EXPLAINS WHY HE GAVE PLANE TO BRITISHERS

Orville Wright Says Smithsonian Institute Hostile Towards Him and His Brother

Washington, Feb. 27.—(AP)—A "subtle campaign" on the part of officials of the Smithsonian Institution to take credit for certain aerodynamical discoveries away from the Wright brothers and give it to the late Professor Samuel P. Langley is charged by Orville Wright in explaining why he sent his original 1903 airplane to the British national museum. The plane arrived in London February 21.

In an article written for the United States Air Service Magazine the co-inventor with Wilbur Wright of the plane that made its first flight December 17, 1903, at Kitty Hawk, North Carolina, declares that Smithsonian officials have shown a "hostile and unfair attitude" towards him and his brother.

"I'm sending out the original 1903 machine to the Science Museum, London," he writes, "I do so with the belief that it will be impartially judged and will receive whatever credit it is entitled to. I regret more than anyone else that this course was necessary."

Wright says that while Prof. Langley was secretary of the Smithsonian the brothers' relations with it were very friendly and credit at that time universally was accorded them for not only having made the first flight, but for having produced the first machine capable of flight.

When Langley died, however, the Smithsonian's attitude underwent a change, Wright adds, and a campaign was started to give Langley much of the credit that belonged to them. "It succeeded in doing this with people who were not acquainted with the facts," he says, "through some clever and some absolutely false statements."

Among these are lists of alleged misrepresentations in the annual report of the institution for 1910 quotations attributed to Wilbur and false reports of the Curtiss test of the 1903 Langley plane.

The improper use of a statement made by Wilbur, the article says, made it appear that the Wrights had acknowledged indebtedness to Langley's scientific work at the time the Langley medal was presented to the Wrights. The statement referred to was made, Orville says, at the time of the professor's death and acknowledged an indebtedness to Langley for inspiration.

As to the Langley plane, set in 1903, the article declares that the institution published reports that this plane, which failed to fly 23 years ago, has been flown successfully 14 years ago without material change, in spite of the fact that many "fundamental changes had been made."

This machine, the article continues, was placed in the Smithsonian Institute with a "false label" saying it was the first man-carrying plane capable of flight.

Dismiss Complaint of Coal Companies

Washington, Feb. 27.—(AP)—A complaint of the traffic association of South Atlantic ports against railroad rates on bituminous coal from principal southern producing districts to the harbors was dismissed today by the interstate commerce commission without favorable action.

The association, representing trade bodies and business interests in Wilmington, N. C.; Charleston, S. C.; Savannah, Ga.; Brunswick, Ga.; and Jacksonville, Fla., asked the commission to cut the coal rates to their cities by amounts averaging 15 per cent under existing schedules.

After investigation the commission held today that the rates to the southern ports as they now stand, were reasonable and that no ground for change had been demonstrated.

SEABOARD LOCOMOTIVE AND SLEEPERS DERAILLED

Marcus Hook, Pa., Feb. 27.—(AP)—The locomotive and four sleepers and dining car of the Seaboard Air Line Express on the Pennsylvania railroad, known as No. 2 of No. 192, from Pinehurst, N. C., for New York, were derailed here today. No passengers were reported seriously injured. The engineer and fireman of the locomotive were reported unharmed.

The train left Washington at 7:02 a. m. and was derailed at 7:02 a. m. about 500 feet from another at the Marcus Hook Tower here when the deralement occurred. The train was composed of seven sleepers and a diner. The engineer was E. F. Kilroy, of Washington, and the Conductor W. P. McGonigal, also of Washington.

Boy Hangs Himself

Joseph Conlon, aged nine, was found dead in his home in Brockton, Mass., with a length of tape twisted around his neck and attached to the top of a door. He had been playing with the tape, using it as a lasso and it is believed that, while trying to release it, he fell and was strangled to death.

FAIL TO FIND LOST AIRMAN

The Ford Flivver plane of Harry Brooks towed ashore today at Sebastian, Fla., was badly battered. One wing had been entirely torn off by the waves and the fabric of the other wing was stripped. The propeller was broken and the fuselage wrecked.

The plane was loaded on a truck and brought into Sebastian. Ford officials said it would be sent to Jacksonville, the search for Brooks' body continued with airplanes looking over the seacoast and beaches while boats searched the sea. Motorcyle officers patrolled the beach. The sea, which prevented boats from going to the wrecked plane yesterday, continued rough this morning.

Ward officials said the plane was washed ashore and was found early this morning by a motorcyle policeman patrolling the beach.

Examination of the strap by which Brooks was said to have fastened himself into the plane when he left Titusville Saturday offered no clues as to whether he disengaged himself before the crash. It was said the battered condition of the fuselage made this means of determining the pilot's exact fate impossible. It was generally believed, however, that he had time to free himself before the plane fell.

Almost total demolition of the body of the plane obliterated any other indications which might have been found of Brooks' actions before or after the drop.

While search for Brooks' body went forward with vigor, fishermen familiar with such matters, ventured the opinion that it should be brought in by the tide this afternoon if ever. They said that if the body did not wash ashore by high tide at 3 o'clock this afternoon it probably never would be found.

The right wing of the plane was dismantled by the Ford rescue party in order to get it on the truck. The cooling was beaten off the engine, evidently by the waves, but the engine appeared to be in good condition. The fabric appeared fairly good, and the word "Ford" was easily decipherable under the right wing.

The under carriage was broken off and the wheels of the plane were off.

The plane was located three miles from here across the Indian river and one mile up the beach from the inlet. The Ford rescue party was headed by R. P. Southern, of the Ford agency at Jacksonville, and Sam Beaker, of the same agency at Fort Lauderdale, the superintendent of the transfer of the wrecked flivver from the beach to the truck which was to transport it to Jacksonville.

The train left Washington at 7:02 a. m. and was derailed at 7:02 a. m. about 500 feet from another at the Marcus Hook Tower here when the deralement occurred. The train was composed of seven sleepers and a diner. The engineer was E. F. Kilroy, of Washington, and the Conductor W. P. McGonigal, also of Washington.

ARREST MANY IN CHICAGO TRAIN HOLDUP

Police Announce Solution of Robbery with Recovery of Part of Stolen Money.

Chicago, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Twenty-four men and six women, arrested by police as implicated in the $133,000 Grand Trunk mail train robbery at Evergreen Park Saturday morning, in the arrest of five of the seven bandits and the recovery of a large part of the stolen money.

William O'Connor, deputy commissioner of police, after spending most of the night on the case, said he would turn over to the postal inspectors for prosecution these men: "Limp Charlie" Cleaver, at whose home was found $17,125 and $600 in bonds; William Carmody, Angelo Francisco and Joseph Lamm, the latter proprietor of a poolroom where members of the gang were said to have gathered.

The deputy commissioner said he had detailed confessions from Cleaver and Donovan, together with additional information involving them in two other recent robberies—the Ravenswood National Bank holdup in which $80,000 was taken, and the holdup of Joseph Fekete mortgage banker.

Fekete partly identified Cleaver, Carmody and Francisco as men who robbed him February 3. Bonds found at Cleaver's home were identified as having been taken from the Fekete bank.

The deputy police commissioner who has been in active charge of the investigation from the moment word was received that the Grand Trunk train carrying payroll money to two Harvey, Ill. banks had been held up, did not reveal the exact amount of money recovered.

No robbery in police records was more carefully planned or executed than this, O'Connor said. The plotting, execution and escape were reconstructed by detectives this way:

The first step was to obtain information as to how and when the money would be shipped. This was followed by daily trips over the Grand Trunk to Evergreen Park by one of the plotters—Donovan, the police say. Thus the plotters familiarized themselves with the routine of the train crew.

A toy train, having the same number of cars as the train that was to be robbed, was used by members of the gang, to perfect every detail. With the aid of the toy train each was drilled in the part he would take in the holdup.

So farsighted were the robbers that they had planted a cache of dynamite under the platform of the Only St. Maria station in Evergreen Park, to be used if the explosive carried by the men proved inadequate for blowing open the mail car door and safe. The cache was found last night by members of the bomb squad.

The division of the loot took place shortly after the robbery, according to information the police got in the Saturday night and Sunday questioning of 25 men and women under arrest. There were seven shares of $17,000 each. The extra $14,000 of the Donovan and Cleaver confession were understood to have explained, was set aside as a legal fund.

The quick work of the police in solving the crime was attributed partly to the crime prevention bureau, a secret department of police working under cover and seeking to learn of impending crimes. A tip that Cleaver had been heard to say he was planning a "big job" led to the tapping of telephone wires leading to his residence.

The wire tappers learned that the robbery was to take place after the train reached Harvey. In anticipation of it there were Chicago detectives squads concentrated in the suburb.

A change in plans, police said, was made at a meeting of the plotters at the Cleaver home. Thus, while the actual robbery caught officers unprepared, the information obtained by the crime prevention bureau before its confession gave them leads which made solution prompt.

Says Nothing Mysterious In New Airplane Motor Tested Out At New York

Pittsburgh, Pa., Feb. 27.—(AP)—Lester J. Hendershot, 29-year-old West Elizabeth, Pa., inventor, whose Fullness motor has gained the interest of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and others prominent in the aviation world, says the "humbbug" eliminated from reports on his invention, which he developed while experimenting on an effort to produce an improved compass.

"Make it clear to the world," he said, "in commenting on stories giving various descriptions to his creation, 'that radio and its allied phenomena have nothing to do with my motor.'"

"The force that turns my motor is the same force that pulls the needle of a compass around—and there is nothing mysterious about that."

Hendershot said that when he took up aviation three years ago he discovered that the "ultimate development of aviation depended largely upon the discovery or invention of an absolutely true and reliable compass" and that his first experiments were an effort to develop such an instrument.

"The ordinary magnetic compass does not point to the true north. It points to the magnetic north, and varies from the true north to a different extent at almost every point on the earth's surface."

"There is another compass, the magnetic induction compass, that indicates the true north. But it must be set before each flight, and it is not always reliable. I really got down to work on the idea about a year ago, and last fall I began to see that I was headed toward my goal.

"I found that with a pre-magnetized core I could set up a magnetized field that would indicate the true north, but I didn't know just how to utilize that in a compass I set out to find.

"In continuing my experiments, I learned that by cutting the same line of magnetic force north and south I had an indicator of the true north and that by cutting the magnetic field east and west I could develop a rotary motion.

"I now have a motor built on that principle that will rotate at a constant speed, a speed pre-determined when the motor is built. It can be built for any desired speed, and a reliable constant speed motor is one of the greatest needs of aviation.

"The motor I demonstrated at Detroit has a speed of 1800 revolutions per minute and develops 45 horsepower on a block. The motor is now in New York."

Asked what he intended doing with his motor, Hendershot said he had decided to do nothing without first consulting the Guggenheim foundation, and his attorney, Colonel Henry Breckenridge, who also is Col. Lindbergh's attorney.

Hendershot will go to New York Tuesday to confer with Col. Lindbergh and his backers. He denied knowledge of a corporation reported to be in process of formation to exploit his invention.

Washington, Feb. 27.—(AP)—The text of the proclamation following the President's proclamation for observance of American forest week by "public discussion of forests and of what must be done to safeguard and restore them."

The President emphasized particularly the need for suppressing the forest fire evil, and pointed out the benefits that will accrue from making the forest lands of the United States fully productive of continuous timber crops.

"For several years a special week has been set apart for public discussion of our forests and of what must be done to safeguard and restore them. Among the agencies making progress in this direction, American forest week has proved its usefulness and I am glad to proclaim it again and to announce that Canada is again concurrently observing a similar week.

"The rehabilitation of our forests demands first of all that the forest fire evil be suppressed. Many of our forested states, with the cooperation of timberland owners, have undertaken organized protection against forest fires; and in recent years, under the Clarke-McNary law, the federal government enterprise must be extended and strengthened until every forested country in the United States is safeguarded against forest fires.

"But we are still far from the goal of complete protection. Every year on the average 80,000 acres of our woodlands, steadily undiminished in vitality. For this sad situation, the blame falls equally on us all. Public agencies rarely provide adequate protection against fire, the timberland owner is too often indifferent to his property; the forest worker is too often neglectful of the future forest; the average citizen is too often careless with fire in the woods. We must all gain such respect for the forest that its destruction through indifference or carelessness shall be unthinkable.

"We cannot permanently abuse our forests with impunity. The soil is the ultimate source of all our wealth and of life itself. One-fourth of our American soil is best suited for forests. Much of this land is already idle. More of it is being made idle by destructive logging and fire. Yet we can not safely permit our forest land to fallow and unless any more than we can permit our farms and factories to lie idle.

"To make our vast empire of forest land fully productive of continuous crops of timber will have momentous consequences in our national life. It will give agriculture the advantage of a new valuable crop. It will afford permanent employment to millions of men in the forest industries. It will provide raw materials for many industries. It will furnish traffic for our railroads. It will maintain foreign and domestic commerce. It will restore our forests as conservers of soil and water, and as givers of health and pleasure to our people.

"We already have made a beginning in forest renewal; but the task is stupendous, and we should permit no satisfaction over what has been done to blind us to the magnitude of what remains to be done.

"Now therefore, I, Calvin Coolidge, President of the United States of America, do hereby designate and set aside as American Forest Week the week beginning April 22 and ending April 28, in this year of 1928. I recommend to the governors of the various states that they also designate this week for special observance by all our people, and that where practicable and not in conflict with law or custom, arbor day be observed during the course of the same week. I urge that during that week all citizens and appropriate organizations—including public officials, legislators, business organizations, educators, editors, clergy, men, landowners, and others—give thought to the preservation and wise use of our forests; to the end that energetic forest policies will be adopted in all communities."

TODAY

A Certain Rich Man. No wear, New Voice. What 2 Bottles Did. Flying in Four Hours. (By Arthur Brisbane) Copyright 1927, by Star Co.

An owl, sitting on the locomotive of a Russian Volodga-Leningrad express train, losing its balance, seized the air brake cock, and stopped the train. At least that's the engineer's story.

Some day a man of the Napoleon type will perch on the Bolshevik machine, and stop that onward rush of experimental government. The man may come from Old Tartary, home of Genghis Khan, ancient ruler, with energy bottled by for centuries as Napoleon came from Corsica to seize France, with power saved from the desperate Italian days of Benvenuto Cellini.

A certain rich man accused of bribing a cabinet officer, is convicted of tampering with a jury, and sentenced to six months in jail. The average citizen reads the news and says, "Nonsense, they'll never put HIM in jail." Next day's newspaper announces that the prosperous gentleman plans a trip to Europe. (Continued On Page Six)

SAY COAL WAR AFFECTS THE WHOLE NATION

Senate Committee Finds Shocking Situation in Pennsylvania Coal Field.

Indiana, Pa., Feb. 27.—(AP)—Describing conditions in the Pittsburgh coal belt as "a blotch upon American civilization" the senate interstate commerce sub-committee today issued a statement declaring the "industrial war" affected the entire nation.

The committee men, who came here yesterday from Pittsburgh and spent today making a survey of local coal camps and mines, asserted that a "remedy must be found to relieve the shocking conditions. Uncovered on their tour of the Pittsburgh district. The committee includes Senators Gooding, Idaho, chairman; Wagner, New York; Wheeler, Montana, and Pine, Oklahoma. The statement follows:

"Conditions which exist in the strike torn coal regions of the Pittsburgh district are a blotch upon American civilization. It is inconceivable that such squalor, suffering, misery and distress should be tolerated in the heart of one of the right industrial centers of the world.

"The committee found men, women and children living in hovels which are more insanitary than a modern swinepen. They are breeding places for sickness and crime.

"They constitute fertile fields for the sower of communism and other doctrines which teach the overthrow of the American government. Industrial leaders of America cannot permit such conditions to continue.

"The dispute in the Pittsburgh soft coal fields is more than a local fight between a union and a group of coal operators. It is an industrial war that affects the entire nation. A remedy must be found to relieve the shocking conditions which the committee found in its right hand survey in the coal mines and camps."

William Tyson Enters Race For Court Solicitor

William Tyson, local young attorney, today announced his candidacy for solicitor of Pitt county court. This is the second hat that has been tossed in the ring during the last several days, the other contestant being Dink James, also a member of the local bar.

The present incumbent is S. T. Carson, who, it is rumored, will enter the race for county court judgeship at a later date. W. L. Wheeler recently announced his candidacy for the office to which Mr. Tyson is said to aspire. It is generally understood that Judge W. A. Darden, present incumbent, will not be out for re-election.

Mr. Tyson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Tyson. He was born and reared in Greenville. He was graduated from the Greenville high school and the University of North Carolina, and later took post-graduate work in law at the University and Wake Forest.

Mr. Tyson passed the state bar with high honors in 1926. Since that time he has been actively engaged in the practice of his profession in Greenville.

Mr. Tyson is connected with one of the oldest and most prominent families in the county. His father established the first bank in Greenville and was prominently identified with the financial life of the community.

Aside from the practice of his profession, Mr. Tyson is closely identified with the social, religious and agricultural life of the county.

WASHINGTON CAGE OUTFIT TO PLAY HERE

The basketball team of Washington High school will play Greenville High at Gorman's Warehouse here tomorrow night at eight o'clock, according to announcement made this morning by C. W. Porter, director of athletics of Greenville public schools.

Considerable interest is centered around this contest by reason of the fact that a victory for Greenville will place the locals in a tie for second place with Washington, Wilson at the present time holds undisputed possession of first place in the standing of clubs of the Northeastern Athletic Association.

In the first game of the season with Washington, Greenville lost by the score of 19 to 14. The boys, however, are determined that the defeat will not be repeated and that they will emerge from the fray with a good lead to their credit.

With basketball season rapidly drawing to a close, the race for honors in the Northeastern Athletic Conference is beginning to assume more than ordinary interest. Greenville has been able to cling steadfastly to second place until the last several days, and they are hopeful of not only gaining this position but of pushing Wilson hard for first place.

Mr. Porter said he was hopeful that a large crowd would turn out to witness this contest as the boys were in need of all moral support it is possible for local followers of the sport to give them. Attendance so far has been mighty good, but it is hoped the final games of the season will see an improvement.

The preliminary will bring together the Washington High school junior team and the Greenville Freshman. These two teams have met previously in Washington, where the local lads turned in a 13-4 win, so Washington will be out for revenge. They are expected to be in much better condition and to give the freshmen the game of their lives. Preliminary starts at 7:15 sharp.

Local Cagers To Play Gastonia in State Tournament

Members of the Greenville High school basketball team will journey to Raleigh Friday to take part in a state-wide tournament to be held at State College, according to announcement made this afternoon by J. A. Keech, principal of the local high school.

The Greenville club will be matched with Gastonia, one of the strongest teams in the western part of the state.

CONNIE MACK BELIEVES COBB WILL JOIN THEM

Philadelphia, Feb. 27.—(AP)—It looks to Connie Mack as if Ty Cobb will play with the Athletics. President Thomas Shibe and manager Mack had an hour's telephone conference from Fort Myers, Fla., with Cobb at his home in Augusta, Ga., yesterday. At the conclusion of the talk manager Mack said that if Cobb played at all this year he felt almost certain it would be with the Athletics.

"I will get as definite answer in a day or so," said Mack, "but it looks as if everything will be all right and that we will have Ty with us for another year."

PITCHERS HOLDING OUT ON NEW YORK CLUBS

New York, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Major league baseball clubs of New York were still troubled by pitchers' holdouts today.

Vic Aldridge, traded to the Giants in return for Burleigh Grimes, remains absent from the McGraw training camp at Hot Springs.

Waite Hoyt is still at odds over his salary arrangements with the Yankees and has not put in appearance at St. Petersburg, Fla. The Robins continue to bicker with Dazzy Vance, the strike-out king, who wants a two year contract at $20,000 per annum.

VARSITY TEAMS BEGIN WORK AT WAKE FOREST

Wake Forest, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Aspirants to positions on the 1928 Wake Forest college football and basketball varities today began their workouts.

Fred Emmerson, former Deacon player, started the football spring training while John C. Caddell, professional umpire and also a deacon member of the past, took charge of the baseball candidates.

Emmerson signed to conduct the spring football rehearsals while Caddell agreed to carry the baseball team through the coming season.

CAGE TEAMS ALL SET FOR FRAYS TODAY

Atlanta, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Four claimants to the crown today still urged their claims and prepared to defend them in pitched battle tonight when the semi-finals of the Southern Intercollegiate Conference tournament marks the beginning of the end.

University of Mississippi and the University of Kentucky, on one hand, and Alabama Poly and Miss. A. & M., on the other, are institutions whose quintets take the court this evening in their separate skirmishes to determine which pair shall battle tomorrow night for the championship laurels.

Ole Miss got away to a flying start by putting away N. C. in the second round by a decisive defeat of 35 to 28 administered to La. State, the team which had furnished a first night upset by eliminating University of N. C., long a high ranking name in the southern cage circles.

Kentucky, flashing a five which has been a sensation of the meet, won its way by disposing of South Carolina and Georgia, in the order named.

Mississippi agglies accounted for Washington and Lee in the first round and continued to eliminate Old Dominion State colleges (next day by conquering University of Virginia).

Auburn, prime favorite in pre-tournament predictions, won the right to fight for a finals post by two nerve wrecking overtime battles, hand running. The Plainsmen were hard put in the first round to close out Clemson, 27 to 26, and caught another tart Saturday night in Georgia Tech, which crew the Auburnites dropped by a last minute field goal that gave them a 39 to 29 margin.

Rene Not Engaged Paris.—(AP)—Rene Lacoste, world tennis champion, pays a compliment to Mlle. Thion de la Chaume, although he denies emphatically that he is to be married to the pretty champion golfer of France and Great Britain.

"Do you think if I were lucky enough to be engaged to a sweet girl like Simone I would try to hide it?" he demanded.

Supreme Judge Dead

Tallahassee, Fla., Feb. 27.—(AP)—Robert Fenwick Taylor, 77, a member of the Florida Supreme Court for 35 years and three times chief justice, died today.

SPORTS SLANTS

By ALAN J. GOULD

New York, Feb. 27.—(AP)—This is the week that the heavyweights come back into the fight spotlight. The elimination process will be taken up in two widely separated sectors.

The outstanding non-union members of the heavyweight class, George Godfrey and Paulino Uzcudun, fight tomorrow night at Los Angeles. Two days later an official elimination in Madison Square Garden will bring together Tom Heeney and Jack Delaney.

The non-union bout on the Pacific coast may be the most interesting of the two but it will have no meaning on the official program unless Paulina eliminates the "Black Menace." Only a decisive victory for Paulino can upset the prospect that Gene Tunney's June opponent, if any, is to come from a survivor of the Delaney-Heeney and Sharkey-Risko fights.

Godfrey, however, cannot hope to crowd into the championship picture, no matter what he does to Paulino or any other contender. His manager has said some disparaging things about Tunney and the other organization heavies. As a result, Godfrey's quest of a title match is likely to be just as fruitless as was that of Harry Wills.

It has been anything but a satisfactory winter for the heavyweights so far. Bariness has suffered from too much elimination including the elimination of Jack Dempsey. But if the elimination of the old Munnassa mauler is no more lasting than that of some of the other contenders there is little reason to doubt the possibility of a third Dempsey-Tunney fight.

Most of Rickard's big shots during the past few years have been with the heavyweights but a few more fighting terrors such as Jimmy McLarnin may make the promoter forget some of his concentration on the bigger brigade.

The little fellows have been packing 'em this winter to a greater extent than in years. The Cannonier-Bass tilt for the featherweight crown. The Hudkins-Baker welterweight clash and McLarnin-Terris fray have given the fans more exciting acting than a half dozen heavyweight elimination bouts.

McLarnin just now looms as the greatest drawing card any division has had outside of the heavyweights, since the heyday of Benny Leonard, whose two famous fights with Lew Tendler drew an aggregate of more than $800,000 in outdoor arenas.

A McLarnin-Mandell battle at the Yankee stadium for the lightweight crown might easily be ballyhooed into one of the biggest outdoor attractions of the summer.

There are at least three other "naturals" outside the heavyweight list—a return match between Cannonier and Bass, a bout between Ace Hudkins and Joe Dundee for the welterweight title and a return go between Tommy Loughran and Leo Lonski for the lightweight championship.

The early tennis returns from the Pacific coast carry no soothing note to the prospective rivals of Helen Wills this season.

The performance of the queen of the courts in holding little Bill Johnston to even terms in an exhibition match at scores of 13-1, 6-8, is astonishing even to those who have watched the remarkable development of stroking power in the California girls game.

It was, as one observer put it, "one of the most amazing exhibitions of feminine tennis skill ever seen in California," even if Johnston was obviously short of practice.

Betty Nuthall, "beaming Betty" of the continental courts, will need her new overhead service and an effective one if she is to cope with the power of Miss Wills' attack abroad this year. The young English girl, finalist in the American champions last year, against Miss Wills, is generally looked upon as the California's most interesting rival. It will be one of the high spots of the court campaign when they meet at Wimbledon in June.

BABE TO START BALL SEASON ON THE LINKS

New York, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Babe Ruth will start training for the baseball grind on the golf links.

Between receptions to the Yankees at St. Petersburg yesterday the Babe made known he would devote ten days to golf before working out on the diamond. He said he wanted to limber up his legs.

Ruth and Lou Gehrig were hemmed in most of the day by a flock of admirers and photographers who even followed George Herman out on the links.

On a spin around the golf course Ruth went 18 holes in 93 which cost him $10 in a handicap match.

Noted German Dead

PERFORMANCE as different as the car itself

Were greater beauty their only advantage, the new engineering principles of Dodge Brothers Victory Six would still be epochal and revolutionary.

Were greater safety The Victory's only advantage, it would still command the gratitude of a life-loving world.

Were greater economy its paramount feature, the fact would still remain that The Victory has made possible 21 miles per gallon at 25 miles per hour FOR A SIX.

But these are incidental to the basic Victory achievement. You must DRIVE the car to know about that!

Victory design is unlike that of any other vehicle in the world—and Victory performance is equally radical and remarkable.

To examine the one and experience the other will prove an event that we urge you not to postpone.

"SHE'S A SHEIK" ONE OF THE SEASON'S FUNNIEST COMEDIES

Bebe Daniels Has Time of Life as Beautiful Arab; Wm. Powell Featured.

"She's a Sheik," the new Bebe Daniels Paramount comedy which arrives at the White theater Wednesday and Thursday shapes up as one of the season's funniest films. Listen to a brief outline of the plot:

Bebe, granddaughter of a sheik, refuses to marry the man who wants her, William Powell, a desert band leader. On a trip to an outlying Foreign Legion post she meets and falls madly in love with Richard Arlen, a captain of the Legion. Unfortunately, he is being entirely wrapped up in Josephine Dunn, a visitor, falls to return Bebe's affection. Taking one of his jocular remarks up in the wrong manner—"If you want to win your sweetheart and he resists," carry him off into the desert"—Bebe kidnaps Arlen with the help of two friends and takes him to her home in the oasis.

There are all the methods known and a few that are unknown, to women are tried out but Arlen remains obdurate. Not being at all interested in this fiery Arabian beauty, he is anxious to return to his command. Finally, Bebe agrees to take him back whereupon Powell appears on the screen. Knowing that Arlen is technically a deserter, he sends word to the latter's superior officer. The Legionnaires arrive to shoot the deserter and Powell's bloodthirsty tribe surrounds them. Then, when all seems lost—but why continue?

From the above, the action and plot can easily be visualized. As for the laughs, they're there a plenty. For instance, Bebe's efforts to tame the man she loves involve a leopard, a wild animal's cage, a whip and everything but actual brute force. A modern go-getting cave-woman of ever there was one! And preview audiences have raved about the climax; one that's as funny as it's thrilling.

"Poor Nut" To Play Greenville On March 9th

The Better Plays Extension will present "The Poor Nut," a rollicking comedy of college life, at White's theatre, March 9th, matinee and night, it was announced today by members of the local Woman's club under whose auspices the attraction will be staged.

"The Poor Nut" is said to be one of the funniest shows on the road today. It played 42 weeks in New York, 20 weeks in Chicago, 10 weeks in Boston and 8 weeks in Philadelphia. It has played to capacity audiences in other sections of the country and comes to Greenville with a splendid record of success.

The show will appear in Greenville with a highly advertised cast of Broadway actors and is guaranteed by the Better Plays Extension, promoters of the company, to be equally as artistic a production as the original showing in the larger cities of the nation.

Better Plays Extension is represented here this week by Miss Council of the New York office. She explained that the organization has at its head an advisory council of leading New York managers, directors, players and authors. These people, she said, are all interested in the advancement of the theatre and have formed the Better Plays Extension with the idea of putting Broadway productions into the smaller cities of the country, thus giving all play lovers an opportunity to see artistic work in their own home towns, without the expense of going to the bigger cities.

"The Poor Nut" is a comedy of college life with scenes laid in "Big Ten" western college. Critics have been lavish in praising its fidelity in portraying true college atmosphere. Members of the Woman's club said today that should this play receive deserving support other attractions would be brought to Greenville from time to time.

ORDER FAVORABLE REPORT ON TILSON. Washington, Feb. 27.—(AP)—A favorable report was ordered today by the Senate judiciary committee on the nomination of William J. Tilson, of Georgia, to be a member of the United States Customs Court. Tilson now is serving as a federal judge in the middle district of Georgia. He is a brother of the Republican House leader.

Prompt confirmation of the nomination by the Senate is expected as Senator Harris of Georgia, has no objection to Tilson's appointment to his place. He vigorously opposed the appointment to the federal district court in Georgia and was able to prevent Senate confirmation or nomination.

With Senate action President Coolidge will be in a position to name the successor to Tilson on the Georgia federal district bench.

FIGURES IMPRESSIVE

A news report from Wilmington is to the effect that upon his return to that city, Major Snow stated that he was greatly impressed with the data presented at the recent meeting here with a view of opening Tar River to navigation.

Here's hoping that the impression was sufficient to cause Major Snow and his associates to recommend to the government that the project be carried to a successful completion. Water transportation with its benefits in the way of lower freight rates has long been needed here, and upon the face of data made public at the meeting here the saving to this community is certainly sufficient to justify the government in expend-ing the necessary money to make Tar River navigable.
Off and on for the past twenty years, the matter of water transportation here has been discussed and each time talk is as far as, the proposition has gone. We believe that the time is now ripe for action and we sincerely hope that Major Snow will be able to make his department see it that way.

PARKING ORDINANCE
TO BE ENFORCED

City officials are calling attention to the one-hour parking ordinance effective on Evans street, between Third and Fifth streets, and are urging motorists to pay strict attention to this ordinance. Since the adoption of this ordinance by the city board the same has not been rigidly enforced, but the stage has been reached in our parking problem that makes necessary the enforcement of this one-hour parking law, and the city authorities urge observance of this law and they do not desire to make any arrests if they can be avoided. We are sure that motorists in general realize that parking in the business section is indeed a great problem and we feel that they will gladly assist in remedying the situation by observing the one-hour parking law.

ABOUT
TOWN

"Court dockets may be congested in Pitt county but the situation cannot possibly be any worse than other communities of the nation
where crime of a most serious nature has been flourishing for the past several months," a citizen remarked to the writer today.

"It is true that we have an unusual number of minor cases in court, but they are not of the serious nature of those in more thickly populated communities."
"We are willing for our courts to continue to handle an enormous volume of such cases for they are certainly preferable to sensational murders, robberies and other forms of crime."

This may be a land of "poverty and scrub pines," as Gilbert Stephenson, Raleigh banker, described Eastern Carolina in an address delivered here recently at a conference of bankers, but according to a man higher in finance than Mr.
Stephenson, we have more possibilities and resources than any other section of the country right at this time.
"Eastern North Carolina has not scratched the surface of its inexhaustible resources yet," this gentlemen told the writer a day or so ago, "and opportunities for development were never brighter than they are at the present time."

"Situating in one of the most productive farm areas of the state Greenville is destined to become one of the leading trade centers of the territory."
"You have a wonderful system of hard surface roads connecting the city with surrounding trade territories and there is no reason on earth why expansion should not be rapid and permanent."

"The Merchants Association is to be congratulated upon their plan to employ the services of an official collector," an out-of-town man told the writer today.

"This is a plan that should be adopted by all associations of the country."

"It should enable the merchants to protect themselves against the unscrupulous credit customers who is forever preying upon those trustful enough to credit persons when they need it."

"The credit department of the association will keep accurate check on the buying public and the names of those who do not liquidate their debts in a reasonable length of time will become the property of every member of the association. This is the only direct way the members have of protecting themselves. Those who have outstanding accounts now due should settle up immediately and preserve their credit rating."

"The next meeting of the Kiwanis club will be in the interest of Pitt county farmers," Frank Harrington, club president mentioned to the writer today.

"The entire evening's program will be turned over to J. C. Galloway, of Grimesland, member of the Greenville club, who has promised one of the most interesting programs in months."

"Much information relative to the farming industry should be brought which he wore much of the time

hoped every member of the club will be present and see and hear what our agriculturalists are do-

"The farmer has truly been called the backbone of the country and the towns and cities should give him more attention in the future than he has received in the past. He deserves the best and recognition by the various clubs is an honor he should have had long ago."

Virtually all of the important communities of the United States are talking "hog and hominy programs"
but none are making more pronounced progress than is Pitt county right at this time.

Several car loads of hogs and poultry will be shipped out of the country within the next few months.
This will result in a considerable sum of extra money being distributed among the growers, who will be able to use it to excellent advantage during the spring and summer while their crops are growing.

Pitt county farmers invariably suffer from depression during the summer season, but with this "hog and hominy business" becoming of more importance it should not be so many years before the situation will be improved and such a thing as tight times live only in memory.

SCHOOL BONDS ARE GOOD
The Supreme Court yesterday handed down a number of opinions only one of which contained matter of state interest. This was the decision in reference to the bonds voted by Greenville to support the new Eastern Training School, by which the bonds were upheld. This suit was evidently a friendly one brought to establish validity of the bonds.

Defer Hearing
Of Assailant
Of Col. Springs

Charlotte, Feb. 27. — (AP) — Preliminary hearing for Eldred Griffith, charged with the shooting last Monday of Col. Leroy Springs, Lancaster, S. C., and Charlotte, was postponed in city police court today until the latter part of the week.

City Solicitor Joe W. Ervin said that Col. Springs, who is recovering at his Charlotte home, was unable to appear and gave this as the reason for the postponement.

After a conference with James A.
Lockhart and Plummer Stewart of Mr. Griffith's counsel, Solicitor Ervin said that the case might be set for next Saturday.
Mr. Griffith, member of a prominent Charlotte family, shot Col.
Springs in the right side of the head
after the latter had declined to discuss a settlement of business affairs between the two. Mr. Griffith some years ago was an employe of Col.
Springs but the connection was severed six years ago.

"Producers Of Crop Producers"

Greenville, N. C.
February 18, 1928.

Robertson Chemical Corporation,
Norfolk, Va.

Gentlemen:

For many years prior to last year (1927), I experienced a great deal of trouble in getting my tobacco to grow steadily through the growing season and mature on the stalk.

Last year I decided to try Robertson's Fertilizers, which I did, am glad to state that the results were entirely satisfactory. My crop grew steadier and in a healthier condition and matured in the right way in the field. I am sure that it was due to the fact that Robertson's is a complete fertilizer and contains the elements of plant food essential to making high quality tobacco.

You already have my order for my 1928 requirements, which is the greatest recommendation that I can give.

Yours very truly,

N. S. STOCKS.

NEW YORK COTTON
New York, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Early declines of about 18 to 20 points under realizing or liquidation after the advances of late last week were followed by rallies in the cotton market here today.

Offerings were comparatively light and the set-backs appeared to bring a little trade buying. All but 5 or 10 points of the early losses were recovered with the market quiet at mid-afternoon.

Futures closed steady six to 19 points lower; spot quiet; middling 19.00.

GRAIN MARKET.
Chicago, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Wheat prices went sharply upward in the late dealings today on account of free buying as a result of persistent crop damage reports. It was also contended that coming private estimates of domestic farm reserves of wheat would make a bullish showing.

Wheat closed strong 3-4 to 1 7-8c net higher, corn 1 5-8 to 2 1-8c up, oats showing 3-8c to 7-8c advance and provisions at 17 to 27 cents gain.

STOCK MARKET
New York, Feb. 27.—(AP)—The stock market went through a secondary reaction today in which U. S. Steel common and several other popular industrial stocks touched new low levels for the year. Early declines ran from 1 to 6 points, with the pool specialists bearing the brunt of the selling pressure. Trading was only moderately heavy in volume.

Speculative disappointments over the slow pick-up of spring business and continued uneasiness over the brokers' loan and industrial unemployment situations were the chief factors behind the selling movement. Call money opened unchanged at 4 1-4 per cent, but banks called more than $10,000,000 in loans before midday, presumably in anticipation of heavy month-end requirements. In view of the heavy government financing and the approach of March 15th income tax payments, Wall Street looks for a disturbed money market during the next fortnight.

U. S. Steel common dropped to a new low at 138 1-8 after an ineffectual attempt to hold it above the old low of 138 1-2.

Montgomery Ward sold off to 128 5-8, as against a high of 149 1-4 last month. U. S. Cast Iron broke 6 points by the stiff foreign competition in the cast iron pipe industry. Greene Cananea Copper dipped nearly 6 points but held above the old low of 113. Air Reduction, Collins & Alman, Vanadium Steel and Gold dust all fell 4 points or more. On the other hand, Adams Express soared 10 points and the Kresge department store issues moved into new high ground.

Except for 2 point reactions in Wabash and Canadian Pacific, the rails offered good resistance to selling pressure.

The cloz was steady. Total sales approximated 1,850,000 shares.

LOS ANGELES IN FLIGHT TO PANAMA ZONE

Big American Dirigible Reported Making Good Time on Non-Stop Trip Today

Washington, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Sailing over southern waters in her non-stop flight from Lakehurst, N. J., to the Panama Canal Zone, the dirigible Los Angeles reported to the Navy Department at 10:07 o'clock Eastern Standard Time today that she was three miles off South Negri Point, Jamaica.

This would place the big ship 412 miles from her destination, she took the air at Lakehurst at 6:15 yesterday morning and so far as reports given out by the Navy have shown, the trip has been uneventful.

Washington, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Far past the midway mark, the giant airship Los Angeles glided over southern waters today on an unheralded non-stop training flight from Lakehurst, N. J., to France field, Panama.

Starting unannounced from her New Jersey station at 6:15 yesterday morning, the big lighter-than-air craft was attempting her longest journey since she was flown from Germany as the ZR-3.

The trio, approximately 2,200 miles and mostly over water, should be accomplished, barring motor trouble and bad weather, in about 38 hours provided the ship maintains the better than 50 mile an hour pace she set to herself for the first half. Naueau, British Honduras, about midway, was passed at 1:05 this morning, 18 hours and 50 minutes after she left Lakehurst.

On this basis it was estimated she should reach France field about eight o'clock tonight.

The flight is the first attempted non-stop voyage of a craft of its kind to the Canal Zone although two years ago, the 658-foot German built dirigible flew to Porto Rico. The craft is in charge of Lieut. Commander Charles E. Rosendahl and has a full crew aboard. Most of the trip is being made over water to demonstrate the ship's fitness for the equivalent to a trans-Atlantic voyage.

Should Commander Rosendahl, who has been given complete authority over the project, consider it wiser to moor the craft to the Patoka, the flight, it was presumed would be resumed when weather conditions appeared more favorable. The same plans hold for the trip back, although it may be found necessary to moor her anyway then while fuel and emergency equipment are taken on.

The ship has been in touch by radio with the Navy Department at regular intervals, although these grew farther and farther apart as she progressed nearer her goal.

BEGIN FILLING LAKE ON CATAWBA RIVER

Newton, Feb. 27.—(AP)—The gates of the Duke Power Company dam across the Catawba river at Oxford Ford, 10 miles north of here, were closed today and the mammoth lake the dam will create began filling.

The lake, which will cover 7,000 acres and will back to within a mile and a quarter of the city limits of Hickory, will take several months to fill, it was estimated.

The dam was constructed to feed a hydro-electric power plant expected to develop 56,000 horsepower. The project will cost $6,000,000.

The lake will be 22 miles in length and four miles wide in some places. It will cover approximately 500 more acres than Lake James at Bridgewater, heretofore considered the largest artificial lake in North Carolina.

to, e. assured by good lawyers he need not worry about the jail for a year, if ever. Had he been poor and convicted of stealing an overcoat, he would be in jail now, and stay more than six months. Or, as Shakespeare wrote it, in King Lear:

"Robes and furred gowns hide all. 'Tis a sin with gold. And the strong lance of justice hurtless breaks; Arm'd in rags, a pigmy's straw bath pierce it."

S. P. Grace, one of Mr. Gifford's able telephone engineers, has, by a mechanical device, made tele-eavesdropping impossible, either by wireless or ordinary telephone.

One device distorts the speaking voice by transforming high frequency tones into low frequency tones, making unintelligible gibberish of what is said. Another device, the "receiving ear," restoring the message to its natural tones, enabled the listener to get the message as originally spoken.

The wire tapper or other eavesdropper, would understand nothing, only the mechanical ear, probably and secretly adjusted, makes the message intelligible. That is important news for individuals giving telephone orders to stock brokers.

A unknown man knocked a young woman unconscious, poured gasoline on her dress and burned her to death. Some of her bonds that he dared not sell, he returns to the police, telling his story briefly. He took the young woman and two bottles of bootleg drink in an automobile, with him, drank a good deal, and supposes he was crazy. If sober, he thinks he would not have done it, even though the unfortunate woman had repulsed him. Prohibition seems not to have worked well for her.

An experiment will be made at the University of California, testing the time required to teach an average man to fly.

At the Ford air plant, you are told that an alert young man can learn to fly a plane in four to six hours.

It takes twice as long to learn to land.

The main thing is that thousands of young Americans should be taught flying, whether it takes four hours, or four weeks.

And the government should enable young men to learn flying, without expense, at universities and after closing hours, on flying fields near great factories.

Ten three-engined planes, such as Ford builds, all metal, perfectly safe, could teach flying to 5,000 young men a year.

The ten planes would cost $500,000.

Heat of Red Peppers Ends Neuritis

Neuritis, rheumatism, lumbago, backache, stiff neck, sore muscles, strains, sprains, aching joints. When you are suffering so you can hardly get around, just try Red Pepper Rub.

Nothing has such concentrated, penetrating heat as red peppers, and when heat penetrates right down into pain and congestion relief comes at once.

Just as soon as you apply Red Pepper Rub you feel the tingling heat. In three minutes the sore spot is warmed through and through and the torture is gone.

Rowles Red Pepper Rub, made from red peppers, costs little at any drug store. Get a jar at once. Be sure to get the genuine, with the name Rowles on every package.

000. And they could train 20,000 fliers in four years. How much would 20,000 well-trained fliers be worth to this country in case of war.

Army and Navy pilots could do the teaching, without cost, except for gas and oil.

"The committee on naval affairs rejecting Secretary Wilbur's wise recommendation to build 85 submarines, says "The United States is well supplied with submarines, being equal at least to any other nation in that type of warfare."

That is inaccurate. Great Britain has submarines that carry flying machines. We have none. Is that being "equal to Great Britain?" Cannot the dullest member of the naval affairs committee realize what would happen if a few submarines, mounting heavy guns, and able to release flying machines, with bombs and poison gases should suddenly appear inside the harbor of a great city. A French naval officer says he has seen in Japanese waters a submarine almost as big as an ocean liner and not mentioned in the Japanese reports. If we ever get into a war we shall find unpleasant surprises awaiting us and probably put dollar-a-year men to work again spending the public's billions without getting anything that can fly or float effectively.

Marconi predicts that Canada and Britain will be united by the "beam radio," making it impossible for outsiders to interfere with communication, or pick up messages.

New devices abolishing distance on the earth will change relations between nations and solidify empires.
