MANY NATIONS LABOR OVER TAX PROBLEMS

Principal Powers of the World Attempt to Settle Budgets for Next Year

By LEO J. RYAN
(Associated Press Cable Editor)
New York, March 31.—(AP)—Nations of the world, from one end of it to the other, struggled today with a spring housecleaning of taxes and debts.

While the Congress struggled in Washington, to balance the 1932 budget by enacting a group of new levies, exchequers were scraped and loans launched in a dozen other countries in an effort to put the fiscal year on its feet.

Great Britain put the finishing touches to a new budget that was planned to leave a tidy surplus.

Premier Tardieu of France and Prime Minister MacDonald of Great Britain prepared to meet on Monday to pave the way for a European conference to outline some plan of aiding the distressed nations on the Danube.

The plight of five of these countries, Austria, Hungary, Jugoslavia, Rumania and Czecho-Slovakia will concern the conference chiefly, although the whole range of European problems, including reparations, war debts, disarmament and tariffs, probably will be discussed.

At the other end of the world, the new Manchurian government of Mr. Hen Tsi Yi prepared to take over for its own uses the Chinese maritime customs amounting to about $5,000,000 in Manchuria to secure funds upon which to operate the recently inaugurated federal regime.

The new constitutional government of Argentina, under President Dr. Augustin P. Justo, launched a bill today for a "patriotic loan" of 500,000,000 pesos (about $125,000,000) to pay back salaries and clean up other incidental expenses.

At Canberra, the Australian federal government authorized the payment tomorrow of 200,000 pounds due New York bankers from the state of New South Wales and 900,000 pounds due bankers in London.

The Grecian government at Athens announced it would suspend sinking fund payments on Greece's internal loans for a year and reduce the interest 25 per cent to meet the country's financial difficulties.

At Stockholm officers of the Kreuger and Toll companies looked to the government for an extension until May 1 of the moratorium granted after the Paris suicide of Iva Kreuger, the Swedish match king.

The national assembly approved Spain's new budget at Madrid last night. It carried obligations of 64,782,000 pesetas (about $4,856,000).

Negro on Trial for Assault on White Woman

Sanford, March 31.—(AP)—Trial of Hughie McDonald, young negro charged with criminally assaulting Mrs. D. H. Wilburn, aged woman, was resumed in Superior court here today.

It is McDonald's second trial, the first having ended in mistrial. Mrs. Wilburn yesterday testified the negro as her assailant, and her husband testified he saw McDonald running from the house.

Actor Denies Love Affair

Stories current in magazines recently about Scott and the fiery Lupe, said Scott's father, G. G. Scott, resulted in a letter in which the actor told his mother "not to worry."

PASTOR CONFERS WITH LINDBERGH

FARM PRODUCE SHIPPED HERE ON DRY FORCES

Carload Lots of Sweet Potatoes and Chickens Moved From Pitt This Week

The shipment of Pitt county farm products to northern markets is getting under full swing at the present time and the coming summer will find thousands of dollars of extra revenue in the pockets of the growers.

Two car loads of poultry have already been shipped from the county this week and another was being loaded here today for shipment tomorrow.

The first carload lot of sweet potatoes ever shipped from Greenville was on its way to Washington, D. C., today for consumption of capital city residents. The shipment was made on consignment and is expected to bring the growers 60 or 65 cents a bushel.

Although potatoes have been shipped from Grifton in carload lots in recent years, this was the first time such a large supply was centralized here and surrounding growers exhibited much interest in the undertaking.

All shipments are made through the Pitt County Farm Department working in conjunction with the Mutual Exchange, an organization recently formed to find a greater outlet for products of local growers.

It was estimated the two cars of poultry shipped this week would bring approximately $1,500, and this in addition to revenue from the car being loaded today, will boost the growers' pocketbook to no little extent.

The potatoes shipped from her were of U. S. No. 1 variety and are expected to find a ready market in the nation's capital.

Low prices for money crops caused growers to turn to the production of more food crops last year than ever before, and funds derived from the surplus are expected to play an important part in financing crops during the present year.

Court Sustains City Tax Fight

Raleigh, March 31.—(AP)—Judge W. A. Devin, in Wake Superior court, ruled that Winston-Salem's city government was within its rights in refusing to pay the state tax on gasoline purchased in Norfolk in carload lots.

State Treasurer Stedman had given the city for $700 tax on such a shipment.

In another action, the judge ruled in the Lillington Stone Company, which had entered action against the commissioner of revenue, need not pay the tax on gasoline used in digging gravel.

Both cases were appealed.

Rear Admiral Burtage Refuses to Discuss Plans for Recovery of Lindbergh Baby

Norfolk, Va., March 31.—(AP)—Rear Admiral Guy H. Burtage, spokesman for three negotiators here for the recovery of the Lindbergh baby from kidnapers, said today no new move had been planned by intermediaries.

The announcement, made at a conference with newspapermen, came after Admiral Burtage had conferred today with John Hughes Curtis, Norfolk boat builder, and the Very Rev. Dean H. Dobson-Peacock, his fellow-negotiator. Admiral Burtage would not disclose (Continued on page six)

PRAISE GARNER BUDGET ACTION

Gastonia Business Men Ask Texan to Seek Cut of Government Expenses

Gastonia, March 31.—(AP)—Declaring that uncertainty as to what steps Congress will take on financial matters is handicapping business, a group of civic organizations here sent a joint message to Speaker Garner of the House of Representatives, commending his efforts to balance the budget and urging economy.

The message, of which copies were sent to Congressman Bulwinkle and Senators Morrison and Bailey, was signed by W. H. Wary, president, Gastonia Rotary Club; W. Y. Gardner, president, Kiwanis Club; W. T. Spencer, president, Civitan Club; Ben Bradshaw, president of Lions Club; F. L. Smyre, president, Gastonia County Textile Association; A. C. Jones, president, Chamber of Commerce; and Ben Bradshaw, president of the Gaston County Merchants Association.

The statement explaining the movement and the message followed: "The uncertainty with respect to national legislation as it may affect the balancing of the budget, taxes, the cost of government and matters of a kindred nature is serving to rob business of the elements of confidence absolutely necessary to a return to better conditions."

"We, therefore, as representatives of the civic clubs, merchants and industries of Gastonia and Gaston county, the combed yarn manufacturing center of America, and with the full authorization of the directors of these organizations, have sent the following telegram to Speaker of the House of Representatives John N. Garner, with copies to Congressman Bulwinkle and Senators Morrison and Bailey:

"We desire to particularly commend your efforts to balance the national budget. The uncertainty of the situation with respect to this budget, national taxes, governmental expenditures and particularly proposed appropriations, coupled with the desire on our part that all the Congress fully appreciate the absolute need of strict economy in government prompts the sending of this message.

"Business has had to retrench and salaries, wages and incomes have been drastically reduced in order that we may be in position to meet conditions existing today. We urge (Continued on page six)

REBEL TROOPS TAKE NANGUN

Chinese Bandits Reported Pressing Toward New Manchurian Capital

Changchun, Manchuria, March 31.—(AP)—The rebel Chinese forces under General Li Hai-Tsing which have been threatening this new Manchurian capital for several days apparently had taken Nangun, 35 miles from here, today and were pressing on a few miles to the south of here.

Large rebel forces were seen in a village four kilometers south of Nangun and sharp fighting was going on. The Kwantung troops which have been defending the town against the besiegers were believed to have retreated.

As a result of the increasing danger, several Japanese tanks left here to join the Japanese forces which are approaching the battle zone on foot. Lieutenant General Ren Mori, commander of the permanent Japanese guard on the South Manchurian Railway, established his headquarters here and began to direct and co-ordinate the resistance of the Japanese, and the provincial troops of Chang Hai-Peng, General Mah Chan-Shan and Governor Hsi Hsia of Kirin.

The rebel forces were reported to number 7,000.

Bank Officials Cleared of Malfesance Charge

Raleigh, March 31.—(AP)—Setting a precedent for criminal actions against state officials, the State Supreme Court ruled that a Buncombe county grand jury had not jurisdiction over members of the State Corporation Commission, and cleared them of an indictment charging malfesance in office.

The commissioners and John Mitchell, former chief state bank examiner, were indicted for allowing the Central Bank and Trust Company, of Asheville, to remain open after they are alleged to have known it was insolvent.

Mr. Mitchell was the chief examiner working under the corporation commission, then the supervisory agency of the banks at the time of the bank failures in Buncombe. It was alleged that the commission had the special duty of prohibiting banks from keeping open when they were unsafe and unsound. It was fully and fraudulently permitted and allowed the Central Bank and

COOLIDGE CASE IS DISMISSED

Suit of Insurance Company Voided by Payment of $2,500 by Former President

St. Louis, March 31.—(AP)—Enjoining a check for $2,500 in a letter explaining he meant "no offense" when in a radio speech last October he cautioned against insurance agents who "offered to save money for you by replacing your policy in another company," former President Calvin Coolidge has voided a summons issued by Lewis B. Tebbetts, St. Louis insurance man.

The summons Mr. Tebbetts said today will be dismissed April 7. At the same time a damage suit against the New York Life Insurance Company, of which the former president is a director, will be prosecuted, Mr. Tebbetts said.

Mr. Tebbetts said his reputation as the "leading advocate in the United States of the so-called term life insurance policies," was injured by Coolidge's address in which he said the following language was used: "Beware of the so-called 'twister and abstractor' or any agent who offers to save money for you by replacing your policy in another company."

The former president was served with a summons last month at the instance of Tebbetts, who also instituted similar action against the New York Life Insurance Company of which Coolidge was a director.

In his letters the former president said he was informed Tebbetts felt that the radio address "might be construed by your friends and acquaintances as reflecting upon you and the plan of insurance you are advocating."

"I had no knowledge of the controversy relating to the plan of insurance you are advocating, and therefore my statements could not have had that comprehension or intent, and any such construction would be entirely incorrect. I assure you that no personal offense was intended."

Bank Officials Cleared of Malfesance Charge

Raleigh, March 31.—(AP)—Setting a precedent for criminal actions against state officials, the State Supreme Court ruled that a Buncombe county grand jury had not jurisdiction over members of the State Corporation Commission, and cleared them of an indictment charging malfesance in office.

The commissioners and John Mitchell, former chief state bank examiner, were indicted for allowing the Central Bank and Trust Company, of Asheville, to remain open after they are alleged to have known it was insolvent.

Mr. Mitchell was the chief examiner working under the corporation commission, then the supervisory agency of the banks at the time of the bank failures in Buncombe. It was alleged that the commission had the special duty of prohibiting banks from keeping open when they were unsafe and unsound. It was fully and fraudulently permitted and allowed the Central Bank and Trust Company to remain open, also the Biltmore-Ocean bank.

The defendants filed a plea in abatement, each averring for himself that he ought not to be compelled to answer said indictment because he says Buncombe county is not the proper venue for the prosecution and trial of the offense of offenses charged in the bill of indictment, because if the offense of offenses were committed, the same were committed in the county of Wake, in that the said bill of indictment charges the said defendants with neglect of official duties, and with negligence, malfesance and non-feasance in the performance of official duties.

The defendants offered a plea in abatement and Judge Cameron MacRae removed the case from Buncombe to Wake. In this county Judge J. C. Bieggs and J. M. Broughton, appearing for the defendants, contended before Judge Small that (Continued on page six)

PEACE PARLEY GAINS GROUND

Definite Progress Reported in Deliberations in the Shanghai Area

By MORRIS J. HARRIS
Shanghai, March 31.—(AP)—Definite progress toward a settlement of the major issue of withdrawal of Japanese troops from the Shanghai area was made today at the re-opening of the Sino-Japanese peace parleys.

A spokesman for the conference said both sides were gradually approaching an understanding on the question of time limit for the troop withdrawals, and substantial concessions were being made.

The conference adjourned again to meet Saturday.

The military sub-committee which is meeting at the same time as the main conference also made important advances, it was stated.

Although previously the Chinese had insisted on complete withdrawal by the Japanese forces into the international settlement they agreed this morning tentatively to extend these limits to include a strip along the Wangpoo river north of the settlement and a larger area in the Chapel district than they were willing to concede heretofore.

Many questions still remain to be decided, however, before a complete harmony between the negotiators can be reached.

WILL TRY TO SPREAD STRIKE

Mine Workers Plan to Push Ohio Coal Strike to All Parts of State

Columbus, O., March 31.—(AP)—An attempt to spread the Ohio coal strike to every mine in the state and the West Virginia panhandle will be made by the United Mine Workers of America.

The first step in this move was taken last night when international and district officers of the union called for a strike of all miners in district 6, comprising the panhandle and Ohio, effective tomorrow.

Lee Hall, president of the district estimated the call would affect 25,000 miners including 12,000 already idle because of a wage dispute. An additional 10,000 miners in the district have drifted from the union fold since the breakdown of the Jacksonville agreement in 1927, Hall said.

The present strike had its inception in the Hocking Valley where some 7,000 coal diggers walked out February 1 when the operators announced a wage scale reduced to $2 a day for laborers and 38 cents a ton for loaders. Strikers in other parts of the state followed.

Representative Clancy Serves Notice He Will Demand Separate Vote on Three Percent Tax on Automobiles; Secretary Mills Confers With President Hoover on General Tax Situation

Washington, March 31.—(AP)—The biggest block of votes in the Democratic national convention, New York state's 94, is not going to be tied up to any candidate until the very last moment before the party assembly opens in Chicago.

This is the news thrown into the conglomeration of political facts and guesses by John P. Curry, boss of Tammany Hall, who spoke yesterday with the assurance given by expected control of the delegation and the manner of the assurance given by expected control of the delegation and the manner of instruction.

Until then, he made it plain, the 94 cannot be added to Franklin D. Roosevelt's 123, nor to the Alfred E. Smith zero score which may soon boast a solid figure, nor to the votes allocated to any other candidate. To the prediction Curry added the cryptic statement:

"New York had the Democratic convention in 1924. It had a candidate in 1928. New York doesn't want to hog everything."

The newspapermen invited yesterday to Curry's unusual press conference bubbled with questions. Did this mean New York would vote for another than Roosevelt or Smith? No, said Mr. Curry, it did not.

Roosevelt's score yesterday took a modest step upward, and an unexpected one. Despite predictions (Continued on page six)

VETERANS BILL SURE TO PASS

Members of Congress Think Two Billion Dollar Measure Will Pass Both Houses

Washington, March 31.—(AP)—Representative Fish (R., N. Y.), on leaving the White House today, said he had informed President Hoover he believed the possibilities of the adoption of new bonus legislation by the House had been shunted aside by the Chief Executive's recent statement opposing such legislation.

He characterized proposals by Representatives Patman (D., Tex.) and Rankin (D., Miss.) that new currency be issued to make new bonus payments as "too absurd to discuss."

"I understand the secretary of the treasury has suggested that if such notes are issued they ease the picture of Representative Patman on one side," Fish said. "My amendment would be that they be placed Rankin's picture on the other side."

Washington, March 31.—(AP)—The bill calling for two billion dollars in full payment of the soldier bonus has given Congress, already occupied with the effort to balance the federal budget, another problem to solve.

Party leaders say the bill is likely to pass the House, and possibly the Senate.

President Hoover has indicated he will veto the bill, should it reach him. This would throw the measure back to Congress where a two thirds vote of each branch would be necessary to override the veto.

Proponents of the bonus bill said today they have more than the necessary 145 members to sign a petition to compel a vote in the House, should the ways and means committee fail to report it.

Opponents of the measure argue that the problem of balancing the budget has been such that a two billion dollar additional expenditure would prove a serious governmental burden.

Miss Whitehurst Entertains. Miss Pattie Whitehurst delightfully entertained a number of friends Monday evening at her home on East Ninth street.

A most happy surprise was presented to the club when Mrs. Forbes announced that she had asked Mr. Hillman to furnish her program and instead of dealing with the year's subject, "George Washington," Mrs. Hillman, feeling that the time of the year called for sunshine, chose as her topic, "Southern Italy," and gave the members a veritable glimpse of the beauties and picturesque of that exquisitely interesting country.

After the business, the president, Mrs. Judson Blount, turned the meeting over to Mrs. Fred Forbes, who had charge of the program.

A most happy surprise was presented to the club when Mrs. Forbes announced that she had asked Mr. Hillman to furnish her program and instead of dealing with the year's subject, "George Washington," Mrs. Hillman, feeling that the time of the year called for sunshine, chose as her topic, "Southern Italy," and gave the members a veritable glimpse of the beauties and picturesque of that exquisitely interesting country.

Arriving at Brendisi in "the heel of the boot," she started up to Naples, experiencing a wonderful storm in the Mediterranean and seeing a benzine ship afire.

Then through the Apennine mountains covered with tropical plants and blossoms, winding in and out through tunnels—above the mountains, and viewing below, the sea, with Mount Vesuvius in sight for miles afire and with white smoke against the blue sky, and on to her hotel, which was reached by an elevator going up through a tunnel for 500 feet.

Mrs. Hillman declared there could be no more picturesque sight in the world than that from the balcony of her room—looking out over roofs of houses down to the city of a million lights and over the Bay of Naples with always the sound of sweet music and happy voices coming through the air.

She gave a vivid description of "The Promenade," rising 250 feet above the street—costing two hundred fifty million dollars, bright at night with flowers and lights.

The National Museum where all the treasures are housed—the "Amafi Drive," the most beautiful in the world, from which one never loses sight of the Bay of Naples.

The ascent in cog trains to within 200 yards of the top of Vesuvius and assured her listeners that hearing this "huge kettle boiling" was a most terrifying experience.

Then to Pompei, "the city of the dead," which attracts most people. She gave a realistic glimpse of the old city in its state of preservation, even to the carbonized loaves of bread on the oven the night the city was destroyed.

This city had everything that would appeal to pleasure loving Romans.

She told of the Old Sea Gate that still stands and then on to the Island of Capri, the most beautiful spot in the world, where Tiberius built his twelve castles and under this island with the "Blue Grotto," with its velvety blue—to the palest sapphire—turning everything to blue with its glistening rays that enters. She assured no artist had ever been able to capture the tints of exquisite blue within that Grotto.

In visiting the slums she found them to be the most miserable in the world—a striking contrast to the vast wealth of beauty which tourists visit only as a rule in Italy.

Mrs. Hillman passed around most beautiful photographs, cutwork and linen from Jerusalem and Naples, lava from Vesuvius, cameos from Italy, and a portrait of "Sopoleo," which was an exact copy of the colors of the Muralburg in Pompei.

Her awe inspiring talk was closed with the lines of Robert Browning: "Italy, my Italy, Open my heart and you will see Groven inside of it—Italy."

After current events by Mrs. Blount, Mrs. Wooten served a delicious frozen salad course with hot coffee and wafers. She was assisted in serving by Mrs. John Glenn and Miss Betsy Greene.

Guests of the club were Mrs. Hillman, Mrs. Baines, Mrs. John Glenn, Miss Pearsall and Miss Betsy Greene. —Reported.

She assured no artist had ever been able to capture the tints of exquisite blue within that Grotto.

In visiting the slums she found them to be the most miserable in the world—a striking contrast to the vast wealth of beauty which tourists visit only as a rule in Italy.

Mrs. Hillman passed around most beautiful photographs, cutwork and linen from Jerusalem and Naples, lava from Vesuvius, cameos from Italy, and a portrait of "Sopoleo," which was an exact copy of the colors of the Muralburg in Pompei.

Her awe inspiring talk was closed with the lines of Robert Browning: "Italy, my Italy, Open my heart and you will see Groven inside of it—Italy."

After current events by Mrs. Blount, Mrs. Wooten served a delicious frozen salad course with hot coffee and wafers. She was assisted in serving by Mrs. John Glenn and Miss Betsy Greene.

Guests of the club were Mrs. Hillman, Mrs. Baines, Mrs. John Glenn, Miss Pearsall and Miss Betsy Greene. —Reported.

Youth Injured Playing Baseball

Charles, son of Dr. and Mrs. C. O. H. Horne, will have to remain in bed the next two weeks because a ball fractured a bone under one of his eyes during a baseball game at the Third Street School yesterday.

The youngster was playing first base when the accident occurred. A sizzling grounder came his way, made a bad hop and landed squarely in the eye.

It was first thought the injury was bleeding internally, but this opinion was abandoned following more complete examination by the attending physician.

Charles, the doctor said, will be all right in two weeks, but he will be forced to lie in bed on his back during that time to give the broken bone a chance to knit back together.

Bell Arthur News

The Easter program presented by the Christian Church on Sunday morning was a very impressive service. The program was led by Rev. Taylor who gave a short talk on "The Significance of Easter." The pageant, "Crown with Victory" was used with other appropriate music and readings. A crowded church listened well to this program and much credit is due those who made it possible.

Complimentary to her daughter, Miss Emma, who is at home from E. C. T. C., for spring holidays, Mrs. William McArthur entertained at her home near Arthur Monday evening. A number of Miss McArthur's friends were present, and spent a very enjoyable evening.

Hot chocolate and wafers were served by Mrs. McArthur, assisted by Mrs. Mae G. Smith.

The same draws near Arthur is becoming more enthusiastic over the late Triangular Debating contest. Friday night at 8:00 the negative team from the P. D. High School at Pink Hill meets our affirmative here, while our negative team goes to Maury. Come—enjoy the evening and help your team to win. Arthur's debaters are: Affirmative, Mildred Taylor and Major Flanagan; Negative, Doris Nichols and Elbert Tyson.

Mr. Robert McArthur has returned from a trip to Memphis, Tenn., and other points.

Miss Earline Smith and Mr. Carlton Jackson attended the play in Maury Friday night.

Rev. and Mrs. Taylor, Miss Olive

Clarke and Mr. H. B. Mayo were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Mack J. Smith Sunday.

Sketches From School News. The officers of the 4-H clubs in the county met in Greenville Wednesday, March 23. Doris Nichols, the newly elected president, presided. Other members from Arthur present were Virginia Hughes, Blots Crawford, Lillian Jackson, Nancy Flanagan and Verna Joyner, who sang their club song composed by Brownie Tyson, a club member.

The basketball season has closed and even though we did not win in the tournament, Arthur has a right to be proud of her team of 1931-32. The second team has proven themselves to be good athletes, too, and we are expecting a good team again next year. Total scores for the season's games by players are: Elbert Tyson 129; Turnley Rawls 49; Lindsey McArthur 36; Walter Erwin 86; Joe Henderson 9; total 306.

The regular meeting of the P. T. A. will be held Tuesday night, April 5. Special features are being planned for the program and the P. T. A. prize winners will be announced.

ABOUT TOWN

The coming of balmy weather of spring will bring about a revival of golf here and every afternoon now on the links of the Greenville country club.

The course has been greatly improved the past year and is considered one of the best in this part of the country.

The three men at Norfolk who are sure of recovering the Lindbergh baby don't seem to be able to make as much progress as they first expected.

The House Appropriations committee is determined to reduce the operating expenses of the government during the next year and a program is in the making providing for a quarter of a billion dollar slash.

The revenue bill has been the fiercest of a bitter fight from all parts of the country, and it will undoubtedly draw many more attacks before being adopted.

Persons contemplating construction program in the near future would begin during the spring months before them in which to complete the job.

This is one of the most favorable years of the year for this kind of work, and considering labor conditions and decreased prices of building materials, the time was never more auspicious than this.

Members of the Board of Aldermen are to be congratulated upon their action in roping off a certain section of city streets each week to permit children to skate.

Kitty Frew

By Jane Abbott

SYNOPSIS: Committee meetings prove weapons for Marge Crosby in her attempt to estrange Garfield Frew from his wife, Kitty. Kitty has succeeded in getting Gar to work instead of idle, and is proud of the theatricals that he and Marge are planning. She tries to reconcile Gar to his half-brother, David.

Chapter 26 COMMITTEE OF TWO When Kitty told Gar she'd like to invite David and Dorcas Taber to their apartment for supper, he opposed it flatly.

"Nothing doing, Kit, with any of them. I don't want that sort in my house. Why, what if any of our crowd dropped in and found them here? I suppose the next thing you'll want to do is to entertain some of the show girls from Stratton's."

"I would like you to know Josie, Gar," Kitty's eyes danced as she pictured such a meeting. Josie's appreciation of Gar's good looks and his charm.

"Oh, I guess I could meet her any time I wanted to, just by waiting outside the door at Stratton's."

"But to please me, Gar—David was very kind to me. If I ask just him won't you be nice about it?"

Gar was putting on his coat to start for his office. He slipped out of it, threw it aside and, going to Kitty, gave her a little playful shake of the shoulders.

"I've told you how I feel, Kit. And that's that. Now don't get me mad about it. Forget David—he's nothing to us. We've got enough friends to keep us busy. Here, put your arms around my neck and kiss me good-by. That's the sweet girl."

She followed him to the outer door where they kissed again.

"I'll be a little late tonight, Kit; I have to stop around at Marge's—she's called a committee meeting. Will you have my dress things out? And if those new shirts of mine don't come this morning will you give Bond a ring? He promised to send them last week. By-by, darling. Take care of your precious self."

They hadn't quarreled! Four months ago they would have parted in anger on such a difference of opinion as they had had this morning. But now, they'd learned, both of them. But she had not given up her points, she told herself.

In the kitchen cupboard she kept her budget book. Gar had laughed at it and at the seriousness with which she studied it.

"Funny little kid, you can spend all the money you want, don't you know that?"

Today ended the first month of their housekeeping. Her house in order, Kitty took out the budget book and spread it open over the kitchen table. She glowed with pride as she considered the totals of her spending. She'd kept under the allowance for food, and she hadn't starved ar, either.

The new coat and hat had made a big hole in the estimate for clothes but, she figured, she wouldn't need anything for another month. The page given over to "sundry expenses" was less satisfactory—she couldn't enter all that they spent when they went out in the evening because Gar most always refused to tell her when she pressed him. "We're not going to get on that," he'd say with a little warning frown.

But they were "ahead." And she wouldn't touch the small balance left of her allowance.

The door bell rang and going to the door she took from a boy a long box. Flowers, she knew. Gar often sent them, stopping at the florist's on his way to the office. Deep yellow long stemmed roses they were today and a little shoulder, corsage tucked in one corner of the box for her to wear tonight.

Her marketing was the high experience of the day. It was never quickly or carelessly dispatched. Now she tucked her list in her pocket-book, dumped her coat and hat, took her basket and went forth.

She knew that with her basket over her arm she made an inconspicuous figure in the midst of the Tudor Arms. She'd seen the girl at the telephone desk smile more than once when she appeared. Ash she emerged from the elevator Diana Close and her mother stepped out of one across the foyer. Kitty had met Diana's mother at another just such encounter. Mrs. Close had not called on her at her apartment. Diana only came in of values which the merchants have to offer and the man that sits down and literally waits for business to come to him will find it going in another direction.

Members of the Board of Aldermen are to be congratulated upon their action in roping off a certain section of city streets each week to permit children to skate.

Heretofore the youngsters have been skating in every section of the city, jeopardizing their lives and causing deep concern to hundreds of automobile drivers.

By setting aside a special block for skating each week the city fathers have virtually eliminated the danger of injury from automobile accidents and have thrown a safeguard around the children which every father and mother should deeply appreciate.

Parents should co-operate with the aldermen and see that their children stop skating in congested streets and go where they may join the diversion in complete security.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

New York, March 31.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today, unchanged to 2 points off on realization and scattered selling, in response to easy cables.

Orders were pretty evenly divided at the start with very little northern selling in evidence. There seemed to be some buying through brokers with Liverpool and continental connections. The demand was supplied at about yesterday's closing quotations, however, and offerings increased slightly with the easing off to 6.28 and October 6.09 or about 4 points net lower by the end of the first halfhour.

Reports of heavy rains in the south came in for some comment, but evidently made little impression on the market. Liverpool cables reported liquidation and selling on the advance in sterling and there was a moderate demand for cotton cloths from South America and Africa.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, March 31.—(AP)—Grain market was weak today, with gains in wheat and corn. Advances were made in wheat and corn, but gains were held in check by a decline in oats. Provisions were unchanged to 5 cents.

STOCK MARKET

New York, March 31.—(AP)—The stock market went into a pronounced slump today, as the "short squeeze" expected in some quarters in connection with the new rules on loaning stocks failed to develop.

The list pushed up in the first hour, but when the demand, apparently from nervous shorts, was satisfied, the market found itself almost completely without support, and by early afternoon, losses of 1 to more than 4 points were numerous. Utilities were particularly weak, and selling later engulfed the rails.

Wants Fe tumbled 7 points to the lowest since 1903. American Telephone dropped 4 points, and issues of 2 or more included American Telephone, Union Pacific, New Haven, Missouri Pacific, Standard Gas, American Power and Light, Southern California Edison, Consolidated Gas, North American, Public Service of N. J., and others. U. S. Steel sagged more than a point, and similar losses were numerous throughout the industrials.

The approval by the House of the proposal to levy a federal tax on stock transfers found brokerage dealers in as rather gloomy frame of mind. Several professional traders maintained that their operations would be severely curtailed if the new taxes were imposed, and that the market would be left a shambles and erratic affair. It was believed that with the additional federal tax proposed, the cost of a round trip in and out of the market would be around 1-2 point in stocks selling around $50 a share, that there would be little incentive to scalp for narrow fractional gains.

World Bridge Olympic Will Open Friday

New York, March 31.—(AP)—A leak blamed on some unknown "black sheep" caused a furor today as 50,000 contract bridge fiends all over the world prepared to play in the "world bridge olympic."

The "world bridge olympic" is sponsored by the National Bridge Association, an Ely Culbertson organization. At exactly 8:01 p. m. tomorrow, the 50,000 are to sit down and play 16 hands, most of them trick hands. Gold and Silver trophies to the number of 250 are the rewards.

The hands were sent out by Ely Culbertson's organization to 1,000 game captains sworn not to reveal their names, even to themselves, until a minute before the "olympics."

Yesterday, the New York Times received a neat white folder presenting the layout of the hands. Other copies, presumably distributed with malice aforethought, were reported to have drifted into other hands. Louis Joseph Vance, long a bridge foe of Mr. Culbertson, said you could obtain copies from Broadway speculators at $10 apiece.

But Mr. Culbertson, who recently got slathers of fame by playing Sidney Lenz, was undismayed. He said most bridge players could study the documents for a week and still not know the right way to bid and play the hands.

Legal Features Face Students in Coal Fields

Frankfort, Ky., March 31.—(AP)—Interesting legal complications are presented by the impending visit of a group of Arkansas students to the southeastern Kentucky coal fields. They plan to enter the mine area next week despite rejection of more than eighty eastern students last week-end.

The Arkansas delegation, led by Lucien Goch, director of Commonwealth College, will have the support of the American Civil Liberties Union in the attempt to enter Bell and Harlan counties. The union has announced its attorneys would seek a federal injunction if necessary to force entry.

The eastern students were halted by Bell county authorities, who demanded they post $1,000 peace bond each. They could not post the bond, so they were ejected. Kentucky law provides that any one may be placed under a peace bond at the discretion of a minor court upon the request of one or more reputable citizens.

The Civil Liberties Union may either attack the constitutionality of this law or appeal to the federal courts from the standpoint of discrimination, claiming the peace bond law was invoked against a specific group of tourists and not against all tourists visiting the area.

HIGH TO OPEN BALL SEASON HERE FRIDAY

Greenville High will open the conference baseball season with Tarboro at Third Street school grounds tomorrow afternoon at 3:45.

Coch Porter stated this morning his club was in fine trim for the contest and expected them to emerge with the first game of the season to their credit.

The shortage of a catcher, which caused considerable concern the first of the training season, has been definitely eliminated, the coach stated, and the position is expected to be as fully protected as any other part of the diamond.

Either Taylor or Dail, star moundmen of the local aggregation, will be on the firing line. Taylor was reported as slightly indisposed today, but opinion was expressed he would be in condition to toss his twisters over the platter.

Coch Porter has five letter men in the field this season and this has led him to believe he will be able to capture a majority of games played with a possibility of still higher honors being realized.

The public has been urged to attend the game in large numbers and give the team the support it deserves.

BANK OFFICIALS CLEARED OF MALFEASANCE CHARGE

(Continued from page one) The effect of Judge Mackay's course was to render null and void the whole indictment. The attorneys, therefore, filed a demurrer to the indictment on the ground that the allegations and counts therein charge no crime or misdemeanor indictable under the laws of the state. Judge Small held with the defendants, declared the indictment null and void and sustained the demurrer. The state appealed.

The court ruled the state officials' acts were committed in Wake County, not in Buncombe, and that the indictment had no force.

In another decision the court ruled counties are not entitled to collect gasoline taxes for the period between April 1, when the new highway law placing all roads under the State Highway Commission went into effect, and July 1, when the commission actually took over maintenance of county roads.

The counties contended the money was due for the period in which they actually maintained the roads, although the amount involved, approximately $625,000, was not collected until after the state commission took over. The suit was brought by Beaufort, Ashe, Chatham, Bertie, Franklin, Martin and Washington counties.

In a statement from Greenville, E. B. Jeffers, chairman of the state commission, said last night the counties had actually received taxes for the entire 21 months' during which they operated under the old tax law, because of discrepancies between maintenance and collection periods.

Other decisions handed down by the court were:

Commissioner of Banks vs. Turnage, Pitt, et al. 29-3t

State vs. McKay, Brunswick, affirmed. 29-3t

State vs. Ferrell, Durham, no error. 29-3t

Harris vs. Kennedy, Orange, no error. 29-3t

Baker vs. Railroad, Guilford, affirmed. 29-3t

Stack vs. Stack, Union, no error. 29-3t

Patrick vs. Beatty, Gaston, error. 29-3t

Plot vs. Ferguson, Buncombe, reversed. 29-3t

Negro Escapes Death in Chair

Raleigh, March 31.—(AP)—Ernest Herring, who five times has seen the date on which he was electrocuted pass, today has his sentence commuted to life imprisonment.

Gov. O. Max Gardner said he had decided to commute Herring "after serious, lengthy and thorough study" of the case.

The negro was convicted in Sampson county in August 1930 of the murder of F. F. Newton, postmaster at Kerr. Commutation was largely on the basis of the testimony of his brother, Chevis, who later sat in the death chair at State's prison and exonerated Ernest just before he paid with his life for the same crime.

The Supreme court gave Ernest a new trial after the first conviction but he again received a death sentence, Chevis being the states star witness a second time and before his exoneration of Ernest the high tribunal upheld this sentence.

In January Ernest was sentenced to be electrocuted and it was announced no executive clemency would be extended him but after a dramatic interview at which Governor Gardner personally questioned Herring while the negro did not know who his interrogator was, the governor granted him a respite which would have expired tomorrow.

Damage Suit Reaches Jury

The damage suit of Clifton Madrin, Greenville, against Norfolk and Southern railroad went to the jury shortly before the noon hour today and a verdict was expected during the afternoon, although it might be late when rendered.

Madrin is suing for injuries which he sustained when the automobile in which he was riding was hit by a Norfolk and Southern train in the western-section of the city in 1928. He contends his view of the approaching train was obstructed by buildings between the highway and railroad. The railroad, on the other hand, maintains the accident was the result of negligence.

This is the second time the case has been heard, the first trial having resulted in non-suit. The case was begun Tuesday and argument started this morning.

Negro Escapes Death in Chair

Raleigh, March 31.—(AP)—Ernest Herring, who five times has seen the date on which he was electrocuted pass, today has his sentence commuted to life imprisonment.

Gov. O. Max Gardner said he had decided to commute Herring "after serious, lengthy and thorough study" of the case.

The negro was convicted in Sampson county in August 1930 of the murder of F. F. Newton, postmaster at Kerr. Commutation was largely on the basis of the testimony of his brother, Chevis, who later sat in the death chair at State's prison and exonerated Ernest just before he paid with his life for the same crime.

The Supreme court gave Ernest a new trial after the first conviction but he again received a death sentence, Chevis being the states star witness a second time and before his exoneration of Ernest the high tribunal upheld this sentence.

In January Ernest was sentenced to be electrocuted and it was announced no executive clemency would be extended him but after a dramatic interview at which Governor Gardner personally questioned Herring while the negro did not know who his interrogator was, the governor granted him a respite which would have expired tomorrow.

Fire Damages Farmville Store

Davis and occupied by S. J. Needleman, damaged goods and interior of the store to the extent of several thousand dollars.

The store was one of the most modern of the town. The stock consisted of shoes and ready to wear for men, women and children. Loss was covered by insurance.

Damage Suit Reaches Jury

The damage suit of Clifton Madrin, Greenville, against Norfolk and Southern railroad went to the jury shortly before the noon hour today and a verdict was expected during the afternoon, although it might be late when rendered.

Madrin is suing for injuries which he sustained when the automobile in which he was riding was hit by a Norfolk and Southern train in the western-section of the city in 1928. He contends his view of the approaching train was obstructed by buildings between the highway and railroad. The railroad, on the other hand, maintains the accident was the result of negligence.

This is the second time the case has been heard, the first trial having resulted in non-suit. The case was begun Tuesday and argument started this morning.
