ONE HUNDRED PERISH WHEN DAM BREAKS

HEAVY PROPERTY DAMAGE RESULTS FROM EARTHQUAKE

Water From St. Francis Dam, Near Los Angeles, California, Rushes Down Upon Sleeping Communities.

Los Angeles, March 13.—(AP)—More than one hundred persons are reported to have perished today in an earthquake which turned the Los Angeles aqueduct into a giant of destruction, leaving a death toll estimated at 200 to 500 persons, and uncounted property damage when it broke the St. Francis dam in San Francisco, sending a wall of water down upon a sleeping community.

The dam, a structure 185 feet high, impounded the waters of San Francisco creek, forming a storage body five miles long and the width of the canyon.

Only five persons in the canyon are known to have been rescued when officers arrived at the scene. The break, which occurred about 3 a. m., unleashed the flood at high speed and in three hours it was more than 20 miles down the valley. Three bodies, all unidentified, were soon recovered.

Red Cross workers were rushed to the scene but their efforts were retarded by the sheriff's officers as workers. William Bright, in charge of the sheriff's rescue squad, declared there would be little use for relief work as he felt virtually all the inhabitants of the canyon had perished.

Bright recruited between 500 and 600 men and deputized them to preserve order and search for bodies in the stricken area.

Among the places hit was the riceo ranch of Harry Carey, film cowboy. It was in direct path of the water and several families living there are believed to have perished.

Five persons who came through the ordeal by joining hands, forming a human chain and being carried to safety by the water giant after it had taken them from their beds, were the only survivors reported in first advices.

Harry Carey's ranch, popularized by the film actor as a rodeo center was reported completely submerged and it was feared thirty Indians living on it may have perished. A branch line of the Southern Pacific was washed out but the main line held intact.

At 4 a. m. the water had passed Fillmore and was rapidly reaching the town of Santa Paula, headquarters of a big lemon belt. The flood, however, was keeping to the bed of the Santa Paula river.

HINCHCLIFFE BELIEVED ON WAY TO U. S.

English Airman Took Off From London Today; Destination Not Known.

London, March 13.—(AP)—Off on a daring attempt to conquer the Atlantic, Captain Walter Hinchcliffe, one of England's brilliant aviators, sped from the Cranwell air-drome at 8:40 o'clock this morning in his American built plane "the adventure."

The mystery that attached to the take-off, which was made with the utmost secrecy, was further complicated by the presence of a mysterious passenger that may possibly have been the honorable Elsie Mackay, daughter of Lord Inchcape.

Although first reports said that Captain Gordon Sinclair, a reserve pilot, was in the plane, there was no positive confirmation of his presence.

Inquiries at Miss Mackay's home this evening, failed to elicit any information concerning her whereabouts. A plane believed to be "the adventure" was reported this afternoon over Ireland flying in a westerly direction.

London, March 13.—(AP)—Captain Walter Hinchcliffe's agent in London stated this afternoon that Captain Hinchcliffe who left Cranwell this morning on a mystery flight with sufficient fuel to carry him 3,000 miles, intended an attempt to fly the Atlantic.

Meanwhile no word had been received at 4 o'clock this afternoon of the seaman's whereabouts since his hop-off at 8:40 o'clock this morning.

London, March 13.—(AP)—Mrs. Hinchcliffe informed the Associated Press late today that she believed her husband was headed for New York.

Mrs. Hinchcliffe thought when her husband started early today that he might be merely transferring his base to Ireland, but when informed of later developments, she admitted that the mystery flight was toward New York.

MYSTERY, DEATH PLOT, SUSPECTED

Authorities of Michigan City, Ind., hope to reveal cause of mysterious death of two children, Orville and Richard Bohle. The youngsters, who died in convulsions, are shown in upper picture. Orville (left) and Richard holding another brother, Ernest. Lower picture shows parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Bohle, with surviving children, Ernest, in mother's arms, and George, Jr.

Last Saturday, Wall Street employed the two shining hours of business, buying and selling more than one million shares an hour. Business in that neighborhood is really big.

One stock, General Motors, selling at $150 a share, represents a total value of nearly three billion dollars.

We have reached the age of billions. An investment of $60 in General Motors, early in the war, would be worth $5,000 now. There is no knowing what heights American values will reach.

The one thing certain is that if you gamble, you will end badly. What about the big men with millions? They don't gamble. They know what they are doing, and let the fools gamble.

Mr. Emil Ludwig returns to Europe having seen Otto H. Kahn and other parts of America. Someone gave Ludwig this misinformation: "Have little Socialism in America because we tell the state that it exists for the people. In Europe they tell the people they exist for the state, and there is much Socialism."

We have little Socialism here because powerful rich men that really run the country, selecting those for whom the people shall vote, have brains enough to pay liberal wages. Cut wages in two and you'd have here a radicalism that would make Europe's Socialism look pale.

Ludwig says he met twenty-five men and three billions of dollars at Kahn's house. He'd met more billions than that. If Kahn invited the right twenty-five—Boeckfeller, Baker, Mellon, Ford DuPont, etc. Ludwig will write a life of Lincoln. It will interest all interested in Ludwig, not so much those interested in Lincoln. Until you know thoroughly the America of today and of ninety years ago, you cannot know Lincoln.

ANNA LONG IS CHOSEN QUEEN FOR THIS CITY

Mary Dorcas Harding To Also Represent City at East Carolina Exposition.

Miss Anna Long was today selected as senior queen to represent Greenville at the East Carolina Exposition which opens in Goldsboro during the week of April 9. Little Mary Dorcas Harding was chosen to represent the city as its junior queen.

This announcement was made public today by members of the Greenville Merchants' Association who some time ago appointed a committee to provide this year's queen.

Miss Long is the daughter of Mrs. W. H. Long. She was born and raised in Greenville and has taken an active part in the social life of the community. She is a typical brunette and possesses striking beauty and charm.

Little Miss Harding is the daughter of Mrs. Preston Tyson and the late Jarvis Harding. She is considered one of the most popular children in the city and is unusually attractive and winsome.

Members of the Merchants Association today urged Greenville people to make it a point to attend the exposition and use their influence in helping make Greenville queens the queens of Eastern Carolina. Much interest is always attached to this particular feature of the attraction, and with numbers of cities and towns in this section of the state competing, it is going to be more difficult than ever to choose the queens.

Coronation ceremonies this year it is understood will be staged upon a more extensive plan than ever before, and the night on which this takes place is expected to be the gala night of the big show.

MELLON TESTIFIES IN TEAPOT DOME OIL CASE TODAY

Secretary of the Treasury and two Prominent Republicans Star Witnesses Before Senate Investigating Committee.

Washington, March 13.—(AP)—Secretary Mellon, called before the Senate's Teapot Dome committee today, testified that Will H. Hays, Republican campaign manager, in 1920 had attempted to have him accept $50,000 in Liberty bonds and give a like subscription to the party because Hays did not want large donations, such as that of Harry F. Sinclair, to show on the records.

Mellon refused that at the time he knew nothing of the naval oil scandal which has been pending for five years. He said Hays in 1923 had told him of a large subscription to the Republican party by Sinclair.

The secretary said Hays, a former Postmaster General, had sent him the $50,000 in bonds from New York. He took them to his home for safe keeping, and a day or so later when Hays called on him, he told him he could not accept them because the deal would not be what it purported to be.

A few days later he sent the bonds back to Hays in New York in the care of S. Parker Gilbert, then under-secretary of the treasury, and now agent general for German reparations.

Mellon was placed under oath by chairman Nye. The veteran cabinet officer's right had wavered slightly as he held it aloft during the oath.

Hays, former chairman of the Republican National Committee, came into the room just as Mellon began to testify.

"I had a phone call from Mr. Hays from New York saying he was sending me the Liberty bonds and that he would come to Washington to see me about it," Mellon said.

"I was busy at the time and laid the package aside. I kept on being busy and forgot them. The next morning I opened the package and saw that it contained bonds."

"In what amount?" asked Senator Walsh of Montana, the committee prosecutor.

"$50,000. Mr. Hays did not come that day and I took the bonds home for safe keeping as I had mislaid the combination to my office safe."

"Mr. Hays came on here. He was going to Indiana and I said I would send them to him in New York. This I did through S. Parker Gilbert, then under-secretary of the treasury."

"What was the denomination of the bonds?" Walsh asked.

"I did not notice."

"Did you keep any record of the numbers?"

"No."

"When Hays came, what did he say to you?"

"Generally, it was that he had a large subscription in bonds and he asked me to take them and hold them, and that I make a subscription to the committee to discharge the hangover of debt."

"I objected to doing so, because I would be making a subscription that was not what it purported to be. As far as I recalled, he asked me to make a loan and hold the bonds, but to me that was the same thing."

"I told him I would make a bona fide subscription and that I had expected to make a subscription as I felt I was obliged to make one. I said I would send one for $50,000. About that time I sent a check to the treasurer, Mr. Ugham, at Chicago, for $50,000."

"As I said in my letter to you Saturday, I had given only $2,000 to the Harding campaign."

Washington, March 13.—(AP)—With two prominent Republicans in open conflict over campaign contributions, one of these and two others high in the ranks of the party, including a cabinet member, became star witnesses today in the five year old Senate oil investigation.

Facing one of the severest examinations yet encountered by the ever lengthening parade of witnesses before the Teapot Dome committee, the three were: Andy W. Mellon, secretary of the treasury the first of President Coolidge's official family to be allied in the investigation since Edwin Denby secretary of the Navy, appeared before the committee in 1923.

MISS HARRIS PASSES AWAY

Well Known Local Woman Laid to Rest at Cherry Hill Cemetery Today.

Miss Etta Harris, 54, died this morning at 1:30 following an illness of several months.

Persons lived. Once out of the little valley where it wrought so much damage, the water took the course of the Santa Clara river to flow thirty miles to the Pacific ocean. Officials declared the damage along the Santa Clara would be enormous.

The dam was completed a little more than a year ago and was the second largest in the series of reservoirs of the city's huge water system.

Newhall, Cal., March 13.—(AP)—William Bright, in charge of the sheriff's squad assigned to police and rescue work in the St. Francis dam disaster estimated that between 200 and 500 persons lost their lives when the dam went out.

Bright recruited between 500 and 600 deputy sheriffs who were rushed into the district early to preserve order and aid in rescue work.

Bright, after a hurried survey of the situation, declared his belief that few, if any of the ranchers, power workmen and power substation employes in San Francisco canyon, the site of the dam, had escaped. The total number of persons living in the upper canyon, he estimated at 500.

At 5:30 a. m. three bodies, all unidentified, had been recovered. Red Cross workers were on the scene early, sent from Los Angeles. They prepared blankets and other comforts for refugees.

Bright told Red Cross workers he believed there would be little use for blankets and other comforts. As he felt certain that practically all inhabitants of San Francisco canyon had perished.

Advices from Saugus, in the vicinity of the break, said that a 12-year old girl and a baby, members of the Holschau family, living in the canyon, had been swept away to death.

The Holschaus lived a mile and one half above Saugus and all were asleep in their home when the wall of water came roaring down the canyon.

They joined hands and floated to a bank but here the human chain was broken and a 12-year-old daughter and baby were said to have been swept away.

Hunick reported that his uncle and sister whose names were not given, were missing.

Advices from Oxnard declared that the residents of that section, hearing of the breach in the dam were moving out of their homes and taking to high ground.

Harry Carey's ranch, popularized by the film actor as a rodeo center was reported completely submerged and it was feared thirty Indians living on it may have perished. A branch line of the Southern Pacific was washed out but the main line held intact.

At 4 a. m. the water had passed Fillmore and was rapidly reaching the town of Santa Paula, headquarters of a big lemon belt. The flood, however, was keeping to the bed of the Santa Paula river.

Continuing farther down, it was feared that the released water from the dam would travel what is known as Ventura avenue and cause damage to the oil fields of Ventura.

First reports said only five persons had been rescued out of a possible total of 500 living in the upper path of the flood where the danger was greatest.

St. Francis reservoir was completed little more than a year ago and was the second largest of the

SIX EXHIBITION CONTESTS FOR TOBACCONISTS

The "Tobacconists," Greenville's baseball club of the recently organized Eastern Carolina League, have six exhibition games scheduled prior to the opening of the league April 25th, according to announcement made this morning by "Deacon" Joffe, manager of the local club. Five of the games will be played with three clubs of the Piedmont League and one with the University of Virginia.

The opening game is scheduled to be played on the local diamond April 24th, with the University of Virginia.

The "Tobacconists" will play Raleigh in Raleigh, April 11 and 12.

Durham will play here April 16, and Raleigh on the 17.

The concluding game of the series will be played here with Greensboro April 18.

Manager Joffe said training season for the local club would begin April 1. By that time he is expected to have twenty-five men on the bench, twenty-two of whom have already signed for berths with the Tobacconists.

Work in improving the diamond at the fair grounds is already under way, and it was stated that the additional grandstand and bleachers would be ready for accommodating the crowds expected to attend the exhibition games.

These games, manager Joffe said will give local people an idea of what the Tobacconists will be able to do when the eastern circuit actually gets under way a few days after the concluding exhibition game. The club will be put thru strenuous training during the nine days which they will have prior to the first game, and it is believed they will be able to make a splendid showing.

HIG TILT TODAY AT MIAMI, FLORIDA

Miami, Fla., March 13.—(AP)—A tilt of possibly epic proportions was on the cards today in the finals of the international four ball matches here.

On one team, Tommy Armour, present national open champion, of Washington, D. C., was paired with Debby Cruikshank, of New York, the Scot who forced Bob Jones to a play-off when that amateur first won the open crown.

Facing this August pair of golfers were Gene Sarazen, who topped the field of amateurs and pros in the open as far back as 1922, now playing from a New York address, and Johnny Farrell, likewise of New York, who last year fairly burnt up the nation's courses and had been a steady contender so far this winter season.

TERRIBLY ILL
Kentucky Lady's Health Was Very Bad. Had Severe Pains and Could Not Sleep.

Lexington, Ky.—Mrs. J. H. Nichols, who lives at 513 Elm Tree Lane, this city, says that Cardui has been of valuable assistance to her on two occasions, which she tells about below:

"Some few years ago, my health was bad. I had severe pains in my sides. My nerves were in a terrible condition. I could not rest.

"The lower part of my body was very sore. I could hardly stoop over to lace my shoes. I would have to put my foot on a chair. I did not feel like eating, and did not sleep well at all at nights.

"A friend of mine recommended Cardui. I began taking it and saw quite an improvement in my condition. I kept it up until I felt strong and well."

About a year ago, Mrs. Nichols says, she found herself in a nervous, run-down condition. "I took Cardui again," she adds, "and it helped me wonderfully. It is a splendid tonic."

Thousands of women have written to tell how Cardui helped them to get rid of pain and suffering. Cardui is a mild, medicinal tonic, made from purely vegetable ingredients. At all drug stores. NC-199

RISKO WINS FROM SHARKEY

Johnny Risko, left, last night won the decision over Jack Sharkey right, in a 15-round bout staged by Tex Rickard in Madison Square Garden, New York.

RISKO BESTS JACK SHARKEY IN NEW YORK

(Edward J. Neil)

New York, March 13.—(AP)—Whatever "logic" there was in Tex Rickard's campaign to produce a logical contender for Gene Tunney's title was swept out of Madison Square Garden today by the cleaner, along with whatever hopes Jack Sharkey had of some time ruling the crowning heights of pugilism.

Theoretically, Johnny Risko, the pudgy Austrian baker, of Cleveland stands out today as the foremost challenger for the title the big marine won and defended in two battles with Jack Dempsey. Almost on a par with Risko stands "honest Tom" Heeney, the plugging blacksmith of New Zealand.

But there isn't an ounce of the color the promising imp-sardio has sought industriously in either Risko or Heeney. The baker boy whipped Jack Sharkey decisively in 15 rounds last night in mixing before the smallest crowd that ever saw an important heavyweight match here. Heeney did little better than a draw when he got a decision over Jack Delaney in the first of the climatic semi-finals on March 1. Just as Heeney's victory was a tame, colorless exhibition of what patient and painstaking endeavor coupled with an iron constitution can do, so was Risko's victory over Sharkey a most uninteresting brawl that merely dragged everybody concerned into uncertainty.

From the opening round the torund shock absorber, a veritable balloon-tire of a man, leaped and plunged into Sharkey, debauching him constantly with a left hook to the body that curled up from his heels. The Boston sailorman boxed his rival and still the left arm, nailed both elbows to the ribs and tried every defensive trick of the game but still the left hooking went on.

In the end, that left hook, the sore real offensive threat Risko carried won nine of the 15 rounds. The short right flush to the heart, Sharkey's best punch, coupled with a left hook, won six heats from the Cleveland man, who just a year ago was considered the greatest of the younger heavyweights.

Round after round, with no variation, the batters stuck to their favorite styles and the fans yawned. Risko made his best showing in the second, eighth, ninth, tenth and thirteenth rounds when he hurt his left with equal abandon on Sharkey's ribs and chin.

In the tenth Sharkey went down for a count of four but it was more of a slip than from the effects of punches and he assured the referee—although nobody appeared really interested—that he was "all right."

For the promoter there appeared but one ray of hope on the gloomy horizon, Jack Dempsey himself, saviour of the heavyweight situation last year and the only man who ever inspired a $2,500,000 gam, will return to New York to settle several court actions. He will discuss the situation with the promoter and the man who made Jack a millionaire admitted that his pleas for a second comeback on the part of the former champion "ought to move any one's heart."

For the time being Rickard plans to match Heeney and Risko. But he frankly admits that his fingers are crossed, there probably won't be any fight in June after all, and that if Tunney does defend his crown this year "Jack Dempsey must be in the other corner."

CINCINNATI REDS LEAD IN TALKING

By BRIAN BELL

(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Orlando, Fla., March 13.—(AP)—The Cincinnati Reds may talk themselves into a position somewhere near the front of the National League stage. If their lungs hold out the Red Legs training at Orlando will be the chatterboxes of the circuit when serious play begins.

Tall George Kelly, scampering about first base like a gay gazelle, is the midget of the infield with heavy vocal support from Dritz, Ford and Dressen, and Ray Kelp is not called "windy" because he is a pitcher with fair stuff and a lot of courage.

The Reds think they will be in the pennant hunt and do not mind saying so. No drastic changes have been made in the personnel since last season but there is every indication that the team will get a better start than was the case a year ago.

Hughie Critz was not among those present at the training camp last season and Kelly, of whom so much was expected, reported with an appendix acting up, which finally threw him down in Philadelphia and sent him to a hospital the day Lindbergh landed in Paris.

Adolfo Luque, the Cuban veteran, another late comer of the 1923 season, reported early in 1923 and soon rounded into shape.

The infield will start with Kelly at first, Critz playing second, Ford stationed at short and Dressen assigned to third. Wally Pipp will play first base on occasion and Jack White, the former Fordham infielder, will probably make up the reserve, although Emmett McCann, who had trials with the Athletics and Washington, has played well in the spring.

Manager Hendricks does not know what he will do about the outfield although two of the positions are almost sure to go to the tried Curtis Walker and sensational young Ethan Allen, who joined the Reds last season without minor league experience and showed that he did not need it.

"Kid" Purdy, who reported to the Reds from Seattle last year and made a deep impression before he was injured, is fighting for a place as is his former Seattle team mate, Marty Callaghan. Rube Bressler, the converted pitcher, who is a dangerous right handed batsman, has found himself at odds with the management and probably will see one of the youngsters take his place in left field, according to manager Hendricks who will do the assigning. Bill Zeitmann of last year's outfit, is another available.

The Reds over a number of first string pitchers from last season, including Eppa Rixey, Red Lucas, Jake May, Adolfo Luque, Pete Donohue, Carl Mays and Ray Kelp. Beckman, who joined the team last year and Joblonowski, recalled from Hartford, are bidding for places. Big Jim Edwards, with several years experience in the American League to help him along, was drafted from Seattle and seems to be in good position to stage a comeback. Ken Ash, from the Virginia League, and Allis Edward Sweeney lately of the Orlando club, would have a good chance to remain with a club less plentifully supplied with pitching skill and stamina. The catching will be done in the greatest bulk by Captain Bubbles

Hargrave, assisted by Val Pleinich and Clyde Sukeforth.

Manager Jack Hendricks is well pleased, he says, that "the experts" are dismissing his team with scant consideration while looking with more appreciative eyes at the prospects of the Pirates, Cards, Cubs and Giants. The white haired manager of the flaming Reds has convinced himself and player that Cincinnati will make a big flash in the National League puddle.

All he has to do is to convince the other clubs.

New York Giants Look For Better Work on Mound

Jacksonville, Fla., March 13.—(AP)—There seems to be some basis for the belief that the New York Giants are going to get better pitching this year than they did last.

Ben Cantwell and Tiny Chaplin former Florida University moundsman stood the Jacksonville, Southeastern league clubs batters on their heads yesterday and shut out the natives, 4 to 0, allowing only five hits between them. It marked the second of three exhibition games the Giants have played in which the opposition failed to score a run.

If the rest of the rookies can do as well it seems John McGraw is going to have a tough time deciding who of his regular hurlers are going into the sticks for further seasoning.

SIX EXHIBITION CONTESTS FOR TOBACCONISTS

The "Tobacconists," Greenville's baseball club of the recently organized Eastern Carolina League, have six exhibition games scheduled prior to the opening of the league April 25th, according to announcement made this morning by "Deacon" Joffe, manager of the local club. Five of the games will be played with three clubs of the Piedmont League and one with the University of Virginia.

The opening game is scheduled to be played on the local diamond April 24th, with the University of Virginia.

The "Tobacconists" will play Raleigh in Raleigh, April 11 and 12.

Durham will play here April 16, and Raleigh on the 17.

The concluding game of the series will be played here with Greensboro April 18.

Manager Joffe said training season for the local club would begin April 1. By that time he is expected to have twenty-five men on the bench, twenty-two of whom have already signed for berths with the Tobacconists.

Work in improving the diamond at the fair grounds is already under way, and it was stated that the additional grandstand and bleachers would be ready for accommodating the crowds expected to attend the exhibition games.

These games, manager Joffe said will give local people an idea of what the Tobacconists will be able to do when the eastern circuit actually gets under way a few days after the concluding exhibition game. The club will be put thru strenuous training during the nine days which they will have prior to the first game, and it is believed they will be able to make a splendid showing.

BIG TILT TODAY AT MIAMI, FLORIDA

Miami, Fla., March 13.—(AP)—A tilt of possibly epic proportions was on the cards today in the finals of the international four ball matches here.

On one team, Tommy Armour, present national open champion, of Washington, D. C., was paired with Bobby Cruikshank, of New York, the Scot who forced Bob Jones to a play-off when that amateur first won the open crown.

Facing this August pair of golfers were Gene Sarazen, who topped the field of amateurs and pros in the open as far back as 1922, now playing from a New York address, and Johnny Farrell, likewise of New York, who last year fairly burnt up the nation's courses and had been a steady contender so far this winter season.

TERRIBLY ILL

Kentucky Lady's Health Was Very Bad. Had Severe Pains and Could Not Sleep.

Lexington, Ky.—Mrs. J. H. Nichols, who lives at 513 Elm Tree Lane, this city, says that Cardui has been of valuable assistance to her on two occasions, which she tells about below:

"Some few years ago, my health was bad. I had severe pains in my sides. My nerves were in a terrible condition. I could not rest.

"The lower part of my body was very sore. I could hardly stoop over to lace my shoes. I would have to put my foot on a chair. I did not feel like eating, and did not sleep well at all at nights.

"A friend of mine recommended Cardui. I began taking it and saw quite an improvement in my condition. I kept it up until I felt strong and well.

About a year ago, Mrs. Nichols says, she found herself in a nervous, run-down condition. "I took Cardui again," she adds, "and it helped me wonderfully." It is a splendid tonic.

Thousands of women have written to tell how Cardui helped them to get rid of pain and suffering.

Cardui is a mild, medicinal tonic, made from purely vegetable ingredients. At all drug stores. NC-199

RISKO WINS FROM SHARKEY

Johnny Risko, left, last night won the decision over Jack Sharkey in a 15-round bout staged by Tex Rickard in Madison Square Garden, New York.

RISKO BESTS JACK SHARKEY IN NEW YORK

(Edward J. Neil)

New York, March 13.—(AP)—Whatever "logic" there was in Tex Rickard's campaign to produce a logical contender for Gene Tunney's title was swept out of Madison Square Garden today by the cleaners along with whatever hopes Jack Sharkey had of some time ruling the crowning heights of pugilism.

Theoretically, Johnny Risko, the pudgy Austrian baker, of Cleveland stands out today as the foremost challenger for the title the big swarthy won and defended in two battles with Jack Dempsey. Almost on a par with Risko stands "honest Tom" Heenev, the plugging blacksmith of New Zealand.

But there isn't an ounce of the color the promising impression has sought industriously in either Risko or Heenev. The baker boy whipped Jack Sharkey decisively in 15 rounds last night in missing before the smallest crowd that ever saw an important heavyweight match here. Heenev did little better than a draw when he got a decision over Jack Delaney in the first of the elimination semi-finals on March 1.

Just as Heenev's victory was a tame, colorless exhibition of what patient and painstaking endeavor coupled with an iron constitution can do, so was Risko's victory over Sharkey a most uninteresting brawl that merely disgusted everybody concerned like mediocrity.

From the opening round, the found shock absorber, a veritable balloon-tire of a man, leaped and plunged into Sharkey, belaboring him constantly with a left hook to the body that curled up from his heels. The Boston sailorman boxed his rival and still the left arm, nailed both elbows to the ribs and tried every defensive trick of the game but still the left hooking went on.

In the end, that left hook, the sole real offensive threat Risko carried won nine of the 15 rounds. The short right flush to the heart, Sharkey's best punch, coupled with a left hook, won six heats from the Cleveland man, who just a year ago was considered the greatest of the younger heavyweights.

Round after round, with no variation, the batters stuck to their favorite styles and the fans yawned. Risko made his best showing in the second, eighth, ninth, tenth and thirteenth rounds when he hurled his left with equal abandon on Sharkey's ribs and chin.

In the tenth Sharkey went down for a count of four but it was more of a slip than from the effects of punches and he assured the referee—although nobody appeared really interested—that he was "all right."

For the promoter there appeared but one ray of hope on the gloomy horizon. Jack Dempsey himself, ravager of the heavyweight situation last year and the only man who ever inspired a $2,500,000 bet, will return to New York to settle several court actions. He will discuss the situation with the promoter and the man who made Jack a millionaire admitted that his pleas for a second comeback on the part of the former champion "ought to move any one's heart."

For the time being Rickard's plans to match Heenev and Risko. But he frankly admits that his fingers are crossed, there probably won't be any fight in June after all, and that if Tunney does defend his crown this year "Jack Dempsey must be in the other corner."

CINCINNATI REDS LEAD IN TALKING

By BRIAN DELL

(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Orlando, Fla., March 13.—(AP)—The Cincinnati Reds may talk themselves into a position somewhere near the front of the National League stage. If their lungs hold out the Red Legs training at Orlando will be the chatterboxes of the circuit when serious play begins.

Tall George Kelly, scampering about first base like a gay gazelle, is the magic of the infield with heavy vocal support from Dritz, Ford and Dessen, and Ray Kelp is not called "windy" because he is a pitcher with fair stuff and a lot of courage.

The Reds think they will be in the pennant hunt and do not mind saying so. No drastic changes have been made in the personnel since last season but there is every indication that the team will get a better start than was the case a year ago.

Hughie Critz was not among those present at the training camp last season and Kelly, of whom so much was expected, reported with an appendix acting up, which finally threw him down in Philadelphia and sent him to a hospital the day Lindbergh landed in Paris.

Adolfo Luque, the Cuban veteran, another late comer of the 1927 season, reported early in 1928 and soon rounded into shape.

The infield will start with Kelly at first, Critz playing second, Ford stationed at short and Dessen assigned to third. Wally Pipp will play first base on occasion and Jack White, the former Fordham infielder, will probably make up the reserve, although Emmett McGann, who had trials with the Athletics and Washington, has played well in the spring.

Manager Hendricks does not know what he will do about the outfield although two of the positions are almost sure to go to the tried Curtis Walker and sensational young Ethan Allen, who joined the Reds last season without minor league experience and showed that he did not need it.

"Kid" Purdy, who reported to the Reds from Seattle last year and made a deep impression before he was injured, is fighting for a place as is his former Seattle team mate, Marty Callaghan. Ruben Bressler, the converted pitcher, who is a dangerous right handed batsman, has found himself at odds with the management and probably will see one of the youngsters take his place in left field, according to manager Hendricks who will go the other way. Bill Zeitzmann of last year's outfit, is another available.

The Reds over a number of first string pitchers from last season, including Eppa Rixey, Red Lugs, Jackie May, Adolfo Luque, Pete Donohue, Carl Mays and Ray Kelp. Beckman, who joined the team last year and Jobonowski, recalled from Hartford, are bidding for places. By Jim Edwards, with several years experience in the American League to help him along, was drafted from Seattle and seems to be in good position to stage a comeback. Ken Ash, from the Virginia League, and Albus Edward Sweeney lately of the Orlando club, would have a good chance to remain with a club less plentifully supplied with pitching skill and stamina. The catching will be done in the greatest bulk by Captain Bubbles

Hargrave, assisted by Val Picinich and Clyde Sukeforth.

Manager Jack Hendricks is well pleased, he says, that "the experts" are dismissing his team with scant consideration while looking with more appreciative eyes at the prospects of the Pirates, Cards, Cubs and Giants. The white haired manager of the flaming Reds has convinced himself and player that Cincinnati will make a big splash in the National League puddle.

All he has to do is to convince the other clubs.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

New York—Jonny Risko, Cleveland, defeated Jack Sharkey Boston (15). George Larocho, New York, won from Johnny Grosso Mount Vernon, New York.

New York Giants Look For Better Work on Mound

Jacksonville, Fla., March 13.—(AP)—There seems to be some basis for the belief that the New York Giants are going to get better pitching this year than they did last.

Ben Cantwell and Tiny Chaplin former Florida University moundsman stood the Jacksonville, Southeastern league clubs batters on their heads yesterday and shut out the natives, 4 to 0, allowing only five hits between them. It marked the second of three exhibition games the Giants have played in which the opposition failed to score a run.

If the rest of the rookies can do as well it seems John McGraw is going to have a tough time deciding who of his regular hurlers are going into the sticks for further seasoning.

BETTER THE GRADE, BETTER THE PRICE

The subject of planting improved cotton seed with a view of obtaining a better and longer staple crop with corresponding prices is receiving some consideration in this section, and on Thursday night, Dr. R. Y.
Winters will deliver an address in Fountain on the subject of the benefits to be derived from the "planting of improved seed." It is to be hoped that every grower in the Fountain section will avail himself of the opportunity to hear Dr. Winters speak on this timely subject. Similar meetings in various parts of the county,
we believe, would accomplish untold good; for the time has come when in order to make money out of his cotton, a farmer must get the largest possible yield per acre and a crop of such a type as will demand
the highest price.

WE NEED IT

The matter of an organized Boy Scout movement
for Greenville was discussed at a meeting of citizens last night and it is to be hoped that this and other meetings that are to follow will result in an organized council of scouts here. Greenville's recent experience with the scout movement was a miserable failure, but because mistakes were made once is no reason why we should

It is Wise to Check Up on the Kidneys.

WATCH your kidneys after colds and grip! When the kidneys slow up, impurities remain in the blood and are apt to make one tired and achy with headaches, dizziness and often nagging backache. A common warning is scanty or burning secretions.
Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, increase the secretion of the kidneys and aid in the elimination of waste impurities. Are endorsed by users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!

feel that no further effort in behalf of our boys should be made. All around us
there are successful Boy Scout Councils that are doing a great work for the boys and properly managed a council here should be just as successful. Realizing that there is a great need here for work among our boys, we sincerely hope that when the matter is presented to the citizens for their support they will forget our failure of the past and give their support to the movement and help make it a success.

STREET SKATING DANGEROUS

Despite the dangers that accompany street skating, apparently the sport is gaining in popularity here daily.
To watch children on skates, swinging onto automobiles and other vehicles on our traffic laden streets will make you catch your breath when you realize the chances these youngsters are taking. We do not mention this just because we want to cut out the kids' fun, for we want them to enjoy themselves as much as possible so long as they are not endangering their lives in so doing. Parents should warn their children, however, against the dangers that accompany street skating in congested districts and if then the practice continues our city authorities should take steps to break it up for it is better for the children to lose a little of their fun than for one of them to lose his or her life.
It is better to be safe than sorry.

ABOUT
TOWN

"Greenville continues to grow,"
asserted a member of the Tobacco Board of Trade this afternoon, commenting upon the erection of a new tobacco warehouse announced in the column of the Reflector yesterday.

"I confidently believe this market is destined to be the greatest bright leaf mart in the world. It has the location, the resources and possibilities, and what is more, the kind of men necessary to realize this great ambition.

"The erection of this new warehouse is the first step in connection with the program of development of the Greenville market for next season. It will give us eight of the largest and finest houses in the country, with facilities for caring for the seventy million pounds of bright leaf set for next season's record at the closing of the past season.

"That other improvements in handling of the leaf will be announced during the summer months, I have not the slightest doubt in the world. When Greenville tobacconists start out to accomplish anything they generally succeed. They set sixty million pounds for their goal last year. They not only realized their ambition, but surpassed
it in a most surprising way.

"The future holds forth glittering opportunities for continued development. We are standing on the threshold of a new era and the coming days will see us cross over into the field of a greater and mightier industry."

"Did you earn a thousand dollars
last year?" is the question propounded by the representative of the State Revenue department who is in this city today to assist local citizens in compiling their 1927 income tax.

"If you are unmarried and earned over that sum, then you should get busy and file your return before the 15th of the month or subject yourself to penalty of the law. Unmarried men with incomes of $2, 000 are also subject to taxation.
To both classes, my advice is to file your returns now and avoid confusion, delay and possibly unnecessary expense.

"The Revenue department is making an effort to co-operate with the public in an intelligent and constructive sort of way by sending representatives to various towns to assist taxpayers. Take advantage of this opportunity and assure yourself of eliminating all trouble and delay."

"Greenville and Pitt county people are overjoyed at the recent announcement that the government would continue its survey of Tar River with a view of opening the stream to navigation," a local business man declared this morning.

"This means we have greater chances than ever of realizing our ambition to see ships plying between this city, Norfolk and Baltimore.
This one stroke alone should result in the saving of thousands of dollars annually by merchants in this territory.

"It will also mean that this locality will prove far more attractive to investors and speculators in other parts of the country—men looking for places to locate giant industries. It should mean that this city alone will develop more in the five years after the improvement is completed than it did in the previous ten years. This sounds like a broad statement—and it is—but we have faith in the possibilities which will be opened up by water rates, and believe our statement will be borne out by time."

"With twenty-two players signed up, it begins to look like the Greenville baseball club of the recently formed Eastern Carolina league should be able to get away to an early spring practice," a close observer of developments in the local sporting realm remarked today.

"Manager Deacon Joliff is certainly going ahead with preparations for the opening games and the team should be in splendid trim by the time the last is played.
"This season promises to be the greatest in history of baseball in this part of the country. With five other cities making preparations equally as great as Greenville, it is apparent the season will get away to a splendid start.

"With support such as Greenville
is in the habit of giving her ball clubs, we should be able to take a perch at the top of the win column and remain there the most of the season."

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

NEW YORK COTTON
New York, March 13.—(AP)—Trading in the cotton market was quiet again today but buying orders were somewhat more in evidence on continued dry weather in West Texas and steady Liverpool cables. Trade interests were moderate buyers of May coupled with some local or Wall Street covering. The mid-afternoon market was steady at net advances of 5 to 12 points.

Futures closed steady 8 points higher to one lower; Spot quiet; middling 19.05.

STOCK MARKET.

New York, March 13.—(AP)—Wild speculation in pool specials was resumed in today's stock market as stock exchange authorities began an investigation into reports of an alleged "technical corner" in radio "Bear" traders, thrown into a panic by the recent sensational advances in General Motors and Radio, hastened to cover their positions in other stocks, a score of which advanced 3 to 16 points, in tumultuous trading. Total sales had crossed the 2,500,000 share mark at 1 p. m. with indications that the day's total would cross 4,000,000 shares for the first time in history.

Radio opened 21 1-2 pints higher at 160, with a block of 25,000 shares, quickly sold down to 140, rallied to 150, slipped back to 145 and then crossed 150 again in the early afternoon on a tremendous turn-over. Blocks of 1,000 to 10,000 shares appeared at frequent intervals.

General Motors, which had sold down more than 3 points in the morning, had made up its loss by early afternoon.

Railroad shares assumed increasing importance when a broad buying movement developed in some of the southwestern issues.

The closing was strong. Total sales were near the 4,000,000 mark.

Declares Rewards For Robbers Are Murder Machines

Austin, Tex., March 13.—(AP)—Posting of a reward of $5,000 for each dead bank robber in an effort by the State Bankers Association to curb holdups, has brought a charge from Captain Frank Hamer of the Texas Rangers that a "murder machine" has been created.

In a statement declaring he could prove that four men have been lured to death by a group which shared the rewards, Captain Hamer challenged Bankers Association officials to start an investigation. Captain Hamer offered to wager W. M. Masset, president of the association, that he (Hamer) could show these rewards should not have been paid.

Captain Hamer alleged that woman slain recently at Odessa and Rankin, Tex., "in bank jobs, were not bank robbers at all." He declared these men were shot down by officers who were "tipped" that the robberies were to take place and that the men acting as informants to the authorities had arranged the holdup.

HE COULDN'T AFFORD A VACATION

That's what a successful business man thought—but he found out after a conference with our trust officers that the way was easy.

Many of America's biggest financiers, with millions of dollars in various enterprises, live to a ripe, happy, contented old age.

How do they do it? How do they carry so much responsibility and retain their vigor and spirit?

They believe in and use the organized fiduciary. They create living trusts where stocks, bonds, income taxes, rentals and many other burdensome details are taken from their shoulders and handled by a trained institution like this, at a nominal charge.

If you would be interested in relaxing your strain or in setting aside a fund for any purpose, why not investigate the advantages of a "LIVING TRUST"?

We can show you the plan to fit your needs in a few moments.

HELLON TESTIFIES IN TEAPOT DOME OIL CASE

Will H. Hays, former chairman of the Republican national committee, and director of President Harding's campaign in 1920.

From Mellon, the committee wanted to know why he refused to use the $50,000 in Sinclair liberty bonds purchased with profits of the extinct Continental Trading company which Hays turned over to him in 1923 to help wipe out the party deficit hanging over from the Harding campaign.

Also they wanted to know why he had not volunteered information regarding this transaction at the time. Only two days ago the Secretary informed the committee by letter that the bonds had been turned him, but were returned to Hays and a contribution of $50,000 out of his own funds made to the party.

Butler, who has telegraphed the committee that he never received any political contributions from either Hays or Hary P. Sinclair, as the Teapot Dome and contributor of $260,000 in liberty bonds, to help secure the Republican deficit, was to be asked if any of these bonds ever had been offered to him as head of the national committee.

Making his third appearance before the committee, Hays faced the most detailed grilling of the three. Both Democratic and Republican members of the body had indicated they would show no mercy this time with the Czar of the motion picture industry since he had failed on his two previous appearances to allude to his offer of $50,000 of the Sinclair-Continental bonds to Mellon.

The Butler-Borah exchange over the Idaho Senator's demand, that all of the $100,000 in Sinclair bonds which Hays finally retained to use toward the party deficit be returned to its original source was out in the open today with a sharp reply from the former Massachusetts Senator, who also criticized Borah for not making public their entire correspondence in the first place.

Replying to the Senator's first appeal of March 5, Butler, in a letter dated March 7 and made public here last night declared that "the obligation, if any" for restitution of the bonds "is upon who conducted the transaction."

Replying under date of March 8 Borah said he had not written in the belief that Butler was in any way responsible for the Sinclair transaction but only on the theory "that you are now chairman of the Republican national committee and that the Republican party is a continuing institution."

In a statement issued at Boston before he left for Washington last night, Butler characterized Senator Borah's first statement as a "one sided affair", since he made public a "copy of certain portions of a letter which he wrote to me, but did not give my letter to the press, as he had a perfect right to do and as he should have done."

Should the Teapot Dome committee conclude with its three important witnesses today, it was regarded as likely that it would shift its attention tomorrow to Chicago where it will take testimony along the same lines as have been followed in the last few weeks.

A mass of water 75 feet high, poured down the canyon from the dam to Carey's ranch, five miles below the dam, literally gouging out everything before it.

Within this area lived 100 persons. Sheriff's deputies who first surveyed the scene ascertained that not one of these had a chance for his life.

The dam itself was 185 feet high and had backed up behind it a body of water five miles in length. Deputy sheriffs declared that the property damage between here and the sea at Ventura, a distance approximately 30 miles, will be tremendous.

Immediately below the dam was a camp of the southern California Edison Company, headquarters for 75 workmen, and fears were expressed that these had been engulfed.

Scattered along the upper canyon in the path of the waters were approximately 25 families. Sheriff's office at Newhall believed that some or all of these might have been caught in their sleep by the flood and carried away.

The first report of the disaster, which came from linemen of the southern California Telephone Company, working below San Francisco, attributed the dam break to an earthquake.

However, no tremors were reported from any other localities and the belief was expressed in several quarters that the dam had given away under the pressure of approximately 1,241,000,000 gallons of water behind it.

Aside from the loss of life, the collapse of the St. Francis dam crippled an important link in the city of Los Angeles water system and released a big unit of stored water accumulated through the winter for summer use.

One power house dependent on the dam went out of commission, travel along the scenic ridge route through southern California was menaced, bridges of the Southern Pacific railroad were washed out and heavy loss was expected in the citrus groves and small farms of the district.

New Hall, Calif., March 13.—(AP)—A preliminary survey today indicated according to Los Angeles city officials that water seeping through a hill supporting the west wing of the St. Francis dam had caused the structure to collapse. Previous reports were that the dam gave way as the result of an earthquake.

Washington, March 13.—(AP)—Exhaustive research today failed to disclose any trace of an earthquake in California on the seismograph at Georgetown University.

Director Tondorf declared there is not the slightest sign of a disturbance in the region of the St. Francis dam.

Los Angeles, March 13.—(AP)—

Chief of police James E. Davis left here today for the scene of the St. Francis dam disaster with one thousand Los Angeles policemen who will assist in relief work in the area.

The 17th regiment California national guard stationed here was ordered to stand ready to go into the area.

Mr. Sinclair visiting Mr. Fall, formerly in the cabinet, is gloomy about the oil outlook. He fears greater over-production this year than last.

Other oil people can find comfort in the fact that just now Mr. Sinclair may be slightly prejudiced on oil matters. In any case, there are oil fields belonging to the United States Navy that will not be dumped into the over-production.

Gasoline consumption increased 124 per cent last year. California led, using one billion seven hundred million gallons. If every state had, in proportion to population, as many automobiles as California, there would be 60,000,000 cars running in America, instead of 24,000,000.

The problem is not too much oil, but how to check waste that will menace the country later, unless a substitute for gasoline is found.

Mexico's Supreme Court approves the alien land law forbidding foreigners to own land within 100 miles of the border, or 50 miles of the sea coast. If that law stands, it means practical confiscation of practically all the best oil lands developed by American capital. Americans can keep their lands by becoming Mexican citizens, which they will not do. Failing that, their property will be sold at auction, only Mexicans allowed to bid. You can imagine what prices the property worth hundreds of millions would bring.

Mexico will probably discover that American capital is "sensitive," when it comes to confiscation.
