Lindbergh To Fight Kidnappers Baby Reported Held Captive In Small N. J. Town

Police Probe Sending Of Mystery Letter By Woman at Boston, Mass.

ATTEMPT TO FIND WRITER

Message Says Lindbergh's Son is Being Held by Two Men and a Woman at Provinceline Not Far from Princeton; "I Don't Want to Say How This Information Came Into My Possession, But Urge You to Act at Once," Message Reads.

Beston, March 3.—(AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's infant son kidnapped Tuesday night from the aviator's home in Hopewell, N. J., was reported, in a letter mailed by a woman in Boston today, to be held captive in a small New Jersey town.

The letter gave the name of the place as "Provincetown, N. J., but police interpreted as referring to Provinceline, not far from Princeton. The police and postal officials said the tip appeared to be the best clue in the case thus far and, basing their judgment on their experience in such matters, said they believed it to be genuine.

After examination of the letter, which had been taken from the mails by authorization of Colonel Lindbergh, the missive was returned to the post office and once more started on its way.

The letter, mailed by an elderly woman of foreign extraction for whom a wide police search was begun, was taken from the mails and opened by authority of Colonel Lindbergh. It read in part as follows:

"Dear Colonel Lindbergh: "I don't want to say how this information came into my possession. I urge you to act on it, though. I know that your son is held by two men and a woman at the house to which the reference of the letter is made."

The letter was mailed shortly after 10 a. m. in postal station A. at Canton and Washington streets, Boston's South end by a woman, described about 60 years old, 5 feet six inches tall, weighing about 140 pounds, dressed in dark clothing and speaking with an accent, probably German.

The woman had brought an air mail stamp, affixed it to the letter, and then departed, apparently in a state of extreme agitation. A postal clerk promptly found the letter which was called sharply to his attention by this typewritten notation on the envelope:

"Please spare no effort to have this message concerning Colonel Lindbergh's son rushed with all speed."

Denies Contact With Abductors

Hopewell, N. J., March 3.—(AP)—Governor A. Harry Moore of New Jersey called on the Lindberghs today and afterward stated positively that no contact with the kidnapers of the Lindbergh baby had been made either by the Lindberghs or the police.

"There is absolutely no basis for the report that the baby's return is expected today," the governor said.

The governor also revealed that no fingerprints had been found on the nursery window through which the kidnapper abducted the baby or anywhere else.

Peace Negotiations Fail At Shanghai

LEAGUE TOLD OF FAILURE

Dr. W. W. Yen, the Chinese Spokesman to League, Declares Efforts to Effect An Armistice Have Failed Completely; Japs Order Troops to Cease Fighting and Withdraw Twelve Miles

Geneva, March 3.—(AP)—Negotiations for an armistice at Shanghai have broken down, Dr. W. W. Yen, the Chinese spokesman, told the League of Nations assembly this afternoon.

Simultaneously Dr. Yen's office presented a report to Secretary General Sir Eric Drummond of the league, asserting that Japanese armistice terms as presented to Vice-Admiral Sir Howard Kelly of the British Asiatic fleet, were "absolutely unacceptable."

The report, in the form of a note signed by Dr. Yen, asserted that the Japanese terms "show a radical departure from an understanding reached aboard the British flagship Kent." The note said the Japanese suggestions were "tantamount to conditions of surrender and were absolutely unacceptable."

The Japanese terms which were denounced by Yen provided that the Chinese withdraw their troops

OHIO YOUTH IS ABDUCTED LIQUOR STILL IS CAPTURED

James Dejute, Son of Wealthy Contractor, Kidnapped by Men in Automobile

Nile, Ohio, March 3.—(AP)—Like Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh two Ohio parents waited in anguish today for the hoped-for safe return of a kidnapped son.

The boy, James Dejute Jr., 11, son of a wealthy Nile contractor, was overpowered and stolen by two men from near his home here yesterday. They fled with him in an automobile.

Although two witnesses of the kidnaping gave police a good description of the abductors and their car, no definite trace of them was found.

Police throughout Ohio, western Pennsylvania and West Virginia were asked to be on the lookout today for the boy and the men. James was described as 41-2 feet

POLICE KEPT ON THE CASE

Over Three Hundred Persons Have Already Been Examined at Sub-Police Station in Lindbergh's Garage; Impossible to Learn if Any Definite Clue Had Been Obtained from Examinations.

Hopewell, N. J., March 3.—(AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh decided today to keep the police on the job and make every effort to run down the kidnapers of his baby son. There was no indication, however, that he had withdrawn his offer to pay ransom for the baby's return.

After Gov. A. Harry Moore visited Col. Lindbergh it was learned that the suggestion had been made that Col. Lindbergh call off the police search and issue an appeal to the kidnapers to return the baby on a no-questions-asked basis. It was not revealed who made this suggestion but it was learned that Col. Lindbergh repudiated it instantly and forcefully and announced that instead of asking withdrawal of the police he would urge them to every possible effort.

In connection with the governor's visit, during which he promised the state's fullest co-operation, it was learned that approximately 300 persons have already been brought in to the sub-police station established in the Lindbergh garage for questioning.

Police cars have been scouring the country and those questioned were from New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and other states. It was impossible to learn whether this wholesale examination had resulted in any valuable clues.

Asbury Park, N. J., March 3.—(AP)—A rum runner's story of passing a 30-foot cruiser on which a man was seen and a baby's cry was heard, sent coast guard craft racing along the Jersey seaboard today in the latest phase of the Lindbergh baby kidnap case.

The cruiser, a dirty white craft, appeared off the rum runner's port bow, and the man on board hailed the liquor runner.

"My compass is broken," he yelled, and waved a $100 bill offered to buy the rum runner's compass.

The rum runner said he refused to sell, but offered to repair the broken compass. He pulled alongside the cruiser and was about to board it when a baby cried below.

The man slammed the hatch and the cruiser glided away without another word being spoken.

Washington, March 3.—(AP)—An unclaimed automobile left Tuesday night at Hyattsville, Md., garage caused a search here today for a man and a woman with a baby, but investigation changed the opinion of police that the car might have been the one used by those who kidnaped the Lindbergh infant.

Lindbergh Seeks Relief From Strain of Waiting

By ROBERT CAVAGNARO (Copyright 1932, by A. P.) Wirtsville, N. J., March 3.—(AP)—Seeking relief from the strain of helplessness waiting for word of his kidnapped baby, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh left his home for a time this morning and plunged aimlessly through the woods.

And at his heels scrambled the little short leaved white dog who sleeps outside the door of the baby's nursery.

Seen plowing through dense undergrowth a mile from the house they were a pair to arouse sympathy in the hardest heart, the man's

Former Residents Search Ruined Homes in War-Ridden Area

By MORRIS J. HARRIS (AP Staff Correspondent)

Shanghai, March 3.—(AP)—Little groups of timorous former residents of ruined Chapei drifted back into the city late today after the fighting was over and probed cautiously into piles of debris that once had been their homes.

Slowly at first, and then more rapidly as they gained confidence that the patrolling Japanese blue-jackets no longer threatened harm to them, the refugees straggled into the city that once was his most populous native quarter of Shanghai.

Many of them could not even find the streets they formerly occupied.

Youth Dies of Wreck Injuries

Lumberton, March 3.—(AP)—Clinton Leggett, 17, died in a hospital here today of injuries received in an automobile wreck near Falkland last night. Three other persons were injured in the crash.

Dulle Hunt, Indian, driver of the machine that crashed with the Leggett car, was held in jail here by Coroner D. W. Biggs, investigated the accident.

Leggett died of internal injuries. In the machine he was driving were Leo Leggett and Prather Pittman, who were bruised and slightly cut.

The machine Hunt was driving was owned by C. A. Floyd, Fairmont business man, who was cut and bruised. Hunt was uninjured.

Police said Leggett drove his car onto the highway from a side road without stopping and that the Floyd machine crashed into it.

Wheat Relief Measure Awaits Senate Action

Washington, March 3.—(AP)—The Senate bill to provide 40,000,000 bushels of farm board wheat for the needy was brought up in the House today with a final vote expected before adjournment.

Meanwhile, Chairman Stone of the Farm Board told newspapermen it was "utterly unfair" to take the wheat from the board without reimbursement.

He contended that $500,000,000 had been given the board to help agriculture and that "it is an extremely bad principle to use it for relief purposes."

Approved by Democratic House leaders, the measure was presented to the House chairman of the rules committee. The wheat would be distributed by the Red Cross.

"Under ordinary conditions I would not support such a measure," Peu said. "But we are confronted by unparalleled conditions throughout the country.

"We have an abundance of food and yet we are hungry. It needs no apology for the government to exert itself to relieve distress like this."

Dr. Sikes Dies At Youngsville

Dr. G. T. Sikes, prominent physician, died at his home in Youngsville yesterday afternoon at three o'clock, according to information received here by relatives. Death resulted from paralysis.

The second alarm sent in about 12 o'clock, was described as false, but nevertheless, it didn't fail to cause the firemen as much trouble as an ordinary blaze, considering the long run and extended search for the fire.

Girl Killed By 'Unloaded' Gun

Raleigh, March 3.—(AP)—Little Pauline Andrews, 7-year-old daughter of Mrs. Lillie A. Andrews, was fatally injured late last night by a bullet from an "unloaded" .22 calibre rifle in the hands of her brother Carrie Andrews, 14.

The lad told officers he was lying on the same bed with his sister and had been pointing the rifle, which he believed was unloaded, at various objects in the room. As he started to put the gun down on the bed between them it was discharged and his sister was shot in the forehead. She died in Rex Hospital a few minutes later.

Coroner L. M. Waring said he was satisfied the shooting was entirely accidental and the boy was not held.

He said he had no statement to make but ventured he was the victim of "misrepresented facts" regarding the campaign. He said he was anxious for his trial to get under way.

FOREST FIRES GAIN GROUND

Hundreds of Acres of Land Laid Waste by Flames in North Carolina

(By Associated Press)
Hundreds of square miles of North Carolina territory was shrouded in smoke today with only a promise of rain on which residents could pin their hopes for relief from forest fires which raged through thousands of acres of valuable timber lands.

From Asheville to the Tennessee line mountain peaks were ranged in flames which steadily ate their way through one of Eastern America's greatest virgin timber expanses, and along the eastern seaboard flames sent smoke and debris blowing into Wilmington, obstructing both vision and breathing.

From Wilmington, near the coast, came word that four negro dwellings and a negro church had been destroyed by an arm of the fire wall which swept along a 15 mile front in Brunswick and Columbus counties.

The largest fire in the mountain region was reported burning for 18 miles between Otter creek in Rutherford county and the Sugar Hill section of McDowell.

Another McDowell fire, in Linville area, was reported under control after having burned over several thousand acres.

Clay, Jackson, Swain, Polk, Madison, Haywood, Cherokee and Franklin counties were the others reported most seriously affected by the 100-mile line of fire between Asheville and the Tennessee line at Murphy.

Flames near Hop Springs, in Madison county, were said to have broken over into government lands in Tennessee, while Murphy reported fires in that area running into Tennessee and Georgia.

Estates of eastern and northern summer residents of Polk county were endangered, and Tryon dispatches said the fires were breaking over into South Carolina.

speed possible. This is no hoax, but it is a vitally important communication.

Hope of finding the woman received a set back when, two hours after the letter had been mailed in a postal station in the south end of Boston, police stopped the car in which bystanders said she had driven away. Its driver, Harry M. Spring, formerly of Milford, N. J., admitted having been in the postal station this morning but said his presence there at about the time the woman mailed the letter must have been a coincidence.

Spring said he had called at the station to obtain mail for a sick friend. Spring's story was substantiated by his father who said his son had worked in Milford, but had come to Boston three weeks ago after being laid off. He said a minister had called today to tell the young man that a friend was sick in the city hospital and that the son had taken his mother and a woman friend down town, enroute to the hospital.

The typed notice on the envelope had Lindbergh's name spelled incorrectly, omitting the final "H".

The Boston police and postal authorities quickly obtained authorization from Col. Lindbergh to open the letter, both by telephone and telegraph in the following message: "This is authority to open the letter addressed to me and now in your possession. Telephone Hopewell 319 as to its contents."

Police reserves had to be sent to the postal station on Washington street, in the south end, after word spread that a letter to Lindbergh had been mailed there, for a large crowd promptly gathered about the office and milled around in the street.

The letter was opened by Superintendent of Police Michael H. Crowley in the presence of postal officials, apparently taking the communication seriously, at once went into a conference behind closed doors.

Plan to Reopen Goldsboro Bank

Goldsboro, March 3.—(AP)—More than 1,000 people gathered in Wayne county court house today and unanimously endorsed a plan to open a new bank here in place of the closed Wayne National Bank.

Plans call for organization of a new bank with a paid in capital of $100,000 and a surplus of $25,000. The new bank would guarantee 60 percent of each account in the closed Wayne National and would take from its assets enough to equal the 60 percent.

The remaining 40 percent of each account would be protected by putting in the hands of trustees all remaining assets of the bank including the bank building and other real estate.

Kitty Frew By Jane Abbott

SYNOPSIS: After a brief and whirlwind courtship, Garfield Frew marries Kitty Brandon, a spirited small town girl, and takes her home to meet his wealthy family. Although Gar has just finished college, and is essentially fond of a good time, Kitty believes he is as serious about the business of being married as she is herself.

Chapter 2 A LONELY HONEYMOON Bridgewater made no distinction of wealth. John Brandon owned and ran the general store which his grandfather had established and which netted him just about enough to support his family in the rambling old house his grandfather had built but he ranked in social prestige with James Corey, Bridgewater's banker and man of affairs.

Kitty Brandon, because she was a Brandon and because she was pretty and blithe, had moved securely in the young life of the community. It never had mattered that she had little money to spend on her clothes. Her friends were the friends of her childhood; closest of these were Sally Withers and Phil Corey.

And then, one June day when Kitty was twenty, Phil Corey had come from college bringing Garfield Frew home with him. Within an hour of his arrival he had taken his guest over to the Brandons. They'd fussed Kitty on the porch picking over cherries for a pie, a big apron tied over her flowered print dress, her slim, bare arms and fingers stained crimson, her hair deeply golden where the sun fell on it, her blue eyes, a little bluer in her genuine delight at seeing Phil.

The next day Gar was yanked on the Brandon porch as if, like Phil, he had lived next door to it all his life. At the end of that week he was telling her that she was the only girl he'd ever been crazy about; she was different, that was it. He was fed up on the prom-trotters. Did Phil stand anywhere with her? Well, then, she was his. During Gar's whirlwind wooing Kitty had not thought of any material advantages she might gain in marrying him. That he was the son of Dalton Frew, of Frew and Winters, grain merchants, meant nothing to her. She had not the vaguest idea just what grain merchants were. But of every detail of Gar's handsome features, his charm of manner, his carefully careless collegiate attire she was always ecstatically aware. He was the darkhaired, dark-eyed lover of her childish dreams.

Japanese intended to cease hostilities was issued by their legation here. Shortly afterwards another statement came from the Japanese flagship Izumo saying Admiral Kichisaburo Nomura, naval commander, had ordered his forces to stop fighting 3:30 p. m. Shortly before 4:00 p. m. another statement was issued, over the names of Admiral Nomura and General Yoshinori Shirakawa, military commander, which said: "Now that the Chinese troops have withdrawn outside the zone the Japanese demanded, we intend to cease hostilities unless the Chinese begin hostile operations."

In view of the evidences that the fighting was continuing, this was interpreted by observers here as distinctly different from the two preceding statements. Dispatches from Nanking which reached here shortly after the first Japanese statement that the hostilities would be ended, said Chinese government leaders there had called for summoning all energies to be "turned toward resisting Japanese aggression."

These Nanking advices said Premier Wang Ching-wei and General Feng Yu-siang urged the government to grant an amnesty to all prisoners so they might be organized for military service or used as laborers. Chinese authorities here were keeping in close touch with the government at Nanking and Lihoo where a strong Chinese detachment was opposing the Japanese.

Japanese military officials said their forces suffered 700 casualties during the last three days of fighting and they estimated 400 Chinese losses at 10,000, saying they found 3,000 Chinese dead on the battlefield between Kiangwan and Tachang.

During the battle at Woosung gun on nine Japanese war vessels in the River Blazed continuously, pouring a steady rain of high explosive shells on the battered forts. At least two 402-a field artillery guns and a 110mm of bombing planes joined their thunderous fire to that of the warships.

And from his prison cell in the county jail, "Scarface Al" Capone, the deposed gang lord, announced he would pay $10,000 for information leading to the safe return of the Lindbergh boy and the arrest and conviction of the kidnapers. "It's the most outrageous thing I have ever heard of," said Capone, who is under an 11-year prison sentence for income tax evasion. "If I were out of jail I could be of some real assistance."

COLLEGE TO CELEBRATE FOUNDERS DAY SATURDAY (Continued from page one) Miss Elizabeth Smith, assistant to the dean at the college; Mrs. Lewis Gaylord (Mattie Moye King); and Mrs. Clifton Edwards (Mary Lee Gallup) are members. Dr. R. J. Slay will serve as chairman and will preside over the meeting. Among the speakers for the occasion will be Dr. Robert H. Wright, president of East Carolina Teachers College; Mr. S. J. Everett, who will make the principal address of the day; Dr. J. Y. Joyner, of Raleigh, for many years a member of the Board of Trustees; and Miss Deanie Boone Haskett, president of the State Alumnae Association. One especially interesting part of the program will be greetings from members of the original faculty; Miss Kate Lewis, Miss Mamie E. Jenkins, Miss Sallie Joyner Davis, Miss Marie Graham, and Dr. Leon R. Meadows.

Notice of the celebration of Founders Day has been sent to the various branches of the Alumnae Association, and it is expected that a large number of former students will be present. Representatives of the first three classes to be graduated from the institution, 1911, 1912, and 1913, will attend and will be introduced to the audience. The Greenville Alumnae Association, of which Miss Dixie Taylor is president, has shown great interest in the plans for Founders Day and will be well represented. In addition a number of former members of the faculty, members of the Board of Trustees, and a large group of special guests will be present.

President Robert H. Wright; Miss Annie Morton, dean of the college; the speakers of the occasion; and the members of the faculty will sit on the stage. Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Spilman and Miss Ola Ross, who have been connected with the school for a number of years will likewise have places on the stage. Miss Ross has been connected with the college since the first summer school, in which she was a student. The following fall she went into the Bureau's Office as assistant to Mr. C. W. Wilson and has held a position of responsibility on the staff ever since. Others on the stage will be Mrs. A. E. Hobson, daughter of Mr. W. H. Ragsdale, co-author with Governor Jarvis of the bill providing for the establishment of a teachers training school, and Mrs. J. L. Fleming, wife of the late Senator Fleming, who introduced the bill in the Legislature. It is regretted that no representative of the family of Governor Jarvis will be present. Mr. A. T. Allen, superintendent of public instruction, and Mr. Roy Flanagan, Mayor of Greenville and a close friend of the founders of the college, will also be present. Special guests for the occasion will occupy reserved seats in the audience. Among these will be Mrs. C. W. Wilson, Mrs. H. E. Austin and Miss Nellie Denny, Mrs. Charles Laughinghouse, Mrs. S. B. Underwood, Miss Margaret Fleming, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Harding, Dr. and Mrs. R. L. Carr, Mrs. John Carrell of Winterville, and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Ragsdale.

A number of former members of the faculty will also be present. Among these will be Mrs. K. B. Pace, Mrs. Ed Bachelor, Miss Ruth Hillhouse, Mrs. William Wooten, Miss Daisy Bailey Waitt of Raleigh and Mrs. Will Hooker, who is one of the original faculty members. Miss Patty Dowell of Wintthrop College, Rock Hill, South Carolina, will attend the Founders Day celebration. Miss Dowell was the first student to register at the East Carolina Teachers Training School and he first to be graduated from the institution. The marshals of the college, of whom Miss Wrae Ward is chief marshal, will act as ushers. At the close of the program at the Campus Building the Alumnae and the guests of the college for Founders Day will be entertained at a luncheon at the Dining Hall.

LINDBERGH SEES RELIEF FROM STRAIN OF WAITING (Continued from page one) One was quite evidently merely seeking relief in action and was apparently scarcely aware of the direction he was traveling. After about an hour he returned to the house, the little dog still following.

The Salvation Army "Bundle Day" drive will be staged Saturday morning at 10 o'clock and workers of the organization have issued an urgent appeal for liberal contributions of clothing. # KENTUCKY ALL SET FOR NEXT CAGE SEASON

Atlanta, March 3.—(AP)—Kentucky, the hard-luck team of the last two Southern Conference basketball tournaments here, will send its veteran club back for another try in 1933.

While most of this season's better teams, including the University of Georgia champions, lose many of their stars and must find replacements, Kentucky already is set for next year's drive.

For two seasons the Kentuckians have come down from the Blue Grass State favored to win the Dixie crown and each time a bare few points have separated them from their hopes of attaining the heights.

Kentucky lost its all-southern forward, Lewis McGinnis; George Yates, the all-southern center; Carey Spicer, another all-southern forward, and Bronston, a second all-southern guard, from the 1931 club but Coach Adolph Rupp constructed another great team that lost but one game during the regular season but met with early failure in the tournament.

For 1933 Coach Rupp will have every member of this season's club back—all well drilled in the Phog Allen Kansas style of play, and in addition, Rupp will have Yates, who was kept from playing his last year this season by an appendicitis operation shortly after the football season.

Georgia will have to rebuild throughout, for Terrell and Moran forwards; Strickland, center; and Smith, guard, will be graduated.

Maryland's team will be wrecked by the loss of Lewis Berger, guard, and Ronkin, forward, together with other lesser lights.

North Carolina will lose Captain Alexander, the all-southern guard; and Edwards, center. Coach Bo Shephard has a good center in Brandt to take Edwards' place.

Virtually all the Auburn team will be lost.

Duke will return most of its regulars—Alpert, center; Jay Thompson, forward; Lewis, forward, and H. Thompson, guard.

The Louisiana state quintet will keep most of its stars. Alabama, Virginia, Florida, Tennessee, and Georgia Tech also lose many regulars and the task of replacing them will be difficult.

Sport Jots

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 3.—(AP)—Manager Bill McKechnie of the Boston Braves, has got them all guessing. He has intimated that he might make Wally Berger a first baseman. "Then again," Bill says, "I might start the season with Art Shires at first."

Savannah, Ga., March 3.—(AP)—Eddie Durham and Wilcy Moore of the Red Sox pitching staff are engaging in debates daily on their hitting proclivities. They're out to out-hit as well as out-pitch each other this season.

Clearwater, Fla., March 3.—(AP)—No matter how many doubts there may be as to how well Hack Wilson will do with the Brooklyn Dodgers this season, there is one who is sure he will make good and that is his six-year-old son, Bobby.

While Hack was discussing whether or not his slugging marks would benefit from the short right field fence at Ebbets Field, Bobby broke in, "Yes, and my pop will hit fifty home runs too. Won't you, Pop?" To which Wilson answered: "Maybe you're right Bobby, maybe you're right."

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 3.—(AP)—Allen (Dusty) Cooke, spare outfielder of the New York Yankees has stamped the "O.K." sign on his injured shoulder which was operated on a few weeks ago.

West Palm Beach, Fla., March 3.—(AP)—Even though the St. Louis Browns have made a slow takeoff on their spring training, Manager Bill Killefer is confident his players will be ready when the long pennant race starts.

Tampa, Fla., March 3.—(AP)—Harry Hellmann has not lost his hitting ability, and so rejoicing rules in the camp of the Cincinnati Reds. In his first workout, he lashed out a dozen drives to the gardens.

Biloxi, Miss., March 3.—(AP)—Joe Kuhel had priority rights on the Washington Senators first base today by virtue of a pronouncement from Manager Walter Johnson that he and not Joe Judge was regarded as the club's regular first sacker.

DIZZY DEAN SETTLES DOWN

Bradenton, Fla., March 3.—(AP)—The "Grapefruit Circuit" this year seems to be full of earnest young athletes in the grip of a reform wave. Jerome H. (Dizzy) Dean is one of the latest to make the turn to the right, clamp the soft pedal on his loud speaking facilities and get down to the serious business of becoming a major league regular.

Dizzy came to the camp of the St. Louis Cardinals a year ago in full blast, ready to knock the boys for a row of palmetto trees. He quickly ran into trouble, had his fustils extracted and received a railroad ticket back to Houston Texas.

"That," softly remarked this 22-year-old boy who may set the National League on fire this year, "taught me the lesson of my young life. I went back to work again. Then I got married now you can tell 'em that Old Man Dean's boy is here to keep his mouth shut most of the time and keep on working."

"I will tell you one big idea I have. I don't think it will be any tougher pitching in this league than it was in Texas. I don't worry about control because I have it. I don't mind admitting I have a high hard one that I can buzz through there. But here's the thing: Up in the big league a pitcher has better support and smarter. The other fellows do their share of the game. I don't figure I will have to bear down most of the time or keep pulling myself out of a hole.

"Of course it doesn't cramp my

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

N. Y. COTTON

N. Y. STOCK LIST

New York, March 3.—(AP)—Cotton opened barely steady today 2 1/2 points up to one point off with buying influenced by firm cables for the early contracts and offset by some southern selling for the later deliveries. Orders were evenly divided.

Houses with foreign trade connections were among the early buyers and the demand increased some after the firm opening of the stock market. The southern selling continued, however, and after selling up to 7.19 for May and 7.55 for October, or 2 to 4 points net higher, the market sagged back to about yesterday's closing quotations.

Private cables attributed the firmness there to general buying and covering promoted by the improved financial situation and said the change inquiry for cotton cloth was maintained.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, March 3.—(AP)—Late reactions more than wiped out price gains in cereal markets today.

Downturns of wheat values in the last part of the day followed declines in New York stocks and in Liverpool wheat. Bear sentiment was emphasized by a forecast that grain or snow would be general over the United States winter wheat belt.

STOCK MARKET

New York, March 3.—(AP)—The upward march in share prices came to a halt today, as the stock market demanded harder fare than the faint indications of business improvement as yet provided.

A further flurry of short covering in the first few minutes started the session off with a bullish flourish, but selling was quickly attracted by the higher levels, and buying dwindled.

American Telephone rose 11-2 points, fell back 21-2, then recovered partially. U. S. Steel rose a point, then slipped back. Peoples Gas was under some pressure, lost 3 points, and Bohn Aluminum fell as much, on the dividend omission. The list showed some signs of stiffening in the early afternoon, but prices generally were close to yesterday's final levels.

Continued strength of the bond market was one of the most encouraging aspects of the day's markets. Dealers said that the reception of the week's news issues was decidedly reassuring.

The money market continued to dictate easing credit over coming months. Time money, while extremely inactive, was quoted at 3 1/4-3 1/2 per cent, off 1/4 of one per cent from yesterday. Call money remained unchanged at 2 1/4 per cent overnight.

BUILDING IN SOUTH CLIMBS

$20,000,000 Increase of Construction Reported by Manufacturers Record

Baltimore, Md., March 3.—(AP)—A $20,000,000 climb in the south's construction activity is reported by the Manufacturers Record for February.

Projects proposed or for which contracts were let during the month just ended, the publication said, totalled more than $77,000,000 as compared with $57,000,000 in January.

The aggregate involved in construction projects for the first two months this year was figured about 55 per cent above that for the corresponding period of the 1921 depression and the February figure in 1932 was 71 per cent greater than that of February in 1921.

The 1932 February total included contract awards involving $17,694,000 and $80,234,000 in proposed construction. The combined value of building and engineering projects for which contracts were let in the south during the first two months this year was reported as $35,000,000 plus not including jobs of less than $10,000 each.

"Last year and for several recent months," the publication said, "construction operations in the south have been holding up proportionately better than similar work in the rest of the country."

Erwin Gives to St. Mary's

Durham, March 3.—(AP)—St. Mary's school, at Raleigh, Episcopal institution, which received $20,000, was the principal beneficiary of immediate bequests contained in the will of W. A. Erwin, textile manufacturer who died here Sunday.

The value of the total estate was reported to exceed $2,000,000. Aside from a few other bequests, the will provides that the remainder of the estate is to be held in trust for a period of 29 years after the death of his grandchildren now living.

Income from the trust is to be distributed quarterly to his daughters, Mrs. Bessie Erwin Jones, of Charlotte, Mrs. Margaret Erwin Gunn, of Washington, and Mrs. Sarah Bleda Bellamy, of Wilmington, and the heirs at law of his late son, W. A. Erwin, Jr.

Eight Persons Are Missing In Two Carolinas

Charlotte, March 3.—(AP)—Inquiry around the interest in the Lindbergh kidnaping case revealed here that eight persons are listed as missing in the Carolinas. Winston-Salem police are searching for Jim Brown, 42 Mount Airy, taxicab driver, and have made two arrests.

J. W. Williams was reported missing from his home here. Rock Hill, S. C., police have requested aid in locating Jack March, John Brown and Harry Brown, all about 14 years old.

Eileen Neal and Lilly Mae Sellers, each 14, were reported missing from their homes in Wansboro, S. C.

Cross Hill, S. C., police have about given up in the search for Miss Mildred Hill, 21. She was believed to have drowned herself in Saluda river but the body was never found.

Winston-Salem, —(AP)—Charles S. Slevens, 53, member of the board of trustees of Salem College, died at his home here. He was formerly a member of the board of the Southern Furniture Manufacture Association.

END ARGUMENT IN LEA CASE

(Continued from page one) ville, Tenn., newspaper publisher, financier and politician; his son, Leas Jr., and Wallace B. Davis, former Asheville banker, from convictions of violating the state banking laws in connection with the closing the Central Bank and Trust Company of Asheville.

The court hands down its opinions on appeals at its own will, sometimes holding cases undecided for several months and then again ruling within a week or two on cases. No indication was given as to when a decision in the Lea case could be expected. Davis has had an appeal before the court three weeks in another bank case.

General Albert T. Cox, of defense counsel, closed the oral argument with a plea that "this whole case be thrown aside and the convictions set aside" as he contended "not a scintilla of evidence to show any wrongdoing on the part of any of these defendants has been shown."

General Cox and A. A. P. Seawell assistant attorney general, completed the arguments. More than five hours was allowed by the court, which usually rigidly enforces a limit of one hour for arguments. R. R. Williams of Asheville, and L. E. Gwinn of Memphis, Tenn., both spoke yesterday for the defense.

Throughout their argument this morning the views of Cox and Seawell continued to conflict widely. Seawell contended that evidence sufficient to carry the different charges to a jury was presented. He also contended that misapplication of funds, one of the counts on which the Leas were convicted, did not necessarily mean that personal gain had to be reaped for a person to be guilty of misapplication. The defense contended repeatedly that the Leas and Davis made no personal gain through alleged transactions involving funds of the bank.

Decision in the case of Mrs. J. W. Anderson, who was awarded judgment for $1,500 against the National Insurance Company for damages by fire to a building in Ayden, was affirmed. The plaintiff received a verdict in civil court here the first of the year.

Other cases from this county were expected to be completed by the court during the week, and attorneys and clients were watching each day's batch of opinions with interest.

FIND BODY OF MISSING MAN

Fully clothed, the body was lying on the bank of a creek. The head was badly battered and Burrus' brains had been knocked out.

Officers believed the taxi driver's assailant used the pistol which was found Saturday morning three miles from where the body was discovered today. The pistol was covered with blood.

Clarke Yorke, 32, said to be a former prisoner at Leavenworth penitentiary, is under arrest here as a suspect in the slaying of Burrus.

The original theory that robbery may have been the motive for the attack was discounted today when officers found $9 in currency in the dead man's pockets.

Police first believed that the attack occurred after Burrus reached Winston-Salem early Saturday morning. Now, however, they are doubtful if he ever reached this city.

Their theory is that soon after the taxi driver left Mount Airy, he was attacked and his body thrown off the road. A few miles down the highway, the assailant is believed to have tossed the pistol away.

Officers say they have information that Yorke engaged Burrus to drive him from Mount Airy to Winston-Salem early Saturday. Later, an automobile identified as belonging to Burrus, was found in this city.

Yorke and his niece, Miss Virginia Holder, 18, of Mount Airy, were arrested Tuesday afternoon. Yorke has steadfastly refused to talk except to say that he and Miss Holder left Burrus at the Winston-Salem bus terminal. He said he had not seen the taxi driver since.

OHIO YOUTH IS ABDUCTED

Mr. and Mrs. DeJute expected to receive today a note demanding a heavy ransom for the boy's return. The contractor said he knew of no enemies, and that without doubt the kidnapers were looking for "easy money." He offered $1,000 reward for their capture and conviction.

PROBE RUINS OF CHAPEL

Cautiously they walked, with gingerly tread, past the bluejacket patrols and seemed much surprised that no shots or challenge greeted them, in striking contrast to the first few days of the Chapel terror, when most of them were driven out.

Here and there a group located a wreckage heap that seemed familiar and permission was asked timidly of the Japanese to explore the rubbish. Most of them received an indifferent grunt for a reply.

A few of the Chinese were sight-seers who stood with gaping mouths at the scene before them. Some children, fascinated by the bluejackets' uniforms, tried to fraternize with them but the guards maintained a strict aloofness, ever vigilant for snijers or other surprises, which they had learned to expect for the past month in Chapel.
