English Flier And Woman Believed Claimed By Sea

Anxiety Increased Today as Hours Passed Without News of Capt. Hinchcliffe and Woman Passenger.

Biddeford, Maine, March 15.—(AP)—A motor boat started from Fletcher's Neck coast guard station at Biddeford Pool shortly before two o'clock this afternoon for Straton's Island to investigate a report that two persons and an object resembling an airplane of a yellowish color, had been seen thru glasses "traced on the island from Old Orchard beach.

It was considered possible that it might be Captain Hinchcliffe's missing plane Endeavour.

The report was telephoned to the coast guard station by a woman at Old Orchard. At the station it was said that no very clear view of the island could be obtained from Old Orchard beach about two miles from the island, and although a glass was used at the station only five miles distant, just a small part of the island could be seen, with no sign of life.

There is a summer house on the island at the coast guard station it was said that a caretaker was believed to be living there this winter. The island is about three-quarters of a mile long, partly rocky and partly grass covered.

Boatswain R. A. Morton and three men in the motor boat and were expected to return to the station between 4 and 5 p. m.

London, March 15.—(AP)—The gravest anxiety as to the fate of Captain Walter Hinchcliffe and the Honorable Elsie MacKay was felt in England today, as the hours ticked steadily by without definite news of the Monoplane Endeavour.

At two o'clock this afternoon, when more than fifty-three hours had passed since the takeoff at Cranwell Tuesday morning, it was estimated that the Endeavour's gasoline supply must have been exhausted for several hours and there was no hope that the plane was still in the air.

The vague reports that have arrived during the day of planes landing or being sighted at various points were hopefully seized upon by an anxious public, but lack of confirmation of each soon caused these fleeting hopes to fade.

The deepest anxiety, naturally, was felt in the London homes most intimately associated with the flight—that of Lord Incheape, father of Miss MacKay, and that of Captain Hinchcliffe in Pirelyb.

Mrs. Hinchcliffe was said to be bearing up well under the strain but in contrast with her willingness to discuss her husband's flight yesterday, she denied herself today to visitors. Harvey Lloyd, the flier's agent, met all inquires at the door.

"She is endeavoring to keep as cheerful as she can," he said "but naturally she is becoming really anxious and also is very tired and weary as she has been waiting up all night for news."

During the morning Captain Hinchcliffe's two children, Joan age four who has long golden hair, and Pamela, age three, were taken out by a nurse for an airing.

In the absence of Lord and Lady Incheape in Egypt, watch at the Incheape mansion was being kept by the household staff and news of the fliers was being awaited with the greatest concern.

New York, March 15.—(AP)—Fear that two more names had been added to the list of fliers lost in Atlantic flights grew today as the hours passed with no trace of the Golden Winged Endeavour en route to America from Cranwell airbase, England.

No definite word has been heard from Captain Walter G. R. Hinchcliffe and the Honorable Elsie MacKay since they took off from Cranwell at 3:40 A. M. Eastern standard time Tuesday hoping to reach Philadelphia.

The most optimistic estimate was that they carried fuel enough for 50 hours of flight, enough to keep them in the air until 5:40 this morning under normal conditions. But advice from ships along the great circle course and weather developments along the Irish coast indicated that they encountered severe storms which probably reduced their speed.

As was the case with the other ten fliers lost on the dangerous North Atlantic crossing, various rumors came of a plane being heard.

These reports caused more excitement in the case of the Hinchcliffe plane than in previous flights due to persons in New England and New Jersey, along the route the plane might follow in its flight from Newfoundland to Philadelphia, thinking

MANY TOWNS IN MICHIGAN SNOW BOUND

Army Transport Plane Left Today for Peninsular Villages To Carry Relief.

Mt. Clemens, Mich., March 15.—(AP)—An army transport plane piloted by Lieut. Joseph J. Soper and carrying four passengers left Selfridge field at 10:10 a. m. today on a flight to the relief of the snowbound villages of the upper Michigan peninsula.

Sault Ste Marie, Mich., March 15.—(AP)—A raging snow storm which during the night heaped even higher the great drifts in this section threatened today to cut off all possibility of immediate aid for suffering inhabitants of the upper Peninsular villages.

One hope remained, that the great Douglas transport plane, which spent the night at Selfridge field, Mount Clemens, preparing for a relief flight to this city, Lieut. Joseph J. Soper, of the army first pursuit group was to pilot the plane northward from the army base.

Two relief expeditions met misfortune yesterday. Dr. John F. Deudman, veteran musher driving a dog team in which he carried medical supplies, was forced to stop after 20 miles of hazardous and tiring travel. A snow motor equipped with cylinder drive crawlers, disappeared into the storm about 25 miles south of here bearing supplies to the famished residents.

The food supply of Detour has been reported virtually exhausted and many villages are said to be seriously ill in the village.

POWERS TALK DISARMAMENT

Twenty-Four Countries Represented at League of Nations Session Today.

Geneva, March 15.—(AP)—With a new corner, Turkey, among them, 24 countries, including two non-members of the League of Nations—the United States and Soviet Russia—met here today to renew their efforts to get a practical start toward disarmament.

The agenda comprised a report of the security committee and the Russian proposal to wipe out all armaments and means of producing them.

Jenckheer J. Loudon, of Holland, who presided, opened the session by saying that security pacts were the only means of preparing for disarmament. He declared the Russian proposal failed to take into account the present state of mind throughout the world.

The disarmament convention drawn up last year but not completed was also on the agenda for a second reading. Discussion of it was postponed until noonday, however, on the motion of Maxim Litvinoff, head of the Soviet delegation, in order to allow time for the arrival of the head of the Turkish delegation who is not due until then.

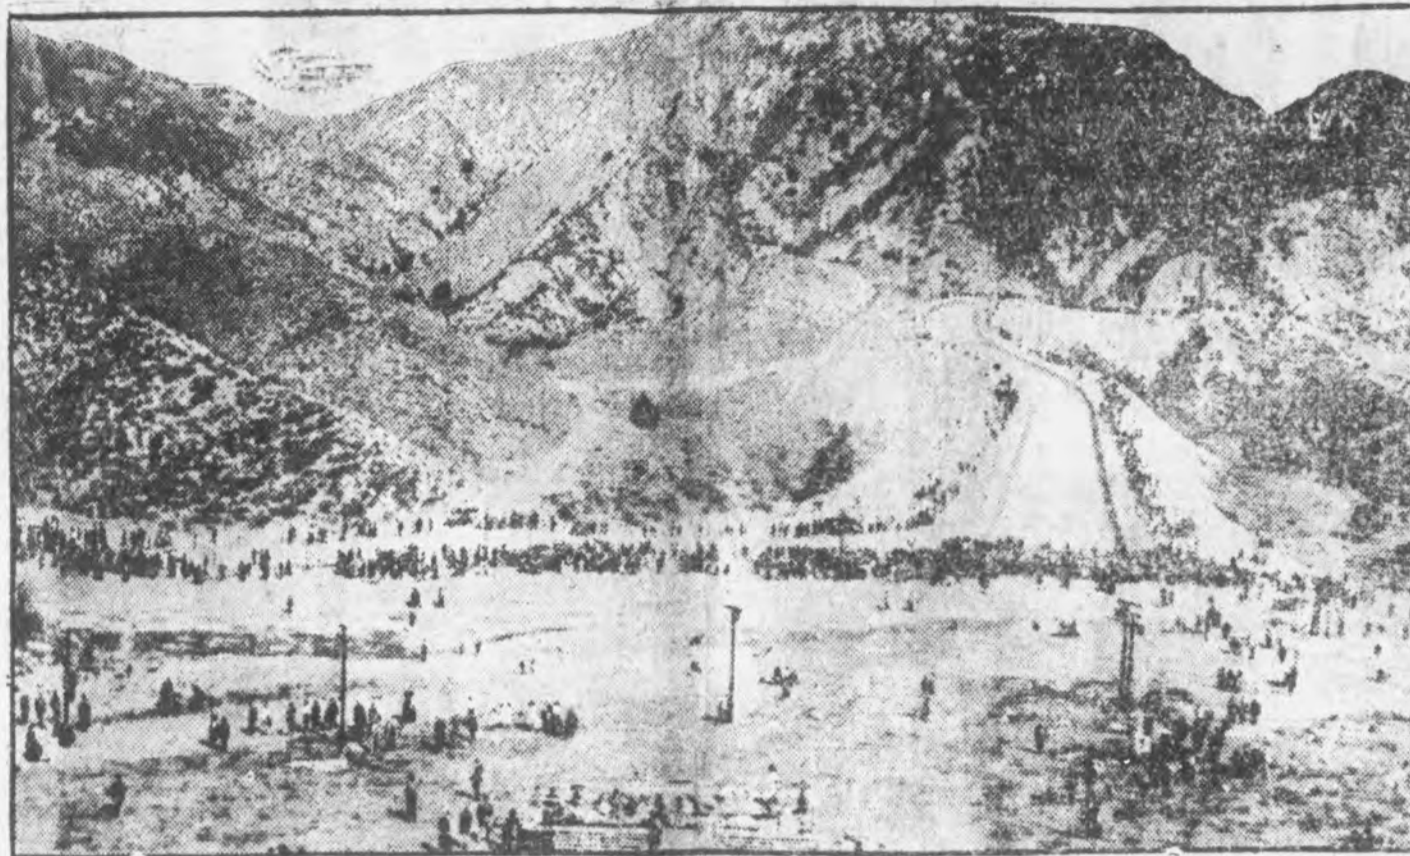

Count Von Bernstorff announced that the German delegation would push a resolution imposing full publicity in regard to all armaments as the starting point for their reduction.

Oklahoma Indians Bring Suit Against Fall And Sinclair

Tulsa, Okla., March 15.—(AP)—Albert B. Fall has become the central figure in another trial involving leasing of government lands in which the name of Harry F. Sinclair, co-defendant with the former Secretary of the Interior in the Teapot Dome case, also has been mentioned.

The trial here was instituted by the wealthy Quapaw Indians, who seek to cancel leases on valuable mining properties made to the Eagle Picher Lead Company in 1922. The Indians allege Fall approved the leases without conforming to trial treaties with the gov-

GIVE VOTE OF CONFIDENCE TO GA. PREACHER

Waycross Congregation Does Not Believe Rev. Herbert Young Guilty of Bigamy

Waycross, Ga., March 15.—(AP)—Members of the congregation of the Central Baptist Church and Mrs. Herbert D. Young, his wife, today were firm in their faith in the Rev. Mr. Young, missing pastor and husband, and steadfastly refused to believe that the minister was the man married to a Mrs. E. P. Walker at Meridian, Miss., March 7.

A unanimous vote of confidence in the minister was voted by the congregation here last night and also offered a reward of $150 for information as to the whereabouts of the pastor. An intensive search for Mr. Young who disappeared from Atlanta, March 1 or 2 is being conducted.

Mrs. Young said last night that she did not believe the man married at Meridian was her husband.

Information that a man describing himself as the Rev. Herbert D. Young, 42, former pastor of the Central Baptist Church of Waycross, had obtained a marriage license on March 3, to wed a Mrs. E. P. Walker, of New York state and formerly of Covington, Ky., was contained in a dispatch from Meridian, Miss., last night, quoting Roy Rush, circuit clerk of Lauderdale county.

The dispatch quoted court attaches at Meridian as saying that the couple was married by the Rev. C. C. Jones, pastor of the Poplar Springs Baptist Church there and left in an automobile for an unannounced destination.

"It is absolutely untrue," said Mrs. Young when informed of the Meridian dispatch. "I cannot believe the man was my husband."

Mrs. Young said that she had been told, Mrs. Eva Walker, widow of E. W. Walker, who left here two days before the minister disappeared, would return today.

Friends of Mrs. Young express the belief that he is suffering from amnesia.

The minister disappeared about March 2, while in Atlanta to attend a Bible institute there, but his wife and friends did not become alarmed until last Sunday when he failed to return to hold usual services.

Cardinal Mundelein was saluted by the Swiss Guards wearing the interesting uniform designed by Michael Angelo. His cloak was removed by papal "bearers," clad in red damask, that carry the great chair in which the pope rides to his throne in St. Peter's. The Associated Press report describes Cardinal Mundelein prostrating himself on the ground before the pope, who affectionately raised and embraced him, and sent a special blessing to each contributor in America.

Kill Them and Sell Them. Busy Old Wall Street. The Flying Salesman. Church and State. (By Arthur Brisbane) Copyright 1927, by Star Co.

Bankers offered $5,000 for any bank robber dead or alive, especially dead. Captain Hamer, of the Texas state rangers says that four dead bank robbers for which Texas bankers paid $27,000 "were hured into bank robbing jobs by a man who directed them, gave information to the police, and privately shared the rewards for killing them."

Organization of a "murder machine" that starts men robbing banks in order to get $5,000 apiece for their corpses, is said to worry the Texas bankers. It might.

On Monday Wall Street broke all records selling more than 3,900,000 shares. In one day the value of stocks traded in increased by a billion dollars.

Yesterday the stock market again broke its own record, selling more than 4,000,000 shares.

Some poor bears were badly torn and twisted in the whirlwind. Don't sell this country short. It's expensive.

A new career is open to energetic salesmen. Captain Gordon Smith, former army aviator opens the way, in an airplane lent to him and piloted by Richard Wall.

Captain Smith will visit forty American cities in a 9,000 mile flight, selling aircraft advertising for the New York American. Other newspapers may want to borrow the idea.

Mr. Wall, wealthy Toledo business man, lends his aircraft to Captain Smith and pilots it, "for the fun of flying." The plane will carry an operator and broadcasting apparatus installed by the radio corporation of America.

Before long airplanes will simplify the traveling salesman's work, multiplying the salesman's value and earning power by three.

Cardinal Mundelein of Chicago, received by the pope, on Monday, presented to the head of the Catholic religion a check for $1,500,000, contributed by American Catholics to "aid in propagation of the faith."

That complete separation of church and state does not injure religion is proved by the fact that American Catholics are the most generous contributors to their church.

Lord Incheape was proud of his lever daughter and she was said to adore him not without some awe. Because of this she kept the flight plans secret. She was of a fearless and sanguine disposition, and it was believed that she looked forward to being able to cable him from America. Am here. Flew across with Hinchcliffe." She felt sure he would be proud of her achievement when he learned she was safe.

ELSIE MCKAY KNEW HOW TO DRIVE PLANE

Hinchcliffe's Passenger was apt Pupil in The Art of Aviation In England.

London, March 15.—(AP)—The attempt of the Honorable Elsie MacKay of flying the Atlantic with Captain Walter Hinchcliffe stirred recollections today of her adventurous career.

Since childhood the 35-year-old daughter of the noted shipowner, Lord Incheape, led an active life. She was a good rider and a keen follower of the fox hounds, showing complete fearlessness in the hunting field.

She was an indefatigable dancer. Her love for the theater when she was quite young, led her to become an actress on both the stage and in the motion pictures. When she was still in her twenties she was leading lady in "Grumpy," with Cyril Maude under the name of Poppy Wyndham. At that time she was married to the actor Captain Denis Wundham. She had met him while nursing in her mother's hospital during the war. The marriage was subsequently annulled and she resumed her maiden name.

The stage did not suffice to satisfy her astounding energy, which finds like to that of a hustling man, and she took up flying. She was a pupil of Sir Alan Coghlan, Britain's aerial taximan. Soon she became proficient in the handling of planes and got a flying certificate in 1922. One of the tests for this was a solo ascent to 5,000 feet. Since then she had been an enthusiastic aviator frequently making trips by plane to Paris, Scotland and other points.

She also took a close interest in her father's business and was reputed to know as much about shipping as Lord Incheape.

Lord Incheape was proud of his lever daughter and she was said to adore him not without some awe. Because of this she kept the flight plans secret. She was of a fearless and sanguine disposition, and it was believed that she looked forward to being able to cable him from America. Am here. Flew across with Hinchcliffe." She felt sure he would be proud of her achievement when he learned she was safe.

Lord and Lady Incheape at present are in Egypt.

Cardinals Take On Orioles.

Avon Park, Fla., March 15.—(AP)—The Cardinals came home today to fight it out here with the Baltimore Orioles over whom they gained an easy 10 to 4 victory Saturday. Ole Pete Alexander was in the lime-light again as the result of his performance yesterday in retiring nine men in three innings in the game with the Braves at St. Petersburg.

Local Tobacco Concern Virtually Doubles Capacity by Improvement.

Another development on the Greenville tobacco market which will be of more than general interest in this part of the state became known today in announcement of an addition to the Person-Garrett Tobacco Co., on Tenth street. Construction work has been under way for some time, and it was stated that the large brick addition would be completed within the next six weeks.

The building gives the Person-Garrett Company approximately 11,000 square feet more floor space and will enable them to handle from 150,000 to 200,000 pounds of tobacco daily. R. M. Garrett stated today. The present capacity is approximately 100,000 pounds of leaf daily and the improvement virtually doubles the capacity.

This is the first improvement among redrying interests in connection with the expansion program for next season, although it was announced the first of the week that a new warehouse would be constructed. These two improvements alone will greatly increase the capacity of the local market and should enable tobaccoists to realize their ambition to establish a new record of seventy million pounds during the coming season.

While no definite announcements have been made as to other improvements it is generally understood the summer months will witness many developments in the life of the industry locally and that next season will open with many changes in evidence.

Wilmington Store Wrecked By Fire

Wilmington, March 15.—(AP)—Four naked walls here today stood as evidence of a fire which last night laid in ruins the $125,000 building of the J. A. Taylor Wholesale Grocery Company and destroyed a $75,000 stock of goods.

For while the entire wholesale district on Water street was threatened, firemen succeeded in confining the flames to the Taylor building. One or two adjoining buildings and their contents, however, suffered slight damages from heat and water.

For more than an hour during and after the fire, the city was without power and lights, except for the street lights. The main switch at the local power plant was turned off to guard against possible danger from naked or broken wires in the vicinity of the fire, it is said.

J. A. Taylor, head of the grocery company, who placed the value of the building and stock at $200,000, said that the loss was covered by insurance. An investigation, he said, would be necessary before any estimate of the salvage possible could be made.

The origin of the fire is unknown.

Washington, March 15.—(AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh will address a letter to members of Congress shortly inviting them to ride with him in an airplane.

SANDINO ASKS MANY STILL MISSING IN CALIFORNIA FOR REMOVAL U. S. TROOPS

Nicaraguan Leader Demands Evacuation of American Citizens.

Washington, March 15.—(AP)—The Occasional pleas in Congress for withdrawal from Nicaragua of the American Marines now hunting down "General" Sandino in an effort to restore peace have been added to one from Sandino himself.

In a message indirectly delivered to the Senate, the Nicaraguan leader declared that unless the marines are taken away he could "not be responsible for the safety of any North American official resident in Nicaraguan territory."

Replacement of Adolfo Diaz, now President of Nicaragua, by some Nicaraguan not a candidate for office and supervision of the coming elections in that country by Latin-American representatives instead of the Marines are two other conditions for peace laid down by Sandino.

His message, together with correspondence between himself and Rear Admiral David F. Sellers, commander of the American special service squadron in Nicaraguan waters, relating to peace negotiations were made public yesterday after their submission to chairman Borah of the Senate foreign relations committee by Lewis S. Gannett, associate editor of the Nation. Borah had no comment to make on the documents, which were brought to this country for Sandino by Carlton Beals, special correspondent of the magazine.

Signed "For the Fatherland and Liberty, A. C. Sandino."

The message addressed to the Senate said:

"In the name of the Nicaraguan people I protest against the continued barbarism of your forces in my country, such as the recent total destruction of the town of Quilali. I shall never recognize a government imposed by foreign power. I demand the immediate withdrawal of the invading troops."

Admiral Sellers, the documents disclosed for the first time wrote Sandino January 20 warning him that the American forces were preparing to take up his trail to "insure complete peace" in Nicaragua and calling attention to the obligations of the United States, under the Stimson agreement, to protect American lives and property and those of other foreign powers in that country.

While the bodies of nearly 200 valley residents lay in improvised morgues and 300 or more still remained unaccounted for, the issue of responsibility for the disaster, was thrust into the foreground when rehabilitation committees charged that the southern California metropolis had usurped the water rights of the valley in building St. Francis dam.

Dr. D. W. Mott, former state Senator from Santa Paula, informed Gov. C. C. Young that "the responsibility is that of a selfish city that took the water belonging to us." Mott said his opinion had been expressed in answer to a question put by the chief executive, who had asked for an opinion on responsibility for the disaster.

C. C. Teague, chairman of the Santa Clara Valley committee in an address said: "We want Los Angeles to know that it has taken millions from us."

"The city of Los Angeles will try to minimize the damage and prove that we are not entitled to anything," Teague continued. "We probably will have to appeal to the courts."

Inquests were ordered started at Fillmore, Moorpark, Santa Paula and Oxnard today. Governor Young signified his intention of launching a state investigation and the state railroad commission announced plans for a quiz. A committee of eleven Ventura county citizens was chosen by the board of supervisors to determine the extent of damage in the county.

Meanwhile, the opinion was expressed by several persons in the stricken area that the 300 still unaccounted for had been buried forever in the miles of yellow silt deposited by the escaping waters as they rolled toward the Pacific. Hope was maintained in some quarters that many of those had left the canyon and valley on warnings and were safe.

The tentative list of bodies in morgues, compiled today from official and semi-official sources, showed a total of 191, divided as follows:

New Hall, 52.
Fillmore, 49.
Santa Paula, 48.
Ventura, 14.
Castaic, 12.
Oxnard, 8.
Bakersfield, 8.
Total, 191.

A burning sun and a dry wind from the low barren hills to the east seemed to have bleached out the miles and miles of silt which almost as a wave of the hand of fate, replaced happy home yards and smart little orchards.

Everywhere over that long wind-strewn to the sea were visible the marks made in the feverish work of retrieving bodies.

A hole dug here, a splintered plank dragged out of the mire there, prints of horses hoofs everywhere, attested the thoroughness of yesterday's search. Three hundred mounded men each with pick and shovel slung over saddle horn, poked in the heat and the dazzling reflection from the whitening sands all through the day.

Where the yellowish, sandy mud was deepest, steam shovels were brought into play. Mules and pack horses did their part when bodies were found too far from passable roads for automobiles and trucks to reach.

To the south of the stricken area, where the river bed had been constricted thoroughly and the bodies removed to Newhall, a transformation took place. Reconstruction began in intense interest.

Men swarmed around broken highways, bridgeless railway lines and destroyed power and wire communications. The smash of pile drivers began with yesterday's dawn while steel high line towers were assembled and great gaps in roadways filled.

Begin Investigation to Determine Responsibility for St. Francis Dam Break.

Los Angeles, March 15.—(AP)—Testimony at the first inquest of the St. Francis dam flood victims held at Moorpark today indicated that a total of 285 bodies had been recovered.

This figure, clashing with previous estimates caused a sharp upward jump in the death toll.

The coroner's jury made no attempt to fix blame for the disaster, but brought in a straight verdict of "accidental drowning due to the breaking of the St. Francis dam."

Santa Paula, Cal., March 15.—(AP)—Bitterness against the city of Los Angeles began to show itself in Santa Francisquito canyon and the Santa Clara valley today as interest centered upon numerous coroner's inquests and other investigation to determine responsibility for the loss of hundreds of lives and millions of dollars in property in the St. Francis dam break.

While the bodies of nearly 200 valley residents lay in improvised morgues and 300 or more still remained unaccounted for, the issue of responsibility for the disaster, was thrust into the foreground when rehabilitation committees charged that the southern California metropolis had usurped the water rights of the valley in building St. Francis dam.

CONNIE MACK AND HIS CLUB READY TO GO

By BRIAN BELL, Associated Press Sports Writer.

For Myers, Fla., March 15.—(AP)—So far as Manager Connie Mack and his Philadelphia Athletics are concerned, the American League may open its season. The White Elephants are ready. The tall leechman has decided on the personnel of his club in every branch but pitching and has until June to reach a final decision on the coaching corps.

The outfield packs a punch with Ty Cobb, Tris Speaker and Al Simmons as regulars from right to left, the Elmer Miller and Walter French in reserve. All five hit over .300 last season. Simmons led with .392, Cobb was satisfied with .357, Speaker checked for .327 with Washington, Miller wearing a St. Louis uniform, registered .325, and French finished at .304.

Cobb and Speaker, the 40-year old veterans, are asking no quarter from the youngsters as the season stretches ahead. Cobb did his early conditioning with the Giants while Speaker put on a Philadelphia uniform for the first time with his new team mates and was soon gathering in the fly balls, long and short, with effortless ease. Cobb, never the fielder that made Speaker great, had no more trouble than his friend from Texas in getting in shape in his native Georgia.

Joe Hauser, with his trick knee as good as ever, started playing first base without a limp from the lump and took his old place back without opposition. Max Bishop was assigned to second. Joe Boley retained shortstop and the hard hitting Sammy Hale again took over third. Captain Eddie Collins, who can play in a pinch, the versatile Jimmy Dykes and Joe Hassler, a Port Smith, Ark. product of impressive physique, will make up the infield reserves. Hassler shows signs of being a great major league shortstop. Dykes can play any one of the four infield positions and Eddie Collins can pinch hit, play second and third.

There was no catching problem to vex Manager Mack, his 1927 receiving staff returning intact, Gordon Cochrane, Ralph Perkins and Jimmy Fox, with the extra, satisfy behind the bat.

Selection of ten pitchers, expected to go along through the season, presents the only doubt and this is causing little wear and tear on the veteran manager's baseball gray matter. Lefty Grove, the equally left handed Rube Walcott and Ossie Orvell, who plays the outfield or first base and hits as well as pitch, will be the three southpaws making the grade. Five right handers who seem to have the inside track are Howard Ehmke, the veteran Jack Quinn, Ed Rommel, Big Johnson, who came back last year and the much traveled Joe Bush.

Bill Shores, with Waco last year, he shown enough to warrant additional inspection and he will be one of the athletes in Athletic uniform at the start of the season. John Lyons, Ike Powers, Claude Gannard and several other pitchers who would like to play with the Athletics must fight it out for assignments which will be reduced to a minimum by the time the season gets under way.

The return to form of Joe Hauser, a great first baseman when right, addition of Tris Speaker and persuasion of Ty Cobb to play again make up a combination causing Manager Mack to smile and hope that fickle baseball fortunes will smile on him again, after a series of frowns over a period of 14 years.

The Philadelphia pitchers were slow starters last year and were very late in realizing that the season had started. The pitchers say their arms will tell a different story in 1928 and the other players believe them. The Athletics think they have enough power to win a pennant and expect to dethrone the New York Yankees.

No claim of outstaying the champions is made but the runners up of 1927 think they will get more hits and runs.

Tex Rickard Not Cheerful About Future Outlook

New York, March 15.—(AP)—Feeling anything but cheerful after thinking about his heavyweight merry-go-around, Tex Rickard was Florida-bound today, leaving an impression that Gene Tunney would be without an opponent on June 14, the date projected for a heavyweight title match at the Yankee stadium.

Although Rickard did not make a definite announcement that the June bout was off he said he would confer with the champion at Miami beach before trotting any more heavyweights into the competition for his contemplated big show.

Rickard has been trying his best to provide a foe at once worthy of the champion's steel and the public's gold but thus far has not been impressed with the results. At the present time Tom Heeney and Johnny Risko stands out as the principals of his final in the eliminations but their victories over Jack Delaney and Jack Sharkey, respectively, laced the quality he seeks to put on a championship affair.

BIG ISSUES IN CONGRESS

Coal and Cotton Inquiries Continue Before Senate Committees.

Thursday: Senate debates Tyson emergency officers' retirement bill, while the House resumes consideration of naval building program. Coal and cotton inquiries continued before Senate interstate commerce and agricultural committees. Executive sessions convene on restrictive immigration and boulder-canyon dam proposals.

Farm relief, Muscle Shoals and proposed ban on arms exports to foreign belligerents face House committees.

Wednesday: Senate passed numerous calendar bills, ratified extradition treaty with Honduras, and started debate on emergency officers' retirement bill; House disposed of 25 bills on consent calendar and slashed $36,000,000 off of $40,000,000 Senate bill for reforestation of watersheds.

Senate Teapot Dome committee resumed trial of Sinclair-Continental bonus.

Interstate commerce committee heard several coal operators and oil railroad representative deny charges that roads and mine owners had conspired to reduce miners' wages.

Agriculture sub-committee recommended ratification by Senate of convention formulated at recent international radio conference.

Creation of department of conservation proposed in bill by Democratic leader, Garrett in House.

Vice-chairman Plummer told the House merchant marine committee that legislation to stimulate privately owned commercial fleet would be ineffective unless present high rates on American ships by maritime underwriters are reduced.

STUDEBAKER SALES LARGEST IN HISTORY

Both January and February set new high marks in purchases by public!

SOUTH BEND, IND., Mar. 8.—Studebaker sales continue to climb to new goals of achievement! The number of Studebaker automobiles delivered to owners by dealers in the United States during the month just closed, was the largest of any February in history and 31% in excess of February, 1927. Coming immediately after the greatest January sales in Studebaker history, this continued flood of public preference for Studebaker is particularly significant.

Motorists appreciate Studebaker's advanced engineering— an automobile you can drive 40 miles an hour the day the new car is delivered—that requires lubrication but once in 2500 miles—that holds all the highest speed and endurance records for fully equipped stock cars, regardless of power or price. The evidence has rightly interpreted these achievements as conclusive manufacture.

By all means see and drive these new Studebaker and Erskine cars! Know the feel of championship power at the touch of your foot! Know the results of Studebaker's advanced engineering, realize then, if you know cars, that Studebaker stands for stability—76 years of it!

TOBACCONISTS HAVE SIGNED MARK WAGNER

Two more exhibition games have been scheduled for the Greenville baseball club of the Eastern Carolina League, according to information given out this morning by "Deacon" Joliff, manager of the local club. It was also announced that a new pitcher had been added to the hurling staff. He is Mark C. Wagner, of Palmyra, Pa., and if he lives up to the honorable name established by the illustrious Hans Wagner he should be able to set the Eastern Carolina League afire this season.

The two exhibition games will be played with the Atlantic Christian College of Wilson, the first game at Wilson April 14th and the second at the fair grounds in the city on the 23 of April. This brings the total number of exhibition contests to eight, the other six to be played with three clubs of the Piedmont League and one with the Medical college of Virginia.

Manager Joliff stated this morning that preparations for the opening of training season on the local lot, April 1st, were proceeding rapidly. Numbers of players that have been signed from time to time during the past two weeks will begin arriving probably next week. They will be put through grueling practice work in preparation for the first of the exhibition games scheduled for the ninth of the month.

Work in connection with improvements of the ball park at the fair grounds was continuing rapidly today. The diamond is being covered with clay and rearranged so that it will be nearer the main grandstand. New bleachers will be erected to care for the great crowds expected to attend the games throughout the season. All of the improvements, it was said, will be completed by the opening of the season on the 25th of the month.

Pyle's Shoeleather Express

C. C. Pyle, manager of the shoeleather express, announced today that a caravan of runners and walkers bound from Los Angeles to New York in quest of $48,500 in prizes includes Gunnar Nilson (left), New York Finn August Vager (right), Ashtabula, Ohio; Arthur Newton (upper center), Rhodesia, Africa, all runners; and Harry Abramowitz (lower center), New York walking entry who expects to show up best in the 7 1/2 st half of the race when the runners tire. Below is the route as far as Chicago.

Alma Mater Honors Marathon Runner

Elon College, N. C., March 15.—(AP)—As Paul (Hardrock) Simpson plowed along in C. C. Pyle's 3,400 mile marathon run from Los Angeles to New York, honors were bestowed upon him at him Alma Mater here. The varsity "E" of Elon College where he was a student was voted him by the faculty athletic committee yesterday, and the student's forwarded him a telegram of congratulations for his good showing, assuring him they were "outing for him."

A purse of $102 has been collected for the marathon runner at Burlington, his home town. It was learned.

LOCALS BEAT FARMVILLE

Winding up the present basketball season in whirlwind style, members of Battery E. local military unit, last night defeated Farmville by the score of 28 to 18 in probably one of the hardest fought games of the season.

Bostic and West played brilliant for the local club, the latter scoring thirteen points and the former seven.

The locals will go to Washington Tuesday night to engage in a tournament to determine the championship of Eastern Carolina. Out of sixteen games played this season, the Battery succeeded in taking thirteen.

Considerable interest is centered around the championship game as Washington has one of the fastest teams in this part of the state and is determined to take a little revenge for the walloping they received at the hands of the locals previously.

ABOUT TOWN

"With Tarboro and Greenville urging the opening of Tar river to navigation, it is believable the government will take favorable action in the matter within a comparatively short time," a local citizen remarked to the writer of this column today.

"This is a proposition in which every person in this immediate section of the country is interested. It affects everyone in a financial way in that it opens a way for relief from high freight rates which have held sway since water transportation ceased to exist many years ago.

"Just thirty years ago shipment of freight up the river to Greenville was so heavy that vessels were compelled to make Sunday trips to care for the business. If such a situation prevailed in those days—says when Greenville was merely a village—what would it be now?"

"The question is not capable of answering right at this time, but it is safe to say thousands and thousands of dollars worth of goods would be moved in and out of this city in the course of a year. In fact, sufficient business would be carried to justify the government in making the improvement.

"Greenville and Tarboro people are beginning to tire of unjust freight rates. They are at the turning point in business and industry, and if they are to continue to expand in the future as they have in the past then it is very necessary that Tar river be opened to navigation in order to take care of the gradually increased business.

"The government could not do anything that would be of more direct advantage to the locality than previous funds are expending the river, and it is to be hoped some favorable action will be forthcoming within the next several weeks."

"With the number of violations of prohibition laws handled by Pitt county courts from time to time, it begins to look like the illicit traffic is beginning to assume more than ordinary proportions, a supporter of prohibition mentioned to the writer of this column today.

"Our officers no doubt are making every effort to bring these violators to justice, but they can not succeed as they should so long as public sentiment is against them. It is earnestly hoped that strict whiskey and violation laws will show a decided effect on the public mind. There would be no bootleggers if a certain number of our population did not want whiskey. Therefore, the necessity for creating a sentiment against the use of intoxicants.

"The situation is deplorable not only in this section but in virtually every part of the country where the appeal for a strong drink exists—and these sections are conspicuous for their paucity.

"The courts can do nothing less than deal out heavy fines and road sentences in such cases. This more direct way possibly would be to eliminate fines altogether, and let the roads prove a lesson to those who would violate the law. Something must be done, and it is up to the courts of the country to do it."

"That stock promoter in New York that made from five to fifteen million dollars in four days by a spectacular advance in radio stock prices, had better make good of his 'hobby,' one of our keen observers of the stock market remarked this morning.

"Not that I haven't faith in the possibilities of radio activities, but because no form of gambling guarantees one against loss. We may win several thousands today and lose two or three times that much tomorrow. It is a game of chance. It is a gamble just like sitting down to a card game and playing for money. It may sound altogether different but the principle is the same—it will always remain the same.

"The neurotic condition of the stock market is as dangerous as anything else so affected, and it would pay anybody with money in their possession to put it in some good sound investment and rest assured of eventually deriving some profit in a perfectly square and legitimate way."

"The population of the United States at this time is estimated at 120,013,000 against 105,716,620 in the year of 1920," a business man remarked today, while scanning the pages of the Reflector.

"This is an increase of fourteen per cent for a period of eight years. People residing in a live town like Greenville can well understand this increase, because they have been keeping pace with other localities whose growth has been most pronounced.

"Greenville has grown more rapidly possibly in the last seven years than ever grew before for the same length of time. Those who know of the town's resources believe growth will be equally as great in the next seven years. They know our possibilities are unlimited and have faith in the ability of our business men to develop them to the best advantage of all.

"We have a rosate future ahead of us, and with faith in ourselves and the unlimited opportunities which life holds for us, there is no reason on earth why we should not become one of the great industrial sections of the county, as well as one of the greatest of the agricultural regions."

Public Land Sale
Under and by virtue of power of sale contained in that certain deed of trust executed by W. E. Gardner and wife, Georgia Gardner, on Feb. 22nd, 1926, to W. A. MUST SHOW SOME SPEED

From the team standpoint Greenville is fast getting ready for the opening of the East Carolina League baseball but from all reports somebody must show some speed if our team is to have a suitable place to play. Those in close touch with the situation say the grounds are far from being ready for use and at the present rate of progress they will not even be ready by the time set for the first games here, to say nothing of being ready in time to afford the team opportunity for its pre-season practice.

If we can afford to have baseball we can afford to have it right and by this we mean that in addition to having a team we should have a suitable place for that team to play and we must make ample and convenient arrangement for caring for the spectators if we hope for good attendance at the games. In the other towns that have entered the new league, work along this line is progressing rapidly and within a few days their diamonds will be ready for the teams to begin practice and large grandstands will be ready for the crowds long before there are any crowds.

Let's not start this season in a haphazard and half-hearted way. In the long run it will cost us much in the way of attendance and will mean that in the end baseball here will be a failure. We urge those in charge of preparing a suitable baseball park for the coming season to see to it that there is no further delay in carrying same to a successful completion.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

CROP RESULTS prove the difference

"ALMOST without exception," says a local merchant, "the farmers in this section who use 'AA QUALITY' Fertilizers get successful crops and bank substantial profits." Why? Because, year in year out, even under adverse growing conditions, "AA QUALITY" Fertilizers grow bigger, better, more profitable crops.

Read the letters at the right. Scores of other farmers in this and neighboring counties say the same thing. Larger yields, better quality, earlier maturity, extra profits—obtained with "AA QUALITY" Fertilizers.

Actual crop results prove that there is a decided difference in fertilizers of the same chemical analysis. Chemical analysis does not fully disclose the sources from which the plant-food elements were derived, neither does it indicate the physical condition of the fertilizer—two very important factors affecting the crop-producing power.

"AA QUALITY" Fertilizers produce more profit for every dollar invested in fertilizer because of the infinite care used in selecting the materials from which the plant-food elements are derived, and because these famous formulas are based upon a thorough knowledge of crop and soil conditions. Backed by over 60 years of successful crop production. Any farmer will tell you that "AA QUALITY" goods are famous for their splendid mechanical condition.

Read these letters from successful growers. Then plan to increase your own profits in 1928; insist on getting "AA QUALITY" Fertilizers from your dealer for use on your farm this season.

Oklahoma Lady Gives Interesting Account of Long Use of Black-Draught In Her Home.

Sageeyah, Okla.—"I have taken Black-Draught ever since I was a child, and can recommend it as a splendid medicine for family use," says Mrs. Cora Mabery, of this place. "My mother used it, in bringing up her family, and after I had a home of my own, I continued to use it, as I thought it was especially good to give the children. "My children did not mind taking Black-Draught, and so when they got upset with stomach spells, or were constipated, I gave them Black-Draught tea. "If I found that they were taking cold, I was quick to start giving them Black-Draught, as it helped them to throw off the impurities which caused the trouble. "My children are all grown now and have homes of their own, but I still keep Black-Draught in the house and use it myself when I wake up in the morning feeling dull and 'headachey', and have a bad taste in my mouth. "Black-Draught is a simple remedy for constipation, and I prefer it to others because it is purely vegetable. I always feel better after I have taken a course of it." In use over 67 years. NC-191

Daniels, Sarah Gurley, Delma Smith, Vera West. The arrangement of the courses at East Carolina Teachers College permits students to enter at any term and graduate at the close of any term. In practice, however, this cannot be carried out on account of lack of room. When the college is once filled up at the beginning of the year very few additional students can be admitted for the succeeding terms. Commencement this year will be on June 4th. Hon. J. Bayard Clark, of Fayetteville, will make the commencement address. The baccalaureate sermon will be preached by Rev. Jesse C. Rowan, D.D., of Concord, N. C. The front part of the new campus is now being graded and planted in readiness for grass and shrubs. Cement drives and walks for this part of the campus will have to be postponed until after another meeting of the legislature. The Board of Trustees are planning to try to

CHICAGO GRAIN.
Chicago, March 15.—(AP)—Blat trading in corn, together with material advances in price, resulted chiefly today from liberal export business. The export basis for corn at Kansas City reached the highest level on the crop. Corn closed firm 1-4 to 3-4 to 7-8 net higher, wheat 1-4 to 7-8 off; oats varying from 1-4 decline to an equal advance, and provisions at 7-10 setback to a rise of 2.

STOCK MARKET.
New York, March 15.—(AP)—Violent speculation marked today's stock market, with General Motors in the forefront of the advance. More than a score specialties were marked up 5 to 8 points on a series of drives against the "bear" interest in those issues. Rains resumed increasing price advance, with 6 issues in new high ground for the year. Trading picked up on the rally, averaging more than 750,000 shares an hour in the first three hours.
General Motors after absorbing a large amount of profit taking earlier in the week, suddenly rushed up 7 points to a new peak at 164, with buying influenced by reports of increasing sales. Radio held fairly steady around yesterday's final price of 150 during the early part of the session. American Linseed, the spectacular performer yesterday, opened 3 points lower at 104, rallied to 110 7-8 and then quieted down around 109.
United Drug was bid up 8 points. Houston Oil 7 1-4. General Railway Signal 7. DuPont, Wash. Aeronautical, Savage Arms, Mullins Body Products preferred, American Sugar, Int. Nickel, Int. Telephone, Vanadium and National all 5 points or more.
Wabash was again the leader of the rail group, moving up 4 points to a new peak at 74. The St. Paul issues, St. Louis Southwestern, Lacawanna and New York Central also reached new high ground.
The clox was strong. Total sale approximated 3,400,000 shares.

Sox First Baseman Hurt.
Bradenton, Fla., March 15.—(AP)—The Boston Red Sox are going to be without the services of their crack first baseman, Phil Todd, for the next week or ten days. He wrenched his knee in the eighth inning of the 4-4 tie game against the Baltimore Orioles yesterday and had to be carried from the field. Incidentally the game showed the Sox were not lacking in punch. They scored all their runs in the last three innings.

Income Tax Returns Ahead of Last Year

Raleigh, March 15.—(AP)—Midnight tonight was the deadline for filing income tax returns. Both state and federal collectors worked throughout the day trying to wait on all comers.
North Carolina's collections stood at nearly $1,150,000 above collections for the same period last year. Authorities pointed out that the real test of collections will come this week one which may determine the condition of the state treasury on June 30, 1928.

Whether the possibility of horizontal appropriations for state institutions will come will depend upon the amount of income tax paid, said Commissioner R. A. Doughton today.

"The big check" from R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company at Winston-Salem was expected at the department today.
At the same time Collector of Internal Revenue William Grissom reported his office busy but federal receipts revealed, he said, returns were behind those made by North Carolinians in 1927.

OVER SCORE SUMMONED BY SENATE BODY

Teapot Dome Committee Begins Inquiry at City of Chicago Today.

Chicago, March 15.—(AP)—Immediately upon arriving here today to pursue the inquiry into the political uses made of Continental Trading Company stock, the Senate Teapot Dome sub-committee issued subpoenas for Roy O. West, secretary of the Republican National Committee, and Homer Galpin, chairman of the Cook county Republican committee.

Later in the day it was proposed to issue summons for more than a score of other Chicago men prominent in the financial and political world. This will give the sub-committee, headed by Senator Nye, Republican, North Dakota, a total of nearly four score witnesses for its three day sitting here.

West was long a close associate of the late Fred E. Upham, treasurer of the Republican National Committee from 1918 to 1924, who handled $60,000 of the $200,000 of Liberty bonds which Harry F. Sinclair handed to Will R. Hays late in 1923 to help wipe out the Republican party deficit in advance of the 1924 campaign.

Chairman Nye will question West as to whether he had any conversation with Upham concerning the disposition of the Sinclair bonds, some of which are known to have been parceled out to Senator T. Coleman DuPont of Delaware, the late John Weeks of Boston, former Secretary of War, and the late John T. Pratt of New York.

An examination of the Republican party records given to the Teapot Dome committee at Washington by William V. Hodges, of Denver, present and treasurer of the Republican National Committee, shows that in 1924 the Cook county Republican committee made a gift of $25,000 to the national Republican organization.

But what man needs and ought to have is a much mixed diet. His job here is to cultivate the earth. And to make him work, Providence has given him a palate that craves all of the earth's products. An all carnivorous or an all vegetable diet is bad.

The House post office committee recommends a cut of $10,000,000 a year in post office charges. The one cent post card will be restored and fourth class postal rates reduced.

The suggestion is a good one, if only because it shows that the government knows how to run a post office well, even if it can't run railroads, steamships and such difficult enterprises.

they heard the motor of a plane. These finally culminated in a report that the plane had landed at Menlo Park, N. J., but this proved unfounded.

The same possibilities that buoyed up hopes for Nungesser and Gull prevailed today for the English war ace and his daring woman companion. Those were that they may have managed to reach land far off their course somewhere in the wilderness of Newfoundland or break interior of Labrador.

There was also the hope that they might have landed on the ice pack if their fuel gave out before they reached the mainland. This hope was based on experience of two Canadian pilots and their Eskimo guide who only a fortnight ago, won their way across sixty miles of ice after a forced landing. It was eight days from the time they disappeared before they won their way back to civilization.

LINDBERGH AND MOTHER MEET IN BOSTON

If the Endeavour had been on its course and had passed the coast of Newfoundland undetected the fliers would have been heard from long before this as the whole Atlantic seaboard was on the watch for them and they could hardly have escaped notice.

They hardly would have remained at the plane's service ceiling of 14,000 feet after passing land, aviators believed as their relatives in England know of their safety and would have made some effort to attract attention.

If he had come out of the storm of the ocean passage Captain Hinchcliffe would have found New Foundland a land of comparative peace and safety. Conditions were good and although the field at Harbor Grace was covered with snow a safe landing would have been possible.

These favorable weather conditions but added to the fears that the plane had fallen somewhere at sea perhaps weighted down by ice on the wings from one of the sleet storms common at this season of the year in mid-ocean.

While officials had most given up hope that the plane was still in the air, the lights at Mitchel and Curtiss fields, Long Island and at the Philadelphia airport were kept burning last night.

The planes previously lost in attempting the flight across the Atlantic were the White Bird (the Nungesser-Coll plane), the Sir John Carlington in which Captain Tully and Lieut. Medcalf perished attempting a Canada-to-England flight; the St. Raphael carrying Princess Lowenstein-Wertheim and two pilots in a flight from England to Canada; the Old Glory with Lloyd Berntson, St. John Hill and Phillip Payne, attempting an America to Rome flight; the Dawn, in which Mrs. Francis Wilson Grayson and three men were lost on the first stage of their projected flight to Denmark from New York.

St. John, N. B., March 15.—(AP)—Unconfirmed reports continued to circulate through the Province today that the overdue plane of Captain Walter Hinchcliffe had been seen or heard. The latest received was from the Telegraph Journal correspondent at Moncton this morning.

The report said that an airplane traveling low and at a great speed was seen at 1:05 o'clock Wednesday morning at Anagance.

At Anagance, coming from the coast side and speeding in a northerly direction. The report was brought in by Richard Peters, driver and Edwin Stanley, fireman of a Canadian national railroad freight train from St. John to Moncton. They said that when the train was stopped at Anagance the engine crew caught sight of the plane.

At first, they said, the monoplane appeared like a rainbow in the sky but as it approached a red and white light, one on either side of the ship could be seen distinctly. Both men stated they saw the plane distinctly.

RESIGNS FROM TARIFF BODY

E. P. Costigan Quits Commission After Parting Shot at High Tariff Group.

Washington, March 15.—(AP)—The long smoldering fires of disagreement in the tariff commission were rekindled momentarily today with the sudden resignation of its oldest member, Commissioner Edward P. Costigan, of Denver, Colo., who simultaneously delivered an outspoken attack against three of his colleagues and President Coolidge.

The last of the original Woodrow Wilson appointees, Costigan terminated exactly eleven years on the commission yesterday by tendering his resignation and taking a parting shot at the "high tariff" or "Marvin Group" in the six-member body.

In a letter to Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, Democratic floor leader, who two years ago headed a committee investigation of the tariff body, the retiring commissioner, long loggerheads with the administration's tariff policies, assailed President Coolidge for failure to lower rates when the evidence clearly demanded it and charged the executive had "helped to wreck the commission's usefulness."

Chairman Thomas O. Marvin of Massachusetts, and Commissioners Sherman J. Lowell, of New York, and Edgar B. Brossard of Utah, were those against whom Costigan leveled his attack within the commission.

Lowell was described as lacking "equipment or special qualifications for the duties of the tariff commission," and as appearing to "vote prejudices rather than facts" when he acted independently. He "even seems to take pride in parading his misconception of his official responsibilities," Costigan charged, adding that Lowell had told the commission that he was not a "dis-senting" man and would "keep still" rather than note his dissent in reports to the President.

It was well known in Washington, the Colorado member said, that President Coolidge had "long since

More Photographs Needed For Booklet About Greenville

In compiling data for the booklet setting forth the resources of Greenville and surrounding territory, members of the Merchants Association today discovered that they were shy of photographs of a cotton field in bloom, a corn field and other crops.

Any person having pictures of this kind are urged to get in touch with members of the publicity committee of the association and assist in making this booklet of Greenville as complete as possible.

It was stated that the booklet would be off the press within a few weeks, hence the necessity for turning in missing photographs as early as possible.

BIGGER YIELDS from the SAME ACREAGE

It is high yields per acre that put the profit in cotton-growing. A side application of LEUNASALPETER, the balanced, high-analysis side-dressing, at the rate of 75 to 150 lbs. per acre, will give you vigorous, healthy plants, heavily fruited, and a profitable yield of the best quality cotton.

Atlanta Girls Still Missing

Hendersonville, March 15.—(AP)—The search for Beth Norman, 13, Mary Norman, 14, and Evelyn Thompson, 15, local high school girls, assumed south-wide proportions today, despite the declaration of an uncle of the Norman girls that they would return "when good and hungry." The girls have been missing from their homes since Monday, and yesterday an appeal was made to the Atlanta police department to help locate them.

J. C. Norman, who was inclined to regard the affair as a youthful prank, said that it had been learned that the trio walked from Hendersonville to Brevard and from there to Pickens, S. C., and last seen were 20 miles from Augusta. He said his brother, father of Beth and Mary Norman, was tracing "the runaways" and hoped soon to overtake them.

The girls were said to have had only 15 cents when they left here on what they called "a long hike."
