ABANDON 'JURY-FIXING' PROBE

AWAIT HIGHER PRICES IN KY.

Farmers Refuse To Sell Tobacco Until the Price Situation Improves.

Henderson, Ky., Dec. 2.—(AP)—Objections of farmers to low prices for their dark leaf tobacco caused postponement of the opening sale here today after 65,000 pounds had been sold at an average price of about $4 per hundred lower than last year's opening prices.

Owensboro, Ky., Dec. 2.—(AP)—Hundreds of farmers of the dark tobacco belt, disappointed and enraged by prices offered by buyers in Owensboro's auction floor, will sell no leaf here until higher prices are offered.

Sales were stopped at warehouses yesterday when farmers shouted, jeered, threatened to wreck the warehouses, and refused to sell their leaf at the prices bid. Owensboro banks reported they cashed very few warehouse checks, indicating most of the farmers had rejected the offers.

The average paid for 78,360 pounds was $4.61 per hundred, as compared to $8.47 for approximately 500,000 pounds on the opening day last year. After sales were halted yesterday, the farmers congregated in the courthouse yard and held a mass meeting to decide what was to be done.

They decided no more sales to be held until next Monday, so they might have an opportunity to seek the aid of the Federal Farm Board. Most of the farmers favored raising the price of tobacco at all next year, and organizing a cooperative association to make this year's crop.

Despite the decision not to sell until next Monday, warehousemen said the floors would open unless the tobacco board of trade, the only agency empowered to close the floors, decided otherwise.

Buyers representing four companies were on the floors yesterday — the American Tobacco Company and the Northwestern Tobacco Co., nationally known firms; the Hodges Tobacco Company, a local buying agency, and the Imperial Tobacco Company, Ltd., London, Eng. Buyers would not comment on the action of the farmers in halting the sales.

Washington, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Chairman Stone of the Farm Board said today Owensboro, Kentucky, tobacco growers, stirred to a near riot yesterday by low prices, would be given whatever assistance was possible.

He added the board has not yet considered how this might be done. The Owensboro farmers will send a committee to see the chairman.

There are five tobacco cooperatives in existence, three of which have received loans from the board. A dark tobacco, most of which formerly was sold in export trade, is grown in the Owensboro district. The trend is toward bright tobacco for cigarettes which has made it increasingly difficult to find markets for the darker leaf.

W. H. Newell Buried Today

Rocky Mount, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Funeral services were to be held here today for W. H. Newell, former general superintendent of the Atlantic Coast Line Railway, who died at his home here last night after an illness of several months.

The aged railroad man retired about five years ago. This fall he went to Florida in an effort to regain his health, but when his condition failed to improve he returned home last Monday.

He had made his home in Wilmington for a number of years. He is survived by seven children.

Coleman Faces Trial Thursday

Rocky Mount, Dec. 2.—(AP)—D. W. Coleman is tentatively scheduled to go to trial in Nash county superior court here tomorrow charged with the slaying of Tom C. Chappell, Florence, S. C., bakery manager.

Chappell was slain as he fled from the Coleman home with his shoes in his hand when Coleman, railway detective, returned home from work earlier than usual.

It was believed previously the case would not be reached at this term of court, but Solicitor Don Gillman set it tentatively for hearing tomorrow after Coleman had appeared in court to ask for a speedy trial.

ATTEMPTS TO BEAT HAWKS

Aviation Editor Begins Flight from Havana, Cuba, and Return.

Newark, N. J., Dec. 2.—(AP)—Lou Reichers took off in his speed plane from the municipal airport at 8:00 A. M. today in an attempt to beat Frank Hawks' flight time to Havana and return.

Reichers who is aviation editor of the magazine Liberty, was flying a Lockheed owned by Bernard Mac Fadden, publisher. He was accompanied by O. Warfield.

Hawks' record, established July 23, was 17 hours and three minutes, of which 14 hours and 35 minutes actually were spent in the air. His flying time from New York to Havana was 7 hours and 3 minutes and return 6 hours and 59 minutes.

The plane "Golden Eagle" which Reichers is flying has a cruising speed of 225 miles per hour, and he hoped to clip 2 hours off the round trip flying time. He planned to refuel at Miami both going and coming.

Fayetteville, Dec. 2.—(AP)—John C. Gilmore, former clerk of Cumberland Superior court, and David Gaster, former county treasurer, who pleaded guilty to mishandling public funds, were given prison sentences by Judge Garland E. Midyette in Superior court here today.

Judge Midyette allowed the until January to begin serving their sentences in order to permit them to put their affairs in order. Each was put under $1,000 bond.

Police Solve Asheville Case

Asheville, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Two automobiles of policemen rushed to West Asheville in response to a telephone call saying "come out here quick. Somebody has been murdered."

Arriving they found these clues: A large blood spot on the porch of a designated house which was empty.

More blood in the house and clothes in disorder on the floor. Witnesses who saw a truck cart away a rolled up mattress. Hours afterwards the police turned up another clue—a dog with a cut foot—and the investigation ended.

STEWART WINS IN NEW JERSEY

Victory Gives Democrats Bare Majority For House Control.

Washington, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Eclipsed by victory in New Jersey yesterday, the Democrats are becoming sanguine over the possibility of taking the last remaining vacant House seat in the first New Hampshire district.

The party holds 219 seats, two more than a bare majority, as a result of the election of Percy Stewart, of Plainfield, New Jersey, in the normally Republican fifth congressional district.

The leaders, among them Speaker-Candidate Garner of Texas, called the result an omen for 1932 victory converted a normal 50,000 Republican majority into an edge of 1,500 to 2,000 for the Democrats.

The New Hampshire district can not be won in time for representation at the organization of the House, but the Democrats will need every vote even after the January 5 special election to fill it. The seat has been occupied by a Democrat once before in recent years. Among voters of the district, are (Continued on Page Three)

FAILS TO SET SPEED MARK

Lowell Bayles, However, Plans to Make Fourth Attempt in Land Plane.

Detroit, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Denied a new world's land plane speed record through a re-check of the time he made in a third attempt yesterday and the failure of one of the timers to get a photograph record of the finish, Lowell R. Bayles, Springfield, Mass., aviator, plans to make a fourth attempt and hopes to reach 300 miles an hour.

Official timers who credited Bayles with an average speed of 284.72 miles an hour immediately after his flight yesterday, corrected the figures today and disclosed that the actual average was 281.9 miles an hour. To claim a new record Bayles had to better by 4.97 miles an hour the old record of 278.4 made in 1924 by Warrant Officer Bennet, of France.

Even had he attained the necessary margin it is unlikely the record would have been allowed because (Continued on Page Three)

N. C. Building Shows Increase

Raleigh, Dec. 2.—(AP)—North Carolina building operations during November amounted to $234,919 more than construction during the previous month, figures of L. L. Mallard, statistician for the State Department of Labor, revealed today.

Construction projects important enough to be submitted for low bids amounted to $915,764 last month as compared with $680,815 in October. In addition there were two jobs in November on which the amounts were not reported and seven such jobs in October.

Other comparisons were not available as the statistics were not kept before October. Of the total November building, $744,731 went into buildings and $171,033 went to paving, sewer and other miscellaneous work. The $500,000 post office at Greensboro accounted for a large part of the building total. Drainage work at Port Bragg accounted for $110,000.

NEW LETTERS IN LOVE CASE

Strange Triangle of Man, Wife and Another Woman Illuminated by Missives.

Minneapolis, L. Dec. 2.—(AP)—The strange triangle of Ernest Conner, his wife, Inez, and May Gledhill, was further illuminated today by publication of more letters from Conner—serving a prison term in Vermont for forgery—to each of the two women he purports to love.

In a letter dated November 16 of this year Conner wrote to his wife, telling her "how great my love for May is." In the fly leaf of a book of Shakespeare's sonnet dated early last year Conner wrote:

"To my loving wife, Mrs. Inez Noah Conner, in memory of our twenty years of real happiness; and may they continue evermore. From a husband who loves you more and more each hour.

The most recent letter, dated November 27, was addressed to "Dearest May" and asked: "Why do you hate me?"

Miss Gledhill, who collapsed Saturday at the Conner home where she has been living with Mrs. Conner and with the two year old "Sonny" who Mrs. Conner said is the child of her husband and Miss Gledhill, was near recovery at the hospital today. Her mother, Mrs. Anne Peel Gledhill, arrived last night from Montreal.

Many of the letters by Conner to the two women were mailed from prison in the same envelope.

In a statement appearing under her signature in this morning's American, Mrs. Conner said:

"I have no feeling against May Gledhill. She thought she loved my husband. She is only 26 now. She was younger then. (Conner is 51.)

"I do not think it possible for a man to love two women at the same time. He can love one and admire the other. If I were asked whether I still love my husband, I would say a woman 48 should not think of such things.

"I hope something can be done to get my husband out of prison. As for me, I don't care what happens. I will go with my people."

The American said this is Mrs. Conner's second marriage. She was divorced in 1908 from Russel Priest, the paper said, and Conner was named correspondent. Shortly after her divorce she and Conner were married.

LEAGUE IS ALARMED OVER NEW TURN IN SINO-JAP SITUATION

Vote On Prohibition Is Expected In Congress

Washington, Dec. 2.—(AP)—A congressional vote on prohibition long demanded by opponents of the national law and resisted by its friends, is in sight for the coming session.

Only today, Senator Watson—the leader of the Republicans—promised a showdown in that chamber. Members of both parties in the House already were expecting the session. (Continued on Page Six)

GUNFIRE SINKS LIQUOR CRAFT

Seven Prisoners Taken by Coast Guard After Chase Off the Westport Beach.

Woods Hole, Mass., Dec. 2.—(AP)—The New Bedford motorboat "Star" was sunk last night by gunfire from the Coast Guard speed Boat 813, which arrived today bringing the motorboat's crew of seven as prisoners.

Two of them were suffering from burns as the result of an explosion in the engine room which set the boat afire. Chief Boatswain's Mate Cecil McLeod, of the 813, said he opened fire on the engine room after the Star, running with lights off Westport Beach, with an alleged cargo of liquor, refused to halt.

He declared that when he sent a preliminary burst of machine gunfire across her bows, she turned and tried to ram him. (Continued on Page Three)

GRID PLAYER DEAD IN N. Y.

Cornelius Murphy, Injured Fordham Player, Succumbs to His Injuries.

New York, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Cornelius Murphy, of Greenfield, Mass., star tackle of the Fordham University football line, died today following injuries suffered November 21 in a game with Bucknell University, bringing to 29 the list of fatalities from football this season.

A fine all-round athlete, good student and prospective captain of next year's Fordham varsity—he probably would have been elected tomorrow, friends said—Murphy suffered a brain concussion in stopping a play of Bucknell 10 days ago and was carried from the field unconscious.

He was taken to Fordham Hospital but released three days later and taken to the college infirmary where he has been confined since for observation. Early today his condition became alarmingly worse and he died within half an hour.

Murphy was the fourth player on a prominent university team to die of injuries in a year which has taken an unusual toll on the grid-iron.

The exact cause of Murphy's death was not announced pending an autopsy but it was believed, reported directly from his football injury.

Separate Gang Members in Jail

Washington, Dec. 2.—(AP)—The government moved today to separate convicted members of Chicago's Capone gang and ordered Ralph Capone, brother of Al transferred from the United States penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kansas, to the United States penitentiary at McNeil Island, Washington.

Ralph was taken to Leavenworth recently after the Supreme court refused to review his conviction for income tax law violations.

Other members of the Capone gang are at Leavenworth. The government decided it would be better to prevent communication between the Capones and members of their gangs.

Al Capone, leader of the gang, is in jail in Chicago awaiting the outcome of an appeal from his heavy sentence for violating the income tax laws.

COUNTY COURT SITTING HERE

Dozen Cases Disposed Of in Session Yesterday; Work Continued Today.

Sitting for the first time in two weeks, County court disposed of practically a dozen cases yesterday and met again this morning to clear the docket. It was indicated that work would be completed during the early afternoon.

The session last week was postponed on account of the one week term of civil superior court which adjourned Wednesday for the Thanksgiving holidays.

The majority of the cases heard yesterday consisted mainly of violations of the prohibition law and larceny.

John Smith and Rufus White, colored, were sentenced to the road for sixty days each in two separate cases of larceny.

Sherman Croon, colored, was found not guilty of a charge of selling liquor.

Herbert Lunsford, colored, was sentenced to sixty days on the road for assault with a deadly weapon.

Judgment was suspended until the first Tuesday in January in the case of Clyde Waters, charged with abandonment.

Prayer for judgment was continued on payment of one-half cost in the case of Zeno Barnhill, colored, charged with transporting liquor. Sentenced to 90 days in jail on a charge of possessing liquor. Annie Brady, colored, filed notice of appeal to Superior court.

Prayer for judgment was continued in the case of Tom Quinn, charged with removal of crops.

Will Johnson was sentenced to 90 days on the roads for larceny. The case of John Phillips, colored, charged with assault with a deadly weapon, was transferred to Superior court.

JAPS' ACTION BRINGS CHANGE

News that Japanese Government is Insisting that Marshal Chang Hsueh-Liang Withdrawn from the Chinchow Area Behind Closed Walls is Regarded as Threat to Hope for Early Settlement; China Denies Negotiations with Japanese.

Paris, Dec. 2.—(AP)—News that the Japanese government was insisting that Marshal Chang Hsueh-Liang's government be withdrawn from Chinchow behind the great wall as well as his troops threw new alarm into league quarters this afternoon. This development was regarded as a threat to the hopes for an early agreement on the council's resolution on plans for a pacific settlement on the Sino-Japanese conflict in Manchuria. A Japanese spokesman told the Associated Press, "The council is not taking seriously our demand about the Chinese withdrawing from Chinchow, but we mean business."

Tokyo, Dec. 2.—(AP)—A spokesman for the foreign office announced today that Japan will insist upon the right to act against bandits and other lawless elements in Manchuria. It is this point upon which agreement on the League of Nations resolution at Paris is said to hang.

"This is an all-important question with Japan," he said, "which the league apparently doesn't realize. Tokyo's insistence on the right to use troops against lawless elements, he said, is necessary because it is difficult to distinguish between Chinese bandits and soldiers, and also because the government has information indicating that the forces of Marshal Chang Hsueh-Liang and Chinchow local authorities have been supporting bandit groups feeding them and using them in operations against the Japanese.

The spokesman also said that if Japan's reservation to the league resolution regarding issuance of orders to Manchurian commanders to take no initiative which might lead to loss of life is not embodied in the resolution itself, but taken care of in the declaration of Chairman Brand announcing the resolution, Japan will insist that the declaration be considered as binding as the resolution itself.

Nanking, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Chinese government officials here expressed annoyance today over Japanese reports that Tokyo diplomatic representatives at Nanking and Peiping are discussing with Dr. Wellington Koo and Marshal Chang Hsueh-Liang, separately, terms for a solution of the Manchurian problem.

The arrival of the diplomatic officials was characterized as a "clever Japanese maneuver, aimed at impressing the League of Nations and the world that China is ready to assent to direct negotiations."

Although Mamoru Shigemitsu, Japanese minister and Counselor Mori of the Japanese legation at Peiping have been conversing with national government officials, an official of the foreign office and the Kuomintang vigorously insisted today that no negotiations are proceeding, either here or at Peiping.

A widely circulated report here said the Japanese minister handed national government officials a set of terms on which Japan would be willing to negotiate a settlement, but foreign office officials denied it, saying Japan has offered no communication and they would not be willing to accept such a one if it were offered.

Shanghai, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Dispatches from Harbin, Manchuria, said that a detachment of the cavalry of General Mah Chan-Shan clashed today southwest of Hallun with Japanese forces and was driving them back.

The action was described as part of a counter attack by General Mah to recapture Tsitsihar, from which his army was driven in mid-November by the Japanese offensive on the Nonni river. (Continued on Page Six)

TULANE GETS THREE MEN ON ALL STAR TEAM

By DILLON GRAHAM
(Associated Press Sports Writer, Atlanta, Dec. 2.—AP)—Tulane University, champion of the Southern Conference gridiron championship for the third successive year, played three of its brightest stars on the 1931 all-southern team selected today for the Associated Press by coaches and sports writers.

The surging Green Wave, conference titlist this year and in 1929 and co-champion with Alabama a year ago, is represented on the sixth annual Associated Press team by Jerry Dalrymple, end; Don Zimmerman, halfback; and John Scalfie, guard.

Tennessee, runner-up to Tulane, also landed three men on the honor squad, while Georgia and Vanderbilt had two each and Alabama one.

The first team: Jerry Dalrymple, Tulane, and Vernon Smith, Georgia, ends; Charles Leyendecker, Vanderbilt and Ray Saunders, Tennessee, tackles; Herman Hickman, Tennessee, and John Scalfie, Tulane, guards; Clarence Gracy, Vanderbilt, center; Austin Downes, Georgia, quarterback; Gene McEver, Tennessee and Don Zimmerman, Tulane, halfbacks; and John Cain, Alabama, fullback.

The second team: Haynes, Tulane end; Ben Smith, Alabama, end; Patton, Swanson, and Wright, Kentucky, tackles; Maddox and Lestlers, Georgia, guards; Loddicus, Tulane, center; Dawson, Tulane, quarterback; Kelly, Kentucky and Hitchcock, Auburn, halfbacks, and Tolls, Tulane, fullback.

Tulane produced the only player to receive an unanimous vote, Gerald (Jerry) Dalrymple, a fine diagnostician of opposing offenses and one of the greatest ends the south has ever seen, was given first team rank on each of the 90 ballots cast by gridiron experts of Dixie.

Standing five feet, 10 inches and weighing 170 pounds, Jerry was a fierce tackler, a good pass receiver and an excellent blocker.

Vernon "Catfish" Smith's selection as the other end marked the third successive year the Georgia flankman has been so honored. Many regarded him as a better offensive end than Dalrymple. His six feet, two inches of height enabled him to snare passes out of the reach of smaller men. He weighs 180 pounds.

The tackle posts went to Charles Leyendecker, a six foot, 205-pounder from Vanderbilt, and Ray Saunders, another six footer from Tennessee, who weighs 180.

Herman Hickman, of Tennessee, who received more votes than any other lineman, and John Scalfie, the squat giant from Tulane, were selected for guards. Both weigh around 205 pounds.

Clarence (Pete) Gracy of Vanderbilt won a close duel of votes from Winnie Livittes of Tulane. Gracy is the roving type center. He weighs 189.

Gene McEver, who was an all-southern halfback in 1929, came back strong after a year's layoff with a bad knee, and gained a post along with Don Zimmerman of Tulane.

Zimmerman, who is 19 years old and shares honors with Hickman as the youngest players nominated, was a triple threat man.

McEver weighs 181 pounds and is five feet, 10 inches tall. Zimmerman also is five feet, 10 inches tall but weighs 177 pounds.

Austin Downes of Georgia, quarterback, and John Cain, of Alabama, fullback, round out the first team.

Big Five Charity Game Tickets On Sale Here

Tickets for the Big Five Charity football game, to be staged at Duke University Stadium, at 2:00 o'clock December 5th, will be sold here through the Pitt County Post of the American Legion, it was announced today.

Forty percent of the proceeds derived from local sales will be devoted to charity purposes in this community, while sales through the regular channels will go to the state funds.

Persons desiring to attend the game are urged to buy tickets here and boost the local charity fund that much.

Sales will be handled through S. M. Woolfolk, in Greenville, and C. C. Martin at Ayden.

RIVAL SQUADS PRACTICE FOR CHARITY TILTS

Durham, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Wallace Wade, Duke University coach, and Robert Fetzer, director of athletics at the University of North Carolina, agreed tentatively today on the method of handling their combined squads in the charity football game Saturday with a team of N. C. State, Wake Forest and Davidson players.

Two teams, each composed of both Duke and North Carolina players, will alternate against the Demon Wolfcubs. Under the plan, each team will be of equal strength.

Johnny Branch, Tar Heel quarterback, will captain one eleven and Emory Adkins, Duke center, the other. The first practice was called for Chapel Hill this afternoon.

During half the game the Duke-UNC squad will use Tar Heel uniforms, changing to Duke uniforms at the half.

Each coach will nominate 15 men from his squad for the charity game.

Net Star Engaged

The engagement of Penelope Anderson, Richmond, Va., tennis star, to Frederick Bennett McBride of New York was recently announced.

Charlotte, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Rival squads in the Big Five charity football game got down to training today.

The Davidson and Wake Forest players went to Raleigh to train with N. C. State for the Santa Claus act they will put on Saturday with a team of Duke and University of North Carolina players as opponents.

The Tar Heels and Blue Devils meanwhile became a Duklonia squad and planned their first workout at Chapel Hill.

Two backs and six linemen were in the group taken to Raleigh by Coach Monk Younger of the Wildcats.

He offered Charlie Pearce, who kicks and passes with the left side, and Buck Mills, flashy halfback, for the all-star backfield. His linemen were Raker, end; Mathis and Conway, guards; Gardner, center; and Whitfield and Wagner, tackles.

The only injured player in either camp was Stuart Chandler, Tar Heel halfback who was hurt two weeks ago in the Duke game. He has a bad leg and probably will not play in the charity game.

Chandler's loss, however, won't cause any dearth of fine backfield candidates for the Devil Heels. They have Slusser, Branch and Croom of the state champions University of North Carolina squad, and Brewer, Mason and Laney of Duke.

Tickets, on sale by the American Legion posts of the state, have been going fast.

While the players on the opposing teams have been working up considerable rivalry with threats of what will happen to the opposition, Governor Gardner has come through with a statement of which side he is taking.

"It is my sincere wish," he said, "that these five games be well attended."

Ayden Will Stage Game For Charity

Ayden people moved today to boost their funds for the poor through a charity football game to be played on the Ayden Athletic field between Wallace and Ayden Friday, December 4, at 3:15 o'clock, it was announced this morning.

Hard hit by the depression which has swept over the nation the last two years, Ayden hopes to be able to realize sufficient money from the game to enable its charity workers to carry relief to the hundreds of people suffering from lack of food, fuel and clothing this winter. The condition in that territory is probably more severe than any other section of the country, and hope was expressed that a large crowd would be in attendance by George B. Prescott, prominent Ayden man, who was in Greenville this morning in connection with advertising the game.

Wallace has had a successful season, losing only to Morehead City and Ahoskie by one touchdown each. Ayden, always to the fore on the gridiron, expects to put into the field one of the strongest teams in years.

The entire proceeds from the game will be devoted to charity in the Ayden community, with the exception of the amount required for defraying expenses of the Wallace team.

Mr. Prescott stated the people of his community were looking forward eagerly to the game in view of the fact that it forms the principal means of raising funds to carry on relief work this winter. He expressed hope that people from all sections of the county would attend and in that way help Ayden provide for its needy in one of the most distressing periods in history.

King's Daughters Meet

The Patient Circle of the King's Daughters held their regular monthly meeting on Tuesday evening with Mrs. W. B. Young. A large and enthusiastic crowd was present and many matters pertaining to the work were discussed and planned. The names of the members who had joined during the past year were read and they were welcomed into the order in an impressive service, and presented with silver crosses. The badge of the King's Daughters, Miss Lill Wilson, chairman of the emergency committee, reported clothes and food taken to a number of families, and the payment of a hospital bill for a worthy woman who needed medical attention. She also reported a flourishing Sunday school at Fleming's Cross Roads despite the fact that the schoolhouse where they had been meeting had burned and they were holding Sunday school in a private home. She also stated that they were planning a Christmas tree for the children and asked the co-operation of the members in making it a success, thereby bringing joy and happiness into homes where otherwise there would be no Christmas cheer.

It was suggested that next Saturday a tag day be held in the city in order to raise funds for the Christmas work. This suggestion was adopted, the plans to be perfected later.

Mrs. J. L. Little, chairman of the nominating committee, submitted the following officers for election for the coming year: President, Mrs. Hortense Moye; vice-president, Mrs. H. M. Bonner; secretary, Mrs. E. F. Forbes; treasurer, Mrs. E. W. Harvey. This report was unanimously adopted.

Mrs. W. H. Ricks, the retiring president, was given a rising vote of thanks for her untiring efforts during the past year to make the circle a success, and Mrs. Lizzie Griffin, the retiring secretary, was commended for her unflinching loyalty and her whole-hearted co-operation in every way possible to further the interests of the Patient Circle. It is largely due to her efforts and interest that the organization has made the progress it has during the past year.

At the close of the meeting Mrs. Young served a sweet course, followed by coffee.

The meeting adjourned to meet in January with Mrs. E. W. Harvey.—Reported.

FUNK—EDWARDS

Of interest to a wide circle of friends in this state and in West Virginia, is the marriage of Miss Athlene Edwards and Rev. Sherwood W. Funk of Charleston, W. Va., which took place in Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church at eleven o'clock this morning. Rev. E. L. Hillman performed the ceremony, using the impressive ring service of the Methodist Church.

Palms and ferns were effective arranged in the church, and massive candelabra held tall burning tapers. In the foreground tall urns were filled with white chrysanthemums and ferns.

Mrs. G. B. W. Hadley rendered the wedding music, and before the ceremony played softly "Love's Old Sweet Song," "The Sweetest Story Ever Told," and "Barcarolle." After the choir sang "The Voice That Breathes O'er Eden," Mrs. J. E. Kirkpatrick sang two numbers, "O Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly," and the wedding party entered to the strains of Lohengrin's "Wedding March." "To a Wild Rose" was played softly during the ceremony, and Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" was used as a recessional.

The ushers, Mr. R. G. Fitzgerald, Mr. Howard J. McGinnis, Mr. Ashley Harrington of Ayden, and Mr. Bruce Edwards of Grifton, preceded the bridal party. Little Miss Anne Warlick Hillman, the junior bridesmaid, entered alone. She wore a dainty frock of Spanish tile with lace, and carried a colonial nosegay. The bride entered with her maid, Miss Irma Vause of Rocky Mount, who wore a two-piece dress of brown crepe and carried yellow chrysanthemums tied with bronze tulle. The bride, a charming brunette, wore a suit of English tweed trimmed in beaver, with matching accessories in brown. Her shoulder corsage was of Pernet roses with valley lilies. Mr. Funk was attended by Mr. Walter Edwards of Grifton, as his best man.

Immediately after the ceremony, the bride and groom left for a southern trip after which they will reside in East Bank, West Virginia. Mrs. Funk, the only daughter of Mr. Joseph M. Edwards, of Grifton, and the late Mrs. Winnifred M. Edwards, was educated at East Carolina Teachers College, and the University of North Carolina. For the past four years she has been Director of Religious Education in Jarvis Memorial Church.

Mr. Funk is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Funk of Charleston, West Virginia. He was graduated from Morris-Harvey College, and later received the degree of Bachelor of Divinity from Duke University. For the past year he has been the popular pastor of the Methodist Church in East Bank, West Virginia.

Entertain for Bridal Party

Mrs. E. L. Hillman and Mrs. L. Rives entertained the members of the Funk-Edwards wedding party at the home of Mrs. Hillman following the rehearsal Tuesday evening. The lower floor of the home was thrown en suite, and was decorated with ferns and cut flowers, and lighted tapers.

In the dining room the table was covered by an imported lace cloth, with white candles in crystal holders at either end, and baskets of white snapdragons. In the center was the huge bride's cake, bearing a tiny bride drawn by green glass swans filled with mints and harnessed with white satin ribbon. In cutting the cake, the ring fell to Rev. E. L. Hillman, the tumbler to Mr. Ashley Harrington, the heart to Miss Athlene Edwards, and the wishbone to Mrs. H. E. Austin.

The hostesses, assisted by Mrs. R. G. Fitzgerald, served a delicious ice course.

Dinner Party

Out-of-town guests here for the Funk-Edwards wedding were guests at a lovely dinner party at the Shamrock dining room Tuesday evening, given by Mr. Joseph M. Edwards, Mr. Walter Edwards and Mr. Bruce Edwards, of Grifton, father and brothers of the bride-elect.

The table was lovely with centerpiece of pink snapdragons on a crystal reflector and with pink tapers in silver holders tied with pink tulle. Place cards carried out the bridal motif.

A delicious course dinner was served to the following: Miss Athlene Edwards, Rev. Sherwood W. Funk, of Charleston, W. Va., Miss Irma Vause, of Rocky Mount, Mr. and Mrs. Butler Prescott, of Ayden, Mr. Ashley Harrington, of Ayden, Rev. and Mrs. E. L. Hillman, Miss Anne Warlick, Mrs. H. E. Austin, Miss Nellie Denny, Miss Emma Jacobs of Elizabeth City, Mr. Joseph M. Edwards, Mr. Walter Edwards, and Mrs. Bruce Edwards, of Grifton.

Wabash Railway in Receivership

St. Louis, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Failing in last minute efforts to obtain financial aid, the Wabash Railway Company today was in the hands of receivers—the first major business casualty in the railroad circle since the stock market crash and subsequent business lull.

Unable to meet its operating expenses in the face of drastic cuts in freight revenue, the road consented yesterday to the appointment in Federal court of two receivers, Walter S. Franklin, St. Louis, newly elected president of the system and Frank C. Nicodemus, Jr., New York, assistant general counsel of the road.

The receivers were named on petition of the T. J. Moss Tie Co., which claimed the road was "completely insolvent" and based its action on a claim of $49,651. The road likewise defaulted on large interest payments.

Bandit Leader Faces Ten Year Term in Prison

Rocky Mount, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Roy Cobb, ex-convict and alleged leader of a bandit band, who fell into the arms of the law because he wanted to see his sweetheart, today faced a 10-year penitentiary sentence.

Cobb, arrested a month ago at Wilson as police searched for the last member of a gang they had rounded up, was convicted of robbery, larceny, breaking and entering and assault with a deadly weapon before Judge Henry A. Grady.

Eddie Cobb, Cobb's brother, was given five years; Willie Eason was sentenced to two years and Palmer Evans must serve two years in the penitentiary after conviction of robberies as members of the robber group.

Judge Grady pronounced the sentence after all were convicted in Nash county Superior court here. Roy Cobb was a fugitive from justice at the time of his last arrest. He had been serving a sentence for robbery and because he with the other three, had been declared outlaws by two Nash county magistrates, he was shackled.

The chains chafed his legs and the bands were removed after he promised not to attempt to escape. The next day he disappeared. He eluded passes several months before his capture at Wilson.

STEWART WINS IN JERSEY

The mill employes of Manchester, with good ballots, if a strong candidate offers, the Democrats believe they will win.

Five out of seven recent elections to fill House vacancies have favored the Democrats. Three of the five victories took seats which had been occupied by Republicans.

Elizabeth, N. J., Dec. 2.—(AP)—Percy H. Stewart, Democrat, was elected to Congress from the regularly Republican fifth district of New Jersey by a plurality of 1,902 votes.

The special election yesterday saw a normally Republican majority of 35,000 overturned, with complete returns from the 298 districts giving Stewart 31,567 and Donald H. McLean, Republican, 29,655.

The national Republican administration was the major issue in the campaign in which Stewart, used a Democratic victory as a repudiation of President Hoover and his policies. McLean, pleaded for support as a vote of confidence in the president.

Stewart's election also adds a new recruit to the wet forces in Congress. The late Representative Ackerman, whose death necessitated yesterday's special election, was a prohibitionist.

Faces Sentence To Prison For Robbing Banker

Burlington, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Artell Hickey, 26, today faced a 6 to 10 year penitentiary sentence for his confessed robbery of J. A. Long, Bank of Haw River cashier, three weeks ago.

Hickey pleaded guilty in Graham Superior court of taking $1,000 from Long at the point of a pistol and told the jurors his brother Clarence, 23, was an unknown accomplice in the crime. Clarence was acquitted.

Two other cases against Artell Hickey, both for breaking and entering, were continued.

Hickey said he and Colon Wilson, who has not been found since the robbery, planned the affair and that Clarence Hickey, driver of the automobile in which the escape was made, knew nothing of the robbery plans.

The money was returned a few days after the robbery by Hickey who said he wanted to "square things."

To Probe Charge of Brutality In La. Labor Camp

Washington, Dec. 2.—(AP)—A thorough airing appeared likely today for charges of near-slavery in the levee construction camps along the lower Mississippi.

News that a federation of labor investigators was going to report conditions of incredible brutality, use of lash and pistol butt, on negro laborers held in virtual peonage by contractors on the big government flood control job, set in motion a War Department investigation.

If its findings are not satisfactory to critics, there is even possibility that Congress may look into the situation. However, the chief of army engineers, Major General Lytle Brown, is on the spot, and the regional supervising engineer of the army has been instructed to report fully on conditions.

The labor federation intends to give full publicity to the report as soon as the investigator, Thomas E. Carroll, gets it here. Press reports of a preliminary statement by Carroll were the first the army engineers heard about the alleged condition, but General Brown already planned to look into protests from around Vicksburg, Mississippi, that employment had been slashed in the government shops there.

May Survive Poison Food

Pageland, S. C., Dec. 2.—(AP)—Although they are seriously ill, hope was held here today for the recovery of five members of the family of seven which was stricken yesterday by poisoned food. The other two members—both children—are dead.

Fourteen-year-old Alvie Jordan and her two-year-old brother, Joe, died from the effects of the poison. Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jordan, and three other children are ill in their home miles from here.

Investigators believed the poison came from a calcium tin, used as a flour bin, but which formerly had contained poison.

Confederate Ship Doomed to Stay in Neuse River

Kinston, Dec. 2.—(AP)—The Ram Neuse, "suicide ship" of the Confederacy, will remain in its watery grave in the channel at the edge of the Kinston business district.

City officials have no money to clear the bulk which has been made visible by low water in the river.

Patriotic and other organizations interested in proposals to raise the ship also lack money for the purpose.

The Neuse, named for the river which now holds it fast in mud and sand, was built in the early years of the Civil War. When it was launched, a big iron-clad designed to play havoc with wooden craft of the Union forces, there was not enough water to float it to tidewater and freshets were waited for.

But Federal forces came before the freshets and the craft, useless in the narrow river, was sunk to prevent the enemy from capturing it.

ABOUT TOWN

The annual sale of tuberculosis Christmas Seals got under way at the end of the week and the public has been called upon to buy liberally. The sale is being conducted through the health department of the Woman's Club and Mrs. H. S. Spalding is chairman.

Persons desiring to purchase seals could get in touch with any member of the health department of the club and their needs will be taken care of.

Irving T. Bush, president of the South Terminal, said yesterday some should be perfected by the government for taking care of the employment situation in future years.

That is the opinion of the majority of people, and especially the unemployed, but the big question involved is how to provide such a plan.

The only way to relieve unemployment is to provide jobs. With the building of new machinery almost daily tending to reduce the demand for labor, how under the sun are we going to keep everybody at work?

It is a problem that will test the minds of the nation in future years. Other nations, especially England, has been grappling with this question for years, but is the British government any nearer a solution than it was at first?

There is only one way by which the situation can be improved and that is to increase demand for the goods manufactured in this country and put some of the idle manufacturing plants operating at full capacity. Consider the hundreds of industries idle at this time and it is very readily comprehended why many men are walking the streets, cold and hungry, unable to find where the next meal is coming from.

The proposal of Bush to take care of the emergency is all right as far as it goes, but if it should go just a little further and actually result in the creation of jobs, then he will have found a solution for all our troubles.

With the coming of winter weather, reading has assumed a wider scope in this community. A report from Sheppard Memorial Library yesterday was to the effect that circulation of books had increased to no little extent during the last three days.

This is very gratifying information because it shows the people are interested in the development of their minds, and when such a condition prevails it is bound to have its bearing on community life.

Greenville has one of the finest public libraries in this part of the state and it is a matter of pride to the people of the community that with its long record of usefulness and service.

Congress will meet next Monday for several weeks thereafter and the reading public will be entertained with the clash between the Democrats and Republicans for leadership of the two branches.

When also will be considerable attention to receive attention. Principal among this being efforts of the legislators to relieve the economic situation prevailing in all sections of the country.

President Hoover has already introduced several measures looking toward the improvement of conditions and Congress will be well entertained with this for some time after the opening.

As the President believes, the passage of this legislation causes the section of the country should be allowed to no little extent. If, on the other hand, machinery is being set up to prevent what is impossible to foresee what will happen to various branches of industry during the intervening period.

As time for action has come Nov. 27-1w-4wks.

and the sooner Congress takes some step to bolster conditions the quicker the bend in the road so often referred to by the President, will be reached.

It looks now as if the world is in for a tariff war. Only a few days ago England announced increased rates and Germany now comes along with a similar announcement. The increased duties, prohibitory in nature, is declared to be an economic necessity to protect the nation's financial situation.

The gradual raising of the tariff barriers resulted from action of this kind by America several years ago. Other countries followed suit, and now all the principal powers of the world have raised their rates to such extent that it is impossible to obtain anything from foreign countries without paying prohibitory rates.

And then we hear some demagogue rise and say isolation is a thing of the past. There is no better way in the world to isolate nations than through tariff barriers, and nobody realizes it more than the American business man, already suffering untold losses as result of the high rates passed by this nation.

That other countries have suffered proportionately may well be assumed. Right here is one of the main reasons for the world-wide depression declared at every fire-side in this and other nations. The governments have literally closed their gates and put up the bars against business with foreign countries, and unless the bars are removed and business allowed to flow uninterrupted between the various powers of the world, depression must of necessity become a permanency.

Retaliation along this line has gradually destroyed the exchange of business to various parts of the globe, and with the continued erection of furs by other powers the situation must of necessity become more accentuated.

The time has come to lower the bars and let business flow in and out instead of willfully closing the gates and letting the rest of the world do likewise.

Sunset Pass

By ZANE GREY

SYNOPSIS. The Preston family provides Truman Rock with plenty of excitement on the first day of his return to Wagon Tongue. Thiry Preston seems the most interesting girl he has ever met. His introduction to her comes while he is waiting for a friend, Sol Winter, to return to his store. Thiry comes in and Rock pretends to be the clerk. After his inexperience has caused sufficient comedy to draw them together, he tells her who he is. Winter, returning, tells Thiry that Rock is the man who saved his son's life. Rock carries her bundles to the corral and, while he talks to her, two of the Preston boys come in. Ash Preston has a black reputation on the range, and is a quick man with a gun. Ash tries to pick a quarrel with Rock. His brother takes away his gun, saying, "Ash, you don't know this fellow."

Chapter 5 STRUCK BY LIGHTNING "Wash I need gun fer?" demanded Preston, half resentful of his brother's precaution.

"Sure you don't, but you might if you had one," replied Range, with a grin. "Anyway, Ash, you're shootin' off your chin enough. I tell you this fellow's a stranger." The younger rider had been bending his intent, clear gaze upon Rock and had formed conclusions. "Wash the hell we care? He's Big Hat; an' I'm a-goin' to chase him pronto." Thiry Preston stepped out as if impelled yet she was evidently clamped with fear. Rock thought, for Thiry's sake, he had better make as graceful an exit as possible.

Preston lurched by Thiry and swept out a long slow arm, with open hand, aimed at Rock's face. But Rock dodged, and at the same time stuck out his foot dexterously. The rider, his momentum unchecked, tripped and lost his balance. He fell slowly, helplessly, and striking on his shoulder he rolled over in the dirt. He sat up, indignantly, and wiping the dust off his cheek he extended a long arm with shaking hand, up at Rock. "Shay, you hit me, fellow."

"Preston, you're quite wrong. I didn't," replied Rock.

"Range, is thish hyar Big Hat lyin' to me?"

"Nope. You jest fell over him," returned the younger rider, laconically.

"Wal, stranger, I'm 'cepting your apology."

"Thanks. You're sure considerable," returned Rock, with sarcasm. He was not used to total restraint and he could not remember when any man had jarred him so. Turning to the girl, he said: "I'll go. Good-by, Miss Preston."

With his back to the brothers Truman made his eyes speak a great deal more than his words. The dulcet of girls would have grasped that he did not mean good-bye forever. Thiry's response to his gaze was a silent one of regret, of which she was unconscious.

try have been struck by lightning when they first seen Thiry. But I can't see that it did them good. Thiry isn't to be courted, they say."

"Struck by lightning. Sure that might be it. But never you mind about me. I'm solid on my feet even if my head's in the clouds. Tell me things. I want to know all about this Preston outfit."

"Rock, you're hot-headed. You fly off the handle," returned Winter, gravely. "You might give me more trouble with the Prestons. I've had considerable."

"Sol, you can trust me."

"Wal, this Preston outfit is sure prominent in these parts. They call them 'The Thirteen Prestons of Sunset Pass.' It's a big family. Nobody seems to know where they come from. Anyway, they drove a herd of cattle in here some time after you left. An' 'cepting' Ash Preston, they're just about the most likable outfit you ever seen. Fact is, they're like Thiry. So you don't need to be told more about that. They located in Sunset Pass, right on the Divide. You know the place. An' it wasn't long until they were known all over the range. Wonderful outfit with horses and ropes."

"Go on, Sol. It's sure like a story to me. What was the trouble you had?"

"They ran up a big bill in my store. The old store, you remember. I taxed the boys about it. Did not see Gage along there. Well, it was Ash Preston who raised the hell

He wasn't drunk then. An' son, you need to be told that Ash is wild when he's drunk. When sober he's—well, he's different. . . . Nick was alone in the store. Nick was a spunky lad, you know, an' he razzed Ash somethin' fierce. Result was Ash piled the lad in a corner an' always hated him afterward. Fact is the range talk says Ash Preston hates everybody except Thiry. She's the only one who can do anythin' with him."

"She didn't do a whole lot today. The drunkest —! . . . And Nick was shot off his horse out there in Sunset Pass?"

"Yes, An' I've never breathed to anyone my natural suspicion. I think Ash Preston must have killed Nick. They must have met an' fought it out. It wasn't murder. Ash would not shoot any man in the back. There four empty shells, fresh shot, in Nick's gun."

"The boy had nerve," Rock said. "Well, Gage paid the bill first time he came to town. Then for a while he didn't buy from me. One day Thiry came in an' ever since I've sold goods to the Prestons. She does the orderin' an' she pays pronto."

"Ahuu. . . Any range talk among the punchers about these Prestons?" "You mean —?" "Well, son, there used to be no more than concerned the Culvers, or Tolls, or Smiths, an' not so much as used to be about the little outfits down in the woods. You know the range. All the outfits eat one another's cattle. But, lately, the last two years, conditions have gone on the same. In that way, an' some different in another. I hear a good deal of complaint about the rustlin' of cattle. An' a few dark hints about the Prestons have seeped in to me off the range.

What are the "dark hints?" Rock learns more, tomorrow.

Advertisement for Camel cigarettes. Features the headline 'Made FRESH never parched, never toasted CAMELS are KEPT Fresh!' and a large image of a man in a suit holding a cigarette. Text includes: 'You probably know that heat is used in the treatment of all cigarette tobaccos. But you know too that excessive heat can destroy freshness and fragrance. That's why there could be no truly fresh cigarette except for scientifically developed methods of applying heat. Reynolds is proud of having discovered and perfected methods for getting the benefits of heat treatments and still avoiding ever parching or toasting. With every assurance we tell you, Camels are truly fresh. They're made fresh — not parched or toasted — and then they're kept fresh in the Camel Humidor Pack. If you wish to know why the swing to Camels is nationwide and steadily growing — switch to them for just one day — then leave them, if you can. R. J. REYNOLDS TOBACCO COMPANY, Winston-Salem, N. C.' Market Report

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

N. Y. COTTON

New York, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today, 3 points higher to 2 points lower on covering and some southern selling. Offerings were small and the pace of trading was quiet.

Trading was quiet at the start but became a little more active after the opening with prices working up slightly, as offerings were comparatively light and some covering seemed to be promoted by rallies on an opening decline in the stock market. January sold up from 6.01 to 6.05 and May from 6.36 to 6.41, making the more active months about 2 to 5 points net higher, by the end of the first half hour.

Liverpool cables said there had been local and foreign buying in that market on the depreciation in sterling but reported an improved cloth demand from India.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Unsettledness of British exchange bringing North American wheat export business almost to a halt led to sharp late downturns in grain values today. Between the low for sterling in London today and the high in New York, there was a range of more than 20 points, equal to 21-2 cents a bushel on wheat. Stop loss selling developed in the late dealings, and Argentine reports of crop damage owing to recent heavy rains failed to exert any lasting bullish influence.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Stocks were stimulated for a while today by the recommendation for a Canadian railroad wage cut, but slumped early in the afternoon when selling was resumed in the low priced rails. The news from Ottawa counteracted the Wabash receivership for an hour or so and the market rallied vigorously after a few minutes of heaviness at the opening. Unfavorable action on the Rock Island preferred dividends, negative mid-week trade statistics, a weak bond market and a more gloomy prospect of some railroad situations contributed to a definite downswing soon after noon, however, and a number of carrier stocks dropped to new lows.

St. Louis San Francisco common tumbled about 4 points and the preferred nearly as much. ACL also lost 4, while Rock Island, Illinois Central, New York Central and Atchafalaya sagged 2 to 3. The Wabash issues sold at nominal quotations, the preferred "A" breaking 3 points. These losses followed earlier advances of 1 to 3 in the rails. United States Steel dropped a couple of points, although it had been one higher. Western Union, American Telephone, Allied Chemical and other leaders turned heavy in sympathy. Radio made a new minimum.

The Wabash receivership came as a surprise to many investors who had entertained the belief that concerted efforts to help the railroads would attain their goal before actual receivership action would become necessary. Spokesmen for the road revealed that intensive efforts had been made, not only by the Wabash management, but also by representatives of other roads and of the banking industry to provide necessary relief.

NO ARRESTS REPORTED IN CITY SINCE SUNDAY

Crime has been on a pronounced decrease in Greenville the last several days. Chief of Police George Clark stated this morning. Only one case has been heard by police court since last Saturday, said the chief, and that was turned over to juvenile court authorities. Not a single arrest had been made in the city limits since Sunday, and if conditions continue as they are it will not be necessary for police court to sit Saturday morning, it was stated.

GRIFTON MASON'S WILL PUT ON FEED TONIGHT

Grifton Masons are planning a big time tonight and have invited a number of Greenville men to join them. The occasion is the regular communication of the Grifton lodge, and the highlight will be a beautiful turkey and accessories. Claud Gaskins and Frank Harrington, county officers who seldom fail to be invited to affairs of gastronomic significance, will attend the meeting and do their part toward diminishing the community turkey supply. Several others were also expected to attend from here.

ABANDON JURY-FIXING PROBE

(Continued from Page One) far had not produced "a scintilla of evidence" to support the charges, made by Wickes Wamboldt, blind city councilman and newspaper columnist.

Wamboldt, appearing before Judge Stack Monday, said he was assured by a "man of standing" that former jurors could be produced who would swear they were "bought" by lawyers if immunity was promised them.

Judge Stack said he could not grant immunity. In announcing his decision to abandon the inquiry, Judge Stack said that during the remaining three weeks he would be holding court here he would be "willing, anxious and ready" to hear anyone who might have evidence to offer.

His statement left the way open for the inquiry to be resumed at any time. Judge Stack, referring to the "man of standing" described by Wamboldt, said he hoped he would have the "sense of honor" to make good his charges or to withdraw them and apologize to all concerned.

He also expressed hope that Wamboldt would be released from his promise to the "man of standing" not to reveal any details of the information given the city councilman.
