

NEW ORLEANS LIKES MAYOR OF NEW YORK

Jimmy Walker Also Likes Louisiana City And Calls it Fifty-Fifty Break.

New Orleans, La., Feb. 21.—(AP)—The mayor of New York likes New Orleans and as New Orleans likes him in the words of "Jimmy" Walker himself "that's fifty-fifty."

The visiting mayor was introduced to the Orleanians last night as he got his first glimpse of Mardi Gras reaching its climax today. He rushed as breath taking speed from his train to review the parade of the Krewe of Proteus, setting a carnival record by waiting nearly half an hour for him.

Proteus, the sea god, came up out of the sea and led a series of floats through the picturesque New Orleans streets as the traveling salesman for New York applauded along with thousands of spectators who occupied all the seeing space there was for blocks about the city hall reviewing stand.

The mayor saluted the king, waving playfully at Joan of Arc, and looked with grave respect at George Washington, Napoleon, Hanibal and Alexander. He glared back at Attila scowled and laughed aloud as Nebuchadnezzar almost fell out of his flat in attempting to wave a greeting.

"Jimmy" was the best catcher on the grandstand as the figures in the parade on "famous heroes and heroines of history and legend" tossed baubles in the general direction of the stand. He went to a radio station to speak New York's greeting to New Orleans loaded down with necklaces and other jewelry and a cloth tomato, red enough to be ripe, of which he made a sensational one hand catch.

Always enthusiastic, the mayor was bubbling over today when Mardi Gras itself came to end the carnival and bid farewell to flesh during the fifteen season which opens tomorrow.

"Great, simply great," exclaimed the mayor when he asked if he had been well received on his first visit from the metropolis of the south.

A rabbit foot, brought from Washington for possible use in the Walker handicap of the Louisiana Jockey Club, was reported safe.

The mayor professed lack of information for the mile jaunt bearing his name but seemed impressed when advised that Her Ladyship will be called on to carry only 101 pounds. He thought the ancient mariner should be formidable if it rains. Suggestion of rain for Mardi Gras day, however, brought reviewing glances from his New Orleans hosts.

Tonight the mayor will feel at home with two engagements, both carnival balls, one on the heels of the other.

The state's attorney offered a $10,000 reward for information leading to conviction of the perpetrators of recent bomb outrages.

The offer was accompanied by a promise to the informant of immunity from prosecution.

PREACHER IS REAL TARGET GATLIN CASE

Attorney Pictures Rev Thomas Pardue as Sensation Seeking Emotionalist.

Wentworth, Feb. 21.—(AP)—The defense trained its guns upon the Rev. Thomas F. Pardue again today as arguments proceeded at the trial of Mrs. Alma Petty Gatlin charged with the murder of her father, Smith T. Petty.

Picturing the evangelist as a sensation seeking emotionalist preacher, F. Eugene Hester, second defense speaker who opened the arguments today, charged the minister with having put the life of Mrs. Gatlin at stake in order to save his own reputation.

"He got on that stand gentlemen and said he told officers, gave out interviews and went about talking this case because the defendant had denied his story and he wanted to save his own reputation."

"What did he care about other people's reputation? Why, he said that this girl went to Greensboro, got drunk and had to pay $50 to get out of trouble. Then he took this stand to say that he didn't know she did it, but had heard it."

Summing up his case, the attorney said he hoped that the jury would give only justice and that justice called for an acquittal.

Allen Gwynn, second speaker for the state, then took the floor.

Mrs. Gatlin wept as Special Prosecutor Allen Gwyn of Reidsville referred to her statement regarding the killing as "thin air" and was still weeping when she was led from the courtroom at the lunch hour.

Gwyn told the jury that the defense had been attacking Rev. Mr. Pardue in an effort to prejudice the jury and asserted that the only thing they could find against him was that he had not paid for having his automobile painted.

Gwyn dwelt on the portion of the story the girl is alleged to have told the preacher in which the underclothing on the body of Petty and a blanket around the shoulders were described. He asserted that she must have known something about disposal of the body to know this.

Referring to defense references to the fact that Pardue gave interviews to newspapers Gwyn said an interview given the Danville (Va.) Bee before the body was found, was given because of varying rumors and stories that had been circulated.

FILE DAMAGE SUIT AGAINST HENRY FORD

$6,000,000 Asked by Plaintiffs for Alleged Fraud in Buying Lincoln Interest.

Pontiac, Mich., Feb. 21.—(AP)—The charge that Henry and Edsel Ford obtained the Lincoln Motor Company by fraud, is contained in briefs filed in the Leland-Ford $6,000,000 damage suit in circuit court here.

The accusation was made in documents entered in the record yesterday by attorneys for Henry and Wilfred Leland, who are bringing the action against the Fords on behalf of 2,000 other former stockholders of the Lincoln company. It follows in part:

"The Fords obtained the Lincoln property by virtue of their promises to us. To retain these properties and to break their promises to us, is a species of fraud. And charged with that fraud, they now seek to perpetrate it against these 2,000 plaintiffs by resort to technicalities that are not even innocuous, rather than, as would an innocent man, demanding a prompt trial that they might be exculpated of the serious wrong we charge."

Briefs were asked of both sides by the presiding judge before passing on a motion by attorneys for the Fords to void the bill of complaint, which alleges that at the time the factory was purchased, at a receivership sale in 1922, the Fords verbally agreed to reimburse the stockholders for losses incurred.

The old brewster Hotel, a landmark since 1858, was saved.

LINDY MAKES ROUND TRIP MAIL ROUTE

Flying Ace Covers Old Trail From St. Louis to Chicago During Morning Hours.

St. Louis, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh landed at Lambert-St. Louis field at 9:05 a. m. today, completing a round trip over the St. Louis-Chicago air mail route.

Lindbergh's Douglas biplane rode west with the dawn, to swing southward a short distance out of Chicago. Following it closely was another Douglas, with Thomas Nelson as pilot and Phil Love, who piloted one of the six planes from St. Louis yesterday, as passengers. Two other planes awaited the arrival of the San Francisco and New York mail planes before following.

In the Lindbergh plane were 17 sacks of mail weighing approximately 900 pounds and filling the ship.

The average time required for the Chicago-St. Louis flight is three hours and 20 minutes, but Col. Lindbergh anticipated delays at Peoria and Springfield, where regular stops were scheduled.

A reporter asked the flyer if he slept much last night. Col. Lindbergh smiled as he placed the query in the "personal question" category which he makes a practice never to answer. Fellow airmen, however, said Lindbergh slept about three hours, although he appeared fresh when he reached the field.

The long wait for plane time visibly affected him.

He sat in the offices of the Robertson corporation which handles the St. Louis airmail, picking up magazines, glancing at them a moment, and then putting them aside. He consulted his watch frequently.

Just before taking off he posed for cameramen, this being the first chance the photographers had at him since he landed from St. Louis last night.

In a short interview before the take-off Col. Lindbergh told the Associated Press that his hurried departure from the landing field last night was due to his desire that the mail be not delayed by any demonstration.

The reporter asked him if in going back for a single round trip on the air mail route he used to travel regularly, he was to receive the regular pilot's pay. To this the colonel replied that he had "never thought to make those arrangements."

Col. Lindbergh devoted several moments to careful inspection of his parachute which was strapped to his back just before he stepped into the plane.

REED BEGINS STUMPING IN DALLAS, TEX.

Presidential Candidate Asks for Return to Honest Government in Tour of West

Dallas, Tex., Feb. 21.—(AP)—In the fight for "United and militant democracy" which he demanded here last night to bring about "the return of honesty in government," Senator James A. Reed, of Missouri, set out today for Tulsa, Okla., and the far west to spread his doctrine of harmony.

Opening his western campaign, the Missouri democratic presidential candidate told his party first of all it must be united. He set out the platform on which he believed the democratic party can unite and win.

"The most important question before the American people," he said, "is to drive the republican party from power; to take this government out of the hands of bloodsuckers, grafters and lobbyists and to place its control once more in the hands of the American people."

Emphasizing the necessity for party harmony, the Missourian declared to discuss presidential candidacies, "including my own," as he talked here with some of the Texas democratic leaders.

The veteran silver-haired campaigner who is making his first bid for the presidency, centered his opening attack on what he described as the "public plunderers" and "corruptionists" of the Harding and Coolidge administrations. He called for the "swift and sure punishment of all public plunderers, bribe givers, election corruptionists and other malefactors." He departed from his prepared address to denounce racial and religious prejudices.

Big Bankers At Kinston Today

Kinston, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Unlike Col. Lindbergh, the touring bankers continue to eat through every course of their nightly banquets. At Raleigh last night there were hardly enough plates to go around.

Bankers from the north and east enjoyed an old-fashioned southern breakfast here this morning followed by a big barbecue and crisp oyster roast at the country club this noon.

The party, touring the coastal plain after inspecting the western and Piedmont sections, plunged into another day's fraternizing after a big day and night at Raleigh, where Thomas C. Worth of Durham, was elected chairman of group four of the state bankers' association.

At each meeting of the groups, Secretary Paul Brown of Raleigh, is outlining plans for the state convention in Pinehurst on May 3-5, while the New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Cincinnati, Richmond and Atlanta bankers mix with prominent financial leaders of this state.

Tomorrow the bankers go to Greenville, then to Rocky Mount, Fayetteville, and Sanford.

San Simeon, Cal., Feb. 19.—If you get a good piece of land and take care of it—anywhere in the march of American progress—that land will take care of you.

For instance: Yesterday, Mrs. C. McLeod paid $35,000 for the Bender lot on Ventura boulevard, in Los Angeles—quite far out. She probably got a bargain. Eight years ago, the lot sold for $6,500. Sixteen years ago, a syndicate "taking a chance on Los Angeles' future" bought a lot of land including that lot for $50 an acre in 1867, the same land sold for $37.00 1-2 an acre.

But remember that some land now sold for $50 an acre is not worth $10. See what you buy, and know, for yourself, why you buy it, before you invest your money.

And remember that every American community has its great bargains and possibilities. If you cannot make good real estate investments where you are, you will probably make worse investments elsewhere.

The former Kaiser, who must have done some hard thinking in the last few years, tells Sylvester Viereck "today the centre of gravity which determines world power, has shifted to the United States. America is master of the world."

America probably could be master of the world. But to desire that mastery would be foolish. To be masters of ourselves, mind our business, develop this country and increase the well-being of the average man, is a big enough task.

At present, this nation is in a dangerous condition, rich, tempting, like a fat worm lying in the path of stray birds. Every day this nation needs the warning that Solon (Continued on Page Six)

BELIEVE PAN CONFERENCE WAS SUCCESS

United Spokesman Declare Good Will Furthered Among Nations Involved.

Havana, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Two spokesmen for the United States delegation are convinced that the Pan-American Congress which ended its labors here yesterday, did much to further good will among the Americas.

"The delegates will return to their countries with clearer views of the conditions of successful collaboration, and the understanding and good will which are the essence of Pan-Americanism, have been promoted in notable degrees," Charles E. Hughes, chief of the United States delegation said.

Dr. L. S. Rowe, director general of the Pan-American Union, stated that the present conference was in many respects the most fruitful of the series.

Discussion of the Pan-American Union, Mr. Hughes said, resulted in a general consensus as to its appropriate organization and functions.

He mentioned as important results the treaty regulating commercial aviation and the calling of a conference for perfecting plans of conciliation and arbitration.

The association of the delegates in fraternal contacts and the warm friendships resulting from this, he pointed to as a good influence of the gathering.

Dr. Rowe said that in each of the questions before the conference constructive steps forward were taken. He concluded: "The full significance of the results will become fully apparent when the conventions and the resolutions are made effective and in this respect a large responsibility is devolved upon the Pan-American Union."

REDUCTION OF COTTON URGED IN THE SOUTH

Conference at Jackson, Mississippi, Sees Need for 10 Percent Acreage Cut.

Jackson, Miss., Feb. 21.—(AP)—The resolution committee of the Conference of Governors and representatives of cotton-growing states, now in session in an effort to restore cotton prices to a "profitable standard", is on record in favor of a ten per cent acreage reduction but is opposed to legislative action.

Disregarding the plea of State Senator W. B. Roberts, of Mississippi, that his resolution memorializing state legislatures to enact laws prohibiting planting of more than fifty per cent of a farmer's acreage in cotton either be adopted or submitted by an equally strong document, the committee last night adopted a resolution which urged the ten per cent reduction among other reforms.

To facilitate matters, the committee appointed Clarence Guseley, of Dallas, Texas, to prepare a conglomerate resolution, from the mass of proposals before it. This was quickly passed after defeat of Senator Roberts' measure.

Reforms listed in the resolution were that the Governors in the cotton-growing states, through co-operation with bankers and credit men, lay down credit policies based upon restricted cotton acreage and production of food supplies; memorializing of congress to prohibit price forecasts by the department of agriculture. Support from congressional delegations for measures looking to control of surplus crops, revision of tariff schedules to provide more liberal protection to cotton planters against importation of foreign-grown cotton, and adoption of stringent laws extending rural school terms and making it mandatory for children between the ages of eight and fifteen to attend full school terms.

Mr. Guseley said he expected several of the recommendations incorporated in the resolutions to be altered materially before final passage of the complete document.

In defense of his resolution calling for legislative action Senator Roberts turned to the Texas delegation and declared full responsibility of results of the conference rested with them. He said that since Texas produced one-third of the nation's supply of cotton, efforts to curb production in other states would meet with little success unless Texas took stringent action.

ROTTARY CLUB HEARS JUDGE

Judge Grady Addresses Club Following Celebration of Anniversary 23 Birth Day.

The regular meeting of the Greenville Rotary Club was held last night with President Bill Rogers, presiding.

The program for the evening featured the anniversary of the birth of Rotary 23 years ago, and consisted of talks dealing with Rotary and what it means to the community and the individual.

Announcements were made regarding the Bankers Association conference here tomorrow and the public meeting at the court house Thursday.

Judge Henry A. Grady, who is presiding over this term of Pitt county civil court, was a guest of the club, and spoke for five minutes on the spirit of brotherly love, declaring that such was the foundation of every organization whether civic, religious or fraternal.

Judge Grady expressed delight at the opportunity of being the guest of the club again, and declared that association with various Rotary clubs of the state was one of the greatest pleasures of his services at the bench. He said he never missed an opportunity to attend club meetings of the kind and never failed to derive great inspiration.

LEWIS REIGNS AS CHAMPION OF WRESTLERS

By CHARLES W. DUNKLEY, Associated Press Sports Writer, Kansas City, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Ed "Strangler" Lewis, of Kansas City, reigns today as undisputed champion of the wrestling world.

He defeated Joe Stecher, of Dodge, Neb., claimant of the title, in a three fall match at the coliseum last night. Lewis ended the quarrel that has existed between them for seven years, since the time the "Strangler" defeated Stecher in New York in 1920.

Lewis won the first fall after more than 2 hours of dreary wrestling, pinning Stecher's shoulders to the mat with a bar arm, half Nelson and several other holds in 2:16.37. He captured the third and deciding fall in 13 minutes, 59 seconds with a bar arm or perhaps a double wrist lock. Nobody was clear on the exact hold because of the excitement in the dramatically sudden finish.

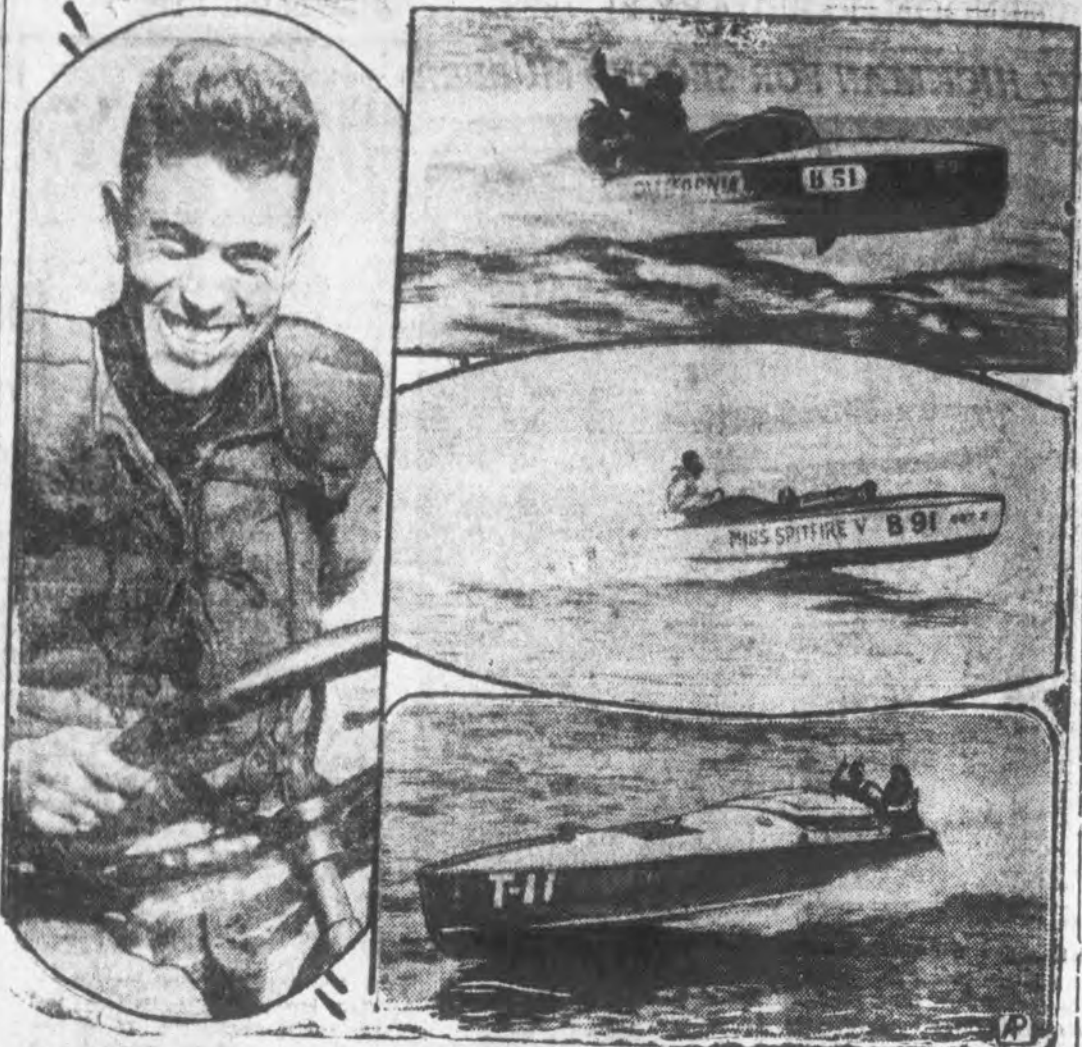

Stecher won the second fall in a dizzy haze of quick action, lasting only fifty seconds. Lewis, in a moment of carelessness, fell victim to a double wrist lock and was pinned in such astonishing quick time that he was dumfounded.

In winning the second fall, Stecher, who had lost only two matches in 14 years previous to his last night's defeat, showed the only flash of aggressiveness that he displayed during the entire contest. He was outmaneuvered, outwrestled and outworked. Lewis, although past the 35-year-old mark, carried the battle to Stecher from the start. He displayed superb wrestling ability, trickiness and courage. He won fairly and decisively.

The contest was dull and dreary to all concerned. It was dreary for Promoter Tom Packs because the gate receipts failed to come up to his expectations. The attendance was around 5,000 with the receipts according to packs, around $50,000—perhaps $60,000.

The third fall came unexpectedly and without warning but with Lewis forcing the issue. He vainly tried to clamp on a few headlocks that switched his attack to the arms and upset Stecher with a bar arm and a double wristlock. He viciously applied the leverage while Stecher, seeking to escape, moved his body to the edge of the ring and tangled his feet on the ropes. Harry B. Sharpe, the referee, was lying flat on his stomach on the canvas, watching for Stecher's shoulders to touch the mat. When convinced that Stecher's shoulder blades were on the canvas, Sharpe patted Lewis on the shoulders, signifying him as the winner.

COUNTRY'S FASTEST RACING CRAFT TO VIE FOR SUPREMACY IN FLORIDA

Two of the speediest racing boats in the country fight it out for supremacy at the Palm Beach, Fla., regatta, February 19 to 22. Holding two legs on the Royal Poinciana trophy with his "Miss California" (upper right), Dick Loynes (left) of Long Beach, Cal., is after a third victory and permanent possession. Chief opposition probably will come from "Miss Spitfire" (center right), which is owned by J. H. Rand, Jr., of Buffalo and holds the world's record of 64.28 miles an hour. A feminine entrant in another race is Mrs. W. J. Connors of Buffalo who is shown (lower right) at the wheel of her "Miss Okcechochee." Victory would give her permanent possession of the Bradley Gold Challenge Cup.

Palm Beach, Fla., (AP)—America's foremost racing craft, including "Miss Spitfire," owned by J. H. Rand, Jr., of Buffalo, N. Y., victory for Loynes would give him permanent possession of the cup.

Gibson Bradford of Barnesville, Ohio, has entered his fast "Buckeye," powered with the same motor, with which Peter De Paolo won the national motor car championship two years ago, and Elmer H. Johnson of Bennington, Vt., has entered his "Sparrow II."

In the Bradley Gold Challenge Cup race for high speed displacement boats, Hugh Dillon, the actor, has entered his specially constructed Dodge boat, "Horace," which in recent speed trials here did more than 60 miles an hour, and it is expected that Mrs. W. J. Connors of Buffalo will have a real struggle against the "Horace" to gain the third and last leg on the cup with her "Miss Okcechochee."

Gar Wood, famous pilot and boat builder, has entered a fast express cruiser to race against the "William J. Connors III," owned by Mr. Connors. Dr. Terry of Savannah, Ga., also has been invited to enter his "Tamarack V," a new Gar Wood express cruiser, equipped with two Liberty motors.

Others entered in the race include Robert Herman, Cincinnati, with "Boots II," Edward L. Grinn, Buffalo, with "Thunderbolt," Chris Rip, Jamaica, Long Island, with "Baby Peris," Ralph Snoddy, Los Angeles, with "Miss Rocco," which under the name of "Miss Los Angeles" was the first boat to make 69 miles an hour; Ralph N. Baker, Springfield, Ill., with "Miss Black Bottom," Henry Falk, Houston, Tex., with "Houston Girl," and E. W. Hammond, Larchmont, N. Y., with "Miss Westchester."

Robert Ringling of Sarasota, Fla., has built a powerful 12-cylinder boat, which he probably will enter in the Gold Cup race.

In the ocean sailing race, the first of its kind to be staged in Florida waters, entries have been received from Gorman Rumyan with his "Osprey II," a fast windjammer, D. H. Conkling, West Palm Beach, with his "Marchionet," and five or six others. More than 100 outboards have been entered in the race for that type of boat.

After the regatta here, a number of the entries will go to Sarasota, Fla. for a series of motor boat races there March 8 to 10.

These games are looked forward to with more than general interest by sport lovers of the city as they will enable everybody to see the locals in action prior to the official opening of the Eastern Carolina league. Manager Smith said today that the personnel of the club was everything they hoped it would be and that the outlook for a successful season was brighter than it had been at any other time since organization of the new circuit.

EIGHT MEN SIGNED FOR LOCAL CLUB

Eight players have been advised to report in Greenville on April 2 to become members of the Greenville baseball club of the recently organized Eastern Carolina league. Contracts have already been sent for signatures and are expected to be returned within the next several days.

Actual training of the local club will begin April 2. Manager Guy Smith said this morning. By that time eighteen or twenty players are expected to be in the local camp.

Manager Joff and members of his family are expected to arrive in Greenville tomorrow. He will immediately begin preparations for opening of the season and getting the team lined up for action.

Three exhibition games have been scheduled for the local club. This does not include the game between Newark and New Haven to be played here April 6.

Greensboro, of the Piedmont league, will play the locals on Easter Monday, April 9th. Durham, of the same circuit, will appear here in the 16th. The third game will be some college in Virginia, the name of which had not been made public this morning.

ALABAMA IS FAVORITE IN TOURNAMENT

Alabama Polytechnic's speedy orange and blue basketball squad has counted 836 points in 17 games, an average of 49 to the contest, and will as a result of this impressive showing enter the southern conference tournament at Atlanta this week rated a favorite by many.

The Auburn quintet has won 16 games and lost one, that by a two point margin to the university of Mississippi.

Those boxing before the plainsmen include Georgia Tech, Southern college, University of Florida, Clemson, Tennessee, Tulane, Vanderbilt, Georgia, and the University of Mississippi.

In running up such an enormous scoring average, the team has held its opponents to 428 points, or an average of 25 to the game.

James (Jelly) Akin, a senior, is the leading scorer of the team with 268 points, against Georgia Tech he scored 26 points and against Vanderbilt he had 27. George Ellis at the other forward has scored 138 counters while Frank DuBose, center, had looped the hopp for 159 points.

Bob James, guard, has countered 67 points while Fog, his twin brother, has netted 66.

All of the players on the first string five are Alabamians with the exception of DuBose, whose home is at Macon, Ga.

RALEIGH HIGHS TO PLAY HERE FRIDAY NIGHT

Hugh Morson High school of Raleigh will play the basketball team of the Greenville High school in this city Friday night at Gorman's warehouse, according to announcement made today by coach C. W. Porter, director of athletics of Greenville Public schools. The game is scheduled to begin promptly at eight o'clock.

This will be the outstanding game of the season, although it is not one of the regular scheduled contests of the North Eastern Athletic conference of which Greenville is a member. Raleigh belongs to the State Athletic Conference.

Coach Porter said he expected the exhibition would be one of the most stubbornly contested of the season as Raleigh is determined to capture additional laurels by defeating one of the strong teams of this conference. Greenville at this time holds second place in the standing of clubs of this conference by reason of Hugh Bern's retirement and forfeiture of two games in favor of the locals. Wilson and Washington are tied for first place as conference leaders a position they have occupied much of the time since the opening of the season.

With only three losses out of the thirteen games played checked up against them, the locals will enter the fray with Hugh Morson confident of acquitting themselves with credit. With this end in view training will continue regularly until the date for the games so that the boys will be in prime condition.

AMERICA HAS LITTLE SHOW AT OLYMPICS

New York, Feb. 21.—(AP)—America has "mighty little" chance of winning the 1,500 metres run in the Amsterdam Olympics from Pawlo Strumal and Edwin Wide, the Scandinavian masters, in the opinion of Lloyd Hahn, who will "carry the load" for the U. S. in that event.

Hahn is not a pessimist, nor has he any lack of faith in the horsepower, endurance and canny racing judgment that carried him to victory over the Swedish schoolmaster in a race that missed the world indoor mark of 4:12 by only one-fifth of a second.

"Training conditions," said Hahn "are going to be all against us. Olympic arrangements will take the track athletes to Amsterdam on a 12 day boat and the loss of a day at either end will prolong the voyage two weeks. That is a serious break in training."

"There doesn't seem to be much chance, either, the Jack Ryder, who has coached me ever since I started running seriously, will make the trip. I can't coach myself very well and other coaches with the team won't know as well as Ryder, what sort of work and how much I need."

Coats Ruled Out of State Champ Series

Raleigh, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Ruling Coats out of the series because a Coats player was over 21 years old and matching group winners in the Eastern Division mirrored a conference here last night of coaches and E. Ralph Rankin, secretary of the State High School Athletic Association.

Coats, with a team locked upon by experts as having a even chance at the State title, was dropped from the list, and Benson and Dunn were slated for action tonight at Goldsboro, the winner to take the former place. Coats' officials regretted the action but withdrew cheerfully.

Premont will meet the winner of the Benson-Dunn contest at Goldsboro tomorrow night. Durham and Middleburg play here tomorrow night while Sanford and Ellerbe clash at Chapel Hill. Wilmington and Richland meet at Wilmington also tomorrow, the finals slated for State College here on February 28.

Attempt to Beat Speed Records at Daytona Beach Fla.

Daytona Beach, Fla., Feb. 21.—(AP)—Possessed of a new mark to shoot at, automobile racing drivers here today had redoubled their energies toward surpassing all previous speeds at which four-wheeled vehicles have traveled along the ground.

Frank Lockhart, of Indianapolis, and J. M. White, of Philadelphia, were seeking the proper combination of motor temperament and bench condition which would permit them to challenge the new time of 06:55.6 an hour set Sunday by Malcolm Campbell of London, in his monster napier Blue Bird special.

Lockhart spun his comparatively tiny Stutz Blackhawk special over the sands against the wind yesterday at an officially timed rate of 206.22246 miles per hour, but did not make the return trip which would have made his an official try for the record. A trip in each direction over the mile course, for an average speed, constitutes an official mile.

Ray Keech likewise unlimbered the gigantic 36-cylinder machine belonging to White yesterday, but was forced from an official attempt by a minor accident which resulted in slight injuries to Keech. White said last night the machine attained a speed of "more than 253 miles an hour" during its run, but that its average over one way of the charted mile was cut to 186 miles per hour by the motor trouble.

Greenville Ready to Welcome Mary Lewis.

Everything has been done to make the concert by Mary Lewis on Thursday evening a great success and the people of East Carolina Teachers College are confident that there will be a large audience of representative people from various places throughout this section.

It will be a brilliant social, as well as artistic event, according to present indications. The college girls have been spreading abroad among the towns and country reports of her beauty and singing and are expecting friends from near and far. The town people have taken great interest in the event and are giving it their full support.

Those in charge of the arrangements have anticipated everything that might help to make the occasion a success in every way. A temporary ceiling has been put immediately over the stage to close the open space that will later be filled with stage scenery. This is to prevent any tones of the great prima donna from straying away from the ears of the audience.

A grand piano will be sent down from Raleigh for the occasion and a piano tuner will come with it and stay until the concert is over. This is no reflection on Greenville, but there was not an available grand piano to be had here.

The programs, which are ready for distribution, have her picture on them.

Miss Lewis is scheduled to arrive here Thursday morning, but whether by train or bus is uncertain. One thing, however, is certain, she will not go to another Greenville, as Anna Case did, if forethought can

Two Divorces In Civil Court Here Yesterday

Two divorce cases and one compromise action constituted proceedings in yesterday's session of the civil term of Pitt county Superior court which convened during the morning with Judge Henry A. Grady, of Clinton, presiding.

Effie Bruton was granted divorce absolute from Sam Bruton, on grounds of adultery.

Isabelle P. James obtained a decree of divorce from James Bennett after it had been established that the latter had been guilty of immoral relations.

Non-suit was ordered in the case of D. F. and R. O. Lang vs. R. R. Little following compromise action before the action went to the court.

Insists That Pictures Be True.
Audiences pay little attention to the correct things in motion pictures. But if there is some tiny detail that is wrong, a producing company will get thousands of letters.

So states John Waters, who directed Paramount's sensational production of "Beau Sabreur," which is to be offered patrons of White's Theatre Thursday and Friday.

Waters has always been a stickler for detail. Everything in his pictures must be letter perfect, or it doesn't go on the screen.

"I learned my lesson some time ago," Waters says. "I was assistant director in a certain company and we were behind schedule on the picture. The director tried to hurry things along, and during the course of the filming a crow flew by in the background, something we didn't notice. When it came time to see the daily rushes or prints of the pictures we had just made, we spotted the bird, but it was small and none figured it would be noticed.

"But it was. The picture was an Arabian Nights story and the locale was Morocco. There are no birds of that kind in Morocco and it is surprising the number of persons who know it. Letters of complaint started to pour in."

"Since then, during the balance of my career as an assistant director and up to now, I have watched absolutely everything."

"DEAD" BABY BROUGHT TO LIFE

Mrs. William Ross of Detroit, and her day-old baby, who was born "dead." An injection of three drops of adrenalin brought the youngster back to life, and the chances are for a long life and a healthy one. (I.N.)

well as the most picturesque, died at the age of 88.

With his wife he founded a department store many years ago in the Samaritaine department and built up an enormous fortune. Before the war this reached at least $120,000,000 and has become even larger since then.

Until a few days ago he maintained a custom, begun a half a century ago, of appearing at the office every day at 8 a. m., and driving down to work in an open coupe. It was his boast up to the death of his wife, a few years ago that he and she, who worked at his side all her married life, had never missed a day at the office. He knew every employee of his vast concern personally.

Find Motive For Murder Missing Man

Winston-Salem, Feb. 21.—(AP)—What could have been a motive for the murder of A. M. Burke, of Rural Hall Route 2, who disappeared seven years ago, and whose bones are believed to be those dug up Sunday morning near Franklin graveyard, Donahia, by deputy sheriff F. L. Kreeger, and three other men today that Burke had about $2,500 in cash in his pockets when he mysteriously vanished.

An embalmer said the flesh on the body could have decomposed and entirely vanished in six months time, under conditions surrounding the burial. There was no evidence of clothing or a casket when it was found.

Marks found on the skull when the bones were exhumed were found to be natural and none were caused from violence. Theories advanced are that if the bones were those of Burke, he could have met his death from either shooting or stabbing.

Investigation revealed that Burke had left his wife at home seriously ill, and started for a neighbor's home to get some kerosene oil. He went to the home of Arthur Hebebeck, but left his bag, saying he would return home, when he found Hebebeck out.

A short distance away, Burke met John Knott and the latter paid him about $2,500 for property he had purchased, it is said. Burke never missed a day at the office. He knew every employee of his vast concern personally.

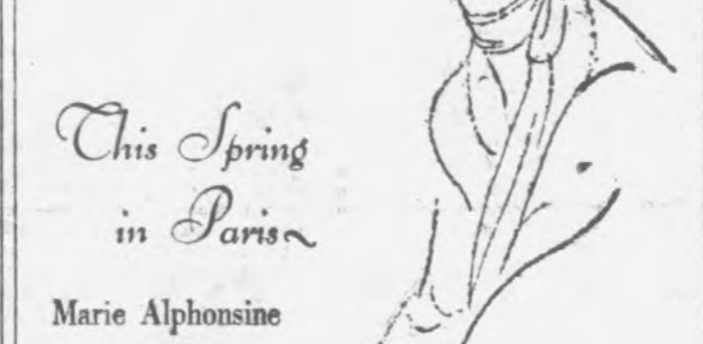

Cognaco was noted for his charitable work. A few years ago he gave the French Academy a prize with an annual income of $180,000 for distribution among families with numerous children.

ABOUT TOWN

Tomorrow, February 22, Washington's birthday. Don't forget to display your flag.

Whether or not you realize it, you are vitally interested in the meeting to be held in the court house next Thursday at one o'clock. Make your plans to attend.

Announcement that another car load of poultry will be shipped from this point probably next week is more good news. This will make the third car that has gone out within three weeks and no doubt the money received for portions of their flocks is helping the farmers to take care of some of their more urgent needs. There is always a demand for poultry and as before stated in these columns, we see in poultry raising by the farmers of our section, a profitable sideline that would not materially interfere with their other duties on the farm.

BANKERS, WELCOME
Greenville tomorrow will be hosts to members of Group One, North Carolina Bankers' Association, and about fifty additional prominent bankers from outside our state. On behalf of the people of Greenville we say in advance to these men who will arrive here early tomorrow morning, "Welcome!"

The slogan of our city is "Our Greenville, Yours If You Come," and we really want these visitors to feel that in this slogan are expressed words of truth and our real feeling. We feel it an honor to be hosts to such a gathering as tomorrow's will be and it is our sincere wish and desire that everyone of those attending will carry away pleasant memories of Greenville.

WELL SAID
Speaking before the Rotary Club last night, Judge Brady declared that the spirit of brotherhood is the real foundation upon which every organization is built whether it be religious, civic or fraternal.

Such remarks are words of wisdom, and it would be well for everyone to give them careful thought. Without a feeling of mutual interest and the love of one for another very little can be accomplished while through the spirit of brotherly love and the desire to render helpful service there is no end to what can be done toward making the world a better place in which to live.

Your influence will count towards success of the issue.

"Greenville extends a cordial welcome to the members of bankers to be here tomorrow attending the conference of group one of the North Carolina Bankers Association," prominent bankers of the city told the writer of this column this morning.

"This will be one of the most important and impressive gatherings of financiers ever held in this part of the state in that fifty or more leading bankers from seven states will visit the city during the day. These men are touring North Carolina for the purpose of gaining first hand information on the resources and possibilities of the various localities, and their findings quite naturally should have a direct effect upon the financial life of the state in years to come.

"For this reason it is the desire of all communities to let every one of their advantages stand out as prominently as possible during the tour of these financiers. We want to let them know what we are doing and what kind of inducements we have to offer the speculator and investor, because this one stroke may have a far reaching effect in the long days to come.

"The city's lathstrings hangs on the outside. Welcome to all."

"With various club meetings, public meetings, visiting bankers, meeting of group one of the North Carolina Bankers Association, the appearance of Mary Lewis at the East Carolina Teachers' College, this promises to be a full week for the people of Greenville," a business man remarked to the writer this morning.

"Every week holds forth something entertaining and interesting for Greenville people these days. Some nights there are four or five different things going on, not including social happenings, and quite naturally the life of the business and professional man is beginning to be rather strenuous. "Nothing tends to reflect growth of a city more than such occurrences. The more the population of a town or city increases, the more things may be expected to happen. Clubs and organizations of various kinds spring up almost overnight, and in the course of two or three years the citizen finds himself in the whirl of activities in many phases of life.

Textile Magnate Not Seriously Injured in Shooting at Charlotte Yesterday.

Charlotte, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Col. T. Leroy Springs, financier and textile magnate, who was shot yesterday by Eldred Griffith, 76-year-old cotton broker, was resting well today. It was said at the hospital where he was taken for treatment.

Col. Springs was not critically injured by the bullet striking him in the face, shattering a cheek bone and lodging at the base of the skull without causing a fracture. The bullet was removed yesterday and Dr. Addison G. Brenner, attending, said his patient would be able to be about in a few days.

Griffith was free on bond having been released when it was learned the condition of his victim was not serious.

Neither Griffith nor his victim has made any statement as to the cause of the shooting. Efforts to see Griffith while he was at the police station and afterward resulted in all inquiries being referred to the aged broker's attorneys. They in turn said that they would have no statement until Griffith was brought into court.

Members of the Springs family said that the shooting occurred after Col. Springs had declined to discuss business matters which they said had been closed five or more years ago. At that time Griffith was employed by Col. Springs as a cotton buyer and the connection was severed.

Members of the Springs family said that everyone thought all matters had been satisfactorily settled and that never at any time had there been any controversy.

Col. Springs was shot a moment after Griffith had accosted him at the corner of Seventh and Tryon streets. After the first shot Col. Springs ran across the street and through a drug store and Griffith was pointing a pistol at him in an apparent effort to shoot him again when a crowd of men intervened.

Col. Springs who was at Lancaster, S. C., and Charlotte is president of a number of South Carolina cotton mills, a director in a Charlotte bank and a director of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York.

Griffith for many years was a broker on the New York cotton exchange for various New York cotton houses. He has been regarded as one of the best authorities in this section on production and marketing of cotton.

Members of the Griffith family took charge of the aged man immediately after the shooting.

Mrs. Springs, who is democratic national committee woman for South Carolina, remained at the bedside of her husband throughout yesterday and last night.

It will be master of all our gold for a while at least.

Nevertheless, Mr. ex-Kaiser, we thank you for the compliment, as the colored gentleman said, when asked to change a $50 bill.

W. R. Hearst will build on his 250,000 acre ranch here, an astronomical observatory, on a mountain top near the Pacific.

It is strange how few of the world's rich men think it worth while to look out, away from this earthly patch of real estate.

The termites, incorrectly called "white ants," spend their lives underground, driven below by fighting ants, and those termites are content to live down there, never looking out. A majority of men are like them.

Yet, the things worth seeing are all above and outside of the ocean of air that covers us, as water covers the fishes.

Dr. W. S. Adams, who directs the great observatory on Mount Wilson, says modern astronomy counts "billions of stars" in the cosmic group or galaxy, to which our sun belongs. Many of those stars are a million times as big as our sun, which is a million times as big as our earth.

Ptolemy could count only 1022 stars—no telescope, spectroscope or stellar photography in old Greece.

Outside of our "universe," containing, probably, not more than 30 billions of solar systems, astronomers find one million "spiral nebulae," each a stellar universe like our little family group of thirty billion suns. That seems worth studying.

Dr. Adams thinks those vast

BOY WAS SICK

Texan Tells How He Got Acquainted With the Good Work of Black-Draught as a Laxative.

Glenflore, Texas.—"I had a sick spell when just fifteen years old," says Mr. George W. Maness, R.F.D. 2, this place. "Anyone who has had chills, like I had, is apt to remember them. I was a sick boy—just lay around the home, weak. My skin was yellow and I could hardly stand up. I had hard chills.

"My father gave me quinine. Someone told him to give me Black-Draught with it. He brought some home, and they fixed it up like a tea. It wasn't very good, but I was so sick I would take anything.

"After a few days, I began to feel better. I was hungry and could eat. I kept on taking the tea for awhile, and I got well. I haven't had chills since then, but I have taken a lot of Black-Draught since that time. It is a family medicine with me."

Where assistance is needed in the way of a laxative or cathartic, Theford's Black-Draught should be taken, as often as necessary, to open the bowels and put them in a healthy and normal state of activity. Try it; it a dose. NC-185 spaces are inhabited by thinking being and that "behind this physical creation, there lies, perhaps, some power."

That seems reasonable.

The beetle by the railroad track is sure the express train is not inhabited—too noisy and chaotic. As for the theory that one thinking engineer planned the road, while a guiding intelligence runs the train, no self-reliant, agnostic beetle would believe that.

WOULD MOVE STEPHENSON FROM JAIL TO REFORMATORY

Indianapolis, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Transfer of D. C. Stephenson, former Ku Klux Klan Grand Dragon, from state prison at Michigan City, Ind., to the reformatory at Pendleton for "humane reasons," was asked today in a petition filed with Governor Ed Jackson by Stephenson's attorneys. It was alleged that Stephenson fears physical violence at the hands of "servants of the chief executive" because of testimony given by the former Klan leader at the recent bribery trial of the Governor.

ATMOSPHERE OF CONGRESS WILL BE IMPROVED

Washington, Feb. 21.—(AP)—The congressional atmosphere is to be improved.

A budget recommendation that $222,000 be spent for up-to-date ventilation apparatus of the House and Senate chambers has been transmitted to the House by President Coolidge. It was a routine step, following up passage by Congress sometime ago of legislation authorizing the expenditure.

For years members of Congress have complained about the ventilation of the two chambers.

May Lose $24,000,000

Doris Duke, 15-year-old daughter of the late James B. Duke, tobacco king, may have $8,000,000 sliced off her fortune because a Newark, N. J., court has awarded that sum to George D. Haskell, Boston engineer, in a suit against the estate. Doris, the richest girl in the world, may even lose $24,000,000 if Haskell succeeds in getting triple damages. However, she'll still have enough to get by on, as her total fortune is $150,000,000.

Pass Bill For Survey of Line Between States

Raleigh, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Provision for a survey of the North Carolina-South Carolina dividing line is made in a bill introduced by Senator Spivey, of South Carolina, and passed by the South Carolina Senate, according to a letter received by Gov. A. W. McLean from Gov. John G. Richards, of South Carolina. A copy of the bill, which supposedly went to the House for action, was enclosed in Gov. Richards' letter. It is similar to the act under which Gov. McLean is asking for the survey.

Governor Richards wrote that he will be glad to confer with the chairman of the state board of fisheries looking to the establishment of a tentative dividing line, pending the actual survey, as Gov. McLean suggested to him in a recent letter.

No actual drawing of the dividing line is on record in South Carolina, Governor Richards declared. Governor McLean is having photostatic copies of the drawings and records on file in the office of Secretary of State James A. Hartness to be supplied to Governor Richards.

Governor McLean said today that he would call on some engineer of the State Highway Commission to make the survey when the time comes for making it.

Va., was frozen to death when he tried to make his way afoot, according to reports received here today. James was on his way from Parsons, W. Va., to Pierce, after a futile attempt to repair the automobile he had gone about three miles crawling the last part of the way before he was overcome.

Lesson No. 5

Question: Why should school children receive emulsified cod-liver oil?

Answer: Because the strain of the study-period and playground uses up energy, and emulsified cod-liver oil not only provides energy but also protects with its vitamins.
