11.—(AP)—Five of some 46 miners entrapped in the Hollinger mine were rescued this afternoon. Waning hopes were kindled and by late first success of the rescuers, and officials believed others might be saved.

Timmins, Ont., Feb. 11.—(AP)—The number of known dead in the Hollinger mine fire of ten o'clock this morning stood at six, two of them having been identified.

The fate of more than 40 miners remained in doubt. They were trapped in the mines, which are believed filled with poisonous fumes from yesterday's fire.

Rescue work was halted pending the arrival of special trains from Pittsburgh and Toronto with smoke fighting equipment and rescue experts.

Through the night the wives and children of the imprisoned miners kept vigil at the minehead, but each return of the empty car dimmed their hopes. The car was run on the chance that some of the men might win their way to the shaft and survive the trip past the burning 850 foot level. They are believed to be on the level just below the fire.

Six bodies had been recovered. The only two identified were those of Martin Stevens, shaft boss, and Ira Graham. Death had been caused by suffocation from smoke and carbon monoxide gas.

A possibility that some of the 44 men believed missing had made their way safely to the top unreported, could not be definitely determined until a thorough check of the miners could be made today. Between 800 and 900 men made their way safely out of the mine yesterday.

There were conflicting reports of the source of the blaze. The most authentic being that it had started in a pile of rubbish on the 500-foot level. The fire was discovered yesterday morning shortly after the day shift of miners had gone to work.

H. H. PROCTOR BADLY HURT

Grimesland Man Probably Fatally Injured When Run Down by Truck Today.

John Ellis Jones, young white man, of Washington, was being held in the county jail in this city today without bond, charged with running over and probably fatally injuring H. H. Proctor, prominent citizen of Grimesland, early today. The young man will be held, officers said, pending change in the condition of the injured man who this afternoon was reported in a critical shape.

Arrest of Jones resulted from the running down of Mr. Proctor on the Greenville-Washington highway, in the heart of Grimesland. The young man is said to have been driving a wrecking truck from a Washington garage when the accident occurred.

Mr. Proctor is said to have been walking along the side of the highway when the truck hit him. The driver said he was forced from the pavement by a car coming out from an intersecting street and did not see Mr. Proctor until the truck had hit him.

The injured man was rushed to Washington hospital for medical aid. A report from his bedside this afternoon was to the effect that his condition was considered critical and little hope was entertained for his recovery.

ROCKEFELLER TESTIFIES IN TEAPOT CASE

Millionaire Questioned by Senator Walsh In Senate Investigation Today.

Washington, Feb. 11.—(AP)—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., today joined the constantly increasing list of witnesses before the Senate's Teapot dome committee.

In a committee room jammed with spectators, he was called to throw light, if he could upon the famous deal whereby the Continental Trading company bought oil for $1.50 a barrel and sold it to American Oil companies on the same day for $1.75 and what disposition was made of the profits.

Rockefeller was sworn by chairman Nye. He gave his name in full and residence.

"Do you or any of the associations with which you are connected own any stock in the Standard Oil of Indiana?" Senator Walsh, of Montana, the committee prosecutor asked.

"I own 402,280 shares," was the reply. "The Rockefeller Foundation has 460,760 shares; the University of Chicago 30,000, while 500,000 shares are held in trust for my two sisters."

Rockefeller said he personally owned 4 1/2 per cent of the Standard Oil of Indiana; the Foundation five per cent and the University of Chicago one third of one per cent. The total holdings were given as just short of 15 per cent.

Walsh piled his questions in the same room in which the Teapot Dome inquiry began four years ago and where Edward L. Doheny volunteered the information that he lent Albert B. Fall $100,000 in cash during the negotiations for the lease of the Elk Hills, Cal., Naval reserve.

The New York financier said that if he owned only 100 shares of Oil stock his interest in uncovering the "national scandal" would be the same.

"My sense of obligation to do everything in my power for the uncovering of this national scandal is not a matter of stockholding," he said.

"I thank you gentlemen for the opportunity to come here and aid you."

"This situation is far reaching. It affects certain individuals, but beyond that it affects the whole industry, which is under suspicion. It affects the whole business structure."

"Only by bringing all the facts to light can the cloud over the oil industry be dispelled" Rockefeller testified.

The salient facts seem to me to be as follows:

"Three of those related to this national scandal it has been impossible to get. Two more are before the committee. Then there is Colonel Stewart. I have every confidence in Colonel Stewart." He said he was "bitterly disappointed" that Stewart did not answer all the questions of the committee.

This reference was made to Robert W. Stewart, chairman of the board of Standard Oil Company, who was arrested by the Senate for declining to reply to questions by the committee.

"I totally disagree with the position he has taken," Rockefeller added, in reference to Stewart.

He said that when Stewart first was sought in the oil case he was out of the country.

Senate Goes On Record To Retire Presidents Following Second Term

Washington, Feb. 11.—(AP)—In the opinion of the Senate American presidents should retire from office "after their second term".

Fifty six members of the Senate so believe and, over the opposing votes of 26 others, they have put the Senate on record to that effect by adopting the resolution of Senator LaFollette, Republican, Wisconsin, declaring it would be unwise and unpatriotic for executives to depart from "the precedent established by Washington and other presidents."

Adopted after four days of debate that centered largely on its bearing upon President Coolidge, the resolution as trimmed of its paragraph commending "the observance of the precedent by the president". It was eliminated by Senator LaFollette when Senator Fess, Republican, Ohio, had moved to have it stricken out.

LaFollette said he had added the paragraph "in all sincerity because I thought President Coolidge by his statement had definitely eliminated himself from the race and was observing this tradition."

He said it was apparent, however, that friends of Mr. Coolidge were preparing to draft him, and that "the President has not foreclosed his renomination."

Senator Fess was not so successful in another attempt to reword the resolution so that it definitely excluded President Coolidge from its meaning. His proposal to have it apply to second "elective" terms was defeated 73 to 5.

The final vote found 18 Republicans, mostly westerners, and including Senator Curtis of Kansas, a Presidential candidate, joining 37 Democrats and the one Farm-Labor Senator in support of the resolution. Senator Gillette, Republican, Massachusetts, also voted for it, while Senator Walsh, Democrat, of that state opposed it, with three others of the minority party—Blease of South Carolina, Ferris of Michigan, and Randall of Louisiana.

Two announced candidates for the Republican nomination, Senator Watson of Indiana, and Willis of Ohio, voted against the resolution. Senator Fess tried a third time to amend the resolution, but was defeated with a rumber of "nays" which he sought to eliminate a phrase declaring third terms "unpatriotic and fraught with peril to our free institutions". Senator Blighman then proposed an exception to the third term rule in case of "great national emergencies", but that didn't even reach a roll call. The same fate killed off an amendment by Senator Neely, Democrat, West Virginia, which would have removed the resolution's application to President Coolidge "if he changes his mind and decides to become a candidate."

Dante described the damned in hell biting at each other's skulls. The horror seems impossible, but isn't.

In Raymond street jail a prisoner secretly ground a soap spon handle to razor edge and with it savagely stabbed a fellow prisoner, "Red Moran". In prison, or in hell, bitter hatreds endure.

This "Red Moran," who killed two policemen, said at his trial, "I want to boil in de chair," meaning that he wanted to be burned in the electric chair. Talking the language of the gutter that bred him, stabbed by another criminal, "Red Moran," twenty-four years old, shows how poor a chance such men have in life.

Americans talk today of many things—prosperity, politics, assorted crimes, sports.

Today's only news that will interest future generations is the news that on Wednesday actual moving pictures of human beings were sent through the ether, without wires, across the Atlantic ocean.

Human beings actually saw each other, separated by three thousand miles of water.

If that accomplishment is done by a race only 17,000 years from the stone age, who can doubt that a million years hence our race will see pictures, coming through the ether, of life on other planets?

Secretary Kellogg, home from Canada, says, "every question will be adjusted between us, by respect for each other's rights, tolerance and patience."

That's true of Canada and Great Britain. That empire, instead of objecting to our building of fast cruisers, and making other commonsense preparation, should be delighted.

Britain and the United States are friends.

Wholesale Murders of Property Classes Report Today in Chinese Province.

Canton, Feb. 11.—(AP)—Wholesale murders of property classes are taking place in Kwangtung Province.

The communist activities, which resulted in upheavals in Canton in December when a thousand persons were slain, are reassuming appreciable proportions. Disorders have occurred at various localities.

The coast area one hundred miles north of Hong Kong centering around Heiching and Kowloon Bays is the outstanding stronghold of communism today. There more than a million farmers, fishermen, and salt makers have "gone red."

They have established a commune, wiped out titles to land and confiscated property on the wealthy.

The movement is spreading. Wholesale murders of land owners and merchants have occurred. In many cases whole families were wiped out.

Many villages have been besieged and razed by the Reds. The village elders were decapitated, their heads were mounted on poles and sent to villages nearby as a warning of the fate to be visited on the inhabitants in case they opposed communism.

The movement has resulted in the evacuation of European Catholic and protestant missionaries from the area to Swatow and Hong Kong.

Killed By Fumes From Heater.

Asheville, Feb. 11.—(AP)—Deadly carbon monoxide fumes, from a hot water heater in the home, were today charged with the death of William Lathrop, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Lathrop, of Asheville. The child was overcome yesterday as he stood by the heater. Mrs. Lathrop was also seriously affected by the gas but is expected to recover.

TWELVE KILLED IN BLAST AT DISTILLATION PLANT OF EVERETT OIL COMPANY

Dark Horse Shows Up in Race For Everett Position

Raleigh, Feb. 11.—(AP)—A darkhorse appeared in the race for the secretaryship of state today. Unnamed, the person to be appointed sometime before midnight, had not received the honors in the speculations by newspapermen writing accounts the past few days.

Word of the darkhorse, from a highly reliable source, presumably Patrick Henry Williams of Elizabeth City out of the running.

Governor McLean said he would announce his appointment "sometime before midnight." Further than that no word at all was elicited from him. He returned from Lumberton where he had gone after the funeral of the late William Nash Everett of Rockingham whose death, mourned all over the state, had left the position of secretary of state vacant.

HI-Y CLUB TO HAVE BANQUET HERE TONIGHT

Ninth Annual Session of Y. M. C. A. Movement Moving Along Smoothly Today.

The ninth annual conference of the State Y. M. C. A. "Hi-Y" club, which convened in this city yesterday afternoon at Jarvis Memorial Methodist church, continued to move along smoothly today following complete organization yesterday afternoon and last night. It was estimated yesterday afternoon that some four hundred young men, representing eighty odd high schools of the state, were in attendance. The sessions will continue through tomorrow afternoon.

This morning's session opened with group discussions and taking of a conference picture. At twelve o'clock members of the A. B. W. S. met at a dining room on Dickinson avenue and had dinner. The greater part of the afternoon was spent in recreation. Delegation meetings were held this afternoon from 5:30 to 6:30 o'clock when conference members went to the Rotary Club for banquet.

Last night's session was devoted mainly to presentation of the conference theme and plan of procedure followed by general discussions under direction of J. T. Fesperman.

The banquet tonight will be one of the highlights of the conference. The principal speakers of the occasion will be Henry Ruark, of Duke University, who attended the world conference held at Helsingfors, Finland. His subject will be "World Brotherhood." J. A. McMillan, alumni secretary of Wake Forest, is also scheduled for an address during the evening.

The banquet will be given at the campus building of the East Carolina Teachers College. Music for the occasion will be furnished by the band of the Greenville high school, one of the finest musical organizations of any public school in the state.

The committee having charge of providing accommodations for the visitors stated last night that provisions had been made for virtually every registration. This considerable work on the part of the committee of high school boys and business men appointed earlier in the week, especially during last minutes.

This is the first time Greenville has had the privilege of entertaining members of this organization and the entertainment committee was today doing everything possible to show the visitors a good time.

MAN KILLED AND TWO WOMEN HURT IN WRECK

Miss Irene Crater was suffering from several broken ribs and severe bruises while the Misses Virginia and Eleanor received slight injuries and shock. All lived in Charlotte. Floyd Ayers, also of Charlotte was uninjured.

The party, including Honeycutt, was retiring to Charlotte from Albany when a roadster which turned over about midnight. It was thought the brakes of the automobile locked on a curve.

Half Dozen Missing And as Many More In Critical Condition As Result of Explosion of Still at Massachusetts Plant.

Everett, Mass., Feb. 11.—(AP)—Twelve men were known to be dead, at least half a dozen more were missing and as many again were in a critical condition in various hospitals today as the result of the partial destruction late yesterday afternoon of the distillation plant of the Beacon Oil Company here.

Ten of the dead had been identified and were:

Peter Davis; Somerville; George Doherty; Everett; Michael Burges; Charlestown; Joseph P. Landrine; Everett; John Collins, Cambridge; Michael Gilligan, Malden; Donald MacIntosh, Everett; Peter Rauso, Everett; Aemelis Mugford, Wakefield; Charles Poirier, Everett.

All of the dead, missing and seriously injured were employees of the oil company. Two of the bodies remained unidentified and official who said that they were charged beyond the possibility of recognition expressed the belief that they might be those of men now listed as missing. Mugford and Poirier died in a hospital here today.

Those known to be missing today were: Dennis Murphy, Everett; Harry Hooper, Everett; Matthew Aylward, South Boston; James Dolan, Everett; Coleman Flaherty, Winchester; and Merrill or Merril Finch, address undetermined. In addition, at least four other persons were tentatively listed as missing.

Throughout the night firemen, policemen and other workers tirelessly searched the smoking ruins for additional bodies while sopping groups of relatives beset the main gates of the big plant in quest of information or clustered about the undertaking rooms where the dead were being identified.

Heroism found frequent expression at the hospitals to which the more seriously injured were rushed. William Flannigan, 32, a welder, was brought to the Massachusetts General Hospital at Boston with three fellow workers. Although his face was burned almost beyond recognition, Flannigan gamely insisted that the other men be treated first.

President R. B. Kahle of the company declared that the explosion probably was caused by the failure of a low pressure still. The affected stills formed one unit in a total of 25 in the plant which covers a tract of 50 acres on the bank of the Mystic river opposite Charlestown.

The first blast came with a roar that was heard in cities for miles around and almost immediately a gigantic cloud of thick black smoke spouted upward. Within a few minutes five alarms summoning help from half a dozen nearby cities had been sounded and the entire area shrouded in the gloom of the oil pall through which jets of flame leaped 300 feet into the air.

Two Local Men Hurt in Wreck

O. W. Harrington and J. K. Wilchard, both of this city, received painful but not serious injuries when the car in which they were riding was struck by a freight car at the Chocowiny crossing.

The negro chauffeur, was reported to have also received slight injuries in the crash that completely demolished the car.

Messrs. Wilchard and Harrington had started off on a fishing trip and according to reports of the accident their car was struck at the crossing by a moving freight car that had been cut loose from the engine. Both received painful bruises and Mr. Harrington received cuts about the face and head that necessitated the taking of several stitches.

HEART DISEASE GETS ATTENTION IN STATE

Charlotte, Feb. 11.—(AP)—Relief work among sufferers of heart disease in North Carolina, service similar to that given tuberculous patients, was today tentatively added to the state-wide program of the North Carolina Tuberculosis Association.

A proposal of Dr. L. B. McBrayer, managing director of the association, to extend the activities of that organization to include treatment of persons suffering of heart disease was approved here yesterday at a conference between Dr. McBrayer, the secretary of the state board of health, and a number of other leading physicians. Plans to-day were going forward to work out a definite program in time to be submitted at the meeting of the state medical society at Pinehurst in April.

"Deacon" Joliff to Pilot the Greenville Club

RICHMOND MAN MADE MANAGER OF TEAM TODAY

"Deacon" Joliff, former member of the Richmond baseball club of the Virginia league, will pilot the Greenville baseball club of the Eastern Carolina league, it became known today.

The announcement was made this morning by President Guy Smith, who stated that Joliff had been selected over three other applicants whom they have had under consideration for several days.

Joliff will move his family to Greenville within the next few days and will immediately begin hiring of players and other preparations looking to the opening of the season in April.

Joliff's release was secured from Raleigh following negotiations covering several days, but the amount involved in the release was not mentioned by club officials today.

Joliff has seen four years of service with the Richmond club and has served a total of eight years in the Virginia League. During that time he established a hurling record of 57. He is a knuckle ball artist and his work with Richmond was not only above the average but was featured by the spectacular at times.

President Smith said the old grandstand at the ball park in the fair grounds would be replaced by an entirely new structure capable of seating from 2,500 to 3,000 spectators. Bleachers will be erected for both white and colored people in order that the largest crowds of the season may be accommodated.

Work in connection with the improvements will get under way within the next several days, it was stated, so that everything will be in readiness for the exhibition game to be played in this city April 6th between Newark and New Haven. Practice of the local club will be in full swing by that date and it is the purpose of President Smith to have everything in readiness as early as possible.

While number of players are under consideration, only three or four whose names have not yet been announced, have been signed by the local club. This will occupy the attention of Manager Joliff immediately upon his arrival, and it is expected the entire personnel of the club will be announced in a few days following his arrival.

Announcement of the name of the manager of the club today was the subject of conversation in public places and along the streets of the city. Consensus of opinion apparently favored the selection. Numbers of sports lovers are acquainted with the splendid record of the former Virginia league hurler, and confidently expect he will be able to put the locals at the top of the win column with the first shrill notes of the umpire's voice.

His future activities preparatory to organization of the team will be watched with more than passing interest and baseball fever will be at its height when the season actually gets under way in April.

Continue Search For Two Missing Sheriffs Today

Lafayette, Ind., Feb. 11.—(AP)—A bloodstained overcoat found on a highway near Lebanon west of here last Thursday on the same day local deputy sheriffs disappeared while taking two prisoners to the state reformatory at Pendleton, 70 miles east of here, had not been identified today as belonging to one of the four men.

The coat, turned over to officials yesterday by the farmers who found it, was at first believed to have belonged to either John P. Grove, or Wallace McClure, deputy sheriffs who left here in an automobile last Tuesday with John Burns and Samuel Baxter, both sentenced to serve five to twenty-five years for robbery.

Police believe the deputies have met harm at the hands of the two prisoners who were seen at the home of Burns' uncle near Danville, Ill., several hours after leaving here in custody of the deputies. The automobile in which the four men left here, the prisoners handcuffed together in the tonneau, was being driven by Burns and Baxter.

South Central Golf Tourney In Second Day

Hot Springs, Ark., Feb. 11.—(AP)—Second day's play in the 72-hole South Central Open Golf Tournament began this morning with a fair number of the country's leading professionals grouped near top scores and no one possessed of a clear advantage as a result of the first day's play.

With Frank Walsh, Appleton, Wis., pro, leading with a flashy 69, obtained through give birdies and Henry Cui, Bridgeport, Conn., pro, next with a 70, eight players stood at par or better for the 18. These included Joe Kirkwood, of Albany, Ga., with 71; MacDonald Smith, of New York, with the same score, and Charles Manning, Pittsburgh; Dewey Webber, Chicago; Tommy Armour, national open champion, and Johnny Golden, Paterson, N. J., each armed with a par 72.

CONGER WINS CINDER RACE AT CHICAGO

Chicago, Feb. 11.—(AP)—Germany's blonde streak of the cinder path, Dr. Otto Peltzer, who says his prime motive for invading American tracks is to acquire knowledge, has learned one lesson from an unassuming athlete from the tall corn state of Iowa, Ray Conger.

Before a wild cheering throng of 5,000 spectators last night in the Tarkenton arena of the Chicago Riding Club, Conger beat the German ace by the tape in the 1,000 metre race by a good ten yards. It was Peltzer's second race in America and his first defeat.

The time, 2:35, was comparatively slow. The world's indoor record for the event, held by Lloyd Hann, of the Boston Athletic Club, is 2:26-2/5.

As the former Iowa state star, who is now running under the colors of the Illinois Athletic Club, spurred across the tape for victory and new fame, every spectator who could reach the track swarmed over him, hoisted him up into the air and cheered lustily.

"I have nothing to say about this defeat," Peltzer replied to questions and consolations. "All I can say is that I hope Mr. Conger and I can meet again. Of course, I want to win on the track but winning races is not my main purpose in coming to America. I came here to learn about American athletics and American institutions. What I learn about track will be invaluable to me if I compete in the coming Olympic games."

Conger's face beamed a broad smile of satisfaction, as he fondled the golden miniature shoe, set with a large diamond, which was given to him for his feat.

"No one was more surprised than I," he said, "but you know, I was puzzled during the entire race because Dr. Peltzer didn't set a faster pace. I lagged behind most of the way, saving my strength then, when the last lap came, I said to myself: 'Better step along.' I spurred and expected Dr. Peltzer to answer it with a faster one. But he didn't and I won the race."

FRENCH ACES AT NEW YORK

Mitchell Field, N. Y., Feb. 11.—(AP)—Dieudonne Costes and Joseph Lebriz, French fliers whose course has led them over four continents during the past four months landed here at 10:22 o'clock today from Washington.

A group of army pursuit planes escorted the Frenchmen to the field and circled the field in the air above as the biplane Nungesser-Coll, which has a service record of 67,000 miles was brought to a dett landing.

Costes and Lebriz have flown more than 22,000 miles on their present trip, which has taken them from France to Africa across the Atlantic to South America and to the United States.

The fliers were greeted by Edward L. Santon for Mayor Walker and Maxine Mongendre, French consul general. As the consul general appeared at the field he was accorded an 11-gun salute.

Bass Puts Up Stiff Fight in New York Bout

New York, Feb. 11.—(AP)—Tony Canzoneri assumed undisputed recognition as featherweight champion of the world today but only after a fierce 15 round struggle with Benny Bass, of Philadelphia, who boxed most of the distance with a dislocated right shoulder.

Before a crowd of about 14,000 in Madison Square Garden last night Canzoneri opened up with a rapid fire jussade of rights and lefts to the head which nearly knocked out Bass in the third round. The Philadelphia boxer went down for a count of eight and was on his knee when the bell ended the round.

The injury to Bass was not disclosed until after the bout when a large swelling appeared about the shoulder. Dr. W. G. Frazer said the right shoulder was dislocated and the shoulder collarbone possibly fractured. Bass was taken to a hospital.

The Philadelphia said he sustained the injury in the third round when he missed Canzoneri with a hard right and that thereafter he was compelled to rely on his left hand for his attack.

The judges' verdict met with popular approval from the throng.

By gaining the decision Canzoneri brought to an end a long controversy in the featherweight division. Canzoneri was the standard bearer of the class acknowledged by the New York A. C. while Bass was the original champion of the N. Y. A. C. which has a membership in 26 states, not including New York.

GREENVILLE WINS GAME FROM WILSON

Greenville High School cagers defeated the strong team from Wilson High School at Gorman's warehouse here last night by the score of 13 to 12. The game was probably one of the most stubbornly contested played on the local floor this season and was featured by brilliant playing of both clubs. Wilson up to last night lead the North Eastern Athletic conference, but the loss to the locals threw them into a tie with Washington. Greenville still in second position.

The feature of the game was the refereeing of Dr. Blauvelt of Wilson, whose decisions were the most impartial of any official seen on the local court in years.

Wilson was badly bewildered by reason of the fact that this was the first time that they had played on a warehouse court this year, but even with this handicap they exhibited sprits of brilliance that prevented them from being completely snowed under by the locals.

For Greenville Bostic starred with nine points to his credit and King played his first game, starred on the defense. Adams was the individual star for Wilson.

The lineup:
Greenville
Bostic, 1. f. (9)
Repass, r. f. (1)
Hearn (1)
Roberson (4)
King (6)
Substitutes: Wilson Lancaster; referee Blauvelt, Missouri State.

WEINERT TO MAKE HIS SECOND TRIP TO MAJORS
San Francisco, (AP)—Phil Weinert, husky left-handed pitcher of the San Francisco missions, believes in the old adage about trying again if unsuccessful the first time. At 26 he is making his second trip up to the major leagues, this time to the Chicago Cubs. Three years ago he was with the Philadelphia Athletics.

WANTS FAIR CHANCE FOR YOUNG STARS

Chicago, Feb. 11.—(AP)—The plea of William T. Tilden to give America's young tennis stars a fair chance in the coming campaign to bring the Davis cup back to this country was before the annual convention of the United States lawn tennis association today.

Two sets of Davis cup players are suggested in Tilden's plan, one to compete in the American Zone play under the recent decision of the United States lawn tennis association and the other to sail for Europe early in the summer in order to get accustomed to foreign conditions for the finals in France.

"To send the United States team over in June for the cup matches in July," Tilden said, "only would court certain defeat. Above all, develop the younger stars by sending over at least two juniors to gain experience in international play, whether or not they compete for the Davis cup."

"Francis Hunter and I found last year that training conditions in Europe are entirely different from those in America and we had been competing for at least six weeks before we reached top form."

Election of a slate of officers headed by Samuel H. Colman, of Philadelphia, and approval of the 1928 tennis rankings were the principal matters on the U. S. L. T. A. program today. Louis B. Daley, of New York, was the nominating committee's choice as vice president with Louis J. Carruthers, of New York, as treasurer. Harry S. Knox, of Chicago, was down for re-election as secretary.

Tilden opened his 1928 campaign last night with a victory over Lott, which showed the brilliant service of the Tilden of old. Lott could do virtually nothing with Tilden's cannon ball serve losing 6-3, 6-1. Hunter showed the same superiority over Hennessey, winning 6-3, 6-2.

N. C. POLITICS GETTING WARM

Renewed Interest in Political Arena Develops

Raleigh, Feb. 11.—(AP)—With mid-February almost here, renewed interest in what will happen in the state's political arena on next June 2 is beginning to be shown. From now one can expect to hear of wars and rumors of wars in various political camps.

The most significant happenings of the past 24 hours is the fact that the Commercial Printing Company, of Raleigh, of which Mitchell V. Shipman is president, failed to submit bids on the last of the state printing contracts.

In the failure of the Commercial to submit bids is taken as a sign that Mr. Shipman, who was state commissioner of Labor and Printing for 16 years, is preparing to get ready to offer against Frank D. Grist, incumbent, who ousted Mr. Shipman from office four years ago.

Moreover, there are signs that the race for the office of commissioner of Labor and Printing will be a four cornered if not a five, cornered affair, for it is reported that three others want to run against Mr. Grist.

These other three are Henderson Steele, editor and publisher of the Harnett County News, Lillington; O. J. Peterson, editor and publisher of the Chatham Record, Pritchboro; and David P. Dellinger, of Cherryville, reading clerk in the 1927 house Mr. Peterson was third high man in the race in 1924.

It is also reported that Chester C. Bell, of Curthage, now auditor of state's prison, is getting ready to announce against Baxter Durham, incumbent for state auditor. Mr. Bell will neither confirm nor deny the report.

George Ross Pou, superintendent of state's prison, believed at one time to be preparing to enter the race for Lieutenant Governor, is not likely to become a candidate.

The real race probably will be between Richard T. Fountain, of Rocky Mount, Colonel John D. Langston, of Goldsboro, and Rivers D. Johnson, of Warsaw.

There are more than fourteen musical numbers and they are of the kind that will be whistled and sung over the town the next day. This excellent company of musical comedy favorites will, no doubt, have a wonderful effect on the theatre-going public of this city. The chorus is composed of beautiful girls and the principals including Marion June, will do their utmost to make the evening an enjoyable one as well as a pleasant one and one that will be remembered.

Washington Social Events

Washington, Feb. 11.—(AP)—Washington society cut some gay pranks this week, ranging from the fancy dress ball at the French embassy on through a series of interesting episodes such as only the capital can produce. Weeping hearts were left to those who could not attend the second empire ball at the embassy when the ambassador, M. Paul Claudel, Mme. Claudel and their two daughters turned back to Napoleonic days for their splendid costumes, and court ladies and gentlemen danced with jesters and ladies whose historic names once brought a blush to the cheeks of the discreet members.

Many of the 300 guests sent to Paris costumers for their garb while others trusted New York and Philadelphia designers to be true to the period.

The exquisite French drawing rooms gave the setting and there was no special effort at a tiresome program or pageant of which society has had a surfeit this season. The two French fliers, for whom the ball was really planned, Lieut. Commander Joseph Lebrun and Lieut. Dieudonne Costes, stood with the hosts and were applauded as they moved about the drawing rooms.

Next Saturday night the same gay crowd will attend the red and white ball to be given by the Belgian ambassador and Princess Deligne for their very charming daughter, Princess Elizabeth de Ligne.

The President's dinner to the speaker and Mrs. Longworth given Thursday night at the White House brought together the most cosmopolitan group that has graced any dinner there this winter. Just as soon as the musicale was over, a violinist and a tenor giving the program, Mr. and Mrs. Longworth went to the French ball.

Tuesday night the President and Mrs. Coolidge went to the dinner given in their honor by the secretary of the navy and Mrs. Curtis D. Wilbur who entertained the company of fourteen in their apartment at Stoneleigh court. Next week the state program will be brought to a close with the army and navy reception.

The pitfalls of official society known as precedence will be removed, or presumably so, when the reorganized social bureau gets going at the state department, and the straight and narrow way for hosts will be well defined. Or at least it is hoped so. The division of Protocol, it is to be called, and it will handle all such snotty questions as arose when the governor-general of Canada and Viscountess Willingdon came visiting and attended the White House reception. Inquiries at the White House, the state department and at the Canadian legation were met with non-committal response. Apparently the problem solved itself for the willingness went to the White House and enjoyed themselves very much.

"Supervision of and action on all matters involving questions of ceremonial and precedence" is to be the first duty of the new division.

It was one of the British diplomats who stepped out of his place with the British embassy staff at the White House on a recent occasion and when he returned was introduced as the ambassador of Chile. The master of ceremonies, Charles L. Cooke, who knows every diplomat by name and face, was not present at the moment.

Mary Lewis a Musician.
Miss Mary Lewis, Metropolitan Opera Company prima donna who sings here on February 23 at East Carolina Teachers College, admits quite frankly that she considers herself one of the most fortunate girls in the world, but confesses to being weary of always seeing the word "ex-folliess" somewhere in every article and criticism about her.

"I think it is about time that was stopped," she said recently. "I have studied music over twenty years, violin, piano and voice, and just because I happen to have been in the 'Folliess' for a very brief time that things to me and the fact that I have sincerely tried to be not only a singer but a musician is entirely overlooked. Perhaps 'Folliess' makes good copy, as the newspapers say, but I do wish it might be forgotten."

And yet there is no denying the fact that she won the hearts of the American public first through the "Folliess," but she has gone far beyond that stage.

THE WAGES OF SIN

A story is being told about the streets here today of a negro who stole a hog off the gallows in a nearby county a few nights ago and in an effort to get over a fence with his loot, got his head caught between the hog and the fence in such a manner that he could not extricate himself. The owners of the pork, missing one of the larger ones from the gallows the next morning, started a search, with the result that the dead hog and the dead negro were found one hanging on each side of the fence.

Authoritative information on the story could not be obtained today but whether or not it is true, the story has a good moral indeed. "The wages of sin is death," and, as in this instance, it often occurs that the penalty is meted out much quicker than the sinner expects.

LET'S WAIT AND SEE

The Kinston Board of Aldermen yesterday voted to sell the municipal power plant to private interests for the sum of $1,271,000, and now the matter goes before the voters of the city for confirmation. Just what the attitude of the citizens will be, cannot yet be told, but indications are that it will be favorable and Kinston's plant will soon be in the hands of the power interests. Just how badly Kinston was handicapped from lack of an efficient power system we do not know, and therefore refrain from comment on the action by that city, but in our own case, we hope that what Kinston has done will not prompt anyone here to start an agitation for a similar disposition of the Greenville plant.

Under municipal ownership, Greenville's water and light plant is meaning much to the city in the way of relieving the city of many obligations that necessarily would have to be taken care of out of the tax fund except for the power plant. Not only is this true, but Greenville has an abundance of power for its own needs and a surplus to sell, and has rates that compare favorably with other sections of the state whether or not the power is furnished by the city or by private interests. As we see it, we are getting along nicely paddling our own canoe, and until we are satisfied from experience of other cities that a change would be for the better, we reiterate we sincerely hope Greenville will not give consideration to any proposition that might be made for the purchase of our water and light plant.

ABOUT TOWN

"When Lindbergh gets through flying he will have a sore sack full of medals," observed a reader of this paper today as he heard about the honors conferred upon the American good-will flyer by the people of Cuba.

"But he deserves every honor the world is able to bestow upon him. He has done more to blaze the way to aerial navigation than any single flyer of the present era. His flights have been truly remarkable, filled with skill, nerve, determination, faith and an amazing amount of good fortune.

"It is possible no other flyer known to civilization would be able to accomplish the same feats of Lindbergh without misfortune. Evenly, as he is familiarly known in every little hamlet throughout the world, seems to be favored by the gods of the air. He has been in many perilous positions, but always came out with colors flying.

"His most notable feat was the flight across the Atlantic. While this trip has been successfully completed since the first flight, Lindbergh has credit for being the first man ever to cross the broad expanse of the Atlantic in an airplane.

"This is truly a remarkable record—one that has immortalized the distinguished young flyer and given his name all the luster of the brightest star of the firmament."

"Greenville is doing splendidly by the four hundred young men gathered here to attend the eighth annual conference of the Older Boys of the State Y. M. C. A. movement." J. Frank Harrington, clerk of Pitt county superior court, and registrar of the conference, remarked today.

"The city has always had the reputation of being one of the most hospitable places in the state, and it is gratifying to see that we are living up to it in entertainment of this body of splendid young men."

"These boys are launched in a great cause—the cause of a higher type of American citizenship. Any encouragement you may lend them will be a means of strengthening them in this great movement to improve present day civilization. Implant in the minds and hearts of your boys and girls the proper kind of ideals and they will make the kind of men and women you would have them be."

"In connection with the Department of Conservation and Development program of forest fire prevention, Chief Warden E. P. Simmons is now engaged in a motion picture program covering nine counties in Eastern Carolina," stated a letter received by this office today from E. P. Sipe, district forester.

"The schedule includes Wilson, Greene, Pitt, Lenoir, Craven, Pamlico and Wayne counties and the shows are given in the various schools where the public is invited to attend. No admission will be charged.

"Nine reels of films are available, among them being: 'Pines That Come Back,' 'Trees of Tomorrow,' 'Everyman's Enemy,' and 'Trees of Righteousness.'

"These pictures portray the growth of trees, how they should be thinned when too crowded and how they are cut for various uses. Thrilling forest fires and actual fire fighting methods are shown. They are very interesting as well as educational."

"Everybody interested in deepening Tar River for navigation should not fail to attend the meeting to be held at the court court February 23rd," declared E. G. Flanagan, promoter of the movement to deepen the river to make it navigable.

"The government is giving us this last opportunity to show where this improvement would be a paying proposition and of benefit to the business interest of the county. If we should be able to do this the session here on the 23rd, then there is every reason to believe the matter will receive the favorable consideration of Congress.

"On the other hand, should we be careless in presentation of fact and figures and fall to evince more than passing interest in the coming of the government engineer, it will be many years before Congress will be sufficiently interested to revive the issue.

"Keep the date of this meeting firmly in mind, and let your presence count in behalf of water transportation."

"The progress of Greenville seems to be assured at this time, but we can make it doubly assured by using our influence in behalf of issues demanding public attention," declared a member of one of our civic organizations today, discussing some of the improvements which we have under consideration at this time.

"We must learn to have faith in ourselves if we are able to go forward in the future. Faith is one of the best breeders of optimism possible. They walk hand in hand. Bear this fact in mind and remember to have faith in yourself and the great possibilities of those living around you."

OPEN FORUM

APPROVES OF BAILEY'S ATTITUDE ON TAXES

Dear Mr. Editor: I trust you will publish address made by Mr. Josiah William Bailey before the Raleigh Real Estate Board. I think this address will be of interest both to the owners of farm lands and of town property.

Mr. Bailey, I believe, recognized as perhaps the best informed public man in North Carolina on the question of taxation.

Like a voice crying in the wilderness, Mr. Bailey has been going up and down the state for the last decade and more pleading for a just and fairer taxation.

Mr. Bailey believes relief is near at hand for the land owner. Let us take courage and hope that he is right for the need is urgent and immediate. "Hope deferred maketh the heart sick."

Everybody knows that under our present system of taxation that the land owner both in town and country is being robbed in the matter of taxation.

I believe Mr. Bailey is right when he says relief is in sight, for the simple reason I don't believe the land owner is going to stand this condition much longer.

Mr. Editor: Through your columns you frequently appeal for the erection of more homes in Greenville for rent to those who are not able to own homes, and you state that lack of these homes retard the growth of the town.

You are correct these homes are needed and the lack of them is retarding the growth of the town. Would you know why these homes are not being built? Mr. Bailey tells you. It will not pay. Money can find more profitable fields for investment.

Today in the United States, particularly in the South and West, a wide-spread spirit of desecration, of unrest, and a tendency toward rebellion of the great hosts of landowners because of the burden of unjust taxation.

Of the several known great civilizations that have passed away one of the four great and specific causes was unjust taxation. It is well for us to ponder and think on these things.

Truly Yours, E. B. HIGGS

(Note—Following are excerpts from the address of J. W. Bailey, before a recent meeting of the Raleigh Real Estate Board, to which reference in the above communication is made.

"It is alarming to note that since 1920 the tax levied on property including land, has increased from $28,000,000 to $57,000,000. It is true, we pay no property tax to the state, but it is small comfort to know that we pay 29 millions more taxes on property now than we did in 1920. This is all the more alarming since income from property is decreasing. Of the property assessed for taxation in this state, twenty-two-sevenths is real estate. The tax collected from property amounts to 57 millions. Twenty-two-sevenths of the entire 57 millions is paid by real estate. Very clearly this is out of proportion to personal property and I should say that there is probably at least 600 millions of personal property in this state that is not taxed at all.

"According to my calculations land is not only bearing a burden out of all proportion to general property but is also bearing a burden out of all proportion to general taxation. Of the total of 84 millions collected in this state, something more than 40 millions comes from land.

"Where tax rates run high people very naturally put their investments either in non-taxables or in property which is not exposed to the tax-eater. But land cannot be hidden.

"Another effect of the increased tax burden on land is this: Taxes on farm land are out of all proportion to income and the farmers are finding it very difficult to pay their taxes. This has brought about a tremendous drop in the prices of farm lands, and there is really little or no demand for them. Further a high tax rate has this effect: Small residences are appraised at full value, while large residences and business property are appraised at less than full value.

"Not only, therefore, is the burden unequally distributed as between real estate and personal property and between property taxes and other taxes, but, as between one form of real estate and another it is also unequally distributed.

"Indispensable to any adequate and satisfactory system of taxation is a fair distribution of the tax burden. The present system cannot last for the reason that it is manifestly unfair.

"When we had the transaction in which the state of North Carolina declared that it would collect no taxes on land, there was made a remarkable exchange. The state took over to itself practically all the sources of revenue except property taxes. It took over income taxes, inheritance taxes, franchise taxes, license taxes and sales taxes. But the state did not take over burdens commensurate with the number of sources of taxation that it received to itself. The consequence is that property, a large portion of which is real estate, carries the burden of the free schools, county roads, county government, city and town government, while the state, with all its sources of revenue is content to maintain only the state government, the state roads and the state institutions, yielding out, under more or less duress, three and a half millions for the free schools. Since the public schools cost 27 millions a year, you see the state is paying only a little better than one-tenth of the free school expenses. This is some relief, but very small compared to what we ought to have.

"It is quite interesting to note that in 1920 the state collected taxes in the sum of $4,800,000, whereas in 1926 it collected the sum of $25,823,000, an increase of 437 per cent in six years; and still we are told the state needs more relief and there is a question whether we will come out even this year.

"The question is raised as to where taxes may be reduced. We might as well face the fact that school taxes are not likely to be reduced. We are still spending less than the average state in North Carolina's class, and, after all is said and done, it must be recognized that our free school system is such that our rating in public education is quite near the foot of American states. It is equally clear that we live in a time when paved streets and hard surfaced roads are necessary, and there is no likelihood that taxes will be reduced on these two big factors in public expenditure. Nevertheless, we can save money by business administration of the state, a sound rather than an affected economy, and we can save money by the same policy in our counties and cities. What we need is efficiency and a conscience in the expenditure of public funds. While the decrease in taxes would not be great, it would be sufficient to justify the effort required. I think there is a great deal of waste all along the line in North Carolina.

"But our problem is not so much to bring about relief by way of reducing taxes as it is by way of redistributing the burden to the end that real estate will bear only its fair share, and to the further end that the farms and smaller homes will be taxed on the same basis that other property is taxed. We should strive for economy in administration on one hand, and justice in the distribution of the tax burden on the other.

"I am not in favor of arraying the poor against the rich, and I have no patience with anyone who is. But I do say the poor and the rich man, the business man and the farmer should be taxed alike and equally. And I do say that this is not the fact in North Carolina at the present time. I am opposed to the state taxing property. But I do not say we should give the state all the sources of revenue it now enjoys merely because it does not tax property. It is not a fair exchange. I suggest as a remedy that the state should undertake to discharge at least one-half the cost of our free schools that is, to stand for $13,000,000 of the cost instead of $3,500,000, and that it should do this without suggestion that it should extend its policy of taking over the main roads of the state until it has taken over practically all the main highways. If we should pursue this policy, we would find the counties and cities tremendously reducing their rates. On the other hand, we would find the state increasing some of the taxes it levies. The fact of the matter is that the counties and cities have practically exhausted their sources of revenue and the state has increased its taxes from 4 million to 25 million without doing anything at all beyond the equalization fund of $3,500,000 to relieve land. Unquestionably the way out is for the state at once to proceed in the direction of taking over more of the burdens of taxation, since it has taken over all the sources of taxation except property taxes."

HOW TO GET THE NECESSARY POINTS

The points for which these tours will be given are obtained by securing subscriptions to The Daily Reflector. The number of points necessary is not large in comparison to the value of the tours and it should require only a small amount of your spare time during the next few weeks to assure yourself of one of these delightful tours this summer without cost to you, or if you are very ambitious, it is possible for you to get two or even all three trips as the dates have been arranged so as not to conflict.

To sell The Daily Reflector to your friends will not be a hard task and you will find that you will have very little if any difficulty in securing enough points for the trip you chose from those offered. Regardless of the number who enroll in our club there will be trips for all who get the required number of points, therefore you can go about your soliciting with a fixed goal in view, rather than in competition for honors as is the case with the average newspaper subscription campaign. You have but to sell enough subscriptions to get the number of points designated for the trip, and you get the trip.

To secure enough points to get one of the trips should be an easy task, but if for any reason, you should fail to obtain the required number we will pay you a liberal commission on all subscriptions you secure. Under this plan you will be compensated for your efforts. You cannot lose.

HOW THE POINTS COUNT

Subscription	Price	Points Renewals	Points New Subscriptions
Two Years	$10.00	10	12
One Year	5.00	5	6
Six Months	2.50	2	3

No subscription taken in this campaign for a period of more than two years, nor less than six months. You will note that more points are gained from new subscriptions than from renewals, and the more new subscriptions you secure the fewer persons you will have to sell to get the desired number of points. We have included the renewals in this campaign however, to make your work easier by giving you the opportunity to reach those who are already regular readers of The Reflector. Subscriptions paid to our office will not be credited in this campaign unless so requested at time of payment. Points once credited to a member of the club are not transferable to another.

In brief, the rules of the entire campaign are very simple.

This is not a contest of one entrant against another. All you have to do is enroll now, get the necessary receipt books, get busy and sell enough new subscriptions and renewals to get the desired number of points and your task is finished.

All subscriptions must be turned in to the campaign manager at least once each week in order that there may be no delay in getting the paper started to new subscribers or giving proper credit to old subscribers.

Booklets and literature giving full details of the tours can be had upon application to the Vacation Tours Manager. Other desired information gladly furnished.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON
New York, Feb. 11.—(AP)—The cotton market was light today on a continuation of the recent buying movement which appeared to be promoted by the reports of a better tone in the cotton goods situation and steadier spot markets in the south. May contracts sold up to 18.23 and October to 18.10, making new high grounds for the movement and net advances of 15 to 18 points on the active positions. The close was a few points off from the best under realizing but the tone was very steady with last prices showing net advances of six to fourteen points.

Futures closed very steady, six to fourteen points higher. Spot quiet; middling 18.50.

CHICAGO GRAIN
Chicago, Feb. 11.—(AP)—Active buying on the part of commission houses and speculators carried corn prices up today to the highest level yet since December. A forecast of temperatures above normal next week had some influence as a stimulus to buyers, as unseasonable warm weather would be likely to curtail the movement of corn.

Corn closed strong 1-1/2 to 1-3/4 net higher; wheat 3-8 to 3-1/2 up; oats showing 1-4 to 3-8 advance; soy provisions unchanged to 15 down.

STOCK MARKET
New York, Feb. 11.—(AP)—Further irregularity developed in today's stock market but the main price tendency appeared to be upward. Strength of the packing issues nearly all of which attained new high levels for the year contrasted with the weakness of the oil stocks five of which sank to the lowest prices in a year or more. Consistent strength of the rail shares more than a dozen of which advanced one to three points was one of the days' features.

There was little in the overnight new to influence the price movement. Yellow Truck common turned weak in reaction of the passing of the preferred dividends and some selling also came into the other motor shares. Selling pressure also was apparent against Brooklyn Manhattan transit, consolidated Gas, Detroit Edison and Vanadium Steel.

Pathe which sold down to 8 1-8 on Thursday, rallied 4 1-2 points overnight to 14 3-4. Goldtrust ran up close to par to a new high record and American Snuff, American Zinc common and preferred, Bon Ami, Brooklyn Edison, General Railway Signal and American Smelting sold to nearly four points higher.

The closing was firm. Total sales approximated 1,300,000 shares.

LEVINE FLIGHT HELD UP AGAIN
Minor Accident in Take-off This Morning Causes one Day Postponement.

Roosevelt Field, N. Y., Feb. 11.—(AP)—A minor accident to the monoplane Columbia as it was taking off today with Wilmer Stutz as pilot, and Charles A. Levine as passenger, caused a one day postponement of the latest attempt to bring the endurance flight record back to America.

Levine announced his intention to make the flight only a few moments before the effort to take off occurred.

Levine, arriving at the field shortly after 9 o'clock, said he had reached the decision to attempt the flight last night. He asked about weather conditions and said he might steer the Columbia south if the weather in that direction was favorable. Otherwise, he said, he and Stutz would circle over the field until their 478 gallons of gasoline was exhausted.

Levine said he had long cherished an ambition to break the duration record but he had postponed his attempt while Clarence Chamberlin was seeking a new record. Now that Chamberlin is out of it until his plane is reconditioned, he said he felt free to try for himself.

As the Columbia roared down the runway for the take-off, an automobilist drove directly into its path. Stutz had to veer the plane sharply to avert a collision and as a result the tail skid was dislodged and the rudder post broken.

The plane came to a halt without injury to its occupants and examination showed that the damage could be repaired during the day. Levine said the take-off would be made tomorrow morning.

KIWANIS CLUB HOLDS MEETING

Two Talks Feature Educational Night Program of Club Here Last Night.

Last night was "Education Night" with members of the Greenville Kiwanis club in regular twice-a-week session at the Rotary building and a splendid program dealing with Kiwanis education was put on under direction of M. L. Wright. The usual supper was enjoyed, this being preceded and followed by song numbers with Miss Edna Smith acting as instrumental accompanist. President Frank Harrington presided.

The principal address of the evening was delivered by Ralph Deal. He spoke about the life of Kiwanis, giving many interesting facts in connection with development of the organization. He lauded the activities of the various memberships and said they were striving to live up to the slogan "We Build".

Walter Wilson, United States vice consul to China, who has been spending sometime in Greenville with relatives, told of his duties in the land constantly in the grip of warfare and political strife. His talk was illuminating and contained a vast store of information concerning the life of American officials abroad.

Grady Bell was initiated as a new member, words of instruction being delivered by M. K. Blount.

$50,000 SUIT AGAINST TELEPHONE COMPANY Greenville, Feb. 11.—(AP)—The $50,000 suit of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Thompson against the Southern Bell Telephone Company, alleging responsibility for the death of a newly born infant, went through final processes today on its way to a Guilford county jury.

Mr. Thompson, a nonsubscriber of the Telephone Company, charged that failure to get a proper telephone connection caused such delay in summoning a physician to his home that the infant was born and died.

Evidence of highly technical nature was introduced in court yesterday, a telephone exchange having been set up and operated in view of the jury.

Employment conditions are not satisfactory in New York state and Governor Smith instructs public officials to help "take up the slack" by putting men to work on public enterprises.

That should be, automatically, part of national and state programs.

A farmer finds something for his farm hand, when crops are in. A good farmer keeps his horses at work, earning their keep in winter, hauling wood or otherwise.

National and state governments, all needing roads, canals, drainage, all sorts of improvements, should find work for everybody willing to work, and at decent pay.

Chain stores are important, not only to the public, but to all advertising men, and particularly to publishers. Chain store advertisers get full value of all circulation, everywhere.
