

TWENTY THOUSAND PEOPLE HEAR GREAT EVANGELIST IN FINAL SERVICES HERE

Billy Sunday Present- ed With Love Offer- ing of $5,603.91 at Impressive Service Last Night.

The Billy Sunday evangelistic campaign which has been in progress for the past five weeks, was brought to a conclusion in this city last night with one of the most inspirational services of the series.

Immediately after the service, Mr. Sunday left for Columbus, Ohio, where he is scheduled to deliver three addresses tomorrow. The remainder of his party left this morning for their respective homes. The evangelist will spend the summer at his summer home at Hood River, Oregon.

At conclusion of the service last night the evangelist was presented with a free will offering of $5,603.91. The presentation was made by Rev. R. J. Bamber, pastor of Eighth Street Church of Christ and president of the Greenville Ministerial Association.

Between sixteen and twenty thousand people attended the four services at the mammoth warehouse tabernacle. They began assembling at an early hour yesterday morning and the building was filled at every service, especially during the afternoon and night when only standing room was available.

Billy Sunday never appeared to better advantage despite the sweltering weather. He was one of the most vitalized figures in the building, and at every service his powers of an actor, humorist and preacher were brought to bear with telling effect upon the thousands who turned out to hear him.

The elements again threatened a torrential downpour of rain for the night service, but this didn't dampen the spirits of those determined to hear the noted evangelist in his final message here. Rain started falling shortly before the start of the meeting, but people continued to come from all sections until every one of the five thousand seats had been filled and throngs lined up along the sides of the building where they stood in breathless attention until the final words of the benediction had been said and the curtain wrung down on the greatest evangelistic campaign in the history of Eastern North Carolina.

Billy Sunday, strong, vital, active figure that he usually is, looked rather pathetic last night when members of the Ministerial Association and the local executive committee gathered on the platform to present him the free will offering and best wishes for God-speed in his future endeavors. He responded to the talk delivered by Mr. Bamber, but his old-time vigor was lacking. He looked like a man who has given his best and that is regretful at having to leave the fruits of his labors behind him.

It was a regular love feast—this last service—the final meeting of the evangelist and his co-workers—and the vast sea of faces in the audience below looked on interestedly. It was like some awe-inspiring pantomime, with the final words of the sermon of the evangelist ringing in their ears, and dimmed countless numbers of eyes as the real significance of the scene was realized.

Mr. Sunday declared that if his heart was a banquet hall he would invite every person in Eastern Carolina to come within and dine. With this brand of phraseology he made his farewell talk, shook hands with those around him, glided swiftly from the platform, out into the crowd, shaking hands as he went, and later to the train, bound for his new field of labor.

Mr. Bamber told in touching terms of the great good which the community had derived from the visit of the greatest evangelist of his era. He said the effects of his labor here would live for ever. He was applauded vigorously at times as the congregation endeavored to give expression to their approval of the sentiment which he expressed.

The preliminary service as usual was inspiring. The choir was filled to capacity and the three hundred members sang as they never sang before. They appeared to realize that their best would be required in this last effort to help human souls find their way out of darkness into light, and under direction of Homer Hammond, versatile song leader, lifted their hearts swelled with the spirit of thanksgiving for what they had been able to accomplish in behalf of the meeting.

The opening prayer was made by Rev. H. F. Jones, pastor Memorial Baptist church, who later on during the preliminary services, was given an opportunity of putting across an effective display of oratory in behalf of the "love gift" made Mr. Sunday at expiration of the evening.

W. H. Woodard and Norman Warren told of the need for liberality.

SENATE NOT TO ADJOURN ON TUESDAY

Attempt to set Ad- journment For June Fifth Meets With Complete Failure.

Washington, May 28.—(AP)—The senate today defeated a motion to adjourn Congress tomorrow at 5 p. m.

The vote was 40 to 40 and Vice President Dawes broke the tie by voting against the resolution.

Previously the senate had defeated two attempts by Senator Johnson of California to prolong the session in order to give more time for action on the Boulder Canyon dam bill.

This leaves Congress without any adjournment time for this session. Attempts to fix June 5th and then next Saturday as the adjournment date were defeated in order.

When the vote for adjournment tomorrow was announced Vice President Dawes immediately voted in the negative and the house resolution was defeated.

When the vice president struck the desk with his gavel and said the chair would vote "no" his announcement was greeted with applause from both the floor and the gallery. Mr. Dawes did not undertake to shut it off.

Asked what the next move would be, Senator Curtis, of Kansas, the Republican leader, smiled and replied "we are in session."

"How long?"

"Indefinitely."

Surprised at the defeat of every adjournment motion, members sat back and declared the situation was in the hands of those who wanted the indefinite session.

While New Bern, the home of Senator Simmons, voted against Smith, it is apparent that the third congressional district is to send favorable delegates to the state convention. Kingston and Winston-Salem have apparently voted against Smith but by a great majority we have carried Asheville, Greensboro, High Point, Raleigh, Oxford, Henderson Fayetteville and other populous centers.

"Many counties failed to obey the ruling of the state chairman, and held no preferential primary. In not a few of these, the time-honored practice of sending 'all good Democrats' as delegates to the county convention was followed. We have no fear of the votes of these Democrats when the state convention meets to name delegates to the Houston convention."

The Associated Press of Sunday, in its weekly political review, credits Governor Smith with 634 convention votes. Such a pre-convention showing, aided by the great enthusiasm for him in North Carolina, cannot be disputed by highly colored and often untrue newspaper reports. North Carolina is for Governor Smith and it will vote for him both at Houston and in the general election next November.

The new fireproof addition will add fourteen thousand square feet of floor space to their large plant, giving them a total floor space of 112,000 square feet. Their factory now covers an entire city block with storages on another lot.

The large new retyring machine is 120 feet long, double stick capacity. This machine when completed will give Person and Garrett four machines for handling tobacco. They will have a capacity of 200,000 pounds every 24 hours.

This firm has been buying on the Greenville Tobacco market since 1913. They are large buyers for foreign and domestic trade. Last season they handled about 11,000,000 pounds of tobacco at their Greenville plant. With the new addition they will be able to handle much more this season.

The Greenville tobacco market sold last year over 61,000,000 pounds of tobacco from 25 counties in Eastern Carolina. Greenville is in the center of Pitt county which is the largest grower of bright tobacco in the world.

SMITH FORCES CLAIM VICTORY IN THIS STATE

Raleigh Lawyer Issues Statement, Asserting Majority of Votes For New Yorker.

Raleigh, May 28.—(AP)—W. B. Jones, Raleigh lawyer, issued a statement "for the Smith committee in North Carolina" today claiming a "great majority of the vote cast in the preferential primary of Saturday."

"Practically every report received by the Smith committee," Mr. Jones' statement said, "clearly indicates that a great majority of the vote cast in the preferential primary of Saturday is for Governor Smith. A Saturday is for Governor Smith, a hostile, opposition press, which is encouraging the Simmons-Turlington-Hull effort to block the nomination of Smith, even at the cost of jeopardizing the Democratic party in this state, has given the public a wholly unfair and unreliable account of the results."

GIVES FACTS ABOUT HOOVER FUND IN N. Y.

W. H. Hill Tells Sen- ate Committee That $34,944 Raised for Campaign.

Washington, May 28.—(AP)—The Hoover for President movement in New York had received contributions of $34,944 up to May 1 and its expenditures were $30.24. The senate campaign funds committee was told today by William H. Hill, chairman of the organization.

He testified that the New York group was formed last February with Mrs. Ruth Pratt, as vice president; Allen Fox, as secretary, and a Mr. McDonnell as treasurer. Hill could not recall McDonnell's initials, but said his office was at 14 Wall Street.

"The largest contribution has been $2,500," Hill said, adding that general expenses had been $12,176.37, with an additional $5,351.61 for its information service. He said publicity matter had been sent into 12 or 13 states. Through James W. Good, Hoover campaign manager, Fox had placed the total of expenses at $32,540.25.

"I am unable to reconcile the figures," Senator Steiwer said but I do not think that is immediately important. If we are unable to reconcile them we will refer them back to you."

Hill said his committee kept books. He also testified that a number of volunteer organizations for Hoover had sprung up in various parts of the state.

The Satterfield strips were furnished to all of the Scripps-Howard papers. Hill testified, adding that the New York Scripps-Howard editor was shown the matter and subsequently it was published by the papers "without expenses to the Hoover organization."

Senator Bratton, Democrat, New Mexico, asked about various magazine publications concerning Hoover, and Hill showed some feeling.

"Why is that?" Bratton demanded.

"Because it seems so ridiculous to ask such questions," Hill retorted. He said he had nothing to do with "inspiring" the publications in the magazines, adding his own opinion that they were the result of "widespread interest in Mr. Hoover."

PLAN GREAT SEASON FOR THIS MARKET

Person and Garrett Erect new Fire Proof Addition to Large Factory Here.

Great preparations is being made on the Greenville Tobacco market to make the 1928 season the greatest in the history of the market.

The new fire proof addition to Person and Garrett's large factory has been completed and the large retyring machine is now being installed.

The new fireproof addition will add fourteen thousand square feet of floor space to their large plant, giving them a total floor space of 112,000 square feet. Their factory now covers an entire city block with storages on another lot.

Simmons Sees Defeat For Smith In North Carolina

Washington, May 28.—(AP)—Senator Simmons, of North Carolina, sees in the results of the preferential meetings in his state Saturday, a "smashing defeat for Governor Smith, and a strong endorsement of Cordell Hull for the Democratic presidential nomination."

"In viewing the situation as it now stands and the developments which I think will take place between now and the Houston convention and at that convention," Senator Simmons said, in a statement here last night, "I am profoundly convinced that Governor Smith cannot and will not be nominated, and if perchance he should be nominated he can not be elected."

The Senator, who is leader of the Democratic organization in his state, added that all was necessary to make victory certain at Houston for Smith opponents was "courage on the part of the leaders of those who oppose his nomination and exercise of diligence and vigilance to meet the efforts of such a powerful and highly financed organization as that behind the candidacy of Governor Smith."

The North Carolinian said he did not believe that Smith was assured of as many as 500 votes at Houston and instead of that number increasing, he thought it would decrease from now on.

"The Democratic party," he said, "will never, in my judgment, concur and submit to the things which Tammany Hall and Governor Smith, its outstanding figure, represent and stand for."

Smith's defeat, in the precinct meetings was described as so signal there can be no doubt about it, and efforts of Republican as well as Democratic newspapers supporting Smith to throw doubt upon it, Simmons said, "is merely in keeping with their program of claiming everything with a view of selling the people that Smith's nomination is inevitable."

He said the intensity of the North Carolina drive for Smith was greater than that in any other southern state because "they considered me the leader in the south against Smith's candidacy."

"Governor Smith, chief of Tammany Sachems," he continued, "recently spent ten days in North Carolina to bring down aid to him in planning his campaign in the state the successor of Tweed, Croker, and Murphy, in the person of Mrs. Olwyn, the present head of that powerful and highly financed organization, and every possible effort was made by his North Carolina supporters to carry the state."

"The signal failure of these efforts to make it certain that the whole south will be to the end practically a unit against the nomination of Governor Smith."

Find Body of MISSING GIRL

Authorities Unable to Explain Death of 10- Year Old Girl At Youngstown.

Youngstown, O., May 28.—(AP)—The search for 10 year old Beatrice Rosenbaum, who disappeared from her home here two weeks ago, was at an end today with the finding of the girl's body, but authorities still were at a loss to explain the circumstances of her death.

Coroner M. E. Hays and his assistant Dr. F. W. McNamara, said after an autopsy that the girl had died from starvation and exposure and probably had been dead four or five days.

The body, found late yesterday in a wooded ravine near Salem, O., 16 miles from Youngstown, was brought here for the autopsy.

Coroner Hays said there were no marks of violence or indications that the girl had been assaulted. The girl had been without food for days and her feet were swollen and cracked as if exposed to water.

Norwegian Air Ace Explores Coast of Archipelago Amund- sen Prepares Relief Expedition on Big Scale.

By the Associated Press.
The fate of the dirigible Italia was still a mystery today as rescue efforts were rushed in Norway and Spitzbergen.

Lieut. Luetow Holm, Norwegian air ace, started for Spitzbergen with a hydroairplane to carry on an air search along the north and northeast coast of the Archipelago. The Sealer Hobby will carry the plane to Kings Bay as soon as possible.

Road Amundsen and Captain Otto Sverdrup, noted polar explorers, aided the Norwegian authorities in preparing an auxiliary relief expedition on a large scale with Captain Riser-Larsen in command. The base ship Citta Di Milano put out from Kings Bay yesterday but was held up by ice floes.

The steamer Braganza put out from Tromsø to assist the Citta Di Milano.

Oslo was the center of all sports of rumors regarding the possible fate of the Italia but none of these could be confirmed.

Effort in California to pick up further messages believed relayed from the Italia saying that the ship had met with disaster, were fruitless.

The Italia was six and a half days out of Spitzbergen today, last definite word from her having been received at 9 a. m. Greenwich time Friday 4 a. m. eastern standard time.

Washington, May 28.—(AP)—The United States naval transport Chaumont, stationed near Tientsin, China, reported to the navy department today through Admiral Mark L. Bristol that she had picked up the following message at 10:40 p. m. last night.

"C. Q. DE AERAO 3 QTJ dirigible General Nobile is in distress asking for help (stop) he is supplied with a short wave 30-33 meter radio (stop)."

The message picked up by the Chaumont appeared definitely to settle any mystery connected with the similar message picked up in California, since it obviously did not come from the Italia, but was simply a message sent out to notify other stations of the plight of the dirigible.

The Chaumont, being in Chinese waters, could pick the message up more clearly from Vladivostok where it apparently originated, than could the stations on the Pacific coast which had difficulty reading it.

Oslo, Norway, May 28.—(AP)—Lieutenant Luetow Holm, Norwegian flying ace, started at noon today for Horton with a Norwegian navy hydro-plane for Tromsø, on the first leg of a trip to Spitzbergen to begin a search in the air for the missing dirigible Italia.

Lieut. Holm, who intends first to explore the north and northeast coasts of Spitzbergen, hoped to arrive at Tromsø at midnight. He will immediately board the sealer Hobby, hired by the Italian government for the Spitzbergen trip, which is ready to start as soon as the naval monoplane is loaded aboard here.

Lieut. Holm was accompanied by Mechanic Myre.

One of the hypotheses discussed concerning the missing dirigible was that the ice and wet snow forming on the airship might have wrecked it. It was recalled that the dirigible Norge, in which General Nobile flew over the north pole two years ago, was at the point of collapsing at times under such a burden.

The weather continued extremely cold and there was a bitter wind with fogs over the mountains to the north.

The view prevailed generally today that the search for the missing airship should first be undertaken at northeast land. It was pointed out that the last message from the Italia came at 9 a. m. Greenwich time (R. A. M. Eastern Standard Time) on Friday and it reported the airship on an eastern course and the belief of her navigators was that she had been about 135 miles north of Moffen Island at 3 o'clock that morning. Moffen Island is about 50 miles east of northeast land.

In the region there are several winter houses where the crew of the Italia might find shelter in case of a landing. Several hunters living there have already seen the Italia in flight and would be constantly on the lookout for her.

The steamer Braganza which also is at Tromsø started today for Spitzbergen. Her commander will get in touch with the Italia's base ship, Citta Di Milano, and will assist in a search for the Italia. Preparations are being rushed for (Continued On Page Two)

LOCALS DROP ANOTHER TO KINSTON CLUB

Greenville dropped the final game of the series with Kinston Saturday afternoon by the score of 8 to 2. It was one of the most overwhelming defeats which the locals have suffered this season, although they obtained seven hits against Kinston.

Kinston managed to hit when hits were needed, although Dudley hitting for Greenville after relieving Cherry in the third frame proved decidedly stingy.

Greenville's inability to hit at opportune moments was mainly accountable for their downfall. Both clubs were credited with bobbles, none of which figured in the scoring only in a minor way.

The locals opened the week in Greenville today with Wilmington. The Pirates play here today and tomorrow after which Rocky Mount comes down for four games. Greenville will go to Rocky Mount Wednesday morning for the first game of the double header, returning here for the second game in the afternoon. Both games Friday will be played on the local lot, and hundreds of people are expected to be in attendance to see the rejuvenated Tobaccoist outfit in action.

Members of the club stated today that four new players had been acquired. They will be seen in the lineup today and tomorrow, and by Thursday it is hoped the machine will be greatly strengthened.

Sisler Joins Boston Braves

Boston, May 28.—(AP)—George H. Sisler, one of the greatest first basemen and hitters in the American league, joined the ranks of the Boston Braves today by virtue of outright purchase from the Washington Senators.

The deal was the first consummated by the Braves under the management of Rogers Hornsby, star second sacker who took reins from Jack Slatery a few days ago. It brought to Boston Hornsby's strongest rival in the affection of St. Louis fans in the days when Rogers Hornsby wore a Cardinal uniform and Sisler the Brown.

Although no official announcement of Sisler's assignment was forthcoming from the club offices, it was generally believed that he would take Dick Burros' place at first and that Burros, who has not demonstrated anything like his old time form, would be held temporarily as a reserve.

Sisler has been on the market without a taker since shortly after the opening of the season. Originally thought to be in line for Joe Judge's place, Sisler was given little opportunity to show what he could do and there were persistent reports that recurrence of eye and sinus trouble which had forced him out of the game in 1923 had robbed him of his effectiveness.

The Senators asked waivers on the former star but none of the American league clubs sought his services and he became available to the National League.

It was reported that the Braves, in addition to assuming Sisler's contract, probably paid considerably over the waiver price of $7,500.

KNIGHTS OF ROARING ROAD EQUIPPED WITH STURDIER CARS FOR BIG RACE

In cars made faster and better able to stand the gaff by a year of experimentation, the greatest auto race drivers in the game are lining up for the big 500-mile whirl Memorial Day at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, an airplane view of which is shown above. Besides George Souders, Earl Devore and Tony Gulotta, who finished first, second and third last year, the field of contestants for the $100,000 prize money is to include Cliff Durant, Cliff Woodbury, Phil Shafer, Leon Duray and Pete De Paolo, 1925 winner and race record holder.

Indianapolis, (AP)—Proof given last year that super-speed alone is inadequate has prompted development of cars of greater stamina for the 1928 Indianapolis motor race, May 30.

The twenty-third fastest car, driven by the collegian, George Souders, of Lafayette, Ind., won the 500-mile contest last year, while the twelve fastest machines succumbed to motor trouble within the first 450 miles.

Enough speed was developed in the tiny 91-1-2 cubic inch displacement motors for the hard, rough brick course, but the cars, capable of doing 140 miles an hour, were too frail to withstand the heavy pounding incident to 200 circuits of the 2 1-2 mile oval.

So, scarcely had the last whiff of castor oil dissolved in the breeze last May when the engineers hauled the scarred motors of competing cars to the laboratories to attack the problem of making them sturdier.

Now information trickling out of motor car manufacturing plants indicates that stamina will be on a par with speed when the little cars again are pushed to the starting wire. It will be the third time the 91-1-2 inch motors—the smallest ever built for automobile racing or for American passenger cars—have been used in the gruelling contest, which will be the sixteenth annual renewal.

The spitting roar of racing cars circling the track is heard daily now as drivers seek to learn the lay of the track and adjust their shock absorbers to the many bumps that rattle their chassis.

Heading the list of drivers competing for the $100,000 in prize money will be the "big three" of the 1927 event: Souders, Earl Devore and Tony Gulotta, who finished first, second and third, respectively.

Other entrants probably will include Pete De Paolo, 1925 winner and record holder for the race with an average of 101.13 miles per hour; Cliff Durant, Cliff Woodbury, Phil Shafer, Leon Duray, Dave Evans, Bob McDonough, Eddie Hearne, Frank Elliott and possibly Tommy Milton.

Earl Cooper will not drive, but he may manage an Indianapolis race team. Norman Batten of Brooklyn, N. Y., who thrilled 125,000 persons last year by heroically staying with his blazing racer to guide it from the track, also will be missing.

The usual rules will govern. Each car will be compelled to show a minimum of 90 miles an hour in the qualifying trials for ten miles. The race will be limited to 33 starters, position being determined by the speed shown in the qualifying trials.

SPORTS SLANTS

By ALAN J. GOULD

Associated Press Sports Editor. Boston, May 28.—(AP)—Bill Carrigan, the iron grayed haired, keen-eyed chieftain of the Boston Red Sox, doesn't live on a baseball past, even though he might be accorded some privileges in that respect as the manager of world's championship teams here in 1915 and 1916.

Bill has young ideas and a young team, for the most part, that he is fast developing into a combination to be reckoned with in the American League. Nevertheless Carrigan, in the midst of this reconstruction program, may be persuaded to turn back the pages a little to tell you that Ty Cobb was probably the greatest all-around player he ever knew, with Tris Speaker a close rival; that Nap Lajoie, the famous Frenchman of the old Cleveland Club, was the greatest natural batter; and that Babe Ruth, who came to the big show under Carrigan, was as great a left handed pitcher before the war as he is an all-around star now.

"Cobb probably ranks as the best of them all in general ability, but Speaker was not far behind," Carrigan asserts in sizing up the two famous outfielders now with the Athletics, both of whom, incidentally, were in their prime in Carrigan's days as manager-backstop of the old Red Sox.

"I never saw Ed Delehanty and I can't pass any opinion on Rogers Hornsby," Carrigan went on. "But I rank Lajoie as the greatest all-around batsman I have ever seen; certainly the greatest right hander. Ruth, of course, is the greatest long distance hitter, without an argument."

"Most people nowadays do not realize that Ruth, before converted into an outfielder, was as great a left hander as there was in the business back in 1915-1916. He had speed, control, everything. But his pitching fell off when they began alternating him between the outfield and box."

Carrigan can't be drawn into the debate that Connie Mack, John McGraw and Wilbert Robinson engaged in last season, as to whether the present day Yankees, with their slugging power, eclipse the great teams of other days, such as the Baltimore Orioles, the Chicago Cubs, the old Athletics or Red Sox.

Neither will Carrigan dwell upon his achievements in lifting the Red Sox out of the depths in less than a season and a half. "When the boys are out there hitting and the pitchers are going good they will win. They make the manager. The manager doesn't make the team."

Carrigan's attention was called to the development of such young pitching talent as ruffing, MacFayden, big Ed Morris, but he replied: "They were coming along anyway. I just happened to be here when they got going."

CHICAGO AND REDS HOLDING THEIR LEADS

Fine pitching performances by Carl Mays and Sheriff Blake have enabled Cincinnati and Chicago to strengthen their hold on first and second place in the National League pennant race.

Mays, who pitched his submarine slants in the American League for years, hurled the Reds to a 2 to 0 victory over the Cards at St. Louis yesterday. Bunched hits off Reinhardt in the seventh and eighth accounted for the Red tallies. It was a costly victory for the league leaders however, for Red Lucas, ace of the pitching staff, suffered a broken bone in the wrist during batting practice.

Four thousand persons jammed Wrigley Field to see Blake blank the Pittsburgh Pirates, 3 to 0, granting five scattered safeties. It was Blake's fifth straight victory of the season. Two of the Cubs runs were driven in by Cliff Heathcote. Clyde Beck handled ten assists and one putout at shortstop and Charles Grimm 18 putouts at first base. The New York Giants moved into third place by nosing out the Phils in both ends of a double bill. Ott's single scoring Roush, gave McGraw's clan the first game in the 11th inning 5 to 4. It was Benton's eighth victory in ten starts, all of them completed game. Don Hurst's wild throw permitted Terry to score the winning run in the ninth inning of the nightcap. Virgil Barnes recording a 2 to 1 victory.

The Robins and Boston Braves divided a double header at Brooklyn. The Braves won the first game 4 to 1 by bunching the five hits they got off three Dodger pitchers. Home runs by Bismontette and Hendrick added Elliott turn back the invaders in the nightcap 8 to 3.

The best pitching of the day, however, came in the American League. Hadley gave Philadelphia only two hits as the Washington Senators downed the Athletics, 4 to 1.

The St. Louis Browns gained an even break in their series with the Indians by taking the last game 10 to 8.

Ted Lyons beat Elam Vauglier in a pitcher's battle at Chicago and the White Sox nosed out Detroit 3 to 2. Fothergill hit a homer in the fifth.

Babe Ruth hit a home run, two singles, walked once and struck out once as the New York Yankees beat York of the York-Pennsylvania league in an exhibition game 9 to 2.

GOVERNMENT STATUTE QUESTIONED IN COURT

Miss Townsend Honored.

The teachers of the Model school on Saturday afternoon at five o'clock, in Raggs Hall, the teachers' dormitory of East Carolina Teachers College, gave a tea and miscellaneous shower complimentary to Miss Ruth Townsend, critic teacher of the third grade, who will be married soon to Dr. O. T. Klunk, of Florence, S. C.

The guests were the women in the college faculty who are not teachers in the Model school, and the women on the staff, and Mrs. M. L. Wright. The hostesses were Misses Bonnie Howard, Frances Wahl, Dora Coates, Ann Redwine, Cleo Rainwater, Mary McRae and Ruth Paison.

The guest of honor, summoned by the maid to see callers, was taken by surprise when she found about forty of her colleagues assembled to honor her. While awaiting her arrival, they had been scribbling wishes for the bride, most of them in jingle. The first demand made of her was to read aloud these wishes.

Miss Howard then presented her with a fairy wand and gave her instructions in rhyme for finding the fairy gifts. She followed each of the streamers festooned from the ceiling light in the entrance hall and at the end of each found a white package. After all these had been found, she opened them and the lovely gifts were displayed for inspection.

The entrance hall, stairway and reception rooms were beautifully decorated in pink and white, with masses of larkspur and Dorothy Perkins roses. The color scheme was carried out in the refreshments also.

SPRINGTIME

(By Pattie E. Lanier.)
Of all the seasons, spring, summer, winter and fall,
I love the beautiful springtime the best of all.

For it puts new life into everything
It even puts pep in all the songs we sing.

The mockingbird warbles forth his song
With joy and gladness all the day long.

And when the Linnet and Jay peal out their tune
We may always know that spring will come soon.

When I roam thru the shady nooks in the dell
I have jubilant thoughts I cannot tell.

It's a grand glad chorus that whistles thru the trees
To cheer us on our pathway we know that God sees.

As we gather up the flowers growing on the banks of Tar river
We realize the fact that the Great God was the giver.

And when He said: "They toil not nor do they spin
But Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like these" without sin.

We know that we should be as near like these flowers
As is possible to be with these sinful bodies of ours.

If we'll accept Jesus and take Him at His word
He'll make us as pure as the spring time bird.

HOG SHIPMENT IS INCREASING

Third Car Load of Pigs Shipped by Swift Creek Farmers This Morning.

Farmers in Swift Creek township shipped their third car of hogs today, making a total of eight cars shipped from Pitt county this spring. The last car shipped from Swift Creek township brought $10.75 per hundred pounds. We will be unable to get any feeding record on these hogs until we get returns on the last car but here is the record on feed cost by B. D. Moore, of Stokes. He fed 8 hogs which weighed in at 671 pounds or an average of 83.8. He fed these eight pigs 70 days. They tipped the scales in Richmond at 1750 or an average of 218.8 pounds. These pigs lacked five pounds each of putting on an average of 2 pounds per day for 70 days which is good considering the initial weight of less than 100 pounds. Now for the cost. Mr. Moore bought and fed these pigs 65 bushels of corn at 65c per bushel, or $39.00. He bought 175 pounds of fish meal at a cost of $6.40, making a total cost of $45.40. The 1079 pounds of gain cost only $42.20 per 100 pounds. These pigs were sold on a low market, however, at $12.25 per hundred, however, the netted Mr. Moore $23 per hundred pounds, which gave him a profit of $43.40 on eight pigs, or at this low figure, if Mr. Moore had fed his eight pigs instead of eight, his profit would have been $434.80; or figured at the present price of $10.50 which will net $10.00 his profits on eighty pigs would have been $580.00 above feed cost. The farmer cannot always buy corn at 60 cents per bushel but he can raise corn for around this figure and the money made by feeding hogs comes from producing corn and selling it to the pigs. Ten cent hogs will pay the farmer $1.50 for every bushel of corn he produces and feeds to pigs.

Farmers in Pitt county now have some 300 pigs on feed for the September market. The carlot shipment of poultry from Pitt county which will take place on June 6, 7 and 8, will bring the total pounds shipped to well above 70,000 pounds. Last year's total was between 32 and 33 thousand pounds.

The following sales will be held at Ayden June 6; Greenville, June 7; and Bethel, June 8. This will close the sales for this season. Cash will be paid at car door for all poultry brought in. This method of selling has proven very popular among the farmers as indicated by the increase in sales. These sales are held under the auspices of the county board of agriculture co-operating with the county extension agents and the department of agriculture.

The spring hog cholera campaign put on by the county farm agent which closed last week resulted in 3,000 head being immunized against this dreaded disease. The next campaign will be held during the months of September and October, at which time the late summer and early fall farrows of pigs will be immunized against cholera.

"FEEL MY PULSE" WITH BEBE DANIELS, A HIT

When it comes to providing excellent motion picture entertainment and a steady series of laughs Bebe Daniels, Paramount star, has no equal among comedians.

The dark eyed star of the screen has again proved this in her latest farce "Feel My Pulse," which comes to White's Theatre Monday and Tuesday.

Funny situations, fast action and many thrills go together with Miss Daniels and this production is no exception. It is a combination of "Seniorita," "Swim, Girl, Swim," and "She's A Shiek," her recent successes, all rolled into one and, although the story is different it is refreshingly so and is real entertainment from the start right through to the finish.

In the opening reels one is led to believe that the Paramount star will be given little chance to show her athletic prowess for she is shown as a young American girl who is interested in nothing else but her health. One tiny germ disrupts her day. She goes to a sanatorium of which she is the owner, a desolate island, and there she finds in possession of a gang of bootleggers who are using it as a base of operations for their work.

At first Miss Daniels is led to believe that the "patients" are legitimate but it soon develops that she has landed in the midst of a tiny war between the bootleggers and the hijackers. Here it is that the star is given ample opportunity to demonstrate just how healthy she really is. The finish is fast, furious and highly amusing.

Richard Arlen, who made such a tremendous success in "Wings" and who was seen with Miss Daniels in "She's A Shiek," again is her leading man, in this case a young novelist.

FATE OF DIRIGIBLE ITALIA STILL MYSTERY TODAY AS RESCUE PLANS GO FORWARD

A large scale auxiliary expedition to search for the missing dirigible. It is expected that the details will be concluded tonight.

No word as to the exact plans has been divulged and the Italian legation refuses any information. It is believed, however, that Captain Riiser-Larsen, second in command of the north pole voyage of the Norge in 1926, will be leader. Roald Amundsen, the famous polar explorer and Captain Otto Sverdrup, widely experienced arctic explorer, have been called into consultation and gave extensive advice, but probably will not participate in the rescue expedition itself.

Captain George Wilkins and Lieutenant Carl B. Eielson, who recently arrived in Norway after a flight across the top of the world from Alaska to Spitzbergen, also were asked to participate, but it is understood that they will arrive tomorrow morning.

Arctic experts spent the week-end discussing all possible contingencies concerning the Italia. In view of meteorological reports, Captain Riiser-Larsen said the Italia probably had landed somewhere north of Spitzbergen and that it was not likely that the ship had been driven any further.

Lieutenant Holm therefore has been given orders to fly from Kings Bay northward searching along the eastern coast of North and eastern Spitzbergen. If this theory should prove correct, it is felt that ### service, was on patrol duty during the world war and then was director of the Norwegian naval seaplane factory. In 1923 he gained a reputation as a skillful seaplane pilot by flying the entire length of the Norwegian coast, one of the most dangerous coasts in the world, without accident.

The captain knows much about dirigibles having studied them in England in 1921 under Captain Scott, pilot of the R-34.

New York, May 28.—(AP)—Commander Richard E. Byrd, the first explorer to fly over the north pole, was confident today that General Noble and his companions had landed the Italia, and that there was an even chance that they would be saved with the aid of the radio.

While the Italia could remain aloft, as a free balloon, for 14 days after its fuel was exhausted, Commander Byrd said he believed the to be more dangerous than to make a landing on an iceberg, deflate the ship and await relief.

Cisco, Norway, May 28.—(AP)—Captain Wilkins and Lieut. Eielson the Arctic fliers, left this afternoon for Copenhagen in a special airplane which Lufthansa placed at their disposal. The two men had been invited to take part in the search for the missing dirigible Italia, but were unable to do so. They were given a cordial good-bye by Captain Roald Amundsen.

A GREAT BLESSING

The Billy Sunday meeting has closed, Mr. Sunday and his party have gone, but the revival of religion set in motion here by Mr. Sunday, we believe, is just in its beginning, and will show its good effects in this community for generations to come. From his pulpit during the past five weeks Mr. Sunday preached the inescapable gospel of Jesus Christ and it is safe to say that what he said has sunk deep into the hearts and minds of the thousands of persons who heard him. Truly Mr. Sunday's visit here has proved and will continue to prove a great blessing for Greenville and the surrounding section.

BUY A POPPY

Members of the American Legion Auxiliary tomorrow and Wednesday will conduct a poppy sale here, and it is to be hoped that every person in our city will wear a poppy on Wednesday, Memorial Day. Everyone reveres the memory of those who gave their lives in the wars in which America has engaged and in wearing a poppy on Memorial Day you are telling to the world that you appreciate the sacrifices of these heroes.

When you wear a poppy you not only pay your tribute to these dead heroes but you help to relieve the sufferings of those still living, who gave their best in defense of the flag. The poppies sold by the American Legion Auxiliary were made by the disabled veterans in the various hospitals of our country and the proceeds from the sale of these tiny paper emblems go to make the last days of these disabled veterans as comfortable as possible. We urge you to buy and wear one of these poppies that the world might know that you have not forgotten the boys who faced death for you.

ABOUT TOWN

Billy Sunday has come and gone. The greatest evangelist of the age has filled his last evangelistic campaign engagement until next September when he goes into some other state with his great messages. He will spend the summer in peace and quiet—as much as the public permits.

Billy Sunday is one of the greatest men of the day. It is impossible for him to remain in seclusion very long. He is always in demand in different sections of the country. The movies want him, so do the chautauqs, the lyceums, the stage, hundreds of churches but they can't get him. He is like a bird. He wants freedom. He wants to work for the great cause of the Bible without any strings tied to him. He feels like he is able to accomplish more, unhampered and unburdened by the responsibilities and obligations which these other things might place upon him.

Mr. Sunday is something of a free lance. He is a fearless exponent of the greatest cause known to civilization and his style of presentation has placed him far above any other in the same field.

Greenville will miss his services. We will miss the man, but the influence he left behind will live forever.

"Four new players go into action on the Greenville baseball club today," a follower of the organization told the writer of this column today.

"This means we are going to get a new start against Wilmington today. And before the week is over we are going to be further up the standing of clubs column than we have been before this season.

All of us have been mighty optimistic about the club the last several days, but it seemed the more optimistic we became, the more games they dropped. However, with the acquisition of these new players, we hope to be able to climb and with the support of the public, it ought to be put over right away.

"Billy Sunday is something of a super-man" one of his admirers remarked to the writer today.

"It requires extraordinary physical ability for a man to stand before four congregations in the course of twelve hours and confine an hour's time to each sermon.

"Mr. Sunday did that in Greenville yesterday. That's why we say he possesses unusual physical powers. Long years of service in his broad field of endeavor, however have enabled Billy Sunday to stand great exertion. He is just like a race horse at the wire—impatient, chafing, waiting until he can get in action. He would literally die without intense activity such as his services afford. And the knowledge that he is getting results has a soothing influence on his high-strung, nervous system.

"Other great men will follow him to the pulpit, but Billy Sunday the humorist, dramatist, preacher and humanitarian can never be supplanted in the hearts of the American public. Thousands who have been lifted from the mire of sin and degradation through his deliverance of the old-time gospel in modern form will forever worship at his shrine and pledge anew their faith in the great cause which he has carried to every end of the continent."

"Old Pitt County stood by her colors Saturday in instructing delegates to the county convention to vote against Al Smith, of New York candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination," a Hull supporter remarked today.

"This county has never given its support to a 'wet'! It never will. As may do as they like but Pitt county will always be found voting the Democratic ticket as long as the Democrat keeps himself dry and stays away from the liquor gang."

"Smith no doubt is a great man—one of the greatest men of his day—and he may be nominated for all we know, but he will never be able to wield the influence he should until he breaks away from the wet element."

"Four ball games in Greenville this week. Wilmington opens up this afternoon for a two game series. Rocky Mount will come here Wednesday for a two game schedule but extra games will be tacked on each day bringing the total up to four. We go to Rocky Mount for one game of the four game series, the regular Wednesday game to be played here in the afternoon. Both games will be played here hursday.

"Turn out to see them and lend your support to the boys in their effort to mount the standing of clubs column."

Bryan's Daughter Sets Fast Pace in Florida Democratic Campaign

Florida holds its Democratic primary June 5, and much of the interest centers in the campaign of Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen for the Congressional nomination in the fourth district, against Rep. Willis J. Sears (Inset). Mrs. Owen, shown above between her secretary and transportation officer, is speaking in every town in the district. Five candidates seek the gubernatorial nomination and Gov. Martin opposes Park Trammell, incumbent, for the Senate.

Tallahassee, Fla., (AP)—The campaign between Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, daughter of the late William Jennings Bryan, and Rep. Willis J. Sears for the Congressional seat of the fourth Florida district furnishes a final flip to the Florida Democratic state primary June 5.

With local offices to be filed, delegates to the national convention and state officials to be chosen, and a Senator and a Representative to be selected, more than 150 names appear on the official ballots, the longest in the history of Florida politics.

The daughter of the "Great Commoner" has revived the campaign methods of her father, bringing into play her heritage of the silver tongue. Mrs. Owen's fight for office has been one long series of public appearances. She purchased a small automobile as a mobile campaign headquarters and christened it the "Spirit of Florida." Accompanied by her secretary and "transportation officer," she is conducting a speaking campaign scheduled to carry her into every town in the district before voters go to the polls.

Representative Sears has arranged no speaking tour, but has conducted a quiet personal campaign with a limited number of public appearances. The gubernatorial race presents five entries—Dr. Foss A. Hathaway, chairman of the state road department; Doyle Carlton, Sidney J. Gatta, John S. Taylor and James E. Carsch.

Gov. John W. Martin's $20,000,000 Everglades drainage plan is a campaign issue in the Senatorial race. Senator Park Trammell insists that it constitutes an imposition on the people of Florida, while Governor Martin, seeking elevation to the Senate, points to it as a signal service to the state.

Seventy-four persons seek places as delegates to the national Democratic convention at Houston—41 from the state at large, ten from the first Congressional district, six from the second district, six from the third and 11 from the fourth. Fourteen of the candidates for delegate at large are women. Only one woman is running from the Congressional districts, Miss Stella R. Tule, of Miami.

Voters must select eight delegates for the state at large, including four women, and two each from Congressional districts.

Other Presidential Campaigns

(By The Associated Press) Eighteen times since 1856 the two major political parties of the United States have met in quadrennial convention to name candidates for President and Vice-President. Since that year, the first in which the Republicans held a national nominating convention, the nominees of the Republican party have been elected 13 times and those of the Democratic party have been successful five times. The Republicans have held the presidency for 52 years, and the Democrats for 20. Following is the first of a series of thumbnail sketches of national political conventions since 1856, summing up the events of "campaign years":

1856 The first national nominating convention of the Republican party was held in Philadelphia on June 17, 1856. John C. Fremont was nominated for President and William L. Dayton, of New Jersey for vice-President. The platform affirmed belief in union of the states but did not declare for freedom of the slaves. The Democratic party met at Cincinnati June 2-6, and nominated James Buchanan of Pennsylvania for President, and John C. Breckenridge of Kentucky for vice-President. Buchanan and Breckenridge won, in November, the party's last victory until 1884.

Prize Winning Letter

Below the letter written by Mrs. W. E. Lewis on "Why I send My Clothes to the Eureka Laundry". Mrs. Lewis' letter was declared by the Judges to be entitled to the second prize.

Greenville, N. C. May 3, 1928

The Eureka Laundry, Greenville, N. C. Gentlemen:—

The question, why I send my laundry to the Eureka Laundry, is very easily answered.

First—Since August Nineteen twenty-six, every Tuesday morning, my laundry is called for promptly, and returned in thirty-six hours, all finished, and has that wholesome, pure, clean odor, that none but a first-class laundry could give.

Second—The satisfaction of knowing that your laundry is carefully handled, and carried through a process that renders it free from germs and disease, leaves it spotlessly clean, and nicely finished.

Third and last—The pleasure and convenience of a laundry that you can depend on every garment being returned, and if by chance a garment is misplaced, the management is second to none in giving a quick and cheerful adjustment.

Clean clothes back on time, proper adjustments, and perfect satisfaction, are reasons I continue to patronize The Eureka Laundry.

Very truly yours,

POSSES STILL SEEK KILLER IN COLORADO

Trail of Bank Robbers Picked up in Canyon About 25 miles from Oakley.

Oakley, Colo., May 28.—(AP)—Discovery of a mattress and bed springs in a canyon about 25 miles south of here today sent posesses to that district in an effort to pick up the trail of the four desperadoes who robbed a bank at Lamar, Colo. Wednesday last. The mattress and springs were concealed by reeds and grass a short distance from the spot where Dr. W. W. Wineinger, of Dighton, Kansas, was slain after he had been called to treat one of the robbers. Prior to the finding of the improvised bed, many of the volunteers returned to their homes. Several men who aided in the search since Dr. Wineinger was kidnaped Thursday night, again joined in the man hunt today.

After four days devoted to following leads, posesses yesterday hurried to a cabin near Healy, Kan., when the robbers were reported to be barricaded there. Like many other rumors that caused the volunteer searchers to hasten to isolated places in western Colorado and western Kansas, this proved without foundation. The cabin yielded a party of hupters. The tension under which the tired possemen worked was indicated on Saturday night when L. L. Robinson, of Hill City, Kan., and Carl Peterson, former sheriff of that city, were shot and seriously wounded by possemen. Robinson and Peterson were on patrol duty near Norton and drew the fire of a posse sent to that area on the report of a farmer boy that "bandits held me up."

While search of the cactus strewn hills, chalk caves and thickets of the badlands of western Kansas and eastern Colorado had not been entirely abandoned today, many of the volunteers returned to their homes. Scores had had little sleep since Thursday night when Dr. W. W. Wineinger of Dighton, 20 miles east of here, was kidnaped to treat one of the robbers wounded by bank officials and slain the next day.

With the man hunt continuing in this section, funeral services were held at Lamar for A. N. Parrish, president of the First National Bank there, and his son, J. F. Parrish, cashier, slain when they returned the fire of the robbers.

Parrish, pioneer western banker, who was known for his ability to use a pistol, only was able to wound one of the robbers before he fell with a bullet in his head.

Findings of the body of Dr. Wineinger, left little hope that the life of E. A. Kessinger, kidnaped cashier of the Lamar bank, had been spared. He was used as a shield when the robbers escaped in a running fight with Colorado officers the day of the robbery.

BASTARDIOUS FIRE
VISITS GAFFNEY, S. C.
Gaffney, S. C., May 28.—(AP)—Damage estimated at $140,000 was done by fire which early today gutted the Carroll and Byers department store and for a time threatened the entire business district. Assistance was asked of the Spartanburg fire department and a truck was sent to aid in controlling the flames.

George G. Byers, a member of the firm owning the store, fixed the value of stock and fixtures in the store at $115,000, with $68,000 insurance. The building was valued at $100,000. Stock and fixtures were a total loss. Damage to the building was estimated at $25,000.

NEW YORK COTTON
New York, May 28.—(AP)—Advances from an opening decline in the cotton market today were checked by realizing as prices approached the 21 cent level for October contracts. Trading was only moderately active on the advance and became quiet on the reaction which followed, with mid-afternoon market ruling about 10 points net higher.

GRAIN MARKET.
Chicago, May 28.—(AP)—Numerous complaints of crop deterioration northwest largely overrode in the wheat market today the bearish effect of showers in Canada and of predicted moisture elsewhere. Likelihood of better export business tomorrow following holidays aboard tended also to rally prices. Notice was taken, too, of 3,477,000 bushels decrease of the United States visible supply.

Wheat closed irregular, 1-2c net lower to 3-8c net higher corn 1c to 1-1-2c up, oats varying from 1c decline to a shade advance, and provisions at 5 cent back to a rise of 2c.

STOCK MARKET.
New York, May 28.—(AP)—The day of least resistance in today's stock market was downward. Although pools succeeded in lifting more than a score food and copper shares and specialties to new high records, selling pressure was quite persistent against the standard industrials and rails, many of which declines in which ran from 1 to 5 points. Trading was only moderate in volume, total sales in the first three hours running well below 2,000,000 shares.

Uncasiness over the credit situation was the principal selling factor. Call money held firm at 6 per cent as banks called for $10,000,000 in loans, and that rate is expected to continue over the month-end. Withdrawal of $15,000,000 in gold or export to England Wednesday had a tendency to check bullish enthusiasm.

Violent fluctuations took place in some of the high priced specialties. Radio was again a feature, rallying from a low of 197 1-2, off 5 1-2 to 204. Airplane stocks were weak, breaking 13 1-2 points to 12 and Curtiss dropping 11 3-4 to 10.

Chrysler moved up more than 2 points to within a fraction of the year's high, but the other motors were heavy. Pierce Arrow preferred dropping 4 points and Studebaker and Hudson each falling back two points. Extreme declines of 4 points or so also were recorded by DuPont, Case Threshing Machine, Otis Elevator, American Railway Express, and Richfield Oil of California, while such recent favorites as International Harvester, Continental and Greene Cananea Copper, International Paper and Brooklyn Edison yielded 2 points or so.

New York state railways preferred and city stores B each were bid up more than 3 points to new peak prices at 34 and 95, respectively. Frank G. Shattuck ran up 5 1-2 points and Certainted Products, which was heavily sold last week on unfavorable dividend rumors, rallied 4 points at the expense of an overcrowded short interest.

The close was weak. Total sales approximated 3,000,000 shares.

Communists Name Candidate For The Presidency
New York, May 28.—(AP)—William Z. Foster, former I. W. W. leader and Benjamin Gitlow, radical leader of New York, are the presidential nominees, respectively, of the Workers (Communist) party of America.

They were named at the closing meeting of the party convention in New York yesterday.

"We must build a Soviet government in the United States," Foster said in his speech of acceptance. "It will come and behind it will stand a Red army." He told the 3,000 delegates and party members present they must be ready to "turn the next imperialistic war into civil war."

The platform upon which they will run demands recognition of Soviet Russia, repeal of the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead act, recall of American troops from China and Nicaragua, establishment of the 8-day 40-hour week for labor.

BASEBALL FUND.
Contributions to the children's baseball fund today had reached the $16.00 mark. The sum of $115.00 is necessary to make it possible for all children between the ages of 6 and 10 years to attend the games this summer.

Citizens were today being urged to give liberally so that fund might be raised during this week.

TWENTY THOUSAND PEOPLE HEAR GREAT EVANGELIST IN FINAL SERVICES HERE

(Continued From Page One) Mr. Warren thanked members of the finance committee who assisted him in raising the fund for the evangelist. The sum of $7,000 to defray expenses of the campaign was raised two weeks ago, and the love offering last night was in recognition of the wonderful services which Mr. Sunday had been able to render the community.

The morning service was one of the best of the day. All churches abandoned the usual morning service and their membership assembled at the tabernacle at 10:30 when Mr. Sunday in a particularly effective sermon, told his hearers that God would do all he had promised. The opening prayer was made by Rev. R. J. Bamber, and the finance talk by J. H. Sumner.

At 1:30 o'clock he spoke to a congregation composed exclusively of men. It was the fourth service of the kind during the campaign here and the building as on former occasions was crowded with men from all sections of the country, representing every walk of life. Numbers of Masons from the Eastern Section of the State were in attendance and were recognized by the evangelist in the preliminary service.

Dr. Joseph Smith delivered the opening prayer and the talked dealing with the special offering for the evangelist was made by B. B. Sugg. Mr. Sunday said the reason some men were not Christians was because they are not men enough. With this kind of argument he put over one of the most effective sermons of the series, and hundreds filed down the aisles to the platform to reconsecrate themselves to higher, nobler lives.

As this service came to an end, hundreds of women who had been waiting on the outside filed in as fast as the men filed out, and despite the depressing heat the building was filled to overflowing. Mr. Sunday had time to go to the hotel and change clothing between the services. Within a half hour after the men's services was over he reappeared apparently as fresh and vigorous as when he started out during the morning.

He paid tribute to the great men of the nation, declaring Wilson, Washington and Lincoln to have been the greatest of them all. He told the women to do up all they wanted to—use as much paint and powder as necessary to enhance their beauty—it was their privilege. It was another one of those stirring appeals in the interest of higher, more Christ-like lives and instantly found a receptive place in the hearts of the thousands that listened. "Hope" was the subject of the sermon.

Mr. Hammond assisted by Mrs. J. H. Waldrop rendered a special song number during the preliminary service, it being received with a storm of applause. J. H. Blount told of the need of liberality in the love offering for the evangelist.

"Tomorrow" was the subject of the final sermon last night. It was an urgent appeal for acceptance of Christ without delay. Tomorrow may be too late, Mr. Sunday declared, as he matched his powers of actor and preacher against the influences keeping people out of the kingdom of God.

Although no information was available today as to the number of converts during the meeting, it is a well known fact that thousands were reconsecrated. Numbers pledged renewed faith in the Bible at each service. The churches received numbers of new members.

Last night's sermon follows: The sermon was as follows: My text tonight is in the Book of Exodus, the 8th chapter and the 10th verse: "And he said tomorrow."

For four hundred and thirty years the Jews had been in Egyptian bondage. They had made brick without straw and bared their backs to the lash of the taskmasters, and submitted to all the cruelty that a powerful and heartless nation could inflict upon those who were their vassals and slaves.

God had told Joseph that He would lead them out. Generation after generation had been born, matured to manhood and womanhood and then old age, and still God had not come, until I can imagine the people begun to think that God had forgotten. But God's schedule may not harmonize with yours. He may delay His visitation according to your program, but God will always be around in fullness of time.

And He appeared and to the leadership of Moses, and old Pharaoh wouldn't let the people go, and God was compelled to send the famous ten plagues as evidence that Moses was the chosen vessel. And it was during the plagues that the conflict between Moses and Pharaoh took place.

It was the plague of frogs. They covered the land everywhere and the springs and wells, and they were in the homes. If you'd walk down the street, you'd step on frogs. Get up in the morning and get out of bed, and you'd crush a frog. Walk down the stairway and it would be covered with frogs. Sit down at the table, and you'd sit on a frog. Go to drink water and there'd be a frog in it. Go to jab your fork in a dill pickle and you'd stick it in a frog.

The Bible says frogs were everywhere, so I guess they were on the table, too.

And so Pharaoh sent for Moses and Moses said to him: "When shall I entreat the Lord that He take away the plague?"

And Pharaoh, the old, old, answered in the words of the text: "And he said tomorrow."

I never thought that argued very much for his common sense. He knew there stood before him the only man in the kingdom that God would hear, and he knew that God would hear him, and he knew the distress of the people because of the prevalence of this plague, and yet he said: "Tomorrow." It never argued very much for his common sense, and yet I don't think you have a right to condemn him.

God has been calling you to leave your bondage. Instead of obeying, tonight still finds you enslaved by the powers of the devil. The Jew of old so wonderfully revered God that they wouldn't dare to step on a piece of parchment, let the name of Jehovah be written on it, and they'd show disrespect for anyone who would. And yet we trample it beneath our feet with eyes closed and ears stopped and rush madly and wildly on while God is doing His utmost to keep us out of hell. Despite that, seemingly, you are all doing your best to get into hell.

In an eastern State a number of years ago an insane asylum burned. The took the inmates half a mile away from the hillside. When the flames were licking their former home to ashes, about twenty of them burst every attempted restraint and they ran down the hill toward the burning building. Before hands could be raised to save them, seven of them had leaped into the flames and were incinerated. An insane man would do that.

Then you have the audacity to sit there and call yourself sane when you are trying to get in the flames of hell when God is trying to keep you out.

"And he said tomorrow." Where is the man or woman who can honestly say that "tomorrow" has never interfered with him—the thing that has no real existence; the thing that never will dawn. Oh, you should have begun some new work, you say, "I will tomorrow."

You should give up some foolish custom; you say, "I will tomorrow." You should yield to Jesus Christ; you say, "I will tomorrow."

There is no need for me to consume my strength and your time and spin out words in analysis of the thief of time. Take this for your motto: "I will not think of tomorrow. My possessions are today. I will not lull myself to sleep promising myself about a time that will never come."

Tomorrow is the soft lounge upon which multitudes lie down to their eternal sleep. Tomorrow is the devil's opiate. Oh, it takes an effort of the brain and of the will to say, "Today."

You ought to choose Jesus Christ now for a few brief reasons: First because by accepting Jesus Christ now you would be relieved of the burden of sin in this life as well as the dread of the future consequences, and every man and woman hearing that burden of guilt by yielding to Jesus Christ would be relieved of his or her sin, for there is not one who does not know that to have one unforgotten sin in your life you stand in the awful peril of God's judgement. Not a person here this minute but knows that you could forsake the vilest sins if you would submit to God by faith in Jesus Christ, eternity for her, and I believe the devil is using all his influence tonight to deaden any sensibility or desire you may have to be a Christian. I have every hope you will all yield to Jesus Christ and become saved.

When they led Sir Walter Raleigh out to execute him, a friend said to him: "How lieth the head?"

"It matters little how lieth the head," he said, "so long as the heart condemneth not."

So it matters little whether you know much about the plan of salvation, as long as your heart is full of faith in Jesus Christ. Don't stagger away because you can't comprehend it in full. My friends, if I were you here tonight, standing or seated, and had made up my mind that I never would be a Christian, I would get up and go now. And if a man ever spoke to me about Jesus Christ, I would stop my ears. If I ever heard a church bell toll a funeral, I'd close my ears. Oh, I never would darken a church door. I never would go within the sound of a preacher's voice. If I saw crepe fluttering from the doorknob I would put my hands to my eyes. If I saw a hearse going down the street I would shut my eyes—I wouldn't look at it.

I wouldn't wait for a moment to come to Jesus Christ. Every moment you wait your guilt grows greater.

William Reynolds lived in Peoria, Illinois. A friend of his invited him out to his home. He owned thousands of acres out in the famous corn belt. I have seen the house. And his friend asked him to come out and take a little vacation and rest. He said: "If you will come out here and say nothing about religion, you'll have the time of your life, but don't come out here and begin talking about religion. He doesn't care about it; he's making money—just forget religion." My friend didn't say whether he would or not.

The second day they were there he took my friend up on the top of the house. It was an old-fashioned summer house, wide halls and rooms on either side, suppers on top. He said: "Now look away yonder in the east; do you see the cattle on the hill? Look away up here to the north; do you see that town? The cattle and the land where the town stands are mine. I can build a railroad right through there; I own those three tall buildings. Look away off here to the south; do you see where the sea and air seem to meet? That is the southern boundary. Do you see the water in the west, that's the west boundary. I came up here years ago without a cent" he said, "and it's all paid for. It is cut up into 160 lots and there is a house and barn on each. I am very rich."

And my friend put his hand on his shoulder and asked: "How much have you got up yonder?" "I have been so busy piling it up here, that I haven't thought about that," he said.

Three months later they laid his body beneath the sod in Illinois and for twenty years the heirs quarreled over the estate. Some years ago it was settled by a decision of the Appellate Court.

No treasure beyond; no thought about God or His truth. Three great men all died on the same day. I am not going to tell you this to suggest anything relative to the character of the men, but to show you that when death knocks you will go, no matter how rich you may be.

One was the King of Spain, one was the vice-President of the United States and the other William K. Vanderbilt. The newspapers said: "The King of Spain is no more." "The vice-President has passed away." "William K. Vanderbilt is dead."

On the day of the Vanderbilt funeral thousands of people assembled down Fifth avenue to watch the funeral procession. At the church they carried the body down the steps. Across the street stood a working man.

"Well, well, well, pal, so that's Vanderbilt in that coffin they are carrying down the steps?"

"Yes, sir." "Many a time I have stood right about here and has watched him come down and get into his carriage and drive away to Wall street with millions and millions, and I didn't have a cent. Today he is coming down without a cent in his pockets, and by gosh, I've got two dollars!"

No matter who we are, when death knocks, we have got to go. God's giving us our chance in the world now. The most wealthy have got to go. A day, an hour, an instant, may be fatal. My friend, Frank Smith, was preaching in a town and there was a very wealthy man whom he was trying to get to give his heart to God, and he wouldn't do it. Eight months later my friend went back to the town. He inquired about the man and was told that he was very sick and wouldn't live long.

Flight Record

Lieut. William R. Sweeley set a new dawn-to-dusk flight record for service planes when he piloted his Falcon A-3 ship for 1,500 miles from Rochester, N. Y., to Galveston, Tex., in 13 hours and 25 minutes.

Some one said: "He always had a great respect for you."

My friend went and he rapped on the door. The man's wife answered. "Oh, is it you, Mr. Smith? Well, I am glad to see you," she said and I know Charlie will be please don't talk to him about dying. I don't think he is as sick as the doctors imagine."

My friend stepped to the bedside. He said: "Charlie, you are very sick. I am not going to talk religion to you. But before I go I want the privilege of praying, and in my prayer I will make the way of salvation as plain as if talking. And if you make up your mind to be a Christian just squeeze my hand and that will say yes, understand?"

He nodded. My friend took his thin hand in his and prayed. Then he closed the prayer with: "Hear us, Oh, God, for Jesus Christ's sake, Amen," and he waited for some response; his eyes closed, he counted the ticks of the clock on the mantle. Eight minutes went by and he was still waiting for a response, but there was none, no pressure on his hand. Then my friend saw the fellow trying to speak. He said: "Not tonight, Frank; tomorrow I will think about it."

That night at a quarter past six they telephoned for the undertaker. He said: "Tomorrow."

Listen— Born in another man's stable, Buried in another man's tomb; His first companion's cattle, His last thieves on the cross; His first resting place another man's manger, His last another man's tomb.

Yet some of you don't care a rap about Him. You have more thoughts for your stocks and your bonds or your home or your business than for Jesus Christ, and you will grieve in the presence of Christ and the salvation of your soul. So you are doing over what the soldiers did that nailed Him on the cross; and your opportunity is passing.

I think that one of the most potent words in the English language is that word, "Now!" It signifies ambition, initiative, as opposed to the sit-back, take-it-easy, drift, devil method in which a good many people live.

I can take the world tonight and I can divide it into two classes—the now and the tomorrow. The now—oh, that's victory in heaven; tomorrow, that's defeat in hell. One would be the empires of fallen men who have missed or captured fame and immortal glory, according as they were under one flag or the other.

If Napoleon had hesitated to turn the guns loose on the howling, clamoring mob in the street of Paris, would his name come down in history as one of the greatest military generals? If Caesar had stood on the banks of the Rubicon and said: "I will cross here tomorrow," would his name have gone down in history? No! He looked and said: "By gosh, the die is cast," and that set changed the history of the world.

"He said, 'Tomorrow.'—Old time has been chasing tomorrow, some one has said, from the outset of eternity and hasn't overtaken it yet. What chance have you got? Life is a battle between postmasters—a fight all the way through. A sprung rail wrecks the limited, worm holes rot the ship, an office boy letters and upsets an account, a stenographer mixes the envelopes and one of your competitors gets the secret of your business, a shipping clerk misses the last train and kills a hard-won account, the doctor does not sterilize his instruments and the patient becomes infected and dies.

Oh, there is one word in the vocabulary of opportunity and it is spelled N-O-W! "And he said, 'Tomorrow.'"

Listen! Tomorrow, where is your authority? Tomorrow, that's the ghost that never materializes. I look out through this audience, some of you are wearing mourning. That tells me you have been to the cemetery, that you have somebody sleeping beneath the emeralds of June, that means that when you go home there is somebody gone who used to meet you. But there will be another funeral in your street some day, and there will be another coffin carried out of your house, and there will be another name on the plate and on the sepulchre. And some of you would turn pale if I could just lift the curtain, and you are so close to the hearse you could touch it. And yet you sit there or stand there without Jesus Christ as your Saviour! Years ago the Royal Charter circumnavigated the globe. They touched at Queenstown and the next day they were due at Liverpool. The Lord Mayor of London, the Lord Mayor of Belfast, and the Lord Mayor of Liverpool were there to welcome the captain and his crew as their guests who had circumnavigated the globe and had brought renown to England.

That night the ship backed off from the wharf and started for the open sea. A terrific storm came up and she went on the rocks. Down she went, and all on board except one, were drowned, and he clambered up the almost perpendicular rocks and reached land.

William M. Taylor, who used to be pastor of the Broadway tabernacle, one of the Godliest men that ever lived—oh, he was one of the wheel-horses for Jesus on the Cross—he was pastor and the captain's wife was a member of his church, so he was given the commission of breaking the news. He went to the home in the morning about 9 o'clock and rapped on the door, and the captain's wife opened the door. The captain's little girl almost jumped in his arms to kiss him, and then apologized. The little girl said: "Oh, I thought you were my father." His wife said: "We were waiting for the captain. Is there any word from the Royal Charter, Dr. Taylor?"

He looked at her a moment, then he said: "My poor woman, I don't know what it will do for you; it almost breaks my heart. I have come to bring you the sad news that the Royal Charter went down last night and your husband was lost."

She fell at his feet. "My God, so near home and yet lost!" So the distance between where you sit and here is just the distance between you and heaven.

How swiftly the years of our pilgrimage fly. As the days and weeks and months move quickly and silently by. Our days are soon numbered, death sounds our knell.

We scarce know our friends; till we bid them farewell. To you, fellow-Christians, I turn with delight.

The grave cannot harm you, your future is bright; Be prayerful, be earnest, temptations rebel. And you'll soon bid this world a smiling farewell.

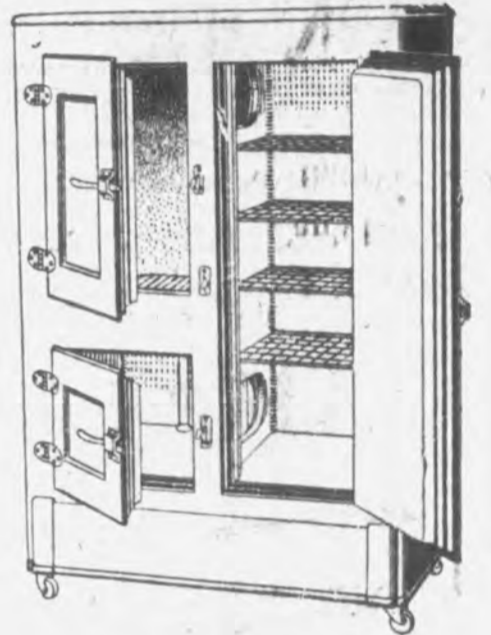

Farewell, fellow-sinners, I am free from your blood. My messages are all delivered, I leave you with God.

I have pleaded, I have entreated but I could not compel. And until the judgment day breaketh I bid you farewell.

"And he said, 'Tomorrow.' Don't you say that."
