Daniels Declines To Run For Governor

TO CONTINUE BATTLE FOR THE PEOPLE

Raleigh Editor Presents His Measuring Stick for Selecting New Governor.

Raleigh, Feb. 15.—(AP)—Joseph Daniels will not be a candidate for Governor of North Carolina.

The former Secretary of the Navy explaining his position in a statement here in view of petitions from hundreds of Democrats voters asking him to seek the Governorship, said he felt he could serve the state and the people better as editor of the Raleigh News and Observer.

At the same time he pledged himself to the cause of Democracy and the people of North Carolina and set forth a program for changes in the tax laws which he said should be the "measuring stick" for selecting the next Governor.

Mrs. Arnold Kegel (above), estranged wife of Chicago's former city health commissioner (below), was indicted on charges of poisoning Mrs. Mary Ryan, a witness in a divorce suit in which Dr. Kegel charged his wife tried to poison him.

SAYS 20 MEN DIRECT N. Y. BEAR RAID

Banker-Lawyer Declares They Play for Huge Stakes With Loaded Dice.

Washington, Feb. 15.—(AP)—A House judiciary sub-committee was told today that 20 men dominate the bear raiders of the New York Stock Exchange.

This statement was made by Harold Arons, lawyer and banker connected with the International Trust Company of New York City, who appeared before the committee in behalf of legislation to prohibit short-selling.

He said the defense of short selling made by Richard S. Whitney, president of the New York exchange, "has not been supported by the facts."

Arons said recent bear drives constitute "the ruthless efforts of speculators to recoup fortunes lost in 1920."

"It is not even gambling," Arons said. "It is playing for huge stakes with loaded dice."

Representative Sabath, (D., Ill.), author of one of the bills under consideration said if short-selling had been stopped in 1929, half of the banks and industries now closed would have been saved.

"We have seen within the last week the intimate anatomical relationship between the stock market

Powers Again Send Protest To Japanese

Washington, Feb. 15.—(AP)—The United States and Great Britain have again protested against Japan's use of the international settlement in Shanghai as a military base for attacking the Chinese outside the settlement.

A message received today by the State Department from Consul General Edwin S. Cunningham at Shanghai said he had protested to the Japanese consul general against the landing of Japanese troops in large numbers on docks in Honkew, the section of the international settlement which is policed by the Japanese.

Similar action was taken by the British consul general.

Cunningham's move was made under his instructions to act on individual instances of the in-late neutrality of the international settlement.

It is not known definitely that Cunningham signed this report, but it was worked out with his full cooperation and approval.

NEW YORK MAN GETS SUPREME COURT PLACE

Pres. Hoover Names Judge Benjamin N. Cardozo to Succeed Justice Holmes.

Washington, Feb. 15.—(AP)—President Hoover has determined upon Judge Benjamin N. Cardozo of New York, as a successor to Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes on the Supreme Court bench.

Benjamin Nathan Cardozo now is Chief Justice of New York State Court of Appeals. He has been strongly recommended by various elements describing themselves as Liberals. He is a Democrat and a Jew.

The name was to be forwarded to the Senate some time today. Confirmation is assured.

Cardozo has the backing of New York's two senators and is also known to be favored by such leaders as Borah, of Idaho, who opposed confirmation of Chief Justice Hughes and Judge John J. Parker.

The president conferred with Senator Watson of Indiana, the Republican leader and other administration senators before making his choice finally.

He has been emphasizing the nation for week looking for the successor to Justice Holmes.

Appointment of Cardozo makes the political lineup of the Supreme Court five Republicans and four Democrats.

TROOPS MASS FOR ATTACKS

More than 85,000 Soldiers Stationed in the Shanghai - Woosung Area Awaiting Tremendous Battle; All Americans Advised to Evacuate the Surrounding Towns and Move to Shanghai at Once.

Shanghai, China, Tuesday, Feb. 15.—(AP)—Fifty thousand Chinese soldiers stood by in the dark behind the trenches of Chapei today waiting for the Japanese offensive which did not come.

At nightfall on Monday the Chapei guns opened up after a quiet day but the shooting subsided after an hour or so and presumably the concentrations behind the lines were going on while the Japanese completed unloading troops and supplies in the Whang-poo near Woosung.

Official estimates said 25,000 Japanese soldiers already were on the ground. Yesterday and Sunday the stocky little fighters goose-stepped through the international settlement on the way to the Chapei and Woosung fronts.

Several Japanese cotton mills and other factories and warehouses beyond the city limits were in use as temporary points of concentration. There were reports from Tokyo that the Japanese government in view of indications that the Chinese are determined to put up a stubborn fight, was considering sending additional reinforcements.

KING FIRES BACK AT CYR

Asks that Court Dismiss the Ouster Suit Brought by Seeker of Governorship.

Lake Charles, La., Feb. 15.—(AP)—Denying he obtained the office by conspiracy or is holding it by force of arms, Alvin C. King, who succeeded Huey P. Long as Governor of Louisiana, filed exceptions today to the ouster suit brought against him by Dr. Paul N. Cyr, and asked the court to dismiss the action for lack of jurisdiction.

Cyr, elected lieutenant-governor at the time Long was named governor, was charged a conspiracy existed between Long and King to place the latter in the governor's (Continued on Page Three)

RIFT EXISTS IN DEMOCRACY

Prospects of Harmony in Presidential Election Fades to a Mere Shadow.

Washington, Feb. 15.—(AP)—A cleavage rift now exists between important elements of the Democratic party, and the prospects for harmony in this year of presidential election had faded to a shadow.

Definite statements of opposing positions over the instruction of delegates now stand between Franklin D. Roosevelt and his supporters on the one hand, and that section of the party leadership which agrees with the views of J. M. Gurnea, director of Democratic National headquarters under Chairman John J. Raskob.

Shouse has advocated that delegates not be instructed, but be left free to choose their candidate in the light of conditions at the moment the convention is held and the ballots are cast.

Governor Roosevelt saw in the plan of disfranchisement of the party's rank and file with the decision thrown to the dickering of powerful leaders, nothing more than a back-room nomination.

Shouse and Raskob disclaim any intention to stop Roosevelt or any other candidate with the non-instruction plan, but Roosevelt's candidacy, now rolling up a mounting total of votes all over the country, is the one most threatened before convention time, having most to lose. Yet the New York governor has not questioned the sincerity of the Shouse-Raskob disclaimer.

His supporters, however, are working intensively to roll up the kind of snowball that will travel from its own momentum. They are striving for that wholesale dash for a ride on the bandwagon which (Continued on Page Three)

MILL WORKER SHOT TO DEATH

Another Is Seriously Wounded While Trying to Break Into a House.

Lenoir, Feb. 15.—(AP)—Ned McDade, textile worker at Hudson, near here, was shot to death early today and Homer Taylor was seriously wounded by Jeff Swanson who said McDade was trying to break into his home.

Sheriff John Welsh quoted Swanson as saying he fired the fatal shot in the darkness after the only lamp in his home had been broken.

Swanson was arrested and charged with murder. Seven other persons were held as material witnesses.

Police said the shooting followed an argument at Swanson's home and that during the resultant fight, the lamp was broken. Swanson said he then fired in an effort to keep McDade from the residence.

McDade, who was 29 years old, is survived by his widowed mother and several brothers and sisters.

RUSH WORK ON RELIEF BILLS

Credit Expansion Bill Expected to be Completed by the House Today.

Washington, Feb. 15.—(AP)—Legislation to set up a $10,000,000 revolving fund to assist in financing agriculture credit corporations was approved today by the House agricultural committee.

The bill, drafted by Chairman Jones with the assistance of the agricultural department, is designed to make available additional credit to farmers from the intermediate credit banks.

The secretary of agriculture would make loans from the fund up to 75 per cent of the capital stock or credit corporations with at least $10,000 capitalization. (Continued on Page Three)

SUPPLY BILLS CUT SHARPLY

All Important Divisions Feel Economy Sythe in Annual Appropriations.

Washington, Feb. 15.—(AP)—All important divisions of the State, Justice, Commerce and Labor departments, except the Prohibition Bureau, felt the sharp sythe of economy in their $124,713,000 supply bill for next fiscal year, reported today to the House.

The Democratic controlled appropriations committee cut $5,070,000 off the budget estimates of $129,784,000 but left untouched the request for $11,369,500 for the dry enforcement unit, the same amount appropriated for the current year. However, it disclosed the budget bureau had reduced the original prohibition bureau request for $13,635,000, by disallowing an increase for 2,000 to 2,500 in the number of dry agents.

Total budget estimates for the fiscal year 1933 were $14,287,000 less than 1932 appropriations. Most of this came off the Commerce department, largely because of reduced needs of the Census and Lighthouse bureaus and the aero (Continued on Page Three)

THREE STILL TAKEN IN PITT

Three Operators and Considerable Lot of Liquor and Beer Also Nabbed.

Three stills, a similar number of operators and a considerable amount of whiskey and beer were captured by Federal officers in a series of raids in Pitt county Saturday night and Sunday morning, it was made known today.

Two of the plants were taken in the Haddock's Cross Roads section and the other near Grifton.

The distillers, George Parke, Charlie Mitchell and Arnold Poyell, were given preliminary hearing before U. S. Commissioner T. E. Beaman and lodged in jail in default of bond.

Officers said warrants had also been issued for several others alleged to have been connected with the stills, including those who sold the supplies for manufacturing the beverage.

Included in the haul were 24 gallons of whiskey, 1,000 gallons of beer and a considerable amount of paraphernalia used in distillation.

The raiders stated that, manufacturers had changed their time of operating stills to Saturday night and Sunday, believing officers are (Continued on Page Three)

Former Local Man Kills Self At Greensboro

Greensboro, —(AP)—Robert A. Bishop, 48, official of a laundry, asphyxiated himself with gas here. He left a note saying pains caused by ill health could not be borne any longer.

Mr. Bishop was a former resident of Greenville. He established what is now known as the Greenville laundry, selling out and leaving the city about 14 years ago.

Mr. Bishop came here from Blackstone, Va., in 1912 and moved to Greensboro in 1918 where he and his brother operated a laundry. He had been in ill health for a number of years.

He was popular among a wide circle of friends while here and his death was received with profound shock.

He was married and has a wife and several children.

Lexington, —(AP)—Gaither Workman, 20, of Davidson county, became ill and died after drinking whiskey which two companions said was purchased from Bob Yates. A warrant charging Yates with violation of the prohibition laws was sworn out.

Are China And Japan At War? Is Mooted Question

Washington, Feb. 15.—(AP)—Are China and Japan now actually at war?

The question, causing great discussions among authorities on international law, finds conflicting answers.

The League of Nations Shanghai commission reported to the League council in Geneva that "a state of open war exists" at Shanghai.

Quincy Wright, professor of international law at the University of Chicago, said in an address: "Japan and China are not at war, because neither has expressed an intention to make war. However, if hostilities reach sufficient magnitude, it would doubtless be in the competence of third states to regard war as existing."

Popular and legal definitions of war vary greatly and have changed and developed with international practice through the centuries.

In fact there are several kinds of wars and the definitions of these also vary. A "perfect" war is when the struggle exists between whole states. An "imperfect" war is one which is limited as to places, persons and things. And a "solemn war" is one begun by formal declaration. If the struggle at Shanghai is a war in the legal sense it certainly is not a "solemn" war, nor a "perfect" war. At most it is an "imperfect war."

"Declared and open hostilities" is one of the definitions Webster's dictionary gives for war. Another it gives is "the state or fact of existing violence or force against another, now only against a state or other politically organized body."

During the second definition, which is in no sense legal, the Shanghai (Continued on Page Three)

FARMERS ASK ASSISTANCE

Hundreds from Eastern Part of N. C. Apply for Government Loans.

Washington, Feb. 14.—(AP)—Several hundred farmers in the eastern half of the State have applied here for loans under the fifty-million provision of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation act. Regulations governing the lending of this money have just been issued by the Secretary of Agriculture.

The amount of each loan will be based on the acreage of specified crops to be planted by the borrower in the spring of 1932 and on the requirements of individual borrowers for supplies necessary in the production of these crops. For instance, some borrowers will have need for workstock but will need to purchase seed. Others will have seed but need funds to purchase fuel and oil for tractors. The maximum loan to any borrower will be $400 and the total of loans to the tenants of any landowner in any one county will be $1,800. The interest rate in all cases will be 5-1/2 per cent.

Loans for financing the planting of cotton and tobacco will be made on acreage not more than 65 per cent of the acreage devoted to these crops in 1931. If the owner, share cropper, or tenant planted more than ten acres of cotton or more than three acres of tobacco last year.

In counties in which fertilizer is not commonly used the maximum loan per acre will be $3 for all crops except truck crops, including potatoes and sweet potatoes, on which a maximum rate of $12 is (Continued on Page One)

Arrest Thirteen Movie Operators at Atlanta, Ga.

Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 15.—(AP)—Atlanta's first full program of Sunday movies, arranged for the benefit of the mayor's emergency relief committee, has resulted in the arrest of thirteen theater managers.

Acting on the instructions of Police Chief James L. Beavers, who said a complaint had been made by Mrs. J. E. Andrews, chairman of the Georgia Woman's committee for law enforcement, four detectives made the rounds of the city's playhouses yesterday serving summonses to appear in city court tomorrow and Wednesday on charges of violation of the city ordinance against operation of movie picture shows on Sunday and cashiers and operators were instructed to be present at witnesses against their employers.

It was the first time in the city's history that there was a general operation of Sunday shows and the detectives visited every theatre in the city proper except one neighborhood house that remained closed. Performances were permitted to continue as the summonses were served.

China Prepares To Ask Boycott Against Japan

By ANDRUE BERDING
(Copyright, 1932, by The Associated Press.)
Geneva, Switzerland, Feb. 15.—(AP)—China prepared today to call upon the League of Nations to authorize an economic boycott against Japan, the most drastic action provided for in the covenant of the League of Nations, unless redress is obtained through a special meeting of the League assembly, under article XI of the covenant, which it has invoked officially.

The decision of W. W. Yen, Chinese spokesman, coincided with a report received by the League from its investigating commission at Shanghai in which the commissioners declared "a state of open war exists" there and "the offensive is entirely in the hands of the Japanese whose declared object is to capture the Woosung forts and drive all Chinese to a considerable distance from the city."

The report was signed by Count Galeazzo Ciano, son-in-law of Premier Benito Mussolini of Italy and Italian Consul General at Shanghai.

Coupled with the news that Japan had landed 12,000 fresh troops at Shanghai, the report stirred the League to its depths. The general assembly was asked for by Mr. Yen last Friday and he said it would be determined to go on with the appeal if the council decided it would not convene the meeting itself.

His next plea, he said, will be under article XVII of the covenant, which provides for an economic boycott.

Natsuko Sato, Japanese delegate, said Japan would oppose the Chinese plea. "The Japanese would whose declared object is to capture the Woosung forts and drive all (Continued on Page Three)

JUDGE FACES COURT ACTION

Preliminary Hearing for Judge Harwood to be Held Tomorrow at Raleigh.

Raleigh, Feb. 15.—(AP)—A preliminary hearing for Judge John H. Harwood, special superior court jurist charged with tampering with the records of criminal and civil actions of the state against his daughter, Miss Lola Harwood, is scheduled to be held in police court here tomorrow.

The judge was arrested Saturday shortly after Governor Gardner had suspended his commission, he made bond in the sum of $1,000.

Judge Harwood is charged in two warrants with being an accessory (Continued on Page Three)

Preliminary Hearing for Judge Harwood to be Held Tomorrow at Raleigh.

Official reports indicated that more than 85,000 soldiers, 10,000 of them comprising the foreign garrison, were massed in the Shanghai-Woosung area, awaiting a tremendous battle which promised to put far in the background all previous military action of more than two weeks of heavy fighting.

United States consular authorities advised all Americans in outlying places in the lower Yangtze valley to evacuate these towns and come to Shanghai because of the possibility of widespread hostilities. Other foreigners also were reported evacuating interior towns.

Thousands of additional Japanese troops unloaded from more transports in the river boats and marched to quarters, accompanied by artillery, machine gun equipment and a hospital corps and naval headquarters announced the further detachments are expected shortly. The total number of Japanese troops here now was given as approximately 25,000.

General Tsai Ting-Kai, commander of Chinese troops in the area said two new divisions have been added to his army, bringing the total number of Chinese soldiers ready to oppose the expected Japanese thrust of 50,000. The two new divisions, the Chinese said, comprise 20,000 men.

The forces of the foreign powers after the arrival of a French contingent which is expected shortly will number slightly more than 10,000 troops.

There were the many other signs of Chinese preparations to resist to the utmost a new Japanese advance on Chapei.

New Howitzer batteries have been brought into the fighting zone and the Chinese soldiers worked busily to strengthen their army defenses. Lines of barbed wire barricades were (Continued on Page Three)

Boy Crazy

By GRACE PERKINS AUTHOR OF "PERSONAL MAID"

SYNOPSIS: Determined to separate Hope Ross Dale and her young husband, Dickey, Hope's father, Dickey's uncle, and tells Hope that her husband hasn't tried to communicate with her. Mr. Ross dislikes "Hickey," Dickey's father, and considers the marriage socially wrong. Hope has determined to stick to Dickey.

Chapter 19 LAUGHING-STOCK OF THE TOWN

"Hasn't—been here? Haven't you heard from him?" Hope asked. "No."

"Then he's hurt! Something's happened!" Papa Ross thought quickly.

"No, he's perfectly whole and sound," he lied gruffly. "His father has talked to me on the phone."

"What did Hickey say?" Papa Ross cleared his throat, and sought in his pocket for a cigarette.

"Hickey as you call him, tried to be very placating at first," Papa Ross told her quietly. "But when he found out—"

"Yes? Yes? What, Daddie?" "Really, Hope, I hate to tell you. I knew about them all along. I'm a better judge of people than you are, child. I was right in the first place—"

"Tell me!" stamped Hope stormily. "When he found out what?"

"When he learned that both your mother and I intended to cut you off entirely, your friend Hickey had a rather different tune to sing."

Hope stared at him. Brushed her hand against his eyes and stared again. For one brief moment came a stinging memory.

Dickey asking her to sign a pledge, that turned out to be her wedding license. Dickey drawing as he asked her to sign, "Sign it, cricket, will you, so I can sue you for breach of promise if you don't make good."

"How drew in her breath sharply and shook the thought from her, remembering it was a joke—a loving joke."

She flung back her head and looked calmly into her father's eyes.

"I don't believe it," she murmured. "No it isn't true. Hickey had offered to back us—give us an allowance, set us up in Harmond."

"Talk—all talk!" snapped Mr. Ross, flicking his match out the window. "Windbag. Just putting on a face! When it came to a show-down, he was perfectly willing to listen to reason. The minute he heard I would disinherit and disown you—"

"You would do that to me?" Her blank disbelief was punishment enough for Papa Ross for the sins he was committing.

"Yes, daughter. I would. Rather than see you ruin your life."

Two blue eyes studied him narrowly, and then up went the yellow head with a defiant toss.

"I wouldn't care! I'd still want Dickey!"

Mr. Ross drew his lips in beneath his teeth, and held on to his temper.

"I'm sorry to see you like that, Hope. It cuts me deeply that the boy got such a hold on you. Even if it is only in your imagination—"

"It isn't my imagination. I love him."

"Don't talk utter nonsense Cracker-barrel love! Puppy love! Idiot! The mere discovery at seventeen that you have emotions! Good God, Hope, use your head! Does it mean nothing to you that he's been drinking? That he's laid Rusty Crandall up with a broken eardrum? That instead of being able to talk to me like a man, he nearly threw me over and sprained my arm in an effort to show me my word meant nothing?"

"He didn't mean to hurt you. He was probably trying to get to me. You shouldn't have separated us like that! Why wouldn't you listen to us?"

Papa Ross treated her to the kind of foggy superior stare he stands.

George Presnell was brought face to face with the fact after going 29 years without being apprehended for murder. But he is in jail now and the law will take its course just as it would have done had the man been arrested the day the crime was committed.

People may violate the law and think they can get by with it, but they are mistaken. Legislation protecting the homes of his great nation is as inescapable as fate itself and those who go beyond the pale may be assured of atoning for their crime eventually.

Republicans and Democrats are launching their campaigns for capturing presidential honors. Republicans in North Carolina are going to open their drive by informing the public of the achievements of President Hoover and their influence upon every day life.

It is to be wondered, what the boys did with badges distributed during the last campaign proclaiming "Vote for Hoover for Prosperity."

Why not bring out a similar slogan this time? It would give the Democratic mule, a better chance to let off steam with something like "Vote Against Hoover and Defeat Depression."

But don't worry, the campaign is young yet and before it is many days older the organizers will furnish sufficient pyrotechnics to satisfy supporters of both parties, and all of us will know more about the leading candidates than we thought we should ever know about anybody.

act of eavesdropping, crossed into her father's study and sat down by the phone. She called Hickey's hotel-apartment. Talked to Rogers, the man-servant, and listened to him explain that Mr. Dale and his son were on their way to Virginia and that he himself was to join them as soon as he could pack a few things.

"Any message, miss?" demanded Rogers politely. Hope tried desperately to say the word wouldn't come. She hung up and buried her head in her arms on the desk.

A hand on her shoulder started her. "Please!" she cried, pulling her shoulder away pettishly and getting to her feet. "Please. I want to be alone."

Carefully she made her way to the door of his study. At the threshold she looked back and gathered breath.

"I want you to know," she gasped brokenly, "that there's some awful mistake somewhere. He wouldn't desert me like that. We'll hear from him soon. I'm sure. And I'm going to wait before I judge!"

Papa Ross leaned back in his huge desk chair and looked out his casement-window.

He was not sorry. But ashamed! Ashamed that he couldn't tell the truth to Hope. Ashamed at the memory of the bleeding youth he had so violently struck down, and whom Old Man Hickey had cared directly off to the boy's maternal grandmother, rather than face further publicity by going to a hospital. Ashamed that he really didn't know the extent of Dickey's injuries. Ashamed at the treatment Hickey's man-servant had nearly dealt him over the phone as he explained both the true circumstances and the false story which Hickey had given orders to have broadcast.

But still Papa Ross was not sorry. Still he believed that he had acted only for the best—for Hope's sake. During the next three days Hope was a voluntary prisoner in her room.

Mrs. Ross has a heart attack, which proves amputation for an attempt to make Hope surrender tomorrow.

Few Arrests Made During Week-End

Law enforcement officers in Pitt County experienced another quiet week-end; it was reported today, with only a few arrests being recorded in the various townships.

Greenville, which has set something of a record from the standpoint of lack of arrests the last several months, had only two or three infractions of the law on the police blotter this morning.

From the sheriff's office came the information that only two or three violators were rounded up during Saturday night and Sunday.

Only a minor number of automobile wrecks were reported from the highway patrol headquarters, and none of a serious nature.

Three Marriage Licenses Issued

Three licenses to marry were issued by the register of deeds over the week-end, it was revealed by records today. Only one of the couples was white, the remainder being colored. They were:

Charles M. Peel to Miss Lizzie Buck, both of Swift Creek township.

Colored—Jesse Bland of Theresa Matthews, Craven County; Chas. Hemby to Lizzie Smith, both of Greenville.

ABOUT TOWN

One thing about those unemployed boys—they won't have to worry about paying income tax this year, and that in itself should be quite a relief.

Those who have been plodding at usual tasks from day to day will have to come across and contribute their bit toward operation of the government. While every pocket-book is lighter than ever by reason of the long siege of depression, the average individual is about as well off as the state or national government, judging by the pronounced shortage reported from time to time.

But the thing really troubling the majority of people is that proposed increase of income taxes. The burden apparently is about as heavy now as the average man can stand, so why not ask them to try to uncover other sources of taxation without again administering knock-out drops to the little man, always and forever the goat of taxation projects.

This is home-coming year with Farmville folks and several events in connection with celebration of the anniversary of the town's incorporation will be staged from time to time.

The first was held last week and proved a signal success. Farmville is proud of the record she has established in past years, and it is to bring some of the achievements more forcefully to the attention of the citizenship that home-coming year is being observed.

Other towns would do well to follow in the footsteps of Farmville in this direction. It should have a tendency to create civic pride and inspire the citizenship to push on to greater accomplishment in the years to come.

Farmville is unquestionably one of the most thriving young towns in this part of the state and its future is as bright for further expansion as any town we can think of.

The big fight is on this week, if we are to accept stories out of Shanghai regarding the Sino-Jap war.

The whole object of the big push is to run the Chinese out of Shanghai. If the Chinese do not have a right in their own city we would like to know who has. Surely the Japanese do not contend they feel like they are doing the right thing by literally forcing the Chinese to abandon one of their principal cities.

The "big push" or whatever it may be termed, seems to be nothing more than conquest of the country, and who blames the Chinese for offering the stoutest resistance it is in their power to offer. Their stand is for the protection of home and most anybody with an ounce of blood in his veins would fight until the last under such conditions.

That Chinese delegate to the Geneva disarmament conference who declared that the conference would fail if the League of Nations does not settle the dispute in China evidently knew what he was talking about.

If the league is incapable of handling a small situation of this kind what would an arms agreement be worth?

It is true every power on earth is willing to cut armament in the face of depressed finances, but if properly provoked very few of them would be able to remember the agreement.

Japan forgot it; China likewise failed to remember it, and some of the other powers are likely to throw discretion to the wind and become entangled in mortal combat before the storm is over.

The League of Nations must first be proved effective before anything satisfactory will be accomplished by the principal powers involved and the delegates might as well satisfy themselves on this point before they go any further.

Crime seldom ever goes unpunished. This has been so since the birth of man and it will continue to prove true as long as civilization stands.

George Presnell was brought face to face with the fact after going 29 years without being apprehended for murder. But he is in jail now and the law will take its course just as it would have done had the man been arrested the day the crime was committed.

People may violate the law and think they can get by with it, but they are mistaken. Legislation protecting the homes of his great nation is as inescapable as fate itself and those who go beyond the pale may be assured of atoning for their crime eventually.

Republicans and Democrats are launching their campaigns for capturing presidential honors. Republicans in North Carolina are going to open their drive by informing the public of the achievements of President Hoover and their influence upon every day life.

It is to be wondered, what the boys did with badges distributed during the last campaign proclaiming "Vote for Hoover for Prosperity."

Why not bring out a similar slogan this time? It would give the Democratic mule, a better chance to let off steam with something like "Vote Against Hoover and Defeat Depression."

But don't worry, the campaign is young yet and before it is many days older the organizers will furnish sufficient pyrotechnics to satisfy supporters of both parties, and all of us will know more about the leading candidates than we thought we should ever know about anybody.

GROWS TOBACCO PLANTS IN HIS BACK YARD

Jesse Reed, colored, of West Fourteenth street, believes he has set some kind of a record in the production of tobacco plants this season.

He brought two tremendous plants to the office of the Daily Reflector this morning to show the result of an experiment in plant growing in the back yard of his home.

The larger of the plants was two feet high and the other about one foot. They were planted in December, and in spite of exposure to changeable weather, are rich and healthy in appearance.

Following reports that documents in the case had been photographed for fingerprints, repeated rumors are being heard here that testimony regarding fingerprints may play an important part in the state's case.

Members of the state's legal staff would not comment on the rumors but in view of Judge Harwood's formal statement that he had examined the records in the case and "found copies of letters" interest centered on how many possible fingerprints were on the letters, it was accepted as obvious that this would be on the records.

Neither Judge Harwood nor employees of the Revenue Department have been fingerprinted, police and Assistant Attorney General A. A. F. Eawell said today.

Reports were circulated again that the Japanese planned to withdraw from the league if the assembly were convoked. But the Japanese delegation denied this emphatically.

Much significance was attached in some quarters, however, to the fact that instead of going directly to league headquarters for information, the Japanese spokesman visited Rene Massigli, French representative, to obtain an opinion regarding the procedure involved in calling a meeting of the assembly.

The report of the league's commission also said a "reign of terror" resulted in the Hongkew district of Shanghai after its occupation by the Japanese.

FARMERS ASK ASSISTANCE

(Continued from Page One) allowed. Where fertilizer is necessary for crop production the maximum rates are $6 for all crops except tobacco and truck crops, the rate for tobacco being $10 and that for truck crops $20. Not to exceed $1 per acre of loans made at any of these rates may be used for repairs and miscellaneous expenses of crop production other than seed, fertilizer, feed for workstock and fuel and oil or tractors.

Special provision is made or additional loans for the purchase of materials to protect crops from insects and plant diseases where spraying or dusting is necessary. These loans will be at rates not to exceed $2 for cotton and tobacco and $4 for truck crops. Fruit growers may borrow not to exceed $25 per acre to fertilize and spraying materials for orchards and vineyards. All loans for these purposes are included in the limit of $400 on the individual loan.

Loans will not be made to persons who did not engage in farming in 1931, nor to minors. Loans for summer fallowing are not authorized. The money loaned from this appropriation may not be used for the purchase of livestock other than workstock, the purchase of machinery, or for payment of taxes, debts, or interest or debts.

Any farmer who desires to obtain a loan will make application on a form provided by the secretary of agriculture and at the same time will execute a note in the amount of his loan and will give as security a first mortgage on his crop to be produced in 1932. Application blanks and other necessary forms will be sent as soon as they can be printed, to county seed loan advisory committees to be set up in each locality. These committees will make recommendation to the Secretary of Agriculture with reference to the individual applicant.

On completion of the county committee certificate on the back of the application, all papers in connection with the loan will be sent to one of the several field officers to be established by the Secretary for the convenient handling of application.

The Washington office will receive applications for loans from farmers in Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, New York, New Jersey, Michigan, Ohio, Maryland, Delaware, West Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Florida.

SUPPLY BILL CUT SHARPLY

(Continued from Page One) This department was allowed $44,129,000 or $10,292,000 less than for this year, and $568,000 below the budget.

The State department received $15,698,000, or $3,166,000 less, although Secretary Stimson testified that ten revolutions in foreign countries, the world wide economic situation, and trouble in the Far East long with the Geneva arms and other conferences had increased its labors. The allotment was $1,484,000 less than the budget estimates.

The Labor department was given $14,329, a cut of $155,000 in the budget estimates and $655,000 less than current appropriations. Of this, $10,569,000 is for the immigration service, which reported a sharp decline in entrants and an exodus of foreigners through a drive of aliens and because of the business situation.

For the Justice department $51,056,000 was set aside. This is $2,844,000 below the budget estimates and $172,000 below the current appropriations.

HEAVY GUNFIRE CRASHES IN CHAPET AREA ENDING DAY OF UNUSUAL QUIET

The American consulate said its advice to Americans to evacuate interior cities had gone to a number of places within 100 miles of Shanghai, including Soochow, where 100 Americans live. It was also sent to Wushih, Changchow, Kiangyin and Changchu. About 65 Americans live in the latter group of towns.

The Chinese armies also seemed preparing to insure orderly and dogged retreat if they should find it necessary to fall back before the power of the Japanese advance. Most of their new troops have been assigned to the Kiangwan sector in which there has been considerable action during the past week.

The belief was expressed by Chinese military authorities that the Japanese plan much of their offensive action for this vicinity.

A number of Japanese shells fell into the sectors patrolled by United States marines and American and English members of the Shanghai volunteer corps during a bombardment today.

The volunteer corps withdrew for safety's sake, but they emerged again after the shelling was over.

About a dozen shells, most of them duds, fell within the marines' area. Several others landed among volunteers. No one was injured. The bombardment was directed against Chinese positions.

Throughout the day Japanese soldiers streamed ashore from transports in the river to swell the thousands now here awaiting the promised battle. With them came Red Cross and hospital units, with first aid equipment on their backs, machine gun units and eight heavy field guns; each drawn by six horses.

"The carefully worked-out plan for your reconstruction corporation and the actual inauguration of its functions found no response in the stock market and there was until decline in entrants and an exodus of foreigners through a drive of aliens and because of the business situation.

"On Wednesday it was known in Wall Street that the rediscounts of the Federal Reserve board were to be liberalized. This was the policy which certain influences in the financial world have long favored and the stock exchange had the power, and demonstrated by the market's action, to withhold recognition of the constructive program of your reconstruction corporation until their legislation which it wanted was assured.

"When that which it wanted was promised in such form as to be treated as an accomplished fact, it

(Continued from Page One) well-defined prospects of success can be to bring. The immediate aim is to do into a militant, well-coordinated campaign the somewhat spontaneous local movements in his behalf.

Half a dozen other candidates are dividing the play on the other side of the fence, either working for unstructured delegates or seeking the support of states previously claimed in Roosevelt's column. Alfred E. Smith, although he declared himself no candidate, is the conspicuous figure in the field, with slates of delegates favoring him entered in the primary races of several states.

JAPS EXPLAIN TROOP MOVE

(Continued from Page One) Kenkich Yoshizawa and it was understood the foreign minister explained to them the reasons why Japan deemed it necessary to send thousands of additional troops to Shanghai.

The foreign minister was also understood to have outlined why Japan believes it necessary to drive the Chinese army back to a "safe distance" from Shanghai in case the Chinese refuse to withdraw voluntarily.

Official censorship on news of the troop movements to Shanghai was lifted by the government today and it was made known that Lieutenant Gen. Kenkichi Uyeda, commander of the Japanese land forces at Shanghai, was expected to present an ultimatum to the Chinese shortly, demanding that they withdraw.

If the Chinese refused to comply with the terms of the ultimatum, it was stated, General Uyeda was expected to launch an early renewal of the Japanese offensive, aided by the large reinforcements of men and munitions landed there today and yesterday.

The total Japanese forces at Shanghai were given here as now comprising about 15,000 men. This included nearly two divisions of army troops, part of the twelfth and all of the ninth.

Dispatches to the Rengo news agency from Changchun, Manchuria, said "spectacular developments" were expected there, including the establishment of an independent state of Manchuria. The Chinese leaders were assembling at Mukden, the dispatches said, to arrange the final details for the new state.

RUSH WORK ON RELIEF BILLS

The credit expansion bill, bearing the names of Democratic sponsors but fathered by the Hoover administration, and supported with regard to party lines, was brought to the House with expectation of passage within the day, and final congressional action within the week.

Chairman Steagall of the banking committee, joint author with Senator Glass of Virginia, had ready a demand for suspension of the normal rules. This would provide immediate consideration, debate slashed to a pale shadow of the usual congressional oratory, and action on amendments limited to those approved by the banking committee itself.

The Senate was not free to act on the measure, being up to its neck in the long drawn out controversy over direct relief for the country's unemployed. The leaders hoped, however, the final vote on the LaFollette-Costigan $750,000,000 relief bill would come during the day, making way for consideration of the credit legislation tomorrow. The relief outlook is muddled by the number of alternative propositions offered, much sentiment for unemployment-aid but little agreement as to method, and counter-claims of victory by all sides.

Atlantic City, N. J., Feb. 15.—(AP)—Ruins smoldered today where 24 hours ago stood the famous steeplechase pier, one of this resort's famous landmarks for two score years.

The damage was estimated at $500,000.

The pier was built in 1892 by the late George C. Tilyou, amusement magnate. It was covered, in part at least, by insurance.

BIG LIQUOR CARGO SEIZED

Moving Van Containing 2,500 Gallons of Cuban Liquor Taken en at Dunn.

Dunn, N. C., Feb. 15.—(AP)—Between 2,000 and 2,500 gallons of what officers termed "choice Cuban liquors" were seized here this morning by police when a large moving van hauling the contraband went into a ditch. The van had a Michigan motor license, number 1503779.

The van was a converted motor truck and had a big trailer attached. The liquor was in quart bottles.

Two men were seen to leave the truck and board a large packard automobile which had evidently been trailing the car, police said. No arrests were made.

The truck, trailer and contents were brought to the city hall here and attracted much attention.

Officers expressed the opinion the vehicle was loaded at Wilmington or some other coastal point. It entered Dunn on the Wilmington-Clinton highway, no indication as to where it was bound was found.

"I am confident the liquor was loaded on the truck at Wilmington or Charleston," Chief Jackson said. "A funny thing about the case is that mothe balls were found in quantities in the burlap bags and boxes containing the liquor. They evidently used the moth balls to keep down the scent of the liquor. The truck was evidently running too fast as it rounded a curve on the eastern limits of Dunn and some of the liquor was thrown out, a good many bottles being broken."

Tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in the high school gymnasium the local high school basketball team will meet the Roanoke Rapids Yellow Jackets in their second encounter of the season. Neither of the two teams has had such a successful season so far and a win for either team tomorrow night will mean that the loser will be firmly established on the bottom round of the conference standings.

In their previous engagement the winner was Roanoke Rapids. Greenville held the lead at half time but the sharpshooting of Dickens, diminutive forward, enabled Roanoke Rapids to pull into the lead just a few minutes before the final whistle. Both teams are pointing to the game in an effort to get out of the cellar.

Hindenburg Will Seek Re-Election

Berlin, Feb. 15.—(AP)—President Paul Von Hindenburg, who led an army in the World War and the German Republic for the last seven years, announced today that, at the age of 84, he will obey the mandate of millions of Germans and be a candidate to succeed himself when his term expires in May.

There is every indication he will be elected, and it was generally believed that if he had thought there was any chance of defeat, he would not have offered himself as candidate. In recent weeks he said he would not continue in office unless

Mrs. Cheatham is a graduate beauty specialist, of wide experience, a personal representative of Dorothy Perkins, and her work has been described as truly remarkable.

A private booth is to be installed in the store, where the ladies may go for consultations on their individual needs and receive a complete facial treatment. There will be no charge as the store has made special arrangements whereby these services are given to our local women.

Mr. Vincent informs us that a cordial invitation is extended to all who wish to avail themselves of this exceptional opportunity. It is necessary to make appointments right away as the beauty specialist's stay is limited to one week only.

ARE CHINA AND JAPAN AT WAR? IS MOOTED QUESTION

As China and Japan are both members of the League of Nations and desired to comply with the covenant of the League, or at least to appear to comply with it, there seems little likelihood that either will formally declare war even if the struggle at Shanghai becomes a major military clash. Both rest on the claim they are merely fighting to protect treaty rights.

Miss Lella Higgs, decorator, will personally select in New York lamps, rugs and many other interior furnishings. Call 283-J before Feb. 16th.—(Adv.)

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

N. Y. COTTON

STOCK MARKET

New York, Feb. 15.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today at an advance of 5 to 9 points on a continuation of Saturday's rise, encouraged by firm cables. May sold at 7.00.

The buying was again for both trade and commission account and no doubt included further covering, but the advance attracted considerable realizing and more or less southern selling which appeared to come from spot houses and brokers who sometimes act for the cooperative interests. This was sufficient to supply the early demand around the initial levels and prices sagged off a few points by the end of the first half hour when active months showed net gains of 3 or 4 points with May selling at 6.93.

An easier turn in the stock market following an opening advance probably increased the disposition to take profits on long cotton. Liverpool cables reported covering, supplied by realizing in that market and houses with Liverpool connections seemed to be both buying and selling in the market here.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Feb. 15.—(AP)—Reactionary tendencies had control of grain markets most of the time today, and prices ranged lower.

There was considerable late selling of wheat on account of better weather conditions in the southwest and as a result of Washington reports that prolonged drought had been broken. Profit-taking on the part of recent speculative purchasers of wheat was also a bearish influence.

Wheat closed unsettled, 3-4-1-1-8 under Saturday's finish, corn 3-8-1 down, oats 5-8 off to 1-8 up, and provisions unchanged to 20c decline.

New York, Feb. 15.—(AP)—The stock market experienced the inevitable setback today that follows the sort of breath-taking uprush of the past two sessions of trading. The market slid back rather precipitantly in the early dealings, but soon managed to dig in its heels. A morning recovery was interrupted by adverse copper dividend news, but the list turned slowly upward slowly later, regaining a part of the decline. Price averages indicated that only about one-fourth of last week's upturn had been lost. Trading dwindled to less than Saturday's volume.

Early losses ranged from 1 to 5 points in leading issues. This was more than half regained, before a second sinking spell intervened. Leaders ranged a point or more above the morning lows by early afternoon. American Telephone dropped 5 to 127 3-4.

Auburn dropped nearly 7 points. Utah copper, a thinly traded issue, dropped 14 points on its dividend omission. Kennecott and Anaconda lost about a point, and International nickel neared as much. DuPont lost 2 1-2, but recovered most of its loss on the regular dividend announcement.

Commission houses reported a distinct revival of public interest in the market, but noted that buyers were decidedly cautious, after the several false starts of the past two years.

Omission of common dividends by Kennecott Copper, and its two subsidiaries, Utah and Nevada, as well as by International Nickel, had been rather widely expected, in view of the consistently unprofitable prices at which the red metal has been selling.

Push Search for Miner Buried in Big Snow Slide

Kellogg, Idaho, Feb. 15.—(AP)—Without hope he would be found alive, grim rescue crews continued to tunnel into huge snow drifts today to find Henry Lund, 42-year-old miner buried under a snow slide in Big Creek gulch.

The crushed body of his partner, Carl Arender, 60, was found last night 175 feet from where the slide toppled over a bluff and shattered their log cabin Saturday.

A black cat—pet of the two men—was found alive. Two cats were dead.

When Arender's body was found, 40 hours had passed since the slide.

John D. Rockefeller State Fish Men Knows Just How it Feels to be Broke

Ormond, Fla., Feb. 15.—(AP)—John D. Rockefeller knows just how it feels to be broke. Yesterday, for the first time since he became ill of a cold about two weeks ago, he went to church. As he was leaving a middle-aged woman stepped up and asked for a dime for a souvenir.

The multimillionaire philanthropist shoved his hands into his and then turned the pockets inside out with a chuckle. "I'm sorry, but I have no money with me today," he smiled.

There was a ripple of laughter from the crowd that surrounded him and he moved away to his car shaking hands with numbers who had lined both sides of the sidewalk.

He wore a black sack coat and dark gray trousers and was accompanied by his daughter and house guests. The 83-year-old philanthropist looked to be in the best of health and joined enthusiastically in the singing during the service.

Put Out Fire on Freighter

New York, Feb. 15.—(AP)—The Swedish freighter Hallaren sent an SOS this morning saying fire had broken out in her hold about 425 miles east of Halifax, but advised rescue vessels at 9:08 a. m. that she was in no further need of assistance.

A message received by the Mac-Gay Radio company and the Radio Marine Corporation said the fire was out. The British steamer Eencroft, only 55 miles away, had been speeding to the rescue of the Hallaren, which carried a crew of 28 officers and men.

The SOS halted broadcasting on the coast for about 20 minutes.

State Fish Men Plan to Organize

Raleigh, N. C., Feb. 15.—(AP)—Commercial fish dealers and packers along the entire length of the North Carolina coast have been invited to meet at Morehead City tomorrow to consider forming a permanent organization.

J. W. Harrelson, director of the State Department of Conservation and Development, and Fisheries Commissioner J. A. Nelson of Morehead City, called the meeting.

90 million dollar
reason

A SECTION OF A LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO WAREHOUSE WHERE TOBACCOS ARE STORED TO AGE AND MELLOW

why Chesterfields are Better!

Just think what this means for Chesterfield smokers. It means that the larger part of 90 million dollars is invested in Domestic and Turkish tobaccos that are being properly aged in Nature's way, and cured so as to make them sweeter and milder.

CHESTERFIELD tobacco is packed in wooden casks, each containing about 1,000 pounds and stored for two years in modern, up-to-date warehouses.

These warehouses, if placed end-to-end, would be about four miles in length. From floor to ceiling they are filled with these casks of fine tobacco, ageing in Nature's slow but sure way.

It takes a lot of money to make a good cigarette—money to buy good tobaccos and money to age them properly.

CHESTERFIELDS are milder, and taste better . . . there's a 90 million dollar reason why! Just try them!
