ARMY PLANES FORCED DOWN THIS MORNING

Two of Three Planes Bound to Rescue of Bremen Land at Maitland, N. S.

Halifax, N. S., May 14.—(AP)—Two United States army planes en route to Labrador to assist the trans-Atlantic monoplane Bremen in the resumption of her flight to New York came down at Maitland, Hants county, shortly after eleven o'clock eastern daylight time today, 56 miles short of Pictou, their announced destination.

Maitland is at the head to Cobequid Bay, an inlet of Minas basin. The planes had passed over Truro on their way to Pictou when they were seen to turn about and make for Maitland.

St. John, N. B., May 14.—(AP)—Three United States army planes, two en route to the relief of the German trans-Atlantic plane Bremen, were in St. John today. The third brought a pilot to replace one suddenly taken ill.

Two planes which flew from Washington en route for Greenly Island to aid in the completion of the Bremen's Ireland-to-New York flight, found bad flying weather here yesterday in addition to difficulties arising from the condition of Lieut. Muir Fairchild, threatened with appendicitis. His condition was not regarded as serious.

Lieut. Richard E. Cobb of the Massachusetts National Guard, in an army amphibian, flew from Boston with Lieut. Elwood Quesada, of Bolling field, Washington, to relieve Lieut. Fairchild so that the latter could be sent home for treatment. Lieut. Cobb planned to take Fairchild today to Boston where Major H. C. Davidson, commander of the Bolling field airport, would take him in a last plane to Washington. Major Davidson flew with Lieut. Quesada from Bolling field to Boston.

Major-General James E. Fechet, assistant chief of the United States army air force, planned to continue the relief flight as soon as weather conditions should permit, landing at Pictou, N. S., to refuel and fly to Long Point, Labrador, by way of St. George's, N. F. The Bremen, General Fechet has been informed, has been moved from Greenly Island to Long Point, on the Labrador coast.

General Fechet has received word that the Bremen is mechanically ready to attempt a flight to New York, and that a runway has been shovelled in the snow ready for a hop-off. The danger of milder weather, which would damage the runway and make the takeoff more difficult, led the relief expedition to plan on all possible haste.

Plans call for the Bremen's taking off with just enough fuel to carry her to St. George's, taking on a load of fuel there, the plane is expected to attempt a non-stop flight to New York, its original destination, by way of Pictou and St. John.

Should the relief planes find a landing at Long Point unfeasible, Pilot Fred Melchor will jump with a parachute in order to reach the Bremen. Melchor, chief pilot for the Junkers Company in the United States, will have charge of the Bremen's flight to New York. Capt. Ira Eaker is pilot of the second relief plane.

More Political Activity in N. C.

Raleigh, May 14.—(AP)—More activity among the political front in North Carolina was witnessed here today with the arrival of Zeb Vance Turlington, Mooresville, state manager for Cordell Hull, who announced that he planned to remain in the capital practically all of his time between now and the state convention on June 12.

Mr. Turlington expressed a hope that Dennis G. Brummitt state chairman, would call a meeting of the Democratic executive committee this week to act upon his suggestion that an informal presidential preference primary be held throughout the state in connection with the precinct meetings on May 26. A Washington dispatch quoted Brummitt as saying the proposal of Turlington could not be made effective except by approval of the committee.

"If we can only get an expression from the people," Turlington predicted Hull would get the North Carolina delegation to the national convention.

APPROVE BILL FOR BALTIMORE HARBOR

Washington, May 14.—(AP)—The House rivers and harbors committee today approved the army engineers $507,640 Baltimore harbor improvement project. It will be included in the rivers and harbors bill which the committee is drafting.

Little Warner Young Buried Last Saturday

Warner, six month old child of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Young, was buried Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Mount Pleasant churchyard. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. L. B. Jones, pastor of Methodist church of this city.

The child died Friday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, following a week's illness from colitis.

Mr. and Mrs. Young moved to Greenville from Marion, N. C., several months ago. Mr. Young is connected with construction of the new bridge across Tar river.

Tammany Hall To Observe Its Birth

New York, May 14.—(AP)—Tammany Hall will celebrate its 129th anniversary tonight with the last birthday party in historic Tammany Hall on 14th street, opened just in time to house the Democratic national convention in 1868. Next year the society hopes to be in a new home on 17th street.

Addresses by a Protestant, a Catholic and a Jew will be features of the occasion. George Gordon Battle, James J. O'Gorman, Jr., and Jonah J. Goldstein will be the speakers.

EIGHT DIE AT R. R. CROSSING

Two Cars Crash Into Train Near Erie, Penn.; Five Others Seriously Injured.

Erie, Pa., May 14.—(AP)—A baby is the sole surviving member of a family of seven and a father and son of another family also here dead as the result of two automobiles crashing into a Pennsylvania railroad train at Espsville, near here, five others were injured, one perhaps fatally.

The tragedy occurred yesterday and is said to have been the result of an impromptu race between the two automobiles.

The dead are Mr. and Mrs. Clara Hays of North Shenango and their four sons, 10, 7, 4, and 3 years; Ward Thomas, 60, of Pennsboro, and his son, William, 32, of Albion.

The injured are Mrs. Ward Thomas, who suffered a fractured skull and is not expected to survive at an Erie hospital; the two year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hays; William Thompson and her two children, Monnie Thomas, 24, son of Ward Thomas, was also in the Thomas machine but was unharmed.

The locomotive was badly damaged and required three hours to get to Erie, a distance of 35 miles.

CHAPEL HILL GARAGE DESTROYED BY FIRE

Chapel Hill, May 14.—(AP)—Fire of unknown origin destroyed the Pendercraft Garage here early this morning with an estimated loss of $35,000. The blaze was discovered after it had gained too much headway to be stopped. Exploding gasoline tanks hindered the work of firemen. Approximately half the loss was believed to have been covered by insurance.

FIVE KILLED WHEN TRAIN HITS TRUCK

Chadbourne, N. C., May 14.—(AP)—Five persons were killed and five injured, one perhaps fatally, four were seriously injured and more than ten others had escaped today with minor cuts in a grade crossing accident here.

A truck carrying about 25 persons home from Sunday school was demolished by an Atlantic Coast Line passenger train yesterday. Five died on the scene and a sixth succumbed enroute to a hospital. Ten of the most seriously injured were carried to a Wilmington hospital, and the others to hospitals in Lumberton.

The dead are Mary and Chester Bullard, Eddie Callahan, Bertie Best and Rosa Ellis. Injured: E. C. Bullard and T. Stanley in Wilmington hospital, will recover. Loie Bullard, fractured skull, not expected to live; Donnie Mae Callahan and Mattie Lee Ellis in hospital at Lumberton.

Witnesses of the tragedy said the driver apparently did not see the approaching train. All of the dead and injured lived in this vicinity.

Pittsburg Lawyer Kills Husband of Stenographer While at Sunday School

Pittsburg, May 14.—(AP)—Fred J. Tyrrell, 53, superintendent of the Sunday school of the first Christian church in Munnhall, a suburb, was in the Allegheny county jail today charged with murder.

Just as Sunday school was about to convene three shots rang out in the auditorium and Phillip F. Clark, 36, of Homestead, for whose wife Tyrrell was attorney in a divorce suit, dropped dead. Mrs. Clark sings in the church choir.

Tyrrell ran from the church, and was arrested later in his home. One bullet entered Clark's left temple, another near the mouth and a third shattered his watch. He leaves a wife and a nine-year-old son. Tyrrell has a wife and six children.

A year ago Tyrrell filed suit in behalf of Mrs. Hazel Clark for divorce, alleging cruel and barbarous treatment. Mrs. Clark has worked since in Tyrrell's law office.

Church officials said that Clark had repeatedly requested the resignation of Tyrrell as superintendent, saying he was not fit person for such a position. Because Tyrrell had failed to resign, the police were informed. Clark was lodging charges against Tyrrell with church officials just before the shooting.

About a score of persons were in the church. Witnesses said Clark was talking with John Hannly, a church committeeman, when Tyrrell left the pulpit, where he had been preparing lessons for the classes, walked to within five feet of Clark, pulled a pistol from his pocket and fired.

Warning those present "keep out of this or you'll get shot, too," he rushed to the door, witnesses said, and drove away in his automobile.

After his arrest Tyrrell refused to make a statement. Police were informed that Clark had several times accused Tyrrell of being a "home breaker."

David B. Crawford, a member of the church board, said that trouble had been expected between the men for several months, and that at one time Tyrrell came to church guarded by the three private detectives, saying that Clark had threatened him.

Mrs. Clark was a block away, bound for church, when the shooting occurred. She was under the care of a physician today. Tyrrell's home was in Mifflin township.

Crawford said that Clark appeared before the church board three months ago, and complained that Tyrrell was a "home breaker." The board refused to take action, advising that Clark carry his complaint to a civil court.

Curtis Artman, brother of Mrs. Clark, issued this statement: Mrs. Clark wishes to state there is absolutely no connection existing between her and Mr. Tyrrell, except in a business nature, he being her attorney.

Washington, May 14.—(AP)—Moonshiners must quit making liquor or leave the beautiful mountains of Western North Carolina.

This was the ultimatum of Federal Judge E. Yates Webb in charging the U. S. grand jury for the opening of the two weeks' spring criminal term of federal district court here today.

"I know that North Carolina is now and forever will be committed to enforcement of the prohibition laws. There is no argument for liquor," Judge Webb added. "I've heard the question argued for 40 years and there is not a word to say to me about it but the liquor traffic is a curse to mankind. Since North Carolina went dry by 45,000 votes two decades ago, we have built the marvelous road system, and the fine schools for which the state has now finished—and paid for them in a large sense, with the $4,000,000 a year we once spent for liquor.

"Nothing has been done of more benefit to the negro race since the emancipation proclamation than the passage of the prohibition law."

The docket for the term embraces more than 550 cases, most of them liquor cases.

Car Fare Issue Faces Showdown In New York Today

Washington, May 14.—(AP)—New York city's five cent fare issue faced another showdown today—in the highest court of the land.

Returning from a two week's recess, the supreme court found among other things awaiting its attention the motion made by the New York metropolis and its transit commission to stay the temporary increase from five to seven cents allowed the Interborough Rapid Transit Company on its subway and elevated lines by a federal statutory court of three judges.

ARCTIC FLYERS WAIT FOR GOOD WEATHER

GRIMESLAND MAN SUICIDE

J. S. Arnold Shot Himself to Death Sunday as Result of Domestic Trouble.

James S. Arnold, 29, Grimesland barber, committed suicide Sunday afternoon about 3:30 o'clock by firing three pistol bullets through his heart. Death was believed to have been instantaneous. Domestic troubles were given as cause of the tragedy.

The suicide occurred on the outskirts of Grimesland where the young man had driven a brand new automobile, presumably with suicide in mind at the time. The car was set afire, after which three shots from a pistol were fired into his body.

The lifeless body of Arnold was found about fifteen minutes after the tragedy occurred by persons residing in the neighborhood.

Funeral services were conducted from the Grimesland Methodist church this afternoon at 3 o'clock by Rev. G. G. Whitehurst, pastor.

Burial took place at Greenwood cemetery, this city.

Active pall bearers were: J. H. Clark, J. E. Edwards, A. F. Fleming, Robert Wilson, Lyman Edwards, John Mobley.

Mr. Arnold was the son of J. H. Arnold, well known Grimesland man. He is survived by, besides his father and mother, six sisters and three brothers.

A note is said to have been left by Mr. Arnold giving reasons for taking his life, but only minor details had been divulged today by those to whom it was addressed.

Joyner Infant Died Yesterday

James Luther, 10 months old child of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Joyner, of Eighth street, succumbed after a week's illness yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. Funeral services were conducted at two o'clock this afternoon by Rev. Mr. Roberts, of the Primitive Baptist church.

Burial followed in the family burying ground, near Red Banks church.

Besides a mother and father, the child is survived by one sister, age seven.

Probe Shelling Of Fishing Boat

Charleston, S. C., May 14.—(AP)—Lieut. G. B. Lofberg, of Washington, and Lieut. Paul Collins, of Charleston, U. S. Coast Guard officers, went to Beaufort this morning to make official investigation of the circumstances surrounding the recent shelling by a coast guard cutter of a fishing boat, manned by Major Charles Elliott, and Herman Von Harten.

Some boatswain's mate Carl Soderberg and his crew, of the rum chaser No. 221, proceeded to the scene in their boat, from which the fishing craft was fired upon about two weeks ago, in an effort to halt the fishing boat.

The Beaufort men claimed they were fired upon without warning and that one shot had struck their boat. The coast guard version, was that shots had been fired only across the bow of the other craft, orders to heave to were unheeded. They deny any shots struck the fishing boat.

BEGINS FLIGHT TO S. AFRICA

Baltimore Publisher Hopped off From Croydon, England, Early This Morning.

Croydon, England, May 14.—(AP)—Van Lear Black, Baltimore publisher, today was speeding along the first leg of an air journey of 48,000 miles to Cape Town, South Africa, Tokyo and return—the longest taxi flight ever made. He planned to make his first stop at Venice, some 700 miles from Croydon.

Before he hopped off at 6:34 a. m., Mr. Black said, "Somewhat had to work hard all my life and now that I have a little leisure, I intend to see much of the world as quickly as I can. This is the main reason for my flight, but I mean also to visit centers of various industries in which I am interested."

The flight is being made under very favorable weather conditions. The weather was calm and fine with a certain amount of the morning mist. The favorable conditions were indicated to be generally favorable along the airline to Paris.

Nine Drown When Fishing Boat Sinks

Rockwood, Maine, May 14.—(AP)—Eight members of a fishing party from Brockton, Mass., and Sam Buddin, of Greenville, Maine, were drowned late yesterday afternoon, when a motor boat in which Buddin was taking them to Tom Hegan Camps, sprung a leak. The engine stopped and the boat filled with water and sank.

Chief Charles Daley, of the Brockton fire department, the ninth member of the party from that city, was the only person saved, and he was so unnerved this morning from his experience, that he was unable to give a very detailed narrative of the catastrophe.

EVANGELIST DRAWS GREAT CROWDS HERE

Between Ten and Twelve Thousand People Attend Two Services Yesterday.

Between ten and twelve thousand persons from many sections of Eastern Carolina heard "Billy" Sunday in two services at the tabernacle yesterday afternoon and last night. They were probably the greatest services of the campaign and resulted in the raising of the final money with which to defray campaign expenses.

Last night Mr. Sunday spoke on the subject of "What shall the end be of them that obey not the Gospel of God?" It was a graphic portrayal of the terrors of hell that await those who break faith with the Maker of the universe.

Yesterday afternoon, he spoke to a second great gathering of men. Members of the Red Men of Eastern Carolina were guests of honor. About seven hundred of them, headed by a band, marched to the tabernacle where special seats had been roped off and cheered lustily as the evangelist paid his respects to forms of vice that are doing so much to undermine civilization.

One of the crowning features of the preliminary service was the presentation of a wampum bag to Sunday by the Sachem of the Greenville lodge. Four members of the organization mounted the platform where Mr. Sunday was standing, unfurled a large American flag, repeated words of allegiance to the order, and in appropriate form presented the presentation of the bag containing several bills.

"You represent the principals which this order stands for," the speaker told the evangelist, "and I recognize of this fact we wish to bestow upon you the highest honor it is in our power to bestow upon an individual." Words of allegiance to the flag were accompanied by three deafening reports from a three-barreled salute from a band sitting directly in front of the platform.

B. B. Sugg, chairman of the Finance Committee called for contributions to clear up expenses in connection with the meeting. This obligation was realized with last night's offering. Today members of the committee issued an announcement in which they expressed their appreciation of the hearty support and cooperation given by the people of the city and locality. Campaign expenses totaled $7,000.

At conclusion of both services the evangelist extended the invitation and many made their way down the aisle to make a public profession of faith.

Song services were inspirational as any preceding Sunday. The choir left on both occasions was filled, and especially in the afternoon when male voices cut loose so lustily it seemed the top of the building would be lifted from the rafters.

Rev. R. J. Bamber, pastor of Eighth Street Christian church, announced that church of the city had abandoned all services during the remainder of the Sunday campaign. They will unite in morning and evening services at the tabernacle.

The vastness of eternity was pictured in no unmistakable terms by Mr. Sunday last night. He dwelt at length upon the infinity of God, showing that time goes on and on. "You think eternity is way off yonder. You think it ends, but it goes on an on. If I take 1,000,000 and subtract 500,000 there is an answer; if I take 100,000,000 and subtract 1,000,000, there is my answer. I might take an undecillion or septillion of years from eternity and I wouldn't so much as disturb its original terms.

The sermon to men yesterday afternoon follows:

Text: "Rejoice, O young man, in thy youth, and let thy heart cheer thee in the days of thy youth, and walk in the ways of thine heart; but know thou, that for all these things God will bring thee to judgment."—Ecclesiastes 11:9.

"Be not deceived; God is not mocked; for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap."—Galatians 6:7.

In other words, do just as you please, lie if you want to, steal if you want to; God won't stop you, but He will hold you responsible in the end. Do just as you please until the end comes, and then you are all in.

No one is living in ignorance of what will become of him if he does not go right and trot square. He knows there is a heaven for the saved and a hell for the damned, and that's all there is to it. Many men start out on a life of pleasure. Please remember two things: First, pleasures soon have an end; and, second, there is a day of judgment coming and you'll get what's coming to you. God gives every man a square deal.

If a man stood up and told me he was going to preach on the (Continued on Page Four.)

GREENVILLE WINS EXTRA INNING GAME

Greenville won the final game of the series from Goldsboro Saturday afternoon by the score of 5 to 4.

It was Boucher's home run in the eleventh frame that gave the locals the victory.

After both clubs had been hopelessly tied since the seventh inning, the Tobaccoist catcher strolled leisurely up to the rubber and clouted the old apple over the left field fence for the final and concluding tally.

It was a thrilling climax to a game featured by sensational and erratic fielding and it was the end of a beautiful day for the club which the day before had gone down in defeat.

Carver hurled wonderful effective ball for Goldsboro, striking out nine men and allowing only eight hits. Dudley and Allen appeared on the firing line for the Tobaccoists.

Camp gave Goldsboro two of their runs by a wallop over right field fence in the first inning.

Greenville people will have an opportunity of seeing the first game in a week today when the Tobaccoists and Kinston open a two game series.

Only a short time ago Kinston and Greenville were battling for the cellar, but now the Tobaccoists are away up in the standing of clubs and Kinston holds undisputed rights to the bottom of the column.

The box score of Saturday's game follows:

High Point Steps Out in Piedmont

Changes in the league standings in the Piedmont circuit are almost as frequent as changes in scheduled last week seeing some last division clubs mounting to the top.

The High Pointers won five straight games and jumped from fourth place to the leadership of the league.

After leading the league since the season opened, Salisbury experienced a disastrous week, losing four of the five contests staged and dropped into a tie with Winston-Salem for third place.

Minus the services of Manager Viox, out of the game because of injuries, the Raleigh Capitals lost five games and had a precipitous drop from second to fifth place.

The league leading Asheville club had a fair week, winning four and losing three to match Spartanburg's work.

CINCINNATI GRABS LEAD IN NATIONAL

By the Associated Press. Beaten in the hostile haunts of the porcupine Cubs, John McGraw's New York Giants have yielded the National League leadership to the Cincinnati Reds.

Jack Hendricks crew moved up to the head of the class yesterday by defeating the hapless Phillies, 11 to 4, while the Giants were losing their second game in a row to the Chicago Cubs, 5 to 5.

The Reds gained their victory by the simple expedient of making 17 hits off three Phil pitchers. Carl Mays pitched well for the first time in three weeks.

Three errors by Travis Jackson sent the Giants down to defeat at Wrigley field in a wild game that marked the Cubs' eighth straight victory.

At Brooklyn the Dodgers broke a five game losing streak by beating the Pittsburgh Pirates 8 to 5.

George Uhl turned in a one hit pitching clinic at Cleveland as the Indians downed the Philadelphia Athletics for the second day in a row, 2 to 0.

Four singles, a base on balls and a sacrifice fly gave the New York Yankees four runs in the first inning and the champions coasted to win from Detroit 7 to 2.

The Senators blasted three White Sox pitchers for 16 hits in an easy 10 to 3 victory at Washington.

SPORTS SLANT'S

By ALAN J. GOULD

Associated Press Sports Editor. New York, May 14.—(AP)—While the heavyweight champion, Gene Tunney, has gone in to the seclusion of his Speculator camp to prepare for the season's biggest fight...

Mandell will take his world's title out of storage and defend it in a 15-round match against the sharp shooting Irish lad for the second time since he won it from the veteran Rocky Karpas.

McLarnin can hit. Sid Terris, Kid Koshlan and a few others will testify that the "Baby Face" youth packs a punch like the kick of a mule.

It will be the biggest money battle for the lightweight crown since Benny Leonard's last scrap with Lew Tander in 1923. It also should be the most spectacular title bout in the division since Benny was giving his southpaw rival a few punching lessons.

McLarnin, although the challenger, probably will enter the ring a slight favorite over sleek-haired Sammy. This will be due largely to the fact that the shifty little Irishman has been more in the limelight...

For all his inactivity in title competition, however, Mandell will be far from an easy mark for McLarnin and his famous K. O. punch in the estimation of many critics.

Sammy is more experienced than his rival, a seasoned campaigner, fast and shifty. McLarnin probably won't find the champion's chin as fragile and as easy to crack as that of Terris.

The closing of last week's play in the Eastern Carolina League was featured by a general shake-up in the Kinston Club, as a result of which the Steamers announced the release of Manager Paul Bennett...

Since 1912, when this little Scandinavian nation first made a big dent in the Olympic surface, it has been little short of a procession for Finland's distance running aces.

Kolemaninen, Nurmi and Ritola are the Big Three so far as the history of the 5,000 and 10,000-meter races is concerned.

France alone has given the Finns a real tussle in either of these long distance features since they first were put on the program.

From all accounts that 5,000-meter final 16 years ago was one of the greatest distance races ever run.

Another Frenchman, Josef Guilleminot, broke the Finnish streak in 1920 by beating Nurmi, then only 19 years old, in the 5,000-meter race at Antwerp and handing Paavo his only Olympic setback.

Eight teams this week will hook up in the semi-final eastern and western divisions of the annual state high school baseball elimination series.

George Uhl turned in a one hit pitching clinic at Cleveland as the Indians downed the Philadelphia Athletics for the second day in a row, 2 to 0.

Four singles, a base on balls and a sacrifice fly gave the New York Yankees four runs in the first inning and the champions coasted to win from Detroit 7 to 2.

The Senators blasted three White Sox pitchers for 16 hits in an easy 10 to 3 victory at Washington.

AMERICAN GIRL GOLFER AFTER BRITISH CROWN

Hunstanton, England, May 14.—(AP)—Miss Glenna Collett, the former American champion, scored her second victory of the day in the British women's golf championship by overwhelming Miss Shirley Lamplough, 18-year-old English girl, 7 up and 6 to play after having eliminated the defending titleholder, Miss Thion de Chaume.

By a freak of the draw the two stars were forced to play in the first round of the play. The French girl won the title last year, marking the first departure of the cup from British possession.

The champion was off in front by taking the first hole. The American challenger came back at the second to square accounts but after the third was halved, Miss Thion again took the lead at the fourth.

The fifth and sixth were halved and Miss Collett squared the match again at the seventh. Glenna lost control at the eighth and sent three a nine. She was not confused by Anne. She was not confused by

Want Pardon For Negro. Raleigh, May 14.—(AP)—Counsel for Alvin Mansel, negro, doing a life term for attacking a woman flower-peddler at Oteen hospital, Asheville, today visited Parole Commissioner Bridges and told him they would petition Governor McLean to parole Mansel later. Mansel was convicted in trial at Asheville and sentenced to die. The Governor commuted the sentence to life imprisonment. Mr. Bridges said Mansel's counsel would argue and present evidence to show that Mansel was not guilty of the crime. There was some talk last year that Broadus Miller, another negro shot down by a posse hunting him near Morganton, in connection with the death of a young girl, was connected with the crime for which Mansel was convicted.

Woman and Border Held For Attempt To Kill Husband

Patchoe, N. Y., May 14.—(AP)—A house wife and border were in the Nassau county jail today charged with plotting to hire a gunman to kill the woman's husband for $100 and a share in the insurance. Police said that Mrs. Iva Austin, 28, confided to a truckman that she wished she knew a gunman. The truck driver told police, and Deputy Sheriff Charles Barcellona, masquerading as a gunman, talked with Mrs. Austin. Barcellona said he was given $20 and promised $80 more and a share in the $4,000 life insurance carried by Austin.

EXCITED BY BRUSH FIRE AUTO RACER SHOTS SELF

Los Angeles, May 14.—(AP)—A veteran and steel nerved racing car pilot, who during a career of many years on the fastest board tracks of the country, laughed at death and lived a life of chance, today was dead, sheriff's deputies said, become excited over a small brush fire on his mountain cabin site. Dave Lewis, who jockeyed speeding automobiles with Barney Oldfield, Teddy Tetselaf, Eddie Rickenbacker and others of the old school was found dead yesterday on his San Francisco canyon ranch. Although his relatives scoffed at the report of officers that he had lost his head and killed himself when a brush fire he had started got out of control, the deputies said they were convinced that the veteran driver had become excited when he thought he had started a dangerous fire and shot himself.

N. J. Primary Draws Interest

Newark, N. J., May 14.—(AP)—Election of delegates to the national party convention in New Jersey's primary tomorrow has been completely overshadowed by the fight for senatorial and gubernatorial nominations in the Republican ranks. There is no contest among the Democrats.

Governor Smith of New York has no opposition for the state's 28 votes at the Houston convention. Thirty-two delegates will be elected. Eight delegates at large will have half a vote each.

Hoover's name is the only one of the Republican ballot for presidential preference, but the vote is not binding on the delegates. Most of the candidates for Republican delegates favor Hoover. Thirty-one delegates will be elected, each with a full vote. George G. Bates, negro candidate for delegate at large, favors. In one district there is a Lowden-Hoover contest, in another a Coolidge-Lowden contest with Hoover as second choice.

SEVEN HAVE NARROW ESCAPE FROM DROWNING

Washington, May 14.—(AP)—Pitched into the cold waters of the Potomac when their gasoline launch struck a snag in the river here, four young girls and three men saved their lives last night by swimming to a support of a railroad bridge fifteen feet away and holding for nearly an hour until rescued.

Trains running over the bridge drowned out their cries for help and hundreds of Sunday motorists driving around the Potomac Park speedway were unaware of the shivering group in the river nearby.

A woman finally heard the cries and started the rescue efforts. A boat was sent to the scene and took all on board just as one of the young women was about to go into hysterics. All but one, Jack White, 24, of Annapolis, Md., gave Washington addresses which, upon investigation, proved fictitious.

Illinois Bomber Has Disappeared

Ottawa, Ill., May 14.—(AP)—Hiram Reed's testimony at his trial for bombing the Pleasant Valley School and the resultant serious injury of Miss Iola Bradford, the teacher, has disappeared. Reed is at liberty under bond pending appeal from a verdict of guilty and sentence of from 1 to 25 years' imprisonment.

Mrs. Josephine Phelps, court reporter, and Russell O. Hanson, state's attorney, confirmed reports that the testimony, which covered one entire day of the trial, has either been misplaced or stolen. The state's attorney expressed the opinion that the court may supply an affidavit of the testimony without seriously complicating the appeal.

DISCUSS PLANS FOR MERGER GAS COMPANIES

New York, May 14.—(AP)—Plans for a merger of the Brooklyn Edison and Consolidated Gas Companies of New York will be submitted to directors of both institutions at separate meetings tomorrow.

While officials of both companies declined to discuss terms in advance of the meetings, Wall Street understands that one share of Brooklyn Edison stock, now selling around $265, will be exchanged for one share of Consolidated Gas common, currently quoted around $168, and one share of preferred, selling around $102.

DESECRATING A TOMB

The attack made by Walter C. Mabie of Philadelphia, national commander of the Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War, on Mayor Walker for participating in the unveiling of the Lee statue at Stone Mountain memorial and the reflections he cast on the spotless character of General Robert E. Lee are not apt to strike a responsive chord anywhere in America. Mr. Mabie was an unfortunate selection for speaker at exercises held Sunday at the monument on Riverside Drive in New York to commemorate the 106th anniversary of the birth of General Ulysses S. Grant.

The son of a veteran spoke in words of hatred as he stood on the tomb of a leader who bore no hatred. He desecrated the grave of the warrior and man the South and North both love and respect and he judged harshly the cause for which Robert E. Lee unsheathed his sword, although Grant honored both that leader and his cause.

In the shadow of the lofty dome on which is inscribed the hero's own words, "Let Us Have Peace," he came to loosen the bonds which bind the North and South together and permit them to glory in the heroes who wore the Blue and the heroes who fought in the Gray.

The son of a veteran, it is unthinkable that Mr. Mabie was ever a soldier himself and that he could speak in such belittling terms of his opponents 63 years after Appomattox.

He speaks in contempt of a "dishonored Confederacy," of which historians speak gently as the "Lost Cause." He terms "an arch traitor" that beloved Virginian whose statue stands in the American Hall of Fame at Washington beside that of George Washington.

He forgets that General Grant returned the sword which Robert E. Lee surrendered, that he permitted the Southern soldiers to keep their horses in order that they might go home and hitch them to the plow. Perhaps he does not know that Grant threatened to turn his victorious army on Washington itself unless the less charitable leaders of the North allowed the terms of his peace treaty to be carried out in full.

Grant was a soldier and a patriot. He won his fight with the enemy, but he bore no grudges against the vanquished South.

Mr. Mabie is a "windjammer" who comes three score years after the fight to bemean his father's opponent in an attempt to arouse the bitter feeling which, with the great leaders on both sides, hardly lasted until the smoke of the battles had cleared away. Nassau Daily Review, Long Island, N. Y.

ABOUT TOWN

"Red Men of America believe Billy Sunday is the greatest exponent of the Bible in the world today," a member of the organization told the writer yesterday afternoon following services to men at the tabernacle.

"Mr. Sunday knows the truth and speaks it. His language isn't always ornamental, but it expresses his meaning in plain and convincing form, and after all, that's what the masses need.

"Greenville and Eastern North Carolina should derive great benefit from the visit of this world-famous character. Hundreds of young people who have gripped hands with him at the expiration of some services, will profit in the years to come by the sound logic such as Billy Sunday alone is capable of presenting."

"Another ball game to the good." This expression came from a local fan today, as he looked forward to this afternoon's contest with Kingston with more than passing interest.

"This is the first time Kingston has played on the local lot. With a general shake-up reported in the club, it looks like Greenville ought to be able to take the visitors in tow and clinch two more games.

"But you can never tell how an old ball game is coming out. It is the unexpected that always happens.

"And it is the unexpected that may happen this afternoon, although we are squeezing an old rabbit's foot real tight in hope of enabling the boys to chalk up another victory."

"Billy Sunday yesterday took another dig at Al Smith, New York Governor, who is a candidate for the presidency of the United States," some one remarked today.

"By his own admission, the evangelist has not declared war on the man, but the things he represents. No wet can enter the doors of the White House on any ticket, and I'll fight them 'till hell freezes over, and then get some skates and keep on fighting them," he told a gathering of five thousand men yesterday afternoon.

"It was one of Mr. Sunday's favorite methods of attack on the wet element, and he skinned them until not a bid hid was left.

"With a few more supporters as prominent in other fields as the evangelist is in his field, the dries should be able to wipe out all signs of whiskey."

"Watch Greenville grow," invited one of our prominent real estate dealers today.

things I am this afternoon. I'd want him to answer me several questions, and if he could do that, I'd tell him to go ahead.
First-Are you kindly disposed toward me?
Second-Are you doing this to help me?
Third-Do you know what you are talking about?
Fourth-Do you practice what you preach?
That's fair. Well, for the first, God knows I am kindly disposed to you. Second, God knows I would do anything in my power to help you be a better man. I want to make it easier for you to be square, and harder for you to go to hell. Third, I know what I'm talking about, for I have the Bible to back me up in parts and the statements of eminent physicians in other parts.
And fourth, "Do I practice what I preach?" I will defy and challenge any man or woman on earth and I'll look any man in the eye and challenge him, in the thirty-eight years I have been a professing Christian, to know anything against me.
"If I don't live what I preach, gentlemen, I'll leave the pulpit and never walk back here again. I live as I preach, and I defy the dirty dogs who have insulted me and my wife and spread black-hearted lies and vilifications.
I was born and bred on a farm and at the age of 11 I held my place with men in the harvest field. When I was only 9 years old I milked ten cows every morning.
I know what hard knocks are. I have seen the seamy side of life. I have crawled out of the sewers and squalor and want. I have struggled ever since I was six years old, an orphan son of a dead soldier, up to this pulpit this afternoon.

I know what it is to go to bed with an honest dollar in my overalls pocket, when the Goddess of Liberty became a Jenny Lind and the eagle on the other side became a nightingale and one-eyed sing a poor homeless orphan boy to sleep, I'm not here to explode hot air and theories to you.
Some men here in town, of their wife asked them if they were coming down here, would say, "Oh, no, I don't want to go anywhere I can't take you, dear."

The dirty old dogs, they've been many a place they wouldn't take their wife and they wouldn't even let their own kids were there.
If sin weren't so deceitful it wouldn't be so attractive. The effects get stronger while you get weaker and weaker all the time, and there is less chance of breaking away.
Many things a Christian has to be a sort of dishtar proposition, a wishy-washy, sissified sort of a galoot that lets everybody make a doormat out of him. Let me tell you, the manliest man is the man who will acknowledge Jesus Christ. Before I was converted I could go five rounds so fast that you couldn't see me for the dust, and I'm still pretty handy with my dukes, and I can still deliver the goods with all express charges prepaid.

Before I was converted I could run 100 yards in ten seconds, and circle the bases in fourteen seconds, and I could run just as fast after I was converted. So you don't have to be a dishtar proposition after all.
I remember when I was secretary of the Y. M. C. A. in Chicago. I had the saloon route. I had to go around and give tickets inviting men to come to the Y. M. C. A. services.

"And one day I was told to count the men going into a certain saloon. Not the ones already in, but just those going in. In sixty-two minutes I could count just 1,004 men going in there.
Story of a Friend Who Became a Drunkard.
I went in there and met a fellow who used to be my sidekick out in Iowa, and he threw down a mint julep while I stood there, and I asked him what he was doing.

"Oh, just came down to the theatre," he said, "and came over for a drink between acts."
"Who you are three sheets in the wind now," I said, and then an old drunkum bum, with a little threadbare coat, a straw hat, no vest, pants torn, toes sticking out through his torn shoes, and several weeks' growth of beard on his face, came in and said to the bartender:

"For God's sake, can't you give an old bum a drink of whiskey to warm up on?"
And the bartender poured him out a big glass and he gulped it down. He pulled his hat down and slouched out.
I said to my friend: "George, do you see that old drunkum bum, down and out? There was a time when he was just like you."

No drunkard ever intended to be a drunkard. Every drunkard intended to be a moderate drinker.
"O, you're unduly excited over my welfare," he said. "I never expect to get that far."
"Neither did that bum," I answered.

I was standing on another corner less than eight months ago, and I saw a bum coming along with head down, his eyes bloodshot, his face bloated, and he panhandled me for a flapjack before I recognized him. It was George. He had lost his job and was on the toboggan slide hitting it for hell.

I say, if sin wasn't so deceitful it would not be so attractive. Every added drink makes it harder.
Christianity is the capital on which you build your character. Don't let the devil fool you. You never become a man until you become a Christian.

Christianity is the capital on which you do business. It's your character that gets you people out about you, but your character is what God and your wife and the angels know about you, and know you to be. Many have reputations of good being, but their characters would make a black mark on a piece of coal or tarred paper.

Trusted Him in Vaults of Bank.
I was over in Terre Haute, Ind., not long ago and I was in a bank there admiring the beauty of it, when the vice-president, Mr. McCormick, a friend of mine, said:
"Bill, you haven't seen the vaults, yet," and he opened up the vaults there, carefully contrived against burglars, and let me in. There were three, and I wandered from one to another. No one watched me. I could have filled my pockets with gold and silver, but no one watched me.

Why did they trust me? Because they knew I was preaching the gospel of Jesus Christ, and living it. That's why they trusted me. There was a time in my life when a man wouldn't trust me with a yellow dog on a corner fifteen minutes.
What are some people going to do about the judgment? Some are just in life for the money they get out of it. They will tell you north is south if they think they can get a dollar by it. They float get-rich-quick schemes and anything for money.

I haven't a word to say about a man who has earned his money honestly and is using it to provide for his family and spending the surplus for good.
You know there is a bunch of mutts that sit around on stools, and whittle and spit and cuss and damn and say that every man who has an honest dollar ought to divide it with them, while others get out and get busy and work and you have to hot-foot it.

I've stood for more sneers and scoffs and insults, and had my life threatened from one end of the land to the other by this God-forsaken gang of thugs and cutthroats because I have come out uncompromisingly against them. I've taken more dirty, vile insults from this lowdown bunch than from anyone on earth, but there is no one that will reach down lower or reach up higher or wider to help out of the pits of drunkenness than I.

You say you can't prohibit men from drinking. Why, if Jesus Christ was here today some of you would keep on in sin just the same.
But the law can be enforced against whiskey just the same as it can be enforced against anything else, if you have honest officials to enforce it.

Of course, it doesn't prohibit there isn't a law on the books of the state that prohibits. We have law against murder. Do they prohibit? We have laws against burglary. Do they prohibit? We have laws against arson, rape, but they do not prohibit.

Would you introduce a bill to repeal all the laws that do not prohibit? Any law will prohibit to a certain extent, if honest officials enforce it. But no law will absolutely prohibit. We can make a law against liquor prohibit as much as any law prohibits.
Or would you introduce a bill saying if you pay $1,000 a year you can kill anyone you don't like; or by paying $500 a year you can attack any girl you want to; or by paying $100 a year you can steal anything that suits you?—that's what you do with the dirtiest, rottenest gangs this side of hell.

You say for so much a year you can have a license to make stargazing, reeling, drunken sois, murderers, and thieves and vagabonds.
You say, "Bill, you are too hard on whiskey."
I don't agree. Not on your life. There was a fellow going along the pike and a farmer's dog ran snapping at him. He tried to drive it back with a pitchfork he carried, and failing to do so, he pinned it to the ground with the prongs. Out came the farmer.

"Hey, why don't you use the other end of that fork?"
He answered, "Why didn't the dog come at me with the other end?"
Tell Story of His Conversion.
So if these dirty dogs come at me, I'll come back. I don't intend to go off at a tangent and I'll leave it with these remarks.

Thirty-eight years ago I walked down a street in Chicago in company with some ball players who were famous in this world (some of them are dead now), and we went into a saloon.
It was Sunday afternoon and we got tanked up—and then went and sat down on a corner. I never go by that street without thanking God for saving me. It was a vacant lot at that time.

We sat down on a curbing. And across the street a company of men and women were playing on instruments—horns, flutes and slide trombones—and the others were singing the gospel hymns that I used to hear my mother sing back in the log cabin in Iowa, and back in the old church where I used to go to Sunday school.

And God painted on the canvas of my recollection and memory a vivid picture of the scenes of other days and other faces.
Many have long since turned to dust. I sobbed and sobbed, and a young man stepped out and said:
"We are going down to the Pacific Garden mission; won't you come down to the mission? I am sure you will enjoy it. You can hear drunkard tell how they have been saved and girls tell how they have been saved from the red light district."

I arose and said to the boys:
"I'm through. I am going to Jesus Christ. We've come to the parting of the ways, and I turned my back on them. Some of them laughed and some of them mocked me; one of them gave me encouragement; others never said a word.
Thirty-eight years ago I turned and left that little group on the corner of State and Madison streets and walked to the little mission and fell on my knees and staggered out of sin and into the arms of the Saviour.

I went over to the west side of Chicago, where I was keeping company with a girl, now my wife, Nell. I married Nell. She was a Presbyterian; so am I a Presbyterian. If she had been a Catholic, I would have been a Catholic—because I was hot on the trail of Nell.

The next day I had to go out to the ball park and practice. Every morning at 10 o'clock we had to be out there and practice. I never slept that night. I was afraid of the horse-laugh that gang would give me because I had taken my stand for Jesus Christ.
I walked down to the old ball grounds. I will never forget it. I slipped my key into the wicket gate and the first man to meet me after I got inside was Mike Kelly.

Up came Mike Kelly. He said:
"Bill, I'm proud of you. Religion is not my long suit, but I'll help (Continued on Page 6)

Make the Coming Summer Nights More Comfortable By Sleeping On A ROME DeLUXE BED SPRING!

If you stood in the position you sleep in . . .

would your pose be a restful one?

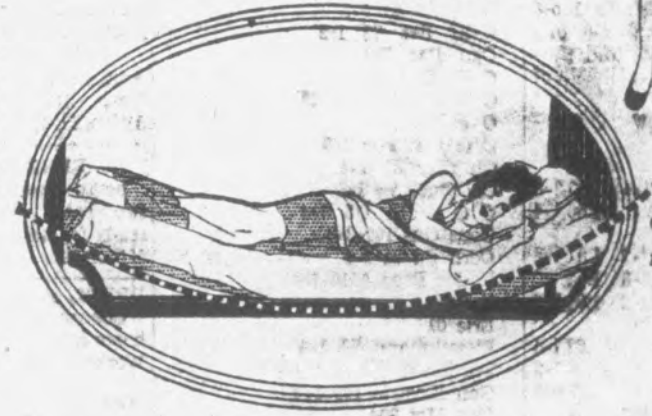

(Drawn from actual photographs)

You will immediately notice the nervous and muscular strain of this tiring standing position. Sleeping the same way prevents complete relaxation.

Standing like this tires you quickly yet thousands sleep this same unnatural way!

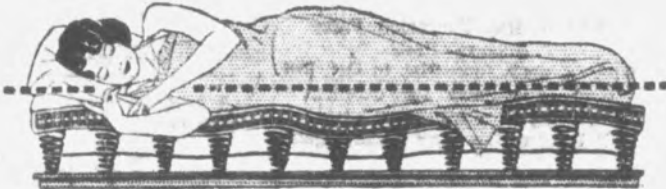

THIS cramped standing position is immediately tiring. A sagging bed curves the spine the same way—prevents restful comfort.

(Drawn from actual photographs)

When you sleep on a Rome DeLuxe bedspring the spine is straight and natural; the body is fully relaxed

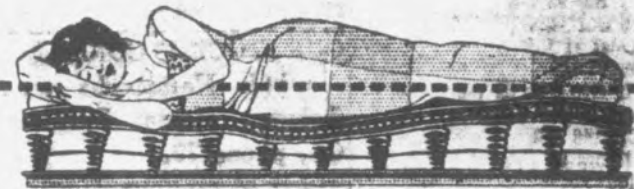

MANY sagging beds seem comfortable because of long use. But actually the body is forced into strained, tiring positions. Most people sleep this way, never realizing the harmful results of the unnatural position they have become accustomed to. Sagging, with its many ill effects, is impossible when you sleep on a De Luxe bedspring. Every coil in a De Luxe moves independently of all other coils, yielding to the pressure of hips and shoulders yet rising to relieve all strain on the vital organs between. The spine lies naturally, straight and free from strain. Nerves and muscles are fully relaxed . . . refreshing sleep comes quickly. Enjoy this new deep sleep right now. We will gladly bring a Rome De Luxe bedspring to your home for a trial. Phone us today for details, and let us give you a copy of Dr. Royal S. Copeland's interesting booklet, "How Better Sleep Builds Better Health."

Physicians all over the country are recommending to their patients the necessity of complete REST and RELAXATION, which is assured by the ROME DeLUXE BED SPRING.

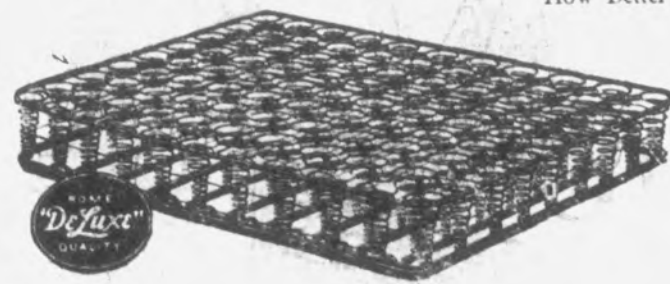

Dr. Royal S. Copeland, a national figure and health authority, has written a little booklet on "How Better Sleep Builds Better Health" which we will be glad to give you.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

NEW YORK COTTON
New York, May 14.—(AP)—Reports of beneficial rains in the southwest were followed by declines in the cotton market today with active months selling 43 to 50 points net lower in the forenoon under rather heavy general selling. Trade buying and covering caused small recoveries but the mid-afternoon market was about 40 to 43 points below Saturday's closing figures.

Futures closed steady 23 to 29 points lower; spot quiet; middling 21.85.

CHICAGO GRAIN
Chicago, May 14.—(AP)—Rains both in the winter and spring wheat belts, including Canada, with more moisture predicted, led to lower prices today in the wheat market here. Another bearish influence was liberal deliveries of wheat today on Chicago May contracts. Corn and oats were also weak, reflecting wheat market setbacks in which heretofore of late corn and oats had not fully shared.

Wheat closed unsettled at the same as Saturday's finish to 1 5-8 decline, corn 2 3-8 to 2 7-8 off, oats 1 5-8 to 3 1-4 down and provisions unchanged to a setback of 17.

STOCK MARKET.
New York, May 14.—(AP)—Speculation for the advance was resumed on a broad scale in today's stock market. Waves of profit-taking swept through the market, at intervals but the realizing sales were well absorbed. Early gains in the bulk of the industrials ranged from 1 to 5 points, although a few of the volatile specialties were marked up 6 to 16 points. Trading continued at a brisk pace, total sales in the first three hours falling just short of 2,500,000 shares, with the ticker 45 minutes behind the market at 1 p. m.

From the Wall Street viewpoint, credit conditions continued satisfactory. Call money unchanged renewed at 5 1-2 per cent and there appeared to be a plentiful supply of funds available at that figure. Some of the conservative brokerage houses suggested a cautionary trading policy, pending the U. S. senate's action on the brokers' loan resolution, although little attention was given to this factor by pool operators.

Alpine stocks were again in the forefront of the advance. Curtiss soared 16 points to a new peak at 157 7-8 and Wright was marked up 11 points to a new top at 201.

Copper shares responded to the advance from 14 1-4 to 14 3-8 cents in the price of the red metal. American Smelting, which has been dormant for some time, crossed 200 for the first time in its history for a week-end gain of 9 points. Kennecott and Calumet & Arizona followed it into new high ground, while Greene Cananea ran up more than 5 points, and Federal Mining & Smelting 10.

Up came Anson the best ball player that ever played the game; Pfeffer, Clarkson, Flint, Jimmy McCormick, Burns, Williamson and Dairymple. There wasn't a fellow in the gang who knocked; every fellow had a word of encouragement.

Prayed for God's Help in Game.
That afternoon we played the old Detroit club. We were neck and neck for the championship. That club had Thompson, Richardson, Rowe, Dunlap, Hanlon and Bennett—and they could play ball.

Two men out and they had a man on second and one on third, and Bennett, their old catcher, was at the bat. Charley had three balls and two strikes on him; Charley couldn't hit a high ball, I don't mean a Scotch highball; but he could kill them when they went about his knee.

I hollered to Clarkson and said: "One more, and we're 'em."
"You know every pitcher puts a hole in the ground where he puts his foot when he is pitching. John struck his foot in the hole and he went clean to the ground."
"Oh, he could make em dance. He could throw overhanded, and the ball would go down and up like that. He is the only man on earth I have seen do that. That ball would go so fast the batter could feel the thermometer drop two degrees as she whizzed by."
John went clean down, and as he went to throw the ball his right foot slipped and the ball went low instead of high.

I saw Charley swing hard and heard the bat hit the ball with a terrific boom. Bennett had smashed the ball on the nose. I saw the ball rise in the air and knew that it was going clear over my head.

I could judge within ten feet of where the ball would light. I turned my back to the ball and ran. The field was crowded with people and I yelled: "Stand back!" and that crowd opened like the Red Sea opened for the rod of Moses.

I ran on, and as I ran I made a prayer; it wasn't theological, either. I said: "God, if you ever helped mortal man, help me to get that ball, and You haven't very much time to make up Your mind, either."
I thought I was close enough to catch it. I looked back and I saw it going over my head and I jumped and shoved out my left hand and the ball hit it and stuck.

At that rate I was going the momentum carried me on and I fell under the feet of a team of horses. I jumped up with the ball in my hand. Up came Tom Johnson. Tom used to be mayor of Cleveland. He's dead now.

"Here is $10, Bill. Buy yourself the best hat in Chicago. That catch won me $1,500. Tomorrow go and buy yourself the best suit of clothes you can find in Chicago."
An old Methodist minister said to me a few years ago: "Why, William, you didn't take the $10, did you?"
I said: "You bet your life I did."

To The People Of Pitt County
I greatly appreciated the vote given me for Judge of the County Court four years ago, and I shall again be a candidate in the Democratic Primary on Saturday, June 2, 1928.
I am not a politician and I do not represent any faction. I do not ask for this office for personal profit, but in order to render service for the public good. To help make Pitt County a better place in which to live is my ambition.
If I am nominated and elected to this office, it shall be my purpose to give everyone a square deal and to administer justice with equality, fairness and impartiality to all according to law and the dictates of an honest conscience.
Assuring you that your support would be most sincerely appreciated, I am,
Yours to serve,
JAMES L. EVANS

Something new on the Horizon
Cloud Prints
CLOUD PRINTS are more than just new. They are different . . . utterly, delightfully different.
To all appearances they are exquisite hand-painted chiffon. Actually, they are a fine printed voile.
Truly a fascinating fabric . . . a stunning clouded background, floral and modernistic motifs. Lovely pastel shades.
CLOUD PRINTS are the season's wash-goods "headliner" . . . the biggest feature of the year. New today . . . the fashion tomorrow—CLOUD PRINTS. Be sure to see them!
