SEN. ASHURST PULLS OUT OF DRYLAW PROBE

Senator Black Appointed to Fill Vacancy on Special Judiciary Committee.

Washington, Dec. 29.—(AP)—Describing attempts to change the prohibition laws as "a ridiculous waste of effort," Senator Ashurst, Democrat, Arizona, today withdrew from a Senate judiciary committee named to hold hearings on the subject.

In a statement Senator Ashurst said:

"I voted for the Eighteenth Amendment, for the Volstead law, for the anti-beer bill and for all the appropriations necessary to enforce the same.

"I do not believe I made any mistake in so voting.

"I have no time to waste in aiding those who are attempting to weaken or relax that amendment on those laws. It is a ridiculous waste of effort to attempt to relax or modify the prohibition laws. The people are looking for jobs, not jags.

Another friend of prohibition, Senator Black, Democrat, Alabama, was appointed to fill Senator Ashurst's place by Chairman Norris of the judiciary committee.

Senator Black said he presumed he would serve if he was wanted on the committee, "but at the present time it is my opinion that the entire efforts of Congress should be to do whatever it can to relieve the terrible conditions of unemployment and not to hear people's personal opinions on the Eighteenth Amendment."

Chairman Norris pointed out that the change in personnel did not disturb the wet and dry line-up of the sub-committee.

"I named a wet chairman and put a majority of dries on the committee," he said. He listed Chairman Blaine, Republican, Wisconsin, and Hebert, Republican, Rhode Island, as the wets, and Senators Borah, Republican, Idaho, Walsh, Democrat, Montana, and Black, as the dries.

Norris said taking evidence was to "some extent foolish but neither side will be satisfied without it."

Democrats Hope To Get $200,000,000 Revenue Without Raising Taxes

Washington, Dec. 29.—(AP)—Speaker Garner said today the Democrats expect to raise $200,000,000 in revenue without additional levies of taxes, as one method of meeting the treasury deficit.

The increased revenue, as outlined by him, would be obtained by the enactment of amendments to existing laws to stop loopholes through which taxes are evaded.

This is one phase of the study the Texas representative conducted last summer into present revenue legislation, with a view of perfecting the revenue law.

SEEK DEBT COMPROMISE

France and England After New Policy on Reparations After American Action.

Paris, Dec. 29.—(AP)—France and England are seeking a compromise policy concerning reparations as a result of America's refusal to revise or cancel war debts. It was reported today in informed quarters.

The basic discussions between representatives of both countries, it was understood is a suggestion for a one to three year moratorium on Germany's conditional reparations, payments instead of the five year postponement proposed by England or the two year holiday suggested by France.

The agreement would contain a safety clause under which Germany would be asked to continue payment of annuities if the United States should refuse to grant an (Continued on Page Four)

LEAF MARKET OPENS JAN. 5

New Year Greetings Extended to Twenty Thousand Patrons of Greenville Market.

After observance of the holidays, the Greenville tobacco market will re-open for business Tuesday, January 5th, it was announced today by K. W. Cobb, supervisor of sales.

The market suspended operations for observance of the holidays Friday, December 18th, in order to give its hundreds of employees a chance to visit relatives and friends.

Along with announcement of the date for resumption of operation, Mr. Cobb, on part of the market, extended best wishes for a happy and prosperous New Year to the twenty thousand farmers who sell here. The greetings included growers in North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Virginia, these sections having been represented on sales here during the season.

In addition, farmers were urged to market the remainder of the crop in Greenville, the center of the largest bright leaf producing area in the world.

Few Accidents From Heavy Fog

In spite of the almost impenetrable fog which hung over this section last night and early today, no automobile accidents of any consequence had been reported here today.

The fog was so thick even on the streets of the city that traffic was carried on slowly and with much caution. On the highways drivers were forced to stop at times to get their bearings.

The murkiness was described as even greater than that which visited this part of the state several weeks ago and resulted in numbers of injuries and deaths on the highways.

Traffic officers attributed the lack of accidents last night to careful driving by those who were forced to be on the roads.

Indiana Sheriff Held in Robbery Of Four Banks

Portland, Ind., Dec. 29.—(AP)—Accused of complicity in four eastern Indiana bank robberies, Sheriff Ira Barton of Blacford county was arrested at Hartford City last night and brought to the county jail here.

State investigators sought to determine what part, if any, the sheriff had in two holdups of the Citizens State Bank at Hartford City, a robbery at the First National Bank of Montpelier, and the Christmas Eve holdup of the First State Bank of Dunkirk, Ind.

They had before them a statement of Lorenz Capell of Steger, Ill., held for the Dunkirk robbery, that Barton had agreed to "clear the town" for the robberies, and had promised them immunity if arrested in Blackford county. Capelli withheld his plea yesterday when Albert Prabotta and Frank Valentino, both of Chicago Heights, Ill., pleaded guilty to the Dunkirk job and were sentenced to 20 years.

New Drive For Consolidation Of Government

Washington, Dec. 29.—(AP)—The administration plans a new drive for consolidation of government departments and bureaus as a means of reducing federal expenditures.

The President made the plan public today at a press conference.

Within a month or two after Congress has acted upon his emergency economic program, he will transmit a special message urging emergency consolidation.

Among them he named transfer of the Shipping Board into the Department of Commerce; a grouping under one head of the government's educational activities, creation of a bureau of construction to handle all federal building activities except for the army and navy; a combination of federal conservation activities, and a similar combining of public health efforts.

JAPS CAPTURE ANOTHER TOWN

Panshanhsien Falls Before Forces Which Yesterday Captured Tawa.

Yingkow, Manchuria, Dec. 29.—The town of Panshanhsien, on the Chinese branch line connecting Yingkow and Kowangtze fell today to the Japanese force which yesterday captured Tawa.

The cavalry moved in after an aerial bombardment, then a fleet of armored trucks, followed by the infantry. The column stopped there and camped for the night.

This drive is pushing in the direction of Kowangtze, more than half way from Mukden to Chinchow and there were indications that it might develop into a movement against Chinchow itself.

BIG TRIBUTE FOR WILSON

Seventy-Fifth Natal Anniversary of Late President Marked By Much Praise.

By the Associated Press
Woodrow Wilson's seventy-fifth birthday anniversary evoked from Democrats throughout the country calls for another leader such as he to guide the country today.

With unanimity, speakers who paid tribute to the war President in assemblies of the Democratic faithful, chose this theme.

In New York his widow was in the audience which heard Raymond B. Fosdick, president of the Woodrow Wilson Foundation, speak of "The Clumsy Dodges, the Face-Saving Devices, the International Puss-Footing That Have Characterized American Foreign Policy in the Last Ten Years."

In Boise, Idaho, last night, Governor Dern of Utah, eulogizing Wilson's qualities, asserted:

"We need that sort of leadership now, the leadership of men who respond not simply to popular clamor or to demands of special business or political interests, but to the dictates of their own unconquerable souls."

The war President appeared as a second Thomas Jefferson in the remarks at St. Joseph, Mo., of Professor William E. Dodd of the University of Chicago, and at Bridgeport, Conn., Democratic Governor Cross placed upon the Republican party responsibility for the country's distressed economies. The G. O. P., he charged, has let the Federal Reserve system established in Wilson's time fall into hands of politicians.

Henry Morgenthau, once ambassador to Turkey, told a dinner gathering at Camden, N. J., that only in Wilsonian ideals would the Dem-

Norman Davis Made Member Geneva Confab

President Hoover today announced appointment of Norman Davis, former undersecretary of state as a member of America's delegation to the Geneva arms conference.

This brought the delegation which leaves early next month to four, and more might be named. Ambassador Dawes will be chairman. Other members are many Emma Woolley, president of Mount Holyoke College and Senator Swanson, Democrat, Virginia.

Hugh S. Gibson, ambassador to Belgium, will be a delegate but his appointment has not been formally announced.

ASKS FEDERAL FUND TO HELP U. S. JOBLESS

Editor of Welfare Magazine Testifies Before Senate Committee at Capital.

Washington, Dec. 29.—(AP)—Federal appropriations to supplement local unemployment relief was recommended to a Senate committee today by Jaul U. Kellogg, editor of the welfare magazine Survey.

Testifying on bills to appropriate from $250,000,000 to $375,000,000, he said the city of Toledo presents "an extreme case of community distress."

Its biggest corporation, he said, had a payroll of 30,000 in 1929 which dropped to 3,000 or 4,000 in 1930.

Toledo, Kellogg, added, "is extreme as a case of irresponsible industrial management."

ARMED MEN LOOT TOWN

Hold Residents Pine River, Minn., Captives and Then Raid Stores.

Pine River, Minn., Dec. 29.—(AP)—A band of six men, armed with machine gun and rifles, took charge of this community of 410 persons early today, slugged the constable, held a group of residents captive for two hours and looted stores.

Using the ruse they were on official business for Sheriff F. E. Little of Brainerd, the men went to the Frank Marsh home at 3 A. M. Marsh was forced to direct them to the home of the constable. He resisted their efforts to hold him and was floored by a blow as a raider struck him with his gun.

When he revived, he was forced to accompany the group to the Horrigan Drug Store, and to where Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Horrigan and Mrs. Horrigan's sister lived.

The Horrigans were routed from their beds. Mr. Horrigan was forced to open the cash drawer of the drug store. The robbers took $200 in cash and then left a guard with Mrs. Horrigan and her sister, while they marched Marsh, Horrigan and Horrigan to the Harold Hill home.

Hill and his wife were ordered from their beds and lined up against a wall. The robbers took Mrs. Hill's $150 diamond ring and Hill's long hunting rifle.

Then the bandits marched their prisoners back to the Horrigan home, leaped into their car and fled toward Brainerd.

Before departing the raiders locked the four men in the basement of the Horrigan home and the three women in a bedroom.

FINLAND VOTES ON PROHIBITION

Country Goes to Polls To Definitely Settle 13-Year-Old Controversy.

By LOUIS LOCHNER
Helsinki, Finland, Dec. 29.—Skis and skates and sledges, reindeer and automobiles, silted and squeaked over Finland's snow today as the voting portion of the country's 3,500,000 people moved out to have its say on the 13-year-old prohibition law.

Old boreas blew a roaring blizzard down from the north yesterday as a fanfare to open the voting—but probably kept thousands of country people at home because of impassable roads.

During a brief but intense campaign an unusually strong interest has been aroused on both sides of the question, and observers here looked for a heavy poll during the two days—today and tomorrow—unless the weather is extremely severe.

There was a touch of Santa Claus to the scene in the far northern sections where "Pulkas" filled with bundled Finns and Lapps and drawn by reindeer creaked through the darkness of the long Arctic winter night to reach the voting urns in the villages.

In the farm country of the near northern and central regions the voters got out their skis. Skates (Continued on Page Four)

MEET DEMANDS OF JAPANESE

Chang Hsueh-Liang Believed to Have Decided to Withdraw His Troops to a Point South of the Great Wall, Completely Complying with Provisions of Japanese To Suspend Military Operations.

Shanghai, China, Dec. 29.—(AP)—Reports from Tientsin today said it was widely believed there that Marshal Chang Hsueh-Liang had decided to evacuate Chinchow.

The Chinese general, these reports said, had decided to withdraw to a point south of the great wall. This would take the last considerable Chinese force out of Manchuria, and would be in compliance with the Japanese demand.

FLOOD MENACE STILL SERIOUS

Rivermen Fight to Hold Barriers in Mississippi and Louisiana.

Glendora, Miss., Dec. 29.—(AP)—Hastily reinforced barriers, hourly weakening under the steady battering of flood waters, today along protected the lowlands around Glendora from the menace of the swollen bayou caddy.

Meanwhile, the Bouef river, backed out of its natural course by the overflowing Quachita, drove a dozen or more families from their homes near Monroe, La.

Rivermen called the situation alarming today as flood fighters, who were able to bridge a gap in the bouy caddy levee system yesterday, strove to meet and hold off the increasing crush of water.

One hundred convicts from the penal farm at Parchman were pressed into service to fight off the threatened smashing of the weakened dykes along an eleven-mile front in the section when the flood reaches its expected height today.

Weak spots developed at half a dozen points along the levee system. The 20 foot crevasse here yesterday spread water over half this little Tallahatchie county town.

The Bouef around Monroe was registering a rise of two inches every 24 hours. The Bouef empties into the Quachita southeast of here. The land in southern Monroe is low and there are no protecting levees, but flooding of this section had caused no apprehension for the city proper.

ROTES DONATE TO POOR FUND

Deny Themselves the Usual Supper; Give Proceeds to Relief Committee.

Impressed by the seriousness of the situation confronting the poor of the community, Greenville Rotarians last night contributed to the $5,000 fund being raised by the local relief committee to take care of the situation.

Holding "open house," the Rotes denied themselves of regular supper and contributed the sum usually devoted to this cause to the relief campaign.

The regular program was completely omitted, club members merely registering themselves as present and returning home for dinner.

Virtually every banquet club of the city has adopted the program followed by the Rotarians last night and a goodly sum has been realized for the poor fund, although the goal set by the relief committee has not been reached.

County Court Sitting Today

The regular session of County court was in progress here today with a fairly light docket and in striking contrast to former sessions immediately after celebration of the Christmas holidays.

The charges to be heard today consisted mainly of violations of the prohibition law, larceny, and minor offenses. Work was expected to be completed today or tomorrow morning.

Reynolds Will Fly Over Spain

Le Bourget, France, Dec. 29.—(AP)—Smith Reynolds, North Carolina sportsman, whose tour of Europe in his own airplane was interrupted yesterday by aviation authorities planned today to continue on to Spain, probably Thursday.

Aviation authorities yesterday started an investigation when Reynolds landed here from Chateau D'Un. He had landed there the night before, he said, without having gone through the formality of obtaining a permit.

His papers were pronounced properly authorized today. He obtained permission to fly over France several months ago. He is now awaiting a copy of permission to continue his flight over Spain.

Miss Carraway To Speak Here

Miss Lena Carraway, of Snow Hill, will speak at the court house here Friday night, January 1, at 8 o'clock, under auspices of the local order of Red Men.

The meeting will be of a public nature and the citizenship has been given a cordial invitation to attend.

Miss Carraway has distinguished herself as a public speaker in recent years, and her coming to this city is greeted with interest by members of the organization and the public generally. Her address will be of a religious nature but will contain certain elements of psychology which should prove a distinct appeal to people in all fields of activity.

N. C. Educator Dies in Indiana

Indianapolis, Dec. 29.—(AP)—Mrs. C. M. Billings, 30, of Norfolk, Va., language professor at Chowan College at Murfreesboro, died in a hospital here yesterday of pneumonia and complications.

Mrs. Billings held an A. B. Degree from Adrian College at Adrian, Michigan, and a Master's Degree in romance languages from the University of Michigan. She was language professor at LaGrange College in Missouri before going to Chowan college.

Negro Jailed For Holdup and Housebreaking

Willie Hardison, New Bern negro, was held in county jail here today awaiting hearing on charges of highway robbery and housebreaking. Given preliminary hearing yesterday, he was bound over to Superior court and remanded to jail in default of bond.

Hardison was rounded up by police last week after short investigation. He was alleged to have held-up John Henby near the Coast Line freight depot December 21, and deprived him of $3 in cash and a dress which Henby had purchased for a member of his family.

He was later alleged to have entered the home of George Streeter, colored, on 14th Street, and obtained considerable wearing apparel.

Police captured Hardison that night and held him responsible for the holdup upon information which they had already obtained.

SYNOPSIS: Cool nerve and self-control aid Trueman Rock when he becomes involved in a quarrel with Ash Preston, after Ash steals his horse. Gage Preston, Rock's employer, a suspected cattle rustler fears a gunfight. But Rock knows that Gage's daughter Thiry, whom he loves, cares deeply for her brother, Ash.

"YOU MEAN MARRIAGE?"
 "Cowboy, I shore hope you won't rile Ash—leastways hyar before the women," said Preston, hurriedly.

"Don't worry, boss, returned Rock, with a genial laugh. He had caught a glimpse of Thiry, who kept somewhat in the background. Egypt was standing, bridle down, halfway between Ash and the porch. One glance told Rock that he was gaunt, dirty, and rough, but apparently as sound as ever. He whinnied at sight of Rock.

"Howdy, boys!" said Rock, nodding to the drivers on the wagons. Then halting beside Egypt, he turned to face Ash Preston. Despite his iron control a slight quiver stung his frame. How cool, intent, potential of evil menace this man! He stood at ease, hands on his hips, his black sombrero slouched back, his blue-flame eyes piercing Rock, as if to read his mind. Rock had met penetrating glances before, and this one shot little cold sparks along his marrow.

"Howdy, Ash! Did you like my horse?" he said, with perfect composure and entire absence of rancor.

Not improbably that was the last query Ash Preston would ever have anticipated.

"Best hoss I ever forked," he replied, without feeling of any kind.

"Thanks. Hope you were good to him."

"Wal, Rock, the fact is I begun bad," drawled Ash. "But he piled me in the brush. An' runnin' him over rough ground didn't phase him none. An' I reckon I ended treatin' him good."

"Did he pitch with you?" queried Rock, in genuine surprise.

"He's got any outlaw beat I ever rode."

"Dog-gone!—Leslie swore this horse never pitched in his life."

"Reckon that was no lie, Rock. But I nagged him. He threw me. An' I couldn't get near him again that day."

"Served you right," responded Rock, naturally. "It doesn't pay to be mean to horses. And see here, Ash, don't go borrowin' a horse from a rider without askin' him."

The tension relaxed, the charge atmosphere lost, its fullness and suspense. Gage Preston laughed loud, as if explosion was relief. The women began to murmur. And Ash, though he betrayed little of what might have been his true state, eyed Rock with slow, cool smile, and slouched with clinking steps to the porch.

Thiry met him, reached for him in lad excitement: "Oh, Ash, I'm glad you're back—and you—and everything all right."

Ash wrapped his long arms around her, and hugging her closely, he bent his head over her. The action seemed eloquent, beautiful, and yet it carried a hint of bold raw nature. It pierced Rock like fire. Bending down to feel the legs of his horse, he kept that studious posture until he had recovered. Without a glance backward, then, he led Egypt down toward the barns. And he brooded in mind, muttering his thoughts.

"Cold, shiny rattlesnake ready to strike—Sot Winter sure had him figured. . . . I just wonder. Reckon he thought I'd rave and curse. Sure he'd have come back at me. . . . And then a fist fight or gun play!—Damn him, he wanted it. . . . Now what in h—can you do with a fellow like that?"

But Rock's heat and rancor lost itself in something worse—jealousy. It had seared him to see Thiry run to Ash, almost with arms outstretched, her face flushed, her eyes alight, her voice broken, to receive that strange caress. Yet was it a caress? What violence of emotion attacked Rock! He could not trust himself on the moment. He only knew he had fallen into sudden misery and must extricate himself.

Rock spent so much time caring for Egypt, cleaning and brushing him, and making him a comfortable bed of grass in a stall, that it was dark when he got back to his cabin. The supper bell rang. He had no appetite, and at this moment he strongly resented the need to keep on with the role he had assumed for Thiry Preston's sake. What use! He could not carry it on forever. Tomorrow, or next week, or month Ash Preston would go beyond the pale—beyond any man's endurance.

"Aw, I'm sore," growled Rock, and swore at himself. He had planned to overlook and overcome Ash's appropriating his horse so affrontingly. But that was nothing compared to seeing Thiry in her brother's arms. He had not calculated upon such a contingency. Still, Ash was only her brother; it was only a blood tie. Nevertheless, it rankled. He could not explain his reaction to this perfectly normal attachment between brother and sister. So he put it down to the account of his own defects.

It occurred to Rock, presently, mer high plane of living. Mississippi citizens in the flood district would be glad to step into our shoes despite the thorny road ahead, but how much easier would be the sailing for them at this time in comparison with the situation they are up against.

A NEW FACE ENTERS BRIDGE TILT

Theodore A. Lightner, New York broker and one of the country's outstanding bridge players, replaces Mrs. E. Culbertson from time to time as the partner of her husband in the 150-rubber contract bridge battle with Sidney Lenz and Oswald Jacoby. Lightner aided Culbertson in piling up a substantial lead over his opponents. Culbertson (right) and Lightner are shown during one of the sessions.

So don't be backward tellin' me just how you feel about Thiry."

"Preston, the minute I laid eyes on Thiry I fell in love with her," replied Rock, with sincere depth and frankness. "It's changed my whole life."

"Thanks fer talkin' out," replied Preston, puffin at his cigar and bending deep inscrutable eyes upon Rock. "Course you mean marriage, cowboy?"

Preston takes the love affair into his own hands Wednesday, with un expected results.

ABOUT TOWN

Late reports indicate that Democrats, having passed on several phases of President Hoover's relief program during the pre-holiday rush, are going to take another careful squint at the program before giving it complete approval.

They should have done that at first despite the high pressure under which they were working. If there are any phases of the program not in keeping with commonsense and sound business policies, it is up to party members to show Congress where it stands and to try and rectify what has already been done.

The wisdom of sound relief measures is not to be questioned, but it should be the result of careful deliberation of members of both parties and not by "high-pressure" methods.

The time to make resolutions is just around the corner and persons who have not resolved what they are going to do in the New Year would not go wrong by deciding at once.

This is the season of the year when the merchant looks over his stock and decides what he has on hand. The same plan should be adopted by the individual for in that way he will know just how he stands. If there are improvements needed, they should be determined upon and then made. In this way alone is the world able to keep abreast of the time and prevent itself from moving along in the same old rut.

Inventories are not only business-like but they are very necessary to the well-conducted business enterprise as well as the well-developed life.

Resolutions ought not only to be made but they should be faithfully followed out during the New Year because in that way alone will the business man and the individual find himself just a little bit advanced at the beginning of another year.

To the careful driving of Pitt county people, is attributed the lack of accidents during the holiday season.

In spite of the toll of death reported from other communities, Pitt county passed through the holidays with only one death and two other accidents of little consequence.

Forty-eight persons paid the price of careless driving in various parts of the country during the Christmas season. It is a terrible indictment to bring against the pleasure-loving people of this nation who continue to sacrifice life because of inattention to the importance of traffic regulation.

Pitt county is to be congratulated upon the splendid record, and it is the hope of the careful drivers that the same condition will be in evidence when another holiday rolls around.

People who are forever complaining about hard times should consider the awful plight of flood sufferers in the state of Mississippi and then think how much more fortunate are they than the countless thousands forced to flee from their homes in the face of advancing flood waters.

We always think our condition is just a little worse than the other fellow's until we pause for a moment and take stock of ourselves and then compare it with the less fortunate. Psychologists would declare this a form of inferiority complex but it is a mighty good line of logic when things look dark and gloomy and the sunshine seems to be obliterated forever.

People in this section undoubtedly are "up against it" from the standpoint of depression, but the situation is no worse than hundreds of other communities. Each locality has the same problem to deal with, and the only way to attack it is with determination and a resolve to conquer under all circumstances. This is the spirit with which forefathers of this great nation greeted all questions in the past, and it must be such a spirit to lift the country back to its for-

HUDGINS-FULFORD

The marriage of Miss Margaret Alexander Fulford to Mr. Daniel Edward Hudgins, of Greensboro, N. C., which was solemnized in St. Paul's Episcopal church at 7:30 o'clock Saturday evening, was an interesting event of the Christmas season.

The wedding was a very quiet and simple ceremony, with only the family and the bride's most intimate friends present. The bride was given in marriage by her father, Mr. N. S. Fulford. She wore a traveling suit of dark brown wool tweed, trimmed with fox and carried an arm bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums. Her only ornament was a handsome gold locket, which was worn by her grandmother at her own wedding.

The maid of honor, her only attendant, was her sister, Miss Maud Blow Fulford, who wore a fur-trimmed dress of amber satin and carried an arm bouquet of russet and yellow snapdragons.

The groom had as his best man, and only attendant, Mr. Bruce Warren, brother-in-law of the bride.

Immediately after the wedding, a buffet supper was served the bride's uncle, Mr. W. M. Seales. Mr. and Mrs. Hudgins then left for a honeymoon trip, after which they will be at home in Greensboro.

Mrs. Hudgins, more familiarly known as "Polly," is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Fulford, formerly of Greenville, and now of Lynchburg, Va. She was educated at N. C. W., Greensboro, and is an attractive and popular member of the young society of the state.

The groom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Hudgins, of Marion, N. C. He is a graduate of the University of North Carolina, where he was a very popular member of the class of 1928, a member of the order of the Golden Fleece, Phi Beta Kappa and the Kappa Sigma fraternity. He completed his studies as a Rhodes scholar at Oxford, and since his return has been an associate member of the law firm of Brooks, Parker, Smith and Wharton, of Greensboro.

NEW YEAR'S EVE DANCE AT COUNTRY CLUB

This promises to be one of the most enjoyable affairs of the holiday season.

The Greenville Patriots chapter, D. A. R., met Monday, December 28, at the home of Mrs. T. E. Hooker. Mrs. Hooker presided, opening with the flag salute, America's Creed and D. A. R. ritual.

Mrs. Thomas McGee read a very interesting paper written by Mrs. Sam White on "George Washington, Man of Sentiment."

Donations were brought for a box to be sent Crossnore school. It was also voted to send $25 on a scholarship to Crossnore.

After the business meeting tea and cake was served.—Reported.

Shower for Mr. and Mrs. Stocks. Winterville, Dec. 28.—Mrs. O. H. Worthington of Winterville gave a miscellaneous shower Saturday night in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Stocks at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Worthington, who before her marriage last Wednesday night, was Miss Frances Inez Worthington.

In the reception hall a beautiful Christmas tree reigned, there the guests deposited their presents. They were then ushered into the living room which carried out a color note of green and red. When all the guests were seated the bride and groom were introduced by the hostess, which caused much merriment as all knew both well. When they were seated Mr. Woodrow Worthing and Miss Inez Rollins entered laden down with packages and stumbled over a rug and showered the presents at the feet of the newly-weds. The bride opened many beautiful and useful gifts.

A pretty course was served to Misses Roberta Jackson, Inez Rollins, Ernestine Rollins, Betty White, Susie Earl Stocks, Myrtle Worthington, Lucile, Pauline and Irene Worthington, Ruth Worthington, Mildred Hester, Ethel Mae McLawhorn, and Roy Glenn Jackson, Wayland Sermons, Woodrow Worthington, Russel Rollins; Mesdames Bessie Jackson, Mathew Sermons, Lucy Hester, J. Birth Announcement. Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Pittman, of 311 N. James street, Goldsboro, N. C., announce the arrival of a son, on December 23, 1931. Mrs. Pittman was before her marriage, Miss Estelle Dail, of Winterville.

MRS. MOYE ENTERTAINS SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS

The Wesley Philathea class of Jarvis Memorial Methodist church, met with Mrs. Hortense Moye on Monday evening at 7:30 with a goodly number present.

Our president, Mrs. M. H. White, greeted us with an appropriate and original verse for the coming year after which Mrs. J. H. Woolard conducted a most inspirational devotional, using as her theme, "Others," the class motto.

After an interesting business session the meeting was given over to Miss Aldie Johnston, assistant hostess, for a program. She called on each person to give a resolution for the coming year, the note of joy, cheerfulness and ministry to others being dominant.

Mrs. White then gave us a reading from "Margaret Sangster," on the "Months of the Year," which was very fine. We were served delicious tea and sandwiches by Mrs. Moye and Miss Johnston.—Reported.

New York, Dec. 29.—(AP)—Oswald Jacoby resigned as partner of Sidney S. Lenz, early today after much mutual criticism in a session during which they cut 250 points off the lead of Mr. and Mrs. Ely Culbertson in the prolonged test of rival systems of contract bridge.

Psychic bids by Jacoby toward the end of the session touched off the fireworks. Prior to that Jacoby accused Lenz of making misplays which enabled the Culbertsons to fulfill contracts.

Referring to "rotten" bids by his partner, Lenz at first said there was no possibility of Jacoby returning to the match and Jacoby said he could not go on being publicly criticized by Lenz, "especially when the criticisms are to cover up errors of his own."

Came a prolonged conference in secret, friends of each trying to make peace. The upshot was an announcement that Lenz would have a new partner tonight, presumably Commander Winfield Liggett, Jr., and that Jacoby would be back in the match later.

The Culbertsons won five of eight rubbers of the session, their plus being reduced to 16,800 largely because Culbertson went down 1,400 points once in a lump. The rubber standing three rubbers past the two thirds mark became 59 for Culbertson's side and 44 for Lenz's.

Mrs. Culbertson returned to the match after a holiday absence. Prior to the session Jacoby expressed the opinion privately that it was impossible for the Culbertsons' lead to be overtaken. He figured that he and Lenz must win at least 36 of the remaining rubbers.

REPORT NEW PEP 'SHOT'

Harmon Cortin Described By Scientist As Greatest of Present Day Stimulants.

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE (Associated Press Science Editor)

New Orleans, Dec. 29.—(AP)—It isn't strong drink a man needs to make him happy, but a "shot" of the new hormone cortin.

Discoveries of the remarkable stimulating powers of this rarest of substances were reported to the American Association for the Advancement of Science today by F. A. Hartman, Ph. D., of the University of Buffalo.

An overdose of cortin produces no intoxication but its effects last for two days, showing not only in happiness but in increased strength better memory, more resistance to heat and cold, and relief from fatigue and jaded nerves.

Other discoveries reported today included the first complete sight of growth of a nerve from its "birth" to maturity, and the almost human intelligence it displays. The real source of the terror, destruction and sacrifice of life in hurricanes was another. It lies in a wind peculiarity of the storm's right side.

Of commercial promise were discoveries about producing from a mottle called ramie, clothing almost as silky as real silk and stronger than silk, cotton, or flax.

Cortin is a hormone, or secretion, from the covering of the adrenal glands, organs common to men and animals alike. At present it is obtained in minute quantities from the glands of cattle killed by the great packing plants, and is so rare that about $2,000 worth would make a good annual supply for a very sick person. Only a few scientists have tried to make it.

Hitherto its use has been mostly confined to saving lives of Addison's disease patients, but in the last few months Dr. Hartman has gathered enough to discover other things cortin can do.

"In certain illnesses," he said, "due to overwork or the effect of an infection, this extract has been demonstrated to increase the resistance of fatigue, or to cause it to disappear."

"It has brought about restful sleep if there was difficulty in this respect, and has developed a sense of well being."

No Blame Fixed For Auto Crash

Greenwood, S. C., Dec. 29.—(AP)—No blame was fixed by a coroner's jury today for the head-on auto crash near here yesterday which took the lives of three persons and sent four to a hospital critically injured.

A verdict was given that said Ben Frazier, Ollie Davis and W. W. Atkinson "came to their deaths in the collision of two cars." No adjournment session will be held.

Earl Martin, Greenwood postal clerk who was alone in one of the machines, and J. A. Boyd Strickland of Ninety Six were conscious today but none remembered the wreck which occurred in a heavy fog.

Miss Irene Durst of Charleston, W. Va., was still unconscious and physicians held little hope for her recovery.

GANDHI ASKS FOR ADVICE

Seeks Peaceful Understanding on Recent Ordinances Extending Power.

Bombay, India, Dec. 22.—(AP)—Mahatma Gandhi telegraphed Vice-Roy Lord Willingdon today asking whether the recent ordinances extending the powers of the governments in Bengal, the United Provinces and the Northwest Frontier Province mean an end to peaceful relations between the government and the Congress party.

He asked also whether he might see the viceroy to get his help and advice in reaching a peaceful understanding.

At the beginning of this month new powers were delegated to magistrates in the Bengal district permitting them to impose sentences of death or exile for life upon persons convicted of subversive acts against the crown, political murder, or even of attempts at acts of terrorism.

Arrests may be made without warrant, troops may be called in to aid the police, and citizens may be drafted for the maintenance of order.

Stevens Outlines Legion Program For Unemployed

Raleigh, Dec. 29.—(AP)—The American Legion has already found jobs for 200,000 of the nation's 750,000 unemployed ex-service men, and is now determined to fight against the whole problem, said Henry L. Stevens, Jr., national commander, during a visit here.

He predicted that far reaching results would be obtained from the meeting of the Legion's unemployment commission in New York January 5 and 6. He is chairman of the commission.

"What we are engaged in now is attempting to find relief for the entire army of six million unemployed and we will not confine our activities to ex-service men," he declared.

The Legion is definitely committed to establishment of the six-hour day, five day week, the commander said. He also cited the example of Rochester, N. Y., where Legionnaires made a house to house canvass for jobs, resulting in giving every idle man something to do and the necessity for importing labor from another community to meet the demand.

The Legion's unemployment committee roster includes Gen. W. W. Atterbury, president of the Pennsylvania railroad; Kermit Roosevelt, son of the late president; and vice president of the International Mercantile Marine Company; Chester Colby, vice-president of Standard Oil; George Berry, president of the International Pressmen's Union and George Long, vice-president of the Wisehauser Timer Company of Tacoma, Wash. Others are to be added, the commander said.

Market Report

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

N. Y. COTTON

New York, Dec. 29.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today, at an advance of 3 to 7 points on a renewal of trade buying, principally for far eastern account. March sold at 6.44.

There was also a little covering and commission house buying, and while the initial demand was supplied by southern selling and realising with prices easing off a point or two right after the call, the market was steady and about 2 to 4 points net higher at the end of the first half hour. No particular news factor was mentioned in connection with the steadiness of the market but offerings were light, and the failure of hedging or southern selling to develop in larger proportions, seemed to restrict selling otherwise. Liverpool cables reported selling supplied by local liquidation in that market and said the demand for cotton cloths from India and China was poor.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Dec. 29.—(AP)—Increased activity and much higher prices in grains today quickly accompanied a new upward trend shown by the New York stock market. Crop damage reports from Hessian fly in winter wheat districts of Indiana and Illinois were a contributing bullish influence. Forecasts of rain or snow over the entire domestic winter and spring wheat belt were current, but no word of any actual moisture received.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Dec. 29.—(AP)—The stock market took on a rosier hue today, after sinking close to the bear market lows of December 17. The recent pressure of tax selling was lifted, and prices pushed up 1 to 3 points over a fairly broad front. The traditional year-end upturn appeared to have been started a day earlier than usual. Rails, chemicals and utilities made notable gains. Issues up 2 to 3 points included New York Central, Santa Fe, Norfolk and Western, Union Pacific, American Telephone, North American, Consolidated Gas, American Water Works, Allied Chemicals, U. S. Industrial Alcohol, Air Reduction, Dupont, U. S. Steel, Eastman, Case, Woolworth, National Biscuit and others. Auburn was sent up 8 points. Gains of a point or so appeared throughout the list and trading grew fairly lively on the advance.

An upturn in share prices at the end of the year is regarded with high favor by many investment trusts and holding companies, as it enhances their December 31 reports, in which they give the market value of their holdings as of that date. In the past two years, however, the upturn began the second day before the end of the year, rather than the third day, as at present. The market made substantial gains in the final two trading sessions of 1930, and registering sweeping gains in the last two days of 1929.

Hints from Washington that the new tax measure may be so framed as to prevent the deduction of losses from sales of securities from 1931 incomes, were regarded in some quarters as a factor in the lifting of tax selling, although the bulk of such liquidation is usually completed before the last few sessions of the year.

The money market showed further signs of year-end firmness, although call loans again renewed at 3 per cent. The rate went up to 3 per cent a year ago. The Federal Reserve was less actively buying acceptances today.

Birmingham, Ala., Dec. 29.—(AP)—Clarence Darrow, noted criminal lawyer of Chicago, announced today he would withdraw immediately from the Scottsboro case unless given a free rein to handle the defense of the eight negroes condemned to death for attacks on two white girls.

DEMOCRATS HOPE TO GET $200,000,000 IN REVENUE WITHOUT RAISING TAXES

(Continued from Page One) men. Garner said some of the holes in the law were left intentionally, while others had not been. He declined to divulge what they were but it is known that he has made an exhaustive study of many court decisions on tax appeal cases. Asked directly whether the Democrats had formulated their tax program, Garner replied: "If you are talking about the organization, we have not. Some different individuals have compiled their own programs and have even gone so far as to put them down on paper, but there is no agreement. "No one can tell what the 25 men on the ways and means committee will report to the House a month away, because no one knows," he said.

Reminded that Chairman Collier, of the ways and means committee, and Representative Rainey, of Illinois, the party leader, had differed on several proposals to increase Federal revenue, the Texan reiterated that they were voicing their own opinions.

The Senate House Democratic policy committee, Garner stressed, has not decided yet on a tax increase program. It will take that matter up along with tariffs at a meeting to be called next week. Garner predicted the Democratic House would pass a tariff bill this session, but added that "I won't tell what kind of a measure it will be."

(Continued from Page One) He warned that the peak of the unemployment would come after the turn in conditions has come. Money raised by voluntary contributions, under President Hoover's leadership, is not expected by him to last the winter out and states, have failed to "grapple with the situation."

Attacks on Federal aid as a "dole" he said, are "merely echoes of propaganda put out in high places, resulting from a combination of dope, emotion and class interest." He defined the dole as a "catchword being employed to confuse the public."

STATE FUNDS SHARPLY CUT

(Continued from Page One) The budget bureau had not figured the average percentage the cut will be. It was said, but every department and institution was cut sharply and all were warned that they will not be able to spend more than 70 per cent of the funds appropriated by the 1931 General Assembly, if that much.

The memorandum suggests that in order to meet the situation existing that a drastic reduction of all expenses from present levels be made by eliminating all non-essentials, by doing away with every possible expense "by arranging barely to keep the services and activities going—and if necessary to reduce the cost of personnel."

The 1931 General Assembly made appropriations of $29,251,764 from the general fund, the largest sum ever appropriated due to the inclusion for the first time of some $17,350,000 in school funds compared to previous school funds of $6,500,000.

Departments and institutions, however, were allotted only a small portion of this as funds for debt service cannot be subjected to any cut. Under the school law, the school funds also cannot be cut.

One department's allotment for the third quarter runs very close to 40 per cent below the amount it was appropriated. Figures for other departments were not available.

The budget memorandum points out that it is now anticipated that revenue collections will not come within $3,500,000 of the amount estimated when appropriations were made.

"It will not be possible to borrow any more money, we know this definitely and it will, therefore, be necessary to lay our plans to operate within the cash resources in hand."

SEEK DEBT COMPROMISE

(Continued from Page One) equivalent moratorium on war debts. In case there should be no further debt holiday Germany would be asked to pay at least the amount which England and France owe to the United States.

The foreign office said today that the international debt conference seems likely to go to Lusanne some time after January 20 instead of to the Hague of January 15.

BIG TRIBUTE FOR WILSON

(Continued from Page One) orate party attain the strength to gain national victory. "Some leader as yet unknown," he said, reanimated with the spirit of Wilson, must appear to lead the Democrats "out of the wilderness."

"So long as our party merely affords professional politicians a field of action for their partisan proclivities, just so long does the Democratic party remain in eclipse."

FINLAND VOTES ON LIQUOR

(Continued from Page One) and sleighs twinkled over frozen streams and some of the country's 35,000 lakes. In cities like the capital, where things were "wide open" last year and one could never guess a prohibition law prevailed, automobiles carried the voters to the schools, and other public buildings, where the voting booths were.

The blizzard and the falling barometer yesterday chilled the fervor at prohibition headquarters. The prohibitionists came on the farmers and workers to keep the country legally dry.

Fate of Doomed Negro in Hands Of Tyre Taylor

Winston-Salem, Dec. 29.—(AP)—The case of John Moore, negro, sentenced to die for first degree burglary because he entered the room of a sleeping girl and stole her shoes, is to be laid before Tyre C. Taylor, executive counsel to Governor Gardner.

The negro's attorneys said they confidently expected the Governor to grant a commutation of sentence, especially since Judge John H. Harwood had indicated a desire to save the negro from the electric chair, although he was forced to impose that sentence after the jury's first degree verdict.

In North Carolina burglarious entry into a place where anyone is sleeping carries the death penalty, without alternative, upon conviction.

Moore's attorneys said a conference with Taylor had been set for January 5.

Raleigh.—(AP)—Captain Charles D. Farmer of the State Highway Patrol has announced his force will increase on the letter of the law regarding display by automobile of 1932 license tags after January 1.

Walstonburg Bank Starts Liquidating

Walstonburg, N. C., Dec. 29.—(AP)—The Bank of Walstonburg was refusing to accept deposits today while a posted notice told the depositors to withdraw their money. The directors voted to liquidate the bank because, they said, conditions were such that its operation was no longer profitable. It has cash on hand to pay all depositors.

"We expect to end business by the first of the year," said Orr T. Hicks, cashier.

The bank, capitalized at $15,000, has deposits of approximately $20,000.

Man Falls Down Elevator Shaft After Robbery

Charlotte, Dec. 29.—(AP)—Elliott Keefe, warehouse night watchman, was held up and robbed of his pistol and flashlight early today by two men who fled after failing to open the company safe.

Re-enacting the robbery for the benefit of the police, Keefe said, "and I was just fixing to go in here." He opened the door—the wrong one, and fell down the elevator shaft. Hospital attaches said he would be out in a day or so.

Woman to Give Orders to Police

Charlotte, Dec. 29.—(AP)—Beginning January 1 Charlotte police are going to take orders from Desk Sergeant Eloise Brown.

Mrs. Brown will be the first woman to hold such a position here and before her glass-enclosed desk will pass all prisoners en route to the city jail. From her desk she will answer all telephonic communications and to radio cruisers she will broadcast orders.

Not only will she keep her finger on all possible criminal occurrences but in spare moments she will keep books for J. M. McLaughlin, day desk captain and clerk of recorder's court. Her hours are from 7 a. m. to 3 p. m.

Mrs. Brown has been in charge of the sale of city automobile license tags and the removal of this city to motor club headquarters resulted in the change. She takes the place of J. B. Brantley who will act as night jailor.

View Statue Of Chas. B. Aycock

New York, Dec. 29.—(AP)—A statue of North Carolina's "education governor," Charles B. Aycock, was certified for the national statutory hall here by Governor O. Max Gardner and two other distinguished citizens of the Tar Heel state.

"It is excellent," said the state's "like at home" executive as he viewed the still-wet work of Charles Keck, sculptor. With him were Joseph Daniels, secretary of the navy under Woodrow Wilson who has been mentioned as a possible successor to Gardner, and Dr. J. Y. Joyner, of Raleigh.

Bob's viewing the statue, the governor had another object for his visit to New York this time. He said he had some good news for the banking syndicate which has handled millions of dollars worth of the state's good roads and other bonds in recent years.

"I shall tell them about the tax reductions we have effected and the administration economies. North Carolina's finances are based on a solid, stable foundation."

"Way back in 1929 we began to clean house," he said. "We reduced our state budget, cut salaries 10 per cent. Now we are in excellent condition."

New Heat Record Set in America

Washington, Dec. 29.—(AP)—The fellow who kept repeating through most of 1931, "gosh, it's hot," really had something to talk about.

Official records of the weather bureau show the year now closing as the warmest on record for nearly every state.

While generally there was an excess of high temperatures, there also was a noticeable lack of disturbing and costly weather phenomena, such as the widespread droughts of 1930, severe tropical storms and tornadoes and devastating floods.

Surrounded by his charts and figur's, J. B. Kincer, meteorologist, tremped the excessive warmth the outstanding feature of 1931.

He traced it to a persisting arrangement of low pressure areas in the north and high pressure areas in the south which let in warm winds from southern waters.

The last comparable year was 1921. Kincer said today he believed 1931 to be the culmination of 12 years of warm weather dating back to the unusually cold winter of 1917-1918.

Two bad drought spots, however, spotted the year's weather map. The first occurred in the spring in the northwestern states of Montana, North and South Dakota. Thousands of farmers required assistance when their feed crops were destroyed.

DRY WEATHER PREDICTED FOR GAME OF ROSES

By PAUL ZIMMERMAN Pasadena, Calif., Dec. 29.—(AP)—Prospects for a dry gridiron New Year's day at the Rose Bowl lightened the hearts of Tulane and the University of Southern California football squads today.

Official weather reports called for showers today and clearing skies Wednesday, and there was indication the storm had run its course.

The Rose tournament game-site, although below the level of surrounding ground, is well drained and the sod is firm.

Coach Howard Jones of the U. S. C. Trojans admits a muddy gridiron would confine his team to its power driving offense, making a diversified attack almost impossible. He thinks perhaps it would handicap the Green Wave as well.

Dr. Wilbur C. Smith, Tulane athletic director, expressed the opinion that the Greenies' chances should in no wise be altered by heavy going. Coach Bernie Bierman, given to a pessimistic outlook, was non-committal.

Green Wave followers point out that Don Zimmerman, the chief forward passer, has shown a marked ability at throwing a wet ball handily in games during the past season.

Local sentiment continues to prevail that rain or shine, the Trojans should win by a couple of touchdowns at least, regardless of the invaders' record of only one defeat in two seasons. There has been considerable comment that Tulane's style of defense with a six-man line, is made to order for the crushing Trojan power assault. No team employing such a defense has effectively stopped Southern California this season except California.

Rockefeller Gives Christmas Party

Ormond Beach, Fla., Dec. 29.—(AP)—John D. Rockefeller, the multi-millionaire, laughed at the antics of a toy goose that lay golden eggs at his annual Christmas party here last night and chuckled while guests sang "Good Times Are Coming."

"That's the spirit we need," he commented at the conclusion of the song. "That's what will make us all smile."

Thieves Confuse Ayden Dancers

Kinston, Dec. 29.—(AP)—Police today were no less confused than were 40 youths who found themselves hatless and overcoats following a fashionable dance at Ayden.

After the dance, it was discovered that thieves had made off with approximately 40 hats and overcoats belonging to young men attending the dance. Police haven't the faintest idea where to start looking for them, they said.

Government To Receive Bids On Mail Routes

Notice was sent out from the Post Office Department today announcing the letting of star mail routes from July 1, 1932 to June 30, 1936, in the state of North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee, Kentucky, Porto Rico, and the Virgin Islands.

Proposals will be received at the office of the Second Assistant Postmaster General until 4:30 P. M., January 19, 1932. List of routes forms and proposals, bonds, and other necessary information will be furnished upon application to the local postmaster.

Ben Lyon Asked To Settle For Hitting Youth

Los Angeles, Dec. 29.—(AP)—Charles Cradick, attorney for Cedric LaMar, 18, filed a motion today to settle Ben Lyon, native of High Point motion picture actor and husband of Bebe Daniels, suggesting settlement for injuries he said the boy received when knocked unconscious by the actor.

The attorney said LaMar told him Lyon was angered because the office boy would not let Miss Daniels see Lyon or notify him on a movie sound stage of her presence when she called a few days ago. LaMar said Lyon, cast as a boxer in a movie role, unbranded him and struck him down with a blow to the jaw.

The boy said he had orders not to disturb anyone on a set and had told Miss Daniels he would try to have someone send for her husband

INDIANS TO MAKE SLIGHT ALTERATIONS

By E. L. LIVINGSTON (Associated Press Staff Writer) Cleveland, O., Dec. 29.—(AP)—As familiar as an old shirt—that about sizes up next season's edition of the Cleveland baseball club.

Manager Roger Peckinpaugh will have all his Indians back at their old posts with but one or two minor exceptions.

General manager Billy Evans came through the winter dickers unscathed, and his principal stock in trade, outfielders Eddie Morgan and Dick Porter, failed to bring an acceptable offer, although they have hit for 350 for the last three years.

Manager Peckinpaugh plans next season to start Bruce Knickerbocker, New Orleans product, at first and send Eddie to the outfield to fight it out with Porter.

Earl Averill, who batted .333 and hit 32 home runs, and Joe Vosmik, sandlot kind of 1931, should have no trouble keeping two of the outfield jobs.

With the exception of Wes Ferrell, Willis Hudlin and Mel Harder the Cleveland pitching staff was a distinct disappointment last year. These three regulars were the only ones to break 500. Ferrell pitched excellent ball to win 23 games and lose 12.

Two recruit right-handers will start next season and may give the mound crew needed stiffening. The most promising is Carl Hildbrand who came up from Indianapolis at the end of the season. The other is Mont Pearson, purchased from Oakland of the Pacific Coast League.

Two N. C. Banks Fail To Open

Wilson, Dec. 29.—(AP)—The Planters Bank of Wilson failed to open for business today, but a notice posted on the doors said the directors hoped to open it soon under a depositor's agreement.

The bank was closed, the notice said, in order to conserve its assets and protect the depositors. Capitalized at $100,000, the bank has deposits of approximately $800,000.

Its president is George W. Walston and its cashier is W. M. Farmer.

Charged With Robbing "PENNY-A-MEAL" CLUB

Raleigh, Dec. 29.—(AP)—Gurney P. Hood, state commissioner of banking, was informed today that the Planters Bank of Wilson, with deposits of $825,000, and the Bank of Goldston, with deposits of more than $100,000, would not open today.

He said the decision to close were reached by directors of the two institutions after the close of business yesterday.

The Goldston bank, in Chatham county, had capital and surplus of $26,000.

Here IS a Hard Nut!

Atlantic City — Harry Blittman established what is believed to be a new record in knockdowns last night when, in a ring battle with Hal Murray, Harrisburg, Pa., lightweight, he made Murray kiss the canvas 23 times. Even so, Murray protested the referee's decision, saying he was "still in good shape."

Unusual!

Denver—Fred Gustafson, 25, was tired of living. Gustafson undressed by a roadside and patiently awaited freeing, but mild weather was against him.
