DECLARES U.S. DOLLARS ARE IMPREGNABLE

Gold Standard Said to Be So Strong New York May Replace London Financially

New York, Nov. 5.—(AP)—The man who helped a dozen nations back to monetary stability today told the United States that the American gold standard and dollar are virtually impregnable.

So strong are they, Dr. Edwin W. Kemmerer of Princeton University, said in a speech before the Advertising club, that New York now has the opportunity of replacing London as the world's financial center.

Dr. Kemmerer, who was a principal advisor in the formation of the Dawes plan and who helped several South American countries back to the gold standard, labeled the "morant" or "timid" or "envious" persons who have expressed fears of the breakdown of the gold standard.

"We in America," he said, "still have the largest supply of monetary gold of any country in the world, and the largest supply that any country has ever held in the history of the world. Until September last this stock had been increasing month by month, with only an occasional slight interruption, since the summer of 1928.

"We have recently lost seven hundred millions of this gold, but this amount is only about 14 per cent of our September maximum holdings and merely puts us back to about the figure we had in January of this year.

"We still have an excessive amount of gold, not because we reached out and grabbed it, but chiefly because so much has come to us for safe-keeping. The difficulty at present is primarily one of confidence. Much of our gold is still comparatively idle, but it will be put to work when people abroad and people at home come to believe it can be put to work safely and profitably.

"Ever since the war," Dr. Kemmerer continued, "New York has been gaining on London as a center for international finance. The shock given to the financial world by Great Britain's recent suspension of gold payments and the difficulty of carrying on international financial operations through the intermediation of a paper money standard will deprive London for a long time, if not permanently, of her premier position as the world's money market.

"This position is now being offered New York. The United States has a well-organized banking system. In recent years we have been engaging increasingly in the field of international finance, and we have many men, particularly young men, of training and experience in this field.

"The all-important question is: Have our bankers enough knowledge of international finance, enough experience, enough vision and enough financial leadership to take the position that London is now passing over to us?

"It is our opportunity and our responsibility. Will we meet it?"

Charge Officials With Misconduct

Greenville, S. C., Nov. 5.—(AP)—Bills of indictment charging Sheriff Cliff R. Bramlett, State Senator Joseph R. Bryson and two former magistrates, George Bishop and B. P. Crenshaw with official misconduct were given the grand jury today by Solicitor J. G. Leatherwood.

Senator Bryson was charged in another bill with accepting a bribe. The grand jury in a special presentment yesterday recommended that bills of indictment be drawn against the four men. Details of the charges were not revealed. All of the accused men except Bishop have retained counsel.

Poser Case Near Jury Stage Now

Bryson City, N. C., Nov. 5.—The jury's deliberations in the case of Ben Poser, 23, charged with slaying Judd Pilkington, 45, last July, are expected to start here today.

Poser killed Pilkington, he testified, after the latter had fired at him on a lonely mountain road. The defendant said he had been hiding from the elder man because he had been accused of attempting to assault Ella Pilkington, Judd's daughter.

The girl swore that no such attempt had ever been made, and said her father had never threatened to kill Poser, as the latter claimed.

CERMAK TALKS POLITICS IN EAST

Anton J. Cermak (right), Chicago's democratic mayor, went to New York to confer with eastern party leaders, saying that Illinois did not consider Governor Roosevelt a "formidable candidate," especially without the support of Alfred Smith (left). Cermak wants, he said, a "dripping wet" candidate of the "A" Smith type. Former Governor Smith's attack on Roosevelt's state tax policy again brought to the fore the reported break between Smith and Roosevelt.

Investigate Reports Of Terrorism In Coal Fields

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 5.—(AP)—A detachment of state troops was ordered to Harlan county today while a committee of writers led by Theodore Dreiser, novelist, assembled at Pineville to organize before invading the coal fields to investigate what Dreiser calls a "reign of terror." Pineville is in Bell county, adjoining Harlan.

TWO HURT IN AUTO WRECK

M. L. Turnage and Warren Morgan injured as car crashes into stump

M. L. Turnage and Warren Morgan were painfully injured when the car in which they were riding left the road and crashed into a stump on the Greenville-Vanceboro highway, below Shelderside, late yesterday afternoon.

Both were rushed to the local hospital in an unconscious condition, but were said to have regained consciousness last night. Mr. Turnage was badly cut about the head and face, and while his injuries are painful, they were not considered necessarily serious. Morgan, driver of the car, suffered mostly from shock but was bruised considerably.

The men were returning here from a collection trip in Craven county when the accident occurred. A tire blew out and caused the car to leave the road and crash into the stump.

The injured men were picked up by passersby and rushed to the local hospital for treatment. The car was badly damaged by the impact.

Sir John Simon, one of the country's greatest lawyers and leader of one wing of the Liberal party which broke away from David Lloyd George, is foreign secretary.

Forest Fire Rages In Mountain Area

Marion, N. C., Nov. 5.—(AP)—A forest fire was burning today along a four-mile front on Linville Mountain, 15 miles north of Marion. The blaze, visible from here, began yesterday and spread rapidly. Another fire was reported burning on the other side of the mountain.

NAVY LEAGUE HEADS DEFEND W. H. GARDINER

Give Full Support to Statement Attacking Administration Naval Policy

Washington, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Full support to the statement of William Howard Gardiner attacking the administration's naval policy as given today by the executive committee of the Navy League with only one dissenting vote.

A formal statement issued by the executive committee of the organization at a moment when the committee named by President Hoover to investigate the truth of the charges was just sitting down around a table for its first session, affirmed "its faith in the statements issued by the league's officials" and welcomed any impartial and competent investigation.

STILL FIGHTS WORLD WAR

Never Notified of the Ending of War, German Officer in Africa Obeyes Old Orders

Rio de Oro, Spanish Africa, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Orders are orders to a proud officer of the German Empire, Lieutenant Erich Von Satzen, down in the desolate wastes of France's African frontier is still carrying on his share of the world war which ended thirteen years ago.

No order to cease hostilities ever has reached him. "Tell the people back home," the lieutenant recently told the second white man he has seen in 15 years, "that in the south you found Erich Von Satzen of the Second Uhlan Regiment, sent here by the Imperial Government in 1916 and forgotten by the new government of Germany. Tell them he is still obeying his orders, still doing his duty, still fighting against the French."

In October 1916 a secret order sent Von Satzen from his Uhlan regiment to report to the commander of the German submarine UC-20 at Heligoland. He went aboard the boat in the night and found there Herr Probst, former German counsel at Pez, and Captain Achmed Hairy Bey of the Turkish army.

There were a few commands, issued in hushed voices, and the submarine put to sea to run the French and English blockades, to reach Africa and land Von Satzen and his two comrades on a mission to rouse the desert tribes against the French as the English Colonel Lawrence was rousing the Arabs against the Turks.

They landed at Assaka, on the west coast of Africa, in November and negotiated a plan with El Hiba, leader of the savage "Blue" tribe, to fight the French Foreign Legion.

Gardner to Take Five Farm Heads to Conference

Raleigh, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Gov. O. Max Gardner announced today that he would take five agricultural leaders of the state with him to the conference of governors of North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Virginia at Charlotte next Thursday.

Foster, professor of agricultural economics of N. C. State College; George Ross, director of state owned farms; and E. G. Moss of Oxford, director of the federal-state tuberculosis experiment station.

"The appointment of these men," a statement by the governor said, "is in line with the suggestion made by the governors of the four states to attend the conference."

DUPLIN READY TO CELEBRATE

Prosperity Festival to Be Staged by County People at Faison Tomorrow

Faison, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Holding a sort of thanksgiving celebration three weeks before Thanksgiving Day, Duplin county tomorrow will stage a "prosperity festival" here.

Governor and Mrs. O. Max Gardner and Senator J. W. Bailey will head 25 or more leading North Carolina figures who will join with the Duplin residents in the festival. A free barbecue will be served in the afternoon and a dance will be held at night.

Most of the announced candidates for office in 1932 have accepted invitations to attend. "We are not going to let any of them make political speeches," said H. R. Cates, general chairman. "This event is being staged to show how Duplin has found the way out by following the live-at-home idea as preached by Governor Gardner. We can't allow it to be turned into a political gathering."

Major L. P. McLendon of Durham, who was to have delivered the principal address, advised this morning that "unfortunate circumstances" which he regretted made it impossible for him to attend.

State Senator Rivers Johnson of Duplin county, will preside. The Fort Bragg band will furnish music.

New Bern, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Trustees of Atlantic Christian College were named by the North Carolina Christian Missionary conference, in session here.

W. H. Woolard, Greenville, was elected a trustee to succeed H. W. Turnage, of Ayden, resigned. A recommendation of the college that three trustees be named from without the church membership was approved. They will be named later.

TO MAKE LONG TRIP IN CANOE

Belhaven Indian to Visit Arctic and Tropical Countries in Frail Craft

Belhaven, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Charles Plainshek, native Mexican, better known as Skimo Charlie, today prepared to leave for Norfolk on his long canoe trip from the arctic to the tropics and return.

He is skipper of an 18-foot canoe, which he says is holder of the long distance canoe record. He stopped here on his way from Cuba. Plainshek left Manitoba, Canada, in March, 1929, for Havana and is now paddling his canoe back home with his two children, Inez, and 1-year, eight and ten years old—three Eskimo dogs and living equipment.

A partner and seven dogs left Manitoba with Plainshek and his children but the partner got off at Havana and one dog was sold. The other three dogs took leave over the ice on a reindeer chase.

The Mexican, who lived 30 years in the Arctic without seeing a white man, says he expects to get home in about another year. His route takes him along the Atlantic coast to the Hudson river and on to the Great Lakes. He says the remainder of the trip will be made on a dogsled for which he will swap his canoe.

Lays Failure of Banks to Gossip

Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 5.—(AP)—Not errors of bankers but "irresponsible" gossip and "national hysteria" are blamed by Frank W. Simmons, deputy manager of the American Bankers' Association, for half of the bank failures and economic ailments of the country.

Here for a south-wide conference today and tomorrow on bank management problems, Simmons said the causes of bank failures would receive their due share of consideration but he added that such things could not be blamed on the bankers themselves.

"Fifty per cent of all this business is caused by national hysteria and irresponsible gossip," Simmons said. Simmons estimated that no fewer than 500 bankers will attend the two-day meeting here. They will be from Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, North and South Carolina, Texas and Tennessee.

MAN SHOT IN KY. ELECTION CLASH TODAY

Former Lieut. - Gov. Denhardt Seriously Wounded by Republican Worker

Bowling Green, Ky., Nov. 5.—(AP)—Henry H. Denhardt, former lieutenant governor, was shot and wounded here today in the first serious clash of Kentucky's heated state-wide election.

Five shots were fired at the Democratic leader on a downtown street by W. K. Dent, a Republican worker. Only one bullet took effect, striking below the shoulder and ranging downward to penetrate a lung. At the hospital after a preliminary examination, it was said Denhardt's condition was serious but that he was expected to recover. Dent went to police station and surrendered.

Denhardt who is a world war veteran, formerly served as adjutant general of the Kentucky national guard and is an attorney and former newspaper publisher. He is 55 years old.

Dent who was one of four men named in warrants charging shooting in a suburban precinct yesterday, said Denhardt had approached him on the street today and made a motion toward his pocket. Election cards in Dent's pocket saved him from a bullet wound Tuesday. He said he feared he would be shot and fired quickly as he could when he saw Denhardt. Dent had obtained a peace warrant yesterday for Denhardt but it had not been served.

The trouble yesterday was said to have been due to political rivalry between Dent and Henry Hines, a Democrat, former state inspector and examiner and former police judge here. Hines was charged yesterday with malicious shooting and carrying a concealed deadly weapon. Dent claimed it was a bullet from Hines' pistol that hit him. Dent had approached Hines' Smith, Republican state senatorial nominee.

Smith claimed Denhardt had telephoned his home late yesterday and delivered a threat against him to his daughter.

Magistrate Held for Embezzlement

Winston-Salem, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Magistrate J. E. Saintings was under indictment here today for embezzlement of $488 under a bill returned by the grand jury.

The bill contained six other charges against Saintings, who is a licensed pharmacist and attorney. The charges involved counts of malfeasance.

Investigation of his affairs followed disclosures of the assumption of jurisdiction in automobile cases in which the law does not impart magisterial jurisdiction.

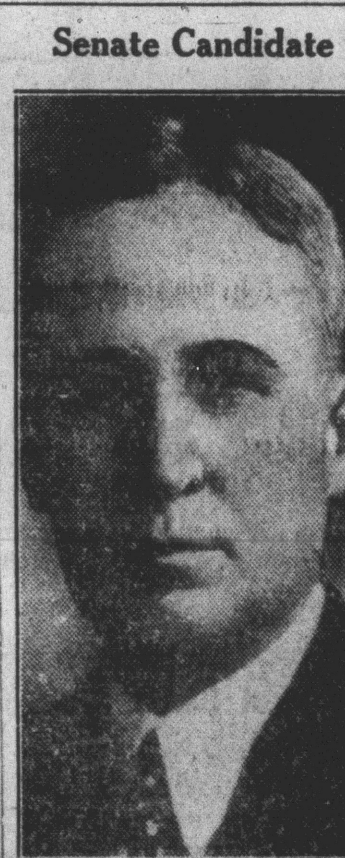

Man Slain Over Mortgage on Cow

Elkin, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Trouble over a mortgage on a cow in Alleghany county today had resulted in the death of Robert S. Brooks, 30, and the critical wounding of Bonley Anderson, 45.

Brooks died in a hospital here of knife wounds and Anderson was in a North Wilkesboro hospital suffering from deep cuts.

Brooks was said to have gone to Anderson's some 25 miles north of here to settle the mortgage, but the pair got into an argument, the knife-fight resulted.

Lumberton, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Seven Indians were being held here today, three without bond, for trial in Robeson Superior court in connection with the slaying four years ago of Sandy Brooks, another Indian. They were bound over at a preliminary hearing in recorder's court and the result of the testimony of Lucille Cummings, daughter of one of the defendants, who swore she saw all of them in the room when Brooks was slain and his eyes pulled out. It was her revelation recently which caused the arrests. She identified Joe Oxendine, Harvey Jacobs and a boy as the actual slayers, and said her mother, Susan Hammonds, Hester Oxendine, Donnie Oxendine and Bess Rowlands, were present. She said Joe Oxendine drove an axe into Brooks' head and that June Braboy struck with a hammer, and Jacobs gouged out the eyes. The three principals were ordered held without bond, Dennis Oxendine was held under $2,500 and the others under $1,000 bonds.

Charles M. Howell of Kansas City has announced he will seek the Democratic nomination for United States senator from Missouri in 1932.

PUBLIC WEDDING TO BE FEATURE OF FREE FAIR HERE NEXT WEEK

A white public wedding will be one of the unusual features to be presented at the Free fair which will open at the fair grounds here next Monday and continue through the week.

The wedding will be staged in front of the grandstand at 9 o'clock Wednesday night November 11. A colored wedding will take place Saturday night, November 14.

John Daley, who is in charge of the public wedding, was in the city today making tentative arrangements for these two features of the fair.

Mr. Daley stated that similar weddings were solemnized in Goldsboro and that they had five couples to apply for the privilege of being wedded at the fair.

A want ad, one of the strangest probably ever carried before in newspaper columns in this section of the state, appears in the columns of this paper today. It seeks to attract attention of those desiring to take part in the public wedding.

The ad reads:

"Wanted—Couple to be married on platform of Pitt County Fair on Thursday, November 11th. Purse of silver donated by fair, also merchandise. Expenses paid. See J. Daley, or leave names at Princeton hotel.

The public wedding is one of the many features to mark the fair and the public is assured of a good time. Gate admission will be free. Children's Day will be Wednesday, November 11 with the entire midway will be 5 cents for children.

FINE SPIRIT DISPLAYED IN PLANTING OF COTTEN MEMORIAL DRIVE

Members of the Woman's Club are very happy over the fine co-operation they are receiving from the different organizations of the county in planting the Greenville-Bruce highway as a memorial to the late Mrs. Sallie Southall Cotten. Plans are practically completed for this stupendous task. Already the end of the Century, the Round Table and the Sans Souci Book Clubs, the Junior Woman's Club, the Joyner, Belvoir and Falkland schools, the Greenville colored schools, the community of Falkland and the town of Greenville have assured the Woman's Club of their willingness to assume definite responsibilities in the planting of this road. The land owners along the road are contributing trees from their woods and the State Highway Commission is having the road measured off with stakes showing where the trees are to be put and in addition is having the highway force dig all the holes and haul water for watering of the trees when set.

The Home Demonstration women of the county are assisting in the planting of this memorial road as well as doing some planting on other roads of the county. The planting of eight miles of road is no easy task and members of the planting committee hope that more organizations and more individuals will offer their services.

The highway force will begin work on the road Friday morning, Nov. 6th, and plans are to have the road completely planted by Tuesday night, Nov. 10th.

Y. Joyner, Andrew Joyner, and Brig. Gen. B. Hawkins Tyson a chance for timely speeches.

A basket picnic lunch will be served at the conclusion of the program.

The reunion organization lost one of its most active and beloved members in the recent death of Dr. B. T. Cox of Winterville, an ex-president and a member of the executive committee.

prehensive investigation which will throw much needed light on the present conduct of American policy.

"To this end," it continued, "the Navy League gladly offers its records without reservation. Furthermore it resolves to pursue the purposes and policies for which the Navy League was founded."

Henry Breckinridge, the only dissenting member, to the vote by which the statement was approved, said in a separate statement it was his "deep conviction" that William Howard Gardiner, president of the league, in his statement, had used "unseemly and unjustified language concerning the President of the United States."

He added that this language "will not serve the best interest of the Navy or the Navy League," and should not be approved by the League.

Simultaneously, Gardiner issued a statement of his own:

"I wrote the pamphlet published by the Navy League on October 28 in the best of good faith. I wrote it in the hope that it would bring home to my fellow countrymen and to our selected representatives in the executive and legislative branches of our government, what I sincerely believe to be the very serious condition that confronts our country."

LADY with a PAST

By Harriet Henry

SYNOPSIS: Venice Muir finds herself in a predicament, as she is playing a careful game of living an innocuous life in Paris while she collects sufficient information about the city to return to New York with tales of an adventurous trip. Years of being considered unattractive have given her a suppressed desire for popularity. She meets an American, Guy Bryson, whom she engages in a friendly way to take her about the city. He introduces her to persons of importance, among them the Marquis de Thenardier. In the midst of her construction of an exciting "past," Lola Ward, a New York friend, arrives unexpectedly. To impress Lola, Venice invites her and her husband to dinner with herself and a friend. She is dismayed, when she tries to secure Guy for the evening to find him not at home.

Chapter 22
LOLA IS AMAZED.

She thought of Rene de Thenardier and asked the concierge to find his number. He had an apartment in the Faubourg-St. Honoré.

"Elo."

"Hello, Rene?"

"Mais oui."

"It's Venice Muir."

"Ah, over the telephone I kiss your hand. How are you, Venice?"

"Excellent. Some American friends have just turned up and I wondered if you'd dine with us tonight?"

"It would be a great pleasure."

"That's nice. Will you stop by for me at the Louis-Le-Grand at quarter of eight?"

"At twenty minutes of eight I will stop by for you."

She laughed and bade him au revoir. Dressing she felt pleased and excited. But what about the check? Lola and Jerry must never know that it was her dinner.

"Shaking hands with Rene in the parlor downstairs she tried to explain to him.

"I told them we'd meet at the Tour d'Argent. I can't sign a check there. May I give you some money now, Rene? It's my party, you know."

Her cheeks were dyed pomegranate. She felt stupid and embarrassed. Colour crept into his olive face. He seemed uncomfortable and shy about it, too.

"But no, Venice."

"Please, you must."

"Well, it is very odd. But I will do as you wish." She felt sure that he could not have afforded to pay for the dinner anyway and was only embarrassed with the fear that she might realize it.

"Thank you. It makes it all much easier for me."

In the taxi she had nothing to say. The old diffidence clutched her.

"Are you in Europe alone?" He suddenly broke on her thoughts and it occurred to her that he had given some time to wondering about her exact social status.

"I came over with my mother. She died suddenly about two months ago. She didn't want me to mourn in the formal way so I've been going about."

"My deep condolences, Venice."

"Thank you."

"I want you to meet my mother. She is in the south. But she will come up to Paris one of these days."

"I'd love to meet her." Venice was puzzled. Was he serious about her? She remembered what Guy had said about his search for American dollars.

"We are here." Rene stepped to the curb and held out a hand to assist her.

Lola and Jerry were waiting.

"Le Marquis de Thenardier, Mr. and Mrs. Ward."

She hoped she had introduced Rene properly. She was not quite sure about titles. Lola looked subtly impressed. She kissed Venice and was able to whisper as they walked towards their table ahead of the men, "Is he a heavy beau?" Venice nodded indifferently.

Rene ordered a delicious dinner. He hit it off splendidly with Lola and Jerry. And he paid marked and graceful attention to Venice. Here she had something to be sure of. There was no cause to belittle herself and she was Venice at her most natural and brightest. Lola looked so frankly happy at the metamorphosis that for Venice the earlier prick was eased. It was a merry evening. Afterwards they went to a cinema and she allowed Rene to hold her hand in the concealing dark. The few small hours found them at Harry's Bar sipping whiskies and soda.

"I am having a little party tomorrow night. Will you and Mr. Ward honour me?" Rene asked.

"I wish we could. We're going to Le Touquet at four something."

"You must stay over," he begged. "Venice is coming with her American."

Lola felt that the heavens were about to fall.

"Who?" she asked, astonished.

"Guy Bryson," said Venice easily. "I don't know whether you ever met him at home or not. He's from Wilmington."

"No, returned Lola. "Is he a great friend of yours?"

"They are inseparable," said Rene, and he made it quite plain that he was envious of Guy Bryson.

"Oh," was all that Lola could manage. Jerry stared at Venice. He noticed for the first time that her hair was lovely copper colour and that her grey eyes had short black lashes that stood out in a way that was somehow alluring. Venice saw his scrutiny.

"Do I need powder on my nose, Jerry?" she asked maliciously. "You need explaining," he laughed.

"A person always needs explaining when you see them for the first time," she retorted. She was astonished. It was the sort of remark she had never been able to summon quickly. The lid of the box did not invariably stick now.

At the curb Lola and Jerry took one taxi and Venice and Rene another. Venice stared out of the window and happily speculated as to the astonished comments about her that would be exchanged between the Wards. Suddenly an arm of Rene's across her shoulder disturbed her mental rehearsal of this conversation.

"What is this?" she asked with mock perplexity and humorously shrugged it off as though it were an inanimate object.

"Why not? I think you are the most beautiful thing in the world."

"Beautiful things are to be locked at, not touched."

"You permitted me to hold your hand at the cinema."

"But sorry if I misled you, Rene."

"Bah, I cannot understand you Americans."

"No. I don't blame you. It's difficult. Our lines aren't finely drawn and it's hard to see where they stop."

ABOUT TOWN

The Pitt County Post of the American Legion is preparing to make the local celebration of Armistice Day measure up to the significance of the occasion.

Although plans have not been completed, the program will contain numbers of features in keeping with spirit of the occasion.

Celebration of Armistice Day comes while the state organization is observing American Legion week, an occasion set aside for interesting new members in the work of the various posts. That the Pitt County Post will do its part toward the movement to increase membership is not to be doubted and the end of the week is expected to see the addition of several new members.

The entire community should turn out Armistice Day and help the Legion celebrate the ending of the great conflict that occupied attention of virtually every important power on earth. The occasion will be reminiscent of strife and bloodshed and the men who sacrificed their all that the world might be saved from German democracy, and will play its part in drawing the men who fought that war into a closer bond of brotherhood.

Gratifying is the announcement that the two city cemeteries have been improved.

The question of improving the sleeping places of the city's dead has been discussed at length for some time, but not until right recently did an intensive clean-up campaign get under way.

J. N. Williams, chairman of the cemetery committee of the Board of Aldermen, impressed with the task which had been placed upon him, started to work and the results of this effort have been a source of much favorable comment by the citizenship.

It is difficult to keep the walks clean at this season of the year with dying leaves flying in all directions, but the city has tackled the task, and when it goes after a thing in a determined way the best results are assured.

Judge Walter Moore, hearing reports that farmers were not able to obtain sufficient labor to pick their cotton, immediately decided upon a plan to meet the demand.

He instructed officers to bring before him all vagrants of the community and he would see that the cotton growers were supplied with sufficient labor.

The suggestion is a good one and if other communities would adopt it much of the idling reported in small towns and cities would be completely eliminated.

True it is that cotton pickers are not paid fancy prices for their labor, but with depressed conditions existing in all sections of the country and lucrative employment scarce, honest labor should be glad commissioner and sheriff, having served one term in each office. For the last several years he has been the official weigher on the local cotton market.

W. H. COVERT GOES TO WINSTON SALEM HOSPITAL

Rev. W. H. Covert, pastor of Immanuel Baptist church, left today for Winston-Salem where he will receive treatment at the Baptist hospital. Mr. Covert has been suffering from a slight throat irritation for some time, and it was hoped that he would be completely relieved by treatment.

THE NEXT MEETING OF THE SYNOD OF N. C.

News has been received officially from Rev. A. D. P. Gilmour, D. D., moderator of the Synod of N. C., that the next meeting will be held at East Carolina Teachers College and the Presbyterian Church of our city, Sept. 20, 1932, 7:30 p. m. The members of the local Presbyterian Church are delighted that through the co-operation of the faculty of our college, it is possible to have this church body meet in Greenville for the first time in the 118 years of the Synod, and of the local church, in its 40 years since organization.

This body, which is next to the highest court of the Presbyterian Church, includes the whole of the State of North Carolina, with exception of its mountain section. It represents 345 ministers, 535 church es, and a membership of over 75,000. This makes it possible to have 880 ministers and ruling elders present, with committee members not counted in the above.

A program committee composed of the following is to prepare the order of procedure for this meeting: A. D. P. Gilmour, chairman; R. A. McCleod, W. S. Harden, C. H. Storey and J. H. Whitmore.

State Treasurer Opposes Special Assembly Session

Goldshoro, Nov. 5.—(AP)—State Treasurer Nathan O'Berry was on record today as opposing a special session of the legislature to consider economic or any other problems.

In a statement issued at his home here last night he said such a session would only embarrass the present situation and "I am too devoted to personal liberty to favor any plan that will make it a crime for a North Carolina farmer to grow on his own land any crop he may desire, wisely or foolishly, to plant. If we have not enough sense to reduce acreage next year in the face of present prices, I do not see how any legislation can do us any good by putting us in jail."

"I Swore Off Harsh Irritants"

"Certainly I am on the Lucky list. Last summer, while camping in the high Sierras, I hiked six miles to get my supply of LUCKY STRIKES. I swore off harsh irritants when the talkies first started—and I've smoked LUCKY STRIKES ever since. And that improved Cellophane wrapper of yours—with the little tab for easy opening—is a gem."

BIG FIVE BOYS TO PLAY OUT OF THE STATE

Charlotte, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Three Big Five football teams were just bands of traveling men today, off to meet southern conference foes on out-of-state gridirons.

N. C. State's Wolfpack gathered up its helmets, jerseys, pants, trainers, publicity men and other accessories after yesterday's workout and boarded a midnight train for Starkville, Miss., where they'll meet the Mississippi Aggies Saturday.

The Blue Devil crew from Duke took a moon train at Durham and was en route this afternoon to the Kentucky Wildcats' lair. Tonight the University of North Carolina squad will get off to Atlanta to meet Georgia Tech's Ramblin' Wreck.

The departure of the three state members of the southern conference leaves the local scene free for the Davidson-Citadel scrap at Davidson and the Wake Forest-Presbyterian mixup at Greensboro.

Ten Wolfpack, carrying heads high and chests out after its showing against North Carolina last Saturday, left with high hopes of whipping the Aggies.

Several changes have been made by Coach Clipper Smith in the Wolfpack's line-up the past week. At least two newcomers to the first string he lined up are expected to start against Mississippi A. & M.

Duke's final practice session at Durham for the Kentucky game was devoted largely to the defense. Marion Brumback, freshman star, was labelled "Shipwreck Kelly," the Wildcats' great back, and given the works.

North Carolina's first string line took it easy at Chapel Hill as Coach Chuck Collins worked on developing his reserves. Two sets of varsity backs ran behind the second string line in scrimmage with the third string eleven.

Wake Forest's first eleven had a long defensive scrimmage against a freshman team that ran Presbyterian plays. The Deacons will meet the South Carolinians with Shinn, fullback, and Edwards, halfback, out with injuries.

Special Grid Games Arranged For The Poor

New York, Nov. 5.—(AP)—America's college football players have heard the call to come to the aid of the unemployed and needy and they have responded with offers of 126 college teams to help in one way or another.

Already 53 teams have arranged special games, the proceeds of which are to go to charity, it is revealed by the first report of E. K. Hall, chairman of the football rules committee, who took over the task of handling the gridiron program after Owen D. Young has issued a call for aid on behalf of the president's organization of unemployment relief.

Fifty-seven more are planning special charity games: seven have agreed to give the net proceeds of one regular game to relief funds and eleven will contribute a percentage of the receipts of a regular game. In addition to the college games, three professional teams, the Chicago Bears, Chicago Cardinals and Cleveland Indians have arranged charity games.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified crocote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, crocote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to crocote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the crocote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Bat Battalino Wins Decision Over Mastro

Chicago, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Earl Mastro today was another one of the boys who have tried to knock the featherweight championship crown from Bat Battalino's head without being able to do more than leave it slightly askew.

The hardy youngster from Hartford, Conn., who can be depended upon to fight like a champion when his title is the prize, did exactly that last night in the Chicago Stadium, winning the decision after ten blistering rounds to thwart Mastro's challenge. The Chicago Italian, a master boxer, fought a recklessly game fight, but the champion's ruggedness and never ceasing attack, won him the favor of Referee Dave Barry and one judge. The other judge cast his vote for a draw.

Mastro came so close, however, that Barry's score card showed 51 points for the champion to 49 for the handsome Chicago youngster. The crowd of 14,022 spectators who left $40,353 at the gates, apparently approved the decision, although Mastro was a big sentimental favorite.

Battalino, as usual, set his own pace and maintained it almost without variation every second of the way. Mastro outboxed him in spots and made him miss badly on occasions, but the end of every round found Battalino gaining the advantage. He scored two knockdowns, and his purposeful body attack slowed Mastro down almost every time the latter got nicely started.

Continue Probe of Two Deaths

Lexington, Nov. 5.—(AP)—A coroner's inquest into the deaths, apparently from poison, of Virginia 10, and Elizabeth, 6, children of Mrs. Lola Pickett, was continued again last night to allow collection of additional evidence.

The jury announced it wished expert advice regarding Mrs. Pickett's testimony that the younger child vomited repeatedly for two days before dying in September, although chemists reported the stomach full of poisonous liquid when examined.

SOUTH RENEWS BID FOR 1932 GRID HONORS

By ROBERT BUNNELLE
Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 5.—(AP)—The South renews its bid for inter-sectional football honors this week-end with intra-conference matters shoved into the background.

Georgia, conqueror of Yale, headed eastward today to defend its national reputation against New York University at New York. Louisiana State left Baton Rouge yesterday on its way to battle with the Army.

Southern hopes were based principally on these two tilts and that of Arkansas with Chicago. Georgia had Captain Austin Downes and Homer Key, Yale's newsies, back in the lineup and was favored to repeat last year's victory over the Vicks.

Louisiana, if the team clicks, was expected to give the Cadets plenty of worry about the Arkansas was conceded an excellent chance to defeat Chicago.

There was little expectation that Virginia would be able to do much against Columbia and Centenary was considered unlikely to present resistance to Purdue. The Southerners all play away from home.

Within the southern conference, the Vanderbilt-Maryland game at Nashville drew the chief interest of fans. By agreement it is a non-scouted match. Alabama and Florida have a little matter to settle that also ought to offer plenty of excitement.

Tennessee, which with Tulane and Georgia, rides at the crest of the Southern conference climb, has little at stake in its game with Carson Newman at Knoxville. Tulane, on the other hand, plays Auburn which has presented a strong front despite defeats. But the Green Wave was considered the favorite by a wide margin.

Georgia Tech, shy on reserves, plays against North Carolina Saturday in a well matched battle. Kentucky comes up against Duke and Mississippi Sewanee are to match strength.

All the southerners began tapering off in their workouts today in preparation for Saturday. So far the South has done well in its inter-sectional campaign. Georgia's victory over Yale, that of Vanderbilt over Ohio State and Auburn's tie with Wisconsin were among its achievements for this season.

Local Bowlers Defeat Strong Washington Club

Displaying uncanny accuracy in every game, Greenville bowlers last night defeated a bowling team from Washington by a total of 63 pins. In the first two games, Greenville led by 99 pins, and substitute players were put in the third game to give the regulars a chance to rest from their labors. Of the last nine games played between the two clubs Washington has won five and Greenville four. Another game is scheduled for next week.

Here's the way they played:
Washington—Carson, 91, 83, 88 total, 262; Jones, 89, 112, 95, total, 296; Harris, 81, 90, 93, total 274; A. Taylor, 96, 83, 81, total 260; B. Taylor, 87, 92, 93, total, 272. Totals: 484, 460, 450—1384.

Mrs. W. G. Barnes Heads W. M. U.

New Bern, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Mrs. W. G. Barnes, of Raleigh, was elected president of the Women's Missionary convention of the North Carolina Christian Missionary convention which is in annual session here.

Other officers elected are: Mrs. R. F. Hill, Winston, first vice-president; Mrs. R. C. Pratt, Winston-Salem, second vice-president; Mrs. J. W. Mow, Farmville, recorder; Mrs. M. C. Todd, Wendell, treasurer; Mrs. H. H. Settle, general secretary.

On yesterday's program, which was attended by approximately 600 people, were F. M. Rogers, of Indianapolis, executive secretary of the National Department of Benevolence; W. O. Winfield, of Washington, Dr. Hilley, president of Atlantic Christian College; Rev. W. A. Ryan, Greenville; Rev. Paul Southward, Dunn; Rev. W. C. Foster, Rocky Mount; Rev. A. Clyde Braden, Wilmington and Rev. J. Randall Ferris, Raleigh.

Ask Local Option for N. C. Schools

Wilmington, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Resolutions demanding local option for schools unhampered by the state and a state superintendent of education "directly responsible to the people" were before the North Carolina Congress of Parents and Teachers as it entered the final day of its annual convention here today. The resolution regarding the superintendent also deplored what it described as efforts to hamper the work of that office.

Last night the convention heard Dr. J. M. Parrot, of Raleigh, state health officer, in a bitter attack on "third rate politicians and knackers" who if they would "leave the school system alone," would not block educational progress in the state.

"This is no time for retrenchment in the public schools of North Carolina," he declared. "I speak it kindly, but firmly. The man who interferes with the progress of education is a demagogue, or is ignorant or is utterly selfish."

"Are school expenditures a tax? I think not. It is nothing more than buying character and opportunity for the child on the partial payment plan."

"You cannot make a class A commonwealth out of class C citizens," he added.

FOUR CAROLINIANS HELD NARCOTIC LAW VIOLATION Baltimore, Md., Nov. 5.—(AP)—

Four Carolinians were under $2,000 bond here today for trial in Federal court for violations of the federal narcotic laws. They were charged with conspiracy and possession of 350 grams of drugs illegally.

They are Leon Cash and Samuel L. Carter, of Winston-Salem, N. C.; Luther Hendrix, Concord, N. C.; and Charles Holt, Spartanburg, S. C.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

N. Y. COTTON

New York, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Cotton moved steady today, unchanged to points higher on the continuation of yesterday's late rally. The advance met some southern selling and prices reacted slightly during the first few minutes of trading.

The buying continued, however, and the market held fairly steady during the early trading. After falling up to 6.76 at the start, it reacted to 6.73, but was ruling around 6.75 at the end of the first half hour. Brokers supposed to be operating for cooperative interests were selling here again this morning presumably against purchases of cotton in the south, while some of the spot houses were credited with buying near and selling distant positions.

Liverpool cables reported general buying and covering on easier sterling and said there was a sustained demand for cotton cloth.

STOCK MARKET

Chicago, Nov. 5.—(AP)—In a wild runaway market, prices took the bit in their teeth today, and raced beyond record gains for every one of the country's cereals. Temporary breaks of almost 2 cents a bushel were witnessed at times, but the market continued better-sketter upgrade, wheat jumping to more than 20 cents above the ruling quotations a month ago. Reports of drought havoc to crops in Russia was a major incentive to buyers, with continued advices of drought menace in the domestic winter wheat region southwest and authoritative news that the moisture situation in the Canadian prairie provinces was now the most serious of any recent year.

Wheat closed strained 11-4 to 13-4 below the day's top and 7-8 to 13-8 higher than yesterday's finish; corn 15-8 to 21-4 advance; oats 1-8 to 1 up and provision showing a rise of 8 to 22 cents.

GRAIN MARKET

New York, Nov. 5.—(AP)—The stock market was unable to follow the pace set by commodities today, particularly wheat and silver.

Bonds attracted further buying, particularly in the early trading, but the share market fluctuated uncertainly, and acted somewhat wearied by the recent stimulation. Nevertheless, a fairly good undertone was maintained, and price movements were largely narrow.

Rails and steels, particularly were drabby. Several of the chemicals, oils, non-ferrous metals and specialties, however, managed to sell up a point or two at times. The market was rather heavy for a time in the late morning, came up in the middle of the day and eased off again, as profit taking appeared in the wheat market. American Telephone lost more than a point, and failed to recover all of its loss. U. S. Steel was fractionally lower much of the time. Some of the rails, such as New York Central and Southern Pacific, lost about a point. The stock market is now back to around the top levels of the mid-October rally and is regarded in brokerage quarters as in an important testing area. Speculative quarters look for efforts to boost the market into new high ground for the recovery, but cautious traders were naturally inclined to take profits.

The action of the New York clearing house banks in deciding that they would no longer handle call loans for "others," that is, individuals and corporations, had been expected, and some bankers explained that it should have a distinctly stabilizing effect in the long run.

DEMOCRATS VIRTUALLY WIN CONTROL OF HOUSE

HELP WOMEN AVOID PAINS

MORE than half a century of successful use has shown that Cardui helps women to avoid much that they formerly suffered—misery from minor functional disturbances, monthly suffering due to a weakened condition. Cardui acts as a tonic for the system, and tends to improve the general health. It is of especial value to weak, nervous, run-down women, needing just such a strengthening medicine. Those who suffer every month should build up their strength to assist in the natural correction of the painful condition. When you need Cardui, buy a bottle and take it regularly and persistently. Perhaps several bottles will be needed. Finally, may you share the enthusiasm of the thousands of women who have said: "Cardui helped me!"

Charlotte, (AP)—Judges G. V. Cowper and Michael Schenick announced their terms of Superior court would be recessed next Wednesday, "not only for Armistice Day but also in honor of Frank Graham," who will be inaugurated as president of the state university on that day.

An effort by the Tammany delegation from New York and other members from northern states to force a more equitable division of these election spoils is already down in the future books.

While giving attention to internal affairs, leaders are not losing sight of the rocky legislative trail ahead if they retain their majority. A trail upon which a misstep might cripple to some extent what they see as repeated presidential prospects for 1932.

Major economic problems are to be presented to Congress almost as soon as reorganization is effected in the House and the equally closely divided Senate. Prohibition, flanked by an increasing number of opposition votes in both branches, will be subjected to further tests of strength. Democratic leaders in both Houses have indicated an intention of recalling the Hawley-Smoot tariff bill to the legislative floors for an over-hauling downward.

All of these problems begging solution will bear Democratic leaders from resting too peacefully during the next month.

On the other hand, the new House lineup brings no diminution of difficulties to President Hoover and the administration. Not since the reign of Woodrow Wilson has a president been faced by a Congress of the opposing party.

Mr. Hoover has already sought Democratic approval of some of his economic restriction measures and the debt moratorium. But other legislation which might smooth his path to re-election—and there has been no indication that he will not seek this—will find rougher going under the new alignment.

Nanking, China, Nov. 5.—(AP)—The Rev. J. W. Vinson, member of the American Presbyterian Mission at Hainchow, Kiangsu province, and a native of Fairfield county, South Carolina, has been slain by Chinese bandits. United States Consul General Willis R. Peck was advised today.

Vinson was kidnaped last Sunday. His death presumably occurred yesterday. Immediately upon receipt of news Peck asked the Chinese foreign office for details of the incident.

At the instance of the American Government, he had made representations to the Foreign office following the kidnapping and was assured the Chinese Government would do all in its power to obtain the release of Vinson.

The missionary is survived by three young children, all of whom live with relatives in Lexington, Va. His wife died several years ago.

News of Vinson's slaying was forwarded to Peck by Dr. Lorenzo Morgan of the Presbyterian Mission at Hainchow.

It was Dr. Morgan who reported Mr. Vinson's capture by the bandits. The capture took place about 30 miles south of Hainchow.

giving the best in them in the cause of humankind. He said Christ is at the door seeking admission, ready to help in the solution of the countless problems confronting mankind from day to day.

The only solution, he declared, is the spiritual solution, and the church must take the leadership in attempting to provide the solution for present day conditions.

He called on his hearers to accept Christ as a personal Savior, and to find in Him a solace for all the cares and trials which confront them with the dawn of each day.

The services are being conducted in observance of diocesan-wide celebration of mission week, and will continue the remainder of the week. Large crowds have been in attendance each day and night, and it was expected they would show a pronounced increase during the remainder of the series.

Prospective organization of the House of Representatives, however, and elevation of the Veteran Jack Gardner of Texas to the speaker-ship have brought their problems.

Overshadowing for the present even the difficulties of legislating without a working majority—a majority now standing at one—is the necessity for keeping peace in the Democratic family. This may not prove so easy with the chairman-ship of the most powerful and important committees scheduled to go to southern members through right of seniority.

Under the present lineup, not only would Garner be unopposed in the party for the speakership, but 30 of 46 chairmanships of standing committees would go to Dixie congressmen. Texas alone would get five.
