SPEED PLANS FOR HELPING U. S. INDUSTRY

Government's Measures for Improving Economic Situation Pushed Rapidly.

Washington, Feb. 20.—(AP)—The intense government drive to restore prosperous times to the country was several important steps ahead today, with effort continuing unabated.

The Glass-Steagall bill for the expansion of the federal reserve credit facilities was through the Senate, amended before approval to extend its emergency provisions for two years instead of one, and with a capitalization of $2,000,000 or less. Today it goes to conference for adjustment with the House. It will become law some time next week.

Plans were near perfection in the treasury for the special issue of small denomination bonds upon which the administration is depending in part for restoration to circulation of hoarded money, especially that held in small amounts. The bonds will go on sale March 5; they will mature in a year. Neither the total amount of the issue, nor the interest rate has been determined yet. These bonds are to be an integral part of the drive upon hoarding by the national organization under Col. Frank Knox of Chicago.

From President Hoover came word that the administration had engaged in a drive on stock exchange bear raiders, who he believes have been pulling investors into an "artificial depression" of security prices. The New York Stock Exchange will put into effect rules to curb short selling on April 1.

Meantime, though less peaceably, congressional efforts for economy through consolidation of government activities were pushed forward. Party lines showed up clearly in this work, with Republicans sponsoring bills to effect the President's recommendations, and the Democrats sticking to their drive for consolidations in directions opposed by the Chief Executive.

Banker Begins Term in Prison

Raleigh, Feb. 20.—(AP)—C. J. Hawkins, former assistant cashier of the Central Bank and Trust Co. of Asheville, today became "No. 26667" at state's prison here.

Hawkins was sentenced to serve 15 to 24 months for embezzlement. He entered the prison late last night but will not be assigned any duties for some time, Warden H. H. Honeycutt said.

Central prison here, built to house about 250 convicts, now has some 600 men confined in it, the warden said, and practically all are idle as no work can be provided for them. The prison farms are also overcrowded with the prison population standing at about 2,995 prisoners, the highest in the state's history. Some 1,500 of the prisoners are being maintained in idleness.

Garner Declines to Divulge Views As to Presidency

Henderson, Feb. 20.—(AP)—Speaker John Garner said he had no intention of making a declaration with respect to any question with which Congress does not have immediate concern, in replying today to an inquiry from the Henderson Dispatch as to his attitude toward the Democratic presidential nomination.

"This country has problems of too great import to be solved to permit the voters to be led astray upon nonessentials," said the Texas Democrat.

"I have no intention of making a declaration with respect to any question with which Congress does not have immediate concern. I am not particularly interested as to how my determination in this respect will affect my political future. I am confronted with a difficult task, a task involving greater responsibilities than have fallen to the lot of the speaker since the World war, and my sole ambition is to discharge my duties in such manner that I may be helpful to the American people in relieving the distressing conditions they are experiencing."

Minor Powers in Favor of Armament Reduction

Geneva, Feb. 20.—(AP)—Arthur Henderson, president of the world disarmament conference, announced following a group of addresses by representatives of minor nations this morning that there would be no further speeches before the conference until next Wednesday.

Senior Valdes Menxville, Chilean delegate, told the conference in his first address this morning that economic reorganization would follow reduction of armaments. "An accord for a positive reduction," he said, "is the goal of the conference."

CLUB HONORS WASHINGTON

E. C. Hollar Speaks to Kiwanians at Bicentennial Observance Here.

A boy who lost his clothes while swimming one day finally became President of the United States. That boy was no other than George Washington, who not only rose to the highest honors which the nation could bestow upon him, but is credited with winning the war that made possible the birth of a new country.

While swimming in the Rappahannock river one day Washington's clothes disappeared. It was a terrible predicament for an aspiring young man to find himself in, but he survived the situation, and a negro woman who stole the clothes was made to pay for them. These were some of the sidelights on the life of Washington presented by E. C. Hollar of the department of History of East Carolina Teachers College, delivering the principal address at the Bicentennial celebration of the birth of Washington by the Kiwanis Club at the Woman's Club building last night.

The other speaker of the evening was Bill Montgomery, lieutenant governor of the Kiwanis district who paid his official visit to the club yesterday. Guy Smith presided and the program was in charge of R. C. Deal, of the program committee.

The usual song program under direction of C. B. Rowlett and an instrumental duet by Misses Ona Shindler and Eva Hodges were enjoyed. Mr. Hollar did not attempt to debunk history, as so many people of the present era are trying to do, nor did he attempt to extol the greatness of Washington. He confined himself strictly to the presentation of the history of the "father of our country" and followed him from the days of his youth through the periods of greatest achievement.

CURTIS CLARK HOLDUP VICTIM

Bandit Robs the Cash Register in Store in Brooklyn Where Local Boy Works.

Bandits seem to have it in for Greenville young men who go to New York City to try to make good. Ed Tucker, who has been in the metropolis about two years, has been held up at least three different times and now comes the news that Curtis Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Clark of Greenville, has suffered a similar misfortune.

A letter recently received by young Clark's parents gave a detailed report of the robbery, and stated that judging by the number of cops and detectives who took part in the investigation, one would have thought he was in China. Wednesday at the noon hour, a good-looking boy entered the Tom McAnn store of which young Clark is assistant manager, and asked to see some shoes. "I tried a pair of shoes on him," the letter stated, and he said he would take them.

About this time the manager entered the front door. The customer said, "You two guys hold up your hands and show me the back room." "After taking us into the back room," Clark related, "he told us to take off our pants. After we did so, he locked us up in the room and said he wouldn't take any of our money and would leave the pants at the cash register. He also said he wouldn't take over $20 out of the cash register, as he understood from over that amount we had to pay ourselves.

"As luck would have it, we had just taken $25 out of the register and hid it, and this left only $15 for the bandit. After a while we got out of the room and found our pants where the bandit said he would leave them. Detectives and police officers were already in the store, and they received a call a few minutes later that the bandit had been caught in another store a short distance away."

PETITION SENT TO PRESIDENT

Prominent Men Ask Hoover that America Support any Economic Measure to Stop Sino-Jap War.

Washington, Feb. 20.—(AP)—A petition whose signers include Newton D. Baker, has been sent to President Hoover urging that the United States inform the League of Nations it will concur in any economic pressure the latter may bring in an effort to stop Sino-Japanese fighting.

The petition said: "The United States is not a member of the League, but it is a party to the Kellogg-Briand pact and there can be no doubt that Japan, contrary to that pact, has sought to settle a dispute by other than peaceful means. Will it refuse to pacific means. What will our government commercial relations and thereby prevent almost all the world from bringing to bear economic pressure which will certainly stop the present bloodshed; or will it act in harmony with other nations to stop it?"

"We appeal to the President and Congress to signify to the League that we will concur in economic measures it may take to restore peace." There was no comment on the petition at the White House. Congressional authority to forbid the issuance of clearance papers to American ships bound for Japanese ports is regarded as necessary in the event economic pressure should be brought against Japan.

Senator Borah, of Idaho, chairman of the foreign relations committee, warned recently against such a step, asserting in his opinion it would lead to war.

Japanese Voters Go to the Polls

Tokyo, Feb. 20.—(AP)—Approximately nine million Japanese voters turned out for the latest bulletins of the advance on Shanghai today to vote in the general election while government officials prepared to fight before the League of Nations assembly at Geneva to uphold the Japanese policy at Shanghai and in Manchuria. The Japanese reply to the League council was prepared today and probably will be sent to Geneva tomorrow. It was stated authoritatively it would challenge the regularity of the note dispatched by the twelve neutral members of the council and contain "some plain speaking" regarding China's action in calling for a special session of the League assembly. The polls closed at 6 p. m., but the results of the election will not be known until Monday.

BITTER FIGHT IN MANCHURIA

Japanese and Chinese Forces Clash at Tanchua, Important City of Kirin.

Changchun, Manchuria, Feb. 20.—(AP)—A bitter battle raged today between Chinese and Japanese forces at Tanchua, strategically the most important town in the Province of Kirin, which is now a part of the new federated state of Manchuria, called "the land of peace." The battle began early today and soon became so serious that the Japanese, protectors of the new state, sent heavy reinforcements from nearby Kirin city. A force of 500 Chinese troops under General Wang Teh-Lin, Kirin Governor, who was one of the founders of the new state, attacked a small Japanese detachment which has been garrisoned at Tanchua since February 17 when Wang Teh-Lin's rebellion began to look dangerous. The Japanese lost two killed and many wounded, reports said, and the outcome was uncertain.

The Japanese command previously had sent troops from Changchun to Kirin to maintain control of the Kirin-Tanchua railway which the South Manchurian railway built for the Chinese and which is now under Japanese control. The city of Tanchua thus acquired great importance in the Japanese plans, which were to continue the Kirin-Tanchua line direct to Korea border giving the Japanese direct railway access to the heart of Manchuria.

Reports from Harbin said General Mah Chan-Shan had sent 2,000 of his cavalry troops to Payen, northeast of Harbin, to disperse remnants of Ting Chao's army which were reported looting that district. General Ting Chao defended Harbin for several days until he was finally driven out by the Japanese.

FAILS TO FORM NEW CABINET

M. Painleve Informs President of France of His Inability to Organize.

Paris, Feb. 20.—(AP)—Andre Tardieu, who was minister of war in the Laval cabinet, today accepted a mandate to form a new government to head that ministry. Paris, Feb. 20.—(AP)—Former Premier Paul Painleve abandoned today his attempt to form a cabinet to succeed the government of former Premier Pierre Laval which resigned earlier this week. In announcing his failure to construct a government, M. Painleve attributed it to the refusal of M. Laval and former Premier Andre Tardieu to join with him in a ministry. (Continued on Page Four)

China Says Japan Has Determined on Warfare

Nanking, Feb. 20.—(AP)—The Chinese National government, in an official statement today explaining its rejection of the Japanese demands for the military evacuation of Shanghai, charged that Japan was "determined on war."

Since the Japanese were "renewing the attack on a larger scale and with greater violence," the government's statement said, the Chinese troops were forced to resist to the bet of their ability because "China's sovereignty and national honor are at stake." "After 20 days of bombardment and incessant attack in the Chapei and Woosung district," the statement said, "by all kinds of implements of war which inflicted enormous loss of life and property on innumerable innocent Chinese, the

POWER BODY GIVES ROAST

Water & Light Commission Entertains at Plant on Tar River Last Night.

The annual oyster roast of the Greenville Water & Light Commission was given at the power plant on Tar river last night and was largely attended.

Representatives of the local government and officials from surrounding towns were present and were given the opportunity of going through the plant and viewing the operation of what is generally conceded to be one of the best municipally-owned plants in this part of the state.

The visitors were escorted through the plant by Martin Swartz, superintendent, who explained the workings of the machinery and nature of improvements in building and equipment made the last several years.

As usual there were many expressions of surprise at the tremendous capacity and facilities of the plant, and the superintendent and officials of the city government were heartily congratulated upon Greenville's ability to so completely take care of the enormous demand in this field of activity.

Before the inspection of the plant actually got under full swing, the guests were treated to an elaborate outlay of oysters—some of the largest and most delicious ever seen here.

The roast, always the highlight of the year for employees of the city government and their guests, was as largely attended as ever, and enabled officials guiding the destinies of other towns to acquaint themselves with what this city is doing to keep abreast of the time through rendering the highest type of service to its patrons.

SEARCH FOR MAN WANTED IN ROBBERY

Winston-Salem, Feb. 20.—(AP)—Authorities throughout central North Carolina today spread the search for Wallace Scates, scion of a well known Greensboro family, wanted here under a burglary warrant since William Pryor confessed in Chicago that he and Scates had staged the $20,000 "bridge game" jewel robbery at the home of A. H. Galloway here last March. (Continued on Page Four)

HUNDREDS OF MEN KILLED

Pounded All Day By Japanese Big Guns, the Chinese Reserve Lines were Weakened Early this Morning; Japan Files Protest Against American Raid of Cotton Mill; Marines Discover Signalling Paraphernalia and Munitions; Village of Woosung Destroyed by Fire.

Shanghai, Sunday, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Pounded all day long by Japan's big guns, the Chinese reserve lines were weakened early this morning as Japanese infantry began a frontal and flanking movement against the front line in the Chapei sector.

Japanese heavy artillery in Hongkew park began a terrific bombardment.

The firing was heavier than it had been all Saturday while the attack was concentrated on Kiangnan, half way between Chapei and Woosung.

The Chinese guns went into action immediately and Shanghai trembled to the cannonading. There were hundreds of dead and wounded in the Chinese support lines after the long artillery bombardment and a series of air raids.

Apparently the Japanese strategy followed that which became familiar in the World War. The attack falls first on the reserves, then the infantry goes over. In France the front line usually was taken with comparative ease but if reserves were still available a counterattack wiped out the gain.

Early this morning the Japanese command announced that a protest would be filed with the American consulate against a raid by American marines on a cotton mill near the American patrol lines where a number of Japanese officers were billeted.

The marines, the Japanese said, announced they were searching for signalling apparatus. The Japanese said they had made their search unnecessarily thorough and had invaded the ladies' bath, which was occupied at the time.

Marine officers said they found not only signalling apparatus but also a quantity of munitions. Further they said this was not the first time they had discovered the Japanese using the American sector as a signalling base. In the past few days, they said, several Japanese have been taken into custody when they were caught in the act of signalling from house tops.

Yesterday the Japanese announced they had taken the Town of Hapei, objective of the first day of the engagement.

The Chinese denied that it had been captured and said they had beaten off Jap tanks and infantry, but the fall of Kiangnan seemed imminent, and the Japanese command expected to have the town shortly.

A wide westward flanking movement by the Japanese along the line between Woosung creek and Hapei, with Chapei as an axis, resulted in gains of from one to two and a half miles.

Under a scorching artillery barrage and continuous attack from the air, the Chinese offered only passive resistance, taking to their dugouts and waiting for the barrage to lift.

Geyers of smoke and flame spouted behind the Chinese front line and along the whole front from Chapei to Woosung dozens of buildings were in flames. There was little hand to hand fighting, for the Chinese had built barbed wire entanglements and were preparing a line of retreat. The Japanese infantry advanced cautiously in scattered formations, taking advantage of every mound and hummock and deserted building for protection, pressing forward foot by foot and mopping up as they went. ABOUT TOWN

John D. Rockefeller, who is wintering at Ormand Beach, in Florida, is more loquacious this year than he has been in a long time.

Twice within the last two weeks the millionaire has expressed confidence in the ability of this country to throw off depression. His last statement in this connection was, "We are still hoping for better things."

In hoping he also expressed faith in the financial fabric of the nation, and who should be better able to do this than Mr. Rockefeller.

In spite of advanced age, he keeps in intimate touch with world conditions and is able to give enlightening comment at all times. As long as any race of people misses faith and work it is bound to come back and nobody realizes that more than men who have watched the nation come through other periods of depression with colors flying.

Judging from expression at a disarmament conference at Geneva, practically every country on the globe is ready to reduce armaments. That being the case, about the only thing necessary is to get busy and decide to what extent reductions will be made.

The consensus of opinion has been in favor of reducing governmental expenses through action of this kind but for some unexplained reason the powers never before have been able to reach a definite understanding.

With everybody in one accord, the Geneva conference ought to bring good results and the people of all nations will watch the deliberations in the hope that something may be done in this direction.

With banks and the postoffice closed Monday Greenville will turn to the observance of the Bi-centennial celebration of the anniversary of the birthday of George Washington.

With exercises more definitely emphasized this year than ever before, Greenville and Pitt county people, like citizens of virtually every city and hamlet of the nation, will learn more about the life and character of the first President than they ever thought they would know.

Nearly every organization of the city has held some kind of exercises in honor of the man who was "First in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen."

It is the idea of these observances to implant in the minds of the people, and especially children, the admirable qualities of the man who gave his best to cementing the colonies into one of the most powerful nations the world has ever known.

Some there are who would detract from the glory of Washington, but happily they are few and far between. Inconceivable, appearing under the guise of historians, have attempted to detract from the character of Washington thru the introduction of stories tending to destroy the high ideals built around his life.

In this they have been unsuccessful and will continue to be unsuccessful. Everybody realizes that the "Father of His Country," as he is affectionately called, was human and subject to frailties like other men. But his errors and omissions fade into insignificance when compared with his achievements.

The high purpose of the man in his matchless struggle for the people, his ambition and indomitable zeal and will, can never be forgotten, and as long as the nation stands his life will contribute to the uplift of humanity.

The Federal Relief bill, sponsored by Democrats, and carrying $700,000,000 for state relief of unemployment, has been favorably reported to the House committee, and may yet be enacted into law. The bill is a substitute for the LaFollette-Oostigan measure, and

Boy Crazy

By GRACE PERKINS AUTHOR OF "PERSONAL MAID"

SYNOPSIS: Hope Ross finds her marriage with Dickey Dale in ruins through her father's tales. Mr. Ross "convinces" her that Dickey is not standing by her, and keeps Dickey away from her. After the marriage is annulled, Hope goes to Dickey's college and is very gay to save her pride.

Chapter 24 PRICING A COUNT Ten days after the Harmouth scandal, Hope and Sassy found themselves headed for Cherbourg, with Mama Ross bravely facing sea-sickness, and delicately raising her eyebrows at the hot pilot that were her fellow passengers. To certain people a trip to Europe seems to be the only answer to every emotional upheaval.

But nobody on the boat was quite good enough for Mama Ross, who kept magnificently aloof as she paced the deck in her English weeds, and confined herself otherwise to her five-room suite. Never once did Mama appear in the dining-saloon or attend the evening caeteries which the ship proffered to less sensitive and cultured souls. After having glanced over the passenger list, she had tossed it aside, and devoted herself to books and her daughter.

This routine, as it happened, suited Hope completely. Hope had considerable crying to accomplish, an unwonted amount of thinking to do, and innumerable questions to answer herself regarding life and its possibilities. The disgrace which had attended her being sent home planations, she had insisted upon making, to take all the blame so that Tuck might merely be suspended instead of actually expelled from college, Papa's red-eyed disgust with the entire disgraceful proceeding; all these things mattered little to Hope except to make her thoughts the more involved. What she really cared about was Dickey and what Dickey thought of her when he returned to Harmouth and heard of her fraternal house scandal. Not that she really cared...

No, not that she really cared, she told Sassy. For Sassy, kept in the suite by crook, since it couldn't be done by hook, gazed back into Hope's troubled eyes with a quiet and ancient wisdom that seemed to comfort his mistress. And his purring, Sassy's blinking stare, or Sassy's comforting silence were all the company that Hope wanted in those particularly tumultuous hours. "Do you think Goody is happy?" "Oh, yes, Mamma. Sure."

"Think of it! My daughter married! Sarah! A wife herself now, beginning to face life and its responsibilities. Oh, I do hope the dear child is happy and comfortable. Charlie's such a nice boy, but all men are a handful." "Yes, indeed, Mamma." "You're the one I wish were married! You're the one I worry about! Goody could always take care of herself. You're the one, Hope, who needs a strong hand, a firm love to guide you and bring out the best that's in you. Because I'm sure there's a best somewhere. I've seen it! Besides, it's in your blood. Oh well, some day you'll meet the right man."

"Yes, I suppose so." "Certainly you will! Don't look so gloomy child." "Won't it be delightful to see Goody in Paris? On her honeymoon!" "Yes. Rather."

"Oh, I hope she's been dieting like she promised." Obediently, Hope met Goody and Charlie in Paris. Went the rounds with them. Met their friends and Mama's friends, and attended the will make available $3,000,000 for direct loans to states upon applications from governors who would be required to furnish state bonds, $200,000,000 for direct grants to states, and $200,000,000 to be devoted to road improvements.

If finally passed, the bill will make it possible for any state desiring to deal more completely with the unemployment situation, to obtain money for this purpose, and also to those states that have borrowed to their limit and unable to provide the aid.

It is an effort on the part of the Democrats to provide relief for the millions of people walking streets in a fruitless search for work, and directly avoids any resemblance to a dole.

It is a monumental undertaking in the face of the tremendous treasury deficit, and will incur plenty of opposition before finally being passed or relegated to the hopper of defeated bills.

The local post of the American Legion is to be congratulated upon increasing its membership over the same period last year.

This indicates that the boys have been constantly hammering at the membership job and have experienced success in the face of unprecedented economic conditions.

No organization can expect to function normally without the support of members, and as the Legion is the most powerful forces in the nation in behalf of the men who served in the great war overseas, it is incumbent upon its members to stand solidly behind the program each year.

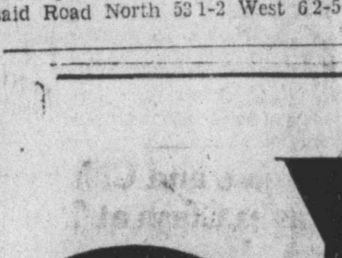

Pitt county pos; is one of the most active in the state, and it is a matter of pride to officers that it has been able to do better than last year when faced by such overwhelming odds in a financial way.

Card of Thanks

We wish to extend sincere thanks to our many friends for the kindly service rendered and many expressions of sympathy during the death of our father and husband, Boston N. Boyd.

Members of Family

Home Demonstration Activities. Six 4-H clubs met last week at Belvoir, Winterville, Arthur, Stokes and Hollywood.

Washington made two extensive good-will tours during his presidency one through the New England states, and another of 1,187 miles through the South. In each instance he attended church wherever Sunday happened to find him. In his journals of these journeys he made special note of the churches in each town through which he passed, frequently commenting on their appearance and size.

Of interest with regard to his respect for church edifices is the story of Washington's reprimand of soldiers who had thrown stones at the Old Litchfield Church.

Undoubtedly Washington attended more than the thirty-four churches discovered in the research conducted by the Bicentennial commission.

New Books For Library

Chase, Mexico, heads the list of books received today for the International Mind Alcove at Shepard Memorial Library, furnished by the Carnegie Foundation Fund. Read this book and see the contrast between the machine age of the United States and the primitive life in Mexico.

Strong—Road to the Grey Pamir

is the story of an American woman's horseback journey through Asiatic Russia.

Wagner—Korea, a picture of present day blending of old and new in this interesting land.

Morton—In Search of Scotland, a very unusual book, one of the few good ones, for those interested in things Scotch.

World Disarmament and Issues of the General Disarmament Conference, are two clear, easily read and understood leaflets.

Those who know the Alcove books will get some of these at once. Come to the library and ask for an Alcove book.

Contract Club

Farmville, Feb. 19.—The members of the Contract Club Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. George Holston, at her home on Hibern Avenue. There were two tables of bridge, the Valentine idea being attractively carried out in appointments and refreshments.

The guests besides the club members included Mrs. R. O. Lang, Mrs. W. C. Holston, Mrs. R. H. Knott and Mrs. J. Y. Monk. After a number of progressions the high score awards, a fringed broom, was presented to Mrs. R. O. Lang.

There was no Japanese offensive movement against Wousung however. Only a small garrison was holding the Wousung creek line. The rest of the force had been transferred to the right flank on the western front.

It was impossible to determine the number of casualties in the day's fighting. The Japanese said theirs was comparatively light but they believed the Chinese losses had been heavy.

Market Report

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

N. Y. COTTON

New York, Feb. 20.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today at an advance of 3 to 7 points on buying and covering, principally for foreign account. May sold at 7.18.

Trading was fairly active with the initial demand sending prices back to about the best levels of yesterday. Buyers were supplied by southern selling and week-end realizing and prices reacted 4 or 5 points from the best during the early trading.

The disposition to take profits on long cotton was probably increased by the action of the stock market, but the market was about steady at the end of the first half hour with active months ruling net unchanged to 3 points higher. Liverpool cables said there had been Manchester and Bombay buying with trade calling in that market and reported that the increased cloth demand from India was maintained. The amount of cotton on shipboard awaiting clearance at U. S. ports was estimated at 201,000 bales against 87,000 last year and 121,000 two years ago.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Feb. 20.—(AP)—Sharply lower markets for wheat and other cereals today accompanied pre-holiday adjustment of accounts for recent buyers.

An easier tone in securities at New York and in wheat quotations at Liverpool had a bearish influence. Late rallies, however, promoted by wheat export business totalling 800,000 bushels, mostly Canadian.

Wheat closed unsettled, 1-2 to 7-8 under yesterday's finish, corn 1-2 to 3-4 off, oats 1-8 to 3-8 down and provisions unchanged to five cents lower.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Feb. 20.—(AP)—The stock market sank quietly under its own weight at the close of the week today.

Trading was quiet, and losses were largely limited to a point or two although a few issues lost 3 or 4. Weekend trade and business reports failed to provide any fresh encouragement, and traders with profits decided to cash in at least a part of them in advance of the Washington's birthday week-end.

Auburn was an isolated weak feature, tumbling more than ten points, as a fair-sized block appeared on the market and found no nearby bids. American Telephone was also under pressure, losing more than 3 points. Santa Fe fell four.

The turnover for the two-hour session, however, was only about 200,000 shares. The closing tone was heavy.

If short selling was not entirely checked by Pres. Hoover's statement on the subject late yesterday, brokers said that bears were at least extremely wary.

MRS. PENDER PASSES AWAY

(Continued from Page One) On Thursday morning she suffered a stroke of paralysis from which she never recovered. Her home was in Whitakers, N. C., but she had made her home for the past three years with her daughter here.

She is survived by four sons and two daughters: W. D. Pender, of Starke, Fla.; R. C. Pender, of Bradenton, Fla.; H. R. Pender, of Burlington, N. C.; and Mrs. W. M. Pender, of Rocky Mount, N. C. Mrs. W. M. Pender, of Greensboro, and Mrs. T. A. Eberhardt, of this city.

Mrs. Pender was universally loved for her many beautiful qualities and her passing will be mourned by the host of friends she had made during her life-time. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. W. A. Ryan, minister of the Eighth Street Christian church, Greenville, this afternoon at Whitakers.

Father of Waters Again Rampages

Memphis, Tenn., Feb. 20.—(AP)—The threat of the Mississippi river builder and destroyer of the valley farm lands increased today as rains swelled tributaries, already in flood. A crest of 49 feet, five above flood stage, was forecast for the big river at Helena, Ark., today and the Mississippi rose a tenth to 38.7 feet at Memphis yesterday. It was out of its banks at many points through the lower valley and lapped at sand-bags levee tops in the Mississippi Delta.

In the Delta, continued rains swelled the Tallahatchie, Coldwater and Yazoo rivers which have driven thousands from their homes since Christmas. The Red Cross, however, aid the inland situation has improved and watched developments from the rising Mississippi before turning relief work over to local residents. Guards were placed along the Red river levees in the vicinity of Texarkana, Ark., and boats assembled as the river threatened a weak section of the Miller county barrier south of Garland city.

Raleigh, N. C.—(AP)—C. J. Hawkins, former assistant cashier of the Central Bank & Trust Co., Asheville, has started serving a 15 to 24 months sentence for embezzlement imposed in Buncombe Superior court.

U. N. C. BEATS 'OLD LINERS'

Charlotte, Feb. 20.—(AP)—Upsetting the apparent of the Maryland Old Liners, 1931 Southern Conference basketball champions, the University of North Carolina displayed amazing form last night to win, 32-28.

In the meantime, Duke with a reversal of form which cost them their game with Washington and Lee Thursday, flew at the Virginia Military Institute outfit with a vim, and won 45-25.

Washington and Lee, continuing its invasion, went to Raleigh, where the N. C. State Red Terror promptly took them into camp, 30-20.

The other members of North Carolina's Big Five, Davidson and Wake Forest, played away from home with less encouraging results.

Citadel defeated Davidson 32-21 and the Deacons found themselves on the short end of a 30-25 count after their tilt with the University of Delaware.

In a North State tilt, High Point visited Lenoir Rhyne and won 32-27. Elon played Kannapolis "Y," barely gaining a 29-27 victory.

Tonight, Duke will test its mettle against Maryland, V. M. I. goes to N. C. State, Washington and Lee invades Chapel Hill, Davidson gets another shot at the Citadel, and Duke Forest plays Catholic University.

High Point is scheduled to meet Atlantic Christian at Wilson, and Elon is to entertain Gulf.

DEMPSEY TO STAY IN RING

Chicago, Feb. 20.—(AP)—A few of King Levinsky's shots may have shaken Jack Dempsey Thursday night, but they didn't shake the comeback ideas out of the old mauler's head.

The tour is going on just as planned, except that Dempsey will do less handshaking, will be seen less in public outside of the ring, and will alter his training routine. After reading accounts of his exhibition with the cocky Kingfish, most of which said, or inferred "Dempsey is through," Jack scowled and said:

"So they think I'm through again eh? Well, I'm not. I'm going right on. I'll be back. I'll fight Levinsky with six ounce gloves. I can still sock with regulation fighting gloves on."

As close to an alibi as Dempsey could come, was to say he was suffering with a severe cold, and failed to get going. At the same time he would take no credit from Levinsky, saying the awkward Jewish youngster is a better fighter than most people think.

Dempsey's next stop will be Louisville, Ky., where he will pair with Frankie White, Butte, Mont., and Winston-Salem, N. C. heavyweight in another four round exhibition next Tuesday night. It's unsatisfactory showing against Levinsky apparently has done nothing to impair his popularity for a record crowd is expected to watch him in Louisville.

Asheville, N. C.—(AP)—Mount Mitchell was blanketed under an inch and a half snow while Asheville's temperature stood at 39, three degrees above normal.

SALARY CUT AT COLLEGE

(Continued from Page One) nearly $20,000 less than our operating expenses for the remaining portion of the year. This is due to the fact that the Budget Bureau has found it necessary to make a thirty per cent reduction in the appropriation." He read extracts from a letter by the governor, showing the necessity for drastic cuts in expenditures if the state is to stay on a CASH BASIS. He also read extracts from a letter from the attorney general showing that the board has the power to cut salaries.

"I have had two conferences with the Budget Bureau recently. After conferring with the assistant director of the budget, and receiving this letter from the governor, we find that it is going to be necessary to make a reduction. If we make a reduction of ten per cent in all salaries and wages for March, April, May and June, it will take care of the present situation. The reduction could be made by the board of trustees. I do not want to call the board of trustees together; so I have called you together to ask if you wish to make that reduction, voluntarily. It seems to me it is the only thing we can do, because the state is not collecting the revenue.

"This applies to four months' salary, March, April, May and June. It isn't my idea at all that we are trying to cut salaries; we are simply trying to meet a situation.

"We will not know about the next year of this, biennium until

EDITORIAL

George Washington This year marks the 200th anniversary of the birth of George Washington, soldier, statesman and charming gentleman. To many of us, he seems just a remote and admirable figure of history, a familiar face engraved on postage stamps. We should realize, however, what an honor it is to claim such a man "The Father of Our Country." His life and works are no doubt very well known to the majority of American citizens, and he is esteemed a genius by men of the present as well as the past.

Sometimes we wonder just where in lay Washington's greatness. He was not dashing, nor brilliant, nor original. His greatness consisted for the most part in his lofty motives in his extraordinary sound judgment and in his unlimited courage when standing for a principle he thought to be right. His patriotism was pure as sunlight and no element of selfishness entered his motives. It is said that in all his public career he never made a serious mistake.

As we pause this month to do honor to the memory of George Washington, let's remember the pursuit that found most favor in his heart. The words of his old friend and companion, "First in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen," are without question literally true.

FRANCES WILLARD—11

Merited Self-Congrat. Contrary to the opinions of the world's most celebrated essayist, we assert that frank, open self-congratulation is a most admirable trait of character. Everyone is superior in some respect to his fellows, and he has a perfect right to pride himself upon that accomplishment, small though it might be. We all have a certain amount of vanity, and we satisfy it by laughing at this stupid world in the matters in which we consider ourselves superior to the common run of people. This is only natural; the ego in our cosmos demands it. But why are they who snicker behind masks of false modesty respected and esteemed, while they who scorn hypocrisy and honestly tell the world their true value looked upon as a deceitful air of diffidence so as to gain a reputation for humility?

Win Over Roanoke Rapids. On Tuesday evening, Feb. 16, the local high school cagers rode to a 17-15 win over Roanoke Rapids.

This was the second tilt with the strong Roanoke Rapids outfit. The first game was taken by Roanoke Rapids after the Greenville boys had held a lead to the last minutes of play.

For Greenville, King and Taylor looked good; and Harry, a new man, did some good playing.

CHARLES COBB—10.

Wilson Defeats Greenville. The girls' game with Wilson last Friday night, was one of the roughest played this year. Both teams did a considerable amount of fouling. The final score was 43-29.

Both teams played an excellent game. Gladys Gaston starred throughout the game; and Ruth Horne with her excellent team work deserves commendation. Nellie Blaxton was high scorer for Greenville with 16 points to her credit.

NEWS High School Lingo. Dear Juniors: Is it really true that the name of your usual orchestra has been changed to "Ye ole leep-yeer or-the income tax is collected." It was moved that the faculty and officers and members of the institution, voluntarily, to help the state in the present condition, accept a ten per cent in compensation for the months of March, April, May and June.

The motion was carried unanimously.

"We are going to run the summer school. At present I think there is no danger about running the summer school two terms. We are doing it for three reasons. One is, we have in college now not more than one hundred and fifty students who are planning to come to summer school. Another reason, if we stop our summer school during this depression, we will have to start all over and build it up. Third, we are running the summer school that we may hold our organization together and give employment to the large number of people who work in the college, dining room, kitchen, etc. We will not spend more than $5,000 from the appropriation on the summer school. Last year we spent about $15,000.

"We expect to have a large attendance at each term of the summer school."

FAILS FORM NEW CABINET (Continued from Page One) lstry of Leftist complexion. He left for the Elysee palace at 4 a. m. to inform President Paul Doumer of his decision. The President was expected to search for a premier later today and in political circles it was considered likely he would call on M. Tardieu who returned from Geneva when the cabinet crisis developed.

Before turning to the Left M. Painleve had tried to gather together a "cabinet of conciliation" but M. Tardieu brought this attempt to naught by declining to accept a post as minister of state without portfolio, to which he previously had agreed.

POLITICAL POT PICKS UP STEAM IN NORTH CAROLINA (Continued from Page One) There were rumors that the state Democratic convention would not be held until after the primary.

One development which appeared to have startling possibilities at first was the injection of the name of Congressman Lindsay Warren into the gubernatorial race but Warren quickly put a damper on the gossip.

During the week the political wise-birds continued to seriously discuss the possibility that Gen. Albert Cox of Raleigh might enter the race for the governorship but they began to doubt that Willis Smith of Raleigh, T. A. McNeill of Lumberton or A. O. McLean of Washington, would be in the running.

Attorney General Dennis C. Brummett formally announced his candidacy for reelection. He will be opposed by State Senator J. R.

Baggott of Harnett county and Peyton McSwain of Cleveland.

J. S. Long, prominent Robeson county farmer, announced that he would oppose W. A. Graham for the Democratic nomination as commissioner of agriculture. There are still rumors that Laurie McEachern of Hoke county will be in this race.

Monday of next week D. P. Giles of Marion, who seeks the lieutenant governorship, has promised to make public his platform. He is opposed by A. H. (Sand) Graham of Hillsboro and David P. Dellinger of Covertville.

The young Democrats organization, asserting it was interested in the future of the Democratic party and not of any individual candidate in the primary, announced that its Jackson day dinner had been postponed from sometime in March until after the Primary on June 4.

Robert R. Reynolds of Asheville launched his formal campaign against Morrison with a ringing speech at Shelby in which he described prohibition as a failure and attacked "the trusts and moneyed interests."

Frank D. Grist, state commissioner of labor and opponent of Morrison, launched another barrage at the senator in an address at Lenoir and Tam C. Bowie of West Jefferson, the third man seeking the seat, continued his work throughout the state. Grist makes a radio speech at Gastonia tonight in the interest of his candidacy.

MINOR POWERS IN FAVOR OF ARMAMENT REDUCTION (Continued from Page One) sda, "surrounded by the necessary guarantees will assist in the re-establishment of confidence and consequently in economic reorganization which will lead to a stoppage of world-wide commercial war."

The South American delegate, Charles Te Water, said the sum total of proposals made by the different nations during the sessions of the conference thus far amounted to a total abolition of armaments.

Foreign Minister Zaurius of Lithuania, the last to speak today had urged international arbitration, not only of future disputes but of those which now are engendering bad feelings.

CHINA SAYS JAPAN HAS DETERMINED ON WARFARE (Continued from Page One) "She is determined on war," it said, "and the Chinese troops who are defending the Chinese territory at Shanghai will resist the Japanese on the spot to the best of their ability, as they have previously."

High Cagers Win Another

Greenville high school's basketball quintet moved up into a tie for third place in the conference standing last night when they defeated the strong Farmville outfit by a 19 to 10 score. By this defeat of their ancient rivals the locals avenged the 16-15 setback handed them by Farmville earlier in the season.

The locals showed marked superiority in every department of the game. They passed with accuracy and their defensive work was so good that Farmville was not allowed to score a single field goal in the second half. All four of the visitors' feet goals came in the first half and they were only able to garner two free shots in the last half. Greenville scored 12 points in the first half and 7 in the second. Woolard was high scorer for the night with 9 points and Warren was second with 6. For the visitors Gibbs was the high scorer with five points to his credit. Ogleby secured four.

All students interested in seeking absolutely free the pictures to be shown at the local theatres Monday and Tuesday, see Tom Rivers.

There is a rumor that there will be no Junior-Senior banquet this year because of certain complications about which President Slay will give out no information. While this is still just a rumor, a non-committal atmosphere reigned over all the officials. A committee meeting was hastily held last week, and it is expected that more are to be held pending results of investigation.

Place Invitation Order.

Several weeks ago the invitation committee of the senior class placed their order for this year's commencement invitations.

The committee selected a plain, formal type of invitation which made up of shaded old English script engraved on white paper and which was rendered by Edwards & Broughton of Raleigh.

The order was placed for a minimum of one thousand invitations, the exact number to be determined at a later date when the class members decide definitely on the size of their individual orders.
