

REPENTANCE DISCUSSED BY SUNDAY

Evangelist Spoke to Delegations of Baptist and Presbyterian Last Night.

"One reason why a good many people do not like the bible is because it makes them see their wicked hearts and they can't bear that," declared Rev. Billy Sunday, speaking to a crowd of about two thousand people at the tabernacle last night.

"They don't like the preaching that goes after them rough-shod and touches up the sore spots. They want the sermon of the, 'you tickle me—and I'll tickle you variety'—the preaching that pats them on the back and makes them feel like a boy with his mouth full of butterscotch. It is good preaching to them.

"You make a man feel as though God admired him and couldn't run the universe without him and you will be a great preacher to that fellow.

"John the Baptist was not that kind of a preacher, neither was Jesus nor their followers. That's why John was put in jail. That's why they cut off his head. He opened the bible square in the middle and cried 'repent', and he took dead aim at the old sinners in a front row. No wonder he stirred up a hornets nest."

Last night was the second of a series of denominational nights of the week, and Baptist and Presbyterian—its being their turn—were present in large numbers. Naturally attendance was far below normal, but those who braved leaden clouds and chill winds were rewarded for doing so.

Billy Sunday, slightly enfeebled by a recurrence of a heavy cold contracted some time ago, preached with a vigor that proved surprising in the face of his indisposition. Smiling happy, he put over a sermon that will not be forgotten soon by members of each of the denominations represented—even the most worldly and calloused of them.

This week promises to be one of the most eventful of the entire campaign. Aside from the sermons to different denominations, Mr. Sunday will preach a special Mother's Day sermon Friday, Sunday he will preach to members of the Red Men fraternity of North Carolina. Tonight he will deliver a free sermon to members of the Free Will Baptist and Christian churches.

Rev. H. F. Jones last night called attention of the congregation to the need of more liberality in contributions to the Sunday campaign expenses. He said they were desirous of raising the entire amount as early as possible in order that the meeting may proceed without the usual call for contributions.

The singing last night under direction of Homer Hammandree again proved one of the inspiring parts of the services. With Bob Mathews performing with marvelous skill and ease at the piano adding extra numbers at different times, the choir actually outstripped previous records. It might have been the abnormal temperature offered by the weather man that gave them so much fire and zest, or it might have been some other cause but anyway they sang spiritedly, and had every member of the congregation feeling in a receptive mood when the evangelist mounted the platform to speak.

The sermon followed in Acts, the seventeenth chapter, thirtieth verse.

"God commands all men everywhere to repent," Not I, God, God commands. He commands all men, the rich and the poor, the black and the white, learned or unlearned, native or foreign. He commands all men everywhere, office shop, store, factory, bank, legislative hall, college, university, on the street, the haunts of sin and vice—"God commands all men everywhere to repent."

Religion is not a product of the emotions. Religion is obedience to a command of God, and God commands all men everywhere to repent.

The first thing John the Baptist preached about was repentance. The first thing the disciples preached about was repentance. It is seldom you hear a sermon on repentance today. There are plenty of preachers who in the course of a long ministry have given repentance a wide berth, possibly for the same reason that the old colored preacher never preached about stealing chickens, for he said the audience froze up toward him and people were cold.

All of us hate above everything else, anything that reveals ourselves to ourselves. We all hate anything that shows us our faults or blemishes.

One reason why a good many people don't like the Bible is because it makes them see their wicked heart and they can't bear that. They don't like the preaching that goes after them rough-shod and touches up the sore spots. They want the sermons of the "You-tickle-me-I'll-tickle-you variety."

Disastrous Fire At Oil City, Pa.

Oil City, Pa., May 10.—(AP)—Firemen of three cities battled fire in several buildings that threatened the entire business section of the city here this morning. Damage amounting to approximately $350,000 was reported at eight o'clock with the fire not yet under control.

Apparatus from Franklin, Titusville and Oil City was at the blaze. No one was reported injured but many lives were endangered by falling buildings.

The blaze was believed to have started in the Duffee feed store and spread to the lumber yards of W. K. Borland nearby. Both were destroyed and within a half hour the Salvation army barracks, Leedom wholesale grocery building, well stocked with merchandise, and the main plant of the Moore Ice Cream Company were in flames.

All electric power in the city was turned off and the trains of the Pennsylvania railroad were thrown off schedule.

COL. STEWART HAS NOTHING TO SAY TODAY

Refuses To Talk About Demand Of Rockefeller That He Resign From Board.

Chicago, May 10.—(AP)—"Nothing to say, no comment," was the word sent waiting newspaper men from Col. Robert W. Stewart's office after he arrived here today from New York.

The chairman of the board of directors of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, who has been asked to resign by John D. Rockefeller, Jr., left his train at Englewood instead of continuing to the downtown station. He went directly to his offices and announced there would be no statement issued at least until later in the day.

Col. Stewart was informed that a transcript of his testimony before the Teapot Dome investigating committee of the Senate had been put before the grand jury in Washington today, but he still refused to talk for publication.

Two reporters were turned away from the Stewart train when they tried to board it during last night. They were informed that Col. Stewart was not on board.

The Associated Press representative found him at breakfast in the dining car sitting alone at a table. At the sound of his name, Col. Stewart pushed back his chair suddenly and demanded:

"Who are you?"

"I am a reporter," was the reply. The colonel's wrath burst.

"Then get away from me," he roared.

"But, Colonel, I have been trying all night to get in touch with you to ask you about—"

Col. Stewart's face became pallid as he shouted in a voice which caused other diners to look up: "I don't care. I won't talk to you. I won't have anything to do with you. Get away, I tell you."

"Col. Stewart, I am from the Associated Press," the reporter began again, to be interrupted by: "I don't care where you're from. I'll buy you a ticket to go."

"I'll buy you a ticket to go," he said. "I'll buy you a ticket to go."

"I'll buy you a ticket to go," he said. "I'll buy you a ticket to go."

AMERICANS FLEE FROM WAR ZONE

United States Citizens Leaving Tsingtao Reach Tsingtao Af-Under Fire.

Tsingtao, China, May 10.—(AP)—Having run a gauntlet of Chinese fire, Americans fleeing from embattled Tsingtao were safe at Tsingtao today. All Americans in the war zone were believed to be safe as the Japanese troops continued their battle to disarm the Chinese Nationalists and drive them from the zone outlined in the Japanese ultimatum.

United States Consul Price at Tsingtao was under fire yesterday, the refugees said, as he was taking them to the international train. This train flying the American, British and Japanese flags, was fired upon by the Nationalists as it came from Tsingtao, the Chinese attempting to pick off the Japanese guards.

The Japanese first bombarded the Tsingtao on Tuesday afternoon with three inch guns, mortars and machine guns to drive out the Nationalists who refused to withdraw.

Japanese officials today were reticent regarding the situation. They blamed faulty communications for their meagre information. There were rumors, however, of further casualties on both sides as a result of the bombardment.

SMITH GIVES FACTS BEFORE SENATE BODY

New York Governor Declares He Spent No Money to Further Cause of Campaign.

New York, May 10.—(AP)—Governor Alfred E. Smith, leading candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, testified today before the special senate campaign funds committee, that he had spent no money and made no effort of any kind to further his cause.

Smith said he knew of no organization outside of New York state, and that George R. Van Name, public service commissioner of New York state, was in charge of that.

"Have you any understanding or interlocking agreement with any other candidate?" asked Senator Bratton, Democrat.

"Not that I know anything about," Smith replied.

"Have you contributed any money to the New York group?" asked Chairman Stewart, after he had placed the New York governor under oath.

"No, sir," Smith replied.

"Do you expect to?"

"No, sir."

"Am I right in assuming that you have made no promise of patronage?" Stewart pursued.

"Absolutely none."

"And you will make none?"

"Not if I have to take the same kind of oath I took as governor of New York."

"Some one recently made the charge of large expenditure of funds in North Carolina. Our information is that it was the editor of the Asheville Citizen. As I recall it Robert Latham was supposed to be spending the money. Is he authorized to spend any money for you?"

"He hasn't been authorized to do so by me."

"Is there any arrangement that you know about to take care of a deficit in your campaign?" asked Senator Bratton, Democrat, New Mexico.

"No."

"Governor, are we to understand that you are not going out of the state before the Houston convention?" asked Senator McMaster, Republican, South Dakota.

"I haven't any intention of going any place," Smith replied.

"So far as the financial assistance or contributions to your campaign are concerned you know nothing about them?" McMaster pursued.

"Nothing whatever."

"Then your campaign is left in the hands of your friends?"

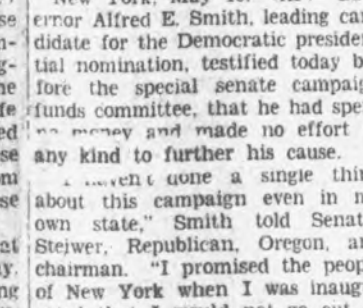

"That's right."

"You haven't received any contributions yourself?" asked Senator Barkley, Democrat, Kentucky.

"I haven't received any contributions myself from any one," Smith replied, adding that he had received no report from any of his friends as to his campaign expenditures.

Much Gossip Started At Reunion At Little Rock

Little Rock, Ark., May 10.—(AP)—Rumors of unfair political tactics employed in favor of one candidate today gave United Confederate Veterans a choice bit of gossip as they prepared to elect their new commander in chief to succeed General J. C. Foster at their annual reunion here.

Headquarters officers of the organization were accused in a statement by General T. D. Turner of Oklahoma City, of working up sentiment in favor of General Albert T. Goodwyn, of Elmore, Ala., commander of the army of Tennessee department.

Turner, who is adjutant general to Colonel R. A. Sneed of Oklahoma City, brigade commander of the Oklahoma division, is boosting Sneed for the command.

"The veterans themselves want to decide on their commander and Little Rock is the proper place for the deliberation," Turner said, in charging that officers of the general staff were active in creating sentiment among the veterans in favor of Goodwyn.

The election was scheduled for late this afternoon.

Colonel Sneed and General Goodwyn were the only ones mentioned for the leading office as the veterans assembled for their most important session.

The sons of Confederate veterans likewise were to elect a new commander to succeed Dr. S. L. Lowry, of Tampa, Fla., today. E. R. Wiles of Little Rock, general chairman of the reunion, and John A. Jones, of Atlanta, were the most prominently mentioned for this place.

Atlanta and Charlotte, N. C., were engaged in a spirited fight for the 1929 reunion, the North Carolina delegation asserting Charlotte's rightful claim by virtue of the fact that state never has had the reunion. Nine state delegations were claimed as supporters of Charlotte by General W. A. Smith, commander of the North Carolina veterans department.

The Charlotte delegation was distributing small Confederate flags bearing the inscription: "North Carolina has never had the reunion. Give it to Charlotte."

Both the veterans and sons organizations were to wind up the business of their reunions today.

Only the parade, the most colorful part of the reunion is left for tomorrow, after which special trains will begin their departure with the delegations from all parts of the South.

Escaped Killer Returned To Jail

Raleigh, May 10.—(AP)—Arthur Peeding, who rewarded the late Governor Bicket in 1919 by escaping from state prison after the chief executive had snatched him from a murderer's death, was back in prison today to spend the balance of his natural life, unless some governor comes along and paroled or pardons him.

Peeding, a native of Johnston county, was convicted in 1918 of first degree murder and was sentenced to death.

Governor Bicket commuted his sentence to life imprisonment on November 16, 1918. He worked at various tasks until August 8, 1919, when he made his escape from the prison.

He was not heard of again until last evening, nearly nine years after he had made his escape, when Z. R. Clarke, chief of police at Franklinton notified the prison that he had caught Peeding near Franklinton.

GEOGRAPHY TAUGHT A LA UNION DERRBY

San Francisco, (AP)—A ramification of trans-continental foot-racing that even the astute C. G. The principle of states rights were lost but the sacrifices made were not in vain. We now have an indelible union composed of indestructible states.

He said the chief lesson to be learned from the Civil War was that we should always be willing to take our arms for a principle and in defense of our country. And the New

BAD WEATHER SLOWS ACTION IN AMERICAN

(By The Associated Press.)
The American league was ready today to join the National in a continuation of the inter-sectional warfare which has been waged on the two pennant fronts for a week. Rain and cold yesterday prevented action in the American league series, where the Yankees and the Indians are engaged in a hand to hand struggle for the lead but teams in the senior circuit enlivened the west with their battles.

The feature engagements of the afternoon saw Virgil Barnes pitch the Giants to a six to nothing victory over the Pirates in a game where the lead of the league was at stake and found Buzz McWeeny and Charlie Root locked in a rare pitching duel in Chicago. Brooklyn yielded to the Cubs 2 to 1 in the 12th.

After pitching good ball for eight innings McWeeny scatted on thin ice from the ninth to the 12th. A hit meant the ball game at almost any time in this period and Petty finally yielded to Gonzales. Webb opened the 12th with a double and advanced on Hack Wilson's sacrifice fly. Robby then called for the old army game and two men were passed to make a play possible at any base. Gonzales spoiled this fine strategy with a Texas league single to center.

The victory marked the second straight for the Cubs over Brooklyn and gave Charlie Root his third success of the season.

Virgil Barnes gladdened the heart of John McGraw by the craft of his curves against the Pirates. Barnes did so well that almost any sort of backing could have won for him.

Barnes pitched hillless ball for five innings and gave only five safe drives through the entire game.

The Braves lost their fifth straight game when Eppa Rixey emerged on top of a pitching battle against Genewich. The score was 4 to 1.

At St. Louis the Cards won as they pleased from the Phillies and they pleased 7 to 1.

Atlanta, Ga., May 10.—(AP)—Asheville is giving aspirants for its first place position in South Atlantic Association little chance to pass, winning games as they come, singly or in pairs.

A double victory over Charlotte, a first division team, yesterday gave the Tourists a clean sweep of the series, polling out 18 hits, the league leaders won the first game 8 to 7 and then came back to take the 7 inning nightcap 2 to 1.

Asheville team turned in 24 assists in the first game and was perfect in the field. Slim Harris allowed the Hornets only three bingles in the second contest.

Spartanburg won both games from Macon by 8 to 5 scores. The Spartans got next to three peach hurlers for 15 safe blows in the first game while Scott was limiting the Georgians to eight.

LOCAL HIGHS LOST OUT TO WASHINGTON

In weather suited more for football than baseball, the Greenville high school suffered a 3 to 2 defeat at the hands of Washington yesterday afternoon in the Beaufort county capitol. The game was fast and well played. Considering the weather there comparatively few errors made, and the pitching was excellent on both sides.

Greenville drew first blood in the second inning. Forbes, first man up in the second inning, obliged with a sharp single to left field. A stolen base and a long single by Hearne brought in the first tally of the game. In the third Bostic singled, stole second, and came home on Dudley's two bagger to right center. This completed the Greenville scoring altho they succeeded in filling the bases on two other occasions.

Washington's three runs came in the second inning on an error, a base on balls and two hits. After the third neither team was able to score, and the game settled down to a pitching battle between Respass and Latham.

The first home game since the beginning of the season will be played at the ball park tomorrow with Wilson furnishing the opposition. This is expected to be a fast and furious game of ball and the fans are asked to come out and support the locals. Rocky Mount will be met here next Wednesday and Washington next Tuesday. This will end up the high school season and the boys are expecting to win all three games.

The score follows:
Greenville . . . 011 000 060—2 6 3
Washington . . . 030 000 000—3 6 2
Batteries: Respass and Bostic, Latham and Satterwhite.

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY MEETS

The auxiliary of the Pitt county post of the American Legion held a very interesting meeting on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. L. Wilson, in Robersonville. Mrs. K. B. Pace, president, presided over the business meeting, the most important part of which was making plans for the sale of poppies on Memorial Day. Mrs. Bryan read an article on the "Poppy Lady," showing the origin of the poppy and that a Georgia woman originated it.

At the conclusion of the business, Mrs. I. M. Little, accompanied by Mrs. V. L. Roberson, beautifully sang "Pale Moon." Mrs. W. H. Gray gave interesting features from a talk on "War," recently given by Dr. Garland Spencer at a meeting of the Woman's Federation of Clubs in High Point.

Then the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Gray, served an ice course. The auxiliary adjourned to meet in June with Mrs. W. R. Jones. Besides sixteen members present for the meeting, there were three visitors, Mesdames I. M. Little, V. L. Roberson and W. H. Gray, of Robersonville.

THE SUNDAY PARTY AT MRS. R. L. SMITH'S

The parlor meetings conducted by the "Billy" Sunday revival party are growing in interest, enthusiasm and attendance. At the meeting at the home of Mrs. R. L. Smith, on Wednesday morning, 110 were present. Mrs. Matthews very ably assisted Mrs. Smith in greeting and seating the guests.

The presence of Mr. Matthews at the piano, and Mr. Hammond, master of evangelistic singing, created a worthy background for Mr. Sunday's message. The parlor messages of Mr. Sunday delivered from week to week, furnish a wonderful privilege for the people of Greenville and vicinity. They are for the public, and the public should grasp this opportunity of hearing Mr. Sunday talk, which he does in conversational style in these group meetings. Those who hear anxiously await the next one. He will speak next Thursday morning at 10:30 at the home of Mrs. Charles O'H. Horne, on West Fourth street, where no doubt a capacity house will greet him.

MAY MORNING

(Eva Dean Berry Harris) Wild, cool, rainy wind, blowing fitfully, Stirring creamy breakers on the slumberous May sea, What shall fail to answer thee? What thing shall withstand The spell of thin enchantment, flowing over sea and land?

All along the swamp-edge in the rain I go; All about my head thou the loosened locks dost blow; Like the German goose-girl in the fairy tale, I watch across the shining sound a flock of ducks that sail.

Redly gleam the haw-thorns, dripping with the wet, Fruit of sober autumn, glowing crimson yet; Slender swords of iris leaves cut the water clear, And light green creeps the tender grass, thick-spreading far and near.

Every last year's stalk is set with brown or golden studs; All the coughs of bayberry are thick with scented buds. Islanded in turtly velvet, where the ferns uncurl, Lo! a large white duck's egg glimmers like a pearl!

Softly sing the billows, rushing, whispering low; Freshly, oh, deliciously, the warm, mild wind doth blow! Plaintive bleat of new-washed lambs combs faint from far away; And clearly cry the little birds, alert and blithe and gay.

O, happy, happy morning; O, dear, familiar place! O, warm, sweet tears of Heaven, fast falling on my face! O, well-remembered rainy wind, blow all my care away. That I may be a child again, this blissful morn of May.

Winterville School News.

Saturday evening, May 5, at 8 o'clock "Our Seniors" were delightfully entertained by their mascot, "Miss Patsy Jane McLawhorn," at a "Kid's party."

The Seniors laid aside their dignity, donned their most childish frocks, equipped themselves with their dolls, toy pistols, air rifles, etc., and went to the home of Mr. R. H. McLawhorn, the father of the mascot. Here they were brought back to their childhood days by such games as "London Bridge," marbles, "Turn Over Fruit Basket," and other childish games. They were served "hot dogs," red lemonade, ice cream cones, and all day suckers. On each plate was an attractive favor which would delight the heart of any child.

The Winterville faculty and a few friends enjoyed a delightful picnic on Sunday at Riverside Park, Rocky Mount, North Carolina.

On Friday evening, May 4, the members of the freshman class enjoyed a delightful party at Miss Lucy Bett Abbott's home. As the guests came they were served punch. Several enjoyable games were played. Later a salad course was served.

This week marks the end of another successful year at W. H. S. examinations and commencement are now in progress. Be sure and do not miss any part of the commencement exercises—especially the high school play, "Backbone," which will be presented in the Winterville auditorium on Friday night, May 11. You can not afford to miss this play which is full of humor and which contains a real moral. If you are tired and shy on backstage you should see Willie Scot, who is also shy on backstage and who believes in "letting well enough alone," told by the stars and discovers himself. Then things began to hum. The play also contains a thrilling love-story, a "Maggie and Jiggs" characterization, and other highly interesting characters portrayals. Be sure you see this play if you want to find out what is necessary to make you successful.

"THE FOREST COURT" TO BE PRESENTED BY CITY SCHOOLS

The beautiful and musical opera entitled "The Forest Court," will be presented next Monday evening, May 14, at 8:15 in the new college auditorium, by the children of the Greenville city schools. The libretto is written by Douglas Whitehead, supervisor of Dramatics, Winnetka, Illinois, formerly of the Horace Mann school, Teachers College, Columbia University, and the music by G. A. Grant-Shaefer, formerly head of voice department Northwestern University. The opera will be staged under the direction of Miss Lotta Veazey, the head of the public school music department of the local schools, assisted by all the teachers of the elementary grades. This will be the biggest thing the schools have ever done. More than five hundred children will take part. The costumes are beautiful and the stage effects unequalled. There will be no admission charge and the general public is invited.

NON-SPLASHABLE STREETS FOR LINCOLN PEDESTRIANS

Lincoln, Neb. (AP)—The motorist gets all the "breaks," much to the discomfort and annoyance of the pedestrian, the city council has decided. So all street intersections in the down town district here will be made convex to prevent passing cars from sloshing water and mud on people waiting for signal lights to change.

By raising the street level at the intersections slightly water will drain off and passing automobiles will not speckle light hosiery with muddy water.

IN HONOR OF OUR MOTHERS

It is fitting that the merchants of our city have decided to close their stores between 2:30 and 3:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in order to afford opportunity for all employees to attend the special Mother's Day service to be conducted at the tabernacle. Next Sunday is Mother's Day, but in view of the fact that other special services at the tabernacle had been arranged for that day...

FLOWERS FOR THE LIVING

Just nine "Old Soldiers" appeared here today to take part in the Confederate Memorial Day celebration which brings to us the realization that these heroes of the sixties are fast fading out of the picture and passing on to their great reward. More and more the nation is becoming to realize the valor displayed by these Sons of the South in the conflict between the States...

ABOUT TOWN

Today is Confederate Memorial Day—Southern Memorial Day—whatever one would like to call it, somebody mentioned to us this morning, as they stood out in front of the courthouse and watched veterans of the sixties assemble for their annual reunion. It is an occasion in which the southern people are interested because they have an opportunity of paying tribute to the men who fought so courageously in behalf of a cause that was lost.

stand out as leaders of the world and the union which one time hung in the balance has been made more secure through loss of blood of a great people.

"This is the first fair day we have had in quite a while," a reader remarked early this morning. "The weather man has handed out some mighty peculiar offerings for this season of the year and unless he changes this section is going to do something more than complain about unseasonable weather."

"This bright sunshine will do something more than raise our spirits—it will warm up old terra firma and cause plant life to spring forward with magic speed. It is simply wonderful the way sunshine affects life. But it is still more wonderful we are living to enjoy it."

"Baseball leagues in this section of the country have been rained out until it seems they will never get another start," an optimistic pessimist told us this morning.

"We have lost all of this good time and several double headers will be necessary in order to make up for the lost."

"With this kind of weather we should be able to clear decks and see the proper number of games checked up in due time."

"What baseball needs now is a revival of enthusiasm. Give it that and the rest of the season will be everything expected."

"Billy Sunday is preaching the kind of truths you can't get by a regular attendant at the Sunday meeting told us this morning.

We didn't know what he was talking about. The sentence was capable of double interpretation and we had to prod what little gray matter we have left to determine the exact meaning.

Noting our lack of comprehension, the gentleman said: "I mean that he is presenting the teachings of the Bible couched in incomparable phraseology."

Still we didn't know what he was talking about, but we smiled and agreed it was all right.

That's about the only thing you can do about an incident of this kind. If you don't understand any remark about Mr. Sunday, naturally conclude it was all right, smile and run along about your business. Billy Sunday will be on the platform next night, anyway.

"Greenville is the busiest town in Eastern Carolina today," a traveler told the writer today, as we walked down Evans street and the visitor noted the spirit of progress displayed by the people we passed.

"I have been coming to the town for a number of years and I know the growth experienced at this time is deserving.

"Your business men have learned the secret of letting the outside world know what they have to offer in the way of natural resources, and this fact has had much to do with your development.

"Everybody is expecting great things of this locality the next several years, and the majority believe Greenville will take a leading part in notable achievements."

REPENTANCE DISCUSSED BY BILLY SUNDAY

leyou variety—the preaching that pats them on the back and makes them feel like a boy with his mouth full of butterscotch is good preaching to them.

You make a man feel as though God admired him and couldn't run this universe without him and you will be a great preacher to that fellow.

Well John the Baptist, wasn't that kind of a preacher, neither was Jesus Christ, neither were the Disciples, except old Judas. That's why John was put in prison. That's why they cut off his head. He opened the Bible square in the middle and cried, "Repent!" and he took dead aim at the old sinners in front. No wonder he stirred up a hornet's nest.

Whenever you hear a preacher say that he doesn't believe in a personal devil, you can bet thousands of dollars to doughnuts that he never preached a sermon on repentance. For if he had he would know there was a devil, for he would have heard him roar against his preaching always.

If you want to hear the devil's gang roar, howl, you try to be decent and do something for God in the name of Jesus Christ, and they will cuss you and damn you and jump on to you with both feet, just as they did in the days of Jesus Christ when two blind men sat by the wayside begging and crying "Thou son of David, mercy upon us."

They said "Hold your peace, shut up, shut up."

And they yelled 'shut up' when the multitudes talked about the tabernacle and talked about going to the temple.

"Shut up, Billy is vulgar!" "Shut up, he is a grafter!" "Shut up, he uses slang!"

They yelled at Stephen when he told them that they were uncircumcised in heart and they were living in sin, and they stoned him to death. "Shut up," they yelled to Paul and they wound chains around him and threw him in prison and then they chopped off his head.

"Shut up!" they yelled to John as he held up the blessing form of Jesus Christ.

"Shut up!" they yelled at Savonarola they incriminated him in the square because he preached Jesus Christ and told the crooks of his day where to "head in."

"Shut up!" they shouted at John Bunyan and they turned the keys on him in little Bedford's jail.

"Shut up!" don't talk about the tabernacle, shut up keep still! It hurts our business and people are getting their eyes open. They are going home and kissing their wives instead of beating them up. Girls are going square, and young fellows are throwing their arms around their fathers.

"Shut up! Why we can no longer feed and fatten and gormandise upon the virtue of men and women for they are being torn loose from the thralldom of the transgressions."

Now I don't believe it is a good thing to have synonyms, my friends, for sin, for lying stealing and adultery.

Anybody who takes what doesn't belong to him is a thief. You can call him a kleptomaniac but that doesn't change the fact that he is a thief.

The man who deceives his neighbor is a liar. It doesn't make any difference what other name you put it under.

Adultery is adultery. You can call it affinity if you want to. "Thou shalt not commit affinity."

You can put the label of pepperment on strychnine, but that won't change the fact that the poison in the bottle is strychnine.

You can call it affinity, but that don't change the fact that it is adultery. Absolutely no. Labels don't amount to anything.

The next thing old Herod is galloping away in his chariot and up comes his soldiers and they seize God's lionhearted preacher and lead him away. Perhaps he feels better now that God's servant is in jail, but he couldn't get away from the truth that John the Baptist, had pumped into him anymore than you can look up the winds in an air box.

One of the awful things about sin is that it grows so fast. You take one drink and by the end of the year you will be taking fifty drinks.

John the Baptist, preached repentance, and all sorts of sinners came and cried out "What must we do to be saved?"

And John told them what to do and multitudes turned from their sin.

Now, it may help us to look at some things that repentance is not "God commands all men everywhere to repent."

Repentance is not fear. Oh, a good many have a mistaken idea. They think that nobody can repent in a way that will please God until he is half scared to death. Some people think that before a man can ever become a christian he has got to be dragged to the very brink of the pit of hell, and he has got to see the fire and brimstone and look with staring eyes into the depths of iniquity.

Oh, he has got to be filled so full of fear of God that he can't sleep or eat, and he has got to be so filled with fear that he will turn pale and shiver and his teeth will rattle like castanets every time he sees a coffin. That isn't so. If a man discovers that he is on a wrong train he doesn't need to be afraid of a holdup or a wreck. Just simply step off, and say, "This is the wrong train, and get on the right."

All right, when you know you are living wrong a man doesn't need to be afraid of going to hell. He can say, "this isn't the right way to live. I am going to live right," and then he man enough to live right for God and for God's truth. That's all the Lord wants you to do.

Jesus said there was an endless hell for the sinner. He gave us one view, my friends, but that's enough. For that view he gave us was true and it wouldn't help any more if he had given us a hundred. He only pulled the curtain aside once and let us look into the pit. No attempt at frightening men and women to be repentant. Repentance doesn't come that way and if it does it doesn't last any longer than the fear. When the fear is gone religion will go with it. The man who tries to be good for fear that he will be damned if he doesn't is no more good at heart than a lion is a lamb, or a pole cat is a Guinea pig. You remove the fear of punishment and he will be about as bad as ever. Oh, you can't scare people into heaven, no more than you can drive poison from the fangs of a rattle snake by sticking a clothes pin on the end of his tail.

We have all seen, most of us, cases of death bed repentance which convinced us that they are uncertain. I do not say that none are genuine. I do say, I believe only a few. I don't condemn all.

The Bible mentions one. That was the thief on the cross, but that was the first time he ever saw Jesus Christ or ever heard him. He accepted the first invitation. Some of you old sinners have had wagon loads of sermons dumped into you. You have been going to church ten, fifteen or twenty years. You haven't yielded, so your case isn't like the thief's on the cross. This isn't the first chance you men and women have had to be Christians. If you had accepted him the first chance, I wouldn't have any sinners to preach to, for nearly everybody has had a chance to be a Christian. But this fellow was the first he ever had and he took it, so your case isn't like his.

Mind you, I don't say none are genuine, don't misunderstand me, but nine times out of ten when a man's afraid to die or a woman till the preacher has come and prayed over them let them get well and they will be as big a devil as they were before they got sick.

Jesus didn't say a word to the manhood and womanhood in you. Let's be fair. Let's use our reason and see where we stand on this proposition.

Now when the prodigal son out there in the midst of the squealing, hungry hogs came to himself he said "I am a fool! I am a fool down here in a hog pen when my father has a house with floors. I am a fool eating house beef steak. I am going to cut it out. I am going home, I am going back to my father," and he set right out for home, not because he was afraid he'd be horse-whipped if he didn't but because he knew he was doing wrong down there and he wanted to be right."

Repentance isn't conviction of sin alone. Many think it is. I have heard people say that's what it is but nobody can repent without first of all they are convicted. Nobody sends for the doctor without first of all he is convinced that he needs the doctor. Aman never will be a Christian unless he is convinced that he will be a sinner.

Now men are often deeply convicted of sin, but they go right on in sin. Sometimes they will join the church but there will be no change in their lives, and yet I have more respect for a fellow that repentance meant to them; what they had to do. Certainly they did.

If fear had been necessary, I don't believe I'd ever been saved. I wasn't frightened. I had no fear of God in that sense of the word. I had no special fear of what was to come. My conscience told me that I was wrong, and I wanted to be right, and I believe ninty-nine people out of a hundred want to be right. You will find one that don't. All right, let them go to the devil if they don't want to be right; I can't do anything to help them any more than I am.

Now, I heard an old Methodist preacher say that God had a heart like a father, and I know if God had a heart like a father and loved me and I was living in sin, that He wasn't very much to me, and I knew I'd be damned because my heart loved sin more than God, and I knew if God loved me and then I loved the thing that God hated, there wasn't much of a man about me. There isn't much of a man about you if you love and do things that you know God doesn't want you to do. There isn't very much manhood and womanhood in you. Let's be fair. Let's use our reason and see where we stand on this proposition.

Now when the prodigal son out there in the midst of the squealing, hungry hogs came to himself he said "I am a fool! I am a fool down here in a hog pen when my father has a house with floors. repentance meant to them; what they had to do. Certainly they did.

If fear had been necessary, I don't believe I'd ever been saved. I wasn't frightened. I had no fear of God in that sense of the word. I had no special fear of what was to come. My conscience told me that I was wrong, and I wanted to be right, and I believe ninty-nine people out of a hundred want to be right. You will find one that don't. All right, let them go to the devil if they don't want to be right; I can't do anything to help them any more than I am.

Now, I heard an old Methodist preacher say that God had a heart like a father, and I know if God had a heart like a father and loved me and I was living in sin, that He wasn't very much to me, and I knew I'd be damned because my heart loved sin more than God, and I knew if God loved me and then I loved the thing that God hated, there wasn't much of a man about me. There isn't much of a man about you if you love and do things that you know God doesn't want you to do. There isn't very much manhood and womanhood in you. Let's be fair. Let's use our reason and see where we stand on this proposition.

Now when the prodigal son out there in the midst of the squealing, hungry hogs came to himself he said "I am a fool! I am a fool down here in a hog pen when my father has a house with floors. I am a fool eating house beef steak. I am going to cut it out. I am going home, I am going back to my father," and he set right out for home, not because he was afraid he'd be horse-whipped if he didn't but because he knew he was doing wrong down there and he wanted to be right."

Repentance isn't conviction of sin alone. Many think it is. I have heard people say that's what it is but nobody can repent without first of all they are convicted. Nobody sends for the doctor without first of all he is convinced that he needs the doctor. Aman never will be a Christian unless he is convinced that he will be a sinner.

Now men are often deeply convicted of sin, but they go right on in sin. Sometimes they will join the church but there will be no change in their lives, and yet I have more respect for a fellow that repentance meant to them; what they had to do. Certainly they did.

REPENTANCE DISCUSSED BY BILLY SUNDAY

(Continued From Page Four) will join the church, even if he don't change his life that I have for the guy that won't join the church and won't change his life, because that man may bear something that will convert him, while this fellow won't go to church and he is sure not to hear anything. I have not more respect for him, anyway.

And sometimes they will cheat and swear and lie and commit adultery. They were convicted but they wouldn't repent and forsake their sins and without repentance and faith in Jesus Christ nobody is right with God.

Joseph's brothers were convicted when they killed the kid and dipped it in blood, sent it back to the father and said, "We found this coat. We don't know whether it belongs to Joseph or not."

They lied! They knew it was Joseph's coat. They were convicted but they didn't go home and tell their father they were here, that coat belonged to Joseph and they killed a goat and dipped it in the blood and they sold him to the Ishmaelites. They were convicted but they didn't tell their father they were lying.

So they keep right on many a time. And whenever a man knows he is wrong, he knows enough to repent. People are continually coming to these tabernacles, and going from these meetings, knowing they are sinners, as well as they know their names, as well as they know the street they live on, and yet they don't repent, they won't forsake their sins. Oh, God, pity them, my friend! And they refuse to accept Jesus Christ.

Then first make the wrongs in your life right. Start by faith in Jesus. That's the thing for you to do.

Now repentance is not feeling sorry that you have done wrong.

Don't believe there is a man or woman ever lived that did wrong that didn't feel sorry for it, especially if they get caught. I know when I was a little boy, and disobeyed my mother, oh, get, how sorry I felt when I saw her going out with a knife to cut a switch. I was sorry then. If I had been as sorry about it before, I never would have done the thing and she wouldn't have had to go and do that.

There is never a man or woman that goes wrong that doesn't feel mean about it all over. I thank God that He has so ordained that no man or woman on earth can do wrong and find happiness in wrong doing. There is no peace, saith God, to the wicked. So, there is no happiness to a sinner. I thank God that He has ordained that we can't find happiness in sin. Absolutely, you can't do it, no matter where. You never could and you never will.

There are people so convicted that they can't sleep in the world. I know men that are so convicted they are afraid to come to this tabernacle. They are afraid to put themselves under this atmosphere, and under the influence of these meetings because as a friend of mine asked a very prominent man, "Won't you come up to the tabernacle?"

He said, "Gosh, I'd like to go, but Billy will get me if I go." Isn't it horrible? Can you imagine any respectable man or any man with good brains not wanting to be decent or a Christian? I can't conceive it. No sir!

"God commands all men everywhere to repent." Repentance isn't promising that you will do better. Oh, a good many will promise they will do better and they will do it. That's reformation. Reformation is not regeneration. What you need is not a restrained nature, but a new nature. That which is flesh, no matter whether it is white flesh, or rich flesh, or poor flesh, or sober or drunk. What you need is to be born again. By the deeds of the law shall no flesh be justified in His sight.

So you promised to do better and do it. I say reform. The devil lets you promise to do better every day if you want to. If I'd ask the audience right now, "How many of you people want to do better?" I will bet, my friends, that everybody here would stand up, preachers and all. Everybody would get up.

No man ever lies without knowing that he has done wrong. He doesn't need to know about philosophy and science in order to know that he has done wrong when he lies. Listen, nobody ever takes advantage of another man in trade, then feels like a saint about it.

We call for your car and deliver same when washed. Blue Bird Filling Station, Phone 107.

No! Nobody ever ruined a trusting woman that didn't despise himself that he did. No man ever stole into another man's house and stole what that man had earned and gaped, what that reprobate didn't have the disposition or ability to earn without despising himself. Although he may never have been inside of a church, he knew what a sin it was. Nobody ever robbed a man of his wife's love and felt like a saint about it. No woman ever deceived her husband, no son ever deceived his father, but they didn't feel sorry about it. Nobody ever deceived anybody else that he didn't feel mean about it. Why? They knew it was wrong.

Now if feeling sorry was repentance, then the best repeaters in New York are up in Sing Sing. Why there isn't a man up there that isn't sorry. Sorry they broke the law, sorry that they have to take the penalty for breaking the law. That's the trouble. Sorry for that. That's the trouble with a great many today. All over, sorry promised to do better, certainly!

Repentance is more than feeling sorry and promising you will do better. Repentance is giving up the whole thing and asking God to forgive you that you ever did. That's repentance. That repentance thru God. Not to tell the people, it is none of the people's business. That might involve you and explanations wouldn't be pleasant to make. It is nobody's business.

If a man asked you to sell your soul for $10,000 you wouldn't do it, and yet you will do things that will make you lose your soul.

Use horse-sense and you will turn to God. The most reasonable thing in the world is being a Christian and doing God's will and keeping His commandments and serving Him with all the power that God gives you. Lord God commands all men everywhere to repent. So, give it up, or you will lose your soul.

Oh, it may be hard for you to come. I will admit that! Like the case of poor Queen Natalie of Servia, when the war broke out, tears streamed down her beautiful face and she said, "I am going to efface myself from the crown, and the kingdom, and the courts."

It may be hard for you to come down and say by that act, "I want to be a Christian." Did anybody think less of the Queen? No sir! She has more friends today than she ever had when she wore a crown, everywhere. "God commands all men everywhere to repent."

You may be a big man in a church in the community, yes. But that makes no difference! The unrepentant sinner will go to hell, whether he lives in a house of fifty rooms on Fifth avenue, or a hobo in a state beer joint, panhandling for a handout or mooching for a flap-jack.

God is no respecter of persons, no matter who he may be, whether he is a President in the White House or a king on a throne, or a president in a bank. God says if he doesn't repent, he will go to hell. Not I, I don't say it. God tells you. I am just telling you what the Lord says. "God commands all men everywhere to repent." You say, "Bill, I never killed anybody." Yes, but you are damning other people by staying away from Christ because they are staying away because you do.

You say, "I never committed adultery." All right, but don't leave God, come on, be a Christian. Immediately I will forsake the thing that God points out is wrong.

With Akan it was a Babylonian farm and a wedge of gold. With you it may be illicit love, pride in dealing. I don't know what it is. You say, "Bill, that isn't easy."

During the war there was one command from the United States: "Throw down your sins and surrender!"

They were willing to do the thing if they could have peace that way. They couldn't. There was one condition that General Grant hurled to Buckner at the battle of Vicksburg, "Unconditional surrender." So, here the Confederate commission came to Washington to see Lincoln to make a proposition to him, which if he and the government would accept, they would agree to close the war in forty-eight hours. Now listen! Here was the proposition, the Confederate commission put up to Lincoln. It was the old John C. Calhoun state sovereignty rights. Let every state settle the slavery question themselves. Let the states vote. If the state votes to have slaves, all right.

If they vote not to have slaves, no. All right, then I say the government hasn't any right to the whiskey business, to let each state or community settle it. It is a government question for the nation to settle and not the state. And the only reason it isn't settled, is because of dirty, stinking politicians in the country.

I will tell the gang down at Washington that's the reason they are afraid. You are afraid, politicians from the White House on down, afraid! That's one thing I have got against them. I will help fight with all the power I have got, but when they don't go square, I won't. I will deal fair. But they are not doing what the people want.

The Southern commission went to Washington, and they said, "If you let each state settle this question, we will agree to stop the war in forty-eight hours."

Lincoln listened to them and said, "Have you got anything else to propose?" They said, "Nothing, that's our ultimatum." Abe Lincoln jumped to his feet and hit the table with his first and said, "By the eternal God, the United States will take all or she will take none!"

All or none! And they fought it out on that line. All! All! All right, now listen. That's why we had hard battles, Gettysburg, Antietam. That's why rivers of blood flowed. They wouldn't repent, they wouldn't surrender, they wouldn't give up. And when they did, then we had peace. Then we called them brothers. Then we threw our arms around them and they around us. Then Grant refused to take the sword down at Appomattox. Then he said, "Keep your horses, you will need them for spring plowing."

When they said, "We will," Grant folded his arms and said the words that are above his tomb, "Let us have peace."

They yelled, "All right." You come God's way and God will shake hands with you and say "Let us have peace."

But you will have to meet under the cross. You have got to come God's way. You had to come the government's way.

All right, give up your sins, stop doing wrong, stop and consider. Stop to consider! That saved the prodigal son and sent him home. He thought of his mother and father and said, "Home is better than the hog pen."

"God commands all men everywhere to repent." God entreats some people to do things, only Christians. God doesn't entreat a sinner to do anything, he commands a sinner and entreats his sins. Give your heart to the Lord.

You ask me, "Bill, what is repentance?" Listen, it is the immediate forsaking of anything in your life that you know to be wrong. Oh, no matter what it may be. It may drive you with a whip of scorpions. It is forsaking everything you know to be wrong and asking God, for Christ's sake, to forgive you.

Begins Survey Boundary Line

Raleigh, May 10.—(AP)—Survey of the eastern section of the North Carolina-South Carolina boundary line began today when commissioners of the two states met at the coast with engineers for the task. George F. Syme, Raleigh, and Col. K. Monroe Johnson, Marion, S. C., representing the two commonwealths arranged to reproduce as nearly as possible the original survey, running the coast, westward for 45 miles to Lumber river, which is the Horry county boundary, and also the line between Columbus and Robeson counties of North Carolina.

SON OF OLD SKIPPER TAKES FATHER'S COMMAND

Seattle, Wash., (AP)—When the good ship C. S. Holmes spreads its sails for its annual cruise to Point Barrow, nearest continental point to the North Pole, there will be a Captain Backland, in command, but for the first time in 21 years it will not be Captain John Backland, Sr. Instead, the helm will be under the guidance of the veteran trader's son, Captain John, Jr., a graduate of the University of Washington. The elder Backland relinquishes control to the collegiate mariner without trepidation for the son, who is just 26, has made seven trips to Point Barrow, the last time as first mate. Captain Backland, Sr., a former minister, has never feared the dangers of the icy waters. He has steadfastly refused to carry insurance, preferring to rely on Providence to give his ship safe return.

Neither swearing nor smoking ever has been permitted aboard the Holmes, although its crew of eight men is recruited from as hardy a breed as ever went down to the sea.

Spawn of 40,000 American speckled trout from Virginia were sent this year to Germany by the U. S. bureau of fisheries.

STOMACH SPELLS

Oklahoma Lady Gives Interesting Account of Long Use of Black-Draught in Her Home.

Sageyah, Okla.—"I have taken Black-Draught ever since I was a child, and can recommend it as a splendid medicine for family use," says Mrs. Cora Maberry, of this place. "My mother used it, in bringing up her family, and after I had a home of my own, I continued to use it, as I thought it was especially good to give the children."

"My children did not mind taking Black-Draught, and so when they got upset with stomach spells, or were constipated, I gave them Black-Draught tea."

"If I found that they were taking cold, I was quick to start giving them Black-Draught, as it helped them to throw off the impurities which caused the trouble."

"My children are all grown now and have homes of their own, but I still keep Black-Draught in the house and use it myself when I wake up in the morning feeling dull and 'headachey,' and have a bad taste in my mouth."

"Black-Draught is a simple remedy for constipation, and I prefer it to others because it is purely vegetable. I always feel better after I have taken a course of it."

In use over 67 years. NC-197

NITROGEN + LIME

Gives better results than Nitrogen alone!

Lime is a necessary plant-food, and a splendid soil conditioner. A cotton crop of 500 lbs. lint cotton to the acre, requires and takes up 68 lbs. of lime and 67 lbs. of nitrogen per acre. Corn, peanuts, tobacco and other crops require lime as well as nitrogen.

CALCIUM NITRATE

(Nitrate of Lime)
15% Nitrogen 18.2% Ammonia
28% Lime (56% limestone equivalent) supplies both lime and nitrogen, in the most soluble and available form, and at the cost of the nitrogen alone! Side-dress your cotton and corn at the rate of 100-200 pounds per acre.

Many Stores To Close For Sunday Services Tomorrow

It was understood today that a majority of stores of the city would close tomorrow afternoon between 2:30 and 3:00 in order to allow employees to attend Mother's Day exercises at the Sunday tabernacle.

Mr. Sunday will deliver a special sermon on the subject of "Mother" in observance of Mother's Day, and it has been urged that as many people as possible attend.

While no concerted effort had been made today for a general closing of business houses, numbers of merchants expressed a willingness to close so that their employees may have the opportunity of attending one of the best services of the series.

generation showed that this principle has sunk deeply, and the example of the Confederate soldiers kept before them. In both the Spanish-American war and in the World War, when our men were not from the east or north or south or west, but soldiers of the United States, ready to fight in a united rank for their country.

He stated he hoped never to live to see the day when the youth of the country should not be willing to take up arms in defense of their country and to fight for it as our fathers fought for the Confederacy in 61-65.

The newer generations are loyal to the union, but they have not forgotten those heroes who fought under the Stars and Bars. Their example will remain forever as a beacon light to guide us in our allegiance and faith to the country common to us all, the United States of America.

The ten members of the Confederacy attending today's exercises were: W. A. Hyman, Franklin Jackson, John A. Lang, J. W. Ward, James Turnage, James L. Moore, Jack A. Smith, W. B. Paramore, E. F. Robertson and Mr. Renfrew.

Dorothy Mackaill and Jack Mulhall Give a Delightful Performance in "Man Crazy" at White's. (Prepared Review)
One of the most popular "teams" in motion pictures now showing at White's Theatre this week in "Man Crazy," the famous Saturday Evening Post story which appeared under the title of "Clarissa and the Post Road."

Jack Mulhall and Dorothy Mackaill make an ideal combination on the screen. They have never appeared to better advantage than in this happy romance of New England. Miss Mackaill's characterization of the daughter of aristocracy who falls in love with a truck driver on the old Boston Post road is a gem, and one that testifies to her ability as a screen actress. Mulhall, as always, gives a sincere performance, and makes the most of his opportunities in the role of Jeff, the truck pilot who takes the same pride in his speedy wagon that a horse man takes in his blooded racer.

"Man Crazy" takes us into the home of an aristocratic New England family where the daughter is forever keeping the household in hot water because of her whims. When she starts a hot-dog stand at the side of the road, her irate grandmother sends for her father, to have her put in her place. Then comes the romance with a truck driver, which caps the climax with the family, the exciting chase on the old road, and the ensuing thrilling moments.

The story is told in convincing manner, and is ably directed by John Francis Dillon. The production shows First National's usual care as to settings, lighting and photography.

A special mention should be made of the veteran stage and screen player, Edythe Chapman, as the grandmother.

"Man Crazy" is good entertainment, and Miss Mackaill and Mr. Mulhall will make many new friends.

Bremen Fliers Visit Cleveland

Philadelphia, May 10.—(AP)—The German-Irish crew of the trans-Atlantic flier Bremen started for Cleveland today, leaving the Philadelphia navy yard in the P-13, sister ship of the Bremen, at 9:13 a. m. About 500 persons were gathered at the field to see the airmen off. The weather was regarded as perfect for flying.

The ship got away virtually on time, as the fliers had set about 9 a. m. for their getaway. Baron Von Huenefeld, Captain Koehl and Major Fitzmaurice were up early despite their strenuous time yesterday when they were kept on the go from forenoon until after midnight receiving the plaudits of the people of Philadelphia.

Many naval officers were in the throng that saw the fliers off to the west. Captain Koehl took the plane up and Major Fitzmaurice waved his hand as the plane left the ground.

Favor Free Speech—Eul.

Raleigh, May 10.—(AP)—The society of Daughters of the American Revolution favors free speech but reserves right to invite whom ever it chooses to address its meeting, in the opinion of the North Carolina regent, Mrs. Charles R. Whitaker of Southern Pines. The regent, in Raleigh on D. A. R. business today, declared she knew nothing of the so-called D. A. R. blacklist except that, she had read in the papers and heard at the recent Washington D. A. R. convention. "It is not likely the Republicans will have Al Smith or Josephus Daniels as their keynote speaker," said Mrs. Whitaker, "nor the Democrats will have Coolidge or Hoover at Houston. We shall use the same right that prompts all organizations to choose sympathetic speakers."

Australia Bids Tourists. Melbourne, (AP)—Australia plans to spend about $100,000 a year for the next five years to attract tourists. The country will be advertised around the world and a director of travel has been appointed to aid tourists, who, it is estimated will spend about $20,000,000 a year.

Chassis leader of the day supreme in Beauty too

The New Hudson's distinction in vogue is adding thousands of beauty lovers to the hosts who want its supremely brilliant performance. And all are delighted to find, with all its other economies, a gasoline saving never attained by a car of its weight and size. Any new Hudson owner will be proud to tell you all about this new advantage.

The consistency of Hudson leadership is but the performance of its first principle, resolution and tradition—to always lead in value. Thus it was the first car at moderate price to give truly great performance, smoothness and reliability—the industry's standard today.

Thus it was the first in the development of American closed cars, and such smart turnouts as the Town Car and Speedster. The Coach—a Hudson invention—turned the entire industry to closed cars.

The Super-Six principle and its companion invention that turns waste heat to power, is the most efficient combination in development and transmission of power, within our knowledge.
