ABOUT TOWN

President Hoover seems to be full of ideas these days relative to saving money for the government.

In a special message to congress yesterday he recommended the creation of four new federal departments through which he hoped to be able to save millions of dollars.

It is a pity he didn't think of the plan when he first went into office. Had he done so there probably would be no government deficit today and the old bark of state would be sailing along with colors flying jauntily in the breeze of prosperity.

The president evidently has in mind the coming of another campaign in the near future and is of the opinion that his economy program will be sufficient to give him a solid foothold for re-election.

It is one of the main movements of the administration to regain public favor after being the center of considerable criticism for the last two years and if successful may accomplish its purpose to some extent.

However, it was largely due to the determination of Democrats in Congress to cut expenses that the administration got busy, and it is gratifying to note results are being accomplished.

Although the Pitt county political pot has not begun to simmer to any noticeable extent, it may be expected to get up full steam ahead during the summer months.

By reason of the depression in every line of business it is to be presumed there will be more candidates in the field than one can shake the proverbial stick at, and as usual when the campaign is over, there will be lots of sadder but wiser men.

Rumblings of new hats to be cast into the ring are already evident in some communities, but the actual game of tossing will not get under full way until later.

Pitt county has always had its crop of candidates, but changing conditions have caused the bug to bite lots of people who otherwise might have given their time to more gainful fields of occupation.

Just who is who is not to be determined as yet, but the little birds are beginning to make their rounds and long before announcements are made public, the ordinary run of people will have a pretty good idea as to the lineup.

If the crop is as large as expected that great mass of people who have determined to vote only for the man representing the highest type of citizenship will not have to shake the bushes to find him. There are lots of them already in office, and many others on the outside looking in, awaiting sufficient votes to walk in and take their stand at the pie counter.

The Japs are giving the Chinese their last chance to evacuate Shanghai before the big drive gets under way.

If the Chinese refuse to leave the city, Japanese troops are determined to drive them out.

It is to be wondered how the Chinese feel under the pressure of such an ultimatum.

Wonder how America would feel if some nation would invade New York City and tell New Yorkers they must either leave or be forced out.

Wonder how the English would feel if Germany were to invade London and tell the Englishmen they must get out peacefully or be forced out at the point of bayonets.

Anybody with a thimbleful of brains knows that neither Britain or America would yield an inch of ground under such conditions, and that they would fight until the last man to maintain their rights.

Boy Crazy

By GRACE PERKINS AUTHOR OF "PERSONAL MAID"

SYNOPSIS: The marriage of Hope Ross and Dickey Dale has been annulled by Hope's father, but Hope is determined to see Dickey, who is in college at Har-

Chaptr 22 WEEK-END ADVENTURE Judy lit a cigarette and frowned with deep thought.

She had a date herself that week-end—a precious date with Tom Post—the guy you couldn't suck a lemon in front of when he worked.

She planned to go visit her Aunt Meg in Boston—and Hope was to accompany her. They'd fix it with Judy's and Hope's families, and fix it with Aunt Meg, who remembered her handkerchief—flirtatious youth, and adored to help Judy in any adventure that smacked of romance.

In February—because Charlie had an opportunity to go to Europe—Goody and Charlie Rand were married. And many's the ship that has been launched with far less excitement and cost than the wedding of the elder daughter of John Howard Ross.

Hope steeled herself, trying not to feel staid and poisoned at the sight of Goody's joy. Trying to throw herself into the preparations, and running herself ragged in her effort to show Goody that she wasn't envious, and that she did wish Goody all the happiness she had missed for herself.

Hope's activities until at last Mama Ross touched and comforted, turned the bulk of the details into Hope's surprisingly capable hands. The more Hope worked and planned for Goody's wedding, the closer she felt to her sister, for the first time in her life. Yet each day, the sadder and more lonely she felt for herself, until she verged on self-pity that required newer and greater devilities to forestall what she termed "sloppy sentimentality."

But the strain was great. And nobody was more relieved than Hope—not even the bride herself—when at last the wedding was actually accomplished.

While Hope stood behind Goody in peach chiffon, a huge be-flowered picture hat on her golden head, her eyes fixed on the pearls that rode up and down, up and down, on Goody's chest as she breathed...

Hope, with a sweet smile and tender eyes, never once showing the white feather, never once giving sign of her innermost thoughts.

"I should have been standing there," pounded her heart, "dressed like that, with Dickey by my side. And then he wouldn't have had to leave me, because I wouldn't have been disinherited at all. And I wouldn't care if he loved me just for my money as long as he loved me. . . . Only what's the use of a man like that? I'm better off without him. God knows if I can't find a man to be a man, I'll go to my grave an old maid. If that organ doesn't quit, I'll go crazy. . . . Gee, now we'll have a big reception. And Goody'll get dressed and sail tonight on the big boat, and have a swell honeymoon, and she's got enough presents to keep her for life."

"Charlie is a nice boy, but heaven forbid I'd ever fall for anybody like him. If I could find somebody like Dickey, only a real red-blooded man like he seemed to be—a man who'd put up a fight for you and face the music. . . . Oh hell, they don't make men like that, I and get a job as a nice little shop suppose. . . . Maybe I'll go out girl or in an office somewhere and not give my name. And see what kind of men I'd meet, and what kind of men care for a girl just for herself and not for what she's got. . . ."

"Look at Goody! She'll burst with happiness. Look at Mother; she's so proud of Goody, and she was so ashamed of me! Who the hell cares who's ashamed of me! Was it my fault, I picked a bum to love? I guess I'm only attracted to bums. If only Dickey would give me a tumble again, I'd be smack at his feet—like fun I would! I'll go up to that Prom, and maybe watching developments breathlessly, awaiting the expected explosion.

The Democrats in Congress are trying to convince their colleagues of the need of loans to the various states to relieve unemployment.

The resolution to this effect was presented immediately following defeat of the measure for direct aid in the same cause.

The second attempt to care for the thousands of jobless bears the approval of some of the best brains of the party, and probably is as deserving as issues involving millions of dollars, formerly passed by the same body.

The unemployment situation is the most serious this nation has ever before grappled with, and it is the belief of some of the best thought of the nation that something must be done to relieve the strain. The loans to states would do much towards carrying relief to the hard-pressed men who have walked the streets for months in a fruitless effort to find work, and would eliminate anything bordering on the dole system.

It is a big job facing the congressmen and meeting the present emergency might result in eliminating worse conditions in the future.

YOUTH WILL DEFEND DUKE AT ATLANTA

By WHITNEY THARIN
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
Durham, Feb. 18.—(AP)—Duke University's basketball team, boss of North Carolina cage outfits for the last three years, will enter the Southern conference tournament at Atlanta minus the veterans who have carried it to finals there twice within the last three years.

In their places will be a bunch of overgrown youngsters who have discovered that their man-to-man defense and fast breaking offense can make other teams take notice and defeat. Their ambition is to do for Duke what the veterans never did—win the conference title.

Little was expected at the beginning of the season of a squad that boasted only one regular veteran. While the record to date of eleven wins and seven losses is not as bright as some Blue Devil teams have made in recent years, it is much better than many supporters had thought possible.

It includes five victories and three defeats within the conference and only one loss within the State's "big five" circuit. An early season defeat at the hands of the Tar Heels of the University of North Carolina was avenged this week.

Two brothers, Jim and Herbert Thompson, of Washington, D. C., and a rangy center, Roy Albert, of Jamaica, L. I., N. Y., are largely responsible for Duke's relative success.

The brothers are sophomores who promise to be outstanding stars in the conference before they finish at Duke. Jim, who plays left forward, is the team's high scorer, with 119 points.

Herbert plays right guard and helps pave the way for many of his brother's basket shots. He has found time between dashes up and down the floor, however, to ring up 47 points beside his own name.

Albert is playing his first year at center. He is six feet one inch tall, excels in floor play and is a crack shot at the basket. He has accounted for 99 points this season.

Pete Carter, of Mt. Hope, West Virginia, has won a varsity berth at right forward after two years as a substitute. He is rated the best floor man on the squad.

John Shaw, of Meriden, Conn., the lone veteran of the team, would rather feed the ball to one of the forwards from his left guard position than take a shot at the basket himself. He is probably the best defensive man on the team.

Henry and Fred Lewis of Brooklyn, N. Y., Nelson Colley, of Washington, D. C., Wendell Horne, of Vienna, Va., Charles Hayes, of Williamsport, Pa., Don Garber, of Washington, D. C., and Phil Weaver, of Winston Salem, the only North Carolinian on the squad, complete the outfit.

Colley is a veteran guard but did not return to school until the first of February and has not yet won a place on the team. His steadiness under fire and his passing ability will probably give him a chance in the tournament.

The Blue Devils are coached by Eddie Cameron, former Washington and Lee player, who came here three years ago. He has sent two teams to the finals of the conference tournament and produced three all-Southern players.

DEMPSEY WILL FIGHT TONITE

By CHARLES DUNKLEY
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
Chicago, Feb. 18.—(AP)—Jack Dempsey's comeback trail leads back to a Chicago ring once more tonight but this time his obstacle isn't the cool, calculating Gene Tunney but the wild, swinging ex-fish peddler, King Levinsky.

Almost five years ago, when the famous Manassa mauler fought and lost his last battle in Chicago, he met Tunney in that memorable "fourteen count" struggle for the world's heavyweight crown before a record-smashing throng of 147,000 spectators at Soldier's Field. Tonight, he meets Levinsky in a four-round tussle at the Chicago Stadium—a clash that should demonstrate his ability to make another comeback.

Since Dempsey started to blaze another comeback trail, he has smashed his way to victory after victory but hardly against fighting men of the Levinsky variety. Darling, cocksure and the owner of a terrific wallop, Levinsky was rated as the strongest test on the comeback journey. He has beaten fighters like Tommy Loughran and Paulino Uzcudun, gave Primo Carnera a great battle even in defeat and has worked hard for his test against Dempsey, certain of victory.

Chicago, always a great show ground for Dempsey, was excited about the battle and a record crowd for an indoor professional boxing match, approximately 22,000 spectators, was expected to jam into the punchbowl to watch it, bringing with it a gross gate of about $76,000. Dempsey already was named the winner at the box office with the privilege of taking 60 per cent of the gross gate and pay Levinsky $7,500 or take 45 per cent and leave Levinsky 15 per cent.

Another angle that gave tonight's fight added importance was the size of the gloves to be used by the combatants. During his tour, Dempsey has been using heavier gloves, but tonight he will don mittens of nine and one-half ounce weight—plenty light enough to give and receive a knockout punch.

DUKE TO TAKE ON W-L CAGERS

Charlotte, N. C., Feb. 18.—(AP)—With the Big Five race settled in Duke's favor, North Carolina basketball fans have turned to Southern conference prospects, and tonight will watch Washington and Lee's quint when it invades the Duke court as the principal feature of the collegiate sports program in the state.

The only other college game scheduled tonight is between High Point and Appalachian at Boone.

High Point lost last night, when Catawba got revenge for a previous defeat, 32 to 20.

Blon, another member of the minor league, invaded the Big Five and, in an extra period, defeated Davidson, 32 to 30. The Christians had led through most of the game, but the score was 26-all at regular quitting time.

Davidson Will Continue Reserves

Davidson, N. C., Feb. 18.—(AP)—The Davidson College Reserve Officers Training Corps is to be continued, but with greater latitude for exemptions of students from membership, the college board of trustees decided at their meeting here yesterday.

The question of military training at Davidson has been a much disputed one in recent years. The decision will exempt sons of conscientious objectors, those who have had previous two-year military courses under government supervision, and pre-medical students whose crowded two-year courses conflict.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

N. Y. COTTON

New York, Feb. 18.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today, 3 points up to 1 point off with near months relatively steady on further covering and trade buying while later deliveries were easy on some southern selling. May sold at 6.98.

There was a sufficient trade demand from both foreign and domestic sources to give the market a generally steady undertone, and houses with Liverpool, Continental and Japanese connections were again credited with buying during the early trading. At the end of the first half hour, May was selling around 6.98 and October 7.38, with the general market 1 to four points net higher.

Liverpool cables said that hedging and Manchester realizing had been absorbed by covering and by some buying on the reduction in the English bank rate. They also reported a good cloth business with the British home trade and India.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Feb. 18.—(AP)—Apparently increasing likelihood that overseas import duties would be slashed in the near future did much to make grain values higher today.

Immediate new export business in wheat from North America, however, was estimated not to exceed 400,000 bushels, mostly Canadian. An unconfirmed report said France had purchased a cargo of United States wheat.

Wheat closed unsettled 7-8 to 1-1-8 above yesterday's finish, corn 3-8 to 3-4 up, oats unchanged to 1-4 higher and provisions 2 to 15 cents down.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Feb. 18.—(AP)—The stock market quickly returned to the upward track today but moved ahead cautiously.

Postponement of action on Southern Pacific's dividend was a surprise, and caused some unsettlement at the start, but the reduction in the Bank of England's discount rate from 6 to 5 per cent, continued strength in U. S. Government bonds and firmness of leading commodities, so encouraged a resumption of bullish activities.

Southern Pacific dropped 8 points to 26, then recovered moderately. Several other rails were dragged down a point or two, but soon came back. Leading industrials refused to follow the decline in carriers, and were soon working higher. Numerous advances of 1 to 3 points were registered during the morning, and while there was a little setback around midday, the advance was resumed during the early afternoon. Issues up 2 or more included American Telephone, American Tobacco B. American Woolen preferred, and Auburn, and gains of a point or more were recorded in U. S. Steel, Standard of N. J., American Can, Woolworth, DuPont, National Biscuit, Allied Chemical and several others. The New York transactions were again bid up a point or two.

While tangible signs of business improvement were still lacking, speculative quarters remained fairly cheerful, despite the market's setback yesterday, after the list had found itself unable to break through the upper resistance levels of January.

Tobacco shares were helped by rumors that the tobacco consumption figures for January, to be announced shortly would be much more favorable than expected a short time ago. Texas Gulf Sulphur sagged moderately, on reduction of the annual dividend rate to $2 from $3.

The Bank of England's cut in its discount rate led to rumors that the New York Federal Reserve Bank might reduce its rate, but the money market was virtually unchanged, and failed to foreshadow such action this week.

This morning, declining another airplane journey into the frigid Manchurian north. He came here for the conferences by airplane. At Taitshar he planned to assume the governorship of Heilungiang province.

There were 108 persons at the banquet. Of these 25 were Chinese and the rest Japanese, including Count Uchida, president of the South Manchurian Railway and a number of military and naval officials of Japan who are acting as advisers of the new federated government.

The founder of the state announced they would serve as members of an executive committee to frame a constitution and select the personnel of the new government.

The state is to have the name of "Ankuoa," which means "Land of Peace," and its national emblem will be the discarded Chinese five-barred flag, emblazoned with the rising sun of Japan. This decision was made yesterday by the Chinese officials, prompted by their Japanese advisers.

have made haste more slowly. No major crop is now moving to the market and there is less urgency. The setup used by the department for handling seed loans is being expanded for the reconstruction funds. Agricultural credit of various sorts will be used in effecting a wide distribution of the money.

Corporation headquarters still is being besieged by applicants for jobs. Only stenographers have been hired up to date, and the expert clerical work necessary is done by the trained men and women loaned to the corporation temporarily by other government agencies.

These who have been hired find life no bed of roses. Most of them work from nine in the morning until midnight. Some work even later. This high pressure is expected to let up as soon as personnel officers complete their survey of applications—40,000 of them—and begin to make necessary increases in the force.

government should be simplified. Earlier in the day he issued a statement in connection with the recent endorsement of him for the Presidential nomination by the General Assembly of Virginia and said that his name would not be used "merely for the negative purpose of stopping any good Democrat."

In his speech he discussed Jeffersonian and Washingtonian principles and said that "the truth is that no one can get how far Thomas Jefferson would modify the valid principle of state's rights, as he conceived it in his day in the effort to control in the public interest conditions that can not be controlled except by national power; and the truth is that no one can tell how far George Washington would modify the valid principle of national control in the effort to find a way to trade amicably and profitably with foreign nations."

"Take the tariff for example. Whatever may be our individual opinions about the tariff walls we have built around America, no one can deny that the tariff is higher and higher until even today it is a burden on the customer, the last resort of the trade, has not only imposed no active duties, but has created a combination that may increase duties 100 per cent against those nations that treat England with infidelity. It is difficult to see how we can escape being considered one of the nations to be made to suffer the 100 per cent penalty."

The explosion occurred shortly after 8 a. m. before the building was fully occupied and before the jam of office workers arrived in the district. Thirty-five Japanese employees were in the building at the time, but they were on upper floors and although badly shaken, none of them was hurt.

Police rushed to the scene and blocked off the whole area, keeping back the tremendous crowds that gathered. The building is headquarters for many Japanese organizations, operation cotton mills, steamships and important and exporting businesses. Almost every window in the immediate vicinity was shattered.

By virtue of that decree entered by HIS Honor E. H. Cramer, Judge Presiding at the January, 1932 Civil Term, in that cause pending there entitled Atlantic Joint Stock Land Bank of Raleigh against Lula H. Joyner and others I shall offer for sale to the highest bidder for cash at the Courthouse door in Greenville, N. C., at 12:00 Noon on Monday, February 22nd, 1932.

The following described lands: All those certain pieces, parcels or tracts of land containing One Hundred Eleven and nine two-one hundredths (111 92-100) acres, more or less, situate, lying and being on the Greenville-Falkland-Tarboro Road, about ten miles west of the Town of Greenville, in Falkland Township, Pitt County, State of North Carolina, having such shapes, metes, courses and distances as will more fully appear by W. C. Dresbach, surveyor, June, 1918, a copy of which is attached to the abstract now on file with the Atlantic Joint Stock Land Bank of Raleigh, the

Last summer he was discovered serving a term on the Forsyth County roads under an assumed name for violation of the prohibition law. He and a companion were convicted of bringing an automobile load of whiskey to North Carolina from Washington.

U. S. TO SELL BANDS IN EFFORT TO STOP HOARDING (Continued from page one)

Details of the issue, however, remain to be worked out at a conference with Secretary Mills of the Treasury today.

"I anticipate only one difficulty," Knox said, "it is in getting a sufficient quantity of securities from the Treasury to satisfy the demand for them."

Knox, publisher of the Chicago Daily News, conferred with the President immediately before making his announcement. He detailed it to newspapermen in an office adjoining that of the chief executive.

"In the past week or two," he began, "I have been in touch with every part of the country in connection with the movement to stop hoarding."

"From every quarter comes an insistent demand that this committee provide the people whose money is out of circulation a safe and secure substitute for money now cached in teapots and safety deposit boxes."

"The demand can be met only by an issue of securities that has the whole power of the government behind it. I have said as much to the President and Secretary Mills."

Knox reported that from the members of his executive committee in Chicago—one for each Federal Reserve district—he had received reports that the response to the anti-hoarding movement had been "more striking and spontaneous than that to the first Liberty Loan drive during the world war."

He reiterated that the campaign to return $1,500,000,000 to circulation would be "short and quick."

The real work of his committee, he said, might well be wound up during the first week in March.
