Anxious Eyes Are Turned Skyward For British Flyer

Captain Hinchcliffe And Mystery Passenger Expected Reach America Today.

New York, March 14.—(AP)—Captain Walter Hinchcliffe's plane Endeavour, in which he left Cranwell, England, yesterday morning presumably with Hon. Elsie Mackay as a passenger, for American, was unreported this forenoon, although if all had gone well, he should have been off the Nova Scotia coast.

Thirty hours after the British war ace had left English shores, no ships beyond European waters had reported sighting him and the big wireless stations along the coast were likewise silent. The last positive news of the plane reported it off the Irish coast yesterday, when a London Press report said a ship had sighted it about 170 miles from shore.

His minimum average speed, unless great storms were encountered was estimated at about 80 miles an hour. The Endeavour, provided it followed the great circle course, would have covered 2400 miles about 9.45 a. m. and should have been in the vicinity of Nova Scotia.

The plane, however, was capable of greater speed under favorable conditions.

The commander of the Hamburg American liner Deutschland reported in a wireless message to the Associated Press at 7 a. m. eastern time today, that he had seen no sign of the plane. The vessel is due in New York about Monday and today in mid-Atlantic ocean visibility good, with a light wind from the north, northwest.

A little earlier the White Star liner Cedric, 500 miles out of New York and somewhat south of the probably flight route, had not seen the plane and was running into a north gale.

New York, March 14.—(AP)—Anxious eyes scanned the skies today for the trans-Atlantic plane Endeavour in which Captain Walter Hinchcliffe and another person believed to be the Honorable Elsie Mackay, daughter of Lord Incheape, took off early yesterday from London.

Although the flight has been shrouded in mystery since its inception the flier's destination was thought to be either New York or Philadelphia where the Evening Bulletin has offered a $25,000 prize for the first westward flight across the Atlantic ending in that city.

If the aviators should maintain their estimated speed of 80 miles an hour, believed highly probably because of favorable conditions forecast for the major portion of their 3,500 mile flight, they should be able to land here late this afternoon.

Several ships were in Captain Hinchcliffe's route and the fishing fleet off the grand banks was asked to keep a sharp lookout for the plane, which may be easily distinguished in the air by its shining gold wings.

The plane was reported three times, in the early stages of the trip. A message was picked up by an amateur radio operator, George W. Dawson, of New York. It had been relayed by the French steamer Roussillon which said the unnamed ship reported "a large plane high overhead and flying west."

Captain Hinchcliffe's ship is a stock model Stinson Detroit, purchased on his mystery trip to this country last December, and is equipped with a Wright whirlwind motor. It has a cruising speed of 105 miles an hour, a service ceiling of 14,000 feet and a gas consumption of 11 1/2 gallons an hour.

DISCUSS TAR RIVER ISSUE AT TARBORO

Greenville Delegation Attends Meeting for Opening River to Navigation.

A large delegation of Greenville citizens left this afternoon for Tarboro where they will attend a public meeting in connection with the deepening of Tar River to that city. Major Snow, district government engineer, will preside over the session and listen to the proposition asking for a survey of the river to Tarboro.

The movement to deepen Tar river and open the stream to navigation had its inception in this city some time ago. Since that time Major Snow has appeared here on two public meetings to ascertain whether or not water transportation would prove profitable to the community. An investigation is now in progress in this city to ascertain the amount of tonnage available for water transportation, and it is upon these figures the government will make its decision in the matter.

Numbers of Tarboro citizens attended the last meeting conducted here by Major Snow and requested that he hold a similar meeting in Tarboro with view of extending the development to that city. A few days ago the War Department announced that such a meeting would be conducted. Since that time Tarboro people have been getting lined up to present as many facts as possible in favor of the project.

It is generally agreed among local business men that water rates would result in the saving of thousands of dollars annually. But it was first necessary for them to conduct an investigation of each industry and determine the approximate saving which would be derived from the improvement. The investigation now in progress, it is believed, will result in the compiling of sufficient information to justify the government in authorizing the development.

Steamship companies have already stated they would place a regular line of boats in operation the minute the channel is opened to navigation. And industries in other parts of the country have indicated they would make Greenville a central point for the distribution of their products when water rates are available.

With Tarboro using its influence it is believed the movement has gained sufficient momentum at this time to justify the government in taking over the stream and assisting in developing this great agricultural section.

"Once I loved thee Athens, long ago." That is one of the most perfect lines left by Sappho to posterity.

"Once I scared three, Uncle Sam long ago." That is one of the amusing lines in Standard Oil's private diary.

Standard Oil was supposed to be worth a billion dollars. That was terrible. So the mamma octopus was chopped up into tiny little pieces. The president of one piece, Mr. Kingbury of S. O. of California, says his company made last year only a little more than forty million dollars net profit. Times were bad, over-production, etc. But that "small" profit is four per cent on a billion dollars. How will it be, when all times get better?

Carl Laemmle saw a little Vienna girl, on the Lido, gave her "Dimples" for a stage name, brought her to Hollywood, and thought she would be a star. First she was sent to the hot springs, to get a little thinner. Instead, she got a little fatter, and returns to Vienna sadder and fatter.

If you can't get close to skin and bones, Hollywood does not want you. That is foolish and harmful. Movie stars are too thin.

Follow Bond Trail To City of Chicago

Forty-One Witnesses Summoned to Appear Before Senate Oil Committee.

Washington, March 14.—(AP)—Having closed another important chapter in its elaborate history of the Sinclair's Continental Liberty bond donations in 1923 to the Republican party, the Senate Teapot Dome committee attempted today to trace the recipients of a block of these securities handled by the late Fred W. Upham, treasurer of the Republican National Committee at that time.

After hearing A. V. Leonard of Chicago, who was Upham's assistant secretary along this line, and Montgomery Clouder of Philadelphia, a mystery witness, the trail of this parcel of the $260,000 Sinclair bonds handled by Will H. Hays, former chairman of the Republican National Committee, will lead to Chicago, where chairman Nye and Senator Bratton, Democrat, New Mexico, will take testimony as a sub-committee tomorrow, Friday and Saturday.

Subpoenas have been issued for 41 persons to appear there. On this list appears such prominent personages as J. Ogden Armour, now dead; Samuel Insull, utilities magnate; Edward Bines, wealthy lumber merchant; Albert D. Lasker, former chairman of the Shipping Board, and Silas Strawn, lawyer, who recently visited China on a special mission for President Coolidge.

The trip to Chicago will be made in an effort to learn just how extensive was the ultimate distribution of the Sinclair bonds which Hays received from the lessee of Teapot Dome and turned over to several leaders of the Republican party in 1923 for us, as he put it, in amounts equal to the bond of $25,000, a fund to help extinguish the party deficit resulting from the Harding campaign of 1920.

Hays, appearing on the stand yesterday for the third time in the five-year-old investigation, underwent a severe two-hour examination, principally as to why he had not in his previous testimony told about offering blocks of $50,000 and $25,000 of the Sinclair bonds, respectively to Secretary Mellon and William M. Butler, present chairman of the Republican National Committee.

The treasury secretary and former Massachusetts Senator had preceded Hays on the stand. Both declared they had rejected the now four-year-old Hays' bond tenders and for that reason had not volunteered the information concerning them to the committee at that time.

Hays corroborated the Mellon and Butler testimony as to his offers to them, but maintained he had done nothing improper, that the fact that they were turned down made the matter irrelevant to the Senate committee's investigation, and that therefore he did not consider he had wilfully omitted any information in his two previous appearances.

The former Postmaster General explained the parceling out of the $260,000 Sinclair bonds as an effort to get the recipient of each lot to contribute a like amount to the national committee. In that way, he said, it would appear that the money came from various individuals, instead of in a lump sum from a single subscriber. The bond receivers would lose nothing.

Mr. Mellon testified that he declined to accept the bonds on such terms from Hays and later returned them, making a contribution of a similar sum to the party out of his personal funds. He conceded that he knew the bonds came from Sinclair, but he had not suspicion that they had any connection between the donation and Sinclair's lease of Teapot Dome.

Even though he did not know that Sinclair was the original owner of the bonds, Butler said he declined to accept the $25,000 in the securities on the same grounds as given by Mellon. Both Butler and Mellon were approached by Hays late in 1923, after the Teapot Dome inquiry began but before it had assumed startling proportions.

MEEHAN MAKES MANY MILLIONS IN STOCK DEAL

Sensational Rise in Radio Stock Nets Former Ticket Seller Staggering Sum.

New York, March 14.—(AP)—A man who twenty years ago was selling tickets at a Broadway theatrical ticket agency, today was credited with putting over one of the most sensational coups in Wall Street history.

He is Michael J. Meehan, who almost single-handedly engineered the sensational rise in radio common which carried the stock up 50 points in four trading days, brought him a fortune of millions of dollars and a severe case of nerves.

Just how much he has made in the past four days, which have seen the exchange record for sales volume (price broken, he probably does not know himself and estimates in the street run from $5,000,000 to $15,000,000.

He has pushed Durant, Livermore, Cullen and the Fisher brothers into the background and today is the "biggest man" in speculative Wall Street. There is evidence however, that he is on friendly terms with all of them and has probably had some help from those sources during the past four hectic days.

He literally and actually "made the move" in radio, gave most of the orders, filled most of the bids and churned the stock around at a million dollar clip which left Wall Street gasping and trying to guess what "Mike" Meehan would do next.

Even the bears, who have taken one of the worst whippings in years, pay tribute to the dashing drive that for daring and success is outstanding.

Twenty years ago when passing out tickets Meehan met Charles Morgan, one time newspaper man and later a big scale stock broker.

Morgan at the time was in the market and Meehan went to work for him handling a few wires on the curb market. After several years he started out for himself with little success. He had one severe setback but with the aid of a few friends staged a comeback and eight years ago bought a seat on the exchange when they were selling between $85,000 and $115,000.

He made progress slowly but finally became a specialist in radio common and immediately became bullish.

He started his accumulation of the stock at around 85 or 90 radio started out quietly when General Motors began to move two weeks ago. Then quickening its pace it went on a rampage of its own which brought it from $98.25 last Thursday to a close of $146 a share yesterday. At one time it reached $160.

Meehan's firm now holds four other exchange seats in addition to his own.

North Carolina Gains Population

Raleigh, March 14.—(AP)—North Carolina, referred to as the "fifth state," and the state with the highest birth rate in the country, gained more in population during the past eight years than both South Carolina and Tennessee combined.

This was learned here today from the bureau of census, department of commerce, Washington, D. C., which gave out estimates of population for 1928.

The estimated population of North Carolina on July 1, 1928, will be 2,338,000, as compared with the official 1920 census of 2,559,123, the bureau announced.

Rescue Workers count 248 Victims of Disaster at St. Francis Reservoir.

Newhall, Cal., March 14.—(AP)—The horror of the St. Francis dam disaster reached new depths today as rescue workers counted 248 bodies lying in a half dozen improvised morgues and resumed their search through miles of saffron quinniro for from 300 to 600 of the residents of the little valley who were believed to have perished in the flood.

Because the swath of mud and slime stretched for 65 miles through the peaceful mountain valleys and in some places stood thirty feet deep, there was no means of determining how many victims remained in the muddy graveyard which the escaping waters formed for the victims as they were picked up from their homes and dashed to death.

Sheriff Traylor of Los Angeles county, who announced the number of known and recovered dead early this morning after a checkup, refused to estimate the number of missing. The estimates which ranged from 500 to 600, made during a night of almost futile attempts to ascertain the extent of death and havoc, were allowed to stand as the second day of rescue work began.

Attempts to determine from rural and telephone lists the number of possible victims still unaccounted for, were shown to be useless when many bodies of victims were brought in whose names did not appear on these lists. The revised list of recovered dead posted by the sheriff gave the number of bodies brought in morgues in the various communities as follows:

Oxford 4; Ventura 3; Fillmore 35; Newhall 46; Piro 61; Santa Paula 50; Satcoy 61; Moorpark 21. Total 231

Left behind by the gouging wall of water, from half a mile to a mile wide, sweeping 65 miles to the sea, were losses estimated at from $10,000,000 to $30,000,000. The city of Los Angeles, the heaviest individual sufferer, put its gross in the totally destroyed dam and the power house below it at $3,000,000.

The waters flattened scores of homes, ranches, railroad lines and bridges, tore out wire systems, light and power wires, gas mains, highways and bridges, and wrecked inestimable loss in flattened and silt buried orchard and walnut orchards and other farm lands.

Speculation on the cause of the breaking of the great dam covered a wide variety of theories. The post-mistress at Saugus, Mrs. A. K. Runney, declared that for ten days ranchers living in the shadow of the dam had talked of nothing else but leaks under and through the structure. She said they fearfully discussed the possibility of a very disaster which swept down in the blackness of night to wipe out their homes and families.

"A major earth movement" that loosed the base of the western butte, was given as the preliminary opinion of William Mulholland, chief engineer of the great aqueduct system of which the dam was a part, as appearing from a brief survey, to have been the cause. After he and his assistant, H. A. Van Norman, had returned from an all-day tour of the scene, the board of water and power engineers said that the immediate cause was the giving way of the mountain on the western end of the dam.

This was reported to have been weakened, possibly by a fault in the mountain structure, or due to rains and seepage which softened the foundations.

Governor Young rushed to the stricken area from San Diego, and at Santa Paula where 300 homes were swept away with an undetermined loss of life, announced the launching today of an official investigation. Governor Young said that the state engineer, Hyatt, could conduct the inquiry.

The search for bodies of the victims was halted temporarily last night when county officers directing the work of several hundred deputy sheriffs and police declared the effort was useless until daylight arrived.

Approximately 400 houses in the 16-mile gorge of San Francisco canyon were torn to bits, thrown and tossed along the 65-mile turmoil to the sea. Not a standing timber was left as a marker to indicate the site of prosperous little farms that dotted the valley among their green fields. Three hundred more homes at Santa Paula went the same way. Thirty to forty houses were smashed at Fillmore, and fifteen at Pir, nine miles south of there on the Santa Clara river.

New Hampshire For Smith And Herbert Hoover

Concord, N. H. March 14.—(AP)—This state will send Hoover and Smith delegations at large to the republican and democratic national conventions.

That was certain today on the basis of returns from yesterday's presidential primaries. Complete returns from 250 of the state's 293 cities, towns and wards showed seven republican delegates at large elected all of whom had announced they favored the secretary of commerce as the republican presidential nominee.

Ticket solidly in favor of Gov. Alfred E. Smith, the democratic primaries saw the defeat of Robert Jackson, of Concord, state chairman of the party, and the elimination of all candidates who had been in favor of the anti-saloon league. The league had opposed Smith sentiment.

CHICAGO CUBS OUT FOR RAG THIS SEASON

By VICTOR G. SIDLEY, Associated Press Sports Writer, Avon, Santa Catalina, Island, Calif., March 14.—(AP)—Into the national league pennant race the Chicago Cubs expect to thrust a threat even more menacing than their challenge of last year.

All of the attributes of a pennant winning team are centered in the aggregation Manager Joe McCarthy has gathered about him to play in the uniforms of the north sides of Chicago's baseball. If confidence, youth, speed and dash will carry a baseball team to victory the Cubs says McCarthy, are "in."

The National league pilot believes the squad has improved both defensively and offensively over last season. He has added the veteran and colorful "Kiki" Cuyler, whose record every ardent baseball fan knows and a number of minor leaguers who bring much to the various departments.

Cuyler stepped from the Pittsburgh pirate bench to a regular berth as right fielder in for the Chicago club. McCarthy says without question that the injection of the 1925 world's series hero into the lineup will improve the Cubs' power to a great degree.

The former buccaner has been using his big-gon with much vigor and success in spring training here.

It is in the pitching department that McCarthy thinks the greatest improvement will be in evidence, two hurlers who met with misfortune to their throwing arms during the latter part of the season have returned to form while the veteran Guy Bush is back from the hospital, and Harold Carlson has returned from a jaunt into other territory.

Southpaw Percy Lee Jones and Bob Osborne, handicapped last year by sore arms, are showing a world of stuff. McCarthy considers Charley Root, winner of more games last season than any other national league pitcher, as good or better than he was in the 1927 pennant campaign.

A lack of relief hurlers brought forward as one reason for the Cubs failure to take the Goffalon last season, has been remedied by the addition of Perce Malone, obtained from the Minneapolis Club together with a record of 20 victories and the title of the strike out king of the American Association. Malone pitched in some 53 games in the double A league last year and will see considerable relief work on the mound for the Cubs.

The sharpshooting John "Sheriff" Blake again will be a mainstay of the twirling staff, while the former Giant, Art Nehf, who was a free agent in 1927, may contribute to the Cubs' win column.

The infield staff is one McCarthy has not definitely decided upon but the way things look it lines up much in this shape:

First base: Charles Grimm, with Joe Kelly, outfielder, as an understudy.

Second base: Fred Maguire, or Norman McMillan.

Shortstop: Woody English, with Clyde Beck, to relieve him.

Third base: Elmer Yeter, or John Butler.

The 20-year-old English seems to have first call at short with Beck a player yet to be reckoned with.

As in the case of the infield, the outer garden looks strong both defensively and offensively. McCarthy has three right handed pitchers and two who swing from the port side of the plate. Jackson "Biggs" Stephenson, who ranked as the fourth best batsman in the league last season with a mark of 344, seems secure in left field. The rotund Hack Wilson, whose stick work averaged 317 has the call in center and Cuyler is certain in right.

Here is the first photo of "Ty" Cobb getting in trim for another season. How does the old boy look to you? He is training with the New York "Giants" in Georgia to be near his "home cooking."

SPORTS SLANTS

By ALAN J. GOULD, Associated Press Sports Editor, New York, March 14.—(AP)—America will launch her 1928 Davis cup campaign next week with big Bill Tilden in command and harmony in the ranks, at least so far as present prospects go.

The debates of the past may be revived a little later on when it comes to deciding just what is to be done about sending a team to Europe but that, all hands agree, can be put aside while energies are concentrated on the play in the American zone.

For the present the decision is made, there will be only one American team and its full strength, which means the presence of big Bill, will be tossed into the zone competition against Mexico, China and probably Japan.

In the combination role of captain and coach Tilden will call the roll next Monday at Augusta, Ga., where the first tennis training camp in American history will be established.

Tilden will have sole authority in selection of the American Davis cup team. Big Bill has taken orders for eight years of international competition but this year he will be the chief strategist as well as the chief performer.

At the same time he will impart the full benefit of his experience and racket skill to the up and coming youngsters, especially those of the type of Frank Shields and Junior Coen, who will see little or no actual cup competition this year but upon whose shoulders much of the future's hopes rest.

If Tilden cannot himself occupy a major playing role in the attempt to bring the cup back to America he will at least spare no effort to develop youngsters who may upset the French regime in the future.

Little Bill Johnston, Louie Tilden's partner in international triumph, seems definitely out of the Davis cup picture.

This was taken somewhat for granted last September after the Californian's downfall in the challenge round with France but talk of another comeback by little Bill was revived over the winter. Now, however, with Johnston missing from the spring training squad and the American zone play it does not appear likely he will be called on later.

District Nurses Association No. Eight met in regular monthly session at the Presbyterian church in this city yesterday afternoon, discussed several matters of business and adjourned to meet at Tarboro April 10th. The session was presided over by Miss Marie Farley, of Goldsboro. About thirty nurses representing the principal cities of this district were present.

Nicaraguans Fail To Approve U. S. Election Measure

Managua, Nicaragua, March 14.—(AP)—Uncertainty regarding the next step prevailed in Nicaragua today because of the defeat by the House of the McCoy bill to authorize American supervision of the presidential election next October.

After the defeat, Brig. General Frank C. McCoy, who was named to supervise the election, said he would consult with President Diaz as to the next step in carrying out the Stimson agreement. The Stimson agreement provided that the Liberals in the recent revolt against the Conservative government should lay down their arms and that the United States would insure a fair election.

Whether President Diaz will call a special session of Congress to consider another bill, slightly modified, to meet demands expressed by the opposition, was not known.

An Old Recipe to Darken Hair

By JANICE RANDALL

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, for only 75 cents. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

There is no Performance like Chrysler "72" Performance

Demonstration Will Prove it to You

There is a new performance sweeping the land—Chrysler "72" performance—obsoleting everything in its field today as completely as did the first Chrysler four years ago.

75 horsepower from an engine of surprisingly small size for such capabilities, through Chrysler's special genius in design and precision manufacturing.

72 miles and more an hour—now made still more smoothly, more easily because of the counterweighted 7-bearing crankshaft.

In traffic, it whisks to the fore in a way that out-Chryslers even Chrysler. Mountain grades literally melt before it.

You owe it to yourself to know this superb Chrysler performance. A demonstration entails no other obligation.

New Chrysler "Red-Head" Engine—designed to take full advantage of high-compression gas, giving 12% greater torque with greater speed, power and hill-climbing ability; standard equipment on all body models of the 112 h. p. Imperial "80," also standard on the roadsters, and available at slight extra cost for other body types, of the "62" and "72."

Illustrious New Chrysler "72"—Two-passenger Coupe (with rumble seat), $1345; Royal Sedan, $1595; Sport Roadster (with rumble seat), $1595; Four-passenger Coupe, $1595; Town Sedan, $1695; Convertible Coupe (with rumble seat), $1745; Crown Sedan, $1795.

Pitt Physicians Render Aid For C. M. T. Camps

Dr. W. I. Wooten, Dr. K. B. Pace, Dr. G. G. Dixon, all of Pitt county, are performing constructive and patriotic service to the nation in freeing physical examination of local boys seeking admission to the C. M. T. camps, announced Mr. A. E. Corey, county chairman of the M. T. C. Association's enrollment committee.

Their voluntary action is gratefully acknowledged by all interested in the C. M. T. campaign, and is especially appreciated by their parents and friends.

Pointing out facts derived from the last complete survey of the physical fitness of American youth, made during the World War, which showed nearly half of the nation's manhood suffering from bodily defects, Mr. Corey, says:

"I must urge the advantages of enrolling for C. M. T. camps, if for no other reason than to discover actual conditions of health.

"The majority of physical defects discovered by war-time examinations could have been corrected by timely treatment," he declared. "It would seem, from this experience, that the best gift a father can give his son is an annual visit to the doctor. If this were done, much suffering in later life might be avoided.

"Parents can obtain this free service and advice for the correction of defects for four years. If their sons attend the C. M. T. camps. In addition, the boys get, without charge, thirty days' training under expert

Income Tax Returns Ahead of Last Year

Raleigh, March 14.—(AP)—As both revenue departments opened for business today, with the final time for filing income tax returns set for tomorrow night, the state had a big lead over its 1926 collections while federal government receipts were running behind previous showings.

The state revenue department collected the first 13 days of March $900,777.88 on incomes. Last year commissioner Doughton's department received two million dollars on March 15 and one million on March 16th.

Internal Revenue Collector Griswold reported that his temporary figures revealed his department was several million dollars behind last year's collections at this time. He estimated he received about $200,000 yesterday.

Water transportation will be a great benefit to our section and every individual therein, but we will not get it unless we go after it in a business-like way. Our opportunity is at hand. Let's grasp it before it has passed into history.

ABOUT TOWN

"Six exhibition ball games with members of the Piedmont league and the Medical College of Virginia should give local people a pretty good idea of what the local baseball club is capable of doing before the opening of the league," Tom Hollingsworth, local ball enthusiast said today.
 "With practice season opening April 1st, the locals should be in good trim for the exhibition games, the majority of which will be played in this city.
 "And the exhibition contests will have a tendency of greatly increasing the skill of the Tobacconists for the opening of the league season on April 25th.
 "This promises to be one of the greatest baseball seasons in the history of this section of the state, and it is hoped Greenville people will rally to the support of their club as they never rallied before. Remember your moral support means in every great issue. It means the same to baseball, therefore, give it freely and unreservedly and watch the Tobacconists prove themselves the cream of the new circuit."
 "The selection of Miss Anna Long as senior queen and little Mary Dorcas Harding as junior queen to represent Greenville at the Eastern Carolina Exposition at Goldsboro, beginning the week of April 9th, will be received with much interest throughout the city," numbers of people were heard to remark today.

 "Miss Long is a life long resident of Greenville. She is popular and attractive, and should be able to stand out prominently in the contest to name the prettiest young woman in the territory served by the Eastern Chamber of Commerce.
 "The same may be said of little Miss Harding. She is a general favorite with all who know her, and there is little doubt but she will be able to take her place among the queens from all sections.
 "There is always more or less interest manifested in the queen's contest of the Exposition and this year promises to be no exception. Effort is being made to make the coronation ceremonies more extensive than ever, and it is up to Greenville people to get behind their queens and see that they get the support of which they are so deserving."
 "Much has been said from time to time about the Greenville public library, but one might talk all of the time without saying anything too much in behalf of this great cause," a prominent citizen was heard to remark on the streets this morning.
 "The public library is one of the greatest assets of any city, and it is the duty of broad-minded men and women to give it their support in every way possible.
 "Right at this time the Greenville library is under discussion as a result of a request of the Woman's club that the Board of Aldermen take over the direction of the institution. Whatever may be done in the matter, it is to be hoped our people will consider the matter in a sober way and rally to the support of the library in what ever action may be taken.
 "Give men and women good wholesome books to read, an extensive collection of the cream of literature to choose from, and it is a ten to one bet these same men, and women will become more useful citizens.
 "They will not look upon the duties of life with a perception narrowed by dwarfed intellects and should wield an influence for the good of the community in which they live.
 "This library is a serious proposition, and it is the duty of every person to use their influence in seeing that it continues to be the great service to the community in the future that it has in the past under the skillful direction of the Woman's club."
 "Regular California weather."

commented a local citizen today as he stopped in front of this scribe's office, pulled off his hat and mopped the perspiration from his brow.
 "It's this kind of weather that causes a fellow to become infected with the wanderlust—the spirit of the Nomad—just a desire to get out under God's great canopy and prowl and roam to our heart's content.
 "It is the same feeling that has gripped men and women since time immemorial and which will continue to grip them as long as old terra firma remains under our feet.
 Some call it an inferiority complex. I don't exactly know what the expression means, but one thing is certain—if this spring-like weather will just stay with us I'll put up with the complex part even if it does make me appear inferior."

MORE POULTRY SHIPMENTS
 Announcement was made today by County Farm Agent Arnold, that arrangements were being made for the shipment of several more car loads of poultry from this county to other markets. More interest along this line has been shown this season than ever before and indicates that the movement will continue to gain the interest of the farmers as the months pass. As we have said many times before, poultry raising by the farmer can be made a very profitable sideline and we urge that more farmers in our county avail themselves of this opportunity to make more money. The money received by farmers for their poultry deliveries surely comes in mighty handy to meet expenses during the seasons between crops.

WE ONCE HAD IT, LET'S GET IT AGAIN
 A reference to our Looking Backward column today will reveal the fact that just thirty years ago freight traffic on Tar River was so heavy that the steamers were forced to make Sunday trips in order to catch up. This was just thirty years ago, and while our own and section have progressed rapidly along other lines during this little more than a quarter of a century, we are worse off, from the standpoint of water transportation than we were then. It was just twenty years ago that a second railroad was built into Greenville and this road purchased the river boat lines and ceased the operation of the same. Since that time we have been faced with the continual raising of freight rates until the stage has been reached when we cannot compete with the places that enjoy the favorable rates made possible by water transportation.
 Realizing that water transportation is again necessary to the progress and development of our city and section, an effort is being put forth to regain the same through the co-operation and help of the government, and a series of meetings have been and are being held with this end in view. Just a short time ago government representatives visited Greenville to study the situation and today a similar meeting is being held in Tarboro. The government has ordered the survey to be made, and it is upon the showing that the action makes as to possible available tonnage for water transportation, that the out-

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

NEW YORK COTTON
New York, March 14.—(AP)—After selling about 12 to 15 points higher on a bullish view of the domestic consumption figures for February, the cotton market today edged back to about yesterday's closing figures under realization promoted by prospects of showers in West Texas. The undercurrent was steady, however, and prices worked up a few points later. The mid-afternoon market showed net advances of about 5 to 10 points.

Futures closed steady, four points higher to two lower; spot steady; middling 19.10.

GRAIN MARKET.
Chicago, March 14.—(AP)—Better weather southwest and west with numerous points in Kansas and Nebraska receiving rain tended to make wheat values today average lower. Besides, Liverpool reports fold of prospective liberal wheat shipments from Argentine this week.

Wheat closed unsettled at the same as yesterday's finish to 1-2c lower, corn 1-2 to 7-8c up, oats varying from 1-8 decline to 1-2 advance and provisions at 5 setback to a rise of 10c.

STOCK MARKET.
New York, March 14.—(AP)—Speculators for the advance regained control of the price movement in today's stock market after an early flurry of selling which followed the opening break of $3 a share in radio. Radio made up its loss before the close of the first hour and was selling 3 points above yesterday's final quotation by early afternoon, although the turnover in that and other stocks showed a marked reduction in volume.

While the market has been paying little attention of late to outside news developments, the resumption of dividends on Atlantic, Gulf & West Indies preferred, and the declaration of an extra dividend of 40 cents on Devoe & Reynolds were regarded as bullish, although the former stock broke 6 points on the traditional "selling on the good news." Call money renewed at 4 1/2 per cent despite the heavy demands for currency in connection with the two billion turnover of funds tomorrow.

Although the reports of an agreement on eastern trunk line consolidation was characterized by bankers as premature, railroad stocks assumed increasing importance in the market. Delaware & Hudson jumped 6 points, Lehigh Valley 3 3/4, Wabash 4 3/4 and Chesapeake & Ohio, Lackawanna, Reading, Missouri Pacific and a few others advanced 3 points or more. Mobile and Ohio certificates broke 10 1/4 points to 119 3/4.

American Insected, in which a large short interest is reported to have been locked in extended its gain to nearly 12 points by touching a new high record at 106. Hudson ran up 7 points to a new peak at 97 1/2, and Vanadium Steel recorded a similar gain. General Cable rallied 6 1/2 points and American Machine & Foundry and Union Carbide 4 each. General Motors, after three days of sluggish price movements, suddenly spurted 3 points to 159, or only two points below what Saturday's record-breaking high.

The closing was firm. Total sales approximated 3,200,000 shares.

PREPARATIONS FOR WAR SURE WAY TO PEACE

National Commander of American Legion Gives Views at Asheville Meeting.

Asheville, March 14.—(AP)—Open and thorough preparation for war is the nation's surest guarantee of peace, believes Edward E. Spafford, national commander of the American Legion, a speaker on the program of a joint meeting of the local post of the Legion and Asheville civic clubs here today.

Commander Spafford is visiting North Carolina on a southern tour. He addressed the post officers of the North Carolina department of the Legion at Lumberton yesterday and later in the day going to Charlotte where he spent the night.

A visit to the government hospital at Orem to cheer up the wounded heroes of the great war was the first thing of the program of Commander Spafford today. Several hundred of the disabled veterans waited to catch a glimpse of the national commander.

Traveling with Mr. Spafford were General Albert L. Cox, North Carolina departmental commander, mentioned in this state as the next National Commander, and Paul R. Youngs, of Charlotte, national vice-commander. General Cox is credited with having nominated Mr.

Spafford for national commander at the Paris convention.

On the list of those to greet the national commander and his party here were Reid Wain, of Greenville, S. C., departmental commander, and Mrs. Harry Vass, of Winston-Salem, president of the North Carolina Legion Auxiliary.

"We are building for peace, not building for war," declared Commander Spafford, "ours is a preparedness to prevent war. If we are prepared, we won't get into war."

Asserting that under President Wilson and Secretary of the Navy

Daniels, this country built up the greatest navy in the world. Mr. Spafford said that we now have dropped to third place.

"Our people don't want such a condition," he exclaimed, "a powerful navy is the surest guarantee of peace."

POPULATION OF UNITED STATES SHOWS GROWTH

Increase of Fourteen Percent Registered Since Census of Year 1920.

Washington, March 14.—(AP)—A provision estimate by the census bureau today placed the population of the United States as of July 1, 1928, at 120,013,000, an increase of 14 per cent over the 105,710,520 actual count on January 1, 1920. The next federal census will not be taken before 1930.

The new total was arrived at by estimating the increase since 1920 on the basis of the best available returns on births, deaths, immigration and emigration.

The bureau also apportioned the increase on this basis for the 48 states and the District of Columbia. Florida, where the population was estimated to have increased about 48 per cent between 1920 and 1928, showed the greatest gain, although a 35 per cent increase was indicated for California, and nearly 30 per cent gain for Michigan.

The following table shows the actual census of 1920 for southern states and their estimates population for July 1, next, the estimates being made by distributing the total increase of the United States upon the basis of the increase by states from 1910 to 1920, or where there has been a state census, from 1920 to 1925, except that where there was a decrease between 1910 and 1920 or between 1920 and 1925, the 1920 or 1925 census figure is retained and no estimate is made.

ANXIOUS EYES ARE TURNED SKYWARD FOR BRITISH FLYERS

(Continued from page one) the latest trans-Atlantic air adventure was the Honorable Elsie MacKay, daughter of Lord Incheape, ship owner possibility that relatives might thwart her in the daring attempt to be the first woman to span the Atlantic by plane was believed to have led Miss MacKay to conceal her identity by masquerading as a male pilot.

The Daily Express printed a photograph showing Captain Hinchliffe and Miss MacKay standing beside the plane, which the paper claimed was taken prior to the hop of yesterday morning at 8:40 a. m. (3:40 eastern standard time).

Miss MacKay dressed as a mechanic entered the plane Endeavour before the hop-off, it was said, and was at first thought to be Gordon Sinclair, a skilled pilot and friend of Hinchliffe, with whom he had been associated recently.

It was suggested that the secrecy which cloaked the start of the flight was due mainly to Miss MacKay's fear that relatives might prevent it. One objecting relative, her father, was in Egypt.

The Daily Mail said a close relative of the family said that after he was told by Lord Incheape's servants that Miss MacKay left early yesterday and had not since returned, he inquired further and found she had actually left on Monday night.

The paper said that Miss MacKay stayed at a hotel at Grassham Monday night with two women. Hinchliffe and Sinclair were also there. All left together yesterday morning at 5:30.

The express quoted the hotel clerk as saying Miss MacKay was wearing a flying costume when she left. They took coffee, in vacuum flasks, and compressed rations and some fruit with them, he asserted.

Hinchliffe in hopping off left even his wife in doubt as to the plane's destination. Last week he announced that he would make a long distance flight to India before trying the dangerous trans-Atlantic venture.

After the Endeavour hopped off with a load of gasoline sufficient to carry it 3,000 miles or more, watchers at several points in southern Ireland caught sight of an airplane speeding towards the Atlantic through a spowstorm. Although the markings were not detected, this was confidently presumed to be the America bound flier.

The British Press Association later said that the Hinchliffe plane was sighted about 170 miles off the west coast of Ireland yesterday afternoon by a ship and this was the first report received here of the adventurers' progress.

Masons Meet at Enfield, Enfield, March 14.—(AP)—Masons of Eastern North Carolina gathered here today for the annual spring reunion of Scottish Rite bodies, with the class of candidates scheduled to meet at the local temple this evening.

and girls in general try to look like movie stars. Poor Dimples from the Lido will make a good wife for some sea-bred man in Vienna, and perhaps become a foreign star, in spite of a few extra pounds.

When things are done on a big scale, a little change makes a big difference. When General Motors stock rose nine points in a day that increased the total market value of the stock by more than one hundred and fifty million dollars. The company has more than 17,000,000 shares. One that would have made the radical shiver. Now it means simply stiffer and more efficient business, its chief effort being to combine higher quality with lower price.

The Sultans of the House of Othman spent time and their subjects' money, collecting jewelry and unmounted precious stones. The Turk impressed the beautiful Fatima, or letting pearls and rubies run through his fingers. She was supposed to say, in her quaint language, "Home, Sultan."

The Othman dynasty is thrown into the historical discard. Kemal rules with, "one wife is enough" for motto, and uses Othman jewelry as security for a Turkish bank. Thirty Othman Sultans would turn in their graves, like electric fans, if they could know what is done in new Turkey. Woman bare-faced, men wearing derby hats and defying Mohammed's law against gravestone images. Kemal setting up gigantic statues of himself in many places.
