FRENCH PLANE DEFERS FLIGHT SEVERAL DAYS

La Fregate to Remain at Horta Until Motor Has Been Overhauled.

Paris, July 24.—(AP)—The Havas News Agency announced late today that it had been officially decided to abandon the trans-Atlantic flight of Lieutenant Paulin Paris, now at Horta, in the Azores, from France to the United States.

Horta, Island of Fayal, Azores, July 24.—(AP)—The French crew of the seaplane La Fregate, which left from France to the United States, hope to continue their trans-Atlantic flight tomorrow.

One of the motors of the plane failed to work on the latter part of the flight from Brest to Horta, but the plane was hoisted on the breakwater immediately for repairs. One of the floats also was found to be leaking and this was repaired.

"We had a good flight to Horta. The machine behaving splendidly except for the latter part when one of the engines was not working," Lieut. Paulin Paris, in command of the flight, told the Associated Press today. "At present we are repairing this and also one of the floats. We hope to leave tomorrow. Meteorological conditions will decide as to whether we will go to Bermuda or Halifax."

Lieut. Paris said that he was delighted to meet Captain Frank T. Courtney, British aviator, who also is at Horta ready to take off for America by way of Newfoundland.

Capt. Courtney's plane does not carry as much gasoline as the French machine and he has been waiting for good weather conditions before making the long hop.

The French flier first met the British aviator during the world war when they became friends and their meeting again in the Azores was most cordial.

Meanwhile, while waiting for repairs to be taken, the Frenchmen have been taking the opportunity to get in some swimming.

Paris, July 24.—(AP)—The minister of marine announced today that the flight to New York of the French seaplane La Fregate (Frigate Bird) now at Horta, in the Azores, has been postponed for several days.

Lieutenant Paulin Louis Jerome Paris wants to overhaul the motor of the machine.

Radio messages from the plane during the flight to Horta from Brest said that all worked well throughout. It has been reported, however, that the flyers had difficulty with one motor shortly before they reached Horta.

Horta, Island of Fayal, Azores, July 24.—(AP)—Three French aviators, who hope to complete a round trip flight between Brest and New York by seaplane, waited today while minor repairs were being made to their plane.

Their plane La Fregate (the Frigate-Bird) was hoisted on the breakwater so that it could be groomed for the next leg of its flight to Bermuda. If they find their fuel supply sufficient on reaching there, the flyers, Lieutenant Paulin Louis Jerome Paris, Relief Pilot Marcel Marot and Radio Operator Louis Henri Cadon, will continue on to New York without stopping.

The French cruiser Ville D'Ys stood by ready to fuel the plane as soon as the aviators were ready to start.

In the harbor another flying boat, piloted by Captain Frank T. Courtney, British aviator, was ready to take-off for New York by way of Newfoundland, but it was uncertain when it would get away. Captain Courtney, who was forced back by adverse weather on his first attempt, said that since then he had been able to get good weather conditions across the Atlantic. The seaplane at Horta had also not been suited for a heavily laden plane to take off.

Lieutenant Paris in his flight from Brest steered entirely by the stars because the haze and clouds made the sea invisible immediately after leaving France. He had to fly around and over Horta and await strong daylight before descending.

The French fliers said that one of their engines failed during the latter part of the flight and that one of the floats was leaking. This made it necessary to delay in taking off for the United States.

The aviators have been more or less in seclusion aboard the cruiser Ville D'Ys waiting for repairs to their plane.

Minister Draws Jail Term For Contempt Court

Dalton, Ga., July 24.—(AP)—Charged with having violated a court order not to preach in the local church, the Rev. C. S. Williams, a minister of the Church of God, was serving a ten-day sentence in jail here today for contempt of court.

He was sentenced by Judge C. C. Pittman, who had issued the restraining order on petition of trustees of the church to prevent the preacher from "delivering a sermon or speaking before the congregation" on grounds that he had conducted himself in a "boisterous manner."

The court ordered that the church vote on the question, stipulating that if its decision was adverse to the minister, it automatically would be ordered that he "should not attempt to preach" or otherwise testify in church. The congregation thereupon voted that Rev. Williams could attend church only as a worshiper and not participate in the preaching.

It was charged that the minister disregarded this order and "intruded" during a recent service, "preaching and otherwise testifying for about 15 minutes."

Gives Luncheon for MacArthur. The Hague, Holland, July 24.—(AP)—R. M. Robin, American minister, gave a luncheon today to Major General Douglas MacArthur and other members of the American Olympic committee. The twenty guests invited included a number of distinguished Hollanders.

HOOVER GETS READY FOR NOTIFICATION

Stanford University, Cal., July 24.—(AP)—Herbert Hoover divided his time again today between work on his address of acceptance and conferences with political leaders and with Mayor Jaxs Ralph, Jr., concerning the home coming celebration to be given in his honor by San Francisco, probably on Friday.

Politics formed the subject of conferences the Republican Presidential candidate had arranged with Mrs. Worthington Scranton, national committeewoman from Pennsylvania, and Representative John Q. Tilson of Connecticut, Republican leader of the house of representatives and chairman of the eastern speakers bureau.

One of the questions which Tilson will have to determine is where Senator Hiram Johnson of California can be used to the best advantage during the campaign; whether his forceful argument will be of more value to the national ticket in the east or in the west.

Senator Johnson, who was a luncheon guest of Secretary Hoover yesterday, has tendered his services and has left it to the campaign managers to say where he is to stump for the national ticket during such time as he can spare from his own campaign for re-election here in California.

While the senior California senator has come out for the Hoover-Curtis ticket, there are more than surface indications that he and the Republican Presidential nominee are not entirely in accord with respect to the activities of the public utilities associations, the "polar trust" as the senator describes it.

Whether Mr. Hoover will touch upon that question in his acceptance address on August 11 remains to be seen, but the general impression here is that he will not, since the Sees Combination Of Two Great Oil Concerns of U. S.

New York, July 24.—(AP)—The New York World today says that signs discernible in Wall Street indicate that out of the oil situation that has held the attention of the country the last four years may come a working combination of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana and the Sinclair Consolidated Oil Company involving hundreds of millions of dollars.

Signs pointing to such a combination are seen in the contemplated doubling of the capacity of the Sinclair pipe line, which is controlled equally by the Standard Oil Company of Indiana and the Sinclair Consolidated Oil Corporation.

If this contemplated doubling of capacity presages a combination between Col. Robert W. Stewart, chairman of the board of the Standard of Indiana, and Harry F. Sinclair, head of the Sinclair company, says the World, it means that the Standard of Indiana is taking an important step to free itself from dependence upon Rockefeller subsidiaries. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., largest individual stockholder in the Standard of Indiana, has been trying to force Col. Stewart from the chairmanship since the latter's refusal last winter to answer certain questions before the Senate Trappot Dome committee.

N. C. School Program Must Be Expanded

Raleigh, July 24.—(AP)—North Carolina rural school programs must be expanded to the limit of prudent financing and reasonable taxation, declared J. C. B. Ehringhaus of Elizabeth City, in addressing the farmers state convention at state convention at state college today.

The Elizabeth City attorney was the principal speaker at the opening general session of the meeting which was attended by hundreds of farmers from all sections of the state.

State rural schools particularly must be brought up to the standard of the city, said the speaker. "I am not speaking of the extras and trimmings. These are the frills and furbelows of education. But in all the essentials of a sound and various learning, I hold it to be fundamental that the country boy and girl are entitled to and should receive at the hands of the state, an opportunity equal to that of their city kindred. The obligation is the state's. It cannot be neglected."

Rural North Carolina today has proportionately too many automobiles and too few trucks and tractors, in the opinion of Mr. Ehringhaus.

Belgrade, Jugo-Slavia, July 24.—(AP)—Heavy loss of life was feared in an explosion reported today at the munition depot of Cattaro on the Adriatic. Much material damage resulted.

Plan To Search For Amundsen On Greenland Coast

Oslo, July 24.—(AP)—Search along the east coast of Greenland for Roald Amundsen and his five companions, missing in a French seaplane since June 18, was being organized today.

The director of the Meteorological Institute at Tromsø who supplied all the polar expeditions with weather forecasts has calculated the probability of the whereabouts of the plane on the assumption that it came down somewhere near Bear Island, midway between Norway and Spitzbergen and allowing for its drift.

To put the theory to a test, Meteorologist Devold and five fishermen are going to the eastern coast of Greenland to visit all food depots there. They will travel by the motorship Terningen and put in first at Mouchers Bay.

The French vessel Pourouoi Pas with Dr. Jean Charcot on board, left Hromsøe last night on a westerly course. It will also skirt the coast of Greenland and along the great ice barrier.

SURVIVORS OF ITALIA WRECK ON WAY HOME

Mystery Of Dirigible Disaster To Remain Unsolved Until Italy Investigates.

Oslo, July 24.—(AP)—Various phases of the Italia disaster seemed likely today to remain a mystery until an inquiry had been made by the Italian government.

The eight known survivors of the fatal polar trip were on their way home today. Official and unofficial spokesmen of the Italian government have urged that judgment be withheld.

In Rome Premier Mussolini has said that Italy will make a complete investigation as soon as everything possible has been done to find the six missing members of the expedition.

Dr. Salvatore Aponte, Italian correspondent at Kings Bay, in a dispatch to the newspaper Tidens Tegn said that it seemed as if the death of Dr. Finn Malmgren be reserved until a full report of the tragedy can be published. Dr. Malmgren was left dying on the ice according to the statements attributed to his companions, Captain Mariano and Zappi. Russian advisers from Kings Bay state that Zappi when rescued was wearing in addition to his own clothes belonging to Dr. Malmgren.

An unconfirmed rumor was in circulation that the Norwegian aviator Captain Hjalmar Riiser-Larsen had found Dr. Malmgren's body.

Dr. Aponte, who is correspondent for the Corriere Della Sera of Rome, said it was to be clearly to reach a correct conclusion either concerning events which led to the death of Dr. Malmgren or of the Italia tragedy.

"A detailed and clear report, however, will be written and submitted to the Italian nation and the world."

The Norwegian cruiser Tordenskjold and the French cruiser Strasbourg, which have been making a little search for Roald Amundsen and his five companions, were to return to Tromsø today.

RASKOB WILL DEVOTE FULL TIME TO SMITH

National Democratic Chairman Severs Official Connection With General Motors

New York, July 24.—(AP)—John J. Raskob, chairman of the Democratic national committee, has resigned as chairman of the General Motors Corporation finance committee, it was learned today from authoritative sources.

Mr. Raskob will remain as vice president of the motor company and will resume his position as head of the finance committee at the close of the Governor Smith's campaign for the presidency, it was learned.

An official statement, it was said, will be issued later in the day.

The General Motors directors had accepted his resignation from the committee it was learned "with regrets but with the hope that he would resume its chairmanship after the election in the fall."

Smith headquarters in the Hotel Biltmore today were preparing for removal starting tomorrow, with the exodus completed by Monday to the General Motors building at 1775 Broadway.

New York, July 24.—(AP)—The New York American today says it has learned that John J. Raskob, chairman of the national Democratic committee, will sever his official connection with General Motors Corporation to give all his time to the Presidential campaign of Governor Smith.

Mr. Raskob, it said, had found the duties of managing Governor Smith's campaign too arduous to permit of his remaining as chairman of the finance committee of General Motors.

Although Mr. Raskob is a director in several other companies, the paper said he does not intend to resign these posts because they do not take the time that had to be devoted to managing the financial affairs of the Motors Corporation.

Mr. Raskob, who for many years was a member of the staunchly Republican Union League Club of Philadelphia in the national Democratic club of New York.

Although listed in who's who as a Republican, Mr. Raskob said at the time of his election to the Democratic national chairmanship that he had always been independent in politics.

Although the governor is expected to make comparatively few speeches, Mr. Raskob said that everyone "will have ample opportunity of either seeing him or hearing him over the radio."

CLERGY HELP PROBE DEATH OF OREGON

Catholic Clergy Not Believed Altogether Responsible For Death of Leader.

Mexico City, July 24.—(AP)—A statement by police chief General Antonio Rios Zertuche, was regarded in some quarters today as possibly paving the way for an official statement withdrawing the sting of the recent assertion that the Catholic clergy were to blame for the assassination of General Alvaro Obregon.

The statement said that the clergy were co-operating in investigation of the slaying. Last week General Zertuche announced that "responsibility for the crime lies with the Catholic clergy." It was thought today that this first assertion might be modified to apply to some individual or group instead of the clergy as a whole.

The latest police statement served to further lessen the tension in Mexico City. In religious circles a feeling of optimism concerning the future was manifest.

General Zertuche also stated that Jose De Leon Toral, the art student who killed Obregon, had made a complete confession but he did not reveal its contents.

Police were investigating a rumor that Luis Morones, former Minister of Labor, against whose life threats had been made, was concealed in Mexico City. Morones resigned after Agrarian supporters of Obregon had demanded his withdrawal from the government charging that he was one of the "psychological authors" of the crime, paving the way for it by fiery speeches against Obregon, Morones' political enemy.

SMITH STILL SILENT ABOUT FUTURE PLANS

Democratic Presidential Nominee Talks To Few Friends, But Not Any Others.

Albany, N. Y., July 24.—(AP)—Deviating from the customary course of presidential nominees, Governor Smith has kept pretty much to himself since his selection as the Democratic standard bearer nearly four weeks ago, and since then has held relatively few political conferences of importance.

While it has been his wish that for the present at least they be held to a minimum, almost daily he is in contact with old friends and advisers of long standing, and from time to time he has talked over the outlook with some party leaders, there have been none of the pilgrimages to the home of the nominee as usually is the case, after a political convention.

As they returned from Houston various confidants of the Governor called on him and gave first reports of the proceedings in Texas. Two weeks ago, when the pressing question of a new chairman of the national committee and campaign director, the nominee went to New York and for several days had a series of conferences with several scores of the higher-ups in Democratic politics.

Since then the new chairman, John J. Raskob, has not felt it necessary to come to Albany to talk things over with his closest friend, the Governor, and their discussion of campaign organization and strategy has been mainly over the telephone. It is in this way as he rests where preparatory to getting down to actual work on his acceptance speech, that Smith is keeping in touch with his managers who are conducting operations from New York.

Several weeks ago, he had as a house guest over the week-end Senator Pittman, of Nevada, who was chairman of the Houston convention platform committee and will be head of the committee that will notify Governor Smith of his nomination here four weeks hence. Pittman a few weeks ago returned from an overnight visit to discuss plans for the notification ceremony.

Last week Governor Smith had as overnight guests Senator Tydings of Maryland and Hawes of Mississippi, and Representative Byrnes, of Tennessee, ranking Democrat on the House Appropriations committee but that is the extent to which congressional leaders have thus far been here for pow-wows.

Good-Will Flyer to Be Laid to Rest Today As Entire Nation Bows in Sorrow.

Mexico City, July 24.—(AP)—Covered by flowers the body of Captain Emilio Carranza lay in state today as Mexico observed a day of national mourning. Government offices and schools were closed and private business was at a standstill.

Soldiers of the presidential guard stood stiffly erect with drawn swords around the casket of the flyer whom his countrymen considered a martyr to the cause of international friendship. The presidential chamber of the national palace where the body lay, became a national shrine.

Captain Carranza came back to the capital of his nation with an escort of planes flying overhead and school children along the ten-mile route from Tacuba to the palace strewing flowers in the path of the artillery caisson that carried his body.

United States Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow and his staff were among the first to bow their heads as the casket was taken from the special train. Their presence gave rise to comment that Captain Carranza's mission of good will had not failed with his death.

Tonight Captain Carranza will rest among his country's illustrious dead in the portion of Dolores cemetery reserved for them.

American Marines In China Ordered To Return Home

Shanghai, July 24.—(AP)—Twelve hundred American marines have been ordered withdrawn from China. A detachment at Tientsin is returning to America.

The reduction is expected to be carried out shortly and will reduce the American defense forces in China from 3800 to 2600. Those to be withdrawn include officers and men who arrived in China during the period between February and July, 1927.

It is understood that the withdrawal is the result of Admiral Mark L. Bristol's recommendation that the Chinese situation does not require the present force.

The negro declined to give his place of residence when questioned by police this morning, merely stating that he was a stranger.

Oldsmobile dealers from 29 principal cities of North Carolina will gather in annual convention at Greenville tomorrow morning and listen to a discussion of activities of Oldsmobile representation of the Eastern Section of North Carolina. The visiting dealers will be guests of the Sugg Motor Company, of Greenville, distributors for 59 counties of North Carolina.

The convention will be featured by a luncheon at the Proctor Hotel from 12 to 1:00 o'clock and a session at the Sugg Motor Company building, corner of Third and Co-taue's streets, during which time the various dealers will renew their contracts for the ensuing year. Only group contracts will be offered, it was stated by members of the organization today.

The Sugg Motor Company has brought honors to Greenville and Eastern North Carolina by reason of the fact that the territory controlled by them is leading, and has led for some time, the eastern half of the United States in sales from a percentage standpoint.

Italian Singer Pleased Audience Here Last Night

The Italian baritone opera singer, Martini-Rossi, who gave a concert at East Carolina Teachers College last evening, has a magnificent voice of great volume and flexibility. His singing was in the bravura style, rich and rolling, very dramatic, and showing clearly that he is accustomed to singing roles in grand opera and with large orchestras.

His program was composed largely of selections from the operas of Italian numbers, with only a sprinkling of English songs. The audience seemed to like best the tongue-twisting songs, in which he did remarkable tricks with his voice, although his most artistic work was perhaps, the more conventional selections.

There is only one more attraction in the series of summer entertainments. On the evening of August 3 the tenor, Kenneth Damon, will give a recital. Every attraction in the series has measured up to the expectations of those who planned the program and the public has seemed pleased with them.

METHODIST SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNIC TO BE HELD TOMORROW. The annual summer picnic of Jarvis Memorial Methodist Sunday School will be held at Public Square tomorrow. The party will leave the church here at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. Dinner will be served promptly at one o'clock.

Cotton Association Members to Receive Final Pay Tomorrow

A meeting of the North Carolina Cotton Co-operative Association will be held at the court house in this city tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock for the purpose of making final settlement for seasonal pooled cotton in Pitt county.

A discussion of past activities of the organization will be discussed at length, after which future plans will be taken up. All members and non-members are invited out to attend the meeting.

DISTANT PARTS OF WORLD TO GET FIGHT

New York, July 24.—(AP)—In Palmerston North, New Zealand, home town friends of Tom Heeny hope to hear him thump Gene Tunney Thursday night. The General Electric Company's 314 meter broadcast at Schenectady will be linked with WEAF's network and attempt to relay the ringside story to distant parts of the world.

Warrant For Hoover Unreserved. Burlingame, Calif., July 24.—(AP)—A warrant for the arrest of Herbert Hoover is to remain unreserved. It was issued in 1925 because somebody thought the headlights of a car glared too much. The successor to the Justice of the Peace who issued the warrant does not care to renew it and says the statute of limitations applies.

White Ducks Question. New York, July 24.—(AP)—William Allen White, in town on the way to Europe, has been ducking question about Governor Smith by saying the American people are interested in something besides politics. Upon a percentage basis of popular interest he would give politics 13 and baseball 40.

U. S. CHURCHES SHOW HEALTHY GROWTH TODAY

Roman Catholics show 20 Per Cent Increase of Membership in ten Years.

Washington, July 24.—(AP)—The membership of the Roman Catholic church in the United States was increased nearly 20 per cent over the totals of ten years before, which was reported as 19,721,815. The figures were made public today by the Census Bureau as a part of its regular decennial count of religious body membership.

Catholic churches in 1926 numbered 18,959 as compared with 17,375 in 1916. Census returns for a number of the larger Protestant denominations have been announced by the bureau for 1926, but are still incomplete and such large groupings as the Southern Baptist Convention have yet to be enumerated.

A total membership of 4,080,777 was reported for the Methodist Episcopal church for 1926 with 26-

130 church, as compared with 29,915 churches and 3,717,785 members in 1916.

The Methodist Episcopal Church South had 13,096 churches and 2,487,094 members in 1926, as compared with 19,184 churches and 2,114,479 members in 1916. The Northern Baptist Convention in 1926 had 7,162 churches and 1,290,438 members against 4,184 church and 1,232,135 members in 1916.

The Protestant Episcopal church for 1926 reported 7,299 churches with 1,358,966 members while in 1926 it was credited with 7,345 churches and 1,692,821 members.

The Presbyterian church in the United States of America for 1926 reported 8,947 churches and 1,834 members against 9,639 churches and 1,611,251 members in 1916.

There were 3,257 Congregational churches with 961,846 members in 1926 against 5,863 churches and 791,274 members in 1916.

The negro Baptist church in 1926 had 22,082 churches and 3,196,823 members while in 1916 it had 21,071 churches and 2,938,579 members.

The Disciples of Christ had 7,643 churches and 1,577,595 members in 1926 against a 1916 church total of 8,396 with 1,226,208 members.

All of the Protestant denominations the bureau explained, have a number of federated churches in which two or more denominations are associated.

All figures for 1926 were announced as preliminary and subject to correction.

BETTER GRADES MEAN BETTER PRICES
 Farmers of Eastern North Carolina, whether members of the co-operative growers association or not, would do well to heed the call that has come from this and other sources for the production of a better grade and longer staple cotton in this section. While it has been proven that the better grades, those in greater demand by mills in this state, can be raised in any section of the state it has been quite noticeable that the grades in this immediate section have been far below what has been desired and the result has been that growers have not received as much for their cotton crop as they would have received had they seen to it that they produced a grade that was most in demand. The planting of the best grade seed is the first step toward the production of the better grade cotton and growers should see to it that this first important step is taken in preparing for the next spring planting season. It is but little, if any, more trouble and expense to raise the better grades and surely the increased price received for the same is worth while.

MR. KELLOGG AND THE ISOLATIONISTS
 The last of the fourteen invited nations having now replied favorably to Mr. Kellogg on the treaty renouncing war, the Secretary of State casts a wary eye toward those home quarters in which isolationist sentiment is strong. This is the natural interpretation to be placed on statements quoting him indirectly as saying that the treaty "leaves America free" and "involves this country in European affairs no more than others previously negotiated." Already a few irreconcilable threats have been heard. The Chicago Tribune is exhorting the Senatorial Old Guard to defeat ratification, is reprinting editorials which greet the treaty as making entrance to the League a logical next step, and is declaring that "what Wilsonian Democracy was unable to accomplish, Coolidge Republicanism is about to do."
 Mr. Kellogg had the courage to push the treaty thru against obstacles which for a time seemed insuperable; he should now have the courage to face critics of this sort without flinching. He has behind him both parties, pledged by their platforms to support the treaty. He has with him Mr. Borah no less than Mr. Coolidge. He can afford to meet the cries of "co-operation with Europe" and "Old World involvements" with a cool "What of it?" Nobody can read the treaty, and much less Mr. Kellogg's notes to and from the powers, without realizing that they constitute a long step away from our partial isolation. The preamble declares that the effort is one to "unite the civilized nations of the world" in renunciation of war. The treaty's condemnation of war as a solution of international controversies brings with it inevitably the finding of a substitute. Any effective substitute means broad co-operative action. Mr. Kellogg is in a position where he can frankly avow the fact.

 The gradual reshaping of this treaty on the anvil of international discussion has been such as to give it more and more realism. The French interpretations, the British stipulation as to "certain areas," the other "clarifications," limited the treaty but gave it additional force. We shall do well to bring into our home discussion the same realism. The treaty involves more than a pious but academic condemnation of force; and while we have some freedom in choosing our path, the path is going to carry us forward.—N. Y. World.

ABOUT TOWN
 "This is the season for big fish stories, but so far I have not heard of anything out of the ordinary," remarked a rod and reel enthusiast today.
 "Some of the boys go away and stay a day and return home with startling tales of peculiar kinds of fishes or abnormally large catches. I am thinking of a particular friend of mine at this time, but for the sake of Auld Lang Syne I shall not mention his name."
 "However, it is hard to resist the temptation of telling the story as it was told to me. Maybe, some day, Dear Reader, we may have the pleasure of waxing confidential on the subject. In the meantime, keep your eyes open for anything extraordinary we shall do the same."

"Big men seldom show any signs of greatness in their daily contact with men and women," said one of our prominent scholars and business men today.
 "I do not mean they do not talk with more than average degree of intelligence. They do not try to act like they feel themselves, or over-estimate their value to humanity."
 "I like to see these retiring people—those men and women who know art and science—yet to all outward appearances are humble and subservient to the will of another."
 "It matters not how important we may become, however, life will tame us. Drinkin' the bitter dregs from the cup of experience has a salutary influence on the most of us and teaches that the best we can possibly expect to get out of life is service to humankind."
 "Babe Ruth, king of American swatdown, hit his fortieth home run yesterday," observed one of his admirers in this city.
 "Different people have been predicting the downfall of this idol of the diamond for years, but he is just as efficient with the willow this year as he was last year when he eclipsed all previous records."
 "Numbers wagged their heads in a discouraging way at the beginning of the 1928 season. But the Babe went out to the diamond and commenced swatting the old apple with greater ferocity than ever before."
 "We have never been able to determine exactly what it takes to make a great baseball player, as there are so many requisites in the make up of every man. But we do know that Ruth combines most of the elements of a great ball player. That most of the sport-loving populace agrees with us, we have not the slightest idea."
 "His record of last year will be beaten this season by a comfortable margin—unless, perchance, some misfortune should befall him and prevent his usual effective use of the bat."
 "We have a revival of business in the marriage license market," said J. C. Gaskins, register of deeds of Pitt county, referring to the unusual number of applicants that appeared here Saturday to obtain license to marry.

"This was regular fall and winter business and every member of the office force was agreeably surprised at the record showing for the summer months."
 "I have always maintained that marrying was one sign of prosperity. I still insist in the truth of the assertion."
 "Just as long as people continue marching up to the altar to plight their troth one needn't worry about condition of finances. All's well with the world."
 "If you believe in the development of more material for the future baseball teams why not attend some of the games of the two city leagues sponsored by the municipal playground movement," asked a citizen today who has had considerable opportunity to observe the kind of players the teams are composed of.
 "These youngsters are playing the same for everything in it. They battle for honors in the standing of clubs column just like veterans of the big leagues would do. They are not only deriving much benefit in a physical and mental way, but are paving the way for greater development along this line in the future years. Healthy bodies are essential to strong vigorous minds and youngsters should not be forgetful of this fact."
 "Take my advise, and turn out some day and see exactly what Mr. Toten and his leagues of juveniles are accomplishing."

FIFTY HEAD OF CATTLE STAMPEDES

Released in Wreck of Freight Train, Frightened Steers Take Kansas City.
 Kansas City, July 24.—(AP)—Fifty head of the Hereford cattle stampeded through the streets here early today, following the midnight wreck of a Santa Fe freight train two blocks from the union station. The police and motorists staged many exciting impromptu rodeos in the downtown district.
 Nine cars were piled up when the train's locomotive left the rails, and three cattle cars were wrenched open. The frightened stock scattered in all directions, and soon the police were deluged with telephone calls from excited residents.
 Only a few of the cattle had been rounded up at an early hour, and reports indicated the excited animals had reached the outlying residence sections.
 Two steers were captured in the vicinity of the Muehlebach Hotel at Twelfth and Baltimore streets, after they had fallen on the sidewalk, exhausted by the chase. Several others were herded into vacant lots in that section, and guards posted to keep them from escaping.
 A wild steer dashed through a plate glass window into a downtown garage and horned several cars. Timid attendants gathered, but none dared approach the wild-eyed bovine, who finally crashed through another window and fled up an alley.
 One panic-stricken steer was knocked down by a street car at Thirteenth and Main streets, but got to its feet apparently unharmed and escaped.
 While the downtown rodeo was at its height and automobile collided with a truckload of hogs at 39th street and Troost avenue in the residence section, and the truck overturned, freeing the hogs. A traffic officer and spectators herded the swine into a vacant lot.
 The engine of the 82-car Chicago bound train left the rails and tore up 50 feet of ties. The three cattle cars immediately back of the engine pushed on by an engine at the rear piled up, along with five merchandise cars and another car of cattle, which remained intact.
 Seaton Fisher of Merceline, Mo., sustained slight leg injuries when he jumped from the lead locomotive. The cattle were feeders sold here yesterday and en route to Merceline, Mo.

G. O. P. Tangle In Georgia Court
 Atlanta, July 24.—(AP)—Dissension within Georgia Republican ranks which was passed over to the national executive committee for settlement during the Kansas City convention, today was also under scrutiny of Fulton county Superior Court by virtue of injunction proceedings.
 The tangle was thrown into court yesterday when B. J. Coler, Albany, Ga., negro editor, obtained a temporary injunction which deprived a called meeting of the "state executive committee" of the right to transact party business.
 Coler charged that the meeting had been called for the purpose of naming presidential electors to appear on the party ticket in November, and therefore was illegal because there was no national committee pending decision of the national executive committee.
 Defendants who were ordered to appear for a hearing on July 28 were Ben J. Davis, negro, former national committeeman; Ioscoe Pickett, chairman of the state executive committee; J. T. Rose, collector of internal revenue for Georgia; John W. Martin, treasurer of the central committee; Clint W. Hager, United States District Attorney for Northern Georgia; Mamie Williams, Savannah negro woman, and former national committeewoman; J. L. Harris, Athens, Ga., negro; and Joe H. Watson, Albany, negro, who contended with Davis for the post of national committeeman at Kansas City.

Four Held For Subversive Act In Panama Zone
 Panama, July 24.—(AP)—Five leaders supporting Jorge Eduardo Boyd, candidate for the presidency of the Boyd-Porras coalition, were under arrest today charged with subversive acts.
 Alejandro Tapia, Domingo Turner, Juan B. Polo, and Demetrio Porras were placed in jail after they had been indicted by a superior court judge on charges of having delivered subversive speeches on the public plaza during an impromptu demonstration on Saturday night. Porras is a son of former President Porras.
 General Manuel Quintero, who resigned from the cabinet of President Chiari to support the Boyd candidacy was arrested and charged with complicity.
 The four men in jail were accused of having asserted in their speeches that the situation called for intervention or revolution.

REPUBLICANS PREPARE FOR COMING FIGHT

Committeemen Meet At Washington Today to Coordinate Campaign Program.
 Washington, July 24.—(AP)—Looking forward to an active part in the battle for Eastern presidential votes, Republican national committeewomen from the Middle and North Atlantic states gathered here today to coordinate their political activities into a definite campaign program.
 Under the leadership of Mrs. Alvin T. Hert, of Kentucky, director of the women's division, morning and afternoon sessions were called, both behind closed doors, with the former devoted to an exposition of campaign policies by party leaders and the latter set aside for discussion and formulation of plans. The speakers were announced as National Chairman Work, National Secretary Fort, Judge J. Francis Burke, counsel for the national committee, and Mrs. Hert.
 "Business only" was the avowed slogan of the gathering. "We are here to work," Mrs. Hert announced, "and we mean to work from

Coolidge is Now Real Fisherman
 Superior, Wis., July 24.—(AP)—Six weeks on the Brule have made President Coolidge a true fisherman in the eyes of anglers of the north woods. Six weeks of constant practice, four hours every day except Sunday, have given him the correct snap of the wrist and movement from the elbow to the tip of the rod.
 But the fact that the President has been converted to the use solely of dry flies is regarded as the real achievement of his vacation. During the first part of his stay at Cedar Island Lodge Mo. Coolidge wavered between worms and dry

Advocate Government Control of Mining
 Seattle, Wash., July 24.—(AP)—Government control of mining to prevent a "disastrous situation" in the industry was suggested by Dr. George Otis Smith, director of the United States geological survey, in a paper prepared for delivery today before the American Bor Association convention here. Dr. Smith also is president of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers.
 "In recent years the mineral industry seems to have grown too fast," the paper said. "The American habit of 'stepping on the gas' has brought the mineral industry close to the danger line."

files, alternating to see which brought the best results. Old fly fishermen of the region look with disfavor on those who would use worms and rejoicing was general when word spread finally that the President was using only dry flies, a sign he had entered the more skilled class of anglers.
 President Coolidge has been an art pupil, under the tutelage of his Indian guide, hooking during the day usually about eighteen good sized trout. As further evidence of his skill, it is pointed out that the President is putting in two fish frequently on one cast, a stunt of which not many boast. He likes to put two flies on his line and cast them out toward a shadowy patch of water alongside a projecting rock. Often double strikes are his reward.

The Proven Value Of Persistent Advertising
 Do you know, Mr. Merchant, that according to Boyd's Official List there are now 2,530 mail order houses in the United States who sell direct to the consumer?
 Each and every one of these concerns issue catalogs, including supplements, booklets, folders, bulletins, special price lists, etc., throughout the year.
 Most of the larger mail order houses issue catalogs twice a year; many of which have sections in colors and contain fifteen hundred pages or more.
 The weight of one of these catalogs, after being trimmed, is about four and one-half pounds, and on a recent issue the paper alone in car load lots, would have cost over fifty-five cents.
 Some of these houses distribute from ten to twelve million catalogs a year; the estimated cost of each complete catalog being about $2.00, with the monthly supplements, booklets, folders, price lists, postage, wrapping, etc., extra, bringing approximate cost $2.50 to $3.00 for each "live" name or prospective buyer on their lists.
 Any person any place may secure one of these large mail order catalogs free of all cost simply by mailing in their request on a one-cent post card.
 This means, Mr. Merchant, that a single mail order house will invest approximately $3.00 a year in advertising—catalogs and follow-up literature—for each customer or prospective customer residing within your trade territory.
 From figures recently compiled by the National Buy-at-Home Movement of Fort Wayne, Indiana, after a thorough investigation and the checking-up of thousands of country newspapers, it was proven that the merchants of the smaller cities and towns invest on an average of only nine cents each a year in advertising in their local papers, for each customer or prospective customer living within a seven mile trade-zone of their home town.
 The investigation proved conclusively that the secret of the mail order house's success was simply persistent advertising and the use of liberal space in describing the merchandise they have to offer.

KINSTON WINS OPENER FROM LOCAL OUTFIT

Kinston took the opening game of the series from Greenville yesterday afternoon by the score of 6 to 5. The game was played under considerable difficulty owing to a torrential downpour of rain in the first inning that literally flooded the diamond. Both clubs battled valiantly through six innings of every known brand of baseball and stopped at the end of that period with the visitors holding the big end of the score.

Ellison pitched the wet horsehide in decidedly clever form allowing Greenville but six hits in the first five frames during which time five runners were shoved over the rubber.

Kinston scored two in the fifth and four in the sixth. Cherry did mound duty for the locals for a time, being relieved by Wilson, who was followed by Dudley and then "Deacon" Joliff.

The feature of the game was the sensational fielding of Daniels for Greenville who made several running catches of balls that looked good for extra bases.

Kinston will conclude the series here this afternoon. The Wilmington Pirates come here for a two-game series Wednesday.

The box score of yesterday's game follows:

Many Pitfalls Beset American Olympic Teams

Amsterdam, Holland, July 24.—(AP)—A combination of pitfalls has beset America's Olympic teams especially the track and field men as they prepare for the start of the international contests Sunday.

The triple points of danger appear to be over-conditioning, over-confidence and perhaps most serious of all, the poorly built practice track which coaches declare is ideal for an epidemic of pulled tendons, sprained ankles and sore throats.

"I've never seen a cockier bunch of athletes in my life," asserted one American coach today. "They don't consider any of the foreigners in most of their events, arguing chiefly among themselves as to how much they will beat each other. They're assuming that the races, at least up to 600 metres, are in the bag for them. Such spirit perhaps is not harmful for it maintains rivalry among the boys but they may as well know now as later that they'll have a lot of tough races."

HEENEY IN BEST SHAPE OF CAREER

Fair Haven, N. J., July 24.—(AP)—Blunt Tom Heenev, unaccustomed to camouflaging his thoughts when interviewers plot him with questions, frankly admitted today that he is in the best condition of his fighting career, ready and eager to give Gene Tunney the battle of his life when they meet in the Yankee stadium Thursday night for the world's heavyweight championship.

The six weeks training camp legislation of this good natured, rock ribbed New Zealander is over. He is glad of it. He finished his boxing yesterday. Today there was nothing for him to do but take a 15 minute workout in the gymnasium with no more work with the gloves. Tomorrow will be a day of complete relaxation with not even a gesture of training.

Heenev was in rollicking good humor, he had a cheery "Oh, 'ello, 'ello" for everybody and a grin that was infectious. His easy going disposition had returned, following the mental strain of Sunday when he boxed before Jack Dempsey, Promoter Tex Rickard and others. These mental clouds were swept away by the thoughts of no more training, which he regards tougher than the fight itself. He planned to go sailing on a private yacht along the New Jersey shore sometime today.

"I have some ideas of course," the challenger said, "but they probably won't amount to much for the first three or four rounds until I get the feel of Tunney."

"One of my ideas is that he is not going to hit me very often with any one punch. Anybody can hit me a few times with any kind of a blow, but nobody can keep it up."

"Best me, if I don't show you Americans that I'm no sucker for a left hook or a right cross. If Tunney believes he can wear me down with rights to the head I am going to discourage him."

Heenev is genuinely confident of his ability to beat Tunney and has his conclusion on one thought that he will become the world's heavyweight champion. That thought is, he believes, boxers easier for him than fighters, and Tunney is a boxer rather than a fighter.

Salisbury Beats Greensboro Club

By the Associated Press. Greensboro's Patriots, tenants of the first berth in the Piedmont loop lost a hard fought affair yesterday 6 to 7 when the Salisbury Colonials staged a successful sixth inning rally and pushed over six runs. Baker's home run in the fourth with the bases filled put the Patriots in the lead but the Colonials came back ahead during the remainder of the tilt. Johnson hit for the circuit during the first inning for the Colonials.

A hit and run parade was staged by Raleigh and Winston-Salem, the Twins finally coming out on top 15 to 13. The Caps faced a six run handicap in the second inning but pushed over enough runs to tie the score 10 all in the fourth and 12 all in the fifth.

The Pointers moved up their camp closer to the league leaders by defeating the Durham Bulls 8 to 4. Nine safeties were credited to both sides.

River Packets To Race Over Ohio Tonight

Cincinnati, O., July 24.—(AP)—The Betsy Ann and the Chris Greene, Ohio river packets, lay at anchor today awaiting the clang of bells which will send them puffing and churning along the Ohio in a race tonight that will recall the days when "the river" was in its glory.

Veteran river men say it will be the first official race since the days when Cincinnati was the gateway to the west and the Ohio was the only practical way of reaching it.

It will be far different, however, from the days when the sidewheelers churned slowly westward carrying freight and settlers from a new country. A squadron of airplanes will zoom overhead, speed craft will circle about, and hundreds are expected to follow along the shores in automobiles.

As the two steamers lay at anchor, the river was setting a turbulent pace. Recent rainstorms along the main stream and its tributaries had swollen it high upon its banks and the speed of the current was constantly increasing. This was expected to better the time of the races in their 20-mile course to New Richmond, O., because of the floor all locks will be opened and no locks will be in the way to delay the course. This means full speed ahead with all the steam the boats will stand.

The Betsy Ann carrying the glided cock horns in contest on the Mississippi which she defies the Chris Greene to take from her, steamed into port last night. Frederick Wey, president of the Pittsburgh and Cincinnati Packet Company, and the author of the challenge which the Chris Greene so readily accepted, was a passenger.

Anticipation of an exciting event has attracted a large number of passengers. The Betsy Ann has broken 150 and the Chris Greene 230 who will get a close-up view from the decks.

GENE TUNNEY PULLS JEST ON MANAGER

Speculator, N. Y., July 24.—(AP)—Though the supreme test of his championship career is but 48 hours away, Gene Tunney has yet to reach the irritated stage which tradition demands of a prize fighter on edge.

This unique ruler of fistiana, now self-trained to the last muscle for the defense of his crown against Tom Heenev, the New Zealand challenger, in the Yankee stadium on Thursday night, has turned to horse-play to divert his mind from the contest. His victim was Billy Gibson, his manager.

Knowing Gibson's aversion to flying, Tunney caused a fake telegram to be sent to his manager containing a famous aviator's offer to make a special flight up here to carry him back to New York as a reward for his deep interest in aviation.

This argument finally overcame Gibson's objections and he composed a wire of acceptance which delighted Tunney and his assistant jesters.

Gibson planned to leave the training camp for New York this afternoon after Tunney went through his final workout, which was to be for the sole benefit of the newspaper men. The champion, who has never been in better shape, planned to bag exercise and then take on his sparring partners, Harold Mays and Billy Vidabek, for three rounds each.

This done, Tunney will taper off until Thursday morning at ten o'clock when he will take off from Lake Pleasant in a dual motored Sikorsky amphibian piloted by Bill Winston, Curtiss Field flyer who was flying the plane which crashed into a tree near here last week, causing slight injuries to himself and Charles V. Bob, one of Commander Byrd's financial backers.

Wilmington Stops Goldsboro Outfit

The Eastern Carolina league leaders, Goldsboro, were thrown for a loss when Wilmington snatched the initial game of the series, 7 to 4. Buck Newsome was able to make the win when he held the Goldbugs to four hits and his team mates performed well with the stick. The game was punctuated with four home runs clouted by Schofield, Gordon, Wafer and Hamel.

The Kinston Stemmers waded over a field of mud to defeat Greenville 6 to 5. The seven inning affair was halted after the first half of the first when a downpour began. Daniels' sensational fielding proved the feature of the mixup.

Past accompanying by Partridge, Highlander record sacker, accounted for two of the tallies that defeated Rocky Mount 6 to 2. He went from first to third on a bunt in the fifth and scored when McMullan's throw went to the outfield. Daring base-running again in the seventh put him where he scored on a wild pitch.

SIX MONTHS THE VICTORY SIX

Not because of what we have been saying for six months. Or because of what we say now. But because of what the Victory Six is. The snappiest, best looking, speediest car in its class. A car you should try out—now—yourself at the wheel.

NEW YORK COTTON

New York, July 24.—(AP)—The cotton market was much less active today. An early advance of about 15 to 18 points on covering or buying for a rally from the recent decline, was followed by reactions on a favorable view of the weather news. The mid-afternoon market was quiet within a point or two either way of yesterday's closing quotations.

Futures closed barely steady, 10 to 14 points lower; spot quiet; middling 20.95.

GRAIN MARKET.

Chicago, July 24.—(AP)—Demoralized conditions prevailed in the corn market today with very heavy speculative selling pressure apparent in the September delivery. September and December corn both read a new low priced record for the season. Wheat prices averaged higher, largely because export demand for wheat from North America was of only fair volume and because the Liverpool market failed to reflect promptly yesterday's sharp declines here.

Corn closed nervous 1-8 to 2 3-8 cent net lower, wheat at 1 5-8 to 2 5-8 cent advance, oats unchanged to 3-4 cent off and provisions unchanged to 18 cents decline.

STOCK MARKET.

New York, July 24.—(AP)—Aggressive pool operations in a select assortment of specialties turned the course of stock prices upward again today after an early period of irregularity. A "bear" drive against several of the popular industrials in the morning trading quickly petered out when it was discovered that relatively little "long" stock was being sold.

Call money were in fairly plentiful supply at the renewal rate of 5 1-2 per cent although higher money is expected later in the week. Banks called about 10,000,000 in loans during the morning. Talk of 8 and 7 per cent call money continues to have a restrictive effect on trading.

Except for the publication of several favorable earnings reports, including a good June statement by the Union Pacific which showed net of $1,871,534 as against $1,694,225 in the same month last year, there was little in the day's news to influence the price movement. The resignation of John J. Raskob as chairman of the finance committee of General Motors brought a flurry of selling into that stock, but buying support was quickly supplied, and the early loss materially cut down.

National Cash Register 7% under brisk accumulation, climbing more than 3 points to a new high record at 85. American Can also was in good demand and U. S. Steel common crossed 140 points. Profit taking checked the resumption of the upward movement in the copper group. Jewel Tea soared 7 points and Lahn & Fink, National Tea, Arnold Constable, Case Threshing and Pittsburgh Coal advanced two points or more.

The closing was strong. Total sales approximated 1,800,000 shares.

PLANS TO TAKE OFF FOR SWEDEN TOMORROW

Rockford, Ill., July 24.—(AP)—Five o'clock tomorrow morning has been definitely set as the hour for Bert Hassels take off on his proposed one-stop flight to Stockholm, Sweden, by way of Greenland, the flier announced today.

Weather conditions on his proposed route appear satisfactory, Hassels said and only the unforeseen can cause any further delay.

Another point in the flight favor, Hassels pointed out today was the availability of an additional landing field and supply base in Iceland, news of which was sent him in a cablegram from Alexander Johannesson of Kaldaranes, Iceland, informing him that gasoline and oil would be available there if Hassels found it necessary to land.

Would Revive Bull Moose.

Omaha, July 24.—(AP)—Efforts to revive the Progressive or Bull Moose party, was the announced objective of a national convention called for today by Dr. Henry Hoffman, Omaha grocer.

Dr. Hoffman, who says he has never taken an active part in politics, although he campaigned for Theodore Roosevelt and William Jennings Bryan, has drawn up a platform, one of which calls for a limit of $1,000,000 on any one person's fortune.

Senator George W. Norris was favored as standard bearer, but since the Nebraska Republican insurgent has refused one third party nomination Dr. Hoffman said some one else must be nominated as the presidential candidate. Senator James A. Reed also was tendered the honor.

Police Seek Pilkington.

New York, July 24.—(AP)—Police today announced they are seeking William H. Pilkington, local representative of a British cotton converting firm, who was indicted last week in connection with the disappearance of $152,000. He was last reported in Vancouver, B. C.

More Night Clubs Padlocked in N. Y.

New York, July 24.—(AP)—Twenty-four restaurants and night clubs in Manhattan and Brooklyn have been ordered padlocked by federal judges for violations of the Volstead act. Ten others were ordered to post bonds to guarantee obedience to the law.

Of the fourteen closed in Manhattan, seven were padlocked for one year and seven for six months. The Brooklyn places were closed for periods of two to six months.

Personal injunctions also were obtained against the owners, managers and swelling employees of the 14 Manhattan places, all of which are among the less pretentious of the city's night resorts.
