LAST THEORY IN KIDNAPING FALLS APART

Police Acknowledge No Developments in Abduction of Lindbergh Baby

Hopewell, N. J., March 17.—(AP)—The latest theory in the Lindbergh baby kidnaping mystery fell apart today.

For several days police from the Lindbergh home have been investigating the story of Mr. and Mrs. Leandro Lightfoot of Franklin Park, who told of their foreign servants leaving the day after the kidnaping.

Today the Lightfoots found the chisel, and police acknowledged that they were just about back where they started on the night of March 1 when the baby was stolen.

Col. H. Norman Schwartzkopf, superintendent of state police, told of the finding of the chisel in his mid-morning bulletin.

"In the investigation of the story told by Leandro Lightfoot," he said, "would state that Mr. Lightfoot has found the chisel which he claimed to have lost and there is no suggestion placed on Mr. and Mrs. Thornburg (the missing servants) in this particular instance any more. The other parts of the story are being further checked and when the investigation is completed we will be glad to give further facts in the findings."

While Schwartzkopf said investigation of the Lightfoot-Thornburg angle of the case was being continued, investigators working under him let it be known that they believed the whole theory had collapsed with discovery of the chisel.

The wood from which the ladder was made, they pointed out, could have been easily secured from a hundred places in the region and the chisel had really been the only thing connecting the disappearance of the Thornburgs with the kidnaping.

The rest of Schwartzkopf's bulletin dealt with angles of the case already proven to be of no value. He spoke of the child held for a time at Creston, Iowa, and said that a birthmark on that baby's chest had made it possible definitely to determine it was not the Lindbergh baby, which was not so marked.

He mentioned also a report of four men in a blue sedan with New York license plates who were seen getting in a suspicious manner in Danellen, N. J., the day before the kidnaping.

"This has been thoroughly investigated," he said, "and those people have been seen several times in Danellen since. While probably engaged in some suspicious action it is quite evident this carries no importance in this case."

New Ad About Lindbergh Baby

New York, March 17.—(AP)—Another advertisement of the "Jafsic" series which some newspapers have speculated might have some connection with the Lindbergh baby kidnaping and arrangements for the child's return for ransom, appeared in a morning paper today.

"I accept," the advertisement, included in the classification of "Public Notices," read, "Money is ready. You know they won't let me deliver without getting the package. Let's make it some sort of C.O.D. transaction. Come, you know you can trust Jafsic."

POWERS LOSES HIS APPEAL

West Virginia Court Refuses to Intervene in Death Sentence of Slayer

Moundsville, W. Va., March 17.—(AP)—Hope wanting for a stay of his execution, Harry P. Powers, copulent killer of quiet dell, paced his cell in death row today and decried the law which allows capital punishment.

The State Supreme Court at Charleston yesterday refused to intervene in his case. Judge William Baker of the U. S. District Court at Charleston denied a writ of habeas corpus. Two things may interest to stay the hanging set for tomorrow night, the governor may grant a reprieve for a writ of superpetuam or be granted to allow an appeal to the United States Supreme Court.

J. Ed Law, Powers' attorney, contends his client had not had a fair deal, that he could not be given a fair trial in Harrison county where he was tried, that the jury was prejudiced and that holding the trial in an opera house was prejudicial.

Powers was sentenced to death on conviction of killing Mrs. Dorothy Pressler Lemke, of Northboro, Mass. He was also indicted but not tried for slaying Mrs. Asata Buick Eicher and her three children of Park Ridge, Ill. All five bodies were found buried near his quiet dell home.

The "Mail Order Romeo" who conducted a matrimonial agency, claims he is innocent, that two other men killed the women and children and buried the bodies near his home for revenge. The two men he names have not been located.

Dr. W. D. McClure, superintendent of the Huntington state hospital, yesterday reported Powers as "legally sane and amenable to the law." (Continued on page six)

Bank of England Cuts Rate Again

London, March 17.—(AP)—The Bank of England reduced its discount rate today from four to three and one-half per cent.

The decision of the bank authorities surprised the market, which was not prepared for a further reduction after the two recent declines.

The monetary situation has grown so easy, however, and revenue has been coming in so steadily that apparently the bank directors decided to give trade and commerce the benefit of a further half of one per cent reduction.

STATE LOSES APPEAL CASE

Supreme Court Dismisses Appeal Against New Trial for Cox and Whitley.

Efforts of the State to prevent a new trial for Rodman Cox and Elmer Whitley, Pitt county young men sentenced to from 7 to 9 years each in the penitentiary here last year for the alleged highway robbery of Mrs. G. H. Ballard, were frustrated late yesterday afternoon when Supreme court dismissed the appeal asking that the new trial be set aside.

The case, one of the most sensational heard in court here in years, has been constantly before public attention since January of last year, and the final ruling of the high court was awaited with interest by members of the bar as well as hundreds of citizens who have been following developments.

When Cox and Whitley were convicted their attorneys filed notice of appeal to Supreme court. The ruling of the lower court, however, was sustained and it seemed the (Continued on page six)

Germany Takes Steps To Stop Hitler Raid Plans

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER (Associated Press Staff Correspondent)

Berlin, March 17.—(AP)—The Prussian government accepted a challenge of the forces of Adolf Hitler today, ardering raids on National Socialist headquarters over the state after disclosures purporting to reveal plans for a virtual civil war.

Backing up its action, the ministry of interior issued a statement in which it said its investigation revealed the signal for a march upon the big cities in their neighborhoods was to be the flash, "Grandmother dead."

The statement said the Hitlerites were ready for a march on Berlin at the time of the presidential election last Sunday and that all details had been planned, such as arrangements for transportation and provisions.

Prussian officials said they had knowledge of plans, maps and mobilization orders of Hitler's "storm troops" reported to be 500,000 strong, including automobile and motorcycle detachments.

NEW REVOLT IN MANCHURIA

Dictatorial Government Reported Tottering in the Face of Disorders

By GLENN BABB (Associated Press Staff Correspondent)

Tokyo, March 17.—(AP)—The brand new dictatorial government of the dapper young Henry Pu-Yi, heir of the ancient Manchu emperors, was reported tottering in Manchuria by Japanese press dispatches today, over the question of General Ma Chan-Shan, who has been named his war minister.

Revolts which have occurred at Fabelo and Manchili, in General Ma's province of Heilungkiang, have caused the former defender of Tsitsihar to rush home from the new dictatorial court of Chang Chun, reports to the Rengo News Agency said, breaking away in the midst of the triumphant ceremonies surrounding the Pu-Yi inauguration.

Several groups of Chinese troops in Heilungkiang refused to celebrate the establishment of the Pu-Yi government and rose up against General Ma himself, declining to transfer their allegiance.

It also was regarded as noteworthy that the course of the inspection tour of General Shigeru Honjo, Japanese Manchurian commander, included an airplane trip to Tsitsihar yesterday, in company with General Ma.

Only four months ago these two generals were fighting each other on the same spot in the first important battle of the Manchurian campaign.

Another small uprising was reported (Continued on page six)

GOVERNMENT GIVES REPORT

Department of Agriculture Places Greenville Season's Sales as 66,154,756 Pounds and Wilson as 65,937,030; Report Definitely Disparates Uncertainty as to Market Leader

Greenville today held the distinction as the largest bright leaf tobacco market in the world.

This fact was divulged in the monthly report of the Crop Reporting Service of the United States Department of Agriculture received here today, and definitely set aside any uncertainty as to what market sold the most tobacco in this bright leaf belt during the season which closed on February 29.

The government report, which is the official compilation of sales of the various bright leaf markets, placed Greenville sales at 66,154,756 at a general average of $9.40 per hundred pounds.

Wilson, which in past years held the honor of the world's largest market, sold 65,937,030 pounds, or 217,726 pounds less than Greenville. The Wilson average price was $9.00 per hundred pounds.

Considerable interest was centered about the government report throughout the belt in view of the fact that sales between Greenville and Wilson were so close it was impossible to determine the leader until the final government report had been compiled.

The report was hailed with satisfaction by tobaccoists in Greenville, who have had their eyes focused on the honor of becoming the world's largest market for many years. The fact that Greenville is situated in the largest tobacco producing county in the world and draws from a tremendous territory justified belief that the market would eventually emerge as the largest seller of bright tobacco.

The facilities for handling bright leaf here are unsurpassed by none, and with five sales, the market has been able to handle nearly two million pounds of leaf daily. The amount of tobacco offered for sale here the first of the season eclipsed all former records. On one or two occasions there was from two and half million to three million pounds marketed in a single day, and planters from far away counties were represented.

The government report also gave the sales of other markets of the belt, and figures from the ten leading markets follow:

|-------------|------------|--------|
| Greenville  | 66,154,756 | $9.40 |
| Wilson      | 65,937,030 | 9.06   |
| Rocky Mt.   | 43,238,863 | 8.83   |
| Kinston     | 34,908,400 | 8.83   |
| Farmville   | 22,253,758 | 9.57   |
| Goldboro    | 9,828,970  | 7.91   |
| Smithfield  | 7,628,166  | 8.19   |
| Robinsville | 6,386,550  | 8.20   |
| Tarboro     | 6,101,642  | 7.87   |

Ramon de Valera, new president of the Free State, announced last night, on the eve of the St. Patrick's day celebrations, a four-point program for his administration, one point of which was an eventual merger of the Free State and Ulster governments age-old division of Irish affairs.

Other points were abolition of the oath of allegiance to King George and of the more than 100,000 a year in land annuities paid to the British government, as well as suspension of the military courts set up by the Cosgrave regime to try Irishmen for offenses against the government.

The center of the day's ceremonies in honor of St. Patrick today was at Saul, in County Down, where a giant statue of the Saint is to be erected immediately on the mountain of Slieve William, 400 feet above the shore where he landed in 432 A. D. to begin his missionary work.

HIGH STUDENTS GO ON STRIKE

Thomasville Pupils Protest Against Demand for Stringfield Resignation

Thomasville, March 17.—(AP)—Between 35 and 40 students walked out of Thomasville high school today in protest against the school board's request for the resignation of V. Mann Stringfield, teacher and athletic advisor, who was recently arrested on charges of violating prohibition laws.

After the students had been out of classes for some time, they began to ride about the school in automobiles, blowing horns and creating a confusion that tended to disturb those who remained in the building at work.

Police were called to the school grounds to quiet the group which, however, remained away from classes. They said their only reason for the strike was in protest against the action of the board which Tuesday asked for Stringfield's resignation.

Stringfield was arrested recently by High Point officers who said he was "drunk" and that he was transporting whiskey in an automobile in which he and three High Point teachers were returning from a bride party.

The Thomasville teacher said the liquor supply was small and that they had all taken drinks at the party. Poles preferred no charges against the other three.

Last night the Thomasville school board met again but no action was (Continued on page six)

IRISH HONOR ST. PATRICK

New President of Free State Announces New Program on Eve of Celebration

By MICHAEL ROONEY (Associated Press Correspondent)

Dublin, March 17.—(AP)—The wearing of the green had a double significance in Erin today: it was the 1,500th anniversary of St. Patrick's landing and it brought a new plan for union of the north and south of Ireland.

Ramon de Valera, new president of the Free State, announced last night, on the eve of the St. Patrick's day celebrations, a four-point program for his administration, one point of which was an eventual merger of the Free State and Ulster governments age-old division of Irish affairs.

Other points were abolition of the oath of allegiance to King George and of the more than 100,000 a year in land annuities paid to the British government, as well as suspension of the military courts set up by the Cosgrave regime to try Irishmen for offenses against the government.

Doctor Killed By Dynamite

Tryon, N. C., March 17.—(AP)—Dr. E. F. Bell, 55, of Spartanburg, S. C., was killed at his mountain orchard near here when several sticks of dynamite which he was carrying suddenly exploded.

Workmen said Dr. Bell had left them to get the dynamite, which they were using on a road leading to his orchard. They said they heard the blast, and ran around a curve to find a hole in the ground and parts of Dr. Bell's body.

Dr. Bell, a chemist, was a former drug and automobile business proprietor in Spartanburg, but had retired.

He is survived by his widow, a step-daughter, Mrs. Frank Moore of Tryon, and a brother, Fred Bell of Rock Hill, S. C.

Pitt County Mutual Exchange Quite Active

Since the organization and incorporation of the Pitt County Mutual Exchange in November, sales of miscellaneous crops such as farm produce, eggs, poultry and hogs have been conducted through this organization. The response of the farmers to the live-at-home farm program which has been conducted in the county has made it absolutely necessary for them to set up some agency through which to market the surplus of these new crops grown throughout the county. To meet this situation the Board of Agriculture and the Extension Forces set up a marketing organization known as the Pitt County Mutual Exchange with the following board of directors: J. C. Galloway, chairman; J. C. Parker, vice-chairman; and J. B. Tucker, secretary-treasurer. Acting with them are W. M. Taylor and D. N. Nobles.

Sellers on the curb market joined this organization and their activities are now looked after by the Mutual Exchange, which has secured for them a market house in the annex of the old school building on Cotanche street. Since moving into this building they have sold $1,468.48 worth of produce.

Three poultry sales have been held in the county at which 60,074 pounds were sold for $9,704.26. Today two carloads of hogs are being shipped to Richmond. At present, there are 15 additional carloads being fed out in the county to be shipped this spring.

The organization has also been busy endeavoring to market the sweet potatoes for the growers of the county. At the present time there are some 15 carloads of potatoes to be sold.

The farmers in the county are becoming interested in the aims and objects of this organization and it is expected that the services rendered by the organization will attract their active co-operation. It has the possibility of meeting one of the greatest needs of the county at the present time—marketing of surplus farm produce.

ARNOLD'S FELLOW WORKERS

These men rule the destinies of the newly organized Pitt County Farmers Mutual Exchange which has already tackled the marketing problems of the county in an efficient way. Front row, left to right, they are: J. B. Tucker, secretary-treasurer; J. C. Galloway, president, and J. C. Parker, vice-president.

Complete Plans Gypsy Wedding

Preparations were complete today for a royal Gypsy wedding and the attendant four days' jollification.

Pigs roasted on spits at the Gypsy camp while the bridal party gathered at St. Mary's Catholic Church, Suffolk, where Josephine Mitchell, daughter of Chief Tom Mitchell, of Oklahoma, was to become the bride of Stanley Joseph George, son of Gus George, another Gypsy chief.

A dance tent has been prepared for the big dance of the tribes to-night which will be attended by Gypsies from all sections of the country.

The camp was alive with activity. Where there had been a vacant field, a small settlement sprang up overnight. In handsome cars they arrived, men, women and children from North, East, South and West. Immediately the women began the preparation of large quantities of food while the men wielded hammer and saw, preparing their four day home.

Will Stick To His First Wife

Bakesville, N. C., March 17.—(AP)—George Presnell, charged with the 29-year-old murder of Lewis Buchanan near here, will stick by his first wife although he remarried during his years as a fugitive from justice.

Presnell said he would not return to his second wife in Columbia, Mo., where he was recently arrested. "If I get out of this," he said, "I'm going to stay here and make my home with my first wife."

Buchanan died from loss of blood after Presnell slashed him with a knife for "being disrespectful" to Mrs. Presnell.

Believe Income Tax Will Pass Last Year

Raleigh, March 17.—(AP)—Gov. O. Max Gardner, A. J. Maxwell, commissioner of revenue, and Henry Burke, assistant director of the budget, all expressed the opinion today that income tax receipts would equal or pass the revised estimate made last January of $7,280,000.

"I am very gratified at the income tax receipts," Governor Gardner said, "and I anticipate that the total will reach our revised estimate but other sources of revenue in some instances are drying up to disappointing levels."

Two Carloads of Hogs Sold Here

Two carloads of hogs shipped from the stockyard here yesterday brought the growers $1,317.19, it was reported today by E. F. Arnold, director of the Pitt County Farm Department.

The shipment was the first of the year and is to be followed by several more during the next few months.

Mr. Arnold said the next shipment would be made about April 1. There are about fifteen carloads to be shipped during the season and producers were expected to realize a tidy sum.

Representatives of leading slaughter houses were at the stockyards yesterday and farmers received payment for the entire shipment. This plan is considered far ahead of the old method of shipping and receiving checks several days later.

ABOUT TOWN

The city administration is to be congratulated upon slashing government expenses nearly $11,000 during the last eight months. It indicates the boys are sticking strictly to the budget adopted the first of the fiscal year, and mean to have efficient government at reduced price.

The American Legion is going to do everything in its power to aid the campaign against unemployment and provide for men physically unable to work, but it will not waste any sympathy on the fellow who refuses to work although able to do so.

The same method of attack was adopted by the city relief agency during the first of the winter and it has met with pronounced success. Anybody willing to work will be provided for, but those who refuse and are able to do so have been turned down without slightest show of sympathy.

This has had a tendency to do away with human parasites who have attempted to take advantage of the unusual economic condition, and has enabled the city to render greater service to those really deserving of assistance.

The election of Mayor R. C. Flanagan as chairman of the Salvation Army advisory board here will be received with satisfaction by those who know what the Mayor is doing for advancement of all organizations looking to improving local conditions.

Kitty Frew

By Jane Abbott

SYNOPSIS: Kitty Frew leaves her husband, Gar, a few short weeks after their marriage, and says she won't come back until he is willing to support her. He has been content to bring his wife to his parents' home, and live on his mother's money while he rests from the strain of graduation from college. Kitty discovers that Mrs. Frew is trying to make Gar regret his marriage, and will not stay in the house. Mrs. Frew's ambitions for her son have been disappointed by his marriage to an unknown girl from a small town, but she hopes to prove that Kitty does not fit into their environment.

Chapter 14 RUNAWAY "So you've run away, bag and baggage," David said. "I had to, David. How could I stay? Don't you see that I couldn't?" Kitty's face, white and strained, lifted pleadingly to David Frew's.

"Yes, I can see that you thought that. I went, myself — just like that. But I've always been sorry I did, for it gave her an inning. Then suddenly he laughed. "Well, we're sort of in the same boat, aren't we?" Kitty acknowledged that with a wan little smile. But it comforted her in a degree. She relaxed against the shabby cushions of the divan to which David on her coming had led her, drew a long quivering breath.

Though at the time her brain had seemed to work with mechanical precision now she had only a confused recollection of her actual flight in which Pound's face and its deed concern stood out most vividly. Her bag was too heavy for her, Pound had said, but she'd known he had meant more than the bag. There was a sharp wind blowing, and Pound had stood out in it, bareheaded, until the taxi he'd called had come up to the curb. Oh, Pound was kind!

And David had been kind. David had listened to her story without a single interruption. She knew he'd been angry, listening, she'd seen how he dug his hands savagely into his pockets, how, now and then, his lips bit hard over some word he would not speak. He'd paced up and down the floor. But he hadn't interrupted her and she was grateful for that because if he had she could not have gone on with it, perhaps.

"What's your plan, Kitty? Do you want to go home?" "I thought of that at first but I'd rather not. I'd hate to go—like this—to have them know—for Gar's sake, you see—" She faltered, flushing, for she knew David would not see.

He had the grace to turn his scorn from her. "You seem too absurdly like a child to start on your own—" "Oh, but I'm not!" Kitty protested quickly. "Really, now I feel as if I were middle-aged! I can work. I'm not afraid of it. Or of having to live alone until—" She faltered again.

David's anger reached a point beyond his control. "Why in heaven's name did you throw yourself away on Gar before you knew what you were getting?" he demanded with savage roughness. "David, please! I love Gar." "Sorry, Kitty. I'd overlooked that curious fact." He sat down next to her on the divan. He took one of her hands in his. Anyway, we're not fighting him. We're fighting the other one.

balking his most reasonable way out of it. She nodded her head slowly in mute acceptance of his suggestion, averting her eyes as she did so. "That's a good girl!" She might have been, indeed, the child he thought her. "You'll like Dorcas. She lives just two blocks down the street. We'll go there now. Maybe we'll be luck enough to find her without any engagement this evening." Outside David drew Kitty's hand through his arm. In spite of her slow to mute acceptance of his suggestion, averting her eyes as she did so.

CAST OFFS AID DODGERS

By ALAN GOULD (Associated Press Sports Editor) Clearwater, Fla., March 17.—(AP)—Baseball history is crowded with the table-sitting achievements of players who have eaten themselves right out of the big leagues.

Carey credits the so-called Waite diet for his preliminary success in reducing waist lines and avoiding pounds. Discarded by the Athletics and the American League, Hoyt joined Brooklyn with a promise to behave and win 20 ball games.

With the veteran pitcher as an example and preacher of the dietary doctrine, Carey persuaded heavyweights like Hack Wilson, Dazzy Vance and Babe Herman to adopt Hoyt's eating gospel. Like the calisthenics, the diet's popularity has spread throughout the camp.

The only casualty now is Del Bissonette, first sacker, whose left ankle is in a cast as a result of a pulled tendon, but it has upset Carey's infield plans, just when it looked as though the deal with Cincinnati had completed them.

Bissonette probably will not be in shape to start the season though he should be all right within five weeks. Meanwhile Carey may juggle the two hard-hitting players he got from the Reds by assigning Joe Stripp to first base and Tony Cucinello to third, with Glenn Wright at short and Mickey Vernon on second.

With Bissonette out of shape, however, the lineup calls for Cucinello at second, and Stripp on third base. Reis and Slade are in reserve.

Babe Herman is gone but Carey believes this best punch and color will be offset by Hack Wilson. The ex-catcher will work with Lefty O'Doul and Johnny Frederick in the outfield, unless Ike Mon's hitting continues too valuable to be omitted.

Savannah, Ga., March 17.—(AP)—It's beginning to look like the third base position on Shomo Collins' Red Sox nine will be decided with the bat. Pickering, McManus, Miller and the rookie Mudroff all have been showing a fine brand of ball in the hot corner.

St. Petersburg—Bill McKechnie of the Braves at last has something to smile about. Wally Berger has come out of his batting slump and Bill Walters, trying out with the Tribesmen a second time is showing some good stuff at the third sack.

Los Angeles—The New York Giants have been kidding J. Francis Hogan about his excess weight. Ordered to catch a full game yesterday to take off extra pounds, Hogan replied by getting two bases on an infield hit and winning the ball game with it as well.

St. Petersburg—What started out to be an experiment with the New York Yankees, stationing the newcomer Frank Crosetti at shortstop and moving Lyn Lary down to third, now appears to be the permanent arrangement of the Yanks' lineup.

West Palm Beach.—The results of two practice games between the regulars and the Yannisians of the St. Louis Browns indicate that the club will have plenty of pitching ability this season, with prospects considerably less bright for slugging strength.

Tampa—Ernst Lombardi is slated to be the first string catcher of the Cincinnati Reds this season. Returning from Winter Haven, where the Reds took a 10-5 trimming at the hands of the Phillies yesterday, Manager Dan Howley said reliance behind the bat would be placed on the player obtained this week from the Brooklyn Dodgers.

San Antonio—Members of the Chicago White Sox were down today for a baseball game with the University of Texas. The contest was the first outside of intracamp games for the Sox and Manager Lew Fonseca nominated a mixture of recruits and veterans to start.

Lumberton — (AP) — Lamont Smith, editor of the Wilmington Star-News, was recovering today from painful injuries sustained yesterday when his automobile overturned as the steering wheel locked between here and Red Springs. E. T. Brinkley, managing editor, who was driving, was not hurt.

Maxton — (AP) — Funeral services were to be conducted here this afternoon for Leroy S. Townsend, 66, Maxton planter, who died at his home yesterday of pneumonia.

Sport Jots

Savannah, Ga., March 17.—(AP)—It's beginning to look like the third base position on Shomo Collins' Red Sox nine will be decided with the bat. Pickering, McManus, Miller and the rookie Mudroff all have been showing a fine brand of ball in the hot corner.

St. Petersburg—Bill McKechnie of the Braves at last has something to smile about. Wally Berger has come out of his batting slump and Bill Walters, trying out with the Tribesmen a second time is showing some good stuff at the third sack.

Los Angeles—The New York Giants have been kidding J. Francis Hogan about his excess weight. Ordered to catch a full game yesterday to take off extra pounds, Hogan replied by getting two bases on an infield hit and winning the ball game with it as well.

St. Petersburg—What started out to be an experiment with the New York Yankees, stationing the newcomer Frank Crosetti at shortstop and moving Lyn Lary down to third, now appears to be the permanent arrangement of the Yanks' lineup.

West Palm Beach.—The results of two practice games between the regulars and the Yannisians of the St. Louis Browns indicate that the club will have plenty of pitching ability this season, with prospects considerably less bright for slugging strength.

Tampa—Ernst Lombardi is slated to be the first string catcher of the Cincinnati Reds this season. Returning from Winter Haven, where the Reds took a 10-5 trimming at the hands of the Phillies yesterday, Manager Dan Howley said reliance behind the bat would be placed on the player obtained this week from the Brooklyn Dodgers.

San Antonio—Members of the Chicago White Sox were down today for a baseball game with the University of Texas. The contest was the first outside of intracamp games for the Sox and Manager Lew Fonseca nominated a mixture of recruits and veterans to start.

Los Angeles—Having fared second best in an eight game series with the New York Giants, the Chicago Cubs today continued their experimenting against the Portland club of the Pacific Coast League.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

STOCK MARKET

N. Y. STOCK LIST

New York, March 17.—(AP)—Cotton opened firm today at an advance of 1 to 4 points on trade and commission house buying, promoted by steady cables. May sold at 6.92.

Southern selling was little in evidence at the start and while offerings increased slightly after the call, prices held steady with the active months selling about 3 to 5 points net higher at the end of the first half hour. Continent was credited with buying cotton here this morning and the further reduction in the Bank of England rate had a favorable effect on sentiment.

Liverpool cables reported calling and covering in that market influenced by the lower bank rate but said business in Manchester was quieter. The weather map showed warmer and cloudy weather in the south with light rains over the greater part of the eastern and central belts.

N. Y. COTTON

Chicago, March 17.—(AP)—Selling induced largely by unexpected departure of George S. Milnor for Europe gave a downward jolt to grain prices today.

Heaviness of wheat market was in the face of authoritative denials that the Farm Board might be forced to sell wheat. The Farm Board was stated to have its wheat simply margined, and its accounts satisfactory to the banks making loans. The grain stabilization corporation of which Milnor is the head is an auxiliary of the Farm Board.

Wheat closed nervous at the same as yesterday's finish to 1 cent lower, corn 1-4 to 1-2 down, oats unchanged to 1-8 cents off, and provisions unchanged to an advance of 2 cents.
