REVEALS HORRORS SOFT COAL FIELDS

Senate Sub-Committee Gives Graphic Portrayal of Misery And Suffering Among Union Miners.

Washington, March 12.—(AP)—A report drawing a general picture of mystery and horror in the soft coal regions of Pittsburgh and central Pennsylvania was before the senate interstate commerce committee today as it proceeded with its inquiry into conditions resulting from the long suspension of union mining in that and two other states.

Made public by the sub-committee which recently visited the region for a first hand inspection the report related stories of men and women "running wild" of the "brutality of the coal and iron police," family evictions, deaths, shootings, attacks on young girls and cases of extreme poverty.

While little time was given by the sub-committee to the economic side of the controversy the union and the coal operators the members declared they had "every reason to believe that the coal industry generally in this country is not in a prosperous condition."

The report urged that the investigation by the whole committee, therefore, be "searching and severe in every detail looking forward to some solution by legislation that will put the great coal industry of America on a reasonably prosperous basis."

The subcommittee directed its principal fire against the Ohio and Pennsylvania relief society, whose "slimy trail" of duplicity, it said, was found everywhere in the Pittsburgh district.

The conditions complained of most were found at Broughton, Harmsville, Bruneton, and Pricedale—a "reign of terror" existed at the first named place where a mine is operated by the Pittsburgh terminal coal corporation, the report declared. "Women were found to be still persons from the shooting up of their homes." Wives of miners at Bruneton testified that their homes had been "shot up."

Declaring the "brutality of the coal and iron police shocked every member of the committee," the report related the testimony of Mrs. Clarissa Engler, of Broughton, that these men at one time shot into a group of school children. At Pricedale witnesses accused them of taking young girls away from their homes and attacking them.

As to the Ohio and Pennsylvania relief society, the report declared that the more suffering and distress the sub-committee found the more sure it was to find this organization "active, offering food and clothing to the distressed miners, and at the same time preaching its doctrine of disloyalty, the breaking of injunctions by mass picketing, and the destruction of the government itself."

Begin Another Battle to Free Richmond Man

Richmond, Va., March 12.—(AP)—The second battle for freedom of John Wesley Faison, ex-manager of the exclusive hermitage club who is charged with murder of Mrs. Elsie Holt Snipes of Princeton, N. C., will start in Hastings court at 10 a. m. today.

Four months ago Friday, Faison carried the 31-year old Princeton beauty from her apartment to a local hospital with a fatal bullet wound in her head. Faison admits the shooting took place when he was alone with Mrs. Snipes but declares she killed herself after he had told her that he was going back to his wife and five children in December. In the evidence introduced were scores of love letters that were said to have passed between the club manager and his black sweetheart. Mrs. Faison stood faithfully by her husband. The jury deliberated for two days without a verdict. Faison was then released on bail of $10,000.

The second trial has been delayed until today because of Faison's attorney, State Senator T. Gray Haddon had been occupied with the sixty day session of the general assembly which concluded Saturday. The commonwealth's attorney is being assisted in the prosecution by Harold Cooley of Nashville, North Carolina and J. J. Hatch of Goldsboro, N. C., who are employed by the dead woman's family.

NEW DISASTER HANGING OVER SANTOS BRAZIL

Gaping Cracks in Side of Mount Serrat Threaten to Increase Death List.

Santos, Brazil, March 12.—(AP)—Gaping cracks in the side of Mount Serrat, towering in the center of this stricken city, today threatened new disaster as 1,500 volunteers dug steadily into the ruins of Saturdays' slide.

The known dead stood at 39 and it was feared that the ponderous mass of earth crashing down upon the sleeping city had crushed out 200 lives.

Women, wearily by weeping and waiting, and terror-stricken children stood around the scene, remnants of families shattered by catastrophe. They hoped that out of the mass of earth, crumbled wall and rocks, the rescue workers would dig forth friends or relatives still alive.

From the debris was taken a woman who had been buried for twenty-five hours in a room with the body of her husband.

The authorities held out little hope that any would be taken out alive. They said that the mass of earth was so great that even many of the bodies interred would probably never be recovered.

A man who had left his family of eight sleeping peacefully returned to the place where his home once stood to find it demolished and his family dead. Most of the bodies recovered, nearly all in night clothes, were those of children.

Police ordered a wide area around the slide evacuated and this prevented a fresh disaster when a new avalanche occurred yesterday on the opposite side from the first slide. Nine houses were crushed but there were no casualties.

The enormous quantity of earth which shifted hampered the work of excavators, who included all classes of people laboring side by side. Engineers estimated that if a new avalanche occurred from the fissures which yawned above the city it would be three times as great as that of the first slide. The first slide was estimated at 650,000 cubic yards of earth. It was believed to have been caused by recent heavy rains which weakened the loose earth on the sides of the mountain. New peril was seen in a heavy rain which fell yesterday afternoon.

The casino, it was feared, would be engulfed if another slide should occur.

The hospital of Santo Rosa, one of the show places of the city, was damaged but most of the patients escaped injury and were removed to other institutions.

The entire city responded to the aid of the stricken. Shops were closed and their staffs joined in the rescue work.

Many donations were received for the work of recovering the bodies and to aid in rehabilitation. Governor Julio Prates ordered that all victims be buried at the expense of the state.

ALLEN HELD IN POISONING CASE HERE

Bound Over to April Superior Court on Charge Poisoning Hardee Family.

Jennings Allen was given preliminary hearing in this city Saturday afternoon before Magistrate C. B. Rowlett, charged with poisoning the family of Will Hardy, who reside several miles from this city. Allen was bound over to the next term of Pitt county criminal superior court under bond of $1,500.

The charge against Allen resulted from the critical illness of Hardy, his wife and two children following the drinking of coffee said to have contained poison, believed to be bicarbonate of mercury. Mr. Hardy was in precarious condition for several days, and little hope at one time was entertained for his recovery. While critically ill, other members of the family did not suffer as severely as the father. Two boys that were fed the remainder of the coffee pot died within a few hours afterwards.

The poison is believed to have been placed in the coffee pot while the Hardy family was away from home on Sunday afternoon about three months ago. Allen is alleged to have been seen on a path near the Hardy home on the same Sunday, and is said to have asserted "that he reckoned he would be charged with the crime," shortly after the poisoning took place.

Six witnesses were placed on the stand by the prosecution in the preliminary hearing Saturday, and testimony produced was similar to that given in the resume above. The defendant failed to place witnesses on the stand, but it is expected this side of the story will come out in the hearing before the higher court in April.

CHARGES HAYS WITH PERJURY

Senator Robinson Enters New Charge in Teapot Dome Oil Hearing.

Washington, March 12.—(AP)—Reviewing the testimony before the Teapot Dome committee, Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, declared today that Will Hays had "subjected himself to the possible charge of perjury."

Washington, March 12.—(AP)—Rapid-fire week-end developments in the Senate's long and ever widening search of the ultimate beneficiaries of the oil scandal profits were being pondered today by the Teapot Dome committee pending resumption of its inquiry tomorrow.

Then, directors of the last two Republican presidential campaigns will appear for questioning. Means, Secretary Mellon also may be called.

Outstanding in the unusual Sunday happenings was an appeal by Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, to William M. Butler, chairman of the Republican National Committee, that all money received by the party from Harry F. Sinclair, lessee of Teapot Dome and sharer in the $3,000,000 overnight profits of the Continental Trading Company be returned because the whole transaction was "in view an ulterior and sinister purpose."

The appeal, made in a letter dated March 5, but which Senator Borah made public only last night, was answered by chairman Butler but to the dissatisfaction of the Idahoan, who wrote Butler again and is now awaiting further reply. Only his first letter was made public.

"The investigation of the oil scandal has not disclosed beyond peradventure," he began, "that the Republican party received large sums of money, or securities from Mr. Sinclair which the Republican party cannot in honor and decency keep. As the evidence now stands this money was not given as an ordinary campaign contribution."

To retain the Sinclair donations the appeal went on, would be equivalent to saying that "political parties are above the law and exempt from the ordinary precepts of morality."

Mr. Butler, who directed the Goelitz campaign in 1924, along with Will Hays, who ran Harding's campaign in 1920, will hold the spotlight when the Teapot committee resumes its sessions tomorrow. The former is expected to be asked to repeat under oath information contained in a telegram he sent last night to Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, committee proponent, in which he denied ever receiving any bonds and contribu-

ONE ARRESTED IN MURDER OF THREE WOMEN

Three Texas Women Slain by Assailant While They Slept Sunday.

San Angelo, Tex., March 12.—(AP)—Discovery of the mutilated bodies of Mrs. W. J. Juergens, her daughter Myrna, about 13-years old, and her mother, Mrs. Rosa Schirra of Pittsburgh, Pa., in the Juergens home here, has led to the arrest of a man believed to be Newburg, chauffeur for the family.

The three bodies were found in the Juergens home yesterday when a neighbor became suspicious. All apparently were killed as they slept. A hatchet, a large knife and an ice pick were found near the bodies.

A search for burns, described as chauffeur and friend of the family, was started immediately. When he could not be located here, it was learned the family automobile also was missing, his description was broadcast. Within a few hours a man answering the chauffeur's description was arrested at Sulphur Springs, several hundred miles away. He was held without bond on a charge of murder.

Mr. Juergens, employed by an oil company at Toston, Texas, was at that place when notified of the slayings, no statement from him was made public.

As far as police could learn, Burns was last seen here the night of Thursday, last. None of the family had appeared about the house during the last week.

Police said the house had been ransacked and left in an "indecent condition. However, they scouted a robbery, theory, advanced by neighbors.

Police said the slayer apparently used the hatchet to overpower the women and then had used the other weapons. The body of the girl had been subjected to a severe attack. Physicians believed the killings occurred about a week ago, when a neighbor recalled hearing screams during the night, but failed to investigate.

Madrin of this city is confined in the local hospital suffering from painful injuries sustained yesterday morning when his coupe was hit by an east bound Norfolk & Southern passenger train at the Cotton Mill crossing. Bad Weather And Snow Caused Wreck Of Ship

Plymouth, Mass., March 12.—(AP)—Severe weather and snow in the pilot house were held responsible today by Captain Harland W. Robinson for the wreck of his ship, the Robert E. Lee, a mile off Monomoy Point during a blinding blizzard Friday.

With all of its 150 passengers removed in safety by rescue ships and all but two of its crew off, the ship was firmly on the dangerous Mary Ann rocks today while the personnel of tug sent by a wrecking company made plans for attempted salvage.

The Eastern Steamship Company, owners of the passenger liner, which was bound from Boston to New York City when the accident occurred, announced that it would attempt to repair the vessel and pull it off at high tide.

In his first statement since his ship drove onto the rocks, Captain Robinson declared he was on the bridge and had not seen the flares which the Monomoy coast guard station sent up a short time before the vessel was seen to be in peril.

Bears Rodman Wanamaker. Bears of Yesterday. Roads and Automobiles. Watch Mother Britain.

(By Arthur Brisbane)
Copyright 1927, by Star Co.

The world of business, and good citizens generally, regret the untimely death of Lewis Rodman Wanamaker, only 64 years old. Much useful work was crowded into his 'on short life. In 1883, at twenty, he became his father's partner, and when John Wanamaker died, his son, Rodman, became head of the entire business in New York, Philadelphia and Paris. Previously, Rodman Wanamaker had spent ten years in the Paris branch of the firm, familiarizing himself with and managing the importing departments.

Inheritor of a great fortune, that he had helped to build, Rodman Wanamaker chose a life of continuous hard work. He was active in business and in civic enterprises, to which he devoted much time. And he was foremost in airplane development, financing the first plane of trans-Atlantic flight, and first to offer airplanes at retail in his New York store, Messrs. Appel and Whalen, and his other close associates have lost an inspiring co-worker.

Where are the bears of yesterday? Answer, they are rubbing sore heads. Three million were hounded shares of stock sold Saturday in a terrific boom day, with "near" 100% skyrocketing above 150. Poor bears had to buy back, as best they could, stocks sold short, in defiance of sound advice, offered here.

Don't gamble, long or short, just now especially. But whatever you do, don't tell this country short. There are stocks called "high," selling below two hundred and below one hundred, that with capable and honest management will sell (Continued on page six)

COLD WEATHER GRIPS EUROPE

Storm and Cold Results in Death of two Fliers and Abandoning of Strait Swim.

London, March 12.—(AP)—Storm and cold gripped much of Europe today. Their advent snuffed out the lives of two fliers and defeated an English girl in her third attempt to swim the Strait of Gibraltar. Iceland enjoyed comparatively mild weather.

A French Paris to London airliner found the storm too severe to face and landed its passengers near Calais, Friday. Yesterday despite the uncertain weather Pilot Schmitz and Mechanic Andre Perrade attempted to continue their flight. The storm was too strong and the plane plunged into the sea drowning them.

Miss Mercedes Gleits, London typist, was taken from the sea after having swum for seven hours and forty minutes in the Strait of Gibraltar. Starting from Tarifa, Spain, she had made good progress on her third attempt to cross the straight until she was little more than a mile off Apes Hill on the African coast. Then the sea grew rough and the tide changed. For three hours she battled against a sea steadily growing rougher and then defeated, was helped into the boat which accompanied her.

Blizzards in the British Isles cut down the attendance at many soccer matches.

Cold and frost hindered the balloting in the Polish senatorial elections.

Germany was swept by icy northern blasts, which were accompanied in many places by heavy snowfall. Similar conditions prevailed in France.

Farmers in England were hard pushed to protect their hinds endangered by the sudden change.

AMERICAN GIRL PREPARES FOR WEDDING HINDU

Miss Nancy Ann Miller to be Converted From Christianity at City of Nasik.

London, March 12.—(AP)—Amid the shrines and temples of the ancient holy city of Nasik, India, an American girl tomorrow will become a Hindu so that she may wed a former Maharajah.

Miss Nancy Ann Miller of Seattle, Wash., will undergo the Shuddhi, or purification ceremony. For her conversion from Christianity. After her conversion she will go to Darra Mahal, near Baranah, where on Saturday she will become the third wife of Tukoji Rao, former Maharajah of Indore.

The religious ritual will begin at sunrise at Ganagar on the banks of the Godavery, five miles from Nasik. Generally if there is no sun, there is no ceremony.

Shuddhi is begun by building a fire of coals, known as "Agami" in the middle of the room, pouring incense upon the fuel until the room is cloudy with its smoke. Then the chanting of Hindu priests begins and for more than two hours it continues as they invoke the blessing of the Hindu trinity—Brahma, Vishnu and Siva—upon the initiate.

In the middle of the ceremony the Neophyte is handed a goblet of holy water which she must drink. She must wear the Hindu woman's flowing garb. Her participation in the ceremony is accepted as evidence of the fact that she believed in the religion.

In the evening there will be a general ceremony at Nasik. A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Bombay today said that Miss Miller might make a speech as part of this. If she does so an oration by a Hindu priest will follow.

While plans for the conversion continued controversy over it raged hotly among the Hindus. The orthodox Brahmins contend that it is an absolute farce since only those born Hindus can hold the Hindu faith.

At the wedding on Saturday the customary marriage procession will be omitted. The program provides for lavish festivities and illuminations at Tukoji Rao's estate which is situated in the middle of a small jungle.

Arrangements have been made to film the initiation ceremony and many Europeans are clamoring for tickets for the evening ceremony to which admission will be limited.

Modern Tobacco Structure to be Erected on Tyson-Roundtree Property on Greene Street.

Greenville is to have another modern and up-to-date tobacco warehouse to help to take care of the rapidly increasing business of the tobacco market here, according to announcement made this morning. The new house, according to the announcement, will be one of the largest and most modern in the state and will add greatly to the facilities of the Greenville market. The house will be large enough to accommodate three thousand baskets daily.

Negotiations for the Tyson and Roundtree property on Greene street between Fifth street and Dickinson avenue, and the adjacent property on Pitt street, were completed today and work on the new warehouse will begin as early as possible in order that it may be completed and ready for business when the coming season opens. The warehouse will extend through the entire block and will have wagon and truck entrances on both Greene and Pitt streets. The house will be built by R. E. Harris, of this city, and will be operated by O. L. Joyner and Sons. Mr. Harris is one of Greenville's leading business men and is also one of the county's largest and most successful farmers.

The members of the operating firm are well known in the tobacco trade throughout the section. Mr. O. L. Joyner, Sr., head of the firm, is one of the pioneer tobaccoists of Greenville and has been connected with the market practically since its beginning. As a young man, 21 years old, in 1891, he succeeded in interesting the people of the town and county and secured sufficient stock to build the first tobacco warehouse in Greenville and since that time he has taken an active interest in the development of the tobacco industry in this entire section. Associated with Mr. Joyner in the business is his son, O. L. Joyner, Jr., Young Mr. Joyner, before entering the warehouse business three years ago, was a tobacco buyer and has had considerable experience along this line.

The addition of this new mammoth warehouse together with enlarged redrying facilities being put into effect by various of the buying concerns places the Greenville market in position to handle much more tobacco than ever before and should make easy the attainment of the 75,000,000 pounds goal set for the market for the coming season.

Foot Racers on Colorado Today

Needles, Calif., March 12.—(AP)—Desert dust was replaced by the muddy waters of the Colorado for the scene of the start today's abbreviated lap of the trans-continental foot race.

A few hundred feet from the starting line some thirty rowboats powered by Mojave Indians waited to transport the surviving contestants across the river. For the brief passage the runners were offered an opportunity to sit at ease and cool heels searched by the last five days of desert hoofing the perhaps to wish that the Colorado were wider than it is.

The little mining town of Oatman was the destination of today's 17 miles course, less than a third of the distance of yesterday's Danby to Needles Run.

Although he came in second by a matter of five minutes in yesterday's 87 miles, Arthur Newton, 44-year Olderiod down first place close of the day. He had jogged the 296.4 miles from Los Angeles in 44 hours, 48 minutes, 40 seconds. SPORTS SLANTS

By ALAN J. GOULD

New York, March 12.—(AP)—There has been a lot of excitement and elbowing in connection with the indoor track and field season but only a few startling performances, notably those by Sabin Car and Lloyd Hahn, have saved it from being a mediocre campaign.

All the ballyhoo about the Olympic incentive hasn't seemed to spur the boys to any general outbreak of record busting instead of any increase, the pace has fallen off. The decline in fact, has been consistent since the last Olympics. There were 123 records performances in-door in 1924-25, the season that Paavo Nurmi came over to stir things up. With the flying Finn absent, the total dropped to 47 in 1925 and 15 last winter. Only 11 records feats have been turned in this year.

The situation isn't quite so gloomy however, as the figures indicate. Any season that boasts two much scintillating performances as Garr's pole vault of 14 feet, one inch, and Hahn's half mile in 1:15 2-5 can't be obscured by a somewhat general absence of real class. Here and there.

Such other bright spots have emerged as the consistently fine distance running of Leo Leonard of Boston A. A., the hurdling skill of Weems Baskin, former Alabama Poly star; the twin victories of Ray Conger out in the middle west over Hahn and Dr. Otto Peltzer; the shot putting of Herb Schwarz of Illinois A. C. and Dave Adelman; of George town; the middle distance running of Phil Edwards, New York University negro and the all round feats of Baryny Berlinger Pennsylvania freshman.

The 48 second quarter mile by Ray Barbut for the record breaking Syracuse quartet in the Eastern Intercollegiate and the sprinting upsets accounted for by the two Holy Cross aces, Quinn and Rapey, also deserve places in main rounds up, not to mention the fleet Hahn's "mile of the century" victory over Conger and Peltzer in 4:13.

College basketball campaign has seen most of last year's championship outfits bumped off.

In the general upheaval Arkansas in the southwestern conference, stands out by capturing its third straight title.

Out on the Pacific coast, California, four time champion, don't even get into the play-off in which southern California knocked off the University of Washington's huskies.

Vanderbilt, in the Southern conference, likewise faded out of the championship picture, now framed around the University of Mississippi Dartmouth lost out in the Eastern intercollegiate league and Michigan trailed in the Western conference title chase.

Rough Reports For Training

Augusta, Ga., March 12.—(AP)—Eddie Roush, star outfielder of the Giants, as reported for spring training. The only absent members of the club now are pitcher Vic Aldridge and Pat Crawford, a minor league infielder.

Charles Barnes, rookie pitcher and brother of Virgil and Jess Barnes, is the first New York casualty. He was operated upon for appendicitis here yesterday.

SAINT LOUIS BROWNS MAKE MUCH CHANGE

By BRIAN BELL

West Palm Beach, Fla., March 12.—(AP)—If new baseball becomes swapp. clear: there will be little dust left in the corners of that part of the American League assigned for cleaning to St. Louis. Between seasons the Browns have been off with the old and on with the new baseball talent to an extent seldom observed in the majors.

The Browns will probably take the field for the first game of the 1928 season with only three players, and possibly two, in the lineup who played in the opening game last year. The surviving trio will be Wally Schang, catcher; Frank O'Rourke, third base, and Fred Schulte, centerfield.

If Clyde Manion should be called on to catch there would be but two veterans of 1927, and one of these, Schulte, a youngster who played his first part season last year, his very worthwhile activities being restricted by injuries to sixty games.

The Browns, who finished seventh last season, have been scattered to the four winds of baseball and while the 1928 St. Louis edition in Brown binding will have a difficult time improving the position of last year, manager Howley and President Phil De C. Ball have started ouidling for the future by bringing on some young fellows to try their hands where the older players failed.

Three-fourths of the infield will be new to the Browns and one half of it new to the major leagues.

Lou Blum, scrappy Detroit first baseman, will take care of first, replacing George Sisler and Frank O'Rourke holds on at third. Manager Howley will toss two youngsters from Tulsa in at second and short. He believes Otis Brandon and Ralph Kress will get the best major league experience by playing major league ball, so the recruits have been given their tarting positions with Oscar Melillo and Walter Gerber shoved to the bench. A third Tulsa infielder, Guy Sturdy, will be retained as an understudy for Blum and pinch hitter.

The Browns have an outfield long on quality but short on quantity. Harry Mathus, who has worn the batting crown of the American League, obtained from Detroit in a trade, will play left; Earl Mceneaney, who played impressive world series ball for Washington, has been obtained from the Senators to take care of right and Fred Schulte, the $100,000 outfield investment of last year, recovered from his 1927 injuries, will again get the centerfield assignment. The club is shy of reserve outfield material having only a couple of youngsters who are not ready to stand by for the regulars. A deal will have to be made for additional outfielders.

Three veteran catchers are available, Schang and Steve O'Neill, from last year, and Clyde Manion, former Detroit receiver, drafted from Newark. The pitching staff is uncertain now and may be altered the season opens. Walter Stewart, a capable but frail southpaw, and Ernie Nevers, big right hander, strong enough to be a sensation on the mound, are the survivors from last year's starting staff. Alvin Crowder, who was transferred from Washington to St. Louis last season, is back and Sam Gray has transferred his activities from the Athletics to the Browns. Johnny Ogden, sensational pitcher for Baltimore, has won a place as has George Blaeholder, who won 16 games for Tulsa. Dick Coffman, who was another figure in the St. Louis-Washington trade, has shown enough to be retained and Ed Strickel, formerly the property of the Brooklyn team, but last year with Lincoln, seems likely to remain under the big tent this time. Walter Beck, another Tulsa graduate, and George Valentine from Gulfport in the Cotton States League are on probation.

Manager Howley sees development of the youngsters as the only hope of the future for the Browns and will give the young fellows every chance. That the house cleaning of spring may be resumed in the autumn is indicated by his suggestion as to some of the players who have threatened for years to come through only to fall short.

Mack Announces Make-up of Team

Fort Myers, Fla., March 12.—(AP)—Connie Mack, manager of the Athletics, today announced the make-up of his 1928 team, comprising ten pitchers, three catchers, seven infielders and five outfielders.

His outfielders will be Ty Cobb, Tris Speaker, Al Simmons, Bing Miller and Walter French. In addition to these he will keep a string attached to Lebourveau, Haas and Harris.

The infielders to stick are Collins, Hauser, Bishop, Hale, Doley, Dukes and Hassler. Cochrane, Perkins and Fox will hold over as catchers. The pitching surties are Grove, Walberg, Orwool, left handers, and Elmke, Quinn, Rommel, Bush and Johnson, right handers. Two will be chosen from among newers, Soares, Joernard, Potter, Daney, Lyons and Blake.

Pilots Indians

Roger Peckinpaugh, voted the "most valuable player" of the American League in 1925, wears the managerial mantle becomingly this Spring as he warms up his Cleveland "Indians" in New Orleans sunshine.

Chicago Woman Begins Quest For New Crown

Bellair, Fla., March 12.—(AP)—Virginia Van Wie, youthful Chicago links woman, today will start her quest for a fourth Dixie golfing crown this season, meeting a number of leading feminine masher handlers in the annual Bellair tournament.

Her friendly rivalry, however, with Glenna Collett, holder of four national crowns, will be missing as the Providence, R. I., woman who Saturday defeated Miss Van Wie in the finals of the Florida East Coast women's play is not entered. In losing, 3 and 2, Saturday to Miss Collett, the two were left even in honors for the winter's play to date, each having won a tournament by eliminating the other. Miss Van Wie recently won the mid-south open at Pinehurst in the final round from Miss Collett.

JACK SHARKEY TO FIGHT WITH RISKO TONIGHT

New York, March 12.—(AP)—Jack Sharkey, of Boston, who already has made two unsatisfactory attempts to prove himself the logical challenger for Gene Tunney's crown, will go into the elimination lists for the third time tonight against Johnny Risko, the Cleveland baker boy in a 15-round match in Madison Square Garden. The bout is scheduled for ten p. m. eastern standard time.

The Boston boxer's fame, brought to the peak by his knockout victory over Harry Wills, went into a partial eclipse when he was knocked out by Jack Dempsey in the seventh round at the Yankee stadium last July.

Sharkey's next chance was the bout with Tom Heenev, the New Zealand Blacksmith, but the best the ex-nator could do was to earn a 12-round draw.

Observers then expressed the opinion that Sharkey had again eliminated himself but his pugilistic streak twinkled once more when Jack Delaney lost to Heenev in another colorless 15-round encounter which seemingly failed to produce a title contender favorable to Rickard.

Thus Sharkey comes to the elimination ring against the Clevelandite in a championship bout certain in the event he acquires himself in impressive fashion.

Heavy odds are being quoted on Sharkey to win, some at 13 to 5, these being based principally on the fact that the hub boxer easily outpointed Risko in their first fight but at that time Risko was a novice while Sharkey had been a professional for more than a year. The boxer will enter the ring on even terms of weight with Sharkey weighing 191 pounds when he concluded training and Risko slightly more than 195.

Outstanding Wedding Anniversary. Bruce, March 10.—Of State-wide interest is the approaching 62nd wedding anniversary of Colonel and Mrs. Robert Randolph Cotten, of Cottendale, which will be celebrated Wednesday. The couple are among the best known and best loved citizens of North Carolina.

Colonel and Mrs. Cotten were married on March 14, 1866 at 8 o'clock in the evening at the bride's home in Murfreesboro, Va. Before marriage Mrs. Cotten was Miss Sallie Southall of Virginia.

Mrs. Cotten is called the "Mother of the North Carolina Federation of Women's Clubs." She was particularly active in early club work for women, when other women declined to take prominent public stands. She is now honorary president of the State Federation and is a beloved figure and important adviser at all conventions and meetings.

"An oil painting of her was presented last year by Colonel Cotten to the Sallie Southall Cotten dormitory at North Carolina College for Women in Greensboro. The Women's Club students loan fund named in her honor has grown with unusually rapid strides and popularity during its history.

As an author, Mrs. Cotten has achieved notable success, especially with her Federation History and Legend of the White Doe, a story of Virginia Dare. It was she who persuaded the sculptor to present the statue of Virginia Dare some time ago to the State of North Carolina. It is now in the Hall of History at Raleigh.

In club work, especially in women's organization, she has been a great and popular leader. She is an exemplary citizen and on one public occasion promised to be one of a score of women in North Carolina to run for the State Legislature in an effort to improve political conditions.

Mrs. Cotten was voted by the members of the North Carolina women's committee for the Sesqui-Centennial exposition in Philadelphia as the outstanding North Carolina woman in realms of civics. She was one of four North Carolina women honored for notable work in literature, music, art and civics, respectively. As a pioneer in civic affairs for women she still, at the age of 81 years takes an active interest and ranks as one of the greatest inspirations among the women of the State.

Colonel Cotten is 88 years old, or young. He took a distinguished part in the War Between the States, fighting courageously for the Confederacy. As a large planter and farmer, business man and bank director, he has achieved prominence throughout the region.

Baseball enthusiasts from several eastern towns held a meeting in Wilson Tuesday afternoon to organize a league. While nine towns were represented at the meeting a league of only six towns was formed, these being Wilmington, Wilson, Rocky Mount, Goldsboro, Raleigh and Kinston.

The other towns wanting to be in the league but left out, were Greenville, Fayetteville and New Bern. E. G. Flanagan was at the meeting representing Greenville.

GREAT ACTOR PAYS "COMER" TRIBUTE

One of the most fitting and gracious tributes that one artist can bestow upon another has been tendered to Fay Wray, Paramount featured player, by Emil Jannings, the great German star.

Miss Wray, who was discovered by Eric Von Storchheim and given one of the leading roles in "The Wedding March," received praise from Jannings after playing with the latter as his leading woman in "The Street of Sin."

"I have seen many of the younger players and their performances during my stay in Hollywood," said Jannings, "but two stand out as the most promising of this group. I am speaking of Miss Fay Wray and Miss Janet Gaynor. For both of these artists I predict much in the immediate future."

Miss Wray has one of the leading roles in "The Legion of the Condemned," Paramount's companion picture to "Wings," the great epic of the air. It will be shown at White's Theatre today and tomorrow.

"The Legion of the Condemned" was written and directed by the two men who were responsible for the filming of "Wings," namely John Monk Saunders and William Wellman. Other members of the cast of the production are Gary Cooper, Barry Norton, Lane Chandler, Francis McDonald, Vaya George, Freeman Wood, E. H. Calvert and Charlott Bird.

ABOUT TOWN

The Woman's club of Greenville has asked the Board of Aldermen to take over the public library a reader of this column remarked to the writer this morning.
"This action is to be regretted beyond measure. The library has grown to no little extent under the capable direction of members of the Woman's organization, and I feel confident similar growth would be experienced in the days to come.
If more finances are needed to carry on future activities of the Library, then some movement should be started to see that they are provided. The Woman's club no doubt could be persuaded to continue to direct the destiny of the institution and it is to be hoped something will be done immediately in this direction.
"The library is one of our most important assets, and should it be neglected at this time it would be a reflection upon the progress of this thriving young city."

"With completion of the present building program, East Carolina Teachers college will be able to accommodate one thousand students." President Robert H.
Wright, of the institution, told members of the Board of Directors in regular session at the college last week.
"Enrollment next year, however, will permit the admission of but few day students except those who actually live in town. The college is lacking in class room space to accommodate more than one thousand, and too, the teaching force would not be sufficient.
"The Board of Trustees again went on record as favoring an ultimate building program that will accommodate fifteen hundred students. In view of the scarcity of trained teachers in the public schools of the state the board of trustees decided to ask the next general assembly to make sufficient appropriation at its next session to provide buildings and equipment for this number. Mr. Wright said today.

STILL GROWING

The announcement that Greenville will have another big tobacco warehouse when the 1928 season opens is evidence that the market is continuing to move forward toward the top of the list of world's tobacco markets.
Beginning thirty-odd years ago as a one warehouse market with but small sales, Greenville has continued to climb in sales each year until the past season a total of 62,000,000 pounds of the golden weed were handled here. Already those connected with the market have set next season's goal at 70,000,000 pounds, and announcement that the facilities of the market are to be increased by one warehouse and the enlargement of some of the redrying plants should make the goal easy.
During the past two or three years business men and individuals as well as tobacconists of Greenville and the vicinity, have realized importance of Greenville as a market and the hearty co-operation of all these has to a great extent, been responsible for the rapid growth of the market. With the enlargement of the market's facilities and the continuance of this spirit of co-operation between growers, business men and ware-housemen, we see in the future even greater growth for the Greenville Tobacco Market.

The 5 Great Hazards

"It has been in this house fifty years. You can't find another piece like it. This, ladies and gentlemen, is genuine! What am I offered for it? These old treasures are going for a song. Give me a bid."
-As the auctioneer rattles on, the neighbors think of the old days of entertainment and open hospitality in that house. They wonder how long the proud and lonely mistress has been fighting off the inevitable.

WHILE presenting our Annual Statement showing Assets of $2,388,647,636-2 Billion, 388 Million Dollars-representing savings and investments of 25 million people in the United States and Canada, the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company desires to make clear what a life insurance company can do, what it should do and what, so far, it has been unable to do toward meeting what have been called the five great hazards of life:

- Death which may come early, before one's dependents have been provided for.
Accident always sudden and often causing lessened earning power.
Sickness which may cause want as well as suffering.
Dependent Old Age which must seek charity if self-support is no longer possible.
Unemployment which may bring distress to others in addition to the one unemployed.

Fiscal Report to Policyholders for Year Ending December 31, 1927. Assets $2,388,647,636.32. Liabilities: Statutory Reserve $2,086,410,639.00. Dividends to Policyholders payable 1928 $68,286,637.58. All other liabilities $92,583,792.86. Unassigned Funds $141,366,566.88. Total $2,388,647,636.32.

problem is still unsolved-unemployment insurance-and that only because legislation permitting it has so far been refused. The day must come when every family can and will plan to meet every one of the five great hazards so that none of its members will ever face the need of charity.
* * *
The United States and Canada pay higher wages than other countries. Nearly all their workers earn enough to provide for both present and future needs. If they will but plan ahead they may have in their years of retirement, not merely bare existence, but real comfort.
* * *
Thousands of those interested in life insurance have asked how the family income should be expended. Send for our Home Budget Booklet which tells how much should be spent for necessities-food, housing, clothing, fuel-and how much should be laid aside for protection. It will be mailed free.

ARREST FORTY IN COMMUNIST PLOT IN CHILE

Former President and Minister of Health Named in Heads of Conspiracy.

Santiago, Chile, March 12.—(AP)—Forty persons were under arrest today charged with being implicated in a communist plot to overthrow the government of General Carlos Ibanez, and the round up of suspects continued in Valparaiso, Talcahuano and Antofagast.

Former President Arturo Alessandri and Dr. Jose Santos Salas, former minister of health, both of whom are in Europe, were named as heads of the conspiracy. Senor Alessandri's son was among those arrested. Those seized will be exiled to Mas-A-Puera Island, one of the Juan Fernandez group, lying in the Pacific 415 miles from Valparaiso.

The government in revealing the plot said that its existence had been known for some time. It was being prepared by communist elements, the communists arrested, and directed from abroad by leaders of a former national regime recently expelled for reasons of safety.

Thursday afternoon, the government declared, it was learned that a man named Macaya arrived in Valparaiso carrying instructions from former President Alessandri.

Macaya was arrested. The government charged that he had in his possession documents which enabled it to round out information already gained concerning the plot. Friday night various plotters were surprised and arrested, and the communique added were kept secret.

"The plan of these elements," the government said, "was directed with the idea of lessening Chilean prestige abroad through the medium of a press hostile to our country, and as the same time it was intended to exploit the illusions of the communists in the country with additional recourse to other dissatisfied enemies."

Those opposed to General Ibanez have been dealt with vigorously during the last year. Felite Urzua, former president of the court of appeals, was deported along with many others. Last March, 89 political prisoners were sent to Mas-A-Puera.

General Ibanez became president in an election held on May 22, which he called and at which he was the only candidate. The month before this General Ibanez became acting president when President Emillio Figueroa-Larrain took a two-months leave of absence.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Cromolin, an emulsified crocote that is pleasant to take. Cromolin is a new radical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, crocote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Cromolin contains, in addition to crocote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the crocote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

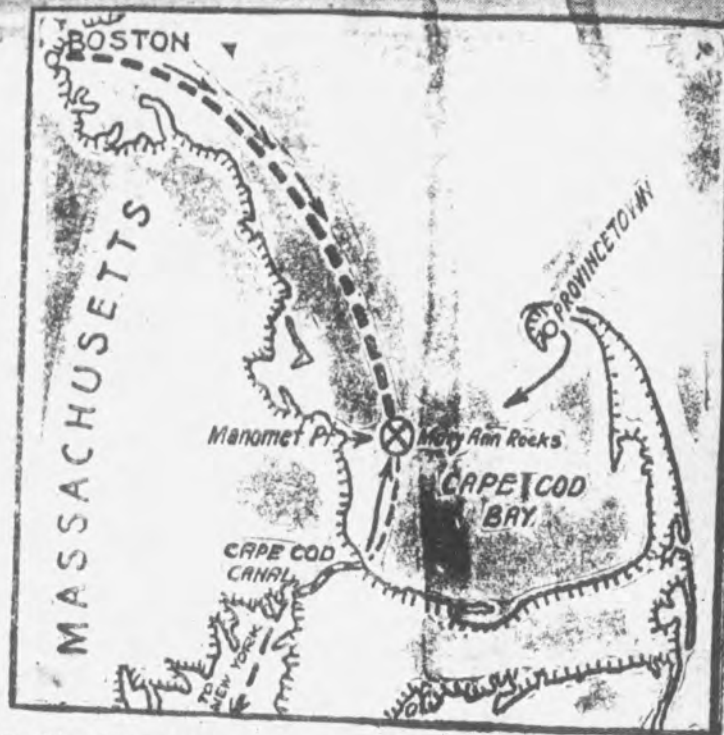

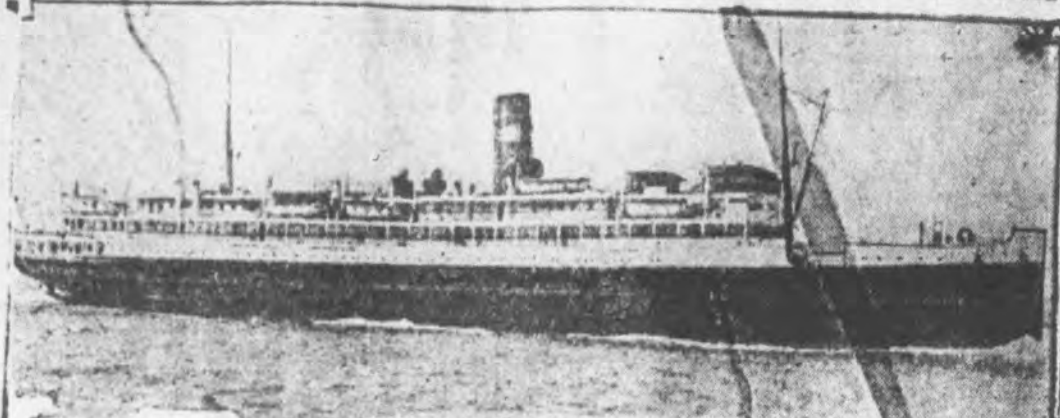

Cromolin is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, laryngeal and bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

FLORENCE OIL RANGE

FLORENCE cooks meals in double-quick time

A strong statement? Not at all. We know stoves. And we know that the Florence flame sends more heat into the cooking in a given time from a gallon of kerosene than any other high-power oil range.

It's focused heat that cuts down kitchen hours—and fuel bills as well. Ever cook on a Florence? A pleasant experience is awaiting you. It will pay you to come in today.

state already. In consequence, California leads in automobile ownership, which means family comfort.

If other states with good roads, could build up automobile ownership as California has done, there would be sixty million instead of twenty-four million automobiles running in this country. Other states might think that over.

King Ibn Saud, king of the Hedjaz, has begun his "holy war" against three territories under British mandate. Let those in charge of our Nicaraguan marines watch old mother Britain, and learn how the thing should be done.

The British are missing airplanes with bombs and machine guns, that will fly above armored "tanks."

King Ibn's holy warriors will know in a few weeks, things that are not mentioned in the Koran. And this time, Mohammed will not be there, to throw a handful of dust into the air, and see the dust change suddenly into legions of fighting angels. He did that once but tanks and airplanes have discouraged such legions.

The magician Houdini, who exposed spiritualist tricks, feared that he would be made to talk from "the beyond." He left a three-letter code word with a friend saying, "If any spiritualist talks with me and begins with that word, you will know it is my spirit talking." Even the code word would mean nothing. It might be guessed.

The wise Arabian philosopher said: "If you said twice two are three and to prove it I shall change this stick into a live serpent. And if you actually changed the stick into a serpent, I should say that is interesting, but twice two is not three."

So with spirits talking from the beyond. Our ears hear only sound waves made by solid material, organs of speech, lips, etc. Spirits have no such organs. They may talk interestingly to each other. But they cannot talk to us, no matter what the lady with the tambourine may say.

Chicago this year has seen 259 robberies, 14 bombings and 55 murders, not counting March. So last Thursday, 10,000 good Chicago citizens prayed for less crime. They should pray also for a solution of the prohibition-bootleg problem. Bootleg profits in Chicago amount to seventy millions a year. That is a big crime subsidy. Until you stop it, you will have crime, highly organized.

Two sixteen year old Los Angeles high school girls found in the gutter, half unconscious, told policemen they had been kidnaped and drugged. It turned out that with other children, including a girl of fourteen, they had taken certain habit-forming drug pills sold openly. The police "think" those pills should not be sold. Bootleg whiskey and drugs were, until recently, unknown features of school life.

Two American fliers in Nicaragua were killed when a flying buzzard broke a strut in their plane. Responsibility rests on the government that uses planes put out of order so easily. If buzzards could write that bird would be their David and the plane their Goliath.
