N. C. DELEGATES STAGE FIST FIGHT TODAY

TATE STANDARD BROKEN TO PIECES IN MELEE AT THE HOUSTON CONVENTION

Alabama and Georgia Also Join In Free-For-All Fight Started By Robinson's Reference To Religious Issue; Tennessee's Banner Is Swept From Moorings By Rush Smith Rooters.

By BYRON PRICE, Associated Press Staff Writer. Sam Houston Hall, Houston, Tex., June 27.—(AP)—A quotation from Jefferson's religious freedom declaration fell like a firebrand into the Democratic national convention today and before the conflagration was over a half dozen fist fights had erupted over state standards, delegates sought to snatch up into roaring, cheering parade around the convention floor.

Police officers used their night sticks freely in the melees that erupted about the standards of North Carolina, Alabama and Georgia, principally, but touched in lesser degree the other delegations of the party who are opposed to the nomination for President of the Roman Catholic governor of New York. Apparently there were no serious injuries.

Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the permanent convention chairman, started the battle by interposing in a prepared speech two resolutions from the tenets of Jefferson. It was when the chairman made a pronouncement against the imposition of any religious test or public office that the fuse took fire. A delegate from Mississippi which is expected by many Smith men to switch to the New Yorker as soon as it has cast a complimentary ballot for its favorite son, Pat Harrison, burst out into the center aisle of the delegate section bearing aloft the Mississippi state standard, at once a riotous, wildly demonstrative parade began about the hall.

North Carolina and Alabama seated together at the very front, was silent. Amid the din until a passing Smith man sought to snatch up their standards too, and draw them by main force into the parade. In the melee two policemen came to the aid of the resisting delegates and the standards were broken. A moment later similar trouble broke out about the Georgia standard, and then just as the ten minute demonstration was at its height, a second attempt to bring the North Carolina standard to line requiring the combined efforts of a half dozen policemen, flourishing their maces in the air to quell.

The standard of North Carolina was broken in two in the aisles but before the demonstration ended the state's alternate standard was brought from the rear of the hall and put high on the speaker's platform where it stayed until the Smith paraders had returned to their seats under the hammering of the gavel.

The disturbance broke without warning, near the end of a short morning session of the convention devoted to hearing Senator Robinson's speech and disposing of routine business, including adoption without a roll call of a credentials committee report seating the Smith delegates from Louisiana. Nominating speeches probably will be heard at tonight's session.

By J. H. JENKINS, Associated Press Staff Writer. Houston, June 27.—(AP)—North Carolina and Tennessee furnished the real excitement of today's session of the Democratic convention when a melee was staged over the standards of the states around the question of permitting them to get into a "religious liberty" parade.

Former Lieut. Governor Newlands, of Lenoir, chairman of the North Carolina delegation, and T. D. Warren, a North Carolina delegate, received injured hands in the mixup and several other delegates were bruised.

The Tennessee delegation got together and kept their standard out of the parade but the anti-Smith men in the North Carolina delegation deliberately broke their standard to keep it out of the parade.

The North Carolina battle started when W. O. Saunders, fiery Elizabeth City editor and a Smith delegate from the first district sought (Continued On Page Two)

Followers Of Simmons Believe Anti-Faction Will Win Over New Yorker.

By J. H. JENKINS, Associated Press Staff Writer. Houston, Tex., June 27.—(AP)—The anti-Smith forces are confident that they will prevent the nomination of Gov. Alfred E. Smith, but just at present they are not putting out any definite figures as to their strength. Frank Hampton, secretary to Senator Furnifold M. Simmons of North Carolina declared today.

Not only are they certain, the North Carolina national committee's proxy asserted, but they have actual figures by states showing the vote that will stick.

Mr. Hampton said that he had talked with Senator Simmons on the telephone today and that the veteran leader, detained in Washington by illness, was as confident as he that the Smith forces would be prevented from gaining the nomination for the New Yorker.

"The anti-Smith leaders have a list of votes by states that they can count upon," said Mr. Hampton. "But for obvious reasons we do not care to give out this list. We have agreed that the list will be kept private until the time for the fight."

The Smith forces hope to stampede the convention with their shouting and claims and thus gain "band wagon" votes, he added.

Smith Supporters Now Looking To Oklahoma And Ohio For Success

By PAUL F. HAUFERT, Associated Press Staff Writer. Houston, June 27.—(AP)—The Ohio delegation voted overwhelmingly in caucus today to authorize its chairman to switch practically its entire 48 votes from former Senator Alle Pomerene to Governor Alfred E. Smith "at any time from the beginning of the first ballot."

Only two or three nays were heard on the viva voce vote by which the motion was approved and this was taken by leaders of the delegation to indicate that at least 44 of the 48 votes would be cast for Smith. Informal polls of the delegation had shown this lineup.

The motion commits the chairman to cast the entire vote for Pomerene on the first ballot, but authorizes him to shift before the roll call is concluded if he sees fit. As agreed upon, he will cast the entire state vote for Smith when the shift is made except when directed by individual delegates to vote otherwise for them.

While not committing himself, Chairman Claude Maeker of Columbus, indicated that he would switch the Ohio votes before conclusion of the first ballot, if that would put Smith over.

AMUNDSEN AND CREW SIGHTED ON ICE FLOES

Norwegian Sealer Reports Seeing Missing Plane Crew Near Northeast Land.

Berlin, June 27.—(AP)—A second version containing additional details of a report received in Norway that the plane of Roald Amundsen was sighted by a Norwegian sealer on June 20 is contained in a special dispatch from Tromsø to the Lokal Anzeiger.

This states that a telegram had been received from Archangel, Russia stating that the Norwegian sealer, whose name was not mentioned, had sighted the long-missing plane on an ice floe southeast of Northeast Land. Dense ice prevented the approach of the sealer, but the crew of the plane could be discerned through a telescope repairing the machine.

As the vessel was without radio, it handed its message to a Russian steamer which in turn sent it by wireless to Archangel.

GANG GUNS GET MURPHY

"Big Tim" Falls Prey to Machine Gun Fire of Chicago's Gang Land.

Chicago, June 27.—(AP)—The gang guns got Big Tim Murphy last night.

A machine gun barrel was thrust through the window of a sedan cruising slowly by the Murphy bungalow. Murphy's six feet three standing on the lawn was an easy target.

Fire streamed from the window of the sedan. The knees of a giant buckled, and the blood of Big Tim Murphy stained the grass where he fell.

Two years ago Murphy stepped from Leavenworth penitentiary after serving a sentence for complicity in the daring Dearborn street station robbery of 1922.

Racketeer, mail robber, gambler—Murphy's name frequently was whispered in connection with police mysteries. When "Mossy" Knight, who had been Murphy's own, was shot dead at his home in 1920, Murphy was arrested. But they could not connect him with it.

It was following his release in this case that Murphy for the first time appeared in public with the bodyguard which designates the marked man in Chicago's underworld. He was never one to carry a gun. He had no weapon when he was shot down last night.

Fifteen years ago the word went around that Murphy, who had risen to power as president of the Gas Workers' Union, had been marked for death. Yet Murphy's buck teeth continued to gleam in the Murphy smile and he lived to read the obituaries of scores of gangsters, racketeers, feudists and slayers.

But 42 years is a long time to live for one with pursuits so precarious as Big Tim's. His time came last night.

Alleged Murderer Of Wife and Baby Is Given Freedom

Sanford, June 27.—(AP)—Roe Sheffield today was a free man, following an investigation by authorities into the alleged drowning of his wife and baby.

Sheriff Womble of Lee county, who took up the search for the missing mother and child after Sheriff Blair of Chatham, learned it was out of his county, said there was no evidence to support Sheffield's five year old daughter's story that she saw him throw the mother and child into Deep River.

Sheffield said his wife and baby were missed last Thursday. He said he had assumed they had gone off with neighbors.

ROBINSON ASSAILS REPUBLICANS, WARNS AGAINST 'WET' PLANK, AND MAKES BID FOR FARMERS' SUPPORT

Houston, Texas, June 27.—(AP)—Senator Joseph T. Robinson, of Arkansas, assailed the Republican administration of the last seven years, warned against inclusion of a "wet" plank in the Democratic platform, and made a bid for farm support in his speech accepting the permanent chairmanship of the Democratic national convention here today.

The text is as follows: The responsibility as well as the honor associated with the chairmanship of this convention is fully recognized. The obligation to serve with patience and impartiality is readily acknowledged. Seldom, if ever, have the representatives of the national Democratic party gathered under more impressive conditions. We face a notable political crisis. The exercise of sound judgment and common sense in the nomination of candidates and the demonstration of fidelity to recognized party principles constitute a sane way to harmonize our differences and are essential to success in the approaching campaign.

The Democratic party has a mission which has not materially changed since the days of Jefferson. The necessity for political reform is greater now than ever before. Our party, from its birth, has safeguarded the rights of the masses. It has championed personal liberty and opposed centralization. Jefferson sought to protect the unselfish against the employment of laws and government agencies for private profit.

Jackson aroused the public to the menace of plutocracy. Cleveland voiced resentment at the abuse of the taxing power to enrich favored groups by the exploitation of the masses. Wilson defined anew the Democratic ideals of justice and equality. Since its formation the Democratic party has labored to establish the doctrine that the fundamental function of government is to secure equality of rights and opportunities for all citizens.

In this campaign the Republicans cunningly seek to raise false issues through which to win their way back into public favor.

The national administration during the last seven years is indefensible from any standpoint. For corruption and inefficiency it is paralleled only by the disgraceful prostration of power in states dominated by the Republican party. The assertion of our opponents that the Democratic party cannot be trusted to promote sound business is totally false. The Democratic party has at no time interfered with lawful enterprises. It is the defender of legitimate business. What other period since our government was established compares favorably with the eight years of the Wilson administration? The boldest champion of the opposition cannot recall another time when prosperity was more general. Tested by the usual profits, we find those eight years among the most glorious in all our country's history. Labor was profitably employed; industry operated full time; agriculture was on an equality with other businesses.

SMITH FAILS TO COMMENT ON KEYNOTE

New York Governor Hears Bowers' Message Over Radio, but Remains Unmoved.

Albany, N. Y., June 27.—(AP)—The activities of the Houston convention may arouse some emotion in the great Governor Alfred E. Smith, but it doesn't show in his face, nor is it translated into words.

The governor listened to the keynote speech by Claude G. Bowers at the executive mansion with a poker face turned toward the reporters he had invited to hear the address.

"Have you any comment to make?" they asked. "Absolutely none," he replied. "This is a social evening."

Among those who listened beside the radio in the executive mansion were Major John A. Warner, superintendent of the state troopers and the governor's son-in-law, and Mrs. Warner, the former Emily Smith.

The governor's great Dane, Jefferson, who despite his name, showed indifference to the Democratic oratory.

The governor accepted three gifts—a brown derby, a bunch of four leaf clover, and a string of thirteen trout from an admirer in Monticello.

The governor donned the derby to show it was a worthy successor to the series of other similar wares which have been worn during his political campaigns of the past quarter century.

"How do all these people that send you brown derbies know your size?" he was asked. "I think it was published in the paper once that I wear a seven and a quarter," the governor answered. "Anyway, they all get the size right; though that doesn't mean that all the hats are wearable. But this one is good; this is official."

Three Delegations For Smith Seated At Houston Today

Houston, June 27.—(AP)—The Smith delegations from Louisiana, the District of Columbia and the Panama canal zone, were seated today by the Democratic convention without even a roll call after the credentials committee recommended dismissal of contests against them.

Minority report of "protest" was filed by Colonel Carl Ristine, of Missouri, who waived a second vote.

ONLY SIX OF ITALIA CREW ALIVE TODAY

Six Others Who Drifted off in Balloon Part of Ship Believed Dead.

Kings Bay, Spitzbergen, June 27.—(AP)—Fear that six men, who drifted away in the balloon part of the Italia after its crash on the polar ice cap, were dead prevailed today when it was learned that the airship had caught fire.

Of the sixteen men who left aboard the dirigible for the north pole on May 23 only six were known to be alive today. One man was killed. Three have been missing since they started afoot for land.

General Umberto Nobile said that soon after the dirigible crashed on May 26 the balloon part drifted to the east and a small column of smoke was seen rising from it after it had gone about 10 kilometers (about six miles). The balloon then crashed. Nothing has been heard of the six men aboard.

Returning from the north pole on May 24 the Italia ran into fog; stormy weather and adverse winds. Fighting her way toward Kings Bay the dirigible at times was making a speed of less than 20 miles an hour.

Suddenly, Nobile advised, on the morning of May 25 the airship was weighted down, apparently by snow and ice forming on the bag. The craft plunged rapidly to the polar ice cap north of North East Land. Nobile found it impossible to halt the rapid descent of the ship and it crashed.

Vincenzo Pomella, motor attendant, was off in striking the ice, crushing Pomella. During the ensuing commotion he died.

The cabin and part of the upper bracing were also torn away. All those in the cabin were hurled to the ice. One of General Nobile's legs was fractured and his back injured. One of the legs of Natale Ceccioni, motor chief, was broken below the knee. Dr. Finn Malmgren, Swedish meteorologist, received bad contusions of the arm.

Houston, Texas, June 27.—(AP)—Senator Joseph T. Robinson, of Arkansas, assailed the Republican administration of the last seven years, warned against inclusion of a "wet" plank in the Democratic platform, and made a bid for farm support in his speech accepting the permanent chairmanship of the Democratic national convention here today.

The text is as follows: The responsibility as well as the honor associated with the chairmanship of this convention is fully recognized. Wilson defined anew the Democratic ideals of justice and equality. Since its formation the Democratic party has labored to establish the doctrine that the fundamental function of government is to secure equality of rights and opportunities for all citizens.

In this campaign the Republicans cunningly seek to raise false issues through which to win their way back into public favor.

The national administration during the last seven years is indefensible from any standpoint. For corruption and inefficiency it is paralleled only by the disgraceful prostration of power in states dominated by the Republican party. The assertion of our opponents that the Democratic party cannot be trusted to promote sound business is totally false. The Democratic party has at no time interfered with lawful enterprises. It is the defender of legitimate business. What other period since our government was established compares favorably with the eight years of the Wilson administration? The boldest champion of the opposition cannot recall another time when prosperity was more general. Tested by the usual profits, we find those eight years among the most glorious in all our country's history. Labor was profitably employed; industry operated full time; agriculture was on an equality with other businesses.

The prosperity of the present by no means equals that under Democratic control. The facts of the whole do not justify the boast in the Kansas City platform.

The secretary of the treasury admits in his annual report for 1927 that conditions during that year were worse than in 1926.

The President's Industrial Conference Board asserts that business prosperity in the United States is confined to giant corporations. The Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce examined 100,000 concerns in 1927 and reported 34,000 of them earning no profits whatever.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue states that only three-fifths of the corporations manufacturing leather products reported net incomes for 1925.

The record of commercial and bank failures reflects the falsity of this claim of exceptional prosperity.

In 1919 only 50 state banks and four national banks failed with aggregate liabilities of less than $12,000,000; in 1925, 361 state banks and 103 national banks with total liabilities of $175,000,000 passed into receiverships. Note the figures for 1926: Seven hundred and seventy-two state banks failed with liabilities of $269,000,000. The data for 1927 is incomplete but it shows total liabilities of state banks which became insolvent during that year in excess of $200,000,000.

What are the facts with respect to commercial failures? There were 29 per cent more in 1927 than in the previous year.

Annual farm products decreased more than $1,500,000,000 comparing 1924 with 1927.

The Bureau of Labor statistics reveal a 20 per cent decrease now in employment over 1927.

The depressed condition of agriculture is of common knowledge. This, the greatest of all industries, has been steadily declining since the Republican party initiated its policy of deflation in 1921. Every one knows that agriculture has been going backward since Wilson's administration ended. Never before has there existed such discontent among farm producers. They at (Continued On Page Six)

HIGHLANDERS BLANK LOCALS

Fayetteville, June 25.—Deacon Atkinson was in fine form today and shut out Greenville, allowing them but four hits, two of them coming in the same inning. The final score was 3-0.

Timely hitting by Young, Gooch, and Shimmers accounted for the Highlanders' score. In the fourth inning Young opened with a single, took second on a bad pitch and scored on Gooch's bingle to center. In the eighth the Highlander Skipper beat out an infield tap to deep short, advanced to second on Ray's out, took third on a wild pitch and crossed the plate on Shimmer's long home run that cleared the fence near the scoreboard.

Daniels, Greenville outfielder, started the game with a two base hit but Atkinson fanned Denton and Finlator and forced Williams to hit to second for an easy out. In the eighth Greenville threatened to score but Benedict ended the inning when he made a nice stop of Williams' hard hit bouncer.

Buckner, who formerly played with Siler City, joined the Highlanders today and covered third nicely. The game started an hour late on account of rain.

Piedmont Leaders Won Yesterday
 By the Associated Press.
 All clubs in the first division of the Piedmont league added wins to their credit yesterday and widened the dividing line materially.

Not satisfied with their already impressive margin of league leadership, the Winston-Salem Twins annexed the game from Salisbury, 6 to 1. What is believed to be a Piedmont League record, if not one covering a wider field, was established when Chick Evans, Twin outfielder, handled 10 put outs without a Bible. He handled ten fly balls in the Garden, making a put out every inning except the first, fifth and seventh. The hurling of Hearn was brilliant.

Greensboro snatched the game from the cellar holding Durham Bulls, 9 to 1. Only Westmoreland's circuit blow saved the Bovine tribe from another shutout. Two homers were clouted for the Patriots by Toots Brandon with the sack clear.

The Raleigh Caps for the second time in as many days took a balloon trip and returned to earth in time to see a 13 to 4 score chalked up in favor of High Point. The star hurler for the Caps was driven to the showers in the fourth when the Pointers took in 8 runs.

Goldsboro Still Going Strong In E. C.
 By the Associated Press.
 A ninth inning rally which netted two runs allowed Goldsboro to lift yesterday's game from Rocky Mount by the margin of 10-9 and add prestige to their claim on leadership of the Eastern Carolina league. Both clubs wielded the stick well but gave their pitchers poor support. Daughtry was spiked in the first but not seriously injured.

Although losing the opening to the Stemmers, 8 to 1, the Wilmington Pirates came back in the nightcap and took it 7 to 3. Pitcher Newsome's homer in the sixth inning of the second game with two men on bases accounted for the win.

Timely hitting and tight hurling accounted for the Highlander's 3 to 0 victory over Greenville. Atkinson gave up but four hits, no two of them coming in the same inning, and was accorded good support by his mates. Young, Gooch and Shimmers stood out in the batting list.

ROBINS AND SENATORS IN LIMELIGHT

(By the Associated Press)

The daily shift of baseball fortunes finds the Washington Senators and the Brooklyn Robins holding that part of the spotlight not devoted to the two pace-setting clubs, the St. Louis Cards and the New York Yankees.

Robby almost laughed out loud yesterday when the Dodgers beat the Braves twice at Boston and hurried from fifth place to third, leaping over the Chicago Cubs and Cincinnati Reds enroute. Bill Clark had no trouble stopping the Braves in the first game 5 to 1. Jake Flowers' single in the ninth scored the tying and winning runs in the Robins' 6 to 5 victory in the nightcap.

The New York Giants consolidated their position in second place with their third straight verdict over the Phils 7 to 6.

The Cubs finished all square in a twin bill at Chicago with the Pirates one up with a four hit shutout in the first contest, 1 to 0. The Pirates bowed 7 to 3 in the nightcap, however.

Barnes, Senator's outfielder, drove out two homers that accounted for all of Washington's runs in a 4 to 1 victory over the faltering Philadelphia Athletics.

That rising young star from St. Mary's College, Larry Betencourt, crashed out a home run with the bases filled and the Browns evened the series with the Cleveland Indians, 5 to 3.

The Tigers dropped another game to the Chicago White Sox, 5 to 2. Grady Adkins gave up only three safe hits.

Asheville Still Leads The Pack
 (By the Associated Press)
 At the present moment Macon and Asheville stand practically tied for the South Atlantic Association leadership although the Peaches are on top by a scant three point margin.

The Tourists, who have been in an out of first place for the past month, came up on the heels of Wilbur Good's men Tuesday, a ninth inning rally and a 5 to 4 victory over Charlotte doing the work.

At the same time the present leaders were losing a 5 to 3 game with Spartanburg. Novak's homer helped out. The Peaches were held to half a dozen bingles by Buvid, while the Spartans were securing one more off Rauch.

Each came through with three of Macon's hits.

Two homers by Hillis, included in Columbia's 16 entries, featured the Comers' 8 to 2 victory over Greenville in the first game of a double header. The Spinners staged a comeback, however, to make things even by a 6-1 count in the curtain dropper, despite Hillis' third four bagger of the day.

Milner's triple in the ninth scored two men and he later registered to give Augusta a 6 to 5 decision over Knoxville. Davis, Tiger outfielder, obtained four hits in five times at bat.

FIRST WOMAN PILOT IN AIR TOUR

Newton D. Baker, secretary of war under President Wilson, and sentiment in favor of Allee Pomerene as Governor Donahay of Ohio, was sounded out. Pomerene carries the support of the Ohio delegation.

The campaign of Senator Barkley of Kentucky, was receiving additional impetus with his admirers predicting that he would carry Kentucky, Tennessee and Oklahoma and would prove a vote getter among the farmers of the middle west.

Another Kentuckian entered the lists while the Barkley ballyhoo was being steamed up. General Henry T. Allen, who led a division including many Oklahomans in the world war, appeared on the scene to wage a vigorous fight for the nomination. His managers predicted that he would be able to swing Kentucky, West Virginia, Tennessee and Oklahoma into line.

Another world war figure was thrown into the scramble with the prediction that Wisconsin would support Major General William Mitchell for the vice presidency, while still another military figure was injected by Louisianians favoring the nomination of Major General John A. LeJeune, commandant of the marine corps.

STATE STANDARD BROKEN TO PIECES IN MELEE AT THE HOUSTON CONVENTION to get the standard into the parade when Chairman Joe Robinson, of Arkansas, said in his speech that Jefferson favored religious freedom.

Chairman Newlands first refused to permit the banner to go into the parade but finally held that in the absence of any rule to the contrary, he would allow it. State Senator Brown and Judge Brooks jumped up then and seizing the standard, broke it in two.

Indiana delegates declared they were for a ticket "all women a yard wide," and would fight for his nomination as Presidential candidate. The yardstick that they also preferred him for the vice presidential nomination.

There came whisperings from

Mr. Coolidge has made no plans yet to participate in the fourth coming political campaign. Definite decision on what his activities if any will be, will be reached by him later in the year when he shall have had the opportunity to consider more carefully the situation.

In the meantime, however, Secretary Work of the interior department who announced he would resign shortly from the cabinet to devote all his time to the chairmanship of the Republican national committee, is expected to provide Mr. Coolidge with some preliminary information in a visit to the summer White House next week.

Mr. Coolidge has received no direct word from Secretary Hoover as to whether the Republican nominee expects to stop over here early in July on his way to California. The chief executive expects, however, a call from Secretary of State Kellogg when the latter pays his annual visit to St. Paul, Minn. next month.

started in the North Carolina delegation over possession of the state standard when a demonstration was started in the Democratic convention over reference to the religious issue by Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, permanent chairman.

Half a dozen police broke through to quell the row once but it broke out again a moment later and the North Carolina standard was broken in pieces in the struggle. The police used their blackjacks but there seemed to be no bloodshed.

Five police finally were swinging blackjacks and clubs in attempts to stop the fight and the state parade was almost broken up as the battle raged in the front aisle just before the speakers stand.

A fist fight then started in the Alabama delegation sitting just behind North Carolina and the state's banner went down in the rush.

A gang of Alabama delegates swarmed about the standard and across the aisles, Tennessee delegates rallied about their standard as the rush started their way.

Tennessee's banner was wrested from its moorings, however, and amid a roar it was swept down the front aisle in a rush of Smith rooters.

Meanwhile, North Carolina's banner was torn from its mast.

W. O. Saunders, was named as the man who first attempted to pick up the North Carolina standard.

A squadron of police stood guard after quelling the fighting in the vicinity of the North Carolina and Alabama standards.

As the convention settled a spirit of good will showed itself in the North Carolina delegation, with both parties to the right there helped to place the banner again on its mast. Alabama delegates were loudly over their success in securing their banner against the invasion.

In Loving Remembrance of Mrs. C. A. Jones.

On June the twentieth, 1928, the death angel visited the home of Mr. C. A. Jones and stole from the family their most precious companion, wife and mother. Mrs. Jones was a loving wife and a devoted mother, and we feel sure that their loss is her eternal gain.

She was 55 years of age, and a woman of sterling character. To know her was to love her. Her faith in God was wonderful as she never lost hopes of repaying her friends for the kindnesses rendered her during her suffering. All was done for her that loving hands could do, but to no avail, for God knew best.

She leaves behind to mourn her loss a devoted husband, three sons, and one daughter, besides a host of friends and relatives. The deepest sympathy of our community goes out to the loved ones left behind.

For as death has come and claimed his treasure. Hid her from their earthly eyes. But according to the promise. She awaits them in the skies.

She was faithful, kind and noble. Honest-hearted, brave and true. Always doing things for others. Being a friend to me and you.

She has left her tracks behind her. Time and age can't wipe away. She has given strength and courage. Made life bright on her way.

She has gone from out their number. Oh, their hearts are crushed with pain. Yet we know it's by their losing. It is ever heaven's gain.

She has left a pretty pattern. For her family to measure to. She has lived a life successful. Doing what was good and true.

She has made her life a treasure. Fit for their hearts to own. And in their memory she'll be living. With the seed that she has sown.

How may they strive to cross that river. Strive to rest upon that shore. There to see, to know and love her. With the angels, ever more.

—By a Sincere Friend, Mrs. Maud Surrill.

Players Please Audience.

Jeff Coffey as Tony Lumpkin and Martha Miller as Mrs. Hardcastle, kept the audience in a most hilarious mood the whole evening in their performance of "She Stoops to Conquer" at East Carolina Teachers College last evening. Those who had never seen this famous old comedy could see why it has stood the test of nearly a century and a half and those who had seen it many times enjoyed the fine interpretations given the familiar lines and action by these excellent actors.

The stars were well supported by the others in the cast. Clarence Westerlund as Squire Hardcastle played the part well as an opposite to Mrs. Hardcastle, but was especially good in the scenes with the two friends who take his house for an inn. Arthur Mayberry as Hastings, and Miner Coburn as Marlowe, the difficult paradoxical character, reserved and timid and bold and free, were a good match. Harriet Hines as Kate Hardcastle and Beulah Van Alstyne gave good support to those leading. John Buckstaff as Stingo gave the audience a true conception of an eighteenth century landlord of an inn.

The "vignette setting" has the advantage of giving a unity and sweep to the play because there are no waits between the scenes, although at first something familiar seemed to be wanting, especially in the tavern scene.

The Coffey-Miller Players will receive a warm welcome to the college in the future as this is the second time they have made a fine impression on the college audience.

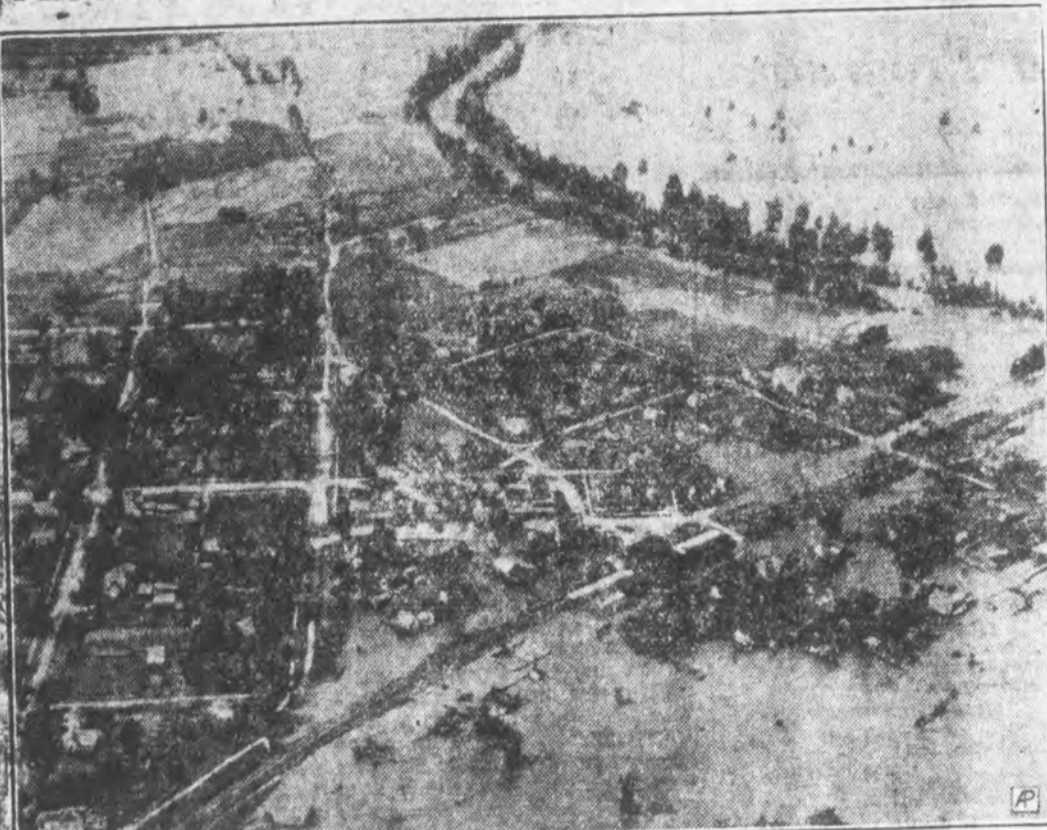

The next entertainment will be on Tuesday evening of next week, the International Singers, a noted male quartet.

The Hampton Singers, the quartet from Hampton Institute, will give a free concert on the evening of July 8.

Weather Warms Up At Houston

Houston, June 27.—(AP)—With the temperature in the middle 80's, Democracy's national conclave began its second day with the prospect of a hot time as far as the weather was concerned.

High humidity, which was recorded at 99 at 7 o'clock as the delegates began stirring for the day's proceedings made the temperature seem even hotter than it actually was. A year ago humidity at the same time was only 65.

The mercury reached its highest point in the last 24 hours, at 92 o'clock yesterday afternoon when 91 was recorded. A thunder shower cooled the atmosphere around six o'clock last evening and brought the mercury down to 66 at 7 p. m., the lowest of the night.

The mercury had crept to 84 by 9:30 a. m. and was on its way to probably the hottest day of the Democrats' visit.

Little belief was in prospect as forecaster Dangerfield predicted mostly cloudy weather with not much change in temperature.

WHICH DO YOU PREFER?

With the nomination of Governor Alfred E. Smith as the Democratic standard-bearer now practically assured, we commend to those good Democrats who have declared that they will vote for anybody rather than Smith, the records of the Republican party for the past seven years, for their careful study and consideration.

As stated by Claud G. Bowers in his keynote address before the convention last night, it is not necessary to charge the Republicans with anything, we only have to follow the official record to see that the Gold Dust twins, Privilege and Pillage, have stalked forth under the sanction and protection of the Republican party.

Silence is golden—for the thief—declared Mr. Bowers, and as a reward for his silence in connection with the oil frauds, Herbert Hoover today is presented to the people of the nation by the Republican party as its candidate for the presidency.

Not only from the Democratic camp has come the denunciation of Herbert Hoover, his platform and those who made possible his nomination. On the day following Hoover's nomination Senator Norris, Republican of Nebraska, declared that the action of the Republican convention should be a "sad disappointment to every progressive citizen of the United States."

Pointing out that those same officials who had taken part in the various public scandals or had winked at them and remained silent, had been the factors in Hoover's nomination and the adoption of the platform on which he seeks the support of the voters of the nation, Senator Norris said:

"If this program is endorsed at the polls, it will be the duty of the Senate when it reconvenes in December, to apologize to power trust Insull and his man from Illinois, for whose election he contributed more than $100,000; to seat Boss Vare the representative of the Philadelphia political machine; to reinstate Daugherty; to apologize to Sinclair and Doheny and to pass a law returning to them the property which the Supreme Court of the United States said they had fraudulently obtained; to give a certificate of character to ex-Secretary Fall; to ask for the pardon of Miller, who had been sentenced to the penitentiary; to destroy the incriminating evidence which investigation brought forth of the fraudulent profits of O'Neal and Stewart; to invite Blackmer to return from his hiding place in Europe and receive him in good society with open arms; to condemn the Supreme Court of the United States for declaring the Fall-Sinclair-Doheny deals were disgraceful and fraudulent; to call upon the Federal Trade Commission to cease its investigation where in it is disclosing the sinister attacks upon our government by the power trust; and to ask forgiveness for all its activities in disclosing fraud and dishonesty in high official places."

ABOUT TOWN

"It's a pity Carl Goerch, Washington newspaperman, had the misfortune of losing his 'fare back home' before reaching the Houston Democratic convention," sympathized one of Goerch's friends today.

"It should be a good lesson to him. In the future he may learn how advisable it is to stay out of political poker games—especially when one is forced to play with opposing members as he did.

"In case he shouldn't be able to scrape up return fare he might write some of his friends back home, or ride the Democratic mule—providing the animal is capable of hitting the trail after the convention is over."

"Members of the Greenville Kiwanis Club and their wives left this afternoon for Bayview to have supper and attend an old fashioned square dance," said a member of the club who had to stay home and look after the children.

"The boys always have a good time on a trip of this kind. It is the first time they have visited the popular resort on the Pamlico, and it is needless to say they will see many things they didn't know existed in the new development.

"While the square dance may not have any direct appeal to young members of the club, those whose head have grown hoary with passing years will get quite a kick out of the affair. The music will be furnished by the orchestra employed at the resort through the summer months and will add much to the pleasure of the occasion.

"The club members and their wives, too, will not soon forget this trip. Neither will the children I am doomed to stay with tonight while the madam is out looking over prevailing fashions in Greenville style centers."

"Ed Flanagan and John Holmes, Pitt county representatives at the Democratic national convention at Houston, may disagree on their policies, but there is one thing they will never disagree about—and that is Pitt county's place as a tobacco growing state," declared an admirer of both men today.

"Both talk Pitt county wherever they go. They laud its advantages to the skies. Like every other community, we may have a few things not in our favor, but Ed Flanagan has never seen them. Neither has John Holmes.

"Other delegates may talk about the possibilities of their individual localities. But if they get in more genuine boasting than the two Pitt countyans they will have to broadcast night and day.

"Ed Flanagan was born and raised in Pitt county. There is no aroma in the world sweeter to his nostrils than that emitted by the tobacco barn while the curing process is under way. If he should get several thousand miles from home and meet a Pitt county tobacco worm in the road, it is settled fact the worm would be embraced, although back home he would assume the form of an enemy.

"John Holmes is built of the same kind of material. They are molded of the same clay, and while there is a vast difference in physiognomy, they are the same in spirit.

"There is what it takes to make a community great, and good and strong. This is the force necessary to guarantee solidarity of ideals and the preservation of principles upon which the government is founded. "May they live to attend more national conventions. When they have joined the vast army who live in memory alone, may Pitt county have produced other strong shoulders to assume the burden they leave behind."

"Somebody said it couldn't be done—but Greenville did it," remarked a supporter of Deacon Joff's ball club today, commenting about the game with Fayetteville Monday.

"It really looked like it couldn't be done in early stages of the game. But the never-say-die spirit predominated until the tenth and Greenville slipped a runner around the circuit—and won the game.

"It is just like I have argued all along. When we get the bugs, we will more than likely win. Someone has said that baseball is composed of the case for the last two or mainly of skill with a considerable amount of luck. This fact has been proven in hundred of games, Greenville proved it in Monday's game. Had not the throw been made to first base to catch a runner playing to far off, we might have been forced into many more innings. "As it was, the break was just what we wanted. The ball went wild and the winning runner raced to the checking station. "Watch the club mount the standing of clubs column from now on. With favorable breaks, we will be at the top in less time than the ordinary observer would think."

"Watch Greenville grow," urged a business man today, as he called our attention to the number of improvements under way in the business and residential sections of the city. "Nearly every day some improvement gets under way. This has been the case for the last two or three years, and this growth which was not evident right at first, is becoming perceptible to almost everyone at this time. "Probably the most pronounced growth is noted in tobacco towns where new warehouses and additions to other buildings are springing up almost like magic. Facilities for handling the weed this year will be greater than ever before, and should result in greatly increased sales.

"If you have faith in the possibilities of the city, you could do nothing better than invest in real estate. Values have increased to a little extent. Property which a year or so ago could have been bought almost for a song, is commanding excellent prices now. New homes dot the landscape in many sections. This is the cause of improved values."

Secretary Mellon also was the Democratic Keynoter Flays Republicans At Houston Convention

Houston, Tex., June 27.—(AP)—Charges of Republican corruption leveled at the President. The Secretary of the Democratic party in the coming presidential campaign was sounded by Claude G. Bowers, editorial writer of the New York World, in delivering the keynote speech last night to the Democratic national convention.

The Democratic party "has mobilized today to wage a war of extermination against privilege and pillage," the editor told the delegates in an impassioned address. "And we shall win because our cause is just."

Charging the Republican party with having abandoned the principles laid down by Abraham Lincoln and with now having raised the banner of Alexander Hamilton who "believed in the aristocracy of money," Mr. Bowers concentrated his attack upon the scandals of the Harding administration, upon Secretary Mellon for tax reduction to the wealthy classes; upon President Coolidge for his veto of the farm relief legislation, "dollar diplomacy" and "mythical prosperity."

"The tragedy of the farms" was his characterization of the agricultural problem which has proved a leading question of the recent Republican convulse and he centered his attack on President Coolidge on this issue. "One month ago the President bitterly denounced," he said, "with contemptuous phrasing the revolving fund of a farm relief bill; and the next day he heartily approved the revolving fund for the favored shipping interest.

"One day the head of the state by a scratch of the pen increased the tariff loot of the pig iron industry by fifty per cent," he continued, "and the next day he delivered a message to the farmers on the wickedness of expecting profit from a governmental act. Under the Coolidge administration," he declared, "there has been a depreciation in the value of farm lands and equipment of thirty billion dollars—Millions of farms have been abandoned and two million men driven from their farms by economic necessity within the year."

"Now we do not ask paternalistic privilege for the farmer," he said, in outlining the Democratic policy towards the farmer, "but we do demand that the hand of privilege shall be taken out of the farmer's pockets and off the farmer's throat. We propose to tear down the system of privilege and put the farmer on an absolute equality with every other industry—that is Jeffersonian democracy. We do not propose that the most basic of all our industries shall longer be a dormat for all the others to wipe their feet upon as they enter the Temple of Privilege.

"We do not underestimate the enemy," he declared. "The little gilded group that now owns and controls the government can pour a golden stream into the slush fund and make no impression upon the fortunes that have legislated into their coffers. The enemy enters the campaign unembarrassed by a debt—Harry Sinclair has paid that off. . . . For forty years the party in power has conjured with the name of Lincoln while following the leadership of Hamilton and now after eight years of successful privilege and pillage it throws off the Lincolnian mask. I could hardly keep the Lincoln mask on its face and Sinclair's money in its chest. Thus at Kansas City where they dramatized the issue it was not Lincoln but Hamilton who rode at the head of the procession."

The Democratic party, on the other hand, believes in the political principles of Thomas Jefferson, he said who stood for "a democracy of men" and governments "created for the service of the people." The Democrats "battle for the honor of the nation besmirched and bedraggled by the most brazen and shameless carnival of corruption that ever blackened the reputation of a recent and self-respecting people."

In his speech Mr. Bowers made no reference to the prohibition question. The so-called scandals of the Harding administration were described in graphic fashion by the editor who declared that "from the moment of the election of 1920 there was a mobilization of the Black Horse Cavalry of privilege and pillage and it catered down Pennsylvania avenue, up and down from one end to the other. Strange creatures, new to the capital, put in appearance. Desk room was found for one of these in the Department of Justice. The Best Minds established a temple of the new patriotism in the Little Green House on K street.

"Men who were the very symbols of privilege, whose fortunes had been made on the favors of the government, were put in possession of the instrumentalities of the state. Acting in the Hamiltonian theory that governments are strong in proportion as they are made profitable to the powerful, the foremost of these was placed in a strategic public station that he might personally supervise the delivery of the goods. The representatives of special interest hastened to the capital with their receipts for campaign contributions, to be given a key to the Treasury and a guest card at the patriotic club on K street where there was a sound of revelry by night." Within 5 months the conditions in Washington had become a scandal and a stench. The reign of privilege and pillage had begun."

subject of an attack in the editor's address, even more bitter than that leveled at the President. The Secretary of the administration, Bowers received the oil bonds—"and made no protest against the party taking its share out of the pot filled by the pillaging of the nation's property." He added that "silence is golden—for the party chest."

He also assailed Mr. Mellon for opposing farm relief, declaring that the Secretary made "much of his fortune" through the same processes as the equalization fee. This "Pittsburgh Bratiano had decided," he added, "to make Rumanian farmers of American farmers to fill a purse-proud caste."

In dealing with the corruption issue, Mr. Bowers characterized seven and a half years of the Republican regime as "putrid beyond precedent," and added, "we make no charge—we follow the official record."

"We have seen the money appropriated for the care of the sick and wounded soldiers," he continued, "squandered on the pleasures of a drunken libertine. We have seen the nation's oil reserves set aside by the presence of Roosevelt and sacredly guarded by the honesty and wisdom of Wilson and Daniels, bartered away by a member of the Cabinet for a bribe in a little black bag."

Bowers took the officials of the administration to task for their "indifference and silence" over the oil scandals, while he praised the denunciations of the affair by the late Senator LaFollette and the investigations by Senator Walsh of Indiana.

"The Coolidge prosperity" was described as a "myth" by the keynote speaker who declared that "four million jobless men" and "the utter ruin of the basic industry," agriculture, is not prosperity. He said that the Wilson administration paid six and a third billion dollars on the public debt out of the eight billions claimed by the Republican administration. "Mythical prosperity, mythical economy, mythical facts, mythical figures, mythical men," he added, "the last eight years may well be treated by the historian of the far future as the mythical age of American History." Speaking of the regulation of elections in Nicaragua "that is taking its daily toll of American lives," Bowers declared "why, not long ago we were unable to guarantee an honest election in Philadelphia" and "at the time we were sending marines to Nicaragua, we were campaigning with bombs in Chicago."

The Democratic principles "have been written in the triumphs of the people and baptized in the blood of our bravest and our best," he said. "Jefferson phrased them, Jackson vitalized them, Wilson applied them." To the late President Wilson, Mr. Bowers accorded high praise in various portions of his speech.

He declared the Democrats "stand for the restoration of the government to the people who built by their bravery and cemented it with their blood." There are "Lincoln Republicans and Hamilton Republicans," he added, "but never the twin shall meet, not even at Kansas City."

"We propose to take our stand so uncompromisingly on the elemental principles of Jeffersonian Democracy that liberals and progressives may fraternize with us in a common fight against the common foe in the common interest of the average man and woman.

"The time has come," were concluding words. "The battle has struck. Then to your tents, Israel."

WET AND DRY ISSUES FEATURE N. D. PRIMARY

Fargo, N. D., June 27.—(AP)—A wet and dry issue promised a heavy vote in today's state-wide primary, to nominate candidate for Congress and state office.

The ballot contained a proposal to repeal the prohibition clause of the state constitution, which forbids the manufacture and sale of liquor.

North Dakota was one of the early "dry" states, and efforts have been made at various times to modify the law.

PULLMAN COIL SPRING DAVENPORT BED SUITE
Illustration of a Pullman Davenport Bed Suite including a sofa, two chairs, and a bed.

The "Occasional" Room That Costs No Rent
The guest room in a home is really only an occasional room
It stands there eating up rent and needing cleaning until Uncle Tom unexpectedly comes back from Australia, or it's raining too hard for guests to go home.

In the Pullman Davenport Bed there's an abridged edition of a guestroom. The davenport stands there beautifying the room. Guests are blissfully unaware of the fact that under its comfortable cushions is a real double bed. But when bedtime arrives you make a few "mysterious" motions and a "guest room" appears. Here inside is a real bed—double width—and with coil springs like the finest hotel beds. It holds a perfect 25-pound one piece mattress that folds into the davenport when the bed closes.

Come see this wonderful bed arrangement! See how comfortable the suite is! Admire its graceful lines and its Jacquard Velour covering!
And you'll wonder, as have so many others, how we can sell these three pieces for such low prices as we are asking.
