Shanghai Is Quiet After Terrific Bombardment

More Artillery Being Moved Up To The Lines At Chapei and Woosung

NEW EFFORTS TO END FIGHT

Both Chinese and Japanese Leaders Reported to Be Trying to Bring End to the Conflict; Chinese Direct Heavy Artillery Fire on Japanese Headquarters Big Guns at Work Thru-out Night

Shanghai, (Thursday) Feb. 16.—(AP)—Shaken by the guns which had bombarded Chapei all night, Shanghai was quiet early this morning as the cannonading came to an end.

More artillery was being brought up to the lines of Chapei and Woosung but there was no concrete indication that the expected Japanese offensive was ready to begin.

On the contrary, both sides had renewed their efforts to bring to an end the fighting. The Japanese command indicated they would give ample warning before launching the thunderbolt, and leading Chinese officials were trying to agree on a basis for peace.

Until late last night Wellington Koo, T. V. Soong and other outstanding Chinese were in conference, but they had nothing to say for publication. The American, British and French ministers, who took a hand in the negotiations last week said they would not go back to Nanking until Saturday or Sunday.

Mayor Wu Teh Chen said China was eager for an honorable, permanent peace, "but every indication points to the determination of the Japanese militarists to aggravate the situation by extending the invasion."

Two British sailors, put ashore with a landing party from the cruiser Suffolk, died yesterday of wounds inflicted when shells from the Chapei front burst on the Whangpoo docks where they were on patrol. Police said 45 shells had fallen in the settlement during the day, killing five Chinese and injuring seventeen.

Japanese naval headquarters said the Chinese directed the heaviest artillery fire they had used thus far on the Japanese positions in Hongkew, causing many casualties and considerable damage.

Later in the day Capt. S. Tomita spokesman for the Japanese headquarters, said an ultimatum would be issued to the Chinese "in the very near future," demanding their withdrawal from Shanghai and that the expected big Japanese attack would not take place unless this ultimatum were disregarded. He said major offensive would start tonight or tomorrow were "non-sense."

The battle today was found along a line reaching from Chapei to Kiangwan, half way to the Woosung forts. The Chinese bombardment which was described as so severe by the Japanese was accompanied by sweeping rifle and machine gun fire. The Chinese were not budged from their positions by the Japanese bombardment.

American Marine headquarters said a number of shells fell within the northern borders of the international settlement which Marines patrolled and that two Chinese were killed and a number wounded there during the bombardment. None of the Marines was wounded. They said the shells exploded with great power and apparently came from the Japanese batteries.

A British river boat, the Sulwo, was struck by a shell and forced to take to the opposite shore. Some reports said ten shells dropped on the docks along the Whangpoo.

FAIL TO CALL HARWOOD CASE

New Bills of Indictment to Be Sought Against Judge and His Daughter

Raleigh, Feb. 17.—(AP)—The criminal case against Miss Lola Harwood of Bryson City, charged with being short $4,828 in her accounts as a state revenue clerk, was not called in Wake Superior court today. It had been docketed but was passed over as new indictments will be sought.

No further court order is expected in the case until the grand jury has been given bills of indictment joining charges against the young woman and her father, Judge John H. Harwood of the Superior court bench.

Sollicitor J. C. Little said he would seek an entirely new bill of indictment which would charge Miss Harwood with embezzlement of the money and her father with being an accessory after the fact.

Judge Harwood is also charged with mutilation of records of the state bearing on the case against his daughter. If he is indicted as an accessory after the fact with his daughter it was intimated this charge would be dropped as similar allegations will be included in the joint indictment.

LARGE COPPER STILL NABBED

Thirty Gallons of Liquor and Equipment Taken in Falkland Township

One of the finest stills captured by officers in this county in several months was taken in a raid in an open field in Falkland township yesterday afternoon. The operators escaped.

The raid also netted thirty gallons of whiskey, 12 cases of half gallon fruit jars, 8 vats and 2 big worms.

The still consisted of a large copper kettle of 125 gallon capacity and was the first of the kind nabbed by either federal or county officers in some time.

The raiders described the outfit as far above the average and superior to the majority of stills in use in this immediate section of the county.

With their outfit situated in an open field, the operators were afforded a commanding view of the entire countryside and were able to perceive the approach of the officers in time to escape. Officers said the men were colored but they were not identified.

NEW MEASURE FOR JOBLESS

Democrats Seek to Obtain Loans Following Defeat of Costigan Bill

Washington, Feb. 17.—(AP)—With the Senate now strongly on record against Federal donations to unemployment relief, the Democratic members today renewed their proposal for jobless aid in the form of loans to the states.

The $750,000,000 LaFollette-Costigan direct relief bill was defeated decisively in the Senate late last night. The vote was 48 to 55 against it, with party lines split in two.

The Democrats, however, immediately introduced their $750,000,000 bill for loans instead of gifts, a proposal which previously had been rejected as a substitute for the LaFollette-Costigan measure.

To succeed with this bill they must receive the cooperation of the Independent Republicans who lined up with the administration's forces to defeat the substitute.

Senators Black (D. Ala.) and Bulkeley (D. Ohio), offered the fresh bill in the hope of uniting the many senators who have shown during the past two weeks of debate that they favored some form of federal aid. They contended that a clear majority has voted for one relief plan or another (Continued on Page Six)

WILL DRIVE CHINESE OUT OF SHANGHAI

Government Issues Ultimatum Threatening to Force the Chinese Army to Leave City Unless it Does So Voluntarily; Notice of Another Protest From America Is Received

BY GLENN BABB (Copyright 1932, Associated Press)

Tokyo, Feb. 17.—(AP)—The Japanese government authorized the issuance of an ultimatum to the Chinese at Shanghai today threatening to drive the Chinese army away from the city by force unless it withdraws voluntarily.

At virtually the same time, the government received official advice from Washington saying Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson was preparing to protest formally against the landing of Japanese soldiers in the international settlement at Shanghai.

The authorization to present the ultimatum to General Tsai Ting-Jai, commander of the Chinese route army at Shanghai, was given to Mamoru Shigemitsu, Japanese minister to China and to Admiral Michasaburo Nomura and General Kiyohiko Uryu, army and navy commanders. The Chinese were to be ordered to retire 20 kilometers (about 12 1/2 miles) from the city.

Between the presentation of the ultimatum and the Chinese reply, it was pointed out, there probably would be an opportunity for negotiations between the Chinese and Japanese. If the representatives of the other powers offered their good offices during that time they would be accepted, it was stated.

A proposal was also made, the announcement said, for an inspection of the district from which the withdrawal was to be demanded. The inspection would be made by Japanese officers and if foreign observers wished to accompany the inspectors they would be welcome.

The ultimatum was intended to apply to the troops of General Chiang Kai-Shek as well as to the nineteenth army and Mr. Shigemitsu was told to use his own discretion in fixing the time limit.

The authorization to issue the ultimatum was given after the minister telegraphed from Shanghai that all hope of obtaining the withdrawal of the Chinese troops by mediation of representatives of foreign governments in Shanghai must be abandoned.

He collided with a small pony he owned, knocking it down and breaking one of its legs. He was forced to kill it.

And then when he climbed on the roof to put out the fire, his weight was too much for the weakened timbers, and he fell through.

Over Outcome of Elections

Dublin, Irish Free State, Feb. 17. (AP)—Intense excitement prevailed through the Free States today as the people awaited the result of the count of ballots cast in yesterday's elections upon which hangs the fate of the government of President Cosgrave.

Most observers expressed belief that the margin for the winner, whether President Cosgrave or his rival, Eamonn De Valera, leader of the Fianna Fail, would be very small. Some of the returns might be delayed for days, they said, and the result held in suspense until these were received.

The election passed quietly in spite of the advance flurry of violence which resulted in two deaths Monday. Troops were at hand to maintain order, but they were not needed. Civil guards with clubs, quelled such minor outbreaks as occurred.

Cars drawn by donkeys, as well as automobiles and motor trucks were used to get out the vote and they continued throughout the day to haul men and women, young and old, to the polls.

Two boys, one 13 and one 16, were permitted to vote in Dublin when they appeared at a polling place and their names were found on the lists. A two-year-old baby whose name inadvertently placed on the list was carried to a booth and voted.

Washington, Feb. 17. (AP)—State Department officials have called the attention of Ambassador DeBuchi of Japan to the complications that might arise if serious damage were done to life or property in the international settlement during the fighting at Shanghai.

Such negotiations, however, were described as purely informal and State Department officials said no note had been drafted or is being drafted which suggested Japan would be liable for deaths or for property destruction as a result of the fighting.

The informal discussions have been going forward for two weeks but this government is still holding a definite decision on its next step in abeyance, officials said.

Boy Crazy

 AUTHOR OF "PERSONAL MAID"

ABOUT TOWN

The League of Nations has made another attempt to halt hostilities between Japan and China. In a note delivered to the Japanese representation the League called upon the Tokyo government to fulfill its treaty obligations with regards to China as a League member. It asked that Japan abide by Article X of the League covenant which guarantees the territorial integrity of all member states. The League made it plain that it would not recognize any territorial changes which may result from Japanese activity at Shanghai, completely destroying all chances for Japan to increase her holdings. Just what result the note will have in the present crisis remains to be seen, but that Japan will come back with an excuse trying to decrease the enormity of her crime is generally expected.

The liquor traffic has been hit by two staggering blows in this state the last few days in the capture of two van loads of whiskey. The two cargoes were valued at thousands of dollars and followers of John Barleycorn are suffering result of the seizures. The force the law is also being felt in this immediate territory as result of recent raids by federal prohibition officers, and while the loss to the liquor interests is not great, the traffic has been crippled to no little extent.

However, in spite of the enormous loss suffered from activities of prohibition officers, supporters of the liquor industry will continue to spend millions of dollars attempting to thwart efforts of the government in enforcing the prohibition laws.

Violation probably is more flagrant at this time by reason of the opposition to prohibition expressed by leading men of the nation, and there is little chance for an improvement in the condition as long as traffic members know they have the sympathy and support of men high in social and public life.

Economy in government is the watchword of Democratic hosts in Congress and that they are living up to the promises to the public is indicated in the slashing reductions in various governmental departments.

One of the big economy measures being considered at this time is the proposed consolidation of the army and navy. It is hoped to save $50,000,000 through this single action, and it is believed by some that the House will pass it when the enormous saving is understood.

The Democratic paring knife has been needed by Congress for a long time and now it is in action the people may expect to see some real saving in the future.

Surely those Japs must be joking. They can't possibly mean that they believe China started the fighting around Shanghai. Yet they reiterated this belief in a message to the mayor of Shanghai yesterday, demanding that the Chinese army stop its attacks or there would be a serious military clash.

He reiterated the Japanese charge that the Chinese precipitated the Shanghai outbreak by opening fire on the Japanese bluejackets and therefore the whole responsibility for the present situation rests upon China. It sounds just like China is the chief offender, but when we recall the statement of the Japanese government that it intended driving Chinese from Shanghai, we just wonder where the consul got his information—as to who started the fighting.

Somebody is going to have to help wipe out the treasury deficit and there is no better person to look on than the average man—the man just barely making ends meet, and not doing that half the time.

At this time there is a proposal before Congress asking for a one cent a gallon tax on gasoline, modification and increase of income reading it, over and over, until the pages were worn out and crumpled. Wondering why the tears came. Wondering why she had believed the last of her tears were shed. Wondering why she wanted to see Dickey again—if only to hurt him as badly as he had hurt her.

Chapter 21
ANOTHER HARMOUTH PROM
 Hope found, with a touch of bitter disdain, that her wealth and her family position placed her far above open criticism or unkind treatment for her "wildness."

As a matter of fact, her reputation in town seemed only heightened by her sensational romance. Nobody dared to ask details. Elaborately they made their own explanations. And with magnificent gestures, they bent themselves to show Hope and her folks how much they understood, and admired and sympathized.

All of which thoroughly irritated and bored Hope.

In spite of her continual activities, Hope was increasingly lonely, unable to readjust herself, unable, no matter how hard she tried, to forget Dickey. Even hating him, she remembered. If only she could forget! And somehow, the more she remembered, the less she hated him. The more she brooded over him, wondering how she had ever so totally misjudged him. Most of all, was she unable to find anyone to take his place.

Only Rusty Crandall remained of the steady old line. In all her broad little world, only Rusty Crandall and Judy Hunt seemed truly to care. Without Judy, and without Rusty, who was wise enough (or perhaps disillusioned enough!) no longer to speak to her of love, Hope could never have seen the long Dickeyless year through.

Such a year as it was! Angel, corned by family affairs, was forced to leave school and, hardest of all, quit Hope's crowd as a regular member. Head high, and proud, Angel commuted to a New York secretarial school—only to become transported with joy when Rusty got her position in his firm as stenographer (no, not secretary) to two or three of the lesser lights in his father's main office. It gave Rusty's family the chance for polite, kind superiority to the "nice little thing that Rusty just got a job for—at eighteen dollars a week."

But a greater shock was when Judy was firmly forced into announcing her engagement to Frisky Hall—the greatest catch of all Westchester. It brought Hope and Judy closer together, for with Hope, Judy could sit and gush high balls that stopped the tears, while she vowed viciously that she'd never marry Frisky, that she'd keep postponing the engagement forever, that she was still seeing almost as much as ever, Tom Post, her saxophone player, who understood and would wait for her—only Tom would become successful as a lyric writer.

And then there was Goody. And Goody's engagement party, Goody's showers, Goody's shopping and Goody's trousseau! Thanksgiving that meant nothing at all, and Christmas that meant less because it brought back memories of the meeting in Lake Placid.

Perhaps the terrible sweep of these memories was responsible for a strange action on Hope's part that New Year's Eve. Betty Preston, whom Hope had never liked too well, appeared at the country club celebration with a new, magnificent male in tow—a twenty-one year-old sophomore at Harmouth. A boy who earned the name of "Twosome" Hubbard because of his astonishing propensities for heart-breaking.

Long and often did Hope dance with this Twosome, asking subtle and flip questions about Harmouth, asking him if he had ever met her, "annulled husband," Dickey Dale. "No," said Twosome, with a broad grin, "but I've heard enough about him to fill a library."

"Well," Hope leaned back in his arms and almost lost step with the fox trot. "Go in sometime and introduce yourself to him. And tell him I hope he graduates with honors!"

She hated herself the moment she had spoken the words. Hated herself worse, when Betty questioned her about it later, and she listened to herself prattle on and on with Betty.

Hater herself a million times more, when Betty came over to her house one afternoon three weeks after New Year's, carrying a letter from Twosome Hubbard, in which he reported that he had carried out Hope's suggestion with Dickey Dale, and had nearly been thrown downstairs for his trouble. Dickey had said, and said ferociously that he never wanted to hear Hope's name again!

Hope asked Betty for the letter, and kept it. Wondering why. Wondering how she could want to inflict such pain on herself as re-taxes.

Who will be the goat in the final analysis of the tax program. Not the man in the great metropolitan centers sitting tight upon his bags of gold. Not the heads of great industries, almost monopolistic in their power and magnitude. None of these. But what about the little fellow chugging around the country in his ramshackle old car? He will have to bear the brunt of the tax, and it is upon his shoulders the burden of taxation to relieve the treasury deficit will ultimately fall.

the Prom at Harmouth. Dighted with having a hand in an adventure, Betty wrote to Twosome, named Tuck Hall, who was a sophomore like himself.

After accepting the invitation from her blind date, Hope sought Judy's confidence. There are friends in whom you can confide and feel safe with your secrets. There are other friends who do not even demand confidence. Judy refused to listen to why Hope wished her to lie. Judy waved aside explanations.

"You're old enough to know what you're doing, Hope. I'll help you to be a lady or a chump. Either way, it doesn't matter. Poison or poison. And if you're being a chump, I'd just as well not know. What I don't know I can't talk about."

Gratefully Hope explained she was going somewhere for a weekend. And her family must dream of her whereabouts or question her absence.

A fine plot—but there is a fatal flaw. Hope is rudely surprised tomorrow.

THEY WERE TALKING ABOUT SMOKING... whether girls should or should not smoke; but it came out that all three of them had been smoking for a long time. They were asking each other what made a good cigarette. And after discussing one thing and another, they agreed that a cigarette should be milder. They thought also that it should taste just right—that is, not over-sweet, but on the other hand, not bitter—just sweet enough. And everybody, they said, wants anything that is placed in the mouth just as pure as can be. Then they began to think what cigarette, if any, filled this bill; and agreed that CHESTERFIELD was milder—tasted better—and was pure. The girls were satisfied, because "They Satisfy."

DUKE AGAIN WINS STATE CAGE TITLE

Charlotte, Feb. 17.—(AP)—North Carolina's basketball season reached its climax last night, when Duke clinched its third straight Big Five title and Wake Forest put Davidson definitely in the cellar, leaving the Carolina-State game February 23 simply a rivalry affair.

Duke defeated N. C. State 25 to 21 in an up and down contest, with first one team and then the other in the lead. State led 20 to 17 minutes before the end, but could not hold it.

Wake Forest trailed the Wildcats 10 to 8 at the half, but came back strong in the last period and walked away from their rivals, 32 to 19.

State and Carolina are yet to play, but the outcome will have no effect on the relative standings.

Lenoir-Rhyne, invading Paris Island, S. C., last night, lost to the Marines, 21 to 17.

Another state title also was clinched last night, when N. C. State's freshmen defeated the Duke Yearlings, 20 to 12, to lead the Yearling outfit.

State's first year wrestlers also kept up the good work by defeating the Carolina Tar Babies, 18-16, but their elder brothers fared not so well, going down to a 27-3 defeat before the University varsity grapplers.

MAKE DRASTIC CHANGES IN GRID RULES

Hanover, N. H., Feb. 15.—(AP)—The national football rules committee announced six drastic modifications of the playing code today.

In an effort to check the "tendency toward increasing injuries" the committee decided:

- 1.—To restrict the formation of the team receiving the kickoff by requiring that five players of the receiving team remain on their 45-yard line until the ball is kicked; and to allow the kickoff to be made either by place-kick, punt or drop-kick.
- 2.—To forbid players on the defense to strike an opponent on the head, neck or face with hand, wrist forearm or elbow.
- 3.—To liberalize the substitutions rule to allow a player withdraw from the game to re-enter once in any subsequent period.
- 4.—To forbid use of the flying block or tackle.
- 5.—To make the ball "dead" when any part of the ball carrier's body except his hands or feet touches the ground.
- 6.—To amplify the rule regarding equipment so as to require padding of hard and unyielding substances with felt, foam rubber or other soft padding at least three-eighths of an inch thick.

These changes were termed by Chairman E. K. Hall the "most important" in making the game safe for the players, since the modification of 1906 and 1907.

Although it had been found that the "so-called fatality list accredited to football was more than 50 percent entirely misleading and inaccurate," Hall said, the committee had noted an increasing number of injuries, due, it was believed, to the "intensive development of the open game."

"The result," Hall explained, "has been to bring into the game certain practices or styles of play, most of them entirely legitimate which are tending, in the opinion of the committee, to bring into the game certain new sources of hazard to the players."

Wilmington Cagers To Play Here Friday Night

Presenting a fine array of all-star cagers, the Wilmington Y. M. C. A. will meet "Soup" Porter's local collegians in Greenville at the college campus building Friday night, Feb. 19.

The "Y" team boasts a strong team as they have defeated the New Hanover high school by a 13 to 12 score, and their second victory was over the soldier boys from headquarters outfit in Wilmington by 36-21 score. Their only defeat was at the hands of the Teachers when they lost a close and exciting game 24-23.

The Y. M. C. A. has a fine defensive team. A majority of the players being former New Hanover high stars. They also boast two former college stars, one from Carolina and the other from Davidson.

Their forwards are Beale and King. Beale was captain of the '29 high team and played varsity ball at Carolina last year. King played for New Hanover high in 1930. Bill Rankin, who was captain of the New Hanover squad in 1931 will play center for them. Davis and Lawler will be guards and from all reports this boy Davis can loop them through the basket from past mid-court. These boys are all recommended as excellent cagers and will no doubt give the home team a run for their money.

STAGG FAVORS NEW RULES FOR THE GRIDIRON

Chicago, Feb. 17.—(AP)—Alonso Stagg, Sr., dean of the country's football coaches and senior member of the rules committee, believes the changes in the playing code will take nothing from the game from the spectators' viewpoint, and will mean much to coaches and players.

Mr. Stagg, who will coach his forty-first University of Chicago squad next fall, agrees with other members of the committee, that the alterations are the most constructive since 1906, and today predicted that the benefits will soon become evident.

"To my way of thinking," he said, "this year's changes will have the finest effect on football of any since 1906. From the spectator's viewpoint the game will seem very little changed, but to coaches and players, the changes will have a very real meaning."

Objections against some of the changes, particularly those barring flying blocking and tackling rules," he said, "and we acted after studying the reports of investigations of Fielding Yost of Michigan and Park Davis. We did not mean a player cannot leave his feet in blocking and tackling, but decided to restrict the action to the instant he makes contact with the ball-carrier, or the man he is attempting to block. The committee wished only to cut out catapulting the body through the air, and its attendant danger."

"Some criticism has been made against the rule making the ball automatically dead when any part of the ball carrier's body, other than his feet or hands touches the ground, while in the grasp of an opponent. It is clear that this will eliminate piling up, which has been the cause of serious or even fatal injury. This rule will not, however, affect a man holding the ball for a place kick, an exception having been made to cover this point."

A deposit of ten per cent of the amount bid will be required of the successful bidder at the hour of sale.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine. For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned. It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. CLINKERS?

FORD COAL

PRODUCT OF THE FORD MOTOR COMPANY

SOME kinds of coal make clinkers more easily than others because the ash melts at relatively low temperatures — melts and runs together to form the hard, flinty clinkers that clog your grate. A quality inherent in Ford Coal prevents clinkering. That inherent quality is the high fusion-point, or melting-point, of the ash.

When you fire Ford Coal properly, it burns cleanly and leaves a small amount of light ash. And it gives good, substantial heat, because of the high percentage of fixed carbon. In every way Ford Coal is a "highest" coal, coming from mines selected by the Ford Motor Company for the extra quality of the fuel.

It is clean coal, too — picked free of impurities under strict Ford supervision. Carefully screened and graded for size. Economical to buy; economical to burn. Order a load of Ford Coal today!

Market Report

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

N. Y. COTTON

New York, Feb. 17.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today at an advance of 3 to 5 points on active trade and commission house buying coupled with general news developments. May sold at 7.03.

Part of the early buying came through houses with foreign trade connections while there also appeared to be some broadening of commission house interest. May sold up to 7.05 and October to 7.47, making net advances of about 6 to 8 points, but there was a good deal of selling which seemed to come from the South, as well as realising (which caused reactions of a few points during the first half hour.

Liverpool cables reported general buying, covering and trade calling in that market and said there was a large inquiry for cotton cloths with a fair business doing in yarns.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Feb. 17.—(AP)—Lively tumbles in grain values took place late today after wheat had over-topped yesterday's best figures and established a new high record for the season.

Houses with eastern connections were active sellers on the down-swing, which came chiefly after Pres. Hoover's special message to Congress was received. Many traders expressed disappointment over the message and gave as a reason expectation that he would refer to prohibition on some other factor likely to have considerable influence on the grain markets.

Wheat closed nervous, 1 1/4 to 1 3/8 under yesterday's finish; oats 1 1/4 to 5/8 off; corn 1 1/8 to 1 1/2 down, and provisions varying from 5 cents decline to 12 cents gain.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Feb. 17.—(AP)—The stock market was unable to break out of the January price range on the upside today, just as it failed to break through on the downside a week ago.

The market had an interval of firmness in the morning, but eased off after midday. Payment of the regular quarterly dividend of $2.25 by American Telephone had been fairly widely anticipated and brought out more profit taking than fresh buying.

Losses in principal shares in the afternoon ranged from 1 to 3 points, with American Telephone registering one of the maximum declines. Issues off a point or two included U. S. Steel, General Electric, American Can, Westinghouse, North American, Santa Fe, Union Pacific, C. & O. N. Y. Central, International Harvester, Union Carbide, DuPont and others. Selling, however, was in moderate volume. There were temporary advances of 1 to 2 points during the morning.

The midweek business statistics were mixed. Bradstreet's reported a decrease from the previous week of 7-10 per cent in the number of business failures for the week ending Feb. 11, as against a normal seasonal decrease of only 7-10 per cent.

of the fact that she is one of the members of the League and a prominent member of the League council. The Far-Eastern situation, the note said, should be studied fully by a commission made up with the consent of the two parties to the dispute. At the same time, the council said, it was "well aware of Japan's grievances." It expressed deep regret, however, that Japan should "think herself unable to accept the method of peaceful settlement which the League covenant defines."

"We point out," it said, "that according to the Kellogg pact all international disputes should be settled amicably."

They pronounced him the solid vote of the Texas delegation to the Chicago convention and forecast his candidacy would gain wide support as Democrats all over the nation learned more of his services and character.

Garner said immediately he had known nothing of the statement he forecast. He emphasized he had no authorized spokesman and that any statement on his behalf were purely voluntary. He would not talk about presidential prospects at all.

"My job is speaker of the House and I am going to run this House." It is exactly the kind of thing that has his enthusiastic supporters offer as the biggest sales argument in their quest for Garner votes.

"He had been speaker of the House now for a few weeks," said the Texas Senators "during that period the House under his leadership has attracted the attention of the whole country by reason of its prompt, thorough and statesmanlike conduct of its affairs. His record as speaker and leader is among the highest proof of his splendid qualities of leadership and courage."

They recalled his 29 years in the House, a record distinguished for its breadth and vision, its political courage and its rugged and aggressive Democracy.

"Mr. Garner's friends present his name on the basis of his world-wide reputation and his service. His interest will be advanced seriously and aggressively. They present him to the nation as a man grounded in the fundamentals of Democracy, a rugged and militant American people and as a man eminently qualified by training and service to perform the exalted duties of President of the United States."

chief executive to transfer and consolidate executive and administrative functions through the issuance of executive orders, each to lie before Congress for 60 days before becoming effective.

"In the present crisis," the president declared, "the absolute necessity for the most drastic economy makes the problem of governmental reorganization one of paramount importance."

Here are the four new posts he would have Congress create:

A public works administrator, to construct and sometimes operate all federal projects except those under the army and navy.

An assistant secretary for public health to head all such federal work.

An assistant for merchant marines, drawing into the commerce department all marine shipping regulation, including inland waterways.

An assistant secretary for conservation, to combine now scattered efforts.

Posts which Hoover would alter include:

A personnel administrator, instead of chairman of the civil service commission, to combine all personnel agencies of the government.

An assistant secretary for education, consolidating the office of education, its commissioner and other educational activities.

An assistant secretary for agricultural economics, giving higher title to the present director.

The president informed Congress the salary of these officials would cost an additional $40,000 a year, but that the "saving in the cost of the administration would be many times this sum."

State Policeman Ed Storms, answering the deputy's calls for help, fired two shots at the fleeing Barton without hitting him, and recaptured him a block away without a struggle.

In solitary confinement at the jail, the former sheriff decided to confess. To the Jay and Blackford county prosecutors, he admitted complicity in two robberies of the Citizens' State Bank at Hartford City, seat of Blackford county, on July 8 and Oct. 2, and the holdup of the First National Bank of Montpelier last Nov. 25.

One of them is William A. Anderson, general secretary of the American Protestant Alliance and a former superintendent of the New York Anti-Saloon League.

Anderson charged Cardozo was unfit for the post but filed no specifications to back up his protest.
