Lewiston, Me.—(AP)—Bates college, which in 1921 sent a debating team across the Atlantic for the first time, now is ready to take on the foremost forces of the English speaking world.

A team composed of Charles H. Gupitt and John E. Davis of Portland and Marvin L. Ames of Springvale, members of the Bates class of 1928, will sail May 24 on a six months' tour. In each of the principal English speaking countries, they will engage college and university teams in contests of logic and argumentative skill.

Bates was the originator of international intercollegiate forensics. In 1908 a Bates team matched its ability against that of the Queens university team at Kingston, Ontario. Since the first debate with Oxford university in 1921, an English team has made the westward trip each year to meet a Bates team. In 1925, representatives of Bates toured England and Scotland.

The itinerary of this year's tour calls for one debate with the College of the Pacific at Stockton, Calif., before the team embarks from San Francisco May 24. Due at Honolulu May 30, the team will go into action against the University of Hawaii. On June 18 the three men will settle down in Auckland N. Z., for 11 days while they meet in succession teams from Victoria university, Canterbury college, the University of New Zealand and the University of Otago.

THE GIFT OF GOD'S LOVE.

(By Pattie E. Lanier, Greenville.) The whispering zephyrs through the trees

Tell of God's wondrous love. He sees the need of all mankind From His Great White Throne above.

The rippling waters that flow down stream Are testimonies that he loves us And beckons to every man, woman and child Not to yield to their own sinful lust.

The beautiful flowers that bloom in your yard Are tokens of His loving tender care, So please don't treat Him with ingratitude Accept his great Love, that is fair.

The towering mountains tell of His Love To Heaven they point the way, If you'll repent of your sins and accept Jesus Christ He'll fold you in his arms any day.

In fact, everything on this earth If we'll stop long enough to see Points to the wondrous love of Christ Who died on the Cross for you and me.

Behold He stands at the door of your heart He wants to be your guest, If you'll just consent to leave it ajar He'll surely do the rest.

So when Mr. Sunday gives the call For sinners to come to God, Just rise very quickly and start on the way For tomorrow you may sleep in the sod.

BILLY SUNDAY GETS OFF ON THIRD WEEK OF HIS CAMPAIGN IN GREENVILLE

(Continued from Page 1) when your money is gone. It will stay when your friends are forsaking you. You can burn up money, you can burn your home, you can burn your clothes, but you can't burn your character. A reputation may be lost in one act of your life. You can lose a reputation that is taken you a lifetime to build up.

"Did any words that are recorded in the Bible show that He had no right to say what He did? Can you find any utterances that are out of place in the Son of God? Doesn't your own heart say that every word Jesus Christ said was true?"

"He declared God to be what every true heart wants God to be. He declared that God loves men and that He is willing to forgive men if they have gone astray and if they would repent. Can you find any fault with that? Isn't that what you feel that God must be in order to come here to preach anything to condemn you. You were already condemned before you ever heard of me. If you came in here tonight to be saved, I am not coming here to preach to you, to tell you what to do, to be saved."

"You came in here condemned, you may go out without condemnation. Jesus didn't come to condemn the world. He came to save. Give a man a chance to be redeemed and if God loves the world and if this world has gone into sin God must do something to win it back to prove that He does love it."

"Now Testament. If you will take the New Testament and study what Jesus said about the Father, you will say every word of that is true."

"He said the time would come when God would wipe up this world and He'd separate the good from the bad, like the shepherd does the sheep from the goats. Well, we do that same thing. We separate the coal from the slag; we separate the wheat from the chaff; we separate the animals from those that will keep the law. This old earth is neither heaven nor hell because it has some good and some bad in it. If it was all good it would be heaven, and if it was all bad it would be hell. So the only thing that makes it decent to live in is due to the religion of Jesus Christ. If Jesus Christ had said that God wouldn't or couldn't shut the good and bad in the same place, that would have been enough to convince me that He was a fraud and that He wasn't the Son of God. Can you find any fault with His condition?"

"Can you find anything in anything that Jesus did that was dishonoring to God. Anything that He said or anything that He did; can you place your finger on anything that was out of place? I challenge you to do it. What did Jesus ever do that wasn't for the benefit of human beings?"

"What was Jesus Christ ever asked you to do that wasn't for your good? What did you ever refuse to do that God wanted you to do that you weren't a fool for refusing? God doesn't want you to do anything that isn't for your betterment. So if you want the best there is, God is waiting for you."

"And did Jesus Christ ever injure anybody in thought or deed? No! Did Jesus ever lie? Did He ever misrepresent? No! Did He ever say, 'That's all wool,' when it was hair cotton? No! Did He ever say it was imported when it was made in Chicago? No! Did He ever raise a finger against anything that was good? No!"

"Do you think if Jesus Christ lived in this city He would stay here and not take His head around this tabernacle? No! Did Jesus ever turn His back on anybody that was in trouble? No! Did He ever refuse to help anybody that asked Him? No! And wherever He went lives were made brighter, homes were made happier, men and women were made purer. Can you find any fault with that, in the transforming power of God?"

"The man that's sober has life more abundantly than the drunkard. The man that's honest has life more abundantly than the thief. The man that's virtuous has life more abundantly than the man living in vice. The one that believes in Christ has life more abundantly than the infidel, who doesn't believe in Christ."

"Moody was one time asked to preach a funeral sermon and he looked into the Bible to find out what Jesus said and did at a funeral that he might have a standard to go by, and he found out to his surprise and delight that Jesus broke up every funeral that He ever attended by raising the dead. He turned tears into laughter. Can you find any fault with that?"

"I find no fault in Him! Don't you wish He'd come to your house before the hearse had called? Don't you wish He'd have come when the coffin was there and raised the dead, put your loved one back in your arms?"

"A woman said: 'Why, nobody believes in hell.' Is that so? God believes in hell! Jesus Christ believes in hell! The devil believes in hell! Here's one preacher that doesn't come around here with that stuff!"

"I am not the author of the plan of salvation. I am responsible for my preaching of it, and if what I preach is the truth, it is up to you, and if what I preach is not the truth, it is up to me, and I defy and challenge anybody to prove by the word of God that what I preach is not revealed in the Bible. I defy you! I challenge you!"

"Then there is the critic who apes scholars. If there is any one this side of perdition that I despise, it is a fellow like that. Oh, he seeks to cherry-pick the favor of some big man and highbrow by quoting him and making his opinions and theories paramount to the word of God! And therefore, because this man says it, he quotes this man, that God was wrong and that fellow was right. I despise the fellow who apes scholars and seeks to carry their favor by quoting them as authority, and keeping his mouth shut upon what the God of Jacob has to say in the subject. So we have got a lot of fools like that up and down the land!"

"Now, there, there is the devout, reverent critic who studies the Bible in order that he might clarify my vision and help me to see as I told you to see, and understand the truths more clearly, that in turn I might teach it to you so that you'd understand it more clearly. I love such a man as that, that's trying to help make the world better and make it easier for us to understand."

"But you needn't worry, don't lose any sleep. God's word stands immutable, unchangeable and irrevocable, and you might as well blow your breath against the vestibule of a street car and try to run it that way as to think you can put God's word aside."

"I find no fault with Him! What are you in favor of that Jesus is against? Do you consider yourself honorable and decent to favor what Christ is against?"

"Do you think you ought to be respected by decent people when you are in favor of everything that Jesus Christ is against? No, sir! Don't think you forfeit the right whether you are a millionaire or a hobo. Right there!"

"Now, Jesus Christ is against all wrong. And you? Has anybody injured you? Jesus Christ is against it. Has anybody cheated or defrauded you? Jesus Christ is against it. Has anybody lied about you? Jesus Christ is against it."

Favors Honesty. "Are you in favor of honesty? So is Jesus. Are you in favor of purity? So is Jesus. Do you believe that every man ought to have a fair equivalent in return for brain or muscles that he gives in working? So does Jesus. Do you believe that every employer ought to pay honest wages to every employee? So does Jesus."

"Do you believe that every workman ought to give honest, square work for the wages he is paid? So does Jesus. Do you believe that capital ought to give labor a square deal? So does Jesus. Do you believe that labor ought to give capital a square deal? So does Jesus."

"Do you believe there ought to be forty-six inches in every yard? So does Jesus. Do you believe there ought to be four pecks in every bushel? So does Jesus. Do you believe there ought to be twelve inches in every foot? So does Jesus. Do you believe there ought to be 2,000 pounds in every ton? So does Jesus. A hundred cents in every dollar? So does Jesus."

"Jesus is against all crookedness. Are you? Jesus is against all vice. Are you? Jesus is against all dishonesty. Are you? Jesus is against everything where men feed and fatten and gormandise upon the misfortunes and sins of others. Jesus Christ never dealt in emergencies. Jesus Christ never went around Robin Hood's barn to get a point; invariably He got there, nobody had any doubt who He meant or what He meant."

"If Jesus Christ should become pastor of one of the leading churches in this city and talk as straight to them as He did to the treacherous Jerusalem set in the temple, I wonder how long He'd hold His job? I think some of these elders would be pulling their long whiskers."

"Then the committee would get on their high horse, and the vestrymen would hit the ceiling. Then the stewards that are always making a mess out of the stew; and the church dignitaries that are digging for the devil would kick."

"Take this rebuke, my friends, to the Jerusalem crowd and see if He was always the weak, two-by-four three-karat Jesus that a lot of people are trying to picture Him."

"I am sick and disgusted with people who are trying to picture Jesus Christ as though He was a dough-faced nonentity. He was the bravest preacher that ever breathed. Why that invective stings in words like a whiplash or a cat-o-nine tails as a piece of concentrated damnation, it is without peer in literature."

"Why the hot metaphors, whatever they are, they race upon the heels of one another, speeded by a Master's command as they were hurled into the sins and passions of His day."

"Everything that is done for the benefit of humanity, all charity, it all comes through the principles of Jesus Christ. You go to the library and select every book which contains a verse of poetry or prose reference to Jesus Christ and take them out and turn them into ashes."

"Then go to the galleries of art and slash and cut out and doubt the achievements of man, Dore, Millet, Murillo, Michael Angelo, Raphael, De Vincit, Rubens, Munkacsy's, 'Christ Before Pilate.'"

"The go to the hospitals and throw the sick into the street. Tear down the buildings, close up the asylums for the poor, the old men and old women, boys and girls. Go to the conservatories of music, tear out all the songs. 'Jesus, Keep Me Near the Cross,' 'Jesus, Lover of My Soul,' 'Pass Me Not, O Gentle Savior,' until the world stands voiceless, and songless and dumb."

"Then go to the cemeteries. Go from tombstone to tombstone, and chisel out every verse that tells of the world to be. Sir Walter Scott had Old Mortality chasing around with chisel and mallet to make more distinct the partly obliterated epitaphs on the tombstones. Cut off every verse that your mother pillored her head on and when she swept out into glory to meet Jesus Christ."

"Take out of the world all that Jesus Christ has ever done for it, and what have you left?"

Effect of Belief. "We are always helped or hindered by our belief. Wrong. Right belief makes everything right, because belief always results in action which harmonizes with your belief."

"If you believe right you will act right. Therefore, belief always results in harmony with your belief. 'Oh,' you say, 'it doesn't make any difference what a man believes so long as he is sincere.'"

"You are a fool. A man may sincerely believe he can handle nitroglycerine and it won't hurt him, but if he monkeys with it, he will look for him with a saw glass and take him up with a whisk broom and dustpan."

"A fellow tried out in Indiana. I was preaching where they were drilling for oil. They have a state law that the fellow that hauls nitroglycerine has to have a little fellow's wagon broke down, and he get a wagon from a farmer and put the nitroglycerine in it to drive it over and put it in a storage place. Going down the hill the wagon struck a log, and right by the bridge near the bottom, they found the heel to one of his shoes. That was all they ever found. He was sincere in his belief."

"Can you find any fault with the atonement? He tasted death for every man. He did for every man what man couldn't do for himself. 'Can you find any fault with His promises?' He said, 'Come unto Me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest.' Has He made good?"

"I find no fault in Him. Can you find any fault with Him, what His teaching has done for the world? Whenever His teaching has been accepted and believed, it has made the desert blossom as the rose. Homes have been made happy. Drunkards have been made sober. Tears have been dried on the cheeks. Mothers have been able to sleep."

"Old libertines have been made pure. Blasphemers have been made to pray. 'It is that sold their womanhood now go home with tears of repentance pouring down their cheeks. Men have been made true to their wives, and employers true to those that toil.'"

"A father and son were in the same company, and at the close of the battle of Franklin, when roll was called the son was missing. The father went out, stumbling over the dead and dying, calling 'John Harkman, John Harkman!'"

"Away in the distance he heard a faint voice. At last he stopped beside his son. He dragged him back to the hospital. There he was nursed back to health and strength.

"Jesus Christ's mission on earth was to bind up the broken heart and help those that needed it."

"I find no fault in Him." Do you find any fault with His peace? My peace," He said, "I leave with you."

"Some men, when they die, leave theirs to their children. Other men, when they die, leave a bad character to their children. And others, when they die, bequeath weak, enemy bodies to their children."

"Still others, when they die, bequeath idiotic minds to their children, and others bequeath to their children lanted blood, but Jesus said, 'My peace, I leave with you.' Some people, my friends, couldn't wear any longer faces than they do if they were dead sure that God was dead. When they smile, why they do it in a way that makes you think it hurts them and you are glad when they quit."

"Some people are praying for the Lord to use them. You ought to pray God to help you stop looking sour, for God can't use you with a map like that."

"If Paul and Silas had gone to jail looking as sour as some folks do when they come to the tabernacle, that Philippian jailer would not have been converted yet. No, it is a great mistake to think that God wants you to look solemn when you put on your Sunday clothes and start for church—no, no!"

Mission in World. "Jesus Christ came to open up a plan of redemption that we all might go to heaven, if we accept Him as our Saviour and do His will."

"You say, 'Well, I would, but I don't feel like it.' Oh, dear, when a man starts on a journey, he doesn't start on feeling. He consults a time card, buys his ticket, checks his trunk and makes his arrangements according to the time card."

"When I got ready to come here I went down and bought my ticket and checked my trunk. I saw nothing but the rails, no whistle, no smoke, but they said when I had a little piece of paper the train would stop. That's all I had."

"Pretty soon I saw the head-light rounding the curve. You hear they come, sixty miles an hour. I heard the engineer shout, 'I saw the sparks begin to snarl on the brakes and to a standstill. He was according to the schedule. The wood stop, and he said, 'God tells me if I accept Christ as my Saviour, I am. So I am going to heaven or die. God tells me I am in heaven. I believe it, I don't er my head about it. I trust His words are true.'"

VALUE

Value means the getting in return for money spent, full measure of service or merchandise.

Applied to Permanent Waving—it means simply this—that in return for your money you should receive a wave that is beautiful in appearance, that leaves the hair in its natural state and that lasts for months.

Value—according to money spent, or saved—again is this: A permanent wave, even on a most conservative estimate, will outlast more than twenty-four marcel. Allowing $1.00 each, the amount is $24.00, and requires twenty-four visits to the beauty parlor.

A permanent wave takes only ONE visit to our shop of about three hours, and costs only $10.00 for the Eugene or Nestle Curling-line—the saving then in money alone, is $14.00!

Does this represent value?

FREE FOR ALL IS PRESAGED IN NATIONAL

(By The Associated Press)
 Thus far the first east-west series has served to bear out pre-season predictions that the National League race of 1928 would develop into a free for all battle involving six or more of the eight clubs.

The New York Giants and Brooklyn Robins went into the west with a firm hold on first and second place respectively, chiefly because of cut-throat competition among the western teams. Today the Giants were still in first place although sitting far from comfortably there, and the Dodgers had dropped to the fourth rung. Chicago, in sixth place was only a game and a half behind the league leaders.

All four eastern clubs were beaten yesterday.

The Giants invaded Forbes field and dropped a 6 to 5 decision to Donnie Bush's Pittsburgh Pirates. Burleigh Grimes, traded by the Giants for Vic Aldridge during the winter, chalked up his fourth victory in six starts, fanning seven men.

Aldridge has yet to pitch for the McGraw clan. Dutch Henry was on the mound for the Giants and might have carried the verdict but for poor support. Freddie Lindstrom had a bad day at third base making two costly errors. George Grantham staid home in the second inning.

The Cincinnati Reds took advantage of Ed Brandt's wildness to score a 7 to 2 win over the Boston Braves. The Reds tallied four runs in the sixth on two hits and five passes. Hughie Critz had a busy day, making three hits, one a homer, and handling eight chances in the field without a bobe.

The Cubs ran their winning streak to four by turning back the Robins 4 to 3. Percy Jones having the edge on Jess Petty in a pitching duel. Kiki Cuyler, injured hand and all returned to the Cub line up and drove in two runs.

Six Philadelphia hurlers were subjected to a barrage of St. Louis hits and the Cards won 15 to 4. High's homer with one on in the fifth was the high spot of the Cards' batting attack. Neither Burt Shotton nor Bill McKechnie, rival managers were on the bench. Shotton is suffering from influenza, McKechnie from a three day suspension.

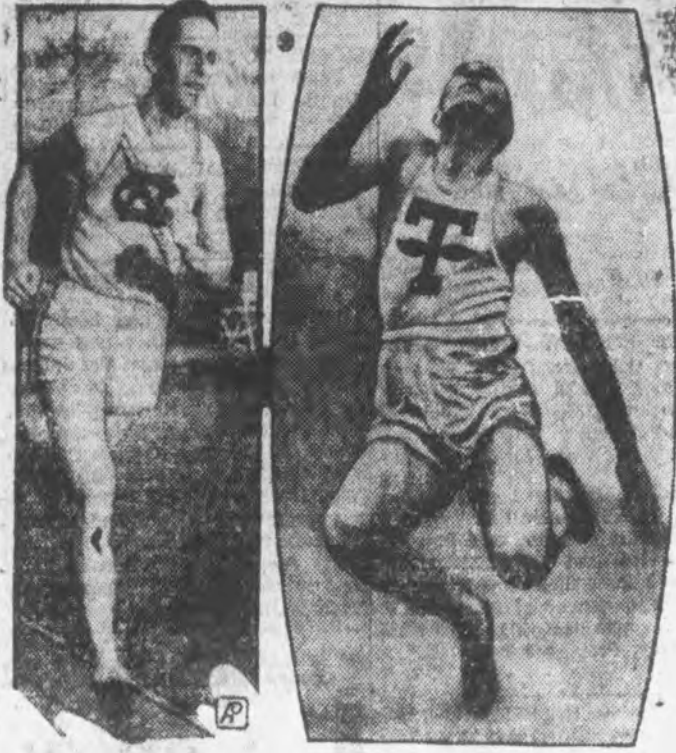

Over in the American League the New York Yankees suffered their second shutout of the year as George Uhle pitched the Cleveland Indians to a 3 to 0 victory. Uhle gave up four hits and completely silenced the bats of Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig. Herb Penneck, proud owner of a five game winning streak, was on the short end for the first time in a year although he pitched good ball.

The Athletics moved up to within two games of the leaders by mauling out the St. Louis Browns at Philadelphia 4 to 3. Cobb scored the winning run in the seventh on Joe Hauser's safe hit. Eddie Rengel was hit hard but sharp fielding enabled him to register his first win of the campaign.

A four hit pitching masterpiece by Ed Morris carried the Boston Red Sox past the Chicago White Sox 5 to 1, and out of the cellar. The Sox, losing their seventh straight game, dropped into last place.

Marberry and Lerner were pounded for 17 hits by the Detroit Tiger in Washington's overwhelming defeat at the capital 12 to 2. Bob Fothergill hit two triples, a double and a single in five chances.

TRACK STARS IN DIXIE TITLE MEET

Outstanding athletes to compete in the Southern Conference track and field championships at Birmingham, Ala., May 11 and 12, are Galen Elliott (left), a 4:18 miler of the University of North Carolina, and Ed Hamm (right) of Georgia Tech, who has beaten 24 feet in the broad jump. Both proved their right to Olympic consideration by spectacular work in the Penn Relays.

GAME RAINED OUT TUESDAY

Members of the Greenville baseball club left this morning for Fayetteville, where this afternoon they will open up a two game series with the Highlanders. The game scheduled at the fair grounds yesterday afternoon was rained out.

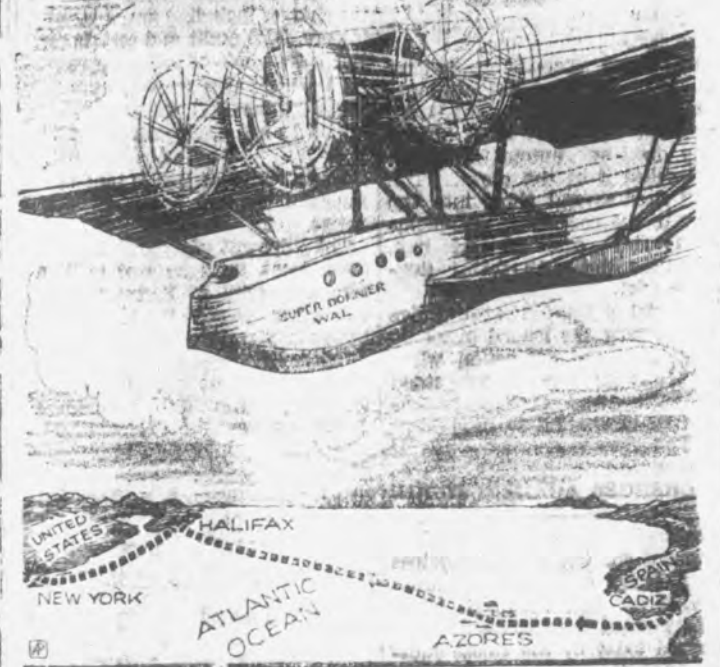

The contest the day before was played under miserable weather conditions, Rocky Mount winning out by the score of 8 to 5.

With Greenville holding fourth position in the standing of clubs, manager Joffe went to Fayetteville determined to mount another run or so before the week is over.

With the pitching staff strengthened to no little extent by recent additions it was believed the Tobaccoists have a better show than ever before to increase their lead. Although finding themselves in the cellar for a day or so, they pulled up to fourth position by registering a couple of victories in succession.

After the games at Fayetteville the club will go to Goldsboro for the rest of the week.

Spanish Ocean Flight Planned Seaplane, With Crew and Cargo

Capt. Julius Ruiz de Alda of Spain (left) and a crew of four, including Comm. Ramon Franco (right), will try a seaplane to New York flight in August in the four-motored seaplane sketched here from designers' plans, with stops at the Azores and Halifax.

New York, (AP)—A 48 hour flight from Spain to New York with 1,000 pounds of mail and a crew of four in a four motored seaplane, is the August objective of Capt. Julius Ruiz de Alda, Spanish ace.

Captain Ruiz de Alda and Comm. Ramon Franco were the first to span the south Atlantic in 1925. On arrival in New York in August, the young flier says the party will continue by seaplane around the world by way of Havana, Mexico, California, Alaska and Japan.

"We are not contemplating a stunt flight," he says. "We shall simply blaze the trail which commercial aviation will follow regularly between the old world and the new."

"We will leave Cadiz August 1 at 3 a. m. and our seaplane will be moored at the foot of Manhattan Island at 4 p. m. August 3."

The seaplane is to be a 2,000-horse-power Super-Dornier Wal. In the crew will be Commander Franco and Capt. Giliarza as pilots. Ruiz de Alda acting as navigator.

"The flight has been well planned," declared the flier, in the United States to perfect details of the venture. "We have chosen a seaplane because it is the only aircraft capable of negotiating the distance successfully. Others may be of age. His plane will be ready in July for tests."

SPORTS SLANTS

By ALAN J. GOULD
 Associated Press Sports Editor.

New York, May 9.—(AP)—It's a big season for ambitious youth in the major leagues and the Cleveland Indians, under new management and rejuvenated by a good share of this new talent, have started something that they hope to be able to finish.

"The way these youngsters, such as Lind at second base, Langford at center, Hodaph at third and others have come through so far, along with some great pitching, has kept us up in the race," says Roger Peckinpaugh, the field manager.

"And we expect to stick there," adds Billy Evans, the general manager patting Peck on the back.

"And you can count on it," concluded Alva Bradley, millionaire president of the club, patting both Peck and Evans on the back.

This New Cleveland triumvirate, invading the stronghold of the world's champions for the first time, is one of the most unusual in the game.

There is Bradley, with his brother Charles in the chief financial backer and also an ardent rooter. Evans, an umpire for 22 years now installed as chief business executive, and Peckinpaugh, veteran shortstop, a wise old head in the game, handling and adjusting his somewhat make shift lineup with consummate skill.

So far they have been getting results, much more so, in fact, than even the most enthusiastic backers of the Indians anticipated at the start of the season. They are safely entrenched in the first division. Within striking distance of the top, although the experts on base accrued them in pre-season calculations to sixth position. Only one critic was confident enough to rate Cleveland as high as fourth.

Rain Limits Activities In South Atlantic

Atlanta, Ga., May 9.—(AP)—South Atlantic Association teams made another attempt today to play their ball games after rain had limited activities to one contest for the first two days.

Asheville maintained its winning habit yesterday, defeated Charlotte 1 to 0 in one of the best pitched games of the circuit this season.

Wilder, of Charlotte, and Shames, of Asheville, were both strong with base hits, giving up four and three respectively. The former walked three men and the latter issued two free passes.

Each hurler struck out three opponents.

The winning run came in the sixth inning on a walk, a sacrifice and a double by Greene, who secured two of his team's four singles.

Wanted Man With $6,000 and Now She Finds Him

Milwaukee, Wis., May 9.—(AP)—Beatrice Albert, the 19-year-old girl of Siren, Wis., who offered to marry any man of God of moral character who had $6,000 which could be used to drive poverty from the door of her parents, has come to Milwaukee to "talk things over" with W. W. Coyne, postmaster at the National Soldiers' home here.

Coyne, 48 years old, a veteran of the war with Spain, was among the hundreds who offered to aid the girl. When her request was first made public, Coyne sent the girl a check for $500 and then paid her a visit at Siren. Miss Albert returned his money and took under consideration his offer to help.

Letters were exchanged and finally Miss Albert consented to come to Milwaukee.

"I want to adopt her as a daughter," said Coyne. "I have no one to leave my money to and I have had my fill of adventure. I want some of the responsibilities that every man should undertake—that of a home, and I felt that by adopting Beatrice I could be of good use to her and her parents."

Miss Albert, however, insisted she would not agree to adoption and that if she were to accept Coyne's proffered assistance it would be only on the condition of marriage.

Miss Albert and her parents last night agreed to occupy Coyne's home which he has newly furnished, and if after six months residence there Miss Albert had made up her mind she will marry Coyne. Meanwhile, Coyne will keep up the household and provide Miss Albert and her parents with such comforts as befit one in his circumstances.

W. H. Dudley was ordered to pay the amount of checks involved in a consolidated bad check case.

Dismiss Appeal Of Negro Slayer

Raleigh, May 9.—(AP)—The supreme court today dismissed the appeal of John Clyburn, negro, convicted in Mecklenburg superior court of slaying Cyrus T. Pink. The dismissal, by law, automatically set the date of Clyburn's execution on the third Friday, hence May 25.

David Lebovitz, Gastonia merchant, secured a new trial in the suit brought against him by his landlord, G. W. Ragan, involving the collection of $300 rent alleged due under a written contract between the parties. Chief Justice Stacy writing the opinion, held that "we think the court incorrectly interpreted the contract." Judge Webb tried the case.

A third issue in the civil action, as to whether the damage to Ragan building by fire occurring when Lebovitz was tenant, was such as could be repaired and was repaired within reasonable time after the fire, should not have been submitted to the jury, said Chief Justice Stacy. The jury had answered this issue in the affirmative.

Goldsboro Negro Gets New Trial

Raleigh, May 9.—(AP)—LARRY Newsom, youthful Wayne county negro who was convicted in a sensational Sunday session of court at Goldsboro several months ago for the slaying of a young white girl, today was granted a new trial by the State Supreme Court.

The court did not take cognizance of the unusual circumstances surrounding the trial but held that an error in the charge of Judge Henry A. Grady to the jury had invalidated the verdict under which Newsom was sentenced to the electric chair.

Newsom admitted having attacked the girl. He was brought to the state prison here for safe keeping but a day later was secretly taken to Goldsboro and late on a Saturday afternoon the trial started. Unable to finish the trial on Saturday, Judge Grady ordered a Sunday session.

When court opened on Sunday relatives of the dead girl attempted to take the negro away from officers in the courtroom. Judge Grady drew an automatic pistol and leveled it at the crowd. The sheriff fired several shots into the ceiling of the courtroom and deputies forcibly detained relatives, handcuffing the girl's father during the trial.

The trial proceeded with Judge Grady keeping the loaded pistol on the bench ready for action while deputy sheriffs and troops stood guard. The negro was quickly sentenced to death and hurried here.

Jury Unable To Agree in Knapp Larceny Charge

Albany, N. Y., May 9.—(AP)—A deadlock and discharged jury today left the case of Mrs. Florence E. S. Knapp, former Secretary of State, charged with grand larceny of a state census pay check, back at the starting point.

After eight hours of deliberation the jury reported at midnight that it was unable to agree and was discharged by Supreme court Justice Stephen Callaghan. The date for a new trial was fixed at May 21.

A report published last October by the Cities Census committee, Inc. a civilian organization, made charge against Mrs. Knapp's administration of the state enumeration of 1925. A special commissioner made an inquiry for Governor Smith. Then twelve indictments were returned, the charges including grand larceny, forgery, false audit and certification and destruction of state records.

GARDNER NOT TO ATTEND HOUSTON CONVENTION

Raleigh, May 9.—(AP)—O. Max Gardner surprised state officials today in a statement in which he declared he would not attend the Houston Democratic convention.

"Under no circumstances will I go," said Mr. Gardner before leaving for his home at Shelby, after conferring with party leaders here. "I will refuse to become a delegate should my friends propose me. I believe in passing those things around and I am thinking more about the election than the nomination right now."

Mr. Gardner told friends here that during his visit to New York last week, he underwent a physical examination and was pronounced in the best of condition by his physician.

Michigan Out for Smith.

Port Huron, Mich., May 9.—(AP)—Although there were reports of disension from some out-state delegations, leaders of Michigan Democracy claimed their state convention today would issue iron-clad Smith instructions to the 300 delegates to the Houston convention.

Governor Smith was unopposed in the preferential primary last April, and although the primary election is not legally binding upon the delegates, the party conventions rarely have given contrary instructions.
