FOUR STATES AGREE TO CUT FARM ACREAGE

Governors Return Home From Charlotte to Work Out Plans for Reduction

Charlotte, Nov. 13.—(AP)—The governors of four of the south's greatest agricultural states were back in their home capitals today working out details by which an agreement reached at a conference here to reduce acreage in cotton, tobacco, peanuts and potatoes, may be fulfilled.

Each of the four states—Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia—is to be represented by three men on a joint committee which will be charged with the duty of surveying crop conditions for the last ten years and making recommendations for acreage quotas in each state for each crop in 1932.

The plan was set forth after the conference in a statement signed by the governors—O. Max Gardner of North Carolina, who arranged the conference, John G. Pollard, of Virginia, Ira C. Blackwood, of South Carolina, and Richard B. Russell of Georgia.

The statement said, in part: "It was unanimously agreed that each governor appoint three men from his state to constitute what will be known as the four-state committee, and that such committee survey the acreage and production of the main cash crops for the past 10 years in each state and recommend definite quotas of acreage for 1932, and that the said committee report back their plans to the governors as soon as completed."

"It was also agreed that a very important phase of the whole subject of acreage reduction related to the question of credit and banking and each governor proposed to take this matter up with the banking and credit agencies of the state with a view of securing their co-operation."

Each governor will decide for himself the manner in which his state is to be carried out in his state.

The conference received a petition from a committee authorized by the North Carolina legislature to memorialize congress for a rebate on commodity taxes, asking that all congressmen and senators be asked to co-operate in the four states, but no action was taken.

Mother Held in the Death of Two of Her Children

Lexington, N. C., Nov. 13.—(AP)—While authorities continued to seek evidence in the death of her two little daughters, Mrs. Lola Pickett, Lexington widow, remained in the county jail today, denied bond after a coroner's jury investigating the alleged poisonings recommended that she be held for preliminary hearing.

Supplied with cigarettes and evincing a desire to make herself comfortable in the cell, the woman would not add to her previous statement that she knew nothing of how her children might have been poisoned.

Virginia, aged 10, died last spring. When Elizabeth, aged six, died in September, authorities found that her stomach contained a quantity of arsenic. Exhuming the body of Virginia, they found the same circumstance, and for weeks have sought a solution.

Date for the preliminary hearing has not been set.

Reynolds Denies Morrison Support

Winston-Salem, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Robert R. Reynolds, of Asheville, candidate for the Senate on a wet platform, issued a statement at Asheville today denying Senator Cameron Morrison was giving financial aid to his campaign after open assertion on the floor of the Baptist state convention here that there were rumors over the state to that effect.

The Rev. Oscar Haywood, pastor of the First Baptist church of New Bern, told the assembly yesterday he had heard rumors that Morrison money was back of Reynolds.

In Charlotte Morrison refused to comment on Haywood's remarks. Reynolds' statement said in part: Dr. Haywood took the floor in the convention to say that a rumor over the state had it that the senator "is financing the campaign of a candidate for the United States Senate who stands for the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment."

Then, breaking the great silence which had fallen over the hall at his words, he added: "The rumor is that Mr. Morrison is financially backing Robert R. Reynolds."

INJURED GRID PLAYER DEAD

Deland, Fla., Nov. 13.—(AP)—Injuries received in a football game against Stetson here Armistice Day proved fatal today to C. V. Smith, Millsaps College tackle.

He died in a hospital of a fractured neck vertebrae after having been unconscious for several hours. The body will be sent to the home of his father, M. C. Smith, farmer, living near Philadelphia, Mississippi, late today. Funeral arrangements will be made by Dr. D. M. Key, president of Millsaps College, at Jackson, Miss.

Smith was injured in a game in which Millsaps defeated Stetson 19 to 7. He was seen to break through the Hatter line and was almost alone in the backfield when he suddenly collapsed and was carried from the field.

At first, his condition was not believed serious, but an X-Ray examination revealed a fractured vertebrae. He lapsed into unconsciousness twice Wednesday night and yesterday paralysis of the diaphragm set in and physicians resorted to artificial respiration to keep him alive.

While he was conscious, Smith apparently did not realize the seriousness of his injury and told physicians he would be ready to play in a game between Millsaps and Rollins College at Winter Park tomorrow. Shortly after last midnight he lapsed into a coma from which he was not revived.

Coach T. L. Gaddy, athletic director, B. O. Van Hook, and Business Manager V. B. Hathorne of Millsaps and Maurice Eastering, Millsaps student and close friend of Smith, remained constantly at the bedside since the player was injured.

The Millsaps team also remained here awaiting the outcome of Smith's injury. Following the player's death, Athletic Director Van Hook said he would ask Coach Jack McDowell of Rollins to cancel the game scheduled for tomorrow and that the Millsaps team probably would return to Mississippi today.

Pantages Case is Nearing Close

Los Angeles, Nov. 13.—(AP)—The state today neared the end of its case against Alexander Pantages, theater man, charged with attacking Eunice Pringle, young dancer. Immediately after the state had called its last witness, court will be adjourned until Monday, an agreement having been reached by counsel to allow the defense to start its case on that date.

Every witness who testified for the prosecution yesterday was also a witness at Pantages' first trial in 1929 and their testimony was, in substance, the same as they gave before.

GARNER SETS FORTH VIEWS OF HIS PARTY

Says it Will Not Condemn Nor Yield to Desires of President Hoover

Washington, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Democrats in the House of Representatives, constituting a majority stand recorded as intending to neither automatically condemn nor automatically sanctify White House proposals.

In his first public statement since the twistings of fate designated him as the probable next speaker, Representative Garner of Texas, set forth this tenor of party thought. His statement came through the Democratic National committee.

No political truce with President Hoover and no yielding to political expediency were the guide posts he set for his colleagues, with whom he has been conferring for two days. "I do not anticipate that any Democrat will oppose a measure plainly necessary for the industrial health of our people or one that (Continued On Page Four)

COUNTY COURT CLOSURES HERE

Approximately Forty Cases are Disposed of in Two-Day Session.

The regular weekly session of County court was adjourned this morning after disposing of approximately forty cases. The sitting, one of the longest in months by reason of abandonment of the session last week for criminal court, extended over two days, with the court taking off Armistice Day to give officials and attendance an opportunity to take part in the celebration of the anniversary of the ending of the war.

The charges ranged all the way from larceny to violation of the prohibition law, but only minor time was required to dispose of each case. Several of the defendants filed notice of appeal to the higher court.

Dorsey Mills, colored, charged with carrying a concealed weapon, was sentenced to sixty days on the roads during which time he will be given ample opportunity to consider the inadvisability of going armed.

Ernie Wooten, colored, charged with abandonment, was required to pay cost of action, and $2 a week toward child support of his family.

Dave Cannon, colored, charged with illegal duplication of a crop, was ordered to pay $50 to G. W. Wilson and one-half cost.

Judgment was suspended on payment of cost in the case of Frank Brown, charged with possession of liquor.

Charged with driving drunk, Bill Bradsher was required to pay $50 and cost and has his license revoked for 90 days. The revocation of license, however, will not become effective until December 1st.

James and John Atkinson, colored, paid cost on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon. Jack Brown, colored, was sentenced to the roads for four months.

Orders Closing of All Gambling in New Orleans

New Orleans, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Operators of gambling houses in Jefferson and St. Bernard parishes today philosophically received the edict of Attorney General Percy Saint that their doors must be closed and said they would close all open gambling.

The States quoted night club and casino operators as saying with a shrug that the open halls of gambling would be closed in compliance with Saint's order placing the deadline at midnight tonight. Floor shows and other entertainments will go on in the night clubs.

"It's all in the game," said the operators in recalling that before the last election Governor Huey P. Long raided the big open houses of chance with the militia, burned the gambling paraphernalia and turned into the state treasury thousands of dollars confiscated in the raids.

The attorney general charged open and flagrant violation of the state anti-gambling laws and directed a challenge to the district attorneys of the two parishes to close the gambling halls.

FALSE FIRE ALARMS HERE

Two Alarms Sent In from Western Section of the City Last Night.

False fire alarms, which caused the fire department so much trouble and expense several months ago, were revived here again last night, when the fire department was sent speeding twice to the western section of the city only to find that no fires existed.

Although the identity of the false fire alarms had not been established today, the parties were said to have occupied an automobile and sped away to some other section of the city immediately after sending in the alarms.

The first alarm went in after the midnight hour from box 35 on West Fifth street. In less than an hour later, the second alarm was sent in from box 41 on West Fourth and Latham streets.

Both of the fire department trucks sped to the scene of each alarm, but nobody knew anything about a fire, although an automobile had been heard to stop and then speed away almost simultaneously with the sounding of the alarms.

In the epidemic of alarms several months ago, a negro was caught in the dragnet which the police threw about the city in an effort to apprehend those responsible for the alarms, and was sent to the roads.

To a prankster, sending in a false alarm may not be considered from a serious viewpoint, but it is expensive business for the city, as well as a jeopardy to the lives of the men who rode the speeding trucks attempting to render a high type of service to the community.

Several years ago a fireman was killed when one of the large trucks wrecked on the way to a fire, and as the members of the department are faced eternally by danger of this kind, the courts deal severely with those found guilty of sending false alarms.

Mill Reports More Business

Gastonia, Nov. 13.—(AP)—The Lory division of the Manville-Jencks company here today reported receipt of several sizeable orders and a gradual increase in the number of operatives employed.

Little Rock, Ark., Nov. 13.—(AP)—Mrs. Hattie Caraway, democrat, was appointed U. S. Senator by Governor Harvey Farnell this afternoon to serve until a successor to her late husband is selected on January 12th.

The governor said he also would ask the State democratic central committee to nominate Mrs. Caraway for the unexpired term, ending in March, 1933. The committee was called today to meet on Dec. 1 to make the nomination, which would be tantamount to election.

EDUCATORS IN SESSION HERE

Fall Conference District Teachers' Association Convenes at College.

Hundreds of teachers from the northeastern section of the State began their fall pilgrimage to Greenville today to attend a two-day session of the Northeastern District Teachers' Association which was scheduled to get under way at East Carolina Teachers College this afternoon.

Under direction of the Merchants Association, provision had been made to take care of between one thousand and eleven hundred visitors today and tomorrow. The final session will be held tomorrow morning, and adjournment will follow a series of group meetings during the afternoon.

Leading educators from this and other sections of the country were scheduled to appear on the program this afternoon, tonight and tomorrow morning.

Miss Maude B. Leigh, of Elizabeth City, will preside over the conference, and the visitors will be welcomed by Dr. R. H. Wright, president of East Carolina Teachers College.

Dr. Lois Colley Mossman, Teachers College, Columbia University, was to deliver the principal address of the afternoon session. Dr. Elbert Fretwell, of Columbia University, will be the principal speaker on the program tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

Constance Bennett Will Marry Nov. 22

Hollywood, Calif., Nov. 13.—(AP)—Having filed notice of intention to wed, Constance Bennett, one of the highest paid screen stars, and Henry James La Nally de la Falaise de la Couray, French marquis, better known as "Hank" along Hollywood boulevard, probably will be married November 22.

The filing of the intention came as a surprise to Hollywood. It had long been expected that Miss Bennett and the Marquis would eventually marry, as they had been seen together almost constantly for several months.

The way for the marriage was cleared last Monday when Gloria Swanson, the former wife of the Marquis, obtained her final divorce decree. Immediately after divorcing the Marquis, Miss Swanson married Michael Farmer, Irish sportsman.

Best Average for Barn of Tobacco on Eastern Markets Set Here Yesterday

Prices for better grades of tobacco showed a pronounced upward trend on the Greenville tobacco market yesterday, and several growers made some unusually good averages. It was revealed today in the official report of K. W. Cobb, supervisor of sales.

James E. Clark, of Beaufort county, had among his offerings yesterday one lot of tobacco that sold for $84.00 per hundred pounds. The best average for a barn of tobacco reported by any of the eastern markets this season was that of W. B. Mayo and Herman Stocks who sold 692 pounds for $435.76, at an average of $62.97 per hundred pounds.

The market yesterday sold a total of 879,996 pounds of leaf for $94,107.24 at a general average of $10.89 per hundred pounds.

For the week sales were given as 3,709,964 pounds for $376,803.17 at a general average of $10.10 per hundred pounds.

Sales for the season were given as 44,655,126 for $4,465,369.19 at an average of $9.99 per hundred lbs. The supervisor indicated that the "superior brands" of leaf were showing greater strength all the time and that bidding for these types was very active.

Masked Men Rob Haw River Bank

Burlington, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Two masked bandits held up J. A. Long, cashier of the Bank of Haw River, two miles east of here today and robbed him of $1,000.

Long came to Burlington today to get the $1,000 in small bills and silver for use in making up payrolls at Haw River. Mrs. Long accompanied him.

They were on their way back to Haw River when an automobile occupied by the two bandits drove up alongside Long's car. The men flashed pistols, forced Long to stop his car, and took the money.

After firing a shot into a tire of Long's car the men fled toward Haw River.

Long made his way back to Burlington and reported the robbery to officers. He said both bandits wore handkerchiefs tied over their faces, but that he believed he could recognize them if he saw them again.

JAP DEMANDS ARE IGNORED

General Mah Chan-Shan Refuses to Listen to Japanese Ultimatum that He Evacuate; Japs Blame Trouble in Area on Chinese Aggression and Report that the Right Wing Had Been Surrounded by Chinese Troops; the Chinese Know Nothing About League's "Compromise Plan."

Mah Chan-Shan, Chinese commander in Northern Manchuria, is still holding Tsihsihar against Japanese forces which he reported, sent cavalry against him under cover of artillery fire.

He continued to ignore the Japanese ultimatum that he evacuate Tsihsihar, and he said the attack began before the ultimatum expired.

Japanese sources blamed the trouble in the Tsihsihar area on Chinese aggression and reported that the Japanese right wing had been surrounded by Chinese troops, cutting off communications.

Mah has been reinforced by a detachment of Chinese and Korean soldiers trained in Soviet Russia and sent to Manchuria from Biagovschensk, said the Japanese.

Henry Pu-yi, former "boy emperor" of China, was reported on the way from Tientsin, where he has been a virtual prisoner in the Japanese concession, to Mukden where it was said the Japanese intended to enthrone him. Japanese "curves" described the report as "premature."

Harbin, Manchuria, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Advancing under cover of artillery fire, Japanese cavalry launched a series of attacks on Chinese forces in the Tsihsihar area, General Mah Chan-Shan reported today.

The infantry did not come into action but the fighting continued from yesterday afternoon until nightfall, with casualties on both sides.

General Mah said the attack came before the expiration of the Japanese commander's demand that Tsihsihar be evacuated by midnight yesterday.

Reports from Tsihsihar said the Japanese feeling is running high and that Chinese police were guarding the Japanese consulate as a precaution.

At noon today a message from there said all the Chinese troops had left for the front. It was reported that General Mah's Cavalry was strung out along the Chinese Eastern Railway south of Manchuria and that thirty field guns and 200 machine guns were in position.

Nanking, China, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Hig, officials of the Nanking government, commenting today on dispatches from Washington regarding a "compromise plan" to be submitted at the League of Nations council meeting on Manchuria next Monday, said they knew nothing about any such plan.

The only suggestion of that nature which has come to their notice, they said, is that the League appoint a neutral investigating commission to study the situation in Manchuria. The Nanking government has notified the League that they would welcome such a commission.

At Washington yesterday United States Secretary of State Clegg said a compromise plan to be brought forward at Paris was the basis for the American government's opinion over the Manchurian situation. He declined to go into detail, but other official quarters it was said the plan already had taken definite shape in communications between European and American statesmen and stood a good chance of acceptance by both the Japanese and the Chinese governments.

LADY with a PAST

By Harriet Henry

SYNOPSIS: New York has been the scene of Venice's return to the city from Europe to make a final bid for popularity. She has built up a delicious reputation of success in Paris, the suicide of a marquis has been romantically linked with her name.

Chapter 20
A MORGAN FOR MYSTERY
 It was the youth of the spectacles on the one side, and the Marquis' Colour crept into her face. She felt as if a delicate was suddenly being on her.

"Was, Ernest," she murmured, "I don't know Holly's Doctor Price?"
 "No," he said. "It makes it difficult."

This remark was ambiguous.
 "You know how lucky you are," Venice succeeded in saying. She had no misgivings as to Nolly's marriage to him but she wished that Ernest did not invariably seem to be below the surface of her.

"And I didn't save you in time," he said gravely.
 "Save her from what?" queried Nolly.
 "From the night of society."

"It is a bit of a bit?" asked Mrs. Spaulding.
 Venice will be able to tell you of one of these days. Ernest assured her, helping Nolly to settle herself in a chair.

Unpacking the next morning Venice became fairly ecstatic over her new clothes. The jangling of the telephone startled her.
 "Hello. Venice. Welcome home."

"Oh, Lola! How are you? And a hundred thanks to you and Jerry for the roses."
 "Then, darling, may I come to lunch with you today? I'm pining to see you and I simply have to tell you about the Marquis' suicide and that American he spoke of."

"Come along," said Venice. She knew a vague resentment at Lola's evident enjoyment of the gossip about her. She regards her as a naughty, peep-show, she reflected humbly, and wants to be the first to get a look inside.

The receiver back in its place, her eyes wandered to the small lacquered figure, on the footboard of her bed still patiently crossing their bridges and carrying their long poles. Their minute stolidity knew no surprise or probing curiosity about her. It pleased her to imagine that their indefinite little faces looked brighter for her return.

Lola blew in about one o'clock. "I'm so glad to see you, darling. She kissed Venice in her careless, exuberant way."
 "It's nice, Lola. And you look more brilliant than ever."

"Lunch is served." Nola at the door with her habitual air of it's-my-duty-but-I-don't-think-much-of-it.
 Sitting at the familiar mahogany table, Venice's mind went back to that day when she and Lola had discussed a recipe for popularity and she had so pompously admitted her own lack of success.

She would like now to tell Lola exactly how she had done here at the Cafe de la Paix and of their business arrangements, but her natural honesty was suppressed by the realization that if Lola once permitted the truth to leak out Venice's next would be as quickly deflated as a balloon touched with a lighted cigarette. Of such combustible stuff are our pretences made. Lola could never resist a story that would make such good recomings. And Venice could not risk this.

Lola's voice broke in upon her thoughts.
 "What about Rene de Thénardier, did he ask you to marry him?"
 "Yes," said Venice. She was, bating this. It seemed so crude and unnecessary. But it was necessary.
 "How could you resist? He was so attractive and thick of skin like the Marquis de Thénardier?"
 "I didn't love him."

Actress Weds

Marjorie Rambeau, stage and screen actress, was married in Yuma, Ariz., to Francis A. Gudgey, retired business man of Sebring, Fla. It was her third marriage.

"Perhaps."
 "And do you remember the day you admitted to me you were a complete flop?"
 "Yes, I was thinking of it just a moment ago. Perhaps I still am Lola." She wasn't too sure of herself.
 "They left. I always had plenty of attention but do you think any Marquis would kill himself for me?"
 "The best part of me is probably hidden deep. Very far below the surface," Venice said. She had a vague idea that Lola would repeat this.
 She did. Venice sensed it was like an advertising slogan for certain food products.

As Lola departed she asked Venice to a house-warming the following Sunday. Venice accepted with keen anticipation. Her first encounter in the social arena since Guy had given her a cloak of rumour to throw about the shoulders of her diffidence.

Mrs. J. L. Runley and Mrs. Roscoe Fields of Farnville, were Greenville visitors yesterday.

Mrs. James E. Clark of Washington, was here yesterday.

Surprise Announcement Party. On Thursday evening the home of Mrs. Van Fleming on Second street, was a scene of much laughter and gaiety when Misses Agnes Fullilove and Ruth Bonnewitz entertained at bridge honoring Miss Carolyn Fullilove, whose wedding to Mr. Dink James will take place Christmas.

The rooms were scene of loveliness. A profusion of chrysanthemums and shasta daisies were used as a befitting setting for the occasion.

After several progressions of bride, a delicious ice course was served carrying out the color scheme of yellow and white. Most attractive prizes were awarded the lucky winners. Miss Estelle Greene won a most alluring potted hyacinth for high score, and Miss Grace Hunter a bewitching compact for low score.

The surprise of the evening came with the presentation of the high score prize, in which was delightfully concealed the following announcement:

"Wedding bells will ring for Dink and Carolyn Christmas."

Miss Carolyn Fullilove, the honoree, was charmingly presented silver in her selected pattern by the hostesses—spoons by Miss Agnes Fullilove and a lemon fork by Miss Bonnewitz.

MRS. WALLINGFORD AND MRS. DUNN BRIDGE HOSTESSES

Yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Irma Dunn on West Fourth street, Mrs. George Wallingford and Mrs. J. B. Dunn were gracious hostesses at bridge.

Six tables were placed in a lovely setting of yellow and white chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Durwood Tucker was awarded a cookie jar of fancy soap for high score, while Mrs. Foster Helm was awarded a doria for scoring high for the visitors. The consolation prize, a novelty jar of ash tray powder, was cut by Mrs. W. L. Whitford.

The hostesses, assisted by Mrs. Irma Dunn, served a delectable salad course.

BRILLIANT PROGRAM TO BE PRESENT AT COLLEGE

The program by the Don Cossack Russian Male Chorus, which will be given at East Carolina Teachers College on next Tuesday evening at 8:30 o'clock, in the Campus building, is said to be a masterpiece of program making, with its three parts composed of beautiful, soul-lifting religious songs, lovely, haunting melodies of folk songs, and stirring, thrilling soldier songs. It is said that they can sing loud songs the loudest and soft songs the softest, that they have the deepest bass voice in the world today and the highest tenor, thus they have the most marked contrasts possible in singing, and their ensemble is the finest blend to be found in the musical world today.

The same sense of dramatic contrast makes them a good show for the eye, as their small, dynamic leader, Serge Jaroff, against the background of the giants in the chorus, in their military uniform and with movement, produce a spectacular effect.

A. A. U. W. MEETS WITH MRS. WINSLOW

The paper of the afternoon on the University of Paris, given by Miss Newell, was a further development of the general subject chosen for the year—universities. Miss Newell presented this university very interestingly, stressing its great and its renowned teachers, its famous alumni, and its world-wide reputation and influence.

She mentioned also the famous "University City," connected with the University of Paris, the group of dormitories erected by various foreign nations to house their own students studying there, and pointed out that one of the dormitories belongs to the United States.

The December meeting of the association will be held the second Thursday, December 10, instead of the regular date of the third Thursday.—Reported

American Legion Meets

Farnville, Nov. 12.—The Farnville Post of the American Legion held its regular monthly meeting in the dining room of its home on Wednesday evening with a good attendance and much interest manifested.

Commander Wiley Diddy presided. The Legion voted to hold a barbecue and Drumsiek stew dinner in the form of a bazaar on Tuesday, Nov. 24, when meals will be served at 12:00 and 6:00.

A report of benefit shows and dances, sponsored by this organization was given, and plans were made to continue these throughout the winter, half of the proceeds of which will go to charity. The Post has contributed around $80 for this purpose already. The membership committee chairman, Char. E. Eason, reported 47 veterans paid up for 1932. Members numbered 70 at the past year and this record will probably be surpassed this year.

An excellent dinner was enjoyed by the Post arrangements for which were made by Jim Joyner and Sam Needelman.

IN COMPLIMENT TO MR. AND MRS. WRIGHT

Farnville, Nov. 12.—A number of social courtesies were extended Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Wright of Burlington, of Bridgeton, N. J., guests of their daughter, Mrs. Harold Sugas Askew and Mr. Askew, during the past few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Wright returned to their home in New Jersey Wednesday.

HERRING-SMITH

Farnville, Nov. 12.—A wedding characterized by charming simplicity was that of Saturday morning, November 7th, when Miss Callie Mae Smith became the bride of Mr. Thomas Jefferson Herring of Wilson.

Only a few intimate friends and members of the family were present at the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. John Barclay, pastor of the Christian Church of Wilson, at 7:30 o'clock at the home of the bride, the reception room of which was lovely with its mass decorations of white chrysanthemums and ferns. In the center of the room was an arch with tall standards on either side bearing cathedral candles.

Prior to the ceremony Mrs. Haywood Smith played "Serenata" by Mozowski, and rendered the "Wedding March" from Lohengrin as the bride entered. "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice," by Saint-Saens, was used during the service, and Mendelssohn's March as a recessional.

The bride wore a going-away gown of Annamese brown crepe with Congo orange trimming and brown accessories, and her shoulder

Red Sympathizers Flogged By Mob

Pontiac, Mich., Nov. 13.—(AP)—At least three men were flogged here last night because they were suspected of being Communist sympathizers and one of them said he heard the screams of a woman who apparently was receiving the same treatment.

Authorities, who said the whippings probably were the aftermath of a recent unemployment demonstration in which more than a score of persons were arrested after a clash with officers, were investigating to learn if others had been seized.

Walter Hardin, Clarence Sherman and Leo Fortin had returned to their homes early today bearing marks of beatings. Mr. Hardin also said he heard a woman screaming nearby as his captors beat him with the butt of a pistol. He said he would recognize his assailants, although they were hooded.

Mike Stykoff, 33, also was abducted as he was leaving a meeting, but said he was released without mistreatment when he convinced his kidnappers he was not a Communist.

WELCOME, TEACHERS

Again it is our pleasure to extend a hearty welcome to the teachers of the North-eastern District gathered in conference here today and tomorrow. We sincerely hope that your brief visit here will prove a most enjoyable one and that you will depart with a desire to come back to our city.

FALSE ALARMS

The false fire alarm business has started in this city again, two being turned in last night. There are always hazards to answering fire alarms and those persons who deliberately turn in false alarms just for a thrill or other cause are criminals. It is to be hoped that persons responsible for such acts will be apprehended and dealt with severely.

ABOUT TOWN

Welcome, teachers!

This is the greeting which Greenville people will extend on every side today as over a thousand school teachers from the north-eastern district gather here for a two-day session.

It is not the first time the city has had the opportunity and pleasure of playing host to the educators and it is hoped they stay here this time will prove as profitable and inspirational as the last visit.

Greenville has the reputation of being one of the most hospitable cities in this section of the state. It is for that reason that most of the large bodies of men and women have made it a point to select the city as their meeting place.

"Our Greenville, Yours If You Come," has been generally accepted in this spirit and it is playing an important part in giving the community an admirable reputation in other sections.

The teachers will be here today and tomorrow and it is hoped every citizen will make it a point to show them some special courtesy and let them know that we are truly grateful for the honor they have bestowed upon us through the holding of their annual conference here.

The plea for outlawing of war which Gipsy Smith made before the Pitt County Post of the American Legion here Armistice Day should not only receive serious consideration of the local post but every other organization in the country.

When it is remembered that this is one of the prime objects of the League of Nations which Woodrow Wilson so earnestly battled for during the final days of his life it is at once evident that the plea of the distinguished evangelist is of the greatest significance.

The celebration of the ending of the most bloody conflict in history of the world is fitting and proper, but we should also endeavor to emphasize the horror of armed conflict at the same time.

Suppose it were possible to parade up and down the street, the millions of corpses now lying beneath the sod on European battlefields; suppose all the men maimed and crippled for life were to be brought into view on Armistice Day? All the glory and glitter of war would be completely dissipated, and men who formerly were so ready to respond to the call to armed conflict would do everything in their power to avoid a repetition of warfare.

Suppose the men who lie on Flanders Field were able to rise from their graves and speak? Rise the countless thousands of gray-haired mothers had an opportunity to speak? The indictment against war would be so severe, so terrible, that the very heavens would reverberate with the thunder of their protest.

Gipsy Smith, fearless leader of God that he is, has tossed a challenge not only to the Legion, not only to America—but to the world, and it should be the purpose of the men who came back alive from that great conflict to work unrelentingly until they have banished the god of war from the face of the earth.

Fall Bazaar Days, which opened in this city yesterday, will continue through the remainder of the week, and the thousands of shoppers to visit the city during that time will have the opportunity to purchase some of the best values of the year.

The merchants, through this special sales event, are attempting to trim down overstocked shelves and counters, and are willing to lose money to accomplish this purpose.

Then, also, they realize that this section is faced by one of the most unusual economic situations in history, and are willing to share their profits with shoppers.

Ten merchants are taking part in the bazaar day offers, and have provided yellow signs in their windows to guide the shoppers.

Persons who visit Greenville during the remainder of the week should be able to experience the most outstanding savings in years and return home with values representing the best the market has to offer.

Methodism of Eastern North Carolina is turning its eyes toward Greenville at this time in preparation for the annual conference to open at Jarvis Memorial Methodist church Tuesday.

The conference will bring to the city some of the most distinguished members of the denomination and the city will do its utmost to make their stay as pleasant as possible.

If the Methodist preachers like chicken as well as they are said to like it, they should have no fear about getting plenty to eat in Greenville. Pitt county people have confined much of their time to poultry raising the last few years to offset loss on money crops, and many a preacher with a weakness for this product of the barnyard will have the opportunity to gratify his appetite.

The gates will be opened wide for the coming of this great host of representatives of the Cross, and the Greenville slogan, it is hoped, will quote a welcome for every man, woman and child in the confines of the capital of Pitt.

GIPSY SMITH HEARD BY LARGEST CROWD YET

opened at Immanuel Baptist church last Sunday night.

Delivering his third sermon of the series, Mr. Smith told his hearers that when we experience regeneration we know it just like we know that when we were born of God, he declared, is immaterial in God's great plan of salvation. The most important thing is the knowledge of the reality, and no man who has experienced the unutterable joy and of the new birth needs to be asked how does he know he has been regenerated.

Owing to the fact that his congregation last night was composed of two-thirds of people who did not hear him the night before, Mr. Smith briefly reviewed his sermon on "The New Birth," so that everybody might have a complete understanding of the great fundamental truth with which he was dealing and might also be able to follow his exposition of how do we know when we are born again.

We either belong to God or the devil, he said. "There is no halfway mark here. We must be born again, must have something in common with God before we will be able to understand and comprehend the spiritual beauty of His Kingdom.

"An evil man, he declared, would be unhappy in Heaven because he would have nothing in common with the millions of saints' beings of the celestial region. By the same token—Godly man would not be happy in hell because the ways of hell are not his ways.

He said that before his rebirth he found little pleasure in association with his parents. He loved them, and longed to see them after lengthy absence, but after he had seen them for a short time he desired to be back into the world with all of its glitter and tinsel. After his regeneration, however, he found inexpressible joy and delight in the environment of home and the Godly presence of his parents, because he was in tune with God, working in complete harmony with his wonderful scheme of things.

He that is born of God loveth, he asserted. He that is of God finds joy in administering and doing good by his fellowman. He told of the soothing influence of the nursery mother to a child, and said the Holy Spirit, like the mother, brought love and devotion into the lives of men.

He that is born of God has witness in himself, he asserted, and is fully cognizant of his regeneration. God is able to bear the burden of those who have sinned. We may feel like our sins are greater than anybody can bear, but like the snowflakes, eternal in its strength and beauty and grandeur, God is able to take care of all those who believe and trust in Him.

Can a mountain bear a snowflake? Can the ocean bear a bubble? He asked. God can clean and hold and sanctify all of those who trust in Him.

He urged his hearers to turn their back on sin and to pledge their best to Jesus and that conversion would be sure. To those who do that, God will breathe into their hearts His love and peace and security and then we shall know that we are born again.

There will be no service Saturday night, but Mr. Smith will speak Sunday morning and evening in the regular series of services. In the afternoon he will address a mass meeting of men in celebration of the Laymen's Missionary Movement.

SAYS ACTION THREATENS TO CRIPPLE STATE'S SCHOOLS

ment state funds "is the wrong policy" and "threatens to cripple our schools," representatives of Greensboro's public schools told the board today.

Headed by E. D. Broadhurst, chairman of the city school board, citizens of Greensboro made a lengthy explanation of how the state limitation will curtail Greensboro schools.

Under a recent ruling of the State Board a special charter district of Greensboro's class may not supplement state funds through local taxation in excess of 50 per cent above the state standard for the district.

This limitation cut the Greensboro budget from $527,000, which was approved by city council, the city school board, the county board of education and the county commissioners, down to $447,000.

At the conclusion of the evening hearing the equalization group went into executive session to consider the petition.

Chairman Broadhurst, explaining to the board that only Guilford and New Hanover counties had a county-wide eight months school system, which relieved the state of granting extended term aid such as was extended in the other 98 counties of the state, asked, "don't give us any more money than you have, but don't say we shan't spend our own money in our schools."

The budget he explained was cut $80,000 for this year but under the board's limitation the cut would aggregate $160,000 under last year's cost. Some 5,500 citizens of Greensboro have voluntarily signed petitions asking that the state remove its limitation, he said.

Pointing out that "we like to believe and say that Greensboro is the educational center of the state," Mr. Broadhurst said imposition of the board's limitation "threatens to cripple our schools."

will relieve us of some of the embarrassments for which we believe the present administration responsible, Garner said.

"At the same time, I feel that I am safe in stating my belief that the Democrats will insist that they shall be the judge of the wisdom and expediency of the enactments upon which they will be called to vote.

"We have no reason to assume the infallibility of the administration. Indeed, the experience of the past two years pretty clearly demonstrates that no such assumption is possible."

Politics, he said, would be a secondary consideration if his party organizes the House, as is likely, and "no policy of mere obstruction is intended."

"If there be political advantage in demonstrating our ability to exhibit to the country the president's impotence," the Texan asserted, "we are willing to forego that advantage."

"We will not take the position, for which incidentally we have adequate Republican precedent, that because a proposal emanates from the White House, it is thereby automatically damned. Nor will we accept the hypothesis that because of such origin it is automatically sanctified."

He forecast that with a presidential election near, every time the Democrats oppose "the White House incumbent and candidate for re-election," they will be accused of "playing politics."

"If we are interested in bringing about the election of a Democratic successor to Mr. Hoover, he and his party are no less interested in accomplishing Mr. Hoover's re-election," Garner said. "There is no more justification for the contention that Democratic votes against administration measures are dictated by partisanship than that the president's own recommendations are actuated by an equally selfish motive."

CASTAWAYS TO COCO SOLO

would not arrive until several hours later.

Captain Hewitt Walters, who was injured by timber which fell on him as he abandoned his ship, is ill in bad shape; the message said "There is no doubt about the Swan but a Chief Pharmacist, Matt I. doing what he can for the patient.

When they get to Coco Solo the castaways will be taken in charge by representatives of the Hamburg-American line, the Baden-Badens agency, the Costa Rican minister who has come over from Panama City.

The men were Hans J. Lau of Punta Arenas, Costa Rica, and Adolph Schonck of Hamburg, Germany. When the vessel foundered Monday afternoon in heavy seas and the crew took to life boats and rafts the owners stayed aboard and sank with the schooner.

How three others aboard the ship lost their lives was not revealed. During a storm along the coast of Colombia Monday the cargo biffen, the pumps were found to be out of order and the vessel sank in 20 minutes.

Without food and with only rain to provide drinking water, the crew drifted for three days until they were picked up by the Swan. They were sighted 20 minutes after the ship went down by an airplane plow but he could not take them aboard because of the roughness of the sea.

When the Swan came alongside Captain Walters of the Baden-Badens, who was injured, was taken aboard on a stretcher. The members of the crew were hauled in, bathed and given soup, cigarettes and clothes.

Man Resigned To Death Fate

Morganton, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Advices from Carson City, Nev., saying that Everett Mull, former Morganton contractor, who disappeared last year, is resigned to his sentence of death for slaying Jack O'Brien, his bootlegging partner, were received by relatives here without surprise.
 John Mull, a brother, said that this appeared to have been Everett's state of mind from the start. He added that the family here now appeals for help, signed with Mull's name, had not been written by him but by his wife, the former May Coffey, of Morganton, who disappeared at the same time as the father of five children here.
 John Mull said that he had been attempting to aid his condemned brother in perfecting an appeal but that he had not been able to pay $2,500 demanded as a fee by Everett's Nevada lawyer.
 Everett in dispatches from Nevada was said to be prepared for death in the lethal gas chamber the week of December 6, and to have expressed the desire that no appeals be made to his relatives here, so that they might not be troubled by him more than necessary.

RESPONSIBILITY OF TEACHER TO STUDENT

Teaching, especially in high school, should not be considered lightly. If a teacher is unable to teach an intelligent, earnest student enough for him to pass his work, as is sometimes the case, the student is to blame.

The start that a student gets in high school may influence his life as much as any other one thing. It is the duty of the teacher, therefore, to see that each student gets the right start. He should study the characteristics of all students and not by force and harshness try to cram knowledge down their throats, but direct them to it by what interests their minds. Thus the teacher will be better able to analyze the peculiar bent of genius of each student, and learning will go forward with much more alacrity.

Instructors should not only be skillful in the subjects which they teach, but should have skill in the methods of teaching and patience in practice. A true teacher should penetrate to whatever is vital in his pupil, and develop that by the light and heat of his intelligence.

Miss Dinah Maria Mulock, an English novelist, said: "Unless a woman has a decided pleasure and facility in teaching, an honest knowledge of everything she professes to impart, a liking for children, and above all, a strong moral sense of her responsibility towards them, for her to attempt to control herself in the scholastic order is absolute profanation."

This advice is just as applicable today as it ever was. Unless a teacher knows and loves his pupils, as well as his books, he may not expect satisfying results.

And then, if a student gets nothing but ones on his report card, don't congratulate him too much. Find his teachers, and you will have the chief cause of his success. And if a student fails a subject, don't criticize him too heavily before you have conference with his teachers.

George Willard, Jr.—0.

A NEW STUDY SYSTEM

According to the new system of study, the pupil is left entirely on his own responsibility. That is, the teacher does not force him to do any of his work; she merely suggests that he prepare his work or assignment. Every teacher places a deadline on each piece of work, which means that the work must be in by the appointed time or else no credit will be given for it. If the student does not have his work in on time, he has lost his opportunity; and it is no longer the teacher's duty to call him back after school to make it up.

This new system is much better than the old one. Although it has not been permanently adopted in our high school, it is being tried out for the second marking period. If it proves satisfactory, we will consider adopting it. This system will give the student the training in self-reliance which he will need and appreciate so much after his high school days.

Frances Willard—11.

NEW SYSTEM OF STUDY INTRODUCED INTO THE LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL

At the beginning of the second marking period, a new system of study was introduced into the local high school. This system was explained by J. H. Rose, superintendent of the Greenville City Schools, as a remedy for the lack of reliability on the part of the student.

Previous to this system, students failing to be prepared on any class were required to remain after school and make up the assignment. This method was backed by the merit credit system and detention hall. Now, under the new system, work must be in on time or the student receives no credit. After each assignment is made, a specific date is set when it must be handed in. This date is considered as a deadline, and the assignment must be finished on or before said date in order to obtain credit for student. Although students are no longer detained by teachers, except in cases of misbehavior, the teachers are at the disposal of the students every afternoon. As explained by Mr. Rose, the system is for the good of the students who wish to pass their courses of study.

Frequently the teachers request that those not doing passing work remain after school for special instruction. These are only gentle hints to benefit students, and under no consideration is a student compelled to remain after school because he is failing in his work.

The results of this new system in the high school are being awaited with interest by Principal Rose and his teachers. If the system proves successful for the second marking period, it may become a part of our permanent routine.

GREENVILLE HIGH SCHOOL SELECTS CLASS RINGS

At a recent meeting of the senior class, a class ring, suggested by the ring committee, was adopted.

The ring is available in large or small sizes, and may be had with an onyx or ruby. The adopted ring is square with rounded corners, and the letters G. H. S. are in raised gold letters on the stone.

The large size ruby will cost $7.50 and the smaller size $5.50. The rings are being purchased from Auld's, Inc., through Best Jewelry Company, of Greenville.

The ring committee, appointed by Louis Skinner, president of the senior class, is composed of Maria Garrett, Pearl Lautajnes, and Dan Wright.

The junior class, piloted by Jim Slay, has decided to adopt the same ring, and will wear them along with the seniors.

JUNIOR CLASS BENEFIT PARTY PROVES A SUCCESS

Friday evening, October 30, from eight-thirty to twelve, the junior class of the high school entertained at a benefit dance. The money derived from this party, the most successful of its kind to be held at the school, will be used in defraying the expenses of the junior-senior party, which is the school's biggest social event of the spring.

The entire acts were furnished by high school pupils.

Solo dances by Carolyn Hamric and Clara Spence; a duet by Louise Clark and Helen Sawyer; and a short Halloween play, directed by Miss Ona Shindler, were delightful numbers.

The Secret Six, a well-known colored orchestra of Greenville, furnished the music. The success of the party was due to the following committees:

Decorating committee: Laurine Skinner, L. C. Powell, E. C. Hollar, Lynette Dixon, Mildred Herring, Isabelle Whitehurst, Jim Slay, and Ed Anthony.

Program committee: Rose Gurganus, Isabelle Whitehurst, Ernelle Brooks, Carolyn Hamric, Harold Sugg, Lynette Dixon, Martha Scoville, George Willard, Carl Joyner, James Davenport, Helen Sawyer, Louise Clark, and Ada Hearne.

Advertising committee: Charles Shuff, Martha Scoville, Carl Joyner, Virginia Pierce, George Willard, Mary Hoover Boyd, Elsie Windham.

Advisors: Misses Mary Ellen Powell, Laura Thomas, and Connie Horne.

Chaperones: Misses Connie Horne, Mary Ellen Powell, Ona Shindler, Mr. G. H. Rose, Mrs. C. A. Bowen, Mr. V. M. Mulholland, Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Thornton.

Miss Martha Scoville was hostess for the evening.

JUNIOR AND SENIOR CLASSES ORGANIZED

During the past few weeks of school the junior and senior classes have met and organized. When votes had been counted in the senior class, it was announced that Louis Skinner had been elected president. Inez Allen, who ran a close second, was made vice-president, and Elizabeth Ferguson, secretary-treasurer.

Elections in the junior class resulted in the selection of Jim Slay as pilot, Harold Sugg, vice-president and treasurer; and Naomi Gaskins as secretary. Martha Scoville and Lynette Dixon, were chosen as class representatives.

Each class president appointed a ring committee to decide on the class rings. Social committee was also appointed by each president.

Louise Curpin, Helen Sawyer.

STATE THEATRE OFFERS FREE SHOW TO ASSEMBLIES WITH BEST RECORDS

In an effort to improve the attendance in the city schools a unique project has been initiated by Mr. Walker, manager of the State Theatre, and Superintendent Rose of the Greenville schools.

To the students of the home room in each school having the lowest percentage of absences and tardies for each four weeks a pass is given to the State Theatre.

During the last four weeks much interest has been manifested in this contest, and the attendance in all the schools has been excellent.

Mr. Porter's ninth grade assembly won the contest for the last four weeks in the high school. A close second was Miss Bridges' junior home room. Miss McArthur's freshman assembly came out third in the contest, and Mrs. Picklesimer's junior assembly rated fourth.

NEW SYSTEM OF BOOK REPORTING ADOPTED BY LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL

A new system of parallel reporting has been adopted for the majority of the English classes at the high school. Instead of formal written reports, as the English classes have been accustomed to, the students this year are allowed to report on their home reading more informally in study periods, home room periods, and after school.

Each student is required to give the author's life plus a list of his works. Then the teacher proceeds to quiz the student on his book. Sometimes these quizzes are very brief, sometimes extended; but always very informal. The students seem to get more pleasure from their reporting this way, and, according to some teachers, more reading is being done.

Besides this innovation in the parallel system, a certain number of points are required of each class. Juniors are required one hundred points and seniors one hundred and forty-five points. Approximately ten thousand words are required for each point. This part of the new system means that each student reads a required amount of work.

More modern books are included in the junior and senior parallel list this year than ever before. The average modern novel is about ten points. A book like Vanity Fair is about forty points.

The English teachers and students are enjoying this new system thoroughly.

GREENVILLE LOSES TO TARBORO 54 TO 0

On Friday, November 6, Greenville was defeated by Tarboro after a hard-fought game on the Tarboro gridiron. Greenville had a fighting little bunch, but superiority in weight told, and Greenville went down fighting. Savage, leading the scoring for Tarboro, circled the end for touch-down after touch-down. He climaxed this with a sixty yard run for a goal. Hart also starred for Tarboro.

For Greenville Turnage starred on the offense while Summerel, Dall and Captain Gaston played well on the defense. Summerel, behind good blocking, punted from his own twenty-five yard line across the enemy's goal line.

Charles Cobb—10.

WASHINGTON DEFEATS GREENVILLE IN ARMISTICE DAY FOOTBALL GAME

On Wednesday afternoon at the Washington gridiron, Greenville suffered a defeat of 59-0 at the hands of a heavier ball team.

The Washington lads scored at will, piling up their 59 points with scores in every quarter. Captain Bob ones, tackle for the Washington eleven, starred.

Howard Summerel, tackle, starred for Greenville on the defense and Captain Mark Turnage, full-back, played a stellar game on the offense. Charles Cobb, left guard, was taken out of the game during the first quarter because of acute bronchitis.

TULANE MOVES ON GA.; VANDY ON TENNESSEE

Atlanta, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Tulane's big team advanced in battle array today upon the Georgia stronghold, and Vanderbilt completed plans for its attack upon Tennessee in the two epic struggles of Southern conference football tomorrow.

When the final scores have been chalked up, it should be an easier matter to point to the conference title-race providing, of course, there are no tie games. If Vanderbilt whips Tennessee, the victor in the Georgia-Tulane scrap will rule the South.

A tie game at Georgia's classic city, which probably will see its biggest throng at Sanford Field tomorrow, and a Tennessee victory would assure the Vols the title. Should Tennessee win along with either Georgia or Tulane, the three big teams would be whittled down to two, and both would have a man-sized claim to the title.

Firing on the intersectional front tomorrow will be a slight battle of musketry, with only two Southern conference teams invading the North. Georgia Tech left Atlanta yesterday for its game with Pennsylvania at Philadelphia, and Washington & Lee will be in Princeton, N. J., for a game with the Tigers. Alabama worked until the shadows fell yesterday in getting ready to entertain the Clemson Tigers in Montgomery Saturday. Clemson entrained last night, with Coach Jess Neely taking his full squad for the first time this season.

Florida and South Carolina were pronounced "ready" after intensive workouts. They play at Tampa, Auburn and Seawane, two teams whose performances this season have established the South, pointed toward Birmingham and what promises to be a battle royal.

Other Southern conference games find Kentucky battling V. M. I. at Lexington, Va., Louisiana State playing Mississippi at Jackson, Virginia meeting V. P. I. at Charlottesville, and Duke engaging N. C. State at Durham. Maryland will not play.

Here, smarting under its field goal defeat by Centre that knocked the Bears from championship position in the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic association, will attempt to gain revenge against the loop's leaders, Chattanooga. Mercer has spent the week in hard practice for the game, Centre and Transylvania play, with Centre expecting little opposition. Louisiana Tech and Mississippi College will meet in another S. I. A. A. game.

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S LAND SALE

Under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in that certain deed of trust executed by J. T. Braxton and wife, Laura Braxton, to D. L. Turnage, trustee, bearing date of January 28, 1930, and recorded in Book M-18 at page 24 in the office of the Register of Deeds of Pitt County, default having been made in the payment of the debt therein secured and the owner of the debt having requested said trustee to foreclose said trust, the undersigned trustee will, on Monday, the 30th day of November, 1931, at 12 o'clock M., before the court house door in Greenville, N. C., expose to public sale and sell to the highest bidder for cash the following described real property, to-wit:

Lying and being in the Town of Winterville, Pitt County, and being Lots Nos. 1, 2, 3 and 4 of what is known as the Jasper McLawhorn property located in the Town of Winterville, North Carolina, as surveyed by J. D. Cox, Surveyor, two of which is recorded in Map Book No. 2 at page 96 in the office of the Register of Deeds of Pitt County, and being the same property conveyed by W. J. McLawhorn and wife, Lillie McLawhorn, to J. T. Braxton by deeds recorded in Book J-13 at page 264, and S-12 at page 595 in the office of the Register of Deeds of Pitt County, to which said map and deeds reference is hereby made.

STATE FIVE PREPARES FOR WEEK-END PLAY

Charlotte, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Today provided the bill before the storm in North Carolina "Big Five" circles.

With Wake Forest out of the state picture for the time being, the other four teams were looking off for a series of strenuous drill periods as the coaches taking no chances that any of their charges might go stale before the morrow.

"Stop-Rip Slusher" today held almost equal prominence with "Old Davidson" as a rallying cry on the Presbyterian campus, while at Chapel Hill Chuck Collins ran the boys through offensive drills with an eye toward a day of scoring after four Saturday's when strong Southern conference foes have put North Carolina touchdowns at a premium.

Just as an idea of how seriously the Davidson boys take the Carolina game, one might be reminded that the college song, which has cheered generations of Wildcats since its original moments, has one bar which reads, until the name of an immediate foe is substituted, "Down Carolina, as through her lines we run." Other team names are substituted at game time, true, but that's the way it's printed in the freshman's handbook.

While Duke was accorded a heavy margin over N. C. State, Coach Clipper Smith's boys have been having a little "coming out" party in recent weeks, and have continued work all this week in an effort to be in tip-top form by tomorrow. The Wolfpack lineup has been shifted around and then back again, and the Clipper was believed to have some things up his sleeve to make the game exciting. Among the smaller institutions of the state there is week-end rivalry, also.

Mars Hill is to look home with Western North Carolina Teachers; Leitch-Rhyme has a tough Maryville team on its hands, and Winstate is to meet its traditional neighboring county rival, Mount Pleasant.

This the 29th day of Oct., 1931. D. L. Turnage, Trustee. Harding & Leg. Attys.

SCHEMLING TO FIGHT WALKER OR DEMPSEY

New York, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Max Schmeling, seen to arrive here from Germany, apparently is ready to defend his heavyweight championship against only two men—Micky Walker or Jack Dempsey.

If some real scheme conceals in the brain of Joe Jacobs, the Teuton's manager, he fulfilled Schmeling may fight both Walker and Dempsey before the end of 1931.

Jacobs, arriving here after a visit of several months in Germany, declared he had received a call from Dempsey while in Berlin saying that the former champion would be ready to fight again in June, against Schmeling and Schmeling only. Jacobs foresees a "gate" of $2,000,000 if this match goes through.

While he is waiting to hear definitely from Dempsey again, Jacobs is turning over in his mind an offer of $200,000 for a match between Schmeling and Walker in Los Angeles February 22. The terms appear agreeable to Jacobs, but Schmeling objects to defending his title at so short a distance as 10 rounds, the limit for championship affairs in California. Twelve-round no-decision bouts are permitted there out Saturday and Jacobs agree that a limit here would arouse sufficient interest to make the bout worthwhile.

Madison Square garden, which claims it holds a contract on Schmeling's services until July 15, 1932, announces it would go into the courts to protect its rights should something attempt to right under any other organization's promotion. Jacobs has been informed by his lawyers that the Garden contract expired on the night Schmeling stopped Young Strubling in Cleveland last July 3.

Despite the Garden's threat, Jacobs announced he was open to offers from anyone, the Garden included.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

N. Y. COTTON

New York, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today at an advance of 2 to 6 points on steadier Liverpool cables coupled with trade buying and buying by commission houses. January sold up to 6.68.

The demand was supplied by a little southern selling and realizing, and prices eased off slightly during the early trading. Fluctuations were narrow and after easing off from 6.58 to 6.54 for December, the price was holding around 6.55 at the end of the first half hour.

Liverpool cables reported Bombay buying influenced by the decline in sterling and said the recent advance in silver was stimulating business in cotton cloths and yarns with China.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Step loss selling which broke out near the end of trading caused a lively setback in wheat prices today, the market tumbling to 9 cents under its recent high point. New decrees in France rigidly controlling bread-stuff imports were more or less responsible, fears being expressed that a way had been opened to create import quotas according to countries. An increase of 33,000,000 bushels in Canadian crop estimates was also a bearish factor. Fresh exports in North American wheat was meager, only 400,000 bushels.

Wheat closed nervous at the day's bottom level 1 3/4 to 2 3/8 lower than yesterday's finish, corn 1 to 1 7/8 off, oats 5/8 to 3/4 down, and provisions at 2 cents to 10 cents decline.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Nov. 13.—(AP)—The stock market vacillated uncertainly today between such divergent movements as selling of the rails and buying of the coppers.

The market had an interval of distinct heaviness for a time during the morning, but developed a firmer tone after midday. Most of the so-called pivotal issues moved narrowly. In the bond market, gilt-edged issues were again in fair demand, although second grade rails declined with stocks. Japanese and Argentine issues were firm features of the forenoon.

New York Central dropped more than 2 points to a new low before what appeared to be short covering gave it a moderate rebound. Santa Fe and New Haven lost about as much, and Union Pacific more than 4. In the coppers, such issues as Anaconda, Kennecott and Cerro de Pasco rose a point or so. Alaska Juneau was again firm. Moderate losses in such issues as U. S. Steel, American Telephone, Westinghouse, and North American were recovered after midday. Trading was sluggish.

Selling of the rails apparently effected a waning of any general wage reduction in the near future. Although certain of the eastern executives met with brotherhood chiefs in a private conference last night, it was apparently merely for an exchange of views. The recent slump in New York Central is said to have been partly due to bear selling. There is considerable feeling in Wall Street, however, that the $4 annual dividend rate will be reduced when directors meet Dec. 9.

Money market was easy, with acceptance rates again shaded 1-8 of one per cent, and commercial paper was quoted 3-4 to 4 per cent, against 4 per cent flat yesterday. The easing of money rates, together with a further decrease of $26,000,000 in currency in circulation, as shown in the weekly Federal Reserve statement, provided further evidence of the recent marked strengthening of the general financial structure.
