FORMER KING TO ATTEMPT TO RESUME PLACE

Former King Alfonso and Kinsman Will Try to Overthrow Spanish Republic.

Paris, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Former King Alfonso XIII and his uncle Alfonso Carlos, traditional pretender to the Spanish throne, have issued a call to Spanish people, the Havas News agency reported from Madrid today, to join together to overthrow the new republic in Spain.

Former King Alfonso's manifesto, the Havas correspondent said, declared he accepted his uncle as head of the family and that they both hold the same principle—that everyone must unite to save Spanish society from the wave of anarchy and Communism which has invaded it and to gather under the flag, the sacred flag to which I devoted my life.

He proposed to those who remained faithful to the monarchy to restore it as a former provisional government which would summon a Cortes to draw up a constitution. The present republic, he said, is no more capable of continuing in existence than was the short-lived first republic in the 1870's.

He made a sacrifice, he said, in April 1931 when he left the throne and he added: "Don't doubt that I would submit to a second ordeal and that I would not place any obstacle in the way of the acceptance of what is the will of the nation, freely and truly expressed. But let us unite to save Spain. I who appeal to you, am ready to serve her as the least of her citizens."

The manifesto of the king's uncle, Alfonso Carlos, was reported to be in the same vein.

Proceedings Of Superior Court

Sessions of the Pitt County Superior court for the trial of civil cases was resumed Thursday after a two-day recess to permit local attorneys who had appeals to the Supreme Court at Raleigh to argue their cases. Judge J. Paul Frizzle of Snow Hill is presiding.

The court today was engaged in hearing the case of Levy Pierce and Blaney Summerell against L. E. Tunnage and wife, Lillian Turnage begun yesterday. This is a suit for damages for injuries alleged to have been sustained by the plaintiffs in an automobile wreck involving the car of the defendants. It is expected that it will require the remainder of the day to complete this case.

Other cases tried since Thursday include: J. B. Pierce vs. Geo. A. Benson, for account judgment for plaintiff in sum of $52.15.

H. Morris Teaf vs. R. B. Kittrell, for account. Judgment for plaintiff in amount of $416.00.

W. J. Edwards vs. J. W. Congleton, suit involving purchase of car. Judgment for plaintiff in sum of $225.00.

Universal Credit Co. vs. W. B. Phillips, judgment for plaintiff in sum of $95.00.

Negroes Held on Liquor Charge

Will Hardy and Arthur White, colored, are in jail here unable to post $300 bond each as a result of their arrest by police officers on a charge of violation of the prohibition laws. Hardy and White together with a mule and cart, a load of corn and six half gallon jars of whiskey were taken early yesterday shortly after the vehicle had entered the city apparently to make delivery of the goods. The defendants were given hearing yesterday morning before United States Commissioner T. E. Beaman and sent to jail when they were unable to give the required bond for their appearance in Federal court.

Joe Hardee and Boss McLawhorn, colored, from the Griffin section of the county were also given hearings before Commissioner Beaman yesterday on a charge of violation of the prohibition laws and were dismissed for lack of sufficient evidence.

CONVICTION OF CAPONE HOLDS

Only Intervention of U. S. Supreme Court Stays "Scarface's" Trip to Prison.

Chicago, Feb. 27.—The conviction of "Scarface Al" Capone on charges of evading income tax laws was affirmed today by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals.

Ever since he was sentenced by Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson last October 24, Capone has been in the Cook county jail where he did not get credit on his penitentiary term. Only yesterday the United States marshal placed a special 24-hour guard at his cell because of the many rumors that he was still controlling his gang and possibly planning a break if his appeal were denied.

In a 5,000-word opinion the high court upheld the indictments in which the gangster was charged with cheating the government of some $200,000 in tax, the verdict in which he was convicted of 21 counts and his sentence of 11 years and fine of $50,000.

Only the intervention of United States Supreme court can prevent Capone's removal to the Federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kas. The government indicated today it would ask Monday for Capone's immediate removal from the Cook county jail to Leavenworth.

Reach Agreement On Bill To End Lame Duck Session

Washington, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Agreement was reached today between House and Senate conferees on the proposed constitutional amendment abolishing the lame duck session of Congress.

The accord cleared the way for final congressional action on the measure which has been before Congress for many years.

Never before has House and Senate been able to agree on it.

The agreement today was completed when the Senate yielded to a House provision that the amendment must be ratified by the states within 7 years to become effective.

Japs To Attempt Cut Off Chinese Reinforcement

Tokyo, Feb. 27.—(AP)—The Japanese high command, it was learned on good authority today, is prepared to use the air forces and the navy to strike at distant points in China to prevent further accretions of Chinese army strength on the front at Shanghai.

The Japanese commanders at Shanghai, it was learned, have expressed alarm over prospects of the early arrival of large reinforcements thence have decided to employ warships on the Yangtze river to prevent its becoming a highway for the armies which have been reported hurrying to join the 19th route army on the battle line.

The recent air raids by naval planes on Chinese air bases on Sochow and Hangchow were cited as examples of the use to which the air forces would be put.

It was understood Japanese destroyers will attempt to prevent further Chinese troops crossing the Yangtze at Nanking where thousands already are reported to have

TO SET DATE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION

Committee to Meet in Raleigh Tuesday to Decide on the Place and Time.

Raleigh, Feb. 27.—(AP)—The State Democratic executive committee will meet here Tuesday to set the date and select the site for the Democratic state convention.

History has recorded that the convention is held before the primary in 1923 and 1930, when they were bitter fights in the primary, the state meeting was held after the balloting. It is expected that an effort will be made to postpone this year's meeting until after the primary June 4, the argument being made that this precludes any possibility of a preference being shown any candidate by the convention.

It is understood that Harry Flood Byrd, former governor of Virginia and regarded as a potential candidate for the Democratic presidential or vice presidential nomination, will visit Raleigh next week and may be here the night the committee meets.

Members of the committee will be guests of Governor and Mrs. Gardner at a buffet supper before the meeting.

On the eve of the committee meeting, following the post office conference of the American Legion at Winston-Salem Monday, it is expected that General Albert L. Cox of Raleigh will announce his intention as to whether he will seek the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. The Legion is not regarded as a political organization but most of the men regarded as the most ardent supporters of General Cox will attend the meeting Monday.

Contribute Now To Victory Fund, Says Chairman Hooks

Chairman W. E. Hooks, of the Pitt County Democratic Victory Fund committee, announced today that contributions are coming in nicely, and that many of the townships have secured their quota of pledges. "Others, however," Mr. Hooks, "have not completed their quota of pledges, and the chairman in these townships are urged to get busy at once and secure the pledges and to turn in the funds already collected."

While no definite quota was set for Pitt county by the national Victory Fund organization, it is expected that Democrats in this county will gladly exceed what is expected of them and swell the total to a satisfactory sum.

"Every Democrat should contribute at least a dollar to this important fund," said Mr. Hooks.

Would Blame Russia For Injury To Japs

By GLENN BABB (Associated Press Correspondent) Copyright, 1932, Associated Press Tokyo, Feb. 27.—An indication that Japan may be preparing to hold Russia responsible for damages suffered by Japanese nationals in Northern Manchuria unless she is permitted to transport her troops over the Chinese Eastern Railway was given by a spokesman for the foreign office today. The spokesman said that Ambassador Koki Hirota had asked M. Karakhan, acting foreign commissar of Soviet Russia what Moscow proposed to do in case a delay in supplying trains for troop transportation caused harm or loss to Japanese subjects in the North Manchuria areas where Chinese rebellions have broken out.

The inquiries of the Soviet foreign office regarding Japan's intention in North Manchuria are under consideration, the spokesman said, in preparation for instructing Ambassador Hirota what to reply to M. Karakhan. (Continued on page four)

CREDIT ACT IS NOW IN EFFECT

Washington, Feb. 27.—(AP)—The Federal Reserve credit expansion act, designed to place billions in cash and credit where they can be used for resumption of commercial and industrial activity, becomes law today.

Of all the government's restoratives this suddenly announced and quickly executed legislative confidence builder, has so far been the most successful in putting a sparkle back in the business man's eye, even though its work is yet to begin.

President Hoover promised, upon completion of the final congressional touches yesterday, to affix his signature today and tell the country something about the measure.

Distinctly technical in its operation, it has the one broad objective—as interpreted by everyone who has had anything to do with it—of assuring the banker, the businessman, the industrialist and the man in the street, that there is no reachable bottom to that mainspring of American life, credit.

It will buttress to a point of unquestioned liquidity the thousands of small member banks of the Federal Reserve System, and though this buoyancy is expected to lift the strain on, or lack of confidence in thousands of other small banks not in the reserve fold.

Its enactment completes, practically, the general reconstruction program of the administration, flanking the reconstruction corporation's loans to pinched enterprise, the militant campaign against hoarding, and several other government restoratives.

Speed King Not To Attempt New Record This Year

Daytona Beach, Fla., Feb. 27.—(AP)—After making new world's land speed records for five distances, Sir Malcolm Campbell decided today to attempt no further trials this year and said he would ship his 12-cylinder Bluebird racing car back to England immediately.

Conditions for further runs were not satisfactory today. Despite hazardous conditions yesterday, Campbell slashed three distance records to pieces. He wiped them out by margins of six to eighty-six miles per hour as he beat the best previous times for five kilometers, five miles and ten kilometers.

Ford Interests Plan To Invest Big Sum This Year

By DAVID J. WILLIE Detroit, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Declaring he was prepared to "risk everything we've got" in an effort to start an industrial rival, Henry Ford announced today that he has provided himself with stocks of materials anticipating a possible production program of 1,500,000 cars a year. He estimated his program would call for the expenditure this year of $300,000,000 in Detroit and Michigan alone for raw and fabricated materials, freight and shipping costs and labor. Purchasing of raw materials, and manufacturing parts throughout the United States he said would aggregate $2,000,000 a month.

Production of the new eight and the improved four cylinder models recently announced, Ford said, probably will begin next week, and "before very long we expect to be making from 5,000 to 6,000 cars a day." In the Detroit area alone, he said, 100,000 men will be employed at the standard minimum. (Continued on page three)

LEGION POST HOLDS ANNUAL LADIES' NIGHT

The Pitt County Post of the American Legion held their annual ladies' night on Thursday evening in the Rotary building. The club was appropriately decorated for the occasion.

State Officials Take Part in Program; the Occasion Was Most Enjoyable.

C. C. Martin, post commander presided at a tempting dinner was served. Post Commander Martin introduced Mrs. R. S. McGeachy, vice-president of the Auxiliary, who in a short talk told the activities of the Auxiliary. Mrs. McGeachy spoke for Mrs. James L. Evans, president, who could not speak due to throat trouble. James M. Calwell, department adjutant, told of the Legion membership campaign, stating that the state was already ahead of last year. Mr. Calwell was introduced by A. B. Corey.

The principal address of the evening was made by Bourne Commander Henry C. Bourne of Tarboro, who was honor guest of the post. Mr. Bourne was introduced by J. Con Lanier. Commander Bourne gave a brief sketch of the life of George Washington. He also told of the welfare work, Oteen and the unemployment program which is the most important work of the American Legion at this time.

Mrs. Dink James and Miss Carolyn Fullilove, accompanied by Mrs. R. A. Tyson Jr., added a great deal to the evening's entertainment with a number of musical selections.

Verdict Set Aside, Youth Gets 4 Months

Taylorsville, N. C., Feb. 27.—(AP)—Judge Walter E. Moore today set aside the verdict of the jury which found Garfield Jennings, 23, guilty of manslaughter in connection with the death of Ray Perdue, high school football coach of Statesville, and allowed the youth to plead guilty of involuntary manslaughter.

He then sentenced Jennings to four months imprisonment, but stipulated that the county might hire him out and be paid for his services.

Jennings was put in custody of an uncle, Floyd Jennings, who agreed to pay the county $25 a month for his services.

One Bandit Killed And Three Injured In Holdup

Miami, Fla., Feb. 27.—(AP)—A bandit leader with a wooden arm, identified as A. Y. Yarbrough, was killed and A. Philip Perkins, former British amateur golf champion, two club employees and three robbers were wounded early today in an attempt to hold up the gambling casino of the fashionable Embassy Night Club.

The leader was identified by J. P. Tresner, Miami business man. He said he knew Yarbrough in Lakeland, Fla., several years ago and disclosed he came to his office yesterday in an unsuccessful attempt to borrow $10. Police learned the bandit had been engaged in gambling here recently.

Perkins was among the guests at the club. The bandits sought to hold up the gambling casino of the club. The two policemen, Mack Oakford and G. J. Davis, in plain clothes were lined up against the kitchen wall with employees as the robbers entered. The bandit leader was killed by a bullet from the gun of a watchman, as he attempted to escape af-

JAPS FAIL TO TAKE VILLAGE

New Chinese Forces Expected from Nanking; Japs Landing Reinforcements.

By MORRIS J. HARBIN (Associated Press Correspondent) Shanghai, Sunday, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Kiangwan, center of the bitterest fighting along the whole Shanghai front, was still in Chinese hands this morning, General Tsi Ting-Kai said in a bulletin from Chinese headquarters.

The Japanese insisted last night that they had swung a circle clear around the village and taken it over, ending at last the stubborn opposition which had held out for a week against the strongest attack of the Japanese army.

The government at Nanking has sent me two more divisions to reinforce the 19th route army," General Tsi's communique said, "this additional force will go into action when the Japanese offensive is renewed."

The harbor master down the Whangpoo reported early today that two Japanese transports loaded with troops had arrived off Woesung.

These apparently were the first detachments of heavy reinforcements sent from Japan. During the past several days cargo steamers have been arriving with ammunition and supplies for the Shanghai expeditionary force, each one of them carrying comparatively small numbers of soldiers.

The hands of the big clock on the customs house tower in Shanghai marked midnight when the heavy guns throwing shells at each other across Chapei went into action again.

To the non-combatants in the international settlement it sometimes seems that the gunners, aiming their attack by that clock which is plainly visible to both front lines. This morning's cannonading continued for more than an hour.

Shanghai, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Despite Japanese claims that they had captured the western end of Kiangwan village, the Shanghai Chinese garrison in that beleaguered town was still holding on at eleven o'clock tonight.

The Associated Press correspondent went out there and saw for himself the parade of Chinese stretcher bearers carrying wounded out of the village. It was testimony enough that the town was not yet surrounded although the Japanese had said they had thrown a line around it and occupied the western section.

Supplies for the small defending garrison were coming in from Miaochungchen, running a gauntlet of machine gun fire from both sides where the Japanese had swung around in an effort to cut off the village. The Chinese however, still kept the neck of the bottle open.

This correspondent's observation established that the opposing line extended in a gentle curve into Woesung to a point nearly a mile east of Miaochungchen, then south to Kiangwan and eastward to the village to its southern limits, thence south to Chapei.

The whole area between Kiangwan front and Tasha four miles to the west, was now combed with artillery pits, shelling the bursts of light from pieces. There also were in machine gun nests.

Northward toward the Liali Hinterland the territory also heavily fortified and swart with soldiers.

Tachang, the objective of several Japanese air raids in the past few days, was evacuated by civilians and the town had become a clearing station for casualties.

The village of Miaochungchen or what was left of it after a week of bombardment, was still in Chinese hands. Although the Japanese have claimed for several days that they controlled this strategic point, their front lines actually were three quarters of a mile to the east.

The brick walls of the buildings were looting, but the garrison of 3,000 Chinese soldiers, encouraged by their success in beating off the furious attack, seemed prepared to hold out indefinitely. The village was a maze of well-built trenches and barbed wire entanglements and the troops were adequately supplied with food and ammunition.

Continued reports of robberies and in many cases the robbers even carrying off the safes from the residences or business establishments entered should add incentive to the movement against hoarding. The person who hoards money is not only hurting every line of industry by keeping the money out of circulation, but is inviting direct financial loss either through fire or theft.

The "Milk For Health" campaign to get under way soon in the schools over the State should not only attract the attention of the school children, but should likewise draw the interest of every parent. A sufficient supply of milk for every person especially the children, is one of the best assurances of a healthy state or community. A concerted movement in our county for a cow on every farm to assure an adequate milk supply for our people certainly would prove well worth while not only from a health standpoint but economically for our farmers as well.

Boy Crazy
 By GRACE PERKINS
 AUTHOR OF "PERSONAL MAID"

SYNOPSIS: "Lend me your husband," Hope Ross begs her best friend, Judy on Judy's wedding trip. Hope has stayed on the boat because Hope's former husband, Dickey Dale, is aboard. Her father wants to see whether Dickey still loves her.

Chapter 30
INTERRUPTED HOPEMOON
 "Oh, how rich!" giggled Judy. "Come on into our place and we'll tell Tom, and have a drink. But listen! One goo-goo eye out of you in Tom's direction and all is over between us."
 "Except in public," coaxed Hope. "I must goo-goo to my husband in public."
 "Yeah? Well, control yourself!" Hope pressed with high concern that night, blessing her wisdom in her hasty packing, cursing the lack of a maid and the small quarters shared with Millie Seabrook.

But when at last she emerged, gowned in pale pink lace assured by the ecstatic Millie that "you all look divine!", she and Tom went arm and arm into the dining-salon, and were seated at the rail table on the balcony of the dining-room. Hardly had she made her effective entrance, and coyly permitted Tom to order her wine and light her cigarette, than Hope realized that Dickey and his father were seated directly opposite her on the other side of the balcony.

Dickey was looking at her. Aghast! His eyes unbelieving—as she gazed steadily straight back at him.
 A voice in her ear startled Tom trying to talk to her. But she could not tear her eyes away. . . . Until she saw Dickey turn to his father and say something. Put down his napkin and push back his chair. A second later Dickey had left the dining-salon!

She turned then, in spite of Hickey's troubled gaze. Turned to Tom, who was irritably pointing out Judy, who, according to their plan, was seated at a single table a few feet away.
 She gave a nit-witted smile to Tom, and nodded stupidly. Heard herself inviting Judy over to join them.
 She picked her way through the meal, conscious of Hickey's eyes fixed on her throughout endless dinner.

"It worked!" she mumbled excitedly to the bride and groom. "It worked. I won't need Tom as my husband much longer. He got up and left the room Judy. Surely that means he's jealous—he cares?"
 "Pipe the way his father is watching you," Judy admonished. "Maybe that doesn't mean anything."
 "Say, couldn't we talk about our romance?" suggested Tom over the soup. "You know—just a few words, here and there?"
 Hope lifted her wine glass. "May I propose a toast?" she said solemnly. "To the dearest kids in the world who let me out in on their honeymoon. And I'd do as much for you two, God forbid!"

Not once again that evening, however, did Hope catch a glimpse of the Dale's. Not at the dance, nor in the bar, nor out on deck, nor in the salons. Discouraged, she relinquished a fatigued Tom to Judy around eleven o'clock and went to her own cabin. Only to receive a radio at midnight that made her bluer than the sea.

But a new difficulty presented itself in the shape of Judy and her fairly ruined honeymoon.
 "Look, Hope," protested Judy close to tears. "I wish you'd quit toting Tom around like you do. After all some people on this ship know us and know you. It looks as if you're cutting me out on my own honeymoon!"
 "But, Judy, you said—"
 "Now, please don't try to get around me. I'm fed up, Hope. And Tom's fed up. He's terribly fed up!"
 "Thanks for the compliment!"
 "Listen, we don't mind being sports and helping you pull a stunt. But it isn't working. Anyone can see that. You're never going to get a rise out of Dickey. You're making a fool out of yourself, and it's high time you stopped. It was a clever idea. Oh, no end. But damned uncomfortable for me, if you don't mind my saying so."
 "I can imagine. I guess I'm no go anyway you look at it."
 "Oh, forget it, Hope! You should have forgotten it years ago. The man is clean gone on that actress!"
 Misty-eyed, Hope turned toward the port-hole of her stateroom, her back to Judy.
 "Listen, Hope darling," Judy's voice softened. "I'll go through with helping you. Honest I will! If you'll only let me have my husband for this one afternoon!"
 Still Hope didn't wince.
 "He's a rotten player," mumbled Hope crossly. "Go ahead! Go to your snappy old husband! I wouldn't!"

Hope only sat against the port hole weeping herself red-eyed, with Sassy pawing her hair as comfort. It was impossible to sleep. Impossible to stay in that stateroom. Out on one of the farthest edges of the uppermost see-sawing deck, Hope wrapped herself in blankets like a cocoon, and let the salt sea spray and the salt tears fight it out between them.

It was nearly three a. m., when at last she sully got to her feet, and headed against the wind to the shelter of her cabin.
 Millie, as might be expected, was awake when she entered.
 "Something too grand for words happened to you tonight," murmured the schoolteacher. "You won the auction!"
 "I did? Honest?"
 "I was just right there, when they called it out. Only it was under the name of Mrs. Thomas Post, and your friend Judy explained that you had asked her to play for you just to turn your luck."
 Hope scowled. So Judy had rebelled and had announced wide-spread that even a bride has her pride, eyes? Well, who could blame her? And who cared?

Debaters To Be Chosen.
 The students who are out for this year's triangular debating team will have their tryouts on Wednesday of next week. The judges for the preliminaries have not yet been chosen but it is positive that several teachers will act as judges.
 The query for debate is "Resolved that the United States should adopt a system of compulsory unemployment insurance." Advisors for the debaters are Miss Clem Bridges and V. M. Mulholland.
 The final debates in the Washington-Kinston-Greenville triangle will be held Friday, April 1.

Take State Examinations.
 The Senior class rooms were in a mood of great excitement Friday morning with the announcement that the State exams were to be taken that morning. There was much sharpening of pencils and refilling of pens, while others went hither and thither to borrow objects of a scrivenerly nature.
 After about an hour and forty-five minutes of distasteful work, announcement was made that each pupil could go where he chose until the third period class. Each one made good use of this time and scattered to his chosen place with the dignity that comes only in seniorhood.
 The graduating class of last year made an exceptionally good record, topping the state average in all subjects math. The class of '32 was determined not to break this record but to make it even higher.

Things We'd Like to Know.
 Why did Charles Shuff write on "merited self-conceit?"
 Why does George hang around school after basketball practice?
 Where did Harold get his supply of "sarcasm?"
 Why does Martha leave home so late in the morning?
 Why don't we elect Miss Bridges as cheer leader?
 Why does Miss Rogers have a temper some days?
 Who plays for all the gas Virginia Pierce uses driving up and down East Fifth street?
 What makes Janice McGowan so indifferent?
 Who will be Maria's next lover?
 Who taught Miss Smith how to chew gum?
 Why is Miss Bridges' back seat loose (speaking of her Chevrolet)?
 Is Louise Currin just a giggler-0?
 Why does Gretchen Willard like "ham?"
 How did was Mattie Moyer when she learned to talk?
 Will Carey Warren be sold at the Greenville auction exchange?
 Does Harold Sugg read the News and Observer daily to find out which girls don't kiss?
 How will Mrs. Pick keep from being put on the spot?
 Why L. C. Powell's sudden fame?
 What brand of cosmetics does Alan Moore use?
 Why don't we have more practice teachers?
 Who got Bancroft told at Davidson?
 Who is Ruth Horne's "fellow of the week" this week?
 How many fell for Margaret Bostic last week?
 Will Tom Wilson be a second Boris Karloff or just another monster?
 Why did Squeezer Hardy take up basketball?
 Why don't the teachers other than

George Arliss in "Man Who Played God"

Warren William who plays with Marian Marsh in "Under Eighteen"

U. D. C. Keeping Dixie Alive. "The old, old trails are widening, And stretching into space; The old tracks to new tracks Are slowly giving place; But yet with times effacement Of old footprints in the sod, The old ideals grow brighter And are marching straight to God."

The meeting Thursday afternoon was held with Mrs. J. N. Gorman on Fourth street. Mrs. J. L. Fleming, the president, presided over a very extended business session. Dues, scholarships, veterans and other obligations dear to the heart of every Southern woman, were considered and provided for.

We always plan a part of the program to honor some distinguished Southerner. This was in charge of Mrs. T. A. Person who chose at this appropriate time "Washington."

As usual, her talk merited praise from each member. She brought to mind the last stanza of the poem by Mabelle Webb, poet laureate of the Confederacy, Mississippi Division:

"On the road that leads to Dixie No pitfalls there are found— Lot's wife might safely cast a glance Back o'er that hallowed ground. Dixie's tunes are thrilling With their charm and melody Orpheus waked no sweeter airs To charm Eurydice. Oh, the trail that leads to Dixie Is the long road and the best— The trail that leads to Dixie Where the South's immortals rest.—Reported.

Farmville Rotary Club

Farmville, Feb. 26.—The Farmville Rotary Club was signally honored with the presence of F. C. Harding of Greenville on Tuesday evening. Mr. Harding addressed the club by asking and answering the question "Who Would Rule Our Country Today if Washington Had Been Made a King Instead of a President?" The answer was Augustin Washington of Missouri, a subject of charity.

The speaker pointed out the manner in which great empires had fallen in the past, having put too much power in the hands of one man, and the great spirit of Washington, the statesman, who demanded a government requiring those in authority to be subject to the people's wishes.

FAVORS EMPLOYMENT RATHER THAN DOLES

Farmville, Feb. 25.—Following the plan originally outlined by its officers, the Farmville Relief Association is requiring those seeking charity to work their way towards relief. W. A. McAdams, one of the city employes, head of the Water and Light Department, has mobilized an army of unemployed, and is having the vacant lots of the town thoroughly cleaned.

Many of the townspeople are using these workers daily about their grounds, paying either the worker or contributing to the coffers of the association.

FORD INTERESTS PLAN TO INVEST BIG SUM THIS YEAR

Parts for the new car production have been pouring into the Ford plants here from various sources.

In addition to $16,500,000 worth of steel made in his own mills, Ford said the company would purchase $47,000,000 worth of steel in the open market and would buy $140,000,000 worth of bodies to supplement the $60,000,000 worth to be made in his own plants.

Ford incidentally spiked the rumor that he was planning a radical change in the sales terms, such as $100 down and 24 months to pay the balance. "There is no truth in these reports," he said. "The best way to buy a automobile is to pay cash. However, some buyers prefer to make installment payments and our standard terms of the past will remain unchanged."

Although admitting the operation of the Ford industries alone cannot end the industrial crisis, he said the depression gradually will disappear.

"We have nothing the public did not give us," he said. "No surplus exists for private benefit; every surplus is provided for future use. The future is here, now, and we are going to do our part to risk everything if necessary to see if we cannot make what the country needs most—work—jobs. We are going to risk everything we've got to create useful work for just as many people as possible."

Initial orders already have gone out, Ford said, for various items, which if the anticipated program is maintained will be as follows for the remainder of the year: Tires $20,000,000; the body trimmings industry, $46,000,000; Glass $16,000,000; new machinery, $6,375,000; paint and lacquer, $4,854,000; Malleable casting, $5,944,000; erude rubber, $4,800,000; gray iron $4,600,000; hard lumber, $4,000,000; copper $3,500,000; and lead $1,390,000.

He estimated the year's operations will use 236,000 inbound and 228,000 outbound freight cars.

ONE BANDIT KILLED AND THREE INJURED IN HOLDUP

The leader ordered the group in the kitchen to march into the dining room of the club, where fashionably dressed members of Miami's winter social set were seated or dancing.

While the leader and two of the band proceeded across the floor with guns held ready, the remaining three lined up the kitchen employes and attempted to shut and bar large double doors between the kitchen and the dining room.

With the attention of their guards momentarily drawn, Oakford and Davis drew their pistols. Oakford emptied his firearm at the leader, apparently hitting the bandit's sawed-off shotgun in such a way as to discharge the maga-

WIVES GUESTS OF PYTHIANS

Washington Program Featured at Banquet Held Here Last Evening

In keeping with the Bicentennial celebration of George Washington, Tar River Lodge No. 93, Knights of Pythias, entertained their wives and other friends at a banquet last evening at the Yum Yum.

Honorable F. C. Harding presided as toastmaster. The address of welcome was made by Dink James. The principal address of the evening was by Judge J. Paul Frizzelle who spoke on the life of Washington.

A most enjoyable feature of the evening was a musical program by Mrs. Dink James and Miss Carolyn Fulllove who were accompanied by Mrs. R. A. Tyson Jr., at the piano. Mrs. James and Miss Fulllove sang a number of songs that were popular in Washington's time.

The leader dropped dead, as his companions preceded him into the gambling casino.

Guests scurried for cover. The bandits in the dining room attempted to shoot Oakford and Davis, who hastily reloaded their weapons, while the bandit pair in the casino opened fire into the dining room.

Apparently deciding to attempt their escape instead of trying to complete the robbery, the two men in the casino tried to make their way out of the dining room.

One of the muzzled Perkins, to use him as a shield while another shot back into the casino, wounding Burns. Perkins was hit by a stray bullet, and both of the bandits dropped critically wounded by fire from the policeman's pistols.

When police examined the body of the dead bandit leader, they found he had a wooden arm. Examination of his clothing revealed no clue as to his identity, except for a tailor's label marked "A. Y. Yarbrough, Chicago" and dated May 18, 1930.

Meyers, one of the wounded robbers, referred to the dead leader as Wingle while he was being treated at the hospital.

Eckman, another of the robbers, said he formerly was employed here and that he joined the group when they accosted him from an automobile shortly before midnight and asked if he wanted to "make some easy money."

He said six men were in the auto mobile when he joined them.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

N. Y. COTTON

New York, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today, unchanged to 4 points higher on some trade buying which was offset by Southern selling and week-end realizing. Trading was quiet with May selling at 7.05.

Liverpool cables made a fairly steady showing but, evidently failed to stimulate much buying and business was quiet with fluctuations correspondingly narrow. May contracts eased off to 7.33 and October to 7.40. Right after the call, making net losses of about 2 to 4 points, but offerings were comparatively light and sufficiently well taken to give the market a steady undertone during the first half hour.

The amount of cotton on shipboard at U. S. ports at the close of the week was estimated at 216,000 bales against 132,000 last year.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Disappointment as to new export business in North American wheat led to late downturns in cereal markets today, about offsetting temporary gains.

A disposition to await March monthly unofficial crop summaries the next week was shown, especially by wheat traders. Comments were pessimistic as to any large reduction of domestic spring wheat acreage this season.

Wheat closed irregular at 1-4 ct. decline to an equal advance compared with yesterday's finish. Corn 1-8 to 5-8 down, oats 1-8 to 3-8 off, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 12 cents.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Feb. 27.—(AP)—The stock market lapsed into apathy in the short session today, and while a little week-end liquidation appeared, the list as a whole was barely changed.

The turnover of some 400,000 shares was the smallest since last August, as several floor traders who have been providing the bulk of the trading recently failed to appear for the Saturday trading. The closing tone was barely steady.

Whether the latest threats of congressional investigation of the bears had anything to do with the slump in trading was a subject of some discussion in brokerage quarters.

A few isolated soft spots cropped out. Auburn Auto had its morning drop which has become almost habitual this week, sinking to a new low for 1932 at 85, off 1-2, then recovering partially. Santa Fe dropped 3 points on its January net operating income report, showing a deficit of $125,901, then recovered a point. Baltimore and Ohio reported a slight gain over January of last year but the stock made no response.

Lambert, directors of which are expected to meet for dividend action March 7, lost 2 points. Western Union was again a soft spot, losing 2 points. Selling of this issue has been attributed to adverse earnings estimates.

There were a few firm spots. American Telephone finished about a point higher, as did Consolidated Gas, Air Reduction and United Fruit. Homestake Mining, which has reflected the increased profits in gold mining from time to time in recent, was again firm, rising 2 points.

The week's slump in copper prices was reflected in heaviness of some of the red metal issues. Utah lost a few points in a thin market. American Smelting 7 per cent preferred dropped 1-2 to a new low. Kennecott, however, was up a fraction.

ROCKY MOUNT CAGERS PLAY HERE TONIGHT

The strong Rocky Mount "Y" basketball team will come to Greenville tonight with the intention of aking the scalp of the East Carolina basketeers for the second time. At the same time the Teachers will be putting forth their best efforts to prevent this happening and they are confident that they will stop the attack of the "Y" basketball team sufficiently enough to win the game.

GIRL TEAMS WIN 2 GAMES FROM KINSTON

The basketball girls of Greenville High school had a great time last night when the local team defeated three teams from Kinston. The first game was between the freshmen team of the two schools and ended in a Greenville victory by the score of 9 to 2. The high scorer for this contest was Marian Wilson.

The next game was between two sophomore teams and this, too, was won by the locals. This game was a thriller throughout and ended in a score of 37 to 35. The lead in this game switched hands many times and the excellent goal shooting of the forwards for both teams was the outstanding feature. Artema Harris was the high scorer for this contest and was ably assisted by Lillian Etheridge and Mary Rachel Teel. Frances Smith started on the defense.

The final game of the evening found the Kinston varsity and the Greenville varsity engaging in the outstanding affair. The varsity girls, not to be outdone by their under-tudies, took the Kinston girls into camp by a 44 to 25 score. From the very beginning of this contest Greenville showed an evident superiority over their opponents. The forwards were having an on night in their shooting and were passing as they were passed before. The Greenville defense held like a stone wall and the locals, once started, were never headed. Ruth Hone and Margaret Bostic seemed able to take the ball from any point on the court and three forwards alone scored enough points to defeat the Kinston team. On the defensive work of Gladys Gaston and Jane Cox was outstanding. The work of the whole team is worthy of high commendation and the teamwork shows a decided improvement over past performances.

as a "nuisance." Regarding the Russian request for information on the new Manchurian state, the spokesman said Ambassador Hirota, "accurately represented Tokyo's position" in replying to M. Karakhan that the latter's inquiries were addressed to the wrong quarter, for the establishment of the new regime in Manchuria was entirely a matter for the people there to advise upon. The Japanese government, he said, "was not concerned with it. 'The Soviet officials,' he said, 'seemed to be asking Japan to explain everything they could to the newspapers.'

Tokyo, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Japan is not likely to court another international crisis with Russia, government spokesmen were quickly to point out today in commenting on the queries of the Russian government regarding Japanese operations in Northern Manchuria. L. M. Karakhan, acting Soviet commissar for foreign affairs, turn of General Jiro Tamon's Northern Manchuria campaign into an international issue and took official Tokyo completely by surprise, in view of the complaisance Moscow heretofore has shown towards Japan's operations in the Harbin district.

Spokesmen for the war and foreign ministries alike asserted today that Russia's "hegemony" over Japan's intentions in North Manchuria were based on distorted interpretations of the situation and magnified a "purely local problem" to unwarranted dimensions. The war office said it lacked any information to support M. Karakhan's statement that General Tamon ordered 17 trains of 50 cars each for an advance on the town of Pochanichayna and there was no intention of an advance to the Russian border.

The mission of General Tamon's intended expedition, the war office said, was merely to disperse 13,000 followers of General Ting Chao who were reported operating in the Imienpo district. General Tamon, it said, was fully empowered to deal with details like train transport "without reporting to Tokyo and hence the war office was ignorant of the exact size of his order."

It was confident, however, the spokesman said, that M. Karakhan's figures were exaggerated because General Tamon intended to use only part of the three brigades now at Harbin in the Imienpo campaign.

A spokesman for the foreign office earlier today indicated that Japan might be preparing to hold Russia responsible for damages suffered by Japanese Nationals in Northern Manchuria unless transportation of troops over the Chinese Eastern Railway was permitted.

TO PLANTERS OF PITT AND ADJOINING COUNTIES

Of all the years recently it appears to us that this is the one to plant cotton in this section. You can make more money raising seven cent cotton than tobacco at the present prices, the cotton crop for the last few years has been cut almost in half in this and adjoining counties for a larger acreage in tobacco, therefore, you can easily double your acreage in cotton this season without increasing your former acreage two years ago. Cotton can be raised much cheaper than tobacco and with less fertilizer.
