LIVING COSTS SHOW DROP IN AMERICA

Ten Per Cent Decline Reported for Country as Whole As Against 1930.

Washington, Jan. 23.—(AP)—Living last year was cheaper by nearly ten per cent, for the country as a whole, than it was in 1930.

Every item in the cost of living tumbled down, even rents which are the slowest of all fixed costs to yield to the pressure of declining prices.

This was announced today by the Bureau of Labor Statistics, based on a study of 32 representative cities, north, south, east and west. For all the drop, however, it still costs nearly 46 per cent more to live in 1931 than it did in 1913.

The actual wage figure for the year's average decline was 93 per cent, with an index figure of 145.8 for December, 1931, against 160.7 for December, 1930, and 100 for 1913.

The survey, split into six months periods showed that during the last half of the year the decline in prices slowed somewhat as compared with the first half; that foodstuffs dropped 3.4 per cent; clothing 7.2; rents 4.1; house furnishings goods 5.6 and miscellaneous items 0.6. Light and fuel costs were up 1.6 per cent due to seasonal influences.

During the first six months of the year foodstuffs dropped 18.9 per cent; clothing 7; rent 4.5; fuel and light 9.6; house furnishings 11.3, and miscellaneous items 1.5 for an average of 10.4 per cent decline for all items. The foodstuffs decline for the entire year was 16.2-3 per cent.

Raleigh, Jan. 23.—(AP)—Herbert C. Guiley, member of Senator Josiah Bailey's staff, has announced that cards listing him as heading a club to support Senator Morrison's campaign have been placed in the hands of postal inspectors for investigation.

Although Morrison and Bailey were at war in the 1924 gubernatorial campaign, they are friendly now, but Guiley said he had refused to join the organized Morrison movement.

Two Forest Fires In New Hanover

Wilmington, Jan. 23.—(AP)—Two forest fires were reported under way in New Hanover county by officials of the sixth district office of the State Department of Conservation and Development.

Lillycrop Stories Are Published in Mission Herald

Two series of stories by Rev. W. A. Lillycrop, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church here, are being printed in the Mission Herald, Episcopal publication, issued at Wilmington.

The stories will run in the Mission Herald throughout the year. It is a monthly publication.

The foreign office and naval authorities were working together today watching developments at Shanghai with grave concern. It was estimated here that, with the arrival late today of additional airships, Japan has a landing force of approximately 1,700 at Shanghai to protect Japanese subjects in case of emergency.

The demands which have been presented to the Chinese by the Japanese consul general at Shanghai include disbanding of anti-

KIWANIS CLUB ENJOYS MUSIC

Solos, Duets and Orchestra Renditions Mark Observance of Music Night.

Kiwanians were transported to the field of music last night and treated to a delightful program by several young women of the community.

The Raspberry Orchestra, composed of six young women from the college, rendered several selections during the session and received liberal applause.

Mrs. J. Knott Proctor appeared in two solo numbers, and duets were sung by Mrs. Dink James and Miss Agnes Fullilove, popularly known as the "Fullilove sisters." They were accompanied by Mrs. Ray Tyson.

Brigadier George Casler, of Atlanta, representing the Salvation Army, told of the budget drive to be staged in the city by organization during the week of February 1 to 6, and asked the Kiwanians to give all support possible.

He stressed the work done by the Salvation Army workers throughout the county, declaring they were not only engaged in relief work among the poor, but were attempting to implant the teachings of Christ in the hearts of those who never darkened the doors of the churches.

Times are hard and money tight, he said, but expressed opinion that the country would continue to rally to this cause launched in behalf of the betterment of humanity. Several towns in this state have already arranged their budgets, the speaker said, and he felt confident that Greenville would go over the top.

Dr. R. S. McGeachy called attention to the inter-racial conference to be held here February 5 under auspices of the State Inter-

JURY QUILTS AT HONOLULU

Body Ends Investigation Without Returning Indictments In Murder Case.

Honolulu, Jan. 23.—(AP)—Unexpected adjournment of the grand jury without returning any indictment in the "honor" slaying of Joseph Kahahawai engendered varied rumors today as to the cause, while the Territorial Legislature turned to its second major task in legislation to tighten law enforcement.

Its first such task was completed yesterday when Governor Lawrence M. Judd signed a bill placing the Honolulu force, effective February 1, under an appointed commission instead of the present elected sheriff. The governor promptly nominated the new police commission and the Senate confirmed his selections.

The Territorial Senate at its meeting today agreed to consider a bill to provide for appointment of a public prosecutor. Prosecutions at present are under the elected city and county attorney.

The sudden adjournment to Tuesday of the grand jury was a sensation here.

Members of the grand jury told inquiries they were under oath not to disclose what had happened in their two hours of deliberation.

On the Circuit court calendar, meanwhile, is the motion for dismissal of the police court charge of murder returned in the Kahahawai slaying against Lieutenant Thomas H. Massie, U. S. N., whose wife Kahahawai and four others were charged with assaulting last September Mrs. Granville Porteus, society woman of New York and Washington, Mrs. Massie's mother; and two navy enlisted men, Albert O. Jones and E. J. Lord.

Hoover Signs Bill For Increasing The Capital Of Federal Land Banks

DRYS STILL HOLD POWER

Lack of Moisture In Senate Makes It Impossible for Wets To Get Anywhere.

Washington, Jan. 23.—(AP)—Two diametrically opposed sources found themselves today in agreement in asserting the present dry strength of the Senate an incontestable one.

A statement by Senator Bingham (R., Conn.) analyzing the result of the Senate vote on his resolution asking governors to submit repeal or modification to the people of their states, said:

"The vote in the Senate demonstrates what the country has not appreciated—how very dry the Senate is and how hopeless are expectations" (Continued on page four)

LARGE SUM IS INVOLVED

Measure to Put $125,000,000 in Various Banks of Country; Reconstruction Corporation About Ready to Function; President Believes Measure Will Carry Relief to American Industries.

Washington, Jan. 23.—(AP)—The House today passed without debate the $500,000,000 appropriation to provide capital for the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Washington, Jan. 23.—(AP)—A second stream of credit designed to loosen the obstacles to business recovery today came into being.

President Hoover, only a few hours after affixing his name to a measure which will turn $2,000,000,000 into the channels of industry, signed a bill to add $125,000,000 to the capital of Federal Land Bank.

In a statement, issued as he signed the land bank measure, he said: "I am glad to sign the third of our reconstruction measures—that providing additional capital to the Federal Land Bank."

"I should (a) reinforce the credit of the Federal Land Bank system and secure investors in land bank bonds; (b) thus enable the banks to obtain capital for farmers at reasonable rates; and (c) show all bringing relief and hope to many borrowers from the banks who have done their honest best but, because of circumstances beyond their control, have been unable temporarily to make the grade."

The land bank bill sets aside $25,000,000 of the $125,000,000 to be used in extending the time of mortgage payments by overburdened farmers.

In referring to the land bank bill as the third, the President had the moratorium in mind as the first. Meanwhile, the reconstruction corporation was about ready to aid business.

A measure to supply the capital is being formulated by the House appropriations committee for immediate introduction. To this $500,000,000 of federal capital will be added $1,500,000,000 of additional funds to be raised by the corporation, itself, on securities underwritten by the federal government.

The President has before him many names from which to choose with three remaining directors to be appointed. Under the measure, these are to be Democrats.

Already designated for service are Charles Gates Dawes, as president; Eugene Meyer, governor of the Federal Reserve Board, as chairman of the board; and two ex-officio members, Secretary Mellon, who may be represented by Under Secretary Mills of the Treasury; and Paul Eator, farm loan commissioner.

Point to Road Of Happiness

Charlotte, N. C., Jan. 23.—(AP)—M. M. Dellinger and his wife celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary here today, and ventured the observation that more people would do likewise if women played less bridge and cooked more good suppers and men had fewer clubs and more night at home.

"I've had 60 years of it," said Mr. Dellinger, "and even if my health is not so good now that I'm over 80, I should like to have as many more years of it as possible."

Remarking that she had seldom resorted to rolling pin tactics since their marriage, Mrs. Dellinger said: "If young people today would stay home together more and not spend so much time in trying to live high, they wouldn't have so much trouble and we wouldn't hear of so many divorces."

STRIKE BEGINS IN BARCELONA

Soldiers Are on Duty Throughout City As General Strike Becomes Effective.

Barcelona, Spain, Jan. 23.—(AP)—Shops were closed, trolley cars stopped running and the streets of this city were deserted by all save soldiers and police today as a general strike was declared by the extremists responsible for disorders during the past few days in Catalonia.

The leaders described it as a prelude to a nation-wide strike aimed at the establishment of a republic Soviet in character.

The strike was called late last night at a secret meeting of the "revolutionary committee." Workers who received the order then did not report at their jobs this morning and as the word circulated factories closed until all industrial activities in the vicinity were brought to a halt.

The police force was doubled but most of the regular troops and the civil guard remained in barracks, prepared for action if necessary. Three destroyers and other naval craft were in the harbor.

In the nearby village of Pueblo Nuevo a mob of strikers attacked a detachment of the civil guard but was driven off.

Importation Of Labor Opposed

Asheville, Jan. 23.—(AP)—Zeb W. Nettles, solicitor of this district, who said he represented Asheville's unemployed, has filed protest against importation of labor by the Ryan Construction company, which has contracts at Oteen, government hospital near here.

Copies of the protest went to the American Legion officials, Governor Gardner, William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor; Walker D. Hines of the Veterans Bureau and others.

Negro Killer Will Face Trial Here Next Week

A one week term of Pitt County Superior court for the trial of criminal cases will convene here next Monday morning with Judge E. H. Cramer, of Southport, presiding.

The docket contains innumerable cases ranging all the way from larceny to murder, and the week promises to be filled with plenty of activity.

The most important case scheduled to come up during the week is the first degree murder charge against John Robert Myers, negro, who confessed the robbery and fatal shooting of Hagan Hodges, Paetolus merchant and postmaster, two weeks ago.

The charge will go before the grand jury Monday, and the case will probably come up for hearing during the latter part of the week.

Myers, arrested by Sheriff White-hurst last Saturday, was said to have confessed the crime while being grilled at police headquarters and he was immediately carried to State's prison at Raleigh, from which place he will be returned here in time for hearing.

Re-enacting the hold-up for officers, the negro was said to have told of visiting Hodges' store Saturday night two weeks ago. He asked to see some shoes, and after declining to make a purchase, walked down a pathway midway between the store and Hodges' home and waited for the store-keeper.

As Hodges approached the place where the negro was concealed he was commanded to throw up his hands "I want money," Myers was said to have told Hodges, and fired five times at his victim. One

Wilmington Man Under Bond In Conspiracy Case

Washington, Jan. 23.—(AP)—David N. Chadwick, Jr., former Wilmington, N. C. city commissioner, was free today under $15,000 bond pending trial here on a charge of conspiring to bring into the District of Columbia bonds that were part of the $91,000 in a robbery of the First National Bank of Philadelphia.

William A. Gallagher, assistant United States district attorney, asking the court to require a larger bond, said Chadwick would not be tried until Frank Salinsky, his alleged confederate, is apprehended.

The pair is alleged to have brought bonds here after attempting to cash a similar bond in Richmond, in October, which brought about Chadwick's arrest there for violation of the state law, a charge which is still pending.

Two billion dollars tossed into American industry over a period of two years ought to do something toward putting Old Man Depression on the run, is the belief of members of Congress who have labored long and lovingly over the reconstruction bill completed yesterday.

A tremendous part of the sum will be used immediately and the remainder will come next year. It will be felt in ever phase of industry and will lend strength to banks which have been so badly harassed by frightful withdrawals of their depositors.

President Hoover believes the measure will do more than anything else to bolster the economic life of the nation and has used his every influence to impress Congress of the necessity of rapid action.

Operation of the reconstruction corporation has not come any too early. Such a measure a year ago would have prevented the collapse of hundreds of banks and business houses, and enabled the nation to go into a new period of prosperity without such a burden hanging upon its shoulders.

However, there is no time to wrangle over what might have been done. The supreme question of the moment is to rush the re-financing movement as rapidly as possible and prevent a recurrence of disaster in the economic life of the nation.

The Salvation Army campaign committee has virtually completed plans for the annual budget drive here from February 1 to 5, and there is every indication to believe the drive is going to be one of the most thoroughly prosecuted since establishment of the organization.

Tom Clifton has been named head of the budget committee and upon his shoulders will rest the success of organization. Canvassing committees will be named within the next few days, and they will begin their campaign for funds the first of the month.

Everybody is aware of what the Salvation Army is doing to improve public life in all communities throughout the nation. They reach down and carry relief to the lowliest of people and convert them into respectable citizens.

The statement by Governor Gardner that North Carolina will be the first state to shake off the current period of depression will be received with general satisfaction throughout the state.

The opinion was expressed by the governor following a visit to New York and Washington City where he had an opportunity to confer with leading figures of finance and politics.

The encouraging ray of light and hope for us in North Carolina," he said, "is seen in the fact that our citizens and our government have recognized conditions for what they are and are making stupendous efforts to adjust themselves to weather the storm."

Governor Gardner saw greater hope in the reconstruction measure through the appointment of Charles O. Daves as president of the organization, believing that he will be able to get results more quickly than any man that could have been named to the post.

SYNOPSIS: Trueman Rock has been badly wounded in a gun battle, but he has accomplished his purpose. Ash's cattle rustling has involved his father, Gage Preston, but now Gage is free. However, Rock fears that he has lost all chance of winning Gage's daughter, Thiry.

Chapter 48 A JEALOUS LIAR "I reckon so," rejoined Rock, slowly.

Then Mrs. Winter entered with breakfast for Rock. She was a slim, plain, busy little body, with gray hair, kind eyes, and a motherly manner.

"Maw'nin', Trueman!" she greeted him, smiling. "Sol says the bars are down an' heah I've rustled you fruit, rice, egg, toast and coffee."

"Mother Winter, you're no less than an angel," returned Rock, gratefully. "Sol, help me sit up in bed. . . Oh, I can if you lift me."

"Hurt much?" inquired Winter, when the desired position had been attained. "Reckon a little. Now fetch it to me, Mother Winter."

"Do you hear the church bell?" she asked as she deposited the tray on his lap. "Sure. Then it's Sunday?"

"Yes, and another Sunday you might go to church, with a crutch." "Me go to church. . . Lord, can't you see the congregation scatter?"

"About my news," said Winter when Mrs. Winter had left the room. "Gage Preston paid me the money you gave Slagle. Yesterday, before he left."

"Left?" echoed Rock, putting down his cup. "Yep, he left on Number Ten for Colorado," replied Winter, evidently gratified over the news he had to impart.

"Rock, it all turned out better'n we dared hope. They tell me Hest-bitt was stubborn as a mule, but Dabb and Lincoln together flattened him out soft. I got it all from Amy, who has been most darn keen to help. Rock, that little lady has a bad conscience over somethin'."

"Wal, with the steer market jumpin' to seventy-five, even Hest-bitt couldn't stay sore long. They fixed it up out of court. Dabb an' Lincoln made it easy for Preston. They bought him out, ranch, stock, an' all those foxy ranchers."

"They shore had a chance an' they fell on it like a turkey on a grass-hopper. Gage Preston somethin' big to square up, but at that he went away heeled. I seen him at the station."

"Did he go alone?" asked Rock. "No. His three grown sons were with him. All slicked up. Shore is an adventure for them. Looked to me they didn't care much. At that, there's darned little gossip. The rest of the Prestons are in town, but I haven't seen them."

"Funny Thiry doesn't run in to see me. I met Sam Whipple's wife. She saw Thiry an' Alice, who are stayin' at Farrell's. She said she couldn't see much sign of Thiry's takin' Ash's death very hard. That shore stumped me. But Thiry is game."

"Reckon she — they'll all be leavin' soon," returned Rock. "Don't know, but I'll find out pronto. If they did leave, like the old man, without seein' you or at least one word of them—wal, I'll change my idee of thank."

"Sol, you can't expect them to thank me for—depletin' their family somewhat." "I didn't mean that. Wal, I'll go out an' do some work around the barn. First off, though, I'd better shave your whiskers. There's likely to be callers, an' shore Amy, 'cause she said so."

Rock. His friends were all very good and kind, but they left him indifferent. "May I come in?" asked a girl's high voice, with an accompanying tap on the open door.

"Wall, he looks powerful ferocious, but I reckon you can risk comin' in," said Winter. (Copyright, Zane Grey)

Boyd, president of the Woman's Club, invited this department to take part in the planting program of the Woman's Club which will begin on Wednesday, January 27, when this organization will set trees on the Wilson-Greenville highway No. 91 approaches to this town. A musical bee relative to McDowell and his compositions preceded the program which consisted of a paper, "Humorous Situations in Wagner's Music Drama Performances," and a comprehensive as well as a delightful talk, "What is Art," was made by Mrs. J. T. Hughes, a former instructor at Meredith College and Greenville, S. C. Woman's College. The latter was in conjunction with the addition of Art to the studies of this group. Mrs. Hughes is at present connected with the Art department of the Grainger high school at Kinston. A variety of sandwiches and hot tea were served after adjournment.

The interesting program dealt with Mary Baker Eddy, with two papers; the first "A Woman Becomes a Deity" was read by Mrs. G. S. Vought; the second "The Twilight of a God," by Mrs. W. M. Willis. At the conclusion of the program the hostess served a sweet course. Mrs. J. N. Gregory and Mrs. H. L. Hendricks were special guests of the hostess.

DANIELS HAS NO DESIRE TO BE GOVERNOR OF N. C. (Continued from Page One) pres. nt difficulty. Mr. Daniels said the Democratic party would enjoy "an overwhelming victory" in this year's Presidential campaign.

Mount Berry, Ga., Jan. 23.--(AP) Joseph Daniels, who was injured in an automobile accident recently, a short time after he delivered an address at the 30th anniversary exercises of the Berry schools, was accorded a memorial service here today.

Miss Martha Berry, founder of the schools and the student body met in the chapel in a joint service.

Mr. Daniels suffered a fractured arm and other injuries. He is now recovering in a hospital at Atlanta. Since he has been there girls of the Berry high school have prepared special southern dishes for him and the school rule, prohibiting hunting on the 25,000 acre campus, was lifted to permit students to shoot a brace of quail for him.

During his visit to participate in the anniversary program, he and Miss Berry placed flowers on the grave of the first Mrs. Woodrow Wilson who is buried in Rome, near here. It was under President Wilson that Mr. Daniels served as secretary of the navy.

LOCALS LOSE TO FARMVILLE

The basketball team of Greenville high school went down in defeat before the Farmville aggregation last night by a score of 16 to 15. The game was played in a warehouse and the locals put up the best game they have played this year considering the unfamiliar court.

For the locals Perry King was the high scorer. He was assisted in the scoring column by every member of the local team. For Farmville, Gibbs was the outstanding player. The score was tight throughout with first one team in the lead and then the other. At half time the locals were on the short end of an 11 to 8 score but they quickly jumped into the lead with the opening of the third period. They were unable to hold the lead, however, due to the sinking of two technical fouls sunk by Farmville and the whistle blew with Greenville on the short end of a 16-15 score.

The locals play Kinston here on next Friday night in the high school gymnasium.

The college cagers left today for Bales Creek, where they will play Campbell college tonight.

Said the Anti-Saloon league on the same subject: "Boasted wet strength in the new congress failed to materialize in the first test vote. The death of Bingham resolution refutes wet claims of large accessions to the wet strength in the present Senate."

Bingham, however, used the point to demonstrate why he is working for modification of the Volstead act instead of repeal, hoping that his objective--to get legalized four per cent beer--will be attainable "in the not too far distant future."

"The vote in the Senate," he added, "demonstrated the strangling hold which the dry organizations are still maintaining, notwithstanding the extraordinary change in public opinion."

The dry organization, however, attributed to other reasons Bingham's defeat.

"The Bingham resolution was properly characterized by members of the Senate as 'ridiculous' since it sought to have members of the United States Senate themselves for the first time in our national history as incompetent to determine policies of legislation or judge of the merits of constitutional changes as the representatives of the people."

HAWKS AFTER SPEED MARK

After having spent the night in San Diego, Calif., about 15 miles from here, Hawks took off from Lindbergh field at eight minutes after four. At just a quarter after four he was back over San Diego en route to Oakland.

The official time and a handful of spectators were astonished at the speed at which Hawks dived for the field here, after circling the beacon marker. The night was clear and lighted by a brilliant moon, but the plane quickly disappeared to the north. When he passed over San Diego a few minutes later Hawks was flying very high.

There has been no round-trip, three-day speed attempt contemplated over the route Hawks took today. Six weeks ago Jimmy Weddell, the youthful New Orleans pilot, brought a plane he built to the west to attempt the feat. He set a record of 6 hours 42-1-2 minutes in flying to Vancouver, but upon arriving there decided against trying the return flight.

WARREN RISES IN CONGRESS

The Reconstruction Finance Corporation bill is the second greatest money bill ever passed in the history of the country, carrying two billion dollars and being the supreme effort on the part of the Democrats and Republicans to pull the nation out of the depression.

The bill was finally passed last Friday night, and when Congressman Warren left the chair to report to Speaker Garner that that bill was at last ready for passage, the entire House, with nearly every member present, gave him one of the most remarkable ovations and tributes that has ever been paid to anyone, the demonstration lasting five minutes. "No one can remember such a tribute being paid by the House before. Nor can anyone remember any other bill that called for so many rulinns from the chair or long parliamentary decisions."

Warren's achievement and the tribute paid to him were reported by every paper in the country. It was a fine and high honor that Speaker Garner conferred upon Northeastern North Carolina's Congressman, who was the first North Carolinian to occupy the chair since the days of Chasmo Clark.

He is now serving his fourth term. The following are a few extracts from clippings concerning Congressman Warren's occupation of the chair: "The N. Y. Herald-Tribune (Rep.) described the scene as follows: 'Not since the days of 'Uncle

J. C. Cannon has the House been driven farther than it was today by the Democratic organization to complete passage of the bill before nightfall. In this they were joined by many through a storm of proposed amendments which would have freighted Republican leaders to force the bill the act with impossible provisions. When the House convened the Democratic leadership served flat notice that a motion to adjourn would not be entertained until the bill had reached a decision.

"Representative Lindsay Carter, Warren, North Carolina Democrat, was in the chair. He had made a ruling yesterday which was certain to doom most of the amendments on the point of order that they were not germane to the bill. At times M. Warren's determined attitude seemed to his critics to skirt the ends of parliamentary practice, but it served the purpose sought. At the end when he surrendered the chair to Speaker John N. Garner, with the bill already ready for adoption, the House rose in a body and gave him the most marked ovation of the session."

The New York Times (Ind. Dem.) said: "Closure was resorted to time and again by the Democratic leaders. Some of their own partisans complained of this application of the 'gag' rule, for the use of which last session they criticized the Republican leadership. But the Democrats were determined. To this end they had the complete cooperation of Representative Lindsay Warren of North Carolina who presided during the bill. When he left the chair he was heartily applauded."

KIWANIS CLUB ENJOYS MUSIC

(Continued from Page One) racial commission, and asked that the public support the movement in every way possible. The conference has an important bearing on present day conditions, he pointed out, in view of the fact that it is intended primarily to produce closer co-operation between whites and negroes.

Reah Deal divulged the fact that the next meeting would be in charge of the reception committee, and will be one of the highlights of the year. He also called attention to the coming of Gaili Curd, noted singer to the college next Monday night.

President Guy Smith presided and the program was in charge of the music committee, C. B. Rowlett, chairman. The usual supper was enjoyed.

JURY QUITS IN HONOLULU

(Continued from Page One) Among the rumors created by the letter body's recusal was one saying some of the jurors wanted to apply the "unwritten law" to the Kahahawai killing. Another said that failure of the prosecutor to produce an actual witness of the shooting of the Hawaiian youth has convinced some of the jurors that he could not vote a murder indictment, but only on charging abduction.

Attorneys pointed out the law gave the presiding judge the right to refuse to accept findings of a grand jury. This fact gave rise to a third rumor that the jury had voted a "hung jury" and that Judge Albert M. Cristy had declined to permit the case to go to court.

The 21 men of the grand jury comprise 14 Anglo-Saxons, two negroes, four Hawaiians, and one Chinese.

The nerve also confessed two different holdups of a night watchman of the Export Tobacco Company here, and it was with one of the pistols taken from the watchman that Hodges was said to have been shot. Automobile keys belonging to a car stolen and used in Myers' possession along with keys and a flashlight belonging to Hodges.

A. L. Pharr, of Salisbury, charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of the wife of Hayward Tucker, colored, in an automobile collision near this city during the holidays, will also face grand jury action. He is an employee of the State Highway com-

POLICE DESCRIBE FINDING OF TRUNK MURDER BODIES

Wrapping and unwrapping her left hand with her handkerchief--an action almost constant with her during the past two days--the slim waisted defendant whom witnesses pointed out as owner of the gruesome baggage found in Los Angeles October 19, gave no sign of emotion when a blood-stained piece of carpet was produced.

The snapping of a pistol also found in the baggage she sent from Phoenix October 18 failed to startle her.

Lieutenant Ryan identified two trunks and described what he found in them when he was called to the Los Angeles Southern Pacific station late in the afternoon of October 19, by A. B. Anderson, district baggage agent.

N. Y. COTTON

New York, Jan. 23.--(AP) Cotton opened barely steady today at a decline of one to two points on over night selling orders, influenced by easier Liverpool cables. May sold at 6.78.

The latter included a little selling by the south, but trading was quiet and prices held within a narrow range. At the end of the first half hour March was selling at 6.64 and July at 6.96, or about net unchanged to one point lower.

The report of the Census Bureau showing 15,992,284 bales ginned prior to January 16 was about in line with expectations and without apparent effect on the market. Liverpool cables reported hedging and continental liquidation absorbed by trade calling and some buying on the easier sterling. Further business in cotton cloths with India was said to be pending in Manchester. The amount of cotton on shipboard awaiting clearance at the end of the week was estimated at 719,000 bales against 89,000 last year.

Futures closed steady, 1 to 2 points lower. Spot steady; middling 6.70.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Jan. 23.--(AP) Wheat prices tumbled today to the lowest level reached in a week.

Beardish action of the wheat market was in striking contrast with the sharp advance which took place on the latest previous Saturday.

About the only support today for wheat values came from purchases made to collect profits on sales higher up. Practically no new demand developed for wheat from North America.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Jan. 23.--(AP) The stock market steadied somewhat in a quiet week-end session today, but was unable to throw off the heaviness of the previous session.

Declines were moderate compared to yesterday's, and in the middle of the morning, there was a temporary upturn in the rails, but several prominent issues were off a point or more at the close and the final tone was heavy. The turnover was only about 700,000 shares.

Rails fluctuated uncertainly, as the wage negotiations at Chicago dragged on, but railway financing quarters remained confident of a reasonably satisfactory conclusion. The adoption of a resolution in Congress to consider a 6-hour day was regarded as having removed one highly controversial point from the negotiations. One unconfirmed report was that a 10 per cent wage reduction might be negotiated, only to affect workers who are employed on a full time basis.

At one time, New York Central, Baltimore and Ohio, and New Haven advanced about a point, but the gains were temporary. Santa Fe (dropped), then recovered most of its gain. Union Pacific and Southern Pacific lost about a point, but Corn Products was rather active, selling, losing more than 2 points. Coca Cola lost as much. American Telephone declined 2, then recovered a little. Miscellaneous issues off a point or more included U. S. Steel, American Can, Sears, Westinghouse, Johns Manville and International Harvester.

Week-end business and trade reports indicated some seasonal pick-up here and there. A further gain in steel output is expected for the Youngstown area next week. On the whole, however, these reports were not sufficiently impressive to influence the market.

JAPANESE WARSHIPS RUSHED TO SHANGHAI TO MEET EMERGENCY

(Continued from Page One) Japanese organizations which are held largely responsible for the boycott against Japanese goods and the cessation of what Japan considers protective steps sponsored by these societies and which, it is contended here, the Chinese government never seriously attempted to prevent.

Shanghai, China, Jan. 23.--(AP) --Eleven Japanese warships frowned on Shanghai today as a result of a tense situation between the Chinese and Japanese residents which has been growing during the week.

The Japanese cruiser OI, with 500 marines aboard, and the four Japanese destroyers arrived from Japan at 5:30 p. m. and dropped anchor in the Whangpoo river directly off the international settlement.

The Japanese aircraft carrier Motoro was expected to arrive from Chingangtao early tomorrow.

Japanese residents demanded, after the first clashes, that the Chinese authorities suppress anti-Japanese societies which they said were chiefly responsible for promoting the boycott against Japanese goods, which has had a serious reaction against Japanese trade.

Authorities of the international settlement requested Japanese Admiral Shiosawa yesterday for a statement of his intentions in a conference aboard his flagship in the river.

The Chinese language newspaper, (the Republican Daily News, which was warned yesterday by Japanese Naval officers that it had until today to apologize for printing an article they said was offensive to them) declared today it was willing to print the Japanese version of
