Congressional Inquiry of Farm Board Activity Gets Under Following

STONE MAKES LONG REPORT

Chairman Presents Annual Report of the Activities of Organization; Shows Board has Bought 329,641,052 Bushels of Wheat to Keep up Prices; Also Reports Large Purchases of Cotton to Aid American Industry.

Washington, Nov. 24.—(AP)—The Farm Board's story of its gigantic deals in cotton and wheat was presented today for congressional investigation.

As the inquiry into its activities over a two-year period began before the Senate agriculture committee, the annual report of the board's operations was presented by Chairman Stone.

It showed that the board had bought 329,641,052 bushels of wheat in an attempt to keep up prices. The cost was $270,204,503.

For the same reason, the board, through a stabilization corporation purchased 1,312,879 bales of cotton for $107,533,246.

The commodities were purchased when wheat was not far from a dollar a bushel and cotton was around 16 cents a pound.

Chairman McNary of the committee wanted to know how much the board had lost in its operations. Stone was in the witness chair. He said he could give no further information there was contained in the report.

The committee room was filled with representatives of farm organization members of the Farm Board and other interested spectators.

In its report, the board did not attempt to estimate its loss in stabilization operations.

The report said this must be reckoned only after the cotton and wheat it holds are disposed of.

On Nov. 1, the board had 189,658,187 bushels of wheat and 1,310,789 bales of cotton. The cotton will be held another year and wheat will be sold for the next year at the rate of 5,000,000 bushels monthly.

The carrying cost of wheat is between 11-4 and 11-2 cents a bushel a month, Stone said.

He added that the board handled 9,000,000 bushels through millers under its agreement last January to lend them wheat to be returned later.

McNary questioned Stone about the relations between the board and the grain stabilization corporation, set up to buy wheat.

Stone said the board largely controlled the stabilization corporation. The spectators listened closely to every word. Upon the inquiry may depend the life of the board.

Grain, cotton and other business men have advocated abolition of it, or repeal of the provisions for stabilizing commodities in an effort to stabilize prices.

McNary said he had called on farm leaders to recommend repeal, modification or continuance of the farm marketing act which set up the board.

The board's report stressed development of cooperative marketing as its important long time undertaking.

The average purchase price of wheat was 81 and a fraction cents, Stone testified. The average price obtained on all its sales has been between 53 and 54 cents a bushel, he added.

He said the board had sold 47,500,000 bushels of wheat to foreign governments.

Questioned by Senator Brookhart, Republican of Iowa, Stone said the (Continued on Page Three)

Walker Seeks Mooney Pardon

San Francisco, Nov. 24.—(AP)—A full pardon for Thomas Mooney, convicted of the Preparedness Day bombing here in 1916, was the goal of Major James Walker, of New York as he neared San Francisco today to open his plea as a "private citizen" before his old friend, Governor James Ralph, Jr.

The formal plea by Walker for Mooney's release will be made before Governor Ralph Dec. 1. The convicted bomber has refused to apply for a parole on grounds such action would be an admission of guilt. The Preparedness Day bombing took ten lives, and injured many persons.

COLD STILL GRIPS WEST

Girl Perishes in Blizzard in Montana; High Temperatures in East.

Kansas City, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Some high points of weather history are in the making. A continental conflict between the elements of winter and summer continued today.

New high November temperatures in the east, abnormal rainfall in the middle-west and snow and freezing temperatures in much of the west were aspects of the approach of Thanksgiving Day of 1931.

Flowers bloomed at Cleveland and a second crop of fruit was being harvested thereabouts. Smudge pots burned in the citrus belt of California as orchardists met the hazard of freezing temperatures.

Mary Snow, 13-year-old Carter county, Mont., student, perished in a blizzard while riding her horse home from school. Children played under the rays of a warm sun at the municipal beach of Rochester, N. Y., yesterday.

The middle-west still was disrupted ground. Rainfall here already above the normal annual average, has definitely ended the effects of a 2-year drought. Several rivers in Kansas, Oklahoma, Missouri and Iowa were raised to flood stage. Colder weather was in prospect.

From two to eight inches of snow fell yesterday in the Black Hills of South Dakota. Parts of Wyoming and Montana were blanketed by a fresh fall. Western Kansas receiving snow. The Texas and Oklahoma Panhandle region was recovering from the effects of a snow and sleet storm.

Charlotte, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Record breaking high temperatures for November in North and South Carolina today continued to hold their own while government officials were at a loss to explain the unseasonable warmth in this section.

The continued summer-like weather has brought second crops of fruit in some sections of both states. In Asheville, evidence has been presented of apple trees bearing their second crop this year while cherry trees there have bloomed twice.

In Anderson and York, S. C., second crops have been reported. An Anderson man exhibited second-crop apples from several trees on his farm while a farmer near York reported a second cherry crop. He said the fruit was fully as delicious as the first crop during the summer.

Several cities in both states have set high records for various November days while in many places this month has been reported as the warmest on record.

Washington, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Rep. Joseph W. Byrns today declared that if the Democrats organize the coming House he would become chairman of the appropriations committee.

In a statement, the veteran Tennessee legislator said he was not a candidate for the Democratic floor leadership.

CITY IS SET FOR THANKSGIVING

Union Services At St. Paul's Church to be Highlight of Local Observance.

Plans had been fully completed today for the observance of Thanksgiving Day in this city.

The highlight of the observance will be the union Thanksgiving service at St. Paul's Episcopal church. The address will be delivered by Rev. W. A. Ryan, pastor of the church. He will discuss the blessings which the community has received during the past year and stress the importance of keen appreciation.

Considerable significance is always attached to this service by reason of the fact that it perpetuates an old custom made extant by early American settlers, when they gathered at their place of worship, and unspeakable dangers lurking from the forests, to express their gratitude for the many blessings which they had received during the year.

Greenville people, in spite of depression felt in all sections of the world, have many things for which to be grateful this year, and they have been urged to attend the service in large numbers and give public expression to their appreciation.

While money has been tight and prices for principal crops lower than in years, it was said that the abundance of food crops should be a matter of thanksgiving on the part of the people at large, and for that reason it was felt that due appreciation and gratitude should be expressed at the union service.

The tobacco market, and a majority of public buildings, and business houses will be closed in observance of the day, and the high school football team will furnish the sports men with a game with Farmville on the Third Street school grounds in the afternoon.

All in all, Thanksgiving this year is expected to be more widely observed than ever before as a grateful people attempt to show how thankful they are for the things that go to make up their material happiness.

Four Men Held in Bank Robbery

Hickory, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Police marked time today pending a preliminary hearing for four men in all here in connection with the $2,000 robbery of the Bank of Dallas last July.

John Stamey, the fourth man to be arrested, is suspected as being the driver of the automobile which carried two men to safety after they had robbed the bank and beaten A. J. Mauney, cashier.

Mauney has identified Will Lingerfelt as one of the men who robbed him. John Brown was taken before Mauney who said he was not positive he was implicated.

John Murray is being held pending investigations. All those under arrest are from Lincolnton.

No trace has been found of the money but police said they believed part of it would be recovered.

Says N. C. Must Push Forward

Raleigh, Nov. 24.—(AP)—North Carolina must have the courage to go forward if it is to be lifted from the depression, Governor O. Max Gardner said last night in opening of the Raleigh exposition.

"Cautious courage" as opposed to the "defeatism of this period," was advocated by the governor.

He added that one of the great drawbacks to normalcy, in his opinion, "was the fact that people always go to extremes."

HELD ON BAD COIN CHARGE

Alleged Member Of Counterfeiting Ring Bound Over to Federal Court Here.

Believed by officers, to have been connected with a counterfeiting ring operating between New York and Atlantic City, Jack Stokes, of Ayden community, was held under bond today for hearing in the next sitting of Federal court.

He was arrested the latter part of last week and given a preliminary hearing before U. S. Commissioner Thomas E. Beaman, who ordered the defendant held for the Federal court.

Stokes was committed to jail in default of bond, but he was later released when the required amount was furnished.

He was arrested following the alleged passing of pieces of silver which officers declared were spurious. The denominations, ranged all the way from five cents to fifty cents. Officers were not able to determine how much of the counterfeit money had been passed by the young man but a fifty cent piece, a nickel and nine dimes were recovered.

Commissioner Beaman said he had obtained the money from a brother, Joe Stokes. Opinion was expressed by the authorities, however, that the young man had been linked with a counterfeiting ring which has been circulating considerable currency between Atlantic City, New York and other sections. Both he and his brother were said to have been living up north.

Receive Bids On New Roads

Raleigh, Nov. 24.—(AP)—The State Highway commission today received bids on two construction projects entailing a total expenditure of about $39,000.

Bids were submitted for macadamizing route 67 in Forsyth county and for the erection of structures on route 211 in Robeson county. G. Y. Thompson submitted a low bid of $42,749.50 on the Forsyth project and Kiker & Young, bid low at $16,122.69 on the Robeson county work.

The commission will consider the bids at its next meeting. Another series of small projects which could not be recommended for federal aid will be let in December, E. B. Jeffers, chairman, said today.

The commission is also engaged in planning its federal aid program for next year. The State will receive slightly more than $2,500,000.

Daily Reflector Will Not Appear on Thanksgiving

In keeping with an old custom, The Reflector will join the rest of the city in observance of Thanksgiving Day. There will be no edition of the paper on that date, and all members of the force will take the day off to participate in the observance. Persons having advertising matter or news items which they wish to appear before Friday are urged to get them in the office for Wednesday's edition.

SOUTH FAVORS REDUCTION OF COTTON CROP

50 Per cent Reduction of acreage Voted for at the Jackson, Miss., Conference.

Jackson, Miss., Nov. 24.—(AP)—Southern states have definitely aligned themselves behind a movement to bring about a fifty per cent cut in cotton acreage for the next two years to stimulate prices.

Delegations from ten of eleven states represented at a south-wide conference here yesterday voted favorably on a resolution calling for a general adoption of uniform laws to slash cotton plantings in half in 1932 and 1933. One delegation was not empowered to vote.

States that have not yet taken legislative steps to restrict cotton acreage were called upon by the conference to do so before January 20 and the governors were urged to convene the legislatures at once to take action.

Three of the states represented at the conference, called by Gov. Theodore G. Bilbo of Mississippi and Harvey Parnell of Arkansas, already have adopted acreage reduction laws while two others, Louisiana and South Carolina, have gone on record for a complete abandonment of cotton planting in 1932.

The conferees were told by Gov. Ibra C. Blackwood of South Carolina, that Bernard Baruch, New York financier and wartime head of the government's finance corporation, informed him the federal (Continued on Page Six)

BEST SPEAKS TO CLUBMEN

Clay Williams, Head of Reynolds Tobacco, to Address Rotes Next Week.

As result of a talk by an eye specialist, Greenville Rotarians were able today to clear their optics sufficiently to take a little more rogate view of mankind and possibly to discover the corner of the road which has been holding up prosperity for such a long time.

The speaker was W. L. Best, local optometrist, and his subject dealt exclusively with optometry. He not only told the Rotes about the things that go into the making of an optometrist, but also convinced them of the important part which care of the eyes played in the life of mankind today.

So minutely did he describe advancement of the profession that his hearers found themselves in possession of more information on the subject than they ever had before, and that it will be put to good use in the matter of eye protection was not doubted.

Howard McGinnis presided over the session and the usual supper and song program was enjoyed.

The next session of the club is being anticipated with considerable interest by reason of the fact that the principal speaker will be Clay Williams, president of the Reynolds Tobacco Company. Although his subject had not yet been announced, it was a foregone conclusion that he (Continued on Page Six)

Officer Killed At Charlotte

Charlotte, Nov. 24.—(AP)—A. L. Ingle, 29, department of justice agent, was fatally wounded here by the pistol of R. K. Williams, representative of the Home Detective Agency of Greensboro, and Williams was being held in jail today pending an investigation although he said his gun fell from his pocket and was discharged.

The shooting occurred in the heart of Charlotte's business district during the peak shopping hours, but police said they could not find anyone who saw Ingle as he was shot.

Previews said the course of the bullet indicated it was fired directly upward from the pavement and police found by experiment that the gun was prone to fire when dropped.

Williams said he and Ingle were carrying a box down from an upstairs office, and started to get it down when they reached the sidewalk and that his gun slipped from an inside coat pocket.

Ingle was a native of Mississippi, and unmarried. He lived with his mother here. Williams said he came here from Greensboro yesterday and had planned to continue on to Asheville.

LEA SEEKS MORE TIME

Asks Supreme Court for Extension Before Argument of Appeals in Bank Case.

Raleigh, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Counsel for Luke Lea, Chattanooga, Tenn., publisher; Luke Lea, Jr., and Wallace B. Davis, Asheville banker, who were convicted in Buncombe county on charges of violating the state banking laws, today asked the Supreme court for an extension of time before appeal arguments.

Gen. Albert L. Cox, of Raleigh, made the motion for the Leas and James H. Pou, also of Raleigh, joined in the plea in behalf of Davis.

The cases are docketed listing Wallace B. Davis, J. A. Sinclair and C. N. Brown as defendants in one, and Wallace B. Davis, Luke Lea, and Luke Lea, Jr., in the other. Sinclair and Brown were freed in Superior court.

Under regular procedure the cases would come up for argument about December 8. On that date Mr. Pou requested the court to allow the extension until early in the Spring term, contending that it was humanly impossible to prepare adequate briefs on the case in the time available.

The record in each case will run (Continued on Page Three)

Ask New Trial for Doomed Man

GREENVILLE, Nov. 24.—(AP)—An automatic stay of execution for Everett T. Mull, former Morganton, N. C., contractor, was obtained here with the filing of an appeal from his sentence for slaying his bootlegging partner, Jack O'Brien.

The appeal was financed by Mull's aged parents and five daughters, in North Carolina. He had been scheduled to die in the lethal gas chamber at state prison here the week of December 6.

Ann Cannon Gets Divorce

Reno, Nev., Nov. 24.—(AP)—Ann Cannon Reynolds had her divorce today and was on her way to Battle Creek, Mich., to begin treatment for rheumatism which yesterday forced her to testify in her suit by means of a deposition.

She also had a 1,000,000 settlement—$500,000 for herself and $500,000 for her little daughter, Ann Cannon Reynolds, 11.

The daughter of the North Carolina textile family married Smith Reynolds, son of the Winston-Salem tobacco family, in a hurried early morning trip to York, S. C., from Concord, N. C., a little more than two years ago. They separated shortly afterwards.

DEMANDS JAPS TO EVACUATE

Seek Immediate Effective Measures By League of Nations to Bring About Cessation of Aggressive Acts by the Japanese Forces; Would have Withdrawal Supervised by Neutrals; Japs Begin a Drive Against Chinese.

Nanking, China, Nov. 24.—(AP)—The Chinese foreign office has directed Dr. Alfred Sze, its representative at the League of Nations council meeting in Paris to present a new Manchurian proposal containing the following principal provisions:

- 1—Immediate effective measures by the league to bring about cessation of aggressive acts by the Japanese forces.
2—That within a fortnight of the date of adoption of the proposal by the league, Japanese troops, shall evacuate Manchuria completely within the railway zone.
3—That the Japanese withdrawal shall be supervised by neutral representatives.
4—Dr. Sze was instructed to inform the league that if its previous resolutions continue to be ignored and that if the league proceeds with the organization of a neutral commission of inquiry whose nature is incompatible with the principles embodied in the previous resolutions, then the Japanese forces will continue their aggressive activities without fear of league intervention or public opinion, and the Chinese government will be compelled to take measures of self-defense.

LOSE ACCOUNT ACTIONS HERE

J. Stroymeyer, Philadelphia contractor, and M. F. Hardee, local wholesaler, lost their suits against one another in the opening session of the civil term of Pitt County Superior court here yesterday. Stroymeyer was suing for $295 which he contended Hardee owed him on an account for a shipment of molasses.

Hardee said the molasses did not come up to guarantee, and that he paid all of the account except $295, and filed a counter claim to the Stroymeyer action.

The case occupied the major part of yesterday's session and was marked by the presentation of considerable evidence by both sides. Julius Short was granted a divorce from Alice R. Short.

The calendar contains over half hundred cases and it was hoped to dispose of the majority of them by the end of the week. Judge Clayton Moore, of Williamson, is presiding over the session.

Several terms of civil court have been held here since the summer months and the calendar has been greatly reduced of cases which had been hanging over for a considerable time.

Raleigh, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Proclaiming Thursday, November 23, as Thanksgiving Day, Governor O. Max Gardner has called upon the people of North Carolina to be "grateful for whatever distress may overtake us if it shall not find us in the poor house of the soul."

"If we have lost money, let us be thankful that we have gained fraternity," the proclamation said, continuing to point out the many things for which North Carolina may be thankful, confident in the thought that "our abundant crop insure us against hunger" and "there has been no scourge among us."

Junior Woman's Club Meets.

Miss Margaret Fleming and Miss Helen Gray Jones were hostesses to the Junior Woman's Club on Friday afternoon at the Woman's Club.

Mrs. George P. Hadley, president of the club, in a most charming manner, presented to the club a gavel which had been given her by Mrs. Wesson, daughter of Mrs. Salie Southall Cotten. Mrs. Cotten had this gavel made of the wood of the holy tree of Roanoke Island many years ago, and while on this visit to the island, she received the inspiration to write "The White Doe." The club is happy to have this fitting memento of "Mother Cotten" and will always treasure it.

During the business session of the meeting several reports were given. Mrs. Earl Daniels reported 140 trees planted on the Cotten Memorial Drive. Mrs. Norman Winslow reported that 149 half-pints of milk were being distributed daily to the three elementary schools in Greenville. Further plans were made for the Red Cross Roll Call.

Mrs. Fleming introduced Mrs. David Clark, president of the 15th District of the N. C. Federation of Women's Clubs, who gave delightful program on "The Origin and Growth of Women's Clubs." She told of the first club, the Sorosis Club of New York, and in a most interesting way brought us to the work and interests of our club today.

At the close of the program the hostesses served delicious refreshments.

WOMAN'S CLUB EXTENDS THANKS TO THOSE WHO AIDED TREE PLANTING

The Woman's Club appreciates the co-operation of every organization and individual who helped in any way the planting of the highway from Greenville to Bruce. Everyone responded generously and graciously and had it not been for the excellent co-operation, the plans for the planting never could have materialized. The club thanks the highway force who dug the holes and Mr. Spruill, highway maintenance officer; Mr. Roy Flanagan, mayor of Greenville, and the men he so kindly sent to aid in the planting of the trees; Mr. Marcellus Hearne, who gave us so untiringly of his time; the Junior Woman's Club, the Sans Souci Book Club, the Round Table Club, the End of the Century Club, the Falkland school and community, the Joyner school, the Belvoir school, Miss Ethel Nice and her Home Demonstration Clubs, clubs of the 15th district, and the Woman's Club of New Bern. We hope that nature will be kind to this planting and that this road will become one of the beautiful spots of Pitt county—a beautiful memorial to a beautiful life.

U. D. C.

Farmville, Nov. 21.—A well attended and interesting meeting of the Rebecca Winbourne chapter U. D. C., was held on Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Nonie Barrett as hostess and Mrs. J. W. Parker presiding. Mrs. I. E. Satterfield, treasurer, reported the $10 pledge to the Samuel Nash scholarship at E. C. T. College, as paid and Mrs. G. M. Holden, chairman of ways and means, reported $9.70 cleared at a recent rummage sale and $6.60 realized from the sale of miniature Confederate flags on Flag Day.

Contributions of bed quilt scraps, crochet and embroidery thread and needles were packed to be sent to the Confederate Woman's Home at Fayetteville, and a cash donation to be sent at Thanksgiving was decided upon. The president and Mrs. G. M. Holden were elected as delegates to the General Convention at Jacksonville. Mrs. Parker brought echoes from the Tyson Reunion which included a synopsis of the talk made by Brig-Genera B. Hawkins Tyson, a Confederate veteran.

A splendid program was presented by Mrs. J. Y. Monk and Mrs. R. H. Knott, who told of the Old Lales' Home at Fayetteville and the Confederate Home at Raleigh, in which institutions there are about 85 guests and veterans. An article entitled "Taps" read by the president, brought the program to a close.

Angel food cake topped with whipped cream was served by the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. T. E. Joyner.

Literary Club Meets.

Farmville, Nov. 21.—Taking the most famous spy of the World War, Mata Hari, who is credited with the death of 50,000 men by French authorities, as their subject, an absorbingly interesting program was presented by Mrs. J. W. Joyner and Mrs. R. T. Martin, at the regular meeting of the Farmville Literary Club on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. R. A. Fields on Church street.

Christmas seals to be sold for the eradication of tuberculosis in this state, had been received by the president, Miss Annie Perkins, and several hundred were distributed and plans were made for the annual sale, which has been sponsored by this group for a number of years. Sandwiches and an iced beverage were served during a pleasant social hour.

Farmville, Nov. 21.—One of the most delightful and enjoyable meetings held by the Major Benjamin May chapter D. A. R., was that of Wednesday when Mrs. E. Bruce Beasley and Mrs. George Jefferson entertained at a course luncheon at the home of Mrs. Beasley in Fountain. Handsome chrysanthemums were arranged through the house forming a setting for the ten perfectly appointed tables with covers laid for forty guests.

After the luncheon held in 1:00 o'clock, the meeting was called to order by the regent, Mrs. T. C. Turnage, who led the devotional with her subject as "Nehemiah." Reports from Mrs. J. Loyd Horton was relative to the benefit play, "See You Later," to be given in Farmville on November 23; from Miss Tabitha DeViscount, chairman of planting and conservation, was a recommendation that this group unite with the Fountain Woman's Club in planting along the Farmville-Fountain highway the first week in December, which was accepted; and that of Mrs. B. Streeter Sheppard of the genealogical committees was most encouraging. Year books of a novel white paper, tied with the national colors, and bearing an embossed bust of George Washington, were distributed at this time.

Mrs. Ashe Hines, regent of the Thomas Hadley chapter, Wilson, was present and brought greetings from her organization; Mrs. R. H. Knott gave a paper on "George Washington, the Man of Sentiment," and Miss Annie Perkins read a poem with team work as the theme.

Sharing with the chapter members in the pleasures of the afternoon were Mrs. Frank Davis of Farmville, Miss Annie Marie Jefferson and Mrs. Trevathan of Fountain.

FARMVILLE CHURCH PAYS OBLIGATIONS IN FULL

Farmville, Nov. 21.—Despite the general depression and shortage of cash money in this community, the Methodist congregation here sent its pastor, Rev. H. L. Hendricks, to the annual conference held at Greenville with all obligations paid.

The entire budget of $6,100 was raised in full as in former years and since its organization. At one time it looked as if the church's record would be broken, but the tireless efforts of the pastor, the stewards, the women's societies, and the real self-sacrificing contributions of the members, the church went over the top.

The whole-hearted devotion felt for the Rev. Hendricks figured largely in the efforts made to render a clean slate at conference, and the note due on five church debt was also paid in full.

An addition of 24 names had been made on the church register this year, making a total of 366. The Woman's Missionary Society with a membership of 61, is quite active and really co-operates with the pastor and official board in all undertakings. The sum of $200 was added to the treasury this week as the result of a bazaar.

The congregation, through its official board, has requested that the conference allow Rev. Hendricks to continue his splendid work here.

Brookhart said it was the duty of the board to ask Congress for additional funds.

Positive Proof of FORD ECONOMY

City of Detroit purchases 137 new Ford cars

Hundreds now in use prove low cost of operation

THESE 137 new Ford cars represent one of the largest deliveries ever made to a municipality at one time.

21 radio-equipped Ford scout cars were traded in on this purchase. They had been operated day and night for two years in heavy traffic and all kinds of weather.

Their individual records ranged from 78,434 miles to 143,723 miles with a grand total of 2,283,097 miles. The operating cost of the 21 cars was 2.284 cents a mile — less than 2 1/3 cents. This cost included all fuel, oil, tires, repairs and every other item except depreciation and insurance.

Of 577 Ford cars in Detroit City service, the 300 in the Police Department traveled a total of 6,591,937 miles during the past fiscal year, at an average cost of 2.9 cents a mile.

Many claims have been made on operating costs, but here in the carefully kept motor car records of the City of Detroit is positive proof of Ford economy.

In the paragraphs above, it is seen that 21 Ford scout cars averaged less than 2 1/3 cents a mile and 300 Ford cars in all branches of Detroit police work averaged 2.9 cents a mile!

Day and night, twenty-four hours a day, these Ford cars are in operation. Few branches of transportation demand such grueling service. The records show that low fuel and oil consumption is but one of the Ford's many economies. Ford materials, simplicity of design and accuracy in manufacturing provide unusual strength, stamina and freedom from replacements and repairs.

The individual car buyer as well as the purchasing department of a city or a business cannot afford to ignore the proved economy of the Ford car.

ABOUT TOWN

Greenville high school football team has arranged for a game here Thanksgiving and the public is urged to attend and lend their support to the movement to help the boys obtain sufficient equipment for the athletic department.

The aggregation has been handicapped all season for lack of equipment and if the public would attend the Thanksgiving Day game in large numbers it is believed sufficient money would be raised for this purpose.

The gridiron warriors haven't set the world afire this season, to be sure, but they have a splendid record of achievement behind them for previous seasons and deserve the best to be had.

They hope to make up for their shortcomings on the gridiron in other fields of sports during the present term and proper financial support will inspire them to greater efforts in this direction.

It is nothing but right that the public should show their appreciation of the school's efforts to excel in this field of activity, and it is to be hoped that encouragement will not be lacking when the youngsters, engage in the final skirmish of the season next Thursday.

Largest offerings of the season were chalked up on the Greenville tobacco market yesterday adding greatly to the lead which the market has taken over other towns of the belt.

The reason so much tobacco is brought to Greenville is because planters feel like the marketmen are doing everything possible to improve their condition and to get them the best prices for their offerings.

Only last week people from remote districts of the state came here to sell the product. They expressed amazement at the splendid advantages offered by the various warehouses and factories and readily understood why this market is leading all others of the bright belt.

Greenville tobaccoists find in the leadership the realization of a great dream and that they will do everything to maintain the advantage is not to be doubted.

Farmers who bring their offerings here may be assured of receiving not only the most courteous treatment but the best prices of the belt. When high prices are being paid it will be found that Greenville is at the top of the market, striving to give its thousands of patrons the best to be had under all conditions.

While the major part of the crop has been disposed of there is yet much tobacco to be handled and the market will be fairly active until the Christmas holidays.

Farmers would do well to speed up their marketing after Thanksgiving and in that way have the crop virtually disposed of by the coming of Old Saint Nick.

The League of Nations is having the time of its life finding a solution to the complicated Manchurian situation but if it continues hammering away as it has during the last several days it is believable something definite will be accomplished soon.

That the investigation of trouble in the affected zone is the proper course to pursue is not to be questioned. It is first necessary to find the cause before trouble can be corrected and the sooner the league delves into the situation the better.

China, quite naturally, will resent any proposal made by Japan in this direction, but it is presumed she would accept investigation by neutral interests.

The situation is one of the most delicate and complicated that has faced the various nations in years, but should be handled to the complete satisfaction of all parties concerned if the league convinces the powers involved that the best interests of each will be served in the probe.

Gratifying indeed is the announcement that Rev. E. L. Hillman, pastor of Jarvis Memorial Methodist church, will remain in Greenville to serve his fourth year.

He is one of the most popular members of the ministry that has represented the denomination in years, and his return is not only a source of elation to members of the congregation but to the entire public.

He has taken active part in all movements looking to elevation of community life during his three years' stay here, and that he will be just as diligent during the next year is not to be doubted.

Men of this type always contribute much to the development of community life and the congregation is to be congratulated upon Mr. Hillman's return.

John Raskob is doing his best to force prohibition to the forefront in the next campaign but it is hardly likely he will be able to do so in spite of the preponderance of opinion of supporters of this school of thought.

Prohibition, according to those who have watched its development in past years, has proven its work and is here to stay regardless of action of the wets to have it repealed.

There are two sides to every question, of course, but nobody throwing out the banner of the liquor traffic can say that he has guided himself for the cause of morality and human virtue.

Raskob would do well to let the liquor question alone, and go ahead with a program looking to the further uplift of humanity.

Smart SHOPPING

"How good is it?"

That's it!

ABOUT anything and everything they buy, smart shoppers like to ask one question—"How good is it?"

Chesterfield welcomes smokers who buy their cigarettes that way.

OUR tobacco buyers are smart shoppers, too. They "shop" for the ripest, mildest, sweetest-tasting leaf that grows. And they won't take anything else.

"How good" are Chesterfields? Well, consider their blending.

Blended and cross-blended... not merely mixed together. Blended first by crops and countries... then cross-blended again and again... to produce a flavor and aroma that are Chesterfield's alone.

That's how we get that better taste... that's why Chesterfields are milder. Even the paper they're rolled in is the whitest, cleanest and purest that money can buy.

And the package... clean, bright, fresh-looking... see how easily it opens, yet how tightly it's sealed.

OPEN a package. Note the aroma... delicious foretaste of pleasure ahead.

Now—pull out a Chesterfield... round, firm, well-filled.

"HOW good is it?" Light up... then you tell us!

Milder? Right! Taste better? You bet they do! They're pure, too—and they certainly do satisfy!

Good... they've got to be good! There's value here. We know, because we put it in... and you'll smoke it out with every one you light.

"Sure I shop for cigarettes - Chesterfields satisfy me"

CATS AND VOLS ARE READY FOR MATCH NOV. 26

Atlanta, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Kentucky and Tennessee are going about the matter of training for their annual football battle Thanksgiving Day with vim and vigor hardly equalled this week in the training camps of other Southern Conference teams.

The Wildcats of Kentucky scrimmaged until long after dark yesterday in preparation for the tilt with undefeated Tennessee in Lexington, Ky. The Tennessee Volunteers, on their part at Knoxville, scrimmaged hard against a scrub team using Wildcat plays. Breezy Wynn, sophomore fullback, suffered an injury to his knee, and may not be in the game Thursday.

On other southern fronts there was varied activity, some teams resting from their last Saturday's engagements, and others taking things easy before settling down to the grind of final engagements.

Vanderbilt received a jolt with the loss of two first string men, Joe Myers, end, and Coke Moore, tackle, who were ruled ineligible because of low grades. This, with the recent loss of Jess Thomas, fullback, because of a similar difficulty, and the broken hand of Jim Beasley, guard, makes the outlook anything but bright for the Vanderbilt squad against Alabama Thursday.

Auburn rested yesterday, while its Thanksgiving opponent, South Carolina, had a light workout. Earl Clary's injuries, received in the Florida game, kept him out of the South Carolina practice lineup.

Johnny Branch, North Carolina star quarterback who has been under suspension six weeks for breaking training, celebrated his return to the varsity with a brilliant punt-returning demonstration. A long drill for the North Carolina Tar Heels has been ordered today in preparation for their traditional game Thursday with Virginia.

Washington and Lee held a long signal drill and its opponent of next Saturday, Duke, practiced without "Kid" Brewer, seriously hurt last week-end.

Charlotte, Nov. 23.—(AP)—Injuries will handicap North Carolina's Tar Heels Thursday in their 37th gridiron meeting with Virginia at Chapel Hill.

Half of the first string backfield and several of the reserves along with a couple of linemen are on the casualty list.

Stuart Chandler, brilliant fullback turned up with an injured knee after the Duke game and possibly will not play against the Cavaliers. Rip Stusser, halfback, was cut under one eye last Saturday and will have to wear a mask if he plays.

Croom and Ferebee, backs, were badly bruised in the Duke game, while Hanes Lassiter, fullback, has not fully recovered from the injuries which kept him out of the Duke fray.

Stanton McIver, guard, held out of play last Saturday because of a hurt, will be ready to go against the Cavaliers, but Frank Smith, tackle, may not be.

The big bright spot in the Tar Heel outlook is the return of Johnny Branch, quarterback reinstated yesterday after being under suspension for breaking training since the Florida game.

Branch's punting and return of punts featured the light practice yesterday of the Tar Heels as they began work for the Virginia game.

Davidson's hopes to break the 10-year jinx Wake Forest has held were bolstered by the announcement that Don MacQueen, fullback, has recovered from injuries which have handicapped his play in the last two games and is in good condition.

FARMVILLE TO PLAY HERE ON THANKSGIVING

The last football game of the present season for the local high school eleven is scheduled for Thanksgiving afternoon at 2:45 o'clock when they meet Farmville. This should prove one of the best games witnessed on the local gridiron this year as these two teams are more evenly matched than any seen here in previous contests.

The Greenville squad is experiencing some hard drilling now by Coach Porter with determination to score a victory, and with the placing in the lineup some faces who have not seen very much action this season for various reasons.

THIS LAD'S INGENUITY WINS

Raymond Lewis Moeller, 19, of Middletown, Conn., possesses ingenuity. He made the coach model pictured out of tin cans and other things, using needles, dentist's drills, nails, embroidery scissors and so on as tools. It brought him this year's "Yankee ingenuity" scholarship at Worcester Polytechnic Institute, one of the richest available in American colleges.

Chapter 38
A DANGEROUS WOMAN

The table made a colourful picture with yellow tulips in a long oval silver bowl. They looked like reflections of the lights from a cove of tapers, flickering in candleabra at four corners. There was no electric light in the Goodby's great dining-room and faces were brought into sharp relief by the candles.

Venice sat between Jerry and Jim Severn. Drake was directly opposite her. Betty Paine on one side, Alice Schuyler on the other, Venice lifted her eyes to meet his, then turned quickly to Jim.

"I loved that evening with you at the movies," she said. "Marlene Dietrich is remarkable."

"I hardly deserve credit for that." And so it went. Meaningless, but Venice persisted in her animation. Whenever she glanced at Drake he was either talking to one of the girls at his side or apparently lost in thought, his gaze on the profusion of tulips.

"Like early morning light," she suddenly leaned a little forward to say to him. She must make him conscious of her accessibility.

He started and smiled quickly at her.

"Like butter in bloom," laughed Jim who had heard the remark.

It spoiled the attempt on her part and Drake turned to answer a question of Betty Paine's.

After dinner, Lola, Jerry, Alice Schuyler and Drake Farrelly played contract. Venice and the others sat and chatted.

"Let's have another table," suggested Venice.

After a good bit of cutting in and out and an elapse of about two hours that seemed interminable to Venice she found herself playing opposite Drake.

"I haven't had two words with you this evening," she said.

"I know. You're elusive."

"No, you are."

"Three spades," said Lola. When Jim Severn was dummy at

"Why don't you know?" "As far as I'm concerned," he grinned, "you're a dangerous woman."

No diffidence swept her. She was conscious that her cheeks were crimsoning.

"What do you mean?" she managed.

"Some day I'll explain," he promised gravely.

"Are you with me, Venice, or are you not?" demanded Jim Severn at her elbow.

"I'm with you, Jim. Good night, Drake. I'll see you at the Charity Ball." This last was sarcasm spurred by a new hurt and disappointment.

Venice sat in silence in the taxi homeward bound.

Jim put an arm about her and pulled her against his side.

"Don't, Jim." She struggled to sit erect.

There followed a most undignified scuffle. Jim Severn was the victor and Venice felt a flaming anger at the feel of his kisses on her mouth, meaningless, and urgent. Finally freeing herself from his arms, she slapped him across the cheek.

"Thanks for the wrestling match," she snapped.

The taxi had stopped before her apartment and she jumped out without another word. She hurried across the great hall and into the elevator. Damn, she thought, unlocking her front door, that's so-called popularity!

She sat down at her desk and wrote the School of Journalism at Columbia to send her a booklet about extension courses.

"I'll show Drake Farrelly, she reflected bitterly.

Venice registered at Columbia that week and paid in advance for two courses, their new semesters to start in February. One was short story writing, the other English literature.

Aunt Laura wrote from Boston asking her to spend Christmas, but Venice, vaguely afraid that she might miss some sign from Drake Farrelly, refused both. She excused herself on the plea that she was dining that day at the Spaldings—as a matter of fact Nolly and Ernest were curtailing their wedding trip to be home especially for Christmas dinner—but in her heart she knew it was the hope of hearing from Drake that was responsible for her refusals.

What is the matter with me, she thought? How can I be so stupid? No one should want to see a man so persistently who doesn't care whether he sees one or not. But her mind played about his nice clear hazel eyes and crisp hair and the way he laughed sometimes. Christmas gave her many little indications of newly achieved popularity. Christmas day dawned crisp and golden. Archids arrived from Roland Wainwright, captain from Donny Rhee and assorted spring flowers from Jim Severn. It was the first Christmas that Venice had ever received offerings from young men.

Venice opened several Christmas cards. One was from Alice Schuyler, decorous and formal, engraved by Cartier; a bizarre and modernistic triangle from Ann Duryea. How did she know my address, reflected Venice. I never even thought of sending her one. Perhaps she realizes that I've stolen her particular brand of thunder. The card is a salute of recognition for a fellow strategist. This tickled Venice's sense of humor. She grinned broadly. The last was a simple black and white of eccentric lettering and jagged New York sky line. "Drake" was written in a large individual hand in one corner.

Love'sly, thought Venice with some bitterness. Courteous and non-committal. She stared hard at the uneven line of skyscrapers and striking lettering. He had made it himself. It was admit.

She walked across the Park to the Spaldings! Everything was so simple and close to the heart at the Spaldings! The table was merry with red candles and poinsettia. In the evening they played hearts.

Nolly was still the eager, elfin creature who had christened Anthony and Jezebel and Pongo. Her love for Ernest seemed passionate yet sexless, his for her like an adoring father's for a treasured child.

After Weakening Sickness

If you are run-down, or suffer from a weakened condition,—take Cardui, a medicine used by women for over fifty years. As your health improves, you will share the enthusiasm of thousands of others who have praised Cardui for the benefits they have felt after taking it.

"I had a spell of sickness which left me very run-down and weak," writes Mrs. D. L. Beckner, of Elliston, Va. "I was not able to do my household work. My back and sides gave me a lot of trouble. A friend of mine told me to try Cardui. I took it for several months and I got strong and well."

Market Report

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

N. Y. COTTON

New York, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today at an advance of 5 to 10 points on trade buying and carrying which was promoted by relatively steady Liverpool cables. January sold up to 6.18. Trading was comparatively quiet at the start but the demand became a little more active after the call and included some commission house buying.

According to early reports, no. 10s representing about 12,300 bales were issued against December contracts here this morning.

Liverpool cables reported continental and Bombay buying in that market but said the demand for cotton cloths and yarns was subdued.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Strong commission houses absorbed surplus offerings of wheat late today, and the market jumped more than 2 cents a bushel from today's bottom levels. Stop loss selling had resulted from disclosure of actual position of the Federal Farm Board's controlled wheat holdings, which were shown to be larger even than most traders had believed.

Helping to rally the wheat market was announcement that purchases of North American wheat today for shipment overseas totaled 1,600,000 bushels.

Wheat closed nervous 1-2-11.8 cents above yesterday's finish, corn at 2-8-7.8 decline, oats a shade down to 1-4 up, and provisions unchanged to 7 cents higher.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Nov. 24.—(AP)—The stock market easily absorbed occasional flurries of selling today, and maintained a firm undertone. Bonds also displayed a better tone.

The share market was rather listless and traders were inclined to hold aloof. It was felt in some quarters that the list had become overvalued, and that a technical rally was due, but no aggressive efforts to drive shorts to cover were made.

Rails had further periods of weakness, but industrials and utilities were well supported. After a mid-morning sag, the general list worked higher, and by early afternoon, gains of a point or so were registered by U. S. Steel, American Can, American Telephone, Allied Chemical, Dupont, Eastman, American Smelting, American Power — Light, International Harvester, North American and National Biscuit. Public Service of New Jersey advanced 2.

An early upturn was largely lost. New York and Harlem, which is largely held by the New York Central, appeared at a new low at 115 1-4. This stock sold as high as 505 in 1929. Pennsylvania sagged a point to a new low at 25 1-4.

Railroads were still in the focal point of speculative attention. The low state of railway equipment buying was mirrored in Baldwin Locomotive's omission of its preferred dividend. Advance estimates of the weekly report of freight car loadings indicated a drop of 26,000 cars from the preceding week.

GUARD AGAINST RED PICKET

(Continued from Page One) went to the White House to seek instructions how the paraders should be handled, if plans to picket the executive mansion matured. They were told that if the Communist group violated any law such as parading with banners without a license, they should be arrested after first being warned. The police commander said he sought specific instructions, because dicated that the floors would be cleared completely during the late afternoon so the market will start off with a clean slate tomorrow morning.

The market will close for the Thanksgiving holidays at the expiration of sales Wednesday and will reopen for resumption of business the following Monday morning.

Some of the tobaccoists will spend the holidays with their families in other parts of the country, but will return in ample time to be present when sales are resumed.

Mr. Cobb said the market continued to draw patrons from distant communities and that they expressed satisfaction at the splendid condition prevailing upon this market. People who had never been here before put in their appearance the last two weeks and expressed amazement at the magnitude of the industry.

With a considerable part of the crop remaining to be disposed of after the Thanksgiving holidays, tobaccoists were looking forward to a greater increase of the poundage lead and expressed opinion the season would close with the figure considerably above that at present.

Next week's program is under direction of K. W. Cobb, supervisor of sales on the Greenville tobacco market.

On December 7 the local club will entertain as its guests the sons and daughters of Rotarians, who are now attending East Carolina Teachers College. The program will be put on by the guests.
