

HUNGER MARCHERS ARE DENIED ADMISSION TO CAPITOL BUILDING

ARE BARRED AT WHITE HOUSE

Fifteen Hundred Men, Singing 'Internationale' and Chanting Slogans Calling For Unemployed Insurance, Parade Under Police Escort With Armed Bluecoats Awaiting Them Everywhere; Send Petition to President Hoover.

Washington, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Fifteen hundred demonstrators marched back and forth on Pennsylvania avenue today to find both the White House and capitol doors barred against them.

Singing the "Internationale" and chanting slogans calling for unemployed insurance, they paraded under a police escort and found other armed bluecoats waiting for them at either end of the avenue.

At the capitol, their representatives were twice repulsed in efforts to gain the Senate floor to demand unemployment insurance.

Sergeant Arms Barry informed Herbert Benjamin, their leader, that today was not the day for receiving petitions and that theirs would have to be presented through a member.

They were pushed off the capitol steps when they persisted in their demand and sought to walk inside.

Jeering Senator King of Utah, who volunteered to take charge of their petition or introduce any bills for them, they then went to the White House and delivered a petition to Richard Jervis, chief of the White House secret service, who agreed to deliver it to President Hoover.

Senator King of Utah went into the roped off area in which they were gathered and offered to present any petitions they wished to have before the Senate.

"Just who in the hell are you anyway?" Benjamin said.

"I am Senator King and will be glad to help you."

"We didn't come here to deal with any individuals," Benjamin returned "and I don't intend to have you present anything for us."

"Very well," King said, walking away.

They then selected a second delegation of three, with one negro included, but it also was refused admittance to the Senate wing of the capitol by Sergeant-at-Arm Barry.

Protesting, they were once more shoved from the door by policemen.

The committee finally gave up the attempt and returned to the massed crowd.

One of the members, William F. Wainwright of New York, sitting atop the shoulders of four marchers, spoke through a megaphone.

"The congress of the United States," he said, "has refused to hear the proposals of the unemployed councils through the hunger march delegation."

The entire procedure of your committee was conducted through the police. We were not allowed to talk to any representatives of the House or Senate. Vice-President Curtis, in refusing to see us, expresses the attitude of the Hoover hunger administration."

Japan Ready To Accept New League Suggestion

Tokyo, Dec. 7.—(AP)—The Japanese government was said authoritatively today to be prepared to take up a separate reservation regarding the right to suppress banditry in the propounded Chinchow neutral zone which the League would

Washington, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Josiah Bailey was administered the oath in the Senate today as the new Democratic member from North Carolina.

A contest against Bailey's election has been filed by his Republican opponent, George M. Pritchard, former representative. However, the Senate elections committee has not considered the contest pending receipts of funds for the study.

Bailey stood aside temporarily as Chairman Shortridge, of the elections committee notified the Senate of the contest against him.

City to Begin Tremendous Task of Decorating for Holidays This Week.

The spirit of Christmas has hit Greenville again and by the end of the week the business district will be a veritable fairyland.

Decorations this year, in opinion of those in charge of this tremendous task, will be more complete and extensive than ever before, and hundreds of vari-colored lights will blink their messengers of peace and joy to the thousands of people expected to throng main thoroughfares between now and the holiday season.

Thirty-five strings of lights will be swung across streets in the main business district, eclipsing by far all decorations of the kind in previous years. These lights will be erected by Wednesday, if present plans carry, and in addition, to strings which will appear in other places will make the city probably the most appropriately lighted in this part of the state.

But lights will not be all by any means. A great Christmas tree will be erected in the center of Five Points, and hundreds of lights and a great mass of tinsel will make it a thing of beauty and splendor.

Christmas trees have been erected in the same location for several years, but carrying out the idea of enlarged decorations, the committee will attempt to make this single attraction outshine all others.

The first strings of lights were erected the latter part of last week and hundreds of people who visited the main business district Saturday night, received their first thrill in connection with the approaching festive season.

Stevens Seeks Full Strength Of U. S. Navy

Baton Rouge, La., Dec. 7.—(AP)—An appeal for full American naval strength under the terms of the London treaty and an increase in the standing army as means toward unemployment relief has been voiced by Henry L. Stevens, Jr., of North Carolina, national commander of the American Legion.

Speaking at a conference of Louisiana Legion officials here yesterday, he said: "The regular army is down to a point where they are simply a bunch of technicians, army college professors, who, in the case of emergency, would become the instructors and perhaps the higher officers and commanders on an army that would be formed when such an emergency arrives."

BIG TOBACCO SALES HERE

Approximately 1,400,000 Pounds Of Leaf Offered on the Market Today.

One of the largest sales since observance of Thanksgiving holidays was in progress on the Greenville tobacco market today.

It was stated there was approximately 1,400,000 pounds of leaf on the floors of the various warehouses and that sales would be completed during the late afternoon.

Prices were reported slightly stronger than when the market closed for the week-end.

At conclusion of sales Friday season sales had reached 57,474,722 pounds, and this was expected to go beyond the 60,000,000 mark before the end of the week.

Although the bulk of the crop has been disposed of, marketing of the remainder of the offerings is expected to be fairly active between now and the closing for the Christmas holidays.

Youth Admits Killing Newsboy

Detroit, Dec. 7.—(AP)—A group of members plotted revenge in their hometown clubhouse yesterday on 15-year-old Joe Praxtas, who had been accused of "pickin' on little kids," and a few hours later "Little Joe" was killed by a rifle bullet.

Stanley Orlenowski, 14, president of the organization known as the "Floyd Club," admitted to police he fired the shot, but insisted he meant only to frighten Joe.

He said he had borrowed the rifle as he, Joseph Sawicki, 14, and Anthony Mazur, 14, members in good standing, were on their way to carry out the club's verdict that "Little Joe" should be taught a lesson.

The three boys and Lonzi Jendzenski, 11, who had accused Joe of "pickin' on him," were held in the juvenile detention home last night.

What is to be done with them will be decided today. County Prosecutor Harry S. Toy said he would ask that they be required to face charges in criminal court.

NEGRO HELD FOR ROBBERY

Fred Pugh Held For Court Action for Alleged Robbery Of Cannon's Store.

Fred Pugh, alias Elias Strous, colored, was held in jail in this city today charged with the robbery of T. J. Cannon's store near Ayden one night last week.

He was arrested in LaGrange Friday and returned to Greenville yesterday in the custody of sheriff's officers. He will face hearing in the next term of Superior court.

Pugh was alleged to have broken into Cannon's store, taken a 300-pound iron safe down the road several hundred yards, and obtained $340 in currency after battering off the door. He also stole a horse and cart from a nearby farmer with which to haul away the safe, but these were recovered in the same community the next day.

Pugh was arrested in LaGrange on a charge of stealing an automobile. Officers began an investigation and found out he had bought the car in his possession all right, but that it had been paid for in bills of the same denomination as those taken from the safe robbed near Ayden. It was revealed, officers said, that the bills were folded in the same manner as those stolen. This fact was established by the operator of the store.

Officers also said they found a button at the scene of the robbery that corresponded with those on a pair of overalls found on the truck used in the robbery.

Pugh was alleged to have been seen in the Ayden community several hours prior to the robbery, and the fact that he vanished shortly afterward pointed the finger of suspicion in his direction.

Pugh, man of many aliases, was said to have been wanted in Greene county on a charge of store-breaking. He has lived in many communities in recent years, and his capture, officers believe, will be the means of revealing a long criminal record.

Atlanta Mayor For Roosevelt For President

Warm Springs, Ga., Dec. 7.—(AP)—Mayor James L. Key of Atlanta says Georgia will favor Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1932.

Atlanta's 64-year-old mayor, whose prohibition criticisms have brought him into national attention, has been mentioned as a running mate for New York's 49-year-old governor in the Democratic Presidential race next year.

A Roosevelt-Key club to advance the two for the presidency and vice-presidency recently was formed by a group of South Georgia Democrats.

REPUBLICANS HOLD SENATE

John Garner of Texas Elected Speaker of The House Over Snell of New York; Republicans Conceded Leadership to Rep Snell of New York; Democrats Hold 219 Seats in the House Against 214 For Republicans.

Washington, Dec. 7.—(AP)—With its leaders divided and uncertain, the new congress saw its two constituent branches part company politically at the first session today, the Democrats taking control of the House as the Republicans retained their hold on the senate.

John Garner, blunt and ready Texas plainsman, was chosen speaker of the House by the margin of a handful of votes over Bertrand Snell of New York. It was the first time in twelve years the Democrats had captured either branch of congress.

The Republican House leadership controversy was ended when Representative Tilson of Conn. conceded the place to Representative Snell of New York, the party's speakership nominee.

By their victory, the Democrats took control of the House for the first time in 12 years. They have 219 seats to 214 for the Republicans and one Farmer-Labor. There is one vacancy from New Hampshire. The Republican nominee was Snell of New York, now expected to become minority leader.

Both Representatives Snell and Garner voted present, as did Schneid de Wisconsin.

The speakership vote was Garner 218, Snell 207, Schneider 5, Rep. Kvale, Farmer-Labor, Minn., voted for Schneider.

The Texan was elected to succeed his legislative chum but political enemy, the late Nicholas Longworth, of Ohio.

This is the first time a Democrat has held the speaker's gavel since Champ Clark of Missouri, speaker in the 65th congress, relinquished it in 1919 to Frederick H. Gillett of Mass. The latter was in the gallery today.

During the vote, Representative Garner stood in the rear of the brass rail on the Democratic side, which, for the first time in years was more crowded than the Republican side.

Representative Snell stood on the Republican side far back in the rear.

The Democratic side was so crowded additional chairs had to be sent in.

The following voted for Schneider: Annie, Kaiding, Peavy and Withrow, Wisconsin, Republicans; and Kvale, Farmer-Labor, of Minnesota.

Only the ceremonies of officially opening Senate and House rewarded the thousands of spectators who looked down from circular galleries and jammed nearby corridors vainly seeking admission.

For once the House was the premier attraction, and only those who had cards were admitted to see a Democrat, John N. Garner of Texas, elevated to a speaker's chair unopposed by any other of his party for a dozen years.

It was evident as the members assembled that the Republicans hoped for bi-partisan consideration of some of the most important of President Hoover's recommendations, to be sent in tomorrow. Senator Watson, the Republican senate leader said:

"The problems to be presented will be largely of a non-partisan character. The moratorium, taxation, banking laws and all financial and economic problems in the offing will be of this character. I have ever reason to believe there will be a measure of cooperation that will result in speedy action and be of benefit to the country."

Reading of minutes of last meeting and the final voting of members for the different rooms. In the early fall a contest was put on by the principal of the school. The object of this was to see which room could get the most people to come to the P. T. A. for three months. In the final contest, it was found that the 4th and 5th grades, Mrs. Marjorie Phillips, teacher, had won in the lower grades, and Miss Dilda's room in the higher group.

The subject of the evening, "Co-operation Between Parent and Teacher" was first discussed by a mother, Mrs. M. Tyson, second by a father, Mr. A. W. Massey and third by a teacher, Mr. Brown Mayo.

The three talks were very interesting.

The program was then turned over to be chairman of the program committee, which was as follows:

I do not know what your objectives will be for 1932, but I would say that no finer one could be adopted than the welfare of our children. What it means to the future of the race is almost too vast to comprehend and we can never perhaps fully realize this base thing, but we can make a beginning and by so doing we shall advance a long way on the road.

The game of child health is the greatest game of all and if we want this civilization to march forward to higher economic standards it must march on the feet of healthy children. Our children of today are the citizens of tomorrow and their value as citizens depends in no small degree upon the health with which they are equipped in youth.

CHRISTMAS STEAL SALE DURING THIS WEEK

The following paper was read by Miss Edna McKee at a meeting of the Woman's club last week.

At this season of the year our thoughts, as well as those of our national and state organizations turn to the sale of the familiar Christmas Seals to raise funds for the fight against tuberculosis, which has been waged for the past twenty-five years. Statistics prove to us that our campaign against tuberculosis has achieved very gratifying results. In twenty-five years the death rate has decreased more than 50 per cent, and in the past few years the decrease has been most gratifying.

We must not, however, let up in our efforts to raise funds for this fight, because the toll in illness and death is still appalling and in no section of our state are we more aware of this than in our own county of Pitt. For the year 1930 Pitt county had a total of 44 deaths from respiratory tuberculosis (8 living cases to each death). Thirty of these being colored and 14 white. State figures show 2,187 deaths, 1,009 whites, 1,171 colored and 7 Indians, 2,425 all forms. At present we have approximately 125 cases reported from the Sanatorium. Of this number 80 are white. This number only represents those who have had Sanatorium treatment. The number of children from this county at the Sanatorium is alarmingly small. As you know, all children 10 per cent under weight are potential tuberculosis patients, and of the 17,871 school children in our county, approximately one-sixth, or about 2,980 of these are 10 per cent or over underweight.

It was the National Tuberculosis Association with its State Associations who worked out health education in the schools and the importance of proper nutrition in children, which is the most important, most satisfactory and most worthwhile piece of work that has ever been brought to the attention of our people. The reports of expenditures from 150 Seal Sale chairmen last year throughout the state are as follows:

Summer camps for undernourished and infected children ..... 13 pct.

Undernourished children in school unable to pay for milk and lunches ..... 55 pct.

Tuberculosis nursing ..... 10 pct.

Treatment of patients in Sanatorium ..... 15 pct.

Children's clinics in connection with Extension Department of State Sanatorium. 5 pct.

100 pct.

FARM NOTES

(By E. F. ARNOLD.)

The curb market continues to grow in its new quarters provided by the Pitt County Mutual. Exchange in the annex to the old model school building. It has become necessary to add four new tables. Last Saturday 43 sellers were on the market against 13 last year and the sales last week were twice that of the same week last year. All produce offered is guaranteed to be fresh and direct from the farm to the market.

Kinston Outlook Conference

The Kinston Outlook Conference put on by the Agricultural Extension force from Raleigh, which included bankers, merchants, farmers and county and home agents, was held at Kinston last week. The information brought from the Department of Agriculture at Washington, D. C. relative to economic conditions and the outlook for farming in this section for 1932 is such as to be helpful to the farmers in planning their farm activities for another year. J. C. Gallo-way, president of the Pitt County Mutual Exchange, John T. Thorne, president of the Farmville Farm Club, and H. V. Staton, chairman of the county board of commissioners, attended the conference at Kinston. This conference will be followed by a series of meetings in Pitt county for the purpose of developing a 1932 program of work in aiding farmers to adjust their farm activities to conditions confronting them.

Eight other such conferences will be held in other sections of the state. One will be held at Rocky Mount Thursday and Friday of this week and any farmers or business men who are interested in getting the low-down on prospects for another year will do well to attend this conference and hear Mr. Dean, the economic specialist sent down from Washington, D. C.

Pitt County Mutual Exchange

The Board of Directors of the Pitt County Mutual Exchange will meet in the county agent's office Wednesday morning at nine o'clock and after a brief business session, will leave for New Bern to study the work of the mutual exchange of Craven county. This exchange is one of the strong exchanges in the state and the board of directors hope to get valuable information to aid them in developing a system of markets for the farm produce of Pitt county farmers.

BANKHEAD ELECTION IS QUESTIONED IN REPORT

committee that the election was "stolen" from him.

Heflin was on the floor and in a senate seat at Bankhead was given the right to the seat he formerly occupied, pending disposition of the contest.

Legality of the election of Senator Bankhead of Alabama, was questioned today in an informal report by Chairman Hastings of an elections sub-committee to Chairman Shortridge of the full committee.

Hastings submitted the purely personal report just prior to the convening of congress, so Shortridge could report to the senate the status of the contest brought by former Senator J. Thomas Heflin against Bankhead's election.

Explaining it had been impossible for the sub-committee to make a formal report, Hastings listed four questions which he said some members of the sub-committee felt should be submitted to the full committee and the senate.

Hastings said the mere tabulation of ballots by the sub-committee did not show any material change from the results announced by Alabama election officials but the difficulty arose from discovery that election officers disregarded the election laws of Alabama.

He said out of a total of 2,043 boxes examined "not a single one could be found where the law had been fully complied with" he added.

"There were literally thousands of violations of the election laws," he said in my judgment they raise the serious question as to whether it can be said that there was a legal election of a United States Senator in Alabama in 1930."

Sheriff Slays Former Ranger

Rankin, Tex., Dec. 7.—(AP)—Graham Barnett, 41, a former Texas ranger noted for his speed on the draw, was killed by Sheriff W. C. Fowler, of Upton county with a sub-machine gun yesterday.

The sheriff, who poured a stream of shots at the motor car of the victim from a window of his own machine, intimidated a dispute over a financial matter led to the shooting.

Barnett dropped dead without firing any of the four weapons, including a .45 calibre automatic pistol, with which he was armed. He had been a deputy sheriff, town marshal and special officer, as well as a ranger.

"I had to do it," Sheriff Fowler said. "I was either he or me. He made a move for a gun."

Sheriff Fowler was charged with murder and released under $10,000 bond. The El Paso Times quoted the sheriff as saying Barnett, who lived in Alpine, Tex., had sought to obtain a loan from him Friday. "I declined to advance Barnett the money he requested," Fowler said, "and he became angry."

Evansville, Ind.—(AP)—The young newcomer in the seventy-second congress who will attract notice for one reason because of his odd eyeglasses—cut square and shell rimmed—is John W. Boehne, Jr., of Evansville.

Representative Boehne (pronounced Bay-nee) says he has a real reason for wearing such unusual glasses. They give him broader vision.

Boehne while a student at the University of Wisconsin was one of three singled out by Dr. William Scott, head of the school's department of commerce, as "most likely to succeed."

Barnett dropped dead without firing any of the four weapons, including a .45 calibre automatic pistol, with which he was armed. He had been a deputy sheriff, town marshal and special officer, as well as a ranger.

"I had to do it," Sheriff Fowler said. "I was either he or me. He made a move for a gun."

Sheriff Fowler was charged with murder and released under $10,000 bond. The El Paso Times quoted the sheriff as saying Barnett, who lived in Alpine, Tex., had sought to obtain a loan from him Friday. "I declined to advance Barnett the money he requested," Fowler said, "and he became angry."

WHOS NEW IN CONGRESS?

Evansville, Ind.—(AP)—The young newcomer in the seventy-second congress who will attract notice for one reason because of his odd eyeglasses—cut square and shell rimmed—is John W. Boehne, Jr., of Evansville.

A Democrat, he is the second successive generation of Boehnes to represent in congress the old first Indiana district—changed this year to the eighth. His father served as a legislator for several years.

Representative Boehne (pronounced Bay-nee) says he has a real reason for wearing such unusual glasses. They give him broader vision.

Boehne while a student at the University of Wisconsin was one of three singled out by Dr. William Scott, head of the school's department of commerce, as "most likely to succeed."

Work, family and tennis are his hobbies.

customary regalia that has captured the imagination of millions of people of all generations in many climes, will be found prowling around the main shopping centers here within the next several days, and Salvation Army Kettles and bells will greet the ears of shoppers along the principal business arteries.

Stores, virtually all of them, will begin their annual task of decorating for Christmas during the week, and by Saturday night hundreds of windows will convey their tidings of peace and joy. Merchants have put in excellent stocks this year, and in spite of the depression existing in all parts of the country, trade was expected to be just about up to normal.

Persons in residential districts will be asked to decorate their homes with Christmas trees as usual and in that way help contribute to the movement to spread happiness and peace to the hearts of the countless thousands who will view them during the holidays.

CHORAL CLUB CONCERT SOON

Local Organization to Give Event to Help Raise Funds For The Poor.

The first concert of the Greenville Choral Club will be given in the high school auditorium Tuesday, December 15, it was announced today.

The concert will be for the benefit of the community relief fund and the Welfare Department and in order to gain as much support as possible associate memberships for support of the work of the organization and the charity relief fund will be solicited at $1.00 each, and with this will go four tickets to the concert.

K. T. Futrell, director of the Welfare Department, said this morning that the need for relief work in this community during the coming winter was probably more pronounced than ever before, and he urged support of the Choral club in the effort to add its bit toward relief of human suffering.

F. R. Huffy, of Wilson, organized the Choral club here several months ago, and after extensive practice, the organization is said to be well prepared to offer one of the best programs ever heard here. The public has been urged to cooperate with the club and help further its aim to develop more interest in improvement of music.

ABOUT TOWN

The necessity of maintaining an efficient fire department was brought forcefully to the city in the fire which destroyed McGowan & Cannon's warehouse here Friday night and for a time threatened the entire tobacco district.

While the firemen, using every available piece of fire fighting equipment at their command, were able to confine the flames to the single building, they would have been faced by a far different situation had the wind been blowing to any extent and had it not been for the drenching rain of the day before.

The fire department is one of the most valuable assets the city has and it is nothing but right that it should be kept at the highest state of efficiency at all times.

Encouraged with the accomplishment of what had seemed an almost impossible task in the past, Charles D. Farmer of the State Highway Patrol is making a forceful drive against accidents.

With fog, mist, and smoke, such as the motorist has encountered during recent days, Captain Farmer is laying stress on the headlight situation.

These continue as great dangers to public safety," he said. "When a driver can't see a reasonable distance ahead at night because of blindness brought about by headlights of cars approaching him and when he can't stop because of faulty brakes, he is unsafe.

The drive to raise $5,000 to take care of the local charity situation this winter will get under way next Saturday, and the public will be called on to give liberally to the cause.

A census of the poor has shown the situation to be more severe than in years, and with the best the city can do in the way of relief much suffering is going to exist.

The relief workers feel confident the public, realizing the intense suffering already in evidence among hundreds of families, will do their part toward carrying relief to them.

The situation was handled admirably last year, but the task is more of a monumental nature this season, calling not alone for relief workers but liberally giving by those able to give.

If you do not happen to be fully informed concerning conditions, get in touch with some of the scores of people giving their time and talent to the great task and they will be able to impress you with the exigencies of the moment.

Greenville, like thousands of other towns throughout the nation, is already beginning to prepare for the coming of old St. Nick, patron saint of millions of children.

Vari-colored lights were swung across a street in the business district last week and scores of other strings are expected to make their appearance during the next several days.

Always endeavoring to show the best decorations of any town in this part of the state at Yuletide, Greenville will run true to form.

It is an old saying that "Christmas comes but once a year" and everybody should do his best to take advantage of the opportunity to brighten up human existence and attempt to enjoy the amenities of the season to the fullest extent.

NEWS BRIEFS From Over The City and County

TWO GREENVILLE PEOPLE INJURED AS CARS COLLIDE

Mrs. John R. Karsnack and mother, Mrs. J. B. Mallison, were painfully injured last night when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by a car driven by K. D. Meadows, of Trenton.

Mrs. Karsnack received a cut knee and her mother suffered mainly from shock. Two occupants of the other automobile, Estey Howard and Ronald Heritage, of Trenton, were said to have been probably seriously hurt.

The wreck occurred about one mile this side of Vanceboro as the Greenville party returning from Vandemere. The Meadows' car was said to have hit the car driven by Mrs. Karsnack after she had left the highway in an effort to avoid the collision.

Mr. Karsnack, also an occupant of the car, escaped uninjured. The occupants of the other machine were said to have been drinking, and legal action has already been instituted against them.

Lucy Daniels, who died at her home in Riverdale Friday morning was laid to rest in Cooperfield cemetary yesterday afternoon. Final rites were conducted from the First Baptist church at 1:30 o'clock by Rev. Nemo, pastor.

She was 42 years of age and was held in high esteem by members of both races.

START BRIDGE TEST TONIGHT

Marathon Between Clubertson and Lenz Excites Interest of Millions.

New York, Dec. 7.—(AP)—A marathon game of cards which is exciting millions of people will start tonight.

One player whose methods have given him a millionaire's income is so confident that he has bet 5 to 1. The wager is that he will defeat another whom he acknowledges has no superior in actual play, whom many acclaim as the world's best and who as an amateur magician with a deck can give professional gamblers cards and spades.

So much is at stake that the United States Army will take care that things are according to Hoyle of a latter day.

Woman is on the same footing as man in a competition news of which will have fast international transmission.

To the fact that his wife will be his partner and is largely responsible for his success in a game which has brought him romance and riches Ely Culbertson attributes the widespread interest in his contract bridge match with Sidney S. Lenz and Oswald Jacoby.

After a little ceremony at 8 o'clock tonight the elaborate drawing room of Culbertson's skyscraper apartment off Park Avenue will be cleared of all but players, referees, scorekeeper and butler.

The doors will be locked. No decks of cards will be shuffled by the referee. A quartet will cut. Then begins a test of rival bidding systems in a game which has spread like optimism during a bull market, displacing its parent, auction bridge, more rapidly than auction did whist.

Culbertson and Lenz have contracted to play 150 rubbers by January 15. They will move across Park Avenue from the Chatham to the Waldorf after a while. Culbertson estimates there will be 1,000 hands. The duration of the match will be almost six weeks. There will be play every Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday nights. Further sessions will be ordered if necessary. The last rubber of a session must start before 12:30 a. m.

Culbertson has posted $5,000 against $1,000 by Lenz. Any winnings go to charities specified in the contract.

But much more than $5,000 is involved. The prestige of victory will add enormously to the potential income of the winner from writings, lectures and the like on the "best" system. Somebody's income tax will take a sharp drop and Uncle Sam won't be able to do anything about it.

Laws and ethics of contract bridge as published by the Whist club of New York will prevail. This means the same regulations that govern any social game. The man on the spot to see that they are enforced will be Lieut. Alfred M. Gruenther, who is attached to West Point and as an avocation is a specialist in the conduct of bridge tournaments. He bosses them smartly. His uniform lends emphasis to dicta.

Fair enough! That's all Chesterfield wants. That's all Chesterfield could ask for and does ask for—a trial.

APPALACHIAN TOPSMYTHICAL "LITTLE SIX"

Charlotte, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Appalachian, champion of the North State conference, landed three players on the composite 1931 all-Little-Six football team compiled today by the Associated Press.

Catawba, Guilford and Lenoir-Rhyne placed two men each while Elon and High Point secured one each to give every college in the conference representation on the mythical eleven.

Four sports writers turned in first and second teams selections, two voted only for first-string men and a seventh cast ballots for only two men, explaining he was not qualified to vote for others because he had not seen all Little Six teams in action.

First team selections counted two votes, second team one, making it possible for a player to poll 14 votes but no player achieved this number.

Appalachian, Catawba's versatile player, came nearest to the highest number of votes but his ballots were so scattered among three positions that he did well to land a tackle berth.

Practically every sports writer wanted Appanatis on his team but they were not in agreement as to where he should play. Appanatis secured eight votes for tackle, four for halfback and one for fullback.

Two other players were practically unanimous selections for their positions in view of the fact that it was possible for only two men to receive as many as 14 votes. Robinson, Catawba's brilliant end, and Pete Williams, bruising fullback, received 13 votes each.

Selection of a teammate for Robinson was a close fight. Love, Guilford, with eight votes, nosing out Haworth, another Guilford flankman, for the other end. Love got seven votes.

Paired with Appanatis at tackle is Smith, of Appalachian, who received 10 votes and was an easy winner.

McKinney, Appalachian, and Carver, High Point, won the guard posts. McKinney polled nine votes and Carver eight, no one else even approached their leads.

Hemphill, of Lenoir-Rhyne, walked away with the center job, getting nine votes. His nearest competitor was Robbins, of High Point, who polled three.

Fitzgerald, of Appalachian, won the quarterback post with ease, getting nine votes. Witmer, Catawba, with five, was second.

Newton, of Lenoir-Rhyne, with nine votes, and Bunn, of Guilford, with seven, won the halfback jobs. Witmer received two votes for the general post, giving him a total of seven votes for the backfield, as many as Bunn received, but divided between two positions.

Williams, of Elon, had practically no opposition for the fullback job, he was the unanimous selection of six writers for a place on the first team. Four other men received one vote each.

This outfit presents a combination of weight, speed and players endowed with good football sense.

TULANE WILL PAY VISIT TO ROSE BOWL

Atlanta, Dec. 7.—(AP)—The Rose Bowl beckoned enticingly today to a great Tulane University football team which finished an 11-game schedule unbeaten and untied by defeating Washington State 28-14 at New Orleans this week-end.

Shortly after the Green Wave finished engulfing the courageous Cougars from the far west, the invitation was extended to Tulane to play Southern California New Year's Day in the Rose Bowl classic at Pasadena. Tulane said "yes" immediately and in a few days will begin training for the invitation.

Another top-form game of Saturday was the Tennessee-New York University tilt for charity at New York. Tennessee won, 13.0 to finish an undefeated season, but a tie with Kentucky mars the Tennesseans' record.

The last southern conference game of the year was played at Jacksonville, Fla., with Kentucky taking the measure of Florida, -2. Maryland defeated Western Maryland 41-6 to win the state championship.

Three charity games were played in the south Saturday. Alabama's 39-0 defeat of the S. I. A. A. champions, Chattanooga, headed the list. A team picked from Duke and North Carolina defeated a squad drafted from Wake Forest, Davidson, and North Carolina State 14-9. Centre whipped South Carolina, 9-7.

The University of Georgia rolled on toward Los Angeles today on a trans-continental trip for the game with Southern California this Saturday. Georgia Tech takes the field again tomorrow to practice for its engagement here December 26 with California.

The two big games of last Saturday as far as the south was concerned—Tulane and Washington State, and Tennessee and N. Y. U.—found Dixie still holding its own in inter-sectional combat. Earlier in the season Georgia whipped N. Y. U. and Yale. Vanderbilt successfully invaded Ohio State's stadium. Duke had defeated Villa Nova, and Washington and Lee beat Princeton. Maryland has won over the Navy and Tulane over Texas A. and M.

Hot on the Trail of Quality!

Nothing escapes these suspicious members of Penney's buying staff. Each is on his toes. Each suspects the worst. Each is expert in tracking down superior quality... merchandise worthy of inclusion among Penney's famous every day low prices.

Others may be confused, even deceived, by the present hue and cry over sensational values—but not these wary sleuths! They base their judgment on Penney's unvarying formula... Low Price + Quality = Value!

Penney's Extra Quality Adds Nothing to the Price!

Penney's is not in business for today only. We expect to be the favored shopping place of your children, their children and their children's children.

That's why Penney's emphasizes QUALITY as the test of "Value."

That's why Penney's is more determined than ever to quote low prices—without sacrifice of quality.

That's why Penney's will be serving the nation with HONEST VALUES long after "price-shooting" competition has disappeared!

COBB HEADS ALL-N. C. '31 GRID OUTFIT

Charlotte, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Chas. E. Cobb, Jr., the big ex-marine who captained North Carolina's Wolfpack, was the only player picked unanimously for the Associated Press' 1931 all-North Carolina football team.

Every one of the 13 sports writers whose composite selections form the Associated Press team named the giant Cobb for a tackle berth. It was the second successive year that Cobb, a junior, has been chosen for the mythical eleven.

Four others who were among the 1930 selections also repeated this fall. They were Pierce O. (Kid) Brewer, Duke fullback; Johnny Branch, University of North Carolina quarterback; Don Hyatt, Duke end, and Ellis Fysal, University of North Carolina guard.

A majority of the places on the all-star eleven are filled from the University of North Carolina's state championship squad. In addition to Branch and Fysal, the Tar Heels placed thereon Brown, end; Harry Hodges, tackle; John (Red) Gilbreath, center, and Frank (Rip) Slusser, halfback.

With the Tar Heels taking six places and Duke two, the other three members of the Big Five each gained one position. The N. C. State player picked was Cobb; that from Wake Forest, John Louis DuPre, guard, and from Davidson, Charles William Pearce, halfback.

Brewer was runner-up to Cobb in the voting. Counting each first string selection as two votes and each second string pick as one vote, Cobb received 26 votes. Brewer was given 25; Slusser, 24; Brown 23, and Fysal, 20.

The opinion of the sports writers as to the State's best center was widely divided. Gilbreath made the team with 12 votes with Buddy Gardner, Davidson, and Red Espey, N. C. State, each receiving eight. Seven votes went to Emory Adkins, Duke.

Johnny Branch with 16 votes had a four-vote margin over McQuace of N. C. State for the quarterback post. Hodges received 16 votes and Pearce 17.

Hyatt topped Leon Brodren, of Wake Forest, for an end berth 14 to 13. DuPre nosed out McIver, University of North Carolina, 15-14. Strangely enough the ends, tackles and guards of the team are twins with respect to height and weight. Hyatt and Brown are each 6 feet two inches tall and weigh 180 pounds. Cobb and Hodges, the same height at the ends, each weigh 300 pounds. Fysal and DuPre each stand five feet, 10 inches, tall and weigh 190 pounds.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist, (adv.)

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

N. Y. COTTON

New York, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today, unchanged to 1 point lower on some southern and continental selling. January sold off to 6.03.

The selling was taken by trade and local buying and orders appeared to be quite evenly divided at the start. Traders evidently paid little or no attention to the relatively steady showing of Liverpool, but the better tone of the early stock market encouraged a little more buying after the call and prices worked up slightly. January advanced from 6.03 to 6.06, and May from 6.40 to 6.43, making the market about net unchanged to two points higher, but general business was quiet and traders appeared to be waiting for some fresh development or tomorrow's government crop report.

Liverpool cables said there had been continental buying and that India advices were more encouraging. The spot quotation for Indian cotton in Liverpool was eight points higher while Egyptian futures in Alexandria were two to seven points lower.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Despite 4,145,000 bushels decrease of United States wheat visible stocks and notwithstanding meagerness of primary arrivals, wheat prices averaged lower today. Drought reports from midwestern winter wheat territory southwest were a bullish factor. On the other hand, export business in North American wheat lacked volume, totaling only 250,000 bushels, altogether Canadian.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Dec. 7.—(AP)—The stock market oscillated irresolutely today, while a distinctly better tone developed in bonds.

Markets generally were disposed to await developments at Washington, Chicago, Basel, and elsewhere. The convening of Congress, the meeting of the railway labor chiefs in Chicago, of the reparations advisory committee at Basel, and important dividend meetings, gave promise of a full week.

A fair rally developed in the share market during the morning, but was checked around midday by liquidation which was widely regarded in brokerage circles as tax selling. Early advances of 1 to 3 points were largely lost. New York Central sagged 2 points below Saturday's close, and Standard of N. J. more than 1, in fairly active selling. U. S. Steel sold off a point, then recovered partially.

The better tone in the bond market, particularly in the rails and foreign, gave fresh evidence of the stilling of much of last week's uneasiness. An early and favorable decision from the Interstate Commerce Commission on the carrier's qualified acceptance of the increase freight rate plan was again rumored.

Selling to establish income tax losses is usually a factor in the stock market at this time, and some brokers thought they saw the first conclusive signs of it today, particularly in the sale of large blocks of Standard of N. J. dividend uncertainties remain a depressing influence, although some observers feel that expected reductions have already been sufficiently discounted.
