TROOPS TO END RIOT AT HONOLULU

American Service Men Clash With Civilians in Eight Sections of City

Honolulu, Dec. 14.—(AP)—Fighting between American service men clad in dungarees and gangs of civilians on Honolulu's streets forced navy shore patrols and marines into riot duty yesterday.

Fighting broke out sporadically in eight separate sections of the city. Police attributed the disorders to the recent mistrial of five men accused of attacking the young wife of a naval officer Sept. 12.

The rioting followed the kidnaping of Horace Ada, Japanese, one of the five defendants in the assault case, and the beating of Robt. K. Wong, a Chinese mistaken by the mob for one of the defendants.

Ada was kidnaped by about 20 men, taken to the opposite side of Oahu Island, whipped, beaten and left lying beside the roadway where passing motorists found him.

The city was comparatively quiet today. Shore patrols had arrested 200 participants in the rioting and returned them to their barracks.

The major fight was in the downtown section. Police said several hundred men participated in this fray. The shore patrols began making arrests and a request was sent to the nearby Pearl Harbor naval base for reinforcements. One hundred marines, armed with rifles and blackjacks, were dispatched under command of Capt. James D. Wilson.

The shore patrol had the situation in hand however, when the marines arrived.

Last Friday Rear-Admiral Geo. T. Pettengill, commanding mine craft of the fourteenth naval district, announced he had warned Admiral Richard H. Leigh, commander of the battle force, that Honolulu was unsafe for naval officers' wives.

Rear Admiral Yates Stirling, Jr., commandant of Pearl Harbor, asserted a certain portion of the city's population refused to take assaults upon women seriously, and added that the city could expect such attacks until "the better element gets back to work to stamp out this condition."

Rear-Admiral Stirling said late last night he was sending a report to Admiral William V. Pratt, chief of naval operations, giving details of the week end's disturbances. He declared he was not making any recommendations, but added neither was he contradicting Rear Admiral Pettengill's warning that Honolulu is unsafe for wives of navy officers.

Admiral Stirling said the situation here is serious, but not serious enough to warrant concern at Washington.

G. O. P. Attempts to Regain Control of Probe Papers

Greensboro, Dec. 14.—(AP)—Chairman James S. Duncan, of the Republican State Executive committee, prepared to go into court today in an effort to regain possession of committee records seized last week by District Attorney E. L. Gavin, who announced he was investigating alleged violations of the federal law with regard to solicitation of party contributions from office-holders.

Upon the petition of Chairman Duncan, Judge Johnson J. Hayes, of the Middle district, issued an order Saturday directing the district attorney to show cause why the records should not be returned to the committee officials.

Chairman Duncan said he had no objection to the district attorney inspecting the records, but he did object to their removal from his custody. They were taken by legal process Friday.

Subpoenas have been served on Duncan and W. H. Foster, secretary-treasurer of the committee, by Mr. Gavin in connection with his investigation.

Both Duncan and Foster have issued denials that they had violated the statutes.

The grand jury has been summoned to meet Thursday, presumably for consideration of the evidence Gavin says he has obtained.

KANE FREED IN MURDER CASE

University of Tennessee Professor Is Found Not Guilty of Drowning Wife

Hampton, Va., Dec. 14.—(AP)—Elisha Kent Kane, the Third, freed by a jury of a charge of drowning his wife, resumed his duties at the University of Tennessee today.

Arrangements were made today to return the $15,000 cash bail under which Kane has been at liberty during his trial for murder, ending late Saturday night by the jury returning a verdict of acquittal.

Kane said today he plans to return to Virginia. "I will always love Virginia where I received my education and where I met and loved my wife," he said. "I love this region where we spent many happy hours together, and the fact that my wife sleeps in old St. John's cemetery further endears it to me. As often as I can I will return to spend a few minutes alone with her."

Dr. Kane said the faculty at the University of Tennessee had indicated they regarded the decision of the Elizabeth City County jury as a complete vindication. The jury returned a verdict of "not guilty" after nearly four hours of deliberation of testimony offered during the five-day trial.

It was reported unofficially that (Continued on page three)

Prisoners Ordered Held in Cells Following Shouting and Yelling in the Cell Blocks Last Night; to Investigate Attitude of Prisoners Before They Are Permitted to Return to Work; Probe of Recent Break Gets Under Way

Leavenworth, Kansas, Dec. 14.—(AP)—Many convicts at the Federal penitentiary remained locked in their cells today following a disturbance last night in which prisoners shouted and yelled in their cell blocks.

E. H. Eckholdt, secretary to Warden T. B. White, wounded Friday by one of seven prisoners who had abducted him and escaped from the penitentiary, said the disturbance had not extended throughout the convict population.

Eckholdt said the convicts were quiet this morning but had not been permitted to go to work until the disturbance was investigated and the "attitude of the prisoners" became known to authorities.

Sanford Bales, director of Federal Prisons, arrived this morning from Washington to investigate Friday's sensational prison break. With three of the convicts dead. (Continued on page three)

STORMS CLAIM TOLL OF LIFE

Fifty - Nine Persons Perish in Mediterranean and North Seas Week-End

London, Dec. 14.—(AP)—At least fifty-nine lives were lost and the lives of scores of others seriously threatened over the week-end in storms that swept the Mediterranean and North seas, damaging shipping, especially off the north coast of Africa.

One hundred survivors of the wreck of the Italian naval tug Te-4, which sank yesterday in a storm off the coast of Sardinia with the loss of at least thirty lives, arrived at Spezia, Italy, aboard the cruiser Trieste. Nineteen others came in on the steamer Piave.

Ten of them were injured and were taken to a hospital.

Numerous craft were capsized or damaged by the storm that raged off the African coast, including a coast guard cutter which was swept ashore at Bone, Algeria, with a loss of 12 lives.

The city of Algiers suffered considerable shore damage.

In the North sea the captain and 16 members of the crew of the steamer Venus were drowned off the Norwegian coast after the ship, chased as a rum runner, had been fired upon by a Norwegian coast guard vessel.

The sea was beaten by a gale at the time and it was not determined definitely whether the Venus went down because of a hole shot into her side or because she struck a rock. She lies in 15 fathoms of water, with numerous barrels of liquor floating over the spot.

Two members of the crew, who reached shore, one of them an Englishman, were arrested.

Two Men Slain In Gang Flareup

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 14.—(AP)—Two men, identified as Tom Saranita, 26, and Samuel Albizza, 27, both of St. Louis, were shot to death on a highway near here last night.

Two theories were advanced. Local police said they believed the pair were slain in an outbreak of gang warfare over either slot machine concessions or liquor. Paragone of the two men in St. Louis, however, expressed the belief that the shooting was a result of a domestic tangle.

MORE CHANGES IN THE OFFING

Action of Chiang Kai-Shek Causes Mild Sensation Throughout Country; T. V. Soong, Finance Minister of Nanking, Also Expected to Resign; Several Other Cabinet Changes Pending; Resignation Forced by Canton Clique

Nanking, Dec. 14.—(AP)—Widely circulated reports that Chiang Kai-Shek had decided to resign as president of the Nanking government, were denied in official circles tonight.

A spokesman for the president said Chiang had not indicated in any way a decision to step out of office.

Despite these official denials, however, a belief prevailed that Chiang and other high officials of the Nationalist government are likely to retire within a fortnight.

Shanghai, China, Dec. 14.—(AP)—Chiang Kai-Shek, president of China, resigned today and his resignation was accepted.

T. V. Soong, finance minister of the Nanking government, also is expected to resign within a few days and several other changes in the cabinet are anticipated.

Apparently Chiang was forced out under pressure exerted by a Cantonese clique and popular agitation expressing disappointment at the recently approved Manchurian settlement arrived at by the League of Nations council.

Chiang Kai-Shek, 46 year old Cantonese, who was commander-in-chief of the Nationalist forces in the Chinese civil war, was elected president of the National government for the first time in October, 1928, and was reelected in June, 1931.

His career has been marked by many ups and downs. In 1911 he was studying at the Tokyo military college when a revolution began in China. He abandoned his studies and became secretary to Sun Yat-Sen, later joining the troops in the field in time to participate in the storming of Shanghai.

There followed a few years of obscurity but in 1923 he reappeared as chief of staff to Sun Yat-Sen, and three years later having become a member of the general executive committee of the Revolutionary party, he emerged as the commander-in-chief of the northern expedition of the Cantonese.

In 1927 dissatisfaction with his policy became so strong that he resigned all his offices and retired to private life. After three months he was back in the ring and ever since he has been in the lead of the Nationalists' drive for power.

CONFESSES TO TAKING MONEY

Minister Admits Stealing From Church and is Forgiven by Congregation

High Point, Dec. 14.—(AP)—The Rev. J. D. Barnette, former treasurer and assistant pastor of the Green Street Baptist church here, at the church service yesterday confessed to misappropriating $869.97 of the church funds.

The minister asked and was given the forgiveness of the congregation. Hundreds of the more than 1,000 members of the church present wept as he told of his delinquency and asked forgiveness.

His ordination papers were turned over to the church by Barnette but the congregation voted to return them. He refused, however, to accept them until all the shortage had been repaid.

Barnette resigned in October. Afterwards a shortage of $120 was found in the orphanage fund and an investigation disclosed the additional shortage.

The minister gave two notes, one for $205 and another for $749.97 to cover the shortage and cost of an audit.

Republicans Take Control of Senate

Washington, Dec. 14.—(AP)—Republicans today took control of the Senate with their slim majority but four myopic ballots failed to break the dead lock over reelection of Sen. Charles McNary, republican, New Hampshire, as president pro-tempore, and adjournment was taken until tomorrow.

Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, warned the Senate after the balloting that hereafter if any "important legislation" presented itself he would not press for an election of a president pro-temp.

By side-tracking the election McNary would be left in office. The president pro-temp serves until his successor is elected.

BOY HELD FOR TWO SLAYINGS

Pennsylvania Youth Charged With Killing Two Companions While Hunting

Hazleton, Pa., Dec. 14.—(AP)—Two youths are dead and a third is in jail on a murder charge today as the aftermath of an exchange of gunfire in the evergreen forest during a hunting trip Saturday. Parents of Jacob Hudak, 16, the youth held, were attempting to obtain his release by habeas corpus proceedings.

His brother, Peter, 18, and Joseph Bubal, 17, died yesterday of their wounds. Jacob Hudak told police Bubal shot his brother and that he then shot Bubal himself.

According to his story, the three were hunting in the evergreen forest during a hunting trip Saturday.

New Reports of Misery Spur Relief Work Here

The campaign to raise $5,000 for the relief of the poor here during the winter months, which got going today as members of the canvassing committee attempted to raise the amount allotted to them.

The canvassers were reported as well pleased with their first day's work and while the total amount subscribed had not been reported, it was hoped to reach the goal before the week grows much older.

Spurred by reports of additional suffering among those hard hit by the unemployment situation, workers planned to visit persons today they were unable to see during their first day of action.

After a complete survey of conditions throughout the community, the relief committee, headed by J. S. Ficklen, is confronted with one of the most monumental tasks in history. The number of dependents has greatly increased since last year by reason of the continued gain in unemployment, and scores of worthy families will be forced to suffer from the pangs of hunger and cold unless the required fund to ameliorate their condition is raised.

Relief agencies in all other sections of the county are struggling with the same proposition faced in Greenville, and similar campaigns have been started with the hope of raising sufficient money and clothing to take care of the indigent population. Each township has been thrown upon its own responsibility as one community is as hard pressed as another, and the scope of the relief program is more far-reaching than any in the memory of relief workers.

Stories of actual misery and suffering have been presented to the committee from day to day by those prevailing among the poor and these have tended to spur workers to action so that relief may be carried to the sufferers at the earliest moment possible.

K. T. Pattell, director of Pitt County Department of Welfare, is cooperating with the central relief committee here as well as in other communities and his extensive knowledge of conditions has proved an invaluable asset to workers.

Those who have not given to the cause have been urged to do so at once, so that the committee may finish its work and begin actual ministry to those whose sufferings will be increased two-fold with the coming of severe winter weather.

Greenville Leads Large Markets in Nov. Price Avge.

Mebane continued the leading market in point of price, November sales were reported at 965,662 lbs. for an average of $11.02. Last year in November, the average price on the Mebane market was $17.53.

Sunset Pass

By ZANE GREY

Synopsis: Gage Preston's outfit at Sunset Pass has a strange reputation. Trueman Rock learns when he returns to Waggon-tongue from a six-year absence. Many riders begin work for Preston—but none of them stays. Rock is determined to work for Preston, however, because he has fallen in love with Preston's daughter, Thiry. He goes to Sunset Pass, and is met by Preston's son, Ash, who is antagonistic and tells him to leave. Ash has the reputation of being a dangerous enemy, but Rock refuses to leave until he has seen Gage Preston. Gage appears, and welcomes Rock, apologizing for Ash's lack of hospitality. There are whispers that Gage is a cattle rustler, but Rock thinks that the man's character is good. Thiry does not seem to be glad that Rock has come to Sunset Pass, and he feels that something is mysteriously wrong. Gage gives Rock a job, and shows him around the ranch.

It was just sunset when Rock came out of the cabin assigned to him. Sitting down on the stone steps of the porch, he found there was an open place between the trees permitting an unbroken view of the Pass.

Here, striking him like an invisible force in the air, was the wild scene famous among riders all over the Southwest. For riders wandered from range to range, and around camp fires and while on guard or in the bunkhouses they were wont to tell about the outfits with whom they had ridden and the ranges they had known. Rock had been asked about Sunset Pass more than once while in Texas. He recalled how he had used to rave. Small wonder!

From Preston's ranch the Pass spread into a wider stretch of grassy knolls tipped by cedars, and grassy fields dotted by cedars, and grassy ridges sloping like hog-backs down from the walls of gray and green. Ten miles and more of the most beautiful meadow and pasture land in the West! Doits and strings and bunches of cattle gave life to the scene.

Beyond the grassy levels and mounds the Pass changed to a verdant floor, only here and there showing a glint of open park. The walls leaned away, less rugged and rocky. From the league-wide forested floor, then, the Pass restricted to one-third that width and began its magnificent step by step, up and up, into the golden foothill country.

Beyond and above the foothills yawned the western end of the Pass—the grand gap that split the mountain range and gave the felicitous name to this beautiful rent in the crust of the earth.

A bell called Rock to supper. When he reached the cabin, to find the Preston boys straddling the benches. It was to be accosted by the rancher.

"Say, cowboy, when you hear the supper bell you come a-rarin'. Never wait for a second bell."

"Did you have to ring a second bell for me?" queried Trueman, in surprise.

"I did—or you'd have missed your supper," returned Thiry. She was standing near where Preston sat at the head of the table. Her face seemed to catch the afterglow of sunset, and her eyes, too.

"Thanks...I'm sorry to be late. I didn't hear..." "Rock, you set your cross on my right. They'll put you across from Thiry. Hope it doesn't spoil your appetite!"

"Dad, instead of cracking jokes, you should introduce Mr. Rock to the other boys," reproved Thiry, calmly.

"Scuse me. Let's see. Are we all here?...Whar's Ash?"

"He rode off somewheres," replied one of the boys.

"Wal, Rock, meet Range Preston, an' that's his real name. An' Scott, which is short for some handle Ma gave him once...an' Boots, whose proper name is Frank...Boys, this is Trueman Rock."

Preston's humorous introduction, and Rock's friendly response, elicited only a "howdy" from each of these older sons.

"Reckon we can eat now," added Preston. "Set down, Rock, an' pitch in."

Presently Rock stole a glance at Thiry, to catch her eyes on him. That made him so happy he did not dare risk another. But he could see her plate, and that the food on it diminished slowly. She was not hungry. His coming to Sunset Pass had unaccountably troubled her. It puzzled and annoyed Rock. It was far from flattering. It was not such a cad that would impose himself upon a girl who disliked him on first sight. But Rock could not believe that could be wholly true. What had he done to deserve that?

(Copyright, Zane Grey)

"I want to talk to you," Thiry unexpectedly tells Rock tomorrow. Her first question amazes him.

CHORAL SOCIETY TO MAKE FIRST APPEARANCE TUESDAY EVENING

The Greenville Choral Society will make their first appearance at the high school auditorium tomorrow evening, Dec. 15, at 8:15 o'clock.

The net proceeds from this concert will be given to the unemployment bureau for distribution.

As an advertising medium a Choral Society in any community is the outstanding feature. The Greenville Choral Society made up of ladies and gentlemen of Greenville, have been at work on an elaborate program, the first number of which will be the solos and choruses from Charles Gounod's wonderful opera "Faust." The strains of this wonderful music has thrilled its hearers the world over. No orchestra is complete without Gounod's Faust in their repertoire.

The second number will be Denza's "Garden of Flower" classed as one of the finest and most tuneful of all ladies' choruses portraying the birth of the garden, the coming of the white butterfly, the lovely rosebud flecked with dew, summer breezes over the hills and plains, and ending with the garden's death.

Recovering From Operation

Friends of little Betty Owens will be glad to know that she is getting along nicely following a tonsil operation.

Attention, Choral Society.

There will be a rehearsal of the Choral Society in the high school auditorium this evening at 7:30.

Every member is urged to attend as this is a very important rehearsal. All members will please bring all money collected, all tickets they have left and all music.

Duke Alumni Hold Meeting.

On Friday night, Dec. 11, at 7:30 o'clock, the Duke Alumni of Pitt County gathered at the cafeteria of the Greenville high school to celebrate the seventh anniversary of the signing of the indenture by James B. Duke. The meeting was well attended and the various towns in Pitt county were well represented. President C. W. Porter presided and welcomed the members to the delightful supper of creamed chicken, scalloped oysters, hot rolls, coffee and plum pudding.

The feature of the evening was an inspiring and interesting talk by Dr. Hickman of the Duke University Religious Education Department. Dr. Hickman very interestingly told of the rapid progress and development of the present Duke University. He said only the best of the nation's talent in the various realms of education had been engaged as members of the Duke faculty. He also paid tribute to the old Trinity members of the present faculty and stated that they had contributed largely to the success of his greater university. He said that Duke University was simply the outgrowth of old Trinity and that the same Trinity spirit of loyalty must prevail if Duke is to become the great university which we all want to make it.

After Dr. Hickman's fine address the officers for the coming year were elected. S. B. Underwood was elected president; Rev. I. S. Richmond, vice-president; Mrs. W. Foster Young, secretary and treasurer; Miss Mamie Jenkins, representative to the Duke Alumnae Association. After the election of officers the meeting adjourned.—Reported.

Winterville P. T. A. Meets.

Last Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock the P. T. A. of the Winterville school held their regular meeting in the school auditorium.

Among the items of business attended to were the subject of grade mothers and the attendance awards. The association voted to have grade mothers but leave the selection with the pupils and the teacher. It was decided to give a book to the room having the greatest percentage of their parents present. After reports from the various committees the meeting was turned over to the program committee.

There has been so much discussion as to how much home work should be expected of the child that the committee decided to make their program answer this question. A home showing the ideal situation under which a child can study at home and one showing the many interruptions most children have, was shown. Then the following teachers with pupils from their room made assignments showing the parents what home work was expected of the child: Miss Hart, primary department; Miss Greenway, grammar grade department; Mrs. Webster, high school.

Mr. Hillman, of Jarvis Memorial Church, Greenville, gave a most interesting talk on "The Relation of the School and the Home." He showed how a great deal of trouble could be avoided by co-operating with the school and assuring the teacher of their whole-hearted support.

anyone present" when he told the Senate leaders. The silence thereupon was broken by Senator Borah of Idaho, the chairman of the foreign relations committee, who observed that while he had not voiced objection he had informed Mr. the action would not bind him, and that he would consider the foreign debtors in "technical default."

But Borah is among the many leaders who predict ratification. Their staunch opposition, however, appeared to have sunk, for the time being, President Hoover's proposal for further European debt relief. Some in Congress believe it is sunk for all time.

Today, Chairman Smoot of the Senate finance committee, proposed to introduce his alternative plan, which would allow the debtors to pay in silver instead of gold. There is opposition to that, too.

EIGHT LIVES CLAIMED BY TORNADO IN TWO STATES

property damage today were left in the wake of a tornado that whipped across southwestern Arkansas and northern Louisiana yesterday.

The storm followed unseasonably warm weather and a deluge of rain. Much of the south reported downpours yesterday. Forecasts were for cloudy and cooler weather today.

Five year old Helen Colvert was buried in the wreckage of her home and fatally injured as the storm struck Camden, Ark. Her father and a sister were also hurt.

Two negro children were killed as the tornado tore its way over a plantation near Minden, La., and destroyed three houses.

Despite heavy property damage at Waldo, Ark., where but two or three business buildings and a few homes were left undamaged, only two persons were known injured there. Mr. and Mrs. J. T. King, Hal of the railway station where King is agent was torn away.

Hundreds were forced from their homes as the tornado dipped down ripping off roofs and overturning lighter structures through the various stricken regions. The homeless were cared for in makeshift headquarters and at neighboring towns.

Red Cross relief workers were dispatched to the area from St. Louis. The Methodist church and court house were among the buildings wrecked at Camden.

Swollen streams and rivers thru southwestern Arkansas and northern Louisiana threatened traffic. Trains were re-routed in the El Dorado section because of submerged tracks and washouts but the waters began to recede last night.

Highway travel between Monroe and Shreveport, La., was disrupted and a washout cut off rail travel between the two cities. A party of eleven boy scouts was marooned at a camp near Monroe until firemen rescued the group by using ladders as a makeshift bridge.

The rain caused the bursting of a dam at Shreveport, flooding 3000 acres of land and silencing radio station KWKH, operated by W. K. Henderson. A small dam at an artificial lake at Marshall, Tex., also went out and thousands of fish were carried away.

Near Wartrace, Tenn., a cyclone struck yesterday, uprooting trees and unroofing buildings in the section. Only last Friday a tornado hit near Texarkana, Ark., killing two persons.

of two specie shipments of $7,500,000 to the United States, contemplated by the Yokohama specie bank to complete deliveries of dollar bills. The bank may contest the ban.

The stock exchanges are expected to remain closed at least until the middle of the week. The gold embargo and a subsequent drop in the yen on foreign exchange were anticipated by speculators estimated to have been about $200,000,000.

The Mitsui bank was reported to have purchased more than 100,000,000 yen worth of dollars in anticipation of a dollar rise, and other banks lesser amounts, but well into the tens of millions. In the meantime a Rengo News Agency dispatch from Mukden, Manchuria, said Japanese military authorities decided to postpone until the end of the year the ultimatum they intended to present to Marshal Chang Hsueh-Liang ordering the evacuation of Chinchow. They believed Marshal Chang's downfall and the collapse of the Chinchow government imminent, the dispatch said.

Another dispatch to the newspaper Asahi from Tientsin, China, said Marshal Chang plans to order his forces at Chinchow to withdraw south, behind the great wall, in anticipation of a more positive policy from the new Inukai government in Japan.

A short statement on the country's economic situation was issued by finance minister Korekiyo Takahashi after a meeting of the new cabinet, within a few hours of its installation. The statement forbade the exportation of gold without the permission of the finance minister. It prescribed penalties for violating the order.

GOVERNMENT WILL ALLOW POSTPONEMENT OF DEBTS

Christmas recess.

Washington, Dec. 14.—(AP)—Taking silence from Congress as the next best thing to consent, the administration will allow without objection postponement of $125,000,000 of foreign debt payments due tomorrow.

With nothing stronger to go upon than the absence of objection on the part of Senate leaders who were told about it, Undersecretary Mills (Continued on page three) of the Treasury announced last night the position that will be taken by the executive branch of the government pending ratification of the one-year moratorium by Congress.

The debtor nations know unofficially, that they will not be considered in default. They know, also unofficially, the exact language in which they will be told about it officially, if they ask.

Mills made public a brief statement which he said Secretary Stimson will deliver verbally to representatives of any inquiring nations. It explained the situation which prevents action in Congress by tomorrow and concluded that under the circumstances postponement of payments would appear to this government not "subject to any just criticism."

It was the undersecretary who said "no objection was voiced by

ABOUT TOWN

A little girl went to school without a cloak during one of the recent cold spells here.

"I have only one coat," the little girl said. "I wear it one day and brother the next. It was brother's time today and I had to do without."

Welfare workers said it was only one of the serious cases coming to their attention from time to time as they go about their way trying to carry cheer and comfort to the hearts of the poor.

The condition here is described as the most serious in years and will become increasingly accentuated as the icy blasts of winter sweep across the country.

The central relief organization is doing everything in its power to provide relief for those in distress but the task is going to be a hopeless one without the concerted support of the more fortunate.

The campaign to raise $5,000 for carrying on the work this winter was begun Saturday, and will be continued until the desired amount has been subscribed.

The people have been asked to contribute liberally and in that way help the community provide for deserving men, women and children who without this aid would suffer indescribably from cold and hunger during the long winter days ahead.

The high school basketball season will get under way in the near future and when it does, hope has been expressed by officers of the athletic department that they will be given the most loyal support by people who appreciate this kind of sport.

The high school has been cramped for funds for several years, and its youthful athletes are finding it difficult to take part in the various kinds of sports because of inadequate equipment.

This condition was noticeable during the recent football season, and had not some of the civic clubs come to the rescue the players would have gone through the season without sufficient uniforms, not considering other things needed to make play safe for them.

Greenville schools have won enviable recognition in many phases of activity during past years but it will be impossible for the youngsters to find their rightful place in the world of sports without better support from the public.

Exciting games of basketball are promised by both the boys and girls during the coming season and those who attend may rest assured of getting their money's worth. The girls had the honor last year of winning the championship of the Northeastern athletic conference and hope to capture the same honor again this year.

They should receive the encouragement which large attendance always gives, and it is hoped they have it at every game.

Salvation Army kettles will be on the streets in the business district during the holidays to receive funds to care for the scores of people served by the organization.

Workers, ringing bells, will stand near the kettles and attempt to remind the public that the coming of Christmas will mean the need of additional funds to care for their work.

The Salvation Army reaches classes of people it is impossible for others to touch, both in a spiritual and material way, and the nickles and dimes placed in the kettles will do much toward furthering this work.

The organization has represented human service in the highest form for many years, but especially during the great World War when the workers won an everlasting place in the hearts of the soldiers through their loyal ministry on the front ranks.

Don't forget to place an offering in the kettles as you go about your Christmas shopping, remembering that the faithful workers are still attempting to accomplish the great purpose of the organization in spite of the small contributions received.

OAKHURST FARM PIG SALE DRAWING MUCH INTEREST

J. H. Boyd, owner of Oakhurst and breeder of registered Duroc-Jersey hogs, will offer forty choice pigs from 12 to 16 weeks old at auction December 19 at 10:30 a. m. This gives Pitt county farmers an opportunity to buy good registered Duroc-Jersey stock at their own price.

COMMITTEES CONTINUE EFFORT TO IMPROVE RURAL CONDITIONS

Farm men and women have been sitting on committees with leaders from the State College for the past two weeks. Two-day meetings have been held in Wilmington, Kinston, Edenton and Rocky Mount. Five other conferences will be held throughout the state.

Farm women, specialists for the college and home agents, are working on recommendations best fitted to the needs of rural families in "home management," foods and nutrition, "clothing," and "family life."

Mrs. O. H. Jackson, Mrs. Jerome McGlohon, Mrs. J. Brooks Tucker and Mrs. B. L. Tyson have met with the respective committees at Kinston and Rocky Mount. One outstanding need that has been discussed is the need for help in "household accounting."

As a result a class in "household accounting" will be organized in this county the first of the year. Miss Heen Estabrook, specialist in home management, has been asked to each ed in past months.

With the business district literally blazing with hundreds of vari-colored lights, it is hoped housewives will go about decorating their homes during the present week, and in that way contribute their bit toward making Greenville one of the best decorated cities in this section of the state during the holidays.

Decorations in past years have been of a commendable nature, but the business district, assisted by the city, has outstripped all other holidays by stringing more lights across intersections of principal streets.

A tree will be placed in the center of Five Points, and decorated as it will be with scores of colored lights, surrounded by strings of each intersection, will be a thing of beauty and splendor. It will be visible for many blocks away and should prove an inspiration to shoppers as they pass along that part of the business district seeking gifts of the Yuletide.

Homes should not eliminate decorations because of depression. Christmas trees are inexpensive, and the small number of lights placed on them will be of small financial consideration compared with the thrill and pulse-quickening which they will engender.

It is the hope of the committee on decorations that all former records can be shattered this year and the public has been called upon to help them realize this ambition.

this class. All members will keep an account book. There will be inspiration features. All women and girls of the county are eligible. Please let the home agent know if you would like this help. Remember, it is important that you begin January 1 and keep a list of all money received and all expenditures. At the first meeting you will be shown what to do.

JAPAN READY TO STOP WAR

China, However, Must Vacate Manchuria Before They Do So, Minister Asserts

(Copyright 1931 by the Associated Press)

Tokyo, Dec. 14.—(AP)—Premier Tsuyoshi Inukai declared tonight that Marshal Chang Hsueh-Liang must withdraw his Chinese army from the Manchuria district.

"As soon as he does this," the Premier told the Associated Press correspondent, "Japan will evacuate occupied points outside of the South Manchurian railway zone, and peace will be restored to Manchuria."

The Premier hesitated a moment, apparently giving careful consideration to what he was going to say next. Then he continued:

"I don't see any other way out of the difficulty. Chang himself must realize that."

Premier Inukai had just concluded a prolonged session of the cabinet, the first to occur in his official residence.

If M. Inukai was fatigued after a day which began at 5 a. m., and included luncheon with the Emperor, conferences with an endless stream of political leaders and office seekers, and a four-hour cabinet session, he did not show it in the least.

Two Shootings and Holdup At Southern Pines

Southern Pines, N. C., Dec. 14.—(AP)—A holdup and two shootings, all attributed to the same unidentified negro, caused excitement in this resort area over the week end.

Miss Eula Lucas, of Roseland, was shot, but not seriously wounded late Saturday night when the negro sprang upon the automobile in which she was riding with Carlton Blue, of Carthage, and fired one time.

The attack took place on the Southern Pines-Pinehurst highway, about 30 minutes after a lone robber had held up Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Vann, of Southern Pines, on the same road. Mr. Vann was robbed of a small sum of money.

Officers and posemen, assisted by bloodhounds, took up the search for the robber, but without finding substantial clues. Walter F. Doby, former Durham police chief, reported he was fired upon while engaged in the search, presumably by the man sought.

Savings Clubs In the Carolinas Pay $5,000,000

Atlanta, Dec. 14.—(AP)—Christmas savings clubs in the two Carolinas this year had a total of $5,000,000 deposited by members.

Herbert F. Rawls, president of the national organization of clubs, announced here today that the club deposits in North Carolina amounted to $2,600,000, and in South Carolina, $2,400,000.

Tennessee led the South with $4,800,000.

GRID SEASON WILL CLOSE IN EAST ON SAT.

New York, Dec. 11.—(AP)—The East's long football season comes to an end tomorrow with the 32nd clash between Army and Navy.

The two service academies met in an extra-added feature on the common grounds of cadetry. For the second time in as many years the receipts will go to the fund for the unemployed.

Pre-game estimates indicate a crowd of 80,000 in the Yankee Stadium and receipts in excess of $400,000.

Although the athletic "break" between the two schools is just as wide now as it was in December, 1927 when the Army declined to adopt the three-year eligibility rule at the Navy's demand, the fact remains that they are natural rivals meeting in a game which both are primed to win.

Army's record is by far the more impressive but most experts figure the Cadets "pointed" for the Notre Dame game which they won, 12-0, and perhaps have lost that fine edge that made them look so impressive against the Ramblers.

Navy, on the other hand, has advanced slowly toward the peak of condition. The Tars gave ample warning of trouble for the Army when they upset Penn last week, 6-0, on a long pass from Lou Kirt to Joe Tachiri.

Weather prospects were for rain tonight making it almost certain that the game would be played on a slippery field. If so, more than ever the result probably will turn on a "break" in favor of either.

This Game of GOLF

By O. B. KEELER

Readers of this column may recall a reminiscent sketch a few weeks ago in which the famous battle between Chick Evans and Charley Macfarlane in the British amateur at Sandwich was outlined.

The outline was not quite exact, it appears, for here is a letter from the Wee Scot himself, dated at the editorial rooms of The Evening News, Catmelle House, London, in which Prince Charlie sets me right on two little matters.

"Frank King," writes Charlie, referring to an eminent Associated Press staff man in London, "showed me the story of Sandwich in 1914, in which you said I went out in 32 and had Chick Evans 5 down. 'Actually it was 31; and, as you say, I did have a 6 on the fourth hole, but that was because Chick was playing it very badly and I took it safely, only to see him hole a long downhill putt for a half in 6.' And another thing.

"The French amateur championship did not see me that year," Charlie continues, "so Chick did not beat me at LaBouille. I played late in July of 1914 to open the golf course at Shirley Park, with Major Hezlet, James Braid and Sandy Herd. Then I did not strike another golf ball for four years. There was a war on, you see, and I was a soldier. Not a very good one, but—well, there it was."

I have it from other and equally authentic sources, however, that Charlie was a good soldier. He is now a good golf writer, for The London Evening News.

Chick Undisturbed

Incidentally, the next time Charlie saw Chick Evans, after the pyrotechnics at Sandwich, when Chick went out in par 36 and was 5 down to Macfarlane's 31, was at Hoylake in the British amateur championship of 1921.

The war had come and gone. The Wee Scot was back at golf and golf writing again. The American had come over in considerable force—a round dozen crack amateurs, led by the redoubtable Chick, United States champion, were out to lift the British cup.

"I saw Chick," writes Macfarlane, "at the 17th green, right opposite John Ball's hotel, on a clear, bright windy day in June.

"You know, I had wondered somewhat how Chick felt in after years, about that quite astonishing and I may say unwarrantable beating I gave him at Sandwich, when it looked much as if he might win the championship.

"I really should not have been surprised or greatly put out by a bit of coolness in our next meeting. But Chick isn't that way. Smiling his happiest, he greeted me as an old friend; we have been friends a long time, now—17 years, at the least."

GIBBONS SAYS JACK DEMPSEY IN FINE TRIM

St. Paul, Minn., Dec. 11.—(AP)—Tommy Gibbons, retired St. Paul boxer, thinks Jack Dempsey today looks "nearer the condition he was in when the local man fought him at Shelby, Mont., eight years ago, than at any time since.

Gibbons expressed that opinion after watching Dempsey, former world's heavyweight champion, work out here in preparation for an exhibition boxing program tonight.

"I was pleased and surprised to find Dempsey down to fighting trim," said Gibbons, who lost a 15-round decision to Jack at Shelby and who was the only opponent to escape a knockout by Dempsey from the time he won the title from Jess Willard until he lost it to Gene Tunney.

Dempsey tonight is scheduled to box one round each with Angus McDonald, Winnipeg, and Jack Roper, Chicago, and two rounds with Art Lasky, Minneapolis.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

N. Y. COTTON

New York, Dec. 14.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today, 2 points higher to 4 points lower, with January selling at 6.01. Business was quiet.

While the Japanese embargo on gold shipments had been expected, the announcement seemed to have rather a confusing effect on sentiment. The South was not a seller in any volume, however, while there was trade buying and covering, and after the first few minutes of hesitation, the market developed a steeper tone, which was probably promoted by the steeper ruling of the early stock market.

January rallied to 6.05, while May advanced from 6.35 to 6.42, with the general market ruling about 3 to 5 points net higher at the end of the first half hour. The census bureau reported domestic consumption of 428,870 bales for November compared with 415,315 for the same month last year, but the figures appeared to be without much effect on the market.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Dec. 14.—(AP)—Helped by 4,145,000 bushels decrease this week in the United States wheat visible supply, wheat developed fresh strength today during the late dealings. The total supply, 213,509,000 bushels compared with 169,620,000 a year ago. On the other hand, stocks of wheat on ocean passage were dangerously scant, aggregating but 29,736,000 bushels against 37,504,000 at this time a year ago.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Dec. 14.—(AP)—A flurry of short covering gave the stock market a momentary boost today, but the market ran into fresh liquidation after midday.

The railroads held up well, but the weight of selling in other sections of the list was heavy depressing a number of leading issues to new low levels. Losses of 2 to 3 or more points were registered by U. S. Steel, American Telephone, United Gas Imp., Consolidated Gas and American Tobacco.

The railroad stocks benefited from reports that the railroad executives were considering their controversy with union leaders would be adjusted at a reasonably early date. Nevertheless, the weight of selling in other sections of the list caused loss of early railroad gains. In addition, Baltimore and Ohio, Southern Pacific and Pennsylvania declined about 2 points.

Leading Wall street executives viewed the decision of the Japanese government to suspend payments in gold as a regrettable, but by no means a necessarily harmful expedient.

American commerce, it was reasoned, should be little affected. Full influence of the decision is impossible to measure at this time, they agreed, but aside from temporary unsettlement which a rapidly changing price for the yen might cause in the world markets for silk and cotton, no change of major importance was anticipated. Holders of $300,000,000 of Japanese bonds in this market will not suffer, it was said, as payments on principal and interest are to be made in dollars and not yen.
