Bailey, Files Reply To Fraud Charges Made by Republican of Asheville

ASSERTS LAW DENIES PROBE

N. C. Senator States Rules of Senate Also Prevent Further Investigation; To Follow any Other Rule, He Declares, Will Invite Defeated Candidates to Set Up Contests at Will.

Washington, March 28.—(AP)—Senator Josiah W. Bailey, (D. N. C.), today filed with the Senate election committee a brief replying to the contesting brief of George M. Pritchard, of Asheville, in which the Senator contended rules of the Senate and laws prevented further investigation of the contested 1930 North Carolina election.

"To follow any other rule will be to invite defeated candidates to set up contests at will, put the government to endless expense and at all times maintain uncertainty where there ought to be certainty—that is that public officers have title to their offices," Bailey said.

The brief was in reply to a brief submitted last week by Pritchard by Robert H. McNeill, chief of Pritchard had shown sufficient grounds to warrant the elections committee urging full Senatorial investigation.

Bailey cited a number of court cases and Senatorial committee reports and rules on contested elections one of which was that an application for a ballot recount should not be granted unless some specific mistake or fraud be pointed out in a particular box.

Britain Concerned Over Tax Situation In United States

London, March 28.—(AP)—British newspapers showed agitation today over the action of the United States House of Representatives on the tax bill and expressed concern over the possible effect on the Pound on a failure to balance the American budget.

The speculations were mixed with comment on what was termed "collapse of party machinery" in Washington and what the Times called "An irresponsible state of mind" in Congress.

The chief concern, however, was over the possibility that a fall in the Dollar on international exchange might cause the Pound to rise to an unjustifiably high level.

Referring to what it called the "irresponsible state of mind" of the House of Representatives, the Times declared that if a bill providing for payment of the soldiers bonus also were to become a law it is difficult to see how the United States could remain on the gold standard or escape inflation even more disastrous than the present deflation.

The Daily Telegraph speculated editorially upon what it called the "startling lesson conveyed by proof of the world's shaken confidence in the dollar."

The Labor-Socialist Herald looked upon the position of the United States as a warning and said President Hoover and other leaders of the nation were "flinching from the reality of the disease."

"No local remedies can effect anything," the Herald said. "The only hope is a world reorganization of trade, and above all, a world reorganization of currency that will deliver producers everywhere from the scourge of falling prices."

WEATHER HITS EGG ROLLING

Only a Few Hardy Youngsters Take Part in annual White House Event.

Washington, March 28.—(AP)—A chill, mist laden wind, sweeping across the broad White House lawn, today kept all save a few score happy youngsters from their traditional Easter Monday egg-rolling fete there.

The weather caused Mrs. Hoover to curtail the folk dances on the south lawn but she played hostess inside the mansion to about 150 children of officials.

Almost in the manner of formal state receptions and surrounded by Easter baskets, she stood in the green room to hand each child a colored egg as he filed past. Many stopped to chat with her and one brought a gift of home-made fudge.

Tables laden with cakes and other refreshments were set up in the room. (Continued on Page Two)

Drys Will Not Support Any 'Wet' Candidates

Washington, March 28.—(AP)—Democratic and Republican party leaders today received warning that organized dries will "refuse to support" wet candidates or planks, regardless of party affiliations.

A formal statement by Edwin C. Dinwiddie, executive secretary of the National Prohibition Board of Strategy, the council of united dry forces throughout the country, said the board "will fight to a finish the attempt to write wet planks into platforms next June, even when camouflaged under the term 'referendum'."

The announcement continued: "Party leaders are warned that millions of dries over the country who believe in prohibition as the right principle of government and who insist that it be given a fair chance under favorable conditions, will refuse to support their party if it allows itself to be misled by

JAPS HOLD UP FACTS ON WAR

Decline to Furnish the League with her Side of the Controversy with China.

By GLENN RABB
Associated Press Staff

Tokyo, March 28.—(AP)—The Japanese government has decided to refuse to furnish the League of Nations with the statement of her side of the Japanese controversy called for under article 15 of the League covenant, it was learned on good authority today.

The step was forecast nearly two months ago when China invoked Article 15 at Geneva, shortly after the beginning of hostilities at Shanghai.

The article specifies that nations on both sides of a controversy shall submit statements of their cases, upon which the League may make its decision of responsibility.

The prediction also was made at that time that Japan would resist even to the extent of withdrawing from the League, if the application of the article were pressed.

Well-informed quarters here expressed the opinion that the government's decision was the first step in what would be a series of refusals of Japan to participate in the League's action. It was learned on good authority that it was highly unlikely the Japanese delegation at Geneva would attend the next session of the League assembly.

A request for the statement called for under article 15 was recently requested by Sir Eric Drummond, League Secretary-General.

This action appeared to have crystallized sentiment in favor of withdrawal which lately has been gaining rapidly, especially in foreign office circles.

Negotiations for Return of Missing Baby Shifts to Hopewell Today.

By FRANK E. TAYLOR
Associated Press Staff Writer

Norfolk, Va., March 28.—(AP)—John H. Curtis, Norfolk boat manufacturer, today said the Very Rev. H. Dobson-Peacock serving as an intermediary for the return of the kidnaped Lindbergh baby, left Norfolk today for Hopewell, N. J., to hold a personal conference with Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh.

Curtis said he and Rear Admiral John H. Dorr, also serving as an intermediary, had found it necessary to change their plans and remain in Norfolk. He would not say whether Dean Dobson-Peacock left by aeroplane nor the hour of his leaving, although he had previously revealed that the minister went to the Hampton Roads naval air station.

Asked if he believed the trip today would complete the negotiations. (Continued on Page Two)

CONVENTION IN LIMELIGHT

Groups of States To Hold Presidential Preference Primaries This Week.

Washington, March 28.—(AP)—An additional group of states selecting convention delegates and presidential candidates this week shared attention of political observers today with anti-Hoover utterances of two western Republican senators.

Gerald P. Nye, of North Dakota, who is definitely identified with the independent group of the senate, said in an interview that conditions remaining as they are, he was not going to support the Hoover administration in the November elections. Nye himself must seek to be returned at that time.

The recent primaries in his state were conspicuous for the number of Republicans voting on the Democratic lists.

Missouri's Democratic convention today brings formally into the list of presidential candidates former Senator James A. Reed, that state's long-time "favorite son." The delegation of 36 is to be instructed for him.

Main chooses its twelve Democratic delegates tomorrow, with the lineup calling for an unopposed group, though it is counted for Franklin D. Roosevelt.

In Iowa, also tomorrow, a delegation of 26 is to be chosen with the issue whether it shall be unopposed, in which case the Roosevelt forces count on them, Governor Murray of Oklahoma, has had friends seeking that vote, however.

Friday, the Arkansas state committee probably will assign its 18 votes to Senator Joseph T. Robinson, 1928's vice-presidential nominee.

A dozen Republican delegates are to be chosen Thursday in Maine. They will not be instructed, but President Hoover has been assured they will sing out his name in the convention roll call.

Dr. Lingle to Speak
Concord—Dr. Walter L. Lingle, president of Davidson college, will speak at a Presbyterian Young People's leadership conference to be held here next Saturday and Sunday.

EASTER WELL CELEBRATED

Special Services And Three Cantatas Held at Various Churches Yesterday.

Inspirational services marked observance of Easter by the various churches of the city yesterday.

Morning services were largely attended but the crowds were reduced to no little extent last night by unfavorable weather conditions.

Sunrise services were held by some of the denominations and these provided a fitting prelude to other exercises of the day.

Special sermons and musical programs marked both morning and evening services. Cantatas were given by the choirs of Memorial Baptist, Immanuel Baptist and Jarvis Memorial Methodist churches last night, and provided a fitting climax to the city's celebration of the Resurrection.

At Memorial Baptist church the choir rendered a program in three parts under direction of Mrs. J. L. Fleming, organist. Six singers participated in the program, although eight had been originally planned for. Miss Bessie Brown and Mrs. E. S. Hamric were unable to take part because of the illness of the former and the death of relative of the latter.

The first part of the program consisted of the "Prophecy." Baritone solos were sung by W. W. Lee and the entire choir assisted in the chorus.

The second part, "The Dawn and the Resurrection," was composed of one baritone and two tenor solos. These were sung by E. E. Rawl and W. W. Lee. A duet was rendered by S. F. Allen and Mrs. W. Z. Morton.

Democrats Ask Garner To Use Strong Hand In Finishing Revenue Bill

OPPOSITION DRAWS FIRE

Garner Expects House Revolt to Die Down Within Few Days; Senate Expected To Do a Lot of Amending Before Bill Finally Reaches Conference Committee.

Washington, March 28.—(AP)—A House that has repeatedly run rough shod over its leadership probably will receive an appeal tomorrow from Speaker Garner to pass a bill to balance the budget.

He indicated today in a conference with newspapermen that he would take the floor to urge the House to accept taxes that would offset the loss of revenue represented by its action in trimming the sales tax from the pending revenue bill.

"It has come to a point now where the worst kind of taxes are better than no taxes at all," he said.

His statement came about the time there were being distributed to House members copies of a letter from the American farm bureau, advocating selected taxes "in luxuries and certain manufactures" and levies on a rump of imports to make up the amount lost by elimination of the sales tax.

Some of the import taxes proposed were similar to amendments that were pending Saturday when Democratic, Republican and Independent leaders united in appeals to the House not to transform the tax bill into a tariff measure and finally succeeded in turning back the flood of such proposals.

Washington, March 28.—(AP)—Upset by the rebuffs of the strenuously fought membership, Democratic House leaders are calling on Speaker Garner to take a strong hand in putting through the revenue bill in budget-balancing form.

The bitter experience of having their bill taken for a ride, largely through Democratic votes, began almost more than the responsible leaders could bear when Saturday's session nearly saw the tax bill hurled into a tariff bill. This overruled dissatisfaction of several over the manner in which the measure, has been handled.

Representations to the speaker, particularly by Acting Chairman Crisp (D., Ga.), of the Ways and Means committee and Representative Ragou (D., Ark.), head of the sub-committee drafting a substitute for the defeated sales tax plan, have developed that Garner's support for their efforts will be forthcoming but that his greatest show of influence is to be looked for in the final stages of the measure's consideration.

Garner is represented as expecting the House revolt to die down within a few days. It will take several days, running into a lot of amending of its own, and the bill will not take final shape until it gets into the hands of a conference committee. There Garner is expected to show strength.

The measure was laid aside for a while today to permit action on a petition to take up a $100,000,000 measure for relief of irrigated levee and drainage districts, one of the big outlays frowned upon by the administration and the leaders of both parties. However, further amending on the tax bill was in sight later, while the draft of taxes to replace the sales tax will not be ready before Tuesday at the earliest. Ragou's subcommittee worked on it even Easter Sunday, but the work was far from complete.

In the meantime, the leaders have secured a promise from the Democratic heads of the revolt, Representatives Doughton of North Carolina, and Rankin of Mississippi, to go along on a program of excise taxes on industries selected so as not to hit hard the less well-to-do.

A pack house, tobacco barn and a stable were reported destroyed on a farm at La Grange. Telephone poles that blew down onto the Norfolk Southern track near there forced a delay in schedule while trainmen cleared the tracks.

Highways were blocked and communication partially disrupted near Wilson as telegraph and telephone lines and poles fell across the highway before the high wind. Near Washington, poles and wires were down and a barn was unroofed. Charlotte had a 45-mile an hour wind and nearly one and a quarter inches of rain.

IRISH RALLY TO DE VALERA

Demand for Republic Sounded During Orderly Celebration of Easter.

Dublin, Irish Free State, Mar 28.—(AP)—President Eamon De Valera's government found itself fortified today, after one of the most peaceful but demonstrative Easter week-ends in a dozen years, to go ahead with the plan to abolish the oath of allegiance to King George.

In demonstrations yesterday thousands of men and women, members of the Republican army and other technically illegal organizations, sounded a call for an Irish republic. They supported De Valera's plan to abolish the oath and he led anures, and added that this was only part of the way they would go along the road to independence. (Continued on Page Two)

Raleigh in Grip Of Cold Attack

Raleigh, March 28.—(AP)—Raleigh was whipped by a cold northeast wind today which at times reached a velocity of 30 miles an hour. The United States Weather Bureau reported.

The storm forecast another cold night. Lee A. Denson, in charge of the weather bureau said, as he predicted a low temperature here of about 36 degrees and similar readings through most of the state.

No material damage had been reported today from the wind, which blew with considerable intensity through the night. Mr. Denson said the disturbance was accompanying the storm which caused tornadoes in Alabama and Georgia yesterday and which was central on the New Jersey coast today.

High Winds Cause Much Damage Over Carolina

Reports from Triangle said houses and farm buildings were overturned and that a ginney was destroyed. Creeks rose over their banks and flooded lowlands.

ABOUT TOWN

Kitty Frew
By Jane Abbott

SYNOPSIS: "Call it a bad business," David Frew says of the marriage of his half-brother Gar and Kitty, whom he is advising Kitty has run away from Gar because he is too impractical to support her, but she expects him to come and get her. Meanwhile, she is working.

CHAPTER 23
NEWS OF GAR
"You mean—divorce him?" She said it slowly, in a low tone. "Oh, you're young. You'll find a real man some time."

She put out her hands as if to push him out of her sight. The blood rushed to her face in a hot flood. Bright angry tears filled her eyes.
"Don't say that to me, David! Don't! You've spoiled everything. I've thought you were so kind, that you wanted me to be happy. I've felt so grateful. And you can dare stand there and say that! Oh, it's that you don't know what it is to love anyone as I love Gar!" She turned away from him and walked swiftly, a little blindly, toward the door.

He reached it before her. He took her shoulders and gently wheeled her about.
"Forget that I said it, Kitty. I'm a fool! It's that I care a great deal about your being happy. Smile, Kitty," he implored.
She smiled up at him, a constrained, reproving little smile.

"You can be so nice when you want to be, David, and then you can be so perfectly horrid!"
It was as near a truce as she would make; he had to accept it. There was no letter for her on the bottom step of the stairs the next night when she came home. Nor the next. A week passed, days of intolerable waiting, hoping, and then another week when she could not hope.

She avoided Dorcas, the little gathering around Dorcas' fire. She avoided David. David thought her a fool. Well, perhaps she was—
At Stratton's she worked with desperate eagerness, because so working she could crowd her wretchedness out of her mind. Miss Lee had commended her more than once, out of hearing of the others.

It was Miss Lee's policy to give men customers very real attention when they came into the department. One afternoon, an hour before closing time, a man came around the mahogany partition that divided the sportswear department from the coats and dresses. Kitty was putting blouses in their newspaper cases.
"Miss Brandon!" Miss Lee signaled.

And Kitty, lifting her head, looked straight into Tubby Wilkins' amazed face.
"Kit!" He used Gar's name for her.
"Can I help you?" She said it mechanically, without knowing that she said it. Her knees shook, her fingers clutched the satin of the blouse she was holding.

"Tubby was starting, his eyes round. 'Say, you are Kitty, aren't you?' He lowered his voice.
"Yes, I am." And then Kitty laughed. She laughed because it was good to see Tubby's friendly plump face, and because he looked so ridiculously unbelieving.

Tubby turned his head to right and left. Then he leaned across the counter. "What's the big idea, Kitty? Are you here incog? Gar said you were in Bridgewater."
"He did, did he?" Kitty smoothed the blouse she had rumpled. She put it into its paper case. "Well, I'm not. What can I show you, Tubby?"
"For Miss Lee was dangerously near them."
"I'm on," Tubby whispered. "Show me anything, Kit. Lord, I've forgotten what I came for—see, you knocked me flat. Oh, I've got to get a birthday present for my kid sister—a leather coat!"
The leather coats were in a far corner. Kitty led him that way.

"Is—Gar back?" She didn't want to ask Tubby that, to expose her hurt and her heartache, but her lips framed the question instant by instant against her will.
She saw the puzzlement grow in Tubby's face.
"Back? Sure, Gar's back. But, Kitty, what's up? You haven't quit him have you?"
"I'm waiting until Gar can support me." She did not look at Tubby. She was reaching for other coats.
"That's darn funny," Tubby muttered.

day. The American Red Cross and other relief agencies had just established centers for aiding the first storm sufferers and begun to work out a rehabilitation program when the second struck.
Dallas, March 28.—(AP)—One person was killed and more than a score injured by two tornadoes which struck in east Texas yesterday.

Gov. Herd, a negro farmer, lost his life and his wife and baby were seriously injured by a twister that wrecked a dozen farms in Red River county, near Clarksville, in Northeast Texas. Several were injured.
Another tornado demolished the "shack town" of Selman, seven miles west of Henderson, in the East Texas oil field, injuring 20 persons. Six of the injured were given hospital treatment but later were released.

The tornado leveled 27 derricks and for a time, seven oil wells ran wild, spraying oil over the countryside.

GOVERNOR HORTON DECLINES SEE STUDENTS

He had been subjected to, and asked permission to read a statement of protest. The governor asked him to proceed.
Hall declared Sheriff Frank Riley and Deputy Sheriff Robinson, of Claiborne county, had violated their constitutional rights, and that the latter assaulted one of the visitors.

"Is that all you have to say?" inquired the governor when the reading was concluded, and Hall replied that it was. Then the governor began to ask questions. He asked if Tennessee officers had mistreated the students on their way to Kentucky and Hall replied in the negative.
Governor Horton asked the purpose of their trip, Hall said it was to study economic and sociological conditions in the mine area.

"Who invited you?" pursued the executive.
"We were not invited," replied Hall.
"You were uninvited guests then," replied the governor.

Nashville, Tenn., March 28.—(AP)—Governor Henry H. Horton of Tennessee today refused to see a student delegation at his home and the main body of a party that came here to protest treatment the group received from Tennessee officers after an attempt to enter the Kentucky mine area left for Frankfort. They left a delegation here to present their protest to the governor later in the day.

Last night Governor Horton was uninvited by the students who were on their way to see him. He said they were to see him at 7:30 p. m. He explained that the secret trip yesterday was made necessary because of publicity given the negotiations.

"In order to do certain work in carrying out matters started several days ago before the breaking of publicity regarding our trip to Hopewell, it was necessary for me to leave town," he said.
"Time was getting limited, so that is the reason I slipped hurriedly away. Too much publicity has been given to our efforts."
The trip was regarded as the first definite move since the three men visited Colonel Lindbergh at his home Tuesday. Their conversations with him at that time have been carefully guarded. Colonel Lindbergh has said he placed "no specific significance" on the information they gave him, but the significance of the word "specific" has not been explained.

The party had expected to arrive in Nashville soon after midnight, but was delayed by a snowstorm between Knoxville and Sparta. The advance guard arrived at 3 A. M., and the main party, aboard two hours later.

When they left Knoxville by bus last night, the students said they planned to call on Governor Horton to protest against the "cooperation of Tennessee officers with the Kentucky officers" in forcing them to return to Tennessee.
"One bus load of the students, bent on 'sociological research' in the mine fields, was ordered back to Middlesboro, Ky., Friday night. Another bus load tried another route into the coal mine area but also was turned back by officers."

Both groups issued statements charging members of the parties were handled roughly by Kentucky officers, headed by County Attorney W. B. Smith of Bell county. Smith previously had announced no Communists would be allowed to come into the mine area. The students said they came only as students seeking knowledge of conditions.
Robert F. Hall of Mobile, Ala., a student at Columbia, and one of the leaders, said tentative plans of the party call for a stop at Washington where they will seek a congressional investigation of "lynch law" in Bell and Harlan counties in Kentucky.

tions for the child's return, he said:
"I never believe anything until it is completed." He added, however that today's conferences with Colonel Lindbergh would have an important bearing on the plans outlined by the Norfolk citizens.

Norfolk, Va., March 28.—(AP)—Although admitting delay because of unfavorable weather conditions, John Hughes Curtis said he still expected to have a personal conference today with Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh relative to negotiations of Norfolk intermediaries seeking to restore the kidnapped Lindbergh baby to the parents.

Curtis announced last night he would meet with the noted flier today, the announcement coming after a mysterious week-end airplane trip ostensibly for the purpose of meeting go-betweens.
A stiff wind was sweeping the Virginia coast today, Curtis' statements had indicated he might fly to Hopewell, N. J.

Mr. Curtis would not comment further regarding the plans for today, nor add to his previous announcement that negotiations were in the semi-final stage and that the intermediaries would "personally see" Colonel Lindbergh.

Guards were stationed today about the naval air station at Norfolk to keep all civilians except those with passes from entering. The officer of the day said he did not know the reason for the guards, who were placed on duty early this morning.

Norfolk, Va., March 28.—(AP)—Negotiations for the return of the kidnapped Lindbergh baby apparently were to shift to the Hopewell, N. J., neighborhood today.

John Hughes Curtis, one of the Norfolk men seeking to intervene with the kidnapers or their agents, said he and his associates would confer with Colonel Lindbergh today. The Virginian-Pilot quoted him as saying the conference would be at or near Hopewell. Carefully guarding the destination of a mysterious week-end airplane trip made in an attempt to meet the abductors, Curtis upon his return said he believed negotiations had reached a "semi-final" stage. He seemed encouraged but refused to say whether he had made contact with the kidnapers or persons who approached him on March 9 and claimed to represent the criminals.

Dean H. Dobson-Peacock, another of the interveners appeared even more elated and said "We expect sometime this week to have the baby either in our hands or in the hands of Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh."

Admiral Guy H. Burrage, the third Norfolk intervenor, declined to comment.
Although keeping secret the time of the meeting with Colonel Lindbergh, Mr. Curtis said that it would be completed before 7:30 p. m. He explained that the secret trip yesterday was made necessary because of publicity given the negotiations.

"In order to do certain work in carrying out matters started several days ago before the breaking of publicity regarding our trip to Hopewell, it was necessary for me to leave town," he said.
"Time was getting limited, so that is the reason I slipped hurriedly away. Too much publicity has been given to our efforts."

The trip was regarded as the first definite move since the three men visited Colonel Lindbergh at his home Tuesday. Their conversations with him at that time have been carefully guarded. Colonel Lindbergh has said he placed "no specific significance" on the information they gave him, but the significance of the word "specific" has not been explained.

WOMAN FREED IN MURDER

when a jury found Mrs. Pickett not guilty of murder of Elizabeth, who died last September from what a coroner's jury decided was poison.

The 40-year-old defendant, a widow and a grandmother, received the verdict with little show of emotion.
"I knew God was on my side," she said.
The jury was a little more than an hour reaching a decision to free her. It received the cast shortly after 11 p. m. Saturday and a few minutes past midnight brought in its verdict.

Mrs. Pickett went to her daughter's home and spent the remainder of the night, but returned to the jail yesterday morning to gather up personal effects she had there.
She was jailed last November after the charge of murder was brought against her. The trial began last Wednesday.
Elizabeth's death followed by a few months the death of an elder slater, Virginia. After the younger child's death, Virginia's body was exhumed and an examination made. The coroner's jury decided poison also caused her death, but Mrs. Pickett was charged only with murder of the younger child.

The lives of both children were insured.

South Bend, Ind., March 28.—(AP)—Authorities pushing a wide hunt for Basil Banghart, ex-convict and Detroit Purple gang gunman, who shot his way out of the St. Joseph county jail, expressed belief today he had reached his underworld haunts in Detroit or Toledo.

Jailer Stanley Kiosinski permitted Banghart to go to a second floor washroom yesterday and then left to call the jail roll. Banghart sneaked downstairs to the jail office, blinded a trusty who crossed his path with pepper, and took possession of the arsenal.
He wounded Kiosinski with a bullet from a submachine gun as the returning jailer sought to seize him, intimidated other trusties and guards with the gun and gained freedom.

Tracing his movements thereafter, the officials said he dropped the gun near the jail and took a taxi cab to Mishawaka, Ind., four miles distant. He was believed seen in Elkhart, Ind., and the officials theorized he stole a car there and headed for either Detroit or Toledo. Routes from Elkhart lead to both those cities.
Banghart, an associate of Harry Fleischer, who has been sought in the Lindbergh kidnaping, was to be tried tomorrow for two robberies here. It was his third spectacular escape from imprisonment. In 1927 he ran a hail of bullets to escape from the Federal prison at Atlanta and later he made good an escape from a Philadelphia courtroom while he was being tried. Each time he was recaptured.

in a position to handle the entire Pitt county offering at current prices. Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday the exchange will load a car of poultry, paying cash at the door. The usual curb market days will be held at the Exchange Market house on Tuesday and Saturday. This will constitute one of the most intensive marketing programs ever put on at this season of the year by the farmers of Pitt county.

The Farm Department is beginning to see the results from its campaign for a system of farming that would bring in cash to the farm homes at a time when cash was needed for production purposes and thus put the farmer in a position to farm without the use of credit.
The farmers now have through the Pitt County Mutual Exchange an active organization, well financed and managed for selling miscellaneous farm produce. Last week this organization had long distance calls from Norfolk, Richmond and Washington, D. C., seeking trade connections with them. Pitt county's return to prosperity is linked up with a well-balanced farm program. The farmers must have a channel through which to dispose of the surpluses from the additional crop. The Mutual Exchange offers such a channel of trade to farmers of Pitt county.

In England, where the Irish question promised to be taken up in Parliament immediately, reports would be backed by the Independent Labor party. A dispatch from Blackpool, where the party held its annual conference, quoted George Buchanan, Independent Labor member of Parliament, as saying he and his colleague, James Maxton, would support De Valera's plan. Processions in commemoration of the Easter revolt of 1916 were held throughout Ireland yesterday. Those who took part were unarmed, however, and the Free State army was confined to barracks. The men of the "Republican Army" marched silently in Dublin with faces set, but well-behaved.
At the graves of their comrades who fell in the revolt 16 years ago they reiterated their resolve to set up a republic, smash the Anglo-Irish treaty and remove British interests from Ireland.

Believe Escaped Gunman in Haunt

South Bend, Ind., March 28.—(AP)—Authorities pushing a wide hunt for Basil Banghart, ex-convict and Detroit Purple gang gunman, who shot his way out of the St. Joseph county jail, expressed belief today he had reached his underworld haunts in Detroit or Toledo.
Jailer Stanley Kiosinski permitted Banghart to go to a second floor washroom yesterday and then left to call the jail roll. Banghart sneaked downstairs to the jail office, blinded a trusty who crossed his path with pepper, and took possession of the arsenal.
He wounded Kiosinski with a bullet from a submachine gun as the returning jailer sought to seize him, intimidated other trusties and guards with the gun and gained freedom.

Tracing his movements thereafter, the officials said he dropped the gun near the jail and took a taxi cab to Mishawaka, Ind., four miles distant. HOW DO THEY DO IT?

THE DUTY OF VOTERS

The Legislature that will be selected at the primaries to be held this year will be the most important that has convened in North Carolina in a generation. The tax policies of North Carolina will be fixed by that body for weal or woe for years to come.

When this body meets it will face a deficit in the State's revenue variously estimated from $5,000,000 to $10,000,000, a thing unparalleled in the past. This deficit must be met and the State's budget balanced for the next biennium and a repetition of this situation forever made impossible. At the same time the MacLean law must be made an actuality and if humanly possible other taxes on land must be reduced. This will add to the difficulties of the situation.

When the 15 cent tax now levied for school purposes is taken from the land this will necessitate the raising of at least $4,000,000 additional revenue each year.

In short, the situation is as follows: North Carolina is in serious plight. We are running behind at the rate of $3,000,000 to $4,000,000 each year and when the additional $4,000,000 arising through the abolition of the 15 cent school tax is added, we will have, at the very least, $7,000,000 of new money that must be raised if the State is to preserve its credit and continue to function. Unless this money is raised by taxation of some kind it means the loss of the State's credit and the ruin of the school system that we have so laboriously built up for the past 30 years. The labors of Aycock, McIver, Joyner and a hundred others will have been in vain.

Be sure that the men you send to the Legislature are willing to accomplish these things and that you send men who are incorruptible, men who will stand steadfast and men who can stand temptation in all its forms. Every man who is a candidate for the Legislature should be required to declare himself on these matters. If he refuses he is unworthy of your support. No man should be sent because he is a good fellow.

Find out whether he stands for the schools, for a selected commodity tax or for "getting the money where the money is," or both, "other sources." If he does not agree with sound views on these matters send a man or woman who does.—News and Observer.

Eighty-four years old, Shaw succumbed to double pneumonia, developed from a cold he contracted several weeks ago on a business trip to New York. His widow survives him, a daughter, Mrs. John McMullen, and a son, Earl Shaw, now in Minneapolis.

In recent years the former secretary devoted himself to writing on financial topics on which he was quite an authority, and to rather extensive business interests. He had just finished the manuscript of a book on the government payroll.

Court Begins Second Week Sitting Here

The second week session of a two-week term of Pitt county Superior Court, for trial of civil cases, got under way this morning with Judge E. H. Cranmer, of Southport, presiding.

There were over half a hundred cases on the calendar, and it was indicated more progress was expected than was made last week, when only two cases were disposed of.

Last week's session was consumed in the hearing of the case of the State Bank Commission against Judge F. M. Wooten, of this city, vice-president of the Farmers Bank which closed here over two years ago. The Commissioner was seeking to set aside a deed of transfer which prevented the plaintiff from becoming liable for stock which he had in the institution. # Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

N. Y. COTTON

New York, March 28.—(AP)—Cotton opening barely steady to slightly at a decline of 11 to 12 points on a selling, promoted by the unseasonable of stocks and grains over the week-end. May sold at 6.32.

Owing to the continuance of the winter holiday abroad there were cables from Liverpool to influence sentiment here either way but there was considerable liquidation and some southern selling on the decline which extended to 6.31 for May and 6.68 for October contracts about 18 to 19 points net lower and into new low ground for the movement.

Offerings were absorbed by covering and trade buying at the decline, but the market was within a point or two of the lowest at the end of the first half hour.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, March 28.—(AP)—Despite late sinking spells, grain prices averaged higher today owing partly to a decrease of 2,920,000 bushels in the United States wheat visible supply.

Relative weakness of wheat values near the end of the day was ascribed to what was regarded as unfavorable news from Washington including a report President Hoover frowned on any attempt to abolish the Farm Board. Much notice was also taken of word that W. Duval, head of the grain futures administration, had been with the House sub-committee which was seeking means of raising taxes.

STOCK MARKET

New York, March 28.—(AP)—The stock market slid slowly but stubbornly downward today, threatening to reduce the general level of share values to a new low level for the bear cycle.

The most encouraging aspect of the market was the small volume of selling, but buyers were kept on the sidelines by taxation uncertainties, leaving the market with little support. The list steadied somewhat after execution of some substantial selling orders at the opening, but began to slip again toward midday. Early afternoon saw some fresh steadying of the list.

Among issues selling off a point or so to new lows were Southern Pacific, Santa Fe, Great Northern preferred, American Smelting, DuPont, International Harvester, and Hersey Chocolate declined 2 to 4 points to new bottoms. Miscellaneous issues losing a point or so included American Can, American Tobacco "B" Union Carbide, and Allied Chemical. American Telephone and U. S. Steel attracted fair support after sagging about a point, and the New York Tractions comprised an isolated firm group, reflected further agitation for a 7 cent fare.

Wall Street's attention largely converged upon Washington. Heaviness of the American dollar in the foreign exchange market was generally attributed to fears abroad that the federal budget would remain unbalanced, in view of defeat of the general manufacturers' sales tax, and strong pressure from individual groups. The emphatic statement issued by Speaker Garner that the budget must be balanced, however, was regarded as reassuring.

Storm Damage At Lincolnton

Lincolnton, March 28.—(AP)—A heavy windstorm swept over eastern Lincoln county last night, smashing buildings and inflicting damage expected to run to thousands of dollars. No lives were reported lost.

At the home of Graham Morrison, county farm agent, the wind destroyed a new granary, an out-building and swept a negro tenant house from its foundation. A 10-foot path was cut through a brick addition of the Morrison home.

The granary was strewn over a 10-acre field.

Reports from Triangle said houses and other farm buildings were overturned, chimneys blown down and windows smashed. A ginney was destroyed.

Heaviest rains on record here followed in the wake of the storm and streams quickly rose, flooding the lowlands and adding to the destruction.

Three Face Trial In Kidnap Affair

Denver, March 28.—(AP)—Three men were called to trial here today on charges of kidnaping Benjamin P. Bower, bakery company executive whose release was obtained through a hoax after he had been held captive five days last January.

George Reed, Art Taylor and Joe Pennell are the defendants.

Detectives asserted they were members of the gang which was thrown in confusion by republication of an edited version of a note demanding $50,000 ransom from the victim's wife. Bower said no money was paid.

Joseph Clinton Riley, who committed suicide when surrounded by a police squad in a rooming house here later, was named as the leader. He was wanted on a murder charge also.

Probe Plot To Kidnap Bishop

San Francisco, March 28.—(AP)—Archbishop Francisco Orozco, of Mexico, was under guard here today while police investigated an alleged plot to kidnap or assassinate him.

The guard was thrown about a Catholic Dominican Fathers Priory, where Archbishop Orozco is a guest, at the request of Very Rev. Edward J. Whelan, president of

The identity of the Mexican, police announced, was being kept secret for fear the supposed plotters might attempt vengeance.

Dissension In Capone Ranks

Chicago, March 28.—(AP) Reports were current today that all is not well within the ranks of the gang of Al Capone.

They had it that a revolt has been started by some members to prevent Frank Nitti, the reputed "enforcer" of Capone's orders, from taking charge of the syndicate while Capone is locked up as a violator of the income tax law.

Nitti recently returned to Chicago from Leavenworth, Kan., where he served 15 months in the government penitentiary for a tax violation.

The Chicago Herald and Examiner said Murray Humphries had

National Guard Is Called Out in Ala.

Lakeland, March 28.—(AP)—National Guardsmen were called out here last night to prevent disorders after a mob threatened to storm the city jail where four prisoners were held in the slaying of two policemen.

The officers, T. A. Nicholson, 38, and W. T. Barnett, 47, were shot at the home of Sam Acree where they had gone on the complaint of a neighbor that two men were fighting there.

J. E. Johnston, one of the prisoners, told a coroner's jury he shot Nicholson at the Acree home as the officer scuffled with Acree and Acree's mother who was trying to
